

Pronunciation

American English

This dictionary shows pronunciations used by speakers of the most common American English dialects. Sometimes more than one pronunciation is shown. For example, many Americans say the first vowel in data as /eɪ/, while many others say this vowel as /æ/. We show data as /'deɪtə, 'dætə/. This means that both pronunciations are possible and are commonly used by educated speakers. We have not, however, shown all American dialects and all possible pronunciations. For example, news is shown only as /nuːz/ even though a few Americans might pronounce this word as /nyuz/. In words like caught and dog we show the vowel /ɔ/, but many speakers use the vowel /ɑ/ in place of /ɔ/, so that caught and cat are both said as /kɑt/.

Use of the Hyphen

When more than one pronunciation is given for a word, we usually show only the part of the pronunciation that is different from the first pronunciation, replacing the parts that are the same with a hyphen: economics /,ekə'nɒmɪks, -i-/. The hyphen is also used for showing the division between syllables when this might not be clear: boyish /'bɔɪ-ɪʃ/, drawing /'drɔ-ɪŋ/, clockwise /'klɒk-waɪz/.

Symbols

The symbols used in this dictionary are based on the symbols of the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) with a few changes. The symbol /y/, which is closer to English spelling than the /j/ used in the IPA, is used for the first sound in you /yu/. Other changes are described in the paragraph American English Sounds.

Abbreviations

No pronunciations are shown for most abbreviations. This is either because they are not spoken (and are defined as "written abbreviations"), or because they are pronounced by saying the names of the letters, with main stress on the last letter and secondary stress on the first: VCR /,vi si 'ɑr/. Pronunciations have been shown where an abbreviation is spoken like an ordinary word: RAM /ræm/.

Words that are Forms of Main Words

A form of a main word that is a different part of speech may come at the end of the entry for that word. If the related word is pronounced by saying the main word and adding an ending (see list on page A43), no separate pronunciation is given. If the addition of the ending causes a change in the pronunciation of the main word, the pronunciation for the related word is given. For example: impossible /ɪm'pɒsəbəl/, impossibility /ɪm,pəsə'bɪləti/. There are some pronunciation changes that we do not show at these entries, because they follow regular patterns: (1) When an -ly or -er ending is added to a main word ending in /-bə l/, /-kəl/, /-pəl/, /-gəl/, or /-dəl/, the /ə/ is usually omitted. For example, practical is shown as /'præktɪkəl/. When -ly is added to it, it becomes practically /'præktɪkli/. This difference is not shown. (2) When -ly or -ity is added to words ending in -y /i/, the /i/ becomes /ə/: angry /'æŋɡri/ becomes angrily /'æŋɡrəli/. This is not shown.

Stress

In English words of two or more syllables, at least one syllable is said with more force than the others.

The sign /' / is put before the syllable with the most force. We say it has main stress: person /'pɜːsən/, percent /pɜː'sent/. Some words also have a stress on another syllable that is less strong than the main stress. We call this secondary stress, and the sign / ˌ / is placed before such a syllable: personality /,pɜːsə'næləti/, personify /pɜː'sanə'faɪ/. Secondary stress is not usually shown in the second syllable of a two-syllable word, unless it is necessary to show that the second syllable must not be shortened, as in starlit /'stɑːlɪt/ compared to starlet /'stɑːrlɪt/.

Unstressed Vowels

/ə/ and /ɪ/ Many unstressed syllables in American English are pronounced with a very short unclear vowel. This vowel is shown as /ə/ or /ɪ/; however, there is very little difference between them in normal connected speech. For example, the word affect /ə'fekt/ and effect /ɪ'fekt/ usually sound the same. The word rabbit is shown as /'ræbɪt/, but it may also be pronounced /'ræbət/.

/ə/ and /ʌ/ These sounds are very similar. The symbol /ə/ is used in unstressed syllables, and /ʌ/, which is longer, is used in stressed and secondary stressed syllables. When people speak more quickly, secondary stressed syllables become unstressed so that /ʌ/ may be pronounced as /ə/. For example, difficult /'dɪfɪ,kʌlt/ and coconut /'kəʊkə,nʌt/ may be pronounced as /'dɪfɪkəlt/ and /'kəʊkənət/. Only the pronunciation with /ʌ/ is shown.

Compound Words with a Space or Hyphen

Many compounds are written with either a space or a hyphen between the parts. When all parts of the compound appear in the dictionary as separate main words, the full pronunciation of the compound is not shown. Only its stress pattern is given. For example: 'bus stop, 'town 'hall. Sometimes a compound contains a main word with an ending. If the main word is in the dictionary, and the ending is a common one, only a stress pattern is shown. For example: 'washing machine. Washing is not a main word in the Dictionary, but wash is; so only a stress pattern is shown because -ing is a common ending. But if any part is not a main word, the full pronunciation is given: helter-skelter /,heltə'skeltə/.

Stress Shift

Some words may have a shift in stress. The secondary stress becomes the main stress when the word comes before a noun. The mark / ˌ / shows this. For example: artificial /,ɑːtʃɪ'fɪʃəl /, artificial intelligence /,ɑːtʃɪfɪʃəl ɪn'telədʒəns/.

Syllabic Consonants

The sounds /n/ and /l/ can be syllabic. That is, they can themselves form a syllable, especially when they are at the end of a word (and follow particular consonants, especially /t/ and /d/). For example, in sudden /'sʌdn/ the /n/ is syllabic; there is no vowel between the /d/ and the /n/, so no vowel is shown. In the middle of a word, a hyphen or stress mark after /n/ or /l/ shows that it is syllabic: botanist /'bʌt'n-ɪst/ and catalog /'kætəl,ɔːg/ are three-syllable words.

The sound r can be either a consonant, /r/, or a vowel, /ɜː/. When /ɜː/ is followed by an unstressed vowel, it may be pronounced as a sequence of two vowels, /ɜː/ plus the following vowel, or as /ɜː/ followed by a syllable beginning with /r/. For example, the word coloring may be pronounced as /'kʌləɪŋ/ instead of /'kʌləɪŋ/. Only the pronunciation, /'kʌləɪŋ/, is shown.

Short Forms Used in the Dictionary

Parts of Speech

Some parts of speech have short forms:

adj.	adjective	prep.	preposition
adv.	adverb	pron.	pronoun
n.	noun	v.	verb
phr. v.	phrasal verb

Other Short Forms

etc.	et cetera (=and so on)
U.S.	United States
s/he	she or he
sb	somebody/someone
sth	something
sb/sth	someone or something

Grammar Patterns

Grammar patterns are shown in dark letters in the example sentences.

Grammar Codes Used in the Dictionary

Nouns – to learn more about the grammar of nouns, see the LEARNER'S HANDBOOK on pages A46–A47.

[C]

COUNTABLE nouns such as chair and store are the most common type of noun in English. Their plural is usually formed by adding -s, and they are used with a plural verb:
Most of the smaller stores in the area have closed down.

[U]

an UNCOUNTABLE noun, such as happiness and furniture. Uncountable nouns cannot be used with a or an. They do not have plural forms, and are used with a singular verb:
The new furniture is being delivered on Friday.

[C,U]

a noun that has both countable and uncountable uses, such as wine:
Our wines are specially chosen by our own buyer.
This is great wine – where did you buy it?

[singular]

a SINGULAR noun, such as outcome. Singular nouns can be used with a, an, or the, or without any determiner. They have no plural form, and they are used with a singular verb:
No one knew what the outcome of the discussion was.

We never dreamed there would be such a good outcome.

[plural]

a PLURAL noun, such as pajamas. Plural nouns do not have a singular form, and are used with a plural verb:
Your red pajamas are in the wash.

[C usually singular]

a noun such as setting that is countable, but is not used in the plural very often:
It was a lovely setting for a wedding.

[C usually plural]

a noun such as resource that is countable, and is usually used in the plural:
The country is rich in natural resources.

[singular, U]

a noun that has both singular and uncountable uses, such as calm:
The Smiths preferred the calm of the country.
Marta reacted with amazing calm.

Verbs – to learn more about the grammar of verbs, see the LEARNER'S HANDBOOK on page A48.

[I]

an INTRANSITIVE verb, such as exist. Intransitive verbs are not followed by objects:
Only five railroads from the old network still exist.

[T]

a TRANSITIVE verb, such as take. Transitive verbs are followed by objects:
Will you take my jacket to the dry cleaners for me?

[I,T]

a verb that has both intransitive and transitive uses, such as decide:
It's so hard to decide.
I can't decide what to wear.

[linking verb]

a verb such as be, become, seem, etc.:
Jared's father is a teacher.
Dana seems really sorry.

Adjectives

[only before noun]

an adjective, such as amateur, that is only used before a noun:
This picture was taken by her husband Larry, a gifted amateur photographer.

[not before noun]

an adjective, such as afraid, that is never used before a noun:
Small children are often afraid of the dark.

Labels Used in the Dictionary

approving and disapproving

Words and phrases are labeled approving or disapproving if people use them in order to show that they like or dislike someone or something. For example, both childlike and childish describe behavior that is typical of a child, but childlike shows approval and childish shows disapproval.

formal

Formal words and phrases, such as await and moreover, are used only in formal speech and writing, for example in essays or official announcements, not in normal conversation.

humorous

Humorous words and phrases, such as on the warpath, are intended to be funny.

informal

Informal words and phrases, such as grungy and long shot, are used in normal conversation and informal letters or emails to friends. Do not use these words and phrases in essays.

literary

Literary words and phrases, such as foe and inferno, are used mostly in poetry and other types of literature. They are not usually suitable for essays.

nonstandard

Nonstandard words and phrases do not follow the rules of grammar, but are still used a lot. For example, many people use real instead of really. Do not use nonstandard language in essays.

offensive

Offensive words and phrases are likely to make someone upset if you use them. People often use them when they intend to insult other people, but these can also be words and phrases that only particular people consider to be offensive.

old-fashioned

Old-fashioned words and phrases are ones that people still know, but that are not used very often in modern speech or writing.

slang

Slang words and phrases are used by a particular group of people, especially young people, but not by everyone. They are extremely informal and should not be used in essays.

spoken

Spoken words and phrases, such as I mean and by the way, are hardly ever used in writing. They are always informal, unless they have the label spoken formal. Do not use these words and phrases in essays.

taboo

Taboo words and phrases are extremely rude, offensive to everyone, and should be avoided.

technical

Technical words and phrases, such as tautology or pro rata, are used by experts in a particular subject, not by everyone.

trademark

A trademark is an official name for a product made by a particular company. It is always spelt with a capital letter.

written

Written words and phrases, such as ablaze or exclaim, are usually only used in written English.

Subject Labels

BIOLOGY the study of all living things

CHEMISTRY the study of gases, liquids, and solids, what they are composed of and how they react with each other

EARTH SCIENCES the study of the Earth, its weather systems, and the environment

ECONOMICS finance and business, and the ways in which money and goods are produced and used

ENG. LANG. ARTS languages, literature, art, sculpture, music and the performing arts

HISTORY significant events and institutions from the past

IT computers, data storage and processing, and communications

LAW institutions and principles relating to the legal system

MATH arithmetic, algebra, and geometry

PHYSICS the study of the universe, what it consists of, and the forces that affect it

POLITICS political institutions and activity

SCIENCE the aspects of science that go across the boundaries of biology, chemistry, and physics

SOCIAL SCIENCE the study of society and how particular social groups think and behave

Pearson Education Limited
Edinburgh Gate
Harlow
Essex CM20 2JE England
and Associated Companies throughout the world

Visit our website at: www.longman.com/dictionaries

© Pearson Education Limited 2008, 2009

All rights reserved; no part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior written permission of the Publishers.

First edition published 1983

Second edition 1997

Third edition 2004

Fourth edition 2008

This special edition published 2009

ISBN 9780137052677

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 V011 15 14 13 12 11 10 09

Words that editors have reason to believe constitute trademarks have been described as such. However, neither the presence nor the absence of such a description should be regarded as affecting the legal status of any trademark.

Set in Mahsuri Sans Light by Letterpart, UK

Acknowledgments

Director

Michael Mayor

Senior Publisher

Laurence Delacroix

Managing Editor

Stephen Bullon

Lexicographers

Evadne Adrian-Vallance

Karen Cleveland-Marwick

Chris Fox

Elizabeth Manning

Michael Murphy

Martin Stark

Project Manager

Alan Savill

Production Manager

David Gilmour

Corpus and CD-ROM Development

Steve Crowdy

Computational Linguists and CD-ROM Project Management

Allan Ørsnes

Andrew Roberts

Production Editors

Michael Murphy

Paola Rocchetti

Project Administrator

Denise McKeough

Technical Support Manager

Trevor Satchell

Network Administrator

Kim Lee-Amies

Pronunciation Editor

Dinah Jackson

Proofreaders

Lynda Carey

Isabel Griffiths

Ruth Hillmore

Ruth Noble

Carol Osbourne

Design

Mick Harris

Keyboarder

Pauline Savill

Administrative Assistance

Angela Wright

Artwork

Mark Duffin, Graham Humphries, Chris Paveley, Maltings Partnership, Oxford Designers and Illustrators

Photography credits

Hemera Technologies Inc "Copyright ©2004 (Pearson Education) and its licensors. All rights reserved"; Brand X Pictures; DK Picture Library; IMS Communications Ltd.; Corbis; Gareth Bowden; PhotoDisc; Dorling Kindersley; www.istockphoto.com

The publishers would like to thank Averil Coxhead for permission to highlight the Academic Wordlist (AWL, compiled in 2000) in the dictionary. Averil Coxhead is the author of AWL and a lecturer in English for Academic Purposes at Massey University, New Zealand. For further information on the AWL, go to Averil's Website at: <http://language.massey.ac.nz/staff/awl>

The Publishers would also like to thank:

- Professor Jack du Bois of the University of California at Santa Barbara, for the development of the Longman Corpus of Spoken American English. This unique corpus, developed especially for the Longman Dictionary of American English, consists of 5 million words of everyday conversation by US speakers of English. The corpus was designed to provide a representative sample of the US population, by age, sex, region, educational attainment, and ethnic origin. Volunteers were selected to wear a digital cassette recorder and record their conversations over a two-week period. The tapes were then transcribed and built into a computer system so that the lexicographic team could analyze exactly how native speakers use the language.
- the thousands of teachers and students from around the world who have contributed scripts for the Longman Learner's Corpus. This corpus consists of 12 million words of writing in English by learners, and helps lexicographers to analyze what students know and where they have difficulty.
- the Linguistic Data Consortium for texts included in the 80-million-word Longman Corpus of Written American English
- the many teachers and students who have taken part in the development of the new edition of the dictionary. This has included focus groups, questionnaires, student vocabulary notebooks (in which students kept a record of which words they looked up), classroom piloting of material, and written feedback on text by teachers.

Nancy Ackels, University of Washington Extension, Seattle; Tom Adams, University of Pennsylvania; Monica Alvaraz, California State University, Fullerton; Isabella Anikst, University of California, Los Angeles Extension; Jan Barrett-Chow, Northeastern University, Boston; Catherine Berg, Drexel University, Philadelphia; Gretchen Bitterlin, San Diego Community College; Donna Brinton, University of California, Los Angeles; Arlene Bublick, William Rainey Harper College, Palatine, Illinois; Christine Bunn, City College of San Francisco; Dorothy Burak, University of California, San Diego; Randy Burger, California State Polytechnic, Pomona; Laura Cameron, Intensive English Language Institute, Seattle; Sarah Canady, Bellevue Community College, Seattle; Jane Cater, Intensive English Language Institute, Seattle; Rick Chapman, California State University, Fullerton; Martha Compton, University of California, Irvine; Jan Copeland, Long Beach City College, Long Beach; Patrick Cox, Houston Community College; Nick Crump, Merritt College, Oakland; Catherine Crystal, Laney College, Oakland; Kevin Curry, Wichita State University; Susan Davis, EF International; Chuck Delgado, North Valley Occupational Center, Mission Hills, California; Carolyn Dupaquier, California State University, Fullerton; Nancy Dyer, Intensive English Language Institute, Seattle; Julie Easton, Adult Education Center, Santa Monica; Gerry Eldred, Long Beach City College, Long Beach; Rita Esquivel, Adult Education Center, Santa Monica; Mary Fitzpatrick, College of Marin, Novato; Annette Fruehan, Orange Coast College, California; Caroline Gibbs, College of Marin, Novato; Janet Goodwin, University of California, Los Angeles; Lisa Hale, St Giles College, London; Jim Harris, Rancho Santiago College, Santa Ana; Tamara Heffer, Truman College, Chicago; Patti Heiser, University of Washington Extension; Julie Hermann, Intensive English Language Institute, Seattle; Wayne Heuple, Intensive English Language Institute, Seattle; Kathi Holper, William Rainey Harper College, Palatine, Illinois; Barbara Howard, Daley College, Chicago; Kathryn Howard; Leann Howard, San Diego Community College; Stephanie Howard, University of California, Los Angeles Extension; Gail Hutchins, East San Jose College; Susan Jamieson, Bellevue Community College; Jeff Janulis, Daley College, Chicago; Linda Jensen, University of California, Los Angeles; Winston Joffron, Bellevue Community College, Seattle; Deborah Jonas, California State University, Long Beach; Kathy Keesler, Orange Coast College, California; Barbara Logan, Intensive English Language Institute, Seattle; Walter Lowe, Bellevue Community College, Seattle; Lynne Lucas, Daley College, Chicago; Felicity MacDonald-Smith, Eurocentre, Cambridge; Robyn Mann, William Rainey Harper College, Palatine, Illinois; Anne McGinley, San Diego State University; Elaine McVey, San Diego State University; Amy Meepoe; Andy Muller, Intensive English Language Institute, Seattle Pacific University; Jill Neely, Merritt College, Oakland; Maura Newberry; Yvonne Nishio, Evans Community Adult School, Los Angeles; Roxanne Nuhaily, University of California, San Diego; Carla Nyssen, California State University, Long Beach; David Olshen; Jorge Perez, Southwestern College, San Diego; Ellen Pentkowski, Truman College, Chicago; Eileen Prince Lou, Northeastern University, Boston; Nancy Quinn, Truman College, Chicago; Ralph Radell, Bunker Hill Community College, Boston; Eva Ramirez, Laney College, Oakland; Alison Rice, Hunter College; Lenore Richmond, California State University, Fullerton; Jane Rinaldi, California State Polytechnic, Pomona; Bruce Rindler, CELOP, University of Boston; Shirley Roberts, Long Beach City College, Long Beach; William Robertson, Northeastern University, Boston; Bonnie Rose, University of Denver; Teresa Ross, California State University, Long Beach; Paul Safstrom, South Seattle Community College; Karen Santiago, Beaver College, Philadelphia; Irene Schoenberg, Hunter College; Esther Sunde, South Seattle Community College, Seattle; Barbara Swartz, Northeastern University, Boston; Priscilla Taylor, California State University, Los Angeles; Elizabeth Terplan, College of Marin, Novato, California; Bill Trimble, Modesto Junior College; Wendy Walsh, College of Marin, Novato, California; Colleen Weldele, Palomar College, San Marcos, California; Sabella Wells, Intensive English Language Institute, Seattle; Madeleine Youmans, Long Beach City College, Long Beach; Christine Zilkow, California State University, Fullerton; Janet Zinner, Northeastern University, Boston; Jean Zukowski-Faust, Northern Arizona University.

Yuri Komuro, for assistance in compiling the results of teacher questionnaires and student word diaries.
Norma A. Register, Ph.D, for advice on coverage of socially sensitive language.

Table of Contents

Pronunciation Table	inside front cover
Pronunciation	i
Short Forms Used in the Dictionary	ii
Grammar Codes Used in the Dictionary	ii
Labels Used in the Dictionary	iii
Acknowledgements	iv
Key to the Dictionary	viii–ix
Preface	x

The Dictionary A–Z1–1167

Picture Dictionary	A2–A12
Geographical Names	A13–A18

LONGMAN

Dictionary of American English

Key to the Dictionary

Words that are spelled the same but have different parts of speech have separate entries.

Definitions explain the meaning of the word in clear simple language, using the 2000-word Longman Defining Vocabulary whenever possible.

Subject labels before a definition show that this word has a specialized meaning in particular subject area.

The most common words in spoken and written English are shown in red letters. This shows you which are the most important words to know.

The meanings of each word are listed in order of frequency. The most common meaning is shown first.

Useful natural examples show how you can use the word.

Thesaurus boxes explain the differences between words with similar meanings, or between words related to a particular topic.

Synonyms (=words with the same meaning), antonyms (=words with the opposite meaning), and related words are shown after the definition.

Pronunciation is shown using the International Phonetic Alphabet

Usage notes help you avoid making common errors.

Dots show how words are divided into syllables.

Derived words are shown at the end of an entry when the meaning is clear from the definition of the main form.

back-ward¹ /ˈbækwəd/ also backwards
adv. 1 in the direction that is behind you (ANT for-ward): She took a step backwards. 2 toward the beginning or the past: Can you say the alphabet backward?

backward² adj. 1 [only before noun] made toward the direction that is behind you (ANT for-ward): She left without a backward glance. 2 developing slowly and less successfully than others: a backward country

bac-te-ri-um /bæk'tɪriəm/ n. (plural bacteria /-rɪə/) [C usually plural] BIOLOGY a very small living thing consisting of a single cell. Some bacteria cause disease, but others are important in many natural processes. The plural form, "bacteria," is much more common than the singular form. [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Modern Latin, Greek bakterion "stick, rod," because of their shape]

bad¹ /bæd/ adj. (comparative worse, superlative worst) 1 not good or not nice (ANT good): I'm afraid I have some bad news for you. | a really bad smell

THESAURUS

awful – very bad or unpleasant: The weather was awful.

terrible – extremely bad: The hotel food was terrible.

horrible – very bad or upsetting: What a horrible thing to say!

appalling/horrific (formal) – very bad and very shocking: She suffered appalling injuries. | a horrific plane crash

lousy (informal) – very bad in quality: a lousy movie

horrendous (formal) – very bad and very frightening or shocking: a horrendous crash

atrocious (formal) – extremely bad and often very severe: Her driving is atrocious. | atrocious weather conditions

abysmal (formal) – very bad, used especially to describe the standard of something: The quality of care at the hospital was abysmal. → GOOD¹, HORRIBLE

2 of a low quality or standard (ANT good): That was the worst pizza I ever ate. | Brian is really bad at sports. 3 morally wrong or evil (ANT good): He plays one of the bad guys in the movie.

bad-ly /ˈbædli/ adv. (comparative worse, superlative worst) 1 in a way that is not good (ANT well): a badly written book | She did badly on the exam. ▶ Don't say "I sing very bad." Say "I sing very badly." 2 to a great or serious degree: The refugees badly need food and clean water. | Our house was badly damaged during the storm.

baf-ple /ˈbæfəl/ v. [T] if something baffles you, you cannot understand it: Scientists were baffled by the results. — baffling adj. — baffled adj.

THESAURUS

confused, bewildered, puzzled → CONFUSED

ba·nal /bəˈnæl, bəˈnəl, ˈbeɪnəl/ adj. ordinary and not interesting → BORING: a banal love song [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 French, Old French ban “military service that everyone must do, something common”] — banality /bəˈnæləʒi/ n. [C,U] beat /bit/ v. (past tense beat, past participle beaten /ˈbiːtən/)

1 DEFEAT [T] to get more points, votes, etc. than other people in a game or competition: New York beat Boston 4–1. | Stuart usually beats me at chess. | Has anyone ever beaten the record for home runs set by Babe Ruth?

THE SAURUS

defeat – to win a victory over someone: I don't think anybody will be able to defeat Kennedy in a Senate election.

trounce – to defeat someone completely: The Bears trounced Nebraska 44–10.

clobber/cream (informal) – to defeat someone easily: We got creamed in the finals.

vanquish (formal) – to defeat someone or something completely: The allies vanquished the enemy.

overcome – to fight and win against someone or something: Union troops finally overcome rebel forces in the south.

2 HIT SB [T] to hit someone many times with your hand, a stick, etc.: He used to come home and beat us. | The woman had been beaten to death.

3 HIT STH [I,T] to hit against the surface of something continuously, or to make something do this: waves beating on/against the shore

SPOKEN PHRASES

8 [T] to be better or more enjoyable than something else: It's not the greatest job, but it beats waitressing. | You can't beat (=nothing is better than) San Diego for good weather.

9 (it) beats me used in order to say that you do not understand or know something: “Where's Myrna?” “Beats me.”

10 beat it! an impolite way to tell someone to leave at once

beat down phr. v.

1 if the Sun beats down, it shines brightly and is hot

2 if the rain beats down, it rains very hard

beat sb ↔ out phr. v. (informal)

to defeat someone in a competition: Lange beat out Foster for the award.

ben·e·fi·cial /ˌbenəˈfɪʃəl/ [Ac] adj. good or useful: The agreement will be beneficial to both groups. | Garlic has a beneficial effect in reducing harmful cholesterol. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin beneficium “kindness, favor,” from bene “well” + facere “to do”] blonde, blond /blɒnd/ adj. 1 blonde hair is pale or yellow 2 someone who is blonde has pale or yellow hair

References to related words, pictures, and Thesaurus Boxes are shown after an arrow.

Information about irregular forms of verbs, nouns, and adjectives is shown at the beginning of the entry.

Parts of speech are shown in italics, then information about whether a word is countable, uncountable, transitive, intransitive, etc.

Signposts in long entries help you find the meaning you want quickly.

Grammar patterns and collocations (words that are typically used together) are shown in bold in examples.

Groups of phrases that are only used in spoken English are explained together, each with its own definition.

Idioms and fixed phrases are shown in dark type and have a definition which explains the whole phrase.

Phrasal verbs are listed in alphabetical order after the main verb.

Labels before the definition show if a word is typically used in informal, formal, written, etc. English.

The Ac label shows that a word is in the Academic Wordlist. These are important words which students need to understand, and be able to use in academic assignments.

Origin notes tell you when a word first entered the English language and the foreign language or languages it came from.

If a word can be spelled in different ways, both spellings are shown at the beginning of an entry.

Preface

The 4th edition of the Longman Dictionary of American English has been researched and revised to meet the real needs of learners of English. The up-dated text now includes thousands of words for content areas such as Science, Economics and Social Science, as well as Word Origins and updated thesaurus boxes that give extra help with vocabulary acquisition.

Real Language

All Longman dictionaries are based on the authentic language data in the Longman Corpus Network. This unique computerized language database now contains over 400 million words from all types of written texts, and from real conversations recorded across the US.

The Corpus tells us how frequently words and phrases are used, so there is no guesswork in deciding which ones students need to know most. The Corpus also shows which grammar patterns are the most important to illustrate, which important new words and idioms people use every day, and which words are frequently used together (collocations). We take our example sentences from the Corpus, and this makes the language come alive as never before.

Real Clarity

The definitions in Longman dictionaries are written using only the 2,000 most common English words – the Longman American Defining Vocabulary. Longman pioneered the use of a limited vocabulary as the best way to guarantee that definitions are clear and easy to understand. The meaning you want is easy to find. Words that have a large number of meanings have short, clear signposts to guide you to the right meaning quickly.

The comprehensive grammatical information is easy to understand and use. Important patterns are highlighted in the example sentences, so that you can see at a glance how to use a word in a sentence.

Real Help

The 4th edition of the Longman Dictionary of American English is the result of extensive research into learners needs and abilities. Thesaurus boxes explain thousands of synonyms and antonyms to help users expand their vocabulary, so that instead of using the same words all the time, such as the word angry, for example, they learn how to use related words such as annoyed, irritated, furious, etc. Additional Thesaurus boxes now also help learners expand their academic and content vocabulary.

The writers have also used their knowledge from years of teaching to analyze the Longman Learner's Corpus, which is a computerized collection of over 8 million words of writing in English by learners. By studying the errors students make in essays and exams, the writers were able to give clear, helpful usage information throughout the dictionary – in the definitions, example sentences, and usage notes – to help students avoid common errors.

The grammar codes and labels are inside the front cover, and the IPA (International Phonetic Alphabet) pronunciation charts are inside the back cover, so they are always easy to find and use.

Whether you are writing an essay, sending an e-mail, or talking with friends, the Longman Dictionary of American English will help you choose the right words, understand them clearly, and use them correctly.

Aa

A, a /eɪ/ the first letter of the English alphabet

A /eɪ/ n. 1 [C] the best grade that a student can get in a class or on a test: I got an A on my math test! | Rick was an A student (=always received the best grades) in high school. 2 [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the sixth note in the musical SCALE of C, or the musical KEY based on this note 3 [U] a common type of blood

a /ə; strong eɪ/ also an indefinite article 1 used before a noun to show that you are talking about a general type of thing, not a specific thing → THE: Do you have a car? | I'll find you a pencil. 2 a) one: a thousand dollars | a dozen eggs b) used before some words that show how much of something there is: a few weeks from now | a little water | a lot of people 3 used before a noun that is one of many similar things, people, events, times, etc.: I'd like to be a teacher. | This is a very good wine. 4 every or each: A square has 4 sides. 5 once a week/$100 a day etc. one time each week, $100 a day, etc. (SYN per 6 used before two nouns that are frequently mentioned together: a cup and saucer | a knife and fork 7 a) used before the -ing form of some verbs when they are used as nouns: a loud screeching of brakes b) used before some singular nouns that are actions: Take a look at that!

GRAMMAR

a, an

If the next word starts with a consonant sound, use a: a cat | a white egg | a house | a CD

If the next word starts with a vowel sound (the sounds shown by the letters a, e, i, o, or u), use an: an apple | an old car

If the next word begins with h, but the h is not pronounced, use an: an hour | an honest man

If the next word begins with u which is pronounced like "you," use a: a union | a unique opportunity → ANY¹

AA n. 1 Alcoholics Anonymous an organization for ALCOHOLICS who want to stop drinking alcohol 2 Associate of Arts a college degree given after two years of study, usually at a COMMUNITY COLLEGE

AB n. [U] BIOLOGY a common type of blood

a-back /ə'bæk/ adv. be taken aback to be very surprised or shocked: I was taken aback by her criticism.

abacus /'æbəkəs/ n. [C] a tool used for counting and calculating, consisting of a frame with small balls that can be slid along on thick wires [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin, Greek abax "flat piece of stone"] a-ban-don /ə'bændən/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to leave a person or thing, especially one that you are responsible for, and not go back: How could she abandon her own child? | We had to abandon the car and walk the rest of the way. 2 to stop doing or using something because of problems: The policy had to be abandoned. 3 to stop having a particular idea, belief, or opinion about something: The U.N. seems to have abandoned all hope of finding a peaceful solution to the conflict. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French abandoner "surrendering," from a bandon "into someone's power"] —abandonment n. [U]

a-ban-doned /ə'bændənd/ (Ac) adj. 1 an abandoned building, car, boat, etc. has been left by the people who owned or used it: The mayor wants all the abandoned buildings in the downtown area to be demolished (=knocked down). 2 an abandoned person or animal has been left completely alone by the person that was looking after him, her, or it: He donates $20 a month to a home for abandoned children.

a-base /ə'beɪs/ v. (formal) abase yourself to behave in a way that shows you accept that someone has complete power over you —abasement n. [U]

a-bashed /ə'bæʃt/ adj. embarrassed or ashamed: an abashed grin

a-bate /ə'beɪt/ v. [I] (formal) to become less strong → UNABATED: Public anger does not appear to be abating.

ab-bey /'æbi/ n. [C] a large church, with buildings next to it where MONKS and NUNS live [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French abaie, from Late Latin abbas, from Aramaic abba "father"] ab-bre-vi-ate /ə'brɪvi,eɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to make a word, story, etc. shorter: "Street" is often abbreviated as "St.". [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Late Latin, past participle of abbreviare, from Latin brevis "short"] ab-bre-vi-a-tion /ə,brɪvi'eɪʃən/ n. [C] the short form of a word used in writing. For example, Mr. is the abbreviation of Mister.

ABC n. 1 ABC's [plural] the letters of the English alphabet as taught to children 2 American Broadcasting Company one of the national companies that broadcasts television and radio programs in the U.S.

ab-di-cate /'æbdɪ,ket/ v. 1 [I,T] to officially give up the position of being king or queen 2 abdicate (your) responsibility (formal) to refuse to continue being responsible for something [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of abdicare, from ab- "away, off" + dicare "to say publicly"] —abdication /,æbdɪ'keɪʃən/ n. [C,U] ab-do-men /'æbdəmən/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the front part of your body between your chest and the top of your legs, including your stomach —abdominal /æb'dəmənəl, æb-/ adj.

ab-duct /əb'dʌkt, æb-/ v. [T] to take someone away by force (SYN) kidnap [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin, past participle of abducere, from ab- “away” + ducere “to lead”] —abduction /-ˈdʌkʃən/ n. [C,U]

A

A

a-ber-ra-tion /ˌæbəˈreɪʃən/ n. [C,U] something that is completely different from what usually happens or from what someone usually does: Duvall's lawyer claimed that the crime was an aberration in his client's otherwise blameless life.

a-bet /əˈbet/ v. (abetted, abetting) [T] → aid and abet at AID² ab-hor /əbˈhɔːr, æb-/ v. (abhorred, abhorring) [T] (formal) to hate something, especially because you think it is morally wrong: I abhor discrimination of any kind.

THESAURUS hate, can't stand, detest, loathe, despise → HATE¹

ab-hor-rent /əbˈhɔːrənt, -ˈhɑːr-, æb-/ adj. (formal) behavior or beliefs that are abhorrent are unacceptable because they are morally wrong —abhorrence n. [U] a-bide /əˈbaɪd/ v. [T] can't abide sb/sth to hate someone or something very much: I can't abide his stupid jokes.

abide by sth phr. v. to obey a law, agreement, etc.: If you're going to live here, you will abide by my rules.

a-bid-ing /əˈbaɪdɪŋ/ adj. (literary) continuing for a long time and not likely to change: Our father had an abiding love for nature.

a-bil-i-ty /əˈbɪləti/ n. (plural abilities) [C,U] the state of being able to do something, or your level of skill at doing something: A manager must have the ability to communicate well. | a young girl with great musical/athletic/acting etc. ability | She worked to the best of her ability (=as well as she could) in school. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old French habilité, from Latin habilis “skillful”] power – the legal right or authority to do something: Only the police have the power of arrest.

THESAURUS

capacity (formal) – someone's ability to do something, especially when he or she can do this a lot: Children have a special capacity for learning language.

capability (formal) – the ability of a machine, person, or organization to do something, especially something difficult: Does the country have the capability to produce nuclear weapons?

skill, talent, gift, aptitude → SKILL

ab-ject /ˈæbdʒekt, æbˈdʒekt/ adj. 1 abject poverty/failure/terror/despair etc. the state of being extremely poor, unsuccessful, frightened, unhappy, etc. 2 abject apology an abject apology shows that you are ashamed of what you have done —abjectly adv.

ab-jure /æbˈdʒʊr/ v. [T] (formal) to state publicly that you will give up a particular belief or way of behaving (SYN) renounce —abjuration /ˌæbdʒʊˈreɪʃən/ n. [U] ab-la-tive /ˈæblətɪv/ n. [singular] ENG. LANG. ARTS a particular form of a noun in some languages, such as Latin or Finnish, which shows movement away or separation —ablative adj.

a-blaze /əˈbleɪz/ adj. (written) burning strongly with a lot of flames: During the riot, a police car was set ablaze.

a-ble /ˈeɪbəl/ adj. 1 able to do sth a) having the skill, strength, knowledge, etc. to do something: I was just able to reach the handle. b) in a situation in which it is possible for you to do something: Will you be able to come tonight? 2 smart or good at doing something: an able student ab-ne-ga-tion /ˌæbnɪˈgeɪʃən/ n. [U] (formal) the act of not allowing yourself to have or do something that you want

ab-nor-mal /æbˈnɔːrməl/ (Ac) adj. different from usual in a way that is strange, worrying, or dangerous (ANT) normal: Scientists found abnormal levels of chemicals in the water. | Mike's parents began to worry about his increasingly abnormal behavior. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 ab- “away from, not” (from Latin ab- “away, off”) + normal] —abnormally adv.: an abnormally high heart rate | It has been an abnormally hot summer. —abnormality /ˌæbnɔːrˈmæləti, -nə-/ n. [C,U]

a-board /əˈbɔːrd/ adv., prep. on or onto a ship, airplane, or train: The plane crashed, killing all 200 people aboard. | They were prevented from going aboard.

a-bode /əˈboʊd/ n. [C] (formal) the place where you live

THESAURUS home, house, place, residence, dwelling → HOME¹

a-bol-ish /əˈbɒlɪʃ/ v. [T] to officially end a law, system, etc.: plans to abolish the death penalty [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old French abolir, from Latin abolere]

ab-o-li-tion /ˌæbəˈliʃən/ n. [U] 1 the official end of a law, system, etc., especially one that has existed for a long time: He argued against the abolition of the death penalty. 2 also Abolition HISTORY the official ending of the system and practice of owning, buying, and selling SLAVES in the U.S. during the 19th century ab-o-li-tion-ist /ˌæbəˈliʃənɪst/ n. [C] 1 SOCIAL SCIENCE someone who wants to end a system or law 2 HISTORY someone who took part in a series of actions intended to end the system and practice of owning, buying, or selling SLAVES in the U.S. during the 19th century a-bom-i-na-ble /əˈbɒmənəbəl/ adj. extremely bad, or of very bad quality ab-o-rig-i-nal /ˌæbəˈrɪdʒənəl/ adj. 1 Aborigi-nal relating to the Australian aborigines 2 EARTH

SCIENCES relating to the people or animals that have existed in a place from the earliest times ab-o-rig-i-ne, Aborigine /ˌæbəˈrɪdʒəni/ n. [C] a member of the people who have lived in Australia from the earliest times [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin aborigines (plural), from ab origine “from the beginning”] a-bort /əˈbɔ:t/ v. [T] 1 to stop an activity because it would be difficult or dangerous to continue: An electrical fault caused the launch of the space shuttle to be aborted. 2 to deliberately end a PREGNANCY when the baby is still too young to live a-bor-tion /əˈbɔ:ʃən/ n. [C,U] the act of aborting a baby: She decided to have an abortion.

a-bor-tive /əˈbɔ:tɪv/ adj. an abortive action is not successful or not finished: The Marines made an abortive attempt to seize the town.

a-bound /əˈbaʊnd/ v. [I] (literary) to exist in large numbers: Coffee shops abound in American small towns.

a-bout¹ /əˈbaʊt/ prep. 1 relating to a particular subject: a book about horses | We were talking about the stock market. | I'll tell you all about (=everything about) it later. | About that CD, I need it back by tomorrow.

THESAURUS

on – if a book, lecture, conference, etc. is on a particular subject, it relates to it: a seminar on résumé writing concerning/regarding (formal) – about or relating to something: The police want to ask you some questions concerning the night of April 4th.
with regard to (formal) – concerning a particular subject that you want to write or talk about: What is U.S. policy with regard to foreign banks operating in the U.S.? re – used in business letters to introduce the subject that you are going to write about: Re your letter of June 10...

2 in the nature or character of a person or thing: There's something weird about that guy. 3 what about/how about (spoken) a) used in order to make a suggestion: How about coming to my house after we're done here? b) used to ask a question concerning another person or thing involved in a situation: What about Jack? Should we invite him?

about² adv. 1 a little more or less than a number or amount [SYN] approximately: I live about 10 miles from here. | We need to leave at about 7:30.

THESAURUS

approximately – a little more or a little less than a number, amount, distance, or time: A kilo is approximately 2 pounds.
around – used when guessing a number, amount, time, etc., without being exact: Around 50 people came to the meeting.
roughly – a little more or a little less than a number, used when you are saying a number you know is not exact: Roughly 7,000 vehicles a day cross the border.

or so – used when you cannot be exact about a number, amount, or period of time: Every month or so he drives up to visit his parents.

in the region of – used when a number or amount will be a little more or a little less than the one mentioned: It will cost in the region of $750 to fix it.

2 almost: Dinner's just about ready.

about³ adj. 1 be about to do sth if someone is about to do something, or if something is about to happen, s/he will do it or it will happen very soon: I was about to step into the shower when the phone rang. | The parade is about to start. 2 not be about to do sth (informal) used to emphasize that you will not do something: I'm not about to give him any more money!

a-bove /əˈbʌv/ adv., prep. 1 in or to a higher position than something else [ANT] below: Raise your arm above your head. | The sound came from the room above. 2 more than a number, amount, or level [ANT] below: Temperatures rose above freezing today. | Males aged 18 and above could be drafted. 3 louder than other sounds: He couldn't hear her voice above the noise. 4 higher in rank, more powerful, or more important: He never rose above the rank of corporal. 5 above all (formal) most importantly: Above all, I would like to thank my parents. 6 be above suspicion/criticism etc. to be so honest or good that no one can doubt or criticize you 7 (formal) before, in the same piece of writing [ANT] below: The graph above shows the growth in pollution levels.

a-bove-board /əˈbʌv,bɔ:rd/ adj. [not before noun] honest and legal: The agreement seems to be above-board.

a-bra-sion /əˈbreɪʒən/ n. 1 [C] an area on your skin that has been injured by rubbing against something hard: She was treated for cuts and abrasions. 2 [U] the process of rubbing a surface very hard so that it becomes damaged a-bra-sive /əˈbreɪsɪv, -zɪv/ adj. 1 rude and annoying: an abrasive personality 2 having a rough surface that can be used to clean something or make it smooth —abrasively adv.

a-breast /əˈbreɪst/ adv. 1 keep abreast of sth to make sure that you know the most recent facts about a subject: We expect our sales staff to keep abreast of all the latest developments in computer technology. 2 next to someone or something, usually in a line, and facing the same direction: Patrol cars were lined up four abreast.

a-bridged /əˈbrɪdʒd/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS an abridged form of a book, play, etc. has been made shorter [ANT] unabridged: the abridged version of the dictionary

a-broad /əˈbrɔ:d/ adv. in or to a foreign country: He suggested that his son go abroad for a year. | There are more than a million Americans living abroad.

A

A

ab-ro-gate /'æbrə,geɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to officially end a law, legal agreement, practice, etc.: The Sioux chief was forced to sign a document that abrogated the treaty. —abrogation /,æbrə'geɪʃən/ n. [C,U] ab-brupt /ə'brʌpt/ adj. 1 sudden and unexpected: An abrupt change in the weather forced many boats to pull out of the race. 2 not polite or friendly, especially because you do not want to waste time: She was very abrupt on the phone. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of abruptere, from ab- “away, off” + rumpere “to break”] —abruptly adv.: The train stopped abruptly.

abs /æbz/ n. [plural] (informal) the muscles on your ABDOMEN (=stomach): exercises that strengthen your abs

ABS n. [U] anti-lock braking system a type of car BRAKE that makes the car easier to control when you have to stop very suddenly ab-scess /'æbsəs/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a swollen place on your body that is infected and contains a yellow liquid ab-scond /əb'skʌnd, æb-/ v. [I] (formal) to leave a place without permission, or to leave somewhere after stealing something ab-sence /'æbsəns/ n. 1 [C,U] an occasion when you are not in a place where people expect you to be, or the time that you are away: The vice president will handle things in my absence. | His frequent absences from work did not go unnoticed. 2 [singular] the lack of something: a complete absence of physical evidence

ab-sent /'æbsənt/ adj. 1 not at work, school, a meeting, etc. because you are sick or decide not to go (ANT) present: Ten children were absent from class today. 2 absent look/smile/expression a look, etc. that shows you are not thinking about what is happening [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French, Latin, present participle of abesse, from ab- “away” + esse “to be”] ab-sen-tee /,æbsən'ti/ n. [C] (formal) someone who is supposed to be in a place but is not there absentee 'ballot n. [C] a process by which people can vote by mail before an election because they will be away during the election ab-sen-tee-ism /,æbsən'tiɪzəm/ n. [U] regular absence from work or school without a good reason ab-sent-ly /'æbsənt'li/ adv. in a way that shows you are not interested in or not thinking about what is happening: He gazed absently out of the window.

absent-minded adj. often forgetting or not noticing things because you are thinking of something else —absent-mindedly adv.

ab-so-lute /'æbsə'lʊt, 'æbsə'lʊt/ adj. 1 complete or total: The king has absolute power. | I have absolute confidence in you. 2 used to emphasize your opinion: The show was an absolute disaster. | He's talking absolute nonsense. 3 definite and not likely to change: I can't give you any absolute promises.

ab-so-lute-ly /,æbsə'lʊtli, 'æbsə'lʊtli/ adv. 1 completely or totally: Are you absolutely sure? | We had absolutely nothing in common.

THESAURUS completely, totally, entirely → COMPLETELY

2 Absolutely (spoken) said when you agree completely with someone: “Can I talk to you for a minute?” “Absolutely, come in.” 3 Absolutely not! (spoken) said when you disagree completely with someone, or when you do not want someone to do something absolute 'monarch n. [C] POLITICS a king or queen who rules a country and who is not limited by laws or a government controlling what s/he can do —absolute monarchy n. [C,U] absolute 'value n. [C] MATH the value of a number without considering if it is positive or negative, in other words, its distance from zero. For example, the absolute value of -3 is 3, and the absolute value of +3 is also 3.

absolute 'zero n. [U] PHYSICS the lowest temperature that is possible. It is measured in the Kelvin scale, where it is 0°, and is equal to about -273° Celsius or -459° Fahrenheit.

ab-so-lu-tion /,æbsə'lʊʃən/ n. [U] a process in the Christian religion by which someone is forgiven for the things that s/he has done wrong ab-solve /əb'zɒlv, -'sɒlv/ v. [T] (formal) to say publicly that someone should not be blamed for something, or to forgive him/her: He cannot be absolved of all responsibility for the accident.

ab-sorb /əb'sɔrb, -'zɔrb/ v. [T] 1 if something absorbs liquid, heat, etc., it takes it in through its surface: The towel absorbed most of the water. 2 be absorbed in sth to be interested in something so much that you do not pay attention to other things: He's completely absorbed in his job. 3 to learn, understand, and remember new information: She's a good student who absorbs ideas quickly. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French absorber, from Latin absorbere, from ab- “away” + sorbere “to suck up”] ab-sorb-ent /əb'sɔrbənt, -'zɔr-/ adj. something that is absorbent can take in liquid through its surface: absorbent paper towel

ab-sorb-ing /əb'sɔrbɪŋ, -'zɔr-/ adj. so interesting that you do not notice or think about other things: an absorbing article

THESAURUS interesting, enthralling, engrossing, compelling, gripping, riveting → INTERESTING

ab-sorp-tion /əb'sɔrpfən, -'zɔrp-/ n. [U] 1 SCIENCE a process in which a material or object takes in liquid, gas, or heat: This chapter describes the body's absorption of nutrients. 2 a process in which a country or organization makes a smaller country, organization, or group of people become part of itself 3 the fact of being very interested in something ab-stain /əb'steɪn/ v. [I] 1 to deliberately not vote for or against something: Three members of the committee abstained. 2 to not do something that you would normally enjoy doing: For two weeks, I abstained from alcohol. —abstention /əb'stenʃən/ n. [C,U] ab-ste-mi-ous /æb'stimɪəs/ adj. (formal) careful not to have too much food, drink, etc. —abstemiously adv.

ab-sti-nence /'æbstənəns/ n. [U] the practice of not doing something you enjoy, especially for health or religious reasons —abstinent adj.

ab-tract¹ /əb'strækt, æb-, 'æbstrækt/ (Ac) adj. 1 based on ideas rather than specific examples or real events: He took the abstract idea of political reform and made it a reality. | Language and the capability for abstract thought (=ability to think about ideas) makes humans unique and separate from other animals. 2 abstract art is made of shapes and patterns that do not look like real things or people → see picture at PAINTING —abstraction /əb'strækʃən/ n. [C,U] ab-tract² /'æbstrækt/ (Ac) n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a short written statement containing only the most important ideas in a speech, article, etc.: People planning to give a talk must send in an abstract by July 1.

abstract noun n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a noun that names a feeling, quality, or state rather than a thing, animal, or person. For example, “beauty,” “hunger,” and “happiness” are abstract nouns. → CONCRETE NOUN ab-struse /əb'strus, æb-/ adj. (formal) difficult to understand, in a way that seems unnecessarily complicated: the abstruse regulations on saving for pensions —abstrusely adv. —abstruseness n. [U]

ab-surd /əb'sɜːd, -'zɜːd/ adj. completely unreasonable or silly: an absurd situation | It's absurd to pay all that money for something you're only going to use once. —absurdly adv. —absurdity n. [C,U]

a-bun-dance /ə'bʌndəns/ n. [singular, U] (formal) a large quantity of something: The park has an abundance of wildlife. | Wild flowers grow in abundance on the hillsides.

a-bun-dant /ə'bʌndənt/ adj. more than enough in quantity (Syn) plentiful: an abundant supply of fresh fruit

a-bun-dant-ly /ə'bʌndəntli/ adv. 1 abundantly clear very easy to understand: Kaplan made it abundantly clear that we weren't welcome. 2 in large quantities: Lavender will grow abundantly with little water.

a-buse¹ /ə'byus/ n. 1 [U] cruel or violent treatment of someone: There were several cases of child abuse at the home. | victims of sexual abuse 2 [C,U] the use of something in a way it should not be used: the government's abuse of power | drug/alcohol abuse (=the practice of taking illegal drugs or drinking too much) 3 [U] cruel or offensive things someone says when s/he is angry: People were shouting abuse at the soldiers.

a-buse² /ə'byuz/ v. [T] 1 to do cruel or violent things to someone: He used to get drunk and abuse his wife. | She was sexually abused as a child. 2 to use something too much or in the wrong way: He abused his position as mayor by giving jobs to his relatives. | She had been abusing drugs/alcohol since she was 12. 3 to say cruel or unkind things to someone

a-bu-sive /ə'byusɪv/ adj. using cruel words or physical violence: an abusive husband

a-bys-mal /ə'bɪzməl/ adj. very bad: the country's abysmal record on human rights [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 abysm “abyss” (14—20 centuries), from Old French abisme, from Late Latin abyssus]

THESAURUS bad, awful, terrible, horrible, appalling, horrendous, atrocious → BAD¹

a-byss /ə'bis/ n. [C] 1 (literary) a very dangerous or frightening situation: The country might plunge into the abyss of economic ruin. 2 a very deep hole or space that seems to have no bottom

AC 1 PHYSICS the abbreviation of ALTERNATING CURRENT 2 the abbreviation of AIR CONDITIONING

ac-a-de-mi-a /ækə'dɪmiə/ (Ac) n. [U] the activities and work done at universities and colleges, or the teachers and students involved in it: Ph.D. students often look for jobs in academia. [ORIGIN: 1900—2000 Modern Latin, Latin; ACADEMY]

ac-a-dem-ic¹ /ækə'demɪk/ (Ac) adj. relating to education, especially in a college or university: The academic year starts September 3rd. | Applicants for the job must show proof of their academic achievement.

academic² n. [C] a teacher in a college or university: The conference is attended by academics from many of the country's leading universities.

a-cad-e-my /ə'kædəmi/ (Ac) n. (plural academies) [C] 1 a school or college that trains students in a special subject or skill: a military academy 2 an organization of people who want to encourage the progress of art, science, literature, etc.: the American Academy of Arts and Sciences [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin academia, from Greek Akadeimia the school in Athens at which the ancient Greek thinker Plato taught]

ac-cede /æk'sɪd, ɪk-/ v.

accede to sth phr. v. (formal) 1 to agree to a demand, proposal, etc., especially after first disagreeing with it: The General acceded to a request for time to bury the dead. 2 to achieve a position of power or authority: He acceded to the papacy after the death of John Paul II.

ac-cel-er-ate /æk'selə'reɪt/ v. 1 [I] if a vehicle

A

A

or its driver accelerates, it moves faster → DRIVE¹ 2 [I,T] to happen at a faster rate than usual, or to make something do this: We tried to accelerate the process by heating the chemicals. —acceleration /ækˌsɛləˈreɪʃən/ n. [U] ac-cel-er-a-tor /ækˌsɛləˈreɪtə/ n. [C] the part of a car that you press with your foot to make it go faster

ac-cent¹ /ˈæksənt/ n. 1 [C] a way of pronouncing words that someone has because of where s/he was born or lives: a strong southern accent | a German/Korean, etc. accent → LANGUAGE 2 [C] the part of a word that you emphasize when you say it 3 [C] a mark, usually written above some letters, such as é or â, that shows how to pronounce that letter 4 [singular] the extra importance or emphasis given to something: In this year's guide, there is an accent on restaurants that offer value for money. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French, Latin accentus, from ad- “to” + cantus “song”]

ac-cent² /ˈæksənt, ækˈsənt/ v. [T] to emphasize a word in speech

ac-cen-tu-ate /ækˈsɛntʃu,ert, æk-/ v. [T] to make something easier to notice: Her scarf accentuated the blue of her eyes.

THESAURUS emphasize, stress, highlight, underline, underscore, exaggerate → EMPHASIZE

ac-cept /əkˈsept/ v. 1 [I,T] to take something that someone offers you, or to agree to do something that someone asks you to do (ANT) refuse: They offered him the job, and he accepted. | Mr. Ryan wouldn't accept any money from us. | They accepted our invitation to dinner. | She accepted his offer to repair the damage on her car.

GRAMMAR

When someone asks you to do something, you agree to do it. Do not say “accept to do something”: The U.S. has agreed to provide aid. You accept an invitation, a job, an offer, etc.: Schroeder accepted a job offer to teach at Princeton University.

2 [T] to admit that something bad or difficult is true, and continue with your normal life: He's not going to change, and you just have to accept it. | I accept that we've made mistakes. | It took Ann months to accept her son's death. 3 [T] to believe something, because someone has persuaded you to believe it: The jury accepted his story.

THESAURUS believe, swallow, fall for sth, buy, give credence to sth → BELIEVE

4 [T] to let someone join an organization, university, etc. (ANT) reject: I've been accepted at/to Harvard. 5 [T] to let someone new become part of a group and to treat him/her in the same way as other members: At first, the kids at school didn't accept him. 6 [T] to let customers pay for something in a particular way (SYN) take: We don't accept credit cards. 7 accept responsibility/blame for sth

(formal) to admit that you are responsible for something bad that has happened: Benson accepts full responsibility for his crimes. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 French accepter, from Latin accipere “to receive,” from ad- “to” + capere “to take”]

ac-cept-a-ble /əkˈseptəbəl/ adj. 1 good enough for a particular purpose: a deal that is acceptable to all sides | a cheap and acceptable substitute for rubber

THESAURUS satisfactory, good enough, reasonable, adequate → SATISFACTORY

2 acceptable behavior is considered morally or socially good enough: Smoking used to be more socially acceptable. | It is now considered acceptable for mothers to work outside the home. —acceptability /əkˌseptəˈbɪləti/ n. [U]

ac-cept-ance /əkˈseptəns/ n. [U] 1 the act of agreeing that something is right or true: the acceptance of Einstein's theory 2 the act of agreeing to accept something that is offered to you: a candidate's acceptance of illegal contributions 3 the process of allowing someone to become part of a group: the immigrants' gradual acceptance into the community 4 the act of deciding that there is nothing you can do to change a bad situation 5 gain/find acceptance to become popular: Home computers first gained wide acceptance in the 1980s.

ac-cess¹ /ˈækses/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 the right to enter a place, use something, see someone, etc.: Anyone with access to the Internet can visit our website. | Many people living in developing countries do not have access to clean drinking water. 2 the way you enter a building or get to a place, or how easy this is: The only access to the building is through the parking lot. | The law requires businesses to improve access for disabled customers. → gain access at GAIN¹ [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French acces “arrival,” from Latin accessus “approach”]

access² v. [T] to find information, especially on a computer: You can even access the Internet from this cell phone.

ac-ces-si-ble /əkˈsɛsəbəl/ (Ac) adj. 1 easy to reach or get into (ANT) inaccessible: The park is not accessible by road. 2 easy to obtain or use: We want a low-cost health care system that is accessible to every citizen. 3 easy to understand and enjoy: We tried to make the play more accessible to a young audience by reducing it from its original three hours to ninety minutes. | I thought his last book was more accessible. —accessibility /əkˌsɛsəˈbɪləti/ n. [U]

ac-ces-so-ry /əkˈsɛsəri/ n. (plural accessories) [C] 1 something such as a belt, jewelry, etc. that you wear or carry because it is attractive: a dress with matching accessories 2 something that you can add to a machine, tool, car, etc. which is not necessary but is useful or attractive 3 LAW someone who helps a criminal

ac-ci-dent /'æksədənt, -dənt/ n. [C] 1 a situation in which someone is hurt or something is damaged without anyone intending it to happen: She didn't do it on purpose – it was an accident. | Her parents were killed in a car/traffic/auto etc. accident. | Ken had an accident on the way home from work.

THESAURUS

crash/collision – an accident in which a vehicle hits something else wreck – an accident in which a car or train is badly damaged pile-up – an accident that involves several cars or trucks disaster – something that happens which causes a lot of harm or suffering catastrophe – a very serious disaster mishap – a small accident that does not have a very serious effect

2 by accident in a way that is not intended or planned: I discovered by accident that he'd lied to me. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 French, Latin accidens “additional quality, chance,” from accidere “to happen,” from ad- “to” + cadere “to fall”]

ac-ci-den-tal /,æksə'dentəl/ adj. happening without being planned or intended (ANT) deliberate: He was killed in an accidental shooting. —accidentally adv.: I accidentally locked myself out of the house.

'accident-prone adj. someone who is accident-prone often has accidents

ac-claim¹ /ə'kleɪm/ v. [T] to praise someone or something publicly: He was acclaimed as the best coach in football.

acclaim² n. [U] strong praise for a person, idea, book, etc.: Morrison's novels have won critical acclaim.

ac-claimed /ə'kleɪmd/ adj. praised by a lot of people: The film has been highly/widely acclaimed by critics.

ac-cli-mate /'æklə,meɪt/ also ac-cli-ma-tize /ə'klaɪmə,taɪz/ v. [I,T] to become used to the weather, way of living, etc. in a new place, or to make someone do this: It takes the astronauts a day to get acclimated to conditions in space. —acclimatization /ə,klaɪmə'teɪʒən/ n. [U]

ac-co-lade /'ækə,leɪd/ n. [C] praise and approval given to someone, or a prize given to someone for his/her work [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 French accoller “to embrace,” from Vulgar Latin accollare, from Latin collum “neck”]

ac-com-mo-date /ə'kamə,det/ (Ac) v. 1 [T] to have enough space for a particular number of people or things: The hall can accommodate 300 people. 2 [T] to give someone a place to stay, live, or work: The dorm was built in 1980 to accommodate new students. 3 [I] to get used to a new situation, place, etc.: It can take northerners a long time to accommodate to Florida's hot climate.

[ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of accommodare, from ad- “to” + commodare “to make fit,” from commodus “suitable”]

ac-com-mo-dat-ing /ə'kamə,deɪtɪŋ/ (Ac) adj. helpful and willing to do what someone else wants: All the Japanese people I met seemed very polite and accommodating.

ac-com-mo-da-tion /ə'kamə,deɪʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 accommodations [plural] a place to live, stay, or work: The cost of the trip includes meals and motel accommodations. 2 [singular, U] (formal) a way of solving a problem between two people or groups so that both are satisfied: The ruling party must reach an accommodation with one of the opposition parties or it will lose power.

ac-com-pa-ni-ment /ə'kampənɪmənt/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS music played while someone sings or plays another instrument: He sang the national anthem, while another student provided piano accompaniment. | an orchestral accompaniment 2 [C] (formal) something that is good to eat or drink with another food: This wine makes a nice accompaniment to fish. 3 to the accompaniment of something while something else is happening, or while another sound can be heard: The soldiers marched to the accompaniment of drums and whistles.

ac-com-pa-nist /ə'kampənɪst/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS someone who plays a musical instrument while another person sings or plays the main tune

ac-com-pa-ny /ə'kampəni/ (Ac) v. (accompanied, accompanies) [T] 1 (formal) to go somewhere with someone: Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult. | She needed someone to accompany her to the doctor. 2 to happen or exist at the same time: Tonight, heavy rains will be accompanied by high winds. 3 ENG. LANG. ARTS to play music while someone is playing or singing the main tune [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Old French acompaignier, from compaign “companion”]

ac-com-plate /ə'kampləs/ n. [C] someone who helps a criminal do something wrong

ac-com-plish /ə'kamplɪʃ/ v. [T] to succeed in doing something: We've accomplished our goal of raising $45,000.

ac-com-plished /ə'kamplɪʃt/ adj. very skillful: an accomplished musician

THESAURUS

skillful, expert, talented, gifted → SKILLFUL

ac-com-plish-ment /ə'kamplɪʃmənt/ n. 1 [U] the act of accomplishing something: the accomplishment of policy goals 2 [C] something you can do well: Playing the piano is one of her many accomplishments.

ac-cord¹ /ə'kɔːrd/ n. 1 of sb's own accord without being asked or forced to do something: I didn't say anything. He left of his own accord. 2 [C] (formal) an official agreement between countries 3 in accord (with sth) (formal) in agreement with someone or something: These results are in accord with earlier research.

A

A

accord² v. [T] (formal) to give someone or something special attention or a particular type of treatment: the wealth and privilege accorded to those in power ac·cord·ance /ə'kɔːdn̩s/ n. in accordance with sth according to a system or rule: He placed pebbles on the grave, in accordance with Jewish tradition.

ac·cord·ing·ly /ə'kɔːdɪŋli/ adv. 1 in a way that is appropriate for a particular situation, or based on what someone has done or said: If you break the rules, you will be punished accordingly. 2 (formal) as a result of something [SYN] therefore: The law was ruled unconstitutional. Accordingly, Congress amended the bill in line with the court's ruling.

THESAURUS

therefore, so, as a result/consequently/as a consequence, thus, hence → THEREFORE

ac·cord·ing to prep. 1 as shown by something or said by someone: According to our records, you still have six of our books. | The president is still very popular, according to recent public opinion polls. 2 in a way that is directly affected or determined by something: You will be paid according to the amount of work you do. | Everything went according to plan.

ac·cor·di·on /ə'kɔːdɪən/ n. [C] a musical instrument that is played by pulling the sides and pushing buttons to produce different notes ac·cost /ə'kɔːst, ə'kɑːst/ v. [T] (formal) to go up to someone you do not know and speak to him/her in an impolite or threatening way: I was accosted by a man asking for money.

ac·count¹ /ə'kaʊnt/ n. 1 [C] a written or spoken description of an event or situation: Can you give us an account of what happened? | a detailed account of the attack | By/From all accounts (=according to what everyone says), Frank was once a great player. 2 [C] also bank account an arrangement with a bank that allows you to keep your money there and take money out when you need it: I don't have much money in my account. | I'd like to open an account, please. | checking account (=one that you can take money out of at any time) | savings account (=one in which you save money so that the amount increases)

TOPIC

You open an account at a bank.
You pay, put, or deposit money into your account.
You take money out of your account or withdraw money from your account.
You can do this at a bank, or you can use an ATM (=a machine that you use with a card). An ATM is also called a cash machine.
When there is money in your account, you have a balance of that amount of money, or you have that amount in your account.

When the amount of money in your account is less than zero, you are overdrawn.

Many banks have an online banking service, which allows you to check the balance in your account, make payments, etc. using a computer that is connected to the Internet.

THESAURUS

checking account – one that you use regularly for making payments, etc.

savings account – one where you leave money for longer periods of time, and which pays you a higher rate of interest than a checking account joint account – one that is used by two people, usually a husband and wife online account – one which allows you to check the balance in your account, make payments, etc. by using a computer that is connected to the Internet

3 take sth into account/take account of sth

to consider particular facts when judging or deciding something: The price does not take taxes into account. 4 [C,U] an arrangement with a shop or company that allows you to buy goods and pay for them later: buying a dishwasher on account | Please settle your account (=pay all you owe) as soon as possible. | I'd like to charge this to my account (=pay using this arrangement). 5 accounts [plural] ECONOMICS a record of the money that a company has received and spent: The accounts for last year showed a profit of $2 million. 6 [C] ECONOMICS a company or organization that regularly buys goods or a service from another company over a long period of time: Our sales manager won five new accounts this year. 7 not on my/his etc. account (spoken) not for me or because of me: Don't stay up late on my account. 8 on no account (formal) used in order to say that someone must not do something: On no account should anyone go near the building. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French acompter, from compter “to count”]

account² v.

account for sth phr. v. to be the reason for something, or to explain the reason for something: How do you account for the $20 that's missing?

ac·count·a·ble /ə'kaʊntəbəl/ adj. [not before noun] responsible for what you do, and willing to explain it: If anything happens to Max, I'll hold you accountable (=consider you responsible). —accountability /ə'kaʊntə'bɪləti/ n. [U]

ac·count·ant /ə'kaʊntənt, ə'kaʊntˈnt/ n. [C] ECONOMICS someone whose job is to write or check financial records

ac·count·ing /ə'kaʊntɪŋ/ n. [U] ECONOMICS the job of being an accountant

ac·cred·it·ed /ə'kredɪtɪd/ adj. having official approval: an accredited college —accreditation /ə'kredə'teɪʃən/ n. [U] ac·cre·tion /ə'kriːʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] (formal) a layer of a substance which slowly forms on something: an accretion of minerals 2 (formal) a gradual process by which new things are added and something gradually changes or gets bigger: an accretion of knowledge

ac-crue /ə'kru/ v. [I,T] to increase over a period of time: tax benefits that accrue to investors

ac-cu-mu-late /ə'kyumyə,leɪt/ (Ac) v. [I,T] to gradually increase in amount, or to make something do this: Drifting snow began to accumulate at the entrance to the tunnel. | He accumulated a large fortune from investments in real estate. —accumulation /ə,kyumyə'leɪʃən/ n. [C,U]: the accumulation of greenhouse gases in the upper atmosphere

ac-cu-ra-cy /'ækjərəsi/ (Ac) n. [U] the quality of being accurate: The bombs can be aimed with amazing accuracy.

ac-cu-rate /'ækjərɪt/ (Ac) adj. 1 correct in every detail (ANT) inaccurate: The Hubble telescope provides scientists with accurate information about our solar system. | The book claims to be historically accurate.

THESAURUS right, correct, true → RIGHT¹

2 an accurate shot, throw, etc. succeeds in hitting the thing that it is aimed at [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of accurare “to take care of,” from ad “toward” + cura “care”] —accurately adv.: He estimated the cost of repairs pretty accurately.

ac-cu-sa-tion /'ækjə'seɪʃən/ n. [C] a statement saying that someone has done something wrong or illegal: Serious accusations have been made against the Attorney General. | The boy's parents face accusations (=are accused) of neglect and abuse.

THESAURUS

allegation (formal) – a statement that someone has done something illegal, which has not been proved: He has denied the allegations of wrongdoing.

charge – a statement that says what crime someone is accused of: The charges against her were dismissed.

indictment (Law) – an official written statement saying that someone has done something illegal and that there is enough evidence to have a trial in a court of law: He is under indictment for credit card fraud.

complaint (Law) – if you file a complaint, you make a formal statement saying that you think someone is guilty of a crime: She filed a complaint against her employers, accusing them of discrimination.

ac-cu-sa-tive /ə'kyuzətɪv/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a form of a noun that shows that the noun is the DIRECT OBJECT of a verb, in languages such as Latin or German → DATIVE

ac-cuse /ə'kyuz/ v. [T] to say that someone has done something wrong or illegal: Norton was accused of murder. | Are you accusing me of cheating? —accuser n. [C] allege – to say that something is true, though it has not been proved: Ms. Ruiz alleges that she was harassed.

THESAURUS

charge – to state officially which crime someone may be guilty of: He was charged with murder.

indict (Law) – to officially charge someone with a crime and take him/her to a court of law: He was indicted on charges of fraud.

ac-cused /ə'kyuzd/ n. the accused LAW the person or people who are accused of a crime in a court of law

ac-cus-tomed /ə'kʌstəmd/ adj. (formal) 1 be accustomed to (doing) sth to be used to something and accept it as normal: Ed's eyes quickly grew/became/got accustomed to the dark. 2 [only before noun] usual: We sat at our accustomed table. —accustom v. [T]

ace¹ /eɪs/ n. [C] 1 a PLAYING CARD with one mark on it, that has the highest or lowest value in a game: the ace of spades → see picture at PLAYING CARD 2 a SERVE (=first hit) in tennis or VOLLEYBALL that is so good that your opponent cannot hit it back 3 someone who is extremely skillful at doing something: a World War II flying ace | the school's ace pitcher

ace² v. [T] (spoken) to do very well on a test, a piece of written work, etc.: Danny aced the spelling test.

a-cer-bic /ə'səbɪk/ adj. criticizing someone or something in an intelligent but cruel way: an acerbic wit

ac-et-y-lene /ə'setl-ɪn, -ɪn/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a gas which burns with a bright flame and is used in equipment for cutting and joining pieces of metal ache¹ /eɪk/ n. [C] a continuous pain: I have a headache/backache/toothache etc. [ORIGIN: Old English acan] —achy adj.: My arm feels all achy.

ache² v. [I] 1 to feel a continuous pain: I ache all over. → HURT¹ 2 to want to do or have something very much: Jenny was aching to go home.

a-chieve /ə'tʃi:v/ (Ac) v. [T] to succeed in getting a good result or in doing something you want: You will have to work a lot harder if you want to achieve your goals. | The company failed to achieve the results its major shareholders had expected. —achiever n. [C]: Many of our students are high achievers. —achievable adj.

a-chieve-ment /ə'tʃi:vmənt/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] something good and impressive that you succeed in doing: Winning the championship is quite an achievement. | He read about his son's achievements in the newspaper. 2 [U] success in doing or getting what you worked for: Juan received an award for his exceptional academic achievement.

A

acid¹ /'æsɪd/ n. [C,U] a liquid chemical substance. Some types of acid can burn holes in things or damage your skin: hydrochloric acid [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French acide, from Latin acere “to be sour”] acid² adj. using humor in an unkind way or saying cruel things: Everyone fears her acid tongue.

a-cid-ic /ə'sɪdɪk/ adj. 1 having a very sour taste 2 containing acid —acidity /ə'sɪdətɪ/ n. [U] acid 'rain n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES rain that can damage the environment because it contains acid from factory smoke, waste gases from cars and trucks, etc. → ENVIRONMENT

ac-knowl-edge /ək'nɒlɪdʒ/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to accept or admit that something is true or official: Angie acknowledged (that) she had made a mistake. | They are refusing to acknowledge the court's decision. 2 to recognize how good or important someone or something is: It is acknowledged as the finest restaurant in London. | He's widely acknowledged to be the best surgeon in his field. 3 to let someone know that you have received something from him/her: She never acknowledged my letter. 4 to show someone that you have seen him/her or heard what s/he has said: Jackson waved, acknowledging his fans.

ac-knowl-edg-ment /ək'nɒlɪdʒmənt/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] the act of admitting or accepting that something is true: The public may consider Berry's silence to be an acknowledgment of his guilt. 2 [C] a letter you write telling someone that you have received something s/he sent to you ac-ne /'æknɪ/ n. [U] a skin problem that causes spots to appear on the face and is common among young people

a-corn /'eɪkɔːn/ n. [C] the nut of an OAK tree → see picture at PLANT¹

a-cous-tic /ə'kʊstɪk/ adj. 1 relating to sound and the way people hear things 2 an acoustic musical instrument is not electric: an acoustic guitar [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Greek akoustikos “of hearing,” from akouein “to hear”] a-cous-tics /ə'kʊstɪks/ n. [plural] the way in which the shape and size of a room affect the quality of the sound you can hear in it ac-quaint /ə'kweɪnt/ v. acquaint yourself with sth (formal) to deliberately find out about something: We have already acquainted ourselves with the facts.

ac-quaint-ance /ə'kweɪntəns/ n. [C] someone you know, but not very well: He's an old acquaintance of mine from school.

ac-quaint-ed /ə'kweɪntɪd/ adj. if you are acquainted with someone, you know him/her, but not well: Yes, I'm acquainted with Roger. | Why don't you two get acquainted (=start to learn more about each other)?

ac-qui-esce /,ækwi'ɛs/ v. [I] (formal) to agree to do what someone wants, or to allow something to happen, although you do not like it —acquiescence n. [U] ac-quire /ə'kwaɪə/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to buy a company or property: The present owner, who acquired the property in 1995, is moving to Santa Monica.

THESAURUS buy, purchase, get → BUY¹

2 to develop or learn a skill, or become known for a particular quality: She spent years completing her education and acquiring the necessary skills to become a surgeon. | He acquired a reputation for honesty.

THESAURUS learn, study, master → LEARN

3 an acquired taste something that you only begin to like after you have tried it a few times: Whiskey is often an acquired taste. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old French acquere, from Latin acquirere, from ad- “to” + quaerere “to look for, obtain”] ac-qui-si-tion /,ækwi'zɪʃən/ (Ac) n. (formal) 1 [U] the act of getting something: the acquisition of new companies 2 [C] something that you have gotten: a recent acquisition ac-quit /ə'kwɪt/ v. (acquitted, acquitting) [T] LAW to decide in a court of law that someone is not guilty of a crime: Simmons was acquitted of murder. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French acquiter, from quite “free of”]

ac-quit-tal /ə'kwɪtl/ n. [C,U] LAW an official statement in a court of law that someone is not guilty: The trial ended with his acquittal.

a-cre /'eɪkə/ n. [C] a unit for measuring an area of land, equal to 4,840 square yards or about 4,047 square meters ac-rid /'ækɪɪd/ adj. having a very strong and bad smell that hurts your nose or throat: a cloud of acrid smoke ac-ri-mo-ni-ous /,ækɪə'məniəs/ adj. (formal) an acrimonious meeting, argument, etc. involves a lot of anger and disagreement: an acrimonious divorce ac-ri-mo-ny /'ækɪə'məni/ n. [U] (formal) very angry feelings between people, often strongly expressed ac-ro-bat /ˈækroʊbæt/ n. [C] someone who does difficult physical actions to entertain people, such as balancing on a high rope [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 French acrobate, from Greek akrobatos “walking on the ends of the toes”] —acrobatic /ˌækroʊˈbætɪk/ adj.

ac-ro-bat-ics /ˌækroʊˈbætɪks/ n. [plural] the skill or tricks of an acrobat ac-ro-nym /ˈækrənɪm/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a word that is made from the first letters of a group of words. For example, NATO is an acronym for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. [ORIGIN: 1900—2000 acr- “beginning, end” (from Greek akr-) + -onym (as in homonym)]

a-cross /əˈkrɒs/ adv., prep. 1 from one side of something to the other side: The road's too busy to walk across. | Vince stared across the canyon. | flying across the Atlantic 2 10 feet/5 miles etc. across used to show how wide something is: At its widest point, the river is 2 miles across. 3 on the opposite side of something: Ben lives across the street from us. | Andi sat across from me. | The school is all the way across town. 4 reaching or spreading from one side of an area to the other: There was only one bridge across the bay. | a deep crack across the ceiling 5 across the board affecting everyone or everything: Changes will have to be made across the board.

a-cryl-ic /əˈkrɪlɪk/ adj. CHEMISTRY acrylic paints, cloth, etc. are made from a chemical substance rather than a natural substance

act¹ /ækt/ v. 1 [I] to do something: We must act now in order to protect American jobs. | The jury decided that Walker had acted in self-defense. | We're acting on the advice of our lawyer (=doing what s/he says). 2 [I] to behave in a particular way: Nick's been acting strangely recently. | Pam's acting like a baby. | Gabe acted as if nothing was wrong. 3 [I,T] to perform as a character in a play or movie: I started acting in high school. 4 [I] to produce a particular effect: Salt acts as a preservative.

act sth ↔ out phr. v. to show how an event happened by performing it like a play: The children read the story and then acted it out.

act up phr. v. to behave badly, or not work correctly: The car's acting up again.

act² n. 1 [C] something that you do: a criminal act | acts of cruelty | Police caught the suspect in the act of making a bomb.

USAGE

Act is always countable, and is used when you mean a particular type of action: an act of kindness | acts of violence

Action can be countable or uncountable: His actions were honorable. | We need to take immediate action.

2 [C] also Act a law that has been officially accepted by the government: the Civil Rights Act 3 [C] also Act one of the main parts of a play, OPERA, etc.: Hamlet kills the king in Act 5. 4 [C] a short piece of entertainment on television or stage: a comedy act 5 [singular] behavior that is not sincere: He doesn't care, Laura – it's just an act. 6 get your act together (informal) to start to do things in a more organized or effective way: If Julie doesn't get her act together, she'll never graduate. 7 get in on the act (informal) to become involved in a successful activity that someone else has started act-ing¹ /ˈæktɪŋ/ adj. acting manager/director etc. someone who replaces the manager, etc. for a short time

acting² n. [U] the job or skill of performing in plays or movies

ac-tion /ˈækʃən/ n. 1 [U] the process of doing something for a particular purpose: He realized the need for immediate action. | We must take action (=start doing something) before it's too late. | The best course of action (=way of dealing with the situation) is to resign immediately. | His lawyers have threatened to take legal action. 2 [C] something that you do: The child could not be held responsible for his actions. | His quick actions probably saved my life. 3 out of action (informal) not working because of damage or injury: My car's out of action. | Jim will be out of action for two weeks. 4 [U] (informal) exciting things that are happening: New York's where the action is. | an action movie (=one with a lot of fast exciting scenes) 5 in action doing a particular job or activity: a chance to see ski jumpers in action 6 [C,U] fighting in a war: He was killed in action.

THESAURUS

war, fighting, combat, warfare

→ WAR

7 [U] the effect a substance has on something: The rock is worn down by the action of the falling water.

'action verb n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a verb that describes an action rather than a state, for example “run” or “jump”

ac-ti-vate /ˈæktəveɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to make something start working: This switch activates the alarm. —activation /ˌæktəˈveɪʃən/ n. [U]

ac-tive¹ /ˈæktɪv/ adj. 1 always doing things, or moving around a lot (ANT) inactive: Grandpa's very active for his age. | games for active youngsters 2 involved in an organization or activity by doing things for it: an active member of the American Civil Liberties Union | Mahke is active in the Republican Party. 3 working or operating in the expected way: The alarm is now active. 4 EARTH SCIENCES an active VOLCANO is likely to explode and pour out fire and LAVA (=hot liquid rock) 5 ENG. LANG. ARTS an active verb or sentence has the person or thing doing the action as its SUBJECT. In “The boy kicked the ball,” the verb “kick” is active. (ANT) passive active² n. the active (voice) ENG. LANG. ARTS the active form of a verb → PASSIVE

A

A

ac-tive-ly /'æktivli/ adv. in a way that involves doing things or taking part in something: My parents are actively involved with the church.

ac-tiv-ist /'æktəvɪst/ n. [C] someone who works to achieve social or political change: human rights activists — activism n. [U]

ac-tiv-i-ty /æk'tɪvəti/ n. (plural activities) 1 [C usually plural] things that you do for pleasure: after-school activities | She loves nature and outdoor activities. 2 [C,U] things that you do because you want to achieve something: an increase in terrorist activity | *anti-government political activity 3 [U] a situation in which a lot of things are happening or a lot of things are being done: the noise and activity of the city

ac-tor /'æktər/ n. [C] someone who performs in a play or movie: a leading Hollywood actor → MOVIE

ac-tress /'æktɪs/ n. [C] a woman who performs in a play or movie → MOVIE

ac-tu-al /'æktʃuəl, 'ækʃuəl/ adj. real or exact: Were those his actual words? | Well, the actual cost is a lot higher than they say.

ac-tu-al-ly /'æktʃuəli, -tʃəli, 'ækʃuəli, -fəli/ adv. 1 used to emphasize that something is true, especially when it is a little surprising or unexpected: They were never actually married. | What actually happened? | Actually, it was a lot of fun. 2 used in order to give more information, give your opinion, etc.: The watch actually belonged to my father. | Actually, I think I'll stay home tonight.

a-cu-men /ə'kyumən, 'ækjəmən/ n. [U] the ability to think quickly and make good judgments: business acumen

ac-u-punc-ture /'ækjəpʌŋktʃər/ n. [U] a way of treating pain or illness by putting thin needles into parts of the body

a-cute /ə'kyut/ adj. 1 very serious or severe: acute pain | acute shortages of food 2 quick to notice and understand things: an acute observation | an acute mind 3 showing an ability to notice small differences in sound, taste, etc.: acute hearing 4 BIOLOGY an acute disease or illness quickly becomes dangerous → CHRONIC: acute tuberculosis 5 ENG. LANG. ARTS an acute ACCENT (= a mark used to show how something is pronounced) is a small line written above a vowel. In the word “café,” the letter “e” has an acute accent. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin, past participle of acuere “to sharpen,” from acus “needle”]

a,cute 'angle n. [C] MATH an acute angle is less than 90° → OBLIQUE ANGLE, OBTUSE ANGLE → see picture at ANGLE¹

a-cutely /ə'kyutli/ adv. feeling or noticing something very strongly: We are acutely aware of the problem.

a,cute 'triangle n. [C] MATH a TRIANGLE whose three angles are each less than 90°

ad /æd/ n. [C] (informal) an advertisement

A.D. Anno Domini used in order to show that a date is a particular number of years after the birth of Christ → B.C.: 432 A.D. ad-age /'ædɪdʒ/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a well-known phrase that says something wise about life ad-a-mant /'ædəmənt/ adj. (formal) determined not to change your opinion, decision, etc. [ORIGIN: 800–900 Old French, Latin adamus “hardest metal, diamond,” from Greek] — adamantly adv.: The chairman has remained adamantly opposed to the project.

Ad-am's ap-ple

/'ædəmz ,æpəl/ n. [C] the lump at the front of a man's neck, that moves when he talks or swallows

a-dapt /ə'dæpt/ (Ac)

v. 1 [I,T] to change your behavior or ideas to fit a new situation: The kids are having trouble adapting to their new school. | These plants are able to adapt themselves to desert conditions. 2 [T] to change something so that it is appropriate for a new purpose: The car has been adapted to take unleaded gas. | The house was adapted for wheelchair users.

THESAURUS change, alter, adjust, modify
→ CHANGE¹

a-dapt-a-ble /ə'dæptəbəl/ (Ac) adj. able to change and be successful in new and different situations — adaptability /ə'dæptə'bɪləti/ n. [U] ad-ap-ta-tion /'ædəp'teɪʃən, 'ædəp-/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a play, movie, or television program that is based on a book 2 [U] the process of changing something so that it can be used in a different way or in different conditions a-dapt-er /ə'dæptər/ n. [C] an object you use to connect two pieces of electrical equipment, or to connect more than one piece of equipment to the same power supply

add /æd/ v. [T] 1 to put something with something else, or with a group of other things: Continue mixing, then add flour. | Do you want to add your name to the mailing list? 2 MATH to put numbers or amounts together and then calculate the total: If you add 5 and 3, you get 8. | The interest will be added to your savings every six months. 3 to say something extra about what you have just said: The judge added that this case was one of the worst she had ever tried.

THESAURUS say, mention, state → SAY¹

4 add insult to injury to make a bad situation even worse for someone who has already been treated badly [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin addere, from ad- “to” + -dere “to put”]

add on ↔ sth phr. v. to include or put on something extra: Eating chocolate really adds on the calories.

add to sth phr. v. to make a feeling or quality stronger and more noticeable: The change of plans only added to our confusion.

add up phr. v. 1 add sth ↔ up to put numbers or amounts together and then calculate the total: We're now adding up the latest figures. 2 not add up to not seem true or reasonable: Her story (=explanation or account of what has happened) just doesn't add up.

ad-den-dum /ə'dendəm/ n. (plural addenda /-də/) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS something that is added to the end of a book, usually to give more information ad-dict /'ædɪkt/ n. [C] someone who is unable to stop taking drugs: a heroin addict

ad-dict-ed /ə'dɪktɪd/ adj. unable to stop taking a drug: Marvin was addicted to sleeping pills.
—addiction /ə'dɪkʃən/ n. [C,U]: addiction to alcohol —addictive /ə'dɪktɪv/ adj.: a highly addictive drug

ad-di-tion /ə'dɪʃən/ n. 1 in addition used in order to add another fact to what has already been mentioned: We installed a new security system. In addition, extra guards were hired. | In addition to his job, Harvey also coaches Little League.

THESAURUS

extra – if something is extra, it is not included in the price of something and you have to pay more for it: Dinner costs $15, but drinks are extra.

on top of – in addition to a lot of other things, or in addition to a large amount, when you do not think this is good: On top of everything else, I have to work on Saturday.

as well as – in addition to something or someone else: She plays the piano as well as the violin.

2 [U] MATH the process of adding together several numbers or amounts to get a total → DIVISION, MULTIPLICATION, SUBTRACTION 3 [C] something that is added to something else: The book will be a welcome addition to any travel reader's collection.

THESAURUS

additive – a substance that is added to food to make it taste or look better or to keep it fresh: food additives supplement – something that is added to something else to improve it: vitamin supplements

4 [C] an extra room that is added to a building

ad-di-tion-al /ə'dɪʃənəl/ adj. more than you already have, or more than was agreed or expected (SYN) extra: We were charged an additional $50 in late fees. | Additional information is available on our website.

THESAURUS

more, another, extra, further → MORE²

ad-di-tive /'ædətɪv/ n. [C usually plural] a substance that is added to food to make it taste or look better or to keep it fresh → ADDITION ad-dress /ə'dres, 'ædres/ n. [C] 1 the details of where someone lives or works, including the number of a building, name of the street and town, etc.: I forgot to give Damien my new address. | Write your name and address on a postcard. | Please notify us of any change of address. 2 a series of letters or numbers used to send an email to someone, or to reach a page of information on the Internet: Give me your email address. → INTERNET 3 /ə'dres/ a formal speech: the Gettysburg Address

ad-dress² /ə'dres/ v. [T] 1 to write a name and address on an envelope, package, etc.: There's a letter here addressed to you. 2 (formal) to speak directly to a person or a group: A guest speaker then addressed the audience. | You should address your question to the chairman. 3 address a problem/question/issue etc. (formal) to start trying to solve a problem: Special meetings address the concerns of new members. 4 to use a particular name or title when speaking or writing to someone: The President should be addressed as "Mr. President."

a-dept /ə'dept/ adj. good at doing something that needs care or skill: He has become adept at cooking. —adeptly adv.

THESAURUS

skillful, expert, accomplished, deft → SKILLFUL

ad-e-quate /'ædəkwɪt/ (AC) adj. 1 enough in quantity or of a good enough quality for a particular purpose (ANT) inadequate: We have not been given adequate information. | Her income is hardly adequate to pay the bills.

THESAURUS

enough, sufficient → ENOUGH

2 fairly good, but not excellent: an adequate performance [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of adaequare "to make equal," from ad- "to" + aequare "to equal"] satisfactory, good enough, acceptable, passable, reasonable, respectable → SATISFACTORY

THESAURUS

—adequacy n. [U] —adequately adv.

ad-her-e /əd'hɪr/ v. [I] (formal) to stick firmly to something adhere to sth phr. v. (formal) to continue to behave according to a particular rule, agreement, or belief: Not all the states adhered to the treaty.

ad-her-ence /əd'hɪrəns/ n. [U] the act of behaving according to particular rules, ideas, or beliefs: a strict adherence to religious beliefs ad-her-ent /əd'hɪrənt/ n. [C] someone who agrees with and supports a particular idea, opinion, or political party ad-he-sion /əd'hɪʒən/ n. 1 [U] the state of one thing sticking to another thing 2 [C,U] BIOLOGY a piece of body TISSUE (=flesh) that has grown around a small injury or damaged area and has joined it to other tissue, or the process of joining two tissues together in this way 3 [U] PHYSICS a force that makes the atoms of different substances join tightly together when the substances touch each other ad-he-sive /əd'hisɪv, -zɪv/ n. [C] a substance such as glue, that can stick things together —adhesive adj.: adhesive tape ad hoc /,æd 'hɒk/ adj., adv. done when necessary, rather than planned or regular: an ad hoc committee

A

A

ad-ja-cent /ə'dʒeɪsənt/ (Ac) adj. (formal) next to something: The library is adjacent to the main campus. | The warehouse is much bigger than the adjacent buildings. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin, present participle of adjacere “to lie near,” from ad- “to” + jacere “to lie”] adjacent 'angles n. [plural] MATH two angles that are next to one another and share one side, formed when a straight line divides one angle into two parts ad-jec-tive /'ædʒɪktɪv, 'ædʒətɪv/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a word that describes a noun or PRONOUN. In the sentence “I bought a new car,” “new” is an adjective. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French adjectif, from Latin adjectus, past participle of adjicere, from ad- “to” + jacere “to throw”] ad-join-ing /ə'dʒɔɪnɪŋ/ adj. next to something, and connected to it: a bedroom with an adjoining bathroom —adjoin v. [T] ad-journ /ə'dʒɔːn/ v. [I,T] to stop a meeting or a legal process for a short time or until a later date: This court is adjourned until 2:30 p.m. tomorrow. —adjournment n. [C,U] ad-ju-di-cate /ə'dʒʊdɪˌkeɪt/ v. [I,T] (formal) to judge something such as a competition, or to make an official decision —adjudication /ə'dʒʊdɪˌkeɪʃən/ n. [U] ad-junct¹ /'ædʒʌŋkt/ n. [C] (formal) something that is added or joined to something else, but is not part of it: She took a course in computing as an adjunct to her degree studies.

adjunct² adj. adjunct professor/instructor a professor or instructor who works PART-TIME at a college

ad-just /ə'dʒʌst/ (Ac) v. 1 [I] to gradually become familiar with a new situation: When we moved to a new neighborhood, it took the children a long time to adjust. | It took a few seconds for her eyes to adjust to the darkness. 2 [T] to change or move something slightly in order to improve it, make it more effective, etc.: Adjust your seat and mirror before driving away.

THESAURUS change, alter, adapt, modify, revise, amend → CHANGE¹

—adjustable adj.

ad-just-ment /ə'dʒʌstmənt/ (Ac) n. [C,U] 1 a small change made to a machine, system, or calculation: We've made some adjustments to our original calculations. | a slight/minor/fine adjustment

(=a small change) 2 a change in the way you behave or think: Moving to the city has been a difficult adjustment for us.

ad-lib /,æd'lib/ v. (ad-libbed, ad-libbing) [I,T] to say something in a speech or a performance without preparing or planning it —ad lib n. [C] ad-min-is-ter /əd'mɪnəstə/ v. [T] 1 to manage and organize the affairs of a company, government, etc. 2 to provide or organize something officially as part of your job: The test was administered to all high school seniors. 3 (formal) to give someone a medicine or drug: Painkillers were administered to the boy. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French aministrer, from Latin administrare, from ad- “to” + ministrare “to serve”] ad-min-is-tra-tion /əd'mɪnə'streɪʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] the government of a country at a particular time: He was Secretary of State during the Bush administration. 2 [U] the activities that are involved in managing and organizing the affairs of a company, institution, etc.: We're looking for someone with experience in administration. 3 the administration the people who manage a company, institution, etc.

ad-min-i-s-tra-tive /əd'mɪnə'streɪtɪv/ (Ac) adj. relating to the work of managing a company or organization: Our administrative staff will deal with all the paperwork for you. | The job is mainly administrative.

ad,ministrative as'sistant n. [C] someone who works in an office, typing letters, keeping records, answering telephone calls, arranging meetings, etc.

ad-min-is-tra-tor /əd'mɪnə'streɪtə/ (Ac) n. [C] someone whose job is related to the management and organization of a company, institution, etc.: A decision will be made next week by the hospital administrators.

ad-mi-ra-ble /'ædmərəbəl/ adj. having many good qualities that you respect and admire: an admirable achievement —admirably adv.

ad-mi-ral /'ædmərəl/ n. [C] a very high rank in the navy, or an officer who has this rank [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French amiral, from Medieval Latin admirallus, from Arabic amir-al- “commander of the”] ad-mi-ra-tion /,ædmə'reɪʃən/ n. [U] a feeling of approval and respect for something or someone: She's always had great admiration for her father.

ad-mire /əd'maɪə/ v. [T] 1 to approve of and respect someone or something: I really admire the way she brings up those kids. | I admired her for having the courage to tell the truth.

THESAURUS

respect – to admire someone because of his/her knowledge, skill, personal qualities, etc.: He is respected by his colleagues.

look up to sb – to admire and respect someone who is older and more experienced than you: The other kids looked up to him.

idolize – to admire someone so much that you think s/he is perfect: He's now competing with the players he idolized in high school.

worship – to love and admire someone very much: His son just worships him.

revere (formal) – to respect and admire someone or something very much: As a civil rights leader, Martin Luther King was revered for his courage and leadership.

hold sb in high esteem (formal) – to respect and admire someone a lot: Her colleagues held her in high esteem.

2 to look at something and think how beautiful or impressive it is: We stopped to admire the view. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French admirer, from Latin admirari, from ad- “to” + mirari “to wonder”] —admirer n. [C] —admiring adj.: She drew admiring glances from all the men (=the men were looking at her with approval because she is attractive). —admiringly adv.

ad-mis-si-ble /əd'mɪsəbəl/ adj. LAW acceptable or allowed, especially in a court of law (ANT) inadmissible: admissible evidence

ad-mis-sion /əd'mɪʃən/ n. 1 [U] the price charged when you go to a movie, sports event, concert, etc.: Admission is $6.50. | The museum has no admission charge. 2 [C] a statement in which you admit that something is true or that you have done something wrong: If he resigns, it will be an admission of guilt. 3 [U] permission that is given to someone to enter a building or place, or to become a member of a school, club, etc.: Tom has applied for admission to the university. 4 admissions [plural] the process of allowing people to enter a college, institution, hospital, etc., or the number of people who can enter

ad-mit /əd'mɪt/ v. (admitted, admitting) 1 [T] to accept or agree unwillingly that something is true or that someone else is right: He was wrong, but he won't admit it. | You may not like her, but you have to admit that she is good at her job. 2 [I,T] to say that you did something wrong or are guilty of a crime: She finally admitted to the murder. | In court, he admitted his guilt.

THESAURUS

confess – to admit that you have done something wrong or illegal: Smith confessed to the shootings after his arrest.

own up (informal) – to admit that you have done something wrong: He finally owned up to the fact that he had lied to us.

come clean (informal) – to finally tell the truth about something you have been hiding: Do you think she'll ever come clean about her past?

3 [T] to allow someone to enter a building or place, or to become a member of a school, club, etc.: Only members will be admitted to the club for tonight's performance.

ad-mit-tance /əd'mɪtˈns/ n. [U] permission to enter a place: Most journalists were unable to gain admittance backstage.

ad-mit-ted-ly /əd'mɪtɪdli/ adv. used when admitting that something is true: Our net profit this year is, admittedly, much smaller than we had expected.

ad-mon-ish /əd'mənɪʃ/ v. [T] (literary) to tell someone that s/he has done something wrong —admonishment n. [C,U]

THESAURUS criticize, scold, rebuke, reprimand → CRITICIZE

a-do-be /ə'dəubi/ n. [U] a material made of clay and STRAW, used for building houses a-do-les-cence /,ædl'esəns/ n. [U] the period of time, usually between the ages of 12 and 18, when a young person is developing into an adult ad-o-les-cent /,ædl'esənt/ n. [C] a young person who is developing into an adult

THESAURUS child, kid, teenager, youngster, minor, juvenile → CHILD adolescent ² adj. relating to or typical of a young person who is developing into an adult: adolescent behavior

a-dopt /ə'dɒpt/ v. 1 [I,T] to take someone else's child into your home and legally become his/her parent: Melissa was adopted when she was two. | couples who are hoping to adopt 2 [T] to begin to have or use an idea, plan, or way of doing something: The city has adopted a new approach to fighting crime. —adopted adj.: our adopted son a-dop-tion /ə'dɒpʃən/ n. [U] 1 the act or process of adopting a child: She decided to put the baby up for adoption. 2 the act of deciding to use an idea, plan, or way of doing something: the adoption of new technology

a-dop-tive /ə'dɒptɪv/ adj. [only before noun] an adoptive parent is one who has adopted a child a-dor-a-ble /ə'dɒrəbəl/ adj. very attractive and easy to like: What an adorable little puppy!

a-dore /ə'dɔr/ v. [T] 1 to love and admire someone very much: Betty adores her grandchildren.

THESAURUS love, be crazy about sb, be devoted to sb, dote on sb → LOVE¹

2 (informal) to like something very much [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 French adorer, from Latin adorare, from ad- “to” + orare “to speak, pray”] —adoring adj.: his adoring fans —adoration /,ædə'reɪʃən/ n. [U]

a-dorn /ə'dɔrn/ v. be adorned with sth (formal) to be decorated with something: The church walls were adorned with religious paintings. —adornment n. [C,U] a-dren-a-line, adrenalin /ə'drenlɪn/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a chemical produced by your body that makes your heart beat faster and gives you extra strength when you are afraid, excited, or angry a-drift /ə'drɪft/ adj., adv. a boat that is adrift is not tied to anything, and is moved around by the ocean or wind

A

A

a·droit /ə'drɔɪt/ adj. smart and skillful, especially in the way you use words and arguments: an adroit negotiator —adroitly adv.

ad·u·la·tion /ˌædʒə'leɪʃən/ n. [U] (formal) praise and admiration for someone, that is more than s/he really deserves a·dult¹ /ə'dʌlt, 'ædʌlt/ (Ac) n. [C] a fully grown person or animal: She's an adult – she can do what she pleases. | Children under 18 must be accompanied by an adult. | Admission is $8 for adults and $5 for children. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of adolescere “to grow up”]

adult² adj. [only before noun] 1 fully grown or developed: an adult male frog | My son passed from one job to another throughout his adult life (=the part of his life when he was an adult). 2 typical of an adult: You need to deal with your problems in an adult way. 3 adult movies/magazines/bookstores etc. movies, magazines, etc. that show sexual acts, etc.

a·dul·ter·ate /ə'dʌltə'reɪt/ v. [T] to make something less pure by adding a substance of a lower quality to it —adulteration /ə'dʌltə'reɪʃən/ n. [U]

a·dul·ter·y /ə'dʌltəri/ n. [U] sex between someone who is married and someone who is not that person's husband or wife: men who commit adultery —adulterous adj.

a·dult·hood /ə'dʌlthʊd/ (Ac) n. [U] the time when you are an adult → CHILDHOOD: By the time Mathew reached adulthood, he weighed over 250 pounds.

ad·um·brate /'ædəm,breɪt, ə'dʌm-/ v. [T] (formal) to suggest or describe something in a way that is not complete ad·vance¹ /əd'væns/ n. 1 in advance before something happens or is expected to happen: Reserve your ticket in advance by calling our telephone hotline. 2 [C,U] a change, discovery, or invention that brings progress: medical advances | advances in technology 3 [C] a movement forward to a new position, especially by an army (ANT) retreat: Napoleon's advance towards Moscow 4 [C usually singular] money paid to someone before the usual time: I asked for an advance on my salary. 5 advances [plural] efforts to start a sexual relationship with someone [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French avancier, from Latin abante “before”] advance² v. 1 [I] to move forward to a new position (ANT) retreat: Troops advanced on (=moved forward while attacking) the rebel forces. 2 [I,T] to develop or progress, or to make something develop or progress: a job that will advance his career 3 [T] to give someone money before s/he has earned it: Will they advance you some money until you get your first paycheck? —advancement n. [U] advance³ adj. advance planning/warning/notice etc. planning, etc. that is done before something else happens: We had no advance warning of the hurricane.

ad·vanced /əd'vænst/ adj. 1 using the most modern ideas, equipment, and methods: advanced weapon systems

THESAURUS

sophisticated – made or designed well, and often complicated: sophisticated software modern – made or done using the most recent methods: modern medicine high-tech – using the most modern machines and methods in industry, business, etc.: high-tech weapons state-of-the-art – using the newest methods, materials, or knowledge: state-of-the-art technology cutting-edge – using the newest design, or the most advanced way of doing something: cutting-edge medical research

2 studying or relating to a school subject at a difficult level: an advanced student | advanced physics 3 having reached a late point in time or development: By this time, the disease was too far advanced to be treated.

ad·van·tage /əd'væntɪdʒ/ n. 1 [C,U] something that helps you to be better or more successful than others (ANT) disadvantage: Her computer skills gave her an advantage over the other applicants. | He turns every situation to his advantage.

THESAURUS

benefit – a feature of something that has a good effect on people's lives: Tourism has brought great benefits to the area.
merit (formal) – a good feature that something has, which you consider when deciding whether it is the best choice: The committee will meet to discuss the merits of the proposals.
good point (especially spoken) – a good feature that something has: The system has a lot of good points.
the great/best/good thing about ... (spoken) – used when you want to talk about a good feature that something has: The great thing about this phone is that it is so easy to use.
the pros and cons – the advantages and disadvantages: You need to weigh up (=consider) the pros and cons carefully before you start the treatment. → see also DISADVANTAGE

2 take advantage of sth to use a situation or thing to help you do or get something you want: He took advantage of the opportunity given to him. 3 [C] a good or useful quality that something has: Good restaurants are one of the many advantages of living in a big city 4 take advantage of sb to treat someone unfairly or to control a particular situation in order to get what you want [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French avantage, from avant “before,” from Latin abante]

ad·van·ta·geous /,əd'væn'teɪdʒəs, -vən-/ adj. helpful and likely to make you more successful (ANT) disadvantageous

ad-vec-tion /æd'vekʃən/ n. [U] 1 PHYSICS the HORIZONTAL movement of heat, cold, or HUMIDITY (=amount of water in the air) in the Earth's ATMOSPHERE, caused by wind 2 EARTH SCIENCES the HORIZONTAL movement of air or water ad-vent /'ædvənt/ n. the advent of sth the time when something first begins to be widely used: the advent of the computer ad-ven-ture /əd'ventʃə/ n. [C,U] an exciting experience in which dangerous or unusual things happen ad-ven-tur-er /əd'ventʃərə/ n. [C] someone who enjoys traveling and doing exciting things ad-ven-ture-some /əd'ventʃəsəm/ adj. enjoying exciting and slightly dangerous activities

ad-ven-tur-ous /əd'ventʃərəs/ adj. 1 wanting to do new, exciting, or dangerous things: adventurous travelers 2 exciting and slightly dangerous: an adventurous expedition up the Amazon

ad-verb /'ædvəb/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a word or a group of words that describes or adds to the meaning of a verb, an adjective, another adverb, or a sentence. For example, "slowly" in "He walked slowly" and "very" in "It was a very nice day" are adverbs. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French adverbe, from Latin adverbium, from ad- "to" + verbum "word"] —adverbial /əd'vəbiəl/ adj.

ad-ver-sar-y /'ædvə'səri/ n. (plural adversaries) [C] (formal) a country or person you are fighting or competing against (SYN) opponent ad-verse /əd'vəs, æd-, 'ædvəs/ adj. (formal) not good or favorable: The recession will have an adverse effect on the building industry. —adversely adv.

ad-ver-si-ty /əd'vəsəti, æd-/ n. (plural adversities) [C,U] difficulties or problems that seem to be caused by bad luck: We remained hopeful in the face of adversity.

ad-ver-tise /'ædvə'taɪz/ v. 1 [I,T] to tell the public about a product or service in order to persuade them to buy it: The new perfume is being advertised in women's magazines. | companies who advertise on TV promote – to advertise a product or event: She's in Atlanta to promote her new book.

THESAURUS

market – to try to persuade someone to buy something by advertising it in a particular way: The clothes are marketed to teenagers.

publicize (formal) – to tell people about a new movie, book, event, etc.: Reese has been giving interviews to publicize her new novel.

hype – to try to make people think something is good or important by advertising or talking about it a lot on television, the radio, etc.: The director is just using the controversy to hype his movie.

plug – to advertise a book, movie, etc. by talking about it on a radio or television program: Marc was on the show to plug his new play.

2 [I] to make an announcement, for example in a newspaper, that a job is available, an event is going to happen, etc.: They're advertising for an accountant. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Early French advertiss-, stem of advertir, from Latin advertere, from ad- "to" + vertere "to turn"] —advertiser n. [C] ad-ver-tise-ment /,ædvə'taɪzmənt/ n. [C] a picture, set of words, or a short movie, that is intended to persuade people to buy a product or use a service, or that gives information about a job that is available, an event that is going to happen, etc. → COMMERCIAL: an advertisement for laundry detergent

THESAURUS

commercial – an advertisement on TV or radio billboard – a very large sign at the side of a road or on a building, used as an advertisement poster – an advertisement on a wall, often with a picture on it want ads/classified ads – short advertisements in a newspaper, in which people offer things for sale flier – a piece of paper with an advertisement on it, often given to you in the street junk mail – unwanted letters that you receive in the mail, containing advertisements spam – unwanted emails containing advertisements

ad-ver-tis-ing /'ædvə'taɪzɪŋ/ n. [U] the business of advertising things on television, in newspapers, etc.

ad-vice /əd'vaɪs/ n. [U] an opinion you give someone about what s/he should do: The book is full of advice on/about child care. | Can you give me some advice about buying a house? | If I were you, I'd seek (=get) some legal/medical/financial advice. | Did you follow/take your father's advice? | He offered them one piece of advice: Don't panic. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French avis "opinion"]

THESAURUS

tip – a helpful piece of advice: useful tips on healthy eating suggestion – an idea or plan that someone suggests: He made a few suggestions about how I could improve my essay.

recommendation – advice given to someone, especially about what to do: Do you have any recommendations about hotels in the city?

guidance – helpful advice about work, education, etc.: His parents should provide more guidance.

counseling – advice given by someone who is trained to help people with their personal problems or difficult decisions: Each student receives career counseling.

warning – a piece of advice that tells you that something bad or dangerous might happen, so that you can avoid or prevent it: Cigarette packs must have health warnings printed on them.

A

ad-vise /əd'vaɪz/ v. 1 [I,T] to tell someone what you think s/he should do: Doctors advised her to have the operation. | We were advised against getting a cat because of Joey's allergies.

THESAURUS

recommend – to advise someone to do something: I recommend that you get some professional help.

urge – to strongly advise someone to do something: I urged Frida to reconsider her decision to drop out of school.

suggest – to tell someone your ideas about what should be done: Wilson suggested ways that students can improve their study habits.

counsel (formal) – to talk to someone in order to help that person to deal with his/her problems, when it is your job to do this: She counsels teenagers who have problems with drugs or alcohol.

2 [T] (formal) to officially tell someone something: You will be advised when the shipment arrives.

ad-vis-er, advisor /əd'vaɪzə/ n. [C] someone whose job is to give advice about a particular subject: a financial adviser ad-vi-so-ry /əd'vaɪzəri/ adj. having the purpose of giving advice: an advisory committee

ad-vo-cate¹ /'ædvə,keɪt/ (Ac) v. [T] to strongly support a particular way of doing things: Extremists were openly advocating violence. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French avocat, from Latin, past participle of advocare “to summon”] —advocacy /'ædvəkəsi/ n. [U]: He is well-known for his advocacy of family values.

ad-vo-cate² /'ædvəkət, -,keɪt/ (Ac) n. [C] someone who publicly supports someone or something: She later became an advocate for prisoners' rights.

aer-i-al /'eriəl/ adj. from the air, or happening in the air: aerial photographs | aerial stunts

ae-ro-bic /ə'roubɪk, ɛ-/ adj. 1 BIOLOGY relating to exercises that make your heart and lungs stronger 2 BIOLOGY needing oxygen in order to live → ANAEROBIC

ae-ro-bics /ə'roubɪks, ɛ-/ n. [U] a very active type of physical exercise done to music, usually in a class → EXERCISE² aer-o-dy-nam-ics /,eroudaɪ'næmɪks/ n. [U] PHYSICS the scientific study of how objects move through the air —aerodynamic adj.

aer-o-sol /'erəsəl, -,səl/ n. [C] a small metal container from which a liquid can be forced out using high pressure aer-o-space /'erou,speɪs/ adj. involving the designing and building of aircraft and space vehicles: the aerospace industry aes-thet-ic, esthetic /es'θetɪk, ɪs-/ adj. relating to beauty and the study of beauty —aesthetically adv.: The building's design is aesthetically pleasing.

aes-thet-ics, esthetics /es'θetɪks, ɪs-/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the study of beauty, especially beauty in art

a-far /ə'fɑr/ adv. from afar (literary) from a long distance away

AFC n. American Football Conference a group of teams that is part of the NFL

af-fa-ble /'æfəbəl/ adj. friendly and easy to talk to: an affable guy [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French, Latin affabilis, from affari, from ad- “to” + fari “to speak”] —affably adv.

THESAURUS

sociable, outgoing, genial →

SOCIABLE

friendly, warm, cordial, amiable → FRIENDLY

af-fair /ə'feɪ/ n. [C] 1 affairs [plural] a) public or political events and activities: a foreign affairs correspondent for CNN b) things connected with your personal life, your financial situation, etc.: You need to get your financial affairs in order. 2 an event or a set of related events, especially unpleasant ones: the Watergate affair

THESAURUS

event, occurrence, incident

→ EVENT

3 a secret sexual relationship between two people, when at least one of them is married to someone else: Ed is having an affair with his boss's wife. → LOVE AFFAIR

af-fect /ə'fekt/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to do something that produces a change in someone or something → INFLUENCE: Thousands of homes were affected by the flooding | We feel that we do not have control over decisions which affect our daily lives.

USAGE

Use the verb affect to talk about causing changes, and the noun effect to talk about the results of those changes: Her illness was starting to affect her work. | The punishment seemed to have no effect.

Effect can also be used as a verb to mean “to make something happen.” This use is formal and not very common: They have been unable to effect a permanent solution.

2 to make someone feel strong emotions: I was deeply affected by the news of Paul's death. [ORIGIN: (1–2) 1300—1400 Latin, past participle of afficere “to influence,” from ad- “to” + facere “to do”] af-fec-ta-tion /æfek'teɪʃən/ n. [C,U] an action or type of behavior that is not natural or sincere af-fect-ed /ə'fektɪd/ (Ac) adj. not natural or sincere: She seemed affected, and I wasn't sure what to make of her.

af-fect-ing /ə'fektɪŋ/ (Ac) adj. (formal) producing strong emotions such as sadness, pity, etc.: The movie is a genuinely affecting story of a child's search for his missing mother.

af-fec-tion /ə'fekʃən/ n. [C,U] a feeling of gentle

love and caring: Bart felt great affection for her. | He doesn't show affection easily.

af-fec-tion-ate /ə'fɛkʃənɪt/ adj. showing that you like or love someone: an affectionate child | an affectionate hug —affectionately adv.

af-fi-da-vit /ˌæfə'deɪvɪt/ n. [C] LAW a written statement about something that you swear is true, used in a court of law [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Medieval Latin “he or she has made a formal promise,” from affidare] af-fil-i-ate¹ /ə'fɪli,eɪt/ v. be affiliated with/to sth if a group or organization is affiliated to a larger one, it is related to it or controlled by it: a TV station affiliated to CBS [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Medieval Latin, past participle of affiliare “to take over as a son,” from Latin ad- “to” + filius “son”] —affiliation /ə'fɪli'eɪʃən/ n. [C,U]: What are Jean's political affiliations?

af-fil-i-ate² /ə'fɪli,eɪt/ n. [C] a small company or organization that is related to or controlled by a larger one af-fin-i-ty /ə'fɪnəti/ n. (plural affinities) 1 [singular] the feeling you have when you like and understand someone or something: The poet has a deep affinity for nature. 2 [C,U] a close similarity or relationship between two things because of qualities or features that they both have [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French afinité, from Latin affinis “sharing a border, related by marriage”] af-firm /ə'fɜːm/ v. [T] (formal) to state publicly that something is true: The President affirmed his intention to reduce taxes. —affirmation /ˌæfə'meɪʃən/ n. [C,U] af-firm-a-tive /ə'fɜːmətɪv/ adj. (formal) a word, sign, etc. that is affirmative means “yes” (ANT) negative —affirmative n. [C]: She answered in the affirmative. —affirmatively adv.

af-firmative 'action n. [U] the practice of choosing people for jobs, education, etc. who have been treated unfairly because of their race, sex, etc.

af-fix /ə'fɪks/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a group of letters added to the beginning or end of a word to change its meaning or use, such as “un-,” “mis-,” “-ness,” or “-ly”

af-flict /ə'flɪkt/ v. [T usually passive] (formal) to make someone have a serious illness or experience serious problems: a country afflicted by famine | people afflicted with AIDS —affliction /ə'flɪkʃən/ n. [C,U]

af-flu-ent /'æfluənt/ adj. having a lot of money, nice houses, expensive things, etc. → RICH, WEALTHY: an affluent suburb of Baltimore [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old French, Latin, present participle of affluere “to flow in large quantities”] —affluence n. [U]

THESAURUS rich, well-off, prosperous, well-to-do → RICH

af-ford /ə'fɔːd/ v. [T] 1 can afford a) to have enough money to buy or pay for something: I can't afford to buy a new car. | Do you think we can afford a computer now? b) to be able to do something without causing serious problems for yourself: We can't afford to offend regular customers. c) to have enough time to do something: I really can't afford any more time away from work. 2 (formal) to provide something or allow something to happen: The walls afforded some protection from the wind.

af-ford-a-ble /ə'fɔːdəbəl/ adj. not expensive: affordable housing

af-front /ə'frʌnt/ n. [C usually singular] a remark or action that offends or insults someone a-float /ə'fləʊt/ adj. [not before noun] 1 having enough money to operate or stay out of debt: They're struggling to stay afloat. 2 floating on water a-fraid /ə'freɪd/ adj. [not before noun] 1 frightened because you think that you may get hurt or that something bad may happen (SYN) scared: There's no need to be afraid. | Small children are often afraid of the dark. | Mary's afraid to walk home alone.

THESAURUS frightened, scared, terrified, petrified, fearful → FRIGHTENED

2 very worried that something bad will happen: A lot of people are afraid of losing their jobs. | He was afraid (that) the other kids would laugh at him. 3 I'm afraid (spoken) used in order to politely tell someone something that may annoy, upset, or disappoint him/her: I'm afraid (that) this is a “no smoking” area. | “Are we late?” “I'm afraid so (=yes).” | “Are there any tickets left?” “I'm afraid not (=no).” [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Past participle of affray “to frighten” (14—19 centuries), from Old French affreer]

a-fresh /ə'freʃ/ adv. (formal) if you do something afresh, you do it again from the beginning: We decided to move to Texas and start afresh.

Af-ri-ca /'æfrɪkə/ n. one of the seven CONTINENTS, that includes land south of Europe and west of the Indian Ocean

Af-ri-can¹ /'æfrɪkən/ adj. relating to or coming from Africa

African² n. [C] someone from Africa

African A-merican n. [C] an American with dark skin, whose family originally came from the part of Africa south of the Sahara Desert —African-American adj.

af-ter¹ /'æftə/ prep. 1 when a particular time or event has happened: I go swimming every day after work. | A month/year after the fire, the house was rebuilt. 2 following someone or something else in a list or a piece of writing, or in order of importance: Whose name is after mine on the list? | After baseball, tennis is my favorite sport. 3 after 10 minutes/3 hours etc. when a particular amount of time has passed: After a while, the woman returned. 4 day after day/year after year etc.

A

A

continuing for a very long time: Day after day, we waited, hoping she'd call. 5 used when telling time to say how many minutes past the hour it is: It's ten after five. 6 because of something that happened earlier: I'm not surprised he left her, after the way she treated him. 7 after all a) used in order to say that what you expected did not happen: It didn't rain after all. b) used in order to say that something should be remembered or considered because it helps to explain what you have just said: Don't shout at him – he's only a baby, after all. 8 one after the other also one after another if a series of events, actions, etc. happen one after another, each one happens soon after the previous one: Ever since we moved here, it's been one problem after another. 9 be after sb to be looking for someone and trying to catch him/her: The FBI is after him for fraud. 10 be after sth (informal) to be trying to get something that belongs to someone else: You're just after my money! 11 in spite of: After all the trouble I went to, Reese didn't even say thank you. [ORIGIN: Old English æfter]

after² conjunction when a particular time has passed, or an event has happened: Regan changed his name after he left Poland. | He discovered the jewel was fake 10 days/3 weeks after he bought it.

after³ adv. later than someone or something else: Gina came on Monday, and I got here the day after.

THESAURUS

afterward – after an event or time that has been mentioned: He said afterward that it had been the scariest experience of his life.

next – immediately afterward: What should we do next?

later – after the present time or a time you are talking about: We can clean up later.

subsequently (formal) – after an event in the past: Subsequently, the company filed for bankruptcy.

af-ter-ef-fect /'æftə, fɛkt/ n. [C usually plural] a bad effect that remains after something has ended af-ter-life /'æftə, laɪf/ n. [singular] the life that some people believe you have after death af-ter-math /'æftə, mæθ/ n. [singular] the time after an important or bad event: the danger of fire in the aftermath of the earthquake [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 aftermath “grass that grows after earlier grass has been cut” (16–19 centuries), from after + math “mowing” (11–20 centuries)]

af-ter-noon /'æftə, 'nuːn/ n. [C,U] the period of time between 12 p.m. and the evening → MORNING, EVENING: a class on Friday afternoon | We should get there about 3 in the afternoon. | Can you go swimming this afternoon (=today in the afternoon)? —afternoon adj.: an afternoon snack af-ter-shave /'æftə, ʃeɪv/ n. [C,U] a liquid with a pleasant smell that a man puts on his face after he SHAVES af-ter-taste /'æftə, teɪst/ n. [C usually singular] a taste that stays in your mouth after you eat or drink something: The wine has a bitter aftertaste.

af-ter-thought /'æftə, θɔt/ n. [C usually singular] something that you mention or add later because you did not think of it before: “Bring Claire too,” he added as an afterthought.

af-ter-ward /'æftə, wɔd/ also afterwards adv. after an event or time that has been mentioned: We met at college but didn't get married until two years afterward.

THESAURUS

after, later, subsequently →

AFTER³

a-gain /ə'geɪn/ adv. 1 one more time: Could you say that again? I couldn't hear you. | The cake burned, so we had to start all over again (=from the beginning). 2 back to the same condition, situation, or place as before: Thanks for coming! Please come again. | He's home again, after studying in Europe. 3 again and again repeating many times: I've tried again and again to contact her. 4 then again (spoken) used in order to add a fact that is different from what you have just said, or makes it seem less likely to be true: She says she's thirty, but then again she might be lying.

a-against /ə'geɪnst/ prep. 1 opposed to or disagreeing with an idea, belief, etc.: John was against the idea of selling the house. | You can't do that! It's against the law (=illegal). 2 in a way that has a bad or unfair effect: discrimination against racial minorities 3 fighting or competing with someone or something: He was injured in the game against the Cowboys. 4 touching a surface: The cat's fur felt soft against her face. 5 in the opposite direction from something: At least my drive to work is against the traffic. 6 have sth against sb/sth to dislike or disapprove of someone or something: I have nothing against dogs, but I don't want one myself.

age¹ /eɪdʒ/ n. 1 [C,U] the number of years that someone has lived or something has existed: Patrick is my age (=the same age as me). | Jamie won his first tournament at the age of 15. | Most kids start kindergarten at age 5. | girls who become mothers at an early age (=very young) | Stop messing around and act your age (=behave in a way that is suitable for how old you are)! | Judy's very smart for her age (=compared to others of the same age). 2 [C,U] a period in someone's life: Who will look after you in old age? | women of child-bearing age 3 [U] the age when you are legally old enough to do something: voting/drinking/retirement age (=when you can legally vote, drink alcohol, etc.) | You can't buy alcohol – you're under age. 4 [C usually singular] a particular period of history: the modern age | this age of new technology 5 be/come of age to be or become old enough to be considered a responsible adult 6 [U] the state of being old: a letter that was brown with age 7 ages [plural] (informal) a long time: I haven't been there for ages. 8 age group/bracket the people between two particular ages, considered as a group: a book for children in the 8–12 age group

age² v. [I,T] to become or look older, or to make someone look older: Jim has really aged. —aging adj.: an aging movie star aged¹ adj. aged 5/15/50 etc. 5, 15, etc. years old: a game for children aged 12 and over a-ged² adj. 1 very old: an aged man 2 the aged old people age-less adj. never seeming old or old-fashioned: an ageless song

a-gen-cy n. (plural agencies) [C] 1 a business that provides a particular service: an employment agency

THESAURUS organization, institution, institute, association → ORGANIZATION

2 an organization or department, especially within a government, that does a specific job: the UN agency responsible for helping refugees

a-gen-da n. [C] 1 a list of the subjects to be discussed at a meeting: Let's move on to item five on the agenda. 2 a list of problems or subjects that a government, organization, etc. is planning to deal with: Health care reforms are high on the agenda. (=very important). [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin “things to be done,” from agere “to drive, lead, act, move, do”] a-gent n. [C] 1 a person or company that represents another person or company in business, in their legal problems, etc.: a literary agent 2 someone who works for a government or police department in order to get secret information about another country or an organization: an FBI agent [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Medieval Latin, from the present participle of Latin agere “to drive, lead, act, move, do”] → REAL ESTATE AGENT, TRAVEL AGENT ag-gran-dize-ment n. [U] (formal) the act of trying to increase your own or a country's power or importance, in a way that people disapprove of —aggrandize v. [T] ag-gra-vate v. [T] 1 to make a bad situation, illness, or injury worse: The doctors say her condition is aggravated by stress. 2 to annoy someone: What really aggravates me is the way she won't listen. —aggravating adj. —aggravation n. [C,U] ag-gre-gate adj. [Ac] [only before noun] ECONOMICS being the total amount of something, especially money: Aggregate production at the Detroit plant is being increased to handle the extra demand. —aggregate n. [singular, U]: The twenty hotels in the chain have an aggregate of 1,952 rooms.

ag-gres-sion n. [U] angry or threatening behavior, especially in which you attack someone: an act of aggression [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin aggressio, from aggre “to attack”] ag-gres-sive adj. 1 very determined to succeed: aggressive sales tactics 2 behaving in an angry or violent way toward someone: aggressive behavior —aggressively adv. —aggressiveness n. [U] ag-gres-sor n. [C] a person or country that starts a fight or war ag-grieved adj. angry or unhappy because you think you have been treated unfairly a-ghast adj. [not before noun] suddenly feeling or looking shocked ag-ile adj. 1 able to move quickly and easily 2 someone who has an agile mind is able to think quickly and intelligently —agility n. [U] ag-i-tate v. [I] (formal) to protest in order to achieve social or political changes: workers agitating for higher pay —agitator n. [C] ag-i-tat-ed adj. very anxious, nervous, or upset —agitation n. [U] ag-nos-tic adj. 1 someone who believes that it is impossible to know whether God exists or not [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Greek agnostos “unknown, unknowable,” from a- “not” + gnostos “known”] —agnostic adj. —agnosticism n. [U]

a-go adj. used in order to show how far back in the past something happened: Jeff left for work 10 minutes/2 hours ago. | We went to Maine once, but it was a long time ago. | I had the tickets a minute ago! | Scott's dad called a little while ago.

GRAMMAR

ago, for, since

Ago, for, and since are all used to talk about time.

Ago is used with the simple past tense to say how far back in the past something happened. It follows a length of time: Her son left home two years ago.

For is used with the present perfect or simple past tense to say how long a situation or event has lasted. It is followed by a length of time: She has been living in the U.S. for over twenty years. | The meeting continued for five hours.

Since is used with the present perfect tense to say when something started. It is followed by an exact day, date, or time: He's lived here since 2005. | I've been waiting since 4 o'clock.

a-gon-ize v. [I] to think about a decision very carefully and with a lot of effort: For a long time, she had agonized about/over what she should do.

a-gon-iz-ing adj. extremely painful or difficult: an agonizing decision —agonizingly adv.

ag-o-ny n. (plural agonies) [C,U] very severe pain or suffering: The poor guy was in agony.

a-grar-i-an adj. relating to farming or farmers: The country has a mainly agrarian economy. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin agrarius, from ager “field”]

A

A

a-gree /ə'gri/ v. 1 [I,T] to have the same opinion as someone else (ANT) disagree: I agree with Karen. It's much too expensive. ▶ Don't say “I am agree.” ◀ | Most experts agree that global warming is a serious problem. | Mike and I certainly don't agree on/about everything.

THESAURUS

concur (formal) – to agree: Most modern historians would concur with this view.

be of the same opinion/view (formal) – to agree with another person's opinion: They were all of the same opinion.

share sb's views/concerns – to agree with another person's opinion: Her teachers shared her parents' concerns about her behavior.

be unanimous – if a group of people are unanimous about something, they all agree about it: The jury was unanimous. | a unanimous decision

2 [I,T] to say yes to a suggestion, plan, etc. (ANT) refuse: She agreed to stay home with Charles. 3 [I,T] to make a decision with someone after discussing something: We agreed to meet next week. | We're still trying to agree on a date for the wedding. 4 [I] if two pieces of information agree, they say the same thing: Your story doesn't agree with what the police have said. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French agr  r, from gr   “will, pleasure,” from Latin gratus “pleasing”] agree with phr. v. 1 agree with sth to think that something is the right thing to do: I don't agree with the decision at all. 2 not agree with sb if something that you eat or drink does not agree with you, it makes you feel sick

a-gree-a-ble /ə'gri  b  l/ adj. 1 acceptable and able to be agreed on: a solution that's agreeable to both parties 2 (old-fashioned) pleasant —agreeably adv.: I was agreeably surprised.

a-greed /  'grid/ adj. 1 an agreed price, method, arrangement, etc. is one that people have discussed and accepted 2 be agreed if people are agreed, they all agree about something: Are we all agreed on the date for the meeting?

a-gree-ment /  'grim  nt/ n. 1 [C] an arrangement or promise to do something, made by two or more people, organizations, etc.: a trade agreement | Lawyers on both sides finally reached an agreement. 2 [U] a situation in which two or more people have the same opinion as each other (ANT) disagreement: All of us were in agreement.

agri,cultural revo'lution n. 1 the Agricultural Revolution HISTORY a period a long time ago when people first began to grow crops and raise farm animals on farms 2 [C] HISTORY a period when there was great change in farming methods because, for example, chemicals were introduced to farming, or horses were replaced by machines

ag-ri-cul-ture /  '  gr  ,k  lt  r  / n. [U] the science or practice of farming [ORIGIN: 1400—1500

French, Latin agricultura, from ager “field” + cultura “use of land for crops”] —agricultural /  '  gr  ,k  lt  r  l/ adj.

ah /  / interjection used in order to show surprise, happiness, etc. or that you have just understood something: Ah, yes, I see what you mean.

a-ha /  'h  / interjection said when you suddenly understand or realize something: Aha! So that's where you've been hiding!

a-head /  'h  d/ adv. 1 in front of someone or something: Do you see that red convertible ahead of us? | We could see the lights of Las Vegas up ahead. 2 in or into the future: We have a busy day ahead of us. | The days/weeks/months ahead are going to be difficult. | You need to plan ahead (=plan for the future). 3 arriving, waiting, finishing, etc. before other people: There were two people ahead of me at the doctor's. 4 making more progress or more developed than other people or things: Jane is ahead of the rest of her class. | You need to work hard if you want to get ahead. 5 ahead of schedule/time earlier than planned: The building was completed ahead of schedule. 6 go ahead a) (spoken) used in order to tell someone s/he can do something: Go ahead and help yourself to some punch. b) used in order to say you are going to start doing something: I'll go ahead and start the coffee. 7 winning in a game or competition: The 49ers finished two games ahead of the Cowboys. | He's ahead by 17 points in the polls.

aid¹ /  rd/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] money, food, or services that an organization or government gives to help people → FINANCIAL AID: The UN is sending aid to the earthquake victims. | Countries in the region will receive extra military and economic aid from the U.S. 2 with/without the aid of sth using or not using something, such as a tool, to help you do something: The star can only be seen with the aid of a telescope. 3 come/go to sb's aid (formal) to help someone: Several people came to the man's aid after he collapsed on the sidewalk. 4 [C,U] a thing that helps you do something: The diet aids we tested contained mostly caffeine.

aid² v. [T] 1 (formal) to help or give support to someone

THESAURUS help, give sb a hand (with sth), lend a hand (with sth), assist, facilitate → HELP¹

2 aid and abet LAW to help someone do something illegal aide, aid /  rd/ n. [C] someone whose job is to help someone in a more important position: a nurse's aide

AIDS /  dz/ n. [U] Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome a very serious disease that stops your body from defending itself against infection ail-ing /  '  l  / adj. weak or sick: the country's ailing economy | his ailing mother

THESAURUS sick, ill, not very well, infirm → SICK

ail·ment /'eɪlmənt/ n. [C] an illness that is not very serious

aim¹ /eɪm/ v. 1 [I] to plan or intend to achieve something: We aim to finish by Friday. | a program aimed at creating more jobs 2 aim sth at sb to do or say something that is intended for a particular person or group: TV commercials aimed at children 3 [I,T] to point a weapon at a person or thing you want to hit: A gun was aimed at his head.

aim² n. 1 [C] something that you are trying to achieve: What is the aim of their research? | Our main aim is to provide good service. | I moved to California with the aim of finding a job.

THESAURUS goal, objective, target → GOAL

2 take aim to point a weapon at someone or something: He took aim at the target. 3 [U] someone's ability to hit something by throwing or shooting something at it: Mark's aim wasn't very good.

aim·less /'eɪmlɪs/ adj. without a clear purpose or reason —aimlessly adv.: We wandered aimlessly around the city.

aim't /eɪnt/ v. (spoken, nonstandard) a short form of "am not," "is not," "are not," "has not," or "have not"

air¹ /ɛər/ n. 1 [U] the gases around the Earth, which we breathe: There was a smell of burning in the air. | Let's go outside and get some fresh air. | air pollution 2 [U] the space above the ground or around things: David threw the ball up into the air. 3 by air traveling by or using an airplane: Are you shipping that box by air or by land? 4 air travel/safety etc. travel, safety, etc. involving or relating to airplanes: the worst air disaster in the state's history 5 be in the air if a feeling is in the air, a lot of people have it: There was tension in the air. 6 [singular] a quality that someone or something seems to have: There was an air of mystery about her. 7 be up in the air (spoken) used to say that something has not been decided yet: Our trip is still very much up in the air. 8 [U] (spoken) AIR CONDITIONING 9 be on/off the air to be broadcasting, or to stop broadcasting 10 airs [plural] a way of behaving that shows someone thinks s/he is more important than s/he really is: You shouldn't have to put on airs with your own friends. [ORIGIN: (1–2) 1200—1300 Old French, Latin aer, from Greek]

air² v. 1 [T] to broadcast a program on television or radio: Star Trek was first aired in 1966. 2 [T] to express your opinions publicly: You will all get a chance to air your views. 3 [I,T] also air out to let fresh air into a room air·bag /'ɛərbæg/ n. [C] a bag in a car, that fills with air to protect people in an accident

'air, bladder n. [C] BIOLOGY an organ inside the body of most fish, that can fill with air and allows the fish to float in water (SYN) swim bladder air·borne /'ɛərbɔ:n/ adj. flying or carried through the air air·brush¹ /'ɛərbʁʌʃ/ n. [C] a piece of equipment that uses air to put paint onto a surface airbrush² v. [T] to use an airbrush to make a picture or photograph look better airbrush sb/sth ↔ out phr. v. to remove someone or something from a picture or photograph using an airbrush

'air conditioner n. [C] a machine that makes the air in a room, car, etc. stay cool

'air conditioning n. [U] a system of machines that makes the air in a room, building, etc. stay cool —air conditioned adj.

air·craft /'ɛrkræft/ n. (plural aircraft) [C] an airplane or other vehicle that can fly

'aircraft carrier n. [C] a ship that airplanes can fly from and land on air·fare /'ɛrfɛr/ n. [U] the price of an airplane trip air·field /'ɛrfild/ n. [C] a place where military or small airplanes fly from

'air force also Air Force n. [C usually singular] the part of a country's military organization that uses airplanes to fight air·i·ly /'ɛrəli/ adv. (literary) in a way that shows you do not think something is important: "I know all that," she said airily.

air·less /'ɛrlɪs/ adj. without fresh air air·lift /'ɛrlɪft/ n. [C] an occasion when people or things are taken to a place by airplane because it is too difficult or dangerous to get there by road —airlift v. [T] air·line /'ɛrlaɪn/ n. [C] a business that regularly flies passengers to different places by airplane air·lin·er /'ɛr,lɪnə/ n. [C] a large airplane for passengers air·mail /'ɛrmeɪl/ n. [U] letters, packages, etc. that are sent to another country by airplane, or the system of doing this —airmail adj., adv.

'air, marshal n. [C] a SKY MARSHALL air·plane /'ɛrpleɪn/ n. [C] a vehicle that flies by using wings and one or more engines (SYN) plane air·port /'ɛrpɔ:t/ n. [C] a place where airplanes take off and land, that has buildings for passengers to wait in

A

A

TOPIC

At the airport, you go into the terminal. You check in (=show your ticket, leave your bags, etc.) at the check-in counter/desk, usually one or two hours before your flight leaves. You go through airport security, where passengers and their bags are checked for weapons, etc. You wait in the departure lounge until your flight number is called. You go through the departure gate before boarding (=getting on) the plane. The airplane takes off from the runway. When the airplane lands, you get off. You then go to the baggage claim to get your suitcases. If you have traveled from another country, you show your passport as you go through immigration, and then you go through customs, where your bags may be checked before leaving the airport.

→ PASSPORT, TRAVEL

air-space /ˈɛrspɛs/ n. [U] the sky above a particular country, considered to be controlled by that country

'air strike n. [C] an attack on a place, in which military aircraft drop bombs on it air-strip /ˈɛrstri:p/ n. [C] a long narrow piece of land, that airplanes can fly from and land on air-tight /ˈɛr,tart/, ˈɛr'tart/ adj. 1 not allowing air to get in or out: airtight containers 2 planned or done carefully, so that there are no problems or mistakes: Security at the airport is airtight.

'air time n. [U] the amount of time that a radio or television station gives to a particular subject, advertisement, etc.

air-waves /ˈɛrweɪvz/ n. [plural] (informal) all the programs that are broadcast on radio and television air-way /ˈɛrweɪ/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the passage in your throat that you breathe through air-y /ˈɛri/ adj. an airy room, building, etc. has a lot of space and fresh air aisle /aɪl/ n. [C] a long passage between rows of seats in a theater, airplane, church, etc.: Frances walked down the aisle (=to get married) carrying a bouquet of flowers. → see picture at THEATER a-jar /ə'dʒɑː/ adj. [not before noun] a door or window that is ajar is not completely closed

AK the written abbreviation of ALASKA

a.k.a. adv. also known as used when giving someone's real name together with the name s/he is known by: John Phillips, a.k.a. The Mississippi Mauler a-kin /ə'kɪn/ adj. akin to sth (formal) similar to something: His music is much more akin to jazz than rock.

AL the written abbreviation of ALABAMA à la carte /,ɑːlə'kɑːrt/, ˌælə-, ˌɑːlə-/ adj food in a restaurant that is à la carte has its own separate price for each dish —à la carte adv

a-lac-ri-ty /ə'lækreɪti/ n. [U] (formal) speed and eagerness: He agreed with alacrity.

à la mode /,ɑːlə'moʊd/, ˌælə-, ˌɑːlə-/ adj served with ice cream

a-larm¹ /ə'lɑːrm/ n. 1 [C] a piece of equipment that makes a noise to warn people of danger: a fire/burglar alarm | He set off the alarm (=made it start ringing). | Someone's car alarm was going off (=making a noise). 2 [C] (informal) an alarm clock: I've set the alarm for six o'clock. 3 [U] a feeling of fear because something bad might happen: Calm down! There's no cause for alarm. 4 raise/sound the alarm to warn everyone about something bad or dangerous that is happening: They first sounded the alarm about the problem of nuclear waste in 1955. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French alarme, from Old Italian all'arme "to the weapon"]

alarm² v. [T] to make someone feel very worried or frightened: The news about Tony alarmed me. —alarmed adj.

a-larm clock n. [C] a clock that will make a noise at a particular time to wake you up → see picture at CLOCK¹

a-larm-ing /ə'lɑːmɪŋ/ adj. very frightening or worrying: an alarming increase in violent crime

a-larm-ist /ə'lɑːmɪst/ adj. making people feel worried about dangers that do not exist —alarmist n. [C] a-las /ə'læs/ interjection (literary) said in order to express sadness al-be-it /ɔːl'biːt/, æl-/ [Ac] conjunction (formal) although: Many plants can grow at low temperatures, albeit slowly.

al-bi-no /æl'baɪnoʊ/ n. (plural albinos) [C] a person or animal with a GENETIC condition that makes the skin and hair extremely pale or white [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Portuguese, Spanish, from albo "white"] al-bum /æl'bʊm/ n. [C] 1 a group of songs or pieces of music on a record, CD, or tape 2 a book in which you put photographs, stamps, etc. that you want to keep: a photo album [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin "unused surface for writing on," from albus "white"] al-co-hol /ˈælkə'hɒl, -həl/ n. 1 [U] drinks such as beer or wine that can make you drunk: I don't drink alcohol anymore. 2 [C,U] a chemical substance that can be used for cleaning medical or industrial equipment [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Medieval Latin "fine powder, liquid made by a purifying process," from Old Spanish, from Arabic al-kuḥul "the powdered antimony (=a type of metal)"] al-co-hol-ic¹ /ˈælkə'hɒlɪk/, -'hɑː-/ n. [C] someone who cannot stop the habit of drinking too much alcohol alcoholic² adj. containing alcohol, or relating to alcohol [ANT] nonalcoholic: an alcoholic beverage al-co-hol-ism /ˈælkə'hɒlɪzəm, -hɑː-/ n. [U] the medical condition of being an alcoholic al-cove /'ælkəʊv/ n. [C] a small place in a wall of a room, that is built further back than the rest of the wall [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French alcôve, from Spanish alcoba, from Arabic al-qubbah “the arch”] al-der-man /'ɔldəməŋ/ n. (plural aldermen /-məŋ/) [C] POLITICS a city or town government official who is elected ale /eɪl/ n. [U] a type of beer

a-ler-t /ə'leɪt/ adj. 1 always watching and ready to notice anything strange, unusual, dangerous, etc.: Cyclists must always be alert to the dangers on a busy road. 2 able to think quickly and clearly: I didn't feel alert enough to do any more work. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French alerte, from Italian all'erta “on the watch”] alert² v. [T] to warn someone of a problem or of possible danger: As soon as we suspected it was a bomb, we alerted the police.

alert³ n. 1 be on the alert to be ready to notice and deal with a problem: Police are on the alert for trouble. 2 [C] a warning to be ready for possible danger: a flood alert al-fal-fa sprout /æl'fælfə spraut/ n. [C] a very small plant, eaten raw as a vegetable in SALADS al-gae /'ældʒi/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a very simple plant without stems or leaves that lives in or near water [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin alga “seaweed”] al-gal bloom /,ælgəl 'blum/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a sudden and great increase in the amount of algae growing on or near the surface of a body of fresh water, which uses up important supplies of oxygen in the water al-ge-bra /'ældʒəbrə/ n. [U] MATH a type of mathematics that uses letters and signs to represent numbers and values [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Medieval Latin, Arabic al-jabr “the reduction”] —algebraic /,ældʒə'breɪ-ɪk/ adj.

al-go-rithm /'ælgə,rɪðəm/ n. [C] IT a set of mathematical instructions that are done in a particular order a-li-as¹ /'eɪliəs, 'eɪlyəs/ prep. used when giving a criminal's real name together with the name s/he uses: the spy Margaret Zelle, alias Mata Hari [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin “otherwise”] alias² n. [C] a false name, usually used by a criminal al-i-bi /'æləbaɪ/ n. [C] LAW something that proves that someone was not where a crime happened and is therefore not guilty of the crime: He had a perfect alibi and the police let him go. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin “somewhere else”]

a-li-en¹ /'eɪliən, 'eɪlyən/ adj. 1 very different or strange: The landscape was alien to me. 2 relating to creatures from other worlds [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French, Latin alienus, from alius “other”] alien² n. [C] 1 someone who lives or works in a country but is not a citizen: illegal aliens entering the country 2 in stories, a creature that comes from another world a-li-en-ate /'eɪliən,eɪt, 'eɪlyə-/ v. [T] to make someone stop feeling friendly or stop feeling like s/he belongs in a group: policies that will alienate some voters —alienation /,eɪliən'eɪʃən, 'eɪlyə-/ n. [U] a-light¹ /ə'laɪt/ adj. 1 burning: Several cars were set alight by rioters. 2 someone whose face or eyes are alight is happy or excited alight² v. [I] (formal) if a bird, insect, etc. alights on something, it stops flying in order to stand on it a-lign /ə'laɪn/ v. [I,T] 1 to work together with another person or group because you have the same aims: Five Democrats have aligned themselves with the Republicans on this issue. 2 to arrange something so that it is in the same line as something else: It looks like your wheels need aligning. —alignment n. [C,U] a-like¹ /ə'laɪk/ adj. almost exactly the same [SYN] similar: She and her sister are very alike.

THESAURUS similar, like, identical, matching → SIMILAR

alike² adv. 1 in a similar way, or in the same way: The twins were dressed alike. 2 in a way that includes both the people, groups, or things you have mentioned: The rule was criticized by teachers and students alike.

al-i-men-tary ca-nal /ælə,məntri kə'næl/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the tube in your body that takes food through your body from your mouth to your anus al-i-mo-ny /'ælə,məʊni/ n. [U] LAW money that someone has to pay regularly to his/her former wife or husband after a DIVORCE

a-live /ə'laɪv/ adj. 1 living and not dead: Only one passenger was still alive. | the food you need to stay alive | He called his mother to tell her he was alive and well. 2 continuing to exist: Let's keep the traditions of the Inuit alive. 3 full of activity or interest: The streets come alive after ten o'clock. | Her eyes were alive with mischief. [ORIGIN: Old English on life “in life”]

al-ka-li /'ælkə,laɪ/ n. [C,U] CHEMISTRY a substance that forms a chemical salt when combined with an acid [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Medieval Latin, Arabic al-qili “the ashes (of a particular plant from which a type of alkali was obtained)”] alkali metal n. [C] CHEMISTRY any of the six soft white metal ELEMENTS that appear in group 1 of the PERIODIC TABLE. They are LITHIUM, SODIUM, POTASSIUM, RUBIDIUM, CESIUM, and FRANCIUM.

al-ka-line /'ælkəlaɪn, -,laɪn/ adj. CHEMISTRY containing an alkali alkaline 'earth metal n. [C] CHEMISTRY any of the six metal ELEMENTS that appear in group 2 of the PERIODIC TABLE. They are BERYLLIUM, MAGNESIUM, CALCIUM, STRONTIUM, BARIUM, and RADIUM.

A

A

alkaline so'lution n. [C] CHEMISTRY a liquid containing an alkali, which has a PH of more than 7 and will turn red LITMUS paper blue

all¹ /ɔl/ determiner, pron. 1 the whole of an amount, time, or thing: Have you done all your homework? | We've spent it all. | I've been waiting all day/week. | Bill talks about work all the time (=very often or too much). | Professor Ito explained all of this. 2 every one of a group of things or people: Answer all twenty questions. | Have you told them all? | This is important to all of us. | She makes almost all (of) her own clothes. 3 the only thing or things: All I want is a cup of coffee. 4 all kinds/sorts of sth very many different types of things, people, or places: The students are reading all kinds of books. 5 for all... in spite of a particular fact or situation: For all his faults, he's a good father. 6 at all used in questions to mean "in any way": Did the new drugs help her at all? 7 not at all not in any way: The snow didn't affect us at all. 8 in all including every thing or person: In all, there were 28 people there. 9 all in all considering everything: All in all, it was a successful event.

GRAMMAR

Use all with a singular verb when you are using an uncountable noun: I've spent all my money.
Use all with a plural verb when you are using a plural noun form: All my friends are coming to the party. → EVERY

all² adv. 1 completely: I walked all alone. | The judges were dressed all in black. 2 all over a) everywhere on a surface or in a place: There was stuff all over the floor. | We looked all over the place for it. b) finished: Thank goodness it's all over; it was awful. 3 all too used in order to mean "very" when talking about a bad situation: It's all too easy to blame parents for their children's problems. 4 used in order to say that both sides have the same number of points in a game: The score was 10–all at half time. 5 all but almost completely: It was all but impossible to contact him. 6 all along from the beginning and all of the time after that: I knew all along that I couldn't trust him. 7 sb was all... (spoken) used in order to report what someone said or did, when telling a story: She was all, "Don't do it that way!" 8 sb/sth is not all that (spoken) used in order to say that someone or something is not very attractive or desirable: Why him? He's not all that. → after all at AFTER¹, all of a sudden at SUDDEN

Al-lah /'ælə, 'alə/ n. the Muslim name for God

all-A'merican adj. 1 typical of America or Americans: an all-American girl 2 belonging to a group of players who have been chosen as the best in their sport in college all-a-round adj. good at doing many different things, especially in sports: the best all-around player

all-lay /ə'leɪ/ v. allay sb's fears/concerns/worries etc. to make someone feel less afraid, worried, etc.

al-le-ga-tion /,ælə'geɪʃən/ n. [C] a statement that someone has done something illegal, which has not been proved: allegations of child abuse

THESAURUS accusation, charge, complaint → ACCUSATION

al-lege /ə'ledʒ/ v. [T] to say that something is true, though it has not been proved: Three students alleged that they had been expelled unfairly.

THESAURUS accuse, charge → ACCUSE al-legged /ə'ledʒd/ adj. supposed to be true, but not proven: the group's alleged connections with organized crime al-leg-ed-ly /ə'ledʒɪdli/ adv. used when reporting what other people say is true, although it has not been proved: Felix allegedly offered him a bribe.

al-le-giance /ə'lidʒəns/ n. [C,U] loyalty to or support for a leader, country, belief, etc.: The class stood up and pledged allegiance to the flag of the United States of America.

al-le-go-ry /'ælə'gɔri/ n. (plural allegories) [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a story, poem, painting, etc. in which the events and characters represent good and bad qualities —allegorical /,ælə'gɔrɪkəl/ adj.

al-le-le /ə'lil/ also al-le-lo-morph /ə'lilə'mɔrf/ n. [C] BIOLOGY one of a pair or series of GENES that have a specific position on a CHROMOSOME and control which features an animal or plant gets from its parents

al-le-lu-ia /,ælə'luyə/ interjection HALLELUJAH

al-ler-gic /ə'lɛdʒɪk/ adj. 1 BIOLOGY having an allergy: Jess is allergic to milk. 2 BIOLOGY caused by an allergy: an allergic reaction to the bee sting al-ler-gy /'ælə'dʒi/ n. (plural allergies) [C] BIOLOGY a condition that makes you sick when you eat, touch, or breathe a particular thing: He has an allergy to cats.

al-le-vi-ate /ə'livɪ,eɪt/ v. [T] to make something less bad or severe: Aspirin should alleviate the pain. | The road was built to alleviate traffic problems.

THESAURUS reduce, relieve, ease, lessen → REDUCE al-le-y /'æli/ also al-le-y-way /'æli,weɪ/ n. [C] a narrow street between buildings al-li-ance /ə'laɪəns/ n. [C] a close agreement or connection between people, countries, etc.: the NATO alliance

al-lied /ə'laid, 'ælaid/ adj. joined or closely related, especially by a political or military agreement: allied forces | The government was allied with oil companies.

al-li-ga-tor /'ælə'geɪtə/ n. [C] a large REPTILE (=type of animal) with a long body, a long mouth, and sharp teeth that lives in hot wet areas of the all-inclusive adj. including everything: The firm will handle all your stock investments for an all-inclusive fee.

U.S. and China [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Spanish el lagarto “the lizard,” from Latin lacerta]

al-lit-e-ra-tion /əˈlɪtəˈreɪʃən/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the use of several words close together that begin with the same CONSONANT, for example “wet and windy weather”, used in order to produce a special effect in writing or poetry [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin littera “letter”] all-nighter n. [C] (informal) an occasion when you spend the whole night studying or writing al-lo-cate /ˈæləˌkeɪt/ (Ac) v. [T] to decide to use a particular amount of money, time, etc. for a particular purpose: The state plans to increase the funding (=money) allocated to low-income housing. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Medieval Latin, past participle of allocare, from Latin ad- “to” + locare “to place”] —allocation /ˌæləˈkeɪʃən/ n. [U]: the allocation of educational resources

al-lot /əˈlɒt/ v. (allotted, allotting) [T] to use a particular amount of time for something, or give a particular share of something to someone or something: Each person was allotted four tickets. | Two hours were allotted to each interview. → GIVE —allotment n. [C,U]

al-lo-trope /ˈæləˌtrəʊp/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY one of the several different physical forms or structures of the same ELEMENT (=simple chemical substance with only one type of atom). For example, coal and DIAMONDS are allotropes of CARBON.

al-low /əˈlaʊ/ v. 1 [T] to give someone permission to do something, have something, or go somewhere: Smoking is not allowed. | Reporters were allowed access to the files. | Those over 18 are allowed to vote. | The cat's not allowed in the bedroom.

THESAURUS

allow is used in both formal and informal English: You're not allowed to use a calculator during the test.

let is informal and is used a lot in spoken English: Will your Mom let you come to the party?

permit is formal and is mainly used in written English: Smoking is not permitted in this building.

authorize (formal) – to give official permission for something: In the early 1900s, rangers were authorized to trap wolves in national forests.

sanction (formal) – to officially accept or allow something: The U.N. refused to sanction the use of force.

condone (formal) – to accept or allow behavior that most people think is wrong: I cannot condone the use of violence.

2 [I,T] to make it possible for something to happen or for someone to do something: The plan preserves the state's wild areas while allowing economic growth. | The waiting period allows for a background check. 3 [T] to make sure you have enough time, money, etc. for a particular purpose: Allow ten days for delivery. | I allow myself $75 a week for groceries.

allow for sth phr. v. to consider the possible effects of something and make plans to deal with it: Even allowing for delays, we should finish early.

al-low-a-ble /əˈlaʊəbəl/ adj. acceptable according to particular rules: the maximum allowable dosage of the drug

al-low-ance /əˈlaʊəns/ n. 1 [C,U] money you are given regularly or for a special reason: Do your kids get an allowance? | a travel allowance 2 [C usually singular] an amount of something that is acceptable or safe: a baggage allowance | the recommended daily allowance of vitamin C 3 make allowances (for sb) to consider something when dealing with someone's behavior al-lo-y /ˈælɔɪ/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY a metal that is made by mixing two or more different metals or a metal and a substance that is not a metal: The pipes are made of an alloy of copper and zinc.

all 'right adj., adv. (spoken) 1 acceptable, but not excellent: “How was the movie?” “It was all right.” 2 not hurt, not upset, or not having problems: Sue, are you all right? | The press conference went all right (=happened without any problems). 3 used in order to say you agree with a plan, suggestion, etc.: “Let's go.” “All right.” 4 that's all right a) used in order to reply when someone thanks you: “Thanks for your help!” “That's all right.” b) used in order to tell someone you are not angry when s/he says s/he is sorry: “Sorry I'm late!” “That's all right.” 5 used in order to say or ask whether something is convenient for you: Would Thursday morning be all right? 6 used in order to ask or give permission to do something: Is it all right if I close the window? | It's all right with me. 7 used in order to ask if someone has understood something: Put the cards into three piles, all right? 8 it's all right used in order to make someone feel less afraid or worried: It's all right, Mommy's here. 9 used in order to get someone's attention, introduce a new subject, or end a conversation: All right, quiet down now. 10 used in order to say you are happy about something: “I got the job!” “All right!” 11 be doing all right to be successful in your job or life

USAGE

All right is the usual way of spelling this phrase: Are you all right? | The movie was all right.

Alright is very informal, and most teachers think that it is not correct.

'all-time adj. 1 all-time high/low/best etc. the highest, lowest, etc. level there has ever been: The stock reached an all-time high last week. 2 all-time record/classic etc. the best thing of its type ever known: the NHL's all-time leading goal scorer

al-lude /əˈluːd/ v.

allude to sb/sth phr. v. (formal) to talk about something in a way that is not direct al·lure /ə'luər/ n. [singular, U] a pleasant or exciting quality that attracts people: the allure of travel —alluring adj.

A

A

al·lu·sion /ə'luʒən/ n. [C,U] (formal) something said or written that mentions a subject, person, etc. in a way that is not direct: His poetry is full of allusions to the Bible. —allusive /ə'lusiv/ adj.

al·lu·vi·um /ə'luviəm/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES soil left by rivers, lakes, floods, etc.

al·ly¹ /ə'lai, 'ælaɪ/ n. (plural allies) [C] a person or country that helps another, especially in war: the U.S. and its European allies [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French alier, from Latin alligare, from ad- “to” + ligare “to tie”] ally² v. (allied, allies) ally yourself to/with sb/sth to join with other people or countries to help each other al·ma ma·ter /,ælmə 'mætə, 'ɑl-/ n. [singular, U] (formal) 1 the school, college, or university where you used to study 2 the official song of a school, college, or university [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 a Latin phrase meaning “generous mother”] al·ma·nac /'ɒlmə,næk/ n. [C] 1 a book giving a list of the days of a year, times the Sun rises and sets, changes in the moon, etc. 2 a book giving information about a particular subject or activity: the Almanac of American Politics al·might·y /ɔl'maɪtʃ/ adj. 1 having the power to do anything: Almighty God 2 very important or powerful: the almighty dollar al·mond /'ʌmənd, 'æm-/ n. [C] a flat white nut with pale brown skin and a slightly sweet taste, or the tree on which these nuts grow al·most /'ɒlməʊst, ɔl'məʊst/ adv. nearly but not quite: Are we almost there? | Supper's almost ready. | We've spent almost all the money. | They practice almost every day.

a·loft /ə'lɒft/ adv. (literary) high up in the air

a·lo·ha /ə'louhə/ interjection used in order to say hello or goodbye in Hawaii

a·lone /ə'lon/ adj., adv. 1 without any other people: She lives alone. | They had left their son alone. | I was all alone in a strange city.

THESAURUS

on your own – without anyone helping you:

Finally, the baby started breathing on her own.

(all) by yourself – without anyone helping you:

She raised four children by herself.

single-handedly – done by one person, with no help from anyone else: He almost single-handedly is responsible for the business's success.

solo – done alone, without anyone else helping you: Lindbergh's solo flight across the Atlantic Ocean independently – without other people's help or control: The children are encouraged to work independently on the projects.

unaided (formal) – without help: She was no longer able to breathe unaided.

2 used in order to emphasize that only one person can do something, that something belongs to only one person, etc.: He alone can do the job. → leave sb alone at LEAVE¹, leave sth alone at LEAVE¹, let alone at LET

a·long¹ /ə'lɒŋ/ prep. 1 from one place on something such as a line, road, or edge toward the other end of it: We took a walk along the river. | She looked anxiously along the line of faces. 2 in a line next to or on something: a fence along the road | photographs arranged along the wall 3 at a particular place on something, usually something long: The house is somewhere along this road. 4 along the way/line during a process or experience, or during someone's life: The company has had more successes than failures along the way.

along² adv. 1 going forward: I was driving along, listening to the radio. 2 go/come/be along to go to, come to, or be in the place where something is happening: You're welcome to come along. 3 take/bring sb/sth along to take someone or something with you to a place: Why don't you bring your guitar along? 4 along with sb/sth in addition to and at the same time as someone or something else: Many heart patients now take aspirin, along with other drugs. → all along at ALL², get along at GET, come along at COME a·long·side /ə'lɒŋ'saɪd/ adv., prep. 1 close to and in line with the edge of something: a boat tied up alongside the dock 2 used in order to say that people or things do something or exist together: The children were playing alongside each other.

a·loof /ə'luf/ adj., adv. apart from other people and deliberately not doing things with them: He held himself somewhat aloof from the others.

a·loud /ə'laʊd/ adv. in a voice that you can hear: Mama read aloud to us. | I was just thinking aloud (=saying what I was thinking). | The pain made him cry aloud.

al·pha·bet /'ælfə,bet/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a set of letters in a particular order, used in writing a language: the Greek alphabet [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Late Latin alphabetum, from Greek, from alpha + beta] al·pha·bet·i·cal /,ælfə'betɪkəl/ adj. arranged according to the letters of the alphabet: books in alphabetical order —alphabetically adv.

'alpha particle n. [C] PHYSICS a PARTICLE (=a very small piece of matter) with a positive charge, that consists of two PROTONS and two NEUTRONS and is sent out by some RADIOACTIVE substances al·pine /'ælpain/ adj. EARTH SCIENCES being in or related to the Alps or other high mountains: alpine flowers

al·read·y /ɔl'reɪdi/ adv. 1 before a particular time: By the time he arrived, the room was already crowded. 2 before: You already told me that.

USAGE

Already is used in order to talk about something that has happened: By the time we arrived, the concert had already started.

All ready is used in order to say that someone is ready to do something, or that something is completely prepared: We're all ready to go now. | Dinner is all ready.

3 sooner than expected: I've already forgotten her number. | Is he leaving already? 4 (spoken) said in order to emphasize that you are annoyed: Make up your mind already!

al-so /'ɒlsəʊ/ adv. 1 in addition (SYN too): She speaks perfect English. She also speaks French and Spanish. | This question is not only about writing but also about reading. 2 used in order to say that the same thing is true about another person or thing: My father also died of a heart attack.

USAGE

Also is more formal than too, and is used more often in writing than in speech: Electric cars are cheap to run and they are also good for the environment.

Too and as well are less formal and more often used in spoken English. They are used at the end of a sentence: My sister wants to come too. | I like dance music, but I listen to other kinds of music as well.

In negative sentences, use either rather than also or too. Do not say "Tom was also not hungry." or "Tom was not hungry too." Say "Tom was not hungry either."

GRAMMAR

Use also before a verb, unless the verb is "be": He also plays tennis. Use also after the verb "be": His wife is also a doctor.

If there are two or more verbs together, one of which is an auxiliary verb, also comes after the first one: Patty can also speak Italian.

al-tar /'ɒltə/ n. [C] a table or raised structure used in a religious ceremony

al-ter /'ɒltə/ (AC) v. [I,T] to change, or to make someone or something change: The design of the aircraft's wings had to be altered slightly. | The discovery of penicillin altered the course of medical history. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 French altérer, from Medieval Latin alterare, from Latin alter "other"] change, adapt, adjust, modify, revise, amend, transform → CHANGE¹

THESAURUS

al-ter-a-tion /'ɒltə'reɪʃən/ (AC) n. [C] a change in something or someone, that him, her, or it slightly different: We're planning to make a few alterations to the house. | The bacteria can cause alterations in the DNA.

al-ter-ca-tion /'ɒltə'keɪʃən/ n. [C] (formal) a noisy argument al-ter e-go /'æltə 'igəʊ, 'ɒl-/ n. [C] a person or character in a book who represents part of someone's character, or who has similar opinions, attitudes, etc.: Gissing used his fictional alter ego to attack Victorian morals.

A

al-ter-nate¹ /'ɒltə,nert/ (AC) v. [I,T] if two things alternate, or if you alternate them, they happen one after the other in a repeated pattern: Periods of laziness alternated with periods of frantic activity. | I tend to alternate between eating too much and eating too little. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of alternare "to alternate," from alternus "alternate," from alter "other"]

—alternation /'ɒltə'neɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

al-ter-nate² /'ɒltənɪt/ (AC) adj. 1 able to be used instead of something or someone else (SYN alternative): We had to take an alternate route to the airport. 2 happening in a regular way, first one thing and then the other thing: She visits her aunt on alternate Saturdays.

alternating 'current n. [U] PHYSICS (abbreviation AC) a flow of electricity that regularly changes direction very quickly, for example the current used in buildings for electrical equipment → DIRECT CURRENT

al-ter-na-tive¹ /ɒl'tənətɪv/ (AC) adj. 1 an alternative plan, idea, etc. can be used instead of another one: We decided to take an alternative way home. 2 different from what is usual or accepted: Alternative medicine may cure some things, but not diseases like cancer. | Before the oil runs out, we will have to find alternative sources of energy. —alternatively adv.

alternative² n. [C] something you can choose to do or use instead of something else: This costs less than the other alternative. | There was no alternative to the use of force.

al-ter-na-tor /'ɒltə,nertə/ n. [C] PHYSICS a GENERATOR (=machine that produces electricity) that produces an ALTERNATING CURRENT, used in cars, trucks, etc.

al-though /ɒl'dəʊ/ conjunction 1 in spite of the fact that (SYN though): Although the car's old, it runs well.

THESAURUS

however – used when saying that something seems different or surprising after your previous statement: March is usually really cold. This year, however, the weather was surprisingly mild.

in spite of/despite – even though something happens or is true: We enjoyed the day, in spite of all the problems with the car. | Despite the heat, he still refused to take off his jacket.

nevertheless/nonetheless – in spite of what has just been mentioned: A lot of people are coming to the meeting. Nevertheless, there should be enough seats for everyone.

2 but: No, I'll do it, although I appreciate your offer.

A

al-ti-tude /'æltə,tud/ n. [C,U] the height of something above sea level: aircraft flying at high/low altitude al-to /'æltou/ n. (plural altos) [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a female singer with a low voice, or the line of a piece of music that this person sings al-to-geth-er /,əltə'geðə-, 'əltə'geðə/ adv. 1 completely – used in order to emphasize what you are saying: He uses an altogether different method. | Smoking in public buildings is banned altogether. 2 considering everything or the whole amount: There were five people altogether. | It did rain a lot, but altogether it was a good trip.

USAGE

Use altogether to talk about the total amount or number of something: The vacation cost about $2,000 altogether.

Use all together to say that things or people are together in a group: Try to keep the puzzle pieces all together.

al-tru-ism /'æltru,ɪzəm/ n. [U] the practice of caring about the needs of other people before dealing with your own needs —altruist n. [C] —altruistic /,æltru'ɪstɪk/ adj.

a-lu-mi-num /ə'lumənəm/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a silver-white metal that is an ELEMENT, and that is light and easily bent a-lum-ni /ə'lʌmnəɪ/ n. [plural] the former students of a school, college, or university → STUDENT al-ve-o-lus /æl'viələs/ n. (plural alveoli) [C] BIOLOGY one of the very many small hollow spaces inside your lungs, through which oxygen enters and CARBON DIOXIDE leaves → see picture at LUNG

al-ways /'ɔlweɪz-, -wɪz-/ adv. 1 at all times, or each time: Always lock the doors. | We always want to improve our service.

THESAURUS

permanently – at all times: The door is permanently locked.

all the time/the whole time – continuously and often: The baby cries all the time.

constantly – always or regularly: You're constantly complaining about everything!

continuously (formal) – without stopping or pausing: The tower clock has been working continuously for 270 years.

invariably (formal) – always, without ever changing: The disease almost invariably ends in death.

2 for a very long time: He said that he'd always love her. | She always dreamed of going to Paris.

THESAURUS

permanently – forever or for a very long time: His eyesight may be permanently damaged.

forever – for all time in the future: I could stay here forever.

for life – for the rest of your life: Marriage is supposed to be for life.

for good – used to say that a change is permanent: I've given up smoking for good.

3 happening often, especially in an annoying way: The stupid car is always breaking down! 4 as always as is usual or expected: Her singing, as always, was wonderful. 5 you can/could always... (spoken) said in order to make a polite suggestion: You could always try calling her. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old English ealne weg “all the way”]

GRAMMAR

Use always before a verb, unless the verb is “be”: I always have my driver's license with me.

Use always after the verb “be”: She's always very helpful.

If there are two or more verbs together, always comes after the first one: He had always dreamed of being a pilot.

Alz-heim-er's Dis-ease /'altʃaɪmərz dɪˌzɪz, 'altsaɪ-, 'æl-/ also Alzheimer's n. [U] BIOLOGY a disease that gradually destroys parts of the brain, especially in older people, so that they forget things and lose their ability to take care of themselves AM /eɪ 'em/ n. [U] amplitude modulation a system of broadcasting radio programs, in which the strength of the radio waves changes → FM am /m, əm; strong æm/ v. the first person singular and present tense of the verb BE a.m. /eɪ 'em/ used when talking about times that are between MIDNIGHT and NOON → P.M.: I start work at 9:00 a.m. [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 Latin ante meridiem “before noon”]

a-mal-gam-ate /ə'mælgəˌmeɪt/ v. (formal)

1 [I,T] to join in order to form one larger organization 2 [T] to combine two or more things to make one thing —amalgamation /ə'mælgəˌmeɪʃən/ n. [C,U] a-mass /ə'mæs/ v. [T] to gather together or collect money or information in large amounts: He had amassed a fortune.

am-a-teur /'æmətʃə/ adj. [only before noun] doing something for enjoyment, but not for money: an amateur musician [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 French, Latin amator “lover,” from amare “to love”] amateur ² n. [C] 1 someone who does something because s/he enjoys it, but not for money (ANT) professional 2 someone who does not have experience or skill in a particular activity: There's nothing worse than watching a blurred video, shot by an amateur. —amateurish /æmə'tʃʊrɪʃ/ adj.

a-maze /ə'meɪz/ v. [T] to surprise someone very much: He made a shot that amazed everyone. | You never cease to amaze me (=always surprise me).

a-mazed /ə'meɪzd/ adj. very surprised: We were amazed at how quickly the kids learned. | I'm amazed (that) you remember him. | Many people were amazed to learn that he had grown up poor.

THESAURUS surprised, astonished, astounded, flabbergasted, stunned, dumbfounded → SURPRISED

a-maze-ment /ə'meɪzmənt/ n. [U] a feeling of great surprise: We watched in/with amazement.

a-maz-ing /ə'meɪzɪŋ/ adj. making someone feel very surprised, often because something is very good or very unexpected: an amazing coincidence | It's amazing how many things have gone wrong. —amazingly adv.

THESAURUS surprising, astonishing, astounding, staggering, stunning → SURPRISING

am-bas-sa-dor /æm'bæsədɔː, æm-/ n. [C] an important official who represents his/her country in another country: the Mexican ambassador to Canada [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French ambassadeur, from Latin ambactus “vassal”] —ambassadorial /æm,bæsədɔːriəl/ adj.

am-bi-ance, ambience /'æmbiəns, 'ambiəns/ n. [U] the way a place makes you feel: the restaurant's friendly ambience am-bi-dex-tros /,æmbɪ'dɛkstrəs/ adj. able to use both hands with equal skill am-bi-gu-i-ty /,æmbə'gyuəti/ n. (plural ambiguities) [C,U] the state of being unclear or confusing, or something that produces this effect: the ambiguity of her words | The report contains significant ambiguities.

am-big-u-ous /æm'bɪgyuəs/ (Ac) adj. something that is ambiguous is confusing or not clear because it can be understood in more than one way: The message being given to young people is ambiguous and unclear. | an ambiguous question [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin ambiguus, from ambigere “to wander around,” from ambi- “about” + agere “to drive”]

am-bi-tion /æm'bɪʃən/ n. 1 [C] a strong desire to do or achieve something: Her ambition is to climb Mount Everest. | She seems determined to achieve all her ambitions. 2 [U] the quality of being determined to succeed: Saul has no ambition at all.

am-bi-tious /æm'bɪʃəs/ adj. 1 needing a lot of skill and effort to achieve something: an ambitious mission to Mars 2 having a strong desire to be successful or powerful: a young and ambitious man —ambitiously adv.

am-biv-a-lent /æm'bɪvələnt/ adj. not sure whether you want or like something or not: His wife was ambivalent about having a child. [ORIGIN: 1900—2000 ambi- “both” + -valent “having a particular value”] —ambivalence n. [U] am-ble /'æmbəl/ v. [I] to walk slowly in a relaxed way: We ambled along/down the beach.

THESAURUS walk, stroll → WALK¹ am-bu-lance /'æmbyələns/ n. [C] a special vehicle for taking sick or injured people to the hospital: Somebody should call an ambulance. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 French “place near a battle, where wounds are treated,” from ambulant “walking,” from Latin ambulare] am-bush¹ /'æmbʊʃ/ n. [C] a sudden attack on someone by people who have been hiding and waiting to attack: Two soldiers were killed in an ambush. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French embuscher, from en “in” + busche “wood”] → ATTACK¹ ambush² v. [T] to attack someone from a place where you have been hiding a-me-lio-rate /ə'mɪlyə'reɪt/ v. [I,T] (formal) to make something better —amelioration /ə,mɪlyə'reɪʃən/ n. [U] a-men /,eɪ'men, ,ɑ-/ interjection said at the end of a prayer, to express agreement or the hope that it will be true [ORIGIN: 1000—1100 Late Latin, Greek, from Hebrew, “truth”] a-me-na-ble /ə'mɪnəbəl, ə'me-/ adj. 1 willing to listen to or do something: From what we see and read in the media, his views are not amenable to change. 2 appropriate for a particular type of treatment: jobs that are amenable to flexible scheduling [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Old French amener “to lead up,” from mener “to lead”] a-mend /ə'mend/ (Ac) v. [T] to make small changes or improvements, especially in the words of a law: The act was amended to protect wildlife. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French amender, from Latin emendare, from ex “out” + menda “something wrong, fault”]

THESAURUS change, alter, adapt, adjust, modify, revise → CHANGE¹

a-mend-ment /ə'mendmənt/ (Ac) n. [C,U] a change, especially in the words of a law: Congress proposed three amendments to the bill.

a-mends /ə'mendz/ (Ac) n. make amends to do something that shows you are sorry for something: I tried to make amends by paying for the new window.

a-men-i-ty /ə'menəti, ə'mi-/ n. (plural amenities) [C usually plural] something in a place that makes living there enjoyable and pleasant: a housing development with a pool and other amenities

A-mer-i-can¹ /ə'merɪkən/ n. [C] someone from the U.S.

American² adj. relating to or coming from the U.S.: American cars

A-mer-i-ca-na /ə,mərə'kanə/ n. [U] objects, styles, stories, etc. that are typical of America

American 'dream n. the American Dream the belief that everyone in the U.S. has the opportunity to be successful if s/he works hard

American 'Indian n. [C] another name for a NATIVE AMERICAN

A

A

A-mer-i-can-ize /ə'merikənaɪz/ v. [T] to change something or someone to make him, her, or it more American: After ten years here, we've become very Americanized. —Americanization /ə'merikənə'zeɪʃən/ n. [U]

A-mer-i-cas /ə'merikəz/ n. the Americas [plural] North, Central, and South America considered together as a whole a-mi-a-ble /'eɪmiəbəl/ adj. friendly and pleasant: an amiable child —amiably adv.

am-i-ca-ble /'æmikəbəl/ adj. feeling friendly and doing things without arguments: an amicable divorce

a-mid /ə'mɪd/ also a-midst /ə'mɪdst/ prep. (formal) among or in the middle of: life amid the horrors of war [ORIGIN: Old English onmiddan "in the middle"]

a-mi-no ac-id /ə'mɪnoʊ 'æsɪd/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY one of the substances that combine to form PROTEINS [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 amine type of chemical compound, from ammonia]

a-miss /ə'mɪs/ adj. be amiss (formal) to be a problem or to be wrong: She sensed something was amiss.

am-mo /'æmoʊ/ n. [U] (informal) ammunition am-mo-nia /ə'moʊniə/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a gas or liquid with a strong unpleasant smell, used in cleaning [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Modern Latin, Latin sal ammoniacus "salt of Amon," from Amon ancient Egyptian god near one of whose temples the substance was obtained] am-mu-ni-tion /æmyə'niʃən/ n. [U] 1 things such as bullets, bombs, etc. that are fired from guns 2 information that can be used in order to criticize someone or win an argument against him/her: The scandal has given his opponents plenty of ammunition.

am-ne-sia /æm'niʒə/ n. [U] the medical condition of not being able to remember anything [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Modern Latin, Greek, "forgetfulness"] am-ne-si-ac /æm'nɪziæk, -'niʒi-/ n. [C] someone with amnesia am-nes-ty /'æmnəsti/ n. (plural amnesties) [C,U] an official order forgiving criminals or freeing prisoners, especially people who have opposed the government [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Greek amnesia "forgetfulness," from mnasthai "to remember"] a-moe-ba /ə'mɪbə/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a very small creature that has only one cell a-mok /ə'mək, ə'mək/ adv. run amok to behave or happen in an uncontrolled way [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Malay]

a-mong /ə'mʌŋ/ also a-mongst /ə'mʌŋst/ prep. 1 in a particular group of people or things: unemployment among men under 25 | The university is among the top ten in the nation. | Relax, you're among friends. | They were talking amongst themselves (=a group of people were talking). 2 in the middle of, through, or between: We walked among the huge redwood trees. | He stood among the huge piles of papers, frowning. 3 used when mentioning one or two people or things from a larger group: Swimming and diving are among the most popular Olympic events. | We discussed, among other things, ways to raise money.

a-mor-al /eɪ'mərəl, -'mɑr-/ adj. not moral: his amoral actions

am-o-rous /'æməərəs/ adj. showing or relating to sexual love a-mor-phous /ə'mɔrfəs/ adj. (formal) without a fixed form or shape, or without clear organization a-mount /ə'maʊnt/ n. [C] how much of something there is, or how much is needed: a large amount of money | Please pay the full amount. | a huge amount of time | Add a small amount of water.

USAGE

Amount is used with uncountable nouns: a large amount of money

Number is used with countable nouns: a small number of problems

amount² v.

amount to sth phr. v. 1 to add up to a total of a particular amount: Jenny's debts amount to over $1,000. 2 to mean something without saying it directly: What he said amounted to an apology. 3 not amount to something/anything/much to not be important, valuable, or successful: His father never thought he'd amount to much.

amp /æmp/ also am-pere /'æmpɪr, -pɜr/ n. [C] PHYSICS a unit for measuring an electric current am-phet-a-mine /æm'fetə,mɪn, -mɪn/ n. [C,U] a drug that gives people more energy and makes them feel excited am-phis-i-an /æm'fɪbiən/ n. [C] BIOLOGY an animal such as a FROG, that can live on land and in water am-phis-i-ous /æm'fɪbiəs/ adj. 1 an amphibious vehicle can travel on land and water 2 BIOLOGY an amphibious animal can live on land and in water [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Greek amphibios "living a double life," from amphi- "round, on both sides, both" + bios "way of life"] am-phi-the-a-ter /'æmfə,θiətə/ n. [C] a large structure with no roof, and rows of seats that curve partly around a central space, used for performances am-ple /'æmpəl/ adj. 1 more than enough: There will be ample opportunity to ask questions.

THESAURUS

enough, plenty, sufficient →

ENOUGH

2 ample belly/bosom etc. a big stomach, etc., in a way that is attractive or pleasant —amply adv.

am-pli-fi-er /'æmplə,faiə/ n. [C] a piece of electronic equipment that makes an electrical sound signal stronger, so that it is loud enough to hear → see picture at ACOUSTIC am·pli·fy /'æmpləˌfaɪ/ v. (amplified, amplifies) [T] 1 to make something louder or stronger: an amplified guitar 2 (formal) to explain something in more detail —amplification /ˌæmpləˈfeɪʃən/ n. [singular, U] am·pli·tude /'æmpləˌtʊd/ n. [U] PHYSICS the distance between the middle and the top or bottom of a wave of energy such as a SOUND WAVE am·pu·tate /'æmpyəˌteɪt/ v. [I,T] to cut off a part of someone's body for medical reasons: Doctors had to amputate his left leg. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of amputare, from amb- "around" + putare "to cut"] —amputation /ˌæmpyəˈteɪʃən/ n. [C,U] am·pu·tee /'æmpyəˈti/ n. [C] someone who has a part of his/her body cut off for medical reasons amu PHYSICS the abbreviation of ATOMIC MASS UNIT

a·muck /ə'mʌk/ adv. another spelling of AMOK

a·muse /ə'myuz/ v. [T] 1 to make someone laugh or smile: The question seemed to amuse him. 2 to make the time pass in an enjoyable way for someone: the stories she tells to amuse her daughter [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old French amuser, from muse "mouth of an animal"]

a·mused /ə'myuzd/ adj. 1 thinking something is funny: He looked amused by my embarrassment. 2 keep sb amused to entertain or interest someone for a long time: games to keep the kids amused

a·muse·ment /ə'myuzmənt/ n. 1 [U] the feeling you have when you think something is funny: She looked at him with/amusement. 2 [C,U] something you do to make the time pass in an enjoyable way: What do you do for amusement?

a·musement park n. [C] a large park where people can play games of skill, go on rides, and see performances

a·mus·ing /ə'myuzɪŋ/ adj. funny and entertaining: Luckily, Joe found it amusing (=thought it was funny). | a highly/mildly/fairly amusing movie

THESAURUS funny, witty, humorous, comical → FUNNY¹

an /ən; strong æn/ indefinite article a – used when the following word begins with a vowel sound: an orange | an X-ray | an hour

an·a·bol·ic ster·oid /ˌænəˈbɒlɪk 'sterɔɪd, 'stɪr-/ n. [C] a drug that makes muscles grow quickly, sometimes used illegally by people in sports a·nach·ro·nism /ə'nækərəˌnɪzəm/ n. [C] someone or something that is or seems to be in the wrong historical time: Today, small farmers are almost an anachronism. —anachronistic /ə'nækərəˌnɪstɪk/ adj.

an·ae·ro·bic /ˌænəˈrɒbɪk/ adj. BIOLOGY not needing oxygen in order to live → AEROBIC an·a·gram /'ænəˌgræm/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a word or phrase made by changing the order of the letters in another word or phrase: "Silent" is an anagram of "listen."

a·nal /'eɪnl/ adj. 1 relating to the ANUS 2 (disapproving) showing a lot of concern with small details: Don't be so anal.

an·al·ge·sic /ˌænl'dʒɪzɪk/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY a drug that reduces pain a·nal·o·gous /ə'næləɡəs/ (Ac) adj. (formal) similar to another situation or thing: The system of roads across the country is analogous to the veins and arteries in the human body.

THESAURUS similar, like, alike, comparable, akin to sth → SIMILAR a·nal·o·gy /ə'nælədʒi/ (Ac) n. (plural analogies) [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS something that seems similar in two situations, processes, etc.: We can draw/make an analogy between the brain and a computer. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Greek analogia, from analogos; from ana- "according to" + logos "reason, ratio"]

a·nal·y·sis /ə'næləsɪs/ (Ac) n. (plural analyses /-sɪz/) 1 [C,U] the careful examination of something in order to understand it better or see what it consists of: Analysis of the data shows that skin cancer is on the increase. | The blood sample was sent to the lab for analysis. | The company did a variety of economic analyses to identify the likely cost of each option. 2 [U] a process in which a doctor helps someone to talk about his/her past experiences, relationships, etc. in order to help him/her with mental or emotional problems (SYN psychoanalysis: My sister has been in analysis for several years. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Modern Latin, Greek, from analyein "to break up"]

an·a·lyst /'ænl-ɪst/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to analyze things: Most political analysts believe that Congress will make amendments to the bill. | a computer systems analyst 2 a doctor who helps people with mental or emotional problems by listening to them talk about their experiences, relationships, etc. (SYN psychoanalyst)

an·a·lyt·ic·al /ˌænl'ɪtɪkəl/ (Ac) also an·a·lyt·ic /ˌænl'ɪtɪk/ adj. using methods that help you examine things carefully: The job requires someone with an analytical mind who can assess data quickly. | the detective's analytic skills

an·al·yze /'ænl,aɪz/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to examine or think about something carefully in order to understand it: We gather the data so that we can analyze the evidence objectively. | The material was taken to a police laboratory to be analyzed.

THESAURUS examine, inspect, scrutinize → EXAMINE

2 to examine someone's mental or emotional problems using PSYCHOANALYSIS: The therapists work with the patients to analyze their behavioral problems.

A

A

an-a-pest /ˈænə,pest/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS an arrangement of words or SYLLABLES in poetry, that consists of two short sounds that are not STRESSED (=emphasized), followed by one long sound that is stressed. The word “immature” and the phrase “by myself” also have this pattern.

an-ar-chy /ˈænəki/ n. [U] 1 a situation in which no one obeys rules or laws: Without the rule of law, we would live in a state of chaos and anarchy. 2 a situation in which there is no government in a country [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Medieval Latin anarchia, from Greek, from anarchos “having no ruler”] —anarchist n. [C] —anarchic /æˈnɑːrkɪk/ adj.

a-nath-e-ma /əˈnæθəmə/ n. [singular, U] (formal) something that is completely the opposite of what you believe in: The party’s liberal ideas that are anathema to conservative voters. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Late Latin, Greek, “thing given over to evil, curse,” from anathēnai “to set up, dedicate”] a-nat-o-my /əˈnætəmi/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the scientific study of the structure of the body [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Late Latin anatomia “cutting up a body,” from Greek anatome, from anatemnein “to cut up”] —anatomical /æˈnəˈtɒmɪkəl/ adj.

an-ces-tor /ˈæn,sestə/ n. [C] a member of your family who lived in past times → DESCENDANT: the traditions of their ancestors [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French ancestre, from Latin antecessor “one who goes before”] —ancestral /ænˈsestrəl/ adj.

an-ces-try /ˈæn,sestri/ n. [U] the members of your family who lived in past times: people of Spanish ancestry an-chor /ˈæŋkə/ n. [C] 1 someone who reads the news on television or radio and introduces news reports: the local evening news anchor 2 a heavy metal object that is lowered into the water to prevent a ship or boat from moving 3 someone or something that provides a feeling of support, strength, or safety: He’s the anchor for the team’s defense.

anchor² v. 1 [I,T] to lower the anchor on a ship or boat to keep it from moving: Three tankers were anchored in the harbor. 2 [T] to be the person who reads the news and introduces reports on television or radio: Collins anchors the six o’clock news. 3 [T] to fasten something firmly to something so that it cannot move: The main rope anchors the tent to the ground. 4 [T] to provide a feeling of support, safety, or help: The strong bond between my parents helped to anchor the family during some difficult times.

an-chor-man /ˈæŋkə,mæn/ n. (plural an-chor-wom-an /ˈæŋkə,wʊmən/ n. (plural anchormen /-mən/, anchorwomen /-,wɪmɪn/) [C] someone who reads the news on TV and introduces news reports (SYN anchor) an-cho-vy /ˈæn,tʃʊvi, -tʃə-, ænˈtʃʊvi/ n. (plural anchovies) [C,U] a very small ocean fish that tastes very salty [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Spanish anchova] an-cient /ˈeɪnfənt/ adj. 1 happening or existing very far back in history: ancient Rome → OLD 2 (humorous) very old: an ancient truck piled with furniture and /n, ən, ənd; strong ənd/ conjunction 1 used in order to join two words or parts of sentences: a peanut butter and jelly sandwich | They have two kids, a boy and a girl. | Martha cooks, and Tom does the dishes. 2 used in order to say that one thing happens after another: Grant knocked and went in. 3 (spoken) used instead of “to” after “come,” “go,” “try,” and some other verbs: Try and finish your homework before dinner, okay? | We’re going to go and play basketball. 4 used when adding numbers: Six and four make ten. | a hundred and thirty dollars 5 used in order to say that one thing is caused by something else: I missed supper and I’m starving! 6 used between repeated words to emphasize what you are saying: She spent more and more time alone.

and-ro-gyn-ous /ænˈdrɒdʒənəs/ adj. 1 someone who is androgynous looks both female and male 2 BIOLOGY an androgynous plant or animal has both male and female parts an-droid /ˈændrɔɪd/ n. [C] a ROBOT that looks completely human an-ec-dot-al /æˈnɪkˈdɒtəl/ adj. consisting of short stories based on someone’s personal experience: There is anecdotal evidence that this can help asthma sufferers.

an-ec-dote /ˈænɪkˈdɒt/ n. [C] a short interesting story about a particular person or event [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 French, Latin anekdota “things not published,” from ekdidonai “to publish”] a-ne-mi-a /əˈnɪmiə/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a medical condition in which there are not enough red cells in your blood [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Modern Latin, Greek anaimia “bloodlessness,” from haima “blood”] —anemic adj.

THESAURUS story, tale, yarn → STORY

an-es-the-sia /æˈnəsˈθiːzə/ n. [U] the use of anesthetics in medicine [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 Modern Latin, Greek anaesthesia, from an “without” + aisthesis “feeling”] an-es-thet-ic /æˈnəsˈθetɪk/ n. [C,U] a drug that stops feelings of pain, used during a medical operation: an operation done under a local/general anesthetic (=affecting part or all of your body)

a-nes-thet-ist /əˈnesθətɪst/ n. [C] someone whose job is to give an anesthetic to people in hospitals a-nes-the-tize /əˈnesθəˈtaɪz/ v. [T] to make someone unable to feel pain or strong emotions a·new /ə'nu/ adv. (literary) in a new or different way: She started life anew in New York.

an·gel /'eɪndʒəl/ n. [C] 1 a spirit who lives with God in heaven, usually represented as a person with wings and dressed in white 2 (spoken) someone who is very kind or helpful: Oh, thanks! You're an angel! [ORIGIN: Old English engel, from Late Latin angelus, from Greek angelos "bringer of messages, angel"] —angelic /æ'n'dʒɛlɪk/ adj.

an·ger¹ /'æŋɡə/ n. [U] a strong feeling of wanting to hurt or criticize someone because s/he has done something bad to you or been unkind to you: his feelings of anger and frustration | Paul shouted at him in anger. | his anger at his mother anger² v. [T] to make someone feel angry: The court's decision angered environmentalists.

an·gi·o·sperm /'ændʒɪə,spərm/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a plant that produces fruit that contains the plant's seeds

an·gle¹ /'æŋɡəl/ n. [C] 1 MATH the space between two lines or surfaces that meet or cross each other, measured in degrees → RIGHT ANGLE: an angle of 90 degrees | a 45-degree angle 2 at an angle not upright or straight: The case was leaning at an angle against the wall. 3 a way of considering a problem or situation: We need to look at this from a new angle.

angle² v. [T] to turn or move something so that it is not straight or upright: a lamp angled to give the best light angle for sth phr. v. to try to get something without asking for it directly: I think she's angling for an invitation.

An·gli·can /'æŋɡlɪkən/ adj. relating to the official church of England or related churches, such as the Episcopal church —Anglican n. [C] an·go·ra /æŋ'ɡɔrə/ n. 1 [C] a type of goat, rabbit, or cat with very long soft hair or fur 2 [U] wool or thread made from the fur of an angora goat or rabbit an·gry /'æŋɡrɪ/ adj. feeling or showing anger: I'm so angry with/at her! | My parents were really angry about my grades. | Lerner got angry and started shouting. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old Norse angr "great sorrow"] —angrily adv.

An·glo·Sax·on /'æŋɡləʊ 'sæksən/ n. 1 [C] HISTORY a member of the group of people who lived in England from about 600 A.D. 2 [U] ENG. LANG. the language of the Anglo-Saxons 3 [C] a white person, especially someone whose family originally came from England —Anglo-Saxon adj.

THESAURUS

annoyed – a little angry: I get annoyed with the kids.

irritated – feeling annoyed and not patient with people or things: I was getting irritated by all the noise.

livid/furious – very angry: My boss will be furious if I'm late again.

mad (informal) – very angry: Mom was mad at me for not cleaning up.

indignant – angry because you feel you have been insulted or unfairly treated: She was indignant that only her children had been punished, and not the others involved.

irate (formal) – extremely angry: a phone call from an irate customer outraged – feeling very angry or shocked: Women were outraged at the way the court dealt with the sexual harassment case.

resentful – feeling angry and upset about something you think is unfair: Bethany felt resentful about her mother's interference.

→ HAPPY, SAD

angst /'aŋst, 'æŋst/ n. [U] strong feelings of anxiety and sadness because you are worried about your life an·guish /'æŋɡwɪʃ/ n. [U] suffering caused by extreme pain or worry: "No!" cried her mother in anguish. —anguished adj.: her anguished parents an·gu·lar /'æŋɡyələ/ adj. 1 having sharp corners: an angular shape 2 very thin, and without much flesh on your bones: a tall, angular young man an·i·mal¹ /'ænəməl/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY a living

A

A

creature such as a cow or dog, that is not a bird, insect, fish, or person: farm animals | wild animals 2 BIOLOGY any living creature, including people: Humans are highly intelligent animals. 3 (informal) someone who behaves in a cruel, violent, or rude way: He's an animal – stay out of his way. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin animalis “having life,” from anima “soul”] → party animal at PARTY

animal² adj. 1 relating to or made from animals: animal fats 2 animal urges/instincts etc. human feelings, desires, etc. that relate to sex, food, and other basic needs

An-i-ma-lia /ˌæniˈmerliə/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the KINGDOM that consists of all living creatures with more than one cell who obtain the food they need in order to live and grow by eating other living things → PLANTAE an-i-mate¹ /ˌænəˈmeɪt/ v. [T] to make something seem to have more life or energy: Laughter animated his face. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin, past participle of animare “to give life to,” from anima “soul”] an-i-mate² /ˌænəˈmeɪt/ adj. (formal) living (ANT) inanimate

an-i-mat-ed /ˌænəˈmeɪtɪd/ adj. 1 full of interest and energy: an animated debate 2 an animated CARTOON, movie, etc. is one in which pictures, clay models, etc. seem to move and talk —animatedly adv.

an-i-ma-tion /ˌænəˈmeɪʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] the process of making animated movies, television programs, or computer games, or the movie, program, or game itself 2 [U] energy and excitement: They were talking with animation.

an-i-mism /ˌænəˈmɪzəm/ n. [U] SOCIAL SCIENCE a religion in which all animals, plants, and objects in the world are believed to have spirits [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 From Latin anima “soul”] —animist adj. —animist n.

an-i-mos-i-ty /ˌænəˈmɒsəti/ n. (plural animosities) [C,U] (formal) strong dislike or hatred [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin animosus “full of spirit”] an-i-on /ˌænəˈaɪən/ n. [C] PHYSICS an ION with a negative electrical charge, that is attracted to the part on a BATTERY that sends out a positive electrical charge an-kle /ˈæŋkəl/ n. [C] the joint between your foot and your leg: The skirt came down to her ankles. → see picture on page A3 an-nals /ˈænlz/ n. in the annals of history/science etc. in the whole history of a particular subject an-nex¹ /əˈneks, ˈæneks/ v. [T] to take control of a country or area next to your own, especially by using force —annexation /ˌænikˈseɪʃən, ˌænek-/ n. [C,U] annex² n. [C] a separate building that has been added to a larger one an-ni-hi-late /əˈnaɪəˌleɪt/ v. [T] to destroy something or defeat someone completely [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Late Latin, past participle of annihilare “to reduce to nothing”] —annihilation /əˈnaɪəˌleɪʃən/ n. [U]

an-ni-ver-sa-ry /ˌænəˈvɜːsəri/ n. (plural anniversaries) [C] a date on which something important or special happened in an earlier year → BIRTHDAY: Our wedding anniversary is in June. | A parade was held on the anniversary of the revolution. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Latin anniversarius “returning each year,” from annus “year” + vertere “to turn”] an-no-tate /ˌænəˈteɪt/ v. [T usually passive] to add short notes to a book or piece of writing to explain parts of it: The translation was annotated by W. H. Auden. —annotation /ˌænəˈteɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

an-nounce /əˈnaʊns/ v. [T] 1 to officially and publicly tell people about something: The company announced plans to build 300 homes. | The Senator announced that he was running for a fourth term. 2 to say something in a loud or confident way, especially something other people will not like: Randy suddenly announced (that) he was leaving. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French annoncer, from Latin annuntiare, from ad- “to” + nuntiare “to report”]

an-nounce-ment /əˈnaʊnsmənt/ n. 1 [C] an official public statement: School announcements are broadcast over the PA system. | Carter made the announcement on Wednesday. | the announcement that he had died 2 [U] the act of telling people something publicly: the announcement of the winners

an-nounc-er /əˈnaʊnsə/ n. [C] someone who gives people news or tells them what is happening at an event, during a broadcast, etc.

an-noy /əˈnɔɪ/ v. [T] to make someone feel slightly angry about something (SYN) irritate: His reaction annoyed her. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French enuier, from Latin inodiare, from odium “hate”] irritate – to annoy someone by continually doing something or by continually happening: His constant interruptions were starting to irritate me.

THESAURUS

get on sb's nerves (informal) – to annoy someone by continually doing something or by continually happening: The noise was getting on my nerves.

infuriate – to make someone very angry: The referee's decision infuriated fans.

bother – to annoy someone, especially by interrupting him/her when s/he is trying to do something: Sorry to keep bothering you, but can I ask you one more thing?

vex – to make someone feel annoyed or worried, and unable to stop thinking about something: He was still feeling vexed by her previous remark.

irk (formal) – to make someone feel annoyed: The expression on his face irked her for some reason.

an·noy·ance /ə'noɪəns/ n. 1 [U] the feeling of being slightly angry (SYN irritation: a look of annoyance | To her annoyance, he was late. 2 [C] something that makes you slightly angry: The constant noise was an annoyance.

annoyed /ə'noɪd/ adj. slightly angry → IRRITATED: I was annoyed at myself for telling him. | Joel is really annoyed about the mess. | My sister's annoyed (that) we didn't call. | Her father was getting annoyed with her.

THESAURUS angry, irritated, mad, indignant → ANGRY

an·noy·ing /ə'noɪ-ɪŋ/ adj. making you feel slightly angry (SYN irritating: an annoying habit | It's annoying that we didn't know about this before. —annoyingly adv.

an·nu·al¹ /'ænyuəl/ (AC) adj. 1 happening once a year: The 98th annual conference of the NAACP was held in Detroit.

THESAURUS hourly, daily, weekly, monthly, yearly → REGULAR¹

2 calculated over a period of one year: My annual income before taxes is $68,200. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French annuel, from Latin annuus “yearly” and annalis “yearly,” both from annus “year”] —annually adv.: The jazz festival is held annually in July.

annual² n. [C] a plant that lives for one year or season annual per·centage rate n. [C] ECONOMICS APR

an·nu·i·ty /ə'nuəti/ n. (plural annuities) [C] ECONOMICS an amount of money that is paid each year to someone from an INVESTMENT an·nul /ə'nʌl/ v. (annulled, annulling) [T] LAW to officially state that a marriage or legal agreement no longer exists: Their marriage was annulled last year. —annulment n. [C,U] an·ode /'ænəd/ n. [C] PHYSICS the part of a BATTERY that collects ELECTRONS, often a wire or piece of metal with the sign (+) → CATHODE

a·noint /ə'noɪnt/ v. [T] to put oil or water on someone's head or body during a religious ceremony —anointment n. [C,U]

a·nom·a·ly /ə'naməli/ n. (plural anomalies) [C,U] (formal) something that is very noticeable because it is so different from what is usual: Women firefighters are still an anomaly in a largely male profession.

a·non. /ə'nan/ the written abbreviation of ANONYMOUS

an·o·nym·i·ty /,ænə'nɪməti/ n. [U] the state of not having your name known a·non·y·mous /ə'nanəməs/ adj. 1 not known by name: an anonymous writer | an official who wished to remain anonymous 2 done, made, or given by someone whose name is not known: an anonymous letter 3 without interesting features or qualities: an anonymous black car [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Late Latin anonymus, from Greek, from an- “without” + onyma “name”] —anonymously adv.

a·no·rex·i·a /,ænə'reksɪə/ n. [U] a mental illness that makes people, especially young women, stop eating [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Modern Latin, Greek, from an- “without” + orexis “desire to eat”] a·no·rex·ic /,ænə'reksɪk/ adj. having anorexia, or relating to anorexia —anorexic n. [C]

THESAURUS thin, slim, slender, slight, skinny, lean, underweight, gaunt, emaciated, skeletal → THIN¹

an·oth·er /ə'nʌðə/ determiner, pron. 1 one more person or thing of the same kind: Do you want another beer? | I'll cancel that check and send you another.

THESAURUS more, extra, additional, further, supplemental, supplementary → MORE²

2 a different person or thing: Is there another room we could use? | It is easy to send information from one place to another. 3 something in addition to a particular amount, distance, period of time, etc.: We'll wait another ten minutes. → one after the other/one after another *at ONE*¹, ONE ANOTHER

an·swer¹ /'ænsə/ v. [I,T] 1 to reply to something that someone has asked or written: Why don't you answer me? | She thought for a minute before answering. | The witness refused to answer the question. | He answered that he did not know.

THESAURUS reply – to answer someone – used especially in written English: “Are you coming?” “Yes,” he replied. respond (formal) – to answer someone, especially in writing: We would like to thank everyone who responded to our survey.

2 to reply to a question in a test, competition, etc.: Please answer questions 1–20. 3 answer the telephone/door to pick up the telephone when it rings, or go to the door when someone knocks or rings a bell 4 to react to something that someone else has done: The army answered by firing into the crowd.

answer (sb) back phr. v. to reply to someone in a rude way: Don't answer back, young man!

answer for sth phr. v. 1 to explain why you did something or why something happened, and be punished if necessary: Voters should make politicians answer for the damage to the environment. 2 have a lot to answer for to be responsible for causing a lot of trouble answer to sb phr. v. to be judged by someone or have to explain your actions to him/her, especially someone you work for: As chairman of the company, Douglas is directly responsible for answering to shareholders.

A

answer² n. 1 [C,U] a reply to what someone asks or writes: the answer to my question | Can you give me an answer as soon as possible? | I get a different answer every time I ask him. | In answer to reporters' questions, Wallace said they were looking into the matter. 2 [C] a reply to a question in a test, competition, etc.: What was the answer to question 7? 3 [C] something that you get as a result of thinking or calculating with numbers: The answer is 255. 4 [C] something that solves a problem: There are no easy/simple/right answers. | the answer to the illegal immigration problem

THESAURUS solution, cure, remedy, panacea → SOLUTION

5 [singular, U] if you get an answer when you call someone, knock on his/her door, etc., s/he picks up the telephone or comes to the door: I knocked, but there was no answer.

answer-a-ble /ˈænsərəbəl/ adj. be answerable (to sb) for sth to have to explain your actions to someone

'answering machine n. [C] a machine that records your telephone calls when you cannot answer them → PHONE¹ ant /ænt/ n. [C] a common small black or red insect that lives in groups an-tac-id /ˌæntˈæsɪd/ n. [C] a drug that gets rid of the burning feeling in your stomach when you have eaten too much, drunk too much alcohol, etc.

an-tag-o-nism /ænˈtægəˌnɪzəm/ n. [U] strong opposition to or hatred of someone else: Polucci's antagonism toward the press

THESAURUS opposition, objection, hostility, antipathy → OPPOSITION

an-tag-o-nist /ænˈtægənɪst/ n. [C] your opponent in an argument, fight, etc.

an-tag-o-nis-tic /ænˈtægəˌnɪstɪk/ adj. showing opposition to or hatred of someone or something: an antagonistic attitude —antagonistically adv.

an-tag-o-nize /ænˈtægəˌnaɪz/ v. [T] to make someone feel angry with you: The White House has been careful not to antagonize its NATO allies. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Greek antagonizesthai, from anti- + agonizesthai “to fight”]

Ant-arc-tic /æntˈɑːrktɪk, æntˈɑːrtɪk/ n. the Antarctic the very cold, most southern part of the world —antarctic adj.

Ant-arc-tic-a /æntˈɑːrktɪkə, æntˈɑːrtɪkə/ n. one of the seven CONTINENTS that is the most southern area of land on Earth

Antarctic Circle n. the Antarctic Circle an imaginary line around the world at a particular distance from the most southern point, which is the South Pole → see picture at GLOBE

an-te¹ /ˈænti/ n. up/raise the ante to increase your demands or try to get more things from a situation ante² v.

ante up (sth) phr. v. to pay an amount of money in order to be able to do or be involved in something ant-eat-er /ˈæntɪtə/ n. [C] an animal that has a very long nose and eats small insects an-te-bel-lum /ˌæntɪˈbɛləm/ adj. existing before a war, especially the American Civil War: an antebellum plantation an-te-ce-dent /ˌæntɪˈsɪdnt/ n. 1 [C] (formal) an event, organization, or thing that is similar to the one you have mentioned, but that existed earlier: It was a highly unusual event, without any historical antecedents. 2 sb's antecedents [plural] (formal) the people in someone's family who lived a long time ago (SYN) ancestors 3 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a word, phrase, or sentence that is represented later by another word, for example a PRONOUN —antecedent adj.

an-te-di-lu-vi-an /ˌæntɪdɪˈluviən/ adj. (formal, humorous) very old-fashioned (SYN) outdated: antediluvian attitudes about women an-te-lope /ˈæntəl,oup/ n. [C] an animal that has long horns, can run very fast, and is very graceful an-ten-na /ænˈtɛnə/ n. [C] 1 a piece of equipment on a television, car, roof, etc. for receiving or sending radio or television signals 2 (plural antennae /-ni/) BIOLOGY one of two long thin parts on the head of insects or on some sea animals such as LOBSTERS, that they use to feel things → see picture on page A2 [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin “pole holding up a sail”] an-them /ˈænθəm/ n. [C] 1 a formal or religious song 2 a song that a particular group of people consider to be very important to them: The Rolling Stones' “Satisfaction” was an anthem for a generation.

an-ther /ˈænθə/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the part of a male flower that contains POLLEN → *see picture at FLOWER*¹ ant-hill /ˈænt,hɪl/ n. [C] a small pile of dirt on the ground over the place where ANTS live an-thol-o-gy /ænˈθɒlədʒi/ n. (plural anthologies) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a set of stories, poems, etc. by different people, collected together in one book: an anthology of American literature [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Modern Latin anthologia, from Greek, “gathering flowers”] an-thrax /ˈænθræks/ n. [U] a serious disease that affects cattle and sheep, and that can affect people an-thro-pol-o-gy /ˌænθrəˈpɒlədʒi/ n. [U] the scientific study of people, their societies, their beliefs, etc. [ORIGIN: Latin, Greek, from anthropos “human being” + logia “study”] —anthropologist n. [C] —anthropological /ˌænθrəˈpɒlədʒɪkəl/ adj.

an-ti-air-craft /ˌæntɪˈɛrkraɪft/ adj. able to be used against enemy aircraft: antiaircraft missiles an-ti-bi-ot-ic /ˌæntɪbaɪˈɒtɪk, ˌæntaɪ-/ n. [C usually plural] a drug that is used in order to kill BACTERIA and cure infections —antibiotic adj.

an-ti-bod-y /ˈæntɪˌbɒdi/ n. (plural antibodies) [C] BIOLOGY a substance produced by your body to fight disease

an-tic-i-pate /ænˈtɪsəˌpeɪt/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to expect that something will happen, and do something to prepare for it or prevent it: The economy is growing faster than anticipated. | City officials are anticipating problems if the jury finds the officers not guilty. | We did not anticipate that the suspect would drive his car into the building. 2 to think about something that is going to happen, especially something good: Daniel was eagerly anticipating her arrival.

an-tic-i-pa-tion /ænˈtɪsəˌpeɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [U] the act of expecting something to happen: They cleaned the church in anticipation of the bishop's visit.

an-ti-cli-max /ˌæntɪˈklaɪmæks/ n. [C,U] something that seems disappointing because it happens after something that was much better: After all the advertising, the concert itself was kind of an anticlimax. —anticlimactic /ˌæntɪklaɪˈmæktɪk/ adj.

an-tics /ˈæntɪks/ n. [plural] behavior that seems strange, funny, silly, or annoying: We're all growing tired of his childish antics.

an-ti-de-pres-sant /ˌæntɪdɪˈpresənt, ˌæntaɪ-/ n. [C,U] a drug used for treating DEPRESSION (=a mental illness that makes people very unhappy) —antidepressant adj.

an-ti-dote /ˈæntɪˌdoʊt/ n. [C] 1 a substance that stops the effects of a poison: an antidote to the bite of a rattlesnake 2 something that makes an unpleasant situation better: Laughter is one of the best antidotes to stress.

an-ti-freeze /ˈæntɪˌfriːz/ n. [U] a substance that is put in the water in car engines to stop it from freezing an-ti-his-ta-mine /ˌæntɪˈhɪstəˌmɪn, -mɪn/ n. [C,U] a drug that is used for treating an ALLERGY or COLD (=common illness) —antihistamine adj.

an-tip-a-ty /ænˈtɪpəθi/ n. [U] (formal) a feeling of strong dislike or opposition [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin antipathia, from Greek antipathēs “of opposite feelings”]

THESAURUS opposition, objection, antagonism, hostility → OPPOSITION an-ti-per-spi-rant /ˌæntɪˈpɜːspərənt/ n. [U] a substance that you put under your arms to prevent you from SWEATING an-ti-quat-ed /ˈæntɪˌkwetɪd/ adj. old-fashioned and not appropriate for modern needs or conditions: antiquated laws

THESAURUS old-fashioned, outdated, out-of-date, outmoded, dated, obsolete → OLD-FASHIONED an-tique /ænˈtɪk/ n. [C] a piece of furniture, jewelry, etc. that is old and usually valuable

→ ANCIENT: priceless antiques [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French, Latin antiquus, from ante “before”] —antique adj.: an antique table

THESAURUS old, ancient, vintage → OLD an-tiq-ui-ty /ænˈtɪkwəti/ n. (plural antiquities) 1 [U] ancient times: a tradition that stretches back into antiquity 2 [U] the state of being very old: a building of great antiquity 3 [C usually plural] a building or object made in ancient times: a collection of Roman antiquities an-ti-Sem-i-tism /ˌæntɪˈseməˌtɪzəm, ˌæntaɪ-/ n. [U] hatred of Jewish people —anti-Semitic /ˌæntɪsəˈmɪtɪk, ˌæntaɪ-/ adj.

THESAURUS prejudice, racism, discrimination, intolerance, bigotry, sexism, homophobia → PREJUDICE¹

an-ti-sep-tic /ˌæntəˈseptɪk/ n. [C] a chemical substance that prevents a wound from becoming infected —antiseptic adj.: antiseptic lotion an-ti-so-cial /ˌæntɪˈsəʊʃəl, ˌæntaɪ-/ adj. 1 not liking to meet people and talk to them: Peter's colleagues regarded him as antisocial. 2 not caring if you cause problems for or injuries to other people: His antisocial behavior prevents him forming lasting friendships.

an-tith-e-sis /ænˈtɪθəˌsɪs/ n. [C] (formal) the exact opposite of something: This chaotic, rigged election is the antithesis of democracy.

an-ti-trust /ˌæntɪˈtrʌst, ˌæntaɪ-/ adj. preventing one company from unfairly controlling prices: anti-trust laws

ant-ler /ˈæntˈlɜː/ n. [C] one of the two horns that look like tree branches on the head of animals such as DEER → see picture on page A2 an-to-nym /ˈæntəˌnɪm/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a word that means the opposite of another word. For example, “war” is the antonym of “peace.” (ANT) synonym [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 French antonyme, from Greek anti- “against” + onyma “name”] a-nus /ˈeɪnəs/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the hole in your body through which solid waste leaves your BOWELS → see picture at ORGAN an-vil /ˈænvɪl/ n. [C] a heavy iron block on which pieces of metal are shaped using a hammer

anx-i-e-ty /æŋˈzaɪəti/ n. [U] a strong feeling of worry about something: a lifestyle that creates stress and anxiety | workers' anxiety about being fired

anx-i-ous /ˈæŋkʃəs, ˈæŋʃəs/ adj. 1 very worried about something, or showing that you are worried: June's anxious about the results of her blood test. | an anxious look

THESAURUS worried, concerned, nervous, uneasy, stressed (out), tense, apprehensive → WORRIED

A

A

2 feeling strongly that you want something to happen, especially in order to improve a bad situation: The Moores are anxious to adopt a child. | Company directors were anxious for a meeting.

an-y¹ /'ɛni/ quantifier, pron. 1 some – used in negative statements and questions: Is there any coffee left? | Do you want any? | I don't think that will make any difference. | Are any of your relatives coming for Christmas? 2 used to say that it does not matter which person or thing you choose from a group, or that something is true of all people or things from that group: Any of the restaurants in Chinatown would be fine.* | There are bad things about any job. → in any case at CASE¹, at any rate at RATE¹

USAGE

Do not say "Any country has its own special dishes." Say "Every country has its own special dishes." Do not say "Any animals have ways of defending themselves from attack." Say "All animals have ways of defending themselves from attack."

GRAMMAR

any, a

Use any with uncountable nouns or plural noun forms: Do you have any money?

Use a with singular noun forms: Do you have a car? → A any² adv. even a small amount or at all – used in negative statements or questions: Are you feeling any better? | Sandra couldn't walk any farther.

an-y-bod-y /'ɛni,bədi, -bɑdi, -bədi/ pron. (informal) ANYONE an-y-how /'ɛni,haʊ/ adv. (informal) ANYWAY

an-y-more, any more /,ɛni'mɔr/ adv. not any-more used in order to say that something happened or was true before, but is not now: Frank doesn't live here anymore.

an-y-one /'ɛni,wʌn, -wɒn/ pron. 1 any person or any people – used when it does not matter exactly who: Anyone can learn to swim. | Why would anyone want to do that? | Have you told anyone else? 2 a person or someone – used in questions and negative statements: Is anyone home? | She'd just moved and didn't know anyone.

an-y-place /'ɛni,pleɪs/ adv. (informal) ANYWHERE

an-y-thing /'ɛni,θɪŋ/ pron. 1 something or nothing – used in questions and negative statements: Her dad didn't know anything about it. | Do you need anything else from the store? 2 any thing, event, situation, etc., when it does not matter exactly which: That cat will eat anything. | I was so worried it was hard to think about anything else. 3 or anything (spoken) said when there are several things or ideas that are possible: Do you want a Coke or anything? 4 anything like sb/sth similar to someone or something: Carrie doesn't look anything like her sister. 5 anything but used in order to emphasize that someone or something does not have a particular quality: The book is anything but boring. 6 anything goes used in order to say that anything is acceptable: Don't worry about what to wear – anything goes at Ben's parties.

an-y-time /'ɛni,tʌɪm/ adv. at any time: Call me anytime. | Are you going to see him anytime soon?

an-y-way /'ɛni,weɪ/ adv. 1 in spite of something: It was raining, but we went anyway.

SPOKEN PHRASES

2 used in order to continue a story or change the subject of a conversation: I think she's Lori's age, but anyway, she just had a baby. | Anyway, where do you want to go for lunch? 3 used when you are ending a conversation: Anyway, I guess I'd better go. 4 used when you are saying something to support what you have just said: We decided to sell it because nobody uses it anyway. 5 used in order to add something that slightly changes what you have said: Think about it a while – a few days, anyway. 6 used in order to find out the real reason for something: What were you doing at his house anyway?

an-y-where /'ɛni,wɛr/ adv. 1 in or to any place, when it does not matter exactly where: Fly anywhere in the U.S. with this special offer. | I can't imagine living anywhere else. 2 somewhere or nowhere – used in questions and negative statements: I can't find my keys anywhere. | Are you going anywhere exciting? 3 not anywhere near not at all: She doesn't consider her collection anywhere near complete. 4 anywhere from one to ten any age, number, amount, etc. between the two numbers: He may get anywhere from 12 to 15% of the vote. 5 not get anywhere (spoken) to not be successful at something: I'm trying to set up a meeting, but I don't seem to be getting anywhere.

a-or-ta /eɪ'ɔrtə/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the largest ARTERY (=tube for carrying blood) in the body, that takes blood from the left side of the heart to all parts of the body except the lungs → see picture at HEART

a-part /ə'pɑrt/ adv. 1 separated by distance or time: The two towns are 15 miles apart. | Our birthdays are only two days apart. | The baby's never been apart from his mother. 2 separated into many pieces: He had to take the camera apart to fix it. | The book just came apart in my hands. → fall apart at FALL¹ 3 apart from a) except for: Apart from a couple of spelling mistakes, your paper looks fine. b) in addition to: What do you do for fun? Apart from volleyball, I mean.

a-part-heid /ə'pɑrtəɪt, -teɪt, -tɑɪd/ n. [U] HISTORY a system in which the different races in a country are separated from each other [ORIGIN: 1900–2000 Afrikaans "separateness"]

a-part-ment /ə'pɑrt'mənt/ n. [C] a place to live that consists of a set of rooms in a large building: My apartment is really small. | She lives in a studio/one-bedroom/two-bedroom apartment. → HOUSE¹

[ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French appartement, from Italian appartamento, from appartare “to put aside, separate”]

a'partment ,building also a'partment ,house n. [C] a building that is divided into separate apartments a'partment ,complex n. [C] a group of apartment buildings built at the same time in the same area

ap·a·thet·ic /ˌæpəˈθetɪk/ adj. not interested in something: students who are apathetic about learning

ap·a·thy /ˈæpəθi/ n. [U] the feeling of not being interested in something or not caring about life: public apathy about the coming election

1. gorilla 2. orangutan 3. chimpanzee ape /eɪp/ n. [C] a large monkey without a tail or with a very short tail, such as a GORILLA

a·per·i·tif /əˌpɛrəˈtɪf, ɑ-/ n. [C] a small alcoholic drink that you have before a meal ap·er·ture /ˈæpətʃə/ n. [C] a small opening, especially one that lets light into a camera

a·pex /ˈeɪpɛks/ n. [C] 1 the top or highest part of something: the apex of the pyramid 2 the most successful part of something: the apex of her career aph·o·rism /ˈæfəˌrɪzəm/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a short expression that says something true

a·pho·tic zone /eɪˈfoʊtɪk ˌzoʊn/ n. the aph·otic zone BIOLOGY the deep layer of an ocean where light from the Sun does not reach and PHOTOSYNTHESIS does not take place → see picture at PHOTIC ZONE

aph·ro·di·si·ac /ˌæfrəˈdɪziˌæk, -ˈdɪ-/ n. [C] a food or drug that makes someone feel sexual excitement [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Greek aphrodisiakos, from Aphrodite the ancient Greek goddess of love] —aphrodisiac adj.

a·piece /əˈpiːs/ adv. each: Oranges are 20¢ apiece (=for each one). | We gave $10 apiece for the gift (=each of us gave $10).

a·plomb /əˈplɑːm, əˈplɑːm/ n. (formal) with aplomb in a confident or skillful way, especially in a difficult situation: She answered all their questions with aplomb.

a·po·ca·lypse /əˈpɒkəlɪps/ n. 1 [U] a dangerous situation that results in great destruction, death, or harm 2 the Apocalypse the religious idea of the destruction and end of the world —apocalyptic /əˌpɒkəˈlɪptɪk/ adj.

a·poc·ry·phal /əˈpɒkrəfəl/ adj. an apocryphal story about a famous person or event is well known but probably not true

ap·o·gee /ˈæpədʒi/ n. [C] 1 (formal) the time or point when something is at its most successful: Becoming a senator was the apogee of his political career. 2 PHYSICS the furthest point away from the Earth that the Moon or a SATELLITE reaches as it travels in a curved path around the Earth [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French apogée, from Modern Latin apogaeum, from Greek, from apogaios “far from the Earth”] a·po·lit·i·cal /ˌeɪpəˈlɪtɪkəl/ adj. not having any interest in or connection with politics

a·pol·o·get·ic /əˌpɒləˈdʒetɪk/ adj. showing or saying that you are sorry about something: Dave came in late, looking apologetic. —apologetically adv.

a·pol·o·gize /əˈpɒləˌdʒaɪz/ v. [I] to say that you are sorry about something that you have done, said, etc.: Harris apologized for being late. | Apologize to your sister now!

a·pol·o·gy /əˈpɒlədʒi/ n. (plural apologies) [C] something that you say or write to show that you are sorry: an apology for missing the meeting | The Senator made a formal apology. | Please accept our apologies. | I feel I owe you an apology. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Late Latin apologia “written or spoken defense,” from Greek, from apo- “away from, off” + logos “speech”]

ap·o·plec·tic /ˌæpəˈplektɪk/ adj. 1 so angry you cannot control yourself 2 relating to a STROKE —apoplexy /ˈæpəˌpleksi/ n. [U]

A

A

a·pos·tle /ə'pʌsəl/ n. [C] 1 one of the 12 men chosen by Christ to teach his message 2 someone who believes strongly in a new idea and tries to persuade other people to believe it [ORIGIN: 900—1000 Late Latin apostolus, from Greek, “bringer of messages, apostle”] —apostolic /,æpə'stɒlɪk/ adj.

a·pos·tro·phe /ə'pɒstrəfi/ n. [C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS the mark (') used in writing to show that one or more letters or figures are missing, such as in don't (–do not) or '07 (=2007) 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS the same mark used before or after the letter “s” to show that something belongs or is related to someone or something, as in “Mandy's coat,” or “the building's design” 3 ENG. LANG. ARTS the same sign used before “s” to show the plural of letters and numbers, as in “I got 4 A's and 2 B's on my report card.”

ap·palled /ə'pɒld/ adj. very shocked and upset: The boy's mother was appalled at/by the violence of the computer game. —appall v. [T] ap·pall·ing /ə'pɒlɪŋ/ adj. 1 shocking and terrible: animals kept in appalling conditions 2 (informal) very bad: an appalling movie —appalling adv.

THESAURUS bad, awful, terrible, horrible, horrific, lousy, horrendous, atrocious, abysmal → BAD¹

ap·pa·rat·us /,æpə'rætəs, -'reɪtəs/ n. (plural apparatus or apparatuses) 1 [C,U] a set of instruments, tools, machines, etc. used for a particular purpose: an apparatus for breathing under water 2 [C usually singular] the way in which a lot of people are organized to work together to do a job or control a country or company: a large security apparatus

ap·par·el /ə'pærəl/ n. [U] (formal) clothes: men's apparel

ap·par·ent /ə'pærənt, ə'per-/ (Ac) adj. 1 easily seen or understood: It was apparent that the enemy was stronger than they had believed. | Her embarrassment was apparent to everyone in the room. | For no apparent reason (=without a clear reason), he began to shout at her.

THESAURUS noticeable, clear, obvious, evident, conspicuous, manifest → NOTICEABLE

2 seeming to be true or real, although it may not really be: Students did well in the subject, despite their apparent lack of interest. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin, present participle of apparere from ad- “to” + parere “to show yourself”]

ap·par·ent·ly /ə'pærənt'li, ə'per-/ (Ac) adv. 1 according to what you have heard is true, although you are not completely sure about it: She apparently lied about her qualifications on the job application. | Apparently, the meeting went really well. 2 according to the way something appears or someone looks, although it may not really be true:

The soldiers were lying in the road, apparently dead.

ap·pa·ri·tion /,æpə'riʃən/ n. [C] a GHOST

ap·peal¹ /ə'pil/ v. 1 [I] to make an urgent public request for help, money, information, etc.: The water company appealed to everyone to save water. | charities appealing for money 2 appeal to sb to seem attractive or interesting to someone: The program should appeal to older viewers. 3 [I,T] LAW to make a formal request to a higher court or to someone in authority to change a decision: We plan to appeal the verdict.

appeal² n. 1 [C] an urgent public request for money, information, etc.: Kennedy made a dramatic appeal for peace. | an appeal for food and medical aid 2 [U] the quality that makes you like or want something: her glamor and sex appeal (=sexual attractiveness) | Their music has a broad appeal. | Romances have appeal for many readers. 3 [C,U] LAW a request to a higher court or to someone in authority to change a decision: an appeal to the Supreme Court | His conviction was overturned on appeal.

ap·peal·ing /ə'pilɪŋ/ adj. attractive or interesting: an appealing smile | These adventure stories are particularly appealing to young readers. —appealingly adv.

ap·pear /ə'pɪr/ v. 1 [I] to begin to be seen: Dark clouds began to appear in the sky. | A face appeared at the window. 2 [linking verb] to seem: The man appeared to be dead. | He tried hard to appear calm. | Light colors make a room appear bigger than it is.

THESAURUS seem, look, sound, come across as sth → SEEM

3 [I] to take part in a movie, television program, play, etc.: He'll be appearing in a new Broadway musical. | Davis appeared on Horn's breakthrough album. 4 [I] to happen, exist, or become available for the first time: Irving's novel is soon to appear in paperback. 5 [I] to be present officially, especially in a court of law: He failed to appear in court. | They were required to appear before a grand jury. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French aparoir, from Latin apparere, from ad- “to” + parere “to show yourself”]

ap·pear·ance /ə'pɪrəns/ n. [C] 1 the way someone or something looks or seems to other people: He cared little about his appearance. | The Christmas lights gave the house a festive appearance. 2 an arrival by someone or something: the sudden appearance of several reporters 3 the point at which something begins to exist or starts being used: The industry has changed with the appearance of new technology. 4 a public performance in a film, play, concert, etc.: his first appearance on stage 5 the act of arriving at or attending an event: his first public appearance since the election | I put in an appearance at the wedding but did not stay long.

ap-pease /ə'piz/ v. [T] to make someone less angry, or stop him/her from attacking you by giving him/her what s/he wants: A goat was killed to appease the spirits.

ap-pease-ment /ə'pizmənt/ n. [C,U] HISTORY the act of trying to persuade people not to attack you, or to make them less angry by giving them what they want, especially in politics: People who opposed the war were accused of appeasement.

ap-pel-late /ə'pɛlɪt/ adj. LAW an appellate court, judge, etc. is able to change a decision that was made earlier in a court of law ap-pend /ə'pɛnd/ [Ac] v. [T] (formal) to add something to a piece of writing: The results of the survey are appended to this document.

ap-pend-age /ə'pɛndɪdʒ/ n. [C] something that is added or attached to something larger or more important ap-pen-di-ci-tis /ə'pɛndə'saɪtɪs/ n. [U] an illness in which your appendix swells and becomes painful ap-pen-dix /ə'pɛndɪks/ [Ac] n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY a small organ in your body that has little or no use → see picture at ORGAN 2 (plural appendixes or appendices /-dɪsɪz/) ENG. LANG. ARTS a part at the end of a book that contains additional information: The test results are described in detail in the appendix. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin from appendere “to hang something from”]

ap-pe-tite /'æpə,tart/ n. [C,U] 1 a desire for food: I seem to have lost my appetite lately. | Don't eat that cake now – you'll ruin/spoil your appetite. 2 a desire or liking for a particular activity: his appetite for books

ap-pe-tiz-er /'æpə,tarɪzə/ n. [C] a small dish of food served at the beginning of a meal ap-pe-tiz-ing /'æpə,tarɪzɪŋ/ adj. food that is appetizing looks or smells very good ap-plaud /ə'plɒd/ v. [T] 1 to hit your open hands together to show that you have enjoyed a play, concert, speaker, etc. [SYN] clap: As Maria walked onto the stage, the audience applauded. 2 (formal) to express strong approval of an idea, plan, etc.: We applaud the company's efforts to improve safety.

ap-plause /ə'plɒz/ n. [U] the sound of people hitting their hands together in order to show that they enjoy or approve of something: There was a burst of applause as the band came on stage. | Let's give Rodney a big round of applause!

ap-ple /'æpəl/ n. [C] a hard round red or green fruit that is white inside, or the tree this fruit grows on: apple pie [ORIGIN: Old English æppel] → see picture on page 414

'apple, cider n. [C,U] CIDER

ap-ple-sauce /'æpəl,sɔs/ n. [U] a thick smooth food made from cooked apples ap-plet /'æplət/ n. [C] IT a computer program that is part of a larger program, and which performs a particular job, such as finding documents on the Internet

ap-pli-ance /ə'plaɪəns/ n. [C] a piece of electrical equipment such as a REFRIGERATOR or a DISH-WASHER, used in people's homes: kitchen appliances

THESAURUS machine, device, gadget, mechanism, contraption → MACHINE¹

ap-pli-ca-ble /'æplɪkəbəl, ə'plɪkəbəl/ adj. affecting or relating to a particular person, group, or situation: These tax laws are not applicable to foreigners.

ap-pli-cant /'æplɪkənt/ n. [C] someone who has formally asked for a job, place at a college, etc., especially by writing a letter: There were 30 applicants for the job.

ap-pli-ca-tion /,æplɪ'keɪʃən/ n. 1 [C] a formal, usually written, request for a job, a place at a college, etc.: an application form | a job application | The counselor will help students fill out college applications. 2 [C] a piece of SOFTWARE: multimedia applications 3 [C,U] the use of a machine, idea, etc. for a practical purpose: the application of fair housing laws | The research has many practical applications. 4 [C,U] the act of putting something like paint, medicine, etc. onto a surface: the application of fertilizer to the crops

ap-pli-ca-tor /'æplɪ,keɪtə/ n. [C] a special brush or tool used for putting paint, glue, medicine, etc. on something ap-plied /ə'plaɪd/ adj. a subject such as applied mathematics or applied science is studied for a practical purpose

ap-ply /ə'plaɪ/ v. (applied, applies) 1 [I] to make a formal, especially written, request for a job, place at a college, permission to do something, etc.: Fifteen people applied for the job. | He has applied for U.S. citizenship. | Anna applied to several colleges in California. 2 [I,T] to have an effect on, involve, or concern a particular person, group, or situation: The nutrition labeling requirements apply to most foods. 3 [T] to use a method, idea, etc. in a particular situation, activity, or process: Internships give students a chance to apply their skills in real situations. 4 [T] to put something on a surface, or press on the surface of something: Apply the lotion evenly. | Apply pressure to the wound. 5 [T] apply yourself (to sth) to work very hard and very carefully, especially for a long time: He never really applied himself in school.

ap-point /ə'pɔɪnt/ v. [T] 1 to choose someone for a job, position, etc.: Palmer was appointed to the Board of Trustees. | Dr. Gordon was appointed as the local representative. 2 (formal) to arrange or decide a time or place for something to happen: Judge Bailey appointed a new time for the trial. | They met at the appointed time.

ap-point-ee /ə'pɔɪn'ti/ n. [C] someone who is chosen to do a particular job: a Presidential appointee

A

A

ap·point·ment /ə'pɔɪntˈmənt/ n. 1 [C] a meeting that has been arranged for a particular time and place: an appointment with a reporter | I'd like to make an appointment with Dr. Hanson. | Lisa has an appointment at two. | She called a client to cancel an appointment. 2 [C,U] the act of choosing someone for a job, position, etc.: the appointment of a new Supreme Court Justice 3 by appointment after arranging to meet at a particular time: Dr. Sutton will only see you by appointment.

ap·pointment book n. [C] a book you keep at work with a CALENDAR in it, in which you write meetings, events, and other things you plan to do

ap·por·tion /ə'pɔːʃən/ v. [T] (formal) to decide how something should be divided between various people

THESAURUS separate, divide, split → SEPARATE²

ap·po·si·tion /æpə'zɪʃən/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS when two or more noun phrases are in apposition, they describe the same thing or person, but do not have a word such as “and” or “or” between them. For example, in the sentence “His brother, a musician, lived in New York,” the two phrases “His brother” and “a musician” are in apposition.

ap·pos·i·tive /ə'pɒzətɪv/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a noun phrase that is used with another noun phrase, that gives information about the same person or thing

ap·prais·al /ə'preɪzəl/ n. [C,U] an official judgment about how valuable, effective, or successful someone or something is: an appraisal of a watch (=finding out how much it is worth) | a performance appraisal (=a judgment how well someone does his/her job)

ap·praise /ə'preɪz/ v. [T] to make an appraisal of someone or something: The furniture was appraised at $14,000. | an appraising look

THESAURUS judge, evaluate, assess, gauge → JUDGE²

ap·pre·cia·ble /ə'priʃəbəl/ (Ac) adj. large enough to be noticed, felt, or considered important: There has been no appreciable change in the patient's condition. —appreciably adv.: Real estate values increased appreciably in the last year.

ap·pre·ci·ate /ə'priʃi,eɪt/ (Ac) v. 1 [T] to be grateful for something: Mom really appreciated the flowers you sent. | Thanks for meeting with me. I appreciate it. | I'd really appreciate it if you'd turn the TV down. 2 [T] to understand and enjoy the good qualities or value of something: Dorm food made me appreciate Mom's home cooking. 3 [T] to understand a difficult situation or problem: I appreciate that many parents struggle to afford college fees. | You don't seem to appreciate how hard this is for us. 4 [I] to gradually increase in value (ANT) depreciate: The stock has appreciated steadily since the firm went public in 1996. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Late Latin, past participle of appretiare, from Latin ad- “to” + pretium “price”]

ap·pre·ci·a·tion /ə'priʃi'eɪʃən, ə'pri-/ (Ac) n. [singular, U] 1 the feeling of being grateful for something: I'd like to show/express my appreciation for everything you've done. 2 an understanding of the importance or meaning of something: The course helps children to develop an appreciation of poetry and literature. | I teach classes in music appreciation. 3 the enjoyment you feel when you recognize the good qualities of something: When Linda returned home, her appreciation for her family got deeper. 4 ECONOMICS a rise in the value of something: the appreciation of the dollar against the yen ap·pre·cia·tive /ə'priʃətɪv/ adj. feeling or showing how much you enjoy, admire, or feel grateful for something or someone: Appreciative laughter broke out in the room. —appreciatively adv.

ap·pre·hend /æ'pri'hend/ v. [T] (formal) to find a criminal and take him/her to prison [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin apprehendere “to take hold of,” from ad- “to” + prehendere “to seize”]

THESAURUS catch, capture, arrest → CATCH¹

ap·pre·hen·sion /æ'pri'hensjən/ n. [C,U] 1 anxiety or fear, especially about the future: my sense of apprehension about flying 2 (formal) the act of catching a criminal ap·pre·hen·sive /æ'pri'hensɪv/ adj. worried or anxious, especially about the future: She was apprehensive about the demands of the job. —apprehensively adv.

THESAURUS worried, anxious, concerned, nervous, uneasy, stressed (out), tense → WORRIED

ap·pren·tice /ə'prentɪs/ n. [C] someone who works for an employer for an agreed amount of time, usually for low pay, in order to learn a particular skill ap·pren·tice·ship /ə'prentɪʃɪp/ n. [C,U] the job of being an apprentice, or the time spent as one ap·prise /ə'praɪz/ v. [T] (formal) to formally or officially tell someone about something: Mrs. Belamy has been apprised of the situation.

ap·proach¹ /ə'prəʊtʃ/ (Ac) v. 1 [I,T] to move closer to someone or something: The officer approached him and asked to see his license. | She heard the sound of a car approaching. 2 [T] to ask someone for something when you are not sure if s/he will do what you want: She was approached by two schools about teaching jobs. 3 [I,T] to almost be a particular time, age, amount, temperature, etc.: By mid-afternoon, the temperature was approaching 100°. | Winter was fast approaching. 4 [T] to begin to deal with something: Different nations have approached the problem differently. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French aprochier, from Late Latin appropriare, from Latin ad- “to” + prope “near”] approach² (Ac) n. 1 [C] a way of doing something or dealing with a problem: The school takes a practical approach to teaching science.

THESAURUS method, way, technique, strategy, procedure → METHOD

2 [U] the act of coming closer in time or distance: the approach of winter 3 [C] if an airplane makes an approach, it starts the process of landing on the ground 4 [C] a road or path leading to a place: a traffic jam at the approach to the bridge ap-proach-a-ble /ə'proutʃəbəl/ (Ac) adj. friendly and easy to talk to: Dr. Grieg is very approachable.

ap-pro-ba-tion /,æprə'beɪʃən/ n. [U] (formal) praise or approval

ap-pro-pri-ate¹ /ə'prəʊpriət/ (Ac) adj. correct or good for a particular time, situation, or purpose (ANT) inappropriate: The movie is appropriate for all ages. | books appropriate to elementary school children | There may come a time when it is appropriate to cut jobs. | an appropriate time to honor our veterans —appropriately adv. —appropriateness n. [U] right — used to talk about something that is best or most appropriate for a particular situation or purpose: Is she the right person for this position? suitable — used to talk about something that has the right qualities for a particular person or purpose: a suitable school for the children suited — used to talk about someone who has the right qualities to do something: He'd be well suited to the job.

THESAURUS

apt — used to talk about something, especially a word or description, that is exactly right for a particular situation or purpose: She said it tasted like bubble gum, which seemed like an apt description.
proper — used to talk about something that is correct or right for a particular situation: You need the proper tools for the job.

ap-pro-pri-ate² /ə'prəʊpri,et/ (Ac) v. [T] (formal) 1 to use or take something that does not belong to you: He is suspected of appropriating company funds. 2 to keep something such as money separate, to be used for a particular purpose: Congress appropriated $11.7 billion for anti-drug campaigns.

ap,propiations bill n. [C] POLITICS a bill which allows the government to spend money, if it is approved by the Senate and House of Representatives

ap-prov-al /ə'pruvəl/ n. [U] 1 official permission or acceptance: The deal requires the approval of shareholders. | A two-thirds majority vote is required for approval. | The drug has won FDA approval. | The board never gave its approval. 2 the belief that someone or something is good or doing something right: a child trying to win/earn her father's approval

ap-prove /ə'pruv/ v. 1 [I] to believe that someone or something is good or acceptable (ANT) disapprove: 54% of voters approve of the president's performance. | Her parents did not approve of her marriage. 2 [T] to officially agree to something: The Senate is expected to approve the bill next week.

THESAURUS

pass — to officially accept a law or proposal, especially by voting: Many anti-smoking laws have been passed.
ratify — to make a written agreement official by signing it: Both sides are willing to ratify the treaty.
sanction (formal) — to officially accept or allow something: At that time, the government sanctioned slavery.
endorse (formal) — to officially say that you support or approve of someone or something: The principal endorsed the recommendations.

—approving adj.: an approving nod
 —approvingly adv.

approx the written abbreviation of APPROXIMATELY ap-prox-i-mate¹ /ə'prəksəmit/ (Ac) adj. an approximate number, amount, or time is not exact: The approximate cost will be around $50 per adult. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Late Latin, past participle of approximare “to come near to,” from Latin ad- “to” + proximare “to come near”] —approximately adv.: The plane will land in approximately 20 minutes.

ap-prox-i-mate² /ə'prəksə,merɪ/ (Ac) v. [I, linking verb] (formal) to be similar to but not exactly the same as something else: The animals' food approximates what they would eat in the wild. | The machine can only approximate the sound of a human voice. —approximation /ə'prəksə'meɪʃən/ n. [C,U]: The growth chart shows a rough approximation of a child's ideal weight.

APR /,eɪ pi 'ɑr/ n. [C] ECONOMICS annual percentage rate the rate of INTEREST that you must pay when you borrow money

ap-ri-cot /'eɪprɪ,kət, 'æ-/ n. [C] a small soft yellow-orange fruit with a single large seed

A-pril /'eɪprəl/ (written abbreviation Apr.) n. [C,U] the fourth month of the year, between March and May: Sometimes it snows in April. | The twins were born on April 15th. | Mira will begin her training next April. | The president signed the treaty last April. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French avrill, from Latin Aprilis]

A

A

April 'Fool's Day n. April 1, a day for playing funny tricks on people a-pron /'eɪprən/ n. [C] a piece of clothing you wear to protect your clothes when you cook ap-ro-pos /,æprə'pou, 'æprə,pou/ adv. (formal) apropos of sth relating to something just mentioned: Apropos of nothing (=not relating to anything previously mentioned), he suddenly asked me if I liked cats!

apt /æpt/ adj. 1 apt to likely to do something: A sensitive child is apt to become overwhelmed in busy situations. 2 exactly right for a particular situation or purpose: an apt remark

THESAURUS appropriate, right, suitable, suited, proper → APPROPRIATE¹

3 able to learn or understand things quickly: an apt pupil

THESAURUS intelligent, smart, bright, brilliant, clever, gifted → INTELLIGENT

—aptly adv.

apt. the written abbreviation of APARTMENT

ap-ti-tude /'æptə,tud/ n. [C,U] a natural ability or skill, especially in learning: He never had much aptitude for business.

THESAURUS skill, talent, ability, knack, flair, gift → SKILL

'aptitude test n. [C] a test used for finding out what someone's best skills are: the Scholastic Aptitude Test

a-quar-i-um

/ə'kwɛəriəm/ n. [C] 1 a clear glass or plastic container for fish or other water animals to live in 2 a building where people go to look at fish or other water animals

A-quar-i-us

/ə'kwɛəriəs/ n. 1 [U] the eleventh sign of the ZODIAC, represented by a person pouring water 2 [C] someone born between January 20 and February 18

a-quat-ic /ə'kwætɪk, ə'kwatɪk/ adj. living or happening in water: aquatic plants | aquatic sports [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French aquatique, from Latin aqua “water”]

aq-ue-duct /'ækwə,dʌkt/ n. [C] a structure like a bridge, for carrying water across a valley [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin aquaeductus, from aquae “of water” + ductus “act of leading”] aqueous so'lution n. [C] CHEMISTRY a liquid mixture of water and at least one other substance

aq-ui-fer /'ækwəfə, 'a-/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a layer of stone or earth, under the surface of the ground, that contains water

AR the written abbreviation of ARKANSAS

Ar-a-bic nu-me-ral /,ærabɪk 'numərəl/ n. [C] MATH the sign 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, or 0, or a combination of these signs, used as a number → ROMAN NUMERAL ar-a-ble /'ærabəl/ adj. arable land is good for growing crops [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin arabilis, from arare “to plow”] a-rach-nid /ə'ræknɪd/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a small creature such as a SPIDER, that has eight legs and a body with two parts [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Greek arachne “spider”] ar-bi-ter /'arbətə/ n. [C] 1 a person or organization that settles an argument between two groups of people 2 an arbiter of style, fashion, taste, etc. influences society's opinions about what is fashionable ar-bi-trar-y /'arbə,treɪ/ (AC) adj. decided or arranged without any reason or plan, often unfairly: There are too many arbitrary rules and regulations. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin arbitrarius “depending on the decision of a judge, uncertain,” from arbiter] —arbitrarily /'arbə'treɪrəli/ adv.: Z represents an arbitrarily chosen number. —arbitrariness /'arbə,treɪnɪs/ n. [U] ar-bi-trate /'arbə,treɪt/ v. [I,T] to be a judge in an argument because both sides have asked for this —arbitrator n. [C] ar-bi-tra-tion /,arbə'treɪʃən/ n. [U] the process in which someone tries to help two opposing sides settle an argument ar-bo-re-al /ar'bəriəl/ adj. BIOLOGY relating to trees, or living in trees arc /ɑrk/ n. [C] MATH part of a circle or any curved line [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin arcus “bow, arch, arc”] → see picture at CIRCLE¹

ar-cade /ar'keɪd/ n. [C] 1 a special room or small building where people go to play VIDEO GAMES 2 a passage or side of a building that is covered with an ARCHED roof, and that often has small stores along it ar-cane /ar'keɪn/ adj. (literary) secret and known or understood by only a few people: the arcane rules of the Senate [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin arcane “secret,” from arca “box”] arch¹ /ɑrtʃ/ n. (plural arches) [C] 1 a curved structure at the top of a door, window, bridge, etc., or something that has this curved shape 2 the curved middle part of the bottom of your foot —arched adj.: an arched doorway arch² v. [I,T] to make something form an arch, or be in the shape of an arch: The cat arched her back and hissed.

ar-cha-e-ol-o-gy, archeology /,ar'ki'ælədʒi/ n. [U] the study of ancient societies by examining what remains of their buildings, GRAVES, tools, etc. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French archéologie, from Late Latin archaeologia “history of ancient times,” from Greek archaios “ancient” + logia “study”] —archaeologist n. [C] —archaeological /,ar'ki'ælədʒɪkəl/ adj.

ar-cha-ic /ar'keɪ-ɪk/ adj. belonging to the past, or old-fashioned and no longer used arch-bish-op /,ɑrtʃ'bɪʃəp/ n. [C] a priest with a very high rank

ar-cher-y /'ɑrtʃəri/ n. [U] the sport of shooting ARROWS from a BOW

ar-che-type /'ar'ki,təɪp/ n. [C] 1 [usually singular] a perfect example of something, because it has all the most important qualities of things that belong to that type: For a bedtime snack, milk and cookies are still the archetype. 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS a character in a story, movie, etc. or a person who is very familiar to people and is considered a model for other characters —archetypal /,ar'ki'taɪpəl/ adj.: She grew up in an archetypal small Midwestern town. —archetypically /,ar'ki'tɪpɪkəl/ adv.

ar-chi-pel-a-go /,ar'keɪ'pələ'gou/ n. (plural archipelagos) [C] EARTH SCIENCES a group of small islands [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Archipelago “Aegean Sea” (16—19 centuries), from Italian, “main sea,” from Greek arhki “chief” + pelagos “sea”]

ar-chi-lect /'ar'keɪ'tekt/ n. [C] someone whose job is to design buildings [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French architecte, from Latin, from Greek architekton “chief builder”]

ar-chi-tec-ture /'ar'keɪ'tektʃər/ n. [U] 1 the style and design of a building or buildings: medieval architecture | the architecture of Venice 2 the art and practice of planning and designing buildings —architectural /,ar'keɪ'tektʃərəl/ adj.

ar-chive /'ar'kaɪv/ n. [C usually plural] 1 a large number of records, reports, letters, etc. relating to the history of a country, organization, family, etc., or the place where these records are stored: an archive of the writer's unpublished work 2 copies of a computer's FILES that are stored on a DISK or in the computer's memory in a way that uses less space than usual, so that the computer can keep them for a long time arch-way /'ɑrtʃweɪ/ n. [C] a passage or entrance under an ARCH or arches

Arctic /'ɑrktɪk, 'ɑrtɪk/ n. the Arctic the most northern part of the Earth, including parts of Alaska and Greenland, and the sea called the Arctic Ocean —arctic adj.

Arctic Circle n. the Arctic Circle an imaginary line around the world at a particular distance from the most northern point, which is the North Pole → see picture at GLOBE

ar-dent /'ɑrdnt/ adj. having very strong feelings of admiration or determination about someone or something: the team's ardent fans [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin, present participle of ardere “to burn”] —ardently adv.

THESAURUS enthusiastic, eager, passionate, zealous, fanatical → ENTHUSIASTIC ar-dor /'ɑrdər/ n. [U] very strong feelings of admiration, excitement, or love: He opposed the reforms with considerable ardor.

ar-du-ous /'ɑrdʒuəs/ adj. needing a lot of hard and continuous effort: an arduous climb

THESAURUS difficult, hard, tough, challenging, demanding → DIFFICULT

are /ə; strong ɑr/ the present tense plural of the verb BE [ORIGIN: Old English earun]

ar-e-a /'eriə/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 a particular part of a place, city, country, etc.: Mom grew up in the Portland area. | people who live in urban/rural areas (=in cities or the country) | The police have searched the farm and the surrounding area (=the area around a place).

THESAURUS

region – a large area of a country or the world: the northwest region of Russia territory – land that is owned or controlled by a particular country: Once you cross the river, you're in Canadian territory.

zone – an area that is different in a particular way from the areas around it: a no-parking zone district – a particular area of a city or the country: San Francisco's Mission District neighborhood – an area of a town where people live: a friendly neighborhood suburb – an area outside the center of a city, where people live: a suburb of Boston slum – an area of a city that is in very bad condition, where many poor people live: one of the city's worst slums ghetto – a very poor area of a city: our urban ghettos

2 a part of a house, office, park, etc. that is used for a particular purpose: a large dining area | a no-smoking area | Each apartment has a storage area in the basement. 3 a part of the surface of something such as land, water, or skin: The fire spread over a wide area. 4 MATH the amount of space that a flat surface or shape covers: Use this formula to calculate the area of a circle. | The rate at which the ice melts depends on its surface area. 5 a particular subject or type of activity: Safety is a major area of concern. | experts in different subject areas [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin “piece of flat ground”]

'area code n. [C] the three numbers before a telephone number, that you use when you telephone someone outside your local area in the U.S. and Canada

A

A

a-re-na /əˈrɪnə/ n. [C] 1 a building with a large flat central area surrounded by raised seats, used for sports or entertainment: A new sports arena is under construction downtown. 2 the political/public/national arena all the people and activities relating to politics or public life: More women are entering the political arena.

aren't /ˈærənt/ v. 1 the short form of “are not”: They aren't here. 2 the short form of “am not,” used in questions: I'm in big trouble, aren't I?

ar-gon /ˈɑːɡən/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Ar) a type of gas that is an ELEMENT and that is found in the air. It does not react chemically with other gases or substances, and it is sometimes used in electric lights.

ar-gu-a-ble /ˈɑːɡjuəbəl/ adj. if something is arguable, people can argue about it, because it is not certain ar-gu-a-bly /ˈɑːɡjuəbli/ adv. used when giving your opinion to say that there are good reasons why something might be true: Wagner is arguably the best athlete in the school.

ar-gue /ˈɑːɡju/ v. 1 [I] to disagree with someone, usually by talking or shouting in an angry way: The kids are constantly arguing. | Two men at the bar were arguing over/about politics. | The catcher was arguing with the umpire.

THESAURUS

have an argument: They started arguing over money. | We've had serious arguments before but never split up.

fight or have a fight: My mom and dad were always fighting. | The neighbors had a huge fight. quarrel or have a quarrel – to have an angry argument: Let's not quarrel about money. | She had a quarrel with her boyfriend.

squabble/bicker – to argue about unimportant things: The kids were bickering over what program to watch.

2 [I,T] to clearly explain or prove why you think something is true or should be done: Democrats argued that the cuts would hurt the poor. | Some experts argue for/against sex education in schools. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French arguer, from Latin arguere “to make clear”]

ar-gu-ment /ˈɑːɡyəmənt/ n. [C] 1 a disagreement, especially one in which people are angry and shout: an argument with my husband | Jodie and I had a big argument last night. | Congressional arguments about/over the budget deficit 2 a set of reasons you use to try to prove that something is right or wrong, true or false, etc.: the arguments for/against becoming a vegetarian | the argument that the policy discriminates against women ar-gu-men-ta-tive /ˈɑːɡyəˈmentətɪv/ adj. someone who is argumentative often argues or likes arguing a-ri-a /ˈɑːriə/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a song that is sung by only one person in an OPERA ar-id /ˈæɪd/ adj. EARTH SCIENCES getting very little rain, and therefore very dry: arid land | an arid climate

Ar-ies /ˈerɪz/ n. 1 [U] the first sign of the ZODIAC, represented by a RAM 2 [C] someone born between March 21 and April 19

a-rise /əˈraɪz/ v. (past tense arose /əˈrouz/, past participle arisen /əˈrɪzən/, present participle arising) [I] 1 to happen or appear: the questions that arose during the discussion | the problems that arise from losing a job 2 (literary) to get up ar-is-toc-ra-cy /ˌærəˈstɒkrəsi/ n. (plural aristocracies) 1 [C usually singular] the people in the highest social class, who traditionally have a lot of land, money, and power 2 [U] POLITICS the system in which a country is governed by the people of the highest social class 3 [singular] HISTORY the group of rich and powerful men from a high social class who ruled the city states and controlled the government of ancient Greece [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French aristocratie, from Late Latin, from Greek aristokratia, from aristos “best” + -kratia “-cracy”] —aristocrat /əˈrɪstəˌkræt/ n. [C] —aristocratic /əˈrɪstəˌkrætɪk/ adj.

a-rith-me-tic /əˈrɪθmətɪk/ n. [U] MATH the science of numbers involving adding, dividing, multiplying, etc. → MATHEMATICS [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French arismetique, from Latin, from Greek, from arithmein “to count”] —arithmetic /ˌærɪθˈmətɪk/ adj.

arithmetic 'sequence also arithmetic progression n. [C] MATH a set of numbers in order of value, in which a particular number is added to each to produce the next number, for example 2, 4, 6, 8 ... → GEOMETRIC SEQUENCE, NONLINEAR PROGRESSION

arm¹ /ɑːrm/ n. [C] 1 one of the two long parts of your body between your shoulders and your hands: He put his arm around her. | Marie touched her arm. | He had a tattoo on his left/right arm. | I had a pile of books in my arms. | She took him by the arm (=holding his arm) and pushed him out the door. → see picture on page A3 2 arms [plural] weapons used for fighting wars → ARMED: sales of arms to the rebels | nuclear arms | the right to bear arms (=keep weapons for protection) 3 the part of a chair, SOFA, etc. that you rest your arms on 4 a SLEEVE 5 a long part of an object, that moves like an arm: the arm of the record player 6 a particular part of a group: the political arm of the terrorist organization 7 be up in arms (informal) to be very angry and ready to argue or fight: Parents should be up in arms about the quality of the schools. [ORIGIN: (1) Old English earm] [ORIGIN: (2) 1100–1200 Old French armes (plural), from Latin arma]

arm² v. [T] to give someone the weapons or information s/he needs → ARMED: The ship was armed with 130 missiles. | Armed with a court order, Gilley moved the squatters off his land.

ar-ma-dil-lo /ˌɑːməˈdɪləʊ/ n. (plural armadillos) [C] a small animal with a pointed nose and a hard shell that lives in hot dry parts of North and South America [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Spanish armado “armed person”] ar-ma-ments /'ɑrməmənts/ n. [plural] weapons and military equipment: nuclear armaments arm-band /'ɑmbænd/ n. [C] a band of material that you wear around your arm, for example to show that someone you love has died arm-chair /'ɑrmtʃɛr/ n. [C] a chair with sides that you can rest your arms on → *see picture at SEAT*¹ armed /ɑrmd/ adj. carrying one or more weapons: an armed guard | a charge of armed robbery (=stealing using guns) | The fort was heavily armed (=had a lot of weapons).

armed 'forces n. the armed forces [plural] a country's military organizations arm-ful /'ɑrmfʊl/ n. [C] the amount of something that you can hold in one or both arms: an armful of books ar-mi-stice /'ɑrməstɪs/ n. [C] an agreement to stop fighting, usually for a specific period of time ar-mor /'ɑrmə/ n. [U] 1 metal or leather clothing worn in past times by men and horses in battle: a suit of armor 2 a strong layer of metal that protects vehicles, ships, and aircraft ar-mored /'ɑrməd/ adj. protected against bullets or other weapons by a strong layer of metal: an armored car ar-mor-y /'ɑrməri/ n. (plural armories) [C] a place where weapons are stored arm-pit /'ɑrmpɪt/ n. [C] the hollow place under your arm where it joins your body

'arms con-trol n. [U] HISTORY the attempts by powerful countries to limit the number and types of war weapons that exist

'arms race n. 1 [C usually singular] POLITICS the competition between different countries to have a larger number of powerful weapons 2 the Arms Race HISTORY the competition between the U.S. and the Soviet Union to produce and have the greatest number of powerful weapons, especially NUCLEAR weapons. The Arms Race began at the end of World War II and continued until the late 1980s.

ar-my /'ɑrmi/ n. (plural armies) [C] 1 also Army a military force that fights wars on land: The two armies advanced across Europe. | Our son is in the army. | He dropped out of school to join the army.

TOPIC

An army consists of soldiers or troops.
If you join up or enlist, you join the army.
If you are drafted, you are ordered to serve in the army by the government.
You can use armed forces, the military, or the services to talk in a general way about the Army, Navy, Marines, and Air Force.

2 a large group of people or animals involved in the same activity: an army of ants [ORIGIN: 1300—

1400 Old French armee, from Medieval Latin armata “army, group of warships”] a-ro-ma /ə'roumə/ n. [C] a strong pleasant smell: the aroma of fresh coffee —aromatic /,æro'mætɪk/ adj.: aromatic oils

THESAURUS smell, scent, fragrance, perfume → SMELL²

a-ro-ma-ther-a-py /ə,roumə'θerəpi/ n. [U] the use of pleasant-smelling oils to help you feel well —aromatherapist n. [C] a-rose /ə'rouz/ v. the past tense of ARISE

a-round /ə'raʊnd/ adv., prep. 1 surrounding something or someone: We put a fence around the yard. | Mario put his arms around her. 2 to or in many parts of a place: Stan showed me around the office. | an international company with offices all around (=in all parts of) the world 3 in or near a particular place: Is there a bank around here? 4 used when guessing a number, amount, time, etc., without being exact: Dodger Stadium seats around 50,000 people.

THESAURUS about, approximately, roughly, or so, in the region of → ABOUT²

5 in a circular movement: Water pushes the wheel around. | Leaves were blowing around and around (=in a continuous circular movement). 6 along the outside of a place, instead of through it: We had to go around to the back of the house. 7 toward or facing the opposite direction: I'll turn the car around and pick you up at the door. 8 present in the same place as you: It was 11:30 at night, and nobody was around. 9 existing: That joke's been around for years. 10 10 feet/3 inches etc. around measuring a particular distance on the outside of a round object: Redwood trees can measure 30 or 40 feet around. → around the clock at CLOCK¹

a-round-the-'clock adj. [only before noun] continuing or happening all the time, both day and night: a station where you can get around-the-clock news —around the clock adv.

a-rouse /ə'raʊz/ v. [T] 1 to make someone have a particular feeling: Her behavior aroused the suspicions of the police. 2 to make someone feel sexually excited —arousal n. [U] ar-raign /ə'reɪn/ v. [T] LAW to make someone come to court to hear what his/her crime is —arraignment n. [C,U]

ar-range /ə'reɪndʒ/ v. 1 [I,T] to make plans for something to happen: Jeff will arrange our flights. | We've arranged to go to the cabin this weekend. | I've arranged for Mark to join us. | We still have to arrange where to meet. 2 [T] to put a group of things or people in a particular order or position: The file is arranged alphabetically.

ar-range-ment /ə'reɪndʒmənt/ n. 1 [C usually plural] the things that you must organize for something to happen: travel arrangements | We've been making arrangements for the wedding.

A

A

2 [C,U] something that has been organized or agreed on: We have a special arrangement with the bank. | I'm sure we can come to some arrangement. | Maxine canceled our arrangement to meet. 3 [C,U] a group of things in a particular order or position, or the activity of arranging things in this way: *a flower arrangement 4 [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a piece of music that has been written or changed for a particular instrument → MUSIC

ar-ray /ə'reɪ/ n. [C usually singular] 1 a group of people or things, especially one that is large or impressive: a dazzling array of acting talent 2 MATH a set of numbers or signs, or of computer memory units, arranged in lines across or down ar-rears /ə'rɪrɪz/ n. [plural] 1 be in arrears to owe someone money because your regular payment to him/her is late: We're six weeks in arrears with the rent. 2 money that is owed and should already have been paid: The firm promised to pay all wage arrears promptly and in full.

ar-rest¹ /ə'rest/ v. [T] 1 if the police arrest someone, the person is taken away because the police think s/he has done something illegal: He was arrested and charged with murder. | The police arrested Eric for shoplifting.

THESAURUS catch, capture, apprehend → CATCH¹

2 (formal) to stop something happening, or make it happen more slowly: The drug is used to arrest the spread of the disease. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French arrest “to rest, arrest,” from Latin ad-“to” + restare “to remain, rest”]

arrest² n. [C,U] the act of taking someone away and guarding him/her because s/he may have done something illegal: The police expect to make an arrest soon. | Don't move, you're under arrest!

ar-riv-al /ə'raɪvəl/ n. 1 [U] the act of arriving somewhere (ANT) departure: Porter spoke to reporters shortly after his arrival. | The arrival of our flight was delayed. | Shortly after our arrival in Toronto, Lisa got sick. 2 the arrival of sth the time when a new idea, method, product, etc. is first used or discovered: The arrival of the personal computer changed the way we work. 3 [C] a person or thing that has arrived recently: Late arrivals will not be admitted to the theater.*

ar-rive /ə'raɪv/ v. [I] 1 to get to a place: Your letter arrived last week. | What time does the plane arrive in New York? | We arrived at Mom's two hours late. | We arrived home at ten o'clock.

THESAURUS

get to – to reach a particular place: What time will you get to Atlanta?

reach – to arrive at a particular place: The climbers reached the top of Mt. Everest.

come – if someone comes, s/he arrives at the place where you are: She came home yesterday.

turn up also show up – to arrive somewhere, used especially when someone is waiting for you: Lee turned up an hour late for the meeting.

get in – to arrive at a particular time or in a particular place: What time did your plane get in?

come in – if an airplane, train, or ship comes in, it arrives in the place where you are: I'll be there to pick you up when the train comes in.

land – to arrive somewhere in an airplane, boat, etc.: The first U.S. Marines landed in Vietnam in 1965.

2 to happen: At last the big day arrived! 3 arrive at a conclusion/decision to finally decide what to do about something 4 to begin to exist, or start being used: Our toy sales have doubled since computer games arrived. 5 to be born: It was just past midnight when the baby arrived. [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French ariver, from Vulgar Latin arripare “to come to shore”]

GRAMMARarrive in, arrive at

Use arrive in with the name of a town, city, country, etc.: What time do you arrive in New York? | When she first arrived in the U.S., she didn't speak any English.

Use arrive at with a building such as an airport, a station, or a school: They arrived at the airport half an hour early. | He was in a bad mood when he arrived at school.

ar-ro-gant /'ærəɡənt/ adj. behaving in a rude way because you think you are more important than other people: an arrogant, selfish man [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin, present participle of arrogare, from Latin ad-“to” + rogare “to ask”] —arrogance n. [U]: I couldn't believe her arrogance. —arrogantly adv.

THESAURUS proud, conceited, big-headed, vain, stuck-up, egotistical, haughty → PROUD

ar-ro-gate /'ærəɡert/ v. arrogate (to yourself sth) (formal) to claim that you have a particular right, position, etc. without having the legal right to it ar-row /'ærou/ n. [C] 1 a thin straight weapon with a point at one end, that you shoot from a BOW 2 a sign in the shape of an arrow, used in order to show the direction of something ar-se-nal /'ɑrsənəl/ n. [C] a large number of weapons, or the building where they are stored [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Italian arsenale, from Arabic dar sina'ah “house where things are made”] ar-se-nic /'ɑrsənɪk, 'ɑrsnɪk/ n. [U] a very strong poison ar-son /'ɑrsən/ n. [U] the crime of deliberately burning a building —arsonist n. [C] art /ɑrt/ n. 1 [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the activity or skill of producing paintings, photographs, etc., or paintings, etc. that are produced using this skill: Steve's studying art at college. | *modern art | *an art exhibition | Several famous works of art were stolen from the museum.

THESAURUS

Types of art

painting – the art or skill of making a picture using paint drawing – the art or skill of making a picture using a pen or pencil photography – the art or skill of producing photographs sculpture – the art or skill of making objects out of stone, wood, or clay pottery – the activity of making pots, plates, etc. from clay ceramics – the art or skill of making pots, plates, etc. from clay → ARTIST

2 the arts ENG. LANG. ARTS painting, music, literature, etc. all considered together: government funding for the arts 3 arts [plural] ENG. LANG. ARTS subjects of study that are not considered scientific, such as history, languages, etc.: a bachelor of arts degree 4 [C,U] the skill involved in making or doing something: the art of writing ar-ter-y /'ɑ:təri/ n. (plural arteries) [C] 1 BIOLOGY one of the tubes that carry blood from your heart to the rest of your body → VEIN 2 (formal) a main road, railroad line, or river ar-thri-tis /ɑ:'θraɪtɪs/ n. [U] a disease that causes pain and swelling in the joints of your body [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, Greek, from arthron “joint”] —arthritic /ɑ:'θrɪtɪk/ adj.: arthritic fingers ar-ti-choke /'ɑ:tɪ,tʃoʊk/ n. [C] a round green vegetable with thick pointed leaves and a firm base [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Italian dialect articiocco, from Arabic al-khurshuf “the artichoke”]

ar-ti-cle /'ɑ:tɪkəl/ n. [C] 1 a piece of writing in a newspaper, magazine, etc.: Did you read that article on/about the space shuttle? | magazine articles → NEWSPAPER 2 a thing, especially one of a group of things: an article of clothing

THESAURUS

thing, object, something, item → THING

3 ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, the word “the” (=the DEFINITE ARTICLE), or the word “a” or “an” (=the INDEFINITE ARTICLE), used before a noun to show whether the noun is a particular example of something or a general example of something 4 LAW a part of a legal document ar-tic-u-late /ɑ:'tɪkjələɪt/ adj. able to express your thoughts and feelings clearly (ANT) inarticulate: a bright and articulate child [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of articulare “to divide into joints, speak clearly,” from articulus “joint, division”] —articulately adv.

ar-tic-u-late /ɑ:'tɪkjələɪt/ v. [I,T] to put your thoughts or feelings into words: It's hard to articulate what I'm feeling. —articulation /ɑ:'tɪkjə'leɪʃən/ n. [U] ar-ti-fact /'ɑ:tɪ,fækt/ n. [C] an object such as a tool, weapon, etc. that was made in the past and is historically important: Egyptian artifacts

ar-ti-fi-cial /,ɑ:tə'fɪʃəl/ adj. 1 not real or natural, but made by people (ANT) natural: artificial sweeteners | an artificial leg

THESAURUS

synthetic – made from artificial substances, not natural ones: synthetic fabrics fake – made to look or seem like something else in order to deceive people: fake identity cards man-made – made by people, but similar to something natural: a man-made lake simulated – not real, but made to look, sound, or feel real: a simulated space journey imitation – not real, but made to look real: imitation leather false – not real, but intended to seem real: He was wearing a false mustache.
virtual – made, done, seen, etc. on the Internet, rather than in the real world: virtual reality

2 (disapproving) not natural or sincere: an artificial smile [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French artificial, from Latin artificium from artifex “skilled worker”] —artificially adv.: artificially colored artificial in-telligence n. [U] IT the science of how to make computers do things that people can do, such as make decisions or see things artificial respi-ration n. [U] a way of making someone breathe again when s/he has stopped, by blowing air into his/her mouth artificial se-lection n. [U] BIOLOGY the process of breeding only those plants and animals that have useful qualities or features, in order to develop plants and animals with only these good qualities or features ar-til-ler-y /ɑ:'tɪləri/ n. [U] large heavy guns, usually on wheels ar-ti-san /'ɑ:təzən, -sən/ n. [C] someone who does skilled work, making things by hand art-ist /'ɑ:tɪst/ n. [C] 1 someone who produces art, especially paintings: an exhibition of paintings by local artists

THESAURUS

Types of artists

painter – someone who paints pictures photographer – someone who takes photographs sculptor – someone who makes sculptures potter – someone who makes objects out of baked clay → ART

2 a professional performer such as a singer or dancer ar-tis-tic /ɑ:'tɪstɪk/ adj. 1 good at painting, drawing, etc.: I never knew you were so artistic. 2 relating to art or culture: artistic freedom —artistically adv.

art-ist-ry /'ɑ:təstri/ n. [U] skill in a particular artistic activity

A

A

art·sy /'ɑ:tsi/ adj. (informal) interested in art, or seeming to know a lot about art: The movie has lots of artsy camera work.

art·work /'ɑ:t'wɜ:k/ n. 1 [U] pictures, photographs, etc. that are prepared for a book, magazine, etc. 2 [C,U] paintings and other pieces of art

as /əz; strong æz/ adv., prep., conjunction 1 used to compare people or things: I can't run nearly as fast as I used to. | Tom works just as hard as the others. | Ask Carol to call me as soon as possible (=very soon). 2 used to say what someone's job is or what purpose something has: In the past, women were mainly employed as secretaries or teachers. | John used an old blanket as a tent. 3 in a particular way or state: Make sure you leave this room as you found it. 4 while something is happening: Be patient with your puppy as he adjusts to his new home. | The phone rang just as I was leaving. 5 used when mentioning something that has been stated before: As you know, I'm leaving at the end of this month. | As I mentioned in my letter, I plan to arrive on the 6th. 6 as if/though used when you are saying how someone or something seems: She looked as if she had been crying. 7 as for sb/sth used when you are starting to talk about someone or something new that is related to what you were talking about before: As for racism, much progress has been made, but there is still much to do. 8 as of today/December 12th/next spring etc. starting from a particular time: The pay raise will come into effect as of January. 9 as it is a) already: Keep quiet – we're in enough trouble as it is. b) because of the situation that exists: We were saving money to go to Hawaii, but as it is we can only afford a camping trip. 10 as to concerning: The President asked for opinions as to the likelihood of war. | She offered no explanation as to why she'd left so suddenly. 11 (formal) because: James decided not to go out as he was still really tired. → as long as at LONG², as a matter of fact at MATTER¹, as well (as sb/sth) at WELL¹, so as (not) to do sth at SO¹, such as at SUCH as-bes-tos /æs'bestəs, æz-, əs-, əz-/ n. [U] a gray substance that does not burn easily and was used in some clothing and building material in the past [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin, Greek from asbestos “that cannot be put out,” from sbennynai “to put out a fire”] as-cend /ə'send/ v. [I,T] (formal) 1 to move to a higher position (ANT) descend: The plane ascended rapidly. 2 in ascending order arranged so that each thing in a group is bigger, more important, etc. than the one before as-cen-dan-cy, ascendancy /ə'sendənsi/ n. [U] (formal) a position of increasing power, influence, or control: the ascendancy of conservative values in American life as-cent /ə'sent, 'æsnt/ n. 1 [C] the act of moving or climbing to a higher position (ANT) descent: the first ascent of Everest 2 [U] the process of becoming more important or successful: Jerry's quick ascent into management surprised no one. 3 [C] a path or road that goes gradually up

ASAP, a.s.a.p. adv. the abbreviation of “as soon as possible”

(ANT) descent: a steep ascent as-cer-tain /,æsə'teɪn/ v. [T] (formal) to find out the truth about something: The police have ascertained that the killer did not act alone. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Old French ascertainer, from certain] as-cet-ic /ə'setɪk/ adj. living a simple life without any physical comforts or pleasures —ascetic n. [C] —asceticism /ə'setɪsɪzəm/ n. [U] as-cribe /ə'skraɪb/ v.

ascribe sth to sb/sth phr. v. (formal) to say that something is caused by a particular person or thing: Carter ascribed his problems to a lack of money.

a-sex-u-al /eɪ'sekʃuəl/ adj. 1 not having sexual organs or not involving sexual activity 2 not interested in sex a,sexual repro'duction n. [U] BIOLOGY a process by which some plants and some living creatures produce a new plant or creature without male and female sex cells joining together ash /æʃ/ n. 1 [C,U] the soft gray powder that remains after something has been burned: cigarette ash → see picture at VOLCANO 2 ashes [plural] the ash that remains after the body of a dead person has been CREMATED (=burned) 3 [C,U] a tree that is common in Britain and North America, or the wood from this tree

a-shamed /ə'ʃeɪmd/ adj. 1 feeling embarrassed or guilty about something: I felt ashamed of the things I had said to him. | You should be ashamed of yourself, acting like that! | Fred was ashamed to admit his mistake. | We have nothing to be ashamed of.

THESAURUS guilty, embarrassed, contrite

→ GUILTY

2 be ashamed of sb feeling upset because someone's behavior embarrasses you: Helen felt ashamed of her parents.

ash-en /'æʃən/ adj. very pale because of shock or fear: His face was ashen.

a-shore /ə'ʃɔ:/ adv. onto or toward the shore of a lake, river, sea, or ocean: The body washed ashore on a remote beach. | We came ashore at Long Beach.

ash-tray /'æʃtreɪ/ n. [C] a small dish for used cigarettes and cigarette ASH

A-sia /'eɪzə/ n. one of the seven CONTINENTS that includes land between the Ural Mountains and the Pacific Ocean

A-sian /'eɪzən/ n. [C] someone who comes from Asia, or whose family came from Asia —Asian adj.

Asian-A-merican n. [C] an American whose family originally came from Asia —Asian-American adj.

a-side¹ /ə'saɪd/ adv. 1 to the side or away from you: Jim stepped aside to let me pass. | He took/pulled/called Kate aside so they could talk privately. 2 put/set sth aside a) to keep or not use something so that you can use it later: I try to put aside $30 a week for my vacation. b) to leave something to be dealt with at another time: We put aside our differences to fight a common enemy. 3 aside from sb/sth a) except for someone or something: Aside from coal, copper is the state's largest natural resource. b) in addition to: Aside from providing maps of the downtown area, the book also contains a guide to the city's best restaurants. [SYN] apart from aside² n. [C] 1 a remark you make in a quiet voice so that only a few people can hear 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS words spoken by an actor to the people watching a play, that the other characters in the play do not hear

ask /æsk/ v. [I,T] 1 to make a request for someone to tell you something: "What's your name?" she asked. | I asked him his phone number. | Can I ask a question? | He asked how this could have happened. | Ask Elaine if she knows what time it is. | Visitors often ask about the place. | You should ask around (=ask a lot of people) before deciding.

THESAURUS

question/interrogate – if the police question or interrogate people, they ask them a lot of questions in order to get information: The two men are being questioned by police about the robbery.

inquire (formal) – to ask someone for information or facts about something: I'm writing to inquire about the job you advertised.

poll – to officially ask a lot of people about something, for example to find out their opinion: 58% of those polled supported the president.

2 to make a request for help, advice, information, etc.: If you need anything, just ask. | Ask Paula to mail the letters. | Some people don't like to ask for help. | I had to ask my parents for money. | Ask your dad if we can borrow his car. | Karen asked to see the doctor.

THESAURUS

request – to ask for something officially: I wrote to request information about the college.

order – to ask for food or drinks in a restaurant: He ordered a club sandwich.

demand – to ask for something in a firm or angry way: They're demanding immediate payment.

beg – to ask for something that you want very much: "Please can I have one?" she begged. | I begged her to stay.

plead/imply – to ask for something important in an urgent way because you want it very much: She pleaded with them not to hurt her daughter.

3 to invite someone to go somewhere: Jerry would like to ask her out (=invite her to a movie, restaurant, etc. because he likes her). | Why don't you ask them over (=invite them to your house) for dinner? 4 to want a particular amount of money for something you are selling: He's asking $2,000 for that old car! 5 Don't ask me! (spoken) said when you do not know the answer to a question: "When will Vicky get home?" "Don't ask me!" 6 If you ask me used in order to emphasize your opinion: If you ask me, he should be in jail. 7 be asking for trouble/it (informal) to be behaving in a way that will probably cause problems: Eating lots of fatty food and not exercising is just asking for trouble. [ORIGIN: Old English ascian]

a-skance /ə'skæns/ adv. look askance (at sb/sth) to look at someone or something in a way that shows you do not approve of him, her, or it a-skew /ə'skyu/ adv. not straight or level: His coat was wrinkled and his hat was askew.

a-sleep /ə'slɪp/ adj. sleeping [ANT] awake: Be quiet. The baby is asleep. | I fell asleep (=started sleeping) in front of the TV. | fast/sound asleep (=sleeping very deeply) as-par-a-gus /ə'spærəgəs/ n. [U] a long thin green vegetable as-pect /'æspekt/ [AC] n. [C] one part of a situation, plan, or subject that has many parts: The committee discussed several aspects of the traffic problem. | The book deals with the social aspects of human behavior. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin, past participle of aspicere "to look at," from ad- "to" + specere "to look"] characteristic, quality, feature

THESAURUS

→ CHARACTERISTIC¹

as-pen /'æspən/ n. [C] a tall thin straight tree that grows in the western U.S.

as-per-sion

/ə'spɜːʒən, -ʃən/ n. (formal) cast aspersions on sb/sth to criticize someone or something, or make an unfair judgment [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin aspersio "throwing drops of water onto someone in a religious ceremony," from aspergere, from ad- "to" + spargere "to scatter"]

as-phalt /'æs,fɔlt/ n. [U] a hard black substance used on the surface of roads as-phyx-i-ate /ə'sfɪksɪ,eɪt, æ-/ v. [I,T] (formal) to stop someone breathing [SYN] suffocate —asphyxiation /ə'sfɪksɪ'eɪʃən/ n. [U] as-pi-ra-tion /'æspə'reɪʃən/ n. [C usually plural, U] a strong desire to have or achieve something: a young man with political aspirations as-pire /ə'spaɪə/ v. [I] to have a strong desire to achieve something: Milligan aspires to be Governor of the state. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French aspirer, from Latin aspirare “to breathe on”] —aspiring adj.: aspiring young actors

A

A

as-pir-in /ˈæsprɪn/ n. (plural aspirins or aspirin) [C,U] a drug that reduces pain and fever: I took an aspirin and went to bed. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 German acetylierte spirsäure type of acid from which aspirin is obtained, from Modern Latin spiraea type of bush from which this acid is obtained] ass /æs/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a DONKEY

as-sail /əˈseɪl/ v. [T] 1 [usually passive] (literary) if a thought or feeling assails you, it worries or upsets you: As soon as I'd finished the test, I was assailed by doubts. 2 to criticize someone or something severely: countries who are assailed for their human rights records 3 (formal) to attack someone or something violently as-sail-ant /əˈseɪlənt/ n. [C] (formal) someone who attacks someone else as-sas-sin /əˈsæsən/ n. [C] someone who murders an important person as-sas-si-nate /əˈsæsəˌneɪt/ v. [T] to murder an important person: a plot to assassinate the President —assassination /əˈsæsəˌneɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

THESAURUS kill, murder, execute, put to death, slay → KILL¹

as-sault¹ /əˈsɔlt/ n. [C,U] 1 (formal) the crime of attacking a person: He served three years in prison for assault. | an increase in sexual assaults | He was charged with assault on/against a police officer. 2 an attack by an army to take control of a place: the assault on Iwo Jima

assault² v. [T] to attack someone violently: Two men assaulted him after he left the bar.

as-sem-ble /əˈsembəl/ (Ac) v. 1 [I,T] if you assemble people or things, or if people assemble, they are brought together in the same place: A crowd had assembled in front of the White House.

THESAURUS meet, get together, gather, come together, congregate, convene → MEET¹

2 [T] to put the different parts of something together: You'll need to assemble the grill yourself. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French assembler, from Latin ad- “to” + simul “together”]

THESAURUS build, construct, put up, erect → BUILD¹

→ see picture at BUILD¹

as-sem-bly /əˈsembli/ (Ac) n. (plural assemblies) 1 [C] a group of people who are elected to make laws or decisions for a country, state, or organization: the New York State Assembly 2 [C,U] a meeting of a group of people for a particular purpose: The mayor told an assembly of reporters that the fire was now under control. | The military government imposed strict controls on freedom of assembly (=the right of people to gather as a group to discuss something). 3 [C,U] a meeting of all the teachers and students of a school 4 [U] the process of putting something together: The fan comes with assembly directions.

as'sembly line n. [C] a system for making things in a factory, in which the products move past a line of workers who each make or check one part as-sem-bly-man /əˈsembliˌmən/ n. (plural assemblymen /-mən/) [C] a man who is a member of a state assembly as-sem-bly-wom-an /əˈsembliˌwʊmən/ n. (plural assemblywomen /-ˌwɪmɪn/) [C] a woman who is a member of a state assembly as-sent /əˈsent/ n. [U] (formal) official agreement: The court gave its assent. —assent v. [I]

as-sert /əˈsɜrt/ v. [T] 1 to state firmly that something is true: Professor Ross asserts that American schools are not strict enough. 2 to behave in a determined and confident way to make people respect you: The president tried to assert his power over the military. | Don't be afraid to assert yourself in the interview.

as-ser-tion /əˈsɜːʃən/ n. [C,U] something that you say or write that you strongly believe: He repeated his assertion that he was innocent.

as-ser-tive /əˈsɜːtɪv/ adj. behaving confidently so that people pay attention to what you say: She needs to be more assertive. —assertively adv. —assertiveness n. [U]

THESAURUS confident, self-confident, self-assured, extrovert → CONFIDENT

as-sess /əˈses/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to make a judgment about a person or situation after thinking carefully about it: Psychologists will assess the child's behavior. | The research aims to assess the impact of advertising on children | We're trying to assess what went wrong.

THESAURUS judge, evaluate, appraise, gauge → JUDGE²

2 to calculate the quality, amount, or value of something: They assessed the house at $90,000. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old French assesseur, from Latin, past participle of assidere “to sit beside, help in making judgments,” from ad- “to” + sedere “to sit”] —assessment n. [C,U]: The Federal Reserve Bank's assessment of the economy is gloomy. | a reading assessment test

as-set /ˈæset/ n. 1 assets [plural] something, such as a building, machine, or money, which a company owns and uses to produce goods or services → FINANCIAL ASSET: a firm with $1.3 billion in assets 2 [C usually singular] something or someone that helps you to succeed → LIABILITY: A sense of humor is a real asset. | You're an asset to the company, George. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 assets (singular) “enough money to pay debts,” from Old French assez “enough”] as-sid-u-ous /ə'sɪdʒʊəs/ adj. (formal) very careful to make sure that something is done correctly or completely: an assiduous examination of the paintings —assiduously adv. —assiduosity n. [U]

as-sign /ə'saɪn/ [Ac] v. [T] 1 to give someone a job to do: I've been assigned the task of looking after the new students. | Guards were assigned to the President. 2 to give something to someone: They assigned me a small room. 3 to give a particular time, value, place, etc. to something: To solve the equation, X and Y must be assigned a value. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French assigner, from Latin assignare, from ad- “to” + signare “to mark”]

as-sign-ment /ə'saɪnmənt/ [Ac] n. 1 [C,U] a job or piece of work that is given to someone: Have you all turned in your homework assignments? | The newspaper is sending her on a special assignment to Libya. | She was arrested while on assignment in Cambodia.

THESAURUS essay, composition, paper →
ESSAY

2 [U] the act of giving people particular jobs to do: The resources manager is responsible for the assignment of funds to each project.

as-sim-i-late /ə'sɪməleɪt/ v. 1 [I,T] to accept someone completely as a member of a group, or to become an accepted member of a group: Many ethnic groups have been assimilated into American society. 2 [T] to learn and understand information: We need someone who can assimilate new ideas quickly. —assimilation /ə'sɪməleɪʃən/ n. [U] as-sist /ə'sɪst/ [Ac] v. [I,T] (formal) to help someone do something: Two nurses assisted Dr. Bernard in performing the operation. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French assister “to be present, help,” from Latin assistere, from ad- “to” + sistere “to cause to stand”]

THESAURUS help, give sb a hand (with sth), lend a hand (with sth), aid, facilitate, aid and abet → HELP¹

as-sist-ance /ə'sɪstəns/ [Ac] n. [U] help or support: The company provides technical assistance for new computer users. | We offer financial assistance to students. | Can I be of any assistance (=help you)? | No one would come to her assistance (=help her).

as-sist-ant /ə'sɪstənt/ [Ac] n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to help someone who has a higher rank: an administrative assistant 2 assistant manager/director/editor etc. someone whose job is just below the position of manager, director, etc.

THESAURUS senior, chief, junior →
POSITION¹

as-so-ci-ate¹ /ə'soʊʃi,eɪt, -si,eɪt/ v. 1 [T] if you associate two people or things, you see that they are connected in some way: I always associate summer with travel. 2 be associated with sb/sth a) to be related to a particular subject, activity, group, etc.: health problems associated with tobacco b) also associate yourself with sb/sth to show support for someone or something: I refuse to be friends with anyone who associates himself with racists. 3 associate with sb to spend time with someone: I don't like the people she associates with. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin, past participle of associare, from ad- “to” + sociare “to join”]

as-so-ci-ate² /ə'soʊʃiɪt, -sɪt/ n. [C] someone that you work or do business with: a business associate

As'soci-ate of 'Arts (abbreviation A.A.) also As'soci-ate de'gree n. [C] a degree given after two years of study at a COMMUNITY COLLEGE as-so-ci-a-tion /ə'soʊsi'eɪʃən, -ʃi'eɪ-/ n. 1 [C] an organization for people who do the same kind of work or have the same interests: the National Education Association

THESAURUS organization, institution, institute, (political) party, club, society, union, agency → ORGANIZATION

2 in association with sb/sth together with someone or something else: Community groups are working in association with the schools. 3 [C usually plural] a memory or feeling that is related to a particular place, event, etc.: Los Angeles has happy associations for me.

as,sociative 'property n. [C] MATH the quality of particular types of operations in mathematics, such as addition or MULTIPLICATION, by which the result is the same no matter what order the CALCULATIONS in PARENTHESES are done in, as long as the order of the series of numbers is not changed, as in $(3 + 5) + 2 = 3 + (5 + 2) = 10$ as-so-nance /'æsnəns/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS in poetry, the use of words that have similar vowel sounds, for example the words “born” and “warm” as-sort-ed /ə'sɔ:tɪd/ adj. of various different types: a box of assorted cookies

as-sort-ment /ə'sɔ:tɪmənt/ n. [C] a mixture of different types of the same thing: an assortment of chocolates as-suage /ə'sweɪdʒ/ v. [T] (literary) to make a bad feeling less painful or severe [SYN] relieve: What could possibly assuage his guilt? [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French assouagier, from Latin ad- “to” + suavis “sweet”]

as-sume /ə'sʊm/ [Ac] v. [T] 1 to think that something is true, although you have no proof: Your light wasn't on, so I assumed (that) you were out. | Assuming (that) Dad agrees, when do you want to shop for cars?

THESAURUS
be under the impression that ... – to wrongly believe that something is true: They were under the impression that he was an FBI agent.

A

A

presume – to think that something is true because it is likely, and you have no reason to doubt this: The defendant is presumed innocent until proved guilty.

take it for granted (that) – to be sure that something is true, without ever asking yourself whether you are right or not: I never asked if he was single – I just took it for granted.

2 (formal) to take control, power, or a particular position: Stalin assumed power/control in 1941. 3 assume an air/expression of sth (formal) to pretend to feel something or be something you are not: Andy assumed an air of innocence when the teacher walked by. 4 to start having a particular quality or appearance: Her family life assumed more importance after the accident. 5 to be based on the idea that something else is correct: The company's net earnings forecast assumes sales will grow at 7%. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin assumere, from ad- “to” + sumere “to take”]

as-sumed /ə'sʊmd/ adj. an assumed name/identity a false name: Davis applied for a loan under an assumed name.

as-sump-tion /ə'sʌmpʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] something that you think is true, although you have no proof: How can you make an assumption about her if you've never met her? | The budget is based on the assumption that the economy will grow at the same rate. 2 [U] (formal) the act of starting to have control or power: the general's assumption of power after the revolution

as-sur-ance /ə'ʃʊərəns/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] a promise that something is true or will happen: We need an assurance that you can pay off your loan. | The vaccine is untested and provides no assurance of immunity. 2 [U] confidence in your own abilities or the truth of what you are saying: Cindy answered their questions with quiet assurance.

as-sure /ə'ʃʊr/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to tell someone that something will definitely happen or is definitely true so that s/he is less worried: The doctors assured me (that) her life was not in danger. | The concert won't be canceled, I can assure you. | The speech assured voters of the senator's continued commitment to health care. 2 to make something certain to happen or be achieved: The new contract means that the future of the company is assured. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French assurer, from Medieval Latin assecurare, from Latin ad- “to” + securus “safe”]

as-sured /ə'ʃʊrd/ (Ac) adj. 1 showing confidence in your abilities: Despite her assured manner, Amy felt nervous. 2 certain to be achieved: Victory was assured.

as-sur-ed-ly /ə'ʃʊrdli/ (Ac) adv. (formal) definitely or certainly: The governor is most assuredly in favor of the reforms.

as-ta-tine /'æstə,tin,-tɪn/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol At) a RADIOACTIVE chemical ELEMENT belonging to the HALOGEN group as-ter-isk /'æstərɪsk/ n. [C] a mark like a star (*), used especially to show something interesting or important [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Late Latin asteriscus, from Greek, “little star”] as-ter-oid /'æstə,rɔɪd/ n. [C] PHYSICS a large object made of rock, that moves around in space → SPACE [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Greek asteroeides “like a star,” from aster “star”] as-then-o-sphere /əs'θenə,sfɪr/ n. the asthenosphere EARTH SCIENCES a weak area of the Earth's MANTLE (=part of the Earth around the central core) consisting of several hundred kilometers of rock that can change its usual shape under pressure asth-ma /'æzmə/ n. [U] an illness that makes it difficult to breathe [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Medieval Latin asma, from Greek asthma, from azein “to breathe hard”] —asthmatic /æz'mætɪk/ adj.

as-ton-ish /ə'stəniʃ/ v. [T] to surprise someone very much: Einstein's work still astonishes physicists. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 astone “to astonish” (14–17 centuries) from Old French estoner, from Latin tonare “to thunder”] as-ton-ished /ə'stəniʃt/ adj. very surprised: Parker seemed astonished that someone wanted to buy the house. | I was astonished to learn that she was only 22.

THESAURUS surprised, amazed, shocked, astounded, flabbergasted, stunned, dumbfounded, nonplussed, taken aback → SURPRISED

as-ton-ish-ing /ə'stəniʃɪŋ/ adj. very surprising: astounding news —astonishingly adv.

THESAURUS surprising, extraordinary, amazing, shocking, astounding, staggering, stunning → SURPRISING

as-ton-ish-ment /ə'stəniʃmənt/ n. [U] great surprise: To our astonishment, Sue won the race. | Ken looked at her in astonishment.

as-tound /ə'staʊnd/ v. [T] to make someone feel very surprised: My brother's decision astounded us all.

as-tound-ed /ə'staʊndɪd/ adj. very surprised: I was astounded at what I saw.

THESAURUS surprised, amazed, shocked, astonished, flabbergasted, stunned, dumbfounded, nonplussed, taken aback → SURPRISED

as-tound-ing /ə'staʊndɪŋ/ adj. so surprising that it is difficult to believe: the band's astounding success —astoundingly adv.

THESAURUS surprising, extraordinary, amazing, shocking, astonishing, staggering, stunning → SURPRISING a-stray /ə'streɪ/ adv. 1 go astray (formal) to be lost: One of the documents we sent them has gone astray. 2 lead sb astray to encourage someone to do bad or immoral things a-stride /ə'straɪd/ adv., prep. having one leg on each side of something: a young girl sitting astride a horse

as-trin-gent /ə'strɪndʒənt/ adj. 1 criticizing someone very severely: astrigent remarks 2 CHEMISTRY able to make your skin less oily or stop a wound from bleeding: an astrigent cream

as-trol-o-gy /ə'strɒlədʒi/ n. [U] the study of the position and movements of stars and PLANETS and how they might affect people's lives [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French astrologie "use of astronomy for human purposes"] —astrologer n. [C] —astrological /æ'strɒlədʒɪkəl/ adj.

as-tro-naut /'æstrənɒt, -nət/ n. [C] someone who travels in a spacecraft → SPACE¹ as-tro-nom-i-cal /,æstrə'nɒmɪkəl/ adj. 1 extremely large in amount: astronomical prices

THE SAURUS high, extortionate, exorbitant
→ EXPENSIVE

2 relating to the study of the stars and PLANETS

as-tron-o-my /ə'strɒnəmi/ n. [U] PHYSICS the scientific study of the stars and PLANETS —astronomer n. [C] as-tute /ə'stut/ adj. quick to understand a situation and how to get an advantage from it: an astute politician —astutely adv.

a-sy-lum /ə'saɪləm/ n. 1 [U] protection that a government gives to someone who escapes from a country for political reasons: He was granted political asylum. 2 [C] (old-fashioned) a hospital for people with mental illness [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin, Greek asylon, from asylōs "not able to be seized"] a-sym-met-ri-cal /,eɪsɪ'metrɪkəl/ also a-sym-met-ric /,eɪsɪ'metrɪk/ adj. having two sides that are different in size and shape (ANT) sym-metrical

as-ymp-tote /'æsm,tout/ n. [C] MATH a straight line on a GRAPH, that a curved line continuously moves closer to but never touches at /ət; strong æt/ prep. 1 used to say where someone or something is or where something happens: Meet me at my house. | There was a long line at the bank. | I parked my car at the end of the road. | John's at work (=in the place where he works). | I'll see you at Jane's (=Jane's house). 2 used to say when something happens: The movie starts at 8:00. | Alison gets lonely at Christmas. 3 used to say what event or activity someone is taking part in: I'm sorry, Mr. Rivers is at lunch (=eating lunch). 4 used to show who or what a particular action or feeling is directed toward: Jake shot at the deer but missed. | Stop shouting at me! | Jenny, I'm surprised at you. 5 used in order to show a price, rate, speed, level, age, etc.: Gas is selling at over $3

a gallon. | I started school at age five. 6 used in order to show what you are considering when making a judgment about someone's ability: How's Brian doing at his new job? | Debbie is good/bad at math. 7 in a particular state: Many children are still at risk of disease. | The two nations are at war. 8 the symbol @, used in email addresses [ORIGIN: Old English æt] → at all at ALL¹, at first at FIRST³, at least at LEAST¹

ate /eɪt/ v. the past tense of EAT

a-the-ist /'eɪθɪst/ n. [C] someone who does not believe in God → AGNOSTIC —atheism n. [U] ath-e-ro-scle-ro-sis /,æθərousklə'rouʃɪs/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a medical condition in which substances containing a lot of fat form on the inside surface of the tubes that carry blood from your heart to the rest of your body, limiting or blocking the flow of blood ath-lete /'æθlɪt/ n. [C] someone who is good at sports or who often plays sports: a professional athlete [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin athleta, from Greek athletes, from athlon "prize, competition"] ath-let-ic /æθ'letɪk/ adj. 1 physically strong and good at sports 2 relating to athletics: the athletic department

ath-let-ics /æθ'letɪks/ n. [U] sports in general

At-lan-tic O-cean /ət'lantɪk 'oʊʃən/ n. the Atlantic Ocean, the Atlantic the large ocean between North and South America in the west, and Europe and Africa in the east at-las /'æt'ləs/ n. [C] a book of maps: a world atlas [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Atlas giant in an ancient Greek story who had to hold up the sky; because his name was used as the title of a 16th-century book of maps]

ATM n. [C] Automated Teller Machine a machine that you use with a card to get money from your bank account → ACCOUNT¹

at-mos-phere /'æt'mə'sfɪr/ n. 1 [singular, U] the feeling that an event, situation, or place gives you: The atmosphere in the bar was casual. | The restaurant has a nice friendly atmosphere. | an atmosphere of suspicion 2 [singular] PHYSICS the mixture of gases that surrounds the Earth or another PLANET 3 [singular] the air in a room: a smoky atmosphere [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Modern Latin atmosfera, from Greek atmos "liquid in the air, vapor" + Latin sphaera "sphere"] —atmospheric /,æt'mə'sfɪrɪk/ adj. see picture on page 58

atmospheric 'pressure n. [U] PHYSICS the pressure caused by the weight of the gases in the Earth's atmosphere pressing down on the surface of the Earth at-oll /'ætəl, -təl/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a CORAL ISLAND in the shape of a ring

A

A

at·om /'ætəm/ n. [C] PHYSICS the smallest part of an ELEMENT that can exist alone [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin atomus, from Greek, from atomos “that cannot be divided”] a·tom·ic /ə'tamɪk/ adj. PHYSICS relating to atoms and the energy produced by splitting them: atomic energy a·tomic 'bomb n. [C] a very powerful bomb that splits atoms to cause an extremely large explosion a·tomic 'mass n. [U] PHYSICS the weight of an atom, usually given in atomic mass units

a·tomic 'mass ,number n. [C] PHYSICS the total number of PROTONS in the NUCLEUS (=central part) of an atom a·tomic 'mass ,unit n. [U] PHYSICS (written abbreviation amu) an amount used as a standard for representing the MASS (=weight) of an atom, based on the weight of a CARBON-12 atom

a·tomic 'number n. [C] PHYSICS an ATOMIC MASS NUMBER a·to·nal /er'tounl/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS atonal music is not based on a particular KEY (=seven musical notes with a particular base note) —atonally adv. —atonality /,er'tou'næləti/ n. [U] a·tone /ə'toun/ v. [I] (formal) to do something to show that you are sorry for doing something wrong: Reilly would like to atone for his mistakes. —atonement n. [U] a·tri·um /'eɪtriəm/ n. (plural atriums or atria /-triə/) [C] 1 a large open hall, usually in the middle of a large building, that reaches from the ground up several levels and often to a glass ceiling at the top of the building 2 BIOLOGY one of the two enclosed spaces in the top of your heart, from which blood is sent into the VENTRICLES [SYN] auricle → see picture at HEART

a·tro·cious /ə'troufəs/ adj. extremely bad: atrocious weather | My spelling is atrocious. —atrociously adv.

THESAURUS bad, awful, terrible, horrible, appalling, horrific, lousy, horrendous, abysmal → BAD¹

a·tro·ci·ty /ə'trəʊsəti/ n. (plural atrocities) [C,U] very cruel or violent action: the atrocities of war at·ro·phy /'ætrəfi/ v. (atrophied, atrophies) [I,T] to become weak, or make something become weak, because of lack of use or lack of blood: His muscles had atrophied after the surgery.

at·tach /ə'tætʃ/ [AC] v. [T] 1 to fasten or join one thing to another: Please attach a photograph to your application.

THESAURUS fasten, secure, join, glue, tape, staple, clip, tie → FASTEN

2 be attached to sb/sth to like someone or something very much, especially because you have known him/her or had it for a long time: As a doctor, I cannot get too attached to my patients. 3 to connect a document or FILE to an email so that you can send them together: I attach a copy of the spreadsheet with this email for your records. 4 attach importance/blame etc. to sth to believe that something is important, valuable, guilty, etc.: They seem to attach more importance to money than to happiness.

at·tach·ment /ə'tætʃmənt/ [AC] n. 1 [C,U] a strong feeling of loyalty, love, or friendship: a mother's deep attachment to her baby 2 [C] a piece of equipment that you attach to a machine to make it do a particular job: The vacuum cleaner has various attachments. 3 [C] IT a FILE that you send with an email message: I can't open the attachment.

at·tack¹ /ə'tæk/ n. 1 [C,U] a violent action that is intended to hurt a person or damage a place: There have been several attacks on foreigners recently. | a terrorist attack | a bomb/knife/missile etc. attack | The city is under attack (=being attacked).

THESAURUS

military attack

invasion – an occasion when an army enters a country and takes control of it raid – a short surprise military attack on a place assault – an attack by an army to take control of a place ambush – a sudden attack by people who have been waiting and hiding counterattack – an attack that you make against someone who has attacked you

2 [C,U] strong criticism: an attack on the government's welfare policy | The mayor is under heavy attack for his racist remarks. 3 [C] a short period of time when you are sick, worried, afraid, etc.: an attack of asthma | panic attacks [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French attaquer, from Old Italian attaccare, from stacca “sharp post”] → HEART ATTACK

attack² v. 1 [I,T] to try to hurt or kill someone: Dan was attacked as he got into his car. | He was arrested for attacking his brother with a knife. 2 [T] to criticize someone strongly: Newspapers attacked the President for failing to cut taxes.

THESAURUS criticize, lambast, knock, find fault with, be disparaging about sb/sth → CRITICIZE

3 [T] if a disease, insect, or substance attacks something, it damages it: The virus attacks the body's immune system.

at-tack-er /ə'tækə/ n. [C] someone who uses violence to hurt someone: The police have been unable to identify her attacker.

THESAURUS criminal, robber, mugger, murderer → CRIMINAL²

at-tain /ə'teɪn/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to achieve something after trying for a long time: More women are attaining high positions in business. | Sandra took every opportunity to attain her goal. 2 to reach a particular level, age, size, etc.: These fish can attain a length of eight feet and weigh over 300 pounds. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French ataindre, from Latin attingere, from ad- “to” + tangere “to touch”] —attainable adj.: The objectives must be reasonable and attainable. —attainment n. [C,U]: Educational attainment is the key to success.

at-tempt¹ /ə'tempt/ v. [T] to try to do something, especially something difficult: The plane crashed while attempting an emergency landing. | He died when he attempted to rescue his wife.

THESAURUS try, see if you can do sth, do your best, make an effort to do sth, endeavor → TRY¹

attempt² n. [C] 1 an act of trying to do something: an attempt to be funny | Can't you make an attempt to be nice to your sister? | His early attempts at writing were a dismal failure. | In an attempt to save money, I offered to do the work myself. 2 an act of trying to kill someone, especially someone important or famous, that fails: an assassination attempt on the President at-tend /ə'tend/ v. [I,T] 1 to be present at an event, such as a meeting, class, etc.: More than 1,000 people attended the conference. | Please let us know if you are unable to attend. 2 to go regularly to a school, church, etc.: Neither of my parents attended college.

attend to sb/sth phr. v. (formal) to give attention to someone or something: I have some business to attend to.

at-tend-ance /ə'tendəns/ n. [C,U] 1 the number of people who attend an event, such as a meeting, concert, etc.: an average attendance of 4,000 fans per game | Be quiet while I take attendance (=count how many students are in class today). 2 the act of regularly going to a meeting, class, etc.: He continued his daily attendance at Mass.

at-tend-ant /ə'tendənt/ n. [C] someone whose job is to take care of customers in a public place: a parking lot attendant at-ten-tion /ə'tenfən/ n. [U] 1 the state of carefully watching, listening, or thinking about someone or something: Sorry, what did you say? I wasn't paying attention. | My attention wasn't really on the game. | He ended his sports career and turned his attention to politics. | This assignment requires your full/undivided/complete attention. | May/Can I have your attention, please (=used when asking a group of people to listen carefully to you)? | Most children have a short attention span (=period of time that they are interested in watching, listening, etc. to something). | Her boss admired her attention to detail. 2 the interest that people show in someone or something: Charlie tried to get/attract/catch our attention. | The governor's race has drawn the attention of the nation's media. | Rob loves being the center of attention (=the person everyone notices). 3 special care or treatment: The back yard really needs some attention – it's full of weeds. | Some of the children required urgent medical attention. 4 stand at/to attention if soldiers stand to attention, they stand very straight, with their feet together at-ten-tive /ə'tentɪv/ adj. listening or watching carefully: an attentive audience —attentively adv. —attentiveness n. [U]

at-test /ə'test/ v. [I,T] to show or prove that something is true: The crowd of people waiting outside his door attests to this young star's popularity.

at-tic /'ætɪk/ n. [C] a room at the top of a house, usually used for storing things: I think the photos are up in the attic. [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French attique “of ancient Athens,” from Latin Atticus; from the use of an ancient Greek style in designing structures around the top of buildings] at-tire /ə'taɪə/ n. [U] (formal) clothes: Reservations and formal attire are required.

at-ti-tude /'ætɪtʊd/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] the opinions and feelings that you usually have about someone or something: people with a positive/negative attitude to life | I don't like his attitude toward women. | Attitudes about smoking have changed immensely.

THESAURUS opinion, view, point of view, position, stance, sentiment, conviction → OPINION

2 [C,U] the way that you behave toward someone or in a particular situation: Their whole attitude changed once they found out Ron was rich. | *Cathy has a real attitude problem (=she is not helpful or pleasant to be with). 3 [U] (informal) the confidence to do unusual and exciting things without caring what other people think: a young singer with attitude at-tor-ney /ə'tɒni/ n. (plural attorneys) [C] LAW a lawyer [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French atorné, past participle of atorner “to give a particular job or position to”]

A

A

at-torney 'general n. [C] the chief lawyer in a state, or of the government in the U.S.

at-tract /ə'trækt/ v. [T] 1 to make someone like something or feel interested in it: The story attracted a lot of attention from the media. | What attracted you to Atlanta? 2 to make someone come to a place: Disneyland attracts millions of tourists each year. 3 be attracted to sb to like someone in a sexual way: I was immediately attracted to him. 4 to make someone or something move toward another thing: Flowers attract bees.

at-trac-tion /ə'trækʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] a feeling of liking someone, especially in a sexual way: I can't understand Beth's attraction to Stan. 2 [C] something interesting or fun to see or do: the attractions at the county fair | the city's top tourist attraction (=place that many tourists visit)

at-trac-tive /ə'træktɪv/ adj. 1 pretty or nice to look at: an attractive young woman | an attractive location for a wedding | Women seem to find him attractive.

THESAURUS

good-looking/nice-looking – used about anyone who is attractive pretty – used about a girl or woman who is attractive beautiful – used about a woman, girl, or baby who is extremely attractive handsome – used about a man or boy who is attractive gorgeous/stunning – used about anyone who is very attractive cute – used about a baby or young child who is attractive cute – used about someone you think is sexually attractive, especially someone young hot (informal) – used about someone you think is sexually attractive

2 interesting or exciting: an attractive salary/offer | Advertising campaigns make alcohol attractive to young people.

at-trib-ut-a-ble /ə'trɪbyʊtəbəl/ (Ac) adj. (formal) likely to have been caused by something: The price increase is attributable to a rise in the cost of paper.

at-trib-ute¹ /ə'trɪbyut/ (Ac) v.

attribute sth to sb/sth phr. v. 1 to believe or say that someone or something is responsible for causing something: Many diseases can be attributed to stress. 2 to say that most people believe that someone said, wrote, or painted, etc. something: These paintings are generally attributed to Rembrandt. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin, past participle of attribuere, from ad- “to” + tribuere “to give out to the tribes, pay”] —attribution /,ætrə'byuʃən/ n. [U] at-trib-ute² /'ætrəbyut/ (Ac) n. [C] a good or useful quality: Kindness is just one of her many attributes.

THESAURUS characteristic, quality, trait, feature, property → CHARACTERISTIC¹ at-trib-u-tive /ə'trɪbyʊtɪv/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, an attributive adjective or noun comes before the noun or phrase it describes. In the sentence “I heard a funny story,” the word “funny” is attributive.

at-tuned /ə'tʊnd/ adj. be/become attuned to sth to be so familiar with someone or something that you know how to deal with him, her, or it: It took me a while to become attuned to the strong southern accent.

a-typ-i-cal /eɪ'tɪpɪkəl/ adj. not typical or usual au-burn /'əʊbən/ adj. auburn hair is a red-brown color [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old French auborne “blond,” from Medieval Latin alburnus “whitish”] —auburn n. [U]

au-ction /'ɔːkʃən/ n. [C] an event at which things are sold to the person who offers the most money [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin auctio “increase,” from augere; because the money offered increases] —auction v. [T] au-ction-eer /'ɔːkʃənɪr/ n. [C] someone who is in charge of an auction au-da-cious /'ɔːdeɪʃəs/ adj. brave and shocking: audacious behavior [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French audacieux, from audace “audacity,” from Latin audax “brave”] —audaciously adv.

au-dac-i-ty /'ɔːdəsəti/ n. [U] the quality of having enough courage to take risks or do things that are shocking or rude: I can't believe he had the audacity to call your father at 3 a.m.

au-di-ble /'ɔːdəbəl/ adj. loud enough to be heard (ANT) inaudible: Her voice was barely audible. | an audible sigh of relief —audibly adv.

au-di-ence /'ɔːdiəns/ n. [C] 1 the people watching or listening to a performance: an audience of 300 people | Members of the audience were invited to ask questions. → THEATER 2 the people who watch a particular television program, read a particular book or magazine, etc.: The show attracts a regular audience of 20 million viewers. 3 a formal meeting with someone who is very important: an audience with the Pope [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French, Latin audientia “hearing,” from audire “to listen”]

au-di-o /'ɔːdiəʊ/ adj. relating to recording and broadcasting sound → VIDEO: audio equipment

[ORIGIN: 1900—2000 audio- “of hearing,” from Latin audire “to listen”]

au-di-o-vis-u-al /ˌɔːdiəʊˈvɪʒuəl/ adj. using recorded pictures and sound: an audiovisual presentation

au-dit /ˈɔːdɪt/ v. [T] 1 ECONOMICS to officially examine a company’s financial records in order to check that they are correct 2 to study a subject at college without getting a GRADE for it —audit n. [C] —auditor n. [C] au-di-tion¹ /ˈɔːdɪʃən/ n. [C] a short performance by an actor, singer, etc. to test whether s/he is good enough to perform in a play, concert, etc.: The ballet company is holding auditions for “Swan Lake.”

audition² v. [I,T] to perform in an audition, or judge someone in an audition: He plans to audition for a part in “Oklahoma!”

au-di-to-ri-um /ˌɔːdɪˈtɔːriəm/ n. [C] a large building used for concerts or public meetings aug-ment /ɔːɡˈment/ v. [T] (formal) to increase the size or value of something

Au-gust /ˈɔːɡəst/ (written abbreviation Aug.) n. [C,U] the eighth month of the year, between July and September: The winner will be announced on August 31st. | They sold their house in August. | Last August, we traveled through Europe. | The changes will take effect next August. [ORIGIN: 1000—1100 Latin Augustus, from Augustus Caesar (63 B.C. – 14 A.D.), Roman emperor]

aunt /ænt, ant/ n. [C] the sister of your mother or father, or the wife of your UNCLE: Aunt Jean → RELATIVE¹ [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French ante, from Latin amita]

au pair /oʊ ˈpeɪr/ n. [C] a young person who stays with a family in a foreign country and looks after their children [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 French “on equal terms”] au-ra /ˈɔːrə/ n. [C] a quality or feeling that seems to come from a person or place: There’s an aura of mystery around the castle. [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Latin “air, light wind,” from Greek] au-ral /ˈɔːrəl/ adj. related to the sense of hearing → ORAL: aural skills

au-ri-cle /ˈɔːrɪkəl/ n. [C] BIOLOGY one of the two spaces inside the top of your heart, from which blood is sent into the VENTRICLES (SYN) atrium

aus-pic-es /ˈɔːspəsɪz, -sɪz/ n. under the auspices of sb/sth (formal) with the help and support of a person or organization: The research was done under the auspices of Harvard Medical School. [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 auspice “telling the future by watching the behavior of birds, good influence” (16—19 centuries), from Latin auspicium]

aus-pi-cious /ˈɔːspɪʃəs/ adj. showing that something is likely to be successful (ANT) inauspicious: an auspicious start/beginning to her career

THESAURUS lucky, fortunate, fortuitous, miraculous → LUCKY

aus-tere /ɔːstɪr/ adj. 1 very strict and serious: a cold, austere woman 2 very plain and simple: an austere style of painting 3 without a lot of comfort or enjoyment: They lived an austere life.

aus-ter-i-ty /ɔːstərəti/ n. [U] 1 ECONOMICS bad economic conditions in which people do not have enough money to spend: the austerity of post-communist Eastern Europe 2 the quality of being austere

Aus-tra-lia /əˈstreɪliə/ n. one of the seven CONTINENTS that is also its own country

Aus-tra-li-an /əˈstreɪliən/ adj. relating to Australia or its people

au-then-tic /ɔːθentɪk/ adj. 1 done or made in a traditional way: authentic Indian food 2 proven to be made by a particular person (SYN) genuine: an authentic Renoir painting [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French authentique, from Late Latin, from Greek authentes “person who did a particular thing”] —authentically adv. —authenticity /ˌɔːθənˈtɪsəti/ n. [U]: Tests confirmed the book’s authenticity.

au-thor /ˈɔːθər/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 someone who writes a book, story, article, play, etc.: Who is your favorite author? | Banville is the author of “The Book of Evidence.” 2 the person who starts a plan or idea: Senator Norris was the principal author of the bill. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old North French auctor, from Latin auctor “maker, writer”]

au-thor-i-tar-i-an /əˈθɔːrəˈteriən, əˈθər-/ adj. forcing people to obey strict rules or laws and not allowing any freedom: an authoritarian government —authoritarian n. [C]: Papa was a strict authoritarian.

au-thor-i-ta-tive /əˈθɔːrəˈteɪtɪv, əˈθər-/ (Ac) adj. 1 an authoritative book, account, etc. is respected because the person who wrote it knows a lot about the subject: an authoritative account of the country's history | The figures in the report come from an authoritative source. 2 behaving or speaking in a confident determined way that makes people respect and obey you: The captain spoke to the passengers in a calm and authoritative voice. —authoritatively adv.

A

A

au·thor-i·ty /ə'θɔrəti, ə'θar-/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] the power someone has because of his/her official position: You have no authority over me! | Could I speak to someone in authority (=who has a position of power), please? | She has the authority to sign checks. | people in positions of authority 2 the authorities the people or organizations that are in charge of a particular place: Please report any suspicious activities to the authorities immediately. 3 [C] someone who is respected because of his/her knowledge about a subject: Dr. Ballard is a leading authority on tropical diseases. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French auctorité, from Latin auctoritas “opinion, decision, power”]

THESAURUS expert, specialist, connoisseur, pundit → EXPERT

au·thor-ize /'ɔθəraɪz/ v. [T] to give official permission for something: Can you authorize my expenses? | No one authorized you to sign this. —authorization /,ɔθərə'zeɪʃən/ n. [C,U]: You'll need authorization from the Director to do that.

THESAURUS allow, let, permit, sanction, condone → ALLOW au·tis-m /'ɔ,tɪzəm/ n. [U] a problem in the way the brain works that makes someone unable to communicate in a normal way, or to form normal relationships —autistic /ɔ'tɪstɪk/ adj.: an autistic child

au-to /'ɔtə/ adj. relating to cars: auto parts

au-to-bi-og-ra-phy /,ɔtəbar'agrəfi/ n. (plural autobiographies) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a book that someone writes about his/her own life → BOOK —autobiographical /,ɔtəbarə'græfɪkəl/ adj.

au-toc-ra-cy /ɔ'tɒkrəsi/ n. (plural autocracies) [C,U] POLITICS a system of government in which one person or group has complete and unlimited power, or a country governed in this way au-to-crat /'ɔtə,kreɪt/ n. [C] 1 POLITICS a ruler who has complete and unlimited power to govern a country 2 someone, especially a person with a high rank in an organization, who makes decisions and gives orders to people without ever asking other people for their opinion

au-to-crat-ic /,ɔtə'krætɪk/ adj. 1 POLITICS giving orders to people without considering their opinions: an autocratic style of management 2 POLITICS having unlimited power to govern a country: an autocratic government

au-to-graph /'ɔtə,græf/ n. [C] a famous person's name, written in his/her own writing: Can I have your autograph? —autograph v. [T]: a jacket autographed by all the players

au-to-mat-ed /'ɔtə,meɪtɪd/ (Ac) adj. using computers and machines to do a job, rather than people: The automated manufacturing system processes orders as they arrive. —automation /,ɔtə'meɪʃən/ n. [U]: In this industry, the trend towards automation started in the 1950s.

au-to-mat-ic /,ɔtə'mætɪk/ (Ac) adj. 1 an automatic machine is designed to operate by itself after you start it: The automatic safety switch will stop the engine in an emergency. 2 certain to happen: We get an automatic pay increase every year. 3 done without thinking: At first, driving is hard, but then it just becomes automatic. | Fear is an automatic response to a threatening situation. [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Greek automatos “acting by itself”] —automatically adv.: She automatically assumed that he was guilty. | The program runs automatically when the user logs on.

automatic ² n. [C] 1 a car with a system of GEARS that operate themselves 2 a gun that can shoot bullets continuously au-to-mo-bile /,ɔtəmə'bil, 'ɔtəmə,bil/ n. [C] a car

au-to-mo-tive /,ɔtə'məʊtɪv/ adj. relating to cars: the automotive industry

au-ton-o-mous /ɔ'tənəməs/ adj. having the power to make your own decisions or rules: an autonomous nation —autonomously adv. —autonomy n. [U]: political autonomy

au,tonomous 'region n. [C] POLITICS a large area within a country, that has the official right to be independent and govern itself

au-top-sy /'ɔ,təpsɪ/ n. (plural autopsies) [C] an official examination of a dead body to discover the cause of death

au-to-some /'ɔtə,səʊm/ n. [C] BIOLOGY any CHROMOSOME that does not influence whether a person or animal is male or female —autosomal adj.: autosomal chromosomes

au-to-troph /'ɔtə,traɪf, -'traʊf/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a living thing that produces its own food from substances that do not contain living things, using the energy from the Sun or from a chemical process. Most plants and living creatures such as BACTERIA are autotrophs.

au-to-work-er /'ɔtə,wərkə/ n. [C] someone whose job is to make cars au-tumn /'ɔtəm/ n. [C,U] FALL —autumnal /ɔ'tʌmnəl/ adj.

aux-il-ia-ry /ɔg'zɪləri, -'zɪləri/ adj. giving extra help or support: auxiliary police —auxiliary n. [C] auxiliary verb n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a verb that is used with another verb to form questions, negative sentences, and tenses. In English, the auxiliary verbs are “be,” “do,” and “have.”

a·vail /ə'veɪl/ n. to no avail without success: We searched everywhere to no avail.

avail ² v. avail yourself of sth (formal) to accept an offer, or use an opportunity: Avail yourself of every chance to improve your English.

a-vail-a-ble /ə'veɪləbəl/ (Ac) adj. 1 if something is available, you can have it, buy it, or use it: The database in the library is available to anyone. | Several thousand seats are available for tonight's show. | films available on DVD | The book is available in the museum's bookstore. | Once it is approved by the FDA, the vaccine will become readily/widely available (=easily available, or available from many places). 2 [not before noun] someone who is available is not busy and has enough time to talk to you: I'm available after lunch. | The District Attorney is not available for comment. —availability /ə'veɪlə'bɪləti/ n. [U]: the easy availability of guns in the U.S.

av-a-lanche /'ævə,læntʃ/, -læntʃ/ n. [C] 1 EARTH SCIENCES a large amount of snow, ice, and rocks that falls down the side of a mountain 2 an avalanche of sth a very large number of things that happen or arrive at the same time: The station received an avalanche of letters. [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 French, French dialect lavalantse, avalantse] av-vant-garde /'ævəntˈɡɑːd/, -ɑ-/ adj. avant-garde art, literature, or music is very modern and different from existing art, etc., often in a way that is strange or shocking av-a-ric-e /'ævərɪs/ n. [U] (formal) an extreme desire for wealth (SYN) greed —avaricious /,ævə'ɹɪʃəs/ adj.

av-a-tar /'ævə,tɑːr/ n. [C] IT a picture of a person, animal, or other character that represents you on a computer screen, for example when you are playing computer games on the Internet or when you are in a CHAT ROOM

Ave. the written abbreviation of AVENUE

a-venge /ə'vendʒ/ v. [T] (literary) to punish someone because s/he has harmed you, your family, or your friends: plans to avenge his father's death —avenger n. [C] av-e-nue /'ævənu/ n. [C] 1 also Avenue a street in a town or city: Fifth Avenue | He lives on Melrose Avenue.

THESAURUS road, street, main street, lane, main road, the main drag, highway, freeway, expressway, toll road, turnpike → ROAD

2 a possible way of achieving something: We explored every avenue, but couldn't find a solution. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 French avenir “to come up to,” from Latin advenire]

av-er-age¹ /'ævrɪdʒ/ adj. 1 [only before noun] the average amount is the amount you get when you add together several figures and divide this by the total number of figures: the average price of a new home | The average age of teachers is rising steadily. 2 [only before noun] having qualities that are typical of most people or things: In an average week, I drive about 250 miles. | The average American has not even thought about next year's election.

THESAURUS normal, ordinary, standard, routine, conventional → NORMAL¹

3 not very good but not very bad: an average book [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 average “(fair sharing out of costs resulting from) damage to or loss of a ship or the goods it carries” (15–20 centuries), from French avarie, from Arabic 'awariyah “damaged goods”] average² n. 1 [C] MATH the amount that you get by adding several figures together and then dividing the result by the number of figures: The average of 3, 8, and 10 is 7. 2 on average based on a calculation of what usually happens: On average, women live longer than men. 3 [C,U] the usual level or amount: an above average/below average student average³ v. [T] 1 to be a particular amount as an average: The car averages about 20 miles per gallon. 2 to calculate the average of an amount average out phr. v. to result in a particular average amount: Our weekly profits average out at about $750.

a-verse /ə'vɜːs/ adj. not be averse to sth to like to do something: I don't drink much, but I'm not averse to the occasional glass of wine.

a-ver-sion /ə'vɜːʒən/ n. [singular, U] a strong dislike of something or someone: Mary has an aversion to cats.

a-vert /ə'vɜːt/ v. [T] 1 to prevent something bad from happening: The whole thing could've been averted if you'd listened to us. 2 avert your eyes/gaze to look away from something a-vi-a-tion /,eɪvi'eɪʃən/ n. [U] the science or activity of flying or making aircraft [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 French, Latin avis “bird”] a-vi-a-tor /'eɪvi,eɪtə/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a pilot

av-id /'ævɪd/ adj. [only before noun] doing something as much as possible: an avid reader | an avid golfer

av-o-ca-do /,ævə'kɑːdoʊ/, -ɑ-/ n. (plural avocados) [C,U] a firm green fruit with thick dark skin, used in GUACAMOLE [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Spanish aguacate “avocado,” from Nahuatl ahuacatl “testicle, avocado,” influenced by Spanish avocado “lawyer”] → see picture on page 414

a-void /ə'vɔɪd/ v. [T] 1 to prevent something bad from happening: Exercise will help you avoid heart disease. | He had to swerve to avoid being hit by the other car. ▶ Don't say “avoid to do something.” ◀ 2 to deliberately stay away from someone or something: Paul's been avoiding me all day. 3 to deliberately not do something: To avoid paying tax, he moved to Canada. —avoidable adj. —avoidance n. [U] a-vow /ə'vaʊ/ v. [T] (formal) to say or admit something publicly

a-vowed /ə'vaʊd/ adj. said or admitted publicly: an avowed atheist

A

A

a·wait /ə'weɪt/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to wait for something: Briggs is awaiting trial for murder. 2 if a situation or event awaits someone, it is going to happen to him/her: A terrible surprise awaited them.

a·wake¹ /ə'weɪk/ adj. [not before noun] not sleeping: Is she awake yet? | I couldn't stay awake during the movie. | I was wide awake (=completely awake) before dawn. | The baby kept us awake (=stopped us from sleeping) all night.

awake² v. (past tense awoke /ə'woʊk/, past participle awoken /ə'woʊkən/) [I,T] (literary) 1 to wake up, or to wake someone up: I awoke to the sound of rain pounding on the roof. 2 to suddenly begin to feel an emotion, or to make someone do this a·wak·en /ə'weɪkən/ v. [I,T] (formal) to wake up, or to make someone wake up: He was awakened by the telephone.

awaken sb/sth to sth phr. v. to make someone begin to realize something: Churches are awakening to the needs of their older members.

a·wak·en·ing /ə'weɪkənɪŋ/ n. [C,U] a situation when you suddenly realize that you understand or feel something: a spiritual awakening

a·ward¹ /ə'wɔːd/ n. [C] 1 a prize or money given to someone for something that s/he has achieved: the award for best actor | an award of $10,000 to each victim | an experienced reporter who has won many awards 2 an amount of money that is given to someone because of a judge's decision: an award for injuries suffered award² v. [T] to officially give someone an award: He was awarded the Nobel Prize. | A large sum of money was awarded to the survivors.

THESAURUS give, present, grant → GIVE¹

a·ware /ə'weə/ (Ac) adj. [not before noun] 1 realizing that something is true, exists, or is happening (ANT) unaware: Are you aware of the dangers of smoking? | Are you aware (that) your son has been skipping classes? | "Are there any more problems?" "Not that I'm aware of." | Now that the school has been made aware of the situation, it will act. 2 politically/socially/environmentally etc. aware interested in politics, etc., and knowing a lot about it a·ware·ness /ə'weənɪs/ (Ac) n. [U] knowledge or understanding of a particular subject or situation: The TV ads are meant to raise the public's awareness of environmental issues. | The possibility of getting drafted increased the students' political awareness.

a·wash /ə'wɒʃ, ə'wɒʃ/ adj. 1 awash with/in sth having too much of something: TV is awash with talk shows. 2 covered with water

a·way¹ /ə'weɪ/ adv. 1 moving further from a place, or staying far from a place: Go away! | Diane drove away quickly. | Move away from the fire! 2 in a different direction: She looked away and began to cry. 3 7 miles/40 feet/2 weeks etc. away used to say how far it is to a place, thing, or time in the future: a town about 50 miles away from Chicago | Christmas is only a month away. 4 into a safe place: Put all your toys away now, please. 5 not at home, at work, or in school: I'm sorry, Ms. Parker is away this week. 6 used to say that something disappears or is removed: He gave his money away to charity. | The music died away. 7 used to say how close someone is to achieving something or experiencing something: At one point, they were only two points away from victory. 8 without stopping: He's been working away on the patio all day.

away² adj. away team/game/match a sports team that is playing at an opponent's field, or a game they are playing there (ANT) home awe /ə/ n. [U] a feeling of great respect for someone or something: We were in awe of our father. —awed adj.: an awed silence

'awe-in·spiring adj. making you feel awe: an awe-inspiring achievement

THESAURUS impressive, imposing, dazzling, breathtaking, majestic, magnificent → IMPRESSIVE awe·some /'əʊsəm/ adj. 1 very impressive, serious, or difficult: an awesome responsibility 2 (spoken) extremely good: That concert was awesome!

awe·struck /'əʊstrʌk/ adj. feeling great awe: We gazed awe-struck at the pyramids.

aw·ful¹ /'ɔːfəl/ adj. 1 very bad: an awful movie | The weather was awful. | This soup tastes awful!

THESAURUS bad, terrible, horrible, appalling, horrific, lousy, horrendous, atrocious, abysmal, disgusting, revolting, foul, dreadful → BAD³, HORRIBLE

2 [only before noun] (spoken) used in order to emphasize how much, how good, how bad, etc. something is: I have an awful lot (=a very large amount) of work to do. 3 look/feel awful to look or feel sick awful² adv. (spoken, nonstandard) very: She's awful cute.

aw·fully /'ɔːfli/ adv. (spoken) very: Helen looks awfully tired.

a·while /ə'waɪl/ adv. for a short time: I stood at the bedroom door awhile, watching the boys sleeping.

awk·ward /'ɔːkwəd/ adj. 1 embarrassing: This puts us in an awkward position. | For a few moments there was an awkward silence. 2 moving or behaving in a way that does not seem relaxed or comfortable: an awkward teenager

THESAURUS clumsy, gawky, inelegant, klutzy → CLUMSY

3 not convenient: They came at an awkward time. 4 difficult to use or handle: The camera is awkward to use.

THESAURUS difficult, hard, tough, challenging, demanding, complicated, complex → DIFFICULT

[ORIGIN: 1500—1600 awk “turned the wrong way” (15—17 centuries) (from Old Norse öfugr) + -ward] —awkwardly adv. —awkwardness n. [U]

awn-ing /'ɔːnɪŋ/ n. [C] a sheet of material outside a store, tent, etc., used for protection from the Sun or the rain

a·woke /ə'wʊk/ v. the past tense of AWAKE

a·wok-en /ə'wʊkən/ v. the past participle of AWAKE

AWOL /'eɪ,wɒl/ adj. Absent Without Leave absent from your military group without permission: Private Ames has gone AWOL.

a·wry /ə'raɪ/ adj. go awry to not happen in the way that was planned: My carefully laid plans had already gone awry.

ax¹, axe /æks/ n. [C] 1 a tool with a metal blade on a long handle, used for cutting wood 2 give sb/sth the ax (informal) to dismiss someone from his/her job, or get rid of something: The TV station gave Brown the ax. 3 get the ax (informal) to be dismissed from your job 4 have an ax to grind to have a personal reason for doing something: I have no political ax to grind.

ax², axe v. [T] (informal) to get rid of a plan, a service, or someone's job: Did you hear they're axing 500 jobs?

ax-i-om /'æksɪəm/ n. [C] (formal) a rule or principle that is considered by most people to be true ax-i-o-mat-ic /'æksɪə'mætɪk/ adj. a principle that is axiomatic does not need to be proved because people can see that it is true ax-is /'æksɪs/ n. (plural axes /'æksɪz/) [C] 1 EARTH SCIENCES the imaginary line around which a large object, such as the Earth, turns → see picture at GLOBE 2 MATH a line at the side or bottom of a GRAPH, used for marking measurements 3 MATH a line drawn across the middle of a regular shape, that divides it into two equal parts

'Axis Powers n. [plural] the Axis Powers HISTORY a group of countries, including Germany, Italy, and Japan, that united against the ALLIED POWERS (=Great Britain, the Soviet Union, the United States, and other countries) in World War II ax-le /'æksəl/ n. [C] the bar that connects two wheels on a vehicle ax-on /'æksən/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a long thin part of a nerve cell, along which short electrical signals containing messages travel away from the cell toward other cells a·ya·tol·lah /,aɪə'toʊlə, -'tɑ-/ n. [C] POLITICS an important Shiite Muslim religious and political leader, especially one living in Iran, who has special knowledge of Islamic law aye /aɪ/ adv. (spoken, formal) used in order to say yes, especially when voting

AZ the written abbreviation of ARIZONA

Az·tec /'æztɛk/ n. HISTORY one of the tribes who lived in and controlled Mexico from the 14th century until the 16th century: The Aztecs played a game that had elements of both soccer and basketball. | Aztec jewelry

Bb

B, b /bi/ the second letter of the English alphabet

B /bi/ n. 1 [C] a grade that a teacher gives to a student's work to show that it is good but not excellent: Greg got a B in Chemistry. 2 [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the seventh note in the musical SCALE of C, or the musical KEY based on this note 3 [U] a common type of blood

b. the written abbreviation of BORN: A. Lincoln, b. 1809

B.A. n. [C] Bachelor of Arts a university degree in a subject such as history or literature → B.S.: He graduated from Stanford with a B.A. in English.

baa /ba, bæ/ v. [I] to make the sound a sheep makes bab·ble /'bæbəl/ v. [I,T] to talk a lot in a way that does not make sense: I couldn't understand what he was babbling about. —babble n. [U] babe /beɪb/ n. [C] 1 (spoken, informal) an attractive young woman 2 (literary) a baby ba·boon /bə'bun/ n. [C] a large monkey that lives in Africa and south Asia [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French babouin, from baboue “ugly face”] ba·by /'beɪbi/ n. (plural babies) [C] 1 a very young child: A baby was crying upstairs. | Joyce had a baby (=gave birth to a baby) in September. | Pam is expecting a baby (=will have a baby). | a baby boy/girl

TOPIC

A baby that has just been born is called a newborn.

A very young baby who cannot walk or talk yet is called an infant.

A baby who has learned how to walk is called a toddler.

When babies crawl, they move around on their hands and knees. Babies usually crawl before they learn how to walk.

When you take a baby somewhere, you can push him/her there in a baby carriage, which is like a bed on wheels. You can push an older baby along in a stroller, which is like a chair on wheels. Babies sleep in a special bed with bars on it, called a crib.

B

If a baby is being fed milk from its mother's breast, the baby is nursing, or the mother is breast-feeding the baby. If a baby drinks milk from a bottle, s/he is being bottle-fed. When a baby is old enough to sit up and eat food, s/he sits in a highchair.

THESAURUS child, kid, teenager, adolescent, youngster, minor, juvenile → CHILD

2 a very young animal: baby birds 3 (spoken) someone, especially an older child, who is behaving in a stupid or silly way: Don't be such a baby! 4 (spoken) a way of speaking to someone you love: Bye, baby. I'll be back by six.

'baby boom n. [C] a time when a lot of babies are born in a particular country, used especially to talk about this period between 1946 and 1964

'baby boomer n. [C] (informal) someone born between 1946 and 1964

'baby carriage also 'baby buggy n. [C] a thing like a bed on wheels, used for pushing a baby around ba-by-sit /'berbi,sɪt/ v. (past tense and past participle babysat /-,sæt/, present participle babysitting) [I,T] to take care of children while their parents are not at home —babysitter n. [C] —babysitting n. [U] bach-e-lor /'bætʃələr, 'bætʃlər/ n. [C] a man who has never been married

'bachelor party n. [C] a party given for a man before he gets married

'bachelor's degree n. [C] a B.A.

back¹ /bæk/ adv. 1 where someone or something was before: Put the milk back in the refrigerator. | Roger said he'd be back (=return) in an hour. | If the shirt doesn't fit, take it back to the store. | I was on my way back home (=the place I come from or think of as my home). 2 into the condition that someone or something was in before: I woke up at 5 a.m. and couldn't get back to sleep. | I never want to go back to being a waitress. 3 in the direction that is behind you: George glanced back to see if he was being followed. 4 doing the same thing to someone that s/he has done to you: Can you call me back later? | Sarah smiled, and the boy smiled back. 5 away from someone or something: Her hair was pulled back in a ponytail. | Stand back from the fire! 6 in or toward an earlier time: This all happened about three years back. | The building dates back to the 17th Century. 7 back and forth in one direction and then in the opposite direction several times: He walked back and forth across the floor.

back² n.

1 BODY [C] a) the part of your body between your neck and legs, opposite your stomach and chest:

My back was really aching. | The cat arched its back and hissed. | He lay on his back, staring at the sky. | Mrs. Ducin stood with her back to the camera. b) the bone that goes from your neck to your BUTTOCKS: He broke his back in a motorcycle accident.

2 PART OF STH [C usually singular, U] the part of something that is furthest from the front (ANT) front: a grocery list on the back of an envelope | The index is at the back of the book. | The pool's in back of the house. | Kids should always wear seat belts, even in back (=in the seats behind the driver). | Tom's working on the car out back (=behind a building).

3 SEAT [C] the part of a seat that you lean against when you are sitting: Jack leaned against the back of the chair.

4 behind sb's back if you do something bad or unkind behind someone's back, you do it without him/her knowing: I can't believe she said that about me behind my back!

5 at/in the back of your mind a thought or feeling at the back of your mind is influencing you, even though you are not thinking about it: There was always a slight fear in the back of his mind.

6 get off my back (spoken) said when you want someone to stop annoying you or asking you to do something: I'll do it in a minute. Just get off my back!

7 be on sb's back (spoken) to keep telling someone to do something, in a way that annoys him/her: The boss has been on my back about being late.

8 have your back to/against the wall (informal) to be in a very difficult situation with no choice about what to do → turn your back (on) at TURN¹

back³ v. 1 [I,T] to move backward, or to make a vehicle move backward: Teresa backed the car into the garage. | We slowly backed away from the snake. 2 [T] to support someone or something, especially by using your money or power: The bill is backed by several environmental groups. 3 [T] to risk money on the team, person, horse, etc. that you think will win something: Which team did you back in the Super Bowl?

back down phr. v. to admit that you are wrong or that you have lost an argument or fight: Neither side would back down.

back off phr. v. 1 to move away from something: Back off a little, you're driving too close. 2 (spoken) said in order to tell someone to stop telling you what to do, or to stop criticizing you: Back off! I don't need your advice.

back onto sth phr. v. if a building backs onto a place, the back of the building faces it: The house backs onto a busy road.

back out phr. v. to decide not to do something you promised to do: They backed out of the deal at the last minute.

back up phr. v. 1 back sb/sth ↔ up to support what someone is doing or saying, or show what s/he is saying is true: He had evidence on video to back up his claim. 2 back (sth ↔) up to move backward, or to make a vehicle go backward: Back up a little so they can get by. 3 back sth ↔ up IT to make a copy of information on a computer 4 be backed up traffic that is backed up is moving very slowly

back⁴ adj. [only before noun] 1 at the back of something (ANT) front: the back door | We sat in the back row of the theater. 2 back street/road a street that is away from the main streets 3 back rent/taxes/pay money that someone owes from an earlier date back-ache /'bækɪk/ n. [C,U] a pain in your back back-bit-ing /'bæk,bɪtɪŋ/ n. [U] rude or cruel talk about someone who is not present back-board /'bækbɔ:d/ n. [C] the board behind the basket in the game of basketball back-bone /'bækboun/ n. 1 [C] BIOLOGY SPINE → see picture on page A3 2 the backbone of sth the most important part of something: The cocoa industry is the backbone of Ghana's economy. 3 [U] courage and determination: Stuart doesn't have the backbone to be a good manager.

back-break-ing /'bæk,breɪkɪŋ/ adj. backbreaking work is very difficult and tiring back-date /'bæk,det/ v. [T] to write an earlier date on a document or check than the date when it was really written back-drop /'bækdɹɒp/ n. [C] 1 the conditions in which something happens: a love story set against the backdrop of war 2 the painted cloth at the back of a stage back-er /'bækə/ n. [C] someone who supports a plan, especially by providing money: We're still trying to find backers for the new enterprise.

back-fire /'bækfaɪə/ v. [I] 1 if a plan or action backfires, it has the opposite effect to the one you wanted 2 if a car backfires, it makes a sudden loud noise because the engine is not working correctly back-gam-mon /'bæk,gæmən/ n. [U] a game for two players, using flat round pieces and DICE on a board back-ground /'bækgraʊnd/ n. 1 [C] someone's education, family, and experience: kids from very different ethnic/religious/cultural backgrounds | Steve has a background in computer engineering. | The position would suit someone with a background in real estate. 2 [C usually singular] the area that is behind the main things that you are looking at, especially in a picture or photograph: The background is slightly out of focus. | Palm trees swayed in the background. → see picture at FOREGROUND 3 in the background someone who keeps or stays in the background tries not to be noticed: The president's wife preferred to stay in the background. 4 [singular] sounds that are in the background are not the main ones that you can hear: I could hear cars honking in the background. | soft lights and background music 5 [singular, U] the general conditions in which something happens background radiation n. [U] PHYSICS a very low level of RADIATION that is present naturally in the air, water, soil, and objects such as buildings back-hand /'bækhænd/ n. [C usually singular] a way of hitting the ball in tennis, etc. with the back of your hand turned toward the ball → FOREHAND back-hand-ed /'bæk,hændɪd/ adj. back-handed compliment a statement that seems to express praise or admiration, but is actually insulting back-ing /'bækɪŋ/ n. [U] The agency has provided financial backing for the project.

back-lash /'bæklæʃ/ n. [singular] a strong reaction from people against an idea or person: a political backlash against immigrants back-log /'bæklɒg, -lɑg/ n. [C] work that still needs to be done and should have been done earlier: a huge backlog of orders back-pack¹ /'bækpæk/ n. [C] a bag used to carry things on your back, especially when you go walking → see picture at BAG¹

backpack² v. [I] to go walking or traveling carrying a backpack —backpacker n. [C] —backpacking n. [U] back 'seat n. [C] 1 the seat behind where the driver sits in a car: Holly and I were sitting in the back seat. 2 back seat driver someone who gives unwanted advice about how to drive to the driver of a car 3 take a back seat to accept or be put in a less important position: His career has taken a back seat while he raises his son.

back-side /'bæksaɪd/ n. [C] (informal) the part of your body that you sit on back-slash /'bækslæʃ/ n. [C] a line (\) used in writing to separate words, numbers, or letters back-space /'bækspeɪs/ n. [singular] a button on a computer KEYBOARD or TYPEWRITER, that you press to move backward toward the beginning of the line back-stab-bing /'bæk,stæbɪŋ/ n. [U] the act of secretly doing bad things to someone else, especially saying bad things about him/her, in order to gain an advantage for yourself —backstabber n. [C] back-stage /'bæk'steɪdʒ/ adv. behind the stage in a theater back-stroke /'bæk,stroʊk/ n. [singular] a style of swimming on your back → see picture at SWIM¹ back-to-'back adj., adv. happening one after the other: back-to-back wins back-track /'bæktræk/ v. [I] 1 to change something you have said so that it is not as strong as it was earlier: Congress is backtracking on some of the welfare cuts imposed last year. 2 to go back the way you have just come: We had to backtrack about a mile.

back-up /'bækʌp/ n. 1 [C] something that you can use to replace something that does not work or is lost: Always have a backup plan. | a backup power supply 2 [C] IT a copy of a computer document, program, etc., which is made in case the original becomes lost or damaged: Make a backup of any work you do on the computer. 3 [C,U] extra help or support that can be used if it is needed: The officers decided to call for backup before entering the building.

B

back-ward¹ /ˈbækwəd/ also backwards adv. 1 in the direction that is behind you (ANT forward): She took a step backwards. 2 toward the beginning or the past: Can you say the alphabet backward? 3 with the back part in front: Your T-shirt is on backwards. 4 toward a worse state (ANT forward): The new law is seen by some as a major step backward.

backward² adj. 1 [only before noun] made toward the direction that is behind you (ANT forward): She left without a backward glance. 2 developing slowly and less successfully than others: a backward country back-wa-ter /ˈbæk,wɒtə-, -wa-/ n. [C] a quiet town or place far away from cities, where not much happens back-woods /ˈbæk,wʊdz/ n. [plural] an area in the forest, far from any towns — backwoods adj.: a backwoods town back-yard, back yard /ˈbækˈjɑːd/ n. [C] the area of land behind a house ba-con /ˈberkən/ n. [U] meat from a pig, that has been put in salt and cut into thin pieces: bacon and eggs [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French, from an ancient Germanic word meaning “back”]

bac-te-ri-al /bækˈtɪriəl/ adj. BIOLOGY relating to bacteria, or caused by bacteria: If there is a bacterial infection, the skin will look red and be sore. | Cooking food thoroughly destroys bacterial cells.

bac-te-ri-um /bækˈtɪriəm/ n. (plural bacteria /-riə/) [C usually plural] BIOLOGY a very small living thing consisting of a single cell. Some bacteria cause disease, but others are important in many natural processes. The plural form, “bacteria,” is much more common than the singular form. [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Modern Latin, Greek bakterion “stick, rod,” because of their shape]

bad¹ /bæd/ adj. (comparative worse, superlative worst) 1 not good or not nice (ANT good): I'm afraid I have some bad news for you. | a really bad smell

THESAURUS

awful – very bad or unpleasant: The weather was awful.

terrible – extremely bad: The hotel food was terrible.

horrible – very bad or upsetting: What a horrible thing to say!

appalling/horrific (formal) – very bad and very shocking: She suffered appalling injuries. | a horrific plane crash

lousy (informal) – very bad in quality: a lousy movie

horrendous (formal) – very bad and very frightening or shocking: a horrendous crash

atrocious (formal) – extremely bad and often very severe: Her driving is atrocious. | atrocious weather conditions

abysmal (formal) – very bad, used especially to describe the standard of something: The quality of care at the hospital was abysmal. → GOOD¹, HORRIBLE

2 of a low quality or standard (ANT good): That was the worst pizza I ever ate. | Brian is really bad at sports. 3 morally wrong or evil (ANT good): He plays one of the bad guys in the movie.

THESAURUS

evil/wicked – used to describe an evil person or his/her actions: a fairy tale about a wicked witch | evil thoughts immoral/wrong – morally wrong, and not accepted by society: It's wrong to steal.

depraved – morally wrong and evil: a depraved killer reprehensible (formal) – reprehensible behavior is very bad and deserves criticism: His conduct was reprehensible.

4 damaging or harmful (ANT good): Smoking is bad for your health. | Pollution in the lake is having a bad effect on fish stocks. 5 serious or severe: a bad cold | Traffic in this city is getting worse by the day. 6 too bad (spoken) said when you are sorry about something that has happened: It's too bad she had to give up teaching. 7 feel bad to feel ashamed or sorry about something: I felt bad about missing your birthday. 8 a bad time a time that is not suitable or convenient: Is this a bad time to call? 9 food that is bad is not safe to eat because it is not fresh: The milk has gone bad. 10 permanently injured or not working correctly: a bad heart | a bad back 11 not bad (spoken) good or acceptable: “How are you?” “Oh, not bad.” 12 bad language/words swearing or rude words

bad² adv. (spoken, nonstandard) badly

bade /bæd, beɪd/ v. the past tense and past participle of BID badge /bædʒ/ n. [C] a small piece of metal, plastic, etc. that you wear or carry to show people that you work for a particular organization: a police officer's badge badg-er /ˈbædʒə/ n. [C] an animal with black and white fur, that lives under the ground bad-lands /ˈbæd,lændz/ n. [plural] EARTH SCIENCES an area of rocks and hills where no crops can be grown

bad-ly /ˈbædli/ adv. (comparative worse, superlative worst) 1 in a way that is not good (ANT well): a badly written book | She did badly on the exam. ▶ Don't say “I sing very bad.” Say “I sing very badly.” ◀ 2 to a great or serious degree: The refugees badly need food and clean water. | Our house was badly damaged during the storm.

bad·min·ton /ˈbæd,mɪntən, -,mɪntən/ n. [U] a game in which players hit a small object with feathers on it over a net [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Badminton large house in Gloucestershire, England, where it was first played] bad·file /ˈbæfəl/ v. [T] if something baffles you, you cannot understand it: Scientists were baffled by the results. —baffling adj. —baffled adj.

'bad·mouth v. [T] (informal) to criticize someone or something: Divorced parents shouldn't bad-mouth each other in front of the kids.

THESAURUS confused, bewildered, puzzled → CONFUSED

bag¹ /bæg/ n. [C] 1 a a container made of paper, plastic, cloth, etc., that opens at the top: a paper bag | a shopping bag b a large bag that you use to carry your clothes, etc. when you are traveling: She packed her bags and left. c a PURSE 2 the amount a bag can hold: two bags of rice 3 in the bag certain to be won or to be a success: We knew the game was in the bag. 4 bags under your eyes dark circles or loose skin under your eyes [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old Norse baggi]

bag² v. (bagged, bagging) [T] 1 to put things in a bag: He got a job bagging groceries at the supermarket. 2 (informal) to manage to get something that a lot of people want: I'll get there early and bag some seats.

ba·gel /ˈbeɪɡəl/ n. [C] a type of bread that is shaped like a ring [ORIGIN: 1900—2000 Yiddish beygel, from Old High German boug “ring”] bag·ful /ˈbægful/ n. [C] the amount a bag can hold bag·gage /ˈbæɡɪdʒ/ n. [U] 1 the bags that you carry with you when you are traveling (SYN) luggage 2 beliefs, opinions, and experiences from the past that influence the way a person behaves or thinks: emotional baggage [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French bagage, from Old French bague “bundle”] bag·gy /ˈbæɡi/ adj. baggy clothes are big and loose: a baggy T-shirt

'bag ,lady n. [C] (informal) an impolite word for a woman who lives on the street and carries all her possessions with her bag·pipes /ˈbæɡpaɪps/ n. [plural] a Scottish musical instrument which is played by blowing air into a bag and forcing it out through pipes

bail¹ /beɪl/ n. [U] LAW money left with a court of law so that someone can be let out of prison while waiting for his/her TRIAL → SURETY: Marshall's father posted bail (=paid the bail) for him. | Harrell was released on bail (=let out of prison when bail was paid) until his trial. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French “keeping someone as a prisoner,” from baillier “to deliver, keep as a prisoner,” from Medieval Latin bajulare “to control”]

bail² v.

bail out phr. v. 1 bail sb ↔ out to help someone get out of trouble, especially by giving him/her money: Young people often expect their parents to bail them out. 2 bail sb ↔ out LAW to give money to a court of law so that someone can leave prison until his/her TRIAL: Clarke's family paid $500 to bail him out. 3 (informal) to escape from a situation that you no longer want to be involved in: After ten years in the business, McArthur is bailing out. 4 bail sth ↔ out to remove water from the bottom of a boat bai·liff /ˈbeɪlɪf/ n. [C] LAW an officer who watches prisoners and keeps order in a court of law bail·out /ˈbeɪlaʊt/ n. [C] ECONOMICS a situation in which a person or organization gives money to help someone who needs it bait¹ /beɪt/ n. [singular, U] 1 food used for attracting fish or animals so that you can catch them 2 something that is offered to someone to persuade him/her to do something: Plenty of people took the bait (=accepted what was offered) and lost their life savings.

bait² v. [T] 1 to put food on a hook to catch fish, or in a trap to catch animals 2 to deliberately try to make someone angry by criticizing him/her, using rude names, etc.: He started baiting me, trying to get me to fight.

bake /beɪk/ v. [I,T] to cook something such as bread or cakes in an OVEN: I'm baking a cake. | baked potatoes [ORIGIN: Old English baean]

THESAURUS cook, fry, roast, broil, grill, sauté, boil, steam, deep fry → COOK¹

bak·er /ˈbeɪkə/ n. [C] someone whose job is to bake bread, cakes, cookies, etc.

bak·er·y /ˈbeɪkəri/ n. (plural bakeries) [C] a place where bread, cakes, cookies, etc. are made or sold

'bake sale n. [C] an occasion when the members of a school group, church organization, etc. make cookies, cakes, etc. and sell them in order to make money for the organization

B

bal-ance¹ /'bæləns/ n. 1 [U] the ability to stand and walk steadily, without falling: Billy fell when he lost his balance (=was unable to stay steady). | Tricia could not keep her balance (=could not stay steady), and slipped on the ice. | He hit me when I was still off balance (=not standing steady). 2 [singular, U] a state in which different or opposite qualities are given equal importance, or exist together in a way that is good: Try to keep a balance between work and play. | The car's designers wanted to strike a balance between safety and style (=make sure that two things have equal importance). | We must not upset the balance of nature. 3 [C] a) ECONOMICS the amount of money that you have in your bank account: a balance of $1,247 b) ECONOMICS the amount of money that you owe for something: The balance must be paid by the end of the month. 4 on balance used to tell someone your opinion after considering all the facts: On balance, I'd say it was a fair decision. 5 be/hang in the balance to be in a situation where the result of something could be good or bad: With the war still going on, thousands of lives hang in the balance. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French, Vulgar Latin bilancia, from Late Latin bilanx “having two pans”]

balance² v. 1 [I,T] to be in a steady position, without falling, or to put something in this position: They walked past, balancing heavy loads on their head. | He turned around, balancing awkwardly on one foot. 2 balance the budget/books ECONOMICS to make sure that you do not spend more money than you have 3 [T] to give the right amount of importance to two or more things: A working mother has to balance her home life with a career. | The need for a new road must be balanced against the damage to the environment. 4 [I,T] also balance out if two or more things balance, or if one balances the other, the effect of one equals the effect of the other: Job losses in some departments were balanced by increases in others.

bal-anced /'bælənst/ adj. 1 fair and sensible: The government needs to take a balanced approach to the problem.

THESAURUS fair, just, reasonable, equitable, even-handed, impartial, unbiased → FAIR¹

2 including the right mixture of things: a balanced diet

balanced equation n. [C] CHEMISTRY a chemical EQUATION which has the same number of atoms on each side of the equals sign. For example, $2\text{H}_2\text{O} = 2\text{H}_2 + \text{O}_2$ is a balanced equation.

balance of 'power n. [singular] POLITICS a situation in which political or military strength is shared evenly between different political groups or different countries: The legislation could change the balance of power between Congress and the President.

'balance sheet n. [C] ECONOMICS a written statement of how much a business has earned and how much it has spent

bal-co-ny /'bælkəni/ n. (plural balconies) [C] 1 a structure that you can stand on that is built above ground level onto an outside wall of a building 2 the seats upstairs in a theater → THEATER

bald /bɔld/ adj. 1 having little or no hair on your head: I'm going bald. | a bald spot/patch (=a small area with no hair) 2 not having enough of what usually covers something: bald tires

'bald eagle n. [C] a large North American wild bird with a white head and neck that is the national bird of the U.S. → see picture at EAGLE bald-ing /'bɔldɪŋ/ adj. becoming bald: a balding man in his mid-thirties bale /beɪl/ n. [C] a large amount of something such as paper or HAY that is tied tightly together bale-ful /'beɪlfəl/ adj. expressing a desire to harm someone: a baleful look balk /bɔk/ v. [I] to not want to do something: Customers balked at paying $25 for a hamburger. —balky adj.

ball /bɔl/ n. [C] 1 a round object that you throw, hit, or kick in a game or sport: tennis balls | Troy threw/kicked the ball to Michael. | Try to catch the ball. 2 something rolled into a round shape: a ball of yarn 3 on the ball (informal) able to think or act quickly: We need an assistant who's really on the ball. 4 have a ball (informal) to have a very good time 5 a ball thrown in baseball that the hitter does not try to hit because it is not within the correct area → STRIKE 6 set/start the ball rolling to start something happening: Just a small donation will start the ball rolling. 7 a large formal occasion where people dance

THESAURUS dance, prom, formal → DANCE²

8 the ball of the foot the rounded part of the foot at the base of the toes [ORIGIN: (1) 1200–1300 Old Norse böllr] [ORIGIN: (7) 1600–1700 French bal, from Old French baller “to dance,” from Late Latin ballare] → play ball at PLAY¹

bal-lad /'bæləd/ n. [C] 1 a slow love song 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS a long song or poem that tells a story [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Old French balade, from Old Provençal balada “dance, song sung while dancing,” from Late Latin ballare]

bal-le-ri-na /,bælə'ri:nə/ n. [C] a woman who dances in ballets

bal-let /bæ'leɪ, 'bæleɪ/ n. 1 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a performance in which a story is told using dance and music, without any speaking: the ballet “Swan Lake” | a ballet dancer → THEATER 2 [U] this type of dancing 3 [C] a group of ballet dancers who work together: the Bolshoi Ballet [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 French, Italian ballo, from ballo “dance,” from Late Latin ballare]

'ball game n. [C] 1 a game of baseball, basketball, or football 2 a whole new ball game/a different ball game a situation that is very different from the one you were in before bal-lis-tic /bə'lɪstɪk/ adj. go ballistic (spoken) to suddenly become very angry bal-lis-tics /bə'lɪstɪks/ n. [U] PHYSICS the study of how objects move through the air when they are thrown or shot from a gun bal-loon¹ /bə'lun/ n. [C] 1 a small brightly colored rubber bag that can be filled with air: Can you blow up these balloons? 2 a HOT-AIR BALLOON balloon² v. [I] to suddenly become much larger

bal-lot /'bælət/ n. 1 [C] a piece of paper that you use to vote 2 [C,U] a system of voting in secret, or an occasion when you vote in this way: He won 54% of the ballot (=the number of votes in an election). | There were 17 propositions on the ballot (=17 things to be voted on). [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Italian ballotta, from balla “ball;” because small balls were used for voting]

'ballot box n. [C] 1 the ballot box the system of voting in an election: The issue will be decided at the ballot box. 2 a box that ballot papers are put in during the vote

'ball park n. [C] 1 a field for playing baseball, with seats for people to watch the game 2 a ball park figure/estimate a number or amount that is almost but not exactly correct ball-point pen /,bɒlpɔɪnt 'pɛn/ n. [C] a pen with a small ball at the end that rolls ink onto the paper ball-room /'bɒlrʊm/ n. [C] a large room for formal dances balm /bɑm/ n. [U] an oily liquid that you rub onto your skin to reduce pain balmy /'bami/ adj. balmy weather or air is warm and pleasant: a balmy summer night ba-lo-ney /bə'ləʊni/ n. [U] 1 (informal) something that is silly or not true: His explanation sounded like a bunch of baloney to me. 2 another spelling of BOLOGNA bam-boo /,bæm'bu/ n. [C,U] a tall plant with hard hollow stems, often used for making furniture [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Malay bambu] bam-boo-zle /bæm'bu:zəl/ v. [T] (informal) to trick or confuse someone

ban¹ /bæn/ n. [C] an official order saying that people must not do something: a global ban on nuclear testing | a movement to lift (=end) the ban on traveling to Cuba

ban² v. (banned, banning) [T] to officially say that people must not do something or that something is not allowed: The city council banned smoking in public areas in 1995. | The government banned Zhang from making films.

THESAURUS forbid, not allow/permit/let, prohibit, bar, proscribe → FORBID ba-nal /bə'næl, bə'nəl, 'beɪnl/ adj. ordinary and not interesting → BORING: a banal love song [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 French, Old French ban “military service that everyone must do, something common”] —banality /bə'næləti/ n. [C,U] ba-nan-a /bə'nænə/ n. [C] 1 a long curved yellow fruit → see picture on page 414 2 go bananas (informal) to become very angry or excited: The kids went bananas and tore open the boxes. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Spanish, Portuguese, from Mande (a group of African languages)]

band¹ /bænd/ n. [C] 1 a group of musicians, especially a group that plays popular music: a rock/jazz/blues band | Solem played in a band called “Great Buildings.” | The band was playing old Beatles songs. 2 a group of people who work together to achieve the same aims: a small band of terrorists 3 a narrow piece of something, with one end joined to the other to form a circle: Her hair was pulled back with a rubber band. 4 a narrow area of color or light that is different from the areas around it: a fish with a black band along its back [ORIGIN: (3–4) 1400—1500 French bande “flat strip, edge, side”]

THESAURUS line, stripe, streak → LINE¹

band² v.

band together phr. v. to work with other people in order to achieve something: Neighbors banded together to fight for a health clinic.

ban-dage¹ /'bændɪdʒ/ n. [C] a long piece of cloth that you tie around a wound or injury bandage² v. [T] to tie a bandage around a wound or injury

'Band-Aid n. [C] (trademark) a small piece of material that you stick over a small cut on your skin ban-dan-na /bæn'dænə/ n. [C] a square piece of colored cloth that you can wear around your head or neck [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Hindi badhnu “cloth tied and then colored,” from badhna “to tie”] ban-dit /'bændɪt/ n. [C] someone who robs people who are traveling [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Italian bandito, from bandire “to banish”] band-stand /'bændstænd/ n. [C] a structure in a park, used by a band playing music band-wag-on /'bænd,wægən/ n. jump/get/climb on the bandwagon (disapproving) to start doing something because a lot of other people are doing it: Many companies have jumped on the environmental bandwagon (=started to give attention to the environment).

band-width /'bænd,wɪðθ/ n. [U] IT the amount of information that can be carried through a telephone wire or computer connection at one time ban-dy /'bændi/ v. (bandied, bandies) be bandied about/around to be mentioned by a lot of people: Her name was bandied about in connection with the recent scandal.

bane /beɪn/ n. be the bane of sth to be the thing that causes trouble or makes people unhappy: Locusts are the bane of farmers.

bang¹ /bæŋ/ v. 1 [I,T] to make a loud noise, especially by hitting something against something hard: Larren was banging on the wall with his fist. | The screen door banged shut behind him.

THESAURUS hit, punch, slap, beat, smack, whack, strike, knock, tap, pound, rap, hammer → HIT¹

2 [T] to hit a part of your body against something by accident: I banged my knee on the corner of the bed.

THESAURUS hit, bump, strike → HIT¹

bang² n. [C] 1 a sudden loud noise such as an explosion or something hitting a hard surface: There was a loud bang outside the kitchen door. → see picture on page A7 2 a painful blow to the body when you hit against something or something hits you: a nasty bang on the head 3 with a bang in a way that is very exciting or noticeable: He began his presidential campaign with a bang. 4 bangs [plural] hair that is cut straight across the front of your head, above your eyes → see picture on page 462

bang³ adv. (informal) directly or exactly: They've built a parking lot bang in the middle of town.

bang⁴ interjection said in order to make the sound of a gun or bomb: Bang! Bang! You're dead!

banged-up adj. (informal) damaged or injured: a banged-up old car ban-ish /'bæniʃ/ v. [T] to make someone leave a place as a punishment: The king banished Roderigo from the court.

ban-is-ter /'bænəstə/ n. [C] a row of wooden posts with a BAR along the top, that stops you from falling over the edge of the stairs ban-jo /'bændʒou/ n. (plural banjos) [C] a musical instrument like a GUITAR, with four or more strings, a circular body, and a long neck

bank¹ /bæŋk/ n. [C] 1 the company or place where you can keep your money or borrow money: I went to the bank at noon to deposit my check. | a bank loan | We have very little money in the bank. → ACCOUNT¹ 2 land along the side of a river or lake: the river bank | the banks of the Charles River

THESAURUS shore, coast, beach, seashore → SHORE¹

3 blood/sperm/organ etc. bank a place where human blood, etc. is stored until someone needs it 4 a large number of machines, etc. arranged close together in a row: a bank of TV monitors 5 a large pile of snow, sand, etc.: a snow bank 6 cloud/fog etc. bank a mass of cloud, fog, mist, etc. [ORIGIN: (1, 3) 1400—1500 French banque, from Old Italian banca “long seat, bench”] bank² v. 1 [T] to put or keep money in a bank: She's managed to bank more than $300,000. 2 [I] to use a particular bank: Do you bank with/at First National? 3 [I] if an airplane, MOTORCYCLE, etc. banks, it slopes to one side when it is turning 4 [I] to have steep sides like a hill: The racetrack banks steeply in the third turn.

bank on sb/sth phr. v. to depend on something happening or someone doing something: We were banking on Jesse being here to help.

bank-er /'bæŋkə/ n. [C] someone who has an important job in a bank bank-ing /'bæŋkɪŋ/ n. [U] ECONOMICS the business of a bank bank-rupt¹ /'bæŋkrʌpt/ adj. ECONOMICS unable to pay your debts: Many small businesses went bank-rupt during the recession. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 bankrupt “bankruptcy” (16—18 centuries), from French banqueroute, from Old Italian ban-carotta, from banca “bank” + rotta “broken”] bankrupt² v. [T] ECONOMICS to make someone become bankrupt: The deal nearly bankrupted us.

bank-rupt-cy /'bæŋkrʌptsi/ n. (plural bank-ruptcies) [C,U] ECONOMICS the state of being unable to pay your debts: The company was forced to declare bankruptcy.

'bank teller n. [C] a TELLER ban-ner¹ /'bænə/ n. [C] 1 a long piece of cloth with writing on it: voters waving election banners 2 a belief or principle: Civil rights groups have achieved a lot under the banner of fair and equal treatment.

banner² adj. excellent or successful: a banner year for American soccer ban-quet /'bæŋkwɪt/ n. [C] a formal meal for many people ban-ter /'bæntə/ n. [U] friendly conversation with a lot of jokes in it: light-hearted banter — banter v. [I] bap-tism /'bæp,tɪzəm/ n. [C,U] a religious ceremony in which a priest puts water on someone to make him/her a member of the Christian church — baptismal /bæp'tɪzməl/ adj.

Bap-tist /'bæptɪst/ adj. relating to the Protestant church that believes baptism is only for people old enough to understand its meaning — Baptist n. [C] bap-tize /'bæptarɪz, bæp'taɪz/ v. [T] to perform a baptism

bar¹ /bɑː/ n. [C] 1 a place where alcoholic drinks are sold and can be drunk: a cocktail bar 2 a COUNTER where alcoholic drinks are served: O'Keefe and I stood at the bar. | He ordered a drink from the woman behind the bar. 3 a long narrow piece of metal or wood: iron bars 4 a salad/coffee/sushi etc. bar a place where a particular kind of food or drink is served 5 a small block of something: a bar of soap | a candy bar 6 bar to (doing) sth something that prevents something else from happening: His lack of a formal education was not a bar to his success. 7 behind bars (informal) in prison: He spent the night behind bars. 8 the Bar or the bar LAW the profession of being a lawyer, or lawyers considered as a group [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French barre] → SALAD BAR, SNACK BAR

bar² v. (barred, barring) [T] 1 to officially prevent someone from doing something: Photographers are barred from taking pictures inside the courtroom.

THESAURUS forbid, not allow/permit/let, ban, prohibit, proscribe → FORBID

2 to prevent people from going somewhere by placing something in their way: She stood in the hall, barring my way. 3 to put a piece of wood or metal across a door or window to prevent people from going in or out bar-bar-i-an /bɑr'beriən/ n. [C] someone who is rough, violent, and uneducated and does not respect art, education, etc.

bar-bar-ic /bɑr'bærɪk/, -'berɪk/ adj. violent and cruel: a barbaric act of terrorism —barbarism /'bɑrbərɪzəm/ n. [U] —barbarous adj.

bar-be-cue¹ /'bɑrbɪ,kyu/ n. [C] 1 an occasion when you cook and eat food outdoors: We're having a barbecue on Saturday. 2 a metal frame for cooking food on outdoors [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 American Spanish barbacoa] barbecue² v. [T] to cook food outdoors on a barbecue: barbecued ribs barbed /bɑrbd/ adj. barbed humor or a barbed remark is unkind barbed 'wire n. [U] wire with short sharp points on it, usually used for making fences bar-bell /'bɑrbəl/ n. [C] a metal bar with weights at each end, which you lift to make you stronger → see picture at DUMBBELL bar-ber /'bɑrbə/ n. [C] a man whose job is to cut men's hair bar-bi-tu-rate /bɑr'bitʃərɪt/ n. [C,U] a drug that makes people calm and helps them to sleep

'bar chart n. [C] MATH a BAR GRAPH → see picture at CHART¹

'bar code n. [C] a row of black lines on a product, that a computer can read to get information such as the price bard /bɑrd/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a poet

bare¹ /ber/ adj. 1 not covered by clothes: children running around in bare feet | bare-chested/bare-legged etc.

THESAURUS naked, nude, undressed, have nothing on, not have anything on → NAKED

2 empty, or not covered by anything: bare and treeless hills | Except for a few cans, the shelves were bare.

THESAURUS empty, deserted, uninhabited, free, blank, vacant → EMPTY¹

3 basic and with nothing extra: The refugees took only the bare necessities/essentials (=the most necessary things they owned). | a report giving just the bare facts 4 with your bare hands without using a weapon or tool: It is said that Daniel Boone killed a bear with his bare hands. [ORIGIN: Old English bær] bare² v. [T] 1 to let people see part of your body by removing something that is covering it: The dog bared its teeth and growled. 2 bare your soul to tell your most secret feelings to someone bare-back /'bɜrbæk/ adj., adv. on the back of a horse, without a SADDLE: riding bareback

'bare 'bones n. the bare bones (informal) the most basic things, information, qualities, etc. that are needed: He reduced his company to the bare bones. —bare-bones adj.: a bare-bones existence bare-foot /'bɜrfʊt/ adj., adv. not wearing any shoes or socks: We walked barefoot in the sand.

bare-ly /'berli/ adv. 1 used in order to say that something only just happens, exists, etc.: She was barely 18 when she had her first child. | I could barely stay awake. 2 used in order to emphasize that something happens immediately after something else: He'd barely sat down when she started asking questions.

barf /bɑrf/ v. [I] (informal) to VOMIT —barf n. [U]

bar-gain¹ /'bɑrgən/ n. [C] 1 something bought for less than its usual price: Check the advertisements for bargains. | At $8,500, this car is a (real) bargain (=cheap). | The stores were packed with bargain hunters (=people looking for things that are cheap).

THESAURUS cheap, inexpensive, reasonable, a good/great deal, good/great/excellent value, competitive → CHEAP¹

2 an agreement to do something in return for something else: Management and unions have struck a bargain over wage increases. | The company drove a hard bargain in the negotiations (=they made sure the agreement was favorable to them).

bargain² v. [I] to discuss the conditions of a sale, agreement, etc. in order to get a fair deal: auto workers bargaining with management | teachers bargained for higher pay | union leaders bargaining over wages

bargain for/on sth phr. v. to expect that something will happen: I hadn't really bargained on things being so expensive there. | I got more than I bargained for in this job.

'bargaining ,chip n. [C] something that one person or group in a business deal or political agreement has that can be used in order to gain an advantage in the deal

B

barge¹ /bɑrdʒ/ n. [C] a boat with a flat bottom, used for carrying goods on a CANAL or river [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French, Late Latin barca]

barge² v. [I] (informal) to walk somewhere so quickly or carelessly that you push people or hit things: Dana barged past the guards at the door. | She barged her way through the crowds.

barge in also barge into sth phr. v. to interrupt someone or go into a place when you were not invited: The police just barged in.

'bar graph also 'bar chart n. [C] MATH a type of GRAPH with a series of boxes, in which the height of each box represents a particular amount bar-i-tone /'bærə,toun/ n. [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a male singing voice that is fairly low, but not the lowest, or a man with a voice like this → BASS bar-i-um /'bəriəm, 'bær-/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Ba) a soft silver-white metal that is an ELEMENT

bark¹ /bɑrk/ v. 1 [I] to make the sound that a dog makes 2 [I,T] also bark out to say something in a loud angry voice: Perry barked at his assistant. 3 be barking up the wrong tree (informal) to be doing something that will not get the result you want: I realize now that I was barking up the wrong tree. [ORIGIN: Old English beorcan]

bark² n. 1 [C] the sound a dog makes 2 [U] the outer covering of a tree → see picture at PLANT¹ bar-ley /'bərli/ n. [U] a grain used for making food and alcohol barn /bɑrn/ n. [C] a large building on a farm, for storing crops or keeping animals in [ORIGIN: Old English beræarn, from bere “barley” + ærn “place”] bar-na-cle /'bɑrnəkəl/ n. [C] a small sea animal with a hard shell, that sticks firmly to rocks, boats, etc. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 barnacle type of goose (12—21 centuries), from Medieval Latin bernacca; from the former belief that the goose was born from a barnacle] barn-yard /'bɑrnyɑrd/ n. [C] the area on a farm around a barn ba-rom-e-ter /bə'rəmətə/ n. [C] 1 an instrument for measuring changes in the air pressure and weather 2 something that shows any changes in a situation: The election is seen as a barometer of the nation's mood. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Greek baros “weight, pressure” + English -meter] —barometric /,bærə'metrik/ adj.

ba-roque /bə'rouk/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS relating to the very decorated style of art, music, buildings, etc. popular in Europe in the 17th century bar-racks /'bærəks/ n. [plural] a group of buildings in which soldiers live [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French baraque “small building,” from Catalan barraca] bar-rage /bə'rɑʒ/ n. 1 [singular] a lot of complaints, questions, etc.: a barrage of insults/ abuse 2 [C usually singular] the continuous shooting of guns bar-rel¹ /'bærəl/ n. [C] 1 a large container with curved sides and a flat top and bottom: a barrel of beer 2 the part of a gun that the bullets are shot through 3 have sb over a barrel (informal) to put someone in a situation where s/he is forced to do something: I didn't really want to work overtime, but my boss had me over a barrel. 4 a unit used for measuring oil, equal to about 42 gallons or 159 liters barrel² v. [I] to move very fast, especially in an uncontrolled way: We were barreling down the road at 90 miles an hour.

bar-ren /'bærən/ adj. land that is barren cannot grow plants: a barren desert bar-rette /bə'ret/ n. [C] a small metal or plastic object used to keep a woman's hair in place bar-ri-cade¹ /'bærə,keɪd/ n. [C] something that is put across a road, door, etc. to prevent people from going past: Protesters were kept behind barricades. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French barrique “barrel,” because early barricades were made from barrels] barricade² v. [T] to use a barricade to prevent someone or something from going somewhere: They barricaded themselves in and the police had to storm the building.

bar-ri-er /'bæriə/ n. [C] 1 something that prevents people from doing something: an attempt to reduce trade barriers | The language barrier prevents many people from working abroad. | A lack of education is a barrier to many good jobs. 2 a type of fence that keeps people or things separate, or prevents people from entering a place: The police put up barriers to hold back the crowds. 3 a physical object that separates two areas, groups of people, etc.: The mountains form a natural barrier between the two countries.

bar-ring /'bɑrɪŋ/ prep. unless something happens: Barring any last-minute problems, we should finish Friday.

bar-ri-o /'bæri,ou/ n. (plural barrios) [C] an area in a city where many poor Spanish-speaking people live [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Spanish, Arabic barri “of the open country”] bar-room /'bɑr,rum/ n. [C] (informal) a BAR bar-tend-er /'bɑr,tendə/ n. [C] someone whose job is to make and serve drinks in a bar bar-ter /'bɑrtə/ v. [I,T] to exchange goods or services instead of money: I had to barter with the locals for food.

ba-salt /bə'sɒlt, 'beɪsɒlt/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES a type of hard dark green or black rock that comes from a VOLCANO

base¹ /bers/ v. [T] to use somewhere as your main place of business: a law firm based in Denver | Ohio-based/Miami-based etc. [ORIGIN: 1300—

1400 Old French bas, from Medieval Latin bassus “short, low”]

base sth on/upon sth phr. v. to use something as the model from which you develop something else: Discrimination based on race or sex is forbidden by law. | The movie was based on Amelia Earhart's life.

base² n. [C]

1 LOWEST PART the lowest part or surface of something: a black vase with a round base | Waves crashed against the base of the cliff. | the base of the skull

2 MAIN PART all the people, companies, money, etc. that form the main part of something: Roosevelt had a broad base of political support. | the city's economic base (=things that produce jobs and money) | Japan's manufacturing base (=companies that make things)

3 PLACE the main place where someone works or stays, or from which work is done: Microsoft's base is in Redmond. | The hotel is an ideal base for sightseeing.

4 MILITARY a place where people in the army, navy, etc. live and work: an army base

5 IDEAS the most important part of something, from which new ideas develop: Both French and Spanish come from a Latin base.

6 off base (informal) completely wrong: The estimate for painting the house seems way off base.

7 cover/touch all the bases to prepare for or deal with a situation thoroughly: The police have called in experts to make sure they've covered all the bases.

8 SUBSTANCE/MIXTURE the main part of a substance, to which other things can be added: paints with a water base

9 BASEBALL one of the four places that a player must touch in order to score a point

10 SCIENCE CHEMISTRY a chemical substance that combines with an acid to form a salt base-ball /ˈbeɪsbɔːl/ n. 1 [U] a game in which two teams try to score points by hitting a ball and running around four bases → see picture on page A4 2 [C] the ball used in this game base-ment /ˈbeɪsmənt/ n. [C] the room or rooms in a building that are below the level of the ground bas-es /ˈbeɪsɪz/ n. the plural of BASIS

bash¹ /bæʃ/ v. [I,T] 1 to hit someone or something hard, causing pain or damage: He bashed his toe on the coffee table. | Police bashed down the door to get in. 2 (informal) to criticize someone or something very strongly: Hodge took every opportunity to bash the media.

bash² n. [C] (informal) a party: an anniversary bash bash-ful /ˈbæʃfʊl/ adj. shy

THESAURUS

shy, timid, demure, self-conscious, reserved, introverted, retiring
→ SHY¹

bash-ing /ˈbæʃɪŋ/ n. gay-bashing/immigrant-bashing/media-bashing etc. the act of physically attacking or strongly criticizing a particular group of people or businesses ba-sic /ˈbeɪsɪk/ adj. 1 forming the main or most necessary part of something: the basic principles of mathematics | a soldier's basic training | There are two basic problems here.

THESAURUS

fundamental – relating to the most basic and important parts of something: The fundamental problem is a lack of resources.

essential – the essential parts, qualities, or features of something are the ones that are most important, typical, or easily noticed: Religion is an essential part of their lives.

elementary – relating to the most simple or basic parts of something: the elementary human need for food central – more important than anything else: Linda played a central role in the negotiations.

underlying – relating to the reason or cause of something that is the most important or main one, but that is not easy to discover: the underlying causes of her depression

2 at the simplest or least developed level: basic health care | The farm lacks even basic equipment.
→ BASICS

ba-si-cally /ˈbeɪsɪkli/ adv. 1 (spoken) used to give a simple explanation of something: Well, basically, the teacher said he'll need extra help with math. 2 in the main or most important ways, without considering small details: Norwegian and Danish are basically the same. | I believe that human beings are basically good.

ba-sics /ˈbeɪsɪks/ n. [plural] 1 the basics the most important facts or things that you need: We were taught the basics of sailing. 2 get/go back to basics to return to teaching or doing the most important or the simplest part of something: A lot of parents want schools to get back to basics.

ba-sin /ˈbeɪsən/ n. [C] 1 EARTH SCIENCES a large area of land that is lower in the center than at the edges: the Amazon basin 2 a large bowl, especially one for water [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French basin, from Late Latin bacchinon]

ba-sis /ˈbeɪsɪs/ n. (plural bases /ˈbeɪsɪz/) [C] 1 on a weekly/informal/freelance etc. basis happening at a particular time or in a particular way: Meetings are held on a monthly basis. | She still works, but on a part-time basis. 2 the information or ideas from which something develops: The video will provide a basis for class discussion. | In this remote part of the world, people's religious beliefs form the basis of their whole society. 3 on the basis of sth because of a particular fact or situation: Employers may not discriminate on the basis of race or sex.

bask /bæsk/ v. [I] 1 to enjoy sitting or lying somewhere warm: a snake basking in the sun 2 to enjoy the attention or approval you receive from someone: She basked in her mother's praise.

bas-ket /ˈbæskɪt/ n. [C] 1 a container made of thin pieces of dried plants, wire, etc., used for carrying or holding things: a picnic basket | a laundry basket (=for putting dirty clothes in) | a basket of fruit 2 the net in basketball: Dean scored/made a basket (=threw the ball into the basket) with just under a minute to play.

bas-ket-ball /ˈbæskɪt,bɔːl/ n. 1 [U] a game between two teams, in which each team tries to throw a ball through a net 2 [C] the ball used in this game

'basket case n. [C] (informal) someone who you think is crazy bass¹ /beɪs/ n. 1 [C] also bass guitar a GUITAR that plays low notes 2 [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the lowest male singing voice, or a man with a voice like this 3 [U] the lower half of the whole range of musical notes 4 [C] a DOUBLE BASS bass² /bæs/ n. [C,U] a fish that lives both in the ocean and in rivers, lakes, etc., or the meat from this fish bas-si-net /ˌbæsiˈnet/ n. [C] a small bed that looks like a basket, used for a very young baby bas-soon /bəˈsun, bæ-/ n. [C] a very long wooden musical instrument with a low sound that you play by blowing into it → see picture at WOOD-WIND bas-tard /ˈbæstəd/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) someone whose parents were not married when s/he was born baste /beɪst/ v. [T] to pour liquid fat over food that is cooking bas-tion /ˈbæstʃən/ n. [C] a place, organization, etc. that protects old beliefs or ways of doing things: the country's reputation as a bastion of free speech

bat¹ /bæt/ n. [C] 1 a long wooden stick used for hitting the ball in baseball 2 a small animal like a mouse with wings that flies at night → see picture at NOCTURNAL 3 right off the bat (informal) immediately: He got into trouble right off the bat. 4 be at bat to be the person who is trying to hit the ball in baseball bat² v. (batted, batting) [I,T] 1 to hit a ball with a bat: Brent is up to bat next (=he will try to hit the ball next). 2 bat your eyes/eyelashes if a woman bats her eyes, she opens and closes them several times quickly in order to look attractive to men 3 not bat an eye/eyelash (informal) without showing any emotion or guilty feelings: He used to tell the worst lies without batting an eye. 4 go to bat for sb (informal) to help and support someone: Andy really went to bat for me with my manager. 5 bat a thousand (informal) to be very successful batch /bætʃ/ n. [C] a group of things or people that arrive or are dealt with at the same time: She's just baked another batch of cookies

bat-ed /ˈbeɪtɪd/ adj. with bated breath in a very excited and anxious way: I waited for her answer with bated breath.

bath /bæθ/ n. (plural baths /bæðz, bæθs/) [C] 1 an act of washing your body in the water that you put in a bathtub: You need to take a bath before you go to bed. | Dan, will you give the kids a bath (=wash them) tonight? 2 a bathroom, used especially in advertising: a three-bedroom, two-bath house 3 water that you sit or lie in to wash yourself: I love to sit and soak in a hot bath. | Lisa ran a bath (=put water in a bathtub) for herself. [ORIGIN: Old English bæth]

bathe /beɪð/ v. 1 [I,T] to wash yourself or someone else in a bath: Water was scarce, and we only bathed once a week. | He bathed the children and put them to bed. 2 [T] to put water or another liquid on part of your body as a medical treatment 3 be bathed in light if something is bathed in light, a lot of light is shining on it bathing suit /ˈbeɪðɪŋ ,sut/ n. [C] a piece of clothing you wear for swimming ba-thos /ˈbeɪθəs/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS in a book, a play, etc., a sudden change from a subject that is beautiful, moral, or serious to something that is ordinary, silly, or not important bath-robe /ˈbæθrəʊb/ n. [C] a loose piece of clothing like a coat, that you wear especially before or after taking a bath or SHOWER bath-room /ˈbæθrʊm/ n. [C] 1 a room where there is a toilet and usually a bathtub or a SHOWER and sink

THE SAURUS toilet, restroom, women's/ladies' room, men's room, lavatory, latrine, outhouse, privy → TOILET

2 go to the bathroom to use the toilet: Mommy, I have to go to the bathroom!

bath-tub /ˈbæθtʌb/ n. [C] a long container in which you wash yourself ba-ton /bəˈtʌn/ n. [C] 1 a short stick used by the leader of a group of musicians to direct the music 2 a metal stick that you spin and throw into the air 3 a stick that a police officer uses as a weapon 4 a stick passed from one runner to another in a race bat-tal-ion /bəˈtæljən/ n. [C] a large group of soldiers bat-ter¹ /ˈbætə/ n. 1 [C,U] a mixture of flour, eggs, milk, etc. used for making cakes, some types of bread, etc.: pancake batter 2 [C] the person who is trying to hit the ball in baseball

batter² v. [I,T] to hit someone or something very hard many times: He was battered to death. | Waves were battering against the rocks. —battering n. [C,U]

bat-tered /ˈbætəd/ adj. 1 old and slightly damaged: a battered old guitar 2 battered woman/child a woman who has been attacked by her husband, boyfriend, etc., or a child who has been attacked by a parent bat-ter-y /'bætəri/ n. (plural batteries) 1 [C] an object that provides electricity for something such as a radio or car: a dead battery (=one with no power) 2 [U] LAW the crime of beating someone 3 [C] a set of many things of the same type: a battery of medical tests

bat-tle¹ /'bætl/ n. 1 [C,U] a fight between two armies or groups, especially during a war: the Battle of Bunker Hill | Thousands of soldiers were killed in battle (=during a war or battle). 2 [C] a situation in which people or groups compete or argue with each other: the battle for control of Congress | a long and costly legal battle 3 [C] an attempt to stop something happening or to achieve something difficult: the battle against racial discrimination | a long battle with lung cancer | Gina fought a losing battle to hold back the tears. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French bataille, from Late Latin battalia “fighting,” from Latin battere “to hit”]

THESAURUS fight, campaign, drive, struggle, crusade → FIGHT²

battle² v. [I,T] to try very hard to achieve something difficult: My mother battled bravely against breast cancer. | Doctors battled to save his life.

bat-tle-field /'bætl,fild/ also bat-tle-ground /'bætl,graund/ n. [C] 1 a place where a battle is being fought or has been fought 2 a subject that people disagree or argue a lot about: This area of medical research has become an ethical battlefield.

bat-tle-ship /'bætl,ʃɪp/ n. [C] a very large ship used in wars bawd-y /'bɒdi/ adj. bawdy songs, jokes, etc. are about sex bawl /bɔ:l/ v. [I] (informal) to shout or cry loudly: By the end of the movie, I was bawling.

bawl sb ↔ out phr. v. (informal) to speak angrily to someone because s/he has done something wrong: Mom bawled me out for not cleaning my room.

bay /beɪ/ n. [C] 1 EARTH SCIENCES a place where the coast curves around the ocean: Chesapeake Bay → see picture on page A11 2 keep/hold sth/sb at bay to prevent something dangerous or bad from happening, or someone from coming too close: The dogs kept the intruder at bay. 3 a small area used for a special purpose: the plane's cargo bay [ORIGIN: (1) 1300—1400 Old French baie, from Old Spanish bahia] bay-o-net /'beɪənɪt, -,net, 'beɪənɪt/ n. [C] a long knife attached to the end of a long gun [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French baïonnette, from Bayonne city in southwest France where it was first made] bay-ou /'baɪu, 'baɪu/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a large area of water in the southeast U.S. that moves very slowly and has many water plants [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Louisiana French, Choctaw bayuk] bay 'window n. [C] a window that sticks out from the wall of a house, with glass on three sides ba-zaar /bə'zɑː/ n. [C] 1 an event at which a lot of people sell various things to collect money for an organization: a church bazaar 2 a market in Asian or Middle Eastern countries [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Persian bazar]

BB gun /'bɪbi ˌɡʌn/ n. [C] a gun that uses air pressure to shoot small metal balls

BBQ /'bɑːbɪ,kyu/ the abbreviation of BARBECUE

B.C. adv. Before Christ used after a date to show that it was before the birth of Christ (ANT) A.D.: 2600 B.C.

be¹ /bi/ auxiliary verb (past tense was, were, past participle been) 1 used with a present participle to form the continuous tenses of verbs: Jane was reading by the fire. | Don't talk to me while I'm (=I am) working. 2 used with a PAST PARTICIPLE to form the PASSIVE: Smoking is not permitted in public places, such as restaurants. | I was shown a copy of the contract. 3 used in CONDITIONAL sentences to talk about an imagined situation: If I were rich, I'd buy myself a Rolls Royce. | He could lose his job if he were to be charged with a crime. 4 sb is to do sth (formal) a) used in order to say what will happen: I'll be (=I will be) leaving tomorrow. b) used in order to say what must happen: The children are to go to bed by 8:00. 5 sb/sth is to be seen/found/heard etc. (formal) used to say that someone or something can be seen, etc.: The money was nowhere to be found. → IS, AM, ARE, BEEN

be² v. [linking verb] 1 used in order to give or ask for information about someone or something, or to describe that person or thing in some way: January is the first month of the year. | The concert was last night. | Julie wants to be a doctor. | Where are my shoes? | Is this your coat? | It's (=it is) going to be hot today. | I'm (=I am) cold. 2 there is/are/were etc. used in order to show that something exists or happens: There were only eight people at choir practice. | There's (=there is) a hole in your jeans. 3 to behave in a particular way: Be careful. | He was just being silly. 4 used to give your opinion about something: "We won't be able to make it tomorrow night." | "That's too bad." | It's strange that she hasn't phoned. 5 be yourself to behave in a natural way: Don't worry about impressing them – just be yourself. 6 not be yourself to be behaving in a way that is unusual for you, especially because you are sick or upset: She hasn't been herself lately. → let sb/sth be at LET

beach /bitʃ/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES an area of sand or small stones at the edge of an ocean or a lake: We spent the day at the beach. | children playing on the beach | a beach house → see picture on page A11

THESAURUS shore, coast, seashore, bank → SHORE¹

'beach ball n. [C] a large plastic ball that you fill with air and play with at the beach

B

bea-con /'bikən/ n. [C] a light or electronic signal used to guide boats, airplanes, etc.

bead /bid/ n. [C] 1 a small ball of plastic, wood, glass, etc. used for making jewelry 2 a small drop of liquid: beads of sweat [ORIGIN: Old English bed, gebed "prayer;" because people counted beads while saying their prayers] bead-y /'bidi/ adj. beady eyes are small and shiny bea-gle /'bigəl/ n. [C] a dog with large ears, short legs, and smooth fur, sometimes used in hunting beak /bik/ n. [C] the hard pointed mouth of a bird [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French bec, from Latin beccus] → see picture on page A2 beak-er /'bikə/ n. [C] a glass cup with straight sides, used in a LABORATORY (=place where people do scientific tests)

beam¹ /bim/ n. [C] 1 a line of light or energy: a laser beam | A beam of light | The beam of a flashlight was shining directly in my eyes. 2 a long piece of wood or metal used in building houses, bridges, etc.

beam² v. 1 [I] to smile in a very happy way: Uncle Willie beamed at us proudly.

THESAURUS smile, grin, smirk, simper → SMILE

2 [I,T] to send out energy, light, radio, or television signals, etc.: the first broadcast beamed across the Atlantic | The sun beamed through the clouds.

bean /bin/ n. [C] 1 a seed or a case that seeds grow in, cooked as food: green beans | baked beans 2 a plant that produces beans 3 coffee/cocoa bean a seed used in making coffee or COCOA, and food such as chocolate [ORIGIN: Old English]

bear¹ /ber/ v. (past tense bore /bɔ:/, past participle borne /bɔ:n/) [T]

1 BE RESPONSIBLE (formal) to be responsible for something: In this case, you must bear the blame/responsibility yourself. | The federal government will bear the cost of the program.

2 DEAL WITH STH to bravely accept or deal with a painful or difficult situation: She didn't think she could bear the pain. | Make the water as hot as you can bear. | The pressure was more than he could bear.

3 can't bear sb/sth to dislike someone or something very much, or to feel unable to do something because it upsets you (SYN can't stand: I can't bear that woman. | He can't bear people watching him eat. | She can't bear to throw anything away. | I couldn't bear the thought of leaving the kids, even for one night.

4 bear a resemblance/relation to sb/sth to be similar to or related to someone or something: He bears a striking resemblance to his father (=looks very like his father). | The facts bear little relation to (=are not similar to) reality.

5 bear (sth) in mind to consider a fact when you are deciding or judging something: Bear in mind that this method might not work.

6 HAVE FEELINGS (formal) to have bad feelings toward someone: I don't bear a grudge (=still feel angry about something).

7 bear fruit if a plan or decision bears fruit, it is successful: The project may not begin to bear fruit for at least two years.

8 WEIGHT to support the weight of something: The ice wasn't thick enough to bear his weight.

9 sth doesn't bear thinking about used to say that something is very upsetting or shocking: The long-term effects don't bear thinking about.

10 MARK/NAME (formal) to have a particular name or appearance: the company that bore her father's name | He bore the scars for the rest of his life.

11 bear with me (spoken) used in order to politely ask someone to wait while you do something: Bear with me for a minute while I check the files.

12 bear right/left to turn toward the right or left: Bear left where the road divides.

13 BABY (formal) to give birth to a baby

14 CARRY (formal) to bring or carry something: They came bearing gifts.

THESAURUS carry, tote, lug, cart, haul, schlepp, transport → CARRY

→ bring sth to bear (on) at BRING bear down on sb/sth phr. v.

to move quickly toward someone or something in a threatening way: We ran as the truck bore down on us.

bear sb/sth out phr. v.

to show that something is true: The study's findings were borne out by further research.

bear up phr. v.

to succeed in being brave and determined during a difficult or upsetting time bear² n. [C] a large strong animal with thick fur → POLAR BEAR, TEDDY BEAR bear-a-ble /'berəbəl/ adj. a situation that is bearable is difficult but can be accepted or dealt with: His friendship was the one thing that made life bearable.

beard /bird/ n. [C] the hair that grows on a man's chin [ORIGIN: Old English] —bearded adj. → see picture on page 462

bear-er /'berə/ n. [C] someone who brings or carries something: the bearer of bad news | a flag bearer → PALLBEARER bear-ing /'berɪŋ/ n. 1 have a bearing on sth to have some influence on or effect on something: The new information has no/some bearing on the case. 2 get your bearings to find out where you are or what you should do 3 lose your bearings to become confused about where you are 4 [singular, U] the way someone moves or stands: an elderly man with a military bearing bear-ish /'berɪʃ/ adj. ECONOMICS expecting the price of shares on a STOCK MARKET to fall (ANT bullish)

'bear ,market n. [C] ECONOMICS a situation in which the value of STOCKS is decreasing → BULL MARKET beast /bɪst/ n. [C] 1 (literary) a wild animal 2 (old-fashioned) a cruel person

beat¹ /bit/ v. (past tense beat, past participle beaten /'bitɪn/)

1 DEFEAT [T] to get more points, votes, etc. than other people in a game or competition: New York beat Boston 4–1. | Stuart usually beats me at chess. | Has anyone ever beaten the record for home runs set by Babe Ruth?

THESAURUS

defeat – to win a victory over someone: I don't think anybody will be able to defeat Kennedy in a Senate election.

trounce – to defeat someone completely: The Bears trounced Nebraska 44–10.

clobber/cream (informal) – to defeat someone easily: We got creamed in the finals.

vanquish (formal) – to defeat someone or something completely: The allies vanquished the enemy.

overcome – to fight and win against someone or something: Union troops finally overcame rebel forces in the south.

conquer – to defeat someone, especially a country, and get control of land and people: The Greeks conquered the Trojans.

2 HIT SB [T] to hit someone many times with your hand, a stick, etc.: He used to come home and beat us. | The woman had been beaten to death.

THESAURUS

hit, punch, slap, smack, whack, strike, knock, bang, tap, pound, rap, hammer → HIT¹

3 HIT STH [I,T] to hit against the surface of something continuously, or to make something do this: waves beating on/against the shore

4 FOOD [I,T] to mix foods together quickly using a fork or a kitchen tool: Beat the eggs and add them to the sugar mixture. → see picture on page A5

THESAURUS

mix, combine, stir, blend → MIX¹

5 SOUND [I,T] to make a regular sound or movement, or to make something do this: She could feel her heart beating. | I could hear drums beating.

6 beat around the bush to avoid talking about something embarrassing or upsetting: Stop beating around the bush, and say it!

7 AVOID [T] to do something early in order to avoid problems, because later everyone will be doing it: We left at 5:00 to beat the traffic. | Shop early and beat the Christmas rush!

SPOKEN PHRASES

8 [T] to be better or more enjoyable than something else: It's not the greatest job, but it beats waitressing. | You can't beat (=nothing is better than) San Diego for good weather.

9 (it) beats me used in order to say that you do not understand or know something: "Where's Myrna?" "Beats me."

10 beat it! an impolite way to tell someone to leave at once

[ORIGIN: Old English beatan] → off the beaten track/path at BEATEN

beat down phr. v.

1 if the Sun beats down, it shines brightly and is hot

2 if the rain beats down, it rains very hard beat sb/sth ↔ off phr. v.

to hit someone who is attacking you until s/he goes away

beat sb ↔ out phr. v. (informal)

to defeat someone in a competition: Lange beat out Foster for the award.

beat sb to sth phr. v.

to get or do something before someone else: I wanted the car, but someone beat me to it.

beat sb ↔ up phr. v.

1 to hit someone until s/he is badly hurt: My boyfriend went crazy and beat me up.

2 beat yourself up (informal) to blame yourself too much for something: Don't beat yourself up over this!

beat² n. 1 [C] one of a series of regular movements or sounds: a heart rate of 80 beats per minute | the beat of the drum 2 [singular] the pattern of sounds in a piece of music 3 [singular] a subject or area of a city that someone is responsible for as his/her job: journalists covering the political beat | a police officer on the beat (=walking around the streets in a particular area)

beat³ adj. (informal) very tired: You look beat!

THESAURUS

tired, exhausted, worn out, weary, run-down, fatigued → TIRED beat-en /'bitɪn/ adj. off the beaten track/path far away from places that people usually visit: a little hotel off the beaten track beat-er /'bitə/ n. [C] 1 a kitchen tool that is used for mixing foods together 2 wife/child beater someone who hits his wife or his/her child beat-ing /'bi:tɪŋ/ n. [C] 1 an act of hitting someone many times as a punishment or in a fight: a severe beating 2 take a beating to lose very badly in a game or competition

'beat-up adj. (informal) old and slightly damaged: a beat-up old car beau-ti-cian /byu'tɪʃən/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a HAIRDRESSER

beau-ti-ful /'byu:tɪfəl/ adj. 1 extremely attractive to look at: She was the most beautiful woman I've ever seen. | a beautiful baby | The views from the mountaintop were beautiful.

THESAURUS

attractive, good-looking, nice-looking, pretty, handsome, gorgeous, stunning, cute, hot → ATTRACTIVE

B

2 very good, or giving you great pleasure: beautiful music | The weather was beautiful.

beau·ty /'byu:ti/ n. (plural beauties) 1 [U] a quality that people, places, or things have that makes them very attractive to look at: a woman of great beauty | the beauty of Yosemite 2 [U] a quality that something such as a poem, song, etc. has that gives you pleasure: the beauty of Keats's poetry 3 [C] (informal) something that is very good or impressive: His new car's a beauty. 4 the beauty of sth is... used to explain why something is especially good: The beauty of this exercise is that you can do it anywhere. 5 [C] (old-fashioned) a woman who is very beautiful [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French biauté, from Latin bellus 'pretty']

'beauty salon also 'beauty parlor n. [C] a SALON

bea-ver /'bivə/ n. [C] a North American animal that has thick fur, a wide flat tail, and cuts down trees with its teeth → see picture at RODENT be-bop /'bibap/ n. [U] a style of JAZZ music be-came /bɪ'keɪm/ v. the past tense of BECOME

be-cause /bɪ'kɔ:z, -'kɑ:z/ conjunction used when you are giving the reason for something: You can't go because you're too young. | We weren't able to have the picnic because of the rain. | They liked him simply because he could play basketball. | He moved to Florida partly/largely/mainly because he liked the weather. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 by cause (that)] due to – used when giving the reason why something happened: The flight was delayed due to bad weather.

THESAURUS

since – used when giving the reason why someone decides to do something: Since it was getting late, we decided to go back home.

through – because of something: They succeeded through a combination of hard work and determination.

out of – because of a feeling: I went there out of curiosity.

thanks to – because of what someone has done, or because something exists: Today, thanks to the Internet, you can find out information about almost anything. | We're late, thanks to you.

→ just because ... (it) doesn't mean ... at JUST¹

beck-on /'bɛkən/ v. [I,T] to move your hand to show that you want someone to move toward you: He beckoned her to join him. | He beckoned to her.

be-come /bɪ'kʌm/ v. (past tense became /- 'keɪm/, past participle become) 1 [linking verb] to begin to be something, or to develop in a particular way: The weather had become warmer. | In 1960, Kennedy became the first Catholic president. | It is becoming harder to find good housing for low-income families. | It became clear that she was lying. | She started to become anxious about her son. ▶ Don't say "She started to be anxious about her son." ◀ 2 become of sb/sth to happen to someone or something: Whatever became of Grandma's dishes? | No one knows what will become of him when his mother dies.

USAGE

Become is used in both written and spoken English: Their music has become very popular. | He quickly became very rich.

Get and go are less formal than become, and are used more often in spoken English: I'm getting tired. | Have you gone crazy?

Become can be used in front of an adjective or a noun, but get and go are used only in front of an adjective: She wants to become a lawyer. | People are becoming worried about the future of our planet. | It's getting dark. | Beethoven went deaf when he was 40 years old.

be-com-ing /bɪ'kʌmɪŋ/ adj. (old-fashioned) a piece of clothing, HAIRSTYLE, etc. that is becoming makes you look attractive

bed¹ /bed/ n. 1 [C,U] a piece of furniture for sleeping on: a double bed (=a bed for two people) | a single bed (=a bed for one person) | I was lying in bed reading. | She looked like she had just gotten out of bed. | What time do you usually put the kids to bed? | Jamie usually goes to bed around seven o'clock. | Sara, have you made your bed yet (=pulled the sheets, etc. into place)? | Come on, it's time for bed (=time to go to sleep). 2 go to bed with sb (informal) to have sex with someone 3 [C] the ground at the bottom of the ocean, a river, or a lake: a river bed 4 [C] an area of ground that has been prepared for plants to grow in: flower beds 5 a bed of sth a layer of something that is a base for something else: potato salad on a bed of lettuce [ORIGIN: Old English bedd]

bed² v. (bedded, bedding)

bed down phr. v. to make yourself comfortable and sleep in a place where you do not usually sleep: I'll just bed down on the sofa.

bed and 'breakfast also B&B n. [C] a house or a small hotel where you pay to sleep and have breakfast: We plan to stay at a bed and breakfast while we're in England.

THESAURUS hotel, motel, inn, hostel, campground → HOTEL bed-clothes /'bedkloʊz, -kloʊðz/ n. [plural] BEDDING bed-ding /'bedɪŋ/ n. [U] 1 the sheets, BLANKETS, etc. that you put on a bed 2 soft material that an animal sleeps on bed-lam /'bedləm/ n. [U] a situation in which there is a lot of noise and you are not able to think clearly: When the bomb exploded, there was bedlam. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 bedlam “mental hospital” (17–18 centuries), from Bedlam “Bethlehem” (10–17 centuries); from the Hospital of St. Mary of Bethlehem, former London mental hospital] bed-pan /'bedpæn/ n. [C] a container used as a toilet by someone who is too sick or old to get out of bed bed-drag-gled /bɪ'drægəld/ adj. looking dirty, wet, and messy: bedraggled hair bed-rid-den /'bedrɪdn/ adj. not able to get out of bed because you are old or very sick bed-room /'bedrʊm/ n. [C] a room for sleeping in: a four-bedroom house | We use the spare bedroom as an office.

bed-side /'bedsaɪd/ n. [C] the area around a bed: His family has been at his bedside (=stayed with him because he was very ill) all night. | a bedside table bed-spread /'bedsprɛd/ n. [C] a large cover that goes on top of a bed bed-time /'bedtaɪm/ n. [C,U] the time when you usually go to bed: It's way past your bedtime!

bee /bi/ n. [C] a yellow and black insect that flies, makes HONEY, and can sting you: James was stung by a bee. [ORIGIN: Old English beo] beech /bitʃ/ n. [C,U] a large tree with smooth gray branches, or the hard wood of this tree beef /bif/ n. 1 [U] meat from a cow: roast beef

THESAURUS meat, veal, pork, ham, bacon → MEAT

2 [C] (informal) a complaint: The guy had a beef with the manager and yelled at him for about 15 minutes. [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French buf, from Latin bos “ox”] beef v. [I] (informal) to complain: They're always beefing about something.

beef sth ↔ up phr. v. (informal) to improve something, especially to make it stronger or more interesting: Security around the White House has been beefed up since the attack.

beef-y /'bifi/ adj. a beefy man is big and strong bee-hive /'bihaɪv/ n. [C] a HIVE

bee-line /'biˌlaɪn/ n. make a beeline for sb/sth (informal) to go quickly and directly toward someone or something: The bear made a beeline for the woods.

been /bɪn/ v. 1 the past participle of BE 2 have been to (do) sth used in order to say that someone has gone to a place and come back: Sandy has just been to Japan. | Have you been to see Katrina's new house?

beep /bip/ v. 1 [I] if a machine beeps, it makes a short high sound: The computer beeps when you push the wrong key. 2 [I,T] if a horn beeps, or if you beep it, it makes a loud sound —beep n. [C] beep-er /'bipə/ n. [C] a small machine that you carry with you that makes a sound to tell you to telephone someone (SYN) pager beer /bɪr/ n. [C,U] an alcoholic drink made from grain, or a glass, can, or bottle of this drink: a pitcher of beer | Would you like a beer? → ROOT BEER beet /bit/ n. [C] a dark red vegetable that is the root of a plant bee-tle /'biːtl/ n. [C] an insect with a hard round back [ORIGIN: Old English bitula, from bitan]

be-fall /bɪ'fɔːl/ v. (past tense befell /-'fɛl/, past participle befallen /-'fɔːlən/) [T] (formal) if something bad or dangerous befalls you, it happens to you: We prayed that no harm should befall them.

be-fit /bɪ'fɪt/ v. (befitted, befitting) [T] (formal) to be appropriate or seem right for someone: a funeral befitting a national hero —befitting adj.

be-fore /bɪ'fɔːr/ prep. 1 earlier than something or someone (ANT) after: I usually shower before breakfast. | Denise got there before me. | He arrived the day before yesterday (=two days ago). 2 ahead of someone or something else in a list or order (ANT) after: There were ten people before us in line. | S comes before T in the alphabet. 3 used to say that one thing or person is considered more important than another: His wife and children come before his job. | companies who put profit before people 4 if one place is before another as you go toward it, you will reach it first (ANT) after: Turn right just before the stop light. 5 if something is put before a person or group of people, they must consider it and make a decision about it: The case is now before the Supreme Court. 6 (formal) in front of: The priest knelt before the altar. [ORIGIN: Old English beforan, from foran “before”]

before adv. at an earlier time: They'd met before, at one of Sandra's parties. | Sales were up 14% from the year/month/day etc. before (=the previous year, etc.).

THESAURUS

earlier – during the first part of a period of time, event, or process: I saw Kim earlier today.

previously – before now, or before a particular time: Jim previously worked for Apple Bank.

before conjunction 1 earlier than the time when something happens: It will be several days before we know the results. | John wants to talk to you before you go. 2 so that something bad does not happen: You'd better lock your bike before it gets stolen. 3 before you know it (spoken) used in order to say that something will happen very soon: We'd better get going – it'll be dark before you know it.

B

be-fore-hand /bɪ'fɔː,hænd/ adv. before something happens: Never eat a piece of fruit without washing it beforehand.

be-friend /bɪ'frɛnd/ v. [T] (formal) to become someone's friend, especially someone who needs your help: An old woman befriended me and made me dinner.

be-fud-dled /bɪ'fʌldɪd/ adj. completely confused

beg /bɛg/ v. (begged, begging) [I,T] 1 to ask for something in a way which shows you want it very much: I begged him to stay, but he wouldn't. | a prisoner begging to be released | He begged for forgiveness.

THESAURUS ask, request, order, demand, plead, implore → ASK

2 to ask someone for food, money, etc. because you are very poor: children begging in the streets | homeless families begging for food 3 I beg your pardon (spoken) a) used in order to ask someone politely to repeat something: "It's 7:00." "I beg your pardon?" "It's 7:00." b) (formal) used in order to say you are sorry: Oh, I beg your pardon – did I hurt you? c) (formal) used in order to show that you strongly disagree: "You never had to work hard in your life!" "I beg your pardon!"

be-gan /bɪ'gæn/ v. the past tense of BEGIN beg-gar /'bɛgə/ n. [C] 1 someone who lives by asking people for food and money 2 beggars can't be choosers (spoken) used in order to say that when you have no money, no power to choose, etc., you have to accept whatever is available

be-gin /bɪ'ɡɪn/ v. (past tense began /-'gæn/, past participle begun /-'gʌn/, present participle beginning) 1 [I,T] to start doing something, or to start to happen or exist: The meeting will begin at 10:00. | He began his career 30 years ago. | She began painting when she was a child. | I began to realize that he was lying.

THESAURUS

start – to begin. Start is used more often in conversation than begin: What time does the concert start?

commence (formal) – to begin – used especially in official announcements: The search for a new coach will commence immediately.

set off – to leave a place in order to begin traveling: We set off early in the morning, to avoid the traffic.

break out – if a fire or a fight breaks out, it begins: A fire broke out in one of the warehouses.

2 [I] a) if you begin with something or begin by doing something, you do it first: Let's begin with exercise 5. | May I begin by thanking you all for coming. b) if a book, film, word, etc. begins with something, that is how it starts: "Pharmacy" begins with a "p." 3 to begin with a) used in order to introduce the first or most important point: To begin with, photography is not really an art form at all. b) used in order to say what something was like before something else happened: If his hands weren't dirty to begin with, they certainly are now. c) in the first part of an activity or process: The children helped me to begin with, but they soon got bored. [ORIGIN: Old English beginnan] be-gin-ner /bɪ'ɡɪnə/ n. [C] someone who has just started to do or learn something: a class for beginners be-gin-ning /bɪ'ɡɪnɪŋ/ n. 1 [C usually singular] the start or first part of something: the beginning of the book | Placement tests are given at the beginning of the year. | He didn't take me seriously in the beginning. | The whole trip was a disaster from beginning to end. 2 beginnings [plural] the early part or signs of something that later develop into something bigger or more important: I think I have the beginnings of a cold.

be-grudge /bɪ'ɡrʌdʒ/ v. [T] to feel upset or JEALOUS about something: Honestly, I don't begrudge him his success.

be-guile /bɪ'ɡaɪl/ v. [T] to interest and attract someone: She was beguiled by his smooth talk. —beguiling adj.

be-gun /bɪ'gʌn/ v. the past participle of BEGIN

be-half /bɪ'hæf/ (AC) n. on behalf of sb/on sb's behalf also in behalf of somebody/in sb's behalf instead of someone, or as someone's representative: He agreed to speak on her behalf. | Lawyers have filed several suits on behalf of the victims.

be-have /bɪ'heɪv/ v. 1 [I] to do or say things in a particular way: Lions in a zoo do not behave like lions in the wild. | He began behaving differently towards me. | We were behaving as if/though nothing was wrong. 2 [I,T] to be polite and not cause trouble (ANT) misbehave: Will you boys please behave! | If you behave yourself, you can stay up late. | a well-behaved child

be-hav-ior /bɪ'heɪvɪə/ n. [U] 1 the things that a person or animal does, or the way in which they do them: I'm not very pleased with your behavior. | criminal behavior | Reward your pet for good behavior. | We've noticed a change in his behavior toward the other children.

THESAURUS

conduct (formal) – the way someone behaves: The chairman has denied any improper conduct.

manner – the way in which someone talks or behaves with other people: They were teasing her in a friendly manner.

demeanor (formal) – the way someone behaves, dresses, speaks, etc. that shows what his/her character is like: her cheerful demeanor

2 the things that a substance, material, etc. normally does: the behavior of cancer cells be-head /bɪ'hed/ v. [T] to cut off someone's head as a punishment be-held /bɪ'held/ v. the past tense and past participle of BEHOLD be-he-moth /bɪ'himəθ/ n. [C] (literary) something that is very large be-hind¹ /bɪ'haɪnd/ prep. 1 at the back of something: I was driving behind a truck on the freeway. | The liquor store is right behind (=just behind) the supermarket. 2 not as successful or advanced as someone or something else: The Lakers were four points behind the Celtics at half time. | Work on the new building is three months behind schedule (=later than it should be). 3 supporting a person, idea, etc.: Congress is behind the President on this issue. 4 responsible for something, or causing something to happen: The police believe a local gang is behind the killings. 5 behind the times old-fashioned [ORIGIN: Old English behindan, from hindan "from behind"]

behind² adv. 1 at or toward the back of something: Several other runners followed close behind. | The car was bumped from behind. 2 in the place where someone or something was before: I got there and realized I'd left the tickets behind. | Barb stayed behind to wait for Tina. 3 be/get behind to be late or slow in doing something: We are three months behind with the rent.

behind³ n. [C] (informal) the part of your body that you sit on be-hold /bɪ'hoʊld/ v. (past tense and past participle beheld /bɪ'held/) [T] (literary) to see something —beholder n. [C]

THESAURUS see, notice, spot, glimpse/catch a glimpse of sth/sb, make sth out, catch sight of sb/sth, witness, observe → SEE

beige /beɪʒ/ n. [U] a pale brown color —beige adj.

be-ing /'biɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] a living thing or imaginary creature → HUMAN BEING: stories about strange beings from outer space 2 come into being to begin to exist: Their political system came into being in the early 1900s.

be-lat-ed /bɪ'leɪtɪd/ adj. happening or arriving late: a belated birthday card | a belated effort to apologize

THESAURUS late, overdue, delayed, tardy → LATE¹

belch /bɛltʃ/ v. 1 [I] to let air from your stomach come out loudly through your mouth [SYN] burp 2 [T] to send out a large amount of smoke, flames, etc.: factories belching blue smoke

be-lea-guered /bɪ'liɡərd/ adj. (formal) having a lot of problems: the beleaguered tobacco industry

be-lie /bɪ'laɪ/ v. (belied, belying) [T] (formal) to give you a wrong idea about something: With a quickness that belied her age, she ran across the road.

be-lief /bə'li:f/ n. 1 [singular, U] the feeling that something is definitely true or definitely exists: the medieval belief that the Sun went around the Earth | a strong belief in God | Contrary to popular belief (=despite what most people believe), eating carrots does not improve your eyesight. 2 [singular] the feeling that someone or something is good and can be trusted: a strong belief in the importance of education 3 [C usually plural] an idea or set of ideas that you think are true: religious beliefs

THESAURUS faith, religion, creed → FAITH

4 beyond belief used to emphasize that something is very bad, good, strange, etc.: It seemed cruel beyond belief.

be-liev-a-ble /bə'livəbəl/ adj. able to be believed because it seems possible, likely, or real: There's not a single believable character in the book.

be-lieve /bə'liv/ v. 1 [T] to be sure that something is true or that someone is telling the truth: Do you believe her? | You shouldn't believe everything you read. | Young children often believe (that) animals can understand them. | I found his excuse hard to believe. ▶ Don't say "...no one believed in him." Say "...no one believed him." ◀ accept – to believe what someone says is true or right: His wife accepted his explanation for why he was late.

THESAURUS

take sb's word – to believe that what someone says is true: You don't have to take my word for it – go see for yourself.

swallow (informal) – to believe a story or explanation that is not actually true: Did he really think we'd swallow that story?

fall for sth (informal) – to be tricked into believing something that is not true: I can't believe she fell for that old excuse!

buy (informal) – to believe an explanation or reason for something: I don't buy it. He'd never make that kind of mistake.

give credence to sth (formal) – to accept something as true: The jurors gave credence to his testimony because of the details he remembered.

2 [T] to think that something is true, although you are not completely sure: I believe (that) she'll be back on Monday. | It is believed that the victim knew his killer. | Lane is believed to be about 60.

THESAURUS think, suspect, consider, figure, guess → THINK

3 [I] to have religious faith

SPOKEN PHRASES

4 [T] used in some phrases to show that you are surprised or shocked: I can't believe you lied to me! | Would you believe it, he even remembered my birthday! 5 believe it or not said when something is true but surprising: Believe it or not, we work hard around here.

[ORIGIN: Old English belefan, from lyfan, lefan “to allow, believe”]

B

believe in sth phr. v. 1 to be sure that something or someone definitely exists: Do you believe in ghosts? 2 to think that someone or something is good, important, or right: He believes in the democratic system.

be-liev-er /bə'livə/ n. [C] 1 someone who believes that a particular idea or thing is very good: I'm a firm/great believer in healthy eating. 2 someone who believes in a particular religion be-lit-tle /bɪ'lɪtl/ v. [T] (formal) to make someone or something seem small or unimportant: I don't like the way he belittles his children.

bell /bɛl/ n. [C] 1 a metal object that makes a ringing sound when you hit it or shake it: church bells | The bell rang for school to start. 2 a piece of electrical equipment that makes a ringing sound: We ran out of the classroom as soon as the bell rang. | She walked up the path and rang the door bell. [ORIGIN: Old English belle]

'bell bottoms n. [plural] a pair of pants with legs that are wide at the bottom

bel-li-cose /'bɛləkɒs/ adj. (literary) always wanting to fight or argue [SYN] aggressive: belli-cose behavior bel-lig-er-ent /bə'lɪdʒərənt/ adj. wanting to fight or argue —belligerence n. [U] bel-low /'bɛləʊ/ v. [I,T] to shout loudly in a deep voice: Tony was bellowing orders from upstairs.

THESAURUS shout, call (out), scream, shriek, yell, cry out, raise your voice, cheer, holler → SHOUT¹

'bell pepper n. [C] a hollow red, green, yellow, or orange vegetable, often used to add flavor in cooking [SYN] pepper

bel-ly /'bɛli/ n. (plural bellies) [C] (informal) 1 your stomach, or the part of your body between your chest and the top of your legs 2 go belly up (informal) to fail: The store went belly up last year.

'belly button n. [C] (informal) the small hole or raised place in the middle of your stomach [SYN] navel be-long /bɪ'lɒŋ/ v. [I] 1 to be in the right place or situation: Please put the chair back where it belongs. | Books like that don't belong in the classroom. 2 if you belong somewhere, you feel happy and comfortable there: I'm going back to Colorado where I belong.

belong to phr. v. 1 belong to sth to be a member of a group or organization: Mary and her husband belong to the yacht club. 2 belong to sb if something belongs to you, you own it: Who does this umbrella belong to?

be-long-ings /bɪ'lɒŋɪŋz/ n. [plural] the things that you own, especially things that you are carrying with you

THESAURUS property, possessions, things, stuff, effects, valuables → PROPERTY be-loved /bɪ'lʌvd, bɪ'lʌvɪd/ adj. (literary) loved very much: his beloved wife Kelly —beloved n. [singular]

be-low /bɪ'lou/ adv., prep. 1 in a lower place or position than someone or something else [ANT] above: Jake lives in the apartment below. | Can you read the writing below the picture? 2 less than a particular number or amount [ANT] above: Sales for this year are below last year's. | It was 10 below outside (=10 below zero in temperature). | Tom's spelling is well below average (=much worse than the normal standard). 3 on a later page, or lower on the same page [ANT] above: For more information, see below. 4 lower in rank [ANT] above: There are people below him to handle that type of thing.

belt¹ /bɛlt/ n. [C] 1 a band of leather or cloth that you wear around your waist → see picture at CLOTHES 2 a circular band of material, such as rubber, that moves parts of a machine: the car's fan belt 3 a large area of land that has particular qualities: America's farm belt 4 have sth under your belt to have already done something useful or important: At 25, she already has two novels under her belt. → SEAT BELT belt² v. [T] (informal) to hit someone or something hard belt sth ↔ out phr. v. to sing a song loudly belt-way /'bɛltˈweɪ/ n. [C] 1 a road that goes around a city, keeping traffic away from the center 2 the Beltway POLITICS the U.S. government in Washington, D.C., and the politicians, lawyers, LOBBYISTS, etc. who are involved in it; used in newspapers be-mused /bɪ'myuzd/ adj. slightly confused: a bemused expression bench¹ /bentʃ/ n. [C] 1 a long seat for two or more people, used especially outdoors: a wooden bench 2 the bench a) LAW the job of a judge in a court of law: He was appointed to the bench last year. b) LAW the place where a judge sits in court bench² v. [T] to make a sports player stay out of a game for a period of time bench-mark /'bentʃmark/ n. [C] something that is used for comparing and measuring other things: The test results provide a benchmark for measuring student achievement.

bend¹ /bend/ v. (past tense and past participle bent /bent/) [I,T] 1 to move a part of your body so that it is not straight, or so that you are not standing upright: He bent down/over to tie his shoelace. | Bend your knees slightly. → see picture at BOW¹ 2 to push or press something so that it is no longer flat or straight: First, the blacksmith heated the metal and then bent it into shape. 3 bend over backwards to try very hard to help someone: The neighbors bent over backwards to help when we moved into the house. 4 bend the rules to allow someone to do something that is not normally allowed: Can't we bend the rules just this one time? [ORIGIN: Old English bendan] bend² n. [C] a curve in something, especially a road or river: a sharp bend in the road

be-neath /br'niθ/ adv., prep. (formal) 1 under or below something: the warm sand beneath her feet 2 if someone or something is beneath you, you think that he, she, or it is not good enough for you: She seemed to think that talking to us was beneath her. [ORIGIN: Old English beneoþan, from neothan “below”] ben-e-dic-tion /,bənə'dɪkʃən/ n. [C] a prayer that asks God to protect and help someone ben-e-fac-tor /'bənə,fæktə/ n. [C] (formal) someone who gives money or help to someone else

ben-e-fi-cial /,bənə'fɪʃəl/ (Ac) adj. good or useful: The agreement will be beneficial to both groups. | Garlic has a beneficial effect in reducing harmful cholesterol. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin beneficium “kindness, favor,” from bene “well” + facere “to do”]

ben-e-fi-ci-ary /,bənə'fɪʃəri, -'fɪʃəri/ (Ac) n. (plural beneficiaries) [C] 1 someone who gets advantages from an action or change: The rich were the main beneficiaries of the tax cut. 2 LAW someone who gets money when someone dies: The estate will be divided between relatives and other beneficiaries.

ben-e-fit¹ /'bənəfɪt/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] the money or other advantages that you get from something such as insurance or the government, or as part of your job: The company provides medical benefits. | Social Security benefits 2 [C,U] an advantage, improvement, or help that you get from something: What are the benefits of contact lenses? | The new credit cards will be of great benefit to our customers. | Marc translated what the minister said for my benefit (=to help me). | Consumers will reap the benefits if the value of the yen continues to fall because electrical goods will be cheaper.

THESAURUS advantage, merit, good point, the great thing about ..., the pros and cons → ADVANTAGE

3 [C] a performance, concert, etc. that is done in order to make money for a CHARITY 4 give sb the benefit of the doubt to believe or trust someone, even though it is possible that s/he is lying or is wrong: His story was a little hard to believe, but I gave him the benefit of the doubt. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Anglo-French ben fet, from Latin bene factus “well done”] benefit² (Ac) v. (benefitted or benefited, benefiting or benefiting) [I,T] if you benefit from something or if it benefits you, it helps you: These policy changes mainly benefit small companies. | Most of these children would benefit from an extra year at school. | Local employers benefit by having a trained workforce.

be-nev-o-lent /bə'nɛvələnt/ adj. (formal) kind and generous [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin bene “well” + volens (present participle of velle “to wish”)] —benevolence n. [U] be-nign /br'nain/ adj. 1 (formal) kind and gentle 2 a benign TUMOR is not caused by CANCER (ANT) malignant bent¹ /bent/ v. the past tense and past participle of BEND bent² adj. 1 curved and no longer flat or straight: a bent nail

THESAURUS

twisted – bent in many directions or turned many times: a cable made of twisted strands of wire curved – bent in the shape of part of a circle, or having this shape: curved wooden coat hangers warped – bent or twisted into the wrong shape: The window frame was old and warped.

crooked – not straight, but bending sharply in one or more places: the crooked streets in the old part of the city wavy – having even curved shapes: She had wavy black hair.

2 be bent on (doing) sth to be determined to do something or have something: Mendez was bent on getting a better job.

bent³ n. [singular] a natural skill or ability: Rebecca has an artistic bent.

be-queath /br'kwɪθ, br'kwɪð/ v. [T] LAW to arrange for someone to get something that belongs to you after your death

THESAURUS give, donate, leave, present

→ GIVE¹

be-quest /br'kwɛst/ n. [C] LAW money or property that you bequeath to someone be-rate /bə'reɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to speak angrily to someone because s/he has done something wrong: Dunn berated Kelly in front of his staff.

B

B

be-reaved /bə'reɪvd/ adj. (formal) if someone is bereaved, someone s/he loves has died [ORIGIN: Old English beræfian, from reafian “to rob”] —bereavement n. [C,U] be-reft /bə'reft/ adj. (formal) completely without something: The refugees returned to the camp, their eyes bereft of all hope.

be-ret /bə'reɪ/ n. [C] a soft round hat that is almost flat → see picture at HAT ber-ry /'beri/ n. (plural berries) [C] one of several types of small soft fruits with very small seeds ber-serk /bə'sɜ:k, -'zɜ:k/ adj. go berserk (informal) to become very angry and violent in a crazy way [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Old Norse berserkr “wild fighter,” from björn “bear” + serkr “shirt”] berth /bəθ/ n. [C] 1 a place to sleep on a train or boat 2 a place near land where a ship can be kept be-ryl-li-um /bə'rɪliəm/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Be) a light strong gray metal that is an ELEMENT, used especially as a building material or mixed with other metals to make ALLOYS be-seech /br'si:tʃ/ v. (past tense and past participle besought /-'sɔt/ or beseeched) [T] (literary) to ask for something in an eager or anxious way be-set /br'set/ v. (past tense and past participle beset, present participle besetting) [T] (formal) to make someone have a lot of trouble or problems: The family was beset by financial difficulties.

be-side /br'saɪd/ prep. 1 next to or very close to someone or something: Gary sat down beside me. | a cabin beside the lake 2 used in order to compare two people or things: Pat looked big and clumsy beside her sister. 3 be beside the point to not be important compared to something else: “I’m not hungry.” “That’s beside the point; you need to eat!” 4 be beside yourself (with anger/fear/grief/joy etc.) to feel a particular emotion very strongly: Matt was beside himself with excitement. [ORIGIN: Old English be sidan “at or to the side”]

be-sides /br'saɪdz/ prep., adv. 1 in addition to something or someone: Besides going to college, she works 15 hours a week. | Who’s going to be there besides David and me? 2 (spoken) said when giving another reason: I wanted to help her out. Besides, I needed the money.

be-siege /br'si:dʒ/ v. 1 be besieged by people/worries/thoughts etc. to be surrounded by a lot of people, or to be very worried, etc.: a rock star besieged by fans 2 be besieged with letters/questions/demands etc. to receive a lot of letters, be asked a lot of questions, etc.: The radio station was besieged with letters of complaint. 3 [T] to surround a place with an army be-sought /br'sɔt/ v. the past tense and past participle of BESEECH

best¹ /best/ adj. [the superlative of “good”] better than anyone or anything else: the best player on the team | What’s the best way to get to El Paso? | The best thing to do is to stop worrying. | my best friend (=the one I know and like the most) [ORIGIN: Old English betst]

best² adv. [the superlative of “well”] 1 more than anyone else or anything else: Helene knows him best. | Which song do you like best? 2 in a way that is better than any other: It works best if you warm it up first. 3 as best you can (spoken) as well as you can: I’ll deal with the problem as best I can.

best³ n. 1 the best a) someone or something that is better than any others: Which motorcycle is the best? b) the most successful situation or results you can achieve: All parents want the best for their children. 2 do/try your best to try very hard to achieve something: I did my best, but I still didn’t pass. 3 to the best of your knowledge/belief/ability etc. used in order to say that something is as much as you know, believe, or are able to do: I’m sure he’ll do the work to the best of his ability. 4 at best used in order to emphasize that something is not very good, even when you consider it in the best possible way: At best, sales have been good but not great. 5 at your/its best performing as well or as effectively as you are able to: The movie shows Hollywood at its best. 6 make the best of sth to accept a bad situation and do what you can to make it better: It’s not going to be fun, but we’ll have to make the best of it. 7 be for the best used in order to say that a particular event may seem bad now, but might have a good result later: She’s upset that they broke up, but it’s probably for the best.

bes-tial /'bestʃəl, 'bis-/ adj. behaving like an animal, especially in a cruel way —bestially adv.

best 'man n. [singular] a friend of a BRIDEGROOM (=man who is getting married), who helps him to get ready and stands next to him during the wedding → WEDDING be-stow /br'stəʊ/ v. [T] (formal) to give someone something valuable or important best-sell-er /,best'selə/ n. [C] a new book that a lot of people have bought —best-selling adj. [only before noun]: a best-selling novel

THESAURUS blockbuster, hit, craze, fad, cult → POPULAR

bet¹ /bet/ v. (past tense and past participle bet, present participle betting) 1 [I,T] to risk money on the result of a race, game, competition, or other future event → GAMBLE: She bet all her money on a horse that came in last. | I bet him $20 that he wouldn’t do it.

SPOKEN PHRASES

2 I/I’ll bet a) said when you think something is true or likely to happen: I bet they’ll be late. | I’ll bet that made her mad! b) said in order to show that you agree with someone, or understand how s/he feels: “I was furious.” “I bet you were!” 3 you bet a) said in order to agree with someone, or to say that you are definitely going to do something: "Would you like to come?" "You bet!" b) used in order to reply to someone when s/he thanks you for something: "Thanks for all your help, Bob." "You bet."

bet² n. 1 [C] an agreement to risk money on the result of a race, game, competition, or other future event, or the money that you risk: Higgins had a bet on the World Series. | I lost/won the bet. | a $10 bet 2 your best bet (spoken) said in order to give someone advice about the best thing to do: Your best bet would be to take Highway 9. 3 a good/safe bet an action, situation, or thing that is likely to be successful or produce the results you want: The earrings seemed like a good bet for a birthday present.

be-ta par-ti-cle /'betə ,pɑ:tɪkəl/ n. [C] PHYSICS an ELECTRON given off by the NUCLEUS (=central part) of a RADIOACTIVE atom when it is breaking apart

beta ra-di-a-tion /,betə reɪdi'eɪʃən/ n. [U] PHYSICS a dangerous form of RADIATION that is produced when the NUCLEUS (=central part) of a RADIOACTIVE atom is breaking apart bet-cha /'betʃə/ a way of writing "bet you," used to show how people sound when they speak: Betcha I can run faster than you.

be-tray /brɪ'treɪ/ v. [T] 1 to behave dishonestly toward someone who loves you or trusts you: He felt that she had betrayed him. 2 to be disloyal to your country, company, etc., for example by giving secret information to its enemies 3 to show feelings that you are trying to hide: Keith's voice betrayed his nervousness.

be-tray-al /brɪ'treɪəl/ n. [C,U] the act of betraying your country, friends, or someone who trusts you bet-ter¹ /'betə/ adj. 1 [the comparative of "good"] higher in quality, or more useful, appropriate, interesting, etc. than something or someone else (ANT) worse: He's applying for a better job. | Your apartment is better than mine. | My sister's better at math than I am. | The Mexican place across the street has much better food. | Your English is getting better (=improving). 2 [the comparative of "well"] less sick than you were, or no longer sick (ANT) worse: He's much better today. | I hope your sore throat gets better soon. | Are you feeling better?

THESAURUS healthy, well, fine, in (good) shape, physically fit → HEALTHY

3 it is better/it would be better used in order to give advice: It's better to get a written agreement. | It would be better if you stayed here. 4 have seen better days (informal) to be in a bad condition: The sofa had definitely seen better days.

better² adv. [the comparative of "well"] 1 to a higher standard or degree: He can speak French a lot better than I can. | She knows this town better than you do. 2 better late than never used in order to say that it is better for something to happen late rather than not happen at all 3 the sooner/bigger etc. the better used in order to emphasize that something should happen as soon as possible, that it should be as big as possible, etc.: He needs a wife, and the sooner the better. 4 had better (do sth) a) used in order to say that you or someone else should do something: I think I'd better leave now. b) said when threatening someone: You'd better keep your mouth shut about this. 5 do better to perform better or reach a higher standard: We did better than all the other schools. → BETTER OFF better³ n. 1 the better the one that is the higher in quality, more appropriate, etc. when you are comparing two similar people or things: It's hard to decide which one is the better. 2 get the better of sb a) if a feeling gets the better of you, you do not control it when you should: His curiosity got the better of him and he opened the letter. b) to defeat someone 3 for the better in a way that improves the situation: Smaller classes are definitely a change for the better.

better⁴ v. [T] (formal) to achieve something that is higher in quality, amount, etc. than something else better 'off adj. 1 more successful, richer, or having more advantages than you did before: The more prepared you are, the better off you'll be. 2 sb is better off doing sth (spoken) said when giving advice about what someone should do: You're better off leaving before the traffic builds up.

be-tween¹ /brɪ'twɪn/ prep. 1 in or into the space or time that separates two things, people, events, etc.: Jay was sitting between Kate and Lisa. | You know I don't want you to eat between meals. → IN-BETWEEN 2 used in order to show a range of amounts, distances, times, etc.: Why don't you come over between seven and eight? | The project will cost between 10 and 12 million dollars. ▶ Don't say "between 10 to 12 million dollars." ◀ 3 used in order to show that something is divided or shared by two people, places, or things: We had about two loads of laundry between us. | Linda and Dave split a milkshake between them. 4 used in order to show a relationship between two people, things, events, etc.: What's the difference between the two computers? | Trade relations between the countries have improved. 5 used in order to show how two places are connected: the highway between Fresno and Visalia 6 between you and me (spoken) said before you tell someone a secret or a private opinion: Between you and me, I don't think she has a chance of getting that promotion. [ORIGIN: Old English betwēonum]

between² adv. in or into the space that separates two things, people, etc., or in or into the time that separates two events: two yards with a fence between

USAGE

Between and among are both used to talk about the position of someone or something. Use between when there is one other person or thing on each side of someone or something:

The store is between the bank and the post office.
Use among when there are two or more people or things around someone or something: I found the letter hidden among some old papers.

→ IN-BETWEEN

bev-er-age /'bevərɪdʒ, 'bevərɪdʒ/ n. [C] (formal) a drink: alcoholic beverages [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French beverage, from beivre “to drink,” from Latin bibere]

bev-y /'bevi/ n. (plural bevis) [C] a large group of people: a bevy of teenagers be-ware /br'weɪ/ v. [I,T] used in order to warn someone to be careful: Beware of the dog! [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 be + ware “careful” (11—19 centuries) (from Old English wær)]

be-wil-dered /br'wɪldəd/ adj. very confused and not sure what to do or think: a bewildered expression —bewilderment n. [U]

THESAURUS confused, puzzled, baffled → CONFUSED

be-wil-der-ing /br'wɪldərɪŋ/ adj. making you feel very confused: a bewildering number of choices be-witched /br'wɪtʃt/ adj. so interested in or attracted by someone or something that you cannot think clearly —bewitching adj.

be-yond /br'yənd/ prep., adv. 1 on or to the farther side of something: There was a forest

beyond the river. | a view from the mountains, with the plains beyond 2 later than a particular time, date, etc.: The ban has been extended beyond 2010. | planning for the year 2020 and beyond 3 more than a particular amount, level, or limit: The population has grown beyond estimated levels. 4 outside the range or limits of someone or something: an apple just beyond my reach | Chemistry was beyond my understanding. 5 beyond belief/doubt/recognition etc. used in order to say that you cannot believe something, doubt something, etc.: In just six years, the town had changed beyond all recognition. | The car has been damaged beyond repair. 6 it's beyond me why/what etc. (spoken) said when you do not understand something: It's beyond me why they ever got married at all. 7 used in order to mean “except” in negative sentences: Santa Fe doesn't have much industry beyond tourism.

bi-as /'bi:əs/ (Ac) n. [singular, U] an opinion about whether a person, group, or idea is good or bad, which influences how you deal with it: Some employers have a bias against women. | When analyzing data, you must avoid having a bias toward any particular result. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French biais, from Old Provençal] —bias v. [T]: The wording of a test question may bias the answer.

bi-ased /'bi:əst/ (Ac) adj. unfairly preferring one person or group over another: The referee was definitely biased. | biased news reporting

bib /bɪb/ n. [C] a piece of cloth that you tie under a baby's chin to protect his/her clothes while s/he eats bi-ble /ˈbaɪbəl/ n. [C] 1 the Bible the holy book of the Christian religion 2 a copy of the Bible [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French, Medieval Latin biblia, from Greek, plural of biblion “book”]

bib-li-cal, Biblical /ˈbɪblɪkəl/ adj. relating to the Bible bib-li-o-graph-ic /ˌbɪbliˈɡræfɪk/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS concerning books or articles written about a particular subject: Valuable bibliographic information can be found in the reading lists of reference books.

bib-li-og-ra-phy /ˌbɪbliˈɑːɡrəfi/ n. (plural bibliographies) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a list of all the books and articles used in the preparation of another book, or a list of books and articles on a particular subject bi-cen-ten-ni-al /ˌbaɪsənˈtenɪəl/ n. [C] the day or year exactly 200 years after an important event: the bicentennial of the Declaration of Independence

bi-cep /ˈbaɪseps/ n. [C usually plural] BIOLOGY the large muscle on the front of your upper arm bick-er /ˈbɪkər/ v. [I] to argue about something that is not very important: The kids were bickering about/over who would sleep in the top bunk.

THESAURUS argue, have an argument, fight, have a fight, quarrel, have a quarrel, squabble → ARGUE bi-con-di-tion-al /ˌbaɪkənˈdɪʃənəl/ n. [C] MATH a statement expressing two mathematical facts, one of which can be true only if the other one is true. It always contains the phrase “If and only if...” or the sign ↔. —biconditional adj.: a biconditional proposition bi-cus-pid valve /baɪˈkʌspɪd ˌvælv/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a small part on your heart between the left ATRIUM and the left VENTRICLE. It opens and closes to allow blood to flow from the atrium into the ventricle, and to prevent blood from flowing back into the atrium. → see picture at HEART bi-cy-cle /ˈbaɪsɪkl/ n. [C] a vehicle with two wheels, that you ride by pushing the PEDALS with your feet [SYN bike: She usually rides her bicycle to work.] [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 French, from bi- “two” + Greek kuklos “wheel”] bicycle ² v. [I] to go somewhere by bicycle [SYN bike]

bid /bɪd/ n. [C] 1 an offer to pay a particular price for something: They put in a bid for the house. 2 an offer to do work for someone at a particular price: The company accepted the lowest bid for the project. 3 an attempt to achieve or gain something: the mayor's successful bid for the Senate | The prisoners made a desperate bid to escape.

bid ² v. (past tense and past participle bid, present participle bidding) 1 [I,T] to offer to pay a particular price for something: Foreman bid $150,000 for an antique table. | The two men ended up bidding against each other at the auction. 2 [I] to offer to do work for someone at a particular price: Four companies were invited to bid for the contract. —bidder n. [C]: There are five bidders for the contract.

bid ³ v. (past tense bade /bæd, beɪd/ or bid, past participle bid or bidden /ˈbɪdn/, present participle bidding) (literary) bid sb good morning/goodbye etc. to say good morning, etc. to someone bid-ding /ˈbɪdɪŋ/ n. [U] 1 the activity of offering to pay a particular price for something, or offering to do work 2 do sb's bidding (literary) to do what someone tells you to do bide /baɪd/ v. bide your time to wait until the right time to do something bi-en-ni-al /baɪˈeniəl/ adj. happening once every two years [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin biennium “two-year period,” from bi- “two” + annus “year”] bi-fo-cals /ˈbaɪˌfəʊkəlz, baɪˈfəʊkəlz/ n. [plural] a pair of special glasses made so that you can look through the upper part to see things that are far away and through the lower part to see things that are close big /bɪɡ/ adj. (comparative bigger, superlative biggest) 1 more than average size or amount [ANT small: a big house | Los Angeles is the biggest city in California. | That boy gets bigger every time I see him.

THESAURUS

Big

large – big or bigger than usual in size or amount: the largest city in America | People are now watching the program in large numbers.

substantial – large in number or amount: He earns a substantial amount of money.

sizable – fairly large: a sizable crowd

Very Big

huge/enormous – extremely big: He died owing a huge sum of money. | an enormous tree vast – extremely big or large: The birds nest here in vast numbers.

gigantic – extremely big or tall: gigantic waves massive – very big, solid, and heavy: a massive stone fireplace immense – extremely large or great: We still have an immense amount of work to do.

colossal – very large: We have made a colossal mistake.

prodigious (formal) – very large in a surprising or impressive way: There is a prodigious amount of information available on the Internet.

Big and large mean the same thing, but large is slightly more formal: That's a big piece of cake! | It's the largest hotel in the city.

Use large, not big, to describe amounts: They have borrowed a large amount of money.
Use big, not large, to describe something that is important: a big opportunity | That's the big question.

B

THESAURUS fat, overweight, heavy, large, obese, chubby, plump, stout, corpulent, rotund → FAT¹

2 important or serious: a big decision | He has big plans for the house. | I'm having big problems with my PC. 3 successful or popular: The song was a big hit. | I knew I'd never make it big (=become very successful) as a professional golfer. 4 big sister/big brother (informal) your older sister or brother 5 [only before noun] (informal) doing something to a large degree: I've never been a big baseball fan. | Both the girls are big eaters (=they eat a lot). 6 big money/big bucks a lot of money: They are willing to pay big bucks to attract the best players. 7 be big on sth (spoken) to like something very much: I'm not big on kids.

big-a-my /'bɪgəmi/ n. [U] the crime of being married to two people at the same time —bigamist n. [C] —bigamous adj.

Big 'Apple n. the Big Apple (informal) a name for New York City

Big 'Bang n. the Big Bang PHYSICS a single very large explosion that many scientists believe started the universe, and from which pieces of MATTER are still traveling out into space big 'brother n. [C] any person, organization, or system that seems to control people's lives and restrict their freedom big 'business n. [U] ECONOMICS very large companies, considered as a group with a lot of influence big 'deal n. [singular] (spoken) 1 said when you do not think something is as important as someone else thinks it is: It's just a game. If you lose, big deal. | It's no big deal. Everybody forgets things sometimes. 2 an important event or situation: This audition is a big deal for Joey. 3 make a big deal of/out of/about sth to get too excited or upset about something, or make something seem more important than it is: She's making a big deal out of nothing.

Big 'Dipper n. [C] a group of seven bright stars seen in the northern sky in the shape of a bowl with a long handle big-gie /'bɪgi/ n. no biggie (spoken) said when something is not important, or when you are not upset or angry about something: "Oh, I'm sorry." "That's okay, no biggie."

'big government n. [U] POLITICS government, when people think it is controlling their lives too much big-head-ed /'bɪg,hɛdɪd/ adj. someone who is bigheaded thinks s/he is better than other people

'big-league adj. (informal) belonging or relating to the MAJOR LEAGUES

'big mouth n. [C] (informal) someone who cannot be trusted to keep secrets big 'name n. [C] a famous person, especially an actor, musician, etc. —big name adj.

big-ot /'bɪgət/ n. [C] someone who is bigoted → PREJUDICE¹ big-ot-ed /'bɪgətɪd/ adj. having strong opinions that most people think are unreasonable, especially about race, religion, or politics big-ot-ry /'bɪgətɪ/ n. [U] bigoted behavior or beliefs: religious bigotry

THESAURUS prejudice, racism, discrimination, intolerance, sexism, homophobia, anti-Semitism → PREJUDICE¹

'big shot n. [C] (informal) someone who is very important or powerful big-'ticket adj. very expensive: big-ticket items such as houses and cars

'big time¹ adv. (spoken) a lot or very much: He messed up big time.

'big time² n. the big time (informal) the position of being very famous or important: The author has finally hit the big time. —big-time adj. [only before noun]: big-time drug dealers

big-wig /'bɪgwɪg/ n. [C] (informal) an important person

bike¹ /baɪk/ n. [C] (informal) 1 a bicycle: The kids were riding their bikes. | Do you want to go for a bike ride? 2 a MOTORCYCLE

bike² v. [I] to ride a bicycle bik-er /'baɪkə/ n. [C] someone who rides a MOTORCYCLE

bi-ki-ni /brɪ'kɪni/ n. [C] a piece of clothing in two parts, that women wear for swimming [ORIGIN: 1900–2000 French Bikini Atoll, after a nuclear bomb test was held there in 1946] bi-lat-er-al /baɪ'lætərəl/ adj. bilateral agreement/treaty etc. an agreement, etc. between two groups or countries: bilateral Mideast peace talks —bilaterally adv.

bi,lateral 'symmetry n. [U] BIOLOGY a quality that some animals, including humans, have, which means that they have two very similar sides. For example, humans have an arm and a leg on each side, an eye on each side, and so on.

bile /baɪl/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a liquid produced by the LIVER to help the body DIGEST food bi-lin-gual /bar'ɪŋgwəl/ adj. 1 able to speak two languages: Their children are completely bilingual. 2 written or spoken in two languages: a bilingual dictionary bilk /bɪlk/ v.

bilk sb out of sth phr. v. (informal) to trick someone, especially by taking his/her money (SYN) swindle

bill¹ /bɪl/ n. [C] 1 a written list showing how much you have to pay for services you have received, work that has been done, etc.: I have to remember to pay the phone bill this week. | The bill for the repairs came to $600.

THESAURUS

check – a bill that you are given in a restaurant: Can I have the check, please?

invoice – a document that shows how much you owe for goods, work, etc.: Payment is due ten days after receipt of the invoice.

tab – an amount of money that you owe for a meal or drinks you have had, but have not yet paid for: I ordered a rum and Coke and had the bartender put it on my tab.

2 a piece of paper money: a ten-dollar bill

THESAURUS money, coin, penny, nickel, dime, quarter, cash, change, currency → MONEY

3 a plan for a law, that is written down for a government to decide on: The House of Representatives passed a new gun-control bill (=made it a law). 4 fit/fill the bill to be exactly what you need: This car fits the bill perfectly. 5 a program of entertainment at a theater, concert, etc., with details of who is performing, what is being shown, etc. 6 a wide or long beak on a bird such as a duck [ORIGIN: (1) 1300–1400 Medieval Latin billa, from Latin bullā “bubble, seal added to a document”] → foot the bill at FOOT² bill² v. [T] 1 to send a bill to someone: They’ve billed me for things I didn’t order. 2 bill sth as sth to advertise or describe something in a particular way: The boxing match was billed as “the fight of the century.”

bill-board /ˈbɪlbɔːrd/ n. [C] a very large sign used for advertising, especially next to a road

THESAURUS advertisement, commercial, poster, want ads/classified ads, flier, junk mail, spam → ADVERTISEMENT

bill-fold /ˈbɪlfəʊld/ n. [C] a WALLET

bill-liards /ˈbɪlyɑːdz/ n. [U] a game like POOL, in which the balls go into the holes in a special order [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French billard “(stick used in) billiards,” from bille “piece of wood, stick”]

bil-lion /ˈbɪljən/ number (plural billion or billions) 1,000,000,000: $7 billion | Billions of dollars have been invested. —billionth number bill of 'rights n. [singular] 1 POLITICS an official written list of the most important rights of the citizens of a country 2 the Bill of Rights HISTORY the first ten AMENDMENTS to the U.S. Constitution, that state the basic rights of U.S. citizens

bil-low /ˈbɪləʊ/ v. [I] 1 if something made of cloth billows, it moves in the wind and fills with air: Her long skirt billowed in the breeze. 2 if a cloud or smoke billows, it rises in a round mass bim-bo /ˈbɪmbəʊ/ n. (plural bimbos) [C] (informal) an insulting word meaning an attractive but stupid woman [ORIGIN: 1900–2000 Italian “baby”] bi-month-ly /baɪˈmʌnθli/ adj., adv. happening or being done every two months, or twice each month: a bimonthly magazine bin /bɪn/ n. [C] a large container for storing things bi-na-ry /ˈbaɪnəri/ adj. the binary system IT a system of counting, used in computers, in which only the numbers 0 and 1 are used binary 'compound n. [C] CHEMISTRY a substance consisting of only two different types of atom

bind¹ /baɪnd/ v. (past tense and past participle bound /baʊnd/) 1 [T] to tie something firmly with string or rope: His legs were bound with rope. 2 [T] also bind together to form a strong relationship between two people, countries, etc.: Religious belief binds this remote community together. 3 [T] if you are bound by an agreement or promise, you must do what you agreed or promised to do: Each country is bound by the treaty. 4 [I,T] BIOLOGY to stick together in a mass, or to make small pieces of something stick together: The hydrogen molecule binds with the oxygen molecule. 5 [T] to fasten the pages of a book together and put them in a cover: The book was printed and bound in Spain.

bind² n. [C] an annoying or difficult situation: I’m so mad at him for putting me in this bind!

bind-er /ˈbaɪndə/ n. [C] a cover for holding loose sheets of paper, magazines, etc. together bind-ing¹ /ˈbaɪndɪŋ/ adj. a contract or agreement that is binding must be obeyed: The contract isn’t binding until you sign it.

binding² n. 1 [C] the cover of a book 2 [U] material sewn along the edge of a piece of cloth for strength or decoration binge /bɪndʒ/ n. [C] (informal) a short period of time when you do too much of something, especially drinking alcohol: He went on a drinking binge last week. —binge v. [I]: Whenever she’s depressed, she binges on chocolate.

bin-go /ˈbɪŋɡəʊ/ n. [U] a game played for money or prizes in which you win if a set of numbers chosen by chance are the same as one of the lines of numbers on your card bin-oc-u-lars /bɪˈnɒkjələz, baɪ-/ n. [plural] a pair of special glasses that you hold up and look through to see things that are far away [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 binocular “using both eyes” (18–21 centuries), from Latin bini “two by two” + oculus “eye”] bi-no-mi-al /baɪˈnɒmiəl/ n. [C] MATH a mathematical expression that has two parts connected by the sign + or the sign –, for example $3x + 4y$ or $x - 7$ —binomial adj.: a binomial expression bi,nomial 'nomen,clature n. [singular,U] BIOLOGY a system of naming animals, plants, and other living things with a scientific word consisting of two separate parts. The first part of the word is the GENUS (=group of related animals, plants, etc., which do not breed), and the second part is the SPECIES (=group of animals, plants, etc. which breed and produce new animals, plants, etc.).

B

bi-o-chem-is-try /,baɪoʊ'kɛmɪstri/ n. [U] the scientific study of the chemistry of living things —biochemist n. [C] —biochemical /,baɪoʊ'kɛmɪkəl/ adj.: a complex biochemical process bi-o-de-grad-a-ble /,baɪoʊdɪ'greɪdəbəl/ adj. BIOLOGY a material, product, etc. that is biodegradable is able to change or decay naturally so that it does not harm the environment: Most plastic is not biodegradable. → ENVIRONMENT

bi-o-di-ver-sity /,baɪoʊdɪ'vɜ:səti, -daɪ-/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the number and variety of different plants, animals, and other living things in a particular place: The loss of biodiversity will weaken the ecosystem. | the biodiversity of the forest bi-o-fuel /'baɪoʊ,fyul, -fyuəl/ n. [C,U] a substance produced from plants or other natural matter, that can be used as the FUEL for a car, truck, etc.

bi-og-ra-pher /baɪ'agrəfə/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS someone who writes a biography of someone else bi-og-ra-phy /baɪ'agrəfi/ n. (plural biographies) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a book about a person's life: a biography of Louis Armstrong → BOOK¹ [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Late Greek biographia, from Greek bios “life” + -graphia “writing”] bi-ol-o-gi-cal /,baɪə'lɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. 1 relating to the natural processes performed by living things: a biological process 2 [only before noun] relating to biology: the biological sciences 3 biological weapons/warfare/attack etc. weapons, attacks, etc. that involve the use of living things, including BACTERIA, to harm people —biologically adv.

bi-ol-o-gy /baɪ'ælədʒi/ n. [U] the scientific study of living things [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 German biologie, from Greek bios “life” + -logia “study”] —biologist n. [C] bi-o-mass /'baɪoʊ,mæs/ n. [U] 1 BIOLOGY the total number or weight of animals, plants, or other living things within a particular environment 2 BIOLOGY plant and animal matter, especially waste from farming, that can be used to provide power or energy: biomass fuels bi-o-met-ric /,baɪə'metrɪk/ adj. biometric equipment measures things such as a person's IRIS (=the colored part of the eye) or FINGERPRINTS, and can be used to check who someone is, for example when s/he shows a PASSPORT at an airport: Biometric technology, including fingerprint and iris scanners, is being installed at all major airports.

bi-op-sy /'baɪ,əpsi/ n. (plural biopsies) [C] BIOLOGY a medical test in which cells, TISSUE, etc. are removed from someone's body in order to find out more about a disease s/he may have bi-o-tech-nol-o-gy /,baɪoʊtɛk'nɒlədʒi/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the use of living things such as cells and BACTERIA in science and industry to make drugs, chemicals, etc.

bi-par-ti-san /baɪ'pɑ:tɪzən/ adj. POLITICS involving two political parties, especially parties with completely different opinions or beliefs: The Senate is close to reaching a bipartisan agreement on the bill.

birch /bɜ:tʃ/ n. [C,U] a tree with BARK like paper that comes off easily, or the wood of this tree bird /bɜ:d/ n. [C] an animal with wings and feathers that lays eggs and can usually fly [ORIGIN: Old English bridd] → early bird at EARLY¹, kill two birds with one stone at KILL¹

'bird-brained adj. (informal) silly or stupid

bird-ie /'bɜ:di/ n. [C] (informal) a small light object that you hit over the net in the game of BADMINTON

'bird of 'prey n. (plural birds of prey) [C] any bird that kills other birds and small animals for food bird-seed /'bɜ:dsɪd/ n. [U] a mixture of seeds for feeding birds

'bird's eye 'view n. [singular] a view from a very high place: a bird's eye view over the city

birth /bɜ:θ/ n. 1 give birth if a woman gives birth, she produces a baby from her body: Jo gave birth to a baby girl at 6:20 a.m. 2 [C,U] the time when a baby comes out of its mother's body: The baby weighed 7 pounds at birth. | What is your birth date (=the date on which you were born)? 3 [U] someone's family origin: Her grandfather was French by birth. 4 the birth of sth the time when something begins to exist: the birth of a nation [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old Norse byrth]

'birth certificate n. [C] an official document that shows when and where you were born

'birth control n. [U] the practice of controlling the number of children you have, or the methods used (SYN) contraception

birth-day /'bɜ:θdeɪ/ n. [C] the date on which someone was born, usually celebrated each year: When is your birthday? | It's my 18th birthday next week. | a birthday present/card/party | Happy Birthday! (=said to someone on his/her birthday)

birth-mark /'bɜ:θmɑ:k/ n. [C] a permanent mark on someone's skin that s/he has had since birth birth-place /'bɜ:θpleɪs/ n. [C usually singular] the place where someone was born: Cézanne's birth-place birth-rate /'bɜ:θreɪt/ n. [C] the average number of babies born during a particular period of time in a country or area bis-cuit /'bɪskɪt/ n. [C] a type of bread that is baked in small round shapes bi-sect /'baɪsekt, baɪ'sekt/ v. [T] MATH to divide something, especially a line or angle, into two equal parts —bisection /'baɪ,sekʃən, baɪ'sekʃən/ n. [U]

bi-sec-tor /'baɪ,sektə/ n. [C] MATH a line that divides something into two equal parts: a perpendicular bisector (=line that crosses a line at 90 degrees and divides it into two equal parts) | an angular bisector (=line that divides an angle into two equal parts)

bi-sex-u-al /baɪ'sekʃuəl/ adj. sexually attracted to both men and women —bisexual n. [C] —bisexuality /baɪ'sekʃu'æləti/ n. [U] bish-op /'bɪʃəp/ n. [C] a Christian priest with a high rank who is in charge of the churches and priests in a large area [ORIGIN: Old English bis-ceop, from Late Latin episcopus, from Greek episkopos "person in charge, bishop"] bi-son /'baɪsən/ n. (plural bison or bisons) [C] a BUFFALO

bit¹ /bɪt/ n. [C]

1 SMALL PIECE a small piece of something: The floor was covered with tiny bits of glass. | I tore the letter to bits (=into small pieces) and threw it away.

2 COMPUTER IT the smallest unit of information that can be used by a computer → BYTE

3 TOOL the sharp part of a tool for cutting or making holes: a drill bit

4 HORSE a piece of metal that is put in the mouth of a horse to control its movements [ORIGIN: (3) Old English bita "piece bitten off, small piece of food"]

bit² /bɪt/ adv., pron (informal) 1 a (little) bit slightly, but not very: I'm a little bit tired. | Enrollment is down a bit from last year. 2 quite a bit a fairly large amount: He owes me quite a bit of money. 3 a bit of sth a small amount of a particular quality or thing: We just need a bit of luck. 4 a bit a short amount of time: We'll talk about the Civil War in just a bit. 5 bit a bit gradually: I could see that she was learning, bit by bit. 6 every bit as... just as: Ray was every bit as good-looking as his brother.

bit³ v. the past tense of BITE

bitch /bɪtʃ/ n. [C] a female dog

bite¹ /baɪt/ v. (past tense bit /bɪt/, past participle bitten /'bɪtən/, present participle biting) 1 [I,T] to cut or crush something with your teeth: The dog bit him and made his hand bleed. | I had just bitten into the apple. | I wish I could stop biting my nails (=biting the nails on my fingers). 2 [I,T] if an insect or snake bites you, it injures you by making a hole in your skin → STING: I think I've been bitten. | She was bitten by a rattlesnake. 3 bite the bullet to start dealing with a bad situation because you can no longer avoid it: I finally bit the bullet and called her. 4 bite sb's head off (spoken) to speak to someone very angrily, especially when there is no good reason to do this: I asked if she wanted help, and she bit my head off! 5 bite your tongue to not say what you really think, even though you want to 6 bite the dust (informal) to die, fail, be defeated, or stop working 7 bite off more than you can chew to try to do more than you are able to do 8 [I] to start having the effect that was intended, especially a bad effect: The new tobacco taxes have begun to bite. 9 [I] if a fish bites, it takes food from a hook [ORIGIN: Old English bitan] bite² n. [C] 1 the act of cutting or crushing something with your teeth: He took a bite of the cheese. 2 a wound made when an animal or insect bites you → STING: I'm covered in mosquito bites! 3 a bite (to eat) (informal) a quick meal: We can grab a bite at the airport before we go.

'bite-size also 'bite-sized adj. the right size to fit in your mouth easily: bite-size pieces of chicken bit-ing /'baɪtɪŋ/ adj. 1 a biting wind feels very cold 2 biting criticism or remarks are very unkind bit-map /'bɪt,mæp/ (written abbreviation BMP) n. [C] IT a computer image that is stored or printed as an arrangement of BITS bit-ten /'bɪtən/ v. the past participle of BITE

bit-ter /'bɪtə/ adj. 1 angry and upset because you feel something bad or unfair has happened to you: I feel very bitter about what happened. | a bitter old man 2 [only before noun] making you feel very unhappy and upset: a bitter disappointment | She knew from bitter experience that they wouldn't agree. 3 a bitter argument, battle, etc. is one in which people oppose or criticize each other with strong feelings of hate or anger: a bitter legal battle over custody of the children 4 having a strong taste, like coffee without sugar 5 extremely cold: a bitter wind | We had to walk home in the bitter cold.

THESAURUS cold, cool, chilly, frosty, freezing (cold), icy (cold), frigid → COLD¹

6 to/until the bitter end continuing until the end even though this is difficult: We will fight until the bitter end to defend our land. —bitterness n. [U] bit-ter-ly /'bɪtəli/ adv. 1 with a lot of anger or sadness: I was bitterly disappointed. 2 bitterly cold very cold bit-ter-sweet /'bɪtə'swi:t/ adj. feelings, memories, or experiences that are bittersweet are happy and sad at the same time: a bittersweet goodbye bi-valve /'baɪ,vælv/ n. [C] BIOLOGY any sea animal that has two shells that join together, for example an OYSTER bi-week-ly /baɪ'wikli/ adj., adv. happening or being done every two weeks, or twice a week: a biweekly meeting bi-zarre /bɪ'zɑː/ adj. very unusual and strange: His increasingly bizarre behavior is starting to worry me.

THESAURUS strange, funny, peculiar, curious, mysterious, odd, weird, eccentric → STRANGE¹

blab /blæb/ v. (blabbed, blabbing) [I] (spoken) to talk too much about something, often something that should be secret: This is not something you go blabbing to your friends about.

B

blab-ber-mouth /'blæbər,mauθ/ n. [C] (spoken) someone who always talks too much and often says things that should be secret

B

black¹ /blæk/ adj. 1 having a color that is darker than every other color, like the sky at night: a black dress | Outside, it was pitch black (=completely dark). 2 also Black someone who is black has dark skin, and is from a family that was originally from Africa → AFRICAN AMERICAN 3 black coffee does not have milk in it: I take my coffee black. 4 sad and without hope for the future: a mood of black despair 5 black humor/comedy humor that makes jokes about serious subjects [ORIGIN: Old English blæc] —blackness n. [U] black² n. 1 [U] the color of the sky at night: She was wearing black (=dressed in black clothing). 2 [C] also Black someone who has dark skin, and whose family originally came from Africa 3 be in the black ECONOMICS to have money in your bank account (ANT) be in the red black³ v.

black out phr. v. to suddenly become unconscious: Sharon blacked out and fell to the floor.

black and blue adj. skin that is black and blue has BRUISES (=dark marks) on it as a result of being hit or injured: Her leg was black and blue where she had fallen.

black and white adj. 1 showing pictures of images in black, white, and gray (ANT) color: old black and white movies 2 in black and white a) written or printed: The rules are there in black and white. b) in a very simple way, as if there are clear differences between good and bad: He tends to see the issues in black and white.

black belt n. [C] a high rank in JUDO or KARATE, or someone who has this rank black-ber-ry /'blæk,beri/ n. (plural blackberries) [C] a very sweet black or dark purple BERRY black-bird /'blækbɜ:d/ n. [C] a common American and European bird, the male of which is completely black black-board /'blækbɔ:d/ n. [C] a board with a dark smooth surface, usually in a school, that you write on with CHALK black box n. [C] a piece of equipment on an airplane, that records what happens on a flight and can be used to discover the cause of accidents black e'conomy n. the black economy ECONOMICS business activity that takes place secretly, especially in order to avoid tax black-en /'blækən/ v. 1 [I,T] to become black, or to make something black: Smoke had blackened the kitchen walls. 2 blacken sb's name/character/reputation etc. to say unpleasant things about someone so that other people will have a bad opinion of him/her black 'eye n. [C] if you have a black eye, you have a dark area around your eye because you have been hit black-head /'blækhəd/ n. [C] a small spot on someone's skin that has a black center black 'hole n. [C] PHYSICS an area in space where the force of GRAVITY is so strong that light and MATTER cannot escape. A black hole forms when a star stops existing. → SPACE¹

black-jack /'blækdʒæk/ n. [U] a card game, usually played for money, in which you try to get as close to 21 points as possible black-list /'blæk,lɪst/ v. [T] to put someone or something on a list of people or things that are considered bad or dangerous: More than 200 people in the movie industry were blacklisted during the McCarthy era. —blacklist n. [C]

black 'magic n. [U] magic that is believed to use the power of the Devil for evil purposes

THESAURUS magic, witchcraft, sorcery, spell, curse, the occult, voodoo → MAGIC¹

black-mail /'blækmeɪl/ n. [U] the practice of making someone do what you want by threatening to tell secrets about him/her [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 black + mail "payment" (11—20 centuries) (from Old Norse mal "speech, agreement")] —blackmail v. [T] —blackmailer n. [C]

black 'market n. [C] ECONOMICS the system by which people illegally buy and sell foreign money, goods, etc. that are difficult to obtain: These rare animals are being sold on the black market. | a black market in foreign currency

black-out /'blækaut/ n. [C] 1 a period of darkness caused by a failure of the electricity supply: Several neighborhoods in the San Francisco area experienced blackouts last night. 2 if someone has a blackout, s/he becomes unconscious 3 also news blackout a situation in which particular pieces of news or information are not allowed to be reported black 'sheep n. [C usually singular] someone who is regarded by other members of his/her family as a failure or embarrassment: My sister's the black sheep of the family.

black-smith /'blæksmɪθ/ n. [C] someone who makes and repairs things made of iron black-'tie adj. a party or social event that is black-tie is one at which you have to wear formal clothes black-top /'blæktɒp/ n. [C,U] the thick black substance used for covering roads

blad-der /'blædə/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the part of your body that holds URINE until it is passed out of your body → see picture at ORGAN

blade /bleɪd/ n. [C] 1 the flat cutting part of a knife, tool, or weapon: The blade is sharp. | razor blades 2 a leaf of grass or a similar plant 3 the flat wide part of an OAR, PROPELLER, etc. [ORIGIN: Old English blæd] blah¹ /bla/ adj. (spoken) 1 not very interesting or exciting: The color of the walls is kind of blah. 2 slightly sick or unhappy: I feel really blah today.

blah² n. blah, blah, blah (spoken) said when you do not want to say or repeat something because it is boring: Oh, you know Michelle; it's blah, blah, blah about her kids all the time.

blame¹ /bleɪm/ v. [T] 1 to say or think that someone is responsible for something bad: Don't blame me – it's not my fault. | Mom blamed herself for Keith's problems. | The accident was blamed on pilot error. | More than one person may be to blame for the fire. 2 I don't blame you/them etc. (spoken) said when you think it was right or reasonable for someone to do what s/he did: I don't blame her for not letting her kids see that movie!

blame² n. [U] responsibility for a mistake or for something bad: Because she's the older child, she usually gets the blame. | You can't expect Terry to take all the blame. | Fans often place/put/lay the blame on (=say that something is someone's fault, often when this is not true) the coach when the team fails to win.

blameless /'bleɪmlɪs/ adj. not guilty of anything bad: blameless behavior

blanch /blæntʃ/ v. [I] (literary) to become pale because you are afraid or shocked bland /blænd/ adj. 1 without any excitement, strong opinions, or special character: bland TV shows 2 bland food has very little taste: bland cheese

THESAURUS sweet, tasty, sour, salty, hot, spicy → TASTE¹ blan-dish-ments /'blændɪʃmənts/ n. [plural] (formal) nice things that you say in order to persuade or influence someone blank¹ /blæŋk/ adj. 1 without any writing, print, or recorded sound: a blank sheet of paper | Are there any blank tapes?

THESAURUS empty, bare, free, vacant → EMPTY¹

2 go blank a) to be suddenly unable to remember something: My mind went blank as I stood up to speak. b) to stop showing any images, writing, etc.: The screen suddenly went blank. 3 showing no expression, understanding, or interest: I said hello, and she gave me a blank look [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French blanc “white”] blank² n. [C] 1 an empty space on a piece of paper, where you are supposed to write a word or letter: Fill in the blanks on the application form. 2 a CARTRIDGE (=container for a bullet in a gun) that has an explosive but no bullet: The police were only firing blanks. —blankness n. [U]

blank 'check n. [singular] 1 a check that has been signed but has not had the amount written on it 2 (informal) the authority to do whatever you want, without any limits: Congress gave President Johnson a blank check to wage war in Vietnam.

blanket¹ /'blæŋkɪt/ n. 1 [C] a heavy cover that keeps you warm in bed 2 [singular] (literary) a thick covering of something: a blanket of snow on the mountains [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 blanket “white cloth” (13—15 centuries), from Old French blankete, from blanc “white”] blanket² adj. blanket statement/rule/ban etc. a statement, rule, etc. that affects everyone or includes all possible cases: The government imposed a blanket ban on the trade in ivory.

blanket³ v. [T] to cover something with a thick layer: The mountains were blanketed in snow.

blank-ly /'blæŋkli/ adv. in a way that shows no expression, understanding, or interest: He was staring blankly at the wall.

blank verse n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS poetry that has a particular RHYTHM, but does not RHYME: Much of Shakespeare's plays are written in blank verse.

blare /bleɪ/ v. [I,T] to make a very loud unpleasant noise: blaring horns | a radio blaring out music —blare n. [singular] blasé /blə'zeɪ/ adj. not worried or excited about things that most people think are important, impressive, etc.: He's very blasé about money now that he's got that job.

blas-phe-mous /'blæsfəməs/ adj. showing disrespect for God or people's religious beliefs: The church has condemned the painting as blasphemous. | a blasphemous book

blas-phe-my /'blæsfəmi/ n. [U] something you say or do that is insulting to God or to people's religious beliefs —blaspheme /blæs'fɪm, 'blæsfɪm/ v. [I,T]

blast¹ /blæst/ n. [C] 1 a sudden strong movement of wind or air: a blast of icy air 2 an explosion: The blast was heard three miles away. | a bomb blast 3 a blast (spoken) an enjoyable and exciting experience: We had a blast at Mitch's party. 4 full blast as strongly, loudly, or fast as possible: She had the TV on full blast. 5 a sudden very loud noise: a trumpet blast

blast² v. 1 [I,T] to break something into pieces using explosives: They blasted a tunnel through the side of the mountain. 2 [I,T] also blast out to produce a lot of loud noise, especially music: Dance music blasted out from the stereo. 3 [T] to attack a place or person with bombs or large guns: Two gunmen blasted their way into the building. 4 [T] to criticize something very strongly: The President's remarks were quickly blasted by Democratic leaders.

blast off phr. v. if a SPACECRAFT blasts off, it leaves the ground

'blast-off n. [U] the moment when a SPACECRAFT leaves the ground

blas-tu-la /'blæstʃələ/ n. [C] BIOLOGY an EMBRYO (=a person or animal that has not yet been born) in the early stage of its development, when it is a hollow ball of cells bla-tant /'blɛɪtənt/ adj. very noticeable and offensive: blatant discrimination —blatantly adv.

blaze¹ /bleɪz/ v. [I] to burn or shine very brightly and strongly: a fire blazing in the fireplace blaze² n. [singular] 1 the strong bright flames of a fire: Several firefighters were injured in the blaze.

THESAURUS fire, flames, inferno, bonfire, campfire → FIRE¹

2 a very bright light or color: a blaze of sunshine 3 (in a) blaze of glory/publicity receiving a lot of praise or public attention: He launched the new magazine in a blaze of publicity. [ORIGIN: (1, 2) Old English blæse "torch"] blaz-er /'bleɪzə/ n. [C] a suit JACKET (=piece of clothing like a short coat) without matching pants: *a wool blazer [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 blaze; from the originally bright colors of blazers] blaz-ing /'bleɪzɪŋ/ adj. 1 extremely hot: a blazing summer day 2 burning strongly: a blazing fire 3 full of strong emotions, especially anger: blazing eyes bleach¹ /blɪtʃ/ n. [U] a chemical used in order to make things white or to kill GERMS bleach² v. [T] to make something white or lighter by using chemicals or the light of the Sun: bleached hair bleach-ers /'blɪtʃəz/ n. [plural] rows of seats where people sit to watch sports bleak /blik/ adj. 1 without anything to make you feel happy or hopeful: Without a job, the future can seem bleak. 2 cold and unpleasant: a bleak November day [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old Norse bleikr "pale, white"] —bleakness n. [U] blear-y /'bliəri/ adj. unable to see clearly because you are tired or have been crying: Sam woke up looking bleary-eyed. —blearily adv.

bleat /blɪt/ v. [I] to make the sound that a sheep or goat makes —bleat n. [C]

bleed /blɪd/ v. (past tense and past participle bled /bled/) [I] to lose blood, especially from an injury: Your nose is bleeding. | He bled to death after being shot in the stomach. [ORIGIN: Old English bledan, from blod "blood"] —bleeding n. [U]: The bleeding had almost stopped.

blem-ish /'blɛmɪʃ/ n. [C] a small mark that spoils the appearance of something or someone: a small blemish on her cheek [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French blemir "to make pale, injure"] —blemished adj.

THESAURUS bruise, scar, pimple, zit, wart, blister, freckle, mole → MARK²

blend¹ /blend/ v. [I,T] 1 to mix together soft or liquid substances to form a single smooth substance: Blend the eggs with the sugar.* | Stir in the sauce and blend well.

THESAURUS mix, combine, stir, beat → MIX¹

2 to combine different things in a way that is attractive or effective: a story that blends fact and fiction 3 ENG. LANG. ARTS to combine parts of two words to make a new word: The words "breakfast" and "lunch" were blended to produce "brunch." 4 ENG. LANG. ARTS to combine two or more sounds together in a word [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old Norse blanda] blend in phr. v. if something blends in with the things around it, it looks similar and you do not notice it: curtains that blend in with the wallpaper blend² n. [C] 1 a mixture of two or more things: the right blend of sunshine and soil for growing grapes

THESAURUS mixture, combination, compound, solution → MIXTURE

2 ENG. LANG. ARTS a combination of parts of two words to make a new word: "Smog" is a blend of "smoke" and "fog." 3 ENG. LANG. ARTS a combination of two or more sounds within a word: The word "broil" contains the consonant blend "br" and the vowel blend "oi."

blend-er /'blendə/ n. [C] a small electric machine that you use to mix liquids together, or to make soft foods more liquid bless /bles/ v. [T] 1 bless you (spoken) said when someone SNEEZES 2 to ask God to protect someone or something: May God bless you and keep you safe from harm. 3 to make something holy: The priest blessed the bread and wine. 4 be blessed with sth to have a special ability, good quality, etc.: I'm blessed with good eyesight. 5 bless him/her etc. (spoken, old-fashioned) said in order to show that you like someone or are pleased by something s/he has done bless-ed /'blesɪd/ adj. 1 [only before noun] enjoyable or desirable: a moment of blessed silence 2 (formal) holy and loved by God: the Blessed Virgin Mary bless-ing /'blesɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] something good that improves your life and makes you happy: The rain was a real blessing after all that heat. 2 [U] someone's approval or encouragement for a plan, activity, etc.: She left home with her parents' blessing. 3 a mixed blessing something that is both good and bad: Living close to the office was a mixed blessing. 4 a blessing in disguise something that seems to be bad but that you later realize is good: The lack of tourism on the island could be a blessing in disguise. 5 [singular, U] protection and help from God, or the prayer in which you ask for this: The priest gave the blessing.

blew /blu/ v. the past tense of BLOW blight /blaɪt/ n. [singular, U] something that damages or spoils something else, or the condition of being damaged or spoiled: an area suffering from urban blight (=severe problems that only a city has) —blight v. [T] blight-ed /'blaɪtɪd/ adj. damaged or spoiled: the blighted downtown area

blimp /blɪmp/ n. [C] an aircraft without wings that looks like a very large BALLOON

blind¹ /blaɪnd/ adj. 1 unable to see: My grandmother is almost totally blind. | People with the disease often go blind (=become blind). 2 the blind people who cannot see: special facilities for the blind 3 blind faith/obedience/trust etc. (disapproving) strong feelings that you have, without thinking about why you have them: the army's blind obedience to the emperor 4 be blind to sth to completely fail to notice or realize something: He was blind to the faults of his own children. 5 turn a blind eye (to sth) to ignore something that you know should not be happening: Teachers were turning a blind eye to smoking in the school. 6 blind corner/bend/curve a corner, bend, etc. that you cannot see around when you are driving [ORIGIN: Old English] —blindness n. [U]

blind² v. [T] 1 to make someone unable to see, either permanently or for a short time: The deer was blinded by our headlights. 2 to make someone unable to notice or realize the truth about something: Being in love blinded me to his faults.

blind³ n. [C] a piece of cloth or other material that you can pull down to cover a window → VENETIAN BLIND blind 'date n. [C] a DATE (=romantic meeting) arranged between a man and a woman who have not met each other before blind-fold /'blaɪndfəʊld/ n. [C] a piece of cloth that you use to cover someone's eyes so that s/he cannot see —blindfold v. [T] blind-ing /'blaɪndɪŋ/ adj. [usually before noun] a blinding light/flash etc. a very bright light that makes you unable to see for a short time blind-ly /'blaɪndli/ adv. 1 (disapproving) not thinking about something or trying to understand it: Don't just blindly accept what you are told. 2 not seeing or noticing what is around you: She sat staring blindly out the window.

THESAURUS bright, strong, brilliant, dazzling, glaring → BRIGHT

blind-side /'blaɪndsaɪd/ v. [T] (informal) to hit the side of a car with your car in an accident

'blind spot n. [C] 1 something that you are unable or unwilling to understand: He has a blind spot when it comes to his daughter's problems. 2 the part of the road that you cannot see in front of you or in your mirrors when you are driving a car: The other car was right in my blind spot.

bling /blɪŋ/ also bling 'bling n. [U] (informal) expensive things such as jewelry that are worn to be noticed blink¹ /blɪŋk/ v. 1 [I,T] to close and open your eyes quickly: He blinked as he stepped out into the sunlight. 2 [I] if a light blinks, it goes on and off continuously: The answering machine light was blinking.

blink² n. 1 in the blink of an eye very quickly: With email, we can send messages across the globe in the blink of an eye. 2 on the blink (informal) not working correctly: The radio's on the blink again.

blink-ers /'blɪŋkəz/ n. [plural] the small lights on a car that flash to show which direction you are turning blip /blɪp/ n. [C] 1 a flashing light on the screen of a piece of electronic equipment 2 (informal) a sudden and temporary change from the way something normally happens: This month's rise in prices could be just a blip.

bliss /blɪs/ n. [U] perfect happiness —blissful adj. —blissfully adv. → ignorance is bliss at IGNORANCE

blis-ter /'blɪstə/ n. [C] a painful swollen area on the skin containing a clear liquid, caused by a burn or by being rubbed too much: New shoes always give me blisters. —blister v. [I,T]

THESAURUS blemish, bruise, scar, pimple, zit, wart, freckle, mole → MARK²

blis-ter-ing /'blɪstərɪŋ/ adj. 1 extremely hot: blistering summer days 2 blistering attack/criticism etc. very angry and disapproving remarks blithe /blaɪð, blaɪθ/ adj. seeming not to care or worry about the effects of what you do: the blithe

B

assumption that he would always have a job —blithely adv.: They blithely ignored the danger.

blitz /blɪts/ n. [C] 1 a situation when you use a lot of effort to achieve something, often in a short time: an advertising blitz 2 a sudden military attack, especially from the air —blitz v. [T]

B

bliz-zard /'blɪzəd/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a long heavy storm with a lot of wind and snow

THESAURUS snow, snowflakes, sleet, slush, frost → SNOW¹

bloat-ed /'bləʊtɪd/ adj. looking or feeling larger than usual because of being too full of water, food, gas, etc.: I feel bloated after that meal.

blob /blab/ n. [C] a small drop of a thick liquid: a blob of paint bloc /blak/ n. [C] a large group of people or countries with the same political aims, working together: the liberal bloc in Congress block¹ /blak/ n.

1 STREETS/AREA [C] a) the distance along a city street from where one street crosses it to the next: We're just two blocks from the bus stop. b) a square area of houses or buildings formed by four streets: Let's walk around the block. | We were the first family on our block to get a swimming pool.

2 SOLID MATERIAL [C] a solid piece of wood, stone, etc.: a block of concrete | The baby was playing with wooden blocks.

THESAURUS piece, scrap, chunk, lump, fragment, crumb, slice, strip → PIECE¹

3 RELATED GROUP [C] a group of things of the same kind or an amount of something, considered as a single unit: We were given a block of shares in the company. | Jason says he can get a block of seats (=seats next to each other) for the concert.

4 a block of time a length of time that is not interrupted by anything: Set aside a block of time to do your homework.

5 UNABLE TO THINK [singular] the temporary loss of your normal ability to think, learn, write, etc.: I can never remember his name – I must have a mental block. | After her first novel, she had writer's block (=she could not write anything).

6 STOPPING MOVEMENT [C] something that makes it difficult to move or progress → ROADBLOCK: The incident could be a block to the peace process.

7 SPORTS [C] a movement in sports that stops an opponent going forward or moving the ball forward block² v. [T] 1 to prevent people or things from moving through or along a space: A fallen tree was blocking the road. | It looks like the sink is blocked. | I tried to get through, but there were too many people blocking my way. | blocked arteries 2 to be in front of someone so that s/he cannot see something: A tall man in front of me was blocking my view. 3 to stop something happening, developing, or succeeding: Why did the council block the plan? 4 to stop a ball, a blow, etc. from getting to where your opponent wants it to go: He also blocked 4 shots and scored 6 rebounds block sth ↔ off phr. v. to close a road or path so that people cannot use it: The freeway exit has been blocked off.

block sth ↔ out phr. v. 1 to stop light from reaching a place: Heavy curtains blocked out the light. 2 to stop yourself from thinking about or remembering something: Carrie hears what she wants to hear and blocks out the rest. 3 to decide that you will use a particular time only for a particular purpose: I try to block out four hours a week for research.

block-ade /blɑ'keɪd/ n. [C] the action of surrounding an area with soldiers or ships, to stop people or supplies leaving or entering a place: a naval blockade —blockade v. [T] block-age /'blakɪdʒ/ n. [C] something that is blocking a pipe, tube, etc.: a blockage in the drain block-bust-er /'blak,bʌstə/ n. [C] (informal) a book or movie that is very successful: the latest Hollywood blockbuster

THESAURUS bestseller, hit, craze, fad, cult → POPULAR

'block, party n. [C] a party that is held in the street for all the people living in the area blog /blag/ n. [C] a website that is made up of information about a particular subject, in which the newest information is always at the top of the page → INTERNET —blogger n. [C] blonde¹, blond /blænd/ adj. 1 blonde hair is pale or yellow 2 someone who is blonde has pale or yellow hair blonde² n. [C] (informal) a woman who has pale or yellow hair: a good-looking blonde blood /blʌd/ n. [U] 1 the red liquid that your heart pumps through your body: She lost a lot of blood in the accident. | The Red Cross is asking people to give/donate blood (=have blood taken from them for the medical treatment of other people). → see picture at BLEED 2 in cold blood in a cruel and deliberate way: He murdered the old man in cold blood. 3 the family or group to which you belong from the time you are born: There's French blood on his mother's side. | a blood relative (=related by birth, not by marriage) 4 new blood new members in a group or organization who bring new ideas and energy: We need some new blood in the department. 5 be/run in sb's blood to be a strong and natural part of someone's character: A love of politics was in his blood. 6 bad blood feelings of anger and hate between people: There's been bad blood between them for years. 7 -blooded having a particular type of blood: Fish are cold-blooded. [ORIGIN: Old English blod]

'blood-and-guts adj. (informal) full of action and violence: a blood-and-guts horror movie

'blood bank n. [C] a place where human blood is kept to be used in hospital treatment blood-bath /'blʌdbæθ/ n. [singular] the violent killing of many people at the same time blood-curdling /'blʌd,kɜːdlɪŋ/ adj. extremely frightening: a bloodcurdling scream blood-hound /'blʌdhaʊnd/ n. [C] a large dog with a very good sense of smell blood-less /'blʌdlɪs/ adj. 1 without killing or violence: a bloodless revolution 2 extremely pale: bloodless cheeks

'blood pressure n. [U] BIOLOGY the force with which blood moves around your body: a special diet for people with high/low blood pressure blood-shed /'blʌdʃed/ n. [U] the killing of people in fighting or a war blood-shot /'blʌdʃat/ adj. bloodshot eyes look slightly red blood-stain /'blʌdstein/ n. [C] a mark or spot of blood —bloodstained adj.

blood-stream /'blʌdstrim/ n. [singular] BIOLOGY blood as it flows around the body: Drugs were found in her bloodstream.

blood-thirsty /'blʌdθɜːsti/ adj. eager to kill and wound, or enjoying killing and violence: a cruel and bloodthirsty ruler who slaughtered men, women and children

'blood type n. [C] BIOLOGY one of the groups into which human blood is divided, including A, B, AB, and O

'blood vessel n. [C] BIOLOGY one of the tubes through which blood flows in your body blood-y /'blʌdi/ adj. 1 covered in blood, or losing blood: a bloody nose 2 with a lot of injuries or killing: a bloody civil war

bloom¹ /blʊm/ n. [C,U] a flower or flowers: lovely yellow blooms | roses in bloom (=with flowers completely open) bloom² v. [I] 1 if a plant or flower blooms, its flowers appear or open 2 to look happy and healthy or successful: Sheila bloomed like a woman in love.

bloom-er /'blʊmə/ n. late bloomer (informal) someone who grows or becomes successful at a later age than most people bloop-er /'blʊpə/ n. [C] (informal) an embarrassing mistake made in front of other people blos-som¹ /'blɒsəm/ n. [C,U] a flower, or all the flowers on trees or bushes: peach blossoms → see picture at PLANT¹ blossom² v. [I] 1 if trees blossom, they produce flowers: a blossoming plum tree 2 to become happier, more beautiful, or successful: By the end of the year she had blossomed into an excellent teacher.

blot¹ /blat/ v. (blotted, blotting) [T] to dry a wet surface by pressing soft paper or cloth on it blot sth ↔ out phr. v. 1 to cover or hide something completely: Black clouds blotted out the sun. 2 to forget something, often deliberately: He tried to blot out the memory of that night.

blot² n. [C] a mark or spot that spoils something or makes it dirty: ink blots blotch /blatʃ/ n. [C] a pink or red mark on the skin, or a colored mark on something —blotchy adj.

'blotting paper n. [U] soft paper used for drying wet ink on a page blouse /blaʊs/ n. [C] a shirt for a woman or girl: a summer blouse

blow¹ /blʊ/ v. (past tense blew /blu/, past participle blown /blʊn/)

1 WIND MOVING [I] if wind or air blows, it moves: A cold wind was blowing from the east.

2 WIND MOVING STH [I,T] to move in the wind, or to make something move somewhere in the wind: Her hair was blowing in the breeze. | My ticket blew away. | Hundreds of trees were blown down in the storm. | The wind must have blown the door shut/open.

3 USING YOUR MOUTH [I,T] to push air through your mouth: Renée blew on her soup to cool it a little. | I hate people who blow smoke in your face.

4 VIOLENCE [T] to damage or destroy something violently with an explosion or by shooting: Part of his leg had been blown off. | A bomb like that would blow the building to bits/pieces.

5 blow your nose to clear your nose by forcing air through it into a cloth or TISSUE (=piece of soft paper)

6 blow sth (up) out of (all) proportion to make something seem much more serious or important than it is: The health risks had been blown out of proportion.

7 MAKE A SOUND [I,T] to make a sound by pushing air into a whistle, horn, or musical instrument: I could hear the train whistle blowing.

8 ELECTRICITY STOPS [I,T] if an electrical FUSE blows, or a piece of electrical equipment blows a FUSE, the electricity suddenly stops working

9 blow the whistle (on sb) (informal) to tell the public or someone in authority about something wrong that is happening: He blew the whistle on his colleagues.

SPOKEN PHRASES

10 LOSE AN OPPORTUNITY [T] (informal) to lose a good opportunity, by making a mistake or being careless: I blew it by talking too much in the interview. | We've blown our chances of getting that contract.

11 LEAVE [T] (spoken) to leave a place quickly: Let's blow this joint (=leave this place).

12 SPEND MONEY [T] (informal) to spend a lot of money at one time in a careless way: I blew all the money I won on a trip to Hawaii.

13 sth blows your mind (informal) to make you feel very surprised and excited about something: Seeing her again really blew my mind.

[ORIGIN: Old English blawan]

blow sb ↔ away phr. v. (spoken)

1 to completely surprise someone: It just blows me away how friendly the islanders are.

2 to kill someone by shooting him/her with a gun: One move and I'll blow you away!

3 to defeat someone completely, especially in a game: The Lakers blew the competition away.

blow in phr. v.

1 also blow into sth (informal) to arrive in a place, especially suddenly: Guess who's just blown into town?

2 if a storm or bad weather blows in, it arrives and begins to affect an area blow sb/sth ↔ off phr. v. (spoken) to treat someone or something as unimportant, for example by not meeting someone or not going to an event: I blew off my 8 a.m. class again. | She blew us off and went out with Jim instead.

blow sth ↔ out phr. v.

1 to blow air on a flame and make it stop burning: Blow out all the candles.

2 if a tire blows out, it bursts blow over phr. v.

1 if an argument or a bad situation blows over, it does not seem important anymore or is forgotten: Many people expected the scandal to blow over in a few days.

2 if a storm blows over, it comes to an end blow up phr. v.

1 blow (sth ↔) up to destroy something, or to be destroyed, by an explosion: A car was blown up near the embassy. | Their plane blew up in mid-air.

2 blow sth ↔ up to fill something with air or gas: Come and help me blow up the balloons.

3 to shout angrily at someone: She blew up at me for no reason.

4 blow sth ↔ up if you blow up a photograph, you make it larger: I'd like to have this picture blown up.

blow² n. [C] 1 something very sad and disappointing that happens to you: Not getting the job was a blow to Kate's confidence. | The death of their father was a terrible blow. 2 a hard hit with a hand, tool, or weapon: The victim suffered several blows to the head. 3 the act of blowing air out of your mouth: One blow and the candles were out. 4 come to blows if two people come to blows, they start hitting each other: They almost came to blows over the money.

blow-by-blow adj. a blow-by-blow account/description etc. a description of an event, that gives all the details exactly as they happened

'blow dry v. (blow-dried, blow-dries) [T] to dry hair and give it shape by using a blow dryer

'blow dryer n. [C] a small electric machine that you hold and use to blow hot air onto your hair in order to dry it blown /bloun/ v. the past participle of BLOW blow-out /'blouaʊt/ n. [C] (informal) 1 an occasion when a TIRE bursts suddenly as a vehicle is moving 2 a big expensive meal or a large party blow-torch /'blou,tɔrtʃ/ n. [C] a piece of equipment that produces a small very hot flame, used especially to remove paint

'blow-up n. [C] 1 a photograph, or part of a photograph, that has been made larger 2 (informal) a sudden loud argument

BLT n. [C] a SANDWICH that contains BACON, LETTUCE, and TOMATO blub-ber¹ /'blʌbər/ n. [U] the fat of sea animals, especially WHALES blubber² v. [I] (informal) to cry loudly, especially in a way that annoys people blud-geon /'blʌdʒən/ v. [T] to hit someone many times with a heavy object: He was bludgeoned to death with a hammer.

blue¹ /blu/ adj. 1 having the same color as a clear sky during the day: the blue lake water | a dark/light blue dress 2 [not before noun] (informal) sad: I've been feeling kind of blue lately.

THESAURUS sad, unhappy, miserable, sorrowful, depressed, down, low, downhearted, melancholy, morose, gloomy, glum → SAD

3 do sth till you're blue in the face (informal) to do something a lot but without achieving what you want: You can argue till you're blue in the face, but I won't change my mind. → once in a blue moon at ONCE¹

blue² n. 1 [C,U] the color of the sky on a clear day: Carolyn's the one dressed in blue. | I like the rich greens and blues of the painting. 2 blues also the blues [plural] ENG. LANG. ARTS a slow and sad style of music that came from the African-American culture in the southern U.S.: a blues singer 3 out of the blue (informal) suddenly and without warning: The letter came completely out of the blue. 4 have/get the blues (informal) to feel sad blue-bell /'blubəl/ n. [C] a small plant with blue flowers that grows in the forest blue-ber-ry /'blu,beri/ n. (plural blueberries) [C] a small dark blue round BERRY: blueberry muffins

blue-bird /'blu,bɜ:d/ n. [C] a small North American wild bird that sings and has a blue back and wings

'blue-'blooded adj. belonging to a royal or NOBLE family —blue-blood n. [U]

'blue book n. [C] 1 a book with a blue cover, that is used in colleges for writing answers to test questions 2 a book with a list of prices that you should expect to pay for any used car

'blue 'cheese n. [C,U] a strong-tasting pale cheese with blue spots in it

'blue chip adj. blue chip companies/shares etc. companies or STOCKS that are very unlikely to lose money [ORIGIN: 1900—2000 blue chip “blue counter of high value used in gambling” (1900—2000)]

blue-collar adj. [only before noun] blue-collar workers do physical work, rather than working in offices → WHITE-COLLAR blue-grass /'bluɡræs/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a type of COUNTRY MUSIC from the southern and western U.S., using string instruments such as the VIOLIN or BANJO blue-jay /'bludʒeɪ/ n. [C] a common North American wild bird that has blue, black, and white feathers

'blue law n. [C] (informal) a law that controls activities that are considered immoral, such as drinking alcohol, working on Sundays, etc.

blue 'movie n. [C] a movie that shows a lot of sexual activity blue-print /'blu,prɪnt/ n. [C] 1 a plan for achieving something: a blueprint for health care reform 2 a print of a plan for a building, machine, etc. on special blue paper blue 'ribbon n. [C] a small piece of blue material given to someone who wins a competition

'blue shift n. [U] PHYSICS a change in the light given off by an object in space such as a star, in which the light appears more blue as the object is moving toward the person looking at it → RED SHIFT

Blue-tooth /'blutuθ/ n. [U] (trademark) IT a type of TECHNOLOGY that uses radio to allow electronic equipment such as a CELL PHONE and a computer to work together without a wire connecting them bluff /blʌf/ v. [I,T] to pretend that you are going to do something or that you know something, in order to get what you want: I don't believe you – I think you're bluffing!

bluff n. 1 [C,U] an attempt to make someone believe that you are going to do something when you do not really intend to: He threatened to resign, but I'm sure it's a bluff. 2 call sb's bluff to tell someone to do what s/he threatens because you believe s/he has no intention of doing it 3 [C] EARTH SCIENCES a very steep cliff or slope: the bluffs near the river

blun-der /'blʌndə/ n. [C] a careless or stupid mistake: a terrible political blunder blunder v. [I] 1 to make a careless or stupid mistake: Police admitted that they blundered when they let Wylie go. 2 to move forward in an unsteady way, as if you cannot see well blunt /blʌnt/ adj. 1 speaking in an honest way even if it upsets people → BLUNTLY: Did you have to be so blunt?

THESAURUS honest, frank, candid, direct, upfront, straight, straightforward, forthright → HONEST

2 not sharp or pointed (ANT) sharp: a blunt knife → see picture at SHARP —bluntness n. [U] blunt v. [T] to make something less strong: attempts to try to blunt the impact of anti-smoking laws blunt-ly /'blʌntˈli/ adv. speaking in a direct honest way that sometimes upsets people: To put it bluntly, you're failing the class.

blur /blɜː/ n. [singular] something that you cannot see clearly or cannot remember clearly: a blur of horses running past | The days following the accident were all a blur.

blur v. (blurred, blurring) [I,T] 1 to become difficult to see, or to make something difficult to see, because the edges are not clear: Tears blurred my vision. | The coastline was blurred by fog. 2 to make the difference between two ideas, subjects, etc. less clear: Computers have blurred the distinction between learning and play. —blurry adj.: blurry photos blurb /blɜːb/ n. [C] a short description giving information about a book, new product, etc.

blurred /blɜːd/ adj. 1 not clear in shape, or making it difficult to see shapes: a blurred image 2 difficult to understand or remember clearly: blurred memories blurt /blɜːt/ also blurt out v. [T] to say something suddenly and without thinking, usually because you are nervous or excited: She blurted out the news before I could stop her.

blush /blʌʃ/ v. [I] to become red in the face, usually because you are embarrassed: Carlos blushes every time he talks to her. [ORIGIN: Old English blyscan “to become red,” from blysa “flame”] blush n. 1 [C] the red color on your face that appears when you are embarrassed, confused, or ashamed 2 [U] also blusher cream or powder used for making your cheeks slightly red or pink blus-ter /'blʌstə/ v. [I] to talk loudly and behave as if what you are doing is extremely important bluster n. [U] noisy proud talk blus-ter-y /'blʌstəri/ adj. blustery weather is very windy: a blustery winter day

Blvd. the written abbreviation of BOULEVARD

B-mov-ie /'biˌmuvi/ n. [C] a movie that is made cheaply and is of low quality

B.O., BO /biˈou/ n. [U] (spoken) body odor a bad smell from someone's body, caused by SWEAT bo-a con-strict-or /'boʊə kənˌstriktə/ n. [C] a large snake that is not poisonous, but kills animals by crushing them boar /bɔːr/ n. [C] 1 a male pig 2 a wild pig

B

board¹ /bɔːd/ n.

1 FOR INFORMATION [C] a flat wide piece of wood, plastic, etc. where information is written or shown → BLACKBOARD, BULLETIN BOARD: The teacher wrote a list of words on the board. | Remember to check the board for dates and times.

2 FOR PUTTING THINGS ON [C] a flat piece of wood, plastic, etc. that you use for a particular purpose: a cutting board | Where's the chessboard?

3 GROUP OF PEOPLE [C] a group of people in an organization who make the rules and important decisions: *the local school board | a board meeting | a board of directors

4 FOR BUILDING [C] a long thin flat piece of wood used for making floors, walls, fences, etc.

5 on board on an airplane, ship, etc.: There were over 1,000 passengers on board.

6 take sth on board to accept a suggestion, idea, etc. and do something about it: We'll try to take some of your points on board.

7 across the board affecting everyone or everything: Prices have been reduced across the board.

8 MEALS [U] the meals that are provided for you when you pay to stay somewhere: Room and board at the college is $4,000 per semester.*

board² v. [I,T] 1 to get on an airplane, ship, train, etc. in order to travel somewhere: We invite our first-class passengers to board the plane now. 2 be boarding if an airplane or ship is boarding, passengers are getting on it: Flight 503 for Toronto is now boarding.

board sth ↔ up phr. v. to cover a window or door with wooden boards: The house next door has been boarded up for months.

board-er /'bɔːdər/ n. [C] someone who pays to live in another person's house with some or all of his/her meals provided

'board game n. [C] any indoor game in which pieces are moved around a specially designed board made of thick CARDBOARD or wood

'boarding house n. [C] a private house where you pay to sleep and eat

'boarding pass n. [C] a card that you must show before you get on an airplane or a ship

'boarding school n. [C] a school where students live as well as study board-room /'bɔːdrʊm/ n. [C] a room where the important people in a company have meetings board-walk /'bɔːdwɜːk/ n. [C] a raised path made of wood, usually built next to the ocean boast¹ /bəʊst/ v. 1 [I] to talk too much about your own abilities and achievements in a way that annoys other people (SYN brag: Scott was boasting about winning the game. 2 [T] if a place boasts something good, the place has it: The new athletic center boasts an Olympic-sized swimming pool.

boast² n. [C] something you like telling people because you are very proud of it boast-ful /'bəʊstfəl/ adj. talking too much about your own abilities and achievements —boastfully adv.

boat /bəʊt/ n. 1 [C] a vehicle that travels across water → SHIP: fishing boats | You can only get to the island by boat. 2 be in the same boat (as sb) to be in the same unpleasant situation as someone else: We're all in the same boat, so stop complaining. [ORIGIN: Old English bat] → miss the boat at MISS¹, rock the boat at ROCK²

'boat people n. [plural] people who escape from bad conditions in their country in small boats bob¹ /bɒb/ v. (bobbed, bobbing) [I] to move up and down on water: a boat bobbing up and down on the water

bob² n. [C] a way of cutting straight hair so that it hangs to the level of your chin and is the same length all the way around your head → see picture on page 462 bob-bin /'bɒbɪn/ n. [C] a small round object that you wind thread onto bob-by pin /'bɒbi pɪn/ n. [C] a thin piece of metal that you use to hold your hair in place bob-cat /'bɒbkæt/ n. [C] a North American wild cat that has no tail bob-sled /'bɒbsled/ n. [C] a small vehicle with two long thin metal blades that is used for racing down a special ice track —bobsled v. [I] bode /bəʊd/ v. bode well/ill (literary) to be a good or bad sign for the future bod-ice /'bɒdɪs/ n. [C] the part of a woman's dress above her waist bod-i-ly¹ /'bɒdi-li/ adj. [only before noun] relating to the human body: bodily functions (=things your body does, especially going to the toilet) | He did not suffer any bodily harm.

bodily² adv. by moving all of your body or someone else's body: She had to be carried bodily to bed.

bod-y /'bɒdi/ n. (plural bodies)

1 PHYSICAL BODY [C] a) the physical structure of a person or animal: a strong healthy body | Your body temperature is higher in the daytime than at night. → see picture on page A3 b) the central part of a person or animal's body, not including the head, arms, legs or wings: a creature with a short body and long legs c) the body of a dead person: The body of a girl had been found in the river.

2 GROUP OF PEOPLE [C] a group of people who work together for a particular purpose: the governing body of a university | the president of the student body (=all the students in a school or college)

3 body of sth a) a large amount of information, knowledge, etc.: He produced a body of work comparable with many of the jazz greats. | A growing body of evidence suggests that the girl committed suicide. b) the main part of something: The arguments are explained in the body of the text.

4 HAIR [U] if your hair has body, it is thick and healthy

5 -bodied a) having a particular type of body: thick-bodied men b) having a particular amount of taste: full-bodied red wine

6 VEHICLE [C] the main structure of a vehicle, not including the engine, wheels, etc.: The body of the airplane was not damaged. [ORIGIN: Old English bodig]

'body ,building n. [U] an activity in which you do hard physical exercise in order to develop big muscles —body builder n. [C] body-y-guard /'badi,gard/ n. [C] a person whose job is to protect an important person

'body ,language n. [U] movements that you make without thinking, that show what you are feeling or thinking: I could tell from his body language that he was nervous.

'body ,odor n. [U] B.O.

body-y-work /'badi,wɜ:k/ n. [U] the frame of a vehicle, not including the engine, wheels, etc.

bog¹ /bag, bɒg/ n. [C,U] EARTH SCIENCES an area of wet muddy ground bog² v. (bogged, bogging) get/be bogged down (in sth) to become too involved in thinking about or dealing with one particular thing, so that you are not able to make any progress: Let's not get bogged down in minor details.

bo-gey-man /'bɒgi,mæn/ n. (plural bogeymen /-mən/) [C] 1 an evil spirit, especially in children's imagination or stories 2 someone who people think is evil or unpleasant bog-gle /'bagəl/ v. the mind boggles/sth boggles the mind (informal) used in order to say that something is difficult to believe or very confusing: The paperwork you have to fill out just boggles the mind.

bo-gus /'bɒgəs/ adj. (informal) not true or real, although someone tries to make you think it is (SYN) fake: a bogus insurance claim [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 bogus "machine for making illegal money"] bo-he-mi-an /bou'himiən/ adj. living in a very informal or relaxed way and not accepting society's rules or behavior: a bohemian lifestyle [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Bohemian "of Bohemia, area and former country in the Czech Republic;" because of an association between Bohemia and traveling artists and gypsies] —bohemian n. [C]

boil¹ /bɔɪl/ v. [I,T] 1 if a liquid boils, or if you boil a liquid, it is hot enough for BUBBLES to rise to the surface and for the liquid to change to steam: Drop the noodles into boiling salted water. | Water boils at 100 degrees Centigrade. 2 to cook food in boiling water: Boil the vegetables for 10 minutes.

THESAURUS cook, bake, fry, roast, broil, grill, sauté, steam, deep fry → COOK¹

3 to clean something using boiling water: Boil the baby's bottles before using them. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French boillir, from Latin bullire, from bulla "bubble"]

boil down to sth phr. v. if a long statement, argument, etc. boils down to a single statement, that statement is the main point or cause: Think of the money you can make – that's what it all boils down to.

boil over phr. v. 1 to boil and flow over the sides of a pan 2 if a situation or emotion boils over, people begin to get angry boil² n. 1 [singular] the act or state of boiling: Bring the soup to a boil and cook for 5 minutes. | Wait until the water comes to a boil. 2 [C] a painful infected swelling under the skin boil-er /'bɔɪlə/ n. [C] a container for boiling water, that provides heat and hot water in a house or steam in an engine boil-ing /'bɔɪlɪŋ/ also ,boiling 'hot adj. extremely hot: It's boiling hot in here.

'boiling point n. [C] the temperature at which a liquid boils bois-ter-ous /'bɔɪstərəs, 'bɔɪstrəs/ adj. noisy and full of energy: boisterous children bold /boʊld/ adj. 1 confident and willing to take risks: Yamamoto's plan was bold and original.

THESAURUS brave, courageous, heroic, valiant, daring, fearless, intrepid → BRAVE¹

2 very clear and strong or bright: wallpaper with bold stripes 3 in bold (type/print/letters)

B

printed in letters that are darker and thicker than ordinary printed letters: All the headings are in bold. [ORIGIN: Old English beald] —boldly adv. —boldness n. [U]

B

bo-lo-gna /bə'loʊni/ n. [C] a type of cooked meat often eaten in SANDWICHES

bol-ster /'boʊlstə/ also bolster up v. [T] to improve something by giving support and confidence: She tried to bolster his confidence.

bolt¹ /boʊlt/ n. [C] 1 a piece of metal that you slide across a door or window to close or lock it → see picture at LOCK² 2 a screw with a flat head and no point, used with a NUT for fastening two pieces of metal together 3 bolt of lightning LIGHTNING that appears as a white line in the sky 4 a large long roll of cloth bolt² v. 1 [I] to run away suddenly: A gun fired, and the horse bolted.

THE SAURUS

run, sprint, dash, tear, race

→ RUN¹

2 [I,T] to close or lock a door or window with a bolt: Jason bolted the door and closed the curtains. 3 [I,T] to fasten two things together using a bolt: The bench is bolted to the sidewalk.

bolt³ adv. sit/stand bolt upright to sit or stand with your back very straight: Suddenly, Dennis sat bolt upright in bed.

bomb¹ /bʌm/ n. [C] 1 a weapon made of material that will explode: Bombs were dropped on the city. | The bomb went off/exploded near the airport. 2 (informal) a play, movie, etc. that is not successful 3 the bomb the ATOMIC BOMB or any NUCLEAR WEAPON 4 a container in which insect poison, paint, etc. is kept under pressure: a flea bomb (=used for killing FLEAS) [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French bombe, from Italian bomba]

bomb² v. 1 [T] to attack a place with bombs: Terrorists threatened to bomb the building. 2 [I,T] (spoken) to fail a test very badly: I bombed my history test. 3 [I] (informal) if a play, movie, or joke bombs, it is not successful bom-bard /bʌm'bɑːd/ v. [T] 1 to attack a place for a long time with guns and bombs: The town was bombarded from all sides. 2 to ask a lot of questions or give a lot of information or criticism, so that it is difficult for someone to deal with: Viewers bombarded the TV station with complaints. —bombardment n. [C] bom-bas-tic /bʌm'bæstɪk/ adj. (disapproving) bombastic language contains long words that sound important but have no real meaning bomb-er /'bʌmər/ n. [C] 1 an airplane that carries and drops bombs 2 someone who puts a bomb somewhere: a suicide bomber (=someone who carries a bomb and allows himself/herself to be killed when the bomb explodes) bomb-shell /'bʌmfɛl/ n. [C] (informal) a shocking piece of news: Last night, she dropped the bombshell and told him she wouldn't marry him.

bo-na fide /'boʊnə ,faɪd, 'bʌnə-/ adj. real, true, and not pretending to be something else: a bona fide job offer bo-nan-za /bə'nænzə, boʊ-/ n. [C] a lucky or successful situation in which people can make a lot of money: The discovery could represent an amazing cash bonanza. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Spanish "good weather," from Medieval Latin bonacia, changed from Latin malacia "calm at sea"]

bond¹ /bʌnd/ (AC) n. 1 [C] a shared feeling or interest that unites people: a strong bond of affection between the two women | Marilyn's bond with her mother was unusually strong. 2 [C] ECONOMICS an official document promising that a government or company will pay back money that it has borrowed, often with INTEREST: They invested in U.S. government bonds. 3 [C,U] LAW money given to a court of law so that someone can be let out of prison while s/he waits for his/her TRIAL (SYN bail): His lawyers posted the $100,000 bond, and he was released. 4 [C] CHEMISTRY a chemical force that holds atoms together in a MOLECULE: the atom's ability to form chemical bonds with other atoms

bond² v. 1 [I] to develop a special relationship with someone: It takes a few months for new mothers to bond with their babies. 2 [I,T] if two things bond to each other, they become firmly stuck together: A special glue strongly bonds the insulation to panels on the space shuttle.

bond-age /'bʌndɪdʒ/ n. [U] a situation in which people have no freedom → SLAVERY bond-ing /'bʌndɪŋ/ (AC) n. [U] 1 a process by which a special close relationship develops between people: the results of a four-year study into parent-infant bonding 2 male/female bonding (informal) the activity of doing things with other people of the same sex, so that you feel good about being a man or a woman 3 CHEMISTRY the joining together of two or more atoms: The drug chemically bonds with cells in the body to stop the virus spreading.

bone¹ /boʊn/ n. 1 [C] one of the hard parts that form the frame of a human or animal body: She broke two bones in her arm. | the thigh bone 2 make no bones about (doing) sth to not feel nervous or ashamed about doing or saying something: She makes no bones about her religious beliefs. 3 be chilled/frozen to the bone to be extremely cold 4 a bone of contention something that causes arguments between people [ORIGIN: Old English ban]

bone² v. [T] to remove the bones from fish or meat bone up on sth phr. v. (informal) to study something a lot for an examination: I should bone up on grammar before the test.

bone 'dry adj. completely dry

'bone marrow n. [U] BIOLOGY the soft substance in the hollow center of bones: a bone marrow transplant bon-fire /'bɒn,faiə/ n. [C] a large outdoor fire [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 bonfire “fire made from bones” (14—17 centuries)]

THESAURUS fire, flames, blaze, inferno, campfire → FIRE¹

bon-gos /'bɒŋgəʊz/ also 'bongo drums n. [plural] a pair of small drums that you play with your hands bon-kers /'bɒŋkəz/ adj. [not before noun] (informal) slightly crazy: I'd go bonkers if I had to stay at home with the kids all day.

bon-net /'bɒnɪt/ n. [C] a hat that ties under the chin, worn by babies and by women in the past bo-nus /'bɒnəs/ n. [C] 1 money added to someone's pay, especially as a reward for good work: a Christmas bonus | a $2,000 bonus

THESAURUS pay, income, salary, wages, earnings, remuneration → PAY²

2 something good that you did not expect in a situation: The fact that our house is so close to the school is a bonus. [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Latin “good”] bon-y /'bɒni/ adj. 1 very thin: a bony hand 2 full of bones: bony fish

boo¹ /bu/ v. [I,T] to shout “boo” to show that you do not like a person, performance, etc.

boo² n. (plural boos) [C] a noise made by people who do not like a person, performance, etc.

boo³ interjection a word you shout suddenly to someone to try to frighten him/her as a joke boob /bub/ n. [C] (slang) a woman's breast

'boo-boo n. [C] a silly mistake

'boob tube n. the boob tube (disapproving) television

'booby prize n. [C] a prize given as a joke to the person who is last in a competition

'booby trap n. [C] a hidden bomb that explodes when you touch something else that is connected to it —booby-trapped adj.

boog-ie man /'bʊgi ,mæn/ n. [C] a BOGEYMAN

book¹ /buk/ n. [C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS a set of printed pages held together in a cover so that you can read them: I'm reading a good book. | a book by William Faulkner | a book about photography | She wrote a book of short stories which was published last year.

THESAURUS

Types of books

nonfiction – books which describe real things or events fiction – books which describe imaginary events literature – fiction that people think is important reference book – a book such as a dictionary or encyclopedia that you look at to find specific information text book – a book that is used in the classroom hardcover/hardback – a book which has a hard stiff cover paperback – a book which has a soft cover novel – a book about imaginary events science fiction – a book about imaginary events in the future or space travel biography – a book about a real person's life, written by another person autobiography – a book about someone's life, written by that person himself or herself

2 a set of sheets of paper held together in a cover so that you can write on them: an address book 3 a set of things such as stamps, tickets, etc. held together inside a paper cover: a book of matches 4 books [plural] ECONOMICS written records of the financial accounts of a business 5 by the book exactly according to rules or instructions: They do everything strictly by the book. [ORIGIN: Old English boc] → throw the book at sb at THROW¹

book² v. 1 [T] to arrange for someone such as a speaker or singer to perform on a particular date: They have a speaker booked for next Tuesday. 2 [I,T] to arrange to stay at a hotel, fly on an airplane, etc. at a particular time in the future: I've booked a room for us at the Hilton. | The flight is fully booked (=has no seats left). 3 [T] to put someone's name officially in police records, with the charge made against him/her: Ramey was booked on suspicion of murder.

book-case /'bʊk-keɪs/ n. [C] a piece of furniture with shelves to hold books book-end /'bʊkɛnd/ n. [C] one of a pair of objects that you put at each end of a row of books to prevent them from falling book-ie /'bʊki/ n. [C] (informal) someone whose job is to collect money that people BET on a race, sport, etc. and who pays them if they win book-ing /'bʊkɪŋ/ n. [C] an arrangement in which a hotel, theater, etc. agrees to let you have a particular room, seat, etc. at a future time: Cheaper prices are available on early bookings.

book-keep-ing /'bʊk,ki:pɪŋ/ n. [U] the job or activity of recording the financial accounts of an organization —bookkeeper n. [C] book-let /'bʊklɪt/ n. [C] a very short book that contains information: a booklet on AIDS book-mark /'bʊkmark/ n. [C] 1 a piece of paper that you put in a book to show you the last page you have read 2 IT a way of saving the address of a page on the Internet so that you can find it easily book-shelf /'bʊkʃɛlf/ n. (plural bookshelves /-ʃɛlvz/) [C] a shelf on a wall, or a piece of furniture with shelves, used for holding books book-store /'bʊkstɔː/ n. [C] a store that sells books book-worm /'bʊkwɜːm/ n. [C] (informal, disapproving) someone who likes to read very much

B

boom¹ /bʊm/ n. [C] 1 ECONOMICS a sudden increase in business activity or the popularity of something (ANT) slump: a boom in sales | the economic boom of the 1950s 2 a loud deep sound that you can hear for several seconds after it begins: the boom of guns in the distance

boom² v. [I] 1 ECONOMICS if business or the economy is booming, it is very successful and growing quickly: We're happy to report that business is booming this year. 2 to make a loud deep sound —booming adj.: a booming economy

'boom box n. [C] (informal) a large radio and CD PLAYER, that you can carry with you boo-mer-ang /'bʊmə,ræŋ/ n. [C] a curved stick that comes back to you when you throw it

'boom town n. [C] (informal) a city that suddenly becomes very successful because of new industry boon /bʊn/ n. [C] something that is very useful and makes your life a lot easier: The new sports complex will be a great boon to the city.

boon-docks /'bʊndəks/ also boo-nies /'bʊniz/ n. (informal) the boondocks/boonies [plural] a place that is a long way from any town boor /bɔːr/ n. [C] someone who behaves in an unacceptable way in social situations —boorish adj.

boost¹ /bʊst/ n. 1 [singular] something that helps someone be more successful and confident, or that helps something increase or improve: Immigrants provide a boost to the U.S. economy. | a good publicity boost for his campaign | a boost from extra vitamins 2 give sb a boost to lift or push someone so s/he can get over or onto something high or tall

boost² v. [T] 1 to increase or improve something and make it more successful: The new facility will help boost oil production. | The win boosted the team's confidence. 2 to help someone get over or onto something high or tall by lifting or pushing him/her up boost-er /'bʊstə/ n. [C] 1 a small quantity of a drug that increases the effect of one that was given before: a measles booster shot 2 confidence/morale/ego etc. booster something that increases or improves someone's confidence, etc.: Letters from home are a great morale booster for the soldiers. 3 someone who gives a lot of support to a person, organization, or idea: fund-raisers organized by the school's booster club 4 a ROCKET that provides more power for a SPACE-CRAFT

boot¹ /bʊt/ n. 1 [C] a type of shoe that covers your whole foot and the lower part of your leg: hiking boots → *see picture at SHOE*¹ 2 to boot (spoken) used at the end of a list of remarks, to emphasize the last one: Jack's tall, handsome, and rich to boot. [ORIGIN: (1) 1300—1400 Old French bote]

boot² v. 1 [I,T] also boot up IT to make a computer ready to be used by putting in its instructions 2 [T] (informal) to force someone to leave a place, job, or organization: Offenders are booted out of/from the dorms.

'boot camp n. [C] a training camp for people who have joined the Army, Navy, or Marines boot-ee /'buːti/ n. [C] a sock that a baby wears instead of a shoe booth /buːθ/ n. [C] 1 a small, partly enclosed place where one person can do something privately: a phone booth | a voting booth 2 a partly enclosed place in a restaurant, with a table between two long seats 3 a place at a market or FAIR, where you can buy things, play games, or find information boot-leg /'bʊtˈlɛɡ/ adj. bootleg products are made and sold illegally —bootlegging n. [U] —bootlegger n. [C] boot-straps /'bʊtstræps/ n. pull yourself up by your bootstraps to get out of a difficult situation by your own effort boo-ty /'buːti/ n. [U] (literary) valuable things taken or won by the winners in a war, competition, etc.

booze¹ /bʊz/ n. [U] (informal) alcoholic drinks booze² v. [I] (informal) to drink a lot of alcohol —boozier n. [C] bop¹ /bɒp/ v. (bopped, bopping) [I] to hit someone gently bop² n. 1 [C] a gentle hit 2 [U] BEBOP

bor-der¹ /'bɔːdə/ n. [C] 1 the official line that separates two countries, states, or areas: the border between the U.S. and Mexico | The gang escaped across the border. | Mexico's border with Guatemala

THESAURUS edge, boundary, perimeter, rim, margin → EDGE¹

2 a band along the edge of something such as a picture or piece of material: a skirt with a red border [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French borderure, from border “to border,” from bort “border”]

border² v. [T] 1 to share a border with another country: Spain borders Portugal. 2 to form a line around the edge of something: willow trees bordering the river border on sth phr. v. to be very close to reaching an extreme feeling or quality: She stared at him with a fear bordering on terror.

bor-der-line¹ /'bɔːdəˌlaɪn/ adj. very close to being unacceptable: His grades are borderline.

borderline² n. 1 [singular] the point at which one quality, condition, etc. ends and another begins: The stories are on the borderline between romance and pornography. 2 [C] a border between two countries bore¹ /bɔːr/ v. the past tense of BEAR bore² v. 1 [T] to make someone feel bored: The classes bored me. 2 [I,T] to make a deep round hole in a hard surface: To build the tunnel, they had to bore through solid rock.

THESAURUS pierce, make a hole in sth, prick, punch, puncture, drill → PIERCE

3 [I] if someone's eyes bore into you or through you, s/he looks at you in a way that makes you feel nervous or afraid bore³ n. 1 [C] someone who talks too much about the same things: Ralph is such a bore! 2 [singular] something you have to do but do not like: Ironing is a real bore.

bored /bɔːrd/ adj. tired and impatient because you do not think something is interesting, or because you have nothing to do: I ignored him, hoping he'd get bored and leave. | I was bored with school. | I'm so bored! ▶ Don't say "I'm so boring." ◀ bore-dom /'bɔːdəm/ n. [U] the feeling you have when you are bored boring /'bɔːrɪŋ/ adj. not interesting in any way: a boring book

THESAURUS

dull – not interesting or exciting: a dull lecture tedious – boring, and continuing for a long time: Removing the wallpaper was a long, tedious task.
not (very/that/all that) interesting: The book wasn't all that interesting.
humdrum – boring, ordinary, and having very little variety: a humdrum job monotonous – boring and always the same: Every song on the album is monotonous.
insipid (formal) – not interesting, exciting, or attractive: the movie's insipid story → INTERESTING

born /bɔːrn/ adj. 1 be born when a person or animal is born, it comes out of its mother's body or out of an egg: We saw a lamb being born. | I was born in the South. | Lincoln was born on February 12. 2 be born to do/be sth to be very good at doing a particular job, activity, etc.: Mantle was born to play baseball. 3 born leader/teacher etc. someone who has a natural ability to lead, teach, etc. 4 something that is born starts to exist: Unions were born out of (=started because of) a need for better working conditions. [ORIGIN: Old English boren, past participle of beran]

born-again 'Christian n. [C] someone who has become an EVANGELICAL Christian after having an important religious experience borne /bɔːrn/ v. the past participle of BEAR borough /'bɔːrəʊ, 'bɑːrəʊ/ n. [C] a town or part of a large city, that is responsible for managing its own schools, hospitals, roads, etc. [ORIGIN: Old English burg "castle, town defended by a wall"] bor-row /'bɔːrəʊ, 'bɔːrəʊ/ v. [I,T] 1 to use something that belongs to someone else and give it back to him/her later → LEND: Can I borrow your bike? | Wallace borrowed money from his father to start a business. | They borrowed heavily (=borrowed a lot of money) to cover their losses. 2 to take or copy ideas or words: English has borrowed many words from French. [ORIGIN: Old English borgian]

—borrower n. [C]

bor-row-ing /'bɔːrəʊɪŋ, 'bɔː-/ n. 1 [U] ECONOMICS the activity of borrowing money, or the total amount of money that is borrowed → LENDING: When interest rates are low, borrowing is cheap. | Government/public borrowing has doubled in the last ten years. | Federal Reserve figures showed consumer borrowing is slowing down. 2 bor-rowings [plural] ECONOMICS the total amount of money that a person, company, or organization has borrowed, usually from a bank bos-om /'bɔːzəm/ n. 1 [C] (written) a woman's chest 2 bosom buddy (informal) a very close friend boss¹ /bɒs/ n. 1 [C] the person who employs you or who is in charge of your work: The boss let us leave early today.

THESAURUS

manager – the person in charge of a store, restaurant, or bank, or of a group of people who work for a company: She wasn't satisfied with the service, and asked to speak to the manager.
head/chief – the person in charge of an organization: the head of the FBI's New York office principal – the person in charge of a school: I had to go to the principal's office.
president – the person in charge of a business, bank, club, college, etc.: the president of Brown University CEO – the person who has the most authority in a large company: Randall Stephenson became CEO of AT&T in 2007.
supervisor – someone who is in charge of a person or activity: I reported the problem to my supervisor.
foreman/forewoman – the person in charge of a group of workers, for example in a factory: The foreman told the workers to go back to their machines.

2 [singular, U] the person who is the strongest in a relationship, who controls a situation, etc.: You have to let the dog know who's boss (=show that you are in control).

boss² also boss around v. [T] to tell people to do things, give them orders, etc., especially when you have no authority to do it: She's always bossing her brother around.

boss-y /'bɒsi/ adj. always telling other people what to do, in a way that is annoying: her bossy older sister

bot-a-ny /'bɒtən-i/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the scientific study of plants —botanist n. [C] —botanical /bɒ'tænɪkəl/ adj.: botanical gardens

botch /bɒtʃ/ also botch up v. [T] (informal) to do something badly because you were careless or did not have the skill to do it well: The police botched the investigation.

B

both /bəʊθ/ quantifier, pron. 1 used in order to talk about two people or things together: They both have good jobs. | Hold it in both hands. | Both of my grandfathers are farmers. 2 both ... and ... used in order to emphasize that something is true of two people, things, situations, etc.: Dan plays both football and basketball. 3 have it both ways (disapproving) used when someone wants the advantages from two situations that cannot exist together

GRAMMAR

both, both of

Do not say "The both men were caught." Say Both men were caught, Both of the men were caught, or Both the men were caught.

both-er¹ /'bʌðə/ v. 1 [T] to annoy someone, especially by interrupting what s/he is doing: Don't bother your dad; he's working.

THESAURUS

annoy, irritate, get on sb's nerves, infuriate, vex, irk → ANNOY

2 [T] to make someone feel slightly worried, upset, or frightened: Being in a crowd really bothers me. | It bothered her that he'd forgotten her birthday. 3 [I,T] to make the effort to do something: He hadn't bothered unpacking. | I'll never get the job, so why bother applying? | Only 58% of Americans even bothered to vote. 4 sorry to bother you (spoken) said in order to politely interrupt what someone is doing: Sorry to bother you, but I have a question. 5 [T] if a part of your body bothers you, it is slightly painful

bother² n. [U] someone or something that slightly annoys or upsets you: "Thanks for your help." "That's okay; it's no bother" (=used in order to say you were happy to help). —bothersome adj.

bot-tle¹ /'bɒtl/ n. [C] 1 a container with a narrow top, for keeping liquids in, usually made of glass or plastic: a wine bottle | a baby's bottle 2 the amount of liquid that a bottle contains: We drank the entire bottle. 3 hit the bottle to start drinking a lot of alcohol regularly [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French bouteille, from Late Latin buttis "wooden container for liquid"] bottle² v. [T] to put a liquid into a bottle after you have made it: wine bottled in California bottle sth ↔ up phr. v. to not allow yourself to show strong feelings or emotions: He keeps his rage and frustration bottled up.

bot-tled /'bɒtlɪd/ adj. bottled water/beer etc. water, beer, etc. that is sold in a bottle bot-tle-neck /'bɒtl,nek/ n. [C] 1 a place in a road where the traffic cannot pass easily, so that cars are delayed 2 a delay in part of a process that makes the whole process take longer: Removing the bottleneck in the flow of materials has increased production significantly.

bot-tom¹ /'bɒtəm/ n. [C] 1 the lowest part of something (ANT) top: the bottom of the hill | The fruit at the bottom of the basket was spoiled. 2 the flat surface on the lowest side of an object: What's on the bottom of your shoe? 3 the bottom the lowest position in an organization or company, or on a list, etc. (ANT) top: He started at the bottom, and now he manages the store. | Tony is at the bottom of the class in reading. 4 (informal) a word meaning the part of your body that you sit on, used especially when talking to children 5 the ground under an ocean, river, etc., or the flat land in a valley: The bottom of the river is rocky. | a ship on/at the bottom of the bay 6 also bottoms the part of a set of clothes that you wear on the lower part of your body: pajama bottoms 7 get to the bottom of sth (informal) to find the cause of a problem or situation: We will get to the bottom of this and find out who was responsible. [ORIGIN: Old English botm] → ROCK BOTTOM

bottom² adj. in the lowest place or position: the bottom drawer

bottom³ v.

bottom out phr. v. if a situation, price, etc. bottoms out, it stops getting worse or lower, usually before it starts improving again: The recession seems to have bottomed out.

bot-tom-less /'bɒtəmlɪs/ adj. 1 extremely deep 2 seeming to have no end: a bottomless supply of money bottom 'line n. the bottom line a) the main fact about a situation, or the most important thing to consider: The bottom line is that we have to win this game. b) ECONOMICS the profit or the amount of money that a business makes or loses bot-u-lism /'bɒtʃə,lɪzəm/ n. [U] BIOLOGY serious food poisoning caused by BACTERIA in preserved meat and vegetables bough /baʊ/ n. [C] (literary) a main branch on a tree bought /bɔt/ v. the past tense and past participle of BUY boul-der /'bouldə/ n. [C] a large stone or piece of rock bou-le-vard /'bʊləvɑrd, 'bu-/ n. [C] a wide road in a town or city bounce¹ /baʊns/ v. 1 [I,T] if a ball or other object bounces, or you bounce it, it hits a surface and then immediately moves away from it: The ball bounced off the rim. | In basketball, you have to bounce the ball while you run. 2 [I] to move up and down, especially because you are walking or jumping on a surface that is made of rubber, has springs, etc.: Stop bouncing on the bed! → see picture at JUMP¹ 3 [I,T] ECONOMICS if a check bounces, or a bank bounces a check, the bank will not pay any money because there is not enough money in the account of the person who wrote it 4 [I] to walk quickly and with a lot of energy: The kids came bouncing down the stairs. 5 [I,T] if an email that you send bounces or is bounced, it is returned to you and the other person does not receive it 6 bounce ideas off sb to ask someone for his/her opinion about an idea, plan, etc. before you decide something [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 bounce “to hit” (13—19 centuries)]

bounce around (sth) phr. v. to move quickly from one place to another: After college, I bounced around Europe for a year. | I bounced around between jobs quite a bit before ending up here.

bounce back phr. v. to feel better quickly, or to become successful again after having a lot of problems: Experts expect the economy to bounce back.

bounce² n. 1 [C] an act of bouncing: Catch the ball on the first bounce. 2 [U] the ability to bounce bounc-er /'baʊnsə/ n. [C] someone whose job is to make people who behave badly leave a club, BAR, etc.

bounc-ing /'baʊnsɪŋ/ adj. healthy and active – used especially about babies: a bouncing baby boy bounc-y /'baʊnsi/ adj. 1 able to bounce or be bounced easily: a bouncy ball 2 happy and full of energy bound¹ /baʊnd/ v. the past tense and past participle of BIND

bound² adj. 1 be bound to do sth to be certain to do something: People are bound to spell your name wrong. 2 having a legal or moral duty to do something: The company is bound by law to provide safety equipment. | He felt duty bound to help his parents. 3 fog-bound/wheelchair-bound/tradition-bound etc. controlled or limited by something, so that you cannot do what you want: a fog-bound airport 4 intending to go in a particular direction or to a particular place: a plane bound for Peru | homeward bound 5 bound and determined determined to do or achieve something, even if it is difficult: Klein is bound and determined to win at least five races this year.

bound³ v. 1 be bounded by sth if a place is bounded by something such as a wall, river, road, etc., it has the wall, etc. at its edge: a valley bounded by high mountains 2 [I] to move quickly and with a lot of energy: George came bounding down the stairs.

bound⁴ n. 1 bounds [plural] legal or social limits or rules: His imagination knows no bounds (=has no limits). | The police acted within/beyond the bounds of the law (=they acted legally or illegally). 2 out of bounds a) if a subject is out of bounds, you are not allowed to talk about it: Questions about his personal life will be out of bounds. b) if a place is out of bounds, you are not allowed to go there 3 in bounds/out of bounds inside or outside the legal playing area in some sports 4 [C] a long or high jump made with a lot of energy bound-a-ry /'baʊndəri, -dri/ n. (plural bound-aries) [C] 1 the line that marks the edge of a surface, space, or area of land inside a country: The Mississippi forms a natural boundary between Tennessee and Arkansas.

THESAURUS edge, border, perimeter, rim, margin, hem, curb → EDGE¹

2 the limit of what is acceptable or thought to be possible: the boundaries of human knowledge bound-less /'baʊndlɪs/ adj. without any limits or end: boundless optimism boun-ty /'baʊnti/ n. (plural bounties) 1 [C] money that is given as a reward for catching a criminal 2 [U] (literary) a generous amount of something, especially food —bountiful adj.: a bountiful harvest bou-quet /bu'keɪ, bu-/ n. 1 [C] a group of flowers given to someone as a present or carried at a formal occasion 2 [C,U] the smell of a wine: a rich bouquet [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French, Old North French bosquet “plants growing thickly together,” from Old French bosc “forest”]

bour-bon /'bɔːbən/ n. [U] a type of American WHISKEY made from corn [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Bourbon county in Kentucky]

bour-geois /bɔː'ʒwa, 'bɔːʒwa/ adj. (disapproving) too interested in having a lot of possessions and a high position in society [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French “person who lives in a town,” from Old French borjois, from bore “town”]

bour-geoi-sie /bɔː'ʒwa'zi/ n. the bourgeoisie the MIDDLE CLASS

'bout /baʊt/ a short form of “about”, used in writing to show how people sound when they speak bout /baʊt/ n. [C] 1 a short period of time during which you do something a lot or suffer from a particular illness: a drinking bout | a bout of the flu 2 a BOXING or WRESTLING competition bou-tique /bu'tik/ n. [C] a small store that sells very fashionable clothes or decorations bo-vine /'bɔʊvɪn/ adj. BIOLOGY relating to cows, or like a cow [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Late Latin bovinus, from Latin bos “ox, cow”] bow¹ /baʊ/ v. [I,T] to bend your head or the top part of your body forward, as a sign of respect or as a way of thanking an AUDIENCE after you perform:

He bowed, then began to play. | David bowed his head in prayer.

bow down phr. v. to bend forward from your waist, especially when you are already kneeling, in order to pray: Old women bowed down before the statue of Mary.

B

bow out phr. v. to decide not to take part in something any longer: Two more Republicans have bowed out of the race.

bow to sb/sth phr. v. to finally agree to do something that other people want you to do, even though you do not want to: Congress may bow to public pressure and reduce the gas tax.

bow² /bou/ n. [C] 1 a knot of cloth or string with a curved part on each side: a girl with a red bow in her hair 2 a tool used for shooting ARROWS, made of a piece of wood held in a curve by a tight string 3 a long thin piece of wood with hair stretched tightly from one end to the other, used for playing an instrument such as a VIOLIN bow³ /bau/ n. [C] 1 the act of bending the top part of your body forward, as a sign of respect or to thank an AUDIENCE: The actors took a bow (=bowed) and the curtain came down. 2 the front part of a ship bow⁴ /bou/ v. [I] to bend or curve bowdlerize /'bouldəraɪz, 'bau-/ v. [T] ENG. LANG. ARTS to remove the parts of a book, play, etc. that you think are offensive —bowdlerized adj.: a bowdlerized version of the play —bowdlerization /'bouldərə'zeɪʃən, 'bau-/ n. [U] bow-el /'baʊəl/ n. [C usually plural] BIOLOGY the part of the body below the stomach, where food is made into solid waste material [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French boel, from Medieval Latin botellus, from Latin botulus “sausage”]

bowl¹ /boʊl/ n. [C] 1 a wide round container that is open at the top, used for holding liquids, food, etc.: Mix the eggs and butter in a large bowl. | a soup bowl 2 also bowlful the amount that a bowl will hold: a bowlful of rice 3 a part of an object that is shaped like a bowl: a toilet bowl 4 also Bowl a special game played by two of the best football teams after the normal playing season: the Rose Bowl [ORIGIN: Old English bolla]

bowl² v. [I,T] to roll the ball in the game of bowling bowl sb ↔ over phr. v. to surprise, please, or excite someone very much: She was bowled over by her visit to the campus.

bow-leg-ged /'boʊ,leɪd, -,leɪd/ adj. having legs that curve out at the knee bowling /'boʊlɪŋ/ n. [U] an indoor game in which you roll a heavy ball to try to knock down a group of objects shaped like bottles: Let's go bowling!

'bowling alley n. [C] a building where you can go bowling bow tie /'boʊ taɪ/ n. [C] a short piece of cloth tied in the shape of a BOW, that a man wears around his neck

box¹ /baks/ n. [C] 1 a container for putting things in, especially one with four stiff straight sides: a cardboard box | I put all her things in a box. 2 the amount that a box can hold: a box of candy 3 an area of seats in a theater, sports STADIUM, etc. that is separate from where other people are sitting → see picture at THEATER 4 the area in a court of law where the JURY sit 5 a small area on an official form for people to write information in: Write your name in the box at the top. 6 a P.O. BOX [ORIGIN: 900—1000 Latin buxus, from Greek pyxis, from pyxos type of tree, whose wood was used for making boxes]

box² v. 1 [I,T] to fight someone as a sport while wearing big leather GLOVES 2 [T] also box up to put things in a box or in boxes: He boxed up his belongings and put his furniture in storage.

box sb/sth ↔ in phr. v. to enclose someone or something in a small space where it is not possible to move freely: A Honda was parked behind me, boxing me in.

box-car /'baks,kɑr/ n. [C] a railroad car with high sides and a roof, that is used for carrying goods box-er /'baksə/ n. [C] 1 someone who boxes, especially as a job: a heavyweight boxer 2 a dog with short light brown hair and a flat nose

'boxer, shorts n. [plural] loose underwear for men → see picture at CLOTHES

box-ing /'baksɪŋ/ n. [U] the sport of fighting while wearing big leather GLOVES

'box, office n. [C] a place in a theater, concert hall, etc. where tickets are sold → THEATER

'box spring n. [C] a base containing metal springs, that you put under a MATTRESS to make a bed

boy¹ /bɔɪ/ n. [C] 1 a male child or young man: a club for both boys and girls | Some little boys (=young boys) were playing with a ball. | One of the big boys (=older boys) was picking on Sam.

THESAURUS man, guy, gentleman, fellow, youth, male → MAN¹

2 someone's son, especially a young one: How old is your little boy? 3 paper/delivery etc. boy a young man who does a particular job 4 city/local etc. boy (informal) a man of any age from a particular place or social group 5 the boys (informal) a group of men who are friends and often go out together: playing cards with the boys 6 (spoken) used when speaking to a male animal, such as a horse or a dog: Good boy, Patches!

boy² also oh 'boy interjection said in order to emphasize a statement: Boy, is he mad!

boy-cott /'bɔɪkɒt/ v. [T] to refuse to buy something, use something, or take part in something as a way of protesting: We boycott all products tested on animals. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Charles Boycott (1832-97), English official in Ireland who refused to reduce rents, so the local people refused to do any business with him] —boycott n. [C]

THESAURUS protest, march, demonstrate, riot, hold/stage a sit-in, go on a hunger strike
→ PROTEST²

boy-friend /'bɔɪfrɛnd/ n. [C] a boy or man with whom you have a romantic relationship: Have you met Leah's boyfriend?

boy-hood /'bɔɪhʊd/ n. [U] (literary) the time in a man's life when he is very young boy-ish /'bɔɪ-ɪʃ/ adj. looking or behaving like a boy: his boyish laughter

Boyle's law /'bɔɪlz ˌlɔ/ n. PHYSICS a scientific rule stating that the amount of space a gas fills at a particular temperature decreases (=goes down) as pressure increases and increases as pressure decreases

'Boy Scout n. 1 the Boy Scouts an organization for boys, that teaches them practical skills and helps develop their character → GIRL SCOUTS 2 [C] a member of the Boy Scouts bo-zo /'bɔʊzəʊ/ n. (plural bozos) [C] (informal) someone who you think is stupid or silly bps, BPS /,bi pi 'es/ IT bits per second a measurement of how fast a computer or MODEM can send or receive information

bra /bra/ n. [C] a piece of underwear that a woman wears to support her breasts → see picture at CLOTHES

brace¹ /breɪs/ v. [T] 1 to prepare for something unpleasant that is going to happen: Hospitals are bracing themselves for a flu epidemic this winter. 2 to prevent something from falling or moving by supporting it: His feet were braced against the wall.

brace² n. 1 braces [plural] a connected set of wires that people, especially children, wear on their teeth to make them straight 2 [C] something used or worn in order to support something: a neck brace brace-let /'breɪslɪt/ n. [C] a band or chain that you wear around your wrist or arm as a decoration → see picture at JEWELRY brac-ing /'breɪsɪŋ/ adj. 1 bracing air or weather is cold and makes you feel very awake and healthy 2 making you feel excited and interested: Meeting such a powerful man was a bracing experience.

brack-et /'brækɪt/ n. [C] 1 income/tax/age etc. bracket ECONOMICS an income, tax, etc. that is inside a particular range: the highest tax bracket 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS one of the pair of marks [] put around extra information: All grammar information is given in brackets. 3 a piece of metal, wood, or plastic put in or on a wall to support something such as a shelf brack-ish /'brækɪʃ/ adj. brackish water is not pure because it is slightly salty brag /bræg/ v. (bragged, bragging) [I,T] (disapproving) to talk too proudly about what you have done, what you own, etc.: Todd was bragging about his grades.

brag-gart /'brægət/ n. [C] someone who brags braid¹ /breɪd/ n. [C,U] a length of hair or a narrow band of material that has been separated into three parts and then woven together: a girl with her hair in braids → see picture on page 462 —braided adj.

braid² v. [T] to twist together three pieces of hair or cloth to form one length braille /breɪl/ n. [U] a form of printing that makes raised round marks on the paper, that blind people can read by touching [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Louis Braille] brain¹ /breɪn/ n. 1 [C,U] BIOLOGY the organ inside your head that controls how you think, feel, and move: brain damage | the part of the brain that controls movement 2 [C usually plural, U] the ability to think clearly and learn quickly: The kid's definitely got brains. 3 [C] (informal) someone who is very intelligent: Some of the best brains in the country are here tonight. 4 be the brains behind sth to be the person who thought of and developed a particular plan, system, organization, etc. → NO-BRAINER, pick sb's brain(s) at PICK¹, rack your brain(s) at RACK²

brain² v. [T] (old-fashioned) to hit someone on the head very hard brain-child /'breɪntʃaɪld/ n. [singular] (informal) an idea, organization, etc. that someone has thought of without any help from anyone else: The project was the brainchild of photographer Rick Smolan.

brain-less /'breɪnlɪs/ adj. (informal) silly and stupid: a brainless movie brain-pow-er /'breɪnpaʊə/ n. [U] intelligence, or the ability to think: The space industry relies on scientific brainpower.

B

'brain stem n. [C] BIOLOGY the lower part of your brain that connects your SPINAL CORD to your CEREBELLUM (=bottom part of the brain)

B brain-storm¹ /'breɪnstɔːm/ v. [I,T] to think of many different ways of doing something, developing ideas, or solving a problem, especially in a group: The students brainstormed about getting more people to participate. —brainstorming n. [U] brainstorm² n. [singular] (informal) a sudden intelligent idea brain-wash /'breɪnwɒʃ, -wɔːʃ/ v. [T] to make someone believe something that is not true, by using force, confusing him/her, or continuously repeating it over a long period of time: Two former members of the Church claim they were brainwashed into joining. —brainwashing n. [U] brain-y /'breɪni/ adj. (informal) able to think clearly and learn quickly: a brainy kid braise /breɪz/ v. [T] to cook meat or vegetables slowly in a small amount of liquid in a closed container brake¹ /breɪk/ n. [C] 1 a piece of equipment that makes a vehicle go more slowly or stop: Maria hit the brakes/slammed on the brakes (=made the car stop quickly). 2 put the brakes on sth to stop something that is happening: efforts to put the brakes on rising prices

brake² v. [I] to make a vehicle go more slowly or stop by using its brake: Miguel braked suddenly. → DRIVE¹ bran /bræn/ n. [U] the crushed outer skin of wheat or a similar grain branch¹ /bræntʃ/ n. [C] 1 part of a tree that grows out from the TRUNK (=main stem) and has leaves, fruit, or smaller branches growing from it → *see picture at PLANT*¹ 2 a local business, store, etc. that is part of a larger business, etc.: The bank has branches all over the country. 3 one part of a large subject of study or knowledge: a branch of medicine 4 a part of a government or other organization that deals with one particular part of its work: the executive branch of the U.S. government 5 a smaller, less important part of a river, road, etc. that leads away from the larger, more important part of it: a branch of the Missouri River 6 a group of members of a family who all have the same ANCESTORS [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French branche, from Late Latin branca “animal’s foot”] branch² also branch off v. [I] to divide into two or more smaller, narrower, or less important parts: Turn off where the road branches to the right.

branch out phr. v. to do something new in addition to what you usually do: The bookstore has branched out into renting movies.

brand¹ /brænd/ n. [C] 1 a type of product made by a particular company: different brands of soap

THESAURUS type, kind, sort, category, make, model, variety → TYPE¹

2 brand of humor/politics/religion etc. a particular type of humor, politics, etc.: his conservative brand of politics 3 a mark burned into an animal’s skin that shows whom it belongs to [ORIGIN: Old English “torch, sword”]

brand² v. [T] 1 to burn a mark on an animal, in order to show whom it belongs to 2 to call someone a very bad type of person, often unfairly: Republicans have been branded as anti-environmentalists.

THESAURUS call, describe, characterize, label, portray → CALL¹ brand-ing /'brændɪŋ/ n. [U] ECONOMICS a practice in which a company gives a product a name and tries to make that name well known: the global branding of Coca-Cola bran-dish /'brændɪʃ/ v. [T] to wave something around in a dangerous and threatening way: He burst into the store brandishing a knife. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French brandir, from brand “sword”]

'brand name n. [C] ECONOMICS the name a company gives to the goods it has produced: brand names such as Jell-O and Coca-Cola brand-new adj. new and not used: a brand-new car bran-dy /'brændi/ n. (plural brandies) [C,U] a strong alcoholic drink made from wine, or a glass of this drink [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 brandywine (1600—1700), from Dutch brandewijn “burnt wine, distilled wine”] brash /bræʃ/ adj. (disapproving) behaving and talking very confidently: a brash young man brass /bræs/ n. 1 [U] a very hard bright yellow metal that is a mixture of COPPER and ZINC 2 the brass (section) the people in an ORCHESTRA or band who play musical instruments such as the TRUMPET or horn bras-siere /brə'ziːr/ n. [C] a BRA brass 'knuckles n. [plural] a set of metal rings worn over your KNUCKLES, used as a weapon brass-y /'bræsi/ adj. 1 sounding loud and unpleasant 2 (disapproving) a woman who is brassy talks loudly and behaves in a way that is too confident brat /bræt/ n. [C] 1 (informal) a badly behaved child: Stop acting like a spoiled brat. 2 an Army/Air Force/military etc. brat a child whose family moves often, because one or both parents work for the Army, etc.

bra-va-do /brə'vɑːdɒ/ n. [U] behavior that is intended to show how brave you are, but is often unnecessary brave¹ /breɪv/ adj. dealing with danger, pain, or difficult situations with courage (ANT) cowardly:

brave soldiers | her brave fight against cancer [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French, Old Italian and Old Spanish bravo “brave, wild,” from Latin barbarus] —bravely adv.

THESAURUS

courageous – someone who is courageous behaves very bravely: an honest and courageous leader heroic – extremely brave or determined, and admired by many people: the heroic work of the doctors valiant (formal) – very brave, especially in a difficult situation: The firefighters made a valiant effort to rescue the people in the burning building.

daring – willing to do dangerous things: the daring young men who flew the first airplanes bold – confident and willing to take risks:

Rebecca was a bold woman, willing to say what she thought.

fearless – not afraid of anything or anyone: a fearless campaigner for human rights intrepid (formal) – willing to do dangerous things or go to dangerous places: Lewis and Clark were the intrepid explorers who first crossed the country to the Pacific coast.

brave² v. [T] to deal with a difficult, dangerous, or unpleasant situation: 15,000 people braved the hot sun to see Mandela.

brave³ n. [C] a young fighting man from a Native American tribe brav-er-y /'breɪvəri/ n. [U] brave behavior (ANT) cowardice: an act of great bravery

THESAURUS

courage, guts, nerve, valor, mettle → COURAGE

bra-vo /'bravəʊ, brə'vou/ interjection said in order to show your approval when someone, especially a performer, has done well brawl¹ /brɔːl/ n. [C] a noisy fight, especially in a public place: a drunken brawl

THESAURUS

fight, free-for-all, scuffle, scrap → FIGHT²

brawl² v. [I] to fight in a noisy way, especially in a public place: youths brawling in the street

brawn /brɔːn/ n. [U] physical strength: She's the brain and he's the brawn behind the operation.
—brawny adj.: brawny arms

bray /breɪ/ v. [I] if a DONKEY brays, it makes a loud sound bra-zen /'breɪzən/ adj. showing that you do not feel ashamed about behavior that most people think is wrong or immoral: a brazen lie —brazenly adv.

breach /brɪtʃ/ n. 1 [C,U] an act of breaking a law, rule, agreement, etc.: You are in breach of your contract. 2 [C] a serious disagreement between people, groups, or countries: a breach between the allies over the issue of sanctions 3 [C] a hole or broken place in a wall or a similar structure, especially one made during a military attack —breach v. [T]

bread /brɛd/ n. [U] 1 a common food made from flour, water, and YEAST: We need a loaf of bread. | a slice/piece of bread with butter | white/wheat/rye/French bread | fresh-baked bread 2 sb's bread and butter (informal) the work that someone gets most of his/her income from: Tourists are our bread and butter. [ORIGIN: Old English] bread-bas-ket /'brɛd,bæskɪt/ n. 1 [singular] (informal) the part of a country or other large area that provides most of the food: The Midwest is the breadbasket of America. 2 [C] a basket for holding or serving bread bread-crumbs /'brɛdkrʌmz/ n. [plural] very small pieces of bread used in cooking bread-ed /'brɛdɪd/ adj. covered in breadcrumbs, then cooked: breaded veal breadth /brɛdθ, brɛtθ/ n. [U] 1 the distance from one side of something to the other, especially something very wide (SYN) width: He could see the entire length and breadth of the canyon. 2 a wide range or variety: He had an enormous breadth of knowledge about the industry. | Older workers have a greater breadth of experience.

bread-win-ner /'brɛd,wɪnə/ n. [C] the member of a family who earns the money to support the others break¹ /breɪk/ v. (past tense broke /broʊk/, past participle broken /'broʊkən/)

1 IN PIECES [I,T] if something breaks or someone breaks it, it separates into two or more pieces, especially because it has been hit or dropped: Be careful or it'll break. | I broke off a handful of basil to put in the sauce. | They had to break the window to get into the house.

THESAURUS

smash – used when a plate, glass, etc. breaks or is broken with a lot of force: Angry crowds smashed windows downtown.

shatter – used when a plate, glass, etc. breaks into a lot of small pieces: The glass hit the floor, shattering everywhere.

B

crack – used when a plate, glass, etc. is damaged so that there is a line between two parts of it: One of the windows was cracked.

tear – used about paper or cloth: I tore the letter to pieces.

snap – used about something that breaks into two pieces, making a loud noise: The stick snapped in two.

burst – used when a pipe with liquid inside it breaks: Our pipes had burst in the freezing weather.

pop – used when a bubble or balloon breaks: The wind was so strong some of the balloons popped.

2 BODY PART [T] if you break a part of your body, the bone splits into two or more pieces: Sharon broke her leg skiing.

THESAURUS hurt, injure, wound, maim, bruise, sprain, twist, strain, pull, dislocate → HURT¹

3 END STH [I,T] to not continue, or to end something: Annie finally broke the silence. | I don't smoke anymore, but it was hard to break the habit.

4 NOT WORK [I,T] if something such as a machine breaks, or you break it, it is damaged and does not work: One of the kids poked something into the disk drive and broke it. | My camera broke.

5 SURFACE/SKIN [T] to damage the surface of something so that it splits or has a hole in it: Do not use this product if the seal has been broken.

6 break free a) to escape from someone who is trying to hold you: I broke free and ran. b) to get out of a bad situation, or out of a situation that limits what you can do: I desperately wanted to break free from my parents.

7 RULES/LAWS [T] to disobey a law or rule: Sometimes breaking the rules is the only way to get things done.

8 PROMISE/AGREEMENT [T] to not do what you promised to do: politicians who break their election promises

9 break your neck (informal) to hurt yourself very badly: Don't run; you'll slip and break your neck.

10 break for lunch/coffee etc. to stop working in order to eat or drink something

11 break a record to do something faster or better than it has ever been done before: After breaking the world record, she decided to retire from athletics.

12 break sth to sb to tell someone about something bad that has happened: Ellie called us to break the news personally.

13 NEWS/EVENT [I] if news about an important event breaks, it becomes known by everyone after having been secret: The next morning, the news broke that Monroe was dead.

14 break even to neither make a profit nor lose money: We broke even in our first year of business.

15 break sb's heart to make someone very unhappy, by ending a relationship with him/her or doing something that upsets him/her

16 DAY [I] if day breaks, light begins to show in the sky as the Sun rises

17 VOICE [I] a) if a boy's voice breaks, it becomes lower as he gets older b) if someone's voice breaks, it does not sound smooth because s/he is feeling strong emotions

18 WAVE [I] if a wave breaks, it begins to look white on top because it is coming close to the shore [ORIGIN: Old English brecan] → break the ice at ICE¹

break away phr. v.

1 to escape from someone who is holding you: Nelson broke away from the policemen.

2 to leave your family, a group, a political party, etc. and become separate from them: The three Baltic States were the first to break away from the Soviet Union.

break down phr. v.

1 if a large machine breaks down, it stops working: A truck had broken down in the intersection.

2 to fail or stop working in a successful way: The talks broke down completely in June 2002.

3 break sth ↔ down to change or remove something that prevents people from working together or having a good relationship: attempts to break down prejudice

4 break sth ↔ down to hit something, such as a door, so hard that it falls down

5 break (sth ↔) down CHEMISTRY if a substance breaks down, or something breaks it down, it changes as a result of a chemical process: Bacteria break down the raw sewage. | The waste products break down into ammonia.

6 to be unable to stop yourself from crying: She broke down during the funeral.

7 break sth ↔ down to separate something into smaller parts so that it is easier to do or understand: Try to break the question down into two parts.

break in phr. v.

1 to enter a building using force, in order to steal something

2 break sb/sth ↔ in to make a person or animal become used to the work he, she, or it has to do: a training camp for breaking in new soldiers

3 to interrupt someone when s/he is speaking: She broke in, saying "You know that's not true!"

4 break sth ↔ in to make new shoes or boots less stiff and more comfortable by wearing them break into sth phr. v.

1 to enter a building or vehicle using force, in order to steal something: They broke into the house through the back window.

2 break into a run to suddenly begin running

3 to become involved in a new activity, especially a business activity: companies trying to break into the East European markets break off phr. v.

1 break sth ↔ off to end a relationship, especially a political or romantic one: Lisa and Mike have broken off their engagement.

2 break (sth ↔) off to suddenly stop talking: She broke off, tears in her eyes. | Suddenly, they saw me and broke off their conversation.

break out phr. v.

1 if something bad such as a disease, fire, or war breaks out, it begins to happen: Last night, a fire broke out in the 12th Street warehouse.

2 to change the way you live or behave: Rose was determined to break out of the cycle of poverty.

3 to suddenly begin to have red spots on your skin, especially on your face: Chocolate makes me break out.

4 break out in a sweat to start SWEATING

5 to escape from prison break through phr. v.

1 to manage to do something successfully: His coach thinks he is ready to break through to the big leagues.

2 break through (sth) if the Sun breaks through, you can see it through the clouds break up phr. v.

1 break sth ↔ up to separate something into smaller parts: The phone company was broken up to encourage competition.

2 to end a marriage or romantic relationship, or to stop being together as a group: Troy and I broke up last month. | The band broke up shortly after releasing their second album.

3 break sth ↔ up to stop a fight or stop a group of people doing something: The FBI broke up a crack ring.

4 if a crowd or meeting breaks up, people start to leave

5 break (sth ↔) up to break into small pieces, or to break something into small pieces: The plane hit the water and broke up. | We used shovels to break up the soil.

break with sb/sth phr. v.

1 to leave a group or organization because you have had a disagreement with them: Lewis broke with the Administration on this issue.

2 break with tradition/the past etc. to do something in a completely new way break² n.

1 A REST [C] a period of time when you stop working or doing something: Matthews spoke for three hours without taking a break. | She took a two-year break from competitive running. | Harris is on his lunch/coffee break. | We needed a break, so we went up to the mountains. | Spring break (=spring vacation from college) is at the end of March.

THESAURUS vacation, holiday, leave, furlough, r & r, sabbatical → VACATION

2 STH STOPS [C] a period of time when something stops for a while and then starts again: There was a break of two years between his last book and this one. | a break in the conversation

3 give sb a break (spoken) to stop annoying, criticizing, or being unkind to someone: Give me a break! I can't do it that fast.

4 A CHANCE [C] a chance to do something that allows you to become successful: The band's big break came when they sang on a local TV show.

5 END STH [singular] a time when you stop doing something, or end a relationship with someone: a break in relations between the two countries | She finally made the break and left him. | In a break with tradition, the parade was canceled.

6 A SPACE [C] a space or hole in something: a break in the clouds

7 TV/RADIO [C] a pause for advertisements during a television or radio program: We'll return after this short commercial break.

8 BROKEN PLACE [C] a place where something is broken: a bad break in his leg break-a-ble /'breɪkəbəl/ adj. made of material that breaks easily break-age /'breɪkɪdʒ/ n. [C] (formal) something that has been broken: All breakages must be paid for.

break-a-way /'breɪkəweɪ/ adj. breakaway republic/group/party etc. a country, group, etc. that has been formed by people who left another country or group because of a disagreement: He will try to negotiate a ceasefire between government troops and fighters from the breakaway republic.

break-down /'breɪkdaʊn/ n. 1 [C,U] the failure of a system or relationship: a breakdown in the peace talks | the consequences of family/marital/social etc. breakdown 2 [C] a NERVOUS BREAKDOWN 3 [C] a statement or list that separates something into parts: a breakdown of how government agencies will be affected by the cuts 4 [C] an occasion when a car or a piece of machinery stops working break-er /'breɪkə/ n. [C] a large wave with a white top, that rolls onto the shore break-fast /'breɪkfəst/ n. [C,U] the meal you have in the morning: I had bacon and eggs for breakfast. | Make time to eat breakfast. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 break + fast "a period of time when you choose not to eat"]

'break-in n. [C] an act of entering a building illegally using force

'breaking point n. [U] the point at which someone or something is no longer able to work well or deal with problems: Some of them are tired, almost to the breaking point.

break-neck /'breɪkneɪk/ adj. extremely and often dangerously fast: She drove home at breakneck speed.

break-out¹ /'breɪkaʊt/ adj. successful, and making someone or something famous or popular: a breakout performance by Williamson breakout² n. [C] an escape from a prison break-through /'breɪkθru/ n. [C] an important new discovery in something you have been studying: Scientists have made an important breakthrough in the treatment of heart disease.

break-up /'breɪkʌp/ n. [C,U] 1 the act of ending a marriage or other relationship 2 the separation of an organization, country, etc. into smaller parts: the breakup of Yugoslavia

B

breast /brɛst/ n. 1 [C] one of the two round raised parts on a woman's chest that produce milk when she has a baby 2 [C] the part of the body between the neck and the stomach: He cradled his injured arm against his breast. 3 [C,U] the front part of a bird's body, or the meat from this part: turkey breast → see picture on page A2 [ORIGIN: Old English breost]

breast-bone /'brɛstbəʊn/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the long flat bone in the front of your chest, that is connected to the top seven pairs of RIBS

'breast-feed v. (breast-fed) [I,T] if a woman breast-feeds, she feeds a baby with milk from her breasts breast-stroke /'brɛst,straʊk/ n. [U] a way of swimming in which you push your arms out from your chest and then bring them back in a circle to your sides, while on your stomach in the water → see picture at SWIM¹ breath /brɛθ/ n. 1 [C,U] the air that goes in or comes out of your lungs when you breathe, or the action of breathing air into or out of your lungs: Officers could smell alcohol on his breath. | The cat has bad breath (=it smells bad). | Take a deep breath (=breathe in a lot of air once) and relax. | I was hot and sweaty and out of breath (=having difficulty breathing because I had just been exercising). | One of the symptoms is shortness of breath (=being unable to breathe easily). | My heart was pounding and I was gasping for breath (=trying hard to get enough air to breathe). 2 hold your breath a) to breathe in and keep the air in your lungs: I couldn't hold my breath anymore. b) to wait anxiously to see what is going to happen: Patrice held her breath, waiting for Dan's reply. 3 catch your breath to begin breathing normally again after you have been running or exercising: I had to sit down to catch my breath. 4 a breath of fresh air a) a short time when you breathe air outside a building, after being inside: I stepped outside for a breath of fresh air. b) something that is different, exciting, and enjoyable: These books bring a breath of fresh air into the classroom. 5 under your breath in a quiet voice: "I hate you," he muttered under his breath. 6 (don't) waste your breath (spoken) used in order to tell someone that it is not worth saying something: You're wasting your breath; he won't change his mind. 7 don't hold your breath used in order to say that something is not going to happen soon 8 take your breath away to be extremely beautiful or exciting: a view that will take your breath away [ORIGIN: Old English bræth] breath-a-ble /'brɪðəbəl/ adj. 1 clothing that is breathable allows air to pass through it easily 2 able to be breathed: The air was thin but breathable.

Breath-a-lyz-er /'brɛθə,lɪzə/ n. [C] (trade-mark) a piece of equipment used by the police to see if a car driver has drunk too much alcohol: a Breathalyzer test —breathalyze v. [T]

breathe /brɪð/ v. 1 [I,T] to take air into your lungs and send it out again: the quality of the air we breathe | Relax and breathe deeply (=take in a lot of air). | He was sweating and breathing hard (=breathing deeply and quickly).

THESAURUS

take a breath – to take air into your lungs: Take deep breaths and try to relax.

inhale (formal) – to breathe in air, smoke, or gas: Try not to inhale the fumes from the glue.

exhale (formal) – to breathe air, smoke, etc. out through your mouth and nose: Take a deep breath, then exhale slowly.

Ways of breathing

pant – to breathe quickly with short breaths, especially after exercising: I ran to the station and arrived sweaty and panting.

wheeze – to breathe with difficulty, making a noise in your throat and chest, usually because you are sick: I woke up the next morning coughing and wheezing.

be short of breath also be out of breath – to have difficulty breathing, often after physical activity such as running, or because of sickness: Patients quickly become short of breath and unable to stand.

gasps for breath – to breathe quickly and loudly, because you are having difficulty breathing either from exercising or because you are sick: He was gasping for breath and his heart was pounding fiercely.

gasps for air – to be unable to breathe because there is not enough air: He came up from under the water, gasping for air.

2 [I,T] to blow air, smoke, or smells out of your mouth: Roy breathed on his hands to warm them. 3 breathe a sigh of relief to stop being worried about something: We all breathed a sigh of relief as he climbed off the roof. 4 breathe down sb's neck (informal) to watch what someone is doing so carefully that it makes him/her feel nervous or annoyed: I can't work with you breathing down my neck. 5 not breathe a word to not tell anyone about a secret [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 breath]

breathe (sth ↔) in phr. v. to take air into your lungs: She breathed in deeply. | Wyatt breathed in the fresh sea air.

breathe (sth ↔) out phr. v. to send air out from your lungs: OK, now breathe out slowly. | He breathed out a sigh of relief.

breath-er /'brɪðə/ n. [C] (informal) a short period of rest from an activity: OK, everybody, take a breather.

breath-ing /'brɪðɪŋ/ n. [U] the process of breathing air in and out: his deep, regular breathing breath-less /'brɛθlɪs/ adj. having difficulty breathing in a normal way —breathlessly adv.

breath-tak-ing /'brɛθ,tɜ:kɪŋ/ adj. extremely impressive, exciting, or surprising: breath-taking scenery

THESAURUS impressive, imposing, dazzling, awe-inspiring, majestic, magnificent → IMPRESSIVE

breath-y /'brɛθi/ adj. if someone's voice is breathy, you can hear his/her breath when s/he speaks breed¹ /brɪd/ v. (past tense and past participle bred /bred/) 1 [I] BIOLOGY if animals breed, they have babies 2 [T] BIOLOGY to keep animals or plants in order to produce babies, or to develop new animals or plants: He breeds horses. 3 [T] to cause a particular feeling or condition: The crowded living conditions bred disease and crime. [ORIGIN: Old English bredan] breed² n. [C] 1 a type of animal, especially one that people have kept to breed: Labradors and other breeds of dog 2 a particular type of person or type of thing: the first in a new breed of home computers breed-er /'brɪdər/ n. [C] someone who breeds animals or plants breed-ing /'brɪdɪŋ/ n. [U] 1 BIOLOGY the act or process of animals producing babies: the breeding season 2 BIOLOGY the activity of keeping animals or plants in order to produce babies, or to develop new types 3 (old-fashioned) polite social behavior

'breeding ground n. [C] a place or situation where something grows or develops: The projects were a breeding ground for gangs.

breeze¹ /brɪz/ n. [C] 1 a light gentle wind

THESAURUS wind, gust, gale, storm, hurricane, tornado, typhoon → WIND¹

2 be a breeze (spoken) to be very easy to do [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French brise] → shoot the breeze at SHOOT¹ breeze² v. [I] (informal) to walk somewhere in a quick confident way: She breezed into my office and sat down.

breeze through sth phr. v. (informal) to finish a piece of work or pass a test very easily: Sherry breezed through her final exams.

breez-y /'brɪzi/ adj. 1 confident and relaxed: his breezy way of speaking 2 breezy weather is when the wind blows in a fairly strong way breth-ren /'brɛðrən/ n. [plural] (old-fashioned, written) male members of an organization, especially a religious group brev-i-ty /'brɛvəti/ AC n. [U] (formal) 1 the quality of expressing something in very few words: The speech was praised for its brevity. 2 the quality of continuing for only a short time: the brevity of the meeting [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin brevitas, from brevis "short"] brew¹ /bru/ v. 1 [I, T] if tea or coffee brews, or you brew it, you make it with boiling water and leave it to get a stronger taste 2 [I] if something unpleasant is brewing, it will happen soon: There's a storm brewing. 3 [T] to make beer brew² n. [C, U] beer, or a can or glass of beer brew-er /'bruər/ n. [C] a person or company that makes beer brew-er-y /'bruəri/ n. (plural breweries) [C] a place where beer is made, or a company that makes beer

'brew pub n. [C] a bar or restaurant that serves beer that is made locally, rather than by large companies bribe¹ /braɪb/ n. [C] money or gifts that you use to persuade someone to do something, usually something dishonest: a judge accused of taking bribes | The officials said that they had been offered bribes before an important game. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French "bread given to a beggar"] bribe² v. [T] to give someone a bribe: Customs officials were bribed to let the trucks through.

brib-er-y /'braɪbəri/ n. [U] the act of giving or taking bribes bric-a-brac /'brɪk ə ,bræk/ n. [U] small objects that are used for decoration in a house brick /brɪk/ n. [C, U] a hard block of baked clay used for building walls, houses, etc. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French brique, from Middle Dutch bricke] brick-lay-er /'brɪk ,leɪər/ n. [C] someone whose job is to build things with bricks —bricklaying n. [U]

brī-dal /'braɪdl/ adj. relating to a bride or a wedding: a bridal gown bride /braɪd/ n. [C] a woman at the time she gets married or just after she is married: You may kiss the bride. → WEDDING [ORIGIN: Old English bryd] bride-groom /'braɪdgrum/ n. [C] a GROOM brides-maid /'braɪdzmeɪd/ n. [C] a woman who helps the bride and stands beside her during her wedding bridge¹ /brɪdʒ/ n. 1 [C] a structure built over a river, road, etc. that allows people or vehicles to cross from one side to the other: the Brooklyn Bridge 2 [C] something that provides a connection between two ideas, subjects, groups, or situations: His new book acts as a bridge between art and science. 3 the bridge the raised part of a ship from which it can be controlled 4 [U] a card game for four players, who play in pairs 5 the bridge of your nose the upper part of your nose, between your eyes 6 [C] a piece of metal for keeping a false tooth in place [ORIGIN: (1) Old English brycg] bridge² v. [T] 1 to reduce the difference between two things: attempting to bridge the gap between rich and poor 2 to build or form a bridge over something: a log bridging the stream brī-dle¹ /'braɪdl/ n. [C] a set of leather bands put on a horse's head and used to control its movements bridle² v. 1 [T] to put a bridle on a horse 2 [I, T] to become angry or offended: Amy bridled at the restrictions put on her.

brief¹ /brɪf/ [Ac] adj. 1 continuing for a short time: a brief period of silence

B

THESAURUS short, quick, cursory, temporary, ephemeral → SHORT¹

2 using only a few words and not describing things in detail: I'll try to be brief. | a brief letter | In brief, the report found a direct relationship between a change in price and a change in demand. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French, Latin brevis]

THESAURUS short, concise, succinct, curt → SHORT¹

—briefly adv. He worked briefly for the state, promoting tourism. | The president spoke briefly to reporters.

brief² [Ac] n. [C] 1 LAW a short statement giving facts about a law case: a legal brief | The plaintiffs' attorneys filed a brief asking the judge to dismiss the evidence. 2 a short report: The brief should outline the current economic situation in Eastern Europe. 3 briefs [plural] men's or women's underwear worn on the lower part of the body brief³ [Ac] v. [T] to give someone all the information about a situation that s/he will need: Senate staff were briefed on the new law. —briefing n. [C,U] brief-case /ˈbrɪfkeɪs/ n. [C] a special flat bag used for carrying papers or documents → see picture at CASE¹ bri-gade /brɪˈgeɪd/ n. [C] 1 a large group of soldiers forming part of an army 2 a group of people who have similar qualities or beliefs: the environmentalist brigade [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 French, Italian brigata, from brigare “to fight”]

brig-a-dier gen-er-al, Brigadier General /ˌbrɪgədiər ˈdʒenərəl/ n. [C] an officer who has a high rank in the Army, Air Force, or Marines bright /braɪt/ adj. 1 shining strongly, or with plenty of light: a bright sunny day | bright lights strong – a strong light is very bright: Diana squinted in the strong sunlight.

THESAURUS

brilliant – a brilliant light is very bright and strong: brilliant sunshine dazzling – a dazzling light is so bright that you cannot see for a short time after you look at it: Under the Sun, the white of the snow is dazzling.

glaring – a glaring light is too bright to look at: When burned, the metal produces a glaring white light.

blinding – a blinding light is very bright, and makes you unable to see for a short time: There was a blinding flash, then the noise of an explosion.

2 intelligent: Vicky is a very bright child. | a bright idea

THESAURUS intelligent, smart, brilliant, wise, clever, cunning, crafty, intellectual, gifted, apt → INTELLIGENT

3 bright colors are strong and easy to see: a bright red sweater 4 happy and full of energy: a bright smile 5 likely to be successful: You have a bright future ahead of you. 6 bright and early (spoken) very early in the morning: I'll be here bright and early to pick you up. 7 the bright side the good things about something that is bad in other ways: Look on the bright side – at least you didn't lose your job. [ORIGIN: Old English beorht] —brightly adv. —brightness n. [U] bright-en /ˈbraɪtən/ v. 1 [I,T] to become brighter or lighter, or to make something do this: The weather should brighten in the afternoon. 2 [T] to make something more pleasant or attractive: Flowers would brighten up this room. 3 [I,T] to become happier, or to make someone else feel like this: She brightened up when she saw us coming.

brights /braɪts/ n. [plural] car HEADLIGHTS when they are on as brightly as possible

bril-li-ant /ˈbrɪljənt/ adj. 1 brilliant light or color is very bright and strong: brilliant sunshine

THESAURUS bright, strong, dazzling, glaring, blinding → BRIGHT

2 extremely intelligent: a brilliant scientist [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 French, present participle of briller “to shine,” from Italian brillare]

THESAURUS intelligent, smart, bright, wise, clever, cunning, crafty, intellectual, gifted, apt → INTELLIGENT —brilliance n. [U] —brilliantly adv.

brim¹ /brɪm/ n. [C] 1 the part of a hat that sticks out to protect you from sun and rain 2 the brim the top of a container such as a glass: The glass was filled to the brim.

brim² v. (brimmed, brimming) [I] 1 to start to cry: His eyes brimmed with tears. 2 be brimming (over) with sth to be full of a particular thing, quality, or emotion brine /braɪn/ n. [U] water that contains a lot of salt —briny adj.

bring /brɪŋ/ v. (past tense and past participle brought /brɔ:t/) [T] 1 to take someone or something with you to a place or person: I brought these pictures for you. | Will you bring me a glass of water? | Can I bring a friend to the party? | Dave brought a friend home with him. | She brought her daughter along (=with her).

USAGE

bring – to take something or someone to the place where you are now, or the place where you are going: Did you remember to bring your passport? | I have brought someone to see you.

take – to move something from one place to another, or to help someone go from one place to another: Don't forget to take your umbrella. | I can take you to the airport.

get – to go to another place and come back with something or someone: I'll get my keys.

2 to cause a particular type of result or reaction: The article brought angry letters from readers. | The fishing industry brings lots of money into the area. | efforts to bring peace to the region 3 to make someone or something come to a place: The project has brought inner city children new opportunities. | "What brings you here?" "I need to talk to Mike." 4 to move something in a particular direction: Bring your arm up level with your shoulder. | He brought the axe down with a thud. 5 to begin a legal case against someone: Criminal charges were brought against 14 officials. 6 bring the total/number/score etc. to sth used in order to say what the new total, etc. is: 165 agents are being hired, bringing the total to 2,313. 7 not bring yourself to do sth to not be able to do something, especially because you know it will upset or harm someone: Brenda couldn't bring herself to tell him that Helen was dead. 8 to cause someone or something to reach a particular state or condition: Bring the mixture to a full boil. | The demonstration was brought to a peaceful conclusion/end. 9 bring sth to sb's attention a phrase, used especially in formal writing, that means to tell someone something: Thank you for bringing the problem to our attention. 10 bring sth to bear (on) to use something in order to get the result you want: Pressure was brought to bear by women's rights groups, and the club began admitting women.

bring sth ↔ about phr. v. to make something happen: Lewis promised to bring about the needed changes.

bring sb/sth around phr. v. 1 to change the subject of a conversation gradually to something new: They keep bringing the conversation/subject around to their son. 2 to make someone become conscious again bring back phr. v. 1 bring sth ↔ back to start using something again that had been used in the past: Some states have brought back the death penalty. 2 bring back sth to make you remember something: The smell of sultan lotion brought back memories of the summer.

bring sb/sth ↔ down phr. v. 1 to reduce something to a lower level: The changes have brought costs down. 2 to make something fall or come down: A missile brought the plane down. 3 bring down a government/president etc. to force a government, etc. to stop being in control of a country bring sth ↔ forth phr. v. (formal) to make something happen, appear, or become available: No evidence has been brought forth against Mr. Keele.

bring sth ↔ forward phr. v. 1 to change an arrangement so that something happens sooner: They had to bring the wedding forward because Lynn got a new job. 2 to introduce or suggest a new plan or idea: Many arguments were brought forward supporting the changes.

bring sb/sth ↔ in phr. v. 1 to ask or persuade someone to become involved in a discussion, help with a problem, etc.: The FBI were brought in to investigate. 2 to earn or produce a particular amount of money: The painting should bring in at least a million dollars. 3 bring in a verdict if a court or JURY brings in a verdict, it says whether someone is guilty or not bring sth ↔ off phr. v. to succeed in doing something that is very difficult: She'll get a promotion if she brings off the deal.

bring sth ↔ on phr. v. to make something bad or unpleasant happen or begin: Stress can bring on an asthma attack.

bring sth ↔ out phr. v. 1 to make something become easier to notice, see, taste, etc.: That shirt brings out the green in her eyes. 2 bring out the best/worst in sb to emphasize someone's best or worst qualities: Becoming a father has brought out the best in Dan. 3 to produce and begin to sell a new product, book, record, etc.: The band is bringing out a new CD in September.

bring sb ↔ together phr. v. if an event brings a group of people together, it makes them care about each other more: Stuart's death really brought the family together.

bring sb/sth ↔ up phr. v. 1 to start to talk about a particular subject or person: The issue was brought up during the last election. 2 to educate and care for a child until s/he is old enough to be independent: She brought up three children by herself. | I was brought up a Catholic/Muslim etc. (=taught to believe a particular religion). 3 to make something appear on a computer screen: He brought up an airplane modeling website.

brink /brɪŋk/ n. the brink (of sth) a situation in which you may soon begin a new or different situation: Scientists say they're on the brink of a major discovery.

brisk /brɪsk/ adj. 1 quick and full of energy: a brisk walk 2 trade or business that is brisk is very busy 3 weather that is brisk is cold and clear —briskly adv.

bristle ¹ /ˈbrɪsəl/ n. [C,U] short stiff hair, wire, etc.: a brush with short bristles bristle ² v. [I] 1 to behave in a way that shows you are very angry or annoyed: He bristled at my suggestion. 2 if an animal's hair bristles, it stands up stiffly because the animal is afraid or angry bristle with sth phr. v. to have a lot of something that sticks out: Her hair bristled with curlers.

bristly /ˈbrɪsəli, -sli/ adj. 1 bristly hair is short and stiff 2 having short stiff hairs on it: The old man's face was all bristly with white whiskers.

britches /ˈbrɪtʃɪz/ n. [plural] 1 too big for your britches (informal) very confident, in a way that annoys other people 2 (old-fashioned) pants

Brit-ish ¹ /ˈbrɪtɪʃ/ adj. relating to or coming from Great Britain: the British government

B

British² n. the British [plural] the people of Great Britain

Brit-on /'brɪtɒn/ n. [C] someone from Great Britain brit-tle /'brɪtl/ adj. 1 hard but easily broken: The paper was old and brittle. 2 a system, relationship, feeling, etc. that is brittle is easily damaged or destroyed: a brittle friendship 3 showing no kind feelings: a brittle laugh [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old English gebryttan “to break into pieces”] bro /broʊ/ n. [C] (slang) 1 your brother 2 used by young men as a way of greeting a male friend broach /broutʃ/ v. broach the subject/question etc. to mention a subject that may be embarrassing or cause an argument: It's often difficult to broach the subject of sex.

broad /brɒd/ adj. 1 very wide: broad shoulders | He gave a broad smile. | The river is broad at this point. 2 including many different kinds of things or people: a movie that appeals to a broad range of people | The measure has broad support. 3 concerning only the main ideas or parts of something: a broad outline of the proposal 4 in broad daylight during the day when it is light: He got stabbed in the street in broad daylight. [ORIGIN: Old English brad] broad-band /'brɒdbænd/ n. [U] it a system in which computers are connected to the Internet and can receive information at very high speed → INTERNET broad-cast¹ /'brɒdkæst/ n. [C] a program on the radio or television: a news broadcast broadcast² v. (past tense and past participle broadcast) [I,T] to send out a radio or television program: Channel 5 will broadcast the game at six o'clock.

broad-cast-er /'brɒdkæstə/ n. [C] 1 someone who speaks on radio and television programs → NEWSCASTER 2 a company that sends out television or radio programs broad-cast-ing /'brɒdkæstɪŋ/ n. [U] the business of making radio and television programs broad-en /'brɒdn/ v. 1 [T] to increase something such as your knowledge, experience, or number of activities: The class will broaden your knowledge of wine. | Travel broadens the mind (=helps you understand and accept other people's beliefs, customs, etc.). 2 [T] to make something affect or include more people or things: This novel will broaden her appeal to younger readers. 3 [I,T] also broaden out to make something wider, or to become wider: The river broadens out here.

broad-ly /'brɒdli/ adv. 1 in a general way: I know broadly what to expect. 2 smile/grin broadly to have a big smile on your face 3 including a range of people, things, subjects, etc.: The policy is broadly supported.

broad-mind-ed /brɒd'maɪndɪd/ adj. willing to respect opinions or behavior that are very different from your own broad-sheet /'brɒdʃɪt/ n. [C] a serious newspaper printed on large sheets of paper → NEWSPAPER broad-side¹ /'brɒd,sɑɪd/ adv. with the longest side facing you: He hit the car broadside.

broadside² v. [T] to crash into the side of another vehicle

Broad-way /'brɒdweɪ/ n. a street in New York that is known as the center of American theater bro-cade /broʊ'keɪd/ n. [U] thick heavy cloth that has a pattern of gold and silver threads broc-co-li /'brɒkəli/ n. [U] a green vegetable with thick groups of small dark green parts that look like flowers [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Italian, plural of broccolo, from brocco “small nail,” from Latin broccus] → see picture at VEGETABLE

bro-chure /broʊ'ʃʊr/ n. [C] a thin book that gives information or advertises something: a travel brochure brogue /broʊg/ n. [C] 1 a strong leather shoe, especially one with a pattern in the leather 2 an ACCENT, especially an Irish or Scottish one broil /brɔɪl/ v. [I,T] if you broil something, or if something broils, you cook it under or over direct heat: broiled chicken [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French bruler “to burn”]

THESAURUS cook, bake, fry, roast, grill, sauté, boil, steam, deep fry → COOK¹

broil-er /'brɔɪlə/ n. [C] a special area of a STOVE, used for cooking food under direct heat broke¹ /brook/ v. the past tense of BREAK broke² adj. (informal) 1 completely without money: I'm flat broke.

THESAURUS poor, needy, destitute, impoverished, impecunious, indigent, penurious, poverty-stricken → POOR

2 go broke if a company or business goes broke, it can no longer operate because it has no money: The record store went broke last year. 3 go for broke to take big risks trying to achieve something bro-ken¹ /'brɒkən/ v. the past participle of BREAK

broken² adj. 1 not working correctly: a broken clock | How did the lawn mower get broken? 2 cracked or in pieces because of being hit, dropped, etc.: a broken leg | There was broken glass everywhere. 3 not continuous: a broken white line | broken sleep 4 a broken relationship is one that has ended because the husband and wife have separated: a broken marriage | children from broken homes (=children whose parents are divorced) 5 extremely mentally or physically weak after suffering a lot: a broken man 6 broken agreement/promise etc. a situation in which someone did not do what s/he promised to do 7 a broken heart a feeling of extreme sadness because someone you love has died or left you 8 broken English/French etc. if someone speaks broken English, French, etc., s/he speaks very slowly, with a lot of mistakes, because s/he does not know the language well broken-down adj. broken, old, and needing a lot of repair: a broken-down sofa broken-hearted adj. very sad, especially because someone you love has died or left you bro-ker¹ /'brookə/ n. [C] ECONOMICS someone whose job is to buy and sell property, insurance, etc. for someone else: a real-estate broker → STOCK-BROKER broker² v. [T] to arrange the details of a deal, plan, etc. so that everyone can agree to it: an agreement brokered by the UN

bro-ker-age /'brookərɪdʒ/ n. [U] ECONOMICS the business of being a broker bro-mine /'broomɪn/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Br) a dark red poisonous chemical liquid that changes easily into a gas, often used in photography or for making other chemicals change color. It is a chemical ELEMENT belonging to the HALOGEN group.

bronchi /'brʌŋkai/ n. the plural of BRONCHUS

'bronchial tube n. [C usually plural] BIOLOGY one of two tubes that take air into your lungs from your TRACHEA (SYN) bronchus → see picture at ORGAN

bron-chi-ole /'brʌŋki,ʊl/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a narrow tube that carries air into the lung from the BRONCHIAL TUBES (=the main air passages leading to the lungs) → see picture at LUNG

bron-chi-tis /brʌŋ'kɪtɪs/ n. [U] an illness that affects your breathing and makes you cough —bronchitic /brʌŋ'kɪtɪk/ adj.

bron-chus /'brʌŋkəs/ n. (plural bronchi /-kai/) [C] BIOLOGY one of two tubes that take air into your lungs from your TRACHEA (SYN) bronchial tube → see picture at LUNG bron-co /'brʌŋkou/ n. (plural brancos) [C] a wild horse bron-to-sau-rus /brʌntə'sɔrəs/ n. [C] a large DINOSAUR with a very long neck and body bronze¹ /brʌnz/ n. 1 [U] a hard metal that is a mixture of COPPER and TIN 2 [U] a dull red-brown color 3 [C] a work of art made of bronze: a bronze by Henry Moore [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French, Italian bronzo] bronze² adj. 1 made of bronze: a bronze statue 2 having the red-brown color of bronze

'Bronze Age n. the Bronze Age HISTORY the period of time, between about 6,000 and 3,500 years ago, when bronze was used for making tools, weapons, etc. → IRON AGE, STONE AGE bronze 'medal n. [C] a prize that is given to the person who finishes third in a race, competition, etc., usually made of bronze brooch /brʊʃ/, brʊtʃ/ n. [C] a piece of jewelry that you fasten to your clothes brood¹ /brʊd/ v. [I] to think for a long time about something that you are worried, angry, or sad about: Louise was brooding about/over what had happened at work.

brood² n. [C] 1 a family of young birds 2 (humorous) someone's children brook /brʊk/ n. [C] a small stream broom /brʊm, brʊm/ n. [C] a large brush with a long handle, used for sweeping floors broom-stick /'brʊm,stri:k, 'brʊm-/ n. [C] the long thin handle of a broom. In stories, WITCHES fly on broomsticks.

broth /brʊθ/ n. [U] a soup made by cooking meat or vegetables in water and then removing them: beef broth broth-el /'brʊθəl, 'brʊ-, -ðəl/ n. [C] a house where men pay to have sex with PROSTITUTES broth-er¹ /'brʌðə/ n. [C] 1 a boy or man who has the same parents as you → SISTER: Isn't that your big/little brother (=older or younger brother)? → RELATIVE¹ 2 (spoken) a male friend – used especially by African Americans 3 a man who belongs to the same race, religion, organization, etc. as you 4 a MONK: Brother Francis [ORIGIN: Old English brothor] brother² interjection Oh brother! said when you are annoyed or surprised broth-er-hood /'brʌðə,hʊd/ n. (old-fashioned) 1 [U] a feeling of friendship between people: He called for his countrymen to unite in a spirit of brotherhood. 2 [C] a men's organization formed for a particular purpose

'brother-in-law n. [C] 1 the brother of your husband or wife 2 the husband of your sister broth-er-ly /'brʌðəli/ adj. showing feelings of kindness, loyalty, etc. that you would expect a brother to show: brotherly love brought /brɒt/ v. the past tense and past participle of BRING brou-ha-ha /'bru:hə:hə/ n. [U] (informal) unnecessary noise and activity (SYN) commotion brow /braʊ/ n. [C] 1 a FOREHEAD 2 an EYEBROW brow-beat /'braʊbit/ v. (past tense browbeat, past participle browbeaten /-bitʰn/) [T] to make someone do something by continuously asking him/her to do it, especially in a threatening way brown¹ /braʊn/ adj. having the same color as earth, wood, or coffee: brown shoes [ORIGIN: Old English brun] —brown n. [C,U] brown² v. [I,T] to become brown, or to make food do this: Brown the meat in hot oil.

Brown-ie /'braʊni/ n. 1 the Brownies [plural] the part of the GIRL SCOUTS that is for younger girls 2 [C] a member of this organization brown-ie /'braʊni/ n. 1 [C] a thick flat piece of chocolate cake 2 get/earn brownie points (informal) if you do something to get brownie points, you do it to get praise

'brown-nose v. [I,T] (informal, disapproving) to try to make someone in authority like you by being very nice to him/her —brown-noser n. [C] brown-stone /'braʊnstɒn/ n. 1 [U] a type of red-brown stone, often used for building in the eastern U.S. 2 [C] a house with a front made of this stone browse /braʊz/ v. 1 [I] to look at the goods in a store without wanting to buy a particular thing: "Can I help you?" "No thanks. I'm just browsing." 2 [I] to look through the pages of a book, magazine, etc. without a particular purpose, reading only the most interesting parts: I was browsing through the catalog, and I found this. 3 [I,T] IT to search for information on a computer or on the Internet: software for browsing the Internet brows-er /'braʊzə/ n. [C] IT a computer program that lets you find and use information on the INTERNET: a Web browser bruise /'bruːz/ n. [C] a mark on the skin of a person or piece of fruit, where it has been damaged by a hit or a fall: She was covered in cuts and bruises. [ORIGIN: Old English brysan "to press so as to break, bruise," later influenced by Old French brisier, bruissier "to break"]

B

THESAURUS blemish, scar, pimple, zit, wart, blister, freckle, mole → MARK² injury, wound, contusion, cut, laceration, scrape, sprain, bump, fracture → INJURY bruise v. [I,T] to bruise a person or piece of fruit, or to get a bruise: He fell and bruised his knee. | a bruised apple —bruising n. [U]

THESAURUS hurt, injure, wound, maim, break, sprain, twist, strain, pull, dislocate → HURT¹

brunch /brʌntʃ/ n. [C,U] a meal eaten in the late morning, as a combination of breakfast and LUNCH bru-nette /bru'net/ n. [C] a woman with dark brown hair brunt /brʌnt/ n. bear/take the brunt of sth to have to deal with the worst part of something bad: Women usually bear the brunt of caring for the sick.

brush /'brʌʃ/ n. 1 [C] an object that you use for cleaning, painting, making your hair neat, etc., consisting of a handle with BRISTLES or thin pieces of plastic attached to it → HAIRBRUSH, PAINTBRUSH, TOOTHBRUSH 2 [U] small bushes and trees covering an open area of land: a brush fire 3 [C] a short time when you are in an unpleasant situation or argument: the boy's first brush with the law (=when he was stopped by police) [ORIGIN: (1) 1300—1400 Early French broisse, from Old French broce]

brush v. 1 [T] to use a brush to clean something or to make it look smooth and neat: Go brush your teeth. | He hadn't brushed his hair. 2 [T] to remove something with a brush or your hand: She brushed the crumbs off her lap. 3 [I,T] to touch someone or something lightly as you pass by: Her hair brushed against my arm.

THESAURUS touch, feel, handle, stroke, rub, scratch, pat, pet, tickle → TOUCH¹

brush sb/sth ↔ aside phr. v. to refuse to listen to someone or consider someone's opinion: He brushed her objections aside.

brush sth ↔ off phr. v. to refuse to talk about something: The President calmly brushed off their questions about his health.

brush up (on) sth phr. v. to quickly practice and improve your skills or knowledge of a subject: I have to brush up on my French before I go to Paris.

'brush-off n. [singular] (informal) rude or unfriendly behavior that shows you are not interested in someone: I thought she really liked me, but she gave me the brush-off.

brusque /brʌsk/ adj. using very few words, in a way that seems impolite: a brusque manner [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French, Italian brusco, from Medieval Latin bruscus type of bush with sharp points] brus-sels sprout /'brʌsəl ,spraʊt/ n. [C] a small round green vegetable that has a slightly bitter taste [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Brussels, where it was first grown] → see picture at VEGETABLE bru-tal /'bruːtl/ adj. 1 very cruel and violent: a brutal attack 2 not sensitive to people's feelings: the brutal truth —brutally adv. —brutality /bru'tæləti/ n. [C,U] bru-tal-ize /'bruːtl,aɪz/ v. [T] to treat someone in a cruel and violent way brute /'brut/ n. [C] 1 a man who is rough, cruel, and not sensitive 2 an animal, especially a large one brute adj. brute force/strength physical strength that is used rather than thought or intelligence brut-ish /'bruːtɪʃ/ adj. very cruel: brutish behavior

B.S. n. [C] Bachelor of Science a university degree in a science subject → B.A.

bub-ble /'bʌbəl/ n. [C] a ball of air in a liquid or solid substance: soap bubbles | the bubbles in a glass of soda

bubble² v. [I] 1 to produce bubbles: Heat the sauce until it starts to bubble. 2 also bubble over to be full of a particular emotion, activity, etc.: The kids were bubbling over with excitement.

'bubble gum n. [U] a type of CHEWING GUM that you can blow into a bubble bub-bly¹ /'bʌbli/ adj. 1 full of BUBBLES 2 happy and friendly: a bubbly personality

bubbly² n. [U] (informal) CHAMPAGNE buck¹ /bʌk/ n. [C] 1 (spoken) a dollar: Could you lend me 20 bucks? 2 the buck stops here also the buck stops with sb used to say that a particular person is responsible for something: I'm paid to make the decisions; the buck stops here. 3 pass the buck to make someone else responsible for something that you should deal with: It's a way for the politicians to pass the buck to voters. 4 (plural buck or bucks) BIOLOGY the male of some animals, such as DEER, rabbits, etc.

buck² v. 1 [I] if a horse bucks, it kicks its back feet up in the air 2 [T] if a horse bucks someone off, it throws the person riding off its back by bucking 3 [T] (informal) to oppose something, or do the opposite of something: Unemployment in the state bucked the national trend by falling for the last month.

buck-et /'bʌkɪt/ n. [C] 1 an open container with a handle, used for carrying and holding things, especially liquids 2 the amount that a bucket will hold: a bucket of water [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Anglo-French buket, from Old English buc "container for pouring liquid, belly" → a drop in the bucket at DROP², kick the bucket at KICK¹ buck-le¹ /'bʌkəl/ v. 1 [I,T] to fasten a buckle, or be fastened with a buckle: The strap buckles at the side. 2 [I] to do something that you do not want to do because of a difficult situation: The senator accused supporters of the amendment of buckling under pressure from groups lobbying against the bill. 3 [I] if your knees buckle, they become weak and bend 4 [I,T] to bend because of heat or pressure, or to make something do this [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French bocle "buckle, raised part in the center of a shield," from buccola "strap for a helmet"] buckle down phr. v. (informal) to start working seriously: Sanders buckled down, and his grade-point average improved.

buckle (sth ↔) up phr. v. to fasten your SEAT BELT in a car, aircraft, etc.

buckle² n. [C] a piece of metal used for fastening the two ends of a belt, or for fastening a shoe, bag, etc. → see picture at WATCH² buck 'teeth n. [plural] teeth that stick forward out of your mouth —buck-toothed adj.

bud¹ /bʌd/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY a young flower or leaf that is still tightly rolled up → see picture at PLANT¹ 2 (spoken) BUDDY → nip sth in the bud at NIP¹

bud² v. (budded, budding) [I] BIOLOGY to produce buds

Bud-dha /'budə, 'bʊdə/ n. the Buddha the title given to Gautama Siddhartha, the man who taught the ideas on which Buddhism is based

Bud-dhism /'budɪzəm, 'bʊ-/ n. [U] a religion of east and central Asia, based on the teaching of Buddha —Buddhist n. [C] —Buddhist adj.

bud-ding¹ /'bʌdɪŋ/ adj. beginning to develop: a budding poet budding² n. [U] 1 BIOLOGY the process by which a plant produces new BUDS 2 BIOLOGY a process by which YEAST produces more of itself, and some simple living creatures produce new creatures by separating to form two new parts 3 BIOLOGY a way of producing a new type of plant or tree, especially a fruit tree, that involves putting the BUD of one plant onto the stem of a different plant

bud-dy /'bʌdi/ n. (plural buddies) [C] 1 (informal) a friend: We're good buddies. 2 (spoken) used in order to speak to a man or boy: Hey, buddy! Leave her alone! | Thanks, buddy!

budge /bʌdʒ/ v. [I,T] 1 to move, or to make someone or something move: I pulled the door, but it wouldn't budge. | Marshal refused to budge from his seat. 2 to change your opinion, or to make someone change his/her opinion: The Union wouldn't budge from their demands.

budget-et¹ /'bʌdʒɪt/ n. [C] ECONOMICS a plan of how to spend the money that is available in a particular period in time, or the money itself: a budget of $2 million for the project | the budget for the new library system | Budget cuts (=a decrease in the amount of money spent) have meant job losses. | He wants to balance the budget (=make the money that is spent equal to the money coming in) and cut taxes. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old French bougette "small leather bag," from Latin bulga; from the idea of bringing your spending plan out of its bag] —budgetary /'bʌdʒə,teri/ adj.: budgetary limits budget² v. [I] ECONOMICS to carefully plan and control how much you will spend: $150,000 has been budgeted for the after-school program.

budget³ adj. [only before noun] very low in price: a budget flight

'budget ,deficit n. [C] ECONOMICS the amount by which the money a government spends is more than it receives in taxes or other income during a particular period

'budget ,surplus also 'surplus 'budget n. [C] ECONOMICS money that a government still has available when it spends less than it receives in taxes or other income during a particular period

buff¹ /bʌf/ n. 1 movie/car/jazz etc. buff someone who is interested in and knows a lot about movies, cars, etc. 2 [U] a pale yellow-brown color buff² v. [T] to make a surface shine by polishing it with something soft buff³ adj. (informal) having an attractive body

buf·fa·lo /'bʌfə,loʊ/ n. (plural buffaloes or buf-falo) [C] 1 a large animal like a cow, with a very large head and thick hair on its neck and shoulders (SYN) bison 2 an animal like a large black cow, with long curved horns that lives in Africa and Asia

B

buff·er /'bʌfə/ n. [C] 1 something that protects one thing from being affected by another thing: The walls are a buffer against noise from the airport. | Use your commuting time as a buffer between work and home. 2 buffer zone an area between two armies, which is intended to separate them so that they do not fight 3 also buffer state POLITICS a smaller country between two larger countries, which makes war between the large countries less likely 4 IT a place in a computer's memory for storing information for a short time 5 also buffer solution CHEMISTRY a substance in a solution, that reduces effects on the PH (=the level of acid) when an acid or base is added to the solution

buf·fet¹ /bə'feɪ, bu-/ n. [C] a meal in which people serve themselves at a table and then sit down somewhere else to eat: a breakfast buffet

buf·fet² /'bʌft/ v. [T] to make someone or something move by hitting him, her, or it again and again: The small boats were buffeted by the wind and the rain.

buf·foon /bə'fun/ n. [C] someone who does silly things that make you laugh [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French boufon, from Old Italian buffone] —buffoonery n. [U] bug¹ /bʌg/ n. [C] 1 any small insect: a little green bug 2 (informal) a GERM (=very small creature) that causes an illness that is not very serious: a stomach bug 3 IT a small mistake in a computer program that stops it from working correctly

THESAURUS defect, problem, flaw, fault, imperfection → DEFECT¹

4 the travel/skiing/writing etc. bug (informal) a sudden strong interest in doing something, that usually only continues for a short time: I'd been bitten by the travel bug. 5 a small piece of electronic equipment for listening secretly to other people's conversations bug² v. (bugged, bugging) [T] 1 (informal) to annoy someone: It bugs me that he doesn't listen. 2 to use a bug in order to listen secretly to other people's conversations: According to the FBI's report, the room had been bugged.

bug·gy /'bʌgi/ n. (plural buggies) [C] a light carriage pulled by a horse bu·gle /'byʊgəl/ n. [C] a musical instrument like a TRUMPET, which is used in the army to call soldiers [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 bugle horn "instrument made from buffalo horn, bugle" (13—16 centuries), from bugle "buffalo"]

build¹ /bɪld/ v. (past tense and past participle built /bɪlt/) 1 [I,T] to make a structure such as a house, factory, ship, etc.: the money to build a new bridge | More homes are being built near the lake. | houses built of bricks construct – to build something large such as a building, bridge, etc.: There are plans to construct a new library.

THESAURUS

put up – to build something such as a wall or building: It took five years to put up the skyscraper.

erect (formal) – to build something: plans to erect a memorial at the site of the World Trade Center assemble – to put all the parts of something such as a machine or a piece of furniture together: The bicycle is easy to assemble.

2 [T] also build up to make something develop or form: We're working to build a more peaceful world. | He'd been working 14-hour days to build up the business. 3 [I,T] also build up to increase, or to make something increase: The tension between them was building. | In diabetes, sugar builds up in the bloodstream and causes damage. | a confidence-building pre-game talk [ORIGIN: Old English byldan] build sth ↔ into sth phr. v. 1 to make something a permanent part of a system, agreement, etc.: A completion date was built into the contract. 2 to make something so that it is a permanent part of a structure, machine, etc.: a cash machine built into the wall build on phr. v. 1 build on sth to use your achievements in order to develop something further: The soccer league hopes to build on the popularity of the game among young people. 2 build sth on sth to base something on an idea or thing: a relationship built on loyalty and trust build up phr. v. build up sb's hopes to unfairly make someone think that s/he will get what s/he is hoping for: Don't build her hopes up.

build up to sth phr. v. to gradually prepare for something: I had built up to swimming 50 lengths.

build² n. [singular, U] the shape and size of someone's body: She has black hair and a slim build.

build-er /'bɪldə/ n. [C] 1 a person or company that builds buildings 2 someone or something that makes something develop or form: The win was a real confidence-builder for the team. | her role as a bridge builder between the communities

build-ing /'bɪldɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] a structure such as a house, church, or factory, that has a roof and walls: Tall buildings lined the street. ▶ Don't say "high buildings." ◀ 2 [U] the process or business of building things

'building block n. 1 [C] a block of wood or plastic for young children to build things with 2 building blocks [plural] the pieces or parts that make it possible for something big or important to exist: Reading and writing are the building blocks of education.

'building code n. [C] one of a set of official rules about the standards that must be followed in the structure and safety of new buildings, or when changing the inside of an existing building build-up /'bɪldʌp/ n. 1 [singular, U] a gradual increase: a buildup of greenhouse gases in the atmosphere 2 [C] the length of time spent preparing for an event: the buildup to the war built¹ /bɪlt/ v. the past tense and past participle of BUILD built² adj. used to describe someone's size or shape: a man who is built like a tank

'built-in adj. forming a part of something that cannot be separated from it: a modern kitchen with built-in cabinets bulb /bʌlb/ n. [C] 1 the glass part of an electric light, that the light shines from: a 40-watt bulb 2 BIOLOGY a root shaped like a ball, that grows into a plant: tulip bulbs → see picture at PLANT¹

bul-bous /'bʌlbəs/ adj. fat and round: a bulbous nose bulge¹ /bʌldʒ/ n. [C] 1 a curved place on the surface of something, caused by something under or inside it: The gun made a bulge under his jacket. 2 an increase in the amount or level of something: the population bulge that happened after World War II

bulge² v. [I] to stick out in a rounded shape: bags bulging with shopping bu-li-mi-a /bə'limiə, bu-/ n. [U] a mental illness in which someone eats too much and then vomits because s/he is afraid of gaining weight [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Modern Latin, Greek boulimia "great hunger," from bous "ox, cow" + limos "hunger"] —bulimic /bə'limɪk/ adj.

bulk /bʌlk/ (Ac) n. 1 the bulk (of sth) the main or largest part of something: The bulk of the work has already been done. | The bulk of the troops are stationed in the north of the country. 2 [C,U] the large size of something or someone: the elephant's huge bulk | Let dough rise in a warm place until it has doubled in bulk. 3 in bulk in large quantities: Businesses buy paper in bulk.

bulk-y /'bʌlki/ (Ac) adj. big and heavy: a bulky package bull /bʊl/ n. 1 [C] a male cow, or the male of some other large animals, such as an ELEPHANT or WHALE 2 [U] (informal) something someone says that is stupid or not true: That's bull. I never saw him before. 3 take the bull by the horns (informal) to bravely or confidently deal with a difficult, dangerous, or unpleasant problem [ORIGIN: (1) Old English bula]

'bull-dog /'bʊldɔg/ n. [C] a dog with a large head, a flat nose, a short neck, and short thick legs bull-doze /'bʊldoʊz/ v. [T] to move dirt and rocks, destroy buildings, etc. with a bulldozer bull-doz-er /'bʊldoʊzə/ n. [C] a powerful vehicle with a broad metal blade, used for moving dirt and rocks, destroying buildings, etc.

bul-let /'bʊlɪt/ n. [C] a small round piece of metal that is fired from a gun bul-le-tin /'bʊlətɪn, 'bʊlətɪn/ n. [C] 1 a short official news report or announcement that is made to tell people about something important: a news bulletin 2 a letter or printed statement that a group or organization produces to tell people its news [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French, Italian bulletino, from bulla "official announcement by the Pope"]

'bulletin board n. [C] 1 a board on a wall, that you put information or pictures on 2 it a place in a system of computers where you can read or leave messages bull-fight /'bʊlfart/ n. [C] a type of entertainment in some countries, in which a man fights and kills a BULL —bullfighter n. [C] —bullfighting n. [U] bull-horn /'bʊlhɔrn/ n. [C] a piece of equipment that you hold up to your mouth when you talk, to make your voice louder bul-lion /'bʊljən/ n. [U] blocks of gold or silver bull-ish /'bʊlɪʃ/ adj. ECONOMICS expecting the price of shares on a STOCK MARKET to rise (ANT) bearish

'bull market n. [C] ECONOMICS a STOCK MARKET in which the prices of STOCKS are rising and prices are expected to continue rising (ANT) bear market bull-pen /'bʊlpen/ n. [C] the area in a baseball field, in which PITCHERS practice throwing

'bull's-eye n. [C] the center of a TARGET that you try to hit when shooting

bul-ly /'bʊli/ v. (bullied, bullies) [T] to threaten to hurt someone or frighten him/her, especially someone weaker or smaller than you: At camp, the bigger boys bullied him. | Don't let them bully you into working on Saturdays. —bully n. [C] bum¹ /bʌm/ n. [C] (informal) 1 (disapproving) a man who has no home or job, and who asks people on the street for money 2 someone who is very lazy: Get up, you lazy bum! 3 beach/ski etc. bum someone who spends all of his/her time on the beach, skiing, etc.

B

bum² v. (bummed, bunning) [T] (slang) to ask someone if you can borrow or have something small: He bummed a cigarette from her.

bum around phr. v. (slang) 1 to spend time doing nothing, or in a very lazy way 2 bum around sth to travel around, living very cheaply, without having any plans: He spent a year bunning around Europe.

bum³ adj. (informal) 1 bad and useless: He got a bum deal. 2 injured: a bum leg bum-ble-bee /'bʌmbəlbi/ n. [C] a large hairy BEE bum-bling /'bʌmbliŋ/ adj. behaving in a careless way and making a lot of mistakes bummed /bʌmd/ also bummed out adj. (spoken) feeling disappointed: I'm really bummed that we can't go!

bum-mer /'bʌmə/ n. [singular] (spoken) a situation that is disappointing: You can't go? What a bummer.

bump¹ /bʌmp/ v. 1 [I,T] to hit or knock against something, especially by accident: It was so dark I bumped into a tree. | Don't bump your head!

THESAURUS hit, collide, bang, strike → HIT¹

2 [I] to move up and down as you move forward in a vehicle: We bumped along the dirt road.

bump into sb phr. v. (informal) to meet someone you know when you were not expecting to: Guess who I bumped into this morning?

bump sb ↔ off phr. v. (informal) to kill someone bump² n. [C] 1 an area of skin that is swollen because you have hit it on something: a bump on his head

THESAURUS injury, wound, bruise, contusion, cut, laceration, scrape, sprain, fracture → INJURY

2 a small raised area on a surface: a bump in the road 3 a movement in which one thing hits against another thing, or the sound that this makes: The elevator stopped with a bump.

bump-er¹ /'bʌmpə/ n. [C] 1 the part at the front and back of a car that protects it if it hits anything 2 bumper-to-bumper bumper-to-bumper traffic is very close together and moving slowly bumper² adj. very large: a bumper crop

'bumper sticker n. [C] a small sign with a message on it on the bumper of a car bump-y /'bʌmpi/ adj. 1 a bumpy surface has a lot of raised parts on it: a bumpy road 2 a bumpy trip by car or airplane is uncomfortable because of bad road or weather conditions bun /bʌn/ n. [C] 1 a type of bread that is small and round: a hamburger bun 2 if a woman has her hair in a bun, she fastens her hair in a small round shape at the back of her head 3 buns [plural] (informal) the two round parts of a person's bottom → BUTTOCKS

bunch¹ /bʌntʃ/ n. [singular] a group or number of similar people or things, or a large amount of something: The doctor asked me a bunch of questions. | a bunch of grapes | There are a whole bunch of little restaurants by the beach. | This beer is the best of the bunch.

bunch² v. [I,T] 1 also bunch together to stay close together in a group, or to form a group: The runners were bunched together. 2 also bunch up to pull material together tightly in folds: Her socks were bunched up around her ankles.

bun-dle¹ /'bʌndl/ n. 1 [C] a group of things such as papers, clothes, or sticks that are fastened or tied together: a bundle of newspapers 2 [C] IT SOFTWARE that is included with the computer you buy 3 [singular] (informal) a lot of money: That car must have cost a bundle. 4 be a bundle of nerves/laughs etc. (informal) to be very nervous, a lot of fun, etc.

bundle² v. 1 [I,T] also bundle up to make a bundle: Dave bundled up the newspapers. 2 [I,T] also bundle up to dress in a lot of warm clothes because it is cold: Fans were bundled up against the cold. 3 [T] to make someone move quickly into a particular place: The police bundled him into a car. 4 [T] IT to include computer software or other services when you sell a new computer bun-ga-low /'bʌŋgəloʊ/ n. [C] a small house that usually has only one level → HOUSE¹ [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Hindi bangla "(house) in the Bengal style"] bun-gee jump-ing /'bʌndʒi dʒʌmpɪŋ/ n. [U] a sport in which you jump off something very high while you are attached to a long length of special rope that stretches —bungee jump n. [C] —bungee jumper n. [C] bun-gle /'bʌŋgəl/ v. [T] to do something badly: They bungled the job completely. —bungler n. [C] —bungling adj.

bun-ion /'bʌnyən/ n. [C] a painful sore on your big toe bunk /bʌŋk/ n. 1 [C] a narrow bed that is attached to the wall, for example on a train or a ship 2 [C] one of the two beds that form bunk beds → *see picture at BED*¹ 3 [U] (informal) something that is not true or that does not mean anything

'bunk beds n. [plural] two beds that are attached together, one on top of the other bun-ker /'bʌŋkə/ n. [C] a strongly built shelter for soldiers, usually under the ground bun-ny /'bʌni/ also 'bunny ,rabbit n. [C] (plural bunnies) a rabbit – a word used especially by or to children buoy¹ /'bui, bɔɪ/ n. [C] an object that floats on the water, used for showing boats which parts of the water are safe or dangerous buoy² also buoy up v. [T] 1 to make someone feel happier, more confident, etc.: The team was buoyed by their win against Stanford. 2 ECONOMICS to keep profits, prices, etc. at a high level buoy-ant /'bɔɪənt/ adj. 1 happy and confident: a buoyant mood 2 ECONOMICS buoyant prices, etc. tend not to fall 3 able to float —buoyancy n. [U] —buoyantly adv.

bur-den¹ /'bɜːdn/ n. [C] (formal) 1 something that is difficult or worrying that you are responsible for: I don't want to be a burden on my children when I'm old. 2 the burden of proof the duty to prove that something is true 3 (literary) something heavy that you have to carry [ORIGIN: Old English byrthen] burden² v. [T] 1 to make someone worry or cause problems for him/her: families burdened with debt 2 to make someone carry something heavy bu-reau /'byʊərə/ n. [C] 1 a government department or part of a government department: the Federal Bureau of Investigation 2 an office or organization that collects or provides information: an employment bureau 3 a CHEST OF DRAWERS [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 French “desk, cloth covering for desks,” from Old French burel “woolen cloth”] bu-reauc-ra-cy /byʊ'rəkrəsi/ n. (plural bureau-cracies) 1 [U] an official system that is annoying or confusing because it has a lot of rules, processes, etc.: We need less bureaucracy in the school system. 2 [C] a government organization that is divided into departments and operated by a large number of officials who are not elected, or a system in which this happens 3 [singular] the officials who are employed rather than elected to do the work of a government, business, etc.

bu-reau-crat /'byʊərəkræt/ n. [C] someone who works in a bureaucracy and follows official rules very carefully bu-reau-crat-ic /byʊərə'krætɪk/ adj. involving a lot of complicated official rules and processes bur-geon-ing /'bɜːdʒənɪŋ/ adj. growing, increasing, or developing very quickly: the city's burgeoning population

burg-er /'bɜːgə/ n. [C] (informal) a HAMBURGER: a burger and fries

bur-glar /'bɜːglə/ n. [C] someone who goes into buildings, cars, etc. in order to steal things [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Anglo-French burgler, from Medieval Latin burgare “to burgle,” from Latin burgus “defended place”]

THESAURUS criminal, thief, robber, shoplifter, pickpocket, mugger → CRIMINAL²

bur-glar-ize /'bɜːgləraɪz/ v. [T] to go into a building, car, etc. and steal things from it

THESAURUS steal, rob, mug, shoplift, rip off sth, loot, plunder, pilfer → STEAL¹

bur-gla-ry /'bɜːgləri/ n. (plural burglaries) [C,U] the crime of going into a building, car, etc. to steal things

THESAURUS crime, theft, robbery, shoplifting, mugging → CRIME

bur-gun-dy /'bɜːgəndi/ n. (plural burgundies) 1 [C,U] red or white wine from the Burgundy area of France 2 [U] a dark red color —burgundy adj.

bur-i-al /'berɪəl/ n. [C,U] the act or ceremony of putting a dead body into a GRAVE

bur-lap /'bɜːləp/ n. [U] a type of thick rough cloth bur-ly /'bɜːli/ adj. a burly man is big and strong burn¹ /bɜːn/ v. (past tense and past participle burned or burnt /bɜːnt/)

1 DESTROY/INJURE WITH FIRE [I,T] to damage something or hurt someone with fire, heat, or the Sun, or to be hurt or damaged in this way: Ricky burned his hand on the stove. | Parts of the building are still burning. | I burned the toast. | You can still get burned at the beach even if it's cloudy.

2 PRODUCE FLAMES [I] to produce heat and flames: a fire burning in the fireplace

3 get burned (spoken) a) to be emotionally hurt by someone or something: I'm going to take things slowly because I don't want to get burned again. b) to lose a lot of money, especially in a business deal

4 FUEL [I,T] if you burn a FUEL, or if it burns, it is used for producing power, heat, light, etc.: Cars burn gasoline.

5 FACE/CHEEKS [I] if your face or cheeks are burning, you feel hot because you are embarrassed or upset

6 FAT/ENERGY [T] if you burn fat or CALORIES, you use up energy stored in your body by being physically active: a fat-burning exercise

7 CD/DVD [T] if you burn a CD or DVD, you record information onto it using special computer equipment

8 LIGHT [I] (literary) if a light or lamp burns, it shines or produces light [ORIGIN: Old English byrnan “to burn” and bærnan “to cause to burn”] —burned adj. —burnt adj.

burn (sth ↔) down phr. v.

if a building burns down or is burned down, it is destroyed by fire burn sth ↔ off phr. v.

burn off energy/fat/calories to use energy that is stored in your body by doing physical exercise burn out phr. v.

1 burn (sth ↔) out if a fire burns out or burns itself out, it stops burning because there is no coal, wood, etc. left

2 burn (sth ↔) out if an engine or electric wire burns out or is burned out, it stops working because it has become too hot

3 be burned out if a building, car, etc. is burned out, the inside of it is destroyed by fire

4 burn (sb) out to work so hard over a period of time that you become very tired and do not want to continue: After three years of 14-hour days, he was burned out.

burn up phr. v.

1 burn sth ↔ up if something burns up or is burned up, it is completely destroyed by fire or great heat

2 burn sb up (informal) to make someone angry: The way she treats him really burns me up.

burn² n. [C] an injury or mark caused by fire or heat: a burn on her arm burn-er /'bɜːnə/ n. 1 [C] the part of a STOVE that produces heat or a flame 2 put sth on the back burner (informal) to delay dealing with something until a later time burn-ing /'bɜːnɪŋ/ adj. 1 on fire: The boys were rescued from the burning house. 2 feeling very hot: a burning fever 3 burning ambition/need etc. a very strong ambition, need etc. 4 burning question/issue a very important or urgent question, etc. —burning adv.

bur-nish /'bɜːnɪʃ/ v. [T] to polish metal until it shines —burnished adj.

burnt /bɜːnt/ v. a past tense and past participle of BURN burp /bɜːp/ v. (informal) 1 [I] if you burp, gas comes up from your stomach through your mouth and makes a noise 2 [T] to help a baby get rid of stomach gas, especially by rubbing his/her back —burp n. [C] bur-ri-to /bə'ri:təʊ/ n. (plural burritos) [C] a Mexican food made from a TORTILLA folded around meat or beans

bur-ro /'bɜːrəʊ, 'bɜːrɒs/ n. (plural burros) [C] a small DONKEY

bur-row¹ /'bɜːrəʊ, 'bɜːrɒs/ v. [I] to make a hole or passage in the ground: Gophers had burrowed under the wall.

burrow² n. [C] a passage in the ground made by an animal such as a rabbit or a FOX for it to live in burst¹ /bɜːst/ v. (past tense and past participle burst) 1 [I,T] to break open or apart suddenly and violently, or to make something do this: a game in which kids sit on balloons to try to burst them

THESAURUS

break, smash, shatter, crack, tear, snap, pop → BREAK¹

2 be bursting to be very full of something: This town is bursting with tourists. | School classrooms are bursting at the seams (=are too full of students). 3 [I] to move suddenly, quickly, and often violently: She burst through the door of my room. 4 be bursting with pride/confidence/energy etc. to be very proud, confident, etc. [ORIGIN: Old English berstan]

burst in on sb/sth phr. v. to suddenly enter a room and interrupt someone or something, in a way that embarrasses you or other people: I burst in on her mother in the bathroom.

burst into sth phr. v. to suddenly start to do something: Ellen burst into tears (=began crying). | The car hit a tree and burst into flames (=began burning).

burst out phr. v. 1 burst out laughing/crying etc. to suddenly start to laugh, cry, etc. 2 to suddenly say something in a strong way: "I don't believe it!" she burst out angrily.

burst² n. a burst of sth a short sudden period of increased activity, loud noise, or strong feeling: a sudden burst of laughter | a burst of machine gun fire

bur-y /'beri/ v. (buried, buries) [T] 1 to put a dead body into a GRAVE: Aunt Betty was buried in Woodlawn Cemetery. 2 to cover something with something else so that it cannot be seen: a dog burying a bone | She buried her face in her hands. | His glasses were buried under a pile of papers. 3 to ignore a feeling or memory and pretend that it does not exist 4 bury the hatchet/ bury your differences to end a disagreement about something and become friends again

bus¹ /bʌs/ n. (plural buses) [C] a large vehicle that people pay to travel on: Are you going to drive or go by bus? | Five people got on the bus. ▶ Don't say "...get in the bus." ◀ | They ride/take the bus to school. | I caught the bus at 6th Street. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 omnibus] → see picture at TRANSPORTATION

bus² v. [T] 1 to take a group of people somewhere in a bus: Many children are being bused to schools in other areas. 2 to take away dirty dishes from the tables in a restaurant: a job busing tables bus-boy /'bʌsbɔɪ/ n. [C] a man whose job is to take away dirty dishes from the tables in a restaurant bush /bʊʃ/ n. 1 [C] a plant with many thin branches growing up from the ground: a rose bush → see picture on page A10 2 the bush EARTH SCIENCES wild country that has not been cleared in Australia or Africa → beat around the bush at BEAT¹ bushed /bʊʃt/ adj. (informal) very tired: I'm bushed.

bush-el /'bʊʃəl/ n. [C] a unit for measuring dry food, equal to 8 gallons, or 36.4 liters bush-y /'bʊʃi/ adj. bushy hair or fur grows thickly: a bushy tail bus-i-ly /'bɪzəli/ adv. in a busy way busi-ness /'bɪznɪs/ n.

1 WORK DONE BY COMPANIES [U] the activity of buying or selling goods or services: We do a lot of business with a company in Texas. | jobs in the music/advertising/publishing business

THESAURUS

commerce – the buying and selling of goods and services: laws that regulate commerce between nations industry – the production of goods, especially in factories: a decline in manufacturing industry trade – the business of buying and selling things, especially between countries: restrictions on trade private enterprise – the economic system in which private businesses can compete, and the government does not control industry

2 A COMPANY [C] an organization that produces or sells goods or services: a real-estate business | He runs a printing business. | the owner of a small business

THESAURUS

company, firm, corporation, subsidiary → COMPANY

3 YOUR JOB [U] work that you do as part of your job: Al's gone to Japan on business. | a business trip

4 AMOUNT OF WORK [U] the amount of work a company does, or the amount of money it makes: Business is good/bad/slow during the winter.

5 be in business to be operating as a company: He's in business for himself (=he owns a small company).

6 go into business/go out of business to begin or stop operating as a company: Many small companies have recently gone out of business.

7 big business a) large and powerful companies in general: the Republican's links with big business b) something that makes a lot of profit: Toys are big business.

8 PERSONAL LIFE [U] if something is not your business, you should not be involved in it or ask about it: It's none of your business how much I earn. | Why don't you just mind your own business (=used in order to tell someone rudely that you do not want his/her advice, help, etc.)

9 SUBJECT/ACTIVITY [singular] a subject, event, or activity, especially one that you have a particular opinion of: Rock climbing can be a risky business.

10 get down to business to start dealing with an important subject

11 business as usual if a situation is business as usual, things are happening as they usually do, even though there is a reason why you might expect them not to happen normally: The owners have changed, but it's business as usual for the popular restaurant.

12 mean business (informal) to be determined to do something: The border is being guarded by troops who mean business.

13 have no business doing sth if someone has no business doing something, s/he should not do it: He was drunk and had no business driving. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 busy] → BIG BUSINESS

'business card n. [C] a card that shows your name, the name of your company, the company's address, etc.

busi-ness-like /'bɪznɪs,lʌk/ adj. effective and practical in the way you do things: a businesslike attitude

THESAURUS

organized, efficient, well-run

→ ORGANIZED

busi-ness-man /'bɪznɪs,mæn/, busi-ness-wom-an /'bɪznɪs,wʊmən/ n. (plural businessmen /-,mɛn/, businesswomen /-,wɪmɪn/) [C] someone who works at a fairly high level in a company, or who owns a business

'business suit n. [C] a suit that a man wears during the day at work bus-ing /'bʌsɪŋ/ n. [U] a system in which students ride buses to schools that are far from where they live, so that a school has students of different races

'bus lane n. [C] a part of a wide street, that only buses can use

'bus station n. [C] a place where buses start and finish their trips

'bus stop n. [C] a place at the side of a road, marked with a sign, where buses stop for passengers

bust¹ /bʌst/ v. [T] (informal) 1 to break something: I busted my watch. 2 bust sb (for sth) if the police bust someone, they catch someone who has done something illegal 3 to use too much money: A new car would bust our budget. 4 crime-busting/union-busting/budget-busting etc. used with nouns to show that a situation is being ended or an activity is being stopped bust² n. [C] 1 a woman's breasts, or the measurement around a woman's breasts and back: a 34-inch bust 2 (informal) a situation in which the police go into a place in order to catch people doing something illegal: a drug bust 3 ENG. LANG. ARTS a model of someone's head, shoulders, and upper chest: a bust of Beethoven

bust³ adj. go bust a business that goes bust stops operating because it does not have enough money bust-er /'bʌstə/ n. [C] 1 (informal) something that ends a situation, or that stops a particular activity: The storm should be a drought-buster. 2 (spoken) used when speaking to a man who is annoying you, or whom you do not respect bust-tle¹ /'bʌsəl/ n. [singular] busy and usually noisy activity: the bustle of the big city —bustling adj.

bustle² v. [I] to move around quickly, looking very busy: Linda bustled around the kitchen.

B

bus-y¹ /ˈbɪzi/ adj. (comparative busier, superlative busiest) 1 a busy person is working hard and has a lot of things to do: Hawkins is busy with a customer. | He's busy studying for his finals. | a busy mother | I found some paper and crayons to keep the kids busy. 2 a busy time is full of work or other activities: a very busy day 3 a busy place is full of people or vehicles, or has a lot happening in it: a busy airport 4 a telephone that is busy is being used: I keep getting a busy signal. 5 (disappearing) a pattern or design that is busy is full of details

busy² v. (busied, busies) busy yourself with sth to do something in order to make time seem to go faster: He busied himself with cleaning.

bus-y-bod-y /ˈbɪzi,bɒdi, -,bɑdi/ n. (plural busybodies) [C] someone who is too interested in other people's private activities

but¹ /bət; strong bʌt/ conjunction 1 used in order to connect two statements or phrases, when the second statement adds something different or seems surprising after the first one: It's an old car, but it's reliable. | an expensive but useful book 2 used before you give the reason why something did not happen or is not true or possible: I'd like to go, but I'm awfully busy. 3 used in order to show surprise at what has just been said: "I have to leave tomorrow." "But you only got here this morning!" 4 except: I had no choice but to leave.

SPOKEN PHRASES

5 used in order to introduce a new subject: That's why I've been so busy this week. But, how are you anyway? 6 but then (again)... used in order to show that what you have just said is not as surprising as it seems: He doesn't have a strong accent, but then he has lived here for 35 years. 7 used after phrases such as "Excuse me" and "I'm sorry": I'm sorry, but you're not allowed to go in there.

but² prep. except for: Joe can come any day but Monday. | There's nobody here but me.

butch-er¹ /ˈbʊtʃə/ n. [C] someone who owns or works in a store that sells meat [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French bouchier, from bouc "male goat"] butcher² v. [T] 1 to kill animals and prepare them to be used as meat 2 to kill people in a cruel way —butchery n. [U]

but-ler /ˈbʌtˌlɜ/ n. [C] the main male servant of a house butt¹ /bʌt/ n. [C] 1 (informal) the part of your body that you sit on → BUTTOCKS 2 the end of a cigarette after most of it has been smoked 3 the end of the handle of a gun 4 be the butt of sth to be the person or thing that other people often make jokes about butt² v. [I,T] if a person or animal butts something or someone, it hits or pushes him, her, or it with its head butt in phr. v. to become involved in someone else's private situation or conversation butt out phr. v. (informal) used in order to tell someone to stop being involved in something private: This has nothing to do with you, so just butt out!

butte /byut/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a large hill with steep sides and a flat top but-ter¹ /ˈbʌtə/ n. [U] a yellow food made from milk or cream, that you spread on bread or use in cooking [ORIGIN: Old English butere, from Latin butyrum, from Greek boutyron, from bous "cow" + tyros "cheese"] —buttery adj.

butter² v. [T] to spread butter on something butter sb ↔ up phr. v. (informal) to say nice things to someone so that s/he will do what you want but-ter-cup /ˈbʌtə,kʌp/ n. [C] a small shiny yellow wild flower but-ter-fin-gers /ˈbʌtə,fɪŋɡəz/ n. [singular] (informal) someone who often drops things but-ter-fly /ˈbʌtə,flaɪ/ n. (plural butterflies) [C] 1 an insect with large and usually colored wings 2 have butterflies (in your stomach) (informal) to feel very nervous but-ter-milk /ˈbʌtə,mɪlk/ n. [U] the liquid that remains after butter has been made, used for drinking or cooking but-ter-scotch /ˈbʌtə,skɒtʃ/ n. [C,U] a type of candy made from butter and sugar boiled together but-tock /ˈbʌtək/ n. [C usually plural] (formal) one of the soft parts of your body that you sit on but-ton¹ /ˈbʌtən/ n. [C] 1 a small round flat object on your shirt, coat, etc. that you pass through a hole to fasten it: He left the top button undone. 2 a small object on a machine that you press to make it work: Push the "play" button. 3 a small metal or plastic pin with a message or picture on it [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French boton, from boter "to push"] button² also button up v. [I,T] to fasten something with buttons, or to be fastened with buttons: Button up your coat.

THESAURUS fasten, secure, join, glue, tape, staple, clip, tie, zip (up) → FASTEN but-ton-hole /ˈbʌtən,hoʊl/ n. [C] a hole for a button to be put through to fasten a shirt, coat, etc.

but-tress¹ /'bʌtrɪs/ v. [T] (formal) to do something to support a system, idea, argument, etc.: The evidence clearly buttresses the Treasury's argument.

buttress² n. [C] a structure built to support a wall bux-om /'bʌksəm/ adj. a woman who is buxom has large breasts

buy¹ /baɪ/ v. (past tense and past participle bought /bɒt/) 1 [I,T] to get something by paying money for it: Let me buy you a drink. | It's best to buy plants from a good nursery. | The money will be used to buy equipment for the school.

THESAURUS

purchase (formal) – to buy something: Tickets for the performance can be purchased by phone.

acquire (formal) – to buy a company or property: They want to acquire valuable works of art as cheaply as possible.

get – to buy or obtain something: I never know what to get Dad for his birthday.

procure (formal) – to buy or obtain something, especially something that is difficult to get: The organization helps workers procure insurance at cheaper rates.

snap sth up – to buy something immediately, especially because it is very cheap: Real estate in the area is being snapped up by developers.

pick sth up – to buy something: Could you pick up some milk on your way home?

stock up – to buy a lot of something that you intend to use later: Before the blizzard, we stocked up on food.

2 [T] (informal) to believe an explanation or reason for something: "I'll tell the police it was an accident." "They'll never buy it."

THESAURUS

believe, accept, take sb's word, swallow, fall for sth, give credence to sth → BELIEVE

3 buy time (informal) to do something that will get you more time to finish something 4 [T] also buy off (informal) to pay money to someone in order to persuade him/her to do something dishonest (SYN) bribe: They say the judge was bought.

buy into sth phr. v. 1 to accept that an idea is right and allow it to influence you: women who buy into the idea of having a "perfect body" 2 ECONOMICS to buy part of a business or organization: How much does it cost to buy into a hamburger franchise?

buy sb/sth ↔ out phr. v. ECONOMICS to buy someone's share of a business or property that you previously owned together, so that you gain control buy sth ↔ up phr. v. to quickly buy as much as you can of something: Even small local papers have been bought up by the national newspaper chains.

buy² n. be a good/bad buy to be worth or not worth the price you paid: These shoes were a good buy.

buy-er /'baɪə/ n. [C] 1 someone who is buying or has bought something: a first-time home buyer

THESAURUS customer, client, shopper, patron, consumer → CUSTOMER

2 someone whose job is to choose and buy the goods that a store or company will sell buy-out /'baɪaʊt/ n. [C] ECONOMICS a situation in which someone gains control of a company by buying all of its STOCK: a management buyout buzz¹ /bʌz/ v. 1 [I] to make a continuous noise like the sound of a BEE: What's making that buzzing noise? 2 [I] if a group of people or a place is buzzing, people are making a lot of noise because they are excited: The room buzzed with excitement. 3 [I,T] to call someone by pressing a buzzer: Tina buzzed for her secretary.

buzz off phr. v. (informal) used in order to tell someone to go away in an impolite way buzz² n. 1 [C] a continuous noise like the sound of a BEE: the buzz of traffic in the distance → see picture on page A7 2 [singular] (informal) a strong feeling of excitement, pleasure, or success, especially one you get from alcohol or drugs

buz-zard /'bʌzəd/ n. [C] a large wild bird that eats dead animals buzz-er /'bʌzə/ n. [C] a small thing like a button, that makes a buzzing sound when you press it: Press the buzzer if you know the answer.

buzz-word /'bʌz,wɜːd/ n. [C] a word or phrase relating to a particular subject that is suddenly very popular

by¹ /baɪ/ prep. 1 used with PASSIVE forms of verbs to show who did something or what caused something: a play by Shakespeare | a film made by Steven Spielberg | Her money is controlled by her family. 2 near or beside: He was standing by the window. 3 past: Two dogs ran by me. 4 used in order to say what means or method someone uses to do something: Send the letter by airmail. | Carolyn earns extra money by babysitting. | We went from New York to Philadelphia by car/plane/train/bus. 5 no later than a particular time: This report has to be done by 5:00. 6 by mistake/accident without intending to do something: She locked the door by mistake. 7 according to a particular way of doing things: By law, cars cannot pass a school bus that has stopped. 8 used in order to show which part of something someone holds: I picked up the pot by the handle. | She grabbed him by the arm. 9 used in order to show a distance, amount, or rate: The room is 24 feet by 36 feet. | Are you paid by the hour? 10 by the way (spoken) used in order to begin talking about a subject that is not related to the one you were talking about: Oh, by the way, Vicky called while you were out. 11 (all) by yourself completely alone: They left the boy by himself for two days! 12 day by day/little by little etc. used in order to show that something happens gradually: Little by little, he began to understand the language.

by² adv. 1 past: One or two cars went by. | Three hours went by before we heard any news. 2 come/stop/go by to visit or go to a place for a short time when you intend to go somewhere else afterward: Come by (=come to my house, office, etc.) any time tomorrow. | I had to stop by the supermarket on the way home. 3 by and large used when talking generally about something: By and large, the new arrangements are working well.

bye /baɪ/ also bye-bye interjection (spoken) goodbye: Bye, Sandy!

C

by-election n. [C] POLITICS a special election to replace a politician who has left the government or died by-gone /'baɪɡɒn, -ɡɒn/ adj. bygone days/age/era etc. a period in the past by-gones /'baɪɡɒnz, -ɡɒnz/ n. let bygones be bygones (informal) to forgive someone for something bad that s/he has done to you by-law /'baɪlɔː/ n. [C] a rule made by an organization

'by-line n. [C] a line at the beginning of a newspaper or magazine article that gives the writer's name

BYOB adj. bring your own bottle used in order to describe a party or event that you bring your own alcoholic drinks to by-pass¹ /'baɪpæs/ n. [C] 1 a medical operation that repairs the system of ARTERIES around the heart: a triple heart bypass operation 2 a road that goes around a town or other busy place rather than through it bypass² v. [T] 1 to avoid a place by going around it: If we bypass the town, we'll save time. 2 to avoid obeying a rule, system, or someone in an official position: He bypassed the complaints procedure and wrote straight to the chairman.

by-product, by-prod-uct n. /'baɪprɒdʌkt/ [C] 1 a substance that is produced during the process of making something else: Sausages are made from a variety of meats and meat by-products. 2 an unexpected result of an event or of something you do: Job losses are a by-product of the economic slowdown.

by-stand-er /'baɪstændə/ n. [C] someone who watches what is happening without taking part: Several innocent bystanders were killed.

byte /baɪt/ n. [C] IT a unit for measuring the amount of information a computer can use, equal to 8 BITS by-way /'baɪweɪ/ n. [C] a small road or path that is not used very much by-word /'baɪwɜːd/ n. [C] the name of someone or something that has become so well known for a particular quality that it represents that quality: The housing projects have become a byword for poverty.

Cc

C, c /si/ 1 the third letter of the English alphabet 2 the number 100 in the system of ROMAN NUMERALS

C¹ /si/ n. 1 [C] a grade given to a student's work to show that it is of average quality: Terry got a C on the final exam. 2 [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the first note in the musical SCALE of C MAJOR, or the musical KEY based on this note

C² PHYSICS the written abbreviation of CELSIUS or CENTIGRADE

c. the written abbreviation of CIRCA

CA the written abbreviation of CALIFORNIA cab /kæb/ n. [C] 1 a car with a driver who you pay to drive you somewhere (SYN) taxi: We'll just take a cab home.

COLLOCATIONS

call a cab – to telephone and ask a cab to come to where you are call sb a cab – to telephone and ask for a cab for someone else hail a cab – to stand outside and raise your arm so that a cab will stop for you

2 the part of a truck or train where the driver sits cab-a-ret /kæbə'reɪ/ n. [C,U] entertainment such as music and dancing performed in a restaurant while customers eat and drink [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 French “drinking place, bar”] cab-bage /'kæbɪdʒ/ n. [C,U] a large round vegetable with thick green or purple leaves that can be cooked or eaten raw [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French caboché “head”] → see picture at VEGETABLE cab-bie, cabbie /'kæbi/ n. [C] (informal) someone who drives a cab cab-in /'kæbɪn/ n. [C] 1 a small house made of wood, usually in a forest or the mountains: a log cabin 2 a small room on a ship, in which you sleep 3 the area inside an airplane where the passengers sit → see picture at AIRPLANE [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French cabane, from Old Provençal cabana “small wooden building”]

'cabin crew n. [C] the people who take care of the passengers and serve meals on an airplane cab-i-net /'kæbənɪt/ n. [C] 1 a piece of furniture with doors and shelves or drawers, used for storing or showing things: a filing cabinet | the kitchen cabinets 2 an important group of politicians who make decisions or advise the leader of a government: cabinet members [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French “small room,” from Old North French cabine “room for gambling”]

ca-ble¹ /'keɪbəl/ n. 1 [C,U] a plastic or rubber tube containing wires that carry electronic signals, telephone messages, etc.: an underground telephone cable 2 [U] a system of broadcasting television by using cables, paid for by the person watching it: I'll wait for the movie to come out on cable. | the growth of cable television 3 [C,U] a thick strong metal rope used on ships, to support bridges, etc. 4 [C] a TELEGRAM

cable² v. [I,T] to send a TELEGRAM

'cable car n. [C] 1 a vehicle that is pulled along by a cable, used like a bus to take people from one place to another 2 a vehicle that hangs from a cable and takes people up a mountain ca-boose /kə'bu:s/ n. [C] a small railroad car at the end of a train cache /kæʃ/ n. [C] 1 a group of things that are hidden, or the place where they are hidden: The soldiers found a cache of weapons in the forest. 2 IT a special part of a computer's MEMORY that helps it work faster by storing information for a short time —cache v. [T]

ca-chet /kæ'ʃet/ n. [U] a quality that is good or desirable: It's a great college, but it lacks the cachet of Harvard.

clack-le /'kækəl/ v. [I] 1 to make the loud noise a chicken makes 2 to laugh or talk in a loud rough voice

THESAURUS laugh, giggle, chuckle, snicker, titter, guffaw → LAUGH¹

—cackle n. [C]

ca-coph-o-ny /kæ'kəfəni/ n. [singular] (formal) a mixture of loud sounds together that are not pleasant to listen to: a cacophony of car horns —cacophonous adj.

cac-tus /'kæktəs/ n. (plural cacti /'kæktai/ or cactuses) [C] a desert plant with thick stems and sharp points see picture on page A10

ca-dav-er /kə'dævə/ n. [C] (formal) a dead human body cad-dy /'kædi/ n. (plural caddies) [C] someone who carries the equipment for someone who is playing GOLF —caddy v. [I] ca-dence /'kerdɪns/ n. [C] 1 the way someone's voice rises and falls 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS a regular repeated pattern of sounds ca-det /kə'det/ n. [C] someone who is studying to become an officer in the military or the police cad-mi-um /'kædmɪəm/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Cd) a type of metal that is an ELEMENT and that is used in BATTERIES

ca-dre /'kædri, 'kɑ-, -dreɪ/ n. [C] (formal) a small group of specially trained people in a profession, political party, or military force: a cadre of highly trained scientists

cae-sar-e-an /sɪ'zəriən/ n. [C] another spelling of CESAREAN

ca-fe, café /kæ'feɪ, kə-/ n. [C] a small restaurant [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 French “coffee, café,” from Turkish kahve] caf-e-te-ri-a /,kæfə'tɪriə/ n. [C] a restaurant where people get their own food at a COUNTER and take it to a table themselves: the school cafeteria [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 American Spanish “coffee shop,” from Spanish café “coffee”]

THESAURUS restaurant, cafe/coffee shop, fast food restaurant, diner → RESTAURANT caf-feine /kæ'fin, 'kæfin/ n. [U] a chemical substance in coffee, tea, and some other drinks that makes people feel more active: caffeine-free beverages cage¹ /keɪdʒ/ n. [C] a structure made of wires or bars in which birds or animals can be kept: a hamster cage [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French, Latin cavea “hollow place, cage”] cage² v. [T] to put an animal or bird in a cage cag-ey /'keɪdʒi/ adj. (informal) not willing to talk about your plans or intentions: The White House is being very cagey about the contents of the report.

ca-hoots /kə'huts/ n. be in cahoots (with sb) (informal) to be working secretly with others, usually to do something that is not honest cai-man /'keɪmən/ n. [C] a type of small CROCODILE that lives in tropical areas of North, Central, and South America

ca-jole /kə'dʒoʊl/ v. [T] to persuade someone to do something by praising him/her or making promises to him/her: She cajoled him into helping. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French cajoler “to make noises like a bird in a cage, cajole,” from Old North French gaiole “birdcage”]

THESAURUS persuade, talk sb into sth, get sb to do sth, encourage sb to do sth, influence, convince, coax, prevail on/upon sb → PERSUADE

Ca-jun /'keɪdʒən/ n. [C] a member of a group of people in southern Louisiana whose family originally came from the French-speaking part of Canada — Cajun adj.

C

cake¹ /keɪk/ n. 1 [C,U] a sweet food made by baking a mixture of flour, fat, sugar, and eggs: chocolate cake | a birthday cake | Do you want a piece of cake? 2 [C] a small piece of something, made into a flat shape: a cake of soap 3 salmon/rice/potato etc. cake fish, rice, etc. that has been formed into a flat round shape and cooked 4 be a piece of cake (informal) to be very easy: We looked at the other team and thought, "piece of cake!" 5 take the cake (informal) to be worse than anything else you can imagine: Of all the stupid things you've done, this takes the cake! 6 have your cake and eat it too (informal) to have all the advantages of something without any of the disadvantages [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old Norse kaka]

cake² v. be caked in/with sth to be covered with a thick layer of something: Irene's boots were caked with mud.

cal. or Cal. CHEMISTRY a written abbreviation of CALORIE cal-am-i-ty /kə'læməti/ n. (plural calamities) [C] a very bad unexpected event that causes a lot of damage or suffering: If the crops fail again, it will be a calamity for the country. — calamitous adj.

cal-ci-um /'kælsiəm/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Ca) a silver-white metal that is an ELEMENT and that helps to form teeth, bones, and CHALK [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Modern Latin, Latin calx "lime"] cal-cu-late /'kælkjəleɪt/ v. 1 [I,T] MATH to find out something or measure something using numbers: These instruments calculate distances precisely. | Researchers calculated that the chances of having an accident rose 4.3%. | I'm trying to calculate how long it will take us to drive to Denver.

THESAURUS

figure out – a less formal word for calculate: Let's try to figure out how much this will cost.

tally (up) – to calculate the total number of points won, things done, etc.: Can you tally up the scores?

add sth and sth – to put two or more numbers together to find the total: Add 7 and 5 to make 12.

subtract sth from sth also take sth away from sth – to reduce one number by another number: If you subtract 12 from 15, you get 3. | 8 take away 2 is 6.

multiply – to add a number to itself a particular number of times: 4 multiplied by 10 is 40.

divide – to calculate how many times one number contains another number: 10 divided by 2 equals 5.

plus (spoken) – used between numbers to show that you are adding them together: Two plus two equals four.

minus (spoken) – used between numbers to show that you are taking one away from the other: Six minus five is one.

times (spoken) – used between numbers to show that you are multiplying them together: Six times three is eighteen.

2 be calculated to do sth to be intended to have a particular effect: The ads are calculated to attract Hispanic buyers. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of calcularē, from calculus "stone used in counting"] cal-cu-lat-ed /'kælkjəleɪtɪd/ adj. 1 calculated risk/gamble something you do after thinking carefully, although you know it may have bad results 2 deliberately and carefully planned to have a particular effect: a calculated attempt to deceive the public cal-cu-lat-ing /'kælkjəleɪtɪŋ/ adj. (disapproving) someone who is calculating makes careful plans to get what s/he wants, without caring about how it affects other people

cal-cu-la-tion /'kælkjəleɪʃən/ n. [C usually plural, U] MATH the act of adding, multiplying, or dividing numbers to find out an amount, price, etc.: I made a few quick calculations. | an approximate calculation of the cost | By their calculations, the debt will be paid off in four years.

cal-cu-la-tor /'kælkjəleɪtə/ n. [C] a small machine that can add, multiply, divide, etc. numbers cal-cu-lus /'kælkjələs/ n. [U] MATH the part of mathematics that studies changing quantities, such as the speed of a falling stone or the slope of a curved line cal-de-ra /kæl'derə/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a large deep hole in the top of a VOLCANO, formed by an ERUPTION (=explosion which sends smoke, fire, and rock into the sky)

cal-en-dar /'kæləndə/ n. [C] 1 a set of pages showing the days, weeks, and months of a year, that you usually hang on the wall 2 all the things that you plan to do in the following days, months, etc.: My calendar is full this week. 3 a system that divides and measures time in a particular way: the Jewish calendar 4 calendar year/month a period of time that continues from the first day of the month or year until the last day of the month or year [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Anglo-French calender, from Medieval Latin kalendarium, from Latin kalendae "first day of an ancient Roman month"] calf /kæf/ n. (plural calves /kævz/) [C] 1 the part at the back of your leg between your knee and foot 2 the baby of a cow, or of some other large animals such as an ELEPHANT cal-i-ber /'kæləbə/ n. [C] 1 the level of quality or ability that someone or something has achieved: musicians of the highest caliber 2 the width of a bullet or the inside part of a gun [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French calibre, from Old Italian calibro, from Arabic qalib “block on which shoes are made”] cal-i-brate /'kæləbreɪt/ v. [T] SCIENCE to mark an instrument or tool so you can use it for measuring —calibration /,kælə'breɪʃən/ n. [C,U] cal-i-co /'kæli,kou/ n. [U] a light cotton cloth with a small pattern on it cal-iph /'keɪlɪf, 'kæ-/ n. [C] HISTORY a title of some MUSLIM rulers, especially in the past. A caliph's right to rule came from being related to the PROPHET Muhammad. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French calife, from Arabic khalifah “person who comes after;” because a caliph is regarded as a successor of Muhammad]

CALL /kɔl/ n. [U] IT computer-assisted language learning the use of computers to help people learn foreign languages call¹ /kɔl/ v.

- 1 TELEPHONE [I,T] to telephone someone: I called about six o'clock. | He said he'd call me tomorrow.
- 2 DESCRIBE [T] to describe someone or something in a particular way, or to say that s/he has a particular quality: News reports have called it the worst disaster of this century. | Are you calling me a liar?

THESAURUS

describe – to say what someone or something is like by giving details: The suspect has been described as a young white man.

characterize – to describe the character of someone or something in a particular way: Psychologists characterized her as mentally unstable.

label – to use a particular word or phrase in order to describe someone: He labeled their comments “ridiculous.”

brand – to call someone a very bad type of person, often unfairly: His opponents branded him a racist.

portray – to describe or show someone or something in a particular way: a politician who portrayed himself as an opponent of big business

- 3 ASK/ORDER [T] to ask or order someone or something to come to you: Somebody call an ambulance! | I can hear Mom calling me.

- 4 ARRANGE [T] to arrange for something to happen at a particular time: A meeting was called for 3 p.m. Wednesday.

- 5 SAY/SHOUT [I,T] to say or shout something so that someone can hear you: “I’m coming!” Paula called.

THESAURUS

shout, scream, shriek, yell, cry out, raise your voice, cheer, bellow, holler → SHOUT¹

- 6 NAME [T] to give a person, animal, or thing a name: What are you going to call the dog? | What was that movie called again (=what was its name)?
- 7 READ NAMES [T] also call out to read names or numbers in a loud voice in order to get someone's attention: When I call your name, go stand at the front.

- 8 call the shots (informal) to be the person who decides what to do in a situation: He's the boss, so he gets to call the shots.

- 9 call it a day (spoken) said when you want to stop working, either because you are tired or because you have done enough: Come on, guys, let's call it a day. [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old Norse kalla]

call (sb) back phr. v.

to telephone someone again, or to telephone someone who tried to telephone you earlier: Okay, I'll call back around three. | Can I call you back later?

call for sth phr. v.

- 1 to ask publicly for something to be done: Parents are calling for a return to basics in education.

- 2 to need or deserve a particular type of behavior or treatment: a situation that calls for immediate action

- 3 to say that a particular type of weather is likely to happen: The forecast calls for more rain.

call in phr. v.

- 1 call sb ↔ in to ask or order someone to come and help you with a difficult situation: The governor called in the National Guard to deal with the riots.

- 2 to telephone the place where you work, especially to report something: Jan called in sick this morning.

- 3 to telephone a radio or television show to give your opinion or ask a question call sb/sth ↔ off phr. v.

- 1 to decide that a planned event will not happen or will not continue: The game had to be called off due to bad weather.

- 2 to order a dog or person to stop attacking someone: Call off your dog!

call on sb phr. v.

- 1 to formally ask someone to do something: The UN has called on both sides to observe the ceasefire.

- 2 to visit someone for a short time: a salesman calling on customers call out phr. v.

- 1 call (sth ↔) out to say something loudly: “Phone for you,” Rosie called out.

- 2 call sb/sth ↔ out to ask or order someone to come and help you with a difficult situation: The Army has been called out to help fight the fires.

call up phr. v.

- 1 call (sb ↔) up to telephone someone: Dave called me up to tell me about it.

- 2 call sth ↔ up it to make information appear on a computer screen

call² n. [C] 1 an action of talking to someone by telephone: Were there any phone calls for me? | I got a call yesterday from Teresa. | Just give me a call from the airport. | I have to make a telephone call. | Why haven't you returned my call (=telephoned me back)? | a local/long-distance call

TOPIC

cell phone, switch it on, listen to messages, voice mail, text messages, text → CELL PHONE

2 be on call ready to go to work if you are needed: Heart surgeons are on call 24 hours a day. 3 a shout or cry: a call for help 4 the sound that a bird or animal makes 5 a request or demand for someone to do something: There have been calls for him to resign. 6 no call for sth/no call to do sth (spoken) used in order to tell someone that his/her behavior is wrong or that something is unnecessary: She had no call to talk to you like that. 7 a decision made by the REFEREE in a sports game: All the calls went against us. 8 a message or announcement: the last call for flight 134 9 a short visit to someone

'call center n. [C] an office where a lot of people are employed to deal with customers who telephone them with questions, orders for goods, etc.

call-er /'kɒlə/ n. [C] someone who is making a telephone call

'call girl n. [C] a PROSTITUTE cal·lig·ra·phy /kə'liɡrəfi/ n. [U] the art of writing using special pens or brushes, or the beautiful writing produced in this way [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Greek kalligraphia, from kallos “beauty” + -graphein “to write”] call-ing /'kɒliŋ/ n. [C] a strong desire or feeling of duty to do a particular type of work, especially work that helps other people: She found her calling as a nurse.

'call-in, show n. [C] a radio or television program in which people telephone to give their opinions cal-lous /'kæləs/ adj. unkind and not caring that other people are suffering —callousness n. [U] —callously adv.

cal-lus /'kæləs/ n. [C] an area of hard rough skin: calluses on his feet —callused adj.

call 'waiting n. [U] a telephone service that allows you to receive another call without ending the call you are already making calm¹ /kɑm/ also calm down v. [I,T] to become quiet after you have been angry, excited, or upset, or to make someone become quiet: Calm down and tell me what happened. | It took a while to calm the kids down. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French calme, from Late Latin cauma “heat,” because everything is quiet and still in the heat of the middle part of the day]

calm² adj. 1 relaxed and not angry or upset: Glen was calm and composed at the funeral. | Please, everyone, try to keep/stay calm!

THESAURUS

relaxed – calm and not worried or angry: He seemed relaxed and confident.

laid-back – relaxed and not seeming to worry about anything: My dad's pretty laid-back, but my mother's always nagging.

easygoing – not easily worried or annoyed: She's pretty easygoing; you'll get along with her fine.

mellow – friendly, relaxed, and calm: Annie's family is pretty mellow, and they liked me.

cool – calm, and not nervous or excited: Try to stay cool during the interview.

placid (formal) calm and peaceful and not easy to annoy or make excited: She was a good-natured, placid woman.

serene (formal) – very calm or peaceful: the serene expression on her face

2 if a situation or place is calm, there is not a lot of activity or trouble: The streets are calm again after last week's riots.

THESAURUS quiet, tranquil, peaceful, sleepy, still → QUIET¹

3 completely still, or not moving very much: the calm water of the lake → see picture at CHOPPY 4 not windy: a calm day —calmly adv.

calm³ n. 1 [singular, U] a time that is quiet and peaceful: the calm of the evening 2 the calm before the storm a peaceful situation just before a big problem or argument

cal-o-rie /'kæləri/ n. [C] 1 a unit for measuring the amount of energy a particular food can produce: An average potato has about 90 calories. | a low-calorie snack 2 count calories to try to control your weight by calculating the number of calories you eat 3 also small calorie CHEMISTRY (written abbreviation cal.) the amount of heat that is needed to raise the temperature of one gram of water by one degree Celsius, used as a unit for measuring energy 4 also large calorie CHEMISTRY (written abbreviation Cal.) the amount of heat that is needed to raise the temperature of one kilogram of water by one degree Celsius, used as a unit for measuring energy [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 French, Latin calor “heat”] cal-um-ny /'kæləmni/ n. (plural calumnies) [C,U] (formal) an untrue and unfair statement about someone that is intended to give people a bad opinion of him/her, or the act of saying this (SYN) slander calves /kævz/ n. the plural of CALF

ca-lyx /'keɪlɪks/ n. (plural calyxes or calyces /-lɪsɪz/) [C] BIOLOGY the green outer part of a flower that protects it before it opens

ca-ma-ra-der-ie /kəm'rədəri, kəm-/ n. [U] a feeling of friendship that the people in a group have, especially when they work together: the camaraderie of firefighters cam-cord-er /'kæm,kɔrdə/ n. [C] a type of camera that you can hold in one hand to record pictures and sound onto VIDEOTAPE came /keɪm/ v. the past tense of COME cam-el /'kæməl/ n. [C] a large animal with a long neck and one or two HUMPS (=large raised parts) on its back that lives in the desert and carries goods or people [ORIGIN: 900—1000 Latin camelus, from Greek kamelos]

cam·e·o /'kæmiu/ n. (plural cameos)

[C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS a small part in a movie or play acted by a famous actor: Brad Pitt made a cameo appearance in the show. 2 a piece of jewelry with a raised shape, usually of a person's face, on a dark background: a cameo brooch

cam·er·a /'kæmrə, -ərə/ n. [C] a piece of equipment used for taking photographs, or for making movies or television programs [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 camera obscura “box with a hole through which an image is made to appear on the inside of the box” (18—21 centuries), from Modern Latin, “dark room”] → see picture on page A6

TOPIC

Before you can take any pictures, you need to load film into the camera.

Digital cameras do not need film because the pictures you take are stored in the camera until you download them onto a computer.

When you take pictures, you need to focus, so the people or things in your picture will be clear. If you are taking a picture indoors or at night, you might need to use a flash.

After you have taken pictures, you take the film to be developed and printed. The printed photographs are also called prints. When you get the prints, you also get the negatives, which you can use in the future to get more copies of your photographs.

cam·er·a·man /'kæmrə,mæn, -mən/, cam·er·a·wom·an /'kæmrə,womən/ n. (plural cameramen /-,mən, -mən/, camerawomen /-,wimɪn/) [C] someone who operates a camera for a television or film company → PHOTOGRAPHER

ca·mi·sole /'kæmi,soul/ n. [C] a light piece of clothing that women wear on the top half of their bodies under other clothes cam·o·mile /'kæmə,mil, -,maɪl/ n. [C,U] a plant with small white and yellow flowers, often used for making tea cam·ou·flage /'kæmə,flɑʒ, -,flədʒ/ n. [C,U] the act of hiding something by making it look the same as the things around it, or the things you use to do this: a soldier in camouflage | The Arctic fox's white fur is an excellent winter camouflage. [ORIGIN: 1900—2000 French camoufleur “to change the appearance of,” from Italian camuffare] —camouflage v. [T]

camp¹ /kæmp/ n. [C,U] 1 a place where people stay in tents in the mountains, forest, etc. for a short time: We got back to camp at sunset. | The base

camp (=main camp) was 6,000 feet below the summit. | a mining/logging camp (=one where people stay when they are doing those jobs) 2 a place where children go to do special activities during their vacation, often staying there for a week or more: a summer camp for girls only 3 a place where people are kept for a particular reason, when they do not want to be there: a refugee camp 4 a group of people who support the same ideas or principles, especially in politics: The debate between the two camps is becoming heated. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French, Latin campus “field”] → CONCENTRATION CAMP, DAY CAMP camp² v. [I] to set up a tent or shelter in a place and stay there for a short time —camping n. [U]: We went camping in Yellowstone Park.

camp out phr. v. to sleep outdoors, usually in a tent: The kids camped out in the backyard.

cam·paign¹ /kæm'peɪn/ n. [C] a series of actions that are intended to achieve a particular result, especially in business, politics, or war: a presidential campaign | a military campaign | a campaign for/against a constitutional amendment [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French campagne, from Italian campagna “level country, campaign,” from Latin campus; because soldiers went out into the country for military exercises]

THESAURUS fight, battle, drive, struggle, crusade → FIGHT²

campaign² v. [I] to take part in a public series of actions to try to achieve a particular result, especially in business or politics: a group campaigning for/against gun control

camp·er /'kæmpə/ n. [C] 1 someone who is staying in a tent or shelter for a short time 2 a vehicle that has beds and cooking equipment so that you can stay in it while you are on vacation

Camp·fire /'kæmpfaɪə/ n. an organization for girls and boys that teaches them practical skills and helps develop their character camp·ground /'kæmpgraʊnd/ n. [C] a place where people can camp in tents or CAMPERs

THESAURUS hotel, motel, inn, bed and breakfast (b&b), hostel → HOTEL camp·site /'kæmpsait/ n. [C] a place where you can camp: a lakeside campsite cam·pus /'kæmpəs/ n. [C] the land or buildings of a college: the campus bookstore | Many students live on campus.

can¹ /kən; strong kæn/ modal verb 1 to be able to do something or know how to do something: I can't (=cannot) swim! | Jean can speak French. | Even a small computer can store immense amounts of information.

USAGE

Use can and be able to to say that someone has the ability to do something. Be able to is more formal: Can you speak Spanish? | He is able to see with his left eye.

Use could to say that someone has the ability to do something, but does not do it: He could be a much better player.

Could is also the past form of can. Use could or a past form of be able to to say that someone had the ability to do something in the past: She could ride a bike when she was three. | He was able to walk with a cane.

Use will be able to to talk about future ability: People will soon be able to travel to other planets.

C

2 to be allowed to do something: You can go home now. | In soccer, you can't touch the ball with your hands (=it is against the rules). 3 (spoken) used in order to ask someone to do something or give you something, or when you offer or suggest something: Can I have a cookie? | Can I give you a hand? 4 used in order to show what is possible or likely: It can't be Steve; he's in New York right now. | I still think the problem can be solved. 5 used with the verbs "see," "hear," "feel," "smell," and "taste," and with verbs relating to thinking, to show that an action is happening: Nancy can't understand why I'm so upset. | I can see Ralph coming now. 6 used in order to show what often happens or how someone often behaves: It can get pretty cold here at night. 7 used in order to express surprise or anger: You can't be serious! | How can you be so stupid! 8 [in questions and negatives] used in order to say that you do not believe something is true or right: This can't be the right road. | It can't be easy living with him. 9 [in questions and negatives] used in order to say that someone should not or must not do something: You can't expect him to change. [ORIGIN: Old English cunnan] → COULD

can² /kæn/ n. [C] 1 a metal container in which food or liquid is kept without air, or the amount the can holds: a soft drink can | Add two cans of kidney beans. | a large can of paint 2 a (whole) can of worms a complicated situation that causes a lot of problems when you start to deal with it [ORIGIN: Old English canne] can³ /kæn/ v. (canned, canning) [T] 1 to preserve food by putting it in a closed container without air: We canned the vegetables we'd grown. 2 (spoken) to dismiss someone from his/her job → CANNED

Ca-na-di-an¹ /kə'neɪdiən/ adj. relating to or coming from Canada

Canadian² n. [C] someone from Canada

ca-nal /kə'næl/ n. [C] a long passage dug into the ground and filled with water, either for boats to travel along, or to bring water from somewhere: the Panama Canal → see picture at RIVER

ca-nar-y /kə'neri/ n. (plural canaries) [C] a small yellow bird that sings and is often kept as a pet [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Canary Islands, islands in the Atlantic Ocean, where the bird comes from]

can-cel /'kænsəl/ v. [T] 1 to decide that something you have planned will not happen: I had to cancel my trip. 2 to end an agreement or arrangement, especially because you no longer want something: We're canceling our subscription to the magazine. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French cancel-ler "to cross out," from Latin cancellare "to make like a frame of crossed bars"] cancel sth ↔ out phr. v. to have an equal but opposite effect on something, so that a situation does not change: The losses canceled out the profits made the previous year.

can-cel-la-tion /,kænsəl'eɪʃən/ n. [C,U] 1 a decision that something you have planned will not happen: The show's low ratings led to cancellation. 2 a decision to end an agreement or arrangement: the cancellation of an employment contract

Can-cer /'kænsər/ n. 1 [U] the fourth sign of the ZODIAC, represented by a CRAB 2 [C] someone born between June 22 and July 22

cancer n. [C,U] a serious disease in which cells in one part of the body start to grow in a way that is not normal: cases of breast/lung/bowel etc. cancer | She has cancer. | He died of cancer at the age of 63. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin "crab, cancer"] —cancerous adj.

can-did /'kændɪd/ adj. telling the truth, even when the truth may be unpleasant or embarrassing: He was surprisingly candid about the difficulties the government is facing. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French candide, from Latin candidus "bright, white"] —candidly adv.

THESAURUS honest, frank, direct, upfront, straight, straightforward, blunt, forthright → HONEST can-di-da-cy /'kændədəsi/ n. (plural candidacies) [C,U] the fact of being a candidate, usually for a political position: She announced her candidacy for the Senate.

can-di-date /'kændə,deɪt, -dɪt/ n. [C] 1 someone who is competing in an election or who is being considered for a job: a presidential candidate | Sara seems to be a likely candidate for the job. 2 someone or something that may be chosen for something: Which patients are good candidates for the new treatment? | The book is a strong candidate to win the award. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin candidatus, from candidatus "dressed in white;" because someone trying to get elected in ancient Rome wore white clothes]

can-died /'kændɪd/ adj. cooked in or covered with sugar: candied fruit can-dle /'kændl/ n. [C] a round stick of WAX with a piece of string through the middle, that you burn to produce light: She sat down and lit the candle. [ORIGIN: 600—700 Latin candela, from candere "to shine"] → see picture at LIGHT¹ can-dle-stick /'kændl,stɪk/ n. [C] a specially shaped metal or wooden object used for holding candles can-dor /'kændə/ n. [U] the quality of being honest and telling the truth → CANDID: She spoke with candor about the affair.

can-dy /'kændi/ n. (plural candies) 1 [C,U] a sweet food made of sugar or chocolate, or a piece of this: a box of candy | I gave her a piece of candy. 2 mind/brain/eye etc. candy (informal) something that is entertaining or pleasant to look at, but that does not make you think [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French candi, from Arabic qandi “covered with sugar”]

'candy bar n. [C] a long narrow bar of candy, usually covered with chocolate

'candy cane n. [C] a stick of hard sugar with a curved shape, colored red and white cane /keɪn/ n. [C] a long thin stick, usually with a curved handle, used for helping you walk: She walks with a cane because of her arthritis. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Old Provençal cana, from Latin canna, from Greek kanna]

ca-nine /'keɪnaɪn/ adj. BIOLOGY relating to dogs can-is-ter /'kænəstə/ n. [C] a metal container with a lid, used for storing dry food or a gas: a flour/sugar/salt canister can-ker /'kæŋkə/ n. 1 [C,U] BIOLOGY an infected area on the wood of trees, or the disease that causes this 2 [C] also canker sore a painful sore inside your mouth can-na-bis /'kænbɪs/ n. [U] MARIJUANA

canned /kænd/ adj. 1 preserved without air in a container: canned tomatoes 2 canned music/laughter/applause music, etc. that has been recorded and is used on television or radio programs can-ner-y /'kænəri/ n. (plural canneries) [C] a factory where food is put into cans can-ni-bal /'kænəbəl/ n. [C] someone who eats human flesh [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Spanish Canibal “member of the Carib people of the West Indies, who were said to eat human flesh”] —cannibalism n. [U] —cannibalistic /,kænəbə'listɪk/ adj.

can-non /'kænən/ n. [C] a large gun, fixed to the ground or on wheels, used in past times can-not /'kænət, kə'nat, kə-/ modal verb the negative form of CAN: I cannot accept your offer.

can-ny /'kæni/ adj. smart, careful, and showing that you understand a situation very well ca-noe /kə'nu/ n. [C] a long light narrow boat that is pointed at both ends, which you move using a PADDLE [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French, Spanish canoa, from Arawakan (a group of South American languages)] —canoe v. [I] —canoeing n. [U] can-on /'kænən/ n. [C] 1 (formal) a generally accepted rule or standard for behaving or thinking 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS the books, pieces of music, etc. that are recognized as being the most important: the literary canon 3 an established law of the Christian church

'can ,opener n. [C] a tool used for opening cans of food can-o-py /'kænəpi/ n. (plural canopies) [C] 1 a cover attached above a bed or seat, used as a decoration or as a shelter 2 EARTH SCIENCES the top branches and leaves of the tallest trees in a forest, which completely cover large areas of the forest —canopied adj.

can't /kænt/ modal verb the short form of “cannot”: I can't go with you today.

can-ta-loupe /'kæntəl,oup/ n. [C,U] a type of MELON with a hard skin and sweet orange flesh [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Cantelupo former house of the Pope near Rome in Italy, where it was grown] can-tan-ker-ous /kæn'tæŋkərəs/ adj. easily annoyed and complaining a lot: a cantankerous old man can-teen /kæn'teɪn/ n. [C] 1 a small container for carrying water or other drinks 2 a store or place where people in the military can buy things or go to be entertained [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French cantine, from Italian cantina “wine store”] can-ter /'kæntə/ v. [I,T] when a horse canters, it runs fast, but not as fast as possible —canter n. [C] can-to /'kæntoʊ/ n. (plural cantos) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS one of the parts into which a very long poem is divided → STANZA

Can-to-nese /,kæntən'iz/ n. [U] a language used in Hong Kong and parts of southern China can-vas /'kænvəs/ n. 1 [U] a type of strong cloth that is used for making tents, sails, bags, etc.: a canvas bag 2 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a painting done with oil paints, or the piece of cloth that it is painted on [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old North French canevas, from Latin cannabis “hemp”] can-vass /'kænvəs/ v. [I,T] 1 to try to persuade people to support a political party, politician, plan, etc. by going from place to place and talking to people: Supporters were canvassing door to door. 2 to ask people about something in order to get information: Residents were canvassed about community needs.

can-yon /'kænyən/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a deep valley with very steep sides: the Grand Canyon [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 American Spanish cañón, from Spanish, “tube, pipe”]

cap¹ /kæp/ n. [C] 1 a) a soft hat with a curved part sticking out at the front: a baseball cap b) a hat that fits closely over your head: a shower cap 2 something that covers and protects the end or top of an object: a bottle cap | a pen cap

THESAURUS cover, lid, top, wrapper, wrapping → COVER²

3 ECONOMICS a limit on the amount of money that someone can earn or spend: a cap on campaign spending [ORIGIN: 900–1000 Late Latin cappa “covering for the head, cloak”] → ICE CAP, KNEE-CAP

cap² v. (capped, capping) [T] 1 to be the last and usually best thing that happens in a game, situation, etc.: Wilkes capped a perfect season by winning the 100-meter sprint. 2 to cover the top of something: the snow-capped peaks of the Rocky Mountains | a tower capped with a golden dome 3 to cover a tooth with a special hard white substance: Her front teeth had to be capped. 4 ECONOMICS to limit the amount of something, especially money, that can be used or spent: The law caps the amount of interest that credit card companies can charge.

cap-a-bil-i-ty /ˌkeɪpəˈbɪləti/ (Ac) n. (plural capabilities) [C] the ability of a machine, person, or organization to do something, especially something difficult: The country has the capability to produce nuclear weapons. | the computer's graphics capability | The virus has the capability of attaching itself to a specific white blood cell.

THESAURUS ability, power, capacity → ABILITY

cap-a-ble /ˌkeɪpəbəl/ (Ac) adj. 1 capable of (doing) sth having the power, skill, or other qualities that are needed to do something: He is not capable of making these decisions by himself. | The machine is capable of very precise calculations. 2 able to do things well: Mary Beth is a capable lawyer. | The hospital's staff were all very capable. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French, Late Latin capabilis “able to take things in,” from Latin capere “to take”] cap-a-cious /ˌkəˈpeɪʃəs/ adj. (formal) able to contain a lot: a capacious handbag —capaciousness n. [U]

cap-a-c-i-tor /kəˈpæsətər/ n. [C] PHYSICS a piece of equipment that collects and stores electricity for a short time

cap-a-c-i-ty /kəˈpæsəti/ (Ac) n. (plural capacities) 1 [singular, U] the amount that something can hold, produce, or carry: The computer has a capacity of 400 megabytes. | The theater was filled to capacity (=completely full). 2 [C,U] the ability to do or produce something: a child's capacity for learning | The groups have the capacity to influence Congress. | The factory is not yet working at full capacity.

THESAURUS ability, power, capability → ABILITY

3 [singular] someone's job, position, or duty: She has traveled a lot in her capacity as a photojournalist. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French capacité, from Latin capacitas] cape /keɪp/ n. [C] 1 a long loose piece of clothing without SLEEVES that fastens around your neck and hangs from your shoulders: The bishop was wearing a long red cape. 2 EARTH SCIENCES a large piece of land surrounded on three sides by water: Cape Cod cap-er¹ /ˈkeɪpər/ n. [C] 1 a small dark green part of a flower, that is used in cooking to give a sour taste to food 2 a planned activity, especially an illegal or dangerous one cap-er² v. [I] to jump around and play in a happy excited way cap-il-lar-y /ˈkæpələri/ n. (plural capillaries) [C] BIOLOGY a very small narrow tube that carries blood around your body → ARTERY, VEIN

cap-i-tal¹ /ˈkæpətl/ n. 1 [C] the city where a country or state's main government is → CAPITOL: The New York state capital is Albany. | What's the capital of Sweden? 2 [singular, U] ECONOMICS money or property you use to start a business or to make more money: Investors lent him the capital to start the business. 3 [C] a letter of the alphabet written in its large form, for example at the beginning of someone's name: Please write your name in capitals. | a capital “T” 4 [C] a place that is important for a particular activity: Hollywood is the capital of the movie industry. [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Latin capitalis, from caput “head”] capital² adj. 1 ECONOMICS relating to money that you use to start a business, make more money, improve things, etc.: We need greater capital investment to improve our schools. 2 capital letter a letter of the alphabet that is printed in its large form, for example at the beginning of someone's name 3 capital offense/crime LAW a crime that may be punished by death capital 'gain n. [C] ECONOMICS the profit you make by selling something for more than it cost you to buy: The sale of its overseas assets resulted in a capital gain of $10 million for the group.

cap-i-tal-ism /ˈkæpətlɪzəm/ n. [U] ECONOMICS an economic and political system in which businesses belong mostly to private owners, not to the government → COMMUNISM, SOCIALISM cap-i-tal-ist /ˈkæpətlɪst/ adj. ECONOMICS relating to a system or person who supports or takes part in capitalism —capitalist n. [C] cap-i-tal-ize /ˈkæpətləɪz/ v. [T] 1 to write a letter of the alphabet using a CAPITAL letter 2 ECONOMICS to supply a business with money so that it can operate 3 ECONOMICS to calculate the value of a business, based on the value of its SHARES —capitalization /ˌkæpətləˈzeɪʃən/ n. [U] capitalize on sth phr. v. to use something in order to gain an advantage: The company is trying to capitalize on the popularity of fruit-based drinks.

capital 'punishment n. [U] the punishment of legally killing someone for a crime s/he has done

THESAURUS punishment, sentence, penalty, fine, community service, corporal punishment → PUNISHMENT

→ DEATH PENALTY

Cap-i-tol /ˈkæpətl/ n. 1 the Capitol the building in Washington, D.C. where the U.S. Congress meets 2 [C] the building in each U.S. state where the people who make laws for that state meet Capitol 'Hill n. POLITICS the place where the U.S. Congress meets, often used to refer to Congress itself: The bill has wide support on Capitol Hill.

cap-pit-u-late /kə'pɪtʃə,leɪt/ v. [I] to stop fighting someone and accept his/her conditions or demands —capitulation /kə,pɪtʃə'leɪʃən/ n. [C,U] cap-puc-ci-no /,kæpə'tʃɪnoʊ, ,kɑ-/ n. (plural cappuccinos) [C,U] a type of Italian coffee made with hot milk cap-price /kə'prɪs/ n. [C,U] (literary) a sudden and unreasonable change in someone's opinion or behavior cap-ri-cious /kə'prɪʃəs/ adj. (literary) likely to change very suddenly: capricious spring weather

Cap-ri-corn /'kæprɪ,kɔrn/ n. 1 [U] the tenth sign of the ZODIAC, represented by a goat 2 [C] someone born between December 22 and January 19 cap-size /'kæpsaɪz, kəp'saɪz/ v. [I,T] if a boat capsizes, or if you capsize it, it turns over in the water cap-sule /'kæpsəl/ n. [C] 1 a very small object with medicine inside that you swallow whole

THESAURUS medicine, pill, tablet, eye/ear drops, drug, medication → MEDICINE

2 the part of a space vehicle in which people live and work cap-tain¹ /'kæptən/ n. [C] 1 someone who is in charge of a ship or airplane 2 a fairly high rank in the Army, Air Force, Marines, police force, etc., or an officer who has this rank 3 someone who leads a team or group: the captain of the football team [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French capitaine, from Late Latin capitaneus “chief,” from Latin caput “head”] captain² v. [T] to be the captain of a team, ship, or airplane cap-tion /'kæpʃən/ n. [C] words written above or below a picture that explain what the picture is about cap-ti-vate /'kæptə,vert/ v. [T] to attract and interest someone very much: Alex was captivated by her beauty. —captivating adj.: a particularly captivating story

cap-tive¹ /'kæptɪv/ adj. 1 kept in prison or in a place that you are not allowed to leave: captive animals | His son had been taken captive (=taken and kept as a prisoner). 2 captive audience people who listen to or watch someone or something because they have to, not because they want to captive² n. [C] someone who is kept as a prisoner, especially in a war (SYN) hostage cap-tiv-i-ty /kæp'tɪvəti/ n. [U] the state of being kept as a prisoner or in a small space: Many animals won't breed in captivity.

cap-tor /'kæptə/ n. [C] (formal) someone who is keeping another person as a prisoner cap-ture¹ /'kæptʃə/ v. [T] 1 to catch someone in order to keep him/her as a prisoner: 40 French soldiers were captured.

THESAURUS catch, arrest, apprehend, corner, trap → CATCH¹

2 to get control of a place that previously belonged to an enemy, during a war: The town was captured by enemy troops. 3 capture sb's imagination/attention etc. to make someone feel very interested in something 4 to succeed in showing or describing something, using words or pictures: The book really captures the essence/spirit of what the 1920s were like. 5 to get something that you are competing with others for, especially in business or politics: Mayor Agnos captured 30% of the vote. 6 to catch an animal without killing it [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French, Latin captura, from captus] capture² n. [U] 1 the act of catching someone in order to keep him/her as a prisoner: The two soldiers somehow managed to avoid capture. 2 the act of getting control of something: the capture of the village car /kɑr/ n. [C] 1 a vehicle with four wheels and an engine, used by a small number of people for traveling from one place to another: Joe got in the car and buckled his seat belt. | She got out of the car. | You can't park your car here. 2 one of the connected parts of a train: I'll meet you in the dining car.

ca-ra-fe /kə'ræf/ n. [C] a glass bottle with a wide top, used for serving wine or water at meals car-a-mel /'kærəməl, -mɛl, 'kɑrməl/ n. [C,U] candy made of cooked sugar, butter, and milk [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French, Spanish caramelo] car-a-pace /'kærə,peɪs/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a hard shell on the outside of some animals such as a CRAB or TURTLE car-at, karat /'kærət/ n. [C] a unit for measuring how pure gold is, or how heavy jewels are: Pure gold is 24 carats.

car-a-van /'kærə,væn/ n. [C] a group of people with animals or vehicles, who travel together [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Italian caravana, from Persian karwan] car-bo-hy-drate /ˌkɑrbouˈhɑdreɪt, -drɪt, -bə-/ n. [C,U] CHEMISTRY a substance in foods such as rice, bread, and potatoes that provides your body with heat and energy car-bon /ˈkɑrbən/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a chemical that is an ELEMENT and that forms into DIAMONDS, and is in gas, coal, etc.

C

car-bon-at-ed /ˈkɑrbəˌneɪtɪd/ adj. carbonated drinks have a lot of BUBBLES in them carbon 'copy n. [C] someone or something that is very similar to another person or thing carbon 'cycle n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a continuous series of related events in which carbon that exists in the air as carbon dioxide is taken in by plants, and is sent back out into the air again, either by plants or animals or as the result of burning substances such as oil or coal carbon di'oxide n. [U] CHEMISTRY the gas produced when people and animals breathe out carbon 'footprint n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a measure of the amount of harmful carbon dioxide that a person, company, industry, etc. produces when doing his, her, or its normal activities, such as driving a car, heating a building, or producing goods carbon mo'noxide n. [U] CHEMISTRY a poisonous gas produced when engines burn gasoline

'carbon ,paper n. [C,U] special paper with a blue or black substance on one side, used especially in the past to make copies of documents written on a TYPEWRITER car-bu-re-tor /ˈkɑrbəˌreɪtə-/ n. [C] the part of an engine that mixes the air and gasoline to provide power car-cass /ˈkɑrkəs/ n. [C] the body of a dead animal car-cin-o-gen /kɑˈsɪnədʒən/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a substance that can cause CANCER —carcinogenic /ˌkɑrsɪnəˈdʒenɪk/ adj.

car-ci-no-ma /ˌkɑrsəˈnoʊmə/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a small growth on your skin or in your body caused by CANCER → TUMOR

card¹ /kɑrd/ n. [C] 1 a small piece of plastic or stiff paper that shows information about someone or something: a library card | an employee ID card | Here's my business card. 2 a small piece of plastic which you use to pay for goods or to get money → CREDIT CARD, DEBIT CARD: I'll use my card. 3 a piece of folded stiff paper, usually with a picture on the front, that you send to people on special occasions: a birthday card 4 one of a set of 52 small pieces of stiff paper with pictures or numbers on them that are used for playing games: Let's play cards (=play a game using cards). | a deck of cards 5 a POSTCARD 6 baseball/sports etc. card a small piece of thick stiff paper with a picture on one side, that is part of a set which people collect 7 a small piece of thick stiff paper that information can be written or printed on → INDEX CARD: a set of recipe cards 8 the thing inside a computer that the CHIPS are attached to that allows the computer to do specific things: a sound card 9 be in the cards to seem likely to happen: The increase in price has been in the cards for a long time. 10 play your cards right (informal) to do the things that make you succeed in getting what you want 11 put/lay your cards on the table (informal) to be completely honest about what your plans and intentions are [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French carte, from Old Italian carta “sheet of paper,” from Latin charta]

card² v. [T] to ask someone to show a card proving that s/he is old enough to be in a particular place or to buy alcohol or cigarettes: I can't believe I still get carded.

card-board /ˈkɑrdbɔrd/ n. [U] a thick material like stiff paper, used especially for making boxes

'card ,catalog n. [C] a set of cards that contain information about something, especially books in a library, and that are arranged in a particular order car-di-ac /ˈkɑrdiˌæk/ adj. [only before noun] BIOL- OGY relating to the heart or to heart disease

'cardiac ar'rest n. [C] BIOLOGY a HEART ATTACK

car-di-gan /ˈkɑrdəɡən/ n. [C] a SWEATER that is fastened at the front [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Earl of Cardigan (1797–1868), British soldier] car-di-nal¹ /ˈkɑrdnəl, -nəl/ adj. [only before noun] very important or basic: a cardinal rule cardinal² n. [C] 1 a priest of very high rank in the Roman Catholic Church 2 a common North American wild bird that is a bright red color

'cardinal 'number n. [C] MATH any of the numbers 1, 2, 3, etc. that show the quantity of something → ORDINAL NUMBER car-di-ol-o-gy

/ˌkɑrdiˈɒlədʒi/ n. [U] the study or science of medical treatment of the heart

care¹ /kɛr/ v. 1 [I,T] to be concerned about or interested in someone or something: He doesn't care about anybody but himself. | I don't care what you do. 2 [I] to like or love someone: He really cared for you.

SPOKEN PHRASES

3 who cares? used in order to say that something does not worry or upset you because you think it is not important 4 I/he/they etc. couldn't care less used in order to say that someone is not at all concerned about or interested in something: I couldn't care less about the Super Bowl. 5 what do I/you/they etc. care? used in order to say that someone does not care at all about something: What does he care? He'll get his money whatever happens. 6 would you care to do sth?/would you care for sth? (formal) used in order to ask someone if s/he wants to do something: Would you care to meet us after the show? | Would you care for a drink?

care for sb/sth phr. v. 1 to do things for someone who is old, sick, weak, etc. and not able to do things for himself/herself (SYN) look after: Angie cared for her mother after her stroke. 2 not care for sb/sth to not like someone or something: I don't care for his brother.

care² n.

1 HELP [U] the process of doing things for someone because s/he is old, sick, weak, etc.: Your father will need constant medical care. | They shared the care of their children.

2 KEEPING STH IN GOOD CONDITION [U] the process of keeping something in good condition or working correctly: skin care | With proper care, your washing machine should last years.

3 take care of sb/sth a) to watch and help someone and be responsible for him/her: Who's taking care of the baby? b) to keep something in good condition or working correctly: Karl will take care of the house while we're on vacation. c) to do the work or make the arrangements that are necessary for something to happen: I'll take care of making the reservations. d) to pay for something: Don't worry about the bill – it's taken care of.

4 take care a) (spoken) used when saying goodbye to family or friends b) to be careful: It's very icy, so take care driving home.

5 CAREFULNESS [U] carefulness to avoid damage, mistakes, etc.: You need to put more care into your work. | Handle the package with care.

6 WORRY [C,U] something that causes problems and makes you anxious or sad: Eddie doesn't have a care in the world (=does not have any problems or worries).

7 in care of sb (written abbreviation c/o) used when sending letters to someone at someone else's address: Send me the package in care of my cousin.

ca-reen /kə'reɪn/ v. [I] to move quickly forward in an uncontrolled way, making sudden sideways movements: Morillo's truck careened down the hillside and burst into flames.

ca-reer /kə'reɪr/ n. [C] 1 a job or profession that you have been trained for and intend to do for a long time: a career in law | She's considering making a career change.

THESAURUS job, work, employment, position, post, occupation, profession, vocation → JOB

2 the period of time in your life that you spend working: Will spent most of his career as a teacher. 3 career soldier/teacher etc. someone who intends to be a soldier, teacher, etc. for most of his/her life, not just for a particular period of time: a career diplomat [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French carrière, from Old Provençal carriera "street," from Latin carrus]

care-free /'kɛrfri/ adj. without any problems or worries: a carefree summer vacation

care-ful /'kɛrfəl/ adj. 1 trying very hard not to make mistakes, damage something, or cause problems (ANT) careless: a careful driver | Anna was careful not to upset Steven. 2 (be) careful! (spoken) used in order to tell someone to think about what s/he is doing so that something bad does not happen: Be careful – there's broken glass on the sidewalk! 3 paying a lot of attention to detail: careful planning

THESAURUS

methodical – done in a careful and well-organized way, or always doing things this way: a methodical approach to the problem thorough – careful to do everything that you should and avoid mistakes: The police conducted a thorough investigation of the affair.

meticulous – very careful about details, and always trying to do things correctly: She keeps meticulous records.

systematic – organized carefully and done thoroughly: We need a systematic way to measure employees' performance.

painstaking – very careful and thorough: Cleaning the paintings involves a lot of painstaking work.

scrupulous (formal) – done very carefully so that every detail is correct: The research shows scrupulous attention to detail.

conscientious (formal) – careful to do everything that it is your job or duty to do: a conscientious student —carefully adv. Please listen carefully.

care-giv-er /'kɛr,gɪvə/ n. [C] someone who takes care of a child or of someone who is old or sick care-less /'kɛrlɪs/ adj. not paying enough attention to what you are doing, so that you make mistakes, damage things, cause problems, etc.

(ANT) careful: a careless mistake | It was very careless of you to leave your keys in the car.

—carelessly adv. —carelessness n. [U]

'care ,package n. [C] a package of food, candy, etc. that is sent to someone living away from home, especially a student at college

ca-ress /kə'res/ v. [T] to gently touch or kiss someone in a way that shows you love him/her

—caress n. [C]

THESAURUS touch, feel, handle, stroke, rub, scratch, pat, pet, tickle → TOUCH¹

care-tak-er /'kɛr,tɛkə/ n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to take care of a building or land when the person who owns it is not there 2 someone such as a nurse, who takes care of other people car-go /ˈkɑrɡoʊ/ n. (plural cargoes) [C,U] the goods that are being carried in a ship, airplane, truck, etc.: The ship was carrying a cargo of oil. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Spanish “load, charge,” from cargar “to load,” from Late Latin carri-care]

Car-ib-be-an /kəˈrɪbiən, kəˈrɪbiən/ adj. from or relating to the islands in the Caribbean Sea, such as the Bahamas and Jamaica — Caribbean n. [C]

ca-ri-bou /ˈkærəbu/ n. [C] a North American REINDEER car-i-ca-ture /ˈkærəkətʃə, -tʃʊr/ n. [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a funny drawing or description of someone that makes him/her seem silly, or the activity doing this [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 French, Italian caricatura, from caricare “to load, make seem larger, worse, etc.,” from Late Latin caricare] — caricature v. [T]

THESAURUS picture, sketch, painting, portrait, cartoon, illustration, image → PICTURE¹

car-ies /ˈkerɪz/ n. [U] BIOLOGY decay in one or more teeth car-ing /ˈkærɪŋ/ adj. someone who is caring is kind to other people and tries to help them: a warm and caring person

THESAURUS kind, nice, considerate, thoughtful, warm-hearted, compassionate, sympathetic → KIND² car-jack-ing /ˈkɑr,dʒækɪŋ/ n. [C,U] the crime of using a weapon to force the driver of a car to drive you somewhere or give you his/her car — carjacker n. [C] car-nage /ˈkɑrnɪdʒ/ n. [U] (formal) the killing and wounding of a lot of people, especially in a war car-nal /ˈkɑrnəl/ adj. (formal) relating to sex: carnal desires car-na-tion /kɑrˈneɪʃən/ n. [C] a white, pink, or red flower that smells nice car-ni-val /ˈkɑrnəvəl/ n. 1 [C] a noisy outdoor event where you can ride on special machines and play games for prizes (SYN fair) 2 [C,U] a public event at which people play music, wear special clothes, and dance in the streets: carnival time in Rio [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Italian carnevale, from carne “meat” + levare “to remove;” because after Carnival people stopped eating meat for a period] car-ni-vore /ˈkɑrnəvɔr/ n. [C] BIOLOGY an animal that eats meat [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Latin carnivorus “flesh-eating,” from caro “flesh” + -vorus “eating”] — carnivorous /kɑrˈnɪvərəs/ adj.

car-ol /ˈkærəl/ n. [C] a CHRISTMAS CAROL ca-rot-id ar-te-ry /kəˈrɑtɪd ˈɑrtəri/ n. [C] BIOL-OGY one of the two ARTERIES in your neck that supply blood to your head

ca-rouse /kəˈraʊz/ v. [I] (literary) to drink a lot, be noisy, and have fun car-ou-sel, carousel /ˈkærəˈsel/ n. [C] 1 a machine with painted wooden horses on it that turns around, which people can ride on for fun 2 the circular moving belt that you collect your bags and suitcases from at an airport carp¹ /kɑrp/ n. (plural carp) [C] a large fish that lives in lakes or rivers and can be eaten carp² v. [I] to complain about something in an annoying way, or to criticize someone all the time car-pel /ˈkɑrpəl/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the part of a flower where new seeds are formed car-pen-ter /ˈkɑrpəntər/ n. [C] someone whose job is making and repairing wooden objects [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old North French carpentier, from Latin carpentarius “carriage-maker”] car-pen-try /ˈkɑrpəntri/ n. [U] the art or work of a carpenter car-pet¹ /ˈkɑrpɪt/ n. [C,U] a heavy woven material for covering all of a floor and stairs, or a piece of this material → RUG: a wine stain on the carpet | I'd like red carpet in the hall. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French carpite, from Old Italian carpita, from carpire “to pull out”] → see picture at RUG carpet² v. [T] to cover something with a carpet car-pet-ing /ˈkɑrpətɪŋ/ n. [U] carpets in general, or heavy woven material used for making carpets

'car pool n. [C] a group of people who travel together to work, school, etc. in one car and share the costs — carpool v. [I] car-port /ˈkɑrpɔrt/ n. [C] a shelter for a car, that has a roof and is often built against the side of a house → GARAGE car-riage /ˈkæriɪdʒ/ n. [C] 1 a vehicle with wheels that is pulled by a horse, used in past times 2 a BABY CARRIAGE car-ri-er /ˈkæriər/ n. [C] 1 a company that moves goods or passengers from one place to another, especially by airplane 2 BIOLOGY someone who passes a disease to other people without having it himself/herself 3 a telephone or insurance company: a cell phone carrier car-rot /ˈkærət/ n. [C] a long orange vegetable that grows under the ground [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French carotte, from Late Latin, from Greek karoton] → see picture at VEGETABLE carrousel n [C] another spelling of CAROUSEL car-ry /ˈkæri/ v. (carried, carries)

1 LIFT AND TAKE [T] to hold something in your hands or arms, or on your back, as you take it somewhere: Can you carry that suitcase for me? | Angela was carrying the baby in her arms. → see picture on page A9

THESAURUS

cart – to carry or take something large and heavy somewhere: Workers carted away several tons of trash.

haul – to carry or pull something heavy:
Contractors have begun hauling away the debris.
transport (formal) – to move or carry goods, people, etc. from one place to another in a vehicle: Helicopters are used to transport military equipment.
bear (formal) – to bring or carry something:
They arrived bearing gifts.
tote (informal) – to carry something: guards toting machine guns lug (informal) – to pull or carry something that is very heavy: We lugged our bags and chairs to the beach.
schlep (informal) – to carry or pull something heavy: He schlepped the luggage up the steps.

2 VEHICLE/SHIP/PLANE [T] to take people or things from one place to another: The bus was carrying 25 passengers.

3 PIPE/ROAD/WIRE [T] if pipe, road, wire, etc. carries something such as liquid or electricity, the liquid etc. flows along, on, or in it: Pipes carry the water across the desert.

4 HAVE WITH YOU [T] to have something with you in your pocket, on your belt, in your bag, etc. as you move from place to place: The security guard usually carries a gun. | I never carry much cash.

5 STORE [T] if a store carries goods, it has a supply of them for sale: I'm sorry, we don't carry that brand anymore.

6 INFORMATION/NEWS ETC. [T] to contain a particular piece of information or news: The morning paper carried a story about the demonstration in New York.

7 HAVE A QUALITY [T] to have a particular quality: The job carries certain risks. | Lee's opinions usually carry a lot of weight (=have influence) with the boss. | Matthew's voice did not carry much conviction (=he did not sound certain).

8 be/get carried away to be or become so excited that you are no longer in control of what you do or say

9 carry insurance/a guarantee etc. to have insurance, etc.: All our products carry a 12-month guarantee.

10 DISEASE [T] BIOLOGY to have a disease and pass it to others: Many diseases are carried by insects.

11 carry yourself to stand and move in a particular way: It was obvious by the way they carried themselves that they were soldiers.

12 CRIME/PUNISHMENT [T] if a crime carries a particular punishment, that is the usual punishment for the crime: Murder carries a life sentence in this state.

13 carry sth too far to do or say too much about something: It was funny at first, but you've carried the joke too far.

14 ELECTION [T] to win an election in a state or particular area: Reagan carried California in 1980.

15 SUPPORT [T] to support the weight of something else: Those columns carry the whole roof.

16 SOUND/SMELL [I] to be able to go as far as a particular place or a particular distance: The sound of their laughter carried as far as the lake.

17 carry a tune to sing the notes of a song correctly

18 MATHEMATICS [T] also carry over to move a total to the next row of figures for adding to other numbers [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old North French carier “to take in a vehicle,” from car “vehicle,” from Latin carrus] carry sth ↔ off phr. v.

to do something difficult successfully: No one believed he could carry the plan off.

carry on phr. v.

1 to continue doing something: Jane plans to carry on and finish writing the book.

2 (spoken) to behave in a silly or excited way: We won't get anything done if you two don't stop carrying on!

carry sth ↔ out phr. v.

1 to do something that has to be organized and planned: The police department will carry out a thorough investigation.

2 to do something that you have said you will do: The bombers have threatened to carry out more attacks.

carry sth ↔ over phr. v.

to make an amount of something available to be used at a later time: Can I carry over my vacation time to next year?

carry sth ↔ through phr. v.

to complete or finish something successfully: Once he starts a project, he always carries it through.

'carry-on adj. a carry-on bag is one that you can take with you onto an airplane car-ry-out /'kæri,aut/ n. [C] a TAKEOUT

'car seat n. [C] a special seat for babies or young children, that you attach to the seat of a car car-sick /'kɑːsɪk/ adj. feeling sick because of the movement of traveling in a car —carsickness n. [U]

cart¹ /kɑːt/ n. [C] 1 also shopping cart a large wire basket on wheels that you use when shopping in a SUPERMARKET 2 a vehicle with two or four wheels that is pulled by a horse, used for carrying heavy things 3 a small table on wheels, used for moving and serving food: The waiter wheeled the dessert cart over to our table.

cart² v. [I,T] to carry or take something large and heavy somewhere: Workers carted away several tons of trash.

THESAURUS carry, haul, transport, bear, tote, lug, schlep → CARRY carte blanche /,kɑːt 'blɑːnʃ/ n. [U] permission or freedom to do whatever you want: He was given carte blanche to pick the team he wanted.

car-tel /kɑː'tel/ n. [C] ECONOMICS a group of companies who all agree to charge a particular price for something they produce or sell, which limits competition in an unfair way: The price of a barrel of oil is set by OPEC, the oil cartel.

car-ti-lage /'kɑːtɪl-ɪdʒ/ n. [C,U] BIOLOGY a strong substance that can bend and stretch, which is around the joints in your body car-tog-ra-phy /kɑr'tɑgrəfi/ n. [U] the skill or practice of making maps —cartographer n. [C]

car-ton /'kɑrtən/ n. [C] a box made of CARD-BOARD, that contains food or a drink: a milk carton | a carton of juice

C

car-toon /kɑr'tun/ n. [C] 1 a movie or television program made with characters that are drawn and not real: a Bugs Bunny cartoon → MOVIE 2 a funny drawing in a newspaper, usually about someone or something that is in the news [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Italian cartone “pasteboard, cartoon,” from carta “sheet of paper”]

THESAURUS drawing, picture, sketch, comic strip, portrait, caricature, illustration, image → DRAWING, PICTURE¹

car-toon-ist /kɑr'tunist/ n. [C] someone who draws cartoons car-tridge /'kɑrtɪdʒ/ n. [C] 1 a small piece of equipment that you put inside something to make it work: The printer needs a new ink cartridge. 2 a tube containing explosive material and a bullet for a gun cart-wheel /'kɑrtˈwɪl/ n. [C] a movement in which you throw your body sideways onto your hands and bring your legs over your head —cartwheel v. [I] carve /kɑrv/ v. 1 [T] to make an object by cutting it from a piece of wood or stone: The statue was carved from a single block of marble. 2 [T] to cut a pattern or letter on the surface of something: Someone had carved their initials on the tree. 3 [I,T] to cut a large piece of cooked meat into smaller pieces with a large knife: Dad always carves the turkey. → see picture at CUT¹

THESAURUS cut, chop (up), slice, dice, peel, shred, grate → CUT¹

carve sth ↔ out phr. v. carve out a career/niche/reputation etc. to become successful and be respected carve sth ↔ up phr. v. (disapproving) to divide land, a company, etc. into smaller parts: The country was carved up after the war.

carv-ing /'kɑrvɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] an object that has been cut from wood, stone, etc. 2 [U] the activity of cutting objects from wood, stone, etc., or cutting patterns into wood, stone, etc.

'car wash n. [C] a place where you can take your car to be washed with special equipment cas-cade /kæ'skeɪd/ n. [C] 1 a small steep WATERFALL 2 (literary) something that seems to flow or hang down: Her hair fell in a cascade of soft curls. —cascade v. [I] case¹ /kers/ n.

1 SITUATION/EXAMPLE [C] a particular situation, or an example of that situation (SYN example, instance): In some cases, snoring indicates a real medical problem. | Miller's actions were a clear case of sexual harassment. | We live far apart now, but that won't always be the case. | Many western cities are growing. Las Vegas is a case in point (= a clear example).

2 (just) in case a) as a way of being prepared for something that might happen: Take your umbrella in case it rains. b) if: In case my train is late, start the meeting without me.

3 COURT [C] LAW a legal matter or question that must be decided in a court of law: a court case | Watson is expected to win/lose the case.

4 POLICE [C] a crime or set of events that the police are trying to find out the truth about: Sturgis is investigating a murder case.

5 ARGUMENT [C] all the facts or reasons that support one side of an argument: The prosecution's case against him is very strong. | There is a good case for changing the rule.

6 CONTAINER [C] a container for storing something: a jewelry case | a case of wine

7 in case of sth if or when something happens: In case of fire, break the glass and push the alarm button.

8 DISEASE/ILLNESS [C] an example of a disease or illness, or the person suffering from this disease or illness: There have been ten cases of malaria in the village recently.

9 in that case (spoken) used in order to say what you will do or what will happen in a particular situation: "I'll be home late tonight." "Well, in that case, I won't cook dinner."

10 in any case used in order to give the reason why you will do something, or to say that you are determined to do it: Sure we'll take you home – we're going that way in any case.

11 be on sb's case (spoken) to be criticizing someone a lot: Dad's always on my case about something.

12 get off my case (spoken) used in order to tell someone to stop criticizing you: OK, OK, just get off my case, will you?

13 GRAMMAR [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the form of a word, usually a noun, or the way the form changes, showing its relationship to other words in a sentence [ORIGIN: (6) 1200—1300 Old North French casse, from Latin capsa “box, case”] → LOWERCASE, UPPERCASE case² v. 1 be cased in sth to be surrounded by a substance: The reactor will be cased in metal. 2 case the joint (informal) to look around a place that you intend to steal from, in order to find out information case-load /'keɪsləʊd/ n. [C] the number of people a doctor, SOCIAL WORKER, etc. has to deal with

'case study n. [C] a detailed study of a particular person, group, or situation over a long period of time case-work /'keɪswɜ:k/ n. [U] work done to help particular people or families with their social problems — caseworker n. [C]

cash¹ /kæʃ/ n. [U] 1 money in the form of coins and bills: There's a small discount if you pay cash. | He had about $200 in cash in his wallet.

THESAURUS money, bill, coin, penny, nickel, dime, quarter, change, currency → MONEY

2 (informal) money in any form: I'm kind of short of cash at the moment. | The company had problems raising cash for the deal. 3 cash on delivery (abbreviation C.O.D.) used when the customer must pay the person who delivers goods to them cash² v. cash a check/money order etc. to exchange a check for money: Can I get this check cashed here?

cash in phr. v. 1 to gain money or advantages from a situation: He cashed in on his fame as a basketball player by advertising sports-wear. 2 cash sth ↔ in to exchange something for its value in money: We decided to cash in our insurance policy early.

'cash cow n. [C] ECONOMICS a business or product you can always depend on to make a profit

'cash crop n. [C] ECONOMICS a crop that is grown to be sold rather than to be used by the people growing it cash-ew /'kæʃu, kə'ʃu/ n. [C] a small curved nut that you can eat, or the tropical American tree on which these nuts grow [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Portuguese cajú, from Tupi acajú]

'cash flow n. [singular, U] ECONOMICS the movement of money into and out of a business or someone's bank account: They're having cash flow problems and might be going out of business.

cash-ier /kə'ʃɪr/ n. [C] someone whose job is to receive and pay out money in a store cash-less /'kæʃləs/ adj. done or working without using coins or paper money

'cash machine n. [C] a machine from which you can get money by using a special plastic card [SYN] ATM → ACCOUNT¹

cash-mere /'kæʒmɪr, 'kæʃ-/ n. [U] a type of fine soft wool: a cashmere sweater [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Cashmere, old spelling of Kashmir area on the border of India and Pakistan]

'cash register n. [C] a machine used in stores to keep money in and to show how much customers have to pay cash-ing /'keɪʃɪŋ/ n. [C] an outer layer of rubber, metal, etc. that covers and protects something, for example a wire ca-si-no /kə'sɪnoʊ/ n. (plural casinos) [C] a place where people try to win money by playing games [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Italian casa “house”] cash /kæsk/ n. [C] a round wooden container used for holding alcohol, or the amount contained in this [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French casque “helmet,” from Spanish casco “broken piece of a pot, skull, helmet”] cash-ket /'kæskɪt/ n. [C] a COFFIN

cas-se-rolé /'kæsə,roul/ n. [C,U] food that is cooked slowly in liquid in a covered dish in the OVEN [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French “cooking pan,” from casse “big spoon, pan,” from Greek kyathos “big spoon”] cas-sette /kə'set/ n. [C] a small flat plastic case containing tape, that can be used for playing or recording sound or pictures [SYN] tape: an audio/video cassette

cast¹ /kæst/ v. (past tense and past participle cast) [T]

1 ACTORS to choose a particular actor for a part in a movie, play, etc.: He was cast as the romantic leading man in many famous movies.

2 cast doubt/suspicion on sth to make people feel less certain about something: Recent information has cast doubt on the evidence.

3 cast a vote to vote in an election: I'd like to know more about the candidates before I cast my vote.

4 cast a spell (on/over sb/sth) a) to make someone feel very strongly attracted to something and keep his/her attention completely: Within minutes, Sinatra's voice had cast a spell on the audience. b) to say magic words to make something happen

5 cast a shadow a) to make people feel less happy or hopeful about something: Her father's illness cast a shadow over the wedding celebrations. b) (literary) to make a shadow appear on something: trees casting a shadow across the lawn

6 cast light on/onto sth a) to explain or give new information about something: His research has cast light on the origin of the universe. b) (literary) to send light onto a surface

7 cast a look/glance (at sb/sth) (literary) to look at someone or something: She cast an anxious glance at Guy.

8 ART to make something by pouring metal or plastic into a specially shaped container: a statue of Lincoln cast in bronze

C

9 THROW to throw something somewhere: fishermen casting their nets into the sea

THESAURUS throw, toss, chuck, hurl, fling, pass, pitch, lob → THROW¹ cast sb/sth ↔ aside phr. v.

to get rid of something or someone: It's time to cast aside the past and make a new start.

cast off phr. v.

1 to untie the rope that keeps a boat on shore so that it can sail away

2 cast sb/sth ↔ off (literary) to get rid of something or someone cast sb/sth ↔ out phr. v. (literary) to force someone or something to go away cast² n. [C] 1 all of the actors in a movie, play, etc.: an all-star cast (=all the actors are famous) 2 a hard cover for a part of your body, that supports a broken bone while it gets better: a leg cast 3 a MOLD (=specially shaped container) into which you pour metal or plastic in order to make an object of a particular shape cast-a-way /'kæstə,weɪ/ n. [C] someone who is alone on an island after his/her ship has sunk caste /kæst/ n. [C,U] SOCIAL SCIENCE one of the social classes in India into which people are born, that cannot be changed cast-er /'kæstə/ n. [C] a small wheel fixed to the bottom of a piece of furniture so it can be moved easily

'caste system n. [C] SOCIAL SCIENCE the Hindu system of social classes, which people are born into and cannot change cas-ti-gate /'kæstə,geɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to criticize or punish someone in a severe way —castigation /,kæstə'geɪʃən/ n. [U] cast-ing /'kæstɪŋ/ n. [U] the act of choosing actors for a movie, play, etc.: a casting director

,cast 'iron n. [U] a type of iron that is very hard

,cast-'iron adj. 1 made of cast iron: a cast-iron skillet 2 cast-iron excuse/alibi/guarantee etc. an excuse, etc. that is very certain and cannot fail cas-tle /'kæsəl/ n. [C] a very large strong building built in past times to protect the people inside from attack [ORIGIN: 1000—1100 Old North French castel, from Latin castellum “building with a defensive wall”] cast-offs /'kæstɔfs/ n. [plural] clothes or other things that someone does not want anymore and gives or throws away cas-trate /'kæstreɪt/ v. [T] to remove the sexual organs of a male animal or a man —castration /kæ'streɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

cas-u-al /'kæʒuəl, -ʒəl/ adj. 1 casual clothes are comfortable and not worn on formal occasions: Many companies allow casual dress on Fridays. | the casual look 2 relaxed and not worried about things: The restaurant has a casual atmosphere. |

Sport is talked about a lot in casual conversation. | His casual attitude toward work really irritates me. 3 [only before noun] without any serious interest or attention: Most casual observers won't notice anything different. 4 knowing someone without wanting a close relationship with him/her: a casual acquaintance | We had a casual relationship when we were at college. —casually adv.: He was casually dressed.

cas-u-al-ty /'kæʒəlti, -ʒuəlti/ n. (plural casualties) [C] 1 someone who is hurt or killed in an accident or war: The army suffered heavy casualties (=a lot of people were hurt or killed). 2 be a casualty of sth to suffer because of a particular event or situation: The city library is the latest casualty of the cutbacks.

cat /kæt/ n. [C] 1 a small animal that is often kept as a pet or is used for catching mice → *see picture at PET*¹ 2 a large wild animal, such as a lion, that is related to cats 3 let the cat out of the bag (informal) to tell a secret without intending to [ORIGIN: Old English catt] cat-a-clysm /'kætə,kliːzəm/ n. [C] (literary) a sudden violent event or change, such as a big flood or EARTHQUAKE [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French cataclysm, from Latin, from Greek, from kataklyzein “to flood,” from kata- “down” + klyzein “to wash”] —cataclysmic /,kætə'kliːzmɪk/ adj.

cat-a-log¹, catalogue /'kætliːg, -,ag/ n. [C] 1 a book with pictures and information about goods or services that you can buy: a mail order catalog 2 a list of the objects, paintings, books, etc. in a place such as a MUSEUM or library catalog² v. [T] to make a complete list of something cat-a-lyst /'kætli-ɪst/ n. [C] 1 something or someone that causes an important change or event to happen: These events were the catalyst for the war. 2 CHEMISTRY a substance that makes a chemical reaction happen more quickly without being changed itself —catalytic /,kætli'tɪk/ adj. —catalyze /'kætliːz/ v. [T]

,catalytic con'verter n. [C] a piece of equipment that is attached to the EXHAUST of a car, which reduces the amount of poisonous gases the engine sends into the air cat-a-ma-ran /'kætəmə,ræn/ n. [C] a type of small boat with sails and two separate HULLS (=part that goes in the water) cat-a-pult¹ /'kætə,pʌlt, -,pʌlt/ v. [T] 1 to push or throw something very hard so that it moves through the air very quickly: Two cars were catapulted into the air by the force of the blast. 2 catapult sb to stardom/fame etc. to suddenly make someone very famous or successful catapult² n. [C] a large weapon used in former times to throw heavy stones, iron balls, etc.

cat-a-ract /'kætə,rækt/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a medical condition that affects the eye and makes you slowly lose your sight ca-tas-tro-phe /kə'tæstrəfi/ n. [C,U] a terrible event that causes a lot of destruction or suffering: The oil spill will be an ecological catastrophe.

—catastrophic /ˌkætə'strafɪk/ adj.: catastrophic floods

THESAURUS accident, disaster, mishap → ACCIDENT

catch /kætʃ/ v. (past tense and past participle caught /kɒt/)

1 HOLD [I,T] to get hold of and stop something that is moving through the air (ANT drop): He caught the ball and started to run. → see picture on page A9

2 FIND SB/STH [T] a) to stop a person or animal that is running away: "You can't catch me!" she yelled over her shoulder. b) to find a criminal and put him/her somewhere so that s/he cannot escape: The police have caught the man suspected of the murder. c) to get a fish or animal by using a trap, net, or hook: Did you catch any fish?

THESAURUS

capture – to catch someone in order to keep him/her as a prisoner: A French soldier was captured in the battle.

arrest – if the police arrest someone, the person is taken away because the police think s/he has done something illegal: He was arrested and charged with murder.

apprehend (formal) – if the police apprehend someone they think has done something illegal, they catch him/her: The two men were later apprehended after robbing another store.

corner – to move closer to a person or an animal so that he, she, or it cannot escape: Once the dog was cornered, he began to growl.

trap – to catch an animal in a trap: These animals used to be trapped for their fur.

3 SEE SB DOING STH [T] to see someone doing something wrong or illegal: I caught him looking through my letters. | A store detective caught him red-handed (=saw him stealing).

4 GET SICK [T] to get an illness: Put your coat on or you'll catch a cold.

5 catch a train/plane/bus to get on a train, etc. in order to travel somewhere: I should be able to catch the 12:05 train.

6 NOT BE TOO LATE [T] to not be too late to do something, talk to someone, etc. (ANT miss): If you hurry, you might catch her before she leaves.

7 GET STUCK [I,T] to become stuck on or in something by mistake: His shirt caught on the fence and tore.

8 catch sb by surprise/catch sb off guard to do something or happen in an unexpected way, so that someone is not ready to deal with it

9 SEE/SMELL [T] to see or smell something for a moment: I suddenly caught sight of Luisa in the crowd. | Yuck – did you catch a whiff of (=did you smell) his aftershave?

10 catch sb's eye a) to attract someone's attention and make him/her look at something: A photograph on his desk caught my eye. b) to look at someone at the same moment that s/he is looking at you: Every time she caught his eye, she would look away embarrassed.

11 be caught in/without etc. sth to be in a situation that is difficult because you cannot easily get out of it, or because you do not have what you need: We got caught in the storm.

12 catch (on) fire to start burning, especially accidentally

13 catch your breath to begin breathing normally again after you have been running or exercising

14 catch sb's attention/interest/imagination to make someone feel interested in something: a story that will catch children's imaginations

15 STOP PROBLEM/DISEASE [T] to discover a problem, especially a disease, and stop it from developing: It's a type of cancer that can be cured, if it is caught early.

SPOKEN PHRASES

16 not catch sth to not hear or understand something clearly: I'm sorry, I didn't catch your name.

17 you won't catch me doing sth used in order to say you would never do something: You won't catch me ironing his shirts.

18 Catch you later! used in order to say goodbye catch on phr. v.

1 to begin to understand something: It may take time for some of the children to catch on.

2 to become popular: The idea never caught on in this country.

catch up phr. v.

1 to reach a person or vehicle that was in front of you by going faster than him, her, or it: I had to run to catch up with her.

2 to reach the same standard or level as other people: If you miss class, it can be difficult to catch up.

3 be/get caught up in sth to be or become involved in something, especially without wanting to: young people who get caught up in crime catch up on sth phr. v.

to do something that needs to be done that you have not had time to do in the past: I need to catch up on some work.

catch² n. 1 [C] the act of catching something that has been thrown or hit: That was a great catch! 2 [U] a game in which two or more people throw a ball to each other: Let's play catch. 3 [C] (informal) a hidden problem or difficulty: The rent is so low there must be a catch.

THESAURUS disadvantage, drawback, downside, bad point → DISADVANTAGE

4 [C] a hook for fastening something and holding it shut: the catch on my necklace

Catch-22 /ˌkætʃ ˈtwentɪ ˈtu/ n. [singular, U] a situation in which, whatever you do, you are prevented from achieving what you want: You can't get a job without experience, and you can't get experience without a job. It's a Catch-22. [ORIGIN: 1900—2000 Catch-22 book (1961) by Joseph Heller in which such situations are described] catch-er /'kætʃə/ n. [C] the baseball player who SQUATS behind the BATTER in order to catch balls that are not hit catch-ing /'kætʃɪŋ/ adj. [not before noun] (informal) a disease or illness that is catching spreads easily from one person to another

C

'catch phrase n. [C] a word or phrase that is easy to remember and is repeated by a political party, newspaper, etc.

catch-y /'kætʃi/ adj. a catchy tune or phrase is easy to remember: There are some really catchy songs on the album.

cat-e-chism /'kætə,kɪzəm/ n. [C] a set of questions and answers about the Christian religion, that people learn before becoming members of the church cat-e-gor-i-cal /'kætə'gɔrɪkəl, -'gər-/ adj. clearly stating that something is true: Weber's agent issued a categorical denial that the incident had ever happened. —categorically adv.: James categorically denied the charges.

cat-e-go-rize /'kætəgə,raɪz/ v. [T] to put people or things into groups according to what type, level, etc. they are: We've categorized the wines by region.

cat-e-go-ry /'kætə,gəri/ (AC) n. (plural categories) [C] a group of people or things that are all of the same type: There are several categories of patients. | Voters fall into (=belong to) one of three categories.

THE SAURUS type, kind, sort, brand, make, model, genre, variety, species → TYPE¹

ca-ter /'keɪtə/ v. [I,T] to provide and serve food and drinks at a party, meeting, etc., usually as a business: Who's catering your daughter's wedding? —caterer n. [C] cater to sb phr. v. to provide a particular group of people with something that they need or want: newspapers that cater to business people

ca-ter-ing /'keɪtərɪŋ/ n. [U] the job of providing and serving food and drinks at parties, meetings, etc.

cat-er-pil-lar /'kætə,pɪlə, 'kætə-/ n. [C] a small creature with a long rounded body and many legs that develops into a BUTTERFLY or MOTH [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old North French catapelose “hairy cat, caterpillar”] → see picture on page A2 cat-fish /'kætˈfɪʃ/ n. [C,U] a common fish with long hairs around its mouth that lives mainly in rivers and lakes, or the meat from this fish

ca-thar-tic /kə'thɑrtɪk/ adj. (literary) helping you to deal with difficult emotions and get rid of them —catharsis /kə'thɑrsɪs/ n. [U] ca-the-dral /kə'tɪdrəl/ n. [C] the main church in a particular area [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 cathedral church “cathedral” (13—21 centuries); from Old French cathedral; from Latin cathedra “chair, bishop's chair”]

cath-ode /'kæθoʊd/ n. [C] PHYSICS the negative ELECTRODE, marked (-), from which an electric current leaves a piece of equipment such as a BATTERY → ANODE

Cath-o-lic /'kæθlɪk, -θəlɪk/ adj. relating to the part of the Christian religion whose leader is the Pope —Catholic n. [C] —Catholicism /kə'θɒlə,sɪzəm/ n. [U] catholic adj. (formal) including a great variety of things: Susan has catholic tastes in music. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French catholique, from Late Latin, from Greek katholikos “general, universal”] cat-i-on /'kæt,aɪən/ n. [C] PHYSICS an ION with a positive electrical charge that is attracted to the part on a BATTERY that sends out a negative electrical charge cat-nap /'kætˈnæp/ n. [C] (informal) a short sleep during the day cat-nip /'kætˈnɪp/ n. [U] a type of grass with a pleasant smell that cats are attracted to

CAT scan /'kæt skæn/ also CT scan /si 'ti skæn/ n. [C] an image of the inside of someone's body produced by a special piece of hospital equipment called a SCANNER cat-sup /'kætʃəp, 'kæ-/ n. [U] another spelling of KETCHUP cat-tle /'kætl/ n. [plural] cows and BULLS kept on a farm cat-ty /'kæti/ adj. (informal) deliberately unkind in what you say about someone —cattiness n. [U]

'catty-cornered adv. KITTY-CORNER

cat-walk /'kætˈwɔk/ n. [C] 1 a long raised path that models walk on in a fashion show 2 a narrow structure high up in a building or above something such as a bridge, built for people to walk on while they are working

Cau-ca-sian /kə'keɪʒən/ adj. someone who is Caucasian belongs to the race that has pale skin —Caucasian n. [C] cau-cus /'kɔkəs/ n. [C] POLITICS a group of people in a political party, who meet to discuss and decide on political plans caught /kɔt/ v. the past tense and past participle of CATCH caul-dron /'kɔldrən/ n. [C] a large round metal pot for boiling liquids over a fire cau-li-flow-er /'kɔlɪflaʊə, 'kɑ-/ n. [C,U] a white vegetable with short firm stems and thick groups of small round flower-like parts [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Italian cavolfiore, from cavolo “cabbage” + fiore “flower”] → see picture at VEG-ETABLE cau-sa-tion /kəˈzeɪʃən/ n. [U] MATH the relationship between two VARIABLES (=mathematical quantity that is not fixed), in which a change in one produces a change in the other

'cause /kəz/ conjunction (spoken) because cause¹ /kəz/ n. 1 [C] a person, event, or thing that makes something happen: What was the cause of the accident. 2 [C,U] a reason for doing something or having a particular feeling: There is no cause for concern/alarm. 3 [C] a principle or aim that a group of people support or fight for: I don't mind giving money if it's for a good cause. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French, Latin causa]

cause² v. [T] to make something happen, especially something bad: Heavy traffic is causing long delays. | We still don't know what caused the computer to crash.

THESAURUS

make – to cause a particular state or situation to happen: I'm sorry, I didn't mean to make you cry.

be responsible for sth – if you are responsible for something bad, it is your fault that it happened: The jury found him responsible for the deaths of his wife and child.

bring about sth – to make something happen: Working together, the community brought about significant changes in the local area.

result in sth – if an action or event results in something, it makes that thing happen: The fire resulted in the deaths of two children.

lead to sth – if one thing leads to something else, the first thing causes the second thing to happen or exist at a later time: The information led to several arrests.

trigger – if one event triggers another, it makes the second event happen: The incident triggered a wave of violence.

prompt (formal) – to make someone do something as a reaction to an event or situation: The changes prompted several people to resign from the committee in protest.

induce (formal) – to make someone decide to do something: What induced you to spend so much money on a car?

cause and effect n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a way of organizing a piece of written work, in which you describe an event or a situation and explain the reasons why it happened and the effects that it has caus-tic /ˈkɒstɪk/ adj. 1 caustic remark/comment etc. something you say that is extremely unkind or full of criticism 2 CHEMISTRY a caustic substance can burn through things by chemical action

cau-tion¹ /ˈkɔʃən/ n. [U] 1 the quality of doing something carefully, not taking risks, and avoiding danger: The animals should be handled with caution. | Travelers in the area should use extreme caution. 2 word/note of caution a warning to be careful: A word of caution – be sure to make copies of all files.

caution² v. [T] (formal) to warn someone that something might be dangerous or difficult: The children were cautioned against talking to strangers.

cau-tion-ar-y /ˈkɔʃənəri/ adj. giving a warning: a cautionary tale (=a story that is used to warn people)

cau-tious /ˈkɔʃəs/ adj. careful to avoid danger: a cautious driver | He was cautious about making any predictions. —cautiously adv.

cav-a-li-er /ˈkævəˈlɪr/ adj. not caring or thinking enough about other people or how serious a situation might be: drivers with a cavalier attitude toward road safety cav-al-ry /ˈkævəlri/ n. [U] soldiers who fight while riding on horses cave¹ /keɪv/ n. [C] a large natural hole in the side of a cliff or under the ground [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French, Latin cava, from cavus ‘hollow’] cave² v.

cave in phr. v. 1 if the top or sides of something cave in, they fall down or inward: The roof of the old house had caved in. 2 to stop opposing something because you have been persuaded or threatened cave-man /ˈkeɪvmæn/ n. (plural cavemen /-mən/) [C] someone who lived in a cave many thousands of years ago cav-ern /ˈkævən/ n. [C] a large deep cave —cavernous adj.

cav-i-ar /ˈkævi,ər/ n. [U] fish eggs, eaten as a special expensive food cav-i-ty /ˈkævəti/ n. (plural cavities) [C] 1 a hole in a tooth, made by decay: The dentist told me that I have a cavity. 2 a hole or space inside something solid hole, space, gap, leak, crack, opening → HOLE¹ ca-vort /kəˈvɔrt/ v. [I] to jump or dance in an excited or sexual way

THESAURUS

CB n. [C,U] Citizens Band a radio on which people can speak to each other over short distances

CBS n. Columbia Broadcasting System one of the national companies that broadcasts television and radio programs in the U.S.

cc 1 the abbreviation of CUBIC CENTIMETER: a 2,000 cc engine 2 carbon copy used in business letters and emails to show that you are sending a copy to someone else

CD n. [C] 1 compact disc a small circular piece of hard plastic on which music or computer information is recorded → see picture on page A6 2 a CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT

C'D player n. [C] a piece of equipment used for playing music CDs

CD-ROM /ˌsi di 'rɒm/ n. [C,U] IT compact disc read-only memory a CD on which a large amount of computer information is stored

CD-RW n. [C,U] IT compact disc-rewritable a type of CD that you can record music, images, or other information onto, using special equipment on your computer, and that can be recorded onto several times cease /siːs/ [Ac] v. [I,T] (formal) to stop doing something, or to make an activity stop happening: By noon, the rain had ceased. | He never ceases to amaze me (=I am always surprised by what he does). | East Germany ceased to exist in 1990, shortly after the collapse of the Berlin Wall. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French cesser, from Latin cessare “to stop,” from cedere “to give up”] cease-fire /ˌsiːs'faɪə, 'sɪsfaɪə/ n. [C] an agreement for both sides in a war to stop fighting for a period of time cease-less /ˈsiːslɪs/ [Ac] adj. (formal) continuing for a long time without stopping: the ceaseless motion of the waves —ceaselessly adv.

C

ce-dar /ˈsiːdər/ n. [C,U] a tall EVERGREEN tree with leaves shaped like needles, or the red sweet-smelling wood of this tree → see picture on page A10

cede /siːd/ v. [T] (formal) to give land, power, etc. to another country or person ce-dil·la /sɪ'dɪlə/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a mark under the letter “c” in French and some other languages, to show that it is an “s” sound instead of a “k” sound. The letter is written “ç.”

ceil-ing /ˈsiːlɪŋ/ n. [C] 1 the inside surface of the top part of a room → ROOF: an apartment with high ceilings 2 the largest number or amount of something that is officially allowed: They have put a ceiling of $2 million on the project

cel-e-brate /ˈsɛləˌbreɪt/ v. [I,T] to do something special because of a particular event or special occasion: It's our anniversary, and we're going out to dinner to celebrate. | How do you want to celebrate your birthday?

cel-e-brat-ed /ˈsɛləˌbreɪtɪd/ adj. famous or talked about a lot: Chicago is celebrated for its architecture.

THESAURUS famous, well-known, legendary, infamous, notorious, renowned, noted, distinguished, eminent → FAMOUS cel-e-bra-tion /ˌsɛləˌbreɪʃən/ n. 1 [C] an occasion or party when you celebrate something: New Year's celebrations 2 [U] the act of celebrating ce-leb-ri-ty /səˈleɪbrəti/ n. (plural celebrities) [C] a famous person, especially someone in the entertainment business: Hollywood celebrities cel-er-y /ˈsɛləri/ n. [U] a vegetable with long firm pale green stems, often eaten raw [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Italian dialect seleri, from Late Latin selinon “parsley,” from Greek] → see picture at VEGETABLE

ce-les-tial /səˈlestʃəl/ adj. relating to the sky or heaven cel-i-bate /ˈsɛləbɪt/ adj. someone who is celibate does not have sex —celibacy /ˈsɛləbəsi/ n. [U] cell /sɛl/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY the smallest part of any living thing except a VIRUS: red blood cells 2 a small room where prisoners are kept: a jail cell 3 PHYSICS a piece of equipment that produces electricity from chemicals, heat, or light: cars powered by fuel cells 4 a small space that an insect or other small creature has made to live in or use → see picture at HIVE [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French celle, from Latin cella “small room”] cel-lar /ˈsɛlə/ n. [C] a room under a house or other building, often used for storing things

'cell ,body n. [C] BIOLOGY the main part of a nerve cell, which contains the NUCLEUS (=central part) and the parts that keep the cell alive

'cell ,culture n. [C] BIOLOGY a group of cells grown in a special chemical solution from a single original cell

'cell ,cycle n. [C] BIOLOGY a process in which a cell divides and forms two new cells

'cell di ,vision n. [U] BIOLOGY the process by which a cell divides to form two new cells cel-list /ˈtʃɛlɪst/ n. [C] someone who plays the cello

'cell ,membrane n. [C,U] BIOLOGY a thin layer of material that covers a cell, through which substances pass in and out → see picture at CELL

cel-lo /ˈtʃɛlə/ n. (plural cellos) [C] a large wooden musical instrument that you hold between your knees and play by pulling a BOW (=special stick) across the strings

Cel-lo-phane /ˈsɛləˌfeɪn/ n. [U] (trademark) a thin transparent material used for wrapping things

'cell phone also 'cellular ,phone n. [C] a telephone that you carry with you → see picture on page A6

TOPIC

To use a cell phone, you first switch it on. Then you can either call someone or listen to messages that people have left you on your voice mail. You can also send or receive text messages (=written messages) or text someone (=send him/her a text message).

'cell respi,ration also 'cellular respi,ration n. [U] BIOLOGY the process in which a cell changes sugar and other substances into the energy it needs, usually by using oxygen

'cell speciali,zation n. [U] BIOLOGY the fact that different cells in the body have different purposes and are involved in different activities cel-lu-lar /'selyələ/ adj. 1 relating to cellular phones: a cellular network 2 BIOLOGY relating to the cells in a plant or animal

'cellular ,phone n. [C] a CELL PHONE → see picture on page A6

cel-lu-lite /'selyələɪt/ n. [U] fat just below someone's skin that makes it look uneven and unattractive cel-lu-loid /'selyələɔɪd/ n. [U] (trademark) a substance like plastic, used in the past to make film cel-lu-lose /'selyələʊs/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a substance that forms the walls of plant cells

,cell 'wall n. [C] BIOLOGY the stiff outer part of the cells of plants and BACTERIA, which helps to support the growing plants or bacteria

Cel-si-us /'selsiəs, -fəs/ n. [U] PHYSICS (written abbreviation C) a temperature scale in which water freezes at 0° and boils at 100° (SYN) Centigrade → FAHRENHEIT [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Anders Celsius (1701-44), Swedish scientist who invented the scale] ce-ment¹ /sɪ'ment/ n. [U] a gray powder used in building that is mixed with sand and water and allowed to dry and become hard [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French ciment, from Latin caementum "small pieces of stone used in making mortar"] cement² v. [T] 1 to make a relationship, position, etc. stronger: China has cemented its trade connections with the U.S. 2 to cover something with cement cem-e-ter-y /'semə,teri/ n. (plural cemeteries) [C] a place where dead people are buried [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French cimiterie, from Late Latin coimeterium, from Greek koimeterion "sleeping room, burying place"]

Ce-no-zo-ic /,sɪnə'zəʊɪk/ n. the Cenozoic EARTH SCIENCES the period of time in the Earth's history from when the DINOSAURS died out about 65 million years ago until the present day → MESOZOIC, PALEOZOIC, PRECAMBRIAN —Cenozoic adj.: the Cenozoic era cen-sor¹ /'sensə/ v. [T] to examine books, movies, etc. and remove anything that is offensive, politically dangerous, etc. —censorship n. [U] cen-sor² n. [C] someone whose job is to censor books, movies, etc.

cen-sure /'senʃə/ v. [T] (formal) to officially criticize someone —censure n. [U] cen-sus /'sensəs/ n. (plural censuses) [C] an occasion when a government collects information about the number of people in a country, their ages, jobs, etc.: When was the first U.S. census taken?

cent /sent/ n. [C] 1 a unit of money that is worth 1/100 of a dollar. Its sign is ¢. 2 put in/add/say your two cents' worth (informal) to give your opinion about something, when no one has asked to hear it [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French "hundred," from Latin centum] cen-ten-ni-al /sen'teniəl/ also cen-ten-a-ry /sen'tenəri/ n. [C] the day or year exactly 100 years after an important event: This year marked the centennial of the composer's death.

cen-ter¹ /'sentə/ n. [C] 1 the middle part or point of something: We moved the table to the center of the room. | an old hotel in the center of town 2 a building used for a particular purpose: a shopping center | the Kennedy Space Center 3 a place where there is a lot of a particular type of business or activity: a major banking center | Nashville is the center of the country music industry. 4 be at the center of sth to be the main cause of something bad, or have a very important part in it: The senator is at the center of a controversy over political donations. 5 be the center of attention to be the person that everyone is giving attention to 6 the center a political position which does not support extreme views 7 in basketball, the player who usually plays near the basket 8 in football, the player who starts the ball moving in each PLAY center² v. [T] to move something to a position at the center of something else: Is this painting centered?

center on/around sth phr. v. if something centers on a particular thing, that is the most important thing in it or what it mainly concerns: Their whole life centers around their children. | The discussion centered on gun control.

'center field n. [singular] the area in baseball in the center of the OUTFIELD —centerfielder n. [C]

,center of 'gravity n. [singular] the point on an object at which it can balance

cen-ter-piece /'sentə,pis/ n. 1 [singular] the most important, attractive, or noticeable part of something: the centerpiece of Canada's foreign policy 2 [C] a decoration in the middle of a table, usually made of flowers

Cen-ti-grade /'sentə,greɪd/ n. [U] PHYSICS CELSIUS

cen-ti-me-ter /'sentə,mɪtə/ n. [C] (written abbreviation cm) a unit for measuring length, equal to 1/100 of a meter, or 0.39 inches cen-ti-pede /'sentə,pɪd/ n. [C] a very small creature with a long thin body and many legs [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin centipeda, from centi- “hundred” + pes “foot”]

cen-tral /ˈsentrəl/ adj. 1 [only before noun] in the middle of an object or area: Central Asia | the central part of the island 2 [only before noun] having control over the rest of a system, organization, etc.: The computers are linked to a central database. 3 more important than anything else: Owen played a central role in the negotiations. | The environment was central to his election campaign.

THESAURUS basic, fundamental, essential, elementary, underlying → BASIC

4 a place that is central is near the center of a town: I want a hotel that's central. —centrally adv.

central 'air conditioning n. [U] a system for making the air in a building cooler, in which cool air produced in one place is taken to the rest of the building by pipes central 'bank n. [C] ECONOMICS the official bank of a country, which is responsible for controlling the country's MONEY SUPPLY and controlling the country's banking system. A central bank can also lend money to the country's other banks.

central 'heating n. [U] a system of heating buildings, in which heat is produced in one place and taken to the rest of the building by pipes

Central Intelligence Agency n. the CIA

cen-tral-ize /ˈsentrəlaɪz/ v. [T] POLITICS to control a country, organization, or system from one place central 'nervous system n. [C] BIOLOGY the main part of the NERVOUS SYSTEM, consisting of your brain and your SPINAL CORD central 'processing unit n. [C] IT a CPU

cen-tri-fu-gal /ˈsentrɪfʊgəl, -ˈtrɪfə-/ adj. PHYSICS moving away from the center (ANT) centripetal: centrifugal movement

cen,tri-fu-gal 'force n. [C,U] PHYSICS a force that makes things move away from the center of something when they are moving or turning quickly around it [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 Modern Latin centrifugus, from centr- “center” + Latin fugere “to run away”]

cen-trip-e-tal /ˈsentrɪpətəl/ adj. PHYSICS moving toward the center (ANT) centrifugal: centripetal acceleration

cen,tripetal 'force n. [C,U] PHYSICS a force that makes things move toward the center of something when they are moving or turning quickly around it [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 Modern Latin centripetus, from centr- “center” + Latin petere “to go to, try to find”]

cen-tu-ry /ˈsentʃəri/ n. (plural centuries) [C] 1 one of the 100-year periods measured from before or after the year of Christ's birth: the 6th/11th/21st etc. century | My grandparents moved

west at the turn of the century (=at the beginning of the century). 2 a period of 100 years

CEO n. [C] Chief Executive Officer the person with the most authority in a large company ce-ram-ics /səˈræmɪks/ n. [plural, U] ENG. LANG. ARTS pots, plates, etc. made from clay, or the art of making them —ceramic adj.

THESAURUS art, painting, drawing, photography, sculpture, pottery → ART

ce-re-al /ˈsɪriəl/ n. 1 [C,U] breakfast food made from grain and usually eaten with milk: a bowl of cereal 2 [C] a plant grown to produce grain for foods, such as wheat, rice, etc. [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 French céréale, from Latin cerealis “of Ceres,” from Ceres ancient Roman goddess of grain and farming] cer-e-bel-lum /sərəˈbɛləm/ n. (plural cerebellums or cerebella /-lə/) [C] BIOLOGY the bottom part of your brain that controls your muscles → see picture at BRAIN¹

cerebra /səˈrɪbrə/ n. a plural form of CEREBRUM

ce-re-bral /səˈrɪbrəl, 'sɛrə-/ adj. BIOLOGY relating to the brain [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 French cérébral, from Latin cerebrum “brain”] ce,reb-al 'cortex n. [C] BIOLOGY the outer layer of the front part of your brain, where you think and receive information from your eyes, ears, etc.

ce,reb-al 'palsy n. [U] BIOLOGY a medical condition that affects someone's ability to move or speak, caused by damage to the brain at birth cer-e-brum /səˈrɪbrəm/ n. (plural cerebra /-brə/ or cerebrums) [C] BIOLOGY the front, larger part of the brain, where thoughts and decisions happen, and that also controls movements of the body → see picture at BRAIN¹

cer-e-mo-ni-al /ˌsɛrəˈmoʊniəl/ adj. used in a ceremony, or done as part of a ceremony: Native American ceremonial pipes

cer-e-mo-ny /ˈsɛrəˈmoʊni/ n. (plural ceremonies) 1 [C] a formal event that happens in public on special occasions: a wedding ceremony | a graduation ceremony | The treaty was signed during a ceremony at the White House. 2 [U] the formal actions and words always used on particular occasions: With great ceremony, the Mayor opened the new concert hall. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French cerymonie, from Latin caerimonia]

cer-tain /ˈsɛtʃn/ adj. 1 completely sure: I'm not certain (that) he's telling me the truth. | She was absolutely certain he was the killer. | No one was certain what to expect. | Are you certain about that?

THESAURUS sure, convinced, confident, satisfied, positive → SURE¹

2 sure to happen or be true: It's almost certain that the enemy will attack from the north. | It seems certain that the case will not end for months. | He's certain to be offered the job. | The poison causes certain death. 3 [only before noun] a certain thing, person, idea, etc. is a particular thing, person, etc. that you are not naming or describing exactly: The plant grows in certain conditions. | There are certain things I just can't talk about with her. 4 make certain (that) a to check that something is correct or true: We need to make certain that it's going to fit first. b to do something in order to be sure something will happen: Employers are required to make certain that all employees are treated fairly. 5 a certain a) some, but not a lot: I had to spend a certain amount of time practicing, but it wasn't hard. | I agree with you to a certain extent (=partly, but not completely). b) difficult to describe exactly: The restaurant has a certain charm. 6 for certain without any doubt: I can't say for certain when her plane will arrive. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French, Vulgar Latin certanus, from Latin certus "decided, certain"] cer-tain-ly /sə'tɪnli/ adv. without any doubt [SYN] definitely: Diana certainly spends a lot of money on clothes. | His lawyers will almost certainly appeal. | "Can I borrow your notes?" "Certainly" (=yes, of course)."

cer-tain-ty /sə'tɪnti/ n. (plural certain-ties) 1 [U] the state of being completely sure about something: We cannot say with complete certainty whether your father will be all right. 2 [C] something that is definitely true or will definitely happen: Winning the championship is almost a certainty.

cer-ti-fi-a-ble /sə'tɪfə'əbəl/ adj. (informal) crazy cer-tif-i-cate /sə'tɪfəkɪt/ n. [C] an official document that states the facts about something or someone: a birth/marriage/death certificate (=giving details of someone's birth, etc.) [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French certificat, from Late Latin, past participle of certificare, from Latin certus "decided, certain"] → GIFT CERTIFICATE cer,tificate of de'posit n. [C] ECONOMICS a bank account that you must leave a particular amount of money in for a particular amount of time in order to get INTEREST

cer-ti-fi-ca-tion /sə'tɪfə'keɪʃən/ n. [C,U] an official document that says that someone is allowed to do a certain job, that something is of good quality, etc., or the process of doing this certified 'check n. [C] ECONOMICS a check that you get from a bank for a particular amount of money that the bank promises to pay certified 'mail n. [U] a method of sending mail, in which a written record is kept of when it is sent and when it is received certified public ac'countant n. [C] a CPA cer-ti-fy /sə'tɪfaɪ/ v. (certified, certifies) [T] 1 to officially state that something is correct or true: Two doctors certified that the patient was dead. 2 to give someone an official document that states that s/he has completed a course of training: He has been certified as a mechanic. | a certified nurse cer-vix /sə'vɪks/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the narrow opening into a woman's UTERUS [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin "neck"] —cervical /sə'vɪkəl/ adj.

ce-sar-e-an /sɪ'zəriən/ also ce,sarean 'sec-tion n. [C] an operation in which a woman's body is cut open to take a baby out [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Julius Caesar (100–44 B.C.), Roman soldier and political leader, who is said to have been born in this way]

ce-si-um /'sɪziəm/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Cs) a very soft silver-gold metal that is an ELEMENT

ces-sa-tion /se'seɪʃən/ n. [C] (formal) a pause or stop: the cessation of nuclear tests

cess-pool /'sespʊl/ n. [C] a large hole or container under the ground for collecting waste water from a building

CFC n. [C] SCIENCE chlorofluorocarbon a gas used in AEROSOLS and REFRIGERATORS which causes damage to the OZONE LAYER

CGI n. [U] IT computer-generated imagery the use of computers to produce artificial images and sounds in movies and television programs → SPECIAL EFFECTS chafe /tʃeɪf/ v. [I,T] if a part of your body chafes, or if something chafes it, your skin becomes sore because something is rubbing against it cha-grin /ʃə'grɪn/ n. [U] (formal) a feeling of being disappointed and annoyed: To the surfers' chagrin, the beach was closed.

chain¹ /tʃeɪn/ n. 1 [C,U] a series of metal rings connected together: a delicate gold chain | a bicycle chain (=that makes the wheels turn) → see picture at BICYCLE¹ 2 [C] a group of stores, hotels, etc. that is owned by the same person or company: a chain of restaurants | a hotel chain 3 chain of events a series of related events or actions: the chain of events that caused World War I 4 [C] a series of similar things in a line: a mountain chain | a chain of islands 5 in chains prisoners in chains have heavy chains fastened around their legs or arms, to prevent them from escaping [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French chaeine, from Latin catena]

chain² v. [T] to use a chain to fasten one thing or person to another: a bicycle chained to a fence

'chain letter n. [C] a letter that is sent to several people, who send copies to more people chain of com'mand n. [C] a system in an organization by which decisions are made and passed from people at the top of the organization to people lower down chain re'action n. [C] a series of related events or chemical changes that happen quickly, with each one causing the next chain-saw /'tʃeɪnsɔ/ n. [C] a tool used for cutting wood, consisting of a circular chain with sharp edges, that is moved by a motor 'chain-smoke v. [I,T] to smoke cigarettes one after the other —chain-smoker n. [C]

'chain store n. [C] one of a group of stores owned by the same company chair¹ /tʃeɪ/ n. 1 [C] a piece of furniture for one person to sit on: He sat in a chair next to the fireplace. → see picture at SEAT¹ 2 [C] someone who is in charge of a meeting, a committee, or a university department: She was named chair of the Public Safety Committee. 3 the chair the position of being in charge of a meeting or committee [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French chaiere, from Latin cathedra, from Greek, from kata- + hedra “seat”] chair² v. [T] to be the person in charge of a meeting or committee chair-man /tʃɛrmən/ n. (plural chairmen /-mənz/) [C] 1 someone, especially a man, who is in charge of a meeting or committee 2 someone, especially a man, who is in charge of a large company or organization

USAGE

Chairman can be used for both men and women, though some women prefer to be called a chairwoman. Many people prefer to use chairperson, especially if the sex of the person is not known.

—chairmanship n. [U]

chair-per-son /tʃɛr,pəʊsən/ n. (plural chairpersons) [C] someone who is in charge of a meeting or directs the work of a committee or organization chair-wom-an /tʃɛr,wʊmən/ n. (plural chairwomen /-wɪmɪn/) [C] a woman who is a chairperson cha-let /ʃæ'leɪ, 'ʃælɪ/ n. [C] a wooden house, especially one in a mountain area chalk¹ /tʃɔk/ n. 1 [U] EARTH SCIENCES soft white rock 2 [C,U] small sticks of this substance, used for writing or drawing: a piece of chalk [ORIGIN: Old English cealc, from Latin calx, from Greek chalix “small stone”] chalk² v.

chalk sth ↔ up phr. v. (informal) to succeed in winning or getting something: Boston chalked up another win over Detroit last night.

chalk-board /tʃɔkbɔrd/ n. [C] a BLACKBOARD chalk-y /tʃɔki/ adj. similar to chalk or containing chalk

chal-lenge¹ /tʃæləndʒ/ [Ac] n. 1 [C,U] something that tests your skill or ability, especially in a way that is interesting: the challenge of a new job | Together we can meet (=deal with) this challenge. | The firm faces several challenges if it is to improve sales. | The trial will pose a (=be a) difficult challenge for the defense. | Hopefully, the students are looking forward to the intellectual challenge. 2 [C] the act of questioning whether something is right, fair, or legal: If I make any decisions myself, my boss thinks it's a direct challenge to her authority. 3 [C] an invitation from someone to try to beat him/her in a fight, game, argument, etc.: The mayor has accepted the challenge for a debate.

challenge² [Ac] v. [T] 1 to question whether something is right, fair, or legal: They plan to challenge the court's decision. 2 to invite someone to compete or fight against you: They challenged us to a game of tennis. 3 to test the skills or abilities of someone or something: A good teacher challenges his or her students, often so that they achieve more than they think they can. —challenger n. [C] chal-lenged /tʃæləndʒd/ [Ac] adj. visually/mentally/physically challenged an expression for describing someone who has difficulty doing things because s/he is blind, etc., used in order to be polite chal-leng-ing /tʃæləndʒɪŋ/ [Ac] adj. difficult in an interesting way: a challenging new job

THESAURUS difficult, hard, tough, awkward, demanding, arduous, complicated, complex → DIFFICULT

cham-ber /tʃeɪmbə/ n. 1 [C] a room used for a special purpose: a gas/torture chamber (=used for killing people by gas or for hurting them) | the council chamber in the Town Hall 2 [C] an enclosed space inside something, such as your body or a machine: a gun with six chambers | the four chambers of the heart 3 [C] POLITICS one of the two parts of a PARLIAMENT or LEGISLATURE (=institutions that have the power to make or change laws): the upper/lower chamber of parliament 4 chambers [plural] the offices used by judges [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French chambre, from Late Latin camera, from Latin, “curved roof,” from Greek kamara]

cham-ber-maid /tʃeɪmbə,meɪd/ n. [C] a woman whose job is to clean hotel BEDROOMS

'chamber music n. [U] CLASSICAL MUSIC performed by a small group of musicians

'Chamber of 'Commerce n. an organization of business people in a town or city, whose aim is to encourage business cha-me-leon /kə'mɪliən, -liən/ n. [C] a small LIZARD (=type of animal) that can make its skin the color of the things around it cham-o-mile, camomile /'kæməˌmil, -,maɪl/ n. [C,U] a plant with small white and yellow flowers, often used for making tea champ /tʃæmp/ n. [C] (informal) a CHAMPION

cham-pagne /ʃæmˈpeɪn/ n. [U] a French white wine with a lot of BUBBLES, often drunk on special occasions [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French Cham-pagne area of northeastern France]

cham-pi-on /tʃæmpiən/ n. [C] 1 a person, team, etc. that has won a competition, especially in sports: the world heavyweight boxing champion | the defending/reigning national soccer champions (=the champions right now) 2 champion of sb/sth someone who fights for and defends an aim or idea: a champion of civil rights champion² v. [T] to publicly fight for and defend an aim or idea: She consistently championed the cause of working mothers.

cham-pi-on-ship /tʃæmpiənˌʃɪp/ n. 1 [C] also championships [plural] a competition to find the best player or team in a particular sport: the women's figure skating championships

THESAURUS competition, tournament, contest, playoff → COMPETITION

2 [singular] the position or period of being a champion: Can she win the championship again?

chance¹ /tʃæns/ n. 1 [C] an opportunity to do something that you want to do: Now I'll have/get a chance to find out what her boyfriend looks like. | If you'll just give me a chance, I'll tell you what happened. | You should take the chance (=use the opportunity) to travel while you're young. | He deserves a second chance (=another chance). | Friday is our last chance to see the show. 2 [C,U] a possibility that something will happen: What are Deirdre's chances of getting the job? | Davis has no chance of playing on Sunday. | There's a chance (that) she left her keys in the office. | Chances are (=it is likely) they're stuck in traffic. 3 by any chance (spoken) used in order to ask politely whether something is true or possible: Are you Ms. Murphy's daughter, by any chance? 4 fat chance/not a chance/no chance (spoken) used in order to emphasize that you do not think something will happen: "Do you think Mark would let me borrow his car?" "Not a chance!" 5 take a chance to do something that involves risk: The team took a chance on a young coach with no experience. | I'm not taking any chances. 6 [U] the way things happen without being planned or caused: We met by chance at a friend's party. | He supervises every detail of the business and leaves nothing to chance. → stand a chance (of doing sth) at STAND¹

chance² v. [T] (informal) to do something that involves a risk: The bus might get me there on time, but I don't want to chance it.

chance³ adj. not planned or expected: a chance encounter/meeting chan-cel-lor /tʃænsələr/ n. [C] 1 the person in charge of some universities 2 POLITICS the leader of the government in some countries [ORIGIN: 1000—1100 Old French chancelier, from Late Latin cancellarius "doorkeeper, secretary"] chanc-y /tʃænsi/ adj. (informal) uncertain or involving risks: The weather there can be chancy in the spring.

chan-de-lier /ʃændəˈliər/ n. [C] a frame that holds lights or CANDLES, hangs from the ceiling, and is decorated with small pieces of glass

change¹ /tʃeɪndʒ/ v. 1 [I,T] to become different, or to make someone or something become different: Ed changed after Ricky died. | There are plans to change the voting system. | In the fall, its leaves change from green to gold. | The rain on the roads had changed to ice during the night.

THESAURUS

alter – to change something, or to make something change: Can we alter the date of the meeting?

adapt/adjust/modify – to change something slightly: The group is pressuring Congress to modify the plan. | His doctor has adjusted the dosage of his medication.

revise/amend – to change something because of new information or ideas: The rules of volleyball were revised to give the game a faster pace. | The act was amended to protect wildlife.

reform/reorganize/restructure – to change a system or organization: plans to reform the welfare system | The company has been restructured from top to bottom.

transform/revolutionize – to change something completely: They've completely transformed the downtown area. | The discovery of penicillin revolutionized medicine.

twist/distort/misrepresent – to deliberately change facts, information, someone's words, etc. in a way that is not completely true or correct: He accused reporters of twisting his words.

2 [I,T] to stop doing or using one thing, and start doing or using something else: I'm thinking about changing jobs. | The company has changed its name to Cortlandt Capital. | I think we'd better change the subject (=talk about something else). 3 change your mind to change your decision or opinion about something: I've changed my mind about selling the house. 4 [I,T] to take off your clothes and put on different ones: I went upstairs to change my shirt. | Go upstairs and change into your play clothes. | Eric went to get changed. 5 [T] to put something new or different in place of something else: We had to get out and change the tire. | She cleaned the room and changed the sheets (=put clean sheets on the bed). | Do you mind changing the baby (=putting a clean DIAPER on the baby)? 6 [T] if you change money, you give it to someone and s/he gives it back to you in smaller amounts, or in money from a different country: Can you change a $10 bill? | I want to change my dollars into pesos. 7 [I,T] to get out of one train, bus, or aircraft and into another in order to continue your trip: We had to change planes in Chicago. 8 change hands to become someone else's property: The house has changed hands twice in the last ten years. [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French changier, from Latin cambiare “to exchange”] change sth ↔ around phr. v. to move things into different positions: The room looks bigger since we changed the furniture around.

C

change over phr. v. to stop doing or using one thing and start doing or using something different: We're changing over to the new software next month.

change² n. 1 [C,U] the process or result of something or someone becoming different: Many people find it hard to accept change. | a change in diet | a change of temperature | Grandpa's health has taken a change for the worse (=become worse). 2 [C] an action or event that involves replacing one thing with another: The car needs an oil change. | a change of leadership | the change from communism to democracy 3 [singular] something that is interesting or enjoyable because it is different from what is usual: Why don't we go out for a change? | I need a change. 4 [U] a) the money you get back when you pay more money than something costs: Here's your change, ma'am. b) money in the form of coins: I have about a dollar in change. c) coins or paper money that add up to the same value as a larger unit of money: Do you have change for a dollar?

THESAURUS money, bill, coin, penny, nickel, dime, quarter, cash, currency → MONEY

5 change of clothes/underwear etc. another set of clothes that you can use if necessary: Bring a change of clothes just in case.

change-a-ble /'tʃeɪndʒəbəl/ adj. likely to change, or changing often: Kids' tastes are very changeable.

change-o-ver /'tʃeɪndʒ,ʊvə/ n. [C] a change from one activity or system to another: the changeover from military to civilian rule chan-nel¹ /'tʃænəl/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 a television station: What's on channel 2? | Do you mind if I change the channel? 2 [usually plural] a way of sending or obtaining information, ideas, etc.: You'll have to go through official channels for help. | It is important that the U.S. opens channels of communication with the North Korean government. 3 a long passage dug into the earth that water or other liquids flow along: Farmers dug a series of channels to allow water from the river to flow across the land. 4 a) EARTH SCIENCES water that connects two larger areas of water: the English Channel b) EARTH SCIENCES the deepest part of a river, ocean, etc. that ships can sail through 5 channel surf (informal) to change quickly from one television channel to another many times [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French chanel, from Latin canalis “pipe, channel”] channel² v. [T] to direct something toward a particular purpose, place, or situation: Cody needs to channel his creativity into something useful. | Profits are channeled to conservation groups.

chant¹ /tʃænt/ v. [I,T] 1 to repeat a word or phrase many times: Crowds of protesters chanted “Give peace a chance!” 2 to sing a religious song or prayer using only one or two notes chant² n. [C] 1 words or phrases that are repeated many times: The crowd responded with chants of “Resign! Resign!” 2 a religious song or prayer that is sung using only one or two notes

Cha-nu-kah /'hənəkə/ n. another spelling of HANUKKAH

cha-os /'keɪəs/ n. [U] a situation in which everything is confused and nothing is happening in an organized way: After the earthquake, the city was in chaos. | There was total chaos on the roads. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin, Greek] cha-ot-ic /keɪ'ɑːtɪk/ adj. confused and without any order: a chaotic scene at the site of the accident

chap-ar-ral /ˌʃæpə'reɪl/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES land on which many bushes and small trees, especially OAKS, grow closely together, in areas such as California where there are hot dry summers chap-el /'tʃæpəl/ n. [C] a small church or a room where Christians have religious services [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French chapele, from Medieval Latin cappella, from Late Latin cappa “cloak;” because the cloak of St. Martin of Tours was kept in such a building] chap-e-rone¹ /'ʃæpə,roʊn/ n. [C] an older person who is responsible for young people on social occasions chaperone² v. [T] to go somewhere with someone as a chaperone chap-lain /'tʃæplɪn/ n. [C] a minister who works for the army, a hospital, a university, etc.

chapped /tʃæpt/ adj. chapped lips or hands are sore, dry, and cracked chap-ter /'tʃæptə/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 one of the parts into which a book is divided: Chapter 6 | For homework, read the first two chapters of the book. | This detailed study contains chapters on each geographic region. → PART¹ 2 a particular period in someone's life or in history: a sad chapter in our country's history | one of the most shameful chapters of French history 3 the local members of a large organization or club: the local chapter of the Sierra Club [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French chapitre, from Late Latin capitulum, from Latin caput “head”] char-ac-ter /'kærɪktə/ n. 1 [C,U] the qualities that make a person, place, or thing different from any other: There's a very serious side to her character. | All these new buildings have really changed the character of this town. | *He swore, which was completely out of character (=not typical of the way he usually behaves). 2 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a person in a book, play, movie, etc.: I don't like the main character in the book. 3 [U] qualities that make someone or something special or interesting: *an old house with a lot of character 4 [U] good qualities such as courage, loyalty, and honesty that people admire: *a woman of great moral character 5 [C] a particular kind of person: Dan's a strange character. 6 [C] an unusual and humorous person: Charlie's such a character! 7 [C] a letter, mark, or sign used in writing, printing, or on a computer: *Chinese characters [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French caractere, from Latin character “mark, particular quality”]

char-ac-ter-is-tic¹ /ˌkærɪktəˈrɪstɪk/ n. [C] a special quality or feature that someone or something has, and that makes that person or thing different from others: Each wine has particular characteristics. | the characteristics of a good manager

THESAURUS

quality – something that someone has as part of his/her character, especially something good: Tina has a lot of good qualities.

trait – a particular quality in someone's character: The personality test reveals traits such as shyness or risk-taking.

attribute – a good or useful quality: What attributes should a good manager possess?

feature – an important, interesting, or typical part of something: An important feature of Van Gogh's paintings is their bright color.

property – a natural quality of something: *an herb with healing properties aspect – one part of a situation, activity, etc. that has many parts: She enjoys most aspects of her job.

characteristic² adj. typical of a particular thing or person: The vase is characteristic of 16th-century Chinese art. | Mark, with characteristic kindness, offered to help. —characteristically adv.

char-ac-ter-ize /ˌkærɪktəˈraɪz/ v. [T] 1 to be typical of someone or something: Alzheimer's disease is characterized by memory loss. 2 to describe the character of someone or something in a particular way: His book characterizes Eisenhower as a natural leader.

THESAURUS

call, describe, label, brand, portray → CALL¹

—characterization /ˌkærɪktəˈreɪʒən/ n. [C,U] cha-rade /ˈʃəreɪd/ n. 1 [C] a situation in which people pretend to think, feel, etc. something, although they clearly do not: Their happy marriage is just a charade. 2 charades [U] a game in which one person uses actions and no words to show the meaning of a word or phrase, and other people have to guess what it is char-coal /ˈtʃɑrkəʊl/ n. [U] a black substance made of burned wood, used as FUEL or for drawing charge¹ /tʃɑrdʒ/ n.

1 MONEY [C,U] the amount of money you have to pay for something: an admission charge of $5 | There's a $70 charge for every extra piece of luggage. | *We deliver free of charge (=at no cost).

THESAURUS

cost, expense, price, fee, fare, rent, rate → COST¹

2 CONTROL [U] the position of having control over or responsibility for something or someone: Who is in charge of the department? | Diane took charge of the business when her husband died.

3 CRIME [C] LAW a statement that says that someone has done something illegal or bad: He's in court on charges of murder. | He denied charges that he used illegal drugs. | The charge against her was shoplifting. | *They decided not to bring/press charges (=to officially say that they think someone is guilty of a crime). | *The police agreed to drop the charges (=decided to stop making charges) against him.

THESAURUS

accusation, allegation, indictment, complaint → ACCUSATION

4 ELECTRICITY [U] PHYSICS electricity that is put into a piece of electrical equipment such as a BATTERY

5 ATTACK [C] an attack in which people or animals move forward quickly

6 ENERGY [U] PHYSICS the electrical energy contained in all MATTER (=the material that everything in the universe is made of), which exists in a positive and negative form [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French chargier, from Late Latin carricare, from Latin carrus]

charge² v. 1 a) [I,T] to ask for a particular amount of money for something you are selling: How much do you charge for your eggs? | They charged me $2 for a candy bar. b) [T] to record the cost of something that someone buys or uses, so that s/he can pay for it later: Charge the room to my account.* | “Would you like to pay cash?” “No, I'll charge it” (=pay with a CREDIT CARD). 2 [T] to state officially that someone might be guilty of a crime: Ron's been charged with assault.

THESAURUS

accuse, allege, indict → ACCUSE

3 [I,T] if a BATTERY charges, or if you charge it, it takes in and stores electricity 4 [I,T] to move quickly forward, especially in a threatening way: The bear charged toward her at full speed.

THESAURUS

rush, race, dash, hurry, speed, hasten → RUSH¹ charge card n. [C] a CREDIT CARD that you can use in a particular store char-i-ot /ˈtʃəriət/ n. [C] a vehicle with two wheels pulled by a horse, used in ancient times in battles and races cha-ris-ma /kəˈrɪzmə/ n. [U] the natural ability to attract other people and make them admire you: He has a lot of charisma. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Greek “favor, gift,” from charizesthai “to favor”] —charismatic /ˌkærɪzˈmætɪk/ adj.

char-i-ta-ble /ˈtʃærətbəl/ adj. 1 relating to charities and their work: The money went to a charitable group. 2 kind, generous, and sympathetic —charitably adv.

char-i-ty /ˈtʃærəti/ n. (plural charities) 1 [C] an organization that gives money, goods, or help to people who need it: Several charities sent aid to the flood victims. | a charity event 2 [U] charity organizations in general: He's donated over $200,000 to charity. | The auction raised more than $75,000 for charity. 3 [U] money or gifts given to people who need help: She's too proud to accept charity. 4 [U] (formal) kindness or sympathy that you show toward other people [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French charité, from Late Latin caritas “Christian love”] char-la-tan /ˈʃarlətən/ n. [C] (disapproving) someone who pretends to have special skills or knowledge charm¹ /tʃarm/ n. 1 [C,U] the special quality someone or something has that makes people like him, her, or it: Lee's boyish charm | This town has a charm you couldn't find in a big city. 2 [C] something you wear, have, etc. because you believe it brings you good luck: a lucky charm [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French charme, from Latin carmen “song,” from canere “to sing”]

charm² v. [T] to attract or please someone: Grant has been charming audiences for years. —charmer n. [C] charmed /tʃarmd/ adj. lead/live/have a charmed life to be lucky all the time, especially by succeeding in avoiding danger, injury, etc.

charm-ing /ˈtʃarmɪŋ/ adj. very pleasing or attractive: What a charming house! —charmingly adv.

charred /tʃard/ adj. something that is charred is so burned that it has become black chart¹ /tʃart/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 a drawing, set of numbers, GRAPH, etc. that shows information: medical charts | The chart shows last year's sales. | Students should present the results of their experiment in the form of a chart. 2 the charts [plural] the official list of the most popular songs and records, produced each week: Her new album went to the top of the charts. 3 a map, especially of the ocean or stars: navigation charts [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French charte, from Latin charta “piece of papyrus, document,” from Greek chartēs]

chart² v. [T] 1 to record information about something over a period of time: Scientists have been charting temperature changes in the oceans. | a book that charts the history of the city | Each case of the disease was charted on a graph. 2 to make a plan of what should be done in order to achieve something: She needs to chart a course for her future. 3 to make a map of an area: The survey team began charting the hills and ravines in the area.

char-ter¹ /ˈtʃartə/ n. 1 [C] a written statement of the principles, duties, and purposes of an organization: the UN charter 2 [C,U] the practice of renting a boat, aircraft, etc. from a company, usually for a short time, or the boat, etc. that is used in this way: a charter service | fishing boats for charter charter² v. [T] to rent a boat, aircraft, etc. from a company: We'll have to charter a bus.

'charter flight n. [C] an airplane trip that is arranged for a particular group or for a particular purpose

'charter 'member n. [C] an original member of a club or organization

'charter ,school n. [C] a school that is run by parents, companies, etc. rather than by the public school system, but which the state government provides money for

chase¹ /tʃeɪs/ v. 1 [I,T] to quickly follow someone or something in order to catch him, her, or it: Cops chased the mugger down the street. | a cat chasing after a mouse

THESAURUS follow, pursue, run after, tail, track, stalk → FOLLOW

2 [T] to make someone or something leave a place by running after them: There was a raccoon in the yard, but the dog chased it away. 3 [I,T] to try very hard to get something: reporters chasing after a story

chase² n. [C] an act of following someone or something quickly to catch him, her, or it: a car chase | Police spotted the speeding car and gave chase (=chased it).

chasm /'kæzəm/ n. 1 [singular] a big difference between ideas or groups of people: the chasm between rich and poor 2 [C] a very deep space between two areas of rock or ice

chas-sis /'tʃæsi, 'ʃæ-/ n. (plural chassis /-siz/) [C] the frame on which the body, engine, etc. of a vehicle are built chaste /tʃeɪst/ adj. (old-fashioned) not having sex, or not showing sexual feelings

chas-ten /'tʃeɪsən/ v. [T] (formal) to make someone realize that his/her behavior is wrong

chas-tise /tʃæ'staɪz, 'tʃæstaɪz/ v. [T] (formal) to criticize or punish someone

chas-ti-ty /'tʃæstəti/ n. [U] the principle or state of not having sex with anyone except your husband or wife chat¹ /tʃæt/ v. (chatted, chatting) [I] to talk in a friendly and informal way, especially about unimportant things: We were chatting about the weather.

chat² n. [C,U] a friendly informal conversation: I had a long chat with Rick.

cha-teau /ʃæ'təʊ/ n. (plural chateaux /-təʊz/ or chateaus) [C] a castle or large country house in France

'chat room n. [C] a place on the Internet where you can have a conversation with people by writing messages to them and immediately receiving their reply → INTERNET chat-ter /'tʃætə/ v. [I] 1 to talk a lot in a quick and friendly way about unimportant things 2 if your teeth chatter, they knock together because you are cold or afraid —chatter n. [U] chat-ty /'tʃæti/ adj. (informal) 1 liking to talk a lot in a friendly way 2 having a friendly informal style: a chatty letter

chauf-feur /'ʃəʊfə, ʃəʊ'fə/ n. [C] someone whose job is to drive a car for someone else [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 French “person attending to the fire of a steam-driven vehicle, driver,” from chauffer “to heat”] —chauffeur v. [T]: I spent all day chauffeuring my kids everywhere.

chau-vin-ist /'ʃəʊvənɪst/ n. [C] (disapproving) 1 a man who thinks that men are better than women: He's a male chauvinist pig. 2 someone who believes that his/her country or race is better than any other —chauvinism n. [U] —chauvinistic /'ʃəʊvənɪstɪk/ adj.

cheap¹ /tʃi:p/ adj. 1 not expensive, or lower in price than you expected (ANT) expensive: Back then, gas was really cheap. | I bought the cheapest computer I could find. | Their jeans are dirt cheap (=very low in price)!

THESAURUS

If something is inexpensive, it is not expensive and is usually of good quality: an inexpensive coat
If something is reasonable, it is not too expensive and seems fair: The restaurant serves good food at reasonable prices.
If something is a good/great/excellent deal or good/great/excellent value, it is worth the price you pay for it: At $3, it's a good deal. | The hotel offers great value for your money.

If you think that something is worth more money than you paid for it, you can say that it is a bargain: You can get some real bargains at the market. | bargain prices

If a price or product is competitive, it is slightly cheaper than other similar things, but is still good quality: goods for your home at competitive prices
→ EXPENSIVE

2 (disapproving) low in price and quality: cheap wine 3 (disapproving) not liking to spend money: He's so cheap we didn't even go out on my birthday. 4 cheap shot an unkind and unfair criticism [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 good cheap “at a good price, cheaply,” from cheap “trade, price” (11–18 centuries), from Old English ceap] —cheaply adv. —cheapness n. [U]

cheap² adv. at a low price: I was lucky to get it so cheap. | Cars like that don't come cheap (=are expensive).

cheap-en /'tʃi:pən/ v. 1 [T] to make someone or something seem to have or deserve to have less respect: As an actress, I'd be cheapening myself by doing TV commercials. 2 [I,T] to become lower in price or value, or to make something do this: The dollar's rise in value has cheapened imports.

cheap-skate /'tʃi:p,sket/ n. [C] (informal, disapproving) someone who does not like spending money

cheat¹ /tʃi:t/ v. 1 [I] to behave in a dishonest way in order to win or get an advantage: He always cheats at cards. | She was caught cheating on the history test. 2 [T] to trick or deceive someone: The salesman cheated me out of $100. | The band's 30-minute show left fans feeling cheated (=feeling that they had been treated unfairly). —cheating n. [U] cheat on sb phr. v. to be unfaithful to your husband, wife, or sexual partner by secretly having sex with someone else: I think Dan's cheating on Debbie again.

cheat² also cheat-er /'tʃi:tə/ n. [C] someone who cheats check¹ /tʃek/ v. 1 [I,T] to look at or test something carefully in order to be sure that it is correct, in good condition, safe, etc.: “Did Barry lock the back door?” “I don't know — I'll check.” | I need to check the mailbox; I'm expecting a letter. | It's a good idea to check for ticks after being out in the woods. | Make sure you double-check (=check twice) the spellings of these names. 2 [I] to ask someone about something: Check with Dave to see if you can leave early. | Can you check whether we're still having a meeting? | We'd better check that he received your message. 3 [T] to leave your bags, coat, etc. in a special place where they can be kept safe or put on an airplane, bus, etc., or to take someone's bags in order to do this: Can I check that bag for you, sir? 4 [T] to suddenly stop yourself from saying or doing something: I had to check the urge to laugh out loud. 5 [T] to stop something bad from getting worse: The treatment checks the spread of the cancer.

check in phr. v. to go to the desk at a hotel, airport, etc. to say that you have arrived: Please check in at gate number 5.

check sth ↔ off phr. v. to put a mark (✓) next to something on a list to show that you have dealt with it: Check their names off the list as they arrive.

check on sb/sth phr. v. to make sure that someone or something is all right or is doing what he, she, or it is supposed to be doing: I have to go check on the roast.

check out phr. v. 1 a) check sth ↔ out to make sure that something is actually true, correct, or acceptable: The police checked out his story with the other suspects. | “He said I could probably get a scholarship.” “You should check it out—that would be great.” b) if something checks out, it is proven to be true, correct, or acceptable: If your references check out, you can start the job on Monday. 2 check sb/sth ↔ out (spoken) to look at someone or something because he, she, or it is interesting or attractive: Hey, check out that car! 3 to pay the bill and leave a hotel: You must check out before 12 o’clock. 4 check sth ↔ out to borrow a book from a library: You can only check out five books at a time.

check sth ↔ over phr. v. 1 to look closely at something to make sure it is correct or acceptable: Can you check over my paper for spelling mistakes? 2 to examine someone to make sure s/he is healthy: The doctor checked her over and couldn’t find anything wrong.

check up on sb/sth phr. v. to try to find out if someone is doing what s/he is supposed to be doing: She was calling every ten minutes to check up on me.

check² n.

1 MONEY [C] one of a set of printed pieces of paper that you can sign and use to pay for things: a check for $50 | Can I pay by check? | I wrote her a check for $300. | Did you cash the check (=get cash in exchange for the check)?

2 EXAMINATION [C] a careful look at or test of something, to see if it is safe, correct, in good condition, etc.: a security check | The building inspector must first do a safety check. | I want a check on the quality of all goods leaving the factory. | I want you to do/run a check on (=find out information about) this blood sample.

3 CONTROL [C usually singular] something that controls something else and stops it from increasing: The policy should act as a check on inflation. | We’ve kept/held the disease in check (=kept it under control) for over a year now.

4 BILL [C] a list you are given in a restaurant showing what you have eaten and how much you must pay: Can I have the check, please?

COLLOCATIONS

If you have eaten in a restaurant and are ready to pay, you ask for the check.

If someone who eats with other people pays for the whole meal, they pick up the check.

If people share the cost of the meal between them, they split the check. → RESTAURANT

THESAURUS

bill, invoice, tab → BILL¹

5 MARK [C] a mark (✓) that you put next to an answer to show that it is correct, or next to something on a list to show that you have dealt with it

6 SQUARES [C] a pattern of squares on something: a tablecloth with red and white checks

7 checks and balances a system of rules in government that keeps any one person or group from having too much power or control check-book /ˈtʃɛkbʊk/ n. [C] a book of checks checked /tʃɛkt/ adj. having a regular pattern of different colored squares: a checked skirt check-ered /ˈtʃɛkəd/ adj. 1 marked with squares of two different colors: a checkered flag 2 checkered past/history etc. periods of failure as well as success in someone’s or something’s past: a cop with a checkered past check-ers /ˈtʃɛkəz/ n. [U] a game for two players, using 12 flat round pieces each and a special board with 64 squares check-in n. 1 [U] the process of reporting your arrival at a hotel, airport, hospital, etc.: Passengers should arrive early for check-in. 2 [singular] a place where you report your arrival at an airport, hotel, etc.: Be at the check-in counter at least two hours before your flight. → check in at CHECK¹ checking account n. [C] a bank account that you can take money out of at any time

THESAURUS

account, savings account, joint account, online account → ACCOUNT¹ check-list /ˈtʃɛk,lɪst/ n. [C] a list of things you have to do for a particular job or activity check-mate /ˈtʃɛkmeɪt/ n. [U] the position in a game of CHESS when the KING cannot escape and the game has ended check-out coun-ter /ˈtʃɛk-aʊt ˈkaʊntə/ also checkout n. [C] the place in a SUPERMARKET where you pay for things check-point /ˈtʃɛkpoɪnt/ n. [C] a place, especially at a border between countries, where an official person stops people and vehicles to examine them check-up, check-up /ˈtʃɛk-ʌp/ n. [C] an occasion when a doctor or DENTIST examines you to see if you are healthy: Dentists recommend regular check-ups.

ched-dar /ˈtʃɛdər/ n. [U] a firm smooth yellow or orange cheese cheek /tʃik/ n. [C] the soft round part of your face below each of your eyes: He kissed her lightly on the cheek. → see picture on page A16 [ORIGIN: Old English ceace] → see picture on page A3

cheek-bone /ˈtʃikboʊn/ n. [C] the bone just below your eye: She had high cheekbones and green eyes. → see picture on page A3

cheep /tʃip/ v. [I] if a young bird cheeps, it makes a weak high noise —cheep n. [C] cheer¹ /tʃɪr/ v. [I,T] to shout approval, encouragement, etc.: The audience cheered as the band began to play.

THESAURUS shout, call (out), scream, shriek, yell, cry out, raise your voice, bellow, holler → SHOUT¹ cheer sb on phr. v. to encourage someone by cheering for him/her: Hansen's family was there cheering him on.

cheer up phr. v. 1 cheer sb ↔ up to make someone feel happier: I tried to cheer her up by taking her out to dinner. 2 to become happier: Cheer up, Connie!

cheer² n. [C] a shout of approval and happiness: The team was greeted with applause and cheers.

cheer-ful /ˈtʃɪrfəl/ adj. 1 happy, or behaving in a way that shows you are happy: a cheerful and easygoing guy | a cheerful voice/smile 2 bright, pleasant, and making you feel happy: a cheerful kitchen —cheerfully adv. —cheerfulness n. [U] cheer-lead-er /ˈtʃɪr,lidər/ n. [C] a member of a team of young women who encourage a crowd to cheer at sports events cheer-y /ˈtʃɪri/ adj. happy, or making you feel happy: Sullivan was in a cheery mood.

cheese /tʃiz/ n. [C,U] a solid food made from milk, that is usually white or yellow: a grilled cheese sandwich | a piece/slice/wedge of cheese | I'd like a bagel with cream cheese. [ORIGIN: Old English cese] cheese-burg-er /ˈtʃiz,bərgər/ n. [C] a HAMBURGER cooked with a piece of cheese on top of the meat cheese-cake /ˈtʃizkɛk/ n. [C,U] a sweet cake made with soft white cheese cheese-cloth /ˈtʃizklɒθ/ n. [U] a type of very thin cotton cloth, used especially for wrapping food chees-y /ˈtʃɪzi/ adj. (informal) not sincere or of good quality: a really cheesy movie | a cheesy grin

chee-tah /ˈtʃi:tə/ n. [C] an African wild cat that has black spots and is able to run very fast chef /ʃɛf/ n. [C] a skilled cook, especially the main cook in a restaurant [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 French chef de cuisine “head of the kitchen”]

chem-i-cal¹ /ˈkɛmɪkəl/ (Ac) adj. CHEMISTRY relating to substances used in chemistry, or involving the changes that happen when two substances combine: Mixing the two substances causes a chemical reaction. | The minerals are grouped together by chemical composition. | chemical compounds [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Modern Latin chemicus “alchemist,” from Medieval Latin alchimicus] —chemically adv.: The Earth's crust is chemically distinct from the mantle. | The acid reacts chemically with oxygen.

chemical² n. [C] CHEMISTRY a substance used in chemistry or produced by a chemical process: Toxic (=poisonous) chemicals from the factory created some serious health problems. | Everything is grown organically without the use of chemicals.

chemical 'bond n. [C] CHEMISTRY a force holding together the atoms in a chemical compound chemical 'change n. [C] CHEMISTRY a process by which the chemical structure of something changes, and the chemical parts combine with other chemicals or break apart into separate chemicals chemical e'quation n. [C] CHEMISTRY a written record of what happens when two or more chemicals are mixed together, with letters and numbers representing chemical substances chemical equi'librium n. [singular,U] CHEMISTRY a situation in which a chemical reaction and its opposite reaction are balanced or happen at the same rate and there is no change chemical 'formula n. [C] CHEMISTRY a series of numbers and letters that represents the number and types of atoms in a chemical compound or chemical reaction chemical 'property n. [C] CHEMISTRY the features or qualities of a substance that have an effect on the ways in which the chemical structure changes chemical re'action n. [C,U] CHEMISTRY a chemical change that happens when two or more substances are mixed together, or the process in which this happens chemical 'symbol n. [C] CHEMISTRY the letter or letters and numbers that represent the chemicals in a substance chem-ist /ˈkɛmɪst/ n. [C] a scientist who does work related to chemistry chem-is-try /ˈkɛməstri/ n. [U] 1 the science of studying substances and the way that they change or combine with each other 2 the way substances combine in a process, thing, person, etc.: This drug causes changes to the body's chemistry. 3 if there is chemistry between two people, they like each other or work well together che-mo-ther-a-py /ˌkimou'θerəpi/ n. [U] BIOL-OGY the treatment of CANCER using special drugs cher-ish /'tʃerɪʃ/ v. [T] 1 if you cherish something, it is very important to you: He cherishes his privacy. 2 to take care of someone or something you love very much cher-ry /'tʃeri/ n. (plural cherries) 1 [C] a small round soft red fruit with a large seed: a bowl of cherries | cherry pie → see picture on page 414 2 [C,U] a tree that produces cherries, or the wood of this tree [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old North French cherise (taken as plural), from Latin cerasus “cherry tree,” from Greek kerasos]

cher-ub /'tʃerəb/ n. [C] an ANGEL shown in paintings as a small child with wings chess /tʃes/ n. [U] a game for two players in which you must trap your opponent's KING in order to win: Do you know how to play chess? [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French eschex, plural of escec] → *see picture at BOARD*¹ chest /tʃest/ n. [C] 1 the front part of your body between your neck and stomach: a man with a hairy chest | chest pains → see picture on page A3 2 a large strong box with a lid, that you use to keep things in: a large wooden chest 3 get sth off your chest (informal) to tell someone about something that has worried or annoyed you for a long time [ORIGIN: Old English cest, from Latin cista “box, basket”] chest-nut /'tʃesnʌt/ n. 1 [C] a smooth red-brown nut you can eat 2 [C,U] the tree on which these nuts grow, or the wood of this tree 3 [U] a dark red-brown color —chestnut adj.

chest of 'drawers n. (plural chests of drawers) [C] a piece of furniture with drawers that clothes can be kept in chew /tʃu/ v. [I,T] 1 to bite food several times before swallowing it: The meat's so tough I can hardly chew it. | We gave the dog a bone to chew on. 2 to bite something several times without eating it: Students are not allowed to chew gum in the classroom. [ORIGIN: Old English ceowan] chew sb ↔ out phr. v. (informal) to speak angrily to someone who has done something wrong: Mom chewed me out for coming home late.

chew sth ↔ over phr. v. to think about something carefully for a period of time: Let me chew it over for a few days, and then I'll let you have my answer.

'chewing gum n. [U] GUM

chew-y /'tʃui/ adj. food that is chewy is not hard and dry, and needs to be chewed before you swallow it: moist chewy brownies chic /ʃik/ adj. fashionable and showing good judgment about style: a chic clothes store

chi-can-er-y /ʃɪ'keɪnəri/ n. [U] the use of complicated plans or tricks to deceive people: He refused to stoop to such political chicanery.

Chi-ca-no /tʃɪ'kanou/ n. (plural Chicanos) [C] a U.S. citizen who was born in Mexico or whose family came from Mexico [ORIGIN: 1900—2000 Mexican Spanish, Spanish mejicano “Mexican man”] chick /tʃɪk/ n. [C] 1 a baby bird, especially a baby chicken 2 (informal) a word meaning a young woman, that many women think is offensive chick-a-dee /'tʃɪkə,di/ n. [C] a small North American wild bird with a black head chick-en¹ /'tʃɪkən/ n. 1 [C] a farm bird that is kept for its meat and eggs → *see picture at FARM*¹ 2 [U] the meat from this bird: fried chicken 3 [C] (informal) someone who lacks courage: Don't be such a chicken! [ORIGIN: Old English cicen “young chicken”] chicken² adj. (informal) not brave enough to do something: Dave's too chicken to ask her out.

chicken³ v.

chicken out phr. v. (informal) to decide at the last moment not to do something because you are afraid: I was going to ask for a raise but I chickened out.

chicken pox, chick-en-pox /'tʃɪkən,pəks/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a disease that children often get that causes ITCHY spots on the skin and a fever chide /tʃaɪd/ v. [I,T] (written) to speak in an angry way to someone who has done something wrong

chief¹ /tʃi:f/ n. [C] 1 the leader of a group or organization: the chief of police

THESAURUS boss, manager, head, principal, president, CEO, supervisor, foreman, forewoman → BOSS¹

2 the leader of a tribe: Native American tribal chiefs [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French “head, chief,” from Latin caput “head”]

chief² adj. [only before noun] 1 most important: Safety is our chief concern. 2 highest in rank: the company's chief financial officer

THESAURUS senior, high-ranking, top, junior, assistant → POSITION¹

Chief Ex'ecutive n. the Chief Executive Officer POLITICS the President of the United States chief ex'ecutive, officer n. [C] a CEO chief 'justice n. [C] LAW the most important judge in a court of law, especially in the U.S. Supreme Court chief-ly /'tʃɪfli/ adv. mainly: The agency deals chiefly with recent immigrants.

THESAURUS mainly, principally, largely, primarily → MAINLY chief of 'staff n. (plural chiefs of staff) [C] an official of high rank, who advises the person in charge of an organization or government: the White House chief of staff

chief-tain /ˈtʃiftən/ n. [C] the leader of a tribe chif-fon /ʃɪˈfən/ n. [U] a soft thin silk or NYLON material that you can see through: a chiffon scarf chi-hua-hua /tʃɪˈwɑwə/ n. [C] a very small dog from Mexico with smooth short hair [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Chihuahua city in Mexico] child /tʃaɪld/ n. (plural children /ˈtʃɪldrən/) [C] 1 a young person who is not yet fully grown: Admission is free for children under 8. | I was very happy as a child (=when I was a child).

THESAURUS

Child is a word that you can use to talk about young children and teenagers. You do not normally use child to refer to babies.

Kid is an informal word for a child.

You are a baby when you are first born.

You are a toddler when you have just learned to walk.

You are a teenager between 13 and 19.

adolescent – a more formal word for a teenager: Many adolescents fall prey to peer pressure.

youngster – a young person, used especially in writing: The after-school program is great for active youngsters.

minor (formal) – someone who is not yet legally an adult: It is illegal to sell alcohol to minors.

juvenile (formal) – a young person who is not yet an adult, used especially when this person has committed a crime: As a juvenile, he faces a maximum sentence of five years. → BABY

2 a son or daughter: How many children does Jane have? | Alex is an only child (=he has no brothers or sisters). [ORIGIN: Old English cild] child-bear-ing /ˈtʃaɪldbəriŋ/ n. 1 [U] the process of being PREGNANT and then giving birth 2 childbearing age the period of a woman's life during which she is able to have babies: women of childbearing age child-birth /ˈtʃaɪldbɜːθ/ n. [U] the act of giving birth: His wife had died in childbirth.

child-care /ˈtʃaɪldkeə/ n. [U] an arrangement in which someone takes care of children while their parents are at work child-hood /ˈtʃaɪldhʊd/ n. [C,U] the time when you are a child: Sara had a very happy childhood. | We've been friends since childhood.

child-ish /ˈtʃaɪldɪʃ/ adj. 1 (disapproving) behaving in a silly way that makes you seem younger than you really are (SYN) immature: At your age, don't you think playing on the swings is a little childish? 2 relating to or typical of a child: a childish game —childishly adv.

child-less /ˈtʃaɪldlɪs/ adj. having no children: childless couples child-like /ˈtʃaɪldlaɪk/ adj. (approving) having the good qualities of a child, such as natural or trusting behavior: childlike innocence child-proof /ˈtʃaɪldpruf/ adj. designed to prevent a child from being hurt: Most medicine bottles have a childproof cap.

chil-dren /ˈtʃɪldrən/ n. the plural of CHILD

'child sup-port n. [U] money that someone pays regularly to his/her former husband or wife in order to help support his/her children chil-i /ˈtʃɪli/ n. (plural chilies) 1 [C,U] also 'chili pepper a small thin type of red or green pepper with a very hot taste 2 [U] a dish made with beans and usually meat cooked with chilies [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Spanish chile, from Nahuatl chilli] chill /tʃɪl/ v. 1 [I,T] to make something or someone very cold: This wine should be chilled before serving. 2 [I] (informal) also chill out to relax instead of feeling angry or nervous: Chill out, Dave – it doesn't matter.

chill n. 1 [singular] a feeling of coldness: There was a slight chill in the air. 2 [C] a slight feeling of fear: His laugh sent a chill down her spine (=made her feel very frightened). 3 chills a feeling of being cold, caused by being sick chil-ling /ˈtʃɪlɪŋ/ adj. making you feel frightened because something is cruel, violent, or dangerous: a chilling report on child abuse

chill-y /ˈtʃɪli/ adj. 1 cold enough to make you feel uncomfortable: a chilly November morning | It's a little bit chilly in here.

THESAURUS

cold, cool, frosty, freezing (cold), icy (cold), bitter (cold), frigid → COLD¹

2 unfriendly: The speech met with a chilly reception.

chime /tʃaɪm/ n. 1 chimes [plural] a set of bells or other objects that produce musical sounds: wind chimes 2 [C] the ringing sound of a bell or clock chime v. [I,T] if a clock or bell chimes, it makes a ringing sound: The clock chimed six.

chime in phr. v. to say something in order to add your opinion to a conversation: "The kids could go too," Maria chimed in.

chim-ney /ˈtʃɪmni/ n. [C] a pipe inside a building for smoke from a fire to go out through the roof [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French cheminée, from Latin caminus "fireplace," from Greek kaminos] chim-pan-zee /ˌtʃɪmpənˈzi/ also chimp /tʃɪmp/ n. [C] an African animal that is like a monkey without a tail chin /tʃɪn/ n. [C] the front part of your face below your mouth: She tied the scarf under her chin. [ORIGIN: Old English cinn] → see picture on page A3 chi-na /ˈtʃaɪnə/ n. [U] plates, cups, etc. that are made from white clay of good quality [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Persian chini “Chinese;” because it was originally made in China]

Chi-na-town /ˈtʃaɪnə,taʊn/ n. an area in a city where there are Chinese restaurants and stores, and where a lot of Chinese people live

Chi-nese¹ /ˈtʃaɪˈniːz/ adj. 1 relating to or coming from China 2 relating to a Chinese language

Chi-nese² /ˈtʃaɪˈniːz/ n. 1 [U] any of the languages that come from China, such as Mandarin or Cantonese 2 the Chinese [plural] the people of China chink /tʃɪŋk/ n. [C] a narrow crack or hole in something, that lets light or air through: I could see light through a chink in the wall.

chi-nos /ˈtʃɪnoʊz/ n. [plural] loose pants made from heavy cotton chintz /tʃɪnts/ n. [U] smooth cotton cloth with brightly colored patterns on it: chintz covers on the chairs chintz-y /ˈtʃɪntsi/ adj. (informal) 1 cheap and badly made: a chintzy chest of drawers 2 unwilling to give people things or spend money chin-up n. [C] an exercise in which you hang on a bar and pull yourself up until your chin is above the bar

chip¹ /tʃɪp/ n. [C]

1 FOOD a thin dry flat piece of potato or TORTILLA cooked in very hot oil and eaten cold: chips and salsa | a bag of potato chips

2 COMPUTER IT a small piece of SILICON with electronic parts on it that is used in computers: a silicon chip

3 PIECE a small piece of wood, stone, etc. that has broken off something: Wood chips covered the floor of the workshop.

4 MARK a small hole, crack, or mark on a plate, cup, etc. where a piece has broken off: This plate has a chip in it.

5 have a chip on your shoulder (informal) to have an angry attitude to life because you think you have been treated unfairly in the past: He's always had a chip on his shoulder about not going to college.

6 GAME a small flat colored piece of plastic, used in games to represent money: a gambling chip

7 be a chip off the old block (informal) to be like one of your parents in the way you look or behave

8 when the chips are down (spoken) in a serious or difficult situation: When the chips are down, you only have yourself to depend on. [ORIGIN: Old English cipp, cyp “small piece of wood,” from Latin cippus “sharp post”] → BARGAINING CHIP, BLUE CHIP

chip² v. (chipped, chipping) [I,T] 1 to break a small piece off something accidentally: She fell and chipped a tooth. 2 to remove something by breaking it off in small pieces: She started chipping the ice off the windshield. —chipped adj.: chipped fingernail polish chip away at sth phr. v. to gradually make something weaker or less effective: His comments were starting to chip away at my self-esteem.

chip in phr. v. if each person in a group chips in, they each give a small amount of money so that they can buy something: We all chipped in to buy Amy a graduation present.

chip-munk /ˈtʃɪpmʌŋk/ n. [C] a small brown North American animal similar to a SQUIRREL, that has black and white lines on its fur → see picture at RODENT chip-per /ˈtʃɪpə/ adj. (informal) happy and healthy chi-ro-prac-tor /ˈkaɪrə,præktə/ n. [C] someone who treats medical problems such as back pain by moving and pressing the muscles and bones [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Latin chiro- “of the hand” (from Greek cheiro- + Greek praktikos, from prassein “to do”)] chirp /tʃɪp/ v. [I] if a bird or insect chirps, it makes short high sounds —chirp n. [C] chis-el¹ /ˈtʃɪzəl/ n. [C] a metal tool with a sharp edge, used to cut wood or stone chisel² v. [T] to use a chisel to cut wood or stone, especially into a particular shape chit-chat n. [U] (informal) informal conversation about unimportant things chiv-al-rous /ˈʃɪvəlɹəs/ adj. (formal) a man who is chivalrous behaves in a polite and honorable way to women —chivalry /ˈʃɪvəlri/ n. [U] chive /tʃaɪv/ n. [C usually plural] a long thin green plant that looks and tastes like an onion and is used in cooking chlo-ride /ˈklɔɪd/ n. [C,U] CHEMISTRY a chemical COMPOUND that is a mixture of chlorine and another substance: sodium chloride

chlo-ri-nat-ed /ˈklɔɪˌneɪtɪd/ adj. CHEMISTRY chlorinated water has had chlorine added to it in order to kill BACTERIA chlo-rine /ˈklɔɪn, klɔɪˈrɪn/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Cl) a dark yellow-green gas, often used to keep swimming pools clean. It is a chemical ELEMENT belonging to the HALOGEN group. [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Greek chloros “green”]

chlo-ro-fluo-ro-car-bon /ˌklɔɪˌflʊəˌrɔːˈkɑːbən/ n. [C] SCIENCE a CFC

chlo-ro-form /ˈklɔɪˌfɔːrm/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a liquid that makes you unconscious if you breathe it chlo-ro-phyll /ˈklɔɪˌfɪl/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the green substance in plants [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 French chlorophylle, from Greek chloros “green” + phyllon “leaf”] chlo-ro-plast /'klɒrə,plæst/ n. [C] BIOLOGY one of several parts of plant cells that contain chlorophyll, that react with light from the Sun to produce the substance that the plant uses as food chock-full /ˌtʃɒk 'fʊl/ adj. [not before noun] (informal) completely full: The bus was chock-full of people.

choco-late /'tʃɒklɪt/ n. 1 [U] a sweet brown food that is eaten as candy or is used in cooking: a chocolate bar | chocolate cake 2 [C] a small candy that consists of something such as a nut or CARAMEL covered with chocolate: a box of chocolates [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Spanish, Nahuatl xocoatl]

chocolate chip n. [C usually plural] a small piece of chocolate put in foods such as cookies and cakes choice¹ /tʃɔɪs/ n. 1 [C,U] the right to choose or the chance to choose between two or more things: a choice between three candidates. | You have a choice – you can take French or Spanish. | He had no choice but to move back into his parents' house. | We were given a choice of morning or afternoon flights. | You get a choice of soup or salad. 2 [C] the act of choosing someone or something: career choices | I think I made the right choice. 3 [C usually singular] the range of people or things that you can choose from: We had little choice in the matter. | The bookstore has a wide choice of magazines. 4 [C usually singular] the person or thing that someone has chosen: Carrot sticks are a good choice for a snack. | Her first choice of college was Stanford. 5 the sth of your choice the person or thing of your choice is the one you would most like to choose: Many children are not able to go to the school of their choice. 6 the sth of choice the thing of choice is the one that people prefer to use: It is the treatment of choice for this particular disease. 7 by choice if you do something by choice, you do it because you want to: She lives alone by choice. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French chois, from choisir “to choose”] choice² adj. having a high quality or standard: choice apples choir /kwaɪə/ n. [C] a group of people who sing together, especially in a church or school: Amelia sings in the choir.

choke¹ /tʃɒk/ v. 1 [I,T] to have difficulty breathing because something is in your throat or there is not enough air: The fumes were choking me. | He choked on a piece of bread. 2 [T] to put your hands around someone's throat and press on it so s/he cannot breathe: He choked me so I couldn't talk or breathe. 3 [I,T] to be almost unable to talk because of strong emotion: Her voice was choked with rage. 4 [T] to fill a space or passage so that things cannot move through it: The roads were choked with traffic. 5 [I] (spoken) to fail at doing something that you have prepared for because there is a lot of pressure on you choke sth ↔ back phr. v. to control a strong feeling so that you do not show it: Anna choked back tears as she tried to explain.

choke up phr. v. be/get choked up to feel such strong emotions about something that you are almost crying choke² n. [C] 1 the act of choking, or the sound someone makes when s/he is choking 2 a piece of equipment that controls the amount of air going into a car engine choker /'tʃɒkə/ n. [C] a piece of jewelry or narrow cloth that fits closely around your neck

chol-er-a /'kɒləɹə/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a serious infectious disease that attacks the stomach and BOWELS [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French colère, from Latin cholera “disease caused by bile,” from Greek, from chole “bile;” because bile was thought to cause anger]

choles-ter-ol /kə'lestə,rɒl, -rəʊl/ n. [U] BIOL-OGY a substance in your body which doctors think may cause heart disease: She's had high cholesterol for many years. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Greek chole “bile” + stereos “solid” + English -ol “chemical compound”] choose /tʃuːz/ v. (past tense chose /tʃəʊz/, past participle chosen /'tʃəʊzən/, present participle choosing) [I,T] 1 to decide which one of a number of things, possibilities, people, etc. that you want → CHOICE: A panel of six judges will choose the winner. | They chose Roy to be the team captain. | You can choose between two types of fabric. | There are so many movies to choose from. | Why did they choose her for the job?

THESAURUS

pick – to choose something or someone from a group of people or things: Pick any number from one to ten.

select (formal) – to choose something or someone by thinking carefully about which is the best, most appropriate, etc.: The advisors help students select classes that meet graduation requirements.

opt for sth – to choose one thing instead of another: Many drivers opt for Japanese cars.

decide on sth – to choose one thing from many possible choices: Have you decided on a name for the baby?

2 to decide to do something: Donna chose to quit her job after she had the baby. [ORIGIN: Old English ceosan]

THESAURUS decide, make up your mind, resolve, determine → DECIDE choos-y /'tʃuːzi/ adj. difficult to please: Jean's very choosy about what she eats.

chop¹ /tʃɒp/ v. (chopped, chopping) 1 [T] also chop up to cut something, especially food, into smaller pieces: Can you chop up some onions for me? | Chop the tomatoes into fairly large pieces. → see picture at CUT¹

THESAURUS cut, slice, dice, peel, carve, shred, grate → CUT¹

2 [I,T] to cut something by hitting it many times with a heavy sharp tool such as an AX: She was outside chopping wood for the fire.

chop sth ↔ down phr. v. to make a tree fall down by cutting it with a heavy sharp tool such as an AX: A couple of the older trees will have to be chopped down.

chop sth ↔ off phr. v. to remove something by cutting it with a sharp tool: The branch had been chopped off.

C

chop² n. [C] 1 a small flat piece of meat on a bone: a pork chop 2 a quick hard hit with the side of your hand or with a heavy sharp tool: a karate chop

chop-per /'tʃapə/ n. [C] (informal) a HELICOPTER chop-py /'tʃapi/ adj. choppy water has many small waves chop-sticks /'tʃapstɪks/ n. [plural] a pair of thin sticks used for eating food, especially by people in Asia cho-ral /'kɔrəl/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS related to music that is sung by a large group of people → CHORUS: choral music chord /kɔrd/ n. [C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS a combination of two or more musical notes played at the same time 2 strike/touch a chord to say or do something that people feel is true or familiar to them: Many of her experiences will strike a chord with other young women. 3 MATH a straight line joining two points on a curve → see picture at CIRCLE¹ chore /tʃɔr/ n. [C] a job that you have to do, especially a boring one: household chores cho-re-og-ra-phy /,kɔri'ɑgrəfi/ n. [U] the art of arranging how dancers should move during a performance [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French choréographie, from Greek choreia “dance” + -graphein “to write”] —choreographer n. [C] —choreograph /'kɔriə,græf/ v. [T] chor-tle /'tʃɔrtl/ v. [I] (formal) to laugh because something is funny or pleases you —chortle n. [C] cho-rus /'kɔrəs/ n. [C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS the part of a song that is repeated after each VERSE 2 a large group of people who sing together 3 a group of singers, dancers, or actors who perform together in a show but do not have the main parts 4 a chorus of thanks/disapproval/protest etc. something expressed by a lot of people at the same time chose /tʃoʊz/ v. the past tense of CHOOSE chos-en /'tʃoʊzən/ v. the past participle of CHOOSE chow¹ /tʃaʊ/ n. [U] (slang) food chow² v.

chow down phr. v. (spoken) to eat, especially in a noisy way or in a way that shows you are very hungry chow-der /'tʃaʊdə/ n. [U] a thick soup made with milk, vegetables, and usually fish: clam chowder

Christ /kraɪst/ also Jesus Christ, Jesus n. the man who Christians believe to be the son of God, and whose life and TEACHING Christianity is based on chris-ten /'krɪsən/ v. [T] 1 to officially give a child its name at a Christian religious ceremony → BAPTIZE: She was christened Elizabeth Ann. 2 to give something or someone a name chris-ten-ing /'krɪsənɪŋ/ n. [C,U] a Christian ceremony in which a baby is officially given a name and becomes a member of a Christian church → BAPTISM

Chris-tian /'krɪstʃən, 'krɪftʃən/ adj. relating to Christianity: Christian ministers | Christian beliefs [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Latin christianus, from Greek, from Christos “Christ,” from chriein “to pour holy oil on”] —Christian n. [C]

Chris-ti-an-i-ty /,krɪstʃi'ænəti/ n. [U] the religion that is based on the life and teaching of Jesus Christ

Christian 'Science n. [U] a religion whose members believe they can cure their own illnesses using their minds rather than with medical help —Christian Scientist n. [C]

Christ-mas /'krɪsməs/ n. 1 December 25, the day when Christians celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ: Are you going home for Christmas? | a Christmas present 2 the period of time just before and after this day: We spent Christmas in Colorado. [ORIGIN: Old English Cristes mæsse “Christ’s MASS”]

Christmas 'carol n. [C] a Christian song that people sing at Christmas

Christmas 'Day n. December 25, the day when Christians celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ

Christmas 'Eve n. December 24, the day before Christmas

'Christmas tree n. [C] a tree that people put inside their house and decorate for Christmas chro-ma-tid /'kroumətɪd/ n. [C] BIOLOGY one of the two parts that a chromosome divides into during the process in which two new cells are formed from an original cell chro-ma-tin /'kroʊmətɪn/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a substance that chromosomes are formed from, that consists of DNA, RNA, and PROTEINS chrome /kroʊm/ also chro-mi-um /'kroʊmiəm/ n. [U] a hard metal substance used for covering objects with a shiny protective surface: the car's chrome hubcaps

chro-mo-some /'kroʊməsoʊm, -,zoʊm/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a part of every living cell, that contains the GENES that control the size, shape, etc. that a plant or animal has [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Greek chroma “skin, color” + soma “body;” because chromosomes easily take up coloring substances] chron-ic /'krɒnɪk/ adj. 1 a chronic disease or illness is one that continues for a long time and cannot be cured → ACUTE: chronic back pain 2 a chronic problem is one that continues for a long time and cannot easily be solved: California is trying to cope with chronic water shortages. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French chronique, from Greek chronikos “of time”] —chronically adv.: patients who are chronically ill chron-i-cle /'krɒnɪkəl/ n. [C] HISTORY a written record of historical events, arranged in the order in which they happened —chronicle v. [T] chron-o-log-i-cal /,krɒnɪ'ɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. arranged according to when something happened: a list of World Series champions in chronological order —chronologically adv.

chro-nol-o-gy /krə'nɒlədʒi/ n. (plural chronologies) [C] a list of events arranged according to when they happened: a chronology of events in the Middle East

chrys-a-lis /'krisəlɪs/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a MOTH or BUTTERFLY at the stage of development when it has a hard outer shell, before becoming a LARVA and then an adult → COCOON → see picture on page A2

chry-san-the-mum /krɪ'sænθəməm/ n. [C] a garden plant with large brightly colored flowers

chub-by /'tʃʌbi/ adj. slightly fat, used especially about children —chubbiness n. [U]

THESAURUS fat, overweight, big, heavy, large, obese, plump, stout, corpulent, rotund → FAT¹ chuck /tʃʌk/ v. [T] (informal) 1 to throw something in a careless or relaxed way: Chuck that magazine over here, would you?

THESAURUS throw, toss, hurl, fling, cast, pass, pitch, lob → THROW¹

2 also chuck away/out to throw something away: Just go ahead and chuck out the old batteries.

chuck-le /'tʃʌkəl/ v. [I,T] to laugh quietly: Terry chuckled to himself as he read his book. | “You’re wearing a wig,” Mario chuckled. —chuckle n. [C]

THESAURUS laugh, giggle, cackle, snicker, titter, guffaw → LAUGH¹

chug /tʃʌg/ v. (chugged, chugging) 1 [I] if a car, boat, or train chugs somewhere, it moves there slowly, with the engine making a repeated low sound: The little boat chugged along the river. 2 [T] (informal) to drink all of something without stopping: Chug that Coke and let’s go. —chug n. [C usually singular] chum /tʃʌm/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a good friend

chump /tʃʌmp/ n. (informal) 1 [C] someone who is silly or stupid, and who can be easily deceived 2 chump change (informal) a very small amount of money: That sort of investment is mere chump change for a multi-billion dollar company.

chunk /tʃʌŋk/ n. [C] 1 a large thick piece of something that does not have an even shape: a chunk of cheese

THESAURUS piece, scrap, lump, fragment, crumb, slice, strip, block → PIECE¹

2 a large part or amount of something: The rent takes a large chunk out of my monthly salary.

chunk-y /'tʃʌŋki/ adj. 1 thick and heavy: chunky jewelry 2 someone who is chunky has a broad heavy body church /tʃɜ:tʃ/ n. 1 [C] a building where Christians go to have religious services 2 [U] the religious services in a church: Come over after church. | She goes to church every Sunday. 3 [C] also Church one of the separate groups within the Christian religion: the Catholic Church [ORIGIN: Old English cirice, from Greek kyriakos “of the Lord”] denomination – a religious group that has slightly different beliefs from other groups who belong to the same religion: Roman Catholicism is the largest religious denomination in the nation. sect – a group of people who have their own set of beliefs or religious habits, especially a group that has separated from a larger group: He joined a Buddhist sect. cult – an extreme religious group that is not part of an established religion: Members of the cult all committed suicide on the same day.

THESAURUS

GRAMMAR

Do not use “a” or “the” before church when you are talking about a religious ceremony: How often do you go to church?

churl-ish /'tʃɜ:lɪʃ/ adj. (formal) not polite or friendly churn¹ /tʃɜːn/ n. [C] a container in which milk is shaken until it forms butter churn² v. 1 [I] if your stomach churns, you feel sick because you are frightened or nervous: Thinking about the test made my stomach churn. 2 [T] to make butter using a churn 3 [I,T] also churn up if water, mud, etc. churns, or if something churns it, it moves around violently churn sth ↔ out phr. v. to produce large quantities of something quickly, especially without caring about quality: She keeps churning out romance novels.

chute /ʃut/ n. [C] 1 a long narrow structure that slopes down, so that things or people can slide down it from one place to another: a mail chute 2 (informal) a PARACHUTE chutz-pah /'hʊtspə/ n. [U] (informal, approving) if someone has chutzpah, s/he has a lot of confidence and says rude or shocking things without feeling embarrassed [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Yiddish, Late Hebrew huspah]

CIA n. the CIA Central Intelligence Agency the department of the U.S. government that collects secret information about other countries ci-der /'saɪdə/ also 'apple, cider n. [C,U] a drink made from apples ci-gar /sɪ'gɑːr/ n. [C] a thick tube-shaped thing that people smoke, and which is made from tobacco leaves that have been rolled up cig-a-rette /,sɪgə'ret, 'sɪgə'ret/ n. [C] a thin tube-shaped thing that people smoke, that is made from finely cut tobacco leaves that have been rolled into a tube of paper: a pack of cigarettes [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 French cigare “cigar,” from Spanish cigarro] cil-i-um /'sɪliəm/ n. (plural cilia /-liə/) [C] BIOLOGY one of many hair-like structures that grow from the surface of some cells, that help move liquids past the cell or help the living thing move around cinch¹ /sɪntʃ/ n. be a cinch (informal) a) to be almost certain to happen: The Cubs are a cinch to win the National League East. b) to be very easy to do: The test was a cinch. | Good pie crust is a cinch to make.

cinch² v. [T] to pull a belt, STRAP, etc. tightly around something cin-der /'sɪndə/ n. [C] a very small piece of burned wood, coal, etc.

'cinder block n. [C] a large gray brick used to build houses, etc., made from CEMENT and cinders cin-e-ma /'sɪnəmə/ n. 1 [U] the art or business of making movies: an important director in Brazilian cinema 2 [C] (old-fashioned) a MOVIE THEATER [ORIGIN: 1900—2000 cinematograph “movie camera, movie show” (19—20 centuries), from French cinématographe, from Greek kinema “movement” + French -graphie “recording instrument”] cin-e-ma-tog-ra-phy /,sɪnəmə'tɒɡrəfi/ n. [U] the skill or art of movie photography —cinematographer n. [C] cin-na-mon /'sɪnəmən/ n. [U] a sweet-smelling brown SPICE used especially in baking cakes and cookies ci-pher /'saɪfə/ n. [C] a system of secret writing [SYN] code cir-ca /'sɜːkə/ prep. (written abbreviation c.) used before a date to show that it is not the exact date when something happened: He was born circa 1100.

cir-ca-di-an rhythm /sɜːkeɪdiən 'rɪðəm/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the regular pattern of changes that take place in your body during a 24-hour period cir-cle¹ /'sɜːkəl/ n. [C] 1 a round shape like the letter O: Draw a circle around the right answer. → see picture at SHAPE¹

THESAURUS shape, square, semicircle, triangle, rectangle, oval, cylinder → SHAPE¹

2 a group of people or things forming the shape of a circle: The women sat in a circle. 3 a group of people who know each other or have a common interest: a large circle of friends | She is very well-known in political/legal/medical etc. circles (=the group of people who work in a particular profession or industry). 4 come/go full circle to end in the same situation in which you began, even though there have been changes during the time in between: After the experiments of the 1960s, education has come full circle in its methods of teaching reading. 5 go/run around in circles to think or argue about something a lot without deciding anything or making any progress [ORIGIN: 1000—1100 Old French cercle, from Latin circulus]

circle² v. 1 [T] to draw a circle around something: Circle the correct answer. 2 [I,T] to move in a circle around something: a plane circling an airport before landing.

cir-cuit /'sɜːkɪt/ n. 1 the talk show/golf/lecture etc. circuit all the places that are usually visited by someone who is doing a particular activity: Vesey returned to the nightclub circuit as a singer. 2 [C] the complete circle that an electric current travels [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French circuite, from Latin circuitus, past participle of circumire, circuire “to go around”]

'circuit board n. [C] PHYSICS a set of connections between points on a piece of electrical equipment, that uses a thin line of metal to CONDUCT (=carry) the electricity

'circuit breaker n. [C] PHYSICS a piece of equipment that stops an electric current if it becomes dangerous

'circuit court n. [C] LAW a court of law in a U.S. state that meets in different places within the area it is responsible for circ-cu-i-tous /sə'kyuətəs/ adj. (formal) going from one place to another in a way that is longer than the most direct way: the river's circuitous course circ-cuit-ry /'səkətri/ n. [U] PHYSICS a system of electric circuits circ-cu-lar¹ /'səkyələ/ adj. 1 shaped like a circle: a circular table

THESAURUS round, oval, semicircular, triangular, rectangular, cylindrical → SHAPE¹

2 moving around in a circle: a circular hike around the lake 3 circular argument/discussion/ logic etc. an argument, etc. that is not helpful because it always returns to the same statements or ideas that were expressed at the beginning —circularity /,səkyə'lærəti/ n. [U] circular² n. [C] a printed advertisement or notice that is sent to a lot of people at the same time circ-cu-late /'səkyə,leɪt/ v. 1 [I,T] to move around within a system, or to make something do this: Blood circulates around the body. 2 [I] if information, facts, or ideas circulate, they become known by many people: Rumors are circulating that the senator's health is getting worse. 3 [T] to send or give information, facts, goods, etc. to a group of people: I'll circulate the report at the meeting. —circulatory /'səkyələ,təri/ adj.

circ-cu-la-tion /,səkyə'leɪʃən/ n. 1 [singular, U] BIOLOGY the movement of blood around your body: I feel like these tight shoes are cutting off my circulation. 2 [singular] the average number of copies of a newspaper, magazine, or book that are usually sold over a particular period of time: The newspaper has a daily circulation of 400,000. 3 in/out of circulation if something is in circulation, it is being used by people in a society and passing from one person to another: The government has reduced the number of $100 bills in circulation. 4 [singular, U] the movement of liquid, air, etc. in a system: Open a window and get some circulation in here.

circ-cum-cise /'səkəm,saɪz/ v. [T] 1 to cut off the skin at the end of the PENIS (=male sex organ) 2 to cut off a woman's CLITORIS (=part of her sex organs) —circumcision /,səkəm'sɪʒən/ n. [C,U]

circ-cum-fer-ence /sə'kəmfrens/ n. [C,U] MATH the distance around the outside of a circle or a round object: the circumference of the Earth | The island is only nine miles in circumference. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin circumferentia, from circumferre “to carry around,” from circum- “around” + ferre “to carry”] → see picture at CIRCLE¹ circ-cum-flex /'səkəm,fleks/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a mark placed above a letter in some words in French, Portuguese, etc. to show its pronunciation, for example “â” circ-cum-lo-cu-tion /,səkəmlou'kyuʃən/ n. [C,U] (formal) the practice of using too many words to express an idea instead of saying it directly, or a statement that does this —circumlocutory /,səkəm'ləkyə,təri/ adj.

circ-cum-nav-i-gate /,səkəm'nævə,geɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to sail, fly, or travel all the way around the Earth, an island, etc.: the first successful attempt to circumnavigate the globe —circumnavigation /,səkəmnævə'geɪʃən/ n. [C,U] circ-cum-scribe /'səkəm,skraɪb/ v. [T] 1 (formal) to limit power, rights, or abilities (SYN restrict 2 MATH to draw a line around something: a circle circumscribed by a square → INSCRIBE circ-cum-scribed /'səkəm,skraɪbd/ adj. MATH used to describe a shape that goes around and touches the outside points or edges of a square, a TRIANGLE, or other flat GEOMETRIC shape circ-cum-spect /'səkəm,spɛkt/ adj. (formal) thinking carefully about things before doing them (SYN cautious: In politics, you have to be circumspect about what you say in public.

circ-cum-stance /'səkəm,stæns/ [Ac] n. 1 [C usually plural] the facts or conditions that affect a situation, action, event, etc.: You shouldn't judge him until you know the circumstances. | There are plenty of people in similar circumstances. | Prisoners can leave their cells only under certain circumstances. 2 under the circumstances also given the circumstances used in order to say that a particular situation makes an action, decision, etc. necessary, acceptable, or true when it would not normally be: Under the circumstances, she did the best job she could. 3 under no circumstances used in order to emphasize that something must definitely not happen: Under no circumstances are you to leave the house. 4 [U] (formal) the combination of facts, events, and luck that influences your life, that you cannot control: Circumstance played a large part in her getting the job. 5 circumstances [plural] (formal) the conditions in which you live, especially how much money you have: The family's financial problems won't improve until their economic circumstances change. [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French, Latin circumstantia, from circumstare “to stand around”] circ-cum-stan-tial /,səkəm'stænʃəl/ adj. based on something that appears to be true but is not proven: The case against McCarthy is based largely on circumstantial evidence.

cir-cum-vent /ˌsəˈkəmˈvent, ˈsəˈkəmˌvent/ v. [T] (formal) to avoid having to obey a rule or law, especially in a dishonest way: The company has opened an office abroad in order to circumvent the tax laws. —circumvention /ˌsəˈkəmˈvenʃən/ n. [U] cir-cus /ˈsəˈkəs/ n. [C] a group of performers and animals that travel to different places doing tricks and other kinds of entertainment: circus acts [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin “circle, circus”] cir-rho-sis /sɪˈrouʃsɪs/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a serious disease of the LIVER, often caused by drinking too much alcohol [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Modern Latin, Greek kirrhos “orange-colored,” from the appearance of the diseased liver]

cir-rus /ˈsɪrəs/ n. (plural cirri /ˈsɪrɪ/) [C,U] EARTH SCIENCES a type of cloud that is light and shaped like feathers, high in the sky → CUMULONIMBUS, CUMULUS, NIMBUS, STRATUS cis-tern /ˈsɪstən/ n. [C] a large container that water is stored in cit-a-del /ˈsɪtədəl, -də/ n. [C] HISTORY a strong FORT built in past times as a place where people could go for safety if their city was attacked ci-ta-tion /sɑːˈteɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 LAW an official order for someone to appear in court or pay a FINE for doing something illegal: Turner was issued a traffic citation for reckless driving. 2 an official statement publicly praising someone's actions or achievements: a citation for bravery 3 ENG. LANG. ARTS a line taken from a book, speech, etc. (Syn) quotation: The speech contained a citation from “Hamlet.”

cite /saɪt/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to mention something as an example or proof of something else: The mayor cited the latest crime figures as proof of the need for more police.

THESAURUS mention, refer to sth, note, raise, allude to sth, bring sth up → MENTION¹

2 LAW to order someone to appear before a court of law: He has been cited for speeding. 3 ENG. LANG. ARTS to give the exact words of something that has been written in order to support an opinion or prove an idea (Syn) quote: Patrick cited parts of the First Amendment to support his argument on freedom of speech.

cit-i-zen /ˈsɪtəzən/ n. [C] 1 someone who lives in a particular town, state, or country: The mayor urged citizens to begin preparing for a major storm. 2 someone who has the legal right to live and work in a particular country: a Brazilian citizen 3 second class citizen someone who is not as important as other people in a society and who is treated badly [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Anglo-French citezein, from Old French citeien, from citē] cit-i-zen-ship /ˈsɪtəzənˌʃɪp/ n. [U] the legal right of belonging to a particular country: She has applied for U.S. citizenship.

cit-ric ac-id /ˌsɪtrɪk ˈæsɪd/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a weak acid that is in some fruits such as oranges and LEMONS cit-rus /ˈsɪtrəs/ also 'citrus fruit n. [C] a fruit such as an orange or a LEMON

cit-y /ˈsɪti/ n. (plural cities) [C] 1 a large important town: New York City | I've always lived in big cities. 2 the people who live in a city: The city has been living in fear since last week's earthquake. [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French citē, from Latin civitas “citizenship, state, city of Rome”]

city council n. [C] the group of elected officials who are responsible for making a city's laws city hall n. [C,U] the local government of a city, or the building it uses as its offices city-state n. [C] HISTORY a city, especially in past times, that forms an independent country: The city-state of Monaco is an interesting place to visit.

civ-ic /ˈsɪvɪk/ adj. relating to a city or the people who live in it: an important civic and business leader | It's your civic duty to vote.

civ-ics /ˈsɪvɪks/ n. [U] a school subject dealing with the rights and duties of citizens and the way government works

civ-il /ˈsɪvəl/ (Ac) adj. 1 not related to military or religious organizations: We were married in a civil ceremony, not in church. 2 related to laws concerning the private affairs of citizens, such as laws about business or property, rather than laws concerning crime: a civil lawsuit | a civil case 3 civil unrest/ disorder etc. violence involving different groups within a country 4 polite but not very friendly: Please try to be civil. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin civilis, from civis “citizen”]

THESAURUS polite, well-behaved, courteous → POLITE

—civilly adv.

civil diso'bedience n. [U] actions done by a large group of people in order to protest against the government, but without being violent civil engi'neering n. [U] the planning, building, and repair of roads, bridges, large buildings, etc.

ci-vil-ian /səˈvɪliən/ n. [C] anyone who is not a member of the military or the police: Many innocent civilians were killed in the attack. —civilian adj.

civ-i-li-za-tion /ˌsɪvələˈzeɪʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] a society that is well organized and developed: modern American civilization | the ancient civilizations of Greece and Rome 2 [U] all the societies in the world considered as a whole: The book looks at the relationship between religion and civilization.

civ-i-lize /ˈsɪvəˌlaɪz/ v. [T] (old-fashioned) to improve a society so that it is more organized and developed civ-i-lized /ˈsɪvəˌlaɪzd/ adj. 1 a civilized society is one that has laws and CUSTOMS and a well-developed social system: Care for the elderly is essential in a civilized society. 2 behaving in a polite and sensible way: Let's discuss this in a civilized way.

civil 'liberty n. (plural civil liberties) [C,U] SOCIAL SCIENCE the right of all citizens to be free to do whatever they want while obeying the law and respecting the rights of other people civil 'rights n. [plural] SOCIAL SCIENCE the legal rights that every person in a particular country has. In the U.S., these include the right to have the same treatment whatever your race or religion.

civil 'rights movement n. the civil rights movement HISTORY the actions by black people in the U.S. during the 1950s and 1960s to gain equal rights and to end SEGREGATION (=when people of different races are kept apart) civil 'servant n. [C] someone who works in the civil service civil 'service n. the civil service the government departments that deal with all the work of the government except the military civil 'war n. 1 [C,U] a war in which opposing groups of people from the same country fight each other 2 the Civil War HISTORY a war that was fought from 1861 to 1865 in the U.S. between the northern and southern states over whether it was right to own SLAVES clack /klæk/ v. [I,T] to make a short hard sound: the sound of high heels clacking across the courtyard —clack n. [singular] clad /klæd/ adj. (literary) wearing or covered in a particular thing: The model was clad in silk and lace

claim¹ /kleim/ v. 1 [T] to state that something is true even though it might not be: The company claims that their products will help you lose weight. | George claims to remember exactly what Emily said that night. 2 [I,T] to officially ask for money that you have a right to receive: Your income must be less than a certain amount to claim food stamps. 3 [T] to state that you have a right to something, or to take something that belongs to you: Lost items can be claimed between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. 4 [T] (formal) if a war, accident, etc. claims lives, people die because of it: Officials say the violence has claimed 21 lives. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French clamer, from Latin clamare “to cry out, shout”]

claim² n. 1 [C] a statement that something is true even though it might not be: Cardoza denied claims that he was involved in drug smuggling. 2 [C,U] an act of officially saying that you have a right to receive or own something, or the state of having this right: The contract proves he has no claim on the house. | Both groups believe they have a claim to the land. 3 [C] an official request for money that you think you have a right to: insurance claims | She is filing a claim for unpaid child support. 4 claim to fame the most important or interesting thing about a person or a place: Her main claim to fame is the men she married.

clair-voy-ant /klær'vɔɪənt/ n. [C] someone who says s/he can see what will happen in the future —clairvoyance n. [U] —clairvoyant adj.

clam¹ /klæm/ n. [C,U] a small sea animal that has a shell and lives in sand and mud, or the meat from this animal → see picture at SHELLFISH

clam² v. (clammed, clamming)

clam up phr. v. (informal) to suddenly stop talking: Lou always clams up if you ask him too many questions about his past.

clam-ber /'klæmbə, 'klæm-/ v. [I] to climb something that is difficult to climb, using your hands and feet: Jenny and I clambered up the side of the hill.

clam-my /'klæmi/ adj. wet, cold, and sticky in a way that is unpleasant: clammy hands

THESAURUS damp, humid, moist → DAMP clam-or¹ /'klæmə/ n. [singular, U] 1 a complaint or a demand for something: a public clamor for better schools 2 a very loud continuous noise: a clamor of voices in the next room —clamorous adj.

clam-or² v. [I] to demand something loudly: All the kids were clamoring for attention at once. | The children were clamoring to have their photo taken with Santa.

clamp¹ /klæmp/ v. [T] 1 to hold something tightly so that it does not move: He clamped his hand over her mouth. 2 to fasten or hold two things together with a clamp: Clamp the boards together until the glue dries.

clamp down phr. v. to become very strict in order to stop people from doing something: The police are clamping down on drunk drivers.

clamp² n. [C] a tool used for fastening or holding things together tightly clamp-down /'klæmpdaʊn/ n. [C] a sudden action by the government, police, etc. to stop a particular activity: a clampdown on illegal immigration clan /klæn/ n. [C] (informal) a large family: The whole clan will be coming over for Thanksgiving.

clan-des-tine /klæn'destɪn/ adj. secret: a clandestine meeting

THESAURUS secret, confidential, classified, sensitive, covert, undercover → SECRET¹

clang /klæŋ/ v. [I,T] to make a loud sound like metal being hit: The gate clangd shut behind him. —clang n. [C] clank /klæŋk/ v. [I] to make a short loud sound like metal objects hitting each other: clanking chains —clank n. [C] clap¹ /klæp/ v. (clapped, clapping) 1 [I,T] to hit your hands together loudly and continuously to show that you approve of something, or want to attract someone's attention: The audience was clapping and cheering. | The coach clapped his hands and yelled, "OK, listen up!" → see picture on page A8 2 clap sb on the back/shoulder to hit someone on the back or shoulder with your hand in a friendly way —clapping n. [U]

clap² n. [C] 1 a clap of thunder a very loud sound made by THUNDER 2 the sound that you make when you hit your hands together

C clap-board /'klæbɔ:d, 'klæpbɔ:d/ n. [C,U] a set of boards that cover the outside walls of a building, or one of these boards: a clapboard house

clar-i-fy /'klærə,faɪ/ [Ac] v. (clarified, clarifies) [I,T] to make something easier to understand by explaining it in more detail: I need you to clarify a few points. | Could you clarify what you mean? | Reporters asked the Speaker of the House to clarify his statement. —clarification /,klærəfə'keɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

THESAURUS explain, tell, show, demonstrate, go through sth, elucidate → EXPLAIN

clar-i-net /,klærə'net/ n. [C] a wooden musical instrument shaped like a long black tube that you play by blowing into it → see picture at WOODWIND —clarinetist n. [C]

clar-i-ty /'klærəti/ [Ac] n. [U] the quality of speaking, writing, or thinking in a clear way: the clarity of Irving's writing style | The novel's lack of clarity made it difficult to follow the plot. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin claritas, from clarus "clear, bright"]

clash¹ /klæʃ/ v. 1 [I] to fight or argue with someone: Soldiers clashed with rebels near the border. 2 [I] if two colors or patterns clash, they do not look nice together: That red tie clashes with your jacket. 3 [I,T] to make a loud sound by hitting two metal objects together

clash² n. [C] 1 a fight or argument between two people, groups, or armies: a clash between Democrats and Republicans in the Senate | a culture/personality clash (=a situation in which different types or groups of people do not like each other) 2 a loud sound made by two metal objects hitting together: the clash of the cymbals

clasp¹ /klæsp/ n. 1 [C] a small metal object used for fastening a bag, belt, piece of jewelry, etc. 2 [singular] a tight firm hold [SYN] grip: the firm clasp of her father's hand

clasp² v. [T] to hold someone or something tightly: Lie down with your hands clasped behind your head.

THESAURUS hold, grip, clutch, catch/take/keep/get (a) hold of sth, grasp, grab (hold of sth)/seize → HOLD¹ class¹ /klæs/ n.

1 GROUP OF STUDENTS [C] a a group of students who are taught together: a small class of ten people b a group of students who finish college or HIGH SCHOOL in the same year: Our class had its 30th reunion this year. | Howard was a member of the class of '05 (=the group of students who finished in 2005).

2 TEACHING PERIOD [C,U] a period of time during which students are taught: When's your next class? | Bob wasn't in class today.

THESAURUS

lesson – a class, especially to learn practical skills such as music, swimming, or driving: She takes dance lessons on Saturday mornings.

course – a class in a particular subject: a writing course period – one of the equal parts that a day is divided into in middle or high school, during which students study a particular subject: What's your fourth period class?

lecture – a talk about something, which is given to a large group of students at a college or university: Professor Calder's lectures are always really good.

seminar – a class, usually at a college or university, where a teacher and small group of students discuss a subject: He's teaching a graduate seminar on Herman Melville.

3 SUBJECT [C] a set of lessons in which you study a particular subject: a class in computer design | She's taking a yoga class. | a Spanish/math/science class

4 IN SOCIETY a [C] a group of people in a society that earn a similar amount of money, have similar types of jobs, etc. → LOWER CLASS, MIDDLE CLASS, UPPER CLASS: The middle class is feeling the pressure of lower wages and higher expenses. b [U] the system in which people are divided into such groups: People were excluded from education based on class and race.

5 QUALITY [C] a group into which people or things are divided according to how good they are: *We can't afford to travel first class (=the most expensive way) on the plane. | As a tennis player, she's not in the same class as (=not as good as) Williams. | The car is in a class of its own (=very good quality).

6 STYLE/SKILL [U] a particular style, skill, or way of doing something that makes people admire you: Margaret really has class.

7 PLANTS/ANIMALS [C] BIOLOGY one of the groups into which scientists divide animals and plants. A class is larger than an ORDER but smaller than a PHYLUM. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French classe, from Latin classis “class of citizens, social class”] class² v. [T] to decide that someone or something belongs in a particular group: Heroin and cocaine are classed as hard drugs.

class-action adj. LAW a class-action LAWSUIT is one that a group of people bring to a court of law for themselves and all other people with the same problem — class action n. [C,U]

clas-sic¹ /'klæsɪk/ [AC] adj. [usually before noun] 1 a classic book, movie, etc. is considered to be very good and has been popular for a long time: The Coca-Cola bottle is one of the classic designs of the last century. | Orson Welles directed the classic film “Citizen Kane.” → OLD 2 a classic example/case etc. a typical or very good example, etc.: Forgetting to release the emergency brake is a classic mistake that many new drivers make. 3 a classic style of dressing, art, etc. is attractive in a simple or traditional way: a classic blue suit

classic² n. [C] 1 a book, movie, etc. that is considered to be very good and has been popular for a long time: “Moby Dick” is a classic of American literature. | literary classics 2 something that is very good and one of the best examples of its kind: The '65 Ford Mustang is a classic. 3 classics [plural] the study of the languages, literature, and history of ancient Greece and Rome

clas-si-cal /'klæsɪkəl/ [AC] adj. 1 based on a traditional style or set of ideas: classical ballet 2 relating to classical music: a classical pianist 3 belonging to the language, literature, history, etc. of ancient Greece and Rome: classical architecture | Challenging the gods is a common theme in classical literature.

classical con'ditioning n. [U] BIOLOGY a learning process in which an animal makes a connection in its mind between something that makes it move or react and a reward or a punishment classical 'music n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a type of music, originally from Europe, that includes OPERAS and symphonies (SYMPHONY), that is played mainly on instruments such as the VIOLIN and piano, and is considered to have serious artistic value clas-si-cism /'klæsə'sɪzəm/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a style of art that is simple, regular, and does not show much emotion, based on the models of ancient Greece or Rome

clas-si-fi-ca-tion /,klæsəfə'keɪʃən/ n. [C,U] the process of putting people or things into groups according to their age, type, etc., or one of these groups: the classification of chilis according to their strength | my job classification

clas-si-fied /'klæsə'faɪd/ adj. classified information, documents, etc. are kept secret by the government or an organization

THESAURUS secret, confidential, sensitive, covert, undercover, clandestine → SECRET¹

classified 'ad n. [C] a small advertisement that you put in a newspaper if you want to buy or sell something clas-si-fy /'klæsə'faɪ/ v. (classified, classifies) [T] to put things into groups according to their age, type, etc.: Whales are classified as mammals rather than fish.

class-less /'klæslɪs/ adj. a classless society is one in which people are not divided into different social classes class-mate /'klæsmert/ n. [C] someone who is in the same class as you at school or college: I'm younger than most of my classmates.

class-room /'klæsrʊm/ n. [C] 1 a room in a school, where students are taught: classroom materials 2 in the classroom in schools or classes in general: the use of computers in the classroom class-work /'klæswɜ:k/ n. [U] work that students do in class, not at home → HOMEWORK class-y /'klæsi/ adj. (comparative classier, superlative classiest) (informal) expensive and fashionable: a classy restaurant

clat-ter /'klætə/ v. [I,T] if something clatters, it makes a loud noise when it hits something: The pots clattered to the floor. — clatter n. [singular, U] clause /kloʊz/ [AC] n. [C] 1 a part of a written law or legal document: A clause in the contract states when payment must be made. 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a group of words that is part of a sentence → PHRASE: In the sentence “Can you tell me what time it is?” the main clause is “Can you tell me,” and “what time it is” is a subordinate clause. → INDEPENDENT CLAUSE claus-tro-pho-bi-a /,klɒstrə'fəʊbiə/ n. [U] a strong fear of being in a small enclosed place or in a crowd of people [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Modern Latin, Latin claustrum “bar keeping a door closed” + Modern Latin phobia “fear”] — claustrophobic /,klɒstrə'fəʊbɪk/ adj.: I began to feel a little claustrophobic in the elevator.

clav-i-cle /'klævɪkəl/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a COLLARBONE claw¹ /klɔ:/ n. [C] a sharp curved nail on an animal, bird, or some insects: lobster claws [ORIGIN: Old English clawu] → see picture on page A2 claw² v. [I,T] to tear or pull at something, using your fingers or claws: The cat keeps clawing at the rug.

clay /kleɪ/ n. [U] a type of heavy wet soil that is used to make pots or bricks: a clay pot

clean¹ /klin/ adj. 1 a) not dirty or messy [ANT] dirty → CLEANLINESS: Are your hands clean? | clean sheets | I want you to keep this room clean. | a squeaky clean (=very clean) floor b) not containing or producing anything harmful or dirty [ANT] polluted: clean water/air 2 not rude or offensive, or not about sex: good clean fun 3 honest or legal and showing that you have not broken any rules or laws: *I've had a clean record (=no official record of having broken the law) for five years now | *a clean driving record 4 having a simple and attractive style or design: *a shape that emphasizes the furniture's clean lines 5 come clean (informal) to finally tell the truth about something you have been hiding: Josh finally came clean about denting the car. 6 a clean break a complete and sudden separation from a person, organization, or situation: She wanted to make a clean break with the past. 7 a clean sweep a very impressive victory in a competition, election, etc.: It was looking like a clean sweep for the Democrats. 8 a clean slate a new situation in which there is no record of you ever breaking any rules or behaving badly, even if you have broken rules or behaved badly in the past: *He will start his school life here with a clean slate. 9 a clean bill of health a report saying that a person is healthy or that a machine or building is safe [ORIGIN: Old English clæne]

C

C

clean² v. [I,T] 1 to remove dirt from somewhere or something: I need to clean the bathtub. | *She's busy cleaning. | We've hired someone to clean our house.

THESAURUS

do/wash the dishes – to wash plates and pans after a meal scour – to wash dirty pots and pans with a rough cloth do the housework – to clean the house dust/polish – to clean furniture vacuum – to clean carpets with a special machine sweep (up) – to clean the dirt from the floor or ground using a broom (=brush with a long handle) scrub – to clean something by rubbing it with a hard brush mop – to clean the floor with water and a mop (=soft brush on a long handle) do the laundry – to wash clothes dry clean – to clean clothes with chemicals instead of water

2 to make something look neat by putting things in their correct places [SYN] clear: Pam began to clean her desk.

clean out phr. v. 1 clean sth ↔ out to make the inside of a car, room, house, etc. clean, especially by removing things from it: We cleaned out the garage last Sunday. 2 clean sb/sth ↔ out (informal) to steal everything from a place or from someone: Two armed men cleaned out the computer store. 3 clean sb out if buying something cleans you out, it is so expensive you have no money left: *The new refrigerator really cleaned me out.

clean up phr. v. 1 clean sb/sth ↔ up to make something or someone clean and neat: Clean up your room – it's a mess! | I need to go upstairs and *get cleaned up. 2 clean sth ↔ up to remove crime, bad behavior, etc. from a place or organization: The new chief promised to clean up the police department. 3 clean up your act (informal) to begin to behave in a responsible way: You'll have to clean up your act if you want to impress Diane's parents. —cleaning n. [U]: *A woman comes twice a week to do the cleaning.

clean³ adv. (informal) completely: I'm sorry, I clean forgot your birthday.

clean-cut adj. (approving) a man who is clean-cut is clean and neat in his appearance clean-er /'klinə/ n. 1 [C] a machine or substance used to clean things: *a vacuum cleaner 2 [C] someone whose job is to clean something: *a street cleaner 3 the cleaners [plural] a DRY CLEANERS 4 take sb to the cleaners (informal) to get all of someone's money in a way that is not honest: Juanita threatened to take her former husband to the cleaners.

clean-li-ness /'klenlɪnɪs/ n. [U] the practice of keeping yourself or the things around you clean clean-ly /'klinli/ adv. done quickly, smoothly, and neatly: The doctor cut cleanly through the skin.

cleanse /klenz/ v. [T] to make something completely clean: Cleanse the wound with alcohol.

cleans-er /'klenzə/ n. [C,U] 1 a substance used for cleaning your skin 2 a substance used for cleaning surfaces in a house, office, etc.

clean-shaven adj. a man who is clean-shaven does not have hair on his face clean-up /'klinʌp/ n. [C usually singular] a process in which you clean something thoroughly: The cleanup of the oil spill took months. —cleanup adj.

clear¹ /klɪr/ adj.

1 SIMPLE/EASY easy to understand, hear, read, or see: clear instructions | The law is quite clear on this issue. | Smith was very clear about the school's policies on the matter. | It is clear to me that the company will have to make further job cuts. | Have I made myself clear? | Hugh had made it perfectly clear (that) he wasn't interested. | We must send out a clear message/signal to voters.

THESAURUS noticeable, obvious, striking, evident, apparent, conspicuous, unmistakable, manifest → NOTICEABLE

2 CERTAIN impossible to doubt: clear evidence | It's not clear how it happened. | It became clear that he would soon die. | a clear case/example of fraud | In this situation, there is no clear winner.

3 SURE ABOUT STH [not before noun] feeling sure that you understand something (ANT confused): I'm not clear about what you want me to do.

4 SEE THROUGH easy to see through: clear glass bottles | a clear mountain lake

5 WEATHER weather that is clear is bright with no rain or clouds: a clear sky

6 NOT BLOCKED not blocked, hidden, or covered by anything: a clear view of the harbor | smooth clear skin

7 a clear conscience the knowledge that you have done the right thing and should not feel guilty [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French cler, from Latin clarus “clear, bright”] clear² v.

1 MAKE NEAT [T] to make a place neat by removing things from it: Snowplows quickly cleared the streets of snow. | They spent the morning clearing garbage from the front yard. | If you clear the table (=take away the dishes, forks, etc.), I'll make the coffee. | Can you clear a space for my books?

2 REMOVE [T] to make people, cars, etc. leave a place: Within minutes, police had cleared the area. | Trucks have just finished clearing the wreck from the road.

3 LEGAL CHARGE [T] to prove that someone is not guilty of something: The jury cleared Johnson of the murder charge.

4 WEATHER [I] also clear up if the weather or sky clears, it becomes brighter

5 PERMISSION [T] to give or get official permission to do something: Has the plane been cleared for landing? | I'll have to clear it with my boss first.

6 CHECK [I,T] if a check that is made out to you clears, the money is paid into your bank account

7 clear your throat to cough a little so that you can speak clearly

8 clear the air to talk about a problem in order to solve a disagreement: You need to meet with him and try to clear the air.

9 GO OVER [T] to go over a fence, wall, etc. without touching it: The plane barely cleared the fence as it came down.

10 clear a debt/loan to get rid of a debt by paying what you owe clear sth ↔ away phr. v.

to make a place look neat by removing things or putting them where they belong: Clear all these toys away before you go to bed.

clear sth ↔ out phr. v.

to make a place neat by removing things from it: I need to clear out that closet.

clear up phr. v.

1 clear sth ↔ up to explain or solve something, or make it clearer: We need to clear up a few points before the meeting begins.

2 if an infection clears up, it gets better clear³ adv. 1 away from someone or something: Firemen pulled the driver clear of the wreckage. 2 steer/stay/keep clear (of sb/sth) to avoid someone or something because of possible danger or trouble: She told us to stay clear of the construction site. 3 all the way: You can see clear to the Rockies today.

clear⁴ n. in the clear a) not having difficulties because of something: The debt is being paid off, but we're not in the clear yet. b) not guilty of something clear-ance /'klɪərəns/ n. [C,U] 1 official permission to do something: Kameny was denied a security clearance. 2 the distance between two objects that is needed to stop them touching: We need twelve feet of overhead clearance for the truck.

'clearance sale n. [C] an occasion when goods in a shop are sold cheaply in order to get rid of them

'clear-cut adj. certain or definite: a clear-cut decision clear-headed adj. able to think clearly and sensibly clear-ing /'klɪrɪŋ/ n. [C] a small area in a forest, where there are no trees clear-ly /'klɪrli/ adv. 1 without any doubt: Clearly, he felt he was to blame. | Leslie was clearly annoyed. 2 in a way that is easy to see, understand, hear, etc.: Slow down and speak clearly. | Prices were clearly marked. 3 if you cannot think clearly, you are confused

cleat /kleɪt/ n. 1 [C] one of a set of short pieces of rubber, metal, etc. attached to the bottom of a sports shoe 2 cleats [plural] a pair of shoes with cleats attached to them cleav-age /'klevɪdʒ/ n. [C,U] the space between a woman's breasts cleave /klev/ v. (past tense cleaved, clove /kloʊv/, cleft /kleɪt/, past participle cleaved, cloven /'kloʊvən/, cleft) [I always + adv./prep., T always + adv./prep.] (literary) to cut something into separate parts using a heavy tool: The wooden door had been cleft in two.

cleave to sb/sth phr. v. 1 (formal) to be faithful to an idea, belief, or person: The Bible says that a man must leave his parents and cleave to his wife. 2 (literary) to stick to someone or something, or to seem to surround him, her, or it: The dirt still cleaved to the roots.

clea-ver /'klevə/ n. [C] a knife with a large square blade: a meat cleaver cleft /kleɪf/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a sign used in written music to show the PITCH of the notes cleft¹ /kleɪf/ n. [C] a natural crack in the ground or in rocks cleft² adj. partly split or divided: a cleft chin

C

cleft³ v. a past tense and past participle of CLEAVE

clem-en-cy /'klɛmənsi/ n. [U] (formal) the act of forgiving someone for a crime and making his/her punishment less severe: His appeal for clemency has been denied.

clench /klɛntʃ/ v. [T] to close your hands, mouth, etc. tightly: He clenched his fist and pounded it into his palm. | He had a cigar clenched between his teeth.

C

cler-gy /'klɛdʒi/ n. the clergy [plural] the official leaders of organized religions cler-gy-man /'klɛdʒimən/, cler-gy-woman /'klɛdʒi,womən/ n. (plural clergymen /-mən/, clergywomen /-,wimɪn/) [C] a male or female member of the clergy cler-ic /'klɛrɪk/ n. [C] a member of the clergy

cler-i-cal /'klɛrɪkəl/ adj. 1 relating to office work: a clerical worker 2 relating to the clergy clerk /klɜ:k/ n. [C] 1 someone who deals with people arriving at a hotel: Please return your keys to the desk clerk. 2 someone whose job is to help people in a store 3 someone whose job is to keep records, accounts, etc. in an office [ORIGIN: 1000—1100 Old French clerc “man in a religious order, scholar, man who keeps records,” from Late Latin clericus] → SALES CLERK clev-er /'klɛvə/ adj. 1 able to use your intelligence to do something, especially in a slightly dishonest way: a lawyer's clever tricks 2 able to learn things quickly: a clever child

THESAURUS intelligent, smart, bright, brilliant, wise, cunning, crafty, intellectual, gifted, apt → INTELLIGENT

3 showing ability, skill, or imagination: a clever idea —cleverly adv. —cleverness n. [U]

cli-ché /kli'ʃeɪ/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS an idea or phrase that has been used so much that it is no longer effective or no longer has any real meaning: The movie avoids most of the usual clichés.

click¹ /klɪk/ v. 1 [I,T] to make a short hard sound, or to make something produce this sound: The door clicked shut. | He clicked his heels (=hit the heels of his shoes together) and jumped into the air. 2 [I] (informal) to suddenly understand or realize something: I was having a lot of trouble with algebra until one day it just clicked. 3 [I] (informal) if two people click, they immediately like each other 4 [I,T] IT to press a button on a computer MOUSE to make the computer do something → DOUBLE-CLICK: Click on the icon at the bottom of the screen. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 From the sound]

click² n. [C] a short hard sound: I heard a click, and the phone went dead. → see picture on page A7

cli-ent /'klaɪənt/ n. [C] someone who pays a person or organization for a service: important clients [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin cliens]

THESAURUS customer, shopper, patron, consumer, buyer → CUSTOMER

cli-en-tele /,klaɪən'tel, ,kliən-/ n. [singular] the people who regularly go to a store, restaurant, etc.: The Sports Cafe attracts a mostly male clientele.

cliff /klɪf/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a large area of rock with steep sides [ORIGIN: Old English clif] → see picture on page A11

cliff-hang-er /'klɪf,hæŋə/ n. [C] (informal) a situation in a story, that excites you because you do not know what will happen next cli-mac-tic /klaɪ'mæktɪk/ adj. forming an exciting or important part at the end of a story or event: the final climactic scene of the play

cli-mate /'klaɪmɪt/ n. 1 [C] EARTH SCIENCES the typical weather conditions in an area: a hot and humid climate 2 [singular] the general feelings in a situation at a particular time: in the current climate of uncertainty | a climate of fear/violence/hostility etc. | the economic/political etc. climate [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French climat, from Late Latin clima, from Greek klima “angle, latitude, climate;” because the weather depends on the angle of the Sun to the Earth] —climatic /klaɪ'mættɪk/ adj.

cli-max¹ /'klaɪmæks/ n. [C] the most important or exciting things that come near the end of a story or experience: Winning the gold medal was the climax of his sports career. | The crisis reached a climax last week, when two senators resigned. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, Greek klimax “ladder,” from klinein “to lean”] climax² v. [I,T] to reach the most important or exciting part of something: The tournament climaxes with the championship game on March 31.

climb¹ /klaɪm/ v. 1 [I,T] to move toward the top of something: kids climbing a tree | the first man to climb Mount Everest | We watched as the plane climbed into the sky. | I slowly climbed three flights of stairs. → see picture on page A9 2 [I] to move somewhere with difficulty, using your hands and feet: Ford climbed into a waiting limousine. 3 [I] to increase in number, amount, or level: The temperature was climbing steadily. 4 [I,T] to move to a better position in your social or professional life: women trying to climb the corporate ladder (=become more successful) 5 be climbing the walls (spoken) to become extremely anxious, annoyed, or impatient: When he hadn't gotten back by midnight, I was climbing the walls. [ORIGIN: Old English climban] climb² n. [C usually singular] 1 a process in which you move up toward a place while using a lot of effort: a tough climb to the top 2 an increase in value or amount: a steady climb in house prices 3 the process of improving your professional or social position: a politician's climb to power climb-er /'klaɪmə/ n. [C] someone who climbs rocks, mountains, etc. as a sport → SOCIAL CLIMBER climb-ing /'klaɪmɪŋ/ n. [U] the sport of climbing mountains or rocks: Let's go climbing this weekend. → see picture on page A4 clinch /kɪntʃ/ v. [T] (informal) to manage to win or get something after trying hard: I think I know how we can clinch this deal.

clinch-er /'kɪntʃə/ n. [C] (informal) a fact or action that finally persuades someone to do something, or that ends an argument or competition: The real clincher was her threat to sue the city.

cling /kɪŋ/ v. (past tense and past participle clung /kɪŋ/) [I] 1 to hold onto someone or something tightly because you do not feel safe: a climber clinging onto a rock | They clung to each other and cried. 2 to stick to something: The wet shirt clung to his body.

cling to sth phr. v. to continue to believe or do something, even though it may no longer be true or useful: He clung to the possibility that she would be cured.

cling-y /'kɪŋi/ adj. 1 (disapproving) someone who is clingy is too dependent on another person: a shy, clingy child 2 clingy clothing or material sticks tightly to your body and shows its shape: a clingy dress clin-ic /'kɪnɪk/ n. [C] 1 a place where medical treatment is given to people who do not need to stay in a hospital: a dental clinic 2 a group of doctors who share the same offices 3 a meeting during which a professional person gives advice or help to people: a marriage clinic [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 French clinique, from Greek klinike “medical practice by the bed”]

clin-i-cal /'kɪnɪkəl/ adj. 1 relating to treating or testing people who are sick: The drug has undergone a number of clinical trials/tests. 2 (disapproving) not influenced by personal feelings: a cold clinical attitude —clinically adv.

clin-i-cian /kɪ'nɪʃən/ n. [C] a doctor who examines and treats people who are sick rather than studying disease clink /kɪŋk/ v. [I,T] if glass or metal objects clink, or if you clink them, they make a short ringing sound when they touch —clink n. [singular]

clip¹ /kɪp/ n. [C] 1 a small metal or plastic object for holding things together: a paper clip 2 a short part of a movie or television program that is shown by itself, especially as an advertisement: clips from Pitt's new movie 3 at a good/rapid/fast clip quickly: Witnesses say the car was moving at a rapid clip.

clip² v. (clipped, clipping) 1 [I,T] to put a clip on things to hold them together: She'd clipped her business card to the letter.

THESAURUS fasten, attach, secure, join, glue, tape, staple, tie → FASTEN

2 [T] to cut something out of a newspaper, magazine, etc.: Tara showed him an ad she'd clipped out of the Sunday paper. 3 [T] to cut small amounts from something to make it look neater: He went out in the yard to clip the hedges.

clip-board /'kɪpbɔːd/ n. [C] 1 a small flat board with a clip that holds paper onto it 2 IT part of a computer MEMORY that stores information when you cut, copy, or move it

'clip-on adj. attached to something using a clip: clip-on earrings clip-pers /'kɪpəz/ n. [plural] a tool for cutting small pieces off something: nail clippers clip-ping /'kɪpɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] an article, picture, etc. that you cut out of a newspaper or magazine 2 [C usually plural] a small piece cut from something bigger: grass clippings clique /kɪk, kɪk/ n. [C] (disapproving) a small group of people who do not want others to join their group: The girls have their own little clique. —cliquish adj.

clit-o-ris /'klɪtərɪs/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a small part of a woman's outer sex organs where she can feel sexual pleasure cloak¹ /kloʊk/ n. [C] a warm piece of clothing like a coat without sleeves [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old North French cloque “bell, cloak,” from Medieval Latin clocca “bell,” because of its shape] cloak² v. [T] (written) to deliberately cover or hide something: The early stages of the negotiations were cloaked in secrecy.

cloak-and-dagger adj. very secret and mysterious: a cloak-and-dagger operation cloak-room /'kloʊk-rʊm/ n. [C] a small room where you can leave your coat, bag, etc.

clob-ber /'klobə/ v. [T] (informal) 1 to hit someone hard 2 to affect someone or something badly, especially by making him, her, or it lose money: Their new business was clobbered by rising interest rates. 3 to defeat someone easily: Boston clobbered New York 11–1.

THESAURUS beat, defeat, trounce, cream, vanquish, overcome → BEAT¹

clock¹ /klɒk/ n. [C] 1 an instrument in a room or building that shows the time → WATCH: What time does that clock say? | The clock had stopped. | The clock struck three (=made three loud noises to show it was three o'clock). | Mary set her alarm clock for 7:00 a.m. (=adjusted it so that it would ring at 7:00 a.m.) | The kitchen clock is five minutes slow/fast (=shows a time that is five minutes less or more than the right time). 2 turn/set the clock back (disapproving) to make a situation the same as it was in the past: Women's groups warned that the law would turn the clock back fifty years. 3 set the clock(s) back/ahead/forward to change the time shown on the clock to one hour earlier or later, when the time officially changes 4 around the clock all day and all night without stopping: We've been working around the clock to get done on time. 5 race/work against the clock to work quickly in order to finish something because you do not have much time: “The harvest is a race against the clock to beat the winter rains,” Johnson says. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Middle Dutch clocke “bell, clock,” from Medieval Latin clocca “bell”] → O’CLOCK, punch a clock at PUNCH¹, watch the clock at WATCH¹

clock² v. [T] 1 to measure the speed at which someone or something is moving: The police clocked her at 86 miles per hour. 2 to travel a particular distance in a particular time: She clocked her best time in the 200-meter sprint.

clock in/out phr. v. to record on a special card the time when you begin or stop working: I clocked in at 8:00 this morning.

clock 'radio n. [C] a clock that you can set so that it turns on a radio to wake you up clock-wise /'klak-waɪz/ adj., adv. in the same direction in which the HANDS (=parts that point to the time) of a clock move (ANT) counterclockwise: Turn the dial clockwise.

clock-work /'klak-wɜ:k/ n. like clock-work a) (informal) happening in exactly the way you planned: Fortunately, production has been going like clockwork. b) happening at the same time and in the same way every time: At 6:30 every evening, like clockwork, Ari would milk the cows.

clod /klad/ n. [C] 1 a lump of mud or earth 2 (informal) someone who is not graceful and behaves in a stupid way

clog¹ /klag/ v. (clogged, clogging) [I,T] also clog up to block something, or to become blocked: Potato peelings clogged up the drain. | freeways clogged with heavy traffic

clog² n. [C] a shoe made of wood → see picture at SHOE¹ clone¹ /kloun/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY an exact copy of a plant or animal that scientists produce from one of its cells 2 IT a computer that is built as an exact copy of a more famous computer: an IBM clone [ORIGIN: 1900–2000 Greek klon “small branch”] clone² v. [T] BIOLOGY to produce a plant or an animal that is a clone

close¹ /kloʊz/ v. [I,T] 1 to shut something, or to become shut (SYN) shut (ANT) open: Rita walked over and closed the curtains. | The hinges creaked slightly as the door closed. | Close your eyes and go to sleep.

USAGE

Do not use open and close to talk about things that use electricity or things that provide water or gas. Use turn on/off instead: Can you turn off the lights? | I turned on the TV.

For things that use electricity, you can also use switch on/off: Don't forget to switch off your computer.

2 if a store or building closes, or if someone closes it, it stops being open to the public for a period of time: What time does the mall close tonight? |

Prentice Street has been closed to traffic. 3 to end something, or to end: Professor Schmidt closed his speech with a quote from Twain. 4 to stop existing or operating, or to stop something from existing or operating: Hundreds of lumber mills have closed down since World War II. | I've closed my bank account. 5 close a deal/sale/contract to successfully arrange a business deal, sale, etc. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French clos, past participle of clorre “to close,” from Latin claudere] close in phr. v. to move closer in order to catch someone or something: a tiger closing in for the kill close sth ↔ off phr. v. if a road or area is closed off, people cannot go into it close² /kloʊs/ adj.

1 NEAR STH not far from someone or something: The closest gas station is 20 miles away. | We live close to the school. | The victim was shot at close range (=from a short distance).

2 NEAR IN TIME near to something in time: By the time we left it was close to midnight.

3 NEAR TO A NUMBER/AMOUNT near to a number: Inflation is now close to 6%.

4 LIKELY TO HAPPEN SOON if you are close to something, you are likely to experience it soon: They haven't reached an agreement yet, but they're close. | Erickson was close to tears as he described the accident. | A few of the injured people were close to death.

5 SIMILAR very similar to each other: Do you have any shoes that are closer in color to this scarf? | A dirt road was the closest thing to a highway in the area.

6 CAREFUL giving careful attention to details: Take a closer look at the facts. | Scientists are keeping a close watch/eye on the volcano. | The jury paid very close attention to the evidence.

7 LIKE/LOVE SB if people are close, they like or love each other very much: Are you very close to your sister? | We were close friends in high school.

8 AT WORK relating to a situation in which people work or talk well together: The school encourages close partnerships between teachers and parents. | Our job required close contact with the general manager.

9 COMPETITION a close competition or game is won or lost by only a few points: Right now it's too close to call (=no one can say who the winner will be).

10 ALMOST BAD (informal) used when you just manage to avoid something bad happening: That was close! You almost hit that car! | I had a couple of close calls, but they weren't my fault.

11 too close for comfort if something bad is too close for comfort, it is near you or happens near to you, making you feel nervous or afraid: The terrible storm was too close for comfort.

12 close relative a family member such as a parent, brother, or sister —closeness n. [U]

close³ /kloʊs/ adv. 1 very near: The grocery store is close by. | You're planting your tomatoes too close together. | Dockery walked out of the room, with Shane following close behind. | The woman held her baby close.

THESAURUS near, not far (away), nearby, within walking distance (of sth) → NEAR¹

2 come close to (doing) sth to almost do something: I was so angry I came close to hitting him. | Carey came very close to victory. 3 close up/up close from only a short distance away: When I saw her close up, I realized she wasn't Jane.

close⁴ /kloʊz/ n. [singular] the end of an activity or period of time: The police brought the investigation to a close. | The summer was drawing to a close.

closed /kloʊzd/ adj. 1 not open (SYN shut): Make sure all the windows are closed. 2 if a store or public building is closed, it is not open and people cannot go into it or use it (SYN shut): Sorry, the store's closed on Sundays. 3 restricted to a particular group of people or things (ANT open): a closed meeting between the mayor and community leaders 4 not willing to accept new ideas or influences (ANT open): Don't go with a closed mind. 5 behind closed doors privately, without involving other people: The deal was made behind closed doors.

closed circuit television n. [C,U] cameras which are used in public places in order to help prevent crime closed circulatory system n. [C] BIOLOGY a system in which blood flows around the body contained in blood VESSELS, without directly flowing over the surrounding TISSUES close-knit /ˈkloʊs ˈnɪt/ adj. a close-knit family or group of people know each other well and help each other a lot close-ly /ˈkloʊsli/ adv. 1 very carefully: The police were watching him closely. | a closely guarded secret 2 if you work closely with someone, you work with and help him/her 3 closely related/linked/tied etc. having a strong connection: Diet and health are closely connected. 4 in a way that is close to other things in time or space: a flash of lightning, followed closely by thunder close-set /ˈkloʊs ˈset/ adj. close-set eyes are very near to each other close-et¹ /ˈkloʊzɪt/ n. [C] 1 an area that you keep clothes and other things in, built with a door behind the wall of a room: Let me hang your coat up in the closet. 2 come out of the closet (informal) to say openly and publicly that you are HOMOSEXUAL after keeping it a secret closet² adj. closet liberal/homosexual etc. someone who does not admit in public what s/he thinks or does in private close-up /ˈkloʊs ʌp/ n. [C] a photograph of someone or something that is taken from very near to him, her, or it: a close-up of the children

clo-sure /ˈkloʊʒə/ n. [C,U] 1 the act of permanently closing a building, factory, school, etc.: Several military bases are threatened with closure. 2 an occasion in which a bad situation has ended and you can finally stop thinking about it: Funerals help give people a sense of closure.

clot¹ /klot/ n. [C] a mass of blood or another liquid which has become almost solid: a blood clot in his leg clot² v. (clotted, clotting) [I,T] if a liquid such as blood clots, or if something clots it, it becomes thicker and more solid cloth /kloʊθ/ n. 1 [U] material used for making things such as clothes → FABRIC: These pants are made with the finest wool cloth.

USAGE

Do not use cloth or cloths to mean "things that you wear." Use clothes: He usually wears casual clothes.

2 [C] a piece of cloth used for a particular purpose: Cover the bowl with a damp cloth. [ORIGIN: Old English clath "cloth, piece of clothing"] clothe /kloʊð/ v. [T] to provide clothes for someone: He could barely afford to feed and clothe his family.

clothed /kloʊðd/ adj. (formal) dressed: The kids were fast asleep, still fully clothed.

clothes /kloʊz, kloʊðz/ n. [plural] the things that people wear to cover their bodies or keep warm: Go to your room and put on some clean clothes. | Pete took his clothes off and went to bed. | What sort of clothes was he wearing? | The kids ran upstairs to change into dry clothes. → see picture on page 182

COLLOCATIONS

tight: tight jeans
loose/baggy: a baggy T-shirt fashionable/stylish: fashionable clothes casual – comfortable and informal: a casual top formal – appropriate for an official or serious situation: Everyone was dressed in formal wear.
dressy – fairly formal and appropriate for wearing to work: a pair of dressy pants → CLOTH

TOPIC

You look at clothes in a store and then try them on. You want to be sure that they fit you (=are the right size for you), and also that they look good on you. At home, you fold them and put them in a drawer, or you hang them up in a closet. If clothes are wrinkled (=have lines in the material), you can iron them.

GRAMMAR

There is no singular form of clothes. You have to say a piece of clothing, an article of clothing (formal), or an item of clothing (formal): They found a piece of clothing in the bushes.

clothes-line /'kloʊzlaɪn/ n. [C] a rope that you hang clothes on so that they will dry clothes-pin /'kloʊzpin/ n. [C] a small object that you use to fasten clothes to a clothesline cloth-ing /'kloʊðɪŋ/ n. [U] clothes: The refugees needed food and clothing. | Protective clothing should be worn in the lab.

cloud¹ /klaʊd/ n. 1 [C,U] a white or gray mass in the sky, from which rain falls: There wasn't a cloud in the sky. | Storm/Dark clouds moved overhead. 2 [C] a mass of smoke, dust, or gas: a cloud of dust 3 [C] something that makes you feel worried or afraid: Ryder resigned under a cloud of suspicion. | Marshall's injury cast a cloud over the rest of the game. 4 on cloud nine (informal) very happy: When Caitlin was born, Adam was on cloud nine. [ORIGIN: Old English clud "rock, hill;" because some clouds look like rocks]

cloud² v. 1 [T] to make something more difficult to understand or deal with: These unnecessary details are only clouding the issue. | Don't allow personal feelings to cloud your judgment. 2 [I,T] also cloud up to become difficult to see through, or to make this happen: Steam clouded up the windows.

cloud over phr. v. if the sky clouds over, it becomes darker and full of clouds cloud-burst /'klaʊdbɜːst/ n. [C] a sudden storm of rain cloud-y /'klaʊdi/ adj. 1 dark and full of clouds: a cloudy day 2 cloudy liquids are not clear clout /klaʊt/ n. [U] (informal) power or the ability to influence important people: He has a lot of political/economic/financial etc. clout in this town.

clove¹ /kloʊv/ n. [C] 1 a piece of GARLIC: a clove of garlic 2 a strong sweet spice with a pointed stem clove² v. a past tense of CLEAVE

cloven /'kloʊvən/ v. a past participle of CLEAVE

clo-ver /'kloʊvə/ n. [C] a small plant with three round leaves on each stem clown¹ /klaʊn/ n. [C] a performer who wears MAKEUP and funny clothes and tries to make people laugh, especially in a CIRCUS clown² v. [I] to behave in a silly or funny way: a couple of boys clowning around clay-ing /'kleɪ-ɪŋ/ adj. 1 a cloying attitude or quality annoys you because it is too nice and seems false: a cloying poem about love 2 cloying food or smells are too sweet and make you feel sick: the cloying smell of cheap perfume

club¹ /klʌb/ n. [C] 1 an organization for people who share an interest or who enjoy similar activities: a member of the drama club | I just joined a health club. | He belongs to the chess club.

THESAURUS organization, institution, institute, association, (political) party, society, union, agency → ORGANIZATION

2 a NIGHTCLUB 3 the building used by a club: The restaurant is located next to the fitness club. 4 a specially shaped stick for hitting the ball in golf (SYN) golf club 5 clubs [plural] in card games, the cards with black symbols with three round parts: the five of clubs → see picture at PLAYING CARD 6 a heavy stick used as a weapon club² v. (clubbed, clubbing) [T] to hit someone with a club club-house /'klʌbhaʊs/ n. [C] a building used by a club, especially a sports club club 'sandwich n. [C] a sandwich consisting of three pieces of bread with meat and cheese between them club 'soda n. [C,U] water filled with BUBBLES that is often mixed with other drinks cluck /klʌk/ v. [I] to make a noise like a HEN —cluck n. [C]

clue¹ /klu/ n. [C] 1 a piece of information or an object that helps to solve a crime or mystery: The police are still searching for clues. | No one seems to have a clue as to the bomber's identity. 2 not have a clue (informal) to definitely not know or understand something: I don't have a clue what you're talking about. | "Where's Jamie?" "I don't have a clue." [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 clew "ball of string" (11–19 centuries), from Old English cliewen; from the use of a ball of string for finding the way out of a network of passages]

clue²

clue sb ↔ in phr. v. (informal) to give someone information about something: He clued me in on how the washing machine works.

clue-less /'kluːls/ adj. (disapproving) having no understanding or knowledge of something: Jason is clueless when it comes to women.

clump¹ /klʌmp/ n. [C] a group of trees or plants growing together clump² v. [I] to walk with slow noisy steps: I could hear Grandpa clumping around in the basement.

clum-sy /'klʌmzi/ adj. 1 moving in an awkward way and tending to knock things over: She was clumsy and shy.

THESAURUS

awkward – moving or behaving in a way that does not seem relaxed or comfortable: an awkward hug gawky – awkward in the way you move: a gawky teenager inelegant (formal) – not graceful or well done: She was sprawled in an inelegant pose.

klutzy (informal) – often dropping things or falling easily: I've always been a little klutzy.

2 a clumsy object is large, heavy, and difficult to use 3 if you say or do something in a clumsy way, you do it in a careless way, without considering other people's feelings: a clumsy attempt to apologize —clumsily adv. —clumsiness n. [U] clung /klʌŋ/ v. the past tense and past participle of CLING clunk /klʌŋk/ v. [I,T] to make the loud sound of two heavy objects hitting each other —clunk n. [C] clunk-er /'klʌŋkə/ n. [C] (informal) 1 an old car or other machine that does not work very well 2 something that is completely unsuccessful because people think it is bad or stupid clus-ter¹ /'klʌstə/ n. [C] a group of things that are close together: a cluster of grapes cluster² v. [I,T] to form a group of people or things: The tulips were clustered around the fence.

clutch¹ /klʌtʃ/ v. [T] to hold something tightly: Jamie stood there, clutching her purse.

THESAURUS hold, grip, catch/take/keep/get (a) hold of sth, grasp, clasp, grab (hold of sth)/seize → HOLD¹

→ be grasping/clutching at straws at STRAW

clutch² n. 1 [C] the part of a car that you press with your foot to change GEARS 2 sb's clutches if you are in someone's clutches, s/he controls you 3 in the clutch (informal) in an important or difficult situation clut-ter¹ /'klʌtə/ v. [T] to make something messy by covering or filling it with things: His desk is always cluttered with paper.

clutter² n. [U] a lot of things scattered in a messy way cm the written abbreviation of CENTIMETER

CNN n. Cable News Network an organization that broadcasts television news programs all over the world

CO the written abbreviation of COLORADO

Co. /koʊ/ 1 the written abbreviation of COMPANY: E.F. Hutton & Co. 2 the written abbreviation of COUNTY

c/o /,si 'oʊ/ the written abbreviation of in care of, used when you are sending a letter for someone to another person who will keep it for him/her: Send the letter to me c/o Anne Miller, 8 Brown St., Peoria, IL

C.O.D. adv. cash on delivery a system in which you pay for something when it is delivered: Send the equipment C.O.D.

coach¹ /kəʊtʃ/ n. 1 [C] someone who trains a person or team in a sport: a basketball/football, etc. coach

C

THESAURUS teacher, professor, lecturer, instructor → TEACHER

2 [U] the cheapest type of seats on an airplane or a train: We flew coach to Seattle. 3 [C] someone who gives private lessons in singing, acting, etc. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French coche, from German kutsche]

C

coach² v. [I,T] 1 to train a person or team in a sport: He coaches our tennis team. 2 to give someone private lessons in singing, acting, etc.

co-ag-u-late /kou'ægyə,leɪt/ v. [I,T] to change from a liquid into a thicker substance or a solid: Blood had coagulated around the wound. —coagulation /kou,ægyə'leɪʃən/ n. [U]

coal /kou/ n. 1 [U] EARTH SCIENCES a black mineral that is dug from the earth and is burned for heat: a lump of coal | coal miners 2 coals [plural] pieces of coal that are burning [ORIGIN: Old English col] → CHARCOAL, rake sb over the coals at RAKE²

co-a-lesce /,kouə'les/ v. [I] (formal) to combine or grow together to form one single group co-a-li-tion /,kouə'liʃən/ n. [C] a union of separate political parties or people for a special purpose, usually for a short time: a new coalition government in Japan | The two parties have decided to form a coalition.

coarse /kɔːs/ adj. 1 rough and thick, not smooth or fine: a coarse cloth 2 rude and offensive: coarse language —coarsely adv. —coarseness n. [U]

coast¹ /koust/ n. [C] 1 EARTH SCIENCES the land next to the ocean: the Pacific coast | the west coast of Mexico | an island off the coast (=in the water near the land) of California | a small beach house on the coast

THESAURUS shore, beach, seashore, bank → SHORE¹

2 the coast is clear (informal) if the coast is clear, it is safe for you to do something without being seen or caught: Let's leave now while the coast is clear! [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French coste, from Latin costa “rib, side”] —coastal adj.

coast² v. [I] 1 to continue to move forward in a car without using the engine, or on a bicycle without turning the PEDALS 2 to succeed without using any effort: Wilson coasted to victory in the election.

coast-er /'koustə/ n. [C] a small round object you put under a glass, bottle, etc. to protect a table

'coast guard n. the Coast Guard the military organization whose job is to watch for ships in danger and prevent illegal activity in the ocean coast-line /'koustlaɪn/ n. [C,U] EARTH SCIENCES the land on the edge of the coast: the California coastline → see picture on page A11 coat¹ /kout/ n. [C] 1 a piece of clothing that you wear over other clothes to keep you warm when you go outside: Put your coat on, it's cold outside! | He took off his coat and dropped it on the bed. → see picture at CLOTHES 2 a jacket that you wear as part of a suit 3 a thin layer of something that covers a surface: a coat of paint 4 an animal's fur: a dog with a black and brown coat 5 a light piece of clothing that a doctor, etc. wears over other clothes: a lab coat [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French cote] coat² v. [T] to cover a surface with a layer of something: The books were thickly coated with dust.

'coat hanger n. [C] a HANGER

coax /kouks/ v. [T] to persuade someone to do something by talking gently and kindly: See if you can coax him into giving us a ride home. | Firefighters coaxed the man down.

THESAURUS persuade, talk sb into sth, get sb to do sth, encourage sb to do sth, influence, convince, cajole, prevail on/upon sb → PERSUADE cob /kab/ n. [C] the long hard middle part of the corn plant: corn on the cob co-balt /'koubɔlt/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY (symbol Co) a shiny silver-white metal that is a chemical ELEMENT cob-ble /'kəbəl/ adj. covered with round flat stones: a cobbled street cob-ble /'kəblə/ n. 1 [C,U] cooked fruit covered with a sweet bread-like mixture: peach cobbler 2 [C] (old-fashioned) someone who makes or repairs shoes cob-ble-stone /'kəbəl,stoʊn/ n. [C] a small round stone set in the ground, especially in past times, to make a hard surface for a road co-bra /'koubɾə/ n. [C] an African or Asian poisonous snake [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Portuguese cobra (de capello) “snake with a hood,” from Latin colubra “snake”] cob-web /'kəbwɛb/ n. [C] a very fine structure of sticky threads made by a SPIDER

Co-ca-Co-la /,koukə 'koulə/ n. [C,U] (trade-mark) a sweet brown SOFT DRINK, or a glass of this drink (SYN) Coke

co-caine /kou'keɪn, 'kookeɪn/ n. [U] an illegal drug, usually in the form of a white powder

coch-le-a /'kɒkliə/ n. (plural cochleas or cochleae /-li-i/) [C] BIOLOGY a part of the inner ear that is shaped like a SPIRAL, and that has small hair-like cells that help you to hear cock¹ v. [T] 1 to raise or move part of your head or face: Jeremy cocked his head to one side and smiled. 2 to pull back the part of a gun that hits the back of a bullet, so that you are ready to shoot cock² /kək/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a ROOSTER cock-a-doo-dle-doo /ˌkɑk ə ˈduːdl ˈdu/ n. [C] the loud sound made by a ROOSTER cock-eyed /ˈkɑkɪd/ adj. (informal) 1 not sensible or practical: a cockeyed idea 2 not straight or level: His hat was on cockeyed.

cock-pit /ˈkɑk,pɪt/ n. [C] the part of an airplane or racing car where the pilot or driver sits → see picture at AIRPLANE cock-roach /ˈkɑk-rʊtʃ/ n. [C] a large insect that often lives where food is kept [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Spanish cucaracha, from cuca “caterpillar”] cock-tail /ˈkɑkteɪl/ n. [C] 1 an alcoholic drink made from a mixture of different drinks 2 a dish of small pieces of food, usually eaten at the start of a meal: a shrimp cocktail | fruit cocktail

'cocktail lounge n. [C] a public room in a hotel, restaurant, etc., where people can buy alcoholic drinks

'cocktail party n. [C] a formal party where alcoholic drinks are served cock-y /ˈkɑki/ adj. (informal) too confident, in a way which people do not like: Howitt was young and cocky. —cockiness n. [U] co-coa /ˈkʊkəʊ/ n. [U] 1 a dark brown powder that tastes like chocolate and is used in cooking 2 a hot chocolate drink: a cup of cocoa co-co-nut /ˈkʊkə,nʌt/ n. [C,U] a very large brown nut which is white inside and has liquid in the middle [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 coco “coconut” (16—18 centuries) (from Portuguese, “grinning face;” because the bottom of a coconut, with its three spots, looks like a face) + nut] → see picture on page 414

co-coon /kəˈkʊn/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY a silk cover that some insects make to protect themselves while they are growing 2 a place or situation in which you feel comfortable and safe: the comfortable cocoon of college life —cocoon v. [T] cod /kɑd/ n. (plural cod) [C,U] a large ocean fish that you can eat, or the meat from this fish co-da /ˈkəʊdə/ n. [C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS an additional part at the end of a piece of music, that is considered separate from the main piece 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS a separate piece of writing at the end of a work of literature or a speech code¹ /kəʊd/ [AC] n. 1 [C] a set of rules, laws, or principles that tells people how to behave: the company's employee code of conduct | The school has a dress code (=rules about what to wear). | Their religious beliefs are the basis for their strong moral code.

THESAURUS rule, law, regulation, restriction, guidelines, statute, precept → RULE¹

2 [C,U] a system of words, letters, or symbols used instead of ordinary writing to keep something secret: Important reports were sent in code. |

Agents spent years trying to break/crack the enemy's code. 3 [C] a set of numbers, letters, or symbols that give you information about something: Goods that you order must have a product code. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French, Latin codex “main part of a tree, piece of wood for writing on, book”] → AREA CODE, BAR CODE, ZIP CODE

code² v. [T] to put a message into code —coded adj.: He sent a coded message to CIA headquarters.

cod-i-fy /ˈkɑdə,fai, ˈkəʊ-/ v. (codified, codifies) [T] LAW to arrange laws, principles, facts, etc. in a system: The agreement must still be codified by federal legislation. —codification /ˌkɑdəfəˈkeɪʃən, ˈkəʊ-/ n. [C,U]

co-dom-i-nance /kəʊˈdɒmənəns/ n. [U] BIOL-OGY a situation in which both ALLELES (=pair of GENES) are present to an equal degree on a CHROMOSOME, and both have an equal influence on a person's or animal's physical appearance and the type of blood they have —codominant adj.

co-ed /kəʊ ˈed/ adj. using a system in which students of both sexes study or live together: co-ed dormitories co-ef-fi-cient /ˌkəʊəˈfɪʃənt/ n. [C] MATH the number that does not change in a mathematical expression that has a VARIABLE: In 8x, the coefficient of x is 8.

co-en-zyme /kəʊˈenzaim/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a substance, often a VITAMIN or a mineral, that forms part of an ENZYME, and that must combine with a PROTEIN to make the enzyme work co-erce /kəʊˈɜːs/ v. [T] (formal) to force someone to do something by threatening him/her: The women were coerced into hiding the drugs. —coercion /kəʊˈɜːʃən, -ʒən/ n. [U]: torture and other extreme forms of coercion

THESAURUS force, make, compel, impel, pressure → FORCE²

co-ex-ist /ˌkəʊɪgˈzɪst/ v. [I] to exist together: Can the two countries coexist after the war? —coexistence n. [U]

cof-fee /ˈkɒfi, ˈkɑ-/ n. 1 [U] a hot dark brown drink that has a slightly bitter taste: a cup of coffee 2 [C] a cup of this drink: Two black coffees (=coffee with no milk added), please. 3 [U] whole coffee beans, crushed coffee beans, or a powder from which you make coffee: a pound of coffee | instant coffee (=powdered coffee) [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Italian caffè, from Turkish kahve, from Arabic qahwa]

'coffee cake n. [C,U] a sweet heavy cake, usually eaten along with coffee

'coffee house n. [C] a small restaurant where people go to talk and drink coffee

'coffee ma-chine n. [C] a machine that gives you a cup of coffee, tea, etc. when you put money in it cof-fee-mak-er /ˈkɒfi,meɪkə, ˈkɑ-/ n. [C] an electric machine that makes a pot of coffee

'coffee shop n. [C] a small restaurant that serves cheap meals

'coffee table n. [C] a low table in a LIVING ROOM

cof-fers /'kɒfəz, 'kɑ-/ n. [plural] the money that an organization has: The tax would add an estimated $500,000 to the city's coffers.

cof-fin /'kɒfɪn/ n. [C] the box in which a dead person is buried [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French cophin, from Latin cophinus “basket”] cog /kɑg/ n. [C] 1 a wheel in a machine, with small parts on its edge that fit together with the parts of another wheel as they turn 2 a cog in the machine/wheel an unimportant worker in a large organization co-gent /'koudʒənt/ adj. (formal) if a reason, argument, etc. is cogent, it seems reasonable and correct co-gnac /'kɒnyæk, 'kɒn-, 'kɒn-/ n. [C,U] a type of BRANDY (=strong alcoholic drink) from France, or a glass of this drink cog-ni-zant /'kɒgnəzənt/ adj. (formal) cognizant of sth having knowledge or information about something: The social worker was cognizant of the fact that the boy's father was abusive.

co-hab-it /,kɒu'hæbɪt/ v. [I] (formal) to live as husband and wife, without being married —cohabitation /kɒu,hæbə'teɪʃən/ n. [U] co-her-ence /kɒu'hɪərəns/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS the quality of having ideas or parts that relate to each other in a way that is clear, reasonable, and easy to understand, especially in a piece of writing: Writing down your central idea will help give your arguments coherence. 2 the quality that a group has when its members are connected or united because they share common aims, qualities, or beliefs co-her-ent /kɒu'hɪərənt/ (Ac) adj. clear and easy to understand (ANT) incoherent: He was slightly drunk, and not very coherent. | The article makes a coherent argument in favor of economic change. | Your manager should set coherent objectives. —coherently adv.

co-he-sion /kɒu'hɪʒən/ n. [U] 1 the ability to fit together or stay together well: social cohesion 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS the way in which different parts of sentences or different parts of larger pieces of writing are connected, based on grammar or meaning 3 PHYSICS a physical force that holds together MOLECULES in a solid or liquid substance coil¹ /kɔɪl/ also coil up v. [I,T] to wind or twist into a round shape, or to make something do this: Dad coiled up the hose. | The snake coiled around the branch.

coil² n. [C] a piece of wire or rope that has been wound into a circular shape coin¹ /kɔɪn/ n. [C] 1 a round piece of money made of metal → BILL: Uncle Henry collects foreign coins.

THESAURUS money, bill, penny, nickel, dime, quarter, cash, change, currency → MONEY

2 toss/flip a coin to choose or decide something by throwing a coin into the air and guessing which side will show when it falls 3 the other side of the coin a different fact or way of thinking about something [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French “three-sided piece, corner,” from Latin cuneus “wedge”] coin² v. [T] to invent a new word or phrase that many people start to use: Who coined the word “cyberpunk”?

coin-age /'kɔɪnɪdʒ/ n. 1 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a word or phrase that has been recently invented 2 [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the use or making of new words or phrases 3 [U] the system of money used in a country co-in-cide /,kɔɪn'saɪd/ (Ac) v. [I] to happen at the same time as something else: Their wedding anniversary coincides with Thanksgiving.

co-in-ci-dence /kɒu'ɪnsədəns/ (Ac) n. [C,U] a situation in which two things happen together by chance, in a surprising way: By coincidence, my husband and my father went to the same high school. | It's no coincidence that veterans are more likely to smoke than other people. | By sheer/pure coincidence, he was seated next to his ex-wife. —coincidental /kɒu'ɪnsə'dentl/ adj.: The link between the two events could be merely coincidental. —coincidentally adv.

coke /kɒk/ n. 1 Coke [C,U] (trademark) the drink COCA-COLA, or a bottle, can, or glass of this drink 2 [U] (informal) COCAINE co-la /'kɒlə/ n. [C,U] a sweet brown SOFT DRINK, or a bottle, can, or glass of this drink

col-an-der /'kɒləndə, 'kʌ-/ n. [C] a metal or plastic bowl with a lot of small holes in the bottom and sides, used for separating liquid from food cold¹ /kəʊld/ adj. 1 having a low temperature: a cold winter morning | It was freezing cold (=very cold) in the car. | Let's go inside – I'm cold. | bitterly cold weather | Your coffee's getting cold (=becoming cold). → ICE-COLD

THESAURUS

cool – cold in a pleasant way, especially after it has been hot: It's very hot during the day, but cooler at night.

chilly – cold, but not very cold: a chilly fall day frosty – very cold, with the ground covered in frost (=ice that is white and powdery): a bright frosty morning freezing (cold) – extremely cold, so that water outside becomes ice: It was freezing cold last night.

icy (cold) – extremely cold: an icy wind bitter (cold) – very cold in a way that feels very unpleasant: The bitter wind seemed to go right through us.

frigid (formal) – very cold: I stepped out into the frigid darkness of a December night. → HOT¹, WEATHER¹

2 cold food has been cooked, but is not eaten while it is warm: cold chicken 3 without friendly feelings: a polite but cold greeting

THESAURUS matter-of-fact, detached, impassive, dispassionate → MATTER-OF-FACT

4 leave sb cold (informal) to not interest someone at all: Ballet just leaves me cold. 5 get/have cold feet (informal) to suddenly feel that you are not brave enough to do something: She was getting cold feet about getting married. 6 cold snap a sudden short period of very cold weather 7 give sb the cold shoulder to deliberately ignore someone or be unfriendly to him/her 8 in cold blood in a cruel and deliberate way: They shot him in cold blood. [ORIGIN: Old English ceald, cald] —coldness n. [U]

cold² n. 1 [C] a common illness that makes it difficult to breathe through your nose: You sound like you have a cold. | Did you catch a cold? (=get a cold)? 2 the cold a low temperature or cold weather: Don't go out in the cold without your coat.

cold³ adv. 1 suddenly and completely: In the middle of his speech, he stopped cold. 2 out cold (informal) unconscious, especially because of being hit on the head cold-blooded adj. 1 cruel and showing no feelings: a cold-blooded killer 2 BIOLOGY a cold-blooded animal, such as a snake, has a body temperature that changes with the air or ground around it → WARM-BLOODED

'cold cuts n. [plural] thin pieces of different kinds of cooked meat eaten cold cold-hearted adj. without sympathy or pity: a cold-hearted man cold-ly /'kəʊldli/ adv. in an unfriendly way: "I'm busy," said Sarah coldly.

'cold sore n. [C] a painful spot on the inside or outside of your mouth that you sometimes get when you are sick cold 'turkey n. go cold turkey (informal) to suddenly stop taking a drug that you are ADDICTED to, and to feel sick because of this: The only way to quit smoking is to go cold turkey.

cold 'war n. [C] 1 POLITICS an unfriendly political relationship between two countries that do not actually fight with each other 2 the Cold War HISTORY this type of relationship between the U.S. and the Soviet Union, after World War II blue slaw /'kəʊl sləʊ/ n. [U] a SALAD made with thinly cut raw CABBAGE and CARROTS

col-ic /'kɒlɪk/ n. [U] pain in the stomach that babies often get

col-lab-o-rate /kə'læbə'reɪt/ v. [I] 1 to work together with another person or group in order to achieve or produce something: The author and illustrator wanted to collaborate on a book for children. 2 to help a country that your country is at war with: He was accused of collaborating with the Nazis. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Late Latin, past participle of collaborare, from Latin com "with" + laborare "to work"] —collaborator n. [C]

col-lab-o-ra-tion /kə'læbə'reɪʃən/ n. [U] 1 the act of working with another person or group in order to achieve or produce something: Our departments worked in close collaboration on the project. | The project has involved collaboration with the geography department. 2 the act of helping an enemy during a war

col-lab-o-ra-tive /kə'læbrətɪv/ adj. collaborative project/effort/work etc. a project, effort, etc. that involves two or more people working together to achieve something col-lage /kə'lɑːʒ, kəʊ-/ n. 1 [C] a picture made by sticking pictures, photographs, cloth, etc. onto a surface 2 [U] the art of making pictures in this way

col-lapse¹ /kə'læps/ (Ac) v. [I] 1 to fall down or inward suddenly: Many buildings collapsed during the earthquake. 2 to suddenly fall down or become unconscious because you are sick or very weak: He looked like he was going to collapse. 3 to fail suddenly and completely: We sold the property just before the real estate market collapsed. [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Latin collapsus, past participle of collabi, from com- + labi "to fall, slide"]

collapse² n. 1 [singular, U] a sudden failure in the way something works, so that it cannot continue: the collapse of communism in Eastern Europe | The industry faces economic collapse. 2 [U] the act of falling down or inward: Floods caused the collapse of the bridge. 3 [singular, U] an occasion when someone falls down or becomes unconscious because of a sickness

col-laps-i-ble /kə'læpsəbəl/ (Ac) adj. something that is collapsible can be folded up into a smaller size: collapsible chairs

col-lar¹ /'kɒlə-/ n. [C] 1 the part of a shirt, coat, dress, etc. that fits around your neck 2 open-collared/fur-collared etc. having a particular type of collar: a white-collared shirt 3 a narrow band of leather or plastic put around the neck of a dog or cat [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French coler, from Latin collare, from collum "neck"] collar² v. [T] (informal) to catch and hold someone: Two policemen collared the suspect near the scene.

col-lar-bone /'kɒlə,bəʊn/ n. [C] one of a pair of bones that go from the base of your neck to your shoulders → see picture on page A3

col-late /kə'leɪt, kə-, 'kəʊleɪt, 'kə-/ v. [T] 1 to arrange things such as papers in the right order 2 to gather information together in order to examine it and compare it: The system allows us to collate data from all over the country.

col-lat-er-al /kə'lætərəl/ n. [U] ECONOMICS property or other goods that you promise to give to someone if you cannot pay back a debt: They put up their house as collateral in order to raise the money.

col-league /'kɒlɪg/ (Ac) n. [C] someone you work with, especially in a profession: The research was carried out by Dr. Francis and her colleagues at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French collègue, from Latin collega, from com “with” + legare “to choose for a particular job”]

col-lect¹ /kə'lekt/ v. 1 [T] to get things and bring them together: I'll collect everyone's tests at the end of class. 2 [T] to get and keep objects of the same type because you think they are attractive or interesting: She collects stamps.

THESAURUS keep, store, save, reserve, file, hoard → KEEP¹

3 [I,T] to get money from people: We're collecting for charity. | The landlord was at the door, trying to collect the rent. 4 [I] to come or gather together: Dust had collected in the corners of the room. 5 collect yourself/collect your thoughts to make yourself calmer and able to think more clearly: I had a few minutes to collect my thoughts before the meeting began. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of colligere, from com “together” + legere “to gather”] collect² adj., adv. 1 call sb collect if you call someone collect, the person who gets the telephone call pays for it 2 collect call a telephone call that is paid for by the person who gets it col-lect-ed /kə'lektɪd/ adj. 1 collected works/poems/stories etc. all of the poems, stories, etc. of a particular writer included together in one book: the collected works of Emily Dickinson 2 in control of yourself and your thoughts, feelings, etc.: Jason seemed calm and collected.

col-lect-i-ble /kə'lektəbəl/ n. [C] an object that you keep as part of a group of similar things: a store that sells antiques and collectibles

col-lec-tion /kə'leɪʃən/ n. 1 [C] a set of similar things that you keep or put together: a coin collection | a collection of toy soldiers

THESAURUS

set – a complete group of similar things that belong together or are related in some way: a set of keys to the building batch – a group of things that are made or dealt with at the same time: a fresh batch of pancakes anthology – a collection of stories, poems, or songs: an anthology of poems for children

2 [U] the act of bringing together things of the same type from different places: different methods of data collection 3 [C] several stories, poems, pieces of music, etc. that are put together: a collection of fairy tales 4 [C,U] the act of taking something away from a place: Garbage collection is on Fridays. 5 [C,U] the act of asking people for money: tax collection | We're planning to have a collection for UNICEF

col-lec-tive¹ /kə'lektɪv/ adj. [only before noun] shared or done by all the members of a group together: We had made a collective decision. | collective farms → collectively adv.

collective² n. [C] a business or farm that is owned and operated by a group of workers who share the profits equally collective bargaining n. [U] discussions between employers and unions about pay, working conditions, etc.

collective noun n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a noun such as “family” or “committee,” that is the name of a group of people or things → COMMON NOUN, PROPER NOUN

col-lec-tor /kə'lektə/ n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to collect taxes, tickets, debts, etc.: a tax collector 2 someone who collects things that are interesting or attractive: a stamp collector

col-lege /'kɒlɪdʒ/ n. 1 [C,U] a large school where you can study after high school → UNIVERSITY: My oldest son is in college (=is a student at a college). | I'm planning to go to college. 2 [C] the part of a university that teaches a particular subject: the College of Engineering [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French, Latin collegium “society”]

GRAMMAR

Do not use “a” or “the” before college when you are talking about the time when someone is studying there: They met when they were in college.

→ UNIVERSITY

col-le-giate /kə'lidʒət/ adj. relating to college or a college: collegiate sports

col-lide /kə'laɪd/ v. [I] to crash violently into something or someone: His car collided with a bus.

THESAURUS hit, bump, bang, strike → HIT¹

col-lin-e-ar points /kə,lɪniə 'pɔɪnts/ n. [plural] MATH two or more points that lie on the same straight line

col-li-sion /kə'lɪʒən/ n. 1 [C,U] a violent crash in which one vehicle hits another: a midair collision (=one involving two planes)

THESAURUS accident, crash, wreck, pile-up, disaster, catastrophe, mishap → ACCIDENT

2 be on a collision course to be likely to have trouble because your aims are very different from someone else's: The two nations are on a collision course that could lead to war.

col-loid /'kɒləɪd/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY a mixture of substances in which small amounts of one substance are SUSPENDED (=floating) in the other substance col-lo-qui-al /kə'lɒkwɪəl/ adj. colloquial language is the kind of language that is used in informal conversations: colloquial expressions —colloquially adv. —colloquialism n. [C]

col-lu-sion /kə'lʊʒən/ n. [U] (formal) the act of agreeing secretly with someone else to do something dishonest or illegal —collude /kə'lud/ v. [I]: The companies colluded to keep prices high.

col-logne /kə'lɒn/ n. [U] a liquid with a pleasant smell, which you put on your skin col-lon /'kɒlən/ n. [C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS the mark (:) used in writing to introduce a list, examples, etc. 2 BIOLOGY the lower part of the INTESTINES, in which food is changed into waste matter → see picture at ORGAN colo-nel /'kɒnl/ n. [C] a high rank in the Army, Air Force, or Marines, or an officer who has this rank col-lo-ni-al /kə'lɒniəl/ adj. 1 relating to the control of countries by a more powerful distant country: the end of colonial rule in India 2 also Colonial relating to the time when the U.S. was a colony of England: a Colonial-style brick house

col-lo-ni-al-ism /kə'lɒniəlɪzəm/ n. [U] POLITICS the principle or practice in which a powerful country rules a weaker one and establishes its own trade and society there col-o-nize /'kɒlənaɪz/ v. [I,T] to control a country or area and send your own people to live there: Argentina was colonized by Spain. —colonist n. [C] —colonization /,kɒlənə'zeɪʃən/ n. [U]

col-o-ny /'kɒləni/ n. (plural colonies) [C] 1 a country or area that is ruled by a more powerful country, usually one that is far away: Massachusetts was one of the original British colonies in America. 2 a group of people with the same interests who live together: an artists' colony 3 a group of the same kind of animals living together [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French colonie, from Latin colonia, from colonus “farmer, someone who develops a new place”]

col-or /'kɒlə/ n. 1 [C] red, blue, yellow, etc.: “What color is your new car?” “Blue.” ▶ Don't say “What color does your new car have?” ◀ | the color of his eyes | I love wearing bright colors. | The leaves were pale green in color. 2 [U] the quality of having colors: Flowers can add color to a patio or backyard. 3 [C,U] a substance such as paint or DYE, that makes something red, blue, etc.: He mixed the colors with his paintbrush. 4 [C,U] how dark or light someone's skin is, which shows which race s/he belongs to: They are trying to bring together people of all colors and religions. | The awards will be given without discrimination based on color, religion, or sex. 5 people/men/women etc. of color people who are not white: We need to get more women and people of color into elected office. 6 [U] showing all the different colors such as red, green, and blue rather than just black and white (ANT) black and white: The book includes 200 color photographs/pictures. | “The Wizard of Oz” was the first film shot in color. 7 [U] if you have some color in your face, your face is pink or red, usually because you are healthy or embarrassed: He felt the color rise to his face.

color² v. 1 [T] to give color to something: Do you color your hair? 2 [I,T] to put color onto a drawing or picture, or to draw a picture using colored pencils or pens: Give Grandma the picture you colored, Jenny. 3 color sb's judgment/opinions/attitudes etc. to influence the way that someone thinks about something, especially so that s/he becomes less fair or reasonable: Personal feelings colored his judgment.

col-or-blind /'kɒləˌblaɪnd/ adj. 1 not able to see the difference between particular colors 2 treating all races of people fairly: In this court, justice is colorblind.

color-co-ordinated adj. clothes or decorations that are color-coordinated have colors that look good together

col-ored /'kɒləd/ adj. 1 having a color such as red, blue, yellow, etc. rather than being black, white, or plain: brightly colored tropical birds 2 (old-fashioned) a word used for describing a person who has dark or black skin, now considered offensive col-or-fast /'kɒləˌfæst/ adj. colorfast clothing has a color that will not become lighter when you wash or wear it col-or-ful /'kɒləfəl/ adj. 1 having a lot of bright colors: a colorful stained-glass window 2 interesting and full of variety: a colorful career —colorfully adv.

col-or-ing /'kɒləɪŋ/ n. 1 [U] the color of something, especially someone's hair, skin, eyes, etc.: Mandy had her mother's dark coloring. 2 [C,U] a substance used for giving a particular color to something, especially food: They had added yellow food coloring to the rice.

'coloring book n. [C] a book full of pictures that are drawn without color so that a child can color them in col-or-less /'kɒləˌlɪs/ adj. 1 not having any color: a colorless gas 2 not interesting or exciting co-los-sal /kə'lɒsəl/ adj. very large: They've run up colossal debts.

THESAURUS big, large, substantial, sizable, prodigious, huge, enormous, vast, gigantic, massive, immense → BIG co-los-sus /kə'lɒsəs/ n. [C usually singular] someone or something that is very large or very important colt /kəʊlt/ n. [C] a young male horse

C

col-umn /'kɒləm/ n. [C] 1 a tall solid round upright stone post used to support a building or as a decoration 2 an article by a particular writer that appears regularly in a newspaper or magazine: an advice column → NEWSPAPER 3 something with a long narrow shape: a column of smoke 4 one of two or more areas of print that go down the page of a newspaper or book and that are separated from each other by a narrow space: Let's look at the second column of table 8.5. 5 a long moving line of people, vehicles, etc.: A column of soldiers marched through the streets.

col-um-nist /'kɒləmnɪst, 'kɒləmɪst/ n. [C] someone who regularly writes an article for a newspaper or magazine: a sports columnist → NEWSPAPER

com /kəm/ IT commercial organization – used in Internet addresses co-ma /'kəʊmə/ n. [C] a state in which someone is not conscious for a long time, usually after an accident or illness: Ben was in a coma for six days. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Modern Latin, Greek koma “deep sleep”] co-ma-tose /'kəʊmə,təʊs, 'kɑ-/ adj. in a coma comb¹ /kəʊm/ n. [C] a flat piece of plastic or metal with a row of thin parts like teeth on one side that you use to make your hair neat → BRUSH comb² v. [T] 1 to make your hair neat with a comb: Go comb your hair. 2 to search a place thoroughly: Police combed the woods for the missing boy.

com-bat¹ /'kəmbæt/ n. [U] fighting during a war: Her husband was killed in combat. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French combattre, from Latin com “together” + battuere “to hit”] — combat adj.

THESAURUS war, warfare, fighting, conflict, action, hostilities → WAR

com-bat² /kəm'bæt, 'kəmbæt/ v. [T] to try to stop something bad from happening or getting worse: efforts to combat terrorism

com-bat-ant /kəm'bætənt/ n. [C] someone who fights in a war

com-ba-tive /kəm'bætɪv/ adj. ready to fight or argue: Paul was in a combative mood.

com-bi-na-tion /kəmbə'neɪʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] two or more different things, substances, etc. that are used or put together: A combination of factors led to the decision. | The medication should be taken in combination with vitamin C.

THESAURUS mixture, blend, compound, solution → MIXTURE

2 [C] a series of numbers or letters you need to open a combination lock: I forgot the combination on my lock.

combi'nation lock n. [C] a lock that is opened by using a special series of numbers or letters

com-bine¹ /kəm'baɪn/ v. 1 [I,T] to be joined together with another thing, or to join two or more things together: The two chemicals combine to form a powerful explosive. | The heat, combined with the loud music, was beginning to make her feel sick.

THESAURUS mix, stir, blend, beat → MIX¹

2 [T] to do two different activities at the same time: It's hard to combine family life with a career. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French combiner, from Late Latin combinare, from Latin com “together” + bini “two by two”]

com-bine² /'kəmbaɪn/ n. [C] 1 also combine harvester a large machine used on a farm to cut a crop and separate the grain at the same time 2 a group of people, businesses, etc. that work together

com-bo /'kəmbəʊ/ n. (plural combos) [C] (informal) 1 a small group of musicians who play dance music: a jazz combo 2 a combination of things, especially food at a restaurant: I'll have the fish combo and a Coke.

com-bus-ti-ble /kəm'bʌstəbəl/ adj. able to catch fire and burn easily: Gasoline is highly combustible. — combustible n. [C]

com-bus-tion /kəm'bʌstʃən/ n. [U] the process of burning com'bustion reaction n. [C,U] CHEMISTRY a chemical change that happens when a substance reacts with oxygen to produce energy in the form of heat and light come /kʌm/ v. (past tense came /keɪm/, past participle come) [I]

1 MOVE TOWARD SB/STH to move toward you or arrive at the place where you are → GO: Come here right now! | A young woman came into the room. | There were no cars coming the opposite way. | What time will you be coming home?

THESAURUS arrive, get to, reach, turn up, show up, get in, come in, land → ARRIVE

2 GO WITH SB if someone comes with you, s/he goes to a place with you: I asked Rosie if she'd like to come with us. | Do you want to come along?

3 TRAVEL TO A PLACE to travel to or reach a place: He had come a long way to see us. | Will you be coming by bus?

4 MAIL if a letter, etc. comes, it is delivered to you in the mail: The phone bill hasn't come yet.

5 HAPPEN if a time or event comes, it arrives or starts to happen: Spring came early that year.

6 LIST/COMPETITION ETC. to have a particular position in the order of something: Jason came first/last in the 10-mile race. | P comes before Q in the alphabet.

7 come open/loose/undone etc. to become open, loose, etc.: The buttons had come undone.

8 BE PRODUCED/SOLD to be produced or sold with particular features: This shoe doesn't come in size 11.

9 come as a surprise/relief/shock etc. (to sb) to make someone feel surprised, RELIEVED, etc.: His decision to retire came as a surprise.

10 sb/sth has come a long way to have made a lot of progress: Computer technology has come a long way since the 1970s

11 REACH A LENGTH/HEIGHT to reach a particular height or length: The grass came up to our knees.

THESAURUS reach, go → REACH¹

12 come naturally/easily (to sb) to be easy for someone to do: Acting came naturally to Rae.

13 in the years/days to come in the future: I think you might regret this decision in the years to come.

14 come of age a) to reach the age, usually 18 or 21, when you are legally considered to be an adult b) to develop into a successful form, or to reach the time when this happens: The sport has finally come of age.

15 come and go to be allowed to go into and leave a place whenever you want

SPOKEN PHRASES

16 how come? used in order to ask someone why something happened or is true: "She's moving to Alaska." "How come?" | So, how come we haven't met your boyfriend yet?

17 here comes sb said when someone is about to arrive at the place where you are: Here comes Karen now.

18 come to think of it said when you have just realized or remembered something: Come to think of it, Cooper did mention it to me.

19 take sth as it comes to accept something as it happens, without trying to plan for it or change it: I'm not going to worry about it. I'll just take each day as it comes.

20 have it coming to deserve to be punished or to have something bad happen to you: I don't feel sorry for Brad – he had it coming.

[ORIGIN: Old English cuman]

come about phr. v.

to happen or develop: How did this change come about?

come across phr. v.

1 come across sb/sth to meet, find, or discover someone or something by chance: I came across this photograph among some old newspapers.

2 if someone comes across in a particular way, s/he seems to have certain qualities: She comes across as a really happy person.

come along phr. v.

1 to appear or arrive: Jobs like this don't come along very often!

2 to develop or improve: Terry's work has really come along this year.

come apart phr. v.

1 to split or separate easily into pieces: The book just came apart in my hands.

2 to begin to fail: Their marriage was coming apart.

come around phr. v.

1 to visit someone: What's a good time to come around and drop off his present?

2 if someone comes around, s/he decides to agree with you after disagreeing with you: I know he'll come around.

3 if a regular event comes around, it happens as usual: I can't believe his birthday is coming around already.

come at sb phr. v.

to move toward someone in a threatening way: She came at him with a knife.

come away phr. v.

to leave a place with a particular feeling or idea: I came away with a good impression.

come back phr. v.

1 to return from a place: When is your sister coming back from Europe?

2 come back to sb to be remembered, especially suddenly: Then, everything Williams had said came back to me.

3 to become fashionable or popular again: The styles of the seventies are coming back. → COMEBACK come between sb/sth phr. v.

1 to cause trouble between two or more people: Don't let money come between you and David.

2 to prevent someone from giving enough attention to something: She never let anything come between her and her work.

come by phr. v.

1 come by (sth) to visit someone for a short time before going somewhere else: I'll come by later to pick up Katrina.

2 come by sth to get something that is difficult to get: Good jobs are hard to come by right now.

come down phr. v.

1 a) to become lower in price, level, etc.: Wait until interest rates come down before you buy a house. b) to offer or accept a lower price: They refused to come down on the price.

2 to fall to the ground: A lot of trees came down in the storm.

3 if someone comes down to a place, s/he travels south to the place where you are: Why don't you come down for the weekend sometime?

come down on sb/sth phr. v.

1 to punish someone severely: The school came down hard on the students who were caught drinking.

2 come down on the side of sth to decide to support something or someone: The court came down on the side of the boy's father.

C

come down to sth phr. v.

if a difficult or confusing situation comes down to something, that is the single most important thing: It all comes down to money in the end.

come down with sth phr. v.

to get an illness: I think I'm coming down with the flu.

C

come forward phr. v.

to offer to help: Several witnesses have come forward with information.

come from sth phr. v.

1 to have been born in a particular place: "Where do you come from?" "Texas."

2 to have first existed, been made, or produced in a particular place, thing, or time: A lot of medicines come from quite common plants. | The lines she read come from a Rilke poem.

3 if a sound comes from a place, it begins there: I heard a weird sound coming from the closet.

come in phr. v.

1 to enter a room or house: Come in and sit down.

2 to arrive or be received: Reports were coming in of an earthquake in Mexico.

3 come in first/second etc. to finish first, second, etc. in a race or competition

4 to be involved in a plan, deal, etc.: I need somebody to help, and that's where you come in.

5 come in useful/handy to be useful: Bring the rope – it might come in handy.

6 when the TIDE comes in, it moves toward the land (ANT) go out come in for sth phr. v.

come in for criticism/blame to be criticized or blamed: After the riots, the police came in for a lot of criticism.

come into sth phr. v.

1 to begin to be in a particular state or position: As we turned the corner, the town came into view. | The new law comes into effect tomorrow.

2 to be involved in something or to influence it: Where do I come into all this?

3 come into money to receive money because someone has died and given it to you come of sth phr. v.

to result from something: What good can come of getting so angry?

come off phr. v.

1 come off sth to no longer be on something, connected to it, or fastened to it: A button had come off my coat.

2 to seem like you have a particular attitude or quality because of something you say or do: She came off as a phony.

3 to happen in a particular way: The wedding came off as planned.

4 come off it! (spoken) said when you think someone is being stupid or unreasonable come on phr. v.

1 if a light or machine comes on, it starts working: The lights suddenly came on in the theater.

2 if a television or radio program comes on, it starts: What time does the show come on?

3 if an illness comes on, you start to have it: I can feel a headache coming on.

4 come on! (spoken) a) used in order to tell someone to hurry, or to come with you b) said in order to encourage someone to do something: Come on! It's not that hard! c) used in order to tell someone that you know that what s/he said was not true or right: Oh, come on! Don't lie to me!

come out phr. v.

1 to become known, especially after being hidden: The truth will come out eventually.

2 if something you say comes out in a particular way, you say it in that way, or it is understood by someone in that way: When I try to explain, it comes out all wrong, and she gets mad.

3 to say something publicly or directly: Senator Peters has come out against abortion. | Why don't you just come out and say what you think?

4 if a book, movie, etc. comes out, it is available for people to buy or see

5 if dirt or a mark comes out of cloth, it can be washed out

6 come out well/badly/ahead etc. to finish an action or process in a particular way: I can never get cakes to come out right.

7 if a photograph comes out, it looks the way it is supposed to: Some of our wedding photos didn't come out.

8 when the Sun, moon, or stars come out, they appear in the sky come out with sth phr. v.

if a company comes out with a new product, it makes it available to be bought: Ford has come out with a new sports truck.

come over phr. v.

1 to visit someone at his/her house: Do you want to come over on Friday night?

2 to move to the country where you are now, especially from across an ocean: Her dad came over from Italy in the 1960s.

3 come over sb if a feeling comes over someone, s/he begins to feel it: A wave of sleepiness came over her.

come through phr. v.

1 come through sth to continue to live, exist, be strong, or succeed after a difficult or dangerous time (SYN) survive: Bill came through the operation all right.

2 to be made official, especially by having the correct documents officially approved: She's still waiting for her visa to come through.

come to phr. v.

1 come to do sth to begin to have a feeling or opinion: She had come to think of New York as her home.

2 come to sb if an idea or memory comes to you, you suddenly realize or remember it: Later that afternoon, the answer came to him.

3 come to $20/$3 etc. to add up to a total of $20, $3, etc.: That comes to $24.67, ma'am.

4 when it comes to sth relating to a particular subject: She's hopeless when it comes to money.

5 to become conscious again after having been unconscious: When I came to, I was lying on the grass.

come under sth phr. v.

1 come under attack/fire/pressure etc. to be attacked, criticized, threatened, etc.: The president has come under fire from Democrats in Congress.

2 to be controlled or influenced by something such as a set of rules: All doctors come under the same rules of professional conduct.

come up phr. v.

1 if someone comes up to you, s/he comes close to you, especially in order to speak to you

2 if someone comes up to a place, s/he travels north to the place where you are: Why don't you come up to Chicago for the weekend?

3 to be mentioned or suggested: The subject didn't come up at the meeting.

4 be coming up to be happening soon: Isn't your anniversary coming up?

5 when the Sun or moon comes up, it appears in the sky and starts to rise

6 if something, especially a problem, comes up, it suddenly happens: Something's come up, so I won't be able to go with you Thursday.

come up against sb/sth phr. v.

to have to deal with difficult people or problems: He came up against fierce resistance.

come upon sb/sth phr. v. (literary) to find or discover something by chance come up with sth phr. v.

1 to think of an idea, plan, reply, etc.: They still haven't come up with a name for the baby.

2 to be able to produce a particular amount of money: I'll never be able to come up with $2,000.

come-back /'kʌmbæk/ n. 1 make a come-back to become popular or successful again: Every few years, short skirts make a comeback. 2 [C] a quick reply that is smart or funny: I can never think of a good comeback when I need one.

co-me-di-an /kə'miðiən/ n. [C] someone whose job is to tell jokes and make people laugh [SYN] comic: a stand-up comedian

com-e-dy /'kʌmədi/ n. (plural comedies)

1 [C,U] a funny movie, play, television program, etc. that makes people laugh, or this type of entertainment: a TV comedy | stand-up comedy → MOVIE 2 [U] the quality in something, such as a book or movie, that makes you laugh [SYN] humor [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French comédie, from Latin, from Greek komoidia, from komos “having fun, partying” + aeidein “to sing”]

'come-on n. [C] (informal) something that someone does to try to make someone else sexually interested in him/her: Rick seems to think every smile is a come-on.

com-et /'kʌmɪt/ n. [C] PHYSICS an object in the sky like a very bright ball with a tail, that moves through SPACE (=the area beyond the Earth where the stars are) → SPACE¹ [ORIGIN: 1100—1200

Latin cometa, from Greek kometes “long-haired, comet;” because of its long tail] come-up-pance /kʌm'ʌpəns/ n. [singular] (informal) a punishment or something bad that happens to you, that you deserve: the story of a crook who finally gets his comeuppance

com-fort¹ /'kʌmfət/ n. 1 [U] a feeling of being physically relaxed and satisfied, so that nothing is hurting you, making you feel too hot or cold, etc.

[ANT] discomfort: the air-conditioned comfort of his car | We slept there in comfort until the dawn appeared. 2 [U] if someone or something gives you comfort, he, she, or it makes you feel happier when you are upset or worried: I took comfort from the fact that I had done my best. | She turned to her church for comfort. 3 (be) a comfort to sb to help someone feel happier or less worried: Her children were a great comfort to her. 4 [U] a way of living in which you have everything you need to be happy: They had enough money to live in comfort. 5 comforts [plural] all the things that make your life easier and more comfortable: The beach cabin has all the comforts of home. [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French conforter, from Late Latin confortare “to strengthen”] → too close for comfort at CLOSE²

comfort² v. [T] to make someone feel less worried or unhappy, for example by saying kind things to him/her —comforting adj. —comfortingly adv.

com-fort-a-ble /'kʌmfətəbəl, 'kʌmfərtəbəl/ adj. 1 something that is comfortable makes you feel physically relaxed: Remember to wear comfortable shoes. | a comfortable chair/bed/sofa 2 if you are comfortable, you feel physically relaxed: Come in and make yourself comfortable. 3 not worried about what someone will do or about what will happen: I feel very comfortable with him. 4 having enough money to live on without worrying: We're not rich, but we are comfortable. —comfortably adv.

com-fort-er /'kʌmfətə/ n. [C] a thick cover for a bed → see picture at BED¹

com-fy /'kʌmfi/ adj. (spoken) comfortable

com-ic¹ /'kʌmɪk/ adj. funny or amusing: a comic actress | At least Marlene was there to give us comic relief (=make us laugh in a serious situation).

comic² n. [C] 1 a COMEDIAN 2 a COMIC BOOK 3 the comics [plural] the part of a newspaper that has COMIC STRIPS

com-i-cal /'kʌmɪkəl/ adj. funny, especially in a strange or unexpected way —comically adv.

THESAURUS funny, hilarious, hysterical, witty, amusing, humorous → FUNNY¹

'comic book n. [C] a magazine that tells a story using pictures that are drawn like comic strips

'comic strip n. [C] a series of pictures that are drawn inside boxes and tell a story

com-ing¹ /'kʌmɪŋ/ n. 1 the coming of sb/sth the time when something or someone arrives or begins: With the coming of the railroad, the town changed considerably. 2 comings and goings the movements of people as they arrive and leave places coming² adj. [only before noun] happening soon: the coming winter

C

com-ma /'kʌmə/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the mark (,) used in writing to show a short pause [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin “part of a sentence,” from Greek komma “part, clause,” from koptein “to cut”]

com-mand¹ /kə'mænd/ n. 1 [U] the control of a group of people or a situation: How many officers are under your command? | Who is in command here? 2 [C] an order that must be obeyed: Shoot when I give the command. 3 command of sth knowledge of something, especially a language, or the ability to use something: Fukiko has a good command of English. 4 [C] IT an instruction to a computer to do something command² v. 1 [I,T] to tell someone officially to do something, especially if you are a military leader, king, etc.: The captain commanded the crew to remain on the main deck. 2 [T] to get attention, respect, etc. because you are important or popular: He commands one of the highest fees in Hollywood.

com-man-dant /'kʌmən,dant/ n. [C] the chief officer in charge of a military organization

com-man-deer /,kʌmən'dɪr/ v. [T] to officially take someone's property for military use: The hotel was commandeered for use as a war hospital.

com-mand-er, Commander /kə'mændə/ n. [C] 1 an officer in charge of a military organization or group 2 an officer who has a middle rank in the Navy

com-mander in 'chief n. [C] 1 someone of high rank who is in control of all the military organizations in a country or of a specific military activity 2 Commander in Chief POLITICS a title for the U.S. president in his position as the official head of the military

com-mand-ing /kə'mændɪŋ/ adj. [only before noun] 1 having authority or confidence that makes people respect and obey you: his commanding presence 2 being in a position from which you are likely to win a race or competition easily: Stevens has a commanding lead in the polls.

com-mand-ment /kə'mændmənt/ n. [C] one of ten rules given by God in the Bible that tell people how they should behave

com-man-do /kə'mændəʊ/ n. (plural commandos) [C] a soldier who is specially trained to make quick attacks into enemy areas

com-mem-o-rate /kə'memə'reɪt/ v. [T] to remember someone or something by a special action, ceremony, object, etc.: The monument commemorates the soldiers who died during the Vietnam war. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin, past participle of commemorare, from memorare “to remind of”] —commemoration /kə'memə'reɪʃən/ n. [U] —commemorative /kə'memərə'tɪv/ adj.

com-mence /kə'mens/ (Ac) v. [I,T] (formal) to begin: Work on the building will commence soon. | The trial commenced with the testimony of the first witness. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French comencer, from Vulgar Latin cominiare, from Latin + initiare “to begin”]

THESAURUS begin, start, break out →
BEGIN

com-mence-ment /kə'mensmənt/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] a ceremony at which college or HIGH SCHOOL students receive their DIPLOMAS (Syn) graduation 2 [U] (formal) the beginning of something: The Olympic torch will be carried into the stadium prior to (=before) the commencement of the games.

com-mend /kə'mend/ v. [T] (formal) to praise someone or something publicly or formally: The three firefighters were commended for their bravery.

THESAURUS praise, congratulate, flatter, compliment sb/pay sb a compliment, extol →
PRAISE¹

com-mend-a-ble /kə'mendəbəl/ adj. (formal) deserving praise: Baldwin answered with commendable honesty. —commendably adv.

com-men-da-tion /,kʌmən'deɪʃən/ n. [C] (formal) an honor or prize given to someone for being brave or successful

com-men-su-rate /kə'mensərɪt, -fərɪt/ adj. (formal) matching something else in size, quality, or length of time: The salary is commensurate with experience (=the salary for the job is higher if you have experience).

com-ment¹ /'kʌmənt/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] an opinion that you give about someone or something: Does anyone have any questions or comments? | He made rude comments about her. 2 no comment (spoken) said when you do not want to answer a question, especially in public [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Late Latin commentum, from Latin, “invention,” from comminisci “to invent”]

comment² (Ac) v. [I,T] to give an opinion about someone or something: The police have refused to comment on the case. | His teacher commented that his writing was poor.

com-men-tar-y /'kʌməntəri/ (Ac) n. (plural commentaries) [C,U] 1 a spoken description of an event, given while the event is happening, especially on the television or radio: the commentary on the World Series 2 a book or article that explains or discusses something, or the explanation itself: political commentary 3 be a sad commentary on sth to be a sign or example of how bad a situation is: It's a sad commentary on our culture that we need constant entertainment.

com·men·ta·tor /'kəmən,teɪtə/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 someone on television or radio who describes an event as it is happening: a sports commentator 2 someone who knows a lot about a subject, and who writes about it or discusses it on the television or radio: political commentators [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin commentari “to comment,” from comminisci “to invent”]

com·merce /'kəmərs/ n. [U] the buying and selling of goods and services: interstate commerce (=among U.S. states) [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French, Latin commercium, from com- + merx “things to be sold”]

THESAURUS business, industry, trade, private enterprise → BUSINESS

com·mer·cial /kə'mɜːʃəl/ adj. 1 relating to business and the buying and selling of things: commercial activity 2 relating to making money or a profit: The movie was a commercial success/failure. —commercially adv.

commercial² n. [C] an advertisement on television or radio: TV commercials

THESAURUS advertisement, billboard, poster, want ads/classified ads, flier, junk mail, spam → ADVERTISEMENT

com·mer·cial·ism /kə'mɜːʃəlɪzəm/ n. [U] (disapproving) the practice of being more concerned with making money than with the quality of what you sell

com·mer·cial·ize /kə'mɜːʃəlaɪz/ v. [T] (disapproving) to be more concerned with making money from something than about its quality: Christmas is getting more and more commercialized! —commercialization /kə'mɜːʃələɪzɪʃən/ n. [U]

com·mis·e·rate /kə'mɪzə'reɪt/ v. [I] (formal) to express your sympathy for someone who is unhappy: He's able to talk to and commiserate with students in a sincere way. —commiseration /kə'mɪzə'reɪʃən/ n. [U]

com·mis·sion¹ /kə'mɪʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] a group of people who have been given the official job of finding out about something or controlling something: the U.N. Commission on Human Rights 2 [C,U] an amount of money paid to someone for selling something: Salespeople earn a 30% commission on each new car. | Some firms work on commission and others charge a fee. 3 [C] a piece of work that someone, especially an artist or a musician, is asked to do: a commission for a new sculpture 4 out of commission a) not working correctly, or not able to be used: The toilets are out of commission. b) (informal) sick or injured commission² v. [T] to ask someone to do a piece of work for you: He has been commissioned to design a bridge.

com·mis·sion·er /kə'mɪʃənə/ (Ac) n. [C] someone who is officially in charge of an organization: a police commissioner

com·mit /kə'mɪt/ (Ac) v. (committed, committing) [T] 1 to do something wrong or illegal: Police still don't know who committed the crime. 2 commit suicide to kill yourself deliberately 3 commit adultery if a married person commits adultery, s/he has sex with someone who is not his/her husband or wife 4 to say that you will definitely do something: Going to the interview doesn't commit you to anything. | I had committed myself and there was no turning back.

THESAURUS promise, give sb your word, swear, take/swear an oath, vow, pledge, undertake to do sth, guarantee → PROMISE¹

5 to decide to use money, time, effort, etc. for a particular purpose: A lot of money has been committed to the project. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin committere, from com- “together” + mittere “to send, put”]

com·mit·ment /kə'mɪt'mənt/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] a promise to do something or behave in a particular way: Volunteers must be able to make a commitment of four hours a week. | Our company has a commitment to customer service. 2 [U] the hard work and loyalty that someone gives to an organization, activity, etc.: You cannot question Sara's commitment to her work. 3 [C] (formal) something that you have promised you will do or that you have to do: He had other commitments and could not attend. | The company will have to raise ticket prices to meet its financial commitments.

com·mit·ted /kə'mɪtɪd/ (Ac) adj. willing to work hard at something you believe is right or important: Her parents are both committed liberals. | The group is committed to improving civil rights.

com·mit·tee /kə'mɪti/ n. [C] a group of people chosen to do a particular job, make decisions, etc.: I'm on the finance committee.

com·mo·di·ous /kə'moudiəs/ adj. (formal) a house or room that is commodious is very big (Syn) spacious —commodiously adv.

com·mod·i·ty /kə'mədəti/ (Ac) n. (plural commodities) [C] ECONOMICS a product that is bought and sold: agricultural commodities | rising commodity prices

com·mo·dore, Commodore /'kəmədɔː/ n. [C] an officer who has a high rank in the Navy

com·mon¹ /'kəmən/ adj. 1 something that is common is often seen or often happens (Ant) rare: “Smith” is a common last name. | Heart disease is common among smokers. | It's common for new fathers to feel jealous of their babies. ▶ Don't say “It is common that.” ◀ 2 belonging to, or shared by two or more people or things: We are all working towards a common goal. | a theme that is common to all her novels 3 common ground facts, opinions, and beliefs that a group of people can agree on, in a situation in which they are arguing about something: Let's see if we can establish some common ground. 4 the common good what is best for everyone in a society: They truly believed they were acting for the common good. 5 common knowledge something that everyone knows: It's common knowledge that he's an alcoholic. 6 ordinary and not special in any way: The song is a tribute to the common man (=ordinary people). [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French commun, from Latin communis] common² n. 1 have sth in common (with sb/sth) to have the same interests, attitudes, etc. as someone else: Terry and I have a lot in common. 2 have sth in common (with sth) if objects or ideas have something in common, they share the same features: The two games have much/little in common. 3 [C] a word meaning a public park, used mostly in names: Boston Common common 'cold n. [C] a slight illness in which your throat hurts and it is difficult to breathe normally [SYN] cold common denominator n. [C usually singular] MATH a number that can be divided exactly by all the DENOMINATORS (=bottom numbers) in a set of FRACTIONS common 'factor n. [C] MATH a number that divides exactly into each of a set of two or more other numbers. For example, 3 is a common factor of 6, 12, and 18.

C

'common-law adj. common-law husband/wife someone you have lived with for a long time as if s/he was your husband or wife

com-mon-ly /'kəmənli/ adv. often or usually: the most commonly used computer common 'noun n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a noun that is not the name of a particular person, place, or thing. For example, "book" and "sugar" are common nouns. → COLLECTIVE NOUN, PROPER NOUN

com-mon-place /'kəmən,pleɪs/ adj. very common or not unusual: Divorce has become commonplace.

common 'sense n. [U] the ability to behave in a sensible way and make practical decisions: Use your common sense.

com-mon-wealth /'kəmən,welθ/ n. [C] (formal) 1 POLITICS a group of countries that are related politically or economically, for example the group of countries that have a strong relationship with Great Britain 2 the official legal title of some U.S. states: The Commonwealth of Virginia 3 POLITICS the official legal title of some places, such as Puerto Rico, that are governed by the U.S. but are not states

com-mo-tion /kə'mouʃən/ n. [singular, U] sudden noisy activity or arguing: Everyone looked to see what was causing the commotion.

com-mu-nal /kə'myʊnəl/ adj. shared by a group of people: a communal bathroom in the dorm

com-mune¹ /'kamyun/ n. [C] SOCIAL SCIENCE a group of people who live and work together and share their possessions [ORIGIN: 1600—1700

French, Medieval Latin communia, from Latin communis "common"]

com-mune² /kə'myʊn/ v.

commune with sb/sth phr. v. (formal) 1 to communicate with a person, god, or animal, especially in a mysterious way 2 commune with nature to spend time in the COUNTRYSIDE, enjoying it in a quiet peaceful way

com-mu-ni-ca-ble /kə'myʊnikəbəl/ [Ac] adj. a communicable disease is one that can be passed on to other people [SYN] infectious

com-mu-ni-cate /kə'myʊnə'keɪt/ [Ac] v. 1 [I] to exchange information or conversation with other people, using words, signs, writing, etc.: We communicate mostly by email. | It's difficult to communicate with people if you don't speak their language. 2 [I.T.] to express your thoughts or feelings clearly, so that other people understand them: A baby communicates its needs by crying. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of communicare "to give information, take part," from communis "common"]

com-mu-ni-ca-tion /kə'myʊnə'keɪʃən/ [Ac] n. 1 [U] the process of speaking, writing, etc. by which people exchange information or express their thoughts and feelings: Communication between parents and teachers is vital. | We've stayed in constant communication with each other. | Radio was the pilot's only means of communication. 2 communications a) [plural] ways of sending and receiving information using computers, telephones, radios, etc.: Modern communications enable people to work from home. b) [U] the study of using radio, television, movies, etc. to communicate 3 [C] (formal) a letter, message, or telephone call: I received a communication from my bank informing me of the charge.

com-mu-ni-ca-tive /kə'myʊnəkə'tɪv, -,keɪtɪv/ [Ac] adj. 1 willing or able to talk or give information: My son isn't very communicative. 2 relating to the ability to communicate: The test evaluates students' communicative skills.

Com-mun-ion /kə'myʊnyən/ n. also Holy Communion the Christian ceremony in which people eat bread and drink wine as signs of Christ's body and blood

com-mu-ni-qué /kə'myʊnə'keɪ, kə'myʊnə'keɪ/ n. [C] an official report or announcement

com-mu-nism /'kamyə'nɪzəm/ n. [U] POLITICS a political system in which the government controls all the production of food and goods and there is no privately owned property

com-mu-nist /'kamyənɪst/ n. [C] POLITICS someone who is a member of a political party that supports communism, or who believes in communism — communist adj.: the Communist Party

com-mu-ni-ty /kə'myʊnə'ti/ [Ac] n. (plural communities) [C] 1 a group of people who live in the same town or area: The library serves the whole community. 2 a group of people who have the same interests, religion, race, etc.: Miami has a large Cuban community. | politicians who have close ties to the business community | Most of the world's scientific community now accept the theory. 3 sense of community the feeling that you belong to a group in which people work together and help each other: Teachers are working to build a sense of community in the school. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French comuneté, from Latin communitas, from communis “common”] com'munity 'college n. [C] a college that people can go to, usually for two years, in order to learn a skill or to prepare to go to another college or university

com,munity 'service n. [U] work that someone does to help other people without being paid, especially as punishment for a crime → PUNISHMENT

com-mute¹ /kə'myut/ v. 1 [I] to travel regularly in order to get to work: Jerry commutes from Scarsdale to New York every day. 2 [T] LAW to change the punishment given to a criminal to one that is less severe: Her sentence was commuted from death to life imprisonment. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin commutare “to exchange, change”] commute² n. [C usually singular] the trip made to work every day: My morning commute takes 45 minutes.

com-mut-er /kə'myutə/ n. [C] someone who travels a long distance to work every day

com-pact¹ /'kəmpækt, kəm'pækt/ adj. small but arranged so that everything fits neatly into the available space: a compact car [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin compactus, past participle of compingere “to put together”]

com-pact² /'kəmpækt/ n. [C] 1 a small flat container with a mirror, containing powder for a woman's face 2 a small car 3 LAW an agreement between two or more people, countries, etc. with laws or rules that they must obey

com-pact³ /kəm'pækt/ v. [T] to press something together so that it becomes smaller or more solid —compact^{ed} adj.

THESAURUS press, squash, crush, mash, grind, squeeze, compress → PRESS¹ compact 'disc n. [C] a CD → see picture on page A6

com-pan-ion /kəm'pænyən/ n. [C] 1 someone you spend a lot of time with, especially a friend: For ten years, he had been her constant companion. | my traveling companions 2 one of a pair of things that go together or can be used together: This book is a companion to Professor Farrer's first work. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French compagnon, from Late Latin companiono, from Latin com- “with” + panis “bread, food”]

com-pan-ion-a-ble /kəm'pænyənəbəl/ adj. pleasantly friendly: They sat in a companionable silence.

com-pan-ion-ship /kəm'pænyən,ʃɪp/ n. [U] the state of being with someone so that you have someone to talk to and do not feel lonely: the need for companionship

com-pa-ny /'kəmpəni/ n. (plural compa-nies) 1 [C] a business that makes or sells things or provides a service: What company do you work for? | insurance/software/phone companies

THESAURUS

firm – a company that usually provides a service rather than producing goods: a law firm business – a company that often employs only a small number of people: She set up her own catering business. | small businesses corporation – a large company that often includes several smaller companies subsidiary – a company that is owned by a larger company

2 [U] the state of being with someone so that s/he does not feel lonely: Why don't you come with me? I could use the company. | Tim is good company (=someone you enjoy being with). | I'll stay here to keep you company (=be with you so you are not alone). 3 [U] one or more guests, or someone who is coming to see you: We're having company tonight, so I want you back home by five. 4 [singular, U] the group of people that you are friends with or spend time with: I don't like the company she keeps. 5 [C] a group of actors, dancers, or singers who work together: a ballet company [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French compagnie, from compain “companion,” from Late Latin companiono]

com-pa-ra-ble /'kəmpərəbəl/ adj. (formal) similar to something else in size, number, quality, etc.: Is the pay rate comparable to that of other companies?

THESAURUS similar, like, alike, akin to sth, analogous, identical, matching → SIMILAR

com-par-a-tive¹ /kəm'pærətɪv/ adj. 1 showing what is different and similar between things of the same kind: a comparative study of European languages 2 comparative comfort/freedom/wealth etc. comfort, freedom, etc. that is fairly good when measured or judged against something else, or against what the situation was before (SYN relative: After a lifetime of poverty, his last few years were spent in comparative comfort.) comparative² n. the comparative ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, the form of an adjective or adverb that shows an increase in quality, quantity, degree, etc. For example, “better” is the comparative of “good.”

com-par-a-tive-ly /kəm'pærətɪvli/ adv. as compared to something else or to a previous state: The disease is comparatively rare.

com-pare¹ /kəm'per/ v. 1 [T] to examine or judge two or more things in order to show how they are similar to or different from each other: We went to a few different stores to compare prices. | Compared to me, Al is tall. | The police compared the suspect's fingerprints with those found at the crime scene.

THESAURUS

make a comparison – to compare two or more people, situations, etc.: The article makes a comparison between Hemingway and Thoreau.

draw a parallel – to say that people or things are similar in some aspects: There are parallels that can be drawn between the two writers – they both grew up in the South.

draw an analogy (formal) – to say that two things or situations are similar, even though they may seem very different: Some people have drawn an analogy between poetry and mathematics.

contrast – to compare two things, situations, etc., in order to show how they are different from each other: In the novel, he contrasts the lives of two families living in New York.

make/draw a distinction – to emphasize that two things are very different: It is important to draw a distinction between people's fear of crime and the actual amount of crime that really happens.

2 [I,T] to say that someone or something is similar to someone or something else: Critics have compared him to Robert De Niro. | The oranges out here don't compare with (=are not as good as) the Florida ones. 3 compare notes (with sb) (informal) to talk with someone in order to find out if his/her experience is the same as yours [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French comparer, from Latin comparare, from compar “like,” from com “with” + par “equal”] compare² n. beyond/without compare (literary) a quality that is beyond compare is the best of its kind: beauty beyond compare

com-par-i-son /kəm'pærəsən/ n. 1 [U] the process of comparing two people or things: In comparison with/to his brother, he's really shy. | My last job was so boring that this one seems great by comparison. 2 [C] a statement or examination of how similar or different two people or things are: a comparison of crime figures in Chicago and Detroit 3 [C] a statement that someone or something is like someone or something else: The writer draws comparisons between the two presidents. | You can't make a comparison between American and Japanese schools – they're too different. 4 there's no comparison used when you think that someone or something is much better than someone or something else: There's just no comparison between canned vegetables and fresh ones.

com-part-ment /kəm'pɑ:t'mənt/ n. [C] a smaller enclosed space inside something larger: the overhead compartment on a plane

com-part-men-tal-ize

/kəm,pɑ:t'məntəl,aɪz/ v. [T] to divide things into separate groups

com-pass /'kʌmpəs/ n. [C] 1 an instrument that shows the direction you are traveling in, with an ARROW that always points north 2 MATH an instrument with a sharp point, used for drawing circles or measuring distances on maps

com-pas-sion /kəm'pæʃən/ n. [U] sympathy for someone who is suffering: her compassion for the poor | We should have compassion for others. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French, Late Latin compassio, from compati “to feel sympathy”]

com-pas-sion-ate /kəm'pæʃənɪt/ adj. feeling sympathy for people who are suffering: a compassionate man

THESAURUS kind, nice, considerate, thoughtful, caring, warm-hearted, sympathetic
→ KIND²

com-pat-i-ble /kəm'pætəbəl/ [Ac] adj. 1 two people who are compatible are able to have a good relationship because they share interests, ideas, etc. 2 two things that are compatible are able to exist or be used together without problems: Is the software compatible with your PC? | The two businesses have compatible aims, and they may eventually merge (=join together to form one larger business). —compatibility /kəm,pætə'bɪləti/ n. [U]

com-pa-tri-ot /kəm'peɪtriət/ n. [C] someone who is from the same country as you: I took an English class with several of my compatriots.

com-pel /kəm'pel/ v. (compelled, compelling) [T] to force someone to do something: He felt compelled to resign because of the scandal.

THESAURUS force, make, coerce, impel, pressure → FORCE²

com-pel-ling /kəm'pelɪŋ/ adj. 1 very interesting or exciting: a compelling story

THESAURUS interesting, fascinating, intriguing, absorbing, enthralling, engrossing, gripping, riveting → INTERESTING

2 a compelling argument, reason, etc. seems very good or strong: The jury was presented with compelling evidence.

com-pen-di-um /kəm'pændiəm/ n. [C] (formal) a book that contains a complete collection of facts, drawings, etc. on a particular subject: a baseball compendium

com-pen-sate /ˈkɑmpən,ser/ (Ac) v. 1 [I] to do something so that something bad has a smaller effect: Her intelligence more than compensates for her lack of experience. 2 [T] to pay someone money because s/he has suffered injury, loss, or damage: The firm will compensate workers for their loss of earnings. | The fund was set up to compensate victims of the disaster. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin, past participle of compensare, from compensare “to weigh together”] —compensatory /kəmˈpensə,tɔri/ adj.: The court awarded Ms. Jones $2 million in compensatory damages.

com-pen-sa-tion /ˌkɑmpənˈseɪʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] money that someone is given because s/he has suffered injury, loss, or damage: The fishermen have demanded compensation for the damage. | The jury awarded Tyler $1 million in compensation. 2 [C,U] something that makes a bad situation seem better: One of the few compensations of losing my job was seeing more of my family.

com-pete /kəmˈpɪt/ v. [I] to try to win or gain something, or try to be better or more successful than someone else: How many runners will be competing in the race? | We just can't compete with/against big companies like theirs. | The stores are competing for customers.

com-pe-tent /ˈkɑmpətənt/ adj. having enough skill or knowledge to do something to a satisfactory standard: A competent mechanic should be able to fix the problem quickly. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin, present participle of competere “to be suitable”] —competence n. [U] —competently adv.

com-pet-ing /kəmˈpɪtɪŋ/ adj. 1 competing interests/demands/claims etc. two or more interests, claims, etc. that cannot both be right 2 competing products products, etc. that are trying to be more successful than each other

com-pe-ti-tion /ˌkɑmpəˈtɪʃən/ n. 1 [singular, U] a situation in which people or organizations compete with each other: The competition between the two sisters is obvious. | Competition for the job was intense. | Prices have gone down due to competition among the airlines. 2 [singular, U] the people or groups that are competing against you, especially in business: You'll have no competition. | Our aim is to be better than the competition. 3 [C] an organized event in which people or teams compete against each other: a dancing competition | He decided to enter the competition. | Who won the competition?

THESAURUS

championship – a competition to find the best player or team in a particular sport: the Iowa State Girls' Basketball Championships tournament – a competition in which many players or teams compete against each other until there is one winner: a local volleyball tournament at Sunset Park contest – a competition in which a judge or group of judges decides the winner: the school's essay contest

playoff – a game or series of games played by the best teams or players in a sports competition, in order to decide the final winner: The Yankees have often made the playoffs. | the divisional playoff game against San Francisco

com-pet-i-tive /kəmˈpetətɪv/ adj. 1 determined to be more successful than other people or companies: Steve's very competitive. | What can we do to maintain our competitive edge (=ability to be more successful)? 2 relating to competition: competitive sports | Advertising is a highly competitive industry. 3 competitive prices or products are cheaper than others but still of good quality

THESAURUS cheap, inexpensive, reasonable, a good/great deal, good/great value, a bargain → CHEAP¹

—competitiveness n. [U]

com-pet-i-tor /kəmˈpetətə/ n. [C] a person, team, company, etc. that is competing with another one: Last year they sold twice as many computers as their main competitor.

com-pi-la-tion /ˌkɑmpəˈleɪʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] a book, list, record, etc. that consists of different pieces of information, music, etc.: a compilation of love songs 2 [U] the process of making a book, list, record, etc. from different pieces of information, music, etc.: the compilation of the report

com-pile /kəmˈpaɪl/ (Ac) v. [T] to make a book, list, record, etc. using different pieces of information, music, etc.: The report is compiled from a survey of 5,000 households. | It took several months to compile the database. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French compilare, from Latin compilare “to seize together, steal”]

com-pla-cen-cy /kəmˈpleɪsənsi/ also com-pla-cence /-ˈpleɪsəns/ n. [U] a feeling of satisfaction with a situation or with what you have achieved, so that you stop trying to improve or change things: Successful companies avoid complacency and constantly strive to improve.

com-pla-cent /kəmˈpleɪsənt/ adj. pleased with what you have achieved so that you stop trying to improve or change things: We've been winning, but we're not going to get complacent.

com-plain /kəmˈpleɪn/ v. [I,T] 1 to say that you are annoyed, not satisfied, or unhappy about something or someone: Fred's always complaining about something. | My kids complained that they hardly ever saw me, because I was working too much. | She complained to the manager. 2 I can't complain (spoken) said when you think a situation is satisfactory even though there may be a few problems: I still don't feel too great, but I can't complain. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French complandre, from Vulgar Latin complangere] complain of sth phr. v. to say that you feel sick or have a pain in a part of your body: He complained of stomach pains.

C

com-plaint /kəm'pleɪnt/ n. 1 [C,U] a statement in which someone complains about something: We've received a large number of complaints from customers. | There have been complaints about the quality of her work. | complaints against the police 2 [C] LAW a formal statement saying that someone is guilty of a crime: She has filed a formal complaint against her employer, alleging sexual harassment.

C

THESAURUS accusation, allegation, charge, indictment → ACCUSATION

3 [C] something that you complain about: My only complaint is the high prices they charge. 4 [C] a sickness that affects a part of your body

com-ple-ment¹ /'kəmpləmənt/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 someone or something that combines well with another thing, and brings out the good qualities in it: The wine was the perfect complement to the meal. 2 the number or quantity needed to make a group complete: The school has its full complement of teachers. 3 ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a word or phrase that follows a verb and describes the subject of the verb. In the sentence "You look angry," "angry" is a complement. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin complementum, from complere "to fill up"]

com-ple-ment² /'kəmpləmənt/ (Ac) v. [T] to combine well with another thing, and bring out the good qualities in it: Buy a hat and scarf that complements your coat. —complementary /'kəmplə'mentəri/, -'mentəri/ adj.: a small team of people with complementary skills complementary 'angles n. [plural] MATH two angles whose total is 90° → see picture at ANGLE¹

complementary 'colors n. [plural] two colors that produce white or gray when they are mixed, for example red and green

com-plete¹ /kəm'plɪt/ adj. 1 something that is complete has all the parts it should have: a complete set of china dishes | the complete works of Shakespeare | The list of guests is not complete. 2 [only before noun] (informal) used in order to emphasize that a quality or situation is as great as it could possibly be: I made a complete fool of myself. | The meeting was a complete waste of time. | The news came as a complete surprise. 3 finished: Our research is nearly complete.

THESAURUS done, finished, over, through → DONE²

4 complete with sth having particular equipment or features: The house comes complete with a swimming pool. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French complet, from Latin, past participle of comple "to fill up"] —completeness n. [U] complete² v. [T] 1 to finish doing or making something: The book took five years to complete. 2 to make something whole or perfect by adding what is missing: I need one more stamp to complete my collection. 3 to write the information that is needed on a form: 65 people completed the questionnaire.

com-plete-ly /kəm'plɪt'li/ adv. in every way or to the greatest degree possible: I completely forgot about her birthday.

THESAURUS

absolutely – used especially to emphasize something, or to show that you strongly agree with something: I was absolutely exhausted. | He's absolutely right.

totally – used especially to show that you are annoyed about something or strongly disagree with something: She totally ignored me. | The price was totally ridiculous.

entirely – used especially in negative sentences or after "almost": I'm not entirely sure. | The class was almost entirely girls.

wholly – used especially in negative sentences to mean "in every possible way": Is the company wholly responsible for the damage?

utterly (formal) – used to emphasize something, especially a negative quality: The game seemed utterly pointless.

com,pleting the 'square n. [U] MATH a method for changing the form of a QUADRATIC EQUATION so that it is easier to solve

com-ple-tion /kəm'pliʃən/ n. [U] the state of being finished, or the act of finishing something: The construction is nearing completion. | the completion of the $80 million project

com-plex¹ /kəm'pleks, kəm-, 'kampleks/ (Ac) adj. something that is complex has a lot of different parts and is difficult to understand or deal with: complex systems of irrigation | a complex issue | The technology is highly complex. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin complexus, past participle of complecti "to include (many different things)"] —complexity /kəm'pleksəti/ n. [U]: the increasing complexity of large construction projects

THESAURUS complicated, elaborate, convoluted, intricate → COMPLICATED

com-plex² /'kampleks/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 a group of buildings or one large building used for a particular purpose: a new shopping complex 2 an emotional problem in which someone is too anxious about something or thinks too much about it: Linda has a complex about her appearance.

com,plex 'conjugate also com,plex ,conjugate 'number n. [C] MATH either of a pair of complex numbers that have the same REAL NUMBER parts but opposite IMAGINARY NUMBER parts. For example, $a + bi$ is the complex conjugate of $a - bi$.

com,plex 'fraction n. [C] MATH a FRACTION (=number such as $\frac{1}{2}$ or $\frac{1}{8}$) in which either the number above the line or the number below the line is a fraction, or the numbers above and below the line are both fractions

com·plex-ion /kəm'plekʃən/ n. [C] the natural color and appearance of the skin on your face: a young woman with a pale/dark complexion

com·plex 'number n. [C] MATH any number that can be written in the form $a + bi$, where a and b are REAL NUMBERS and i is the square root of -1 → IMAGINARY NUMBER

com·plex 'word n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a word that contains more than one MORPHEME (=the smallest unit of meaning in a language). "Girls" is a complex word because it contains two morphemes, "girl" and "s."

com·pli-ance /kəm'plaɪəns/ n. [U] (formal) the act of obeying a rule or law: Compliance with the law is expected of everyone.

com·pli-ant /kəm'plaɪənt/ adj. willing to obey or agree to other people's wishes and demands

com·pli-cate /'kəmplə,kert/ v. [T] to make a problem or situation more difficult (ANT) simplify: There may be other factors, but let's not complicate matters right now.

com·pli-cat-ed /'kəmplə,ketɪd/ adj. something that is complicated has a lot of different parts and is difficult to understand or deal with (ANT) simple: The instructions are much too complicated. | an extremely complicated process

THESAURUS

complex – difficult to understand because of having a lot of different parts that are all connected in different ways: Scientists are still trying to understand the complex relationship between the genes that cause the disease.

elaborate – having lots of parts or details and very carefully planned, but often more complicated than is necessary: Josh and Maria have made elaborate plans for their wedding.

convoluted – too complicated and difficult to understand – used especially about language, arguments, or a story: He tends to use long convoluted sentences, which make the book difficult for the ordinary reader.

intricate – very well designed, or made with a lot of small parts or details: The rug has an intricate design.

THESAURUS

difficult, hard, tough, awkward, challenging, demanding → DIFFICULT

com·pli-ca-tion /,kəmplə'keɪʃən/ n. 1 [C usually plural] a medical problem or illness that happens while someone is already sick: There were no complications following surgery. 2 [C,U] a problem or situation that makes something more difficult to understand or deal with: The drop in student numbers added further complications.

com·plic-i-ty /kəm'plɪsəti/ n. [U] 1 LAW the act of being involved in a crime with other people:

Fifteen men were arrested for complicity in the lynching. 2 (formal) involvement in or knowledge of a situation that is morally wrong or dishonest: None of these terrible events could have happened without the complicity of the state. —complicit adj.

com·pli-ment¹ /'kəmpləmənt/ n. 1 [C] something you say that shows you admire someone or something: "You look great." "Thanks for the compliment." | I was trying to pay her a compliment (=give her a compliment). | I wasn't sure exactly what they meant, but I took it as a compliment (=accepted what was said as a compliment rather than an insult). 2 with the compliments of sb/with sb's compliments (formal) used by a person or company when he, she, or it sends or gives something to you: Please accept these tickets with our compliments.

com·pli-ment² /'kəmpləmənt/ v. [T] to say something nice to someone in order to praise him/her: They complimented John on his excellent Spanish.

com·pli-men-ta-ry /,kəmplə'mentri, -'mentəri/ adj. 1 saying that you admire or respect someone or something: He was very complimentary about your work. 2 given free to someone: complimentary tickets

com·ply /kəm'plaɪ/ v. (complied, complies) [I] (formal) to do what you are asked to do or what a law or rule tells you to do: Those who fail to comply with the law will be fined.

THESAURUS

obey, do what sb says, do what you are told/do as you are told, follow sb's orders/instructions, observe → OBEY

com·po-nent /kəm'pounənt/ (Ac) n. [C] one of several parts that make up a whole machine or system: stereo components | Oxygen is a major component of the Earth's atmosphere. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, present participle of componere from com- "together" + ponere "to put"]

com·pose /kəm'pouz/ v. 1 be composed of sth to be formed from a number of substances, parts, or people: Water is composed of hydrogen and oxygen. 2 [T] to write a piece of music: Schumann was better at composing music than playing it. 3 compose yourself to become calm after feeling angry, upset, or excited: Lynn took a deep breath and tried to compose herself. 4 compose a letter/poem/speech etc. to write a letter, poem, etc., thinking very carefully about it as you write it

com·posed /kəm'pouzɪd/ adj. calm, rather than upset or angry

com·pos-er /kəm'pouzə/ n. [C] someone who writes music

com·pos-ite /kəm'pəzɪt/ adj. made up of different parts or materials: a composite drawing —composite n. [C]

C

com-po-si-tion /ˌkɑmpəˈzɪʃən/ n. 1 [U] the way in which something is made up of different parts, things, or people: the chemical composition of soil 2 a) [U] the art or process of writing music, a poem, or an ESSAY, etc. b) [C] a piece of music, or art, or a poem: one of Beethoven's early compositions 3 [U] the way in which the different parts of a painting or photograph are arranged 4 [C,U] a short piece of writing about a particular subject, that is done by a student

THESAURUS essay, paper, assignment, thesis, dissertation → ESSAY

com-post /ˈkɑmpoʊst/ n. [U] a mixture of decayed leaves, plants, etc. used for improving the quality of soil

com-po-sure /kəmˈpoʊʒər/ n. [singular, U] a calm feeling that you have when you feel confident about dealing with a situation: She stopped crying and regained her composure.

com-pound¹ /ˈkɑmpaʊnd/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 CHEMISTRY a chemical compound is a substance that consists of two or more different substances: Organic compounds have been found in meteorites. | Sulfur dioxide is a compound of sulfur and oxygen.

THESAURUS mixture, combination, blend, solution → MIXTURE

2 an area that contains a group of buildings and is surrounded by a fence or wall: a prison compound 3 also compound word/noun/adjective/verb ENG. LANG. ARTS two or more words that are used together as a noun, adjective, or verb. For example, the noun “ice cream” is a compound. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Old French compondre, from Latin componere, from com “together” + ponere “to put”]

com-pound² /kəmˈpaʊnd/ (Ac) v. [T] to make a difficult situation worse by adding more problems: Our difficulties were compounded by other people's mistakes.

compound 'interest n. [U] ECONOMICS INTEREST that is calculated both on the sum of money lent or borrowed and on the unpaid interest already earned or charged → SIMPLE INTEREST compound 'sentence n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a sentence that consists of two or more CLAUSES, each of which can stand independently and which are often joined by a conjunction. For example, “The mountain was steep, but we eventually reached the top” is a compound sentence.

com-pre-hend /ˌkɑmpriˈhend/ v. [I,T] (formal) to understand something: I did not fully comprehend what had happened. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin comprehendere “to take hold of completely”]

com-pre-hen-si-ble /ˌkɑmpriˈhensəbəl/ adj. easy to understand (ANT) incomprehensible: The book explains the process in language that is comprehensible to the average reader.

com-pre-hen-sion /ˌkɑmpriˈhenʃən/ n. [U] the ability to understand something, or knowledge about something: The complexities of the situation are beyond my comprehension (=impossible for me to understand). | a test of reading/listening comprehension (=a student's ability to understand written or spoken language)

com-pre-hen-sive /ˌkɑmpriˈhensɪv/ (Ac) adj. including everything that is necessary: comprehensive health insurance | a comprehensive study of the city's public transportation system

com-press /kəmˈpres/ v. 1 [I,T] to press something or make it smaller so that it takes up less space: This program compresses computer files so they can be easily sent by email.

THESAURUS press, squash, crush, mash, grind, squeeze, compact → PRESS¹

2 [T] to reduce the amount of time it takes for something to happen or be done —compression /kəmˈpreʃən/ n. [U]

com-prise /kəmˈpraɪz/ (Ac) v. (formal) 1 [linking verb] to consist of particular parts: The World Trade Organization comprises more than 100 nations. | The committee is comprised of eight members.

USAGE

Comprise, be composed of, and consist of can each be used in order to talk about the parts that things are made of, or the things that something contains.

Comprise is the more formal word. Each of the following sentences means the same thing, but the patterns are different: The United States comprises 50 states. | The United States is composed of 50 states. | The United States consists of 50 states.

2 [T] to form part of a larger group: Women comprise over 75% of our staff. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Old French, past participle of comprendre, from Latin comprehendere “to take hold of completely”]

com-pro-mise¹ /ˈkɑmprəˌmaɪz/ n. [C,U] an agreement that is achieved after everyone involved accepts less than what s/he wanted at first: The President and Congress are attempting to reach a compromise. | Neither of them was willing to make compromises. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French compromis, from Latin compromissum “joint promise,” from compromittere]

compromise² v. 1 [I] to end an argument by making an agreement in which everyone involved accepts less than what s/he wanted at first: The governor is not willing to compromise on the issue. 2 [T] to risk harming or damaging something that is important: The safety of employees had been compromised.

com-pro-mis-ing /ˈkɑmprəˌmaɪzɪŋ/ adj. making it seem that someone has done something dishonest or wrong: a compromising photograph

comp time /'kɑmp ,taɪm/ n. [U] vacation time that you are given instead of money because you have worked more hours than you should have comp-pul-sion /kəm'pʌlʃən/ n. 1 [C] a strong desire to do something that is wrong: Drinking is a compulsion with her. 2 [singular, U] the act of forcing or influencing someone to do something that s/he does not want to do: You are under no compulsion to sign the agreement.

comp-pul-sive /kəm'pʌlsɪv/ adj. 1 compulsive behavior is very difficult to stop or control: compulsive eating 2 compulsive liar/gambler etc. someone who has a strong desire to lie, GAMBLE, etc. which s/he cannot control —compulsively adv.

comp-pul-so-ry /kəm'pʌlsəri/ adj. if something is compulsory, it must be done because of a rule or law (ANT) voluntary: compulsory military service

THESAURUS necessary, essential, vital, mandatory, requisite → NECESSARY

comp-punc-tion /kəm'pʌŋkʃən/ n. have/feel no compunction about (doing) sth (formal) to not feel guilty or sorry about something although other people may think that it is wrong: He seemed to feel no compunction about lying to us.

com-pute /kəm'pyut/ (AC) v. [I,T] (formal) to calculate an answer, total, result, etc.: The machine can compute the time it takes a sound wave to bounce back. —computation /,kɑmpyət'eɪʃən/ n. [C,U]: He is below average in spelling and math computation. | The software is able to perform (=do) complex computations.

com-put-er /kəm'pyʊtə/ (AC) n. [C] IT an electronic machine that stores information and uses programs to help you find, organize, or change the information → LAPTOP, PC: I can't get the program to work on my computer. | We do all our work on computer. | Our office has switched to a different computer system. | the latest computer software → see picture on page A6

TOPIC

You start up/boot up a computer and log in/on in order to start using it. People use computers to do a lot of different things, such as send and receive emails, look for information on the Internet, and work on files or other documents. You need to open a file before you can work on it. When you have finished, you save your work/file, close the document or file that you were working on, and shut down the computer. If your computer crashes, it suddenly stops working. You have to reboot or restart the computer to make it start working again.

com-put-er-ize /kəm'pyʊtə,raɪz/ v. [T] to use a computer to control the way something is done, to store information, etc.: plans to computerize all our financial records —computerization /kəm'pyʊtərə'zeɪʃən/ n. [U]

com,puter 'literate adj. able to use a computer —computer literacy n. [U]

com-put-ing /kəm'pyʊtɪŋ/ (AC) n. [U] the use of computers as a job, in a business, etc.: personal computing

com-rade /'kɑmræd/ n. [C] (formal) a friend, especially someone who is in the same army as you, or who shares the same political aims as you [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French camarade, from Old Spanish camarada “group of people sleeping in one room, friend”] —comradeship n. [U] con¹ /kən/ v. (conned, conning) [T] (informal) to trick someone, either to take his/her money or to get him/her to do something: That guy tried to con me out of $20.

con² n. [C] 1 (informal) a trick to get someone's money or make someone do something: The ads you see in the paper are just a con. 2 (slang) a CONVICT → pros and cons at PRO

'con ,artist n. [C] (informal) someone who tricks people in order to get money from them

con-cave

/,kən'keɪv/ adj. PHYSICS curved inward like a bowl (ANT) convex: a concave lens

con-ceal /kən'seɪl/ v. [T] (formal) to hide something carefully: She tried to conceal her emotions from Ted. | He was carrying a concealed weapon. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French conceler, from Latin concelare, from com “with” + celare “to hide”] —concealment n. [U]

THESAURUS hide, cover/cover up, disguise, mask, secrete → HIDE¹

con-cede /kən'sid/ v. 1 [T] to admit that something is true although you do not want to: She reluctantly conceded that I was right. 2 [I,T] to admit that you are not going to win a game, argument, battle, etc.: Hawkins conceded defeat in the election.

THESAURUS surrender, give in, yield, submit, admit/accept defeat → SURRENDER

3 [T] to let someone have something although you do not want to: They have refused to concede any territory to the rebels. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French concéder, from Latin concedere] con-ceit /kən'seɪt/ n. [U] an attitude that shows that you are too proud of what you can do, how you look, etc. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 conceit “thought, opinion” (14—19 centuries), from conceive] con-ceit-ed /kən'seɪtɪd/ adj. (disapproving) behaving in a way that shows that you are too proud of what you can do, how you look, etc.: I don't want to seem conceited, but I know I'll win.

THESAURUS proud, big-headed, vain, arrogant, stuck-up, egotistical, haughty → PROUD con-ceive-a-ble /kən'sivəbəl/ (Ac) adj. able to be believed or imagined (ANT) inconceivable: It is conceivable that the experts could be wrong. | Doctors looked at every conceivable cause of her illness. —conceivably adv.

con-ceive /kən'siv/ (Ac) v. 1 [I,T] to imagine a situation or what something is like: It is impossible to conceive of the size of the universe. | I can hardly conceive what it would be like to live in the Antarctic during winter. | At that time, the Native American people had heard about life in a city, but they could not conceive it. 2 [T] to think of a new idea or plan: It was Dr. Salk who conceived the idea of a polio vaccine.

THESAURUS invent, create, think up, come up with sth, devise, make up, dream up → INVENT

3 [I,T] BIOLOGY to become PREGNANT → CONCEPTION: Ben and Tracy are hoping to conceive a second child soon. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French conceivre, from Latin concipere “to take in, conceive”]

con-cen-trate¹ /'kənsən,treit/ (Ac) v. 1 [I] to think very carefully about something you are doing: With all this noise, it's hard to concentrate. | Children with attention deficit disorder find it difficult to concentrate on their work. 2 be concentrated in/on/at etc. sth to be present in large numbers or amounts in a particular place: Most of the state's population is concentrated in the cities.

concentrate on sth phr. v. to give most of your attention to one thing: I want to concentrate on my career for a while before I have kids. | The authorities are concentrating their efforts on preventing the disease spreading.

concentrate² n. [C,U] a substance or liquid that has been made stronger by removing most of the water from it: orange juice concentrate

con-cen-trat-ed /'kənsən,treitɪd/ (Ac) adj. 1 showing a lot of determination or effort: He made a concentrated effort to raise his grades. 2 a substance that is concentrated has been made stronger by removing most of the water from it: a concentrated detergent | Heating the substance produced a concentrated solution containing sodium and calcium chlorides.

con-cen-tra-tion /,kənsən'treɪʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] the act of thinking very carefully about something that you are doing: The children got tired and lost their concentration. 2 [U] a process in which you put a lot of attention, energy, etc. into a particular activity: There was too much concentration on one type of industry. 3 [C,U] a large amount of something in a particular place: This concentration of industry has made the province one of the most polluted regions of China. | Workers were exposed to huge concentrations of asbestos. 4 [C] CHEMISTRY the amount of a substance contained in a liquid: Tests showed high concentrations of minerals in the water.

con-cen'tration ,camp n. [C] a prison where large numbers of people are kept in very bad conditions, usually during a war con-cen-tric /kən'sentrɪk/ adj. MATH concentric circles are of different sizes and have the same center [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Medieval Latin concentricus, from Latin com- “together” + centrum “center”]

con-cept /'kənsəpt/ (Ac) n. [C] an idea of how something is, or how something should be done: He strongly believed in the concept of universal human rights. | The discovery supports the concept that our solar system is not unique. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin conceptum, from the past participle of concipere “to take in, conceive”]

THESAURUS idea, theory, hypothesis → IDEA

con-cep-tion /kən'sepʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] a general idea about what something is like, or a way of understanding what something is like: One common conception of democracy is that it means “government by the people.” 2 [U] BIOLOGY the process by which a woman or female animal becomes PREGNANT, or the time when this happens → CONCEIVE con-cep-tu-al /kən'septʃuəl/ (Ac) adj. (formal) relating to ideas, or based on them, and not yet real: The plans are in the conceptual stage. —conceptually adv.

con-cern¹ /kən'sə:n/ n. 1 [U] a feeling of worry about something important: There is growing concern about/over ocean pollution. | There is concern that the war could continue for a long time. | The police officer said that there was no cause for concern. 2 [C] something important that worries you or involves you: The destruction of the rainforest is a concern to us all. | Our main/primary/major concern is safety.

concern² v. [T] 1 to affect someone or involve him/her: What we're planning doesn't concern you. 2 to make someone feel worried or upset: My daughter's problems at school concern me greatly. 3 to be about something or someone: Most of her books concern the problems of growing up. 4 concern yourself (with sth) to become involved in something that interests or worries you: You don't need to concern yourself with this, Jan.

con-cerned /kən'sənd/ adj. 1 [not before noun] involved in something or affected by it: It was a shock for all concerned (=everyone involved). | Everyone concerned with the car industry will be interested. 2 worried about something important: We're concerned about the results of the test. | letters from concerned parents

THESAURUS worried, anxious, nervous, uneasy, stressed (out), tense, apprehensive → WORRIED

3 believing that something is important: They seem to be only concerned with making money. 4 as far as sth is concerned used in order to show which subject or thing you are talking about: As far as money is concerned, the club is doing fairly well. 5 as far as sb is concerned used in order to show what someone's opinion on a subject is: As far as I'm concerned, the whole idea is crazy.

con-cern-ing /kən'səniŋ/ prep. (formal) about or relating to something: We have questions concerning the report.

THESAURUS about, on, regarding, with regard to, re → ABOUT¹

con-cert /'kənsət/ n. [C] 1 a performance given by musicians or singers: *a rock concert | We went to a concert last night. 2 in concert a) playing or singing at a concert b) (formal) done together with someone else: Police are working in concert with local businesses. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French, Italian concerto, from concertare, from Latin, "to fight, compete"] con-cert-ed /kən'sətid/ adj. a concerted effort/action/attempt etc. something that is done by people working together in a determined way: Libraries have made a concerted effort to attract young people.

con-cer-to /kən'tʃertəʊ/ n. (plural concertos) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a piece of CLASSICAL MUSIC, usually for one instrument and an ORCHESTRA con-ces-sion /kən'seʃən/ n. [C] 1 something that you do in order to end an argument: Neither side is willing to make concessions on the issue of pay. 2 a special right given to someone by the government, an employer, etc.: tax concessions for married people 3 the right to have a business in a particular place, especially in a place owned by someone else con'cession stand n. [C] a small business that sells food, drinks, and other things at sports events, theaters, etc.

con-cierge /kən'syerz/ n. [C] someone in a hotel whose job is to help guests with problems, give advice about local places to go, etc. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French, Latin conservus "fellow slave"] con-cil-i-a-tion /kən'sili'eɪʃən/ n. [U] (formal) the process of trying to end an argument between people con-cil-i-a-to-ry /kən'siliə'tɔ:ri/ adj. (formal) intended to make someone stop being angry with you or with someone else: a conciliatory remark con-cise /kən'saɪs/ adj. short and clear, without using too many words: a concise answer [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin concisus, from the past participle of concidere "to cut up"] —concisely adv. —conciseness n. [U]

THESAURUS short, brief, quick, succinct, curt → SHORT¹

con-clude /kən'klud/ (Ac) v. 1 [T] to decide something after considering all the information you have: Doctors have concluded that sunburn can lead to skin cancer. | There are a number of things that we can conclude from this experiment. 2 [T] (formal) to complete something that you have been doing: The study was concluded last month. 3 [I,T] to end a meeting, speech, event, etc. by doing or saying one final thing, or to end in this way: The carnival concluded with a fireworks display. —concluding adj.: concluding remarks

con-clu-sion /kən'klu:ʒən/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 something that you decide after considering all the information you have: I've come to the conclusion that she's lying. | *The appeal court reached the same conclusion. | It's hard to draw any conclusions (=decide whether something is true) without more data. | Megan, you're jumping to conclusions (=deciding something is true without knowing all the facts). 2 the end or final part of something: *The conclusion of his essay was clear and concise. 3 in conclusion (formal) used in speech or a piece of writing to show that you are about to finish: In conclusion, I want to thank everyone who came out today. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French, Latin conclusio, from concludere "to shut up, end, decide"] con-clu-sive /kən'klusiv/ (Ac) adj. showing that something is definitely true: There is no conclusive evidence connecting him with the crime. —conclusively adv.: *The theory has not been proved conclusively.

con-coct /kən'kɒkt/ v. [T] 1 to invent a false explanation or illegal plan: She concocted a story about her mother being sick. | He concocted a scheme to rob the bank. 2 to make something unusual by mixing different things together [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of concoquere “to cook together”] —concoction /kən'kɒkʃən/ n. [C]

con-com-i-tant¹ /kən'kɒmətənt/ adj. [only before noun] (formal) existing or happening together, especially as a result of something: members' concomitant rights and responsibilities —concomitantly adv.

concomitant² n. [C] (formal) something that often or naturally happens with something else: Deafness is a frequent concomitant of aging.

con-cord /'kɒŋkɔːd/ n. [U] (formal) the state of having a friendly relationship, so that you agree on things and live in peace [SYN] harmony [ANT] discord: Concord between the Democrats and Republicans is not easy.

con-course /'kɒŋkɔːs/ n. [C] a large hall or open place in an airport, train station, etc. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 concourse “coming together of people, crowd” (14—21 centuries), from French concourse, from Latin concursum] con-crete¹ /'kɒŋkriːt/ n. [U] a substance used for building that is made by mixing sand, water, small stones, and CEMENT con-crete² /kən'kriːt, 'kɒŋkriːt/ adj. 1 made of concrete: a concrete floor → see picture at MATERIAL 2 clearly based on facts, not on beliefs or guesses: We need concrete evidence to prove that he did it. —concretely adv.

concrete noun n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a noun that names a physical thing, animal, or person you are able to hear, see, smell, touch, or taste. For example, “book” and “child” are concrete nouns. → ABSTRACT NOUN con-cur /kən'kʊː/ v. (concurred, concurring) [I] (formal) to agree with someone or have the same opinion: Dr. Hastings concurs with the decision of the medical board. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin currere, from com “together” + currere “to run”] —concurrence /kən'kʊːəns, -'kʌrəns/ n. [U] con-cur-rent /kən'kʊːənt, -'kʌrənt/ [AC] adj. (formal) 1 existing or happening at the same time: His work is being displayed in three concurrent art exhibitions. 2 (formal) in agreement: concurrent opinions —concurrently adv.

THESAURUS agree, be of the same opinion, share sb's views/concerns, be unanimous → AGREE

con,current 'lines n. [plural] MATH two or more lines that pass through the same single point con-cus-sion /kən'kʌʃən/ n. [C,U] a small amount of damage to the brain that makes you become unconscious or feel sick, caused by hitting your head con-demn /kən'dem/ v. [T] 1 to say very strongly that you do not approve of someone or something: Politicians were quick to condemn the bombing. 2 to give a severe punishment to someone who is guilty of a crime: The murderer was condemned to death. 3 to force someone to live in an unpleasant way or to suffer: families who are condemned to a life of poverty 4 to say officially that a building is not safe enough to be lived in or used [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French condemner, from Latin condemnare] con-dem-na-tion /,kəndəm'neɪʃən/ n. [C,U] an expression of very strong disapproval: international condemnation of the war

con-den-sa-tion /,kəndən'seɪʃən/ n. [U] small drops of water that appear when steam or hot air touches something that is cool, such as a window → EVAPORATION → see picture at WATER CYCLE con-dense /kən'dens/ v. 1 [I,T] PHYSICS if gas or hot air condenses, it becomes a liquid as it becomes cooler 2 [T] to make a speech or piece of writing shorter by using fewer words to say the same thing 3 [T] to make a liquid thicker by removing some of the water from it: condensed soup con-de-scend /,kəndr'send/ v. [I] (disapproving) to behave as if you are better or more important than other people —condescension /,kəndr'senʃən/ n. [U] con-de-scend-ing /,kəndr'sendɪŋ/ adj. showing that you think you are better or more important than other people: He gave us a condescending smile.

con-di-ment /'kəndəmənt/ n. [C] (formal) something such as KETCHUP or MUSTARD that you add to food when you are eating it in order to make it taste better [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French, Latin condimentum, from condire “to pickle”]

con-di-tion¹ /kən'dɪʃən/ n. 1 [singular, U] the particular state that someone or something is in: the miserable condition of the roads | The car is still in excellent condition. | He remained in a critical condition (=very sick or very badly injured) at Emory University Hospital. 2 conditions [plural] the situation or environment in which someone lives or something happens: Poor working/living conditions are part of their daily lives. | Under these conditions, the plant will grow rapidly. | Schools closed early because of the bad weather conditions. 3 be in no condition to do sth to be too sick, drunk, or upset to be able to do something: He is in no condition to drive. 4 [C] an illness or health problem that affects you permanently or for a very long time: She has a serious heart condition. 5 [C] something that you must agree to or must happen before something else can happen: The bank sets strict conditions for new loans. | Two employees agreed to speak on condition that they not be named.

condition² v. [T] 1 SOCIAL SCIENCE to make a person or animal behave in a particular way by training him, her, or it over a period of time: Pavlov conditioned the dogs to expect food at the sound of a bell. 2 to put conditioner on your hair when you wash it con-di-tion-al¹ /kən'dɪʃənəl/ adj. 1 if an offer, agreement, etc. is conditional, it will only be done if something else happens: Our buying the house is conditional on our loan approval. 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS a conditional sentence is one that usually begins with “if” or “unless,” and states something that must be true or must happen before something else can be true or happen conditional² n. 1 the conditional ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, the form of the verb that expresses something that must be true or that happens before something else can be true or happens 2 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a conditional sentence or CLAUSE con-di-tion-er /kən'dɪʃənə/ n. [C] a liquid that you put on your hair when you wash it in order to make it healthy and easy to comb con-di-tion-ing /kən'dɪʃənɪŋ/ n. [U] SOCIAL SCIENCE the process by which people or animals learn to behave in a particular way: social conditioning

con-do /'kændoʊ/ n. (plural condos) [C] (informal) a CONDOMINIUM → HOUSE¹ con-do-lence /kən'doʊləns/ n. [C usually plural, U] sympathy for someone when someone s/he loves has died: Please offer my condolences to your mother. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Late Latin condolere “to express sympathy,” from Latin com- “with” + dolere “to feel pain”] con-dom /'kændəm/ n. [C] a thin piece of rubber that a man wears over his PENIS during sex, to prevent a woman from becoming PREGNANT or to protect against disease con-do-min-i-um /kændə'mɪniəm/ n. [C] a building that consists of separate apartments, each of which is owned by the people living in it, or one of these apartments → HOUSE¹ [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Modern Latin, Latin com- + dominium “area ruled”] con-done /kən'daʊn/ v. [T] to accept or allow behavior that most people think is wrong: I cannot condone the use of violence. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Latin condonare “to forgive”]

THESAURUS tolerate, accept, stand, put up with sth, live with sth → TOLERATE allow, let, permit, authorize, sanction → ALLOW con-du-cive /kən'dusɪv/ adj. be conducive to sth (formal) to provide conditions that make it easier to do something: The sunny climate is conducive to outdoor activities.

con-duct¹ /kən'dʌkt/ (Ac) v. 1 [T] to do something in an organized way, especially in order to get information or prove facts: The District Attorney's office is conducting the investigation. | I don't think it's right to conduct experiments/tests on animals. 2 [I, T] to stand in front of a group of musicians or singers and direct their playing or singing: the Boston Pops Orchestra, conducted by John Williams. 3 [T] if something conducts electricity or heat, it allows the electricity or heat to travel along or through it: Metal conducts electricity easily but plastic does not. 4 conduct yourself (formal) to behave in a particular way: He conducted himself well in the job interview. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin conductus, past participle of conducere “to lead or bring together”] con-duct² /'kʌndʌkt, -dəkt/ (Ac) n. [U] (formal) 1 the way someone behaves: standards of professional conduct

THESAURUS behavior, manner, demeanor → BEHAVIOR

2 the way a business, activity, etc. is organized and done: Democrats have been critical of the conduct of the hearings.

con-duc-tion /kən'dʌkʃən/ n. [U] PHYSICS the process by which energy, in the form of heat, sound, or electricity, passes through a substance or object without movement in the substance or object, for example heat passing through metal con-duc-tiv-i-ty /kəndʌk'tɪvəti/ n. [U] PHYSICS the degree to which something allows electricity or heat to travel along or through it con-duc-tor /kən'dʌktə/ n. [C] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS someone who conducts a group of musicians or singers 2 PHYSICS something that allows electricity or heat to travel along it or through it 3 someone who is in charge of a train or the workers on it con-du-it /'kændɪt/ n. [C] 1 a pipe or passage through which water, gas, electric wires, etc. pass 2 a connection that allows people to pass ideas, news, money, weapons, etc. from one place to another: The Internet is a tremendous conduit for information.

cone /koʊn/ n. [C] 1 a hollow or solid object with a round base and a point at the top: an orange traffic cone 2 a hard thin cookie, shaped like a cone, that you put ICE CREAM into → ICE CREAM CONE 3 BIOLOGY the hard brown fruit of a PINE or FIR tree → see picture at PLANT¹ con-fec-tion /kən'fekʃən/ n. [C] (formal) 1 something sweet and decorated, such as candy or cake: chocolate conffections 2 something that is complicated or has a lot of decoration, such as clothing or a building 3 something such as a movie or a song that is entertaining and not serious at all: The movie is a pretty light-hearted conffection.

con-fed-er-a-cy /kən'fedərəsi/ n. (plural confederacies) 1 the Confederacy HISTORY the southern states that fought against northern states in the American Civil War 2 [C] a confederation con-fed-er-ate /kən'fedərɪt/ n. [C] HISTORY a soldier in the Confederacy —confederate adj.

con-fed-e-ra-tion /kən'fedə'reɪʃən/ n. [C] a group of people, political parties, or organizations that have united in order to achieve an aim con-fer /kən'fə/ (Ac) v. (conferred, confer-ring) 1 [I] to discuss something with other people so everyone can give his/her opinion: You may want to confer with the other team members. 2 confer a degree/honor etc. on sb to officially give someone a degree, etc. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin conferre “to bring together”]

con-ference /ˈkɒnfərəns/ [Ac] n. [C,U] 1 a private meeting in which a few people discuss something: We’re having parent-teacher conferences at my kids’ school this week. | The meeting will be held in the second floor conference room. 2 a large formal meeting, often lasting for several days, at which members of an organization, profession, etc. discuss things related to their work: a sales conference | The American Medical Association is sponsoring a conference on men’s health. | Professor Roth is in London attending an international conference.

THESAURUS discussion, negotiations, debate, talks, dialogue → DISCUSSION

3 a group of teams that play against each other in a LEAGUE

‘conference call n. [C] a telephone conversation in which several people in different places can all talk to each other

‘conference committee n. [C] POLITICS a temporary committee, consisting of members of the House of Representatives and the Senate, whose job is to reach an agreement on a bill that has been passed in two different forms by each house con-fess /kənˈfes/ v. [I,T] 1 to admit that you have done something wrong or illegal: It didn’t take long for her to confess. | He has confessed to the crime.

THESAURUS admit, own up, come clean → ADMIT

2 to admit something that you feel embarrassed about: I confessed that I hadn’t understood. 3 to tell a priest or God about the bad things you have done —confessed adj.

con-fes-sion /kənˈfeʃən/ n. 1 [C] a statement that you have done something wrong or illegal: He made a full confession at the police station. 2 [C,U] the act of telling a priest or God about the bad things you have done con-fet-ti /kənˈfetɪ/ n. [U] small pieces of colored paper thrown into the air at a wedding, party, etc. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Italian, plural of confetto “candy,” from Latin conficere; because candy was thrown at Italian street celebrations] con-fi-dant /ˈkɒnfəˌdant/ n. [C] someone to whom you tell secrets or personal information con-fi-dante /ˈkɒnfəˌdant/ n. [C] a woman to whom you tell secrets or personal information con-fide /kənˈfaɪd/ v. [T] to tell someone about personal things that you do not want other people to know: He had confided to friends that he was unhappy.

confide in sb phr. v. to tell someone about something that is very private or secret because you feel you can trust him/her: I’ve never been able to confide in my sister.

con-fi-dence /ˈkɒnfədəns/ n. 1 [U] the feeling that you can trust someone or something to be good or successful: Public confidence in the economy is at an all-time low. | We have complete confidence in your ability to handle the situation. | Employees are losing confidence in the company. 2 [U] belief in your ability to do things well: I didn’t have any confidence in myself. | Her lack of confidence showed. | Living in another country gave me more confidence. 3 gain/win/earn sb’s confidence if you gain someone’s confidence, s/he begins to trust you: Gradually, the new manager began to win the employees’ confidence. 4 [U] the feeling that something is definite or true: I have confidence (that) the dispute will be settled before long. 5 in confidence if you say something in confidence, you tell someone something and trust him/her not to tell anyone else 6 [C] a secret, or a piece of information that is private or personal con-fi-dent /ˈkɒnfədənt/ adj. 1 sure that you have the ability to do things well or deal with situations successfully [ANT] insecure: She feels very confident about her ability to do the work. | a confident voice/smile/manner self-confident – sure that you can do things well and that other people will like you: He’s much more self-confident since he started college.

THESAURUS

self-assured – confident about what you are doing, and dealing with people in a calm way: The doctor spoke in a slow, self-assured voice.

assertive – behaving in a confident way, so that you are able to get what you want: Men tend to be more assertive than women.

2 [not before noun] sure that something will happen in the way you want or expect: I’m confident (that) he’ll help us out. | He was confident of winning the election. —confidently adv.

THESAURUS sure, certain, convinced, satisfied, positive → SURE¹ con-fi-den-tial /ˌkɒnfəˈdenʃəl/ adj. secret and not intended to be shown or told to other people: confidential information —confidentially adv. —confidentiality /ˌkɒnfədenʃiˈæləti/ n. [U]

THESAURUS secret, classified, sensitive, covert, undercover, clandestine → SECRET¹ con·fig·u·ra·tion /kənˌfɪɡjəˈreɪʃən/ n. [C] the way in which parts of something are arranged or formed into a particular shape: a star-shaped configuration con·fig·ure /kənˈfɪɡjə/ v. [T] IT to do things that allow something, especially computer equipment, to work with other equipment

con·fine /kənˈfaɪn/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to stop something bad from spreading to another place: The fire was confined to one building. 2 if you are confined to a place, you have to stay in that place, especially because you are sick: Rachel is confined to bed. 3 to keep someone or something within the limits of a particular subject or activity: Try to confine yourself to spending $120 a week. | We confined our research to young people. 4 to keep someone in a place s/he cannot leave, such as a prison: The prisoners are confined to their cells for most of the day. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French confiner, from Latin confinis, from confine “border”] con·fined /kənˈfaɪnd/ (Ac) adj. a confined space or area is very small: It wasn't easy to sleep in such a confined space.

con·fine·ment /kənˈfaɪnmənt/ n. [U] the act of forcing someone to stay in a room, prison, etc., or the state of being there → SOLITARY CONFINEMENT con·fines /ˈkənfaɪnz/ (Ac) n. [plural] the walls, limits, or borders of something: His son has only seen him within the confines of the prison.

con·firm /kənˈfɜːm/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to say or prove that something is definitely true: Blood tests confirmed the diagnosis. | Further studies confirmed that fish oil can lower blood pressure. | The article confirms what many experts have been saying for years. 2 to tell someone that a possible plan, arrangement, etc. is now definite: Please confirm your reservations 72 hours in advance. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French confirmer, from Latin confirmare]

con·fir·ma·tion /ˌkənˈfɜːməˈʃən/ (Ac) n. [C,U] a statement or letter that says that something is definitely true, or the act of stating this: We're waiting for confirmation of the report. | These figures provide confirmation that inflation is the lowest it has been for ten years.

con·firmed /kənˈfɜːmd/ (Ac) adj. 1 a confirmed bachelor/alcoholic etc. someone who seems unlikely to change the way of life s/he has chosen 2 confirmed case/sighting/report of sth proved and therefore known to be true or real: There have been two confirmed sightings of jaguars in Arizona this year.

con·fis·cate /ˈkənˌfɪsket/ v. [T] to officially take something away from someone: U.S. customs officers confiscated his passport. —confiscation /ˌkənˌfɪskeɪʃən/ n. [C,U] con·fla·gra·tion /ˌkənˌfləˈɡreɪʃən/ n. [C] (formal) 1 a very large fire over a large area, that destroys a lot of buildings, forests, etc. 2 a violent situation or war: the conflagration in the Middle East

con·flict¹ /ˈkənˌflɪkt/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] angry disagreement between people, groups, countries, etc.: a conflict between father and son | conflicts over land | The two groups have been in conflict with each other for years. 2 [C,U] fighting or a war: Armed conflict might be unavoidable. | The fighting continues despite efforts to resolve the conflict.

THESAURUS war, warfare, fighting, combat, action, hostilities → WAR

3 [C,U] a situation in which you have to choose between opposing things: a conflict between the demands of one's work and one's family 4 [C] something that you have to do at the same time that someone wants you to do something else: Sorry – I have a conflict Friday. Can we do it on Monday? 5 conflict of interest(s) a situation in which you cannot do your job fairly because you are personally affected by the decisions you make: She sold her shares in the company to avoid any conflict of interest. 6 ENG. LANG. ARTS a situation in a book, play, movie, etc. in which different characters or forces oppose each other in a way that causes or influences the action of the story: The central conflict in the story is between the boy and his father. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin conflictus, from the past participle of confligere “to strike together”]

con·flict² /kənˈflɪkt/ (Ac) v. [I] if two ideas, beliefs, opinions, etc. conflict, they cannot both be true: The new evidence conflicts with the findings from previous studies. | We have heard many conflicting opinions on the subject.

con·flu·ence /ˈkənfluəns/ n. [singular] 1 the place where two or more rivers or roads meet and join: the confluence of the Missouri and Yellowstone rivers 2 a situation in which two or more things happen or exist at the same time: It was a confluence of events that changed my life. —confluent adj.

con·form /kənˈfɔːm/ (Ac) v. [I] 1 to behave in the way that most people behave: There's always pressure on kids to conform. 2 to obey a law, rule, etc.: Restaurants must conform to health and safety laws. | The proposed site of the new factory must conform with the zoning laws. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French conformer, from Latin conformare, from com- “together” + formare “to form”] —conformity /kənˈfɔːməti/ n. [U] con·form·ist /kənˈfɔːmɪst/ n. [C] someone who behaves or thinks like everyone else because s/he does not want to be different (ANT) nonconformist con·found /kənˈfaʊnd/ v. [T] to confuse and surprise people by not being what they expected: Her amazing recovery has confounded doctors.

con·front /kənˈfrʌnt/ v. [T] 1 if you are confronted with a problem, difficulty, etc., it appears and needs to be dealt with: It was the first time the team had been confronted with a stronger opponent, but they still played well. 2 to try to make someone admit s/he has done something wrong, especially by showing him/her proof: I'm afraid to confront her about her drinking. 3 to deal with something difficult or bad in a brave and determined way: Sooner or later you'll have to confront your problems. 4 to stand in front of someone, as though you are going to attack him/her: She was confronted by two men.

C

C

con-fron-ta-tion /kənfrən'teɪʃən/ n. [C,U] an argument or fight: confrontations between police and protesters con-fuse /kən'fyuz/ v. [T] 1 to make someone feel that s/he is unable to think clearly or understand something: His directions really confused me. 2 to think wrongly that a person or thing is someone or something else: It's easy to confuse Sue with her sister. 3 to make something more complicated or difficult to understand: His questions were just confusing the issue.

con-fused /kən'fyuzd/ adj. 1 unable to understand clearly what someone is saying or what is happening: I'm totally confused. | I'm still confused about what happened.

THESAURUS

bewildered – very confused and not sure what to do or think: People are often bewildered by all the rules and regulations about taxes.

puzzled – confused and unable to understand something: He seemed puzzled by her question.

baffled – very confused and completely unable to understand something: The police are still baffled by the man's disappearance.

2 complicated and difficult to understand: confused feelings [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French confus, from Latin confusus, past participle of confundere “to pour together, confuse”] con-fus-ing /kən'fyuzɪŋ/ adj. difficult to understand: The diagram is really confusing.

con-fu-sion /kən'fyuʒən/ n. 1 [U] a state of not understanding what is happening or what something means: There's a lot of confusion about/over the new rules. | The changes in the schedule have created confusion. 2 [U] a situation in which you wrongly think that a person or thing is someone or something else: To avoid confusion, the teams wore different colors. 3 [singular, U] a very confusing situation, usually with a lot of noise and action: With all the confusion, nobody noticed the two boys leave. | The country is in a state of confusion.

con-geal /kən'dʒɪl/ v. [I] if a liquid such as blood congeals, it becomes thick or solid con-ge-nial /kən'dʒɪniəl/ adj. (formal) pleasant in a way that makes you feel comfortable and relaxed: a congenial atmosphere

con-gen-i-tal /kən'dʒɛnətəl/ adj. 1 BIOLOGY a congenital medical condition or disease affects someone from the time s/he is born: a congenital heart problem 2 [only before noun] a congenital quality is one that has always been part of your character and is unlikely to change: He's a congenital liar.

con-gest-ed /kən'dʒɛstɪd/ adj. 1 too full or blocked because of too many vehicles or people: congested freeways 2 a congested nose, chest, etc. is filled with thick liquid that does not flow easily —congestion /kən'dʒɛstʃən/ n. [U] con-glom-er-ate /kən'gləmərɪt/ n. [C] ECONOMICS a large company made up of many different smaller companies con-glom-er-a-tion /kən'gləmərə'teɪʃən/ n. [C] (formal) a group of many different things or people gathered together con-grat-u-late /kən'grætʃəleɪt/ v. [T] to tell someone that you are happy because s/he has achieved something, or because something good has happened to him/her: I want to congratulate you on a fine achievement. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of congratulari “to wish happiness”] —congratulatory /kən'grætʃələ'tɔːri/ adj.

THESAURUS praise, flatter, compliment sb/pay sb a compliment, commend → PRAISE¹ con-grat-u-la-tions /kən'grætʃəleɪʃənz/ n. [plural] used in order to congratulate someone: You won? Congratulations! | Congratulations on your engagement! | Congratulations to all the winners.

con-gre-gate /'kæŋgrə'geɪt/ v. [I] to come together in a group: A group of protesters had congregated outside. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin, past participle of congregare, from com “together” + grex “crowd”]

THESAURUS meet, get together, gather, assemble, come together, convene → MEET¹

con-gre-ga-tion /'kæŋgrə'geɪʃən/ n. [C] a group of people gathered in a church for a religious service, or the people who usually go to a particular church

con-gress /'kæŋgrɪs/ n. 1 CONGRESS POLITICS the group of people elected to make laws for the U.S., consisting of the Senate and the House of Representatives: The bill has been approved by both houses of Congress. | an act of Congress 2 [C] a formal meeting in which representatives of different groups, countries, etc. exchange information and make decisions [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin congressus “meeting,” from the past participle of congrēdi “to come together”] —congressional /kəŋ'grɛʃənəl/ adj.

con-gress-man /'kæŋgrɪsmən/ n. (plural congressmen /-mənz/) [C] a man who is elected to be in Congress

THESAURUS politician, president, congresswoman, senator, governor, mayor → POLITICIAN con-gress-wom-an /'kɒŋgrɪs,wʊmən/ n. (plural congresswomen /-,wɪmɪn/) [C] a woman who is elected to be in Congress

THESAURUS politician, president, congressman, senator, governor, mayor → POLITICIAN

con-gru-ent /kəŋ'gruənt, 'kɒŋgruənt/ adj. 1 (formal) fitting together well, or suitable 2 MATH congruent shapes are the same size and shape as each other: congruent circles | congruent polygons 3 MATH congruent angles are angles that measure the same in degrees → see picture at ANGLE 4 MATH congruent numbers are two numbers whose difference can be divided exactly by a third number. For example, 8 and 23 are congruent when the third number is 5, because the difference (15) can be divided exactly by 5. 5 MATH congruent ARCS are parts of the outside of the same circle, or of two IDENTICAL circles that curve with the same degree 6 MATH congruent SEGMENTS are exactly the same length [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin, present participle of congruere “to come together, agree”] con-gru-ous /'kɒŋgruəs/ adj. (formal) appropriate for something because it is similar in some way —congruity n. [C,U] con-i-cal /'kɒnɪkəl/ adj. shaped like a CONE, or relating to cones conic 'section n. [C] MATH a curved shape formed by a PLANE (=flat shape) crossing through a CONE. It can be a circle, an ELLIPSE, a HYPERBOLA, or a PARABOLA, depending on the angle at which the plane meets and goes through the cone.

con-i-fer /'kɒnəfə/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a tree that keeps its leaves in winter and has CONES containing its seeds —coniferous /kə'nɪfərəs, kɒn-/ adj.

con-jec-ture /kən'dʒektʃə/ n. [C,U] (formal) the act of forming ideas about something when you do not have enough information to base them on: There has been some conjecture in the press about a possible merger. —conjecture v. [I,T] con-ju-gal /'kɒndʒəɡəl/ adj. [only before noun] (formal) relating to marriage or married people con-ju-gate /'kɒndʒə,geɪt/ v. [T] ENG. LANG. ARTS to state the different forms that a verb can have —conjugation /,kɒndʒə'geɪʃən/ n. [C,U] con-ju-gate /'kɒndʒəɡɪt/ n. [C] MATH a COMPLEX CONJUGATE con-junc-tion /kən'dʒʌŋkʃən/ n. [C] 1 in conjunction with sb/sth working, happening, or being used with someone or something else: The worksheets should be used in conjunction with the video. 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS a word such as “but,” “and,” or “while” that connects parts of sentences, phrases, or CLAUSES con-jure /'kɒndʒə/ v. [I,T] to perform tricks in which you seem to make things appear, disappear, or change as if by magic —conjuror, conjuror n. [C] conjure sth ↔ up phr. v. 1 make an image, idea, memory, etc. very clear and strong in someone's mind: Smells can often conjure up memories. 2 to make, get, or achieve something, as if by magic con-man /'kɒn,mæn/ n. (plural conmen /-,mɛn/) [C] (informal) someone who gets money or valuable things from people by tricking them con-nect /kə'nekt/ v. 1 [T] to join two or more things together (ANT disconnect: Connect the speakers to the stereo. 2 [T] to realize or show that a fact, event, person, etc. is related to or involved in something: There is little evidence to connect him with the crime. 3 [T] to attach something to a supply of electricity, gas, or water, or to a computer or telephone network (ANT disconnect: Has the phone been connected yet? | Click here to connect to the Internet. → INTERNET 4 [I] if an airplane, train, etc. connects with another one, it arrives just before the other one leaves so you can change from one to the other: a connecting flight to Omaha 5 [I] (informal) if people connect, they feel that they like and understand each other: I really felt I connected with Jim's parents. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin connectere, from com “together” + nectere “to tie”] con-nect-ed /kə'nektɪd/ adj. 1 if two facts, events, people, etc. are connected, there is some kind of relationship between them: symptoms connected with the disease

THESAURUS related, linked, relevant, pertinent → RELATED

2 joined to something else: The computer is connected to a printer 3 well-connected having important or powerful friends or relatives: a wealthy and well-connected lawyer

con-nec-tion /kə'nekʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] a relationship between things, people, ideas, etc.: the connection between smoking and lung disease | Does this have any connection with/to our project? 2 [C] a piece of wire or metal joining two parts of a machine together or to an electrical system: There must be a loose connection – I'm not getting any power. 3 [C,U] the process of joining together two or more things: free Internet connection 4 [C] an airplane, bus, or train that leaves at a time that allows passengers from an earlier airplane, bus, or train to use it to continue their trip: I missed my connection. 5 in connection with sth concerning something: Police are questioning a man in connection with the crime. 6 connections [plural] people you know who can help you, especially because they are in positions of power: He has connections in high places.

C

con'nective ,tissue n. [U] BIOLOGY parts of the body such as fat or bone that support or join together organs and other body parts con-nive /kə'naɪv/ v. [I] to plan something secretly, especially something that is wrong or illegal: Together, they connived to deceive her. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 French conniver, from Latin connivere “to close the eyes, connive”] —connivance n. [C,U] con-nois-seur /,kənə'sɔː, -'sʊr/ n. [C] someone who knows a lot about something such as art, food, or music: a connoisseur of fine wines

THESAURUS expert, specialist, authority, pundit → EXPERT con-no-ta-tion /,kənə'teɪʃən/ n. [C] an idea or a feeling that a word makes you think of, in addition to its basic meaning: The word “liberal” has negative connotations these days. —connote /kə'nəʊt/ v. [T] con-no-ta-tive /'kənə'teɪtɪv/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS making you think of a quality or an idea that is more than the basic meaning of a word con-quer /'kæŋkə/ v. 1 [I,T] to get control of land or people by force: Egypt was conquered by the Ottoman Empire in 1517.

THESAURUS beat, defeat, vanquish, overcome → BEAT¹

2 [T] to succeed in controlling a strong feeling or solving a serious problem that you have: I didn't think I'd ever conquer my fear of heights. —conqueror n. [C] con-quest /'kæŋkwɛst/ n. [singular, U] the act of getting control of land or people by force: the Spanish conquest of Central America

con-science /'kənʃəns/ n. [U] 1 the set of feelings that tell you whether what you are doing is morally right or wrong: He had a guilty conscience (=feeling of guilt). | At least my conscience is clear (=I know I have done nothing wrong).

THESAURUS guilt, shame, remorse → GUILT

2 on sb's conscience making you feel guilty: I lied and it's always going to be on my conscience. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French, Latin conscientia, from conscire “to be conscious (of being guilty)”] con-sci-en-tious /,kənʃi'ɛnʃəs/ adj. careful to do everything that it is your job or duty to do: a conscientious teacher

THESAURUS careful, methodical, thorough, meticulous, systematic, painstaking, scrupulous → CAREFUL conscientious ob'jector n. [C] someone who refuses to fight in a war because of his/her moral beliefs

con-scious /'kənʃəs/ adj. 1 [not before noun] noticing or realizing something (SYN aware: I became conscious of the fact that someone was watching me. 2 awake and able to understand what is happening (ANT unconscious: Owen was still conscious when they arrived at the hospital. 3 conscious effort/decision/attempt etc. a deliberate effort, decision, etc.: Vivian had made a conscious effort to be friendly. 4 thinking that something is very important: fashion-conscious teenagers | She's very conscious of safety. —consciously adv.

con-scious-ness /'kənʃəsnɪs/ n. [U] 1 the condition of being awake and understanding what is happening: Charlie fell down the stairs and lost consciousness. | It was two weeks before he regained consciousness. 2 someone's mind, thoughts, and ideas: research into human consciousness 3 the state of knowing that something exists or is true (SYN awareness: The march is intended to raise people's consciousness about women's health issues.

cons-cript /kən'skrɪpt/ v. [T] (formal) to make someone join the army, navy, etc. —conscription /kən'skrɪpʃən/ n. [U] con-se-crate /'kənsə,kreɪt/ v. [T] to make something holy by performing a religious ceremony —consecration /,kənsə'kreɪʃən/ n. [U] con-sec-u-tive /kən'sɛkyətɪv/ adj. consecutive numbers or periods of time happen one after the other: It rained for three consecutive days. —consecutively adv.

con,secutive 'angles n. [plural] MATH angles of a POLYGON (=flat shape with three or more sides) that share one of their sides with each other con-sen-su-al /kən'sɛnʃuəl/ adj. giving your permission for something, or agreeing to something con-sen-sus /kən'sɛnsəs/ (Ac) n. [singular, U] an opinion that everyone in a group agrees with or accepts: We failed to reach a consensus on the issue. | The decisions are made by consensus. | There seems to be a lack of consensus on/about how to deal with the situation. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Latin consentire “to feel together, agree”]

con-sent¹ /kən'sent/ (Ac) n. [U] permission to do something: parental consent | He took the car without my consent.

consent² v. [I] (formal) to give your permission for something to happen: Her father reluctantly consented to the marriage. | His boss asked him to work late, and he consented.

con-se-quence /'kənsə,kwəns, -kwəns/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] something that happens as a result of a particular action: She never thinks about the consequences of her actions. | He broke the law, and now he must face the consequences (=accept the bad results of his actions). | He died as a consequence of injuries he received in the accident. | Increased taxes on fuel could have disastrous consequences for the airline industry.

THESAURUS result, aftereffects, side effect, outcome, upshot, repercussions → RESULT¹

2 of little/no consequence (formal) not important: a matter of little consequence

con-se-quent /'kənsə,kwənt, -kwənt/ (Ac) adj. [only before noun] (formal) happening as a result of something: racial prejudice and its consequent violence [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French, Latin, present participle of consequi, from com “with” + sequi “to follow”]

con-se-quent-ly /'kənsə,kwəntli, -kwənt-/ (Ac) adv. as a result: He didn't study and consequently failed the final exam. | The employees received very little training. Consequently, they made mistakes.

con-ser-va-tion /'kənsə'veɪʃən/ n. [U] 1 the protection of natural things such as animals, plants, forests, etc.: the conservation of wildlife 2 the controlled use of a limited amount of water, gas, electricity, etc. to prevent the supply from being wasted —conservationist n. [C] conservation of 'charge n. [U] PHYSICS a scientific principle that says that the total electric charge of a system remains the same in spite of any changes that happen inside the system conservation of 'energy n. [U] PHYSICS a scientific principle that says that the total amount of energy in a system remains the same even though the type of energy may change conservation of 'mass n. [U] PHYSICS a scientific principle that says that the total MASS of a system remains the same in spite of any changes that happen inside the system conservation of mo'mentum n. [U] PHYSICS a scientific principle that says that the total MOMENTUM of a system remains the same in spite of any changes that happen inside the system con-serv-a-tism /kən'səvə,tɪzəm/ n. [U] the belief that any changes to the way things are done must happen slowly and have very good reasons: political conservatism

con-serv-a-tive¹ /kən'səvətɪv/ adj. 1 preferring to continue doing things the way they are being done or have been proven to work, rather than risking changes: a very conservative attitude to education 2 not very modern in style, taste, etc.: a conservative business suit 3 POLITICS supporting political ideas that include less involvement by the government in business and people's lives, for example by encouraging everyone to work and earn their own money, and having strong ideas about moral behavior (ANT) liberal: a politically conservative family 4 a conservative estimate a guess that is deliberately lower than the real amount probably is —conservatively adv.

conservative² n. [C] POLITICS someone with conservative opinions or principles (ANT) liberal: Conservatives in Congress want to reduce the agency's funds.

con-serv-a-to-ry /kən'səvə,tɔːri/ n. (plural conservatories) [C] 1 a school where students are trained in music or acting 2 a GREENHOUSE con-serve /kən'səv/ v. [T] to prevent something from being wasted, damaged, or destroyed: efforts to conserve water | Try and rest frequently to conserve your energy. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French conserver, from Latin conservare, from com “together” + servare “to keep, guard”]

THESAURUS protect, guard, safeguard, shield, give/offer/provide protection, shelter, preserve → PROTECT

con-sid-er /kən'sɪdə/ v. 1 [I,T] to think about something very carefully, especially before making a decision: I considered resigning. | He was considering whether to apply for the job. | You should consider the possibility of moving there permanently. 2 [T] to think of someone or something in a particular way, or have a particular opinion: Mrs. Greenwood was considered to be an excellent teacher. | We consider it important to get the Director's advice on this. | Greg should consider himself lucky (=be glad) he wasn't badly hurt.

THESAURUS think, believe, suspect, figure, guess → THINK

3 [T] to think about someone or his/her feelings, and try to avoid upsetting him/her: It's all right for you, but have you considered the children? [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French considerer, from Latin considerare “to look at the stars, look at closely, examine”] con-sid-er-a-ble /kən'sɪdərəbəl/ (Ac) adj. large enough to be important or have an effect: We spent a considerable amount of money on the interior of the house. —considerably adv.: It's considerably colder tonight.

con-sid-er-ate /kən'sɪdərɪt/ adj. thinking and caring about other people's feelings, wants, or needs (ANT) inconsiderate: He was always kind and considerate. —considerately adv.

THESAURUS kind, nice, thoughtful, caring, warm-hearted, compassionate, sympathetic
→ KIND²

con-sid-er-a-tion /kənˌsɪdə'reɪʃən/ n. 1 [U] (formal) careful thought and attention: Several plans are under consideration. | We will give careful consideration to your proposal. 2 [C] a fact or detail that you think about when making a decision: financial considerations 3 take sth into consideration to think about something when making a decision: We'll take into consideration the fact that you were sick. 4 [U] the quality of thinking and caring about other people's feelings, wants, or needs: He shows no consideration for others.

con-sid-ered /kənˈsɪdəd/ adj. 1 considered opinion/judgment an opinion based on careful thought 2 all things considered after thinking about all the facts: All things considered, I think the meeting went pretty well.

con-sid-er-ing /kənˈsɪdərɪŋ/ prep., conjunction used to say that you are thinking about a particular fact when giving your opinion: She did very well considering (that) it was her first attempt.

con-sign /kənˈsaɪn/ v. [T] (formal) consign sb/sth to sth phr. v. 1 to cause someone or something to be in a bad situation: a decision that consigned him to political obscurity 2 to put something somewhere, especially in order to get rid of it con-sign-ment /kənˈsaɪnmənt/ n. 1 [C] a quantity of goods that is sent to someone in order to be sold 2 on consignment goods that are on consignment are being sold by a store owner for someone else, for a share of the profit con-sist /kənˈsɪst/ (AC) v.

consist of sth phr. v. to be made of or contain particular things or people: The top layer of earth consists largely of clay, gravel and sand. | The audience consisted solely of teenagers. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin consistere “to stand still or firm, exist”]

con-sist-en-cy /kənˈsɪstənsi/ (AC) n. (plural consistencies) 1 [U] (approving) the quality of always being the same, or of always behaving in an expected way (ANT) inconsistency: There's no consistency in the way they apply the rules. 2 [C,U] how thick, smooth, etc. a substance is: a dessert with a nice creamy consistency con-sist-ent /kənˈsɪstənt/ (AC) adj. 1 (approving) always happening in the same way, or having the same attitudes, quality, etc. (ANT) inconsistent: I've tried to be consistent in applying the rules. 2 containing facts, ideas, etc. that agree with other facts, etc.: His story is not consistent with the facts. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, present participle of consistere “to stand still or firm, exist”] —consistently adv.: consistently good grades con-so-la-tion /ˌkənsəˈleɪʃən/ n. [C,U] something that makes you feel better when you are sad or disappointed: If it's any consolation to you, I think that you're improving.

con-so-lation prize n. [C] a prize that is given to someone who has not won a competition con-sole¹ /kənˈsəʊl/ v. [T] to help someone who is sad or disappointed to feel better: No one could console her when her dog died. | Danny consoled himself with the thought that he had done his best.

con-sole² /ˈkənsəʊl/ n. [C] it a flat board that contains the controls for a machine, piece of electrical equipment, computer, etc.: a video game console → see picture on page A6 con-sol-i-date /kənˈsələˌdeɪt/ v. [I,T] 1 to make something stronger or more successful: The company has consolidated its position in the Japanese market. 2 to combine things so that they are more effective or easier to manage: a loan to consolidate debts —consolidation /kənˈsələˌdeɪʃən/ n. [C,U] con-so-nance /ˈkənsənəns/ n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the action of repeating the same consonant sound or sounds, especially at the end of words, in a piece of writing or speech con-so-nant /ˈkənsənənt/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS any letter of the English alphabet except a, e, i, o, and u → VOWEL [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French, Latin, present participle of consonare “to sound together, agree”] con-sort /kənˈsɔ:t/ v.

consort with sb phr. v. (formal) to spend time with someone who other people do not approve of con-sor-ti-um /kənˈsɔ:ʃiəm, -tɪəm/ n. (plural consortia /-ʃiə, -tɪə/ or consortiums) [C] a combination of several companies, organizations, etc. working together: a consortium of banks con-spic-u-ous /kənˈspɪkyuəs/ adj. very easy to notice (ANT) inconspicuous: The notice must be displayed in a conspicuous place. —conspicuously adv.

THESAURUS noticeable, clear, obvious, striking, eye-catching, evident, apparent, unmistakable, manifest → NOTICEABLE

con.spicuous consumption n. [U] (disapproving) the act of buying a lot of expensive things, so that other people will see how rich you are con-spir-a-cy /kənˈspɪrəsi/ n. (plural conspiracies) [C,U] a secret plan made by two or more people to do something illegal: a conspiracy to distribute drugs

THESAURUS plan, plot, scheme, strategy → PLAN¹

con-spir-a-tor /kənˈspɪrətə/ n. [C] someone who is involved in a secret plan to do something illegal —conspiratorial /kənˌspɪrətərɪəl/ adj.

con-spire /kən'spaɪə/ v. [I] 1 to secretly plan with other people to do something bad or illegal: The company was accused of conspiring with local stores to fix prices. 2 (formal) if events conspire to make something happen, they happen at the same time and have a bad result con-stant¹ /'kənstənt/ (Ac) adj. 1 happening regularly or all the time: There was a constant stream of visitors to the house. | He's under constant pressure. 2 staying at the same level for a long period of time: *driving at a constant speed | The experiment was carried out at a constant temperature. —constancy n. [singular, U]

constant² (Ac) n. [C] 1 MATH a number or quantity that never changes 2 (formal) something that stays the same even though other things change con-stant-ly /'kənstəntli/ (Ac) adv. always or regularly: The English language is constantly changing.

THESAURUS often, a lot, frequently, regularly, repeatedly, again and again/over and over (again) → OFTEN always, permanently, all the time/the whole time, continuously, invariably → ALWAYS con-stel-la-tion /kənstə'leɪʃən/ n. [C] a group of stars that forms a particular pattern and has a name → SPACE¹ con-ster-na-tion /kənstə'neɪʃən/ n. [U] a feeling of shock or worry con-sti-pa-tion /kənstə'peɪʃən/ n. [U] a condition in which someone is unable to get rid of solid waste from his/her body —constipated /'kənstə'peɪtɪd/ adj.

con-stit-u-en-cy /kən'stɪtʃuənsi/ (Ac) n. (plural constituencies) [C] POLITICS the people who live and vote in a particular area: The governor plans to visit a rural constituency.

con-stit-u-ent /kən'stɪtʃuənt/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 someone who votes in a particular area: The congressman is committed to issues that are important to his constituents. 2 one of the parts that combine to form something: Sodium is one of the constituents of salt. —constituent adj.

con-sti-tute /'kənstə'tʃuːt/ (Ac) v. [linking verb] (formal) 1 if several parts constitute something, they form it together: Alaska is the largest of the 50 states that constitute the U.S.A. | Nitrogen constitutes 78% of the Earth's atmosphere. 2 to be considered to be something: The rise in crime constitutes a threat to society.

con-sti-tu-tion /kənstə'tʃuːn/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] also Constitution a set of laws and principles that a country or organization is governed by: the Constitution of the United States 2 [singular] your general health and your body's ability to fight disease and illness: *a boy with a strong/weak constitution 3 [singular] (formal) the structure of something, or the way something is organized: the constitution of the Earth's crust con-sti-tu-tion-al /kənstə'tʃuːnəl/ (Ac) adj. 1 officially allowed or restricted by the constitution of a country or organization: The court ruled that the officers had violated the men's constitutional rights. 2 relating to the constitution of a country or organization: a constitutional reform constitutional 'monarchy n. 1 [U] POLITICS a political system in which a country is ruled by a king or queen whose powers are limited by law 2 [C] POLITICS a country that is ruled by a king or queen whose powers are limited by law con-strain /kən'streɪn/ (Ac) v. [T] (formal) to limit someone's freedom to do what s/he wants to do: Our research was constrained by a lack of funds.

con-straint /kən'streɪnt/ (Ac) n. [C] something that restricts what you are doing: constraints on government spending* | We did the best we could, given the time/budget constraints.

con-strict /kən'strɪkt/ v. [I, T] to become smaller, narrower, or tighter, or to make something do this: Her throat constricted. —constriction /kən'strɪkʃən/ n. [C, U]: constriction of the arteries con-struct /kən'strʌkt/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to build something large such as a building, bridge, etc.: The Empire State Building was constructed in 1931. | The cabin is constructed from thick, heavy timbers. → see picture at BUILD¹

THESAURUS build, put up, erect, assemble, make, produce, manufacture, create → BUILD¹, MAKE¹

2 ENG. LANG. ARTS to form something such as a sentence or argument by joining words, ideas, etc. together: The younger students found it hard to construct a sentence in Spanish. 3 MATH to draw a mathematical shape: Construct a triangle with three equal angles. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin, past participle of construere, from com "together" + struere "to build"] con-struc-tion /kən'strʌkʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] the process or method of building something large such as a house, road, etc.: the construction of a new airport | The hotel is under construction (=being built). | *a construction worker 2 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the way in which words are put together in a sentence: *difficult grammatical constructions

con'struction paper n. [U] a thick colored paper that is used especially by children at school con-struc-tive /kən'strʌktɪv/ (Ac) adj. useful and helpful, or likely to produce good results: constructive criticism of students' essays* | His suggestions were positive and constructive.

con-strue /kən'struː/ v. [T] to understand something in a particular way (ANT) misconstrue: It might be construed as a threat.

con-sul /'kənsəl/ n. [C] an official who lives in a foreign city and whose job is to help citizens of his/her own country who also live or work there → AMBASSADOR —consular adj.

C

con-sul-ate /'kənsəlɪt/ n. [C] the official building where a consul lives and works → EMBASSY: the Danish Consulate

con-sult /kən'sʌlt/ (Ac) v. [I,T] 1 to ask or look for advice, information, etc. from someone or something that should have the answers: Consult your physician. | Don't do anything without consulting with your lawyer. 2 to discuss something with someone so that you can make a decision together: I'd better consult my wife first. 3 to look for information in a book, list, map, etc.: The police officer consulted his notes before answering Judge Eggar's question.

con-sul-tan-cy /kən'sʌltənsi/ (Ac) n. (plural consultancies) [C] a company that gives advice and training in a particular area of business to people in other companies con-sult-ant /kən'sʌltənt/ (Ac) n. [C] someone with a lot of experience in a particular area of business, whose job is to give advice about it: a marketing consultant

con-sul-ta-tion /,kənsəl'teɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [C,U] 1 a discussion in which people who are affected by a decision can say what they think should be done: The changes were made in consultation with community groups. | The interest rate rise follows close consultations with Treasury officials. 2 a meeting in which you get advice from a professional, or the process of getting this advice: a consultation with the school counselor

con-sume /kən'sʊm/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to completely use time, energy, goods, etc.: Smaller cars consume less fuel. 2 to eat or drink something: The boys seemed able to consume large quantities of food. 3 be consumed with passion/guilt/rage etc. to have a very strong feeling that you cannot ignore 4 (formal) if a fire consumes something, it completely destroys it [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French consumer, from Latin consumere, from com “completely” + sumere “to take up, take”] → TIME-CONSUMING

con-sum-er /kən'sʊmə/ (Ac) n. [C] someone who buys or uses goods and services: Consumers will soon be paying higher airfares. | There are laws that protect the consumer (=consumers in general) from fraud. | advertisements for consumer goods (=things that people buy for their own use, rather than things bought by businesses)

THESAURUS customer, client, shopper, patron, buyer → CUSTOMER

con-sum-er-ism /kən'sʊmə,rɪzəm/ n. [U] (disapproving) the belief that it is good to buy and use a lot of goods and services con-sum-mate¹ /'kənsəməɪt/ adj. very skillful: a consummate politician con-sum-mate² /'kənsə,meɪt/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to make a marriage or a relationship complete by having sex 2 to make something such as an agreement complete —consummation /,kənsə'meɪʃən/ n. [U] con-sump-tion /kən'sʌmpʃən/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 the amount of electricity, gas, etc. that is used: the aircraft's fuel consumption 2 (formal) the act of eating or drinking: The consumption of alcohol is not permitted on these premises.

con-tact¹ /'kəntækt/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] communication with a person, organization, country, etc.: Have you kept/stayed in contact with any of your school friends? | The soldiers had little contact with citizens of the country. | the establishment of diplomatic contacts 2 [U] the state of touching or being close to someone or something: What happens when different cultures come in contact with each other? | The disease spreads by sexual contact. 3 [C] someone you know who may be able to help you or give you advice: He has a few contacts in the movie industry. 4 [C] a contact lens 5 [C] PHYSICS an electrical part that completes a CIRCUIT when it touches another part contact² (Ac) v. [T] to telephone or write to someone: I've been trying to contact you for the past three days! ▶ Don't say “I've been trying to contact with you.” ◀

'contact lens n. [C] a small round piece of plastic you put on your eye to help you see clearly

con-ta-gious /kən'teɪdʒəs/ adj. 1 a disease that is contagious can be passed from person to person by touch or through the air 2 a person who is contagious has a disease like this 3 a feeling, attitude, action, etc. that is contagious is quickly felt or done by other people: Jeannie's laughter was contagious.

con-tain /kən'teɪn/ v. [T] 1 to have something inside: a wallet containing $50 2 to be included in something or be part of something: The report contained some shocking information. | products that contain nuts 3 to control the emotions you feel: Greg was so excited he could hardly contain himself. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French contenir, from Latin continere “to hold together, hold in, contain”] con-tain-er /kən'teɪnə/ n. [C] something such as a box, a bowl, a bottle, etc. that can be filled with something: an eight-gallon container

con-tain-ment /kən'teɪnmənt/ n. [U] POLITICS the act of controlling something, such as the cost of a plan or the power of an unfriendly country con-tam-i-nate /kən'tæmə,neɪt/ v. [T] 1 to spoil something by adding a dangerous or poisonous substance to it: These areas of the ocean are contaminated with/by oil. 2 to influence someone or something in a way that has a bad effect: Lack of trust will contaminate your whole relationship.

contact lens

—contaminated adj. —contamination /kən,tæmə'neɪʃən/ n. [U]

contd. the written abbreviation of CONTINUED

con-tem-plate /'kəntəm,pleɪt/ v. [T] to think seriously for a long time about something you intend to do, or something you want to understand: The group is contemplating legal action. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of contemplari] —contemplation /,kəntəm'pleɪʃən/ n. [U] con-tem-pla-tive /kən'templə'tɪv/ adj. spending a lot of time thinking seriously and quietly con-tem-po-ra-ne-ous /kən'tempə'reɪniəs/ adj. (formal) happening or existing in the same period of time [SYN] contemporary: Built in the 13th century, the churches are contemporaneous with many of the great gothic cathedrals. —contemporaneously adv.

—contemporaneity /kəntempərə'niəti, -'neɪəti/ n. [U] con-tem-po-rar-y /kən'tempə'reɪ/ [AC] adj. 1 belonging to the present time [SYN] modern: a museum of contemporary art 2 happening or existing in the same period of time: letters contemporary with his earliest compositions [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Medieval Latin contemporarius, from Latin com- “together” + tempus “time”] contemporary ² n. (plural contemporaries) [C] someone who lives in the same period of time as a particular person or event: Mozart's contemporaries | Christopher Marlowe was a contemporary of Shakespeare.

con-tempt /kən'tempt/ n. [U] 1 a feeling that someone or something does not deserve any respect: actions that show contempt for women 2 contempt of court not doing what a judge or court of law has told you to: Cooper was fined $100 for contempt of court. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin contemptus, from contemnere “to think of with contempt”] con-tempt-i-ble /kən'temptəbəl/ adj. not deserving any respect: contemptible behavior —contemptibly adv.

con-temp-tu-ous /kən'temptʃuəs/ adj. showing that you believe someone or something does not deserve any respect: young people who are contemptuous of authority con-tend /kən'tend/ v. 1 [T] to argue or say that something is true: Opponents contend that the changes will create even more problems. 2 [I] to compete for something: Twelve teams are contending for the title.

contend with sth phr. v. to deal with a problem or difficult situation: The police would then have less paperwork to contend with.

con-tend-er /kən'tendə/ n. [C] someone who is involved in a competition: She is a contender for the Democratic nomination for president.

con-tent ¹ /'kəntent/ n. 1 contents [plural] a) the things that are in a box, bag, room, etc.:

Officers searched through the contents of the desk. b) the words or ideas that are written in a book, letter, etc.: The contents of the document are still unknown. | the table of contents (=a list at the beginning of a book, that tells you what is in it) 2 [singular] the ideas, information, or opinions that are expressed in a speech, book, etc.: First of all, concentrate on the content of your essay, not its appearance. 3 [singular] the amount of a substance that something contains: Peanut butter has a high fat content.

con-tent ² /kən'tent/ adj. happy or satisfied, or willing to do or accept something: She seemed content to sit and wait. | I'd say she's pretty content with her life. —contentment n. [U] content ³ v. content yourself with sth to do or have something that is not what you really want, but is still satisfactory: Jack's driving, so he'll have to content himself with a soft drink.

THESAURUS happy, glad, pleased, delighted, thrilled, overjoyed, ecstatic, jubilant, elated → HAPPY

content ⁴ n. do sth to your heart's content to do something as much as you want con-tent-ed /kən'tentɪd/ adj. satisfied or happy [ANT] discontented: a contented cat

con-ten-tion /kən'tenʃən/ n. 1 [C] a belief or opinion that someone expresses: It was the defense's contention that their client was wrongly arrested. 2 [U] a situation in which people or groups are competing: Oregon remains in contention for the playoffs. 3 [U] arguments and disagreement between people: City planning has been a bone of contention (=subject that people argue about) for a long time.

con-ten-tious /kən'tenʃəs/ adj. likely to cause a lot of argument —contentiously adv.

con-test ¹ /'kəntest/ n. [C] 1 a competition, usually a small one: a contest to see who can run the fastest | The deadline for entering the contest is May 1. | Who won/lost the contest?

THESAURUS competition, championship, tournament, playoff → COMPETITION

2 a struggle to win control or power: the 1960 presidential contest between Kennedy and Nixon 3 no contest (informal) if a victory is no contest, it is very easy to achieve: In the end, it was no contest, with the Dolphins beating the Bengals 37–13. 4 plead no contest LAW to state that you will not give a defense in a court of law for something wrong you have done [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French contester, from Latin contestari “to call a witness, bring a legal case”] con-test ² /kən'test/ v. [T] 1 to say formally that you do not think something is right or fair: We intend to contest the judge's decision. 2 to compete for something: a hotly contested (=competed for very strongly) election

C

con-test-ant /kən'testənt/ n. [C] someone who competes in a contest

con-text /'kəntɛkst/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 the situation, events, or information that are related to something, and that help you to understand it: The events have to be considered in their historical/social/political context. | Can students apply the skills learned in school in a different context, such as the workplace? 2 the words and sentences that come before and after a word and that help you understand its meaning: "Smart" can mean "intelligent" or "sarcastic," depending on the context. 3 take sth out of context to repeat a sentence or phrase without describing the situation in which it was said, so that its meaning seems different from what was intended: Journalists had taken his comments completely out of context. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin contextus "connection of words," from contexere "to weave together"] context clue n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS information that helps you understand the meaning of a particular word or phrase, which you obtain from the surrounding words or from the situation or events, etc. being described con-tig-u-ous /kən'tɪgyuəs/ adj. (formal) next to something, or sharing the same border: the 48 contiguous States con-ti-nent /'kəntənənt, 'kəntɪn-ənt/ n. [C] one of the main areas of land on the Earth: the continent of Africa [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin continens "continuous area of land," from continere] con-ti-nen-tal /,kəntən'entl/ adj. relating to a continent: flights across the continental U.S.

continental 'breakfast n. [C] a breakfast consisting of coffee, juice, and a sweet ROLL (=type of bread) continental di'vide n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a very large area of high ground on a CONTINENT, from each side of which river systems flow in opposite directions continental 'drift n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES the very slow movement of the CONTINENTS across the surface of the Earth continental 'shelf n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES the area of land on the edge of a CONTINENT that slopes down into the bottom of the ocean → see picture at PHOTIC ZONE con-tin-gen-cy /kən'tɪndʒənsi/ n. (plural contingencies) [C] an event or situation that might happen and could cause problems: a contingency plan to cope with any computer failures con-tin-gent /kən'tɪndʒənt/ adj. (formal) dependent on something that may or may not happen in the future: The purchase of the house is contingent on/upon a satisfactory inspection.

contingent ² n. [C] a group of people who have the same aims or are from the same area, and who are part of a larger group: By late summer, a contingent of scientists had arrived.

continua n. a plural of CONTINUUM con-tin-u-al /kən'tɪnyuəl/ adj. repeated often, over a long period of time: Their continual arguing really upset me.

USAGE

Continual and continuous can be used in a very similar way: a continual/continuous process

Continual is also used when something happens many times, especially something annoying:

There were continual interruptions all day.

Continuous is used in order to emphasize that there is no pause or break between things: a continuous flow of water | a continuous line of trees

—continually adv.

con-tin-u-a-tion /kən'tɪnyu'eɪʃən/ n. 1 [U] the act or state of continuing for a long time without stopping: the continuation of family traditions 2 [C] something that follows after or is joined to something else and seems a part of it: Community colleges offer students a continuation of their education.

con-tin-ue /kən'tɪnyu/ v. 1 [I,T] to keep happening, existing, or doing something without stopping: She will continue her work at UCSD. | The city's population will continue to grow. | Continuing with the peace process is very important. 2 [I,T] to start doing something again after a pause: Rescuers will continue the search tomorrow. | After a brief ceasefire, fighting continued. 3 [I] to go further in the same direction: Route 66 continues on to Texas from here. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French continuer, from Latin continuare, from continuus] continuing edu'cation n. [U] classes for adults, often on subjects that relate to their jobs

con-ti-nu-i-ty /,kəntə'nuəti/ n. [U] the state of continuing over a long period of time without being interrupted or changing: Changing doctors can affect the continuity of your treatment.

con-tin-u-ous ¹ /kən'tɪnyuəs/ adj. 1 continuing to happen or exist without stopping or pausing: The church has been in continuous use since 1732. → see USAGE box at CONTINUAL 2 without any spaces or holes in it: a continuous line of cars —continuously adv.

continuous ² n. the continuous ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, the form of a verb that shows that an action or activity is continuing to happen, and that is formed with "be" and the PRESENT PARTICIPLE. In the sentence "She is watching TV," "is watching" is in the continuous.

con-tin-u-um /kən'tɪnyuəm/ n. (plural continuums or continua /-nyuə/) [C] (formal) a series of related things, in which each thing is only slightly different from the one before or the one after, so that there are no clear dividing points: Depression exists on a continuum, with mild sadness at one end to suicide at the other.

con-tort /kən'tɔ:t/ v. [I,T] to twist your face or body so that it does not have its normal shape —contortion /kən'tɔːʃən/ n. [C,U] con-tour /'kəntʊr/ n. [C] the shape of the outer edges of something such as an area of land or someone's body con-tra-band /'kəntrə,bænd/ n. [U] 1 goods that are brought into or taken out of a country illegally, especially to avoid paying tax 2 goods that are illegal to supply to either side in a war [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Italian contrabbando, from Medieval Latin contrabannum, from contra- “against” + bannum “official order”] —contraband adj.

con-tra-cep-tion /'kəntrə'sepʃən/ n. [U] the practice or methods of preventing a woman from becoming PREGNANT when she has sex [SYN] birth control con-tra-cep-tive /'kəntrə'septɪv/ n. [C] a drug, object, or method used so that a woman does not become PREGNANT when she has sex —contraceptive adj.

con-tract¹ /'kəntrækt/ [Ac] n. [C] 1 a legal written agreement between two people, companies, etc. that says what each will do: Stacy signed a three-year contract. | His firm has a contract with the Forest Service to supply firefighting equipment. | The shipyard won the contract to build seven ships. 2 (informal) an agreement to kill someone for money [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin contractus, past participle of contrahere “to pull together, make a contract, make smaller”] con-tract² /kən'trækt/ [Ac] v. 1 [T] (formal) to get an illness [SYN] catch: The disease is contracted from drinking contaminated water. 2 [I] to become smaller [ANT] expand: The economy is likely to contract over the coming year.

con-tract³ /'kəntrækt/ v. [I,T] to sign a contract to do something: The city has contracted with a private company to remove garbage.

contract sth ↔ out phr. v. to arrange to have a job done by a person or company outside your own organization: The city has contracted its garbage collection out to an independent company.

con-trac-tion /kən'trækʃən/ n. 1 [C] BIOLOGY a very strong and painful movement of a muscle in which it suddenly becomes tight, used especially about the muscles that become tight when a woman is going to give birth 2 [U] the process of becoming smaller or shorter 3 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a short form of a word or words, such as “don’t” for “do not”

con-trac-tor /'kən, træktə, kən'træk-/ [Ac] n. [C] a person or company that does work or supplies material for other companies con-trac-tu-al /kən'træktʃuəl/ adj. agreed in a contract: contractual obligations con-tra-dict /,kəntrə'dɪkt/ [Ac] v. 1 [T] if a statement, story, etc. contradicts another one, the facts in it are so different that both statements cannot be true: The witnesses' reports contradicted each other. | Recent experiments seem to contradict the earlier results. 2 [I,T] to say that what someone else has just said is wrong or not true: You shouldn't contradict me in front of the kids. 3 contradict yourself to say something that is the opposite of what you have said before [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of contradicere, from contra- “against” + dicere “to say”]

—contradictory /,kəntrə'dɪktəri/ adj.

con-tra-dic-tion /,kəntrə'dɪkʃən/ [Ac] n. 1 [C] a difference between two stories, facts, etc. that means they cannot both be true: There were contradictions between the testimonies of the two men. 2 [U] the act of saying that what someone has just said is wrong or not true 3 contradiction in terms a combination of words that seem to be the opposite of each other, so that the phrase does not have a clear meaning con-trap-tion /kən'træpʃən/ n. [C] (informal) a piece of equipment that looks strange

THESAURUS machine, appliance, device, gadget, mechanism → MACHINE¹

con-trar-y¹ /'kən, trəri/ [Ac] n. (formal) 1 on the contrary used in order to show that the opposite of what has just been said is actually true: We didn't start the fire. On the contrary, we helped put it out. 2 to the contrary showing or saying the opposite: In spite of rumors to the contrary, their marriage is fine. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin, contrarius “opposed, opposite,” from contra- “against”] contrary² adj. 1 completely different or opposite: This idea is contrary to Catholic teaching. 2 contrary to popular belief used in order to show that something is true even though people may think the opposite: Contrary to popular belief, gorillas are shy and gentle.

con-trar-y³ /kən'trəri/ adj. deliberately doing or saying the opposite of what someone else wants: an extremely contrary child con-trast¹ /'kəntræst/ [Ac] n. 1 [C,U] a difference between two people, situations, ideas, etc. that are being compared: the contrast between the rich and poor in America | Claire is tall and dark, in contrast to her mother, who is short and fair. | At that time, the life of West Berlin stood in sharp/stark/marked contrast to East Berlin. 2 [U] the differences in color or in light and darkness on photographs, a television picture, etc. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French contraster, from Italian contrastare “to stand out against, fight against”] con-trast² /kən'træst/ [Ac] v. 1 [T] to compare two people, ideas, objects, etc. to show how they are different from each other: In another passage, Melville again contrasts the land with the sea. | Students should compare and contrast the motives of each character in the story.

THESAURUS compare, make a comparison, draw a parallel, draw an analogy, make/draw a distinction → COMPARE¹

C

2 [I] if two things contrast, they are very different from each other: His thick, bulky body contrasted with Len's tall lankiness. —contrasting adj.: Different cultures have contrasting interpretations of the story.

con-tra-vene /ˌkəntrəˈvɪn/ v. [T] (formal) to do something that is not allowed by a law or a rule [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French contrevenir, from Late Latin contravenire, from Latin contra “against” + venire “to come”] —contravention /ˌkəntrəˈvɛnʃən/ n. [C,U]

THESAURUS disobey, break a rule/law, rebel, defy, flout, violate, infringe → DISOBEY

con-trib-ute /kənˈtrɪbyut, -yət/ v. 1 [I,T] to give money, help, or ideas to something that other people are also giving to: Large companies contribute money to both parties. | Other people had good ideas, but I felt I had nothing to contribute. 2 [I] to help make something happen: An electrical problem may have contributed to the crash. 3 [I,T] to write something for a newspaper or magazine: Several hundred people contributed articles, photographs, and cartoons. —contributor n. [C] —contributory /kənˈtrɪbyətəri/ adj.

con-trib-ution /ˌkəntrəˈbyuʃən/ n. [C] 1 something that is given or done to help something else be successful: The Mayo Clinic has made important contributions to cancer research. | Einstein's significant/important/valuable contributions to physics 2 an amount of money that is given to help pay for something: Would you like to make a contribution to the Red Cross? | a contribution of $25 3 a piece of writing that is printed in a newspaper or magazine con-trite /kənˈtraɪt/ adj. feeling guilty and sorry for something bad that you have done: a contrite apology —contrition /kənˈtrɪʃən/ n. [U] con-trive /kənˈtraɪv/ v. [T] to manage to do something difficult or to invent something by being very smart or dishonest: Schindler contrived to save more than 1,000 Polish Jews from the Nazis.

THESAURUS guilty, ashamed, embarrassed → GUILTY

con-trived /kənˈtraɪvd/ adj. seeming false and not natural: The plot was contrived.

con-trol /kənˈtrəʊl/ n. 1 [U] the power or ability to make someone or something do what you want: They don't have any control over their son. | Newborn babies have little control of/over their movements. | The car went out of control and hit a tree. | The situation is now under control. | *These events are beyond our control (=not possible for us to control). 2 [U] the power to rule or govern a place, organization, or company: Rioters took control of the prison. | The airport is now under the control of UN troops. | The government is no longer in control of the country. 3 [C,U] an action, method, or law that limits the amount or growth of something: an agreement on arms control | *Firefighters brought the fire under control (=stopped it from getting worse). 4 [U] the ability to remain calm even when you are angry or excited: I just lost control and punched him! 5 [C] something that you use to make a television, machine, vehicle, etc. work: the volume control | the controls of the airplane 6 [singular] also control key IT a button on a computer, that allows you to do particular things: Press “control” and “S” to save the document. —controlled adj.

control² v. (controlled, controlling) [T] 1 to make someone or something do what you want or work in a particular way: If you can't control your dog, you should put it on a leash. 2 to limit the amount or growth of something: *a chemical used to control weeds 3 to rule or govern a place, organization, or company, or to have more power than someone else: Rebels control all the roads into the capital. 4 to make yourself behave calmly, even if you feel angry, excited, or upset: I was furious, but I managed to control myself.

con'trol ,freak n. [C] (informal, disapproving) someone who is very concerned about controlling all the details in every situation s/he is involved in con'trolled ex'periment n. [C] SCIENCE a scientific test in which you change only one single condition of the test and do not change any of the other conditions that might affect the test con'trolled 'variable n. [C] SCIENCE in a scientific EXPERIMENT (=test), one of the conditions that you do not change, so that its effect is always the same con-trol-ler /kənˈtrəʊlə/ n. [C] ECONOMICS someone whose job is to collect and pay money for a government or company department: the state controller con'trol ,tower n. [C] a building at an airport, from which people direct the movements of airplanes on the ground and in the air con-tro-ver-sial /ˌkəntrəˈvɜːʃəl/ adj. something that is controversial causes a lot of disagreement because many people have strong opinions about it: the controversial subject of abortion | *He is a controversial figure (=person who does controversial things) in the art world. —controversially adv.

con-tro-ver-sy /ˌkəntrəˈvɜːsi/ n. (plural controversies) [C,U] a serious disagreement among many people over a plan, decision, etc., over a long period of time: There is controversy over the proposed development. | The controversy surrounding the theory continues to this day. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin controversia, from contro- “disagreed about”] con-tu-sion /kənˈtuːʒən/ n. [C] (formal) a BRUISE —contused adj.

co-nun-drum /kəˈnʌndrəm/ n. [C] 1 something or someone that is confusing and difficult to understand: a moral conundrum 2 a trick question asked for fun SYN riddle con-ur-ba-tion /ˌkənəˈberʃən/ n. [C] SOCIAL SCIENCE a group of towns that have grown and joined together to form an area where a lot of people live, often with a large city as its center con-va-lesce /ˌkənˈvələs/ v. [I] (formal) to spend time getting well after a serious illness (SYN) recuperate —convalescence n. [singular, U] —convalescent n. [C] con-va-les-cent /ˌkənˈvələsənt/ adj. convalescent home/hospital etc. a place where people stay when they need care from doctors and nurses but are not sick enough to be in a hospital con-vec-tion /kənˈvɛkʃən/ n. [U] 1 PHYSICS the circular movement in a gas or liquid, caused by an outside force such as GRAVITY 2 PHYSICS the movement of heat through a liquid, caused by the action of MOLECULES → CONDUCTION [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Late Latin convectio, from Latin convehere, from con- “together” + vehere “to carry”] con-vene /kənˈvɪn/ (Ac) v. [I,T] (formal) if a group of people convenes, or if someone convenes them, they come together for a formal meeting: A board was convened to judge the design competition. | The matter will be discussed when the Assembly convenes on November 4th.

THESAURUS meet, get together, gather, assemble, come together, congregate → MEET¹

con-ven-i-ence /kənˈvɪnyəns/ n. 1 [U] the quality of being good or useful for a particular purpose, especially because it makes something easier (ANT) inconvenience: Most people like the convenience of using a credit card. 2 [U] what is easiest and best for someone (ANT) inconvenience: The package can be delivered at your convenience. 3 [C] something such as a service, piece of equipment, etc. that is useful because it saves you time or work: modern conveniences such as washing machines convenience food n. [C,U] food that is partly or completely prepared already convenience store n. [C] a store where you can buy food, newspapers, etc. and that is often open 24 hours each day

con-ven-ient /kənˈvɪnyənt/ adj. 1 useful to you because it makes something easier or saves you time (ANT) inconvenient: Catalogs are a convenient way to shop. | What time would be convenient for you? 2 near and easy to get to (ANT) inconvenient: a restaurant in a convenient location [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin, present participle of convenire “to come together, be suitable”] —conveniently adv.

con-vent /ˈkənvent, -vənt/ n. [C] a place where NUNS live and work [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French covent, from Latin convēntus “group of people who have come together,” from convenire]

con-ven-tion /kənˈvɛnʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] a large formal meeting of people who belong to the same profession, organization, etc., or who have the same interests: the Democratic National Convention | a convention of science fiction fans 2 [C,U] behavior and attitudes that most people in society think are normal and right: He defied social conventions to follow his own path.

THESAURUS habit, custom, tradition, practice → HABIT

3 [C] a formal agreement between countries: the Geneva convention on human rights con-ven-tion-al /kənˈvɛnʃənəl/ (Ac) adj. 1 used or existing for a long time, and considered usual: Acupuncture is one alternative to conventional medicine.

THESAURUS normal, ordinary, average, standard, routine, orthodox → NORMAL¹

2 always following the behavior and attitudes that most people in society think are normal and right, so that you seem boring: The twins share a very conventional taste in clothing. | My family is extremely conventional in its attitude and morals. 3 conventional wisdom the opinion that most people consider to be normal and right 4 conventional weapons and wars do not use NUCLEAR explosives —conventionally adv.

con-verge /kənˈvɜːdʒ/ v. [I] to move or come together from different directions to meet at the same point (ANT) diverge: Thousands of fans converged on the stadium. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Medieval Latin convergere, from Latin con- “together” + vergere “to bend, turn”] —convergence n. [C,U]

convergent /kənˈvɜːdʒənt/ adj. coming together at a point: convergent lines → see picture at LINE¹

con-ver-gent evo-lu-tion n. [U] BIOLOGY the natural way that SPECIES of animals, plants, etc. living in different areas have developed similar physical features as they have EVOLVED (=changed gradually over a long period of time) con-ver-sant /kənˈvɜːsənt/ adj. (formal) having knowledge or experience of something: Staff members are conversant with all the safety rules.

con-ver-sa-tion /ˌkənˈvɜːseɪʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] a talk between two or more people in which people ask questions, exchange news, etc.: They had a pleasant conversation during dinner. | a short conversation with his mother | a conversation about the tensions between work and family life | The two women were deep in conversation (=they were concentrating on their conversation). 2 make conversation to talk to someone to be polite, not because you really want to: “Nice weather we’re having,” he said, trying to make conversation. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin conversatio, from conversari “to live with, be with”] —conversational adj. —conversationally adv.

C

con-verse¹ /kən'və:s/ (Ac) v. [I] (formal) to have a conversation with someone: She enjoyed the chance to converse with someone who spoke her language. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French converser, from Latin conversari “to live with, be with”]

THESAURUS talk, have a conversation, chat (with/to sb)/have a chat, visit with sb, discuss, gossip, whisper → TALK¹

con-verse² /'kən'və:s/ (Ac) n. (formal) 1 the converse the opposite of something: Most people's income grew, but the converse was true in some cases. 2 [singular, U] MATH a mathematical or LOGICAL statement in which the subject and the statement about the subject have been changed around. For example, the converse of “All X is Y” is “All Y is X”. → INVERSE —converse /kən'və:s, 'kən'və:s/ adj. —conversely adv.

con-ver-sion /kən'və:ʒən, -ʃən/ (Ac) n. [C,U] 1 the act or process of changing something from one form, system, or purpose to another: Canada's conversion to the metric system 2 a change in which someone accepts a completely new religion, belief, etc.: his conversion to Islam con'version factor n. [C] MATH a fixed quantity that, when multiplied or divided by another number, changes one type of measurement into a different type of measurement, for example miles into kilometers con-vert¹ /kən'vət/ (Ac) v. [I,T] 1 to change, or to make something change, from one form, system, or purpose to another: We're going to convert the garage into a workshop. | Energy from the converts to heat. 2 to change your opinions, beliefs, or habits, or to make someone do this: She converted to Christianity. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French convertir, from Latin convertere “to turn around, convert”] con-vert² /'kən'vət/ (Ac) n. [C] someone who has accepted a completely new religion, belief, etc.

con-vert-i-ble¹ /kən'və:təbəl/ (Ac) adj. 1 an object that is convertible can be folded or arranged in a different way, so that it can be used as something else: a convertible couch (=one that unfolds to become a bed) 2 ECONOMICS able to be exchanged for the money of another country, for STOCKS, etc.: a convertible currency | This type of stock is convertible.

convertible² n. [C] a car with a roof that you can fold back or remove con-vex /,kən'veks/, kən-/ adj. PHYSICS curved toward the outside like the surface of the eye (ANT) concave: a convex lens con-vey /kən'veɪ/ v. [T] (formal) to communicate a message or information, with or without using words: Please convey my thanks to her. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French conveier “to go with someone to a place,” from Vulgar Latin conviare] con'veyor belt n. [C] a long continuous moving convertible

band of rubber or metal, used in a place such as a factory or airport to move things from one place to another con-vict¹ /kən'vɪkt/ v. [T] LAW to prove or announce that someone is guilty of a crime after a TRIAL in a court of law (ANT) acquit: Both men were convicted of fraud.

con-vict² /'kən'vɪkt/ n. [C] LAW someone who has been proved to be guilty of a crime and sent to prison con-vic-tion /kən'vɪkʃən/ n. [C,U] 1 a very strong belief or opinion: his religious convictions | He argued with conviction that the economy was growing.

THESAURUS opinion, view, point of view, position, stance, attitude, sentiment → OPINION

2 LAW an official announcement in a court of law that someone is guilty of a crime (ANT) acquittal: his third conviction for theft con-vince /kən'vɪns/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to make someone feel certain that something is true: His lawyers convinced the jury that Booth was innocent. 2 to persuade someone to do something: I convinced him to stay. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin convincere “to prove untrue, convict, prove”]

THESAURUS persuade, talk sb into sth, get sb to do sth, encourage sb to do sth, influence, coax, cajole, prevail on/upon sb → PERSUADE con-vinced /kən'vɪnst/ (Ac) adj. be convinced to feel certain that something is true: I was convinced (that) we were doing the right thing. | Doctors are convinced of the medicine's effectiveness.

THESAURUS sure, certain, confident, satisfied, positive → SURE¹

con-vinc-ing /kən'vɪnsɪŋ/ (Ac) adj. making you believe that something is true or right: Their argument is not very convincing. | The most convincing evidence that light travels as a wave came from the experiments of James Maxwell. —convincingly adv.

con-viv-i-al /kən'vɪviəl/ adj. (formal) friendly and pleasant: a convivial atmosphere —conviviality /kənˌvɪvɪˈæləti/ n. [U]

THESAURUS sociable, outgoing, extroverted, gregarious, affable, genial → SOCIABLE con-vo-lut-ed /ˈkənˌvɒlʊtɪd/ adj. (formal) complicated and difficult to understand: a convoluted plot

THESAURUS complicated, complex, elaborate, intricate → COMPLICATED con-voy /ˈkənˌvɔɪ/ n. [C,U] a group of vehicles or ships traveling together con-vul-sion /kənˈvʌljən/ n. [C] 1 an occasion when someone cannot control the violent movements of his/her body because s/he is sick 2 [usually plural] a great change that affects a country: the political convulsions in Eastern Europe

coo /ku/ v. 1 [I] to make a sound like the low cry of a DOVE or a PIGEON 2 [I,T] to make soft loving noises: a mother cooing to her baby

cook¹ /kʊk/ v. 1 [I,T] to prepare food for eating by using heat: Whoever gets home first cooks dinner/supper. | Alice said she'd cook tonight. | Cook the pasta for 10–12 minutes.

THESAURUS

bake – to cook food such as bread in the oven fry – to cook food in oil on the top part of an oven roast – to cook meat or vegetables in an oven broil – to cook food by placing it near to strong heat from above grill – to cook food over strong heat, especially over flames: a grilled steak sauté – to fry vegetables for a short time in a small amount of oil boil – to cook vegetables in very hot water on the top part of the oven steam – to cook vegetables by placing them in a container over very hot water, so that the steam from the hot water cooks them deep fry – to fry food in a pan containing a lot of hot oil

2 [I] to be prepared for eating by using heat: How long does it take the stew to cook? 3 be cooking (with gas) (spoken) to be doing something very well, or in the correct way: The band is really cooking tonight. [ORIGIN: Old English coc, from Latin coquus, from coquere “to cook”] cook sth ↔ up phr. v. 1 (informal) to invent an excuse, reason, plan, etc. that is slightly dishonest or will not work: the plan that Larry and Jim had cooked up between them 2 to prepare food, especially quickly: She cooked up some beans and cornbread.

cook² n. [C] someone who cooks and prepares food: Kevin works as a cook. | My cousin's a wonderful/good/terrible cook.

cook-book /ˈkʊkbʊk/ n. [C] a book that tells you how to prepare and cook food cooked /kʊkt/ adj. ready for eating and not raw: cooked vegetables cook-ie /ˈkʊki/ n. [C] 1 a small flat sweet cake: chocolate chip cookies 2 IT information that a WEB SITE leaves on your computer so that the website will recognize you when you use it again [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 Dutch koekje, from koek “cake”]

'cookie cutter¹ n. [C] an instrument that cuts cookies into special shapes before you bake them cookie cutter² adj. [only before noun] almost exactly the same as other things of the same type, and not very interesting: cookie cutter houses

'cookie sheet n. [C] a flat metal pan that you bake food on cook-ing¹ /ˈkʊkɪŋ/ n. [U] 1 the act of making food and cooking it: I do most of the cooking. 2 food made in a particular way or by a particular person: Italian cooking

cooking² adj. used for cooking: cooking oil | a cooking pot

cool¹ /kuːl/ adj. 1 low in temperature but not cold: a cool summer evening | a nice cool drink

THESAURUS cold, chilly, frosty, freezing (cold), icy (cold), bitter (cold), frigid → COLD¹

2 (spoken) said in order to show that you agree with something, that you understand it, or that it does not annoy you: “Do you mind if I bring my sister?” “No, that's cool.” 3 (spoken, approving) fashionable, attractive, interesting, etc. in a way that people admire: He's a really cool guy. | That's such a cool car. 4 calm and not nervous or excited: Stay cool; don't let him get to you.

THESAURUS calm, relaxed, laid-back, easygoing, mellow, placid, serene → CALM²

5 unfriendly: a cool welcome [ORIGIN: Old English col] —coolness n. [U] —coolly /ˈkuːli/ adv.

cool² v. 1 [I,T] also cool down to make something slightly colder, or to become slightly colder: Allow the cake to cool before cutting it. 2 [I] feelings or relationships that cool become less strong or friendly: Relations between the two countries have cooled considerably. 3 cool it (spoken) used in order to tell someone to stop being angry: Jeez, Jim, just cool it, will you?

cool down phr. v. 1 to become calm after being angry: The long walk home helped me cool down. 2 to do gentle physical exercises after doing more difficult exercises, so that you do not get injuries cool off phr. v. 1 to return to a normal temperature after being hot: They went for a swim to cool off. 2 to become calm after being angry: Give him some time to cool off first.

cool³ n. [U] 1 the cool a temperature that is cool: the cool of a spring morning 2 keep your cool to stay calm in a difficult situation: The players kept their cool and started scoring. 3 lose your cool to stop being calm in a difficult situation: The waiter never lost his cool.

cool-er /'kʊlə/ n. [C] a small box in which you can keep food or drinks cool coop /kʊp/ n. [C] a cage for chickens cooped 'up adj. [not before noun] having to stay indoors or in a place that is too small for a long period of time: I've been cooped up in this apartment all day.

co-op-er-ate /kʊ'əpə'reɪt/ (Ac) v. [I] 1 to work with someone else to achieve something that you both want: The local police are cooperating with the FBI. 2 to do what someone asks you to do: Some of the kids refused to cooperate with him. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Late Latin, past participle of cooperari “to work with”]

co-op-er-a-tion /kʊ'əpə'reɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 the act of working with someone else to achieve what you both want: The sales team will be working in cooperation with other departments. | the cooperation between Congress and the White House 2 willingness to work with other people, or to do what they ask you to do: Thank you for your cooperation.

co-op-er-a-tive /kʊ'əprətɪv/ (Ac) adj. 1 willing to help or willing to do what you ask: a happy and cooperative child 2 made, done, or owned by people working together: a cooperative farm —cooperatively adv.

cooperative ² n. [C] a company, farm, etc. that is owned and operated by people working together: They turned their business into a cooperative.

co-opt /kʊ'əpt/ v. [T] (disapproving) to use something that was not originally yours to help you do something, or to persuade someone to help you: He saw his best ideas co-opted by his rivals.

co-or-di-nate ¹ /kʊ'ɔːdn-ɪt/ (Ac) n. [C usually plural] MATH one of a set of numbers showing the exact position of a point on a line, map, or GRAPH, etc. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Late Latin, past participle of coordinare, from Latin “to arrange with”]

co-or-di-nate ² /kʊ'ɔːdn,et/ (Ac) v. [T] to organize people or things so that they work together well: The group is coordinating medical and food aid to the area. | Diplomatic efforts in London were coordinated with those in Washington.

co-or-di-nat-ed /kʊ'ɔːdn,etɪd/ adj. 1 able to control your body and make it move smoothly: a well-coordinated young boy 2 organized so that people or things work together well: a coordinated effort to get the law changed co-ordinate of a 'point n. [C] MATH one of a set of numbers showing the exact position of a point on a line or PLANE (=completely flat surface) co-ordinate plane n. [C] MATH a PLANE (=completely flat surface) formed when two straight lines go across each other at right angles co-ordinating conjunction n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a word such as “and” or “but,” which joins together two CLAUSES of the same type co-or-di-na-tion /kʊ'ɔːdn'eɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 the organization of people or things so that they work together well: More coordination between departments is needed. 2 the way that the parts of your body work together to do something: Alcohol affects your coordination.

co-or-di-na-tor /kʊ'ɔːdn,etə/ (Ac) n. [C] someone who organizes the way people work together

coo-ties /'kʊtɪz/ n. [plural] LICE (=small insects that live in your hair) – used by children as an insult when they do not want to play with or sit with another child: Jenny has cooties.

cop /kɑp/ n. [C] (informal) a police officer [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 copper “police officer” (19–21 centuries), from cop “to arrest” (19–20 centuries)]

co-pay-ment /kʊ'peɪmənt/ n. [C] an amount that someone with medical insurance has to pay for using particular medical services, for example visits to the doctor cope /kʊp/ v. [I] to succeed in dealing with a difficult problem or situation: The country is trying to cope with high levels of unemployment. | children who have trouble coping with change

THESAURUS deal with sth, handle, tackle, attend to sth, take care of sth → DEAL² cop-i-er /'kɑpiə/ n. [C] a machine that quickly copies documents onto paper by photographing them co-pi-lot /'kʊ'paɪlət/ n. [C] a pilot who helps the main pilot fly an airplane co-pi-ous /'kʊpiəs/ adj. produced in large amounts: He took copious notes. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin copiosus, from copia “large amounts,” from co- + ops “wealth”] —copiously adv.

co-pla-nar /kʊ'pleɪnə/ adj. MATH coplanar lines or points all lie in the same PLANE (=completely flat surface)

'cop-out n. [C] (informal) something you do or say in order to avoid doing something: Blaming kids' failing grades on TV is a cop-out. —cop out phr. v.

cop-per /'kɑpə/ n. [U] an orange-brown metal that is an ELEMENT and is often used to make wire [ORIGIN: Old English coper, from Late Latin cuprum, from Latin (aes) Cyprium “metal of Cyprus, copper”] —copper adj.

cop-ter /'kɑptə/ n. [C] (informal) a HELICOPTER cop-u-late /'kɑpyə,leɪt/ v. [I] (formal) to have sex —copulation /'kɑpyə'leɪʃən/ n. [U]

cop-y ¹ /'kɑpi/ n. (plural copies) 1 [C] something that is made to look exactly like something else: Please make me a copy of the report. | a good copy of Van Gogh's famous painting 2 [C] one of many books, magazines, etc. that are exactly the same: a copy of Cornwell's new novel 3 [U] something written to be printed, especially for an advertisement: We need someone who can write good copy. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French copie, from Latin copia “large amounts”] copy² v. (copied, copies) 1 [T] to make a thing that is exactly like something else: I copied a CD for him. | To copy a file, press “F3.”

THESAURUS

reproduce – to make a copy of something:

Printing presses allowed books to be reproduced cheaply.

duplicate – to copy something exactly, in order to have more than one: They duplicate the DVDs and then sell them illegally.

replicate (formal) – to do or make something again, so that you make an exact copy: How does DNA replicate itself?

photocopy/Xerox (trademark) – to copy a piece of paper with writing or pictures on it, using a special machine forge – to illegally copy something written or printed: He forged my signature. | forged documents pirate – to illegally copy and sell a movie, book, CD, or DVD that was made by another company: pirated DVDs

2 [T] also copy down to write something down exactly as it was said or written: She copied down the homework assignment. 3 [T] to do something that someone else has done, or behave like someone else: The system has been copied by other organizations, and has worked well. 4 [I,T] to cheat by looking at someone else's work and writing what s/he has written as an answer: Several students were punished for copying. 5 [T] to copy writing, etc. from a computer document in order to put it in another place or document → CUT, PASTE copy sb ↔ in phr. v. to send someone a copy of an EMAIL message you are sending to someone else copy-cat /'kɒpi,kæt/ n. [C] (informal) 1 (disapproving) someone who copies other people's clothes, behavior, etc. – used especially by children 2 copycat crime/murder etc. a crime, murder, etc. that is similar to a crime that someone else has done copy-right /'kɒpi,rɪt/ n. [C,U] the legal right to produce and sell a book, play, movie, or record cor-al /'kɒrəl, 'kɑrəl/ n. [U] a hard colored substance formed in warm ocean water from the bones of very small creatures coral 'island n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES an island formed from coral covered in sand and other natural substances coral 'reef n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a long hard structure formed of coral in warm ocean water that is not very deep cord /kɔrd/ n. [C,U] 1 a piece of wire covered with plastic, used especially for connecting electrical equipment to the supply of electricity: an extension cord | a long phone cord → see picture at ACOUSTIC 2 a piece of thick string or thin rope 3 cords [plural] CORDUROY pants [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French corde, from Latin chorda “string,” from Greek chorde] cor-dial /'kɔrdʒəl/ adj. friendly and polite but formal: a cordial greeting [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Medieval Latin cordialis, from Latin cor “heart”] —cordially adv. —cordiality /,kɔrdʒi'æləti/ n. [U]

THESAURUS

friendly, warm, amiable, genial, affable, welcoming, hospitable →

FRIENDLY

cord-less /'kɔrdlɪs/ adj. a piece of equipment that is cordless is not connected to its power supply by wires: a cordless phone cor-don¹ /'kɔrdn/ n. [C] a line of police, soldiers, or vehicles that is put around an area to protect or enclose it cord-on² v.

cord-on sth ↔ off phr. v. to surround and protect an area with police officers, soldiers, or vehicles: Police have cordoned off the building.

cor-du-roy /'kɔrdə,rɔɪ/ n. [U] thick strong cotton cloth with raised lines on one side: a corduroy jacket

core¹ /kɔr/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 the central or most important part of something: The core of the proposal is a tax credit. | the company's core customers | The department has a small core of experienced staff. 2 the hard central part of an apple or PEAR → see picture on page 414 3 EARTH SCIENCES the central part of the Earth or any other PLANET → see picture at GLOBE 4 PHYSICS the central part of a NUCLEAR REACTOR [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French coeur, from Latin cor “heart”] → HARDCORE

core² v. [T] to remove the hard center of a piece of fruit cork¹ /kɔrk/ n. 1 [U] the light outer part of a particular type of tree, that is used for making things: cork mats 2 [C] a round piece of this material that is put into the top of a bottle to keep liquid inside cork² v. [T] to close a bottle tightly by putting a cork in it cork-screw /'kɔrkskru/ n. [C] a tool used for pulling corks out of bottles corn /kɔrn/ n. [U] 1 a tall plant with yellow seeds that are cooked and eaten as a vegetable: an ear of corn (=the top part of a corn plant on which these yellow seeds grow) | steak and corn on the cob (=an ear of corn that is cooked and eaten) → see picture at VEGETABLE 2 a thick, hard, and painful area of skin on your foot [ORIGIN: Old English]

corn-bread /'kɔrnbrɛd/ n. [U] bread that is made from CORNMEAL cor-ne-a /'kɔrniə/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the strong transparent covering on the outer surface of your eye [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Medieval Latin, Latin, “horny,” from cornu “horn;” because its structure is like horn] —corneal adj.

C

corned beef /kɔrnd 'bɪf/ n. [U] BEEF that has been preserved in salt water and SPICES

corner¹ /'kɔrnə/ n. [C] 1 the point at which two lines, surfaces, or edges meet: a table in the corner of the room | Jess sat on the corner of the bed. 2 the place where two roads, streets, or paths meet: Meet me on the corner of 72nd and Central Park. | We went to a place around the corner for coffee. | Some kids were standing at the corner. | When you turn the corner (=go around the corner), you'll see a bookstore. 3 a particular part of an area, especially one that is far away or quiet: a pretty corner of the state | a sunny corner of the yard 4 the sides of your mouth or eye 5 see sth out of the corner of your eye to notice something without turning your head 6 be just around the corner to be going to happen very soon: Victory seemed to be just around the corner. → cut corners at CUT¹ corner² v. [T] 1 to move closer to a person or an animal so that he, she, or it cannot escape: Gibbs cornered Cassetti after the meeting.

THESAURUS

CATCH¹

catch, capture, trap →

2 corner the market to sell or produce all of a particular type of goods cor-ner-stone /'kɔrnə'stoʊn/ n. [C] 1 a stone set at one of the bottom corners of a building, often as part of a special ceremony 2 something that is very important because everything else depends on it: Free speech is the cornerstone of democracy.

cor-net /kɔr'net/ n. [C] a small musical instrument like a TRUMPET corn-flakes /'kɔrnflɛks/ n. [plural] a type of breakfast food made from corn corn-meal /'kɔrnmi:l/ n. [U] a rough type of flour made from crushed dried corn corn-starch /'kɔrnstɑ:tʃ/ n. [U] a fine white flour made from corn, used in cooking to make liquids thicker

'corn syrup n. [U] a very sweet thick liquid made from corn, used in cooking corn-y /'kɔrni/ adj. (informal) old, silly, and very familiar: a corny song from the 1940s

cor-ol-lar-y /'kɔrə'leri, 'kɔr-/ n. (plural corollaries) [C] 1 MATH a statement that is true as a direct result of a THEOREM (=a statement that can be proven by showing that it has been correctly developed from facts) 2 (formal) something that is the direct result of something else: Increases in unemployment were the corollary of the government's economic policy. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin corollarium “money paid for a circle of flowers, something additional,” from corolla “circle of flowers”] co-ro-na /kə'rounə/ n. [C] PHYSICS the shining circle of light seen around the Sun when the Moon passes in front of it during an ECLIPSE cor-o-na-ry¹ /'kɔrə'neri/ adj. BIOLOGY relating to the heart: coronary disease [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin coronarius “like a crown,” from corona “crown,” because the blood-tubes coming out of the top of the heart look like a crown] coronary² n. (plural coronaries) [C] a HEART ATTACK cor-o-na-tion /kɔrə'neɪʃən/ n. [C] a ceremony in which someone officially becomes a king or queen cor-o-ner /'kɔrənə/ n. [C] an official whose job is to discover the cause of someone's death, if it is sudden or unexpected, by examining his/her body cor-po-ral /'kɔrpərəl/ n. [C] a low rank in the Army or Marines, or an officer who has this rank corporal punishment n. [U] punishment that involves hitting someone punishment, sentence, penalty, fine, community service, capital punishment → PUNISHMENT

THESAURUS

cor-po-rate /'kɔrpərit/ (Ac) adj. belonging to or relating to a corporation: corporate headquarters | an increase in corporate profits —corporately adv.

cor-po-ra-tion /kɔrpə'reɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [C] ECONOMICS a large company, or a group of companies acting together as a single organization: the Chief Executive Officer of a large/big/major corporation [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Late Latin corporatio, from corporare “to combine together in one body,” from corpus “body”]

THESAURUS

company, firm, business, subsidiary → COMPANY corps /kɔr/ n. [singular] 1 a trained group of people with special duties in the military: the Naval Air Corps 2 a group of people who do a particular job: the press corps corpse /kɔrps/ n. [C] a dead body cor-pu-lent /'kɔrpyələnt/ adj. (formal) very fat and large: a corpulent man —corpulence n. [U] → FAT¹ cor-pus-cle /'kɔr,pəsəl/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a red or white blood cell in your body [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin corpusculum “small body,” from corpus “body”] cor-ral¹ /kə'ræl/ n. [C] an enclosed area where cattle, horses, etc. are kept corral² v. [T] to put animals into a corral cor-rect¹ /kə'rekt/ adj. 1 right or without any mistakes (ANT) incorrect: the correct answers | "Your name is Ives?" "Yes, that's correct."

THESAURUS right, accurate, true → RIGHT¹

2 right for a particular occasion or use: the correct way to lift a heavy weight [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin, past participle of corrigere, from com "together" + regere "to lead straight"] —correctly adv. —correctness n. [U]

correct² v. [T] 1 to make something right or better: Your eyesight can be corrected with glasses. | Paola corrected his pronunciation. 2 if a teacher corrects a student's written work, s/he shows where the mistakes are and what the right answer is cor-rec-tion /kə'rekʃən/ n. [C] a change in something that makes it right or better: Johnson made a few corrections to the article.

cor-rec-tive /kə'rektɪv/ adj. (formal) intended to make something right or better: corrective lenses for the eyes cor-re-la-tion /kərə'reɪʃən, 'kɑr-/ n. [C,U] 1 a relationship between two ideas, facts, etc., especially when one may be the cause of the other: There's a strong correlation between poverty and poor health. 2 MATH a relationship between two mathematical VARIABLES (=quantities that can represent any of several different values) —correlate /'kərə'reɪt, 'kɑr-/ v. [I,T] corre'lation coef,ficient n. [C] MATH a number between +1 and -1, used to represent the relationship between quantities that increase or decrease in direct relation to one another

cor-re-spond /kərə'spænd, 'kɑr-/ (Ac) v. [I] 1 if two things correspond, they are similar to each other or relate to each other: The figures in columns A and B do not correspond. | The name on the envelope doesn't correspond with the one on the letter. | The test gives you a qualification that corresponds to a high school diploma. 2 if two people correspond, they write letters to each other: They've been corresponding for years. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French correspondre, from Medieval Latin, from Latin com- "together" + respondere "to promise in return, answer"]

cor-re-spond-ence /kərə'spændəns, 'kɑr-/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 letters that people send and receive: Her secretary deals with her correspondence. 2 the activity of writing letters: His correspondence with Hemingway continued until his death. 3 a relationship or connection between two things: the correspondence between a letter and the sound it represents corre'spondence ,course n. [C] a course of lessons that you receive by mail and do at home cor-re-spond-ent /kərə'spændənt, 'kɑr-/ n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to report news from a distant area, or about a particular subject, for a newspaper or television: the White House correspondent → NEWSPAPER 2 someone who writes to another person regularly

cor-re-spond-ing /kərə'spændɪŋ, 'kɑr-/ (Ac) adj. relating or similar to something: She was given a promotion and a corresponding increase in salary. | As the price of the product fell, the corresponding demand rose. —correspondingly adv.

corresponding 'angles n. [plural] MATH a pair of angles formed when two parallel lines are crossed by another line. The corresponding angles are on the same side of the two parallel lines and on the same side of the single line crossing them. → see picture at ANGLE¹

cor-ri-dor /'kɒrədɔr, -,dɔr, 'kɑr-/ n. [C] 1 a passage between two rows of rooms: The bathroom is down the corridor to your right. | Please wait in the corridor. 2 a narrow area of land between cities or countries, especially one used for traveling from one place to another: the New York–Washington, D.C. corridor [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French, Old Italian corridore, from correre "to run"] cor-rob-o-rate /kə'rɒbə'reɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to support an opinion or claim with new information or proof: Several witnesses corroborated McDougal's story. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of corroborare, from cor- "together" + robur "strength"] —corroboration /kə'rɒbə'reɪʃən/ n. [U] —corroborative /kə'rɒbə'reɪtɪv/ adj.

cor-rode /kə'rəʊd/ v. [I,T] if metal corrodes, or if something corrodes it, it is slowly destroyed by water, chemicals, etc. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin corrodere "to eat away"] cor-ro-sion /kə'rəʊʒən/ n. [U] the gradual process of being destroyed by the effects of water, chemicals, etc., or a substance such as RUST that is produced by this process cor-ro-sive /kə'rəʊsɪv/ adj. 1 CHEMISTRY a corrosive substance such as an acid can destroy metal, plastic, etc. 2 gradually making something weaker, and possibly destroying it: the corrosive effect of guilt on your relationships cor-ru-gat-ed /'kɒrə'geɪtɪd, 'kɑr-/ adj. formed in rows of folds that look like waves: corrugated cardboard cor-rupt¹ /kə'rʌpt/ adj. 1 dishonest and ready to do things that will give you an advantage: a corrupt judge who took a bribe 2 very bad morally: a corrupt society [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin corruptus, past participle of corrumpere, from rumpere “to break”] —corruptly adv.

corrupt² v. [T] 1 to make someone dishonest or immoral: Younger prisoners are being corrupted by the older, long-term offenders. 2 to change or spoil something so that it is not as good: a traditional culture corrupted by outside influences 3 IT to change the information in a computer, so that the information is wrong and the computer does not work correctly: The data had been corrupted.

—corruptible adj.

C

cor-rup-tion /kəˈrʌpʃən/ n. [U] 1 dishonest or immoral behavior: corruption in city politics 2 the act or process of making someone dishonest or immoral: the corruption of today's youth by drugs

cor-sage /kɔːsɑːʒ/ n. [C] a small bunch of flowers that a woman wears on her dress for special occasions cor-set /ˈkɔːrsɪt/ n. [C] a type of underwear that fits very tightly, that women in past times wore in order to look thinner cor-tege /kɔːˈteɪʒ/ n. [C] (formal) a line of people, cars, etc. that move slowly in a funeral cor-tex /ˈkɔːrtɛks/ (plural cortices) n. [C] BIOLOGY the outer layer of an organ in the body, especially the brain [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin “bark (=outer covering of a tree)”]

co-sine /ˈkəʊsaɪn/ n. [C] MATH a number relating to an angle in a RIGHT TRIANGLE, that is calculated by dividing the length of the side next to the right angle by the length of the HYPOTENUSE (=side opposite the right angle) (SYN) sine cos-met-ic /kəzˈmɛtrɪk/ adj. 1 intended to make your skin or body more beautiful: cosmetic surgery 2 dealing only with the appearance of something: cosmetic changes to the policy —cosmetically adv.

cos-met-ics /kəzˈmɛtrɪks/ n. [plural] cream, powder, etc. that you use to make your face and body more attractive → MAKEUP cos-mic /ˈkəzmɪk/ adj. relating to space or the universe: a cosmic explosion —cosmically adv.

cos-mo-naut /ˈkəzməˌnɒt/ n. [C] an ASTRONAUT from the former Soviet Union cos-mo-pol-i-tan /ˌkəzməˈpələtən, -lətən/ adj. (approving) 1 a cosmopolitan place has people from many different parts of the world: a cosmopolitan city 2 a cosmopolitan person, attitude, etc. shows a lot of experience of different people and places: Her cosmopolitan view of the world was formed during her time in Paris, Tokyo, and New York.

cos-mos /ˈkəzmɒs, -məs/ n. the cosmos the universe considered as a whole system [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Greek “order, universe”]

cost¹ /kɒst/ n. 1 [C,U] the amount of money you must pay in order to buy, do, or produce something: the cost of a college education | Will $100 cover the cost of books (=be enough to pay for them)? | the high cost of car insurance | Legal services were provided at a low cost. | The software is available at a cost of $30. | Glasses were offered at no extra cost.

THESAURUS

expense — a very large amount of money that you spend on something: the expense of buying a car

price — the amount of money you must pay for something: House prices keep going up. | the price of oil charge — the amount that you have to pay for a particular service or to use something: There's no additional charge for the service. | telephone charges

fee — the amount you have to pay to enter or join something, or that you pay to a lawyer, doctor, etc.: There is no entrance fee to the museum. | The membership fee is $125 a year. | legal fees fare — the amount you have to pay to travel somewhere by bus, airplane, train, etc.: the bus fare rent — the amount you have to pay to live in or use a place that you do not own: My rent is $900 a month.

rate — a charge or payment that is set according to a standard scale: Most TV stations offer special rates to local advertisers.

2 costs [plural] a) the money that you must regularly spend in order to run a business, your home, car, etc.: the university's annual operating costs | high labor costs | We're trying to cut/reduce/lower costs (=spend less money) by driving a smaller car. b) the money that you must pay to lawyers if you are involved in a legal case: Burdell lost the case and was ordered to pay the defense's costs. 3 [C,U] something that you must give or lose in order to get something else: War is never worth its cost in human life. | He saved his family, at the cost of his own life. | He intends to hold on to power, whatever the cost. 4 at all costs/at any cost whatever happens, or whatever effort is needed: We need to get that contract, at any cost. 5 at cost for the same price that you paid: We had to sell the van at cost.

cost² v. (past tense and past participle cost) 1 [linking verb] to have a particular price: This dress cost $75. | How much did your watch cost? | The wedding ended up costing them $50,000. | It'll cost thousands of dollars to fix this place up. | I love these boots, but they cost an arm and a leg/cost a fortune (=are extremely expensive). 2 [T] to make someone lose something important: Your mistake cost us the deal. 3 [T] (past tense and past participle costed) to calculate how much money is needed to pay for something: The options are being costed and analyzed.

co-star /ˈkəʊ stɑːr/ n. [C] one of two or more famous actors who work together in a movie or play —co-star v. [I,T]: He co-starred with De Niro in the movie "Heat."

'cost-cutting n. [U] the things that a company or organization does in order to reduce its costs: Cost-cutting efforts included the elimination of 4,000 jobs.

'cost-effective adj. producing the best profits or advantages at the lowest cost: a cost-effective way to reduce pollution cost-ly /'kɒstli/ adj. 1 costing a lot of money: costly repairs

THESAURUS expensive, high, pricey, overpriced, fancy, posh → EXPENSIVE

2 causing a lot of problems: The delay proved costly.

'cost of 'living n. [singular] the amount of money you need to spend in order to buy the food, clothes, etc. that you need to live: The cost of living is much higher in California than in Iowa.

cos-tume /'kɒstəm/ n. [C,U] 1 clothes worn to make you look like a particular type of person, animal, etc.: a prize for the best Halloween costume | The actors put on their costumes and makeup. 2 clothes that are typical of a particular country or time in the past: We took a tour given by volunteers in period costume (=the clothes of a period of history). [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 French, Italian, “custom, dress,” from Latin consuetudo]

'costume jewelry n. [U] cheap jewelry that looks expensive cot /kɒt/ n. [C] a light narrow bed that folds up [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Hindi khat “hammock, bed”] → see picture at BED¹ cot-tage /'kɒtɪdʒ/ n. [C] a small house in the country, especially an old one → HOUSE¹ [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Anglo-French cottage, from English cot “cottage,” from Old English]

'cottage 'cheese n. [U] a soft wet white cheese

'cottage 'industry n. [C] ECONOMICS a business that consists of people who produce things in their homes cot-ton /'kɒtən/ n. [U] 1 cloth or thread made from the cotton plant: a cotton shirt 2 a plant with white hairs used for making cotton cloth and thread 3 a soft mass of cotton, used especially for cleaning your skin [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French coton, from Arabic qutn]

'cotton ball n. [C] a small soft ball made from cotton, used for cleaning skin

'Cotton Belt n. the Cotton Belt HISTORY an area of the Southeast U.S., especially South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi, where cotton was the main crop in the past

'cotton candy n. [U] a type of sticky pink candy that looks like cotton

'cotton gin n. [C] a machine that separates the seeds of a cotton plant from the cotton cot-ton-wood /'kɒtən,wʊd/ n. [C] a North American tree with seeds that look like cotton cot-y-le-don /,kɒtə'lidn, ,kɒtɪ'lidn/ n. [C] BIOL-OGY the first leaf that grows from a seed → DICOTYLEDON, MONOCOTYLEDON couch¹ /kaʊtʃ/ n. [C] a long comfortable piece of furniture on which you can sit or lie (SYN sofa: Tom offered to sleep on the couch.) couch² v. be couched in sth (formal) to be expressed in a particular way: His refusal was couched in polite terms.

'couch po,tato n. [C] (informal) someone who spends a lot of time sitting and watching television cou-gar /'kʊgə/ n. [C] a large brown wild cat from the mountains of western North and South America [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 French couguar, from Modern Latin cuguacuarana, from Tupi suasuarana, from suasu “deer” + rana “false”] cough¹ /kɒf/ v. [I] if you cough, air suddenly comes out of your throat with a short loud sound, especially because you are sick: He's been coughing and sneezing all day. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 From an unrecorded Old English cohhan] cough up phr. v. 1 cough sth ↔ up (informal) to give someone money, information, etc. when you do not really want to: I'm trying to get my dad to cough up some money for a motorcycle. 2 cough up sth if you cough up a substance such as blood, it comes from your lungs or throat into your mouth when you cough: We rushed her to the hospital when she started coughing up blood.

cough² n. [C] 1 the action of coughing, or the sound made when you cough: She gave a nervous cough before speaking. 2 an illness that makes you cough a lot: He had a terrible cough.

'cough drop n. [C] a type of medicine like a piece of candy, that you suck to help you stop coughing

'cough syrup n. [U] a thick liquid medicine that you take to help you stop coughing could /kəd; strong kʊd/ modal verb 1 used as the past tense of “can” to say what someone was able to do or was allowed to do in the past: I looked everywhere, but I couldn't (=could not) find it. | I could hear children playing. | When I was young, you could buy a concert ticket for $5. | He said we could smoke if we wanted. 2 used in order to say that something is possible or might happen: Most accidents in the home could easily be prevented. | It could be weeks before they're finished. 3 could have used in order to say that something was possible in the past, but did not actually happen: She could have been killed. 4 (spoken) used in order to make a polite request: Could I ask you a couple of questions? | Could you deposit this check at the bank for me? 5 (spoken) said when you are annoyed about someone's behavior: You could have told me you were going to be late! | How could you be so stupid! 6 (spoken) used in order to emphasize how angry, happy, etc. you are by saying how you want to express your feelings: I could have murdered Kerry for telling Jason that! | I'm so happy I could scream. 7 (spoken) used in order to suggest doing something: We could always stop and ask directions. 8 I couldn't care less (spoken) used in order to say that you are not interested at all in something: I couldn't care less what the neighbors say.

could-n't /'kʊdnt/ modal verb the short form of "could not": We couldn't stop laughing.

cou-lomb /'kʊləm/ n. [C] PHYSICS a unit for measuring electric current, equal to the amount produced by one AMP in one second coun-cil /'kaʊnsəl/ n. [C] 1 a group of people who are elected as part of a town or city government: Millard is running for city council. | council members 2 a group of people who make decisions for a church, organization, etc., or who give advice: the UN Security Council [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French concile, from Latin concilium, from com "together" + calare "to call"] coun-cil-man /'kaʊnsəlmən/ n. (plural councilmen /-mənz/) [C] a male councilor

'council-manager government n. [C,U] POLITICS a system of local government in many U.S. towns or cities, in which people elect a council and a MAYOR, who then choose a manager who is paid to run the town or city council of governments n. (plural councils of governments) [C] POLITICS a group of government officials in the U.S. from the towns or cities in one area, who get together to make decisions that affect the whole area (SYN) regional council coun-cil-or /'kaʊnsələ/ n. [C] a member of a council coun-cil-wom-an /'kaʊnsəl,wʊmən/ n. (plural councilwomen /-wɪmɪn/) [C] a female councilor coun-sel /'kaʊnsəl/ v. [T] (formal) to advise or support someone who has problems: Tyrone got a job counseling patients who have cancer.

THE SAURUS advise, recommend, urge, suggest → ADVISE counsel ² n. 1 [C] LAW a lawyer who speaks for someone in a court of law: The counsel for the defense gave her opening statement. 2 [U] (formal) advice coun-sel-ing /'kaʊnsəlɪŋ/ n. [U] advice given by a counselor to people about their personal problems or difficult decisions: family/career counseling coun-sel-or /'kaʊnsələ/ n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to help and support people with problems: a marriage counselor 2 someone who takes care of a group of children at a camp count ¹ /kaʊnt/ v. 1 [T] also count up to calculate the total number of things or people in a group: The nurses counted the bottles of medicine as they put them away. 2 [I] to say numbers in the correct order: My daughter is learning to count in French. | He's only three, but he can count to ten. 3 [I] to be allowed or accepted: "I won!" "You cheated, so it doesn't count." | Your sculpture class counts as a Humanities credit. 4 [T] to include someone or something in a total: There are five in our family, counting me. 5 [T] to think of something or someone in a particular way: I count her as one of my best friends. | You should count yourself lucky that you weren't hurt. 6 [I] to be important or valuable: I felt my opinion didn't count for much. 7 I/you can count sth on one hand (spoken) used in order to emphasize how small the number of something is: I can count on one hand the number of times he's come to visit me. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French conter, from Latin computare]

count sth ↔ down phr. v. to count the number of days, minutes, etc. until a particular moment or event: She's counting down the days until Nathan arrives.

count sb in phr. v. (informal) to include someone or something in an activity: If you're going dancing, count me in.

count on sb/sth phr. v. 1 to depend on someone or something, especially in a difficult situation: You can always count on him to help. 2 to expect something to happen, or someone to do something: We didn't count on this many people coming.

count out phr. v. 1 count sb out (informal) to not include someone or something in an activity: If you're looking for a fight, count me out. 2 count out sth to put things down one by one as you count them: He counted out ten $50 bills.

count ² n. [C] 1 the process of counting, or the total that you get when you count things: The final count showed that Gary had won by 110 votes to 86. | At last count (=the last and most recent time you counted), 46 students were interested in the trip. 2 a measurement of how much of a substance is present in a place, area, etc.: The pollen count is high today. 3 keep count to keep a record of the changing total of something over a period of time: Are you keeping count of the people you've invited? 4 lose count to forget how many there are of something: I've lost count of how many times she's been married. 5 LAW one of the crimes that the police say someone has done: He's guilty on two counts of robbery.

count-a-ble /'kaʊntəbəl/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS a countable noun has both a singular and a plural form (ANT) uncountable count-down /'kaʊntˈdaʊn/ n. [C] 1 the act of counting backward to zero before something happens, especially before a spacecraft is sent into the sky 2 the period before an important event happens, when it gets closer and closer: the countdown to Christmas coun-te-nance ¹ /'kaʊntənəns/ n. [C] (literary) your face or your expression countenance² v. [T] (formal) to accept, support, or approve of something: We cannot countenance violent behavior.

coun-ter¹ /'kaʊntə/ n. [C] 1 a flat surface in the kitchen where you prepare food 2 the place where you pay or are served in a shop, bank, restaurant, etc.: He started chatting with the woman behind the counter. 3 over the counter over the counter medicines can be bought without a PRESCRIPTION from your doctor 4 under the counter secretly and not legally: She gets paid under the counter.

counter² v. [I,T] 1 to do something in order to prevent something bad from happening or to reduce its bad effects: Hospitals must offer better salaries to counter the shortage of nurses. 2 to say something to show that what someone has just said is not true: "I could ask you the same question," she countered.

counter³ adv. (formal) in a way that is opposite to something: Bradley has always done things in a way that runs counter to expectations. —counter adj.

coun-ter-act /,kaʊntə'ækt/ v. [T] to reduce or prevent the bad effect of something, by doing something that has the opposite effect: a drug to counteract the poison coun-ter-ar-gu-ment /,kaʊntə'ɑ:gymənt/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a fact, opinion, set of reasons, etc. that shows that the ideas or reasons someone is using in an argument may be wrong or not good enough coun-ter-at-tack /'kaʊntə'tæk/ n. [C] an attack that you make against someone who has attacked you, in a sport, war, or argument —counterattack v. [I]

THESAURUS attack, invasion, raid, ambush → ATTACK¹

coun-ter-bal-ance /'kaʊntə'bæləns/ v. [T] to have an equal and opposite effect to something else: Good sales in Europe have counterbalanced the weak sales in the U.S. —counterbalance n. [C] coun-ter-clock-wise /,kaʊntə'klɒk-waɪz/ adj., adv. in the opposite direction to the way the HANDS (=parts that point to the time) of a clock move (ANT) clockwise: Turn the lid counterclockwise.

coun-ter-cul-ture /'kaʊntə'kʌltʃə/ n. [C] SOCIAL SCIENCE the beliefs, behavior, and way of living of a group of people, especially young people, that are very different from the accepted beliefs, behavior, etc. of society coun-ter-ex-ample /'kaʊntə'ɪg,zæmpəl/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a fact proving that the opposite of an existing fact is true, which is used to question whether someone's argument is reasonable or correct.

coun-ter-feit /'kaʊntə'fɪt/ adj. made to look exactly like something else in order to deceive people: counterfeit money [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, past participle of contrefaire "to copy"] —counterfeit v. [T] —counterfeiter n. [C]

THESAURUS fake, phony, forged → FAKE²

coun-ter-part /'kaʊntə'pɑ:t/ n. [C] a person or thing that has the same job or purpose as someone or something else in a different place: a meeting between the U.S. president and his French counterpart coun-ter-pro-duc-tive /,kaʊntə'prɒ'dʌktɪv/ adj. achieving the opposite result to the one you want: Punishing children too harshly can be counterproductive.

coun-ter-sign /'kaʊntə'saɪn/ v. [T] to sign a paper that someone else has already signed: My boss will countersign the check.

count-less /'kaʊnt'lis/ adj. [only before noun] very many: She spent countless hours making that clock.

THESAURUS many, a large number, a lot/lots, plenty, numerous, innumerable, a multitude of sb/sth, a plethora of sth, myriad
→ MANY

coun-try¹ /'kʌntri/ n. (plural countries) 1 [C] an area of land that is controlled by its own government, president, king, etc.: Bahrain became an independent country in 1971. | I've always wanted to live in a foreign country. | developing countries (=countries that are poor but are trying to increase trade and industry)

THESAURUS
nation — a country and its people, used especially when considering its political and economic structures: the major industrialized nations state — a country and its people, used especially when considering its political and economic structures: state-owned industries power — a country that is very strong and important: Germany is a major industrial power in Europe.
land (literary) — a country or place: Lessing's memoirs describe her many journeys to foreign lands.
realm (literary) — a country ruled over by a king or queen: the richest man in the realm

2 the country a) land that is away from towns and cities: We went for a drive in the country. b) all the people who live in a country: The President has the support of over 50 per cent of the country. 3 [U] a type of land: farming country 4 [U] COUNTRY MUSIC [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French contrée, from Medieval Latin contrata "(land) which lies opposite," from Latin contra]

C

country² adj. in the area outside cities, or relating to this area: clean country air | country roads

'country club n. [C] a sports and social club, especially one for rich people coun-try-man /'kʌntrɪmən/ n. (plural country-men /-məŋ/) [C] (old-fashioned) someone from your own country

'country music also 'country and 'western n. [U] popular music in the style of music from the southern and western U.S.

coun-try-side /'kʌntrɪsaɪd/ n. [U] land that is outside cities and towns → COUNTRY: the English countryside coun-ty /'kaʊnti/ n. (plural counties) [C] an area of land within a state or country that has its own local government: Orange County in California [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French conté “area ruled by a count,” from Medieval Latin comitatus, from Latin comes]

'country fair n. [C] an event that happens each year in a particular county, with games and competitions for the best farm animals, for the best cooking, etc.

coup /ku/ n. [C] 1 also coup d'état /,ku der'tɑ/ an act in which citizens or the army suddenly take control of the government by force: a military coup

THESAURUS revolution, rebellion, revolt, uprising, insurrection, insurgency → REVOLUTION

2 [usually singular] an impressive achievement: Getting that job was quite a coup.

cou-ple¹ /'kʌpəl/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 a couple (informal) a) two things or people of the same kind: He's got a couple of kids. b) a few: I need to make a couple (of) phone calls. 2 two people who are married or have a romantic relationship: the young couple next door | a married couple with children [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French cople, from Latin copula “something that joins”]

couple² v. [T] to join two things together: The two sections of the plane's wing are coupled together using rivets.

couple sth with sth phr. v. if one thing is coupled with another, the two things happen or exist together and produce a particular result: Technology, coupled with better health care, means people live longer.

cou-plet /'kʌplɪt/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS two lines of poetry that follow each other and are the same length cou-pon /'kʌpən, 'kyu-/ n. [C] 1 a small piece of paper that allows you to pay less money for something or get it free: a coupon for fifty cents off a jar of coffee 2 a printed form, used when you order something, enter a competition, etc. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 French, Old French, “piece,” from couper “to cut”] cour-age /'kʌrɪdʒ, 'kʌr-/ n. [U] the quality of being brave when you are in danger, a difficult situation, etc.: He didn't have the courage to face the media. | It must have taken a lot of courage for him to drive again after the accident. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French corage, from cuere “heart,” from Latin cor] —courageous /kə'reɪdʒəs/ adj.: a courageous decision —courageously adv.

THESAURUS

bravery – brave behavior in a dangerous or frightening situation: Troops on both sides fought with bravery.

guts (informal) – the courage and determination that you need to do something difficult, dangerous, or unpleasant: He didn't even have the guts to tell me himself.

nerve (informal) – the ability to stay calm in a dangerous, difficult, or frightening situation: It takes a lot of nerve to stand up and give a speech.

valor (formal) – great courage, especially in war: He received the Congressional Medal of Honor for valor in battle.

mettle (literary) – courage and determination: Walking the length of the Pacific Coast Trail will certainly test your mettle.

cou-ri-er /'kʊrɪə, 'kə-/ n. [C] someone whose job is to deliver documents and packages course /kɔrs/ n.

1 of course a) used when what you or someone else has just said is not surprising: The insurance has to be renewed every year, of course. b) (spoken) used in order to say yes very strongly, or to give permission politely: “Can I borrow your notes?” “Of course you can.” c) (spoken) said in order to emphasize that what you are saying is true or correct: “You'll tell her?” “Of course!”

2 of course not (spoken) used to say no strongly: “Do you mind if I'm a little late?” “Of course not.”

3 SCHOOL [C] a class in a particular subject: a computer course | a three-month course in English literature

THESAURUS class, lesson, period, lecture, seminar → CLASS¹

4 SPORTS [C] an area of land or water where races are held, or an area of land designed for playing golf: a race course | a 9-hole golf course

5 MEAL [C] one of the parts of a meal: the main course | a four-course dinner

6 ACTION [C] something you can do to deal with a situation: The best course of action is to speak to her alone.

7 DIRECTION [C,U] the planned direction taken by a boat or airplane to reach a place: During the flight, we had to change course. | The ship was blown off course (=in the wrong direction).

8 in/during/over the course of sth (formal) during a period of time or a process: During the course of our conversation, I found out that he had worked in France.

9 be on course (for sth/to do sth) to be likely to achieve something because you have already had some success: Hodson is on course to break the world record.

10 WAY STH DEVELOPS [singular] the way that something changes or develops: a major event that changed the course of history | The popularity of World Music has run its course (=it is not as popular as it was before).

11 PLAN [singular, U] a general plan to achieve something, or the general way something is happening: The President described how he would get the economy back on course.

court¹ /kɔːrt/ n. 1 [C,U] LAW the people who make a legal judgment, for example about whether someone is guilty of a crime, or the place where these judgments are made: A crowd of reporters had gathered outside the court. | Please tell the court where you were on the night of the 15th. | a court of law | He had to appear in court as a witness. | We decided to take them to court (=make them be judged in a court) to get our money back. | The case should go to court (=start being judged in a court) in August. | The insurance company settled out of court (=they made an agreement without going to court). → LOWER COURT, SUPERIOR COURT

TOPIC

In court, the person who is said to have committed a crime is called the defendant. The defendant's lawyers, who are called the defense, try to prove that the defendant is not guilty. The prosecution tries to prove that the defendant is guilty. The judge and a jury listen to testimony and examine evidence in order to decide if the defendant is guilty or not guilty. Their decision is called the verdict.

2 [C] an area made for playing games such as tennis: a volleyball court 3 a) [C,U] the place where a king or queen lives and works b) [singular] the king or queen, their family, and all the people who work for them or advise them: Court officials denied the rumors. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French, Latin cohors “enclosed place, people in an enclosure, unit of soldiers in the ancient Roman army”] court² v. 1 [T] to try to please someone so that s/he will support you: Politicians are courting voters before the election. 2 court disaster/danger etc. to do something that is likely to have very bad results: To cut taxes now would be courting disaster. 3 [I,T] (old-fashioned) to have a romantic relationship with someone, especially someone you are likely to marry cour-te-ous /ˈkɔːtiəs/ adj. (formal) polite and respectful: a courteous reply —courteously adv.

THESAURUS

polite, well-behaved, civil →

POLITE

cour-te-sy /ˈkɔːtsi/ n. (plural courtesies) 1 [U] polite behavior: She didn't have the courtesy to apologize. 2 [C] something you do or say to be polite: As a courtesy to other diners, please switch off your cell phone. 3 courtesy of sb used in order to say in a grateful way who provided or did something for you: We were put up in a fancy hotel, courtesy of the airline.

court-house /ˈkɔːrthaus/ n. [C] a building containing courts of law and government offices court-martial n. [C] a military court, or an occasion when a soldier is judged by a military court —court-martial v. [T] court-room /ˈkɔːrtˈruːm/ n. [C] the room where a case is judged by a court of law court-ship /ˈkɔːrtʃɪp/ n. [C,U] (old-fashioned) the time when a man and a woman have a romantic relationship before getting married court-yard /ˈkɔːrtˈjɑːd/ n. [C] an open space surrounded by walls or buildings cous-in /ˈkʌzən/ n. [C] a child of your aunt or uncle: Bill and I are cousins. → RELATIVE¹ [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French cosin, from Latin consobrinus, from com- + sobrinus “cousin on the mother's side”]

co-val-ent /kəʊˈveɪlənt/ adj. [only before noun] CHEMISTRY relating to the force that joins and holds two or more different chemical substances together: Adjacent atoms can share electrons through covalent bonding. | covalent molecules cove /kəʊv/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a small area on the coast, that is partly surrounded by land and is protected from the wind cov-e-nant /ˈkʌvənənt/ n. [C] 1 a formal agreement between two or more people or groups 2 in the Bible, a promise made between God and the Israelites in which God promised to help them if they did not WORSHIP (=pray to) other gods [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French covenir “to agree,” from Latin convenire “to come together”]

cov-er¹ /ˈkʌvə/ v. [T]

1 PUT STH OVER STH also cover up to put something over the top of something else in order to hide, protect, or close it: Cover the pan and simmer the beans for two hours. | We covered the sofa with a large blanket. | Dan covered his face with his hands.

2 BE OVER STH to be on top of something or spread over something: His bedroom walls are covered with posters. | snow-covered mountains

3 INCLUDE to include or deal with something: The class covers 20th-century American poetry.

4 NEWS to report the details of an event for a newspaper or a television or radio program: As a young reporter, he covered the war in Vietnam.

5 PAY FOR STH to be enough money to pay for something: The award should be enough to cover her college fees. | His family will cover the cost of the funeral.

6 INSURANCE if your insurance covers you or your possessions, it promises to pay you money if you have an accident, something is stolen, etc.: a policy that covers medical expenses

7 DISTANCE to travel a particular distance: We should cover another 50 miles before lunch. | A leopard can cover a lot of ground very quickly.

8 cover your tracks to try to hide something you have done so that other people do not find out

9 GUN to aim a gun somewhere to protect someone from being attacked or to prevent someone from escaping: We'll cover you while you run for it. | The police covered the back entrance.

10 cover (all) the bases (informal) to make sure that you can deal with any situation or problem cover for sb phr. v.

1 to do someone's work because s/he is sick or is somewhere else: I'll be covering for Sandra next week.

2 to prevent someone from getting into trouble by lying about where s/he is or what s/he is doing: Can you cover for me? Just say I had an appointment.

cover sth ↔ up phr. v.

to prevent people from discovering a mistake or an unfavorable fact: A lot of people tried to cover up the Watergate affair.

cover up for sb phr. v.

to protect someone by hiding unfavorable facts about him/her: The mayor's friends tried to cover up for him.

cover² n. 1 [C] something that protects something else by covering it: a plastic cover

THESAURUS

lid – a cover for a container top/cap – the lid or cover for a container or a pen wrapper – paper or plastic that is around something you buy

2 [C] the outer front or back part of a book, magazine, etc.: The Pope was on the cover of Time magazine. | I read the book from cover to cover (=all of it). 3 [U] protection from bad weather or attack: The soldiers ran for cover when the shooting started. | We took cover under a tree. 4 covers [plural] sheets, BLANKETS, etc. that cover you in bed 5 a cover (for sth) something a criminal uses to hide his/her activities or keep them secret: The company is just a cover for the Mafia. 6 under cover pretending to be someone else in order to do something secretly: Policemen working under cover arrested several drug dealers.

cov·er·age /'kʌvɪdʒ, -vərɪdʒ/ n. [U] 1 the amount of attention that is given to a particular subject or event on television, on the radio, or in newspapers, or the way in which the subject is reported: excellent news coverage of the elections | Most of the media/press coverage has been negative. 2 the protection your insurance gives you, for example paying you money if you are injured or something is stolen: Millions of people have no formal health care coverage.

cov·er·alls /'kʌvə,ɔlz/ n. [plural] a piece of clothing that you wear over all your clothes to protect them

'cover charge n. [C] money that you have to pay in a restaurant in addition to the cost of food and drinks, especially when there is a band or dancing

cov·er·ing /'kʌvɪŋ, -vərɪŋ/ n. 1 [singular] something that covers something: a light covering of snow 2 [C] something that covers part of a wall or floor: silk wall coverings

'cover letter n. [C] a letter that you send with a document or package, which gives more information about it: Never send a résumé without a cover letter.

co·vert /'kʊvəʔt, 'kʌ-, kʊv'vəʔt/ adj. secret or hidden: a covert operation —covertly adv.

THESAURUS

secret, confidential, classified, sensitive, undercover, clandestine

→ SECRET¹

'cover-up n. [C] an attempt to prevent the public from discovering the truth about something: CIA officials denied there had been a cover-up.

cov·et /'kʌvɪt/ v. [T] (literary) to want something that someone else has: The Michelin Awards are coveted by restaurants all over the world. —coveted adj.

cow¹ /kaʊ/ n. [C] 1 a large female animal that is kept on farms and used to produce milk or meat → BULL → see picture at FARM¹ 2 the female of some large animals, such as the ELEPHANT or the WHALE [ORIGIN: Old English cu] cow² v. [T] to frighten someone in order to make him/her do something: The children were cowed into obedience.

cow·ard /'kaʊəd/ n. [C] someone who is not brave at all —cowardly adj.: a cowardly act cow·ard·ice /'kaʊədɪs/ n. [U] a lack of courage [ANT] bravery cow·boy /'kaʊbɔɪ/ n. [C] a man whose job is to take care of cattle cow·er /'kaʊə/ v. [I] to bend low and move back because you are afraid: The hostages were cowering in a corner.

cow·girl /'kaʊgɜ:l/ n. [C] a woman whose job is to take care of cattle co·work·er /'kʊw, wɜ:kə/ n. [C] someone who works with you coy /kɔɪ/ adj. 1 pretending to be shy in order to attract people's interest: a coy smile 2 not wanting to tell people about something: Bourne was coy about his plans. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French coi "calm," from Latin quietus "quiet"] —coily adv.

coy·o·te /kaɪ'outɪ, 'kai-out/ n. [C] a small wild dog that lives in western North America and Mexico [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 Mexican Spanish, Nahuatl coyotl]

co·zy /'kʊzi/ adj. small, comfortable, and warm: a cozy cabin in the woods —cozily adv. —coziness n. [U]

CPA n. [C] Certified Public Accountant an ACCOUNTANT who has passed all of his/her examinations

CPR n. [U] cardiopulmonary resuscitation a set of actions that you do to help someone who has stopped breathing or whose heart has stopped beating

CPU n. [C] Central Processing Unit the part of a computer that controls what it does crab /kræb/ n. [C,U] a sea animal with a round flat shell and two large CLAWS on its front legs, or the meat from this animal crab-by /'kræbi/ adj. easily annoyed or upset: She's been crabby all day.

crack¹ /kræk/ v.

1 BREAK [I,T] if you crack something, or if something cracks, it breaks so that it gets a line on its surface, and may then break into pieces: I just cracked my favorite coffee mug. | The ice was starting to crack. | He cracked three eggs into a bowl.

THESAURUS break, smash, shatter, tear, snap, burst, pop → BREAK¹

2 NOISE OF BREAKING [I,T] to make a loud sudden noise like the sound of something breaking, or to make something do this: A stick cracked under his foot. | He cracked his knuckles.

3 HIT STH [T] to accidentally hit something very hard: Carly tripped and cracked her head on the sidewalk.

4 LOSE CONTROL [I] to lose control of your emotions and become unable to deal with a situation because there is too much pressure on you: a spy who never cracked under questioning

5 VOICE [I] if your voice cracks, it changes from one level to another suddenly, especially because of strong emotions

6 SOLVE [T] to solve a difficult problem or a CODE: Detectives believe they've finally cracked the case. | It took them nearly two months to crack the code.

7 crack a joke (informal) to tell a joke: John keeps cracking jokes about my hair.

8 not be all sth is cracked up to be (informal) not as good as people say it is: The movie was OK, but it's not all it's cracked up to be.

crack down phr. v.

to become more strict in dealing with a problem and punishing the people involved → CRACKDOWN: Police are cracking down on drunk drivers.

crack up phr. v. (informal)

1 crack (sb) up to laugh a lot at something, or to make someone laugh a lot: I'll try to tell the story without cracking up. | Sue just cracks me up!

2 to become mentally ill because you have too many problems or too much work crack² n. [C] 1 a very narrow space between two things or two parts of something: He could see them through a crack in the door. | Can you open the window a crack?

THESAURUS hole, space, gap, leak, opening, cavity → HOLE¹

2 a thin line on the surface of something when it is broken but has not actually come apart: cracks on the wall 3 a weakness or fault in an idea, system, or organization: The cracks in their relationship were starting to show. 4 (informal) an attempt to do something: Okay, Dave, let's take a crack at fixing this bike. 5 a sudden loud noise that sounds like a stick breaking: There was a loud crack of thunder as the storm began. 6 (informal) a cruel joke or remark: Stop making cracks about my sister! 7 at the crack of dawn very early in the morning: We were up at the crack of dawn.

crack³ adj. having a lot of experience and skill: a crack shot (=someone who is very good at shooting) crack-down /'krækdaʊn/ n. [C] an effort to stop bad or illegal behavior by being more strict: a national crackdown on illegal immigrants cracked /krækt/ adj. something that is cracked has lines on the surface because it is damaged but not completely broken: a cracked mirror crack-er /'krækə/ n. [C] a type of hard dry bread that is thin and flat crack-le /'krækəl/ v. [I] to make a lot of short sharp noises: a log fire crackling in the fireplace —crackle n. [C] → see picture on page A7 crack-pot /'krækpət/ adj. (informal) slightly crazy: a crackpot idea

cradle¹ /'kreɪdl/ n. [C] 1 a small bed for a baby, that can swing gently from side to side 2 the cradle of sth the place where something important began: Some say Athens was the cradle of democracy.

cradle² v. [T] to hold someone or something gently in your arms: Tony cradled the baby in his arms.

craft¹ /kræft/ n. [C] 1 (plural crafts) a skilled activity in which you make something using your hands: a craft such as knitting 2 (plural craft) a boat, ship, or airplane [ORIGIN: Old English creft "strength, skill"] craft² v. [T] 1 to write a book, speech, etc. with great skill and care 2 to make something with your hands, using a special skill crafts-man /'kræftsmən/ n. (plural craftsmen /-mə'n/) [C] someone who is very skilled at making things with his/her hands: furniture made by the finest craftsmen —craftsmanship n. [U] craft-y /'kræfti/ adj. good at getting what you want by deceiving people —craftily adv.

THESAURUS intelligent, smart, bright, brilliant, wise, clever, cunning → INTELLIGENT

crag-gy /'krægi/ adj. a craggy mountain or cliff is very steep and covered with large rocks cram /kræm/ v. (crammed, cramming) 1 [T] to force a lot of people or things into a small space: I managed to cram all my stuff into the closet.

THESAURUS shove, stick, thrust, jam → SHOVE

2 be crammed with sth to be full of people or things: The mall was crammed with shoppers. 3 [I]

C

to prepare yourself for a test by studying a lot of information very quickly: Julia stayed up all night cramming for her math final. —crammed adj.: crammed sidewalks

cramp /kræmp/ n. [C] 1 a severe pain that you get when a muscle becomes very tight: I have a cramp in my wrist from writing all day. 2 cramps [plural] a severe pain in the stomach that women get when they MENSTRUATE

c cramped /kræmpt/ adj. a cramped room or building does not have enough space for the people or things in it: a cramped apartment

THESAURUS small, little, tiny, minute, miniature, diminutive → SMALL

cran-ber-ry /'kræn,beri/ n. (plural cranberries) [C] a small sour red berry: cranberry sauce [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Low German kraanbere, from kraan “crane” + bere “berry,” because a part of the flower looks like a crane’s beak]

crane¹ /kreɪn/ n. [C] 1 a tall machine with a long metal arm for lifting heavy things 2 a water bird with very long legs crane² v. [I,T] to look around or over something by stretching or leaning: All the kids craned their necks to see who Mrs. Miller was talking to.

cra-ni-um /'kreɪniəm/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the part of your head that is made of bone and covers your brain [SYN] skull → see picture at BRAIN¹ crank¹ /kræŋk/ n. [C] 1 crank (telephone call/letter) (informal) a telephone call or letter that is intended to frighten, annoy, or upset someone 2 (informal) someone who easily becomes angry or annoyed 3 a handle that you turn in order to make a machine work crank² v. (informal)

crank sth ↔ out phr. v. to produce a lot of something very quickly without caring about quality: He cranks out two novels a year.

crank sth ↔ up phr. v. to make the sound from a radio, etc. a lot louder: Hey, Vince, crank up the stereo!

crank-y /'kræŋki/ adj. very easily annoyed or made angry, especially because you are tired: Steve woke up cranky this morning.

craps /kræps/ n. [U] a game played for money, using two DICE crash¹ /kræʃ/ v. 1 [I,T] to have an accident in which a car, airplane, etc. hits something: The jet crashed shortly after takeoff. | We crashed straight into the car ahead of us. 2 [I,T] to hit something hard, causing a lot of damage or making a loud noise: A baseball crashed into/through our living room window. | the sound of waves crashing against the rocks 3 [I,T] IT if a computer crashes, or if you crash it, it suddenly stops working: Electrical problems caused our computers to crash. 4 [I] (spoken) a) also crash out to go to bed, or to go to sleep very quickly because you are very tired: I crashed out on the sofa, watching TV. b) to stay at someone’s house for the night: You can crash at our place tonight. 5 [I] ECONOMICS if a STOCK MARKET crashes, the value of STOCKS falls suddenly and by a large amount 6 [T] (informal) if you crash a party or event, you go to it although you have not been invited

crash² n. [C] 1 an accident in which a vehicle hits something else: The driver was killed in the crash. | a plane/car/bus etc. crash

THESAURUS accident, collision, wreck, pile-up, disaster, catastrophe, mishap → ACCIDENT

2 a sudden loud noise made by something falling, breaking, etc.: I heard a crash coming from the kitchen. | The tree fell over with a crash. → see picture on page A7 3 IT an occasion when a computer suddenly stops working 4 ECONOMICS an occasion when the value of STOCKS on a STOCK MARKET falls suddenly and by a large amount: a stock market crash

THESAURUS recession, depression, slump, downturn → RECESSION

'crash course n. [C] a short course in which you study a subject very quickly

'crash diet n. [C] an attempt to make yourself thinner quickly by strictly limiting how much you eat

'crash helmet n. [C] a hard hat worn by people who drive race cars, MOTORCYCLES, etc. to protect their heads

'crash landing n. [C] an occasion when a pilot has to bring an airplane down to the ground in a more dangerous way than usual because the airplane has a problem: He was forced to make a crash landing in the middle of the desert.

crass /kræs/ adj. offensive and stupid: a crass remark crate /kreɪt/ n. [C] a large box used for carrying fruit, bottles, etc.: a crate of wine crater

cra-ter /'kreɪtə/ n. [C] 1 a round hole in the ground made by something that has fallen on it or exploded on it: a bomb crater 2 the round open top of a VOLCANO [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin “bowl for mixing things, crater,” from Greek krater, from kerannynai “to mix”] → see picture at VOLCANO crave /kreɪv/ v. [T] to want something very much: Most little kids crave attention.

craving /ˈkreɪvɪŋ/ n. [C] a very strong desire for something: a craving for chocolate

craw-fish /ˈkrɒ,fiʃ/ n. (plural crawfish) [C] a CRAYFISH

crawl¹ /krɔːl/ v. [I] 1 to move on your hands and knees or with your body close to the ground: They had to crawl through a tunnel to escape. | The baby crawled across the floor. → see picture on page A9 2 if a vehicle crawls, it moves very slowly: We got stuck behind a truck crawling along at 25 mph. 3 be crawling with sth to be completely covered with insects or people: The food was crawling with ants. 4 if an insect crawls somewhere, it moves there crawl² n. 1 [singular] a very slow speed: Traffic has slowed to a crawl. 2 the crawl a way of swimming in which you lie on your stomach and move one arm, and then the other, over your head → see picture at SWIM¹ cray-fish /ˈkreɪ,fiʃ/ n. (plural crayfish) [C,U] a small animal like a LOBSTER that lives in rivers and streams, or the meat from this animal [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French crevice; influenced by fish]

cray-on /ˈkreɪən, -ən/ n. [C] a stick of colored WAX that children use to draw pictures [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French craie “chalk”] craze /kreɪz/ n. [C] a fashion, game, type of music, etc. that is very popular for a short time: Shoes with wheels in the heel were the latest craze.

THESAURUS bestseller, blockbuster, hit, fad, cult → POPULAR crazed /kreɪzd/ adj. a crazed person behaves in a wild and uncontrolled way, as if s/he is mentally ill: a crazed gunman

crazy /ˈkreɪzi/ adj. (comparative crazier, superlative craziest) (informal) 1 very strange or not sensible: You must be crazy to drive in that snow! | Whose crazy idea was it to go hiking in November? 2 be crazy about sb/sth to like someone or something very much: John's crazy about skiing. 3 angry or annoyed SYN mad: Shut up! You're driving me crazy (=really annoying me)! | Dad's going to go crazy (=be very angry) when he hears that I flunked math. 4 like crazy very much or very quickly: These mosquito bites on my leg are itching like crazy. 5 mentally ill: Sometimes I think I'm going crazy.

THESAURUS mentally ill – having an illness of the mind that affects the way you behave: Her father had been mentally ill. insane – permanently and seriously mentally ill: A psychiatrist said that he was insane at the time of the crime.

disturbed – not behaving in a normal way because of mental or emotional problems: emotionally disturbed children nuts (informal) – crazy: He looked at me like I was nuts.

loony (informal) – crazy: De Niro plays a loony baseball fan stalking his favorite player.

demented – crazy or very strange: his demented fantasies psychotic (formal) – relating to having a serious mental illness: psychotic behavior unstable – if someone is unstable, his/her emotional state changes very suddenly: Her mother was mentally unstable.

—crazily adv. —craziness n. [U] creak /kriːk/ v. [I] if something such as a door or wooden floor creaks, it makes a long high noise when it moves: The door creaked shut behind him.

—creak n. [C] —creaky adj. → see picture on page A7

cream¹ /kriːm/ n. 1 [U] a thick white liquid that comes from milk: Do you take cream and sugar in your coffee? 2 [U] a pale yellow-white color 3 [C,U] used in the names of foods containing cream or something similar to it: banana cream pie | cream of mushroom soup 4 [C,U] a thick smooth substance that you put on your skin to make it feel soft, treat a medical condition, etc.: The doctor gave me a cream to put on my sunburn. 5 the cream of the crop the best people or things in a group: These students represent the cream of the academic crop. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French craime, cresme, from Latin crāmum] —cream adj. —creamy adj.

cream² v. [T] 1 to mix foods together until they become a thick smooth mixture: Next, cream the butter and sugar. 2 cream sb (informal) to hit someone very hard or easily defeat someone in a game, competition, etc.: The Yankees creamed the Red Sox 11–1.

THESAURUS beat, defeat, trounce, clobber, vanquish, overcome → BEAT¹

'cream cheese n. [U] a type of soft white cheese cream-er /ˈkriːmər/ n. [U] a white substance you can use instead of milk or cream in coffee or tea crease¹ /kriːs/ n. [C] 1 a line on a piece of cloth, paper, etc. where it has been folded, crushed, or IRONED: She smoothed the creases from her skirt. 2 a fold in someone's skin crease² v. [I,T] to become marked with a line or lines, or to make a line appear on cloth, paper, etc. by folding or crushing it: Try not to crease your jacket. —creased adj.

cre-ate /kriːet/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to make something new exist or happen: Scientists believe the universe was created by a big explosion. | Why do you want to create problems for everyone? | The chemical reaction creates two new substances.

C

THESAURUS make, produce, manufacture, build, construct, generate → MAKE¹

2 to invent or design something: Janet created a wonderful chocolate dessert for the party. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin, past participle of creare]

THESAURUS invent, think up, come up with sth, conceive, devise, make up sth, dream sth up → INVENT

C cre-a-tion /kri'eɪʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] the act of creating something: the creation of 300 new jobs 2 [C] something that has been created: the artist's latest creation 3 the Creation according to many religions, the time when God made the universe and everything in it

cre-a-tive /kri'eɪtɪv/ (Ac) adj. 1 good at thinking of new ideas: I try to surround myself with creative people. 2 involving the use of imagination to produce new ideas or things: a creative solution to our problems | the writer's creative process | He is full of creative ideas. —creatively adv. —creativity n. [U]: The company encourages creativity and innovation.

cre-a-tor /kri'eɪtə/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] someone who made or invented a particular thing: Walt Disney, the creator of Mickey Mouse | The toy made enormous profits for its creators. 2 the Creator God crea-ture /kri:tʃə/ n. [C] 1 an animal, fish, or insect: Native Americans believe that all living creatures should be respected. 2 an imaginary animal or person, or one that is very strange and frightening: creatures from outer space 3 creature comforts all the things that make life comfortable and enjoyable 4 a creature of habit someone who always does things in the same way or at the same time cre-dence /'kridns/ n. [U] (formal) the acceptance of something as true: His ideas quickly gained credence (=started to be believed) among economists.

cre-den-tials /krə'denʃəlz/ n. [plural] 1 someone's education, achievements, experience, etc. that prove that s/he has the ability to do something: a woman with impressive credentials 2 a document that proves who you are: May I see your credentials?

cred-i-bil-i-ty /kredə'bɪləti/ n. [U] the quality of deserving to be believed and trusted: The scandal has ruined his credibility as a leader.

cred-i-ble /'kredəbəl/ adj. deserving or able to be believed or trusted: a credible witness —credibly adv.

cred-it' /'kredit/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] an arrangement with a bank, store, etc., that allows you to buy something and pay for it later: We bought a new stove on credit. 2 [U] praise given to someone for doing something: They never give Jesse any credit for all the extra work he does. | I can't take all the credit; Nicky helped a lot too. | The team deserves credit for playing hard until the end. | Much to

Todd's credit, the dance was a great success. 3 be a credit to sb/sth to be so successful or good that the people around you can be proud of you: Jo's a credit to her family. 4 be in credit to have money in your bank account 5 [C] a successfully completed part of a course at a university or college: She needs 30 more credits to graduate. 6 have sth to your credit to have achieved something: She already has two best-selling novels to her credit. 7 the credits [plural] a list of all the people involved in making a television program or movie [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French crédit, from Italian, from Latin creditum "something given to someone to keep safe, loan"]

credit² v. [T] 1 to add money to a bank account (ANT) debit: The check has been credited to your account. | For some reason, the bank has credited my account with an extra $237. 2 be credited to sb/sth if something is credited to someone or something, he, she, or it is said to have achieved it or be the reason for it: The revolutionary new drug is widely credited to Arthur Kessler. 3 credit sb with (doing) sth to believe that someone has a good quality or has done something good: I wouldn't have credited him with that much intelligence.

cred-it-a-ble /'kreditəbəl/ adj. deserving praise or approval: a creditable piece of scientific research

'credit card n. [C] a small plastic card that you use to buy goods or services and pay for them later: Can I pay by credit card?

'credit limit n. [C] the amount of money that you are allowed to borrow or spend using your credit card cred-i-tor /'kredətə/ (Ac) n. [C] a person or organization that you owe money to → DEBTOR

'credit rating n. [C] ECONOMICS a judgment made by a bank or other company about how likely a person or a business is to pay their debts cre-do /'kridə/ n. (plural credos) [C] a short statement that expresses a belief or rule cre-du-li-ty /kri'duləti/ n. [U] (formal) willingness or ability to believe that something is true: Her story strained credulity (=was difficult to believe).

creed /krid/ n. [C] a set of beliefs or principles: people of every creed, color, and nationality

THESAURUS faith, religion, belief → FAITH

creek /krik, kɹɪk/ n. [C] 1 a small narrow stream or river 2 be up the creek (without a paddle) (spoken) to be in a difficult situation: I'll really be up the creek if I don't pay my bills by Friday.

creep¹ /krip/ v. (past tense and past participle crept /krept/) [I] 1 to move very carefully and quietly so that no one will notice you: She crept down the hall, trying not to wake up her mom. 2 to move somewhere very slowly: a tractor creeping along the road at 15 mph 3 to gradually begin to appear: Bitterness crept into his voice. 4 to gradually increase: The total number of people out of work crept up to five million.

creep² n. [C] (informal) 1 someone who you dislike a lot: Get lost, you little creep! 2 give sb the creeps to make you feel nervous and frightened: That house gives me the creeps.

creep-y /'kripi/ adj. making you feel nervous and slightly frightened: a really creepy movie cre-mate /'krimeɪt, kri'meɪt/ v. [T] to burn the body of a dead person at a funeral ceremony —cremation /kri'meɪʃən/ n. [C,U] cre-ma-to-ri-um /,kri'mə'tɔːriəm/ n. (plural crematoriums or crematoria /-riə/) [C] a building in which the bodies of dead people are cremated cre-ole /'kriəʊl/ n. 1 [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a language that is a combination of a European language and one or more others 2 Creole [C] a) someone whose family were originally from both Europe and Africa b) someone whose family were originally French SETTLERS in the southern U.S. [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French créole, from Spanish, from Portuguese crioulo “black person born in Brazil, home-born slave,” from criar “to breed”] —creole adj.

crepe, crêpe /kreɪp/ n. 1 [C] a very thin PAN-CAKE 2 [U] thin light cloth with very small folded lines on its surface, made from cotton, silk, wool, etc.

'crepe, paper n. [U] thin brightly colored paper with small folded lines on its surface, used for making decorations crept /kreɪpt/ v. the past tense and past participle of CREEP cre-scen-do /krə'ʃændəʊ/ n. (plural crescendos) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a gradual increase in the loudness of a piece of music until it becomes very loud cre-s-cent /'kresənt/ n. [C] a curved shape that is wider in the middle and pointed on the ends: a crescent moon [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French creissant, from creistre “to grow, increase,” from Latin crescere] → see picture at SHAPE¹ crest /krest/ n. [C] 1 [usually singular] the top of a hill or wave: It took us over an hour to reach the crest of the hill. 2 a pointed group of feathers on top of a bird's head crest-fall-en /'krest,fələn/ adj. (formal) disappointed and sad: Thomas was crestfallen when he heard the judge's decision.

cre-vasse /krə'væs/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a deep wide crack, especially in thick ice crev-ice /'kreɪvɪs/ n. [C] a narrow crack, especially in rock crew /kru/ n. [C] 1 all the people that work together on a ship, airplane, etc.: the crew of the space shuttle 2 a group of people who work together on something: the movie's cast and crew [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 crew “additional soldiers, reinforcements” (15—16 centuries), from Old French creue “increase,” from creistre]

'crew cut n. [C] a very short style of hair for men crib /kriɪb/ n. [C] a baby's bed with bars around the sides → see picture at BED¹

'crib death n. [C] the sudden and unexpected death of a healthy baby while s/he is asleep

'crib sheet also 'crib note n. [C] (informal) something on which answers to questions are written, usually used in order to cheat on a test crick /kriɪk/ n. [C] a sudden stiff and painful feeling in a muscle in your neck or back crick-et /'kriɪkɪt/ n. 1 [C] a small brown insect that can jump, and makes a short loud noise by rubbing its wings together 2 [U] a game in which two teams try to get points by hitting a ball and running between two sets of sticks crime /kraɪm/ n. 1 [U] illegal activities in general: There's very little crime in this neighborhood. | Women are less likely to commit crime. | methods of crime prevention | The crime rate has gone down in the last few years. | Violent crime is up by 8%.

THESAURUS

Crimes that involve stealing things theft – the crime of stealing things: car theft robbery – the crime of stealing money or valuable things from a bank, store, etc.: armed robbery burglary – the crime of going into someone's home in order to steal money or valuable things shoplifting – the crime of taking things from a store without paying for them crimes that involve attacking people assault – a crime in which someone is physically attacked mugging – a crime in which someone is attacked and robbed in a public place murder – a crime in which someone is deliberately killed → ATTACK¹, CRIMINAL², STEAL¹

2 [C] an illegal action that can be punished by law: She committed a number of crimes in the area.

► Don't say “Do a crime.” ◀ | crimes against the elderly | Rape is a very serious crime. 3 it's a crime (to do sth) (spoken) said when you think something is morally wrong: It's a crime to throw away all that food. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Latin crimen “judgment, accusation, crime”]

crim-i-nal¹ /'kriɪmənl/ adj. 1 relating to crime: a criminal record (=an official record of crimes someone has committed) | street gangs involved in criminal activity | Drinking and driving is a criminal offense (=a crime). 2 (informal) wrong but not illegal: It's criminal to charge so much to go to a movie. —criminally adv.

criminal² n. [C] someone who has done something wrong or illegal: Police have described the man as a violent and dangerous criminal.

THESAURUS

Types of criminals

offender (Law) – someone who is guilty of a crime thief – someone who steals things robber – someone who steals things, especially from stores or banks burglar – someone who goes into buildings to steal things shoplifter – someone who takes things from stores without paying for them pickpocket – someone who steals things from people's pockets attacker – someone who uses violence to hurt someone mugger – someone who attacks and steals from another person in a public place murderer – someone who deliberately kills another person → CRIME crimp¹ /krɪmp/ n. put a crimp in/on sth to reduce or restrict something, so that it is difficult to do something else: Falling wheat prices have put a crimp on farm incomes.

crimp² v. [T] to restrict the development, use, or growth of something: The lack of effective advertising has crimped sales.

crimson /ˈkrɪmzən/ n. [U] a dark slightly purple red color —crimson adj.

cringe /krɪndʒ/ v. [I] 1 to move away from someone or something because you are afraid: a dog cringing in the corner 2 to feel embarrassed by something: Paul cringed at the thought of having to speak in public. —cringe n. [C] crinkle /ˈkrɪŋkəl/ also crinkle up v. [I,T] to become covered with small folds, or to make something do this: Mandy crinkled her nose in disgust. —crinkled adj. —crinkly adj.

cripple¹ /ˈkrɪpəl/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) someone who has difficulty walking because his/her legs are damaged or injured. This word is considered to be offensive, and you should avoid using it. It is better to say that someone is DISABLED.

cripple² v. [T] 1 to injure someone so s/he can no longer walk: He was crippled in a car accident. 2 to make something very weak, or damage it: The country's economy has been crippled by drought. —crippled adj. —cripling adj.

crisis /ˈkraɪsɪs/ n. (plural crises /ˈkraɪsɪz/) [C,U] a time when a situation is very bad or dangerous: an economic/budget/financial etc. crisis | The president faces a political crisis. | In times of crisis, you find out who your real friends are. | The stock market is suffering from a crisis of confidence.

crisp /krɪsp/ adj. 1 pleasantly dry, and hard enough to be broken easily: He stepped carefully through the crisp, deep snow. 2 food that is crisp is pleasantly hard or firm when you bite it: a nice crisp salad 3 paper or clothes that are crisp are fresh, clean, and new: a crisp $20 bill 4 weather that is crisp is cold and dry: a crisp winter morning

[ORIGIN: 1500–1600 crisp “curly” (10–20 centuries), from Latin crispus] —crisply adv.

crisp-y /ˈkrɪspi/ adj. crispy food is pleasantly hard: crispy bacon

criss-cross /ˈkrɪskrɒs/ v. [I,T] 1 to travel many times from one side of an area to the other: criss-crossing the country by plane 2 to make a pattern of straight lines that cross over each other

cri-te-ri-on /kraɪˈtɪəriən/ (Ac) n. (plural criteria /-riə/) [C usually plural] a fact or standard that you use to judge something or make a decision about something: What are the main criteria for awarding the prize? | To qualify for funding, students must meet certain criteria.

crit-ic /ˈkrɪtɪk/ n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to give his/her judgment about whether a movie, book, etc. is good or bad: a literary critic for “The Times” 2 someone who says that a person, organization, or idea is bad or wrong: a critic of the tobacco industry [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin criticus, from Greek kritikos, from krinein “to judge, decide”]

crit-i-cal /ˈkrɪtɪkəl/ adj. 1 if you are critical, you say that you think someone or something is bad or wrong: Darren was critical of the plan. | a highly critical report 2 very important: Newspapers play a critical role in our society. | This next phase is critical to the project's success. 3 very serious or dangerous: The victim remains in a critical condition (=seriously ill or injured). 4 [only before noun] making a careful judgment about whether someone or something is good or bad: a critical analysis of the play —critically adv.

critical 'angle n. [C] PHYSICS the angle at which a beam of light needs to be traveling toward a surface in order for all of the light to be sent back from the surface

crit-i-cism /ˈkrɪtɪsɪzəm/ n. [C,U] 1 remarks that show what you think is bad about someone or something (ANT praise): I don't think his criticisms of the project are justified. | The movie drew criticism from religious groups. | U.S. officials have come under harsh/sharp/fierce etc. criticism for their handling of the war. | Kate doesn't take/accept criticism well (=accept that it may be true). | We try to give students constructive criticism (=helpful advice). 2 the activity of giving a professional judgment of a movie, play, book, etc., or the writing that expresses this judgment: literary criticism

crit-i-cize /ˈkrɪtəsaɪz/ v. [I,T] to say what faults you think someone or something has (ANT praise): Journalists criticized the White House for cutting the Social Security budget. | The government's policies have been sharply/harshly/severely etc. criticized. | a widely criticized (=criticized by a lot of people) ad campaign

THESAURUS

To say that you do not think something is very good attack – to strongly criticize someone or something: Critics attacked the novel when it first came out.

lambast (formal) – to strongly and publicly criticize someone or something: Republicans lambasted the president's defense budget plan.

knock – to criticize someone or something, especially unfairly: I know a lot of people knock them, but I think they're a really good band.

find fault with – to criticize things that are wrong with someone or something, especially small and unimportant things: He's always finding fault with her driving.

be disparaging about sb/sth – to say that you do not think what someone has done is very good or important: She was somewhat disparaging about his work.

To tell someone that he or she should not have done something scold – to angrily criticize a child about something s/he has done: My mother scolded me for being late.

rebukey (formal) – to tell someone that s/he should not have done something: The president publicly rebuked him and said his comments were unacceptable.

admonish (formal) – to tell someone firmly that s/he should not have done something and that this must not happen again: The witness was admonished for refusing to answer the question.

reprimand – to tell someone officially that s/he has done something wrong: He was reprimanded for being rude to the principal.

cri-tique¹ /kri'tik/ n. [C] a piece of writing describing the good and bad qualities of a play, film, book, etc.: a critique of John Updike's latest novel critique² v. [T] to judge whether someone or something is good or bad: a group of artists meeting to critique each other's work crit-ter /'kri:tə/ n. [C] (spoken) a creature, especially an animal croak /krouk/ v. 1 [I] to make a deep low sound like the sound a FROG makes 2 [I,T] to speak in a low rough voice 3 [I] (slang) to die —croak n. [C] cro-chet /krou'fet/ v. [I,T] to make clothes, hats, etc. from YARN, using a special needle with a hook at one end

croc-o-dile /'krokə'daɪl/ n. [C] a large REPTILE with a long body and a long mouth with sharp teeth that lives in rivers and lakes in hot countries [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French cocodrille, from Latin crocodilus, from Greek, “lizard, crocodile,” from kroke “small stone” + drilos “worm”]

cro-cus /'kroukəs/ n. [C] a small purple, yellow, or white flower that appears in spring crois-sant /krwa'sant/ n. [C] a curved piece of soft bread, usually eaten for breakfast → see picture at BREAD

cro-ny /'krouni/ n. (plural cronies) [C] (informal, disapproving) one of a group of friends who use their power or influence to help each other: one of his political cronies crook /kruk/ n. [C] 1 (informal) a criminal or dishonest person: a bunch of crooks 2 the crook of your arm the inside part of your arm, where it bends crook-ed /'krukɪd/ adj. 1 not straight: crooked teeth

THESAURUS bent, twisted, curved, warped, wavy → BENT²

2 (informal) not honest: a crooked cop

croon /krun/ v. [I,T] to sing or speak softly about love —crooner n. [C] crop¹ /krap/ n. [C] 1 a plant such as corn, wheat, etc. that farmers grow and sell: Most of the land is used for growing crops. 2 the amount of corn, wheat, etc. that is produced in a single season: a bumper crop (=a very large amount) of barley 3 a crop of sb/sth (informal) a group of people, problems, etc. that arrive at the same time: this year's crop of college freshmen crop² v. (cropped, cropping) [T] to make something shorter by cutting it: Her hair was closely cropped.

crop up phr. v. to suddenly happen or appear: Several problems cropped up soon after we bought the car.

cro-quet /krou'keɪ/ n. [U] an outdoor game in which you hit heavy balls under curved wires using a wooden hammer cross¹ /krɒs/ v. 1 [I,T] to go from one side of a road, river, place, etc. to the other: Look both ways before crossing the street! | the first ship to cross the Pacific | Thousands of people cross the border from Mexico to the U.S. each year. | Thompson was the first runner to cross the finish line. 2 [I,T] if two or more roads, lines, etc. cross, or if one crosses another, they go across each other: There's a post office where Main Street crosses Elm. 3 [T] if you cross your arms, legs, or ANKLES, you put one on top of the other: She sat down and crossed her legs. 4 cross your mind if something crosses your mind, you suddenly think about it: It never crossed my mind that she might be sick. 5 [T] to make someone angry by refusing to do what s/he wants: I wouldn't cross her if I were you. 6 cross the line to go beyond the limits of appropriate behavior and begin acting in an unacceptable way: The officers crossed the line when they began beating the suspect. 7 [T] to mix two different types of animals or plants to produce young animals or plants: Wolves can be crossed with domestic dogs. 8 cross my heart (and hope to die) (spoken) used to say that you promise that you will do something, or that what you are saying is true 9 cross your fingers also keep your fingers crossed used to say that you hope something will happen: People vote, cross their fingers, and hope for the best. [ORIGIN: 900–1000 Old

Norse kross, from an unrecorded Old Irish cross, from Latin crux]

cross sth ↔ off phr. v. to draw a line through something on a list to show that you have dealt with it: Cross off their names as they arrive.

cross sth ↔ out phr. v. to draw a line through something that you have written because it is not correct: The salesman crossed out $222 and wrote $225.

cross² n. [C] 1 an upright wooden post with another post crossing it near the top. In the past, people were punished by being fastened to the post and left to die. People use “the cross” to mean the particular cross that Jesus Christ was left to die on, according to the Christian religion. 2 an object, sign, etc. in the shape of a cross, that is used to represent the Christian faith: She wore a tiny gold cross around her neck. 3 a mixture of two things: His dog is a cross between a retriever and a collie.

cross³ adj. (old-fashioned) annoyed and angry cross-bow /'krɒsbəʊ/ n. [C] a weapon used in order to shoot ARROWS cross-check /,krɒs'tʃek, 'krɒstʃek/ v. [T] to make sure that something is correct by using a different method to check it again

cross-country adj. [only before noun] 1 across fields and not along roads: cross-country running | cross-country skiers 2 from one side of a country to the other side: a cross-country flight cross-'cultural adj. belonging to or involving two or more societies, countries, or cultures: cross-cultural trade cross-ex'amine v. [T] LAW to ask someone questions to discover whether s/he has been telling the truth, especially in a court of law — cross-exami'nation n. [C,U] cross-'eyed adj. having eyes that both look inward toward each other cross-fire /'krɒsfara/ n. [U] 1 a situation in which you are badly affected by an argument, even though it does not involve you: During a divorce, kids often get caught in the crossfire. 2 bullets traveling toward each other from different directions: A few reporters were caught in the crossfire.

cross-ing /'krɒsɪŋ/ n. [C] 1 a marked place where you can safely cross a road, railroad, river, etc. 2 a place where two roads, lines, etc. cross 3 a trip across the ocean, a lake, a river, etc.

cross-leg-ged /'krɒs ,legɪd, -legd/ adj., adv. in a sitting position with your knees apart and one foot over the opposite leg: We sat cross-legged on the floor

cross-o-ver /'krɒs,əʊvə/ n. [C,U] a situation in which something or someone is popular or successful in different areas, or is liked by different types of people, for example when a popular song is liked by people who usually like only serious music: The song became a crossover hit.

cross-'purposes n. at cross-purposes if two people are at cross-purposes, they become confused because they think they are talking about the same thing, although they are not cross-'reference n. [C] a note in a book telling you to look on a different page for more information cross-roads /'krɒsrəʊdz/ n. (plural crossroads) [C] 1 a place where two roads cross each other 2 a time when you have to make an important decision about your future: Neale's career was at a crossroads.

cross 'section, cross-section n. [C] 1 a group of people or things that is typical of a larger group: a cross-section of the American public 2 something that has been cut in half so that you can look at the inside, or a drawing of this: a cross section of the brain

'cross street n. [C] a large street that crosses another street: The nearest cross street to our house is Victory Boulevard.

cross-'trainer n. [C usually plural] a type of shoe that can be worn for playing different types of sports cross-'training n. [U] the activity of training for more than one sport at the same time cross-walk /'krɒswɔk/ n. [C] a marked place where people can cross a road safely → CROSSING cross-word puz-zle /'krɒswɜd ,pʌzəl/ also crossword n. [C] a word game in which you write the answers to CLUES (=questions) in a pattern of numbered boxes → *see picture at PUZZLE*¹ crotch /krɒtʃ/ n. [C] the place where your legs join at the top, or the part of a piece of clothing that covers this crotch-et-y /'krɒtʃəti/ adj. (informal) easily annoyed or made angry: a crotchety old man crouch /kraʊtʃ/ also crouch down v. [I] to lower your body close to the ground by bending your knees and back: We crouched down behind the wall to hide. → see picture on page A9

crow¹ /krou/ n. [C] 1 a large black bird that makes a loud sound 2 as the crow flies used to describe the distance between two places when measured in a straight line: My house is ten miles from here as the crow flies.

crow² v. [I] 1 to make the loud sound of a ROOSTER 2 to talk very proudly about yourself or your achievements: His supporters are still crowing about the court's decision.

crow-bar /'kroʊbɑr/ n. [C] a strong iron bar with a curved end, used for forcing things open crowd¹ /kraʊd/ n. 1 [C] a large group of people in one place: a crowd of reporters | A crowd gathered to watch the parade. | Shop early and avoid the crowds. | The crowd (=audience at an event) roared for more. 2 [singular] ordinary people: He likes to stand out from the crowd (=be different from ordinary people). 3 [singular] (informal) a group of people who know each other well: I guess the usual crowd will be at the party.

crowd² v. [I,T] if people crowd somewhere, they are there in large numbers: People crowded around the scene of the accident. | The prisoners were all crowded together in a small cell. | Shoppers crowded the malls in the week before Christmas.

crowd sb/sth ↔ out phr. v. to force someone or something to leave a place: Big supermarkets have been crowding out small grocery stores for years.

crowd-ed /'kraʊdɪd/ adj. very full of people or things: *a crowded room | The streets were crowded with tourists.

crown¹ /kraʊn/ n. [C] 1 a circle made of gold and jewels that a king or queen wears on his/her head 2 an artificial top for a damaged tooth 3 the position you have if you have won a sports competition: He lost the heavyweight boxing crown in 1972. 4 the top part of a hat, head, or hill: *a hat with a high crown [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French corone, from Latin corona “circle of leaves put on someone’s head, crown,” from Greek korone] crown² v. [T] 1 to put a crown on someone’s head, so that s/he officially becomes king or queen: *He was crowned at the age of six. 2 to make something complete or perfect by adding to it: *His career was crowned by the best actor award.

crown-ing /'kraʊnɪŋ/ adj. [only before noun] better, more important, etc. than anything else: *Winning a fourth championship was her crowning achievement.

crucial /'krʊʃəl/ (Ac) adj. very important: This election is crucial to Israel’s future. | Sunday’s game is crucial for the Giants. | Two witnesses played a crucial role in tracking down the killer. | The attack on Pearl Harbor was a crucial moment in American history. [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 French “cross-shaped,” from Latin crux] —crucially adv.

THESAURUS important, of great/considerable importance, vital, essential, major, key, paramount, significant, salient → IMPORTANT cru-ci-ble /'krʊsəbəl/ n. [C] 1 CHEMISTRY a container in which substances are heated to very high temperatures 2 a situation that is very difficult, but that often produces something new or good cru-ci-fix /'krʊsə,fɪks/ n. [C] a cross with a figure of Christ on it cru-ci-fix-ion /,krʊsə'fɪkʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] the act of killing someone by fastening him/her to a cross 2 the Crucifixion the death of Christ in this way, or a picture or object that represents it cru-ci-fy /'krʊsə,fai/ v. (crucified, crucifies) [T] 1 to kill someone by fastening him/her to a cross 2 (informal) to criticize someone severely and cruelly: *If the newspapers find out, you’ll be crucified.

crud /krʌd/ n. [U] (informal) something that is bad or disgusting to look at, taste, smell, etc.: I can’t get this crud off my shoe. —cruddy adj.

crude /krʊd/ adj. 1 offensive or rude, especially by referring to sex in an unacceptable way → VULGAR: crude language 2 in a natural or raw condition: crude oil 3 not developed to a high standard: a crude shelter in the forest —crudely adv.

cru-el /'kruəl/ adj. 1 deliberately hurting people or animals: Children can be very cruel to each other. | *Keeping animals in cages seems cruel.

THESAURUS mean, unkind, nasty, thoughtless, spiteful, abusive, vicious, malicious → MEAN²

2 making someone suffer or feel unhappy: *Her father’s death was a cruel blow. | *Show business can be cruel. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French, Latin crudelis, from crudus “raw, rough, cruel”] —cruelly adv.

cru-el-ty /'kruəlti/ n. (plural cruelties) [C,U] behavior or actions that are cruel: cruelty to animals* | the cruelties of war

cruise¹ /kruːz/ v. 1 [I] to move at a steady speed in a car, airplane, boat, etc.: We cruised along at 65 miles per hour. 2 [I,T] (informal) to drive a car without going to any particular place: Kids were cruising up and down Main Street. 3 [I,T] to sail somewhere for pleasure: *We will cruise the Caribbean. 4 [I] to win something easily: Blair cruised to victory by a little over two minutes.

cruise² n. [C] a vacation on a large boat: *a Caribbean cruise cruis-er /'kruːzə/ n. [C] 1 a large fast ship used by the navy 2 a police car 3 a boat used for pleasure

'cruise ship n. [C] a large ship with restaurants, bars, etc. that people travel on for a vacation crumb /kram/ n. [C] 1 a very small piece of bread, cake, etc.

THESAURUS piece, scrap, chunk, lump, fragment, slice, strip, block → PIECE¹

2 a very small amount: a few crumbs of information

crum-ble /'krʌmbəl/ v. 1 [I,T] to break into small pieces, or to make something do this: an old stone wall, crumbling with age | Crumble the cheese on top.* 2 [I] to lose power, become weak, or fail: the crumbling peace process

crum-my /'krʌmi/ adj. (spoken) bad or of bad quality: a crummy movie crum-ple /'krʌmpəl/ v. [I,T] to crush paper or cloth, or to be crushed in this way: Dan tore the page out, crumpled it, and threw it in the wastepaper basket. —crumpled adj.

crunch¹ /krʌntʃ/ v. 1 [I] to make a sound like something being crushed: Our feet crunched on the frozen snow. 2 [I,T] to eat hard food in a way that makes a noise: The dog was crunching on a bone. —crunchy adj.

C

crunch² n. 1 [singular] a noise like the sound of something being crushed: the crunch of footsteps on gravel → see picture on page A7 2 [singular] a difficult situation caused by a lack of something, especially money or time: *the hospital's budget crunch 3 the crunch also crunch time the moment in a situation when you must make an important decision: Crunch time is approaching for college applicants.

cru-sade /kru'seɪd/ n. [C] a determined attempt to change something because you think you are morally right: a crusade for better schools —crusade v. [I]: students crusading against nuclear weapons

THESAURUS fight, battle, campaign, drive, struggle → FIGHT²

crush¹ /kraʃ/ v. [T] 1 to press something so hard that it breaks or is damaged: Crush two cloves of garlic. | a car crushed by falling rocks | Two workers were crushed to death when a building collapsed. → see picture on page A5

THESAURUS press, squash, mash, grind, squeeze, compress, compact → PRESS¹

2 to completely defeat someone or something, using severe methods: The uprising was crushed by the military. 3 crush sb's hopes/enthusiasm/confidence etc. to make someone lose all hope, confidence, etc. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French cruisir]

crush² n. 1 [C] (informal) a strong feeling of love for someone that continues only for a short time: Ben has a crush on his teacher. 2 [singular] a crowd of people in a very small space crush-ing /'kraʃɪŋ/ adj. 1 very hard to deal with, and making you lose hope and confidence: The army suffered a crushing defeat. 2 a crushing remark, reply, etc. contains a very strong criticism crust /krʌst/ n. [C,U] 1 the baked outside part of bread, a PIE, etc.: *bread rolls with a thick brown crust 2 a hard covering on the surface of something: The surface of the lake was covered by a thin crust of ice. 3 EARTH SCIENCES the hard outer layer of a PLANET, moon, etc., made up mostly of rocks: *the Earth's crust → see picture at GLOBE

crus-ta-cean /kra'steɪʃən/ n. [C] BIOLOGY an animal such as a LOBSTER or a CRAB that has a hard outer shell and several pairs of legs, and usually lives in water [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Modern Latin crustaceus, from Latin crusta “crust, shell”] —crustacean adj.

crust-y /'krʌsti/ adj. having a hard crust: crusty bread crutch /krʌtʃ/ n. [C] 1 [usually plural] one of a pair of sticks that you lean on to help you walk: He was on crutches after breaking his leg. 2 (disapproving) something that gives someone support or help, especially when this is not good for him/her: Tom uses those pills as a crutch.

crux /krʌks/ n. the crux the most important part of a problem, question, argument, etc.: The budget plan is the crux of the dispute between the White House and Congress

cry¹ /kraɪ/ v. (cried, cries) 1 [I] to produce tears from your eyes, usually because you are unhappy or hurt: What are you crying about? | Sydney cried for her mother. | a woman crying over the death of her son | Sad movies always make me cry.

THESAURUS

If someone weeps, s/he cries a lot because s/he feels very sad – a formal word.
If someone sobs, s/he cries a lot in a noisy way.
If someone bawls, s/he cries a lot in a noisy way – an informal word.
If someone is in tears, s/he is crying.
If someone bursts into tears or dissolves into tears, s/he suddenly starts crying.
If someone breaks down, s/he starts crying after having tried not to cry.

2 [I,T] to say something loudly: “Stop!” she cried. | He cried for help. | The crowd cried his name. 3 for crying out loud (spoken) said when you feel annoyed with someone: For crying out loud, will you shut up! 4 cry over spilled milk (informal) to waste time worrying about something that cannot be changed 5 [I] if an animal or bird cries, it makes a loud high sound 6 cry wolf to often ask for help when you do not need it, so that people do not believe you when you really need help cry out phr. v. 1 to make a loud sound of fear, shock, pain, etc.: He cried out in pain. 2 be crying out for sth to need something urgently: The health care system is crying out for reform.

cry² n. (plural cries) [C] 1 a loud sound showing fear, pain, shock, etc.: *a baby's cry | a cry of pain/joy/alarm etc. 2 a loud shout: Miller heard a cry of “Stop, thief!” 3 a sound made by a particular animal or bird: the cries of seagulls 4 a phrase used in order to unite people in support of a particular action or idea: *a war/battle cry 5 a cry for help something someone does that shows s/he is unhappy and needs help: A suicide attempt is a cry for help.

cry-ba-by /'kraɪ,berbi/ n. (plural crybabies) [C] (informal, disapproving) someone who cries or complains too much cry-ing /'kraɪ-ɪŋ/ adj. 1 a crying need for sth a serious need for something: There's a crying need for better housing. 2 it's a crying shame (spoken) used in order to say that something is very sad or upsetting: It would be a crying shame if the school had to close down.

crypt /kript/ n. [C] a room under a church, used in past times for burying people cryptic /'kriptɪk/ adj. having a meaning that is hard to understand: a cryptic message —cryptically adv.

crystal /'krɪstəl/ n. 1 [U] high-quality clear glass: crystal wine glasses 2 [C,U] rock that is clear, or a piece of this 3 [C] a small evenly shaped object that forms naturally when a liquid becomes solid: ice crystals 4 [C] CHEMISTRY a solid substance that has atoms arranged in a regular repeated pattern: copper sulfate crystals [ORIGIN: 1000—1100 Old French crystal, from Latin crystallum, from Greek krystallos “ice, crystal”] crystal ball n. [C] a glass ball that you look into, that some people believe can show the future crystal clear adj. 1 clearly stated and easy to understand: I made it crystal clear that you weren't allowed to go! 2 completely clean and clear: The lake was crystal clear.

crystallize /'krɪstəlaɪz/ v. [I,T] 1 if a liquid crystallizes, it forms crystals 2 if an idea or plan crystallizes, it becomes clear in your mind: The recent events really crystallized my opposition to war.

c-section /'siˌsekʃən/ n. [C] a CESAREAN

CT the written abbreviation of CONNECTICUT cub /kʌb/ n. [C] the baby of a lion, bear, etc.

cubby hole /'kʌbiˌhoʊl/ n. [C] a small space or room, used for storing things cube /kyub/ n. [C] 1 a solid square object with six equal sides: a sugar cube | ice cubes → see picture at SHAPE 2 the cube of sth MATH the number you get when you multiply a number by itself twice: The cube of 3 is 27. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin cubeus, from Greek kybos “cube, vertebra”] cube v. [T] 1 MATH to multiply a number by itself twice: 2 cubed is 8. 2 to cut something into cubes cube root n. [C] MATH the cube root of a particular number is the number which, when multiplied by itself twice, equals that number. For example, the cube root of 64 is 4. → SQUARE ROOT cubic /'kyubɪk/ adj. cubic inch/centimeter/yard etc. MATH a measurement of space which is calculated by multiplying the length of something by its width and height cubicle /'kyubɪkəl/ n. [C] a small partly enclosed part of a room: office cubicles [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin cubiculum, from cubare “to lie”]

Cub Scouts n. [plural] the part of the BOY SCOUTS that is for younger boys cuckoo /'kuku/ n. [plural cuckoos] [C] a gray European bird that puts its eggs in other birds' nests and that has a call that sounds like its name [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French cucu, from the sound it makes] cu-cum-ber

/'kyuˌkʌmbə/ n. [C] a long thin green vegetable, usually eaten raw [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French cocombre, from Latin cucumis] → see picture at VEGETABLE

cuddle /'kʌdl/ v. [I,T] to put your arms around someone or something as a sign of love: Chris cuddled her new puppy. —cuddle n. [C usually singular]

THESAURUS hug, embrace, hold, wrap your arms around sb → HUG¹

cuddle up phr. v. to lie or sit very close to someone or something: The children cuddled up to each other in the dark.

cuddly /'kʌdli/ adj. soft, warm, and nice to hold: a cuddly stuffed animal cue /kyu/ n. [C] 1 an action or event that is a signal for something else to happen: That was a cue for me to leave. 2 a word or action that is a signal for someone to speak or act in a play, movie, etc.: Tony stood by the stage, waiting for his cue. 3 (right/as if) on cue happening or done at exactly the right moment: Then Bart walked in, right on cue. 4 take a/your cue from sb to copy what someone else does because s/he does it correctly 5 a long straight wooden stick used for hitting the ball in games such as POOL 6 a movement of the hand, body, or face that communicates meaning without words: Cues such as smiling or lowering your eyes show that you are attracted to someone.

cuff /kʌf/ n. [C] 1 the end of a sleeve 2 a narrow piece of cloth turned up at the bottom of your pants 3 off-the-cuff without previous thought or preparation: an off-the-cuff remark 4 cuffs [plural] (informal) HANDCUFFS cuff v. [T] (informal) to put HANDCUFFS on someone cuff link n. [C] a small piece of jewelry that a man can use instead of a button to fasten the cuff of his shirt cuisine /kwɪ'zɪn/ n. [U] a particular style of cooking: French cuisine cul-de-sac /ˌkʌl də 'sæk, ˌkʊl-/ n. [C] a street with only one way in and out [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 a French word meaning “bottom of the bag”] culinary /'kʌləˌnəri, 'kyu-/ adj. (formal) relating to cooking: a culinary magazine cull /kʌl/ v. 1 [T] (formal) to collect information from different places: data culled from various sources 2 [I,T] to kill some of the animals in a group so that the size of the group does not increase too much —cull n. [C] cul-mi-nate /ˈkʌlməˌneɪt/ v.

culminate in/with sth phr. v. to end with a particular event, especially a big or important one: a series of arguments that culminated in divorce

C cul-mi-na-tion /ˈkʌlməˌneɪʃən/ n. the culmination of sth something important that happens after a period of development: That discovery was the culmination of his life's work.

cul-pa-ble /ˈkʌlpəbəl/ adj. (formal) deserving blame: Both sides were equally culpable. —culpability /ˈkʌlpəˌbɪləti/ n. [U] cul-prit /ˈkʌlprɪt/ n. [C] 1 someone who has done something wrong: Police are still looking for the culprit. 2 the reason for a particular problem or difficulty: High labor costs are the main culprit for the rise in prices. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Anglo-French cul (from culpable “guilty”) + prit “ready (to prove it)”] cult¹ /kʌlt/ n. [C] 1 an extreme religious group that is not part of an established religion: a religious cult

THESAURUS church, denomination, sect

→ CHURCH

2 a fashionable or popular belief, idea, or attitude: The whole movie industry is built on the cult of personality.

cult² adj. [only before noun] a cult movie, person, group, etc. is one that is very popular but only among a particular group of people: The band has developed a cult following. → POPULAR cul-ti-vate /ˈkʌltəˌveɪt/ v. [T] 1 to prepare and use land for growing crops and plants 2 to work hard to develop a particular skill, quality, or attitude: He's spent years cultivating a knowledge of art. 3 to try to develop a friendship with someone who can help you: She worked hard to cultivate friendships with local government leaders. —cultivation /ˈkʌltəˌveɪʃən/ n. [U] cul-ti-vat-ed /ˈkʌltəˌveɪtɪd/ adj. 1 intelligent and knowing a lot about music, art, literature, etc.: a cultivated gentleman 2 cultivated land is used for growing crops or plants

cul-tur-al /ˈkʌltʃərəl/ (Ac) adj. 1 relating to a particular society and its way of life: England has a rich cultural heritage. | cultural differences 2 relating to art, literature, music, etc.: a guide to cultural events in London | The museum is a welcome addition to the city's cultural life. 3 cultural diffusion SOCIAL SCIENCE the spread of ideas, CUSTOMS (=traditional ways of doing something), etc. between people from different cultures 4 cultural diversity SOCIAL SCIENCE the fact that there are many clearly different cultures in a city, country, etc. 5 cultural institution SOCIAL SCIENCE an important practice or CUSTOM

(=traditional way of doing something) that has existed in a society or within a social group for a long time —culturally adv.: Europe is a culturally diverse continent.

cul-ture /ˈkʌltʃə/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] SOCIAL SCIENCE the art, beliefs, behavior, ideas, etc. of a particular society: the culture of ancient Greece | I love working abroad and meeting people from different cultures. | American/Western/Hispanic etc. culture ▶ Don't say “The American culture.” ◀ 2 [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS art, literature, music, etc.: Boston is a good place for anyone who is interested in culture. | popular culture (=the music, movies, etc. that are liked by a lot of people) 3 [C,U] BIOLOGY the process of growing BACTERIA for scientific use, or the bacteria or cells produced by this: tissue cultures [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French, Latin cultura, from cultus “care, worship”] cul-tured /ˈkʌltʃəd/ (Ac) adj. intelligent, polite, and interested in art, music, etc.

'culture shock n. [singular, U] a feeling of being confused or anxious when you visit a foreign country for the first time cum-ber-some /ˈkʌmbərsəm/ adj. 1 a cumbersome process is slow and difficult: Getting a passport can be a cumbersome process. 2 heavy and difficult to move or use: cumbersome equipment cu-mu-la-tive /ˈkyumyələtɪv, -ləɪ-/ adj. increasing gradually: the cumulative effect of air pollution —cumulatively adv.

cu-mu-lo-nim-bus /ˈkyumyələuˌnɪmbəs/ n. (plural cumulonimbuses or cumulonimbi /-baɪ/) [C,U] EARTH SCIENCES a type of thick large cloud that often produces a RAINSTORM or a THUNDERSTORM → CIRRUS, CUMULUS, NIMBUS, STRATUS cu-mu-lus /ˈkyumyələs/ n. (plural cumuli /-laɪ/) [C,U] EARTH SCIENCES a thick white cloud with a flat bottom edge, which shows that the weather is good, but which can build up to form rain → CIRRUS, CUMULONIMBUS, NIMBUS, STRATUS

cun-ning /ˈkʌnɪŋ/ adj. intelligent in a dishonest way: a cunning criminal | a cunning plan [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Present participle of cun “to know,” an early form of can] —cunning n. [U] —cunningly adv.

THESAURUS intelligent, smart, bright, brilliant, wise, clever, crafty → INTELLIGENT skillful, expert, accomplished, talented, gifted, adept, deft → SKILLFUL

cup¹ /kʌp/ n. [C] 1 a small round container, usually with a handle, that you use to drink tea, coffee, etc., or the drink it contains → SAUCER: a cup and saucer | a cup of coffee | a paper/plastic cup 2 a unit for measuring liquid or food in cooking, equal to eight FLUID OUNCES or 237 MILLILITERS: Stir in a cup of flour. 3 a specially shaped container that is given as a prize in a competition → TROPHY [ORIGIN: Old English cuppe, from Late Latin cuppa, from Latin cupa “barrel”]

cup² v. (cupped, cupping) [T] to form your hands into the shape of a cup: Greta cupped her hands around the mug.

cup-board /'kʌbəd/ n. [C] a piece of furniture with doors and shelves, used for storing clothes, plates, food, etc. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 cupboard “shelf or table for cups” (14—18 centuries)] cup-cake /'kʌpkɛɪk/ n. [C] a small round cake cup-id-i-ty /kyu'pɪdətɪ/ n. [U] (formal) very strong desire for something, especially money or property SYN greed cur-a-ble /'kyʊərəbəl/ adj. able to be cured ANT incurable: a curable disease cu-ra-tor /'kyu,reitə, -rətə, kyʊ'reɪtə/ n. [C] someone who is in charge of a MUSEUM curb¹ /kəb/ n. [C] the edge of a SIDEWALK, where it joins the road [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French courbe “curve, curved piece of wood or metal,” from Latin curvus]

THESAURUS edge, perimeter, rim, margin → EDGE¹

curb² v. [T] to control or limit something: Doctors are trying to curb the spread of the disease.

curd /kərd/ n. [C,U] the thick substance that forms in milk when it becomes sour cur-dle /'kədl/ v. [I,T] if a liquid curdles, it becomes unpleasantly thick: Do not let the sauce boil or it will curdle.

cure¹ /kyʊr/ v. [T] 1 to make an injury or illness better, so that the person who was sick is well → HEAL: Many types of cancer can now be cured. | Penicillin will cure most infections. 2 to solve a problem, or improve a bad situation: No one can completely cure unemployment. 3 to preserve food, leather, etc. by drying it, hanging it in smoke, or covering it with salt: cured ham [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French, Latin cura “care”]

cure² n. [C] 1 a medicine or medical treatment that can cure an illness or disease: a cure for cancer 2 something that solves a problem: There's no easy cure for poverty.

THESAURUS solution, answer, remedy, panacea → SOLUTION cur-few /'kəfyu/ n. [C] a law that forces people to stay indoors after a particular time at night: The government imposed a curfew from sunset to sunrise. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French covrefeu “signal to put out fires, curfew,” from covrir “to cover” + feu “fire”] cu-ri-o /'kyʊri,ou/ n. (plural curios) [C] a small object that is interesting because it is old, beautiful, or rare

cu-ri-os-i-ty /,kyʊri'asəti/ n. [singular, U] the desire to know about something: Children have a natural curiosity about the world around them. | Just out of curiosity (=because of curiosity), how old are you? | I just had to satisfy my curiosity, so I opened the box.

cu-ri-ous /'kyʊriəs/ adj. 1 wanting to know or learn about something: We were curious about what was going on next door. | I was curious to see how it worked. 2 strange or unusual: a curious noise | It's curious that she left without saying goodbye. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French curios, from Latin curiosus “careful, wanting to know”]

THESAURUS strange, funny, peculiar, mysterious, odd, weird, bizarre, eccentric → STRANGE¹

—curiously adv.

curl¹ /kəl/ n. [C] 1 a piece of hair that hangs in a curved shape: a little girl with blonde curls → see picture at HAIR 2 something that forms a curved shape: a curl of smoke —curly adj.

curl² v. [I,T] to form a curved shape, or to make something do this: I don't know if I should curl my hair or leave it straight. | Thick smoke curled from the chimney. | The phone cord was curled around her hand.

curl up phr. v. 1 to lie or sit comfortably with your arms and legs bent close to your body: Pepe curled up on the couch to watch TV. 2 if paper, leaves, etc. curl up, their edges become curved and point up curl-er /'kələ-/ n. [C usually plural] a small metal or plastic tube for making hair curl curling iron n. [C] a piece of electrical equipment that you heat and use to curl your hair cur-rant /'kərənt, 'kʌr-/ n. [C] a small round red or black berry, usually dried [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 raison of Coraunte “raisin of Corinth” (14—17 centuries), from Corinth city and area in Greece]

cur-ren-cy /'kənsi, 'kʌr-/ AC n. (plural cur-rencies) 1 [C,U] the type of money that a country uses: Japanese currency | foreign currency

THESAURUS money, bill, coin, cash, change → MONEY

2 [U] the state of being accepted or used by a lot of people: During the 1880s, Marxism began to gain currency. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Medieval Latin currentia “flowing,” from Latin currere]

cur-rent¹ /'kərənt, 'kʌr-/ adj. happening, existing, or being used now: Sales for the current year are low. | the current edition of “Newsweek” [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French curant, present participle of courre “to run,” from Latin currere]

THESAURUS present, existing, prevailing
→ PRESENT¹

current² n. [C] 1 a continuous movement of water or air in a particular direction: We were swimming against a strong current. 2 a flow of electricity through a wire: an electrical current current affairs n. [U] important political or social events that are happening now cur-rent-ly /'kʌrəntli, 'kʌr-/ adv. at the present time: She's currently studying in Japan. | These are the most effective drugs currently available.

C

THESAURUS now, at the moment, for the moment, at present/at the present time, presently → NOW¹

C

cur-ric-u-lum /kə'rikyələm/ n. (plural curricula /-kyələ/ or curriculum) [C] all of the subjects that are taught at a school, college, etc. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Modern Latin, Latin, “running, course,” from currere] cur-ry /'kʌri, 'kʌri/ n. (plural curries) [C,U] meat or vegetables cooked in a spicy sauce curse¹ /kɜːs/ v. 1 [I] to swear: He cursed at the lawn mower when it didn't start. 2 [T] to say or think bad things about someone or something because he, she, or it that has made you angry: I cursed myself for not buying the car insurance sooner. 3 [T] to ask God or a magical power to harm someone curse² n. [C] 1 a swear word, or words, that you say when you are angry 2 magic words that bring someone bad luck: It feels like someone has put a curse on my career.

THESAURUS magic, witchcraft, sorcery, black magic, spell, the occult, voodoo → MAGIC¹

3 something that causes trouble or harm: Being a war hero has been both a blessing and a curse.

curse /kɜːst/ adj. be cursed with sth to be affected by something bad: All his life, he's been cursed with bad luck.

cur-sor /'kɜːsə/ n. [C] a shape on a computer screen that moves to show where you are writing cur-so-ry /'kɜːsəri/ adj. done quickly without much attention to detail: After a cursory glance/look at the menu, Grant ordered coffee.

THESAURUS short, brief, quick → SHORT¹ curt /kɜːt/ adj. using very few words, in a way that seems rude: a curt response —curtly adv.

THESAURUS short, brief, concise, succinct → SHORT¹ cur-tail /kɜː'teɪl/ v. [T] (formal) to reduce or limit something: new laws to curtail immigration —curtailment n. [C,U]

cur-tain /'kɜːtɪn/ n. [C] a piece of hanging cloth that can be pulled across to cover a window, divide a room, etc.: a shower curtain | a new pair of curtains | Can you close/draw/pull the curtains for me? [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French curtine, from Late Latin cortina, from Latin cohors “enclosure, court”] curt-sy, curtsey /'kɜːtsi/ v. (curtsied, curtsies) [I] if a woman curtsies, she bends her knees with one foot in front of the other as a sign of respect for an important person [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 courtesy] —curtsy n. [C] curve¹ /kɜːv/ n. [C] 1 a line or shape that bends like part of a circle: a sharp curve in the road → *see picture at BENT*² 2 a method of giving GRADES based on how a student's work compares with other students' work: The test will be graded on a curve.

curve² v. [I,T] to bend or move in the shape of a curve, or to make something do this: a golf ball curving through the air —curved adj. —curvy adj.

cur-vi-lin-e-ar /kɜːvə'liɪniə/ adj. MATH having a curved line: a huge curvilinear arch

cush-ion¹ /'kʊʃən/ n. [C] 1 a bag filled with soft material, that you put on a chair or the floor to make it more comfortable → PILLOW 2 something, especially money, that prevents you from being immediately affected by a bad situation: Savings can act as a cushion against unemployment. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French coissin, from Latin coxa “hip”] cushion² v. [T] to reduce the effects of something bad: The law will cushion the blow for homeowners by gradually phasing in the tax increases.

culp /kʌsp/ n. on/at the cusp of sth at the time when a situation is going to change, or something important is about to happen: They were young people on the cusp of adulthood.

cuss /kʌs/ v. [I] (informal) to use offensive language (SYN swear, curse) cuss sb ↔ out phr. v. (informal) to swear and shout at someone because you are angry cus-tard /'kʌstəd/ n. [C,U] a soft baked mixture of milk, eggs, and sugar [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 custard, crustade type of pie (14—17 centuries)]

cus-to-di-an /kə'stɒdiən/ n. [C] someone who takes care of a public building or something valuable cus-to-dy /'kʌstədi/ n. [U] 1 the legal right to take care of a child: My ex-wife has custody of the kids. | The judge awarded us joint custody (=both parents will have custody) of the children. 2 in custody being kept in prison until going to court: Two robbery suspects are being held/kept in custody. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin custodia “guarding,” from custos “person who guards”] —custodial /kə'stɒdiəl/ adj.

cus-tom /'kʌstəm/ n. 1 [C,U] something that people in a particular society do because it is traditional: the custom of throwing rice at weddings | It's the custom for the bride's parents to pay for the wedding. | Chinese customs and culture

THESAURUS habit, tradition, practice, convention → HABIT

2 customs [plural] the place where your bags are checked for illegal goods when you go into a country: It took forever to go through customs. [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French custume, from Latin consuetudo, from consuescere “to make someone used to something”] cus·tom·ar·y /ˈkʌstəˌməri/ adj. usual or normal: It is customary for a local band to lead the parade.

—customarily /ˌkʌstəˈmerəli/ adv.

'custom-built adj. a custom-built car, machine, etc. is built specially for a particular person

cus·tom·er /ˈkʌstəmər/ n. [C] someone who buys things from a store or company: Dow is one of our biggest customers. | Foster was a regular customer at Brennan's Restaurant. | efforts to improve customer service

THESAURUS

client – someone who pays for a service: a business meeting with clients shopper – someone who goes to a store looking for things to buy: streets full of Christmas shoppers patron (formal) – someone who uses a particular store, restaurant, company, etc.: the patrons of the restaurant consumer – anyone who buys goods or uses services: the rights of consumers buyer – someone who buys something very expensive, such as a car or a house: first-time home buyers → STORE¹ cus·tom·ize /ˈkʌstəˌmaɪz/ v. [T] to change something to make it more appropriate for a particular person or purpose: a customized software package

'custom-made adj. a custom-made shirt, pair of shoes, etc. is made specially for a particular person cut¹ /kʌt/ v. (past tense and past participle cut, present participle cutting)

1 USE KNIFE/SCISSORS [I,T] to divide something into two or more pieces using a knife or scissors: Do you want me to cut the cake? | Abby, go cut Grandpa a piece of pie. | Cut the cheese into cubes. | He cut the tomato in half/two. | Cut along the dotted line.

THESAURUS

chop (up) – to cut meat, vegetables, or wood into pieces slice – to cut bread, meat, or vegetables into thin pieces dice – to cut vegetables or meat into small square pieces peel – to cut the outside part off an apple, potato, etc.
carve – to cut pieces from a large piece of meat shred – to cut vegetables into small thin pieces grate – to cut cheese, vegetables, etc. into small pieces using a grater

2 MAKE SHORTER [T] to make something shorter using a knife, scissors, etc.: We cut the grass once a week. | Did you get your hair cut?

THESAURUS

saw – to cut wood, using a saw (=a tool with a row of sharp points) chop down – to make a tree fall down by cutting it mow – to cut grass using a special machine: I need to mow the lawn.
trim – to cut off a small amount of something to make it look neater, for example hair or a bush snip – to cut something quickly, using scissors

3 REDUCE [T] to reduce the amount of something: You need to cut the amount of fat in your diet. | The company had to close several factories to cut costs. | The number of soldiers had to be cut in half.

THESAURUS reduce, lower, decrease, slash, roll back → REDUCE

4 INJURE [T] to injure yourself or someone else with a knife or something else that is sharp: He cut his finger on a piece of broken glass. | She fell and cut her head open.

5 cut sb free/loose to cut something such as a rope or metal in order to let someone escape: Firemen were carefully cutting the driver free from the wreckage.

6 MAKE A HOLE/MARK [T] to make a mark in the surface of something, open something, etc. using a sharp tool: She used a saw to cut a hole in the ice. | Strange letters had been cut into the stone.

7 GO A QUICK WAY [I] to go somewhere by a quicker and more direct way than usual: We cut through/across our neighbor's yard.

8 ON A COMPUTER [T] to remove writing, a picture, etc. from a computer document: Cut and paste the picture into a new file (=remove it and move it to another place).

9 REMOVE PARTS FROM A MOVIE, ETC. [T] to remove parts from a movie, book, speech, etc.: The original version was cut by more than 30 minutes.

10 cut corners to do something less well than you should, in order to save time, effort, or money: Parents are worried that the city is cutting corners in education.

11 cut class/school to deliberately not go to class or school

12 cut your losses to stop doing something that is failing so that you do not waste any more money, time, or effort: He decided to cut his losses and sell the business.

13 cut sth short to end something earlier than you had planned: His career was cut short by a back injury.

SPOKEN PHRASES

14 not cut it to not be good enough to do something: Barry's just not cutting it as a journalist.

15 cut it close to leave yourself just enough time or money to do something: He cut it pretty close, but he made it to the airport all right.

[ORIGIN: 1200—1300 From an unrecorded Old English cytan] → cut/give sb some slack at SLACK²

cut across sth phr. v.

if a problem or feeling cuts across different groups of people, they are all affected by it: Basketball's popularity cuts across racial lines.

cut sth ↔ back phr. v.

to reduce the amount, size, cost, etc. of something: Education spending cannot be cut back any further. | The company is attempting to cut back on expenses.

cut down phr. v.

1 to eat, drink, or use less of something, especially in order to improve your health: I've always smoked, but I'm trying to cut down. | I'm trying to cut down on the fat in my diet.

2 cut sth ↔ down to reduce the amount of something: Email cuts down the amount of paper passed between staff. | By getting the design right, you can cut down on accidents.

3 cut sth ↔ down to cut a tree so that the whole of it falls to the ground: Beautiful old oaks had been cut down to build houses.

cut in phr. v.

cut in front/cut in line to unfairly go in front of other people who are waiting to do something: Some idiot cut in front of me on the freeway and almost caused an accident.

cut off phr. v.

1 cut sth ↔ off to separate something by cutting it away from the main part: Cut the top off a large ripe pineapple. | His finger was cut off in the accident.

2 cut sth ↔ off to stop the supply of something: They're going to cut off our electricity if you don't pay that bill.

3 be/get cut off to be unable to finish talking to someone because something is wrong with the telephone connection

4 be cut off if a place is cut off, it is difficult or impossible to get to or leave: The ski resort was cut off by a heavy snowfall.

5 cut sb off to interrupt someone: He cut her off in mid-sentence.

cut out phr. v.

1 cut sth ↔ out to remove something by cutting it with a knife or scissors: The children cut star shapes out of colored paper.

2 cut it/that out! (spoken) used in order to tell someone to stop doing something that is annoying you: Cut that out, you two, or you'll go to your rooms.

3 not be cut out for sth/to be sth to not have the qualities that you need for a particular job or activity: I decided I wasn't really cut out to be a teacher.

cut sth ↔ up phr. v.

to cut something into smaller pieces: Cut up two carrots and three potatoes.

cut² n. [C] 1 a reduction in the size, number, or amount of something: a cut in government spending | tax/job/budget etc. cuts 2 a wound that you get if a sharp object cuts your skin: Luckily, I only got a few cuts and bruises.

THESAURUS injury, wound, bruise, contusion, laceration, scrape, sprain, bump, fracture → INJURY

3 a hole or mark in a surface made by something sharp: Make a cut in the paper. 4 [usually singular] (informal) a HAIRCUT 5 [usually singular] a share of something: Everyone's taking a cut of the profits. 6 a piece of meat that is cut so you can cook it: tender cuts of beef 7 be a cut above sb/sth to be better than someone or something else: The Yankees are clearly a cut above the rest of baseball.

cut and 'dried adj. a situation, decision, or result that is cut and dried cannot be changed cut-back /'kʌtbæk/ n. [C] a reduction in something, especially to save money: a number of cut-backs in funding for public libraries

cute /kyut/ adj. 1 attractive: What a cute little baby! | a cute skirt | Tim is so cute.

THESAURUS attractive, good-looking, nice-looking, pretty, beautiful, handsome, gorgeous, stunning, hot → ATTRACTIVE

2 smart in a way that can seem rude: Ignore him; he's just trying to be cute. —cutely adv.
—cuteness n. [U]

cu-ti-cle /'kyutɪkəl/ n. [C] the hard thin skin at the bottom of your FINGERNAILS cut-ler-y /'kʌtˈləri/ n. [U] knives, forks, and spoons [SYN] silverware cut-let /'kʌtˈlɪt/ n. [C] a small flat piece of meat: veal cutlets cut-off /'kʌtɔf/ n. 1 [C] a time or level at which something stops: The cutoff date for applying was June 3rd. 2 cutoffs [plural] a pair of SHORTS that you make by cutting off the bottom part of a pair of pants

'cut-rate also 'cut-price adj. cheaper than normal: cut-rate insurance cut-ter /'kʌtə/ n. [C] a tool that cuts things: wire cutters | a cookie cutter cut-throat /'kʌtˈθroʊt/ adj. a cutthroat activity or business involves people competing with each other in an unpleasant way: cutthroat competition cut-ting /'kʌtɪŋ/ adj. unkind and intended to upset someone: a cutting remark

'cutting board n. [C] a piece of wood or plastic that you cut food on when you are cooking

'cutting 'edge n. the cutting edge (of sth) the newest design or the most advanced way of doing something: artists on the cutting edge of computer animation —cutting-edge adj.: cutting-edge technology

cy-a-nide /'saɪəˌnaɪd/ n. [U] a very strong poison cy-ber-ca-fé /'saɪbəkæˌfeɪ/ n. [C] a CAFE where you can use computers connected to the Internet cy-ber-space /'saɪbəˌspeɪs/ n. [U] the imaginary place that electronic messages go through when they travel from one computer to another

cy-cle¹ /'saɪkəl/ [Ac] n. [C] a number of related events that happen again and again in the same order: the cycle of the seasons | the plant's life cycle | The company's poor profits were put down to a temporary downturn in the business cycle. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French, Late Latin cyclus, from Greek kyklos “circle, wheel, cycle”]

cycle² v. [I] 1 to ride a bicycle [SYN] bike: I cycled to the store. 2 to go through a series of related events again and again in the same order: Waste water is cycled through the machine and reused. —cyclist n. [C] cy-cli-cal /'saɪklɪkəl, 'sɪ-/ [Ac] also cy-clic /'saɪklɪk, 'sɪ-/ adj. happening again and again in a regular pattern: the cyclical nature of fashion —cyclically adv.

cy-cl-ing /'saɪklɪŋ/ n. [U] the sport or activity of riding a bicycle cy-clone /'sarkloun/ n. [C] a TORNADO cyl-in-der /'sɪləndə/ n. [C] 1 a shape, object, or container with circular ends and long straight sides → *see picture at SHAPE*¹

THESAURUS shape, square, circle, semicircle, triangle, rectangle, oval → *SHAPE*¹

2 the part of an engine that is shaped like a tube, where the PISTON moves up and down: a six-cylinder engine [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin cylindrus, from Greek, from kylindein “to roll”] cy-lin-dri-cal /səˈlɪndrɪkəl/ adj. in the shape of a cylinder

THESAURUS oval, circular, round, semicircular, triangular, rectangular → *SHAPE*¹

cym-bal /ˈsɪmbəl/ n. [C] a thin round metal plate that you hit to make a musical sound cyn-ic /ˈsɪnɪk/ n. [C] a cynical person [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin cynicus, from Greek kynikos “like a dog”] —cynicism /ˈsɪnəˌsɪzəm/ n. [U] cyn-i-cal /ˈsɪnɪkəl/ adj. unwilling to believe that people have good, honest, or sincere reasons for doing something: Since her divorce she's become very cynical about men. —cynically adv.

cy-pher /ˈsaɪfə/ n. [C] another spelling of CIPHER

Cy-ril-lic /səˈrɪlɪk/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS relating to the alphabet used for Russian, Bulgarian, and other Slavonic languages: Cyrillic writing cyst /sɪst/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a small LUMP containing liquid, that grows in your body or under your skin cy-to-plasm /ˈsaɪtəˌplæzəm/ n. [U] BIOLOGY all the material in the cell of a living thing except the NUCLEUS (=central part) cy-to-skel-e-ton /ˌsaɪtəʊˈskelətən/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a system of very thin connected tubes in the cytoplasm of a cell, that gives the cell its shape and structure czar /zɑː/ n. [C] 1 (informal) someone who is very powerful in a particular job or activity: the President's drug czar 2 HISTORY a male ruler of Russia before 1917 [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Russian tsar, from Gothic kaisar “emperor,” from Greek, from Latin Caesar, from Julius Caesar]

Dd

D, d /di/ 1 the fourth letter of the English alphabet 2 the number 500 in the system of ROMAN NUMERALS

D /di/ n. 1 [C] a grade that a teacher gives to a student's work to show that it is poor and just above the point of failing: I got a D on the history test. 2 [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the second note in the musical SCALE of C, or the musical KEY based on this note

d. the written abbreviation of DIED: d. 1937

-'d /d/ the short form of “would” or “had”: Ask her if she'd like to go with us. | If only I'd known you were there!

D.A. n. [C] LAW a DISTRICT ATTORNEY

dab¹ /dæb/ n. [C] a small amount of something: a dab of butter

dab² v. (dabbed, dabbing) 1 [I,T] to lightly touch something several times, usually with a cloth: Emily dabbed at her eyes with a handkerchief. 2 [T] to quickly put a small amount of a substance onto something: She dabbed some suntan lotion onto her cheeks.

D

dab-ble /'dæbəl/ v. [I] to do something or be involved in something in a way that is not very serious: He dabbles in art.

dachs-hund /'daksʃənt, -hʊnd/ n. [C] a small dog with short legs and a long body dac-tyl /'dæktəl/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a RHYTHM in poetry in which a STRESSED word or SYLLABLE is followed by two words or syllables that are not stressed, as in the word “poetry” dad /dæd/ also dad-dy /'dædi/ n. [C] (informal) father: I'm having dinner with my mom and dad. | Dad, can I borrow $20? → RELATIVE¹

daf-fo-dil /'dæfə,dɪl/ n. [C] a tall yellow flower that appears in early spring dag-ger /'dægə/ n. [C] a short pointed knife used as a weapon

dai-ly¹ /'derli/ adj. 1 happening, done, or produced every day: daily flights to Miami | a daily newspaper

THESAURUS regular, hourly, weekly, monthly, yearly, annual → REGULAR¹

2 relating to a single day: a daily rate of pay 3 daily life the ordinary things that you usually do daily² adv. every day: The zoo is open daily.

dain-ty /'deɪnti/ adj. small, pretty, and delicate: dainty white gloves dai-qui-ri /'daɪkəri, 'dæk-/ n. [C] a sweet alcoholic drink made with RUM and fruit juice dair-y¹ /'deri/ n. (plural dairies) [C] 1 a place on a farm, where milk is kept and butter and cheese are made 2 a company that sells milk and makes cheese, butter, etc.

dairy² adj. [only before noun] 1 made from milk: dairy products 2 relating to the production of milk: a dairy farm dai-sy /'deɪzi/ n. (plural daisies) [C] a white flower with a bright yellow center [ORIGIN: Old English dægeseage “day’s eye”] dal-ly /'dæli/ v. (dallied, dallies) [I] (old-fashioned) to move slowly or waste time: children dallying on their way to school

Dal-ma-tian, dalmatian /dæl'meɪʃən/ n. [C] a dog with white fur and small black or brown spots

dam¹ /dæm/ n. [C] a wall built across a river in order to stop the water and make a lake dam² v. (dammed, damming) [T] to build a dam across a river

dam-age¹ /'dæmɪdʒ/ n. [U] 1 physical harm that is done to something, so that it is broken or injured: Was there any damage to your car? | The earthquake caused/did serious damage. | brain damage 2 a bad effect on someone or something: The closure of the factory will cause severe damage to the local economy. 3 damages [plural] LAW money that a court orders someone to pay someone else for harming that person or his/her property: The court ordered her to pay $2,000 in damages. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French dam “damage,” from Latin damnum “damage, loss”]

damage² v. [T] 1 to physically harm someone or something: The storm damaged the tobacco crop. 2 to have a bad effect on someone or something: She didn't want to do anything that would damage her reputation. —damaging adj.

dame /deɪm/ n. [C] (old-fashioned) a woman damn /dæmd/ v. be damned to be punished by God after your death by being sent to HELL damn-ing /'dæmɪŋ/ adj. showing that someone has done something very bad or wrong: damning evidence damp /dæmp/ adj. slightly wet, usually in a cold and unpleasant way: The house was cold and damp. | a damp sponge | damp weather —dampness n. [U]

THESAURUS

humid – used to say that the weather, especially hot weather, is slightly wet and makes you uncomfortable: humid weather/climate | It's unbearably humid.

moist – used to say that something, especially food, is slightly wet, especially in a way that seems nice: The turkey was moist and tender. | moist cake clammy – wet, cold, and sticky in a way that is unpleasant: My mother's hand felt clammy.

damp-en /'dæmpən/ v. [T] 1 to make something slightly wet 2 to make something such as a feeling or activity less strong: The rainy weather didn't dampen our enthusiasm.

damp-er /'dæmpə/ n. put a damper on sth to stop something from being enjoyable: The sad news put a damper on our celebrations.

dam-sel /'dæmzəl/ n. damsel in distress (humorous) a young woman who needs help

dance¹ /dæns/ v. 1 [I] to move your body to match the style and speed of music: Would you like to dance? | Jack danced with his wife. | The children danced to the radio. 2 dance the waltz/tango etc. to do a particular type of dance —dancer n. [C] —dancing n. [U]: We go dancing every Friday night.

dance² n. 1 [C] an act of dancing: May I have this dance (=will you dance with me)? 2 [C] a particular set of movements that you perform with music: The only dance I know is the tango. 3 [C] a social event or party where you dance: a school dance

THESAURUS

ball – a large formal occasion where people dance prom – a formal dance party for high school students, usually held at the end of a school year formal – a dance at which you have to wear formal clothes

4 [U] the art or activity of dancing: dance lessons | modern dance dan-de-li-on /'dændə,laɪən/ n. [C] a small bright yellow wild flower [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French dent de lion “lion's tooth” (because of the shape of the leaves)]

dan-druff /'dændrʊf/ n. [U] small white pieces of dead skin from your head dan-dy /'dændi/ adj. (humorous) very good: This gadget makes a dandy present for a cook.

dan-ger /'deɪndʒə/ n. 1 [C,U] the possibility that someone or something will be harmed, or that something bad will happen: Is there any danger of infection? | The UN wants to move civilians who are in danger (=in a dangerous situation). | Margie is in danger of losing her job. | There is a danger that museums will attempt to entertain rather than educate.

THESAURUS

risk – the chance that something bad may happen: Smoking greatly increases the risk of lung cancer.
threat – the possibility that something bad will happen: At that time, there seemed to be a constant threat of nuclear war.
hazard – something that may be dangerous or cause accidents, problems, etc.: Lighting fires in the park is a safety hazard.
peril (formal) – danger of being harmed or killed: They prayed for the sailors in peril on the sea.

2 [C] something or someone that may harm you:

the dangers of scuba diving | He's a danger to the community. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French dangier, from Vulgar Latin dominiarium “power to do harm”]

dan-ger-ous /'deɪndʒərəs/ adj. 1 able or likely to harm you: a dangerous criminal | Cigarette smoking is dangerous to your health. | It's dangerous for women to walk alone at night. | Even tiny amounts of the gas are extremely/highly etc. dangerous. 2 likely to cause problems, or involving a lot of risk: The company is in a dangerous financial position. —dangerously adv.

dan-gle /'dæŋɡəl/ v. [I,T] to hang or swing loosely, or to make something do this: keys dangling from a chain da-nish /'deɪnɪʃ/ n. [C] a small sweet type of cake, often with fruit inside dank /dæŋk/ adj. wet and cold, in a way that does not feel nice dap-per /'dæpə/ adj. a dapper man is neatly dressed dare¹ /der/ v. 1 [T] to try to persuade someone to do something dangerous: I dare you to jump! 2 [I] to be brave enough to do something, used especially in negative sentences: Susan wouldn't dare tell the boss he was wrong. 3 don't you dare (spoken) said in order to warn someone not to do something because it makes you angry: Don't you dare be late! 4 how dare you/he etc. (spoken) said when you are very upset about what someone has said or done: How dare you lie to me!

dare² n. [C] something dangerous that you have dared someone to do: He swam across the river on a dare.

dare-dev-il /'der,devəl/ n. [C] someone who likes doing dangerous things —daredevil adj.

dar-ing¹ /'derɪŋ/ adj. 1 involving danger, or willing to do dangerous things: a daring escape

THESAURUS brave, courageous, heroic, valiant, bold, fearless, intrepid → BRAVE¹

2 new or unusual in a way that may shock some people: a daring movie daring² n. [U] courage that makes you willing to take risks

dark¹ /dark/ adj. 1 with very little or no light (ANT) light: a dark room | Turn on the light; it's dark in here. | We'd better go home; it's getting dark (=it is becoming night). | Suddenly the room went dark (=became dark). 2 closer to black than to white in color → LIGHT: a dark blue tie | dark hair 3 a dark person has black hair, brown skin, or brown eyes (ANT) fair: a small dark woman 4 threatening, mysterious, or frightening: a dark side to his character 5 unhappy or without hope: the dark days of the war [ORIGIN: Old English deorc]

dark² n. 1 the dark a situation in which there is no light: My son is afraid of the dark. 2 after/before dark at night or before night begins: Don't go out after dark. 3 in the dark (informal) not knowing about something important because no one has told you about it: Employees were kept in the dark about the possible layoffs.

dark-en /'dɑ:kən/ v. [I,T] to make something dark, or to become dark: The sky darkened before the storm. | a darkened room

dark 'horse n. [C] someone who is not well known and who surprises people by winning a competition dark-ly /'dɑ:kli/ adv. in a sad, angry, or threatening way: scientists speaking darkly about the future

dark-ness /'dɑ:kni:s/ n. [U] a place or time when there is no light: The whole room was in darkness. | We made it home just as darkness fell (=it became night).

dark-room /'dɑ:krum/ n. [C] a special room with a red light or no light, where film from a camera is made into photographs dar-ling /'dɑ:liŋ/ n. [C] (spoken) used when speaking to someone you love: Come here, darling.

darling ² adj. [only before noun] much loved: my darling child darn ¹ /dɑ:n/ v. 1 darn it! (spoken) said when you are annoyed about something: Darn it! I broke my shoelace. 2 [T] to repair a hole in clothes by sewing thread through it many times darn ² also darned adj., adv. (spoken) said in order to emphasize what you are saying: a darned good movie | The darn fool got lost.

darned /dɑ:nd/ adj. I'll be darned (spoken) said when you are surprised about something: You went to Rutgers too? Well, I'll be darned.

dart ¹ /dɑ:t/ n. 1 [C] a small pointed object that is thrown in a game of darts or used as a weapon 2 darts [U] a game in which you throw darts at a circular board: A couple of men were playing darts.

dart ² v. [I] to move suddenly and quickly in a particular direction: The dog darted into the street.

dash ¹ /dæʃ/ v. 1 [I] to go somewhere very quickly: She dashed into the room just before the boss arrived.

THESAURUS run, sprint, tear, race, bolt →

RUN ¹
rush, race, hurry, charge, speed, hasten → RUSH ¹

2 dash sb's hopes to ruin someone's hopes completely: Her hopes of running in the Olympics were dashed after the accident. 3 [T] to make something hit violently against something else: The ship was dashed against the rocks.

dash off phr. v. 1 dash sth ↔ off to write or draw something very quickly 2 to leave somewhere very quickly dash ² n. 1 make a dash for sth to run very quickly toward something: I made a dash for the house to get my umbrella. 2 [singular] a small amount of a liquid: a dash of lemon 3 [C] ENG.

LANG. ARTS a mark (–) used in writing to separate parts of a sentence 4 [C] dashboard dash-board /'dæʃbɔ:d/ n. [C] the board in front of the driver in a car, that has the controls on it [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 dash “to strike with small drops of liquid” (17–19 centuries) + board (because it was originally a board to stop mud getting into a vehicle)]

DAT /dæt/ n. [U] digital audio tape tape for recording music, sound, or information in DIGITAL form

da-ta /'deɪtə, 'dætə/ (Ac) n. [U, plural] 1 information or facts: He's collecting data for his report. | The team gathered data on voting patterns in each state. 2 IT information stored and used on a computer: This laptop can store as much data as many larger PCs. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 plural of datum “fact, piece of information” (17–21 centuries), from Latin, past participle of dare “to give”] da-ta-base /'deɪtə,bers/ n. [C] IT a large amount of data stored in a computer system

'data ,mining n. [U] IT the process of using a computer to find new patterns and relationships in large amounts of information kept on a computer

'data 'processing n. [U] IT the use of computers to store and organize information

date ¹ /deɪt/ n. [C] 1 a particular day of the month or of the year, shown by a number: “What's today's date?” “It's August 11th.” | Have you set a date (=chosen a day) for the wedding? | She refused to give her date of birth/birth date (=the day she was born). 2 an arrangement to meet someone, especially someone you like in a romantic way: Mike's going (out) on a date on Friday. | I have a date with Andrea tomorrow night. | Let's make a date (=arrange a time) to see that new movie. 3 someone you go on a date with: My date's taking me out to dinner. 4 to date up to now: This is the best research on the subject to date. 5 at a later date at some time in the future 6 a small sweet sticky brown fruit with a single long seed [ORIGIN: (1) 1200–1300 Old French, Greek daktylos “finger”] → OUT-OF-DATE, UP-TO-DATE

date ² v. 1 [I,T] to have a romantic relationship with someone: How long have you been dating Mona? 2 [T] to write the date on something: a letter dated May 1, 2007 3 [T] to find out the age of something that is very old: Scientists have not yet dated the human remains.

date from sth also date back to sth phr. v. to have existed since a particular time: Independence Hall dates from the 17th century.

dat-ed /'deɪtɪd/ adj. no longer fashionable: These shoes are really dated.

THESAURUS old-fashioned, outdated, out-of-date, outmoded, antiquated, obsolete → OLD-FASHIONED

'date rape n. [C,U] a RAPE that happens during a date

da-tive /'deɪtɪv/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a form of a noun, in languages such as Latin and German, that shows that the noun is the INDIRECT OBJECT of a verb → ACCUSATIVE daub /dɒb/ v. [T] to put paint or a soft substance on a surface in a careless way [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French dauber, from Latin dealbare “to make white, whitewash”] daugh-ter /'dɔːtə/ n. [C] someone's female child → SON: the daughter of a local farmer [ORIGIN: Old English dohtor]

'daughter-in-law n. (plural daughters-in-law) [C] the wife of your son daunt-ed /'daʊntɪd/ adj. [not before noun] feeling afraid or worried: Cooper is feeling daunted by his new responsibilities.

daunt-ing /'daʊntɪŋ/ adj. frightening or worrying: a daunting task

daw-dle /'dɔːdl/ v. [I] to take a long time to do something or go somewhere: Stop dawdling; we'll be late.

dawn¹ /dɔːn/ n. [C,U] 1 the time of day when light first appears: We talked until dawn. | I got up at dawn to milk the cows. | As dawn broke (=it started to get light), the fire was under control. | The boat left at the crack of dawn (=very early in the morning). 2 the dawn of sth the time when something began or first appeared: the dawn of civilization [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 daw “to dawn” (10–19 centuries), from Old English dagian; related to day]

dawn² v. [I] if a day or morning dawns, it begins: The morning dawned cool and clear.

dawn on sb phr. v. to realize something for the first time: It suddenly dawned on me that he was right.

day /deɪ/ n.

1 24 HOURS [C] a period of time equal to 24 hours → DAILY: I'll be back in ten days. | The letter arrived two days ago. | “What day is it today?” “Tuesday.” | The next/following day, Hayes was fired. | I got a phone call from Eve the other day (=a few days ago). | We're leaving for Arizona the day after tomorrow. | I saw Margo the day before yesterday. ▶ Don't say “We're leaving for Arizona after tomorrow” or “I saw Margo before yesterday.” ◀

2 MORNING UNTIL NIGHT [C,U] the period of time between when it becomes light in the morning and when it becomes dark in the evening (ANT) night: The days begin to get longer in the spring. | a beautiful summer day

3 WHEN YOU ARE AWAKE [C usually singular] the time during the day when you are usually awake: He started his day with a three-mile run. | It's been a long day (=a day when you had to get up early and were busy all day). | Jan's been studying all day (=for the whole day).

4 WORK [C] the hours you work in a day: I work an eight-hour day. | Did you have a good day at work? | I need a day off (=a day when you do not have to work).

5 PAST [C] used in order to talk about a time in the past: One day (=on a day in the past), the police came and took her away. | Things were different in my day (=when I was young). | I didn't like him from day one (=from the beginning). | Grandpa was telling stories about the good old days (=a time in the past when things seemed better than now).

6 NOW [C] used in order to talk about the situation that exists now: It's not safe to walk the streets these days (=now). | To this day (=until and including now), we haven't heard the whole story.

7 FUTURE [C] used in order to talk about a time in the future: We'll buy our dream home one/some day (=at some time in the future). | One of these days (=some time soon), he's going to end up in jail. | Kelly's expecting the baby any day now (=very soon).

8 make sb's day (informal) to make someone very happy: That card made my day.

9 has had its day to no longer be popular or successful: The old steam trains have had their day.

10 those were the days (spoken) used in order to say that a time in the past was better than the present time

11 day after day/day in day out used in order to emphasize that something bad or boring continues to happen: I drive the same route to work day in day out.

12 from day to day/from one day to the next if a situation changes from day to day or from one day to the next, it changes often: My job changes from day to day.

13 day by day slowly and gradually: She was getting stronger day by day.

14 sb's days (literary) the time when someone is alive: He began his days in a small town.

15 be working days/be on days to work during the day at a job you sometimes have to do at night [ORIGIN: Old English dæg] → DAILY¹, call it a day at CALL¹

GRAMMAR

Use on to talk about a particular day of the week: The class is on Monday.

Use this to talk about a day that is during the week that we are in now: Can we meet up this Thursday?

Use next to talk about a day in the week after this one: See you next Saturday.

Use last to talk about a day in the week before this one: She left last Friday.

day-break /'deɪbreɪk/ n. [U] the time of day when light first appears (SYN) dawn: We broke camp at daybreak.

'day camp n. [C] a place where children go during the day to do activities, sports, art, etc. on their summer vacation from school day-care /'deɪkɛr/ n. [U] care of young children, or of sick or old people, during the day: a daycare center | My youngest boy is in daycare.

day-dream /ˈdeɪdrɪm/ v. [I] to think about nice things so that you forget what you should be doing: Joan sat at her desk, daydreaming about Tom. —daydream n. [C] —daydreamer n. [C]

THESAURUS imagine, visualize, picture, fantasize, envision, envisage → IMAGINE

Day-Glo /ˈdeɪ glou/ adj. (trademark) having a very bright orange, green, yellow, or pink color

day-light /ˈdeɪlaɪt/ n. 1 [U] the light produced by the Sun during the day: The market is crowded during daylight hours. | She was attacked in broad daylight (=during the day when it is light). 2 scare/frighten the (living) daylights out of sb (informal) to frighten someone a lot 3 beat the (living) daylights out of sb (informal) to hit someone many times and hurt him/her badly daylight 'saving time also daylight 'savings n. [U] the time in the spring when clocks are set one hour ahead of standard time day-time /ˈdeɪtaɪm/ n. [U] the time between when it gets light in the morning and when it gets dark in the evening (ANT) nighttime: I've never been here in/during the daytime. | daytime talk shows

day-to-day adj. happening every day as a regular part of life: our day-to-day routine at work daze /deɪz/ n. in a daze unable to think clearly dazed /deɪzd/ adj. unable to think clearly, usually because you are shocked, have been hurt, etc.: dazed victims of the bombing daz-zle /ˈdæzəl/ v. [T] 1 if a very bright light dazzles you, you are unable to see for a short time 2 to make someone admire someone or something a lot: We were all dazzled by her charm.

daz-zling /ˈdæzliŋ/ adj. 1 very impressive, exciting, or interesting: a dazzling performance

THESAURUS impressive, imposing, awe-inspiring, breathtaking, majestic, magnificent → IMPRESSIVE

2 a dazzling light is so bright that you cannot see for a short time after you look at it

THESAURUS bright, strong, brilliant, glaring, blinding → BRIGHT

DC PHYSICS the abbreviation of DIRECT CURRENT

D.C. n. District of Columbia the area containing the city of Washington, the capital of the U.S.

DDT n. [U] a chemical used in order to kill insects that harm crops, which is now illegal

DE the written abbreviation of DELAWARE dea-con /ˈdɪkən/, dea-con-ess /ˈdɪkən,ɛs/ n. [C] a religious official in some Christian churches de-ac-ti-vate /diˈæktə,veɪt/ v. [T] to SWITCH a piece of equipment off, or to stop it from working dead¹ /dɛd/ adj.

1 NOT ALIVE no longer alive: Her mom's been dead for two years. | I think that plant is dead. | She found a dead body (=a dead person) in the woods.

USAGE

Dead is an adjective used to describe people or things that are no longer alive: a dead fish

Died is the past tense and past participle of the verb "to die," used to talk about how and when someone died: He died of a heart attack when he was only 58.

THESAURUS

lifeless (literary) – dead or seeming to be dead: dull, lifeless eyes

late/deceased (formal) – dead: her late husband | their recently deceased grandmother

2 NOT WORKING not working, especially because there is no power: Is the battery dead? | The phones went dead during the storm.

3 PLACE [not before noun] a place that is dead is boring because nothing interesting happens there: The bar is usually dead until around 10:00.

4 NOT USED no longer active or being used: He says the peace plan is dead. | a dead language

5 COMPLETE [only before noun] complete or exact: For about five minutes, there was dead silence. | Hit the dead center of the nail so it doesn't bend. | The train came to a dead stop.

6 TIRED [not before noun] (informal) very tired: I think I'll go to bed early; I'm absolutely dead.

7 PART OF BODY a part of your body that is dead has no feeling in it for a short time: I'd been sitting so long my legs went dead.

8 over my dead body (spoken) used when you are determined not to allow something to happen: You'll marry him over my dead body!

9 IN TROUBLE (spoken) also dead meat in serious trouble: If anything happens to the car, you're dead!

10 sb wouldn't be caught/seen dead in sth (spoken) used to say that someone would never wear particular clothes, go to particular places, or do particular things because s/he would feel embarrassed: I wouldn't be caught dead in a dress like that! [ORIGIN: Old English]

dead² adv. (informal) completely or exactly: Paula stopped dead when she saw us. | I'm dead tired. | You can't miss it; it's dead ahead.

dead³ n. 1 in the dead of winter/night in the middle of winter or in the middle of the night 2 the dead [plural] all the people who have died (ANT) the living dead-beat /ˈdedbi:t/ n. [C] someone who does not pay his/her debts dead-en /ˈdedn/ v. [T] to make a feeling or sound less strong: a drug to deaden the pain dead 'end n. [C] 1 a street with no way out at one end 2 a situation from which no progress is possible dead-line /ˈdɛdlaɪn/ n. [C] a time by which you must finish something: The deadline for applications is May 27th. | Can you meet the deadline?

dead-lock /ˈdɛdlɒk/ n. [C,U] a situation in which a disagreement cannot be settled: The UN is attempting to break the deadlock (=end it) in the region.

dead-ly /ˈdɛdli/ adj. very dangerous and likely to cause death: a deadly virus dead-pan /ˈdɛdpæn/ adj. sounding and looking completely serious when you are not: a deadpan sense of humor deaf /dɛf/ adj. 1 physically unable to hear, or unable to hear well → HEARING IMPAIRED: I'm deaf in my right ear. 2 the deaf [plural] people who are deaf 3 be deaf to sth unwilling to listen to something: The guards were deaf to the prisoners' complaints. 4 fall on deaf ears if something you say falls on deaf ears, everyone ignores it [ORIGIN: Old English] —deafness n. [U] deaf-en-ing /ˈdɛfənɪŋ/ adj. 1 noise or music that is deafening is very loud

THESAURUS loud, noisy, rowdy, thunderous, ear-splitting, shrill, raucous, resounding, sonorous → LOUD¹

2 deafening silence complete silence, used especially when this is uncomfortable or unusual —deafen v. [T]

deal¹ /dɪl/ n. 1 [C] an agreement or arrangement, especially in business or politics: She has just signed a new book deal with a different publisher. | Diaz tried to cut/make/strike a deal with the government. | You can get some good deals (=buy things at a good price) at the new travel agency. | "I'll give you $100 for your TV." "OK, it's a deal." 2 a great/good deal a large quantity of something: The new exhibit has gotten a good deal of attention. | He knows a great deal more (=a lot more) than I do about computers. 3 [C usually singular] the way someone is treated in a situation: This new law is a fair deal for the American taxpayer. | Women often get a raw deal (=unfair treatment) from their employers. 4 what's the deal? (spoken) used when you want to know what is happening in a situation: So what's the deal? Why is he so mad? 5 [singular] the process of giving out cards to players in a card game: It's your deal. → BIG DEAL

deal² v. (past tense and past participle dealt /dɛlt/) [I,T] 1 also deal out to give out playing cards to players in a game: It's my turn to deal. 2 to buy and sell illegal drugs: He was arrested for dealing heroin. 3 deal a blow (to sb/sth) to harm someone or something: The ban dealt a severe blow to local tourism.

deal in sth phr. v. to buy and sell a particular product: a business dealing in medical equipment deal with sb/sth phr. v. 1 to do what is necessary, especially in order to solve a problem: Who's dealing with the new account?

THESAURUS

handle – to deal with someone or something:

He's finding it hard to handle the pressure at work.

tackle – to try to deal with a difficult problem:

There are still a number of problems which we need to tackle.

cope – to succeed in dealing with a difficult problem or situation: Exercise can help people cope with stress.

attend to sb/sth – to give attention to someone or something: I have some business to attend to.

take care of sth – to do the work or make the arrangements that are necessary for something to happen: I'll take care of making the reservations.

2 to succeed in controlling your feelings and being patient in a difficult situation: I can't deal with any more crying children today. 3 to do business with someone: We've been dealing with their company for ten years. 4 to be about a particular subject: a book dealing with 20th-century art deal-er /ˈdɪlə/ n. [C] 1 someone who buys and sells a particular product: a car dealer 2 someone who buys and sells illegal drugs 3 someone who gives out the playing cards in a game deal-er-ship /ˈdɪləˌʃɪp/ n. [C] a business that sells a particular company's product, especially cars deal-ing /ˈdɪlɪŋ/ n. 1 [U] the buying and selling of things: penalties for drug dealing 2 dealings [plural] personal or business relations with someone: Have you had any dealings with IBM?

dealt /dɛlt/ v. the past tense and past participle of DEAL dean /dɪn/ n. [C] a university official with a high rank: the dean of admissions [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French deien, from Late Latin decanus "person in charge of ten others"]

'dean's list n. [C] a list of the best students at a university dear¹ /dɪr/ interjection said when you are surprised, annoyed, or upset: Oh dear! I forgot to phone Jill.

dear² n. [C] (spoken) used when speaking to someone you like or love: How was your day, dear?

dear³ adj. 1 used before a name at the beginning of a letter: Dear Sue, ... | Dear Dr. Ward, ... 2 much loved and very important to you: She's a dear friend.

dear-ly /ˈdɪrli/ adv. very much: Sam loved her dearly.

dearth /dɜːθ/ n. [singular] (formal) a lack of something: a dearth of original ideas

death /dɛθ/ n. 1 [C,U] the end of a person's or animal's life (ANT birth): Maretti lived in Miami until his death. | Heart disease is the number one cause of death in the U.S. | The number of deaths from AIDS is increasing. | He choked to death (=choked until he died) on a fish bone. | The horse was so badly injured it had to be put to death (=killed). 2 be bored/scared etc. to death

(informal) to be very bored, afraid, etc. 3 the death of sth the permanent end of something: the death of Communism → be sick (and tired) of/be sick to death of at SICK death-bed /'dɛθbɛd/ n. sb's deathbed the point in time when someone is dying and will be dead very soon: Marquez flew home to be with his mother, who was on her deathbed.

death knell /'dɛθ nɛl/ n. [singular] a sign that something will soon stop existing or stop being used: The new bridge will be the death knell for the ferry crossing.

D 'death penalty n. [singular] the legal punishment of being killed for a serious crime: Gilmore was given the death penalty for murder. → CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

'death row n. [U] the part of a prison where prisoners are kept before they are killed as a punishment: a murderer on death row

'death toll n. [C usually singular] the total number of people who die in an accident, war, etc.

'death trap n. [C] (informal) a vehicle, building, etc. that is in such bad condition that it might injure or kill someone de-bacle /dɛɪ'bækəl, -'bæ-/ n. [C] an event or situation that is a complete failure [SYN] fiasco [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 French débâcle, from débâcler “to remove a bar”] de-base /dɪ'beɪs/ v. [T] (formal) to make someone or something lose its value or people's respect —debasement n. [C,U] de-bat-a-ble /dɪ'beɪtəbəl/ [Ac] adj. an idea, fact, or decision that is debatable may be right but it could easily be wrong: It is debatable whether alternative medical treatments actually work.

de-bate¹ /dɪ'beɪt/ [Ac] n. [C,U] 1 a discussion or argument on a subject in which people express different opinions: a debate about/over/on equal pay | The drug has become the subject of a heated/fierce/intense debate within the medical profession. 2 a formal discussion of a subject in which people express different opinions, and sometimes vote: After much debate, the committee decided to raise the fees. | a debate on/about welfare reform [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French debatre, from batre “to hit”]

THESAURUS discussion, negotiations, talks, conference, dialogue → DISCUSSION

debate² v. 1 [I,T] to discuss a subject formally so that you can make a decision or solve a problem: The Senate is debating the future of health care. | We were debating which person to hire. | The impact of the reforms has been hotly debated by economists. 2 [T] to think about something carefully before making a decision: I was debating whether to go to work.

de-bauch /dɪ'boʊtʃ, -'batʃ/ v. [T] (formal) to make someone behave in an immoral way, especially with alcohol, drugs, or sex —debauched adj.

de-bauch-e-ry /dɪ'boʊtʃəri/ n. [U] immoral behavior involving drugs, alcohol, sex, etc.

de-bil-i-tat-ing /dɪ'bɪlə'teɪɪŋ/ adj. a debilitating disease or condition makes your body or mind weak: a debilitating illness —debility /dɪ'bɪlətɪ/ n. [C,U] deb-it¹ /'dɛbɪt/ n. [C] an amount of money that has been taken out of your bank account [ANT] credit debit² v. [T] to take money out of a bank account [ANT] credit: The payment has been debited from your account.

'debit card n. [C] a plastic card that you can use to buy goods or services. The money is taken directly from your bank account. → CREDIT CARD

deb-o-nair /,debə'nɛr/ adj. a man who is debonair is fashionable and confident [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French de bonne aire “of good family or nature”] de-brief /dɪ'brɪf/ v. [T] to officially ask someone such as a soldier to give a report of a job that s/he has just done —debriefing n. [C,U] de-bris /dɪ'bri/ n. [U] the pieces remaining from something that has been destroyed: The street was full of debris after the explosion.

debt /dɛt/ n. 1 [C,U] money that you owe to someone: Al can finally pay off his debts. | debts of $25 million | a company heavily in debt (=owing a lot of money) | He lost his job and fell/went/got into debt. 2 [singular] the degree to which you have been influenced by, or helped by, someone or something: Our organization owes a great debt of gratitude to Martha Graham. | She is forever in his debt (=thankful for something someone has done for her). [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French dette, from Latin debitum, from debere “to owe”] debt-or /'dɛtə/ n. [C] someone who owes money de-bug /dɪ'bʌg/ v. (debugged, debugging) [T] IT to take the mistakes out of a computer program de-bunk /dɪ'bʌŋk/ v. [T] to show that an idea or belief is false de-but /dɪ'byu, 'derbyu/ n. [C] the first time that a performer or sports player performs in public: her debut album | his Broadway debut | Foster made her debut in movies at a young age. [ORIGIN: 1700–1800 French début, from débuter “to begin,” from but “starting point”] —debut v. [I] dec-ade /'dekeɪd/ [Ac] n. [C] a period of ten years: The cost of health care has doubled in the last decade. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French décade, from Greek dekas, from deka “ten”] dec-a-dent /'dekədənt/ adj. having low moral standards and interested only in pleasure: a decadent lifestyle —decadence n. [U] de-caf /'dɪkæf/ n. [U] decaffeinated coffee de-caf-fein-at-ed /dɪ'kæfə'neɪtɪd/ adj. decaffeinated drinks have had the CAFFEINE removed: decaffeinated coffee

dec-a-gon /ˈdekəˌɡɒn/ n. [C] MATH a flat shape with ten straight sides and ten angles

THESAURUS polygon, pentagon, hexagon, heptagon, octagon, dodecagon → POLYGON de-cal /ˈdɪkəl/ n. [C] a piece of paper with a pattern or picture on it that you stick onto a surface de-cant-er /dɪˈkæntər/ n. [C] a container used for serving alcoholic drinks de-cap-i-tate /dɪˈkæpəˌteɪt/ v. [T] to cut off someone's head: a decapitated body —decapitation /dɪˈkæpəˌteɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

dec-ath-lon /dɪˈkæθlən, -lən/ n. [singular] a sports competition consisting of ten running, jumping, and throwing events → HEPTATHLON, PENTATHLON de-cay¹ /dɪˈkeɪ/ v. 1 [I,T] to be slowly destroyed by a natural chemical process, or to destroy something in this way: The dead animal started to decay. | Sugar decays teeth.

THESAURUS

rot – to decay by a gradual natural process, or to make something do this: Old food was rotting on the table.

decompose – to decay, or to make something decay: a decomposed body putrefy (formal) – to decay and smell very bad: The dead bodies had putrefied in the Sun.

2 [I] if buildings decay, they are slowly destroyed because no one takes care of them: the decaying downtown area [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Old North French decaïr, from Late Latin decadere “to fall, sink”]

decay² n. [U] the process, state, or result of decaying: tooth decay | The building has fallen into decay.

de-cay rate n. [C] PHYSICS the speed at which a RADIOACTIVE substance breaks apart and sends out ATOMIC PARTICLES or RADIATION de-ceased /dɪˈsiːst/ adj. (formal) 1 dead: Both my parents are deceased.

THESAURUS dead, lifeless, late → DEAD¹

2 the deceased someone who has recently died [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 decease “to die” (15–19 centuries), from French décès “death,” from Latin decedere “to leave, die”] de-ceit /dɪˈsit/ n. [U] behavior that is intended to make someone believe something that is not true: lies and deceit —deceitful adj.

de-ceive /dɪˈsɪv/ v. [T] 1 to make someone believe something that is not true: Owen tried to deceive the police. | Customers were deceived into paying more than they should have.

THESAURUS lie, make sth up, tell (sb) a lie, invent, mislead, perjure yourself/commit perjury, falsify → LIE²

2 deceive yourself to pretend to yourself that something is not true because you do not want to accept the truth [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French deceivre, from Latin decipere]

De-cem-ber /dɪˈsembər/ (written abbreviation Dec.) n. [C,U] the twelfth month of the year, between November and January: Franny's birthday is on December 6th. | We mailed the invitations in December. | Kevin was promoted last December. | We're going to Florida next December. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French, Latin, name of the tenth Roman month, from decem “ten”] de-cen-cy /ˈdisənsi/ n. [U] morally correct behavior: At least have the decency to call if you'll be late.

de-cent /ˈdisənt/ adj. 1 acceptable and good enough: a decent living | a decent job | a decent education 2 honest and good: Dr. Green was a decent man. 3 wearing enough clothes, so that you are not showing too much of your body: Don't come in – I'm not decent. —decently adv.

de-cen-tral-ize /diˈsentrəˌlaɪz/ v. [T] to change a government or organization so that decisions are made in local areas rather than in one place —decentralization /diˈsentrələˌzeɪʃən, -ˌdisən-/ n. [U]

de-cep-tion /dɪˈsɛpʃən/ n. [C,U] the act of deliberately making someone believe something that is not true: People were outraged when they learned of the deception.

de-cep-tive /dɪˈsɛptɪv/ adj. 1 something that is deceptive seems very different from how it really is: Clark has deceptive speed (=moves faster than you think or expect). 2 deliberately intended to make someone believe something that is not true: deceptive advertising —deceptively adv.

dec-i-bel /ˈdesəˌbəl, -bəl/ n. [C] PHYSICS a unit for measuring how loud a sound is [ORIGIN: 1900–2000 deci- + bel unit of sound power (20–21 centuries), from Alexander Graham Bell (1847–1922), U.S. inventor]

de-cide /dɪˈsaɪd/ v. 1 [I,T] to make a choice or judgment about something → DECISION: I've decided to stay home. | Jane decided against going (=decided not to go) to Washington on vacation. | Ted decided (that) the car would cost too much. | I can't decide whether/if I want fish or chicken.

THESAURUS

make up your mind – to decide something, especially after thinking about it for a long time: Henry made up his mind to go to college in the spring.

choose – to decide which of a number of things, possibilities, etc. you want: I let the kids choose their own clothes.

resolve – to make a definite decision to do something: She had resolved to work hard and not disappoint her parents.

determine (formal) – to officially decide what something shall be: Details of the plan have yet to be determined.

D

2 deciding factor a very strong reason for making a particular decision: Zimmer's testimony was the deciding factor in the case. 3 [T] to be the reason why something has a particular result: One punch decided the fight.

decide on sth phr. v. to choose one thing from many possible choices: Have you decided on a name for the baby?

de-cid-ed /drɪ'saɪdɪd/ adj. [only before noun] definite and easy to notice: The new color is a decided improvement. —decidedly adv.

de-cid-u-ous /drɪ'sɪdʒuəs/ adj. deciduous trees lose their leaves in winter → EVERGREEN [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin deciduus, from decidere “to fall off”]

dec-i-mal¹ /ˈdesəməl/ adj. a decimal system is based on the number ten [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Modern Latin decimalis, from Latin decem “ten”] decimal² n. [C] MATH a number less than one, that is shown by a mark (.) followed by the number of TENTHS, then the number of HUNDREDTHS, etc., for example 0.8 or 0.25 decimal 'point n. [C] MATH the mark (.) in a decimal dec-i-mate /ˈdesəmeɪt/ v. [T] to destroy a large part of something: a nation decimated by war de-ci-pher /drɪ'saɪfə-/ v. [T] to find the meaning of something that is difficult to read or understand: I can't decipher his handwriting.

de-ci-sion /drɪ'sɪʒən/ n. 1 [C] a choice or judgment that you make: We'll make a decision by Friday. | Gina's decision to go to college pleased her parents. | Do you expect to reach a decision soon? | Decisions about medical treatment should not be based on cost. 2 [U] the ability to make choices or judgments quickly: This job requires the ability to act with speed and decision.

de'cision-making n. [U] the process of deciding on something —decision-maker n. [C]

de-ci-sive /drɪ'saɪsɪv/ adj. 1 having an important effect on the result of something: a decisive moment in his career | The U.N. played a decisive role in peace-making. 2 good at making decisions quickly: a decisive leader 3 definite and clear: a decisive advantage —decisively adv.: The President was criticized for failing to act decisively.

deck¹ /dek/ n. [C] 1 a wooden floor built out from the back of a house, where you can sit outdoors 2 a set of playing cards: a deck of cards 3 a) the flat top part of a ship, that you can walk on: Let's go up on deck. b) one of the levels on a ship, airplane, or bus: the lower deck deck² v. [T] also deck sth ↔ out to decorate something with flowers, flags, etc.: The street was decked out with flags for the big parade.

deck sb ↔ out phr. v. to dress in fashionable clothes or to dress in a certain style of clothes for a special occasion: On her eighty-fifth birthday, Amy decked herself out in a cowgirl outfit and rode in the parade.

dec-la-ra-tion /ˈdeklə'reɪʃən/ n. [C,U] an official or important statement about something: a declaration of war

de-clare /drɪ'kleɪə/ v. [T] 1 to state officially and publicly that something is happening or that something is true: The bridge has been declared unsafe. | Jones was declared the winner. | The U.S. declared war on England in 1812. | The doctor declared that she was dead. 2 to say something in a clear firm way: Parson declared (that) he would never go back there. 3 to officially state the value of things that you have bought or own, or the amount of money you have earned, because you may have to pay taxes on them: You must declare your full income. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin declarare, from clarare “to make clear”] de-clen-sion /drɪ'klenʃən/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the set of forms that a noun, PRONOUN, or adjective can have depending on whether it is the SUBJECT, OBJECT, etc. of a sentence, in a language such as Latin or German de-cline¹ /drɪ'klaɪn/ (Ac) v. 1 [I] to decrease in quality, quantity, or importance: As his health has declined, so has his influence. | Car sales have declined.

THESAURUS decrease, go down, drop, fall, plummet, diminish, dwindle → DECREASE¹

2 [I,T] (formal) to say no to something, usually politely: We asked them to come, but they declined our invitation. | The senator declined to make a statement.

THESAURUS reject, refuse, turn down, say no → REJECT¹

decline² n. [C usually singular, U] a decrease in the quality, quantity, or importance of something: a decline in profits | During the last ten years, the construction industry has been in decline. | the decline of marriage in western society

de-code /di'kəʊd/ v. [T] to discover the meaning of a secret or complicated message de-com-pose /ˌdɪkəm'pəʊz/ v. [I,T] to decay, or to make something do this: a partially decomposed body —decomposition /ˌdɪkəmpəˈzɪʃən/ n. [U]

THESAURUS decay, rot, putrefy → DECAY¹

de-cor /ˈdeɪkər, deɪˈkər/ n. [C,U] the way that the inside of a building is decorated dec-o-rate /ˈdekəˌreɪt/ v. [T] 1 to make something look more attractive by adding pretty things to it: We decorated the Christmas tree with big red bows. 2 to give someone an official sign of honor, such as a MEDAL: soldiers decorated for bravery [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin decoratus, past participle of decorare “to decorate,” from decus “honor, decoration”] dec-o-ra-tion /ˌdekəˈreɪʃən/ n. 1 [C] something pretty that you add to something in order to make it look more attractive: the Christmas decorations around the house 2 [U] the style in which something is decorated 3 [C] an official sign of honor, such as a MEDAL, that is given to someone dec-o-ra-tive /ˌdekərətɪv/ adj. pretty and used as a decoration: a decorative pot dec-o-rous /ˈdekərəs, dɪˈkərəs/ adj. (formal) having the correct appearance or behavior for a particular occasion —decorously adv.

de-cor-um /dɪˈkɒrəm/ n. [U] (formal) behavior that is respectful and correct for a formal or serious situation de-coy /ˈdɪkɔɪ/ n. [C] a person or object that is used to trick a person or animal into going somewhere or doing something —decoy /dɪˈkɔɪ/ v. [T]

de-crease¹ /dɪˈkris, ˈdɪkris/ v. [I,T] to become less, or to make something do this (ANT) increase: The company's profits decreased in 2007. | the need to decrease costs | By 1881, the population had decreased to 5.2 million. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Anglo-French deceistre, from Latin decrescere, from crescere “to grow”]

THESAURUS

go down — to become lower or less in level, amount, size, quality, etc.: The income of ordinary workers has been going down.

drop — to decrease to a lower level or amount, or to make something do this: Sales have dropped 15% this year.

fall — to decrease to a lower level or amount: Temperatures fell below zero last night.

plummet — to suddenly and quickly become lower or less: The show's ratings have plummeted.

diminish — to become smaller or less important: Union membership diminished from 30,000 at its height to just 20 today.

decline — to decrease in quality, quantity, or importance: The company's earnings declined 17% last year.

dwindle — to gradually become fewer or smaller: Their lead had dwindled to only two points.

THESAURUS reduce, lower, cut, slash, roll back → REDUCE de-crease² /ˈdɪkris, dɪˈkris/ n. [C,U] the process of reducing something, or the amount by which it is reduced (ANT) increase: a decrease in sales de-cree /dɪˈkri/ n. [C] an official order or decision —decree v. [T] de-crep-it /dɪˈkreɪt/ adj. old and in bad condition [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin decrepitus, from crepare “to make a high cracking sound”] de-crim-i-nal-ize /dɪˈkrɪmənəˌlaɪz/ v. [T] to state officially that something is no longer illegal —decriminalization /dɪˌkrɪmɪnələˈzeɪʃən/ n. [U] de-cry /dɪˈkraɪ/ v. (decried, decries) [T] (formal) to state publicly that you do not approve of something: The candidate has decried the use of negative campaign ads.

ded-i-cate /ˈdedəˌkeɪt/ v. [T] 1 to say that a book, movie, song, etc. has been written, made, or sung in honor of someone: The book is dedicated to his mother. 2 dedicate yourself/your life to (doing) sth to give all your attention and effort to one thing: I've dedicated my life to my work. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin dedicare, from dicare “to say publicly”] ded-i-cat-ed /ˈdedəˌkeɪtɪd/ adj. working very hard at something because you think it is important: a dedicated teacher

ded-i-ca-tion /ˌdedəˈkeɪʃən/ n. 1 [U] hard work or effort that you put into a particular activity because you think it is important: He shows great dedication to his work. 2 [C] the act or ceremony of dedicating something to someone 3 [C] the words used in dedicating a book, movie, song, etc. to someone de-duce /dɪˈdus/ (Ac) v. [T] (formal) to make a judgment based on the information that you have: From his observations, Darwin deduced that animals adapt to their environment. | The time of death can be deduced from the temperature of the body. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin deducere “to lead out,” from ducere “to lead”] de-duct /dɪˈdʌkt/ v. [T] to take away an amount from a total: Taxes are deducted from your pay.

de-duct-i-ble¹ /dɪˈdʌktəbəl/ n. [C] the part of a bill you must pay before the insurance company will pay the rest deductible² adj. ECONOMICS an amount of money that is deductible can be taken away from the total money you must pay taxes on: The money you give to a charity is tax deductible.

de-duc-tion /dɪˈdʌkʃən/ (Ac) n. [C,U] 1 the process of taking away an amount from a total, or the amount that is taken away: I earn about $2,000 a month, after deductions. 2 the process of making a judgment about something, based on the information that you have: a game that teaches logic and deduction de,ductive 'reasoning n. [U] 1 the process of forming a scientific judgment about something, based on existing facts 2 MATH a process of proving a mathematical statement or solving a mathematical problem using an existing mathematical principle or facts that develop from one to the next in a reasonable or correct way deed /did/ n. [C] 1 (literary) an action: good deeds 2 LAW an official paper that is a record of an agreement, especially one that says who owns property deem /dim/ v. [T] (formal) to say that something has a particular quality (SYN) consider: The judge deemed the question inappropriate.

D

D deep¹ /dip/ adj.

1 GO FAR DOWN going far down from the top or from the surface (ANT) shallow → DEPTH: The path was covered in deep snow. | The water's about 10 feet/6 inches etc. deep. → see picture at SHALLOW

2 GO FAR IN going far in from the outside or from the front: Terry had a deep cut in his forehead. | a shelf 3 feet long and 8 inches deep

3 FEELING/BELIEF a deep feeling or belief is very strong and sincere: deep feelings of hatred

4 SOUND a deep sound is very low: a deep voice

5 COLOR a deep color is dark and strong (ANT) light, pale: a plant with deep green leaves

6 SERIOUS serious and often difficult to understand: a deep conversation about the meaning of life

7 deep sleep if someone is in a deep sleep, it is difficult to wake him/her

8 a deep breath a deep breath is one in which you breathe a lot of air in, especially because you are upset or nervous: I took a deep breath and jumped into the water.

9 be in deep trouble (informal) to be in serious trouble or in an extremely difficult situation: Many smaller companies are in deep trouble.

10 deep in thought/conversation etc. thinking so hard or talking so much that you do not notice anything else: Martin sat at his desk, deep in thought. [ORIGIN: Old English deop] deep² adv. 1 far into something: He stepped deep into the mud. 2 deep down a) if you feel or know something deep down, that is what you really feel or know even though you may not admit it: Deep down, I knew she was right. b) if someone is good, evil, etc. deep down, that is what s/he is really like even though s/he usually hides it: He seems mean, but deep down he's really nice. 3 two/three etc. deep in two, three, etc. rows or layers deep-en /'dipən/ v. [I,T] to make something deeper, or to become deeper deep 'freeze n. [C] a FREEZER deep fried adj. cooked in a lot of hot oil —deep fry v. [T] deep-ly /'dipli/ adv. 1 extremely or very much: Wood is a deeply religious man. | They knew Frank was deeply involved in criminal activities. 2 a long way into something: We started sinking even more deeply into the mud. 3 breathe deeply to take a large breath of air into your lungs and then let all the air out again deep-'seated also deep-'rooted adj. a deep-seated feeling or idea is strong and very difficult to change deer /dɪr/ n. (plural deer) [C] a large wild animal that lives in forests. The male has long horns that look like tree branches. [ORIGIN: Old English deor "animal"] de-face /di'feɪs/ v. [T] (formal) to damage the appearance of something, especially by writing or making marks on it: walls defaced by graffiti de fac-to /di 'fæktu, di-/ adj. LAW actually existing or happening without being approved of legally or officially → DE JURE: Iverson is their de facto leader.

def-a-ma-tion /,defə'meɪʃən/ n. [U] LAW writing or saying something that makes people have a bad opinion of someone or something de-fame /di'feɪm/ v. [T] (formal) to write or say something that makes people have a bad opinion of someone or something: She sued him for defaming her character. —defamatory /di'fæmə'tɔəri/ adj.

de-fault¹ /di'fɔlt/ v. [I] to not do something that you are legally supposed to: He defaulted on his loan payments.

default² n. 1 [U] failure to do something that you are supposed to do: We won the first game by default (=because the other team failed to arrive). | The loan is in default (=it has not been paid back on time). 2 [C usually singular] IT the standard way in which things are arranged on a computer screen or in a program unless you change them

de-feat¹ /di'fi:t/ n. 1 [C,U] failure to win or succeed: Miami's first defeat | an embarrassing defeat | He'll never admit defeat (=admit that he has failed). 2 [singular] victory over someone or something: the defeat of the President's tax plan

defeat² v. [T] 1 to win a victory over someone: Davis easily defeated his opponent in the election.

THESAURUS beat, trounce, clobber, cream, vanquish, overcome, conquer → BEAT¹

2 to make something fail: The plan was defeated by a lack of money.

def-e-cate /'defə,keɪt/ v. [I] (formal) to get rid of waste matter from your BOWELS —defecation /,defə'keɪʃən/ n. [U]

de-fect¹ /'difekt, di'fekt/ n. [C] a fault or a lack of something that makes something not perfect: The cars are tested for defects before being sold. | a birth defect (=a physical problem that a baby was born with) [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old French, Latin defectus "lack"]

THESAURUS problem — a bad or difficult situation that needs to be dealt with: There's a problem with the brakes.

flaw – a mark or weakness that makes something not perfect: a flaw in its construction bug – a defect in a computer program: The program had some minor bugs.
fault – something that is wrong with a machine, design, etc., which prevents it from working correctly: a fault in the power unit imperfection (formal) – a mark or weakness that makes something not perfect: The glasses are then inspected for any imperfections.

de-fect² /dɪ'fɛkt/ v. [I] to leave your own country or a group and join or go to an opposing one: a Cuban baseball player who defected to the United States —defector n. [C] —defection /dɪ'fɛkʃən/ n. [C,U] de-fec-tive /dɪ'fɛktɪv/ adj. not made correctly or not working correctly: defective products

de-fend /dɪ'fend/ v. 1 [T] to protect someone or something from being attacked → DEFENSE: You should learn to defend yourself. | Soldiers defended the fort from attack. 2 [T] to use arguments to protect something or someone from criticism: The mayor defended his plan to raise taxes. | He had to defend himself against their charges. 3 [I,T] to try to prevent your opponents from getting points in a sports game 4 [T] to be a lawyer for someone who is said to be guilty of a crime [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French defendre, from Latin defendere, from fendere “to hit”] —defender n. [C] —defensible /dɪ'fɛnsəbəl/ adj.

de-fend-ant /dɪ'fendənt/ n. [C] LAW the person in a court of law who has been ACCUSED of doing something illegal → PLAINTIFF de-fense¹ /dɪ'fɛns/ n. 1 [U] the act of protecting someone or something from attack or criticism: Senator Stevens spoke in defense of a bill to make handguns illegal. 2 [U] the weapons, people, systems, etc. that a country uses to protect itself from attack: the Department of Defense | Defense spending (=money spent on weapons, etc.) has increased. 3 [C] something that is used for protection against something else: Vitamin C is my defense against colds. 4 a) [C,U] LAW the things that are said in a court of law to prove that someone is not guilty of a crime: His defense is that he didn't remember the incident. b) the defense LAW the people in a court of law who are trying to show that someone is not guilty of a crime → PROSECUTION: Are the defense ready to call the first witness?

de-fense² /'dɪfɛns/ n. [U] the players on a sports team whose job is to try to prevent the other team from scoring points → OFFENSE de-fense-less /dɪ'fɛnsləs/ adj. unable to protect yourself from being hurt or criticized: a defenseless old woman

de'fense ,mechanism n. [C] 1 a process in your brain that makes you forget things that are painful to think about 2 a reaction in your body that protects you from an illness or danger de-fen-sive¹ /dɪ'fɛnsɪv/ adj. 1 used or intended for protection against attack → OFFENSIVE: defensive weapons 2 behaving in a way that shows you think someone is criticizing you even if s/he is not: She got really defensive when I asked her why she was late. 3 relating to stopping the other team from getting points in a game → OFFENSIVE: a defensive play —defensively adv. —defensiveness n. [U] defensive² n. on the defensive protecting yourself because someone is criticizing you: Her boss's comment put her on the defensive.

de-fer /dɪ'fə/ v. (deferred, deferring) [T] (formal) to delay something until a later date: His military service was deferred until he finished college.

THESAURUS delay, postpone, put off, procrastinate → DELAY¹ defer to sb/sth phr. v. (formal) to accept someone's opinion or decision because you have respect for that person or because s/he has power over you: I usually defer to my wife when it comes to shopping.

def-er-ence /'dɛfərəns/ n. [U] (formal) polite behavior that shows that you respect someone and are willing to accept what s/he says or believes: In deference to local custom, we covered our heads. —deferential /,dɛfə'renʃəl/ adj. —deferentially adv.

de-fer-ment /dɪ'fəmənt/ n. [C,U] an occasion when you delay doing something that you have been officially ordered to do, such as join the army or pay back a debt, or the act of officially allowing someone to delay doing something: College students were given draft deferments.

de-fi-ant /dɪ'faɪənt/ adj. refusing to do what someone tells you to do because you do not respect him/her —defiance n. [U] —defiantly adv.

de-fi-cien-cy /dɪ'fɪjənsi/ n. (plural deficiencies) [C,U] 1 a lack of something that is needed: a vitamin deficiency 2 a weakness or fault in something: The computer system has serious deficiencies.

de-fi-cient /dɪ'fɪjənt/ adj. 1 not having or containing enough of something: food deficient in iron 2 not good enough

def-i-cit /'dɛfəsɪt/ n. 1 [C] the difference between the amount of something that you have and the higher amount that you need: The Celtics had a 22-point deficit at halftime. 2 [C,U] ECONOMICS the difference between the amount of money that a government spends and the amount that it takes in from taxes and other activities: The objectives are to control the budget deficit and reduce inflation. | The balance of payments was in deficit.

de-file /dɪ'faɪl/ v. [T] (formal) to make something less pure, good, or holy: graves defiled by Nazi symbols de-fine /dɪ'faɪn/ [Ac] v. [T] 1 to explain the exact meaning of a particular word or idea → DEFINITION: Please define what you mean by “democracy.” | A lie is defined as saying something in order to deceive someone. 2 to describe something correctly and show what qualities it has that make it different from other things: Teachers need to give students rules that are clearly defined. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French definire, from Latin definire, from finire “to limit, end”] —definable adj.

D

def-i-nite /ˈdefənit/ [Ac] adj. 1 certain and not likely to change: I'll give you a definite answer by tomorrow. | Will the FBI be able to come to a definite conclusion about the cause of the explosion? 2 clear and noticeable: The team has shown definite improvement in the last few games. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin definitus, past participle of definire “to limit, end”] definite 'article n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the word “the” in English, or a word in another language that is like “the” → ARTICLE

def-i-nite-ly /ˈdefəntli/ [Ac] adv. without any doubt: That was definitely the best movie I've seen all year. | “Are you going to be there tomorrow?” “Definitely.” | It's definitely not the right time to tell her. | After seeing the statistics, we can definitely say that pollution has increased.

def-i-ni-tion /ˌdefəˈniʃən/ [Ac] n. 1 [C] a phrase or sentence that says exactly what a word, phrase, or idea means: What's the definition of “defamation?” | *a dictionary definition 2 [U] the clear edges, shapes, or sound that something has: The photograph lacks definition. | *a high definition television 3 by definition if something has a particular quality by definition, it must have that quality because all things of that type have it: A carcinogenic substance (=one that can cause cancer) is, by definition, hazardous to humans.

de-fin-i-tive /dɪˈfɪnətɪv/ [Ac] adj. [only before noun] 1 the definitive book, description, etc. is considered to be the best of its type and cannot be improved: the definitive biography of Charlie Chaplin 2 a definitive statement, answer, etc. cannot be doubted or changed: The group has taken a definitive stand against pornography. —definitively adv.

de-flate /dɪˈfleɪt, di-/ v. 1 [I,T] if a tire, ball, etc. deflates, or if you deflate it, it becomes smaller because the air or gas inside it comes out [ANT] inflate 2 [T] to make someone feel less important or confident 3 [T] ECONOMICS to change the economic rules or conditions in a country so that prices become lower or stop rising —deflation /dɪˈfleɪʃən/ n. [U] de-flect /dɪˈflekt/ v. 1 [I,T] to hit something that is already moving and make it move in a different direction: The ball was deflected into the crowd. 2 deflect attention/criticism/anger etc. to stop people from noticing something, criticizing it, etc.: attempts to deflect attention away from his private life —deflection /dɪˈflekʃən/ n. [C,U] de-for-es-ta-tion /diˌfɔːsˈteɪʃən/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES the cutting or burning down of all the trees in an area: After years of deforestation, the area lost a lot of its natural wildlife. → ENVIRONMENT de-formed /dɪˈfɔːmd/ adj. something that is deformed has the wrong shape, especially because it has grown or developed wrongly: *a deformed foot —deform v. [T] —deformation /ˌdɪfɔːrˈmeɪʃən/ n. [C,U] de-form-i-ty /dɪˈfɔːməti/ n. (plural deformities) [C,U] a condition in which part of someone's body is not the normal shape de-fraud /dɪˈfrɔːd/ v. [T] to trick a person or organization in order to get money from him, her, or it: He defrauded his clients of over $5 million.

de-frost /dɪˈfrɔːst/ v. 1 [I,T] if frozen food defrosts, or if you defrost it, it gets warmer until it is not frozen anymore 2 [I,T] if a FREEZER or REFRIGERATOR defrosts, or if you defrost it, it is turned off so that the ice inside it melts 3 [T] to remove ice from the windows of a car by blowing warm air onto them deft /deft/ adj. quick and skillful: *a deft catch —deftly adv.

THESAURUS skillful, expert, accomplished, talented, gifted, adept, cunning → SKILLFUL de-funct /dɪˈfʌŋkt/ adj. no longer existing or useful de-fuse /diˈfyuz/ v. [T] 1 to remove or disconnect part of a bomb so that the bomb does not explode 2 to improve a difficult situation by making someone less angry: Tim tried to defuse the tension/situation.

de-fy /dɪˈfaɪ/ v. (defied, defies) [T] 1 to refuse to obey someone or something: He defied his father's wishes and joined the army.

THESAURUS disobey, break a rule/law, rebel, flout, violate, infringe, contravene → DISOBEY

2 defy description/explanation/imagination etc. to be almost impossible to describe, explain, understand, etc.: Her outfit defied description.

de-gen-er-ate /dɪˈdʒenəˌreɪt/ v. [I] to become worse: The party degenerated into a drunken fight. —degeneration /dɪˌdʒenəˈreɪʃən/ n. [U] de-gen-e-rate /dɪˌdʒenəˈreɪt/ adj. 1 worse than before in quality 2 having very low moral standards —degenerate n. [C] de-gen-er-a-tive /dɪˌdʒenəˈreɪtɪv/ adj. BIOLOGY a degenerative illness gradually gets worse and cannot be stopped de-grade /dɪˈgreɪd, di-/ v. [T] 1 to treat someone without respect and make him/her lose respect for himself or herself: Pornography degrades women. 2 (formal) to make a situation or condition worse: The proposed law could degrade safety standards. —degradation /ˌdeɡrəˈdeɪʃən/ n. [U] de-grad-ing /dɪ'greɪdɪŋ/ adj. showing no respect for someone, or making him/her feel very ashamed: It was degrading to have to ask strangers for money.

de-gree /dɪ'gri/ n. 1 [C] a unit for measuring temperature: It got up to 86 degrees today. 2 [C] a unit for measuring the size of an angle: The plane was climbing at an angle of 20 degrees. 3 [C,U] the level or amount of something: students with different degrees of ability | To what degree is his smoking contributing to his health problems? 4 [C] something that you get from a college or university, which officially shows that you have successfully completed a program of study: a law degree | Ryan has a degree in chemistry. | You need a college degree for most of these jobs. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French degré, from Latin gradus “step, grade”]

degree of a 'monomial // n. [C] MATH the number you get when you add together the EXPONENTS of the TERM in a MONOMIAL degree of a 'polynomial // n. [C] MATH the number you get when you add together the EXPONENTS of the TERM that is multiplied by itself the most in a POLYNOMIAL degree of a 'term n. [C] MATH the number you get when you add together the EXPONENTS of one of the TERMS in an EQUATION

de-hy-drated /di'hɑɪ'dreɪtɪd/ adj. people or things that are dehydrated do not have enough water inside them: dehydrated potatoes | Be careful you don't get dehydrated outside in this heat. —dehydration /,di'hɑɪ'dreɪʃən/ n. [U]: Several runners were suffering from dehydration.

deign /deɪn/ v. deign to do sth (humorous) to agree to do something that you think you are too important to do: She finally deigned to join us for lunch.

de-i-ty /'diəti, 'deɪ-/ n. (plural deities) [C] a god or GODDESS

THESAURUS god, divinity, idol → GOD

dé-jà vu /,deɪʒə 'vu/ n. [U] the feeling that what is happening now has happened before in exactly the same way de-ject-ed /dɪ'dʒɛktɪd/ adj. sad and disappointed: The players looked dejected after the game. —dejectedly adv. —dejection /dɪ'dʒɛkʃən/ n. [U] de jure /di 'dʒʊreɪ/ adj. LAW true or right because of a law → DE FACTO de-lay /dɪ'leɪ/ v. 1 [I,T] to wait until a later time to do something: We cannot delay any longer. | We've decided to delay the trip until next month.

THESAURUS

postpone – to change an event to a later time or date: The meeting was postponed.
put off – to delay something, or delay doing something, especially something that you do not want to do: Regular checkups are important – don't put off visits to the dentist!

procrastinate – to delay doing something that you ought to do: A lot of people procrastinate when it comes to doing paperwork.

defer (formal) – to delay something until a later date: Tell the builder what the problem is, and defer payment until it is corrected.

2 [T] to make someone or something late: Our flight was delayed by bad weather. —delayed adj.

delay² n. (plural delays) [C,U] a situation in which someone or something is made to wait, or the length of the waiting time: Delays of two hours or more are common. | There are severe delays on Route 95. | The President urged Congress to pass the bill without delay.

de-lec-ta-ble /dɪ'lektəbəl/ adj. (formal) very good to taste or smell del-e-gate¹ /'dɛləɡɪt/ n. [C] someone who is chosen to speak, vote, and make decisions for a group: Delegates from 50 colleges met to discuss the issue. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Medieval Latin delegatus, from Latin legare “to send as a representative”] del-e-gate² /'dɛləɡeɪt/ v. [I,T] to give part of your work, or something you are responsible for doing, to someone who is in a lower position than you in your organization: Smaller jobs should be delegated to your assistant.

delegated 'powers n. [plural] POLITICS powers given to the U.S. government under the CONSTITUTION. They include the EXPRESSED POWERS, the IMPLIED POWERS, and the INHERENT POWERS.

del-e-ga-tion /,dɛlə'geɪʃən/ n. 1 [C] a group of people who represent a company, organization, etc.: A UN delegation was sent to the peace talks. 2 [U] the process of giving power to someone else and making that person responsible for some of your work: the delegation of authority de-lete /dɪ'li:t/ v. [T] 1 to remove a letter, word, etc. from a piece of writing 2 IT to remove a document, FILE, etc. stored on a computer: The data has been deleted from the file. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin deletus, past participle of delere “to destroy”] —deletion /dɪ'liʃən/ n. [C,U] del-e-te-ri-ous /,dɛlə'tɪriəs/ adj. (formal) damaging or harmful: the deleterious effects of smoking del-i /'dɛli/ n. [C] a small store that sells cheese, cooked meat, bread, etc.

de-lib-er-ate¹ /dɪ'libɪrɪt, -bəɪt/ adj. 1 intended or planned: I'm sure her story was a deliberate attempt to confuse us. 2 deliberate speech, thought, or movement is slow and careful [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin deliberatus, past participle of deliberare “to weigh in the mind,” from libra “balance”] de-lib-e-rate² /dɪ'libə'reɪt/ v. [I,T] to think about something very carefully: The jury deliberated for three days before finding him guilty.

de-lib-er-ate-ly /dɪˈlɪbrɪtˈli/ adv. done in a way that is intended: Someone had set the fire deliberately.

THESAURUS

on purpose (especially spoken) – deliberately, especially in order to annoy someone or get an advantage for yourself: He told the teacher I'd pushed him on purpose.

intentionally – deliberately, especially in order to have a particular result or effect: Very few teenagers become pregnant intentionally.

purposely – deliberately, in order to achieve a particular aim: Some day-care centers are purposely built near senior centers, so that old and young people can interact.

D

de-lib-er-a-tion /dɪˈlɪbrəˈreɪʃən/ n. [C,U] careful thought or discussion about a problem: The committee will finish its deliberations today.

del-i-ca-cy /ˈdɛlɪkəsi/ n. (plural delicacies) 1 [C] something good to eat that is expensive or rare: The red sea urchins, a delicacy in Japan, are caught off the coast of California. 2 [U] a careful way of speaking or behaving so that you do not upset anyone: We need to handle this business with great delicacy. 3 [U] the quality of being easy to harm or damage: the delicacy of the clock's machinery del-i-cate /ˈdɛlɪkɪt/ adj. 1 easily damaged or broken: a delicate porcelain cup 2 needing to be done very carefully in order to avoid causing problems: delicate surgery 3 a part of the body that is delicate is attractive, thin, and graceful: long delicate fingers —delicately adv.

del-i-ca-tes-sen /ˌdɛlɪkəˈtɛsən/ n. [C] a DELI de-li-cious /dɪˈlɪʃəs/ adj. having a very enjoyable taste or smell: a delicious meal | The soup smelled/tasted delicious. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French, Latin delicere “to attract”]

THESAURUS

sweet, tasty, sour, salty, hot, spicy → TASTE¹ de-light¹ /dɪˈlaɪt/ n. 1 [U] a feeling of great pleasure and satisfaction: Krystal laughed with delight. 2 [C] something that makes you feel very happy or satisfied: the delights of traveling [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French delit, from Latin delectare “to please greatly”] delight² v. [T] to give someone a feeling of great pleasure and satisfaction: This movie classic will delight the whole family.

delight in sth phr. v. to enjoy something very much, especially something that annoys someone else: little boys who delight in scaring people

de-light-ed /dɪˈlaɪtɪd/ adj. very happy or pleased: We were delighted to hear their good news. | They were delighted with the results of the recent election.

THESAURUS

happy, glad, pleased, content, thrilled, overjoyed, ecstatic, jubilant, elated → HAPPY de-light-ful /dɪˈlaɪtˈfʊl/ adj. very nice, pleasant, and enjoyable: a delightful story for younger children —delightfully adv.

de-lin-e-ate /dɪˈlɪni,eɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to make something very clear by describing it or drawing it in great detail de-lin-quen-cy /dɪˈlɪŋkwənsi/ n. [U] illegal or socially unacceptable behavior, especially by young people: the problem of juvenile delinquency (=crime done by young people)

de-lin-quent /dɪˈlɪŋkwənt/ adj. 1 late in paying the money you owe: delinquent loans 2 behaving in a way that is illegal or that society does not approve of → JUVENILE DELINQUENT —delinquent n. [C] de-lir-i-ous /dɪˈlɪriəs/ adj. 1 confused, anxious, and excited because you are very sick 2 extremely happy and excited: Her parents were delirious with joy to see her again. —delirium /dɪˈlɪriəm/ n. [C,U]

de-liv-er /dɪˈlɪvə/ v. 1 [I,T] to take a letter, package, goods, etc. to a particular place or person: I delivered newspapers when I was a kid. | I'm having some furniture delivered to the apartment. 2 [T] to make a speech to a lot of people: Rev. Whitman delivered a powerful sermon. 3 [I,T] to do the things that you have promised: Voters are angry that politicians haven't delivered on their promises. 4 deliver a baby to give birth to a baby, or to help a woman give birth to a baby 5 [T] to get votes or support from a particular group of people: We're expecting Rigby to deliver the blue-collar vote. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French delivrer, from Latin liberare “to set free”] de-liv-er-y /dɪˈlɪvəri/ n. (plural deliveries) 1 [C,U] the act of bringing something to someone or somewhere: Pizza Mondo offers free delivery for any pizza over $10. 2 [C] something that is delivered: All deliveries should be taken to the rear entrance. 3 [C] the process of a baby being born: Mrs. Haims was rushed into the delivery room (=hospital room where babies are born) at 7:42. 4 [singular, U] the way that someone speaks or performs in public: I liked his jokes, but his delivery needs work.

del-ta /ˈdeltə/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a low area of land where a river separates into many smaller rivers flowing toward an ocean: the Mississippi Delta | an inland delta (=a delta that is not near the ocean) de-lude /dɪˈlud/ v. [T] to make someone believe something that is not true (SYN) deceive: He's deluding himself if he thinks he can eat what he wants and lose weight. —deluded adj.

del-uge¹ /ˈdɛlyudʒ/ n. [C] 1 a period of time when it rains continuously 2 a large amount of something such as letters, questions, etc. that someone gets at the same time [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Old French, Latin diluvium “flood”] deluge² v. [T] 1 to send a lot of letters, questions, etc. to someone at the same time: The radio station was deluged with complaints. 2 (literary) to completely cover something with water de-lu-sion /dɪˈluːʒən/ n. [C,U] a false belief about something: Walter's still under the delusion that (=wrongly believes that) his wife loves him.

de-luxe /dɪˈlʌks/ adj. of better quality and more expensive than other similar things: a deluxe resort delve /dɛlv/ v.

delve into sth phr. v. to search for more information about someone or something: Reporters are always delving into actors' personal lives.

dem-a-gogue /ˈdɛməˌɡɑːɡ/ n. [C] (disapproving) a political leader who tries to make people feel strong emotions in order to influence their opinions [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Greek demagogos, from demos “people” + agogos “leading”] de-mand¹ /dɪˈmænd/ n. 1 [singular, U] the need or desire that people have for particular goods or services, and their willingness to buy them → SUPPLY: Demand for the new model is outstripping supply. | Nurses are in great demand (=wanted by a lot of people) these days. | The factory will have to increase production to meet demand. 2 [C] a strong request that shows you believe you have the right to get what you ask for: Union members will strike until the company agrees to their demands. 3 demands [plural] the difficult or annoying things that you need to do: women dealing with the demands of family and career | The school makes heavy demands on its teachers. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French demander, from Latin mandare “to order”]

demand² v. 1 [T] to ask strongly for something, especially because you think you have a right to do this: The President demanded the release of the hostages. | Hughes demanded that he get his money back.

THESAURUS ask, request, order, beg, plead, implore → ASK

2 [I,T] to order someone to tell you something or do something: “What are you doing here?” she demanded. 3 [T] if something demands your time, skill, attention, etc., it makes you use a lot of your time, skill, etc.: The baby demands most of her time.

de-mand-ing /dɪˈmændɪŋ/ adj. 1 making you use a lot of your time, skill, attention, etc.: a demanding job

THESAURUS difficult, hard, tough, awkward, challenging, arduous, complicated, complex → DIFFICULT

2 expecting a lot of attention, or expecting to have things exactly the way you want them, especially in a way that is not fair: a demanding boss de-mar-ca-tion /ˌdɪmərˈkeɪʃən/ n. [U] the process of deciding on a border or dividing line between two areas, activities, etc.: the lines of demarcation between national and state authority de-mean /dɪˈmin/ v. [T] to behave in a way that shows disrespect for someone or something de-mean-ing /dɪˈminɪŋ/ adj. not showing respect for someone and making him/her feel ashamed: demeaning comments

de-mean-or /dɪˈmɪnər/ n. [singular, U] (formal) the way someone behaves, dresses, speaks, etc., that shows what his/her character is like

THESAURUS behavior, conduct, manner → BEHAVIOR

de-ment-ed /dɪˈmentɪd/ adj. crazy or very strange [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 dement “to drive mad” (16–19 centuries), from Latin mens “mind”]

THESAURUS crazy, mentally ill, insane, disturbed, nuts, loony, psychotic, unstable → CRAZY de-mer-it /dɪˈmɛrɪt/ n. [C] a warning, or a written symbol, showing this warning that is given to a student or a soldier to tell him/her not to do something wrong again de-mise /dɪˈmaɪz/ n. [singular] (formal) 1 the end of something that used to exist: the demise of the steel industry 2 death [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Anglo-French, Old French demis “sent away”] dem-o /ˈdɛmou/ n. (plural demos) [C] 1 (informal) a recording containing an example of someone's music: a demo tape 2 it a computer program that shows what a new piece of software will be able to do when it is ready to be sold de-moc-ra-cy /dɪˈmɒkrəsi/ n. (plural democracies) 1 [U] a system of government in which citizens in a country can vote to elect its leaders 2 [C] a country that allows its people to elect government officials [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Old French democratie, from Greek demokratia, from demos “people” + -kratia “rule”]

THESAURUS government, republic, monarchy, regime, dictatorship, totalitarian country/state etc., police state → GOVERNMENT dem-o-crat /ˈdɛməˌkræt/ n. [C] 1 Democrat POLITICS a member or supporter of the Democratic Party of the U.S. → REPUBLICAN 2 POLITICS someone who believes in or works to achieve democracy dem-o-crat-ic /ˌdɛməˈkrætɪk/ adj. 1 Democratic POLITICS relating to or supporting the Democratic Party of the U.S. → REPUBLICAN: the Democratic senator from Hawaii 2 organized by a system in which everyone has the same right to vote, speak, etc.: a democratic way of making decisions 3 POLITICS based on a system in which a government is elected by the people of a country: a democratic government

D Demo'cratic Party n. the Democratic Party one of the two main political parties of the U.S. → REPUBLICAN PARTY

dem-o-graph-ics /ˌdɛməˈɡræfɪks/ n. [plural] SOCIAL SCIENCE information about the people who live in a particular area, for example what they earn or how old they are: The demographics of America's population have changed dramatically over the past century. —demographic adj. The under-25s buy more downloads than any other demographic group.

de-mol-ish /dɪˈmɒlɪʃ/ v. [T] 1 to completely destroy a building or other structure: Several houses were demolished to make space for a new park. 2 to prove that an idea or opinion is completely wrong: Each of his arguments was demolished by the defense lawyer. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Old French demolir, from Latin de “down” + moliri “to build”] —demolition /ˌdɛməˈlɪʃən/ n. [C,U] de-mon /ˈdɪmən/ n. [C] an evil spirit —demonic /dɪˈmɒnɪk/ adj.

dem-on-strate /ˈdɛmənˌstreɪt/ (Ac) v. 1 [T] to show a fact clearly: The research demonstrates the need to treat cancer early. | His lawyer will try to demonstrate that Lee was out of town on the night of the murder. | The graph demonstrates how air travel has increased over the last fifty years.

THESAURUS

show – to make it clear that something is true or exists by providing facts or information: The case shows that women still face discrimination at work.

indicate (formal) – if scientific facts, tests, official figures, etc. indicate something, they show that something exists or is likely to be true: Research indicates that the drug may be linked to birth defects.

suggest – to show that something is probably true, even though there is no proof: There was nothing in the letter to suggest that he was thinking of suicide.

prove – to show that something is definitely true: Researchers have not been able to prove there is a link between living near a power line and getting cancer.

establish (formal) – to find out facts that will prove that something is true: Studies have established that good daycare does children no harm.

substantiate (formal) – to prove the truth of something that someone has said: The data substantiates this theory.

2 [T] to show or describe how to use or do something: Instructors should demonstrate how to use the equipment. | Our teacher demonstrated the correct way to construct an essay.

THESAURUS explain, tell, show, go through sth, clarify → EXPLAIN

3 [T] to show that you have a particular skill, quality, or ability: The contest gave her a chance to demonstrate her ability. 4 [I] to protest or support something in public with a lot of other people: Thousands came to demonstrate against the war. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin demonstratus, past participle of demonstrare, from monstrare “to show”]

THESAURUS protest, march, riot, hold/stage a sit-in, go on a hunger strike, boycott → PROTEST²

dem-on-stration /ˌdɛmənˈstreɪʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] an event at which a lot of people meet to protest or support something in public: Students staged/held a demonstration against gun violence. 2 [C,U] the act of showing and explaining how to do something: Pam gave a demonstration on how to use the new computer system. | Make sure you get a demonstration of the software before you buy it. 3 [C] an action, fact, etc. that proves that someone or something has a particular quality, ability, emotion, etc.: People gathered in a demonstration of support for the missing children. | The city's polluted air is a clear demonstration of the need for tougher environmental laws.

de-mon-strative /dɪˈmɒnstrətv/ (Ac) adj. willing to show how much you care about someone: He loves me, but he's not very demonstrative.

de,monstrative 'pronoun n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a PRONOUN such as “that” or “this” that shows which person or thing is meant out of a group dem-on-strat-or /ˈdɛmənˌstreɪtə/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 someone who takes part in a public demonstration 2 someone who shows people how to do something or how something works de-mor-al-ize /dɪˈmɒrəˌlaɪz, di-, -ˈmar-/ v. [T] to make someone lose his/her confidence or courage: Too many changes can demoralize your employees. —demoralizing adj.

de-mote /dɪˈmoʊt, di-/ v. [T] to make someone have a lower rank or less important position (ANT) promote —demotion /dɪˈmoʊʃən/ n. [C,U] de-mot-ic /dɪˈmɒtɪk/ adj. 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS used by or popular with most ordinary people: a play written in the demotic language of Chicano gangs 2 Demotic HISTORY relating to an ancient form of Egyptian writing that was simple and could be used by ordinary people de-mure /dr'myʊr/ adj. a girl or woman who is demure is shy, quiet, and always behaves well

THESAURUS shy, timid, bashful, self-conscious, reserved, introverted, retiring
→ SHY¹

den /dɛn/ n. [C] 1 a room in a house, where people relax, read, watch television, etc. 2 the home of some types of animals, such as lions and foxes [ORIGIN: Old English denn] den-drite /'dɛndraɪt/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a small part on the body of a nerve cell, that makes electrical signals come toward the cell from other cells de-ni-al /dr'naiəl/ [Ac] n. 1 [C,U] a statement saying that something is not true → DENY: Diaz made a public denial of the rumor. 2 [U] a situation or condition in which you refuse to admit or believe that something bad exists or has happened: I think Becky's in denial about her drinking problem. 3 [C] (formal) the act of refusing to allow someone to have or do something → DENY: the denial of basic human rights den-i-grate /'dɛni,ɡreɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to do or say things to make someone or something seem less important or good [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin denigrare, from niger “black”] den-im /'dɛnəm/ n. [U] a type of strong cotton cloth used for making JEANS [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 French (serge) de Nîmes “(type of cloth) from Nîmes,” French city where it was first made] de-nom-i-na-tion /dr,nəmə'neɪʃən/ n. [C] 1 a religious group that has slightly different beliefs from other groups who belong to the same religion

THESAURUS church, sect, cult → CHURCH

2 the value of a coin, paper money, or a stamp: The robbers escaped with $12,000 in small/large denominations.

de-nom-i-na-tor /dr'nəmə'neɪtə/ n. [C] MATH the number below the line in a FRACTION → COMMON DENOMINATOR, LOWEST COMMON DENOMINATOR, NUMERATOR de-no-ta-tion /,dɪnoʊ'teɪʃən/ [Ac] n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the thing that is actually described by a word, rather than the feelings or ideas it suggests de-not-a-tive /dr'noutəɪv/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS representing or explaining something in a clear way using facts: Denotative language is factual, whereas connotative language is emotional.

de-note /dr'nout/ [Ac] v. [T] (written) to represent or mean something: Each X on the map denotes 500 people. | In this painting, the red sky denotes danger.

de-nounce /dr'naʊns/ v. [T] to say publicly that you disapprove of someone or something: The bishop denounced the film as immoral.

dense /dɛns/ adj. 1 made of or containing a lot of things or people that are very close together: the city's dense population | the dense jungles of northern Vietnam 2 difficult to see through or breathe in: a dense fog 3 (informal) stupid —densely adv.

den-si-ty /'dɛnsəti/ n. (plural densities) [C,U] 1 the degree to which an area is filled with things or people: a high density (=very crowded) neighborhood 2 PHYSICS the relationship between an object's weight and the amount of space it fills dent¹ /dɛnt/ n. [C] 1 a mark made when you hit or press something so that its surface is bent: a big dent in the car 2 a reduction in the amount of something: I haven't made a dent in the money I have to pay back on my loan.

dent² v. [T] to hit or press something so that its surface is bent and marked: Some idiot dented my car door.

den-tal /'dɛntəl/ adj. relating to your teeth: dental care [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin dentalis, from dens “tooth”] dental floss n. [U] thin string that you use to clean between your teeth den-tine /'dɛntɪn/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the type of bone that your teeth are made of den-tist /'dɛntɪst/ n. [C] someone whose job is to treat people's teeth: I go to the dentist twice a year.

THESAURUS doctor, physician, surgeon, specialist, psychiatrist, pediatrician → DOCTOR¹ den-tures /'dɛntʃəz/ n. [plural] artificial teeth worn to replace the natural ones that someone has lost [SYN] false teeth de-nun-ci-a-tion /dr,nʌnsi'eɪʃən/ n. [C,U] a public statement in which you criticize someone or something de-ny /dr'naɪ/ [Ac] v. (denied, denies) [T] 1 to say that something is not true → DENIAL: Simmons denied that he had murdered his wife. | He has repeatedly denied the rumor. 2 to refuse to allow someone to have or do something → DENIAL: The judge denied a request to close down the school immediately. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French denier, from Latin negare “to deny”] de-o-dor-ant /di'oudəreɪnt/ n. [C,U] a substance that you put on the skin under your arms to stop you from smelling bad de-ox-y-ri-bo-nu-cle-ic ac-id /di,ɒksi,raɪboʊnu,klɪk 'æsɪd/ n. [U] BIOLOGY DNA de-part /dr'pɑ:t/ v. [I] (formal) to leave

(ANT) arrive: All passengers departing for New York on flight UA179 should go to Gate 7. | The train will depart from track 9.

THESAURUS leave, go away, set off, drive off/away, take off, withdraw → LEAVE¹ depart from sth phr. v. (formal) to start to use new ideas or do something in an unusual or unexpected way: Parker's approach departs from the usual classroom routine.

D de-part-ment /dr'pɑ:t'mənt/ n. [C] 1 any of the groups of people working together that form part of a large organization such as a college, government, or business: a typical university music department | the Department of Energy 2 an area in a large store, where particular types of product are sold: the men's department (=where clothes for men are sold) de'partment store n. [C] a large store that sells many different products such as clothes, kitchen equipment, etc.

de-par-ture /dr'pɑ:tʃə/ n. 1 [C,U] the action of leaving a place, especially to travel in an airplane, car, etc. (ANT) arrival: Check in at the airport an hour before departure. | her departure for Japan 2 [C] a change from what is usual or expected: Their new designs represent a departure from their usual style.

de-pend /dr'pend/ v. it/that depends (spoken) used to say that you are not sure about something because you do not know what will happen: "Are you coming to my house later?" "It depends. I might have to work."

depend on/upon sb/sth phr. v. 1 to need the help or support of someone or something else: Charles depends on money from his parents to pay his rent. 2 to be directly affected by something else: The amount you spend depends on where you live. 3 to trust someone or something: Sometimes I think you're the only person I can depend on. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French dépendre, from Latin pendere "to hang"] rely on/upon – to trust or depend on someone or something: I knew I could rely on David.

THESAURUS

trust – to believe that someone is honest and will not do anything bad or wrong: I wouldn't trust him if I were you.
count on – to depend on someone or something: You can always count on me.

de-pend-a-ble /dr'pendəbəl/ adj. someone or something that is dependable will always do what you need or expect him, her, or it to do: a highly dependable employee | a dependable car de-pend-ent¹ /dr'pendənt/ adj. 1 needing someone or something else in order to exist, be successful, etc. (ANT) independent: dependent children | Jan's mother was dependent on her for physical care. 2 be dependent on/upon sth to be directly affected by something else: Your success is dependent on how hard you work. —dependence n. [U] dependent² n. [C] someone, especially a child, who depends on someone else for food, money, clothing, etc.

de,pendent 'clause n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a CLAUSE that gives information related to the main clause in a sentence, but which cannot exist alone. For example, in the sentence, "I have hated milk since I was child," the clause "since I was a child" is a dependent clause. → INDEPENDENT CLAUSE de,pendent 'variable n. [C] SCIENCE in a scientific EXPERIMENT (=test), a result that is likely to change depending on the different conditions used in the experiment (SYN) responding variable

de-pict /dr'pɪkt/ v. [T] to describe or show a character, situation, or event in writing or by using pictures: the people depicted in the movie | The god is depicted as a bird with a human head. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin depictus, past participle of depingere, from pingere "to paint"] de-plete /dr'plit/ v. [T] (formal) to reduce the amount of something: Many of our forests have been depleted by the paper industry.

de-plor-a-ble /dr'plɔ:rəbəl/ adj. (formal) very bad, shocking, and deserving strong disapproval: deplorable prison conditions de-plore /dr'plɔ:r/ v. [T] (formal) to severely criticize something that you disapprove of: a statement deploring the use of chemical weapons [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French déplore, from Latin plorare "to cry out"] de-ploy /dr'plɔɪ/ v. [T] to move soldiers and military equipment to a place so that they can be used if necessary: Nuclear missiles were being deployed in Europe. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French déployer, from Latin displicare "to scatter"] de-pop-u-la-tion /di,pəpyə'leɪʃən/ n. [U] SOCIAL SCIENCE a large reduction in the number of people living in a particular area: The movement of people into the cities led to the depopulation of rural areas.

de-port /dr'pɔ:t/ v. [T] to officially make a person from a foreign country return to the country they came from —deportation /di,pɔ:t'teɪʃən/ n. [C,U] de-pos-it¹ /dr'pəzɪt/ n. [C] 1 a part of the cost of something that you pay before paying the total amount later: We put down a deposit on the house yesterday. 2 an amount of money that is put into someone's bank account (ANT) withdrawal: I'd like to make a deposit into my savings account. 3 money that you pay when you rent something such as an apartment or car, which will be given back if you do not damage it 4 an amount or layer of a substance in a particular place: oil deposits deposit² v. [T] 1 to put money into a bank account (ANT withdraw: I'd like to deposit this in my checking account. 2 to put something down, especially in a particular place de-pot /'dipou/ n. [C] 1 a small train or bus station 2 a place where goods are stored de-praved /dɪ'preɪvd/ adj. morally unacceptable and evil: a depraved murderer [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 deprave “to make evil” (14—21 centuries), from French dépraver, from Latin pravus “bent, bad”]

THESAURUS bad, evil, wicked, immoral, wrong, reprehensible → BAD¹

de-prav-i-ty /dɪ'prævəti/ n. [U] the state of being evil or morally unacceptable: sexual depravity dep-re-cate /'deprə,keɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to disapprove of or criticize something strongly: The Senator deprecated the riots that had broken out after the court's decision. —deprecation /,deprə'keɪʃən/ n. [U] de-pre-ci-ate /dɪ'pri:ʃi,et/ v. [I] ECONOMICS to decrease in value or price (ANT appreciate: A new car depreciates as soon as it is driven. —depreciation /dɪ,prɪʃi'eɪʃən/ n. [U]) de-press /dɪ'pres/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to make someone feel very sad → DEPRESSION: All this rain is depressing me. 2 to reduce the amount or value of something → DEPRESSION: The value of the peso fell, depressing the nation's economy. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French depresser, from Latin premere “to press”] de-pressed /dɪ'prest/ (Ac) adj. 1 very sad → DEPRESSION: I started feeling depressed about my mother's illness.

THESAURUS sad, unhappy, miserable, sorrowful, down, low, blue, downhearted, melancholy, morose, gloomy, glum → SAD

2 not having enough jobs or business activity to make an area, industry, etc. successful → DEPRESSION: a depressed economy

de-press-ing /dɪ'presɪŋ/ (Ac) adj. making you feel sad: a depressing movie de-pres-sion /dɪ'preʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] a) a strong feeling of sadness and a loss of hope → DEPRESSED: After her son died, she went into a long period of depression. b) a medical condition that makes you feel extremely unhappy, so that you cannot live a normal life → DEPRESSED: The patient is suffering from depression. 2 [C,U] ECONOMICS a long period when businesses do not buy, sell, or produce very much, and many people do not have jobs: the Great Depression of the 1930s

THESAURUS recession, slump, downturn, crash → RECESSION

3 [C] an area of a surface that is lower than the other parts: Water had collected in a shallow depression between the hills.

de-prive /dɪ'praɪv/ v.

deprive sb of sth phr. v. to take something that someone needs away from him/her: The troops had been deprived of food and water.

de-prived /dɪ'praɪvd/ adj. not having the things that are considered to be necessary for a comfortable or happy life: a deprived childhood

THESAURUS poor, needy, destitute, impoverished, impecunious, indigent, penurious, poverty-stricken, disadvantaged, underprivileged → POOR

dept. the written abbreviation of DEPARTMENT depth /depθ/ n. 1 [C usually singular] a) the distance from the top of something to the bottom of it: The water rose to a depth of 12 feet. b) the distance from the front of an object to the back of it: the depth of the shelves → see picture at DIMENSION 2 [U] how strong an emotion is or how serious a situation is: the depth of their friendship 3 in depth including all the details → IN-DEPTH: In her new book, she analyzes the problem in depth.

dep-u-ty /'depyəti/ n. (plural deputies) [C] 1 someone who is directly below someone else in rank, and who is officially in charge when that person is not there: the deputy director of the Foundation 2 someone whose job is to help a SHERIFF [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French député, from Latin deputare “to give a particular job to someone”] de-rail /dɪ'reɪl, di-/ v. [I,T] to make a train go off the railroad tracks, or to go off the tracks de-ranged /dɪ'reɪndʒd/ adj. behaving in a crazy or dangerous way: a deranged criminal der-by /'dæbi/ n. (plural derbies) [C] 1 a type of horse race: the Kentucky Derby 2 a stiff round hat for men, worn in past times der-e-lict¹ /'dɛrə,lɪkt/ adj. a building or piece of land that is derelict is in bad condition because no one has used it in a long time [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin derelictus, past participle of derelin-quere “to leave something you are responsible for”] derelict² n. [C] (disapproving) someone who has no home or money, and is very dirty de-ride /dɪ'raɪd/ v. [T] (formal) to say something that shows you have no respect for someone or something —derision /dɪ'rɪʒən/ n. [U] de-ri-so-ry /dɪ'raɪsəri/ adj. a derisory amount of money is very small and is not worth considering seriously der-i-va-tion /,dɛrə'veɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [C,U] the act or process of coming from something else, such as when a new word develops from another word: “Verse” is a derivation of the Latin word “versus.”

de-riv-a-tive¹ /dɪ'rɪvətɪv/ (Ac) n. [C] something that has developed or been produced from something else: The drug is a derivative of Vitamin A.

D

derivative² adj. (disapproving) copied or taken from something else: I find his painting style very derivative.

de-rive /dɪˈraɪv/ (Ac) v. 1 [T] to get something such as happiness, strength, or satisfaction from someone or something: He derives pleasure from helping others. 2 [I,T] to develop or come from something else: The word “benefit” is derived from Latin. 3 [T] CHEMISTRY to get a chemical substance from another substance: A variety of compounds can be derived from the acid. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French dériver, from Latin derivare “to draw out water,” from rivus “stream”]

D der-ma-tol-o-gy /ˌdɜːməˈtɒlədʒi/ n. [U] the part of medical science that deals with the skin, its diseases, and their treatment —dermatologist n. [C] der-mis /ˈdɜːmɪs/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the layer of skin under the EPIDERMIS (=the outside layer of skin) de-rog-a-to-ry /dɪˈrɒɡəˌtɔːri/ adj. insulting and disapproving: He was constantly making derogatory remarks about women.

der-rick /ˈdɜːrɪk/ n. [C] the tall tower over an oil well, that holds the DRILL de-scend /dɪˈsɛnd/ v. [I,T] (formal) to move from a higher level to a lower one (ANT) ascend: She began to descend the stairs. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French descendre, from Latin de “down” + scandere “to climb”] descend from sb phr. v. be descended from sb to be related to someone who lived a long time ago: My father’s family is descended from the Pilgrims.

descend on/upon sth phr. v. if a lot of people descend on a place, they arrive there at the same time: A large troop of soldiers descended on the village.

de-scend-ant /dɪˈsɛndənt/ n. [C] someone who is related to a person who lived a long time ago → ANCESTOR: She was a direct descendant of one of the Pilgrims on the Mayflower.

de-scent /dɪˈsɛnt/ n. 1 [C,U] (formal) the process of going down (ANT) ascent: The plane began its descent. 2 [U] your family origins, especially in relation to the country where your family came from: We’re of Italian descent.

de-scribe /dɪˈskraɪb/ v. [T] to say what someone or something is like by giving details → DESCRIPTION: Can you describe the man who took your purse? | It’s hard to describe how I feel. | One child described hiccups as ‘having jumping beans’ inside her stomach. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin describere, from scribere “to write”]

THESAURUS call, characterize, label, brand, portray → CALL¹

de-scrip-tion /dɪˈskrɪpʃən/ n. [C,U] a piece of writing or speech that gives details about what someone or something is like → DESCRIBE: Kate gave us a description of her new house. | Police have a detailed description of the missing child. |

You fit the description of (=look like) a man seen running from the scene.

de-scrip-tive /dɪˈskrɪptɪv/ adj. giving a description of something in words or pictures des-e-crate /ˈdɛsəˌkreɪt/ v. [T] to damage something holy or respected —desecration /ˌdɛsəˈkreɪʃən/ n. [U] de-seg-re-gate /dɪˈsɛgrəˌɡeɪt/ v. [T] to end a system in which people of different races are kept separate (ANT) segregate: an attempt to desegregate the schools —desegregated adj. —desegregation /dɪˌsɛgrəˈɡeɪʃən/ n. [U] des-ert¹ /ˈdɛzət/ n. [C,U] EARTH SCIENCES a large area of land where it is always hot and dry, there are few plants, and there is often a lot of sand: the Sahara desert de-sert² /dɪˈzɜːt/ v. 1 [T] to leave someone alone and not help him/her anymore: My boyfriend deserted me when I got pregnant. 2 [I] to leave the military without permission 3 [T] to leave a place so that it is empty: Everyone deserted the village and fled to the hills. —desertion /dɪˈzɜːʃən/ n. [C,U] de-sert-ed /dɪˈzɜːtɪd/ adj. empty and quiet because the people who are usually there have left: At night, the streets are deserted.

THESAURUS empty, bare, uninhabited, free, vacant → EMPTY¹ de-sert-er /dɪˈzɜːtə/ n. [C] a soldier who leaves the military without permission de-sert-i-fi-ca-tion /dɪˌzɜːtəˈfaɪkəʃən/ n. [U] EARTH SCIENCES a process in which land that is able to produce crops gradually becomes a desert: Sub-Saharan Africa is constantly under threat of desertification.

de-serve /dɪˈzɜːv/ v. [T] if someone deserves something, s/he should get it because of the way s/he has behaved: After all that work, you deserve a rest. | Migrant workers deserve to make more than $3 an hour. | People who go to jail for abusing children get what they deserve (=receive the right punishment). —deserved adj.

des-ic-cat-ed /ˈdɛsɪˌkeɪtɪd/ adj. (formal) completely dried: desiccated coconut de-sign¹ /dɪˈzaɪn/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] the way that something has been planned or made: We're working to improve the design of the computer. | The two cars are similar in design. 2 [C] a pattern used for decorating something: *curtains with a floral design

THESAURUS

pattern, markings, motif →

PATTERN

3 [C] a drawing that shows how something will be made or what it will look like: We're working on designs for a new office building downtown. 4 [U] the art or process of making drawings or plans for something: Vicky studied graphic design at college. 5 have designs on sth to want something and be planning a way to get it [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French désigner, from Latin designare, from signare “to mark”] design² [Ac] v. 1 [I, T] to make a drawing or plan of something that will be made or built: Armani is designing some exciting new suits for fall. 2 [T] to plan or develop something for a particular purpose: an exercise designed to strengthen your legs | The animal's sharp claws are designed for attacking its prey. | The book is designed as a reference manual.

des-ig-nate /'dɛzɪg,neɪt/ v. [T] to choose someone or something for a particular job or purpose: $200 million was designated for new schools. | She has been designated to take over the position of treasurer.

designated 'driver n. [C] someone who does not drink alcohol at a party, bar, etc. so that s/he can drive his/her friends home des-ig-na-tion /,dɛzɪg'neɪʃən/ n. 1 [U] the act of choosing someone or something for a particular purpose, or giving him, her, or it a particular description: the designation of 100 acres around the lake as a protected area for wildlife 2 [C] the description or title that someone or something is given: Any beef with the designation “extra lean” must only have 5% of its weight in fat.

des-ign-er /dɪ'zɑːnə/ [Ac] n. [C] someone whose job is to make plans or patterns for clothes, jewelry, etc.: designer sunglasses (=sunglasses from a well-known designer)

des-sir-a-ble /dɪ'zɑːrəbəl/ adj. (formal) 1 worth having or doing because it is useful, popular, or good: a desirable job with a big law firm 2 someone who is desirable is sexually attractive —desirability /dɪ'zɑːrə'bɪləti/ n. [U]

des-sire¹ /dɪ'zɑːə/ n. [C] 1 a strong hope or wish: the country's desire for peace | I have no desire to meet her. 2 (formal) a strong wish to have sex with someone [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French desirer, from Latin desiderare]

desire² v. [T] 1 sth leaves a lot to be desired said when something is not as good as it should be: This coffee leaves a lot to be desired. 2 (formal) to want or hope for something very much [Syn] want: Muller never desired to return to the United States. 3 (formal) to want to have sex with someone de-sist /dɪ'zɪst, dɪ'sɪst/ v. [I] (formal) to stop doing something desk /desk/ n. [C] 1 a piece of furniture like a table, that you sit at to write and work: Marie was sitting at her desk. 2 a place where you can get information at a hotel, airport, etc.: Check in at the front desk.

desk-top /'deskɪp/ n. [C] 1 IT the main area on a computer screen where you find the ICONS that represent PROGRAMS 2 the top surface of a desk desktop com'puter n. [C] a computer that is designed to be used on a desk → LAPTOP desktop 'publishing n. [U] the work of producing magazines, books, etc. with a desktop computer des-o-late /'desələt/ adj. 1 a place that is desolate is empty and looks sad because there are no people there and not much activity: a desolate stretch of highway 2 feeling very sad and lonely [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin desolatus, from solus “alone”] —desolation /,desə'leɪʃən/ n. [U] de-spair¹ /dɪ'speɪ/ n. [U] a feeling that you have no hope at all: Nancy's suicide left him in deep despair. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French desperer, from Latin desperare, from sperare “to hope”] despair² v. [I] (formal) to feel that there is no hope at all: Margaret despaired of ever finding a husband.

des-per-ate /'desprɪt, -pɔːrɪt/ adj. 1 willing to do anything to change a very bad situation, and not caring about danger: I hadn't eaten for days and was getting desperate. 2 needing or wanting something very much: By then I was so broke I was desperate for a job. | After a week in the hospital he was desperate to go home. 3 a desperate situation is very bad or serious: a desperate shortage of food —desperately adv.: The doctors tried desperately to save her life.

des-per-a-tion /,despə'reɪʃən/ n. [U] a strong feeling that you will do anything to change a very bad situation: The drowning man grabbed at the life raft in desperation.

de-spic-a-ble /dɪ'spɪkəbəl/ adj. extremely bad or cruel de-spise /dɪ'spaɪz/ v. [T] (formal) to dislike someone or something very much: He despised her from the moment they met.

THESAURUS

hate, can't stand, detest, loathe, abhor → HATE¹

de-spite /dɪ'spaɪt/ [Ac] prep. without being prevented or affected by something [Syn] in spite of: Despite the doctors' efforts, the patient died.* | The trade in ivory continues despite the fact that it is illegal.

THESAURUS

although, however, in spite of, nevertheless/nonetheless → ALTHOUGH

D

de-spond-ent /drɪ'spɒndənt/ adj. unhappy and without hope —despondency n. [U] —despondently adv.

des-pot /'dɛspət, -pat/ n. [C] someone, especially the ruler of a country, who uses power in a cruel and unfair way [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Old French despote, from Greek despotes “lord”] —despotic /dɛ'spɒtɪk/ adj.

des-pot-ism /'dɛspə'tɪzəm/ n. [U] POLITICS rule by a despot des-sert /drɪ'zɜ:t/ n. [C,U] sweet food served after the main part of a meal: What's for dessert? [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French desservir “to clear the table,” from servir “to serve”]

D

des-ti-na-tion /,dɛstə'neɪʃən/ n. [C] the place that someone or something is going to: The Alamo is a popular tourist destination in Texas. | We have just enough gas to reach our destination.

des-tined /'dɛstənd/ adj. seeming certain to happen or do something at some time in the future: The album is destined to become a classic.

des-ti-ny /'dɛstəni/ n. (plural destinies) [C,U] the things that will happen to someone in the future, or the power that controls this [SYN] fate: a nation fighting to control its destiny [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French destinee, from Latin destinare “to fasten, fix”] des-ti-tute /'dɛstə'tut/ adj. having no money, no place to live, no food, etc.: The floods left thousands of people destitute. —destitution /,dɛstə'tuʃən/ n. [U]

THESAURUS poor, needy, impoverished, broke, impecunious, indigent, penurious, poverty-stricken → POOR

de-stry /drɪ'strɔɪ/ v. [T] to damage something so badly that it cannot be used or no longer exists → DESTRUCTION: Two houses were destroyed in the fire. [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French destruire, from Latin destruere, from struere “to build”] de-stry-er /drɪ'strɔɪə/ n. [C] 1 a small fast military ship with guns 2 someone or something that destroys things or people de-struc-tion /drɪ'strʌkʃən/ n. [U] the act or process of destroying something or of being destroyed: the destruction of the rain forests —destructive /drɪ'strʌktɪv/ adj.

de,structive interference n. [U] PHYSICS the combination of two WAVES of energy whose highest and lowest points are not the same, which results in a wave that is weaker than either of them de-tach /drɪ'tætʃ/ v. [T] to remove something from something that it is attached to —detachable adj.

de-tached /drɪ'tætʃt/ adj. not reacting to something in an emotional way: My father was always emotionally detached from the rest of us. —detachment n. [U] de-tail /'dɪteɪl, drɪ'teɪl/ n. [C,U] a single fact or piece of information about something: Dad planned our vacation down to the smallest/last detail. | The judge refused to discuss the case in detail (=using lots of details). | There's no need to go into detail (=give a lot of details) about the contract at this early stage. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French détail, from Old French détail “piece cut off”] detail² v. [T] to list things or give all the facts or information about something: Wooley detailed the dangers of dieting.

de-tailed /drɪ'teɪld, 'dɪteɪld/ adj. containing or using a lot of information or facts: a detailed examination of the body de-tain /drɪ'teɪn/ v. [T] to officially stop someone from leaving a place: Police detained two suspects for questioning.

de-tect /drɪ'tɛkt/ [Ac] v. [T] to notice or discover something, especially something that is not easy to see, hear, etc.: I detected the faint smell of perfume. | Cancer cells are often difficult to detect. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin detectus, past participle of detegere “to uncover”] —detectable adj. —detection /drɪ'tɛkʃən/ n. [U]: The search led to the detection of a second bomb.

THESAURUS find, discover, trace, locate
→ FIND¹

de-tec-tive /drɪ'tɛktɪv/ [Ac] n. [C] a police officer whose job is to discover information about crimes and catch criminals de-tect-or /drɪ'tɛktə/ [Ac] n. [C] a machine or piece of equipment that finds or measures something: Students must pass through metal detectors when entering the school.

dé-tente /dɛ'tɑnt/ n. [C,U] POLITICS a time or situation in which two countries that are not friendly toward each other agree to behave in a more friendly way de-ten-tion /drɪ'tɛnʃən/ n. 1 [U] the state of being kept in prison: The suspect was held in detention for three days. 2 [C,U] a punishment in which students who have behaved badly must stay at school for a short time after other students have left de-ter /drɪ'tə/ v. (deterred, deterring) [T] to stop someone from doing something by making it difficult or threatening him/her with punishment: The high cost of cigarettes has deterred many smokers. | The security camera was installed to deter people from stealing. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin deterere, from terrere “to frighten”] de-ter-gent /drɪ'tɛdʒənt/ n. [C,U] a liquid or powder containing soap, used for washing clothes, dishes, etc. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French détergent, from Latin tergere “to clean by rubbing”] de-te-ri-o-rate /drɪ'tɪəriə'reɪt/ v. [I] to become worse: Her health is deteriorating quickly. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Late Latin deteriorare, from Latin deterior “worse”] —deterioration /drɪ'tɪəriə'reɪʃən/ n. [U] de-ter-mi-na-tion /dɪ,təmə'neɪʃən/ n. [U] the quality of trying to do something even when it is difficult: Marco shows great determination to learn English.

de-ter-mine /dɪ'təmin/ v. [T] 1 (formal) to find out the facts about something: Using sonar, they determined exactly where the ship had sunk. 2 to decide something, or to influence a decision about something: The number of incoming students will determine the size of the classes. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French determiner, from Latin terminus “edge, limit”]

THESAURUS decide, make up your mind, choose, resolve → DECIDE

de-ter-mined /dɪ'təmind/ adj. having a strong desire to do something even when it is difficult: a determined opponent | Beth was determined to make her marriage work.

de-ter-min-er /dɪ'təmənə/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a word that is used before a noun in order to show which thing you mean. In the phrases “the car” and “some cars,” “the” and “some” are determiners.

de-ter-rence /dɪ'tərens/ n. [U] 1 POLITICS a situation in which a country continues to have a strong army or powerful weapons in order to prevent a military attack from another country: nuclear deterrence 2 (formal) the act of stopping people from doing something bad: Does the punishment provide adequate deterrence?

de-ter-rent /dɪ'tərent/ n. [C] something that makes someone not want to do something: Car alarms can be an effective deterrent to burglars.

de-test /dɪ'test/ v. [T] to hate someone or something very much: I detest cigarettes.

THESAURUS hate, can't stand, loathe, despise, abhor → HATE¹ det-o-nate /'detˌn,eɪt, -tə,nert/ v. [I,T] to explode, or to make something do this: Nuclear bombs were detonated in tests in the desert. [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Latin detonare, from tonare “to thunder”] —detonation /,detˌn'eɪʃən/ n. [C,U] det-o-na-tor /'detˌn,eɪtə, -tə,nertə/ n. [C] a small object that is used to make a bomb explode de-tour¹ /'dɪtɔr/ n. [C] a way of going from one place to another that is longer than the usual way because you want to avoid traffic, go somewhere special, etc.: We made/took a detour to avoid the street repairs.

detour² v. [I,T] to make a detour de-tox /'dɪtəks/ n. [U] (informal) a special treatment to help people stop drinking alcohol or taking drugs de-tract /dɪ'trækt/ v.

detract from sth phr. v. to make something seem less good than it really is: The rain did not detract from our vacation.

det-ri-ment /'detrəmənt/ n. [U] (formal) harm or damage that is done to something: He works long hours, to the detriment of his marriage. —detrimental /,detrə'mentl/ adj.

de-val-ue /dɪ'vælyu/ v. 1 [I,T] ECONOMICS to reduce the value of a country's money, especially in relation to the value of another country's money 2 [T] to make someone or something seem less important or valuable —devaluation /dɪ,vælyu'eɪʃən/ n. [C,U] dev-as-tate /'devə,steɪt/ v. [T] 1 to make someone feel extremely sad or shocked: Mike was devastated by his parents' divorce. 2 to damage something, or to destroy something completely: Bombing raids devastated parts of London. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin devastare, from vastare “to lay waste, destroy”] —devastation /,devə'steɪʃən/ n. [U] dev-as-tat-ing /'devə,steɪtɪŋ/ adj. 1 badly damaging or destroying something: Heavy rains caused devastating floods in the region. 2 making someone feel extremely sad or shocked: the devastating news of her sister's death

de-vel-op /dɪ'veləp/ v. 1 [I,T] to grow or change into something bigger or more advanced, or to make someone or something do this: It's amazing that a tree can develop from a small seed. | Chicago developed into a big city in the late 1800s. | plans to develop the local economy 2 [T] to work on a new idea or product to make it successful: The mayor is developing a plan to fight crime. 3 [T] to begin to have a quality or illness: Her baby developed a fever during the night. 4 [I] to begin to happen, exist, or be noticed: Clouds are developing over the mountains. 5 [T] to use land to build things that people need: This area will be developed over the next five years. 6 [T] to make pictures out of film from a camera

de-vel-oped /dɪ'veləpt/ adj. 1 larger, stronger, or more advanced: a child with fully developed social skills | well-developed muscles 2 devel-oped countries/nations rich countries that have many industries, comfortable living for most people, and usually elected governments de-vel-op-er /dɪ'veləpə/ n. [C] someone who makes money by buying land and then building houses, factories, etc. on it de-vel-op-ing /dɪ'veləpɪŋ/ adj. 1 growing or changing: a developing child 2 developing countries/nations poor countries that are trying to increase their industry and trade and improve life for their people

de-vel-op-ment /dɪ'veləpmənt/ n. 1 [U] the process of becoming bigger, stronger, or more advanced: A healthy diet can prevent the development of heart disease. | economic/industrial development 2 [C] a new event that changes a situation: Our reporter in Denver has the latest developments. 3 [C] a change that makes a product, plan,

D

idea, etc. better: new developments in computer technology 4 [U] the process of planning and building new streets, buildings, etc. on land: 100 acres ready for development 5 [C] a group of new buildings that have all been planned and built together on the same piece of land: a housing development

de-vi-ant /'diviənt/ also de-vi-ate /'divi-ɪt/ adj. (formal) different, in a bad way, from what is normal: deviant behavior —deviant n. [C] de-vi-ate /'divi,et/ (Ac) v. [I] (formal) to be or become different from what is normal or acceptable: The daytime temperature rarely deviates from 70 degrees. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Late Latin deviatus, from Latin de “away from” + via “way”] de-vi-a-tion /,divi'eɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [C,U] (formal) a noticeable difference from what is expected or normal: Any deviation from procedures will not be tolerated.

de-vice /dɪ'vaɪs/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 a machine or other small object that does a special job: a device for sorting mail | The device records the level of oxygen in the water.

THESAURUS machine, appliance, gadget, mechanism, contraption → MACHINE¹

2 a way of achieving a particular purpose: A contest could be a good device for raising money.

dev-il /'dɛvəl/ n. 1 the Devil the most powerful evil spirit in some religions, such as Christianity (SYN) Satan 2 [C] any evil spirit [ORIGIN: Old English deofol, from Greek diabolos] dev-il-ish /'dɛvəlɪʃ/ adj. (old-fashioned) very bad, difficult, or evil —devilishly adv.

devil's 'advocate n. [C] someone who pretends to disagree with you in order to have a good discussion about something: I've always enjoyed playing devil's advocate.

de-vi-ous /'diviəs/ adj. using tricks or lies to get what you want: a devious plan de-vise /dɪ'vaɪz/ v. [T] to plan or invent a way of doing something: A teacher devised the game as a way of making math fun. | He finally devised a way to divide the money fairly.

THESAURUS invent, create, think up, come up with sth, conceive, make up, dream up → INVENT de-void /dɪ'vɔɪd/ adj. be devoid of sth to not have a particular quality at all: The food is completely devoid of taste.

de-vote /dɪ'vəʊt/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 devote time/money/attention etc. to sb/sth to give your time, money, etc. to someone or something: She devotes much of her time to her family. 2 devote yourself to sth to do everything that you can to achieve something or help someone: McCarthy devoted himself to ending the war. 3 to use a particular area, period of time, or amount of space for a specific purpose: This chapter is devoted to Lincoln's presidency.

de-vot-ed /dɪ'vəʊtɪd/ (Ac) adj. giving someone or something a lot of love, concern, and attention: a devoted wife/father —devotedly adv.

THESAURUS faithful, loyal, staunch, steadfast, true → FAITHFUL dev-o-tee /,dɛvə'ti, -'teɪ, -vəʊ-/ n. [C] someone who enjoys or admires someone or something very much: devotees of Italian wine de-vo-tion /dɪ'vəʊʃən/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 a strong feeling of love that you show by paying a lot of attention to someone or something: a father's devotion to his family 2 the act of spending a lot of time and energy on something: The actress is famous for her devotion to animal rights. 3 strong religious feeling de-vour /dɪ'vaʊə-/ v. [T] 1 to eat something quickly because you are very hungry

THESAURUS eat, gobble sth up, wolf sth down, nibble (on), pick at, ingest → EAT

2 if you devour information, books, etc., you read a lot very quickly [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French devorer, from Latin vorare “to swallow”] de-vout /dɪ'vaʊt/ adj. having very strong beliefs, especially religious ones: a devout Catholic —devoutly adv.

THESAURUS religious, pious, god-fearing, practicing, orthodox → RELIGIOUS dew /du/ n. [U] the small drops of water that form on outdoor surfaces during the night dex-ter-i-ty /dɛk'stɛrəti/ n. [U] skill in using your hands to do things —dexterous, dextrous /'dɛkstrəs/ adj.

dex-trose /'dɛkstrəʊs/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a type of sugar that is found naturally in many sweet fruits, and that is also produced naturally in the body. It is sometimes also known as GLUCOSE. → SUCROSE, LACTOSE, FRUCTOSE di-a-be-tes /,daɪə'bi:tɪz, -'bi:tɪs/ n. [U] a disease in which there is too much sugar in the blood di-a-bet-ic /,daɪə'bɛtɪk/ n. [C] someone who has diabetes —diabetic adj.

di-a-bol-i-cal /,daɪə'bɒlɪkəl/ adj. very bad, evil, or cruel: a diabolical killer [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French diabolique, from Greek diabolos “devil”]

di-ag-nose /,daɪəg'nəʊs, 'daɪəg,nəʊs/ v. [T] to find out what illness a person has or what is wrong with something: A technician diagnosed a bad pump in the engine. | He was diagnosed with hepatitis.

di-ag-no-sis /,daɪəg'nəʊsɪs/ n. (plural diagnoses /-'nəʊsɪz/) [C,U] the result of diagnosing someone or something → PROGNOSIS: The doctor will make a diagnosis and recommend treatment. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Modern Latin, Greek, from diagignoskein “to know apart”] —diagnostic /ˌdaɪəɡˈnɒstɪk/ adj.

di-ag-o-nal /daɪˈæɡənəl/ adj. 1 a diagonal line joins two opposite corners of a square shape 2 following a sloping angle: diagonal parking spaces —diagonal n. [C] —diagonally adv.

di-a-gram /ˈdaɪəɡrəm/ n. [C] a drawing that shows how something works, where something is, what something looks like, etc.: a diagram of a car engine [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Greek diagramma, from diagraphēin “to mark out with lines”]

di-al¹ /ˈdaɪəl/ v. [I,T] to press the buttons or turn the dial on a telephone in order to make a telephone call: Dial 911 – there’s been an accident. | I think I dialed the wrong number. → PHONE¹

dial² n. [C] 1 the round part of a clock, watch, machine, etc., that has numbers that show you the time or a measurement 2 the part of a piece of equipment, such as a radio or THERMOSTAT, that you turn in order to do something, such as find a different station or set the temperature 3 the wheel with holes for fingers on some telephones di-a-lect /ˈdaɪəˌlekt/ n. [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS a form of a language that is spoken in one area which is different from the way it is spoken in other areas: a dialect of Arabic | literature written in native dialects [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French dialecte, from Greek dialektos “conversation, dialect”]

THESAURUS language, accent, tongue, vernacular, lingo, slang, jargon → LANGUAGE

di-a-logue, dialog /ˈdaɪəˌlɒɡ, -ˌlɑːɡ/ n. [C,U] 1 a conversation in a book, play, or movie → MONOLOGUE 2 a formal discussion between countries or groups in order to solve problems: an opportunity for dialogue between the fighting countries | a dialogue on human rights [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French, Greek dialogos, from diagesthai “to talk to someone”]

THESAURUS discussion, negotiations, debate, talks, conference → DISCUSSION

‘dial tone n. [C] the sound you hear when you pick up a telephone, that lets you know that you can make a call di-am-e-ter /daɪˈæmətə/ n. [C,U] MATH a line or measurement from one side of a circle or SPHERE to the other, that passes through the center: a wheel two feet in diameter [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old

French diametre, from Greek diametros “measure across”] → *see picture at CIRCLE*¹

di-a-met-ri-cally /ˌdaɪəˈmetrɪkli/ adv. di-a-metrically opposed/opposite completely different or opposite: We have diametrically opposed views on raising children.

di-a-mond /ˈdaɪmənd, ˈdaɪə-/ n. 1 [C,U] a clear very hard valuable stone, used in jewelry and in industry: a diamond ring 2 [C] a shape with four straight sides of equal length that stands on one of its points 3 [C] a playing card with red diamond shapes on it → see picture at PLAYING CARD 4 [C] a) the area in a baseball field that is within the shape formed by the four BASES b) the whole playing field used in baseball [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French diamant “hard metal, diamond,” from Greek adamas] di-a-per /ˈdaɪpə, ˈdaɪə-/ n. [C] a piece of material that is put between a baby’s legs and fastened around its waist to hold liquid and solid waste: I think we need to change the baby’s diaper (=put on a new one).

di-aph-a-nous /daɪˈæfənəs/ adj. (literary) diaphanous cloth is so fine and thin that you can almost see through it (SYN) sheer di-a-phragm /ˈdaɪəˌfræm/ n. [C] 1 BIOLOGY the muscle between your lungs and your stomach that controls your breathing 2 a small round rubber object that a woman can put inside her VAGINA to stop her from getting PREGNANT [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Late Latin diaphragma, from Greek diaphrassein “to make a fence across, block”] → see picture at LUNG di-ar-rhe-a /ˌdaɪəˈrɪə/ n. [U] BIOLOGY an illness in which waste from the BOWELS is watery and comes out often di-a-ry /ˈdaɪəri/ n. (plural diaries) [C] a book in which you write down important or interesting things that happen to you each day: I kept a diary (=wrote in it regularly) when I was in high school. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin diarium, from dies “day”]

THESAURUS record, journal, ledger, log (book) → RECORD¹

dice¹ /daɪs/ n. 1 the plural form of DIE: Jeanie rolled the dice. 2 no dice (spoken) said when you refuse to do something: I asked if I could borrow the car, but she said no dice.

dice² v. [T] to cut food into small square pieces: Dice the carrots.

THESAURUS cut, chop (up), slice, peel, carve, shred, grate → CUT¹

→ *see picture at CUT*¹

dic-ey /ˈdaɪsi/ adj. (informal) risky and possibly dangerous: a dicey situation di-cot-y-le-don /ˌdaɪkəˈtɒlɪdn/ also di-cot /ˈdaɪkət/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a type of plant that has seeds which produce two COTYLEDONS (=first leaves) when it first starts to grow → MONOCOTYLEDON dic-tate /ˈdɪkteɪt, dɪk'tet/ v. 1 [I,T] to say words for someone else to write down: She dictated a letter to her secretary. 2 [I,T] to tell someone exactly what s/he must do: You can't dictate how I should live my life! 3 [T] to influence or control something: Where I go on vacation will be dictated by the amount of money I've saved. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin dictare “to say often, say firmly,” from dicere “to say”]

dic-ta-tion /dɪk'teɪʃən/ n. 1 [U] the act of saying words for someone to write down 2 [C] sentences that a teacher reads out to test your ability to hear and write the words correctly: Dictations are the hardest part of learning French.

dic-ta-tor /ˈdɪkteɪtə/ n. [C] a leader of a country who controls everything, and who usually has gained power by force —dictatorial /ˌdɪktə'tɔːriəl/ adj.

dic-ta-tor-ship /dɪk'teɪtəʃɪp, 'dɪkteɪtə-/ n. 1 [U] government by a dictator 2 [C] a country ruled by a dictator

THESAURUS government, democracy, republic, monarchy, regime, totalitarian country/state etc., police state → GOVERNMENT

dic-tion /ˈdɪkʃən/ n. [U] 1 the way in which someone pronounces words 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS the choice and use of words and phrases to express meaning, especially in literature or poetry dic-tion-ary /ˈdɪkʃənəri/ n. (plural dictionaries) [C] a book that gives a list of words in alphabetical order, and explains their meanings in the same or another language: a Spanish-English dictionary [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Medieval Latin dictionarium, from Late Latin dictio “word”] did /dɪd/ v. the past tense of DO di-dac-tic /daɪ'dæktɪk/ adj. (formal) speech or writing that is didactic is intended to teach people a lesson did-n't /ˈdɪdnt/ v. the short form of “did not”: She didn't have enough money.

die /daɪ/ v. (past tense and past participle died, present participle dying) [I] 1 to stop living → DEAD, DEATH: She was afraid her son would die. | Mrs. Chen died off/from (=because of) heart disease. | Mary died peacefully in her sleep. 2 to disappear or stop existing: The hope that her husband would return never died. 3 (informal) if a machine or motor dies, it stops working: I was going down a hill when my car died.

SPOKEN PHRASES

4 be dying to do something to want to do something very much: I'm dying to meet her brother. 5 be to die for if something is to die for, it is extremely good: Max's chocolate cake is to die for! 6 die laughing to laugh a lot: When Alex fell off the stage, I almost died laughing. 7 I could have died also I almost died said when you are very surprised or embarrassed: I could've died when Ed said that!

die away phr. v. if a sound dies away, it becomes weaker and then stops die down phr. v. to become less strong or violent: The wind finally died down this morning.

die off phr. v. to die one at a time until none is left: All the elm trees are dying off.

die out phr. v. to disappear or stop existing completely: The last bears in this area died out 100 years ago.

die² n. (plural dice /daɪs/) [C] one of two or more small blocks of wood, plastic, etc. with a different number of spots on each side, used in games die-hard, die-hard /ˈdaɪhɑːd/ adj. (informal) 1 opposing change and refusing to accept new ideas: a diehard opponent of free speech 2 diehard fan/communist/supporter etc. someone who is very loyal to a team, political party, person, etc.: a diehard Dodgers fan di-er-e-sis /daɪ'eresɪs/ n. (plural diereses /-rəsɪz/) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a sign that is put over the second of two vowels to show that it is pronounced separately from the first, for example in the word “naïve” die-sel /ˈdɪzəl/ also 'diesel fuel n. [U] a type of FUEL used instead of gas in a special type of engine [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 Rudolf Diesel (1858–1913), German engineer who invented the engine]

di-et¹ /ˈdaɪət/ n. 1 [C,U] the type of food that you eat each day: Many kids don't get enough fruit in their diet. | The animals live on a diet of fruit and insects. 2 [C] a plan to eat only particular kinds or amounts of food, especially because you want to get thinner or because you have a health problem: a low-fat diet | No dessert for me – I'm on a diet. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French diete, from Greek diaita “way of living, food to be eaten”]

diet² v. [I] to eat less or eat only particular foods in order to lose weight: Jill's always dieting.

dif-fer /ˈdɪfə/ v. [I] 1 to be different: How does the movie differ from the book? 2 (formal) to have different opinions: The two groups differ on/about/over where to have the meeting. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 French différer “to delay, be different,” from Latin differre]

dif-ference /ˈdɪfrəns/ n. 1 [C] a way in which two or more things or people are not like each other: the differences between England and America | Can you tell the difference between the twins (=recognize that they are different)? 2 [singular, U] the fact of not being the same as something else, or an amount by which one thing is not the same as another: What's the difference in price? | There's an age difference of 4 years between the two children. 3 make a difference/make all the difference to have a good effect on a situation or person: Swimming twice a week can make a big difference in the way you feel. 4 make no difference to be unimportant or to have no effect: It makes no difference to me whether we win by one goal or ten. 5 have your differences to have disagreements with someone: My sister and I have always had our differences. 6 difference of opinion a disagreement: Perkins left his job because of a difference of opinion with his boss.

dif-fer-ent /ˈdɪfrənt/ adj. 1 not like something or someone else, or not the same as before: Did you get a haircut? You look different. | Anna is different from most kids at her school. | Writing for films is different than writing plays. 2 separate: The bookstore has a lot of different books about Kennedy. 3 (spoken) unusual, often in a way that you do not like: "How do you like my shirt?" "Well, it's different."

GRAMMAR

different from, different than

You can use different from or different than to talk about two things that are not the same. However, most teachers prefer different from.

—differently adv.

dif-fer-en-ti-ate /ˈdɪfəˈrenʃi,et/ (Ac) v. 1 [I,T] to recognize or express the difference between things or people: It was difficult for him to differentiate between light and dark. 2 [T] to make one thing different from another: We try to differentiate our products from those of the competitors. —differentiation /ˌdɪfəˈrenʃiˈeɪʃən/ n. [U]

dif-fi-cult /ˈdɪfəˌkʌlt/ adj. 1 not easy to do or understand: a difficult question | She finds math difficult.

THESAURUS

hard – making you tired because you have to use a lot of physical or mental effort: I've had a long hard day. | The midterms were harder than I expected.

tough – very difficult to do or deal with: They asked some tough questions at the interview. | a tough decision awkward – difficult to deal with or handle: The big pieces of wood were awkward to handle.

challenging – difficult in a way that is interesting and enjoyable: The class is intended to be challenging for students.

demanding – a demanding job needs a lot of time, effort, and skill: Being a nurse is a demanding job.

arduous (written) – long and tiring, and needing a lot of effort: a long and arduous trip complicated/complex – difficult to understand because of having a lot of different parts: The rules of the game are very complicated. | a complex issue

2 involving a lot of problems and causing trouble: This past year has been a very difficult time in my life. | The bus strike is making life/things difficult for commuters. 3 someone who is difficult is never satisfied, friendly, or pleased dif-fi-cul-ty /ˈdɪfɪˌkʌlti/ n. (plural difficulties) 1 [C usually plural, U] a problem, or something that causes trouble: Peter's having difficulty in finding a job. | She walks with great difficulty. | Their business is in financial difficulty. | We ran into difficulties (=had trouble) buying the house.

THESAURUS problem, setback, snag, hitch, trouble, hassle → PROBLEM

2 [U] the state of being hard to do or understand: The books vary in level of difficulty. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin difficultas, from difficilis “difficult,” from facilis “easy”] dif-fi-dent /ˈdɪfədənt/ adj. (formal) shy and not wanting to make people notice you or talk about you, because you lack confidence: a diffident young man —diffidence n. [U] —diffidently adv.

dif-frac-tion /dɪˈfrækʃən/ n. [U] PHYSICS the process or result of dividing sound or light waves into smaller waves, by sending them around something or through a small hole —diffract /dɪˈfrækt/ v. [I,T] dif-fuse¹ /dɪˈfjuːs/ adj. spread over a large area or in many places: a large and diffuse organization

dif-fuse² /dɪˈfjuːz/ v. (formal) 1 [T] to make a bad feeling less strong: Mara told jokes to diffuse the tension. 2 [I,T] to make ideas, information, etc. available to many people: The language was diffused throughout the Balkans and into central Europe. 3 [I,T] to make heat, light, liquid, etc. spread through something, or to spread like this: Smoke diffused into the living room and got into the carpet.

dif-fu-sion /dɪˈfyuːʒən/ n. [U] 1 the process of spreading over a large area 2 PHYSICS a process in which light spreads in many directions when it is REFLECTED from an uneven surface or moves through a material 3 PHYSICS a process in which substances become completely mixed because of movement of their PARTICLES

dig¹ /dɪg/ v. (past tense and past participle dug /dʌg/, present participle digging) 1 [I,T] to break up and move earth, stone, snow, etc. with a tool, your hands, or a machine: The kids enjoyed digging in the sand. | She dug a hole and threw some seeds in it. | The company began digging for minerals many years ago. 2 [I] to move many things such as papers, boxes, rocks, or clothing in order to find something: She dug through her purse, looking for her keys. 3 dig yourself (into) a hole to do or say something that makes a problem or situation so bad that it is difficult to make it better: The mayor dug himself into a hole when he promised 3,000 new jobs. 4 [T] (spoken) to like something or someone: You really dig her; don't you?

dig in phr. v. (spoken) to start eating food that is in front of you: Come on, everyone – dig in!

dig (sth) into sth phr. v. to push hard into something, or to make something do this: She dug her fingernails into my arm.

dig sth ↔ out phr. v. 1 to get someone or something out of a place using a tool, your hands, or a machine: We had to dig our car out after the blizzard. 2 to find something that you have not seen for a long time, or that is not easy to find: Mom dug out her wedding dress and showed it to us.

dig sth ↔ up phr. v. 1 to remove something from under the ground with a tool, your hands, or a machine: Police dug up the missing man's body from the yard. 2 (informal) to find hidden or forgotten information by careful searching: See what you can dig up on this guy Stark.

D dig² n. [C] 1 an unkind thing you say to annoy someone: Greene's remark was meant to be a dig at his opponent. 2 a small quick push that you give someone with your finger or elbow: a dig in the ribs 3 the process of digging in a place in order to find ancient objects to study di-gest¹ /dar'dʒest, dɪ-/ v. [I,T] 1 if food digests, or if you digest it, it changes in the stomach into a form your body can use: Some babies can't digest cow's milk. 2 to understand something after thinking about it carefully: He'll need some time to digest the news.

di-gest² /'dardʒest/ n. [C] a short piece of writing that gives the most important facts from a book, report, etc.

di-ges-tion /dar'dʒestʃən, dɪ-/ n. [C,U] the process or ability to digest food —digestive adj.: digestive problems dig-it /'dɪdʒɪt/ n. [C] 1 a written sign that represents any of the numbers from 0 to 9: a seven-digit phone number 2 (formal) a finger or toe [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin digitus “finger, toe”] dig-i-tal /'dɪdʒɪtl/ adj. 1 giving information in the form of numbers: a digital clock 2 IT using a system in which information is represented in the form of numbers: a digital camera —digitally adv.

dig-ni-fied /'dɪgnəˌfaɪd/ adj. calm, serious, and making people feel respect: a dignified leader dig-ni-tar-y /'dɪgnəˌtəri/ n. (plural dignitaries) [C] someone who has an important official position: foreign dignitaries

dig-ni-ty /'dɪgnəti/ n. [U] 1 calm serious behavior, even in difficult situations, that makes people respect you: a woman of compassion and dignity | She spoke with courage and dignity. 2 the quality of being serious and formal: Lawyers must respect the dignity of the court. [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French dignité, from Latin dignitas “worth”] di-gress /dar'gres, dɪ-/ v. [I] (formal) to begin talking about something that is not related to the subject you were talking about —digression /dar'greʃən/ n. [C,U] di-lap-i-dat-ed /də'læpəˌdeɪtɪd/ adj. old, broken, and in very bad condition: a dilapidated church [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin dilapidare

“to scatter like stones, misuse, destroy,” from lapidare “to throw stones”] —dilapidation /dɪˌlæpəˈdeɪʃən/ n. [U] di-late /dar'leɪt, 'daɪleɪt/ v. [I,T] to become wider or more open, or to cause something to do this: Her eyes were dilated and her face was red. —dilation /daɪˈleɪʃən/ n. [U]

dil-a-to-ry /'dɪləˌtɔːri/ adj. (formal) slow and tending to delay decisions or actions di-lem-ma /dəˈlemə/ n. [C] a situation in which you have to make a difficult choice between two or more actions: We're in a dilemma about whether to move or not. | a moral dilemma [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Greek “double statement,” from lemma “statement”]

dil-i-gent /'dɪlədʒənt/ adj. 1 someone who is diligent always works hard and carefully: a diligent student 2 done in a careful and thorough way: diligent research [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French, Latin, present participle of diligere “to put high value on, love”] —diligence n. [U] —diligently adv.

dill /dɪl/ n. [U] a plant whose seeds and leaves are used in cooking di-lute /dɪˈlut, daɪ-/ v. [T] to make a liquid weaker by adding water or another liquid: Dilute the paint with oil. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin dilutus, past participle of diluere “to wash away”] —diluted adj. —dilution /daɪˈluʃən, dɪ-/ n. [C,U] di-lute so-lution n. [C] CHEMISTRY a liquid that contains a SOLUTE (=substance that has mixed with and become part of a liquid)

dim¹ /dɪm/ adj. (comparative dimmer, superlative dimmest) 1 not bright or easy to see well: a dim hallway | The curtains were closed and the light was dim. | the dim outline of a building 2 a dim recollection/awareness etc. something that is difficult for someone to remember, understand, etc.: She only has a dim memory of her parents. 3 take a dim view of sth to disapprove of something —dimly adv.

dim² v. (dimmed, dimming) [I,T] 1 if a light dims, or if you dim it, it becomes less bright: Can you dim the lights? 2 if a feeling or quality dims, or if something dims it, it grows weaker: The painful memory began to dim.

dime /daɪm/ n. [C] 1 a coin worth 10 cents (=1/10 of a dollar), used in the U.S. and Canada

THESAURUS money, bill, coin, penny, nickel, quarter → MONEY

2 a dime a dozen (informal) very common and not valuable: Jobs like his are a dime a dozen. 3 stop/park/turn on a dime to stop, park, etc. within a small area di-men-sion /dɪ'menʃən, daɪ-/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 a part of a situation that affects the way you think about it: The baby added a new dimension to our life. | Because the boat sank in Cuban waters, there is a political dimension to the incident. 2 a measurement of something in length, height, or width 3 dimensions [plural] a) the measurement or size of something: What are the dimensions of the room? b) how great or serious a problem is: The government needs to recognize the full dimensions of the problem. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin dimetiri “to measure out”]

'dime store n. [C] a store that sells different types of cheap things, especially for the house

di-min-ish /dɪ'mɪnɪʃ/ (Ac) v. [I,T] to become smaller or less important, or to make something do this: The show's audience has slowly diminished. | The tobacco companies tried to diminish the significance of the findings. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 diminue (14—16 centuries), from Old French diminuer, from Latin minuere “to make less”]

THESAURUS decrease, go down, drop, fall, plummet, decline, dwindle → DECREASE¹ dim-i-nu-tion /dɪmə'nuʃən/ (Ac) n. [C,U] (formal) a reduction in the size, number, or amount of something di-min-u-tive /dɪ'mɪnyətɪv/ adj. (formal) very small: a diminutive man

THESAURUS small, little, tiny, minute, miniature, minuscule, petite → SMALL dim-ple /'dɪmpəl/ n. [C] a small hollow place on your cheek or chin, especially one that forms when you smile —dimpled adj.

din /dɪn/ n. [singular, U] (literary) a loud, continuous, and annoying noise dine /daɪn/ v. [I] (formal) to eat dinner dine on sth phr. v. (formal) to eat a particular type of food for dinner, especially expensive food: We dined on shrimp and pasta.

dine out phr. v. (formal) to eat in a restaurant din-er /'daɪnə-/ n. [C] 1 a small restaurant that serves cheap meals

THESAURUS restaurant, cafe/coffee shop, fast food restaurant, cafeteria → RESTAURANT

2 someone who is eating in a restaurant ding-dong /'dɪŋ dɒŋ, -dʌŋ/ n. [U] the noise made by a bell ding-gy /'dɪŋdʒi/ adj. a dingy room, street, or place is dirty and in bad condition: dingy offices

'dining room n. [C] a room where you eat meals in a house din-ner /'dɪnə-/ n. 1 [C,U] the main meal of the day, usually eaten in the evening: We had fish for dinner. | My aunt invited me for Thanksgiving dinner. 2 [C] a formal occasion when an evening meal is eaten, often to celebrate something: There was a dinner in honor of his retirement. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French diner, from diner “to eat”] din-ner-time /'dɪnə,tʌɪm/ n. [U] the time when most people eat dinner, usually between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m.

di-no-saur /'daɪnə,sɔː/ n. [C] a very large animal that lived millions of years ago and no longer exists [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Greek deinos “terrible” + sauros “lizard”] di-ode /'daɪəʊd/ n. [C] PHYSICS a piece of electrical equipment that makes an electrical current flow in one direction

dip¹ /dɪp/ v. (dipped, dipping) 1 [T] to put something into a liquid and quickly lift it out again: Janet dipped her feet into the water. | strawberries dipped in chocolate 2 [I] (informal) to go down or become lower: The temperature could dip down to the 20s tonight.

dip into sth phr. v. to use some of an amount of money that you have: Medical bills forced her to dip into her savings.

dip² n. 1 [C,U] a thick mixture that you can dip food into before you eat it: a cheese dip 2 [C] an occasion when the level or amount of something becomes lower: a dip in prices 3 [C] a place where the surface of something goes down suddenly, and then goes up again: a dip in the road 4 [C] (informal) a quick swim: Is there time for a dip in the pool before lunch?

diph-the-ri-a /dɪf'θɪriə, dɪp-/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a serious infectious throat disease that makes breathing difficult diph-thong /'dɪfθŋ, 'dɪp-/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a vowel sound made by pronouncing two vowels quickly one after the other. For example, the vowel sound in “my” is a diphthong [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French, Late Latin diphthongus “two sounds,” from Greek phthongos “voice, sound”]

D dip-loid /'dɪplɔɪd/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a cell or ORGANISM that contains two complete sets of CHROMOSOMES, one from each parent —diploid adj.

di-plo-ma /dr'plɒmə/ n. [C] an official paper showing that someone has successfully finished his/her HIGH SCHOOL or college education: a high school diploma [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin “passport, diploma,” from Greek, “folded paper”] di-plo-ma-cy /dr'plɒməsi/ n. [U] 1 the management of political relations between countries: an expert at international diplomacy 2 skill in dealing with people and difficult situations successfully: I would have handled the situation with a little more diplomacy.

dip-lo-mat /'dɪplə,mæt/ n. [C] someone who officially represents his/her government in a foreign country dip-lo-mat-ic /,dɪplə'mætɪk/ adj. 1 relating to the work of diplomats: Feingold plans to join the diplomatic service. 2 good at dealing with people politely and skillfully without upsetting them: She tried to be diplomatic, but I could tell she was upset. —diplomatically adv.

dip-stick /'dɪpstɪk/ n. [C] a stick used for measuring the amount of liquid in a container, such as oil in a car's engine dire /daɪə/ adj. 1 extremely serious or terrible: Officials say the situation is not as dire as they first thought. | The country is in dire need of food aid. 2 be in dire straits to be in an extremely difficult or serious situation di-rect' /də'rekt, daɪ-/ adj. 1 done without involving other people, actions, processes, etc. (ANT) indirect: He has direct access to the president. 2 going straight from one place to another, without stopping or changing direction: What's the most direct route to the airport? 3 saying exactly what you mean in an honest and clear way (ANT) indirect: The senator avoided giving direct answers to reporters' questions.

THESAURUS honest, frank, candid, upfront, straight, straightforward, blunt, forthright → HONEST

4 likely to change something immediately (ANT) indirect: This job allows me to have a direct impact on people's lives. 5 exact or total: a direct translation from Spanish —directness n. [U]

direct² v. [T] 1 to aim something in a particular direction or at a particular person, group, etc.: My remark was directed at Tom, not you. | He directed the light toward the house. 2 to be in charge of something: Hanley was asked to direct the investigation. 3 to give actors in a play, movie, etc. instructions about what to do: In 1977, Scott directed his first movie. 4 (formal) to tell someone the way to a place: He directed me to the airport.

THESAURUS lead, guide, point, show, escort, usher → LEAD¹ direct³ adv. 1 without stopping or changing direction: You can fly direct from Seattle to Nashville. 2 without dealing with anyone else first: You'll have to contact the manager direct.

di,rect 'current n. [U] PHYSICS abbreviation DC a flow of electricity that moves in one direction only, for example the current produced by a BATTERY → ALTERNATING CURRENT di,rect de'posit n. [U] a method of paying someone's salary directly into his/her bank account —direct deposit v. [T]

di-rec-tion /də'rekʃən, daɪ-/ n. 1 [C] the way someone or something is moving, facing, or aimed: Brian drove off in the direction of (=toward) the party. | As she walked along the trail, she saw a large man coming in the opposite direction. 2 [C] the general way in which someone or something changes or develops: Suddenly the conversation changed direction. 3 directions [plural] instructions about how to go from one place to another, or about how to do something: Could you give me directions to the airport? | Read the directions at the top of the page. 4 [U] control, management, or helpful advice: The company's been successful under Martini's direction. 5 [U] a general purpose or aim: Sometimes I feel that my life lacks direction. 6 sense of direction the ability to know which way to go in a place you do not know well 7 [U] the instructions given to actors and other people in a play, movie, etc.

di-rec-tive /də'rektɪv/ n. [C] an official order or instruction to do something di-rect-ly /də'rektli, daɪ-/ adv. 1 with no other person, action, process, etc. involved: McNealy will report directly to the new sales manager. 2 exactly: Lucas sat directly behind us.

direct 'object n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, the person or thing that is affected by the action of the verb in a sentence. For example, in the sentence “Sheila closed the door,” “door” is the direct object. → INDIRECT OBJECT di-rec-tor /də'rektə, daɪ-/ n. [C] 1 someone who gives instructions to actors and other people in a movie or play → MOVIE 2 someone who controls or manages a company, organization, or activity: Her new job is marketing director of Sun Life.

di-rec-to-ry /də'rektəri, daɪ-/ n. (plural directories) [C] 1 a book or list of names, facts, events, etc., usually arranged in alphabetical order: the telephone directory 2 IT a place in a computer where FILES or programs are organized direct 'speech n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the style of writing used to report what someone says by giving the actual words that were spoken. The sentence "Julie said, 'I don't want to go.'" is an example of direct speech. → REPORTED SPEECH direct variation n. [U] MATH a relationship between two VARIABLES (=mathematical quantities that can represent any of several different amounts), in which, if one variable increases or decreases, the other variable increases or decreases by the same amount or to the same degree. Direct variation can be shown by the expression $y = kx$, where k is a quantity that stays the same.

dirge /dɜːdʒ/ n. [C] a slow sad song, especially one that is sung or played at a funeral dirt /dɜːt/ n. [U] 1 earth or soil: a dirt road 2 any substance, such as dust or mud, that makes things not clean → DIRTY: The floor was covered with dirt! 3 (informal) information about someone's private life or activities that might give people a bad opinion about him/her [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old Norse drit] dirt 'cheap adj., adv. (informal) extremely cheap: We bought this house when it was dirt cheap.

dirt-y /'dɜːti/ adj. (comparative dirtier, superlative dirtiest) 1 not clean, or covered in dirt: dirty dishes in the sink | How did your shoes get so dirty?

THESAURUS

filthy – very dirty: The carpet was filthy.
dusty – covered with dust: piles of dusty books muddy – covered in mud: muddy hiking boots greasy – covered with a lot of oil or grease (=an oily substance): greasy fingerprints on the table grimy – covered in thick black dirt: a farmer's grimy hands soiled (formal) – made dirty, especially by waste from your body: a soiled diaper polluted – used about air, land, or water that has been made dirty: a polluted river

2 relating to sex, in a way that is considered bad or immoral: dirty jokes | students who use dirty words in class 3 unfair or dishonest and intended to harm someone: a dirty fighter 4 do sb's dirty work to do a bad or dishonest job for someone so that s/he does not have to do it himself/herself: I told them to do their own dirty work.

dirty² v. (dirtied, dirties) [T] to make something dirty dis /dɪs/ v. (dissed, disses, dissing) [T] (informal) to make unfair and unkind remarks about someone dis-a-bil-i-ty /,dɪsə'bɪləti/ n. (plural disabilities) [C,U] a physical or mental condition that makes it difficult for someone to do the things most people are able to do: Her disability prevented her from getting a driver's license. | learning to live with disability

dis-a-bled /dɪs'eɪbld/ adj. 1 someone who is disabled cannot use a part of his/her body in a way that most people can: a disabled worker 2 the disabled people who are disabled: The bank has an entrance for the disabled.

dis-ad-van-tage /,dɪsəd'væntɪdʒ/ n. 1 [C,U] something that may make someone less successful than other people → ADVANTAGE: Your main disadvantage is lack of experience. | I was at a disadvantage because I didn't speak Spanish. 2 [C] something that is not good or causes problems: The only disadvantage of the job is the traveling.

THESAURUS

drawback – a disadvantage that makes something seem less attractive: It's an excellent camera. The only drawback is the price.
downside – the main disadvantage of something, which in other ways seems good: I like the job, but the downside is that I have to get up at five to get to work.
catch (spoken) – a hidden disadvantage: It sounded like a great investment, but I knew there had to be a catch somewhere.
bad point (especially spoken) – a bad feature of something: Every area has its good and bad points.

dis-ad-van-taged /,dɪsəd'væntɪdʒd/ adj. someone who is disadvantaged has social problems, such as a lack of money or education, that make it difficult for him/her to succeed: a program for disadvantaged students

THESAURUS

poor, needy, destitute, impoverished, underprivileged, deprived → POOR dis-ad-van-ta-geous /,dɪsəd'væntɪdʒəs, -vən-/ adj. unfavorable and likely to cause you problems (ANT) advantageous dis-af-fect-ed /,dɪsə'fɛktɪd/ adj. no longer loyal because you are not satisfied with your leader, ruler, etc.: Candidates are trying to attract disaffected voters. —disaffection /,dɪsə'fɛkʃən/ n. [U]

dis-a-gree /,dɪsə'gri/ v. [I] 1 to have or express a different opinion from someone else: Roth doesn't like anybody who disagrees with him. | We disagree about the best way to solve the problem. | Doctors disagree on the best way to treat the disease.

THESAURUS

be divided/split – if a group of people are divided or split about something, they have very different opinions about it: The country was deeply divided about the war.
opinions differ – if opinions differ about something, people have a range of different opinions about it: Opinions differ among scientists about the causes of the disease.
dispute – to say that you think that something is not correct or not true: Many people would dispute these claims.

dissent – to say that you disagree with an opinion or decision that most other people agree with: Only one of the nine judges dissented from the decision.

2 if statements or reports about the same thing disagree, they are different from each other disagree with sb phr. v. if food disagrees with you, it makes you feel sick dis-a-gree-a-ble /ˌdɪsəˈɡriːəbəl/ adj. 1 not enjoyable or pleasant: a disagreeable incident 2 unfriendly and in a bad mood: a disagreeable person dis-a-gree-ment /ˌdɪsəˈɡriːmənt/ n. 1 [C,U] a situation in which people express different opinions about something and sometimes argue: We had a disagreement with our neighbors. | a disagreement between the two countries | There was a slight disagreement over who should pay the bill. 2 [U] differences between two statements, reports, etc. that should be similar: There was major disagreement between the witnesses' statements.

dis-al-low /ˌdɪsəˈlaʊ/ v. [T] (formal) to officially refuse to allow something because a rule has been broken: The touchdown was disallowed.

dis-ap-pear /ˌdɪsəˈpiər/ v. [I] 1 to become impossible to see anymore: The scars will disappear in a year or two. | The cat had disappeared under the couch. 2 to become impossible to find, or to be lost: The plane mysteriously disappeared while flying over the Atlantic. 3 to stop existing: Many species of plants and animals disappear every year. —disappearance n. [C,U] dis-ap-point /ˌdɪsəˈpɔɪnt/ v. [T] to make someone unhappy because something s/he hoped for does not happen or is not as good as s/he expected: I'm sorry to disappoint you, but the trip is canceled.

dis-ap-point-ed /ˌdɪsəˈpɔɪntɪd/ adj. unhappy because something you hoped for did not happen, or because something or someone was not as good as you expected: We're disappointed (that) the director is unable to attend. | She was disappointed with the election results. | I've been disappointed in his work.

dis-ap-point-ing /ˌdɪsəˈpɔɪntɪŋ/ adj. not as good as you expected or hoped something would be: disappointing sales —disappointingly adv.

dis-ap-point-ment /ˌdɪsəˈpɔɪntˈmənt/ n. 1 [U] a feeling of sadness because something is not as good as you expected or has not happened: his disappointment at not being chosen for the job | Labor unions expressed their disappointment with the president's proposal. | She tried to hide her disappointment. 2 [C] someone or something that is not as good as you hoped or expected: Her new book was a big/major/real disappointment. | Kate feels like she's a disappointment to her family.

dis-ap-prov-al /ˌdɪsəˈprʊvəl/ n. [U] a feeling or opinion that someone is behaving badly or that something is bad: public disapproval of the war | Marion shook her head in disapproval.

dis-ap-prove /ˌdɪsəˈprʊv/ v. [I] to think that something or someone is bad, wrong, etc.: Her parents disapproved of her boyfriend.

dis-arm /dɪsˈɑːrm/ v. 1 [I] to reduce the size of your army, navy, etc. and the number of weapons: Both sides must disarm before the peace talks. 2 [T] to take away someone's weapons: Benson disarmed the man as he tried to rob a liquor store. 3 [T] to make someone less angry and more friendly: She uses humor to disarm people.

dis-ar-ma-ment /dɪsˈɑːrməmənt/ n. [U] the reduction in numbers or size of a country's weapons, army, navy, etc.: plans for nuclear disarmament dis-arm-ing /dɪsˈɑːrmɪŋ/ adj. making you feel less angry and more friendly or trusting: a disarming smile dis-ar-ray /ˌdɪsəˈreɪ/ n. [U] (formal) the state of being messy or not organized: papers in disarray on the desk dis-as-so-ci-ate /ˌdɪsəˈsoʊʃi,et/, -si,et/ v. [T] DISSOCIATE dis-as-ter /dɪˈzæstər/ n. [C,U] 1 a sudden event such as an accident, flood, or storm that causes great harm or damage: The 1889 flood was the most spectacular natural disaster the state had ever seen. | Disaster struck when one rider was hit by a car while cycling. | The town was declared a disaster area after the floods.

THESAURUS accident, catastrophe, mishap → ACCIDENT

2 a complete failure: The party was a total disaster. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French désastre, from Italian disastro, from dis “not” + astro “star” (from the idea of luck coming from the stars)] dis-as-trous /dɪˈzæstrəs/ adj. very bad, or ending in failure: a disastrous marriage —disastrously adv.

dis-a-vow /ˌdɪsəˈvaʊ/ v. [T] (formal) to say that you are not responsible for something, or that you do not know about it: The President has disavowed any knowledge of the affair. —disavowal n. [C,U] dis-band /dɪsˈbænd/ v. [I,T] (formal) to stop existing as an organization, or to make something do this dis-be-lief /dɪsbəˈlif/ n. [U] a feeling that something is not true or does not exist: Linder shook his head in disbelief. —disbelieving adj.

disc /dɪsk/ n. [C] another spelling of DISK dis-card /dɪˈskɑːrd/ v. [T] to get rid of something: discarding old clothes dis-cern /dɪˈsɜːn, dɪˈzɜːn/ v. [T] (formal) to see, notice, or understand something by looking at it or thinking about it carefully: Walters couldn't discern any difference between the two plants.

—discernible adj. —discernibly adv.

dis-cern-ing /dɪ'sɜːnɪŋ, -'zɜː-/ adj. able to make good judgments about people, styles, and things: the discerning traveler's guide to the Southeast dis-charge¹ /dɪs'tʃɑːdʒ/ v. 1 [T] to officially allow someone to go or to send him/her away from a place: Blanton was discharged from the hospital last night. 2 [I,T] to send, pour, or let out a substance: Chemicals were being discharged into a nearby river. 3 [I,T] (formal) if you discharge a gun, or if it discharges, it shoots a bullet dis-charge² /dɪs'tʃɑːdʒ/ n. [U] 1 the official action of sending someone or something away, especially from a hospital or the military: After his discharge from the army, he got married. 2 a substance that comes out of something, especially a wound or part of your body dis-ci-ple /dɪ'saɪpəl/ n. [C] 1 a follower of a religious teacher, especially one of the 12 original followers of Jesus Christ 2 a follower of any great leader or teacher: a disciple of Gandhi [ORIGIN: 800—900 Latin discipulus “pupil”] dis-ci-pli-nar-i-an /dɪsəplə'neriən/ n. [C] someone who believes that people should obey rules, and who makes them do this: Sam's father is a strict disciplinarian.

dis-ci-plin-a-ry /dɪsəplə'neri/ adj. relating to trying to make someone obey rules, or to the punishment of someone who has not obeyed rules: disciplinary problems

dis-ci-pline¹ /dɪsəplɪn/ n. 1 [U] controlled behavior in which people obey rules and orders: maintaining discipline in the classroom | military discipline | serious discipline problems in the police force 2 [U] the ability to control your own behavior and way of working: Writing requires discipline. | It takes a lot of self-discipline to work from home. 3 [U] punishment for not obeying rules: Employees who joined the strike face discipline. 4 [C] (formal) an area of knowledge or teaching [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French descepline, from Latin disciplina “teaching, learning”] discipline² v. [T] 1 to punish someone: The staff members were disciplined for their carelessness. 2 to train someone to obey rules and control his/her own behavior: Working in a bakery has disciplined Joe to get up early.

dis-claim-er /dɪs'kleɪmər/ n. [C] (formal) a statement saying that you are not responsible for something or do not know about something, often used in advertising dis-close /dɪs'kləʊz/ v. [T] to make something known publicly: GM did not disclose details of the agreement. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old French desclore, from Medieval Latin disclaudere “to open”] dis-clo-sure /dɪs'kləʊʒər/ n. [C,U] a secret that someone tells people, or the act of telling this secret: the disclosure of state secrets dis-co /'dɪskəʊ/ n. (plural discos) 1 [U] a type of dance music with a strong repeating beat that was first popular in the 1970s 2 [C] a place where people dance to recorded popular music dis-col-or /dɪs'kʌlə/ v. [I,T] to change color, or to make something change color, so that it looks unattractive: His teeth were discolored from smoking. —discoloration /dɪs,kʌlə'reɪʃən/ n. [C,U] dis-com-fit /dɪs'kʌmfɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to make someone feel uncomfortable, annoyed, or embarrassed [SYN] unsettle: Her comment dis-com-fited her husband. —discomfited adj. —discomfitting adj. —discomfiture /dɪs'kʌmfɪtʃər/ n. [U]

dis-com-fort /dɪs'kʌmfət/ n. 1 [U] slight pain or a bad feeling: We need to treat the disease without increasing the discomfort of the patient. 2 [C] something that makes you uncomfortable: the discomforts of long-distance travel 3 [U] a feeling of embarrassment, shame, or worry: She could sense his discomfort at having to speak in front of a large group.

dis-con-cert-ing /dɪskən'sɜːtɪŋ/ adj. making you feel slightly embarrassed, confused, or worried: It was disconcerting to be watched while I worked. —disconcert v. [T] —disconcerted adj.

dis-con-nect /dɪskə'nekt/ v. 1 [I,T] to separate something from the thing it is connected to, or to become separated: Disconnect the cables before you move the computer. 2 [T] to remove the supply of power to something such as a telephone line, building, or machine: I tried to call, but the phone had been disconnected. —disconnection /dɪskə'nekʃən/ n. [C,U] dis-con-tent /dɪskən'tent/ n. [U] a feeling of not being happy or satisfied —discontented adj.

dis-con-tin-ue /dɪskən'tɪnyu/ v. [T] to stop doing or providing something: Five bus routes will be discontinued. —discontinuation /dɪskən,tɪnyu'eɪʃən/ n. [U] dis-cord /'dɪskərd/ n. [U] (formal) disagreement between people: marital discord dis-cor-dant /dɪs'kɔːdnt/ adj. 1 (literary) seeming strange, wrong, or inappropriate in relation to everything around it: the discordant images in her pictures 2 (formal) not in agreement: The two experiments gave us discordant results. 3 made up of musical notes that do not go together well: discordant, jarring music

dis-count¹ /'dɪskaʊnt/ n. [C] a reduction in the usual price of something: He says he can get me a discount on a new computer. | a discount of 25% | I saved $20 with my employee discount. | a discount store

dis-count² /dɪs'kaʊnt/ v. [T] 1 to reduce the price of something: Flights to Florida have been deeply discounted. 2 to regard something as unlikely to be true or important: Scientists discounted his method of predicting earthquakes.

dis-cour-age /dɪ'skʌrɪdʒ, -'skʌr-/ v. [T] 1 to persuade someone not to do something, especially by making it seem difficult or bad (ANT) encourage: Keith's mother tried to discourage him from joining the navy. 2 to make someone less confident or less willing to do something (ANT) encourage: His failure to find a job did not discourage him. 3 to make something become less likely to happen (ANT) encourage: Put the plant in a cold room to discourage growth.

D

dis-cour-aged /dɪ'skʌrɪdʒd, -'skʌr-/ adj. no longer having the confidence you need to continue doing something: Children may get discouraged if they are criticized too often.

dis-cour-age-ment /dɪ'skʌrɪdʒmənt, -'skʌr-/ n. 1 [C,U] a feeling of being discouraged 2 [U] the act of trying to discourage someone from doing something dis-cour-a-ging /dɪ'skʌrɪdʒɪŋ, -'skʌr-/ adj. making you lose the confidence you need to continue doing something: It was very discouraging to see my sister do it so easily.

dis-course /'dɪskɔːs/ n. [U] serious conversation between people: a chance for meaningful discourse between the two leaders dis-cour-te-ous /dɪs'kɜːtɪəs/ adj. (formal) not polite or respectful —discourtesy /dɪs'kɜːtəsi/ n. [C,U] dis-cov-er /dɪ'skʌvə/ v. [T] 1 to find something that was hidden or that people did not know about before: The Vikings may have discovered America long before Columbus.

THESAURUS find, detect, trace, locate, track sb/sth down, turn sth up, unearth → FIND¹

2 to find out something that is a fact, or the answer to a question: Doctors discovered that her left wrist was broken. | Did you ever discover who sent you the flowers? [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French descovrir, from Late Latin discooperire “to uncover”] —discoverer n. [C]

dis-cov-er-y /dɪ'skʌvri, -vəri/ n. (plural discoveries) 1 [C] a fact, thing, or answer to a question that someone discovers: Einstein made an important scientific discovery. | the discovery that bees can communicate with each other 2 [U] the act of finding something that was hidden or not known before: the discovery of gold in 1848

dis-cred-it /dɪs'krɛdɪt/ v. [T] to make people stop trusting or having respect for someone or something: The defense lawyer will try to discredit our witnesses.

dis-creet /dɪ'skriːt/ adj. careful about what you say or do, so that you do not upset or embarrass people: Can you please be discreet about this? —discreetly adv.

dis-crep-an-cy /dɪ'skreɪpənsi/ n. (plural discrepancies) [C,U] a difference between two amounts, details, etc. that should be the same: There were discrepancies in the expense accounts.

dis-crete /dɪ'skriːt/ (Ac) adj. (formal) clearly separate (SYN) distinct: The developing insect passes through several discrete stages.

dis-cre-tion /dɪ'skreɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 the ability to be careful about what you say or do in a particular situation, so that you do not upset or embarrass people: This situation must be handled with discretion. 2 the ability and right to decide what should be done in a particular situation: Pay raises are left to the discretion of the manager. | Prisoners are released at the discretion of the parole board. —discretionary adj.: The president has the discretionary authority to send troops.

dis-crim-i-nate /dɪ'skrɪməˌneɪt/ (Ac) v. 1 [I] to treat one person or group differently from another in an unfair way: a law that discriminates against immigrants | Employers may not discriminate in favor of younger candidates. 2 [I,T] to recognize a difference between things (SYN) differentiate: You must learn to discriminate between facts and opinions. | The test is useful for discriminating those students who have reached a higher level from those at a lower level. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin discriminare “to divide,” from discernere “to separate”] dis-crim-i-nat-ing /dɪ'skrɪməˌneɪtɪŋ/ (Ac) adj. able to judge whether or not something is good quality: customers with discriminating tastes

dis-crim-i-na-tion /dɪ'skrɪməˌneɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 the practice of treating one person or group of people differently from another in an unfair way: The company has been accused of racial/age/sex discrimination. | The law prohibits discrimination against handicapped persons.

THESAURUS prejudice, racism, intolerance, bigotry, sexism, homophobia, anti-Semitism → PREJUDICE¹

2 the ability to judge whether or not something is good quality di-scur-sive /dɪ'skʌsɪv/ adj. discussing many different ideas, facts, etc. rather than keeping to a single subject: a discursive letter —discursively adv. —discursiveness n. [U] dis-cus /'dɪskəs/ n. 1 [C] a heavy flat circular object that people throw as far as possible as a sport 2 the discus the sport of throwing this object

dis-cuss /dɪ'skʌs/ v. [T] 1 to talk about something with someone in order to exchange ideas or decide something: I wanted to discuss my plans with my father. | We need to discuss how to raise money for the project.

THESAURUS talk, have a conversation, chat (with/to sb)/have a chat, converse, visit with sb, gossip → TALK¹

2 to talk or write about a subject in detail: The Roman Empire will be discussed in the next chapter. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin discussus, past participle of discutere “to shake to pieces”]

dis-cus-sion /dɪ'skʌʃən/ n. [C,U] 1 the act of discussing something, or a conversation in which people discuss something: We need to have a discussion about your behavior in class. | The proposal is still under discussion (=being discussed).

THESAURUS

negotiations – official discussions between two groups who are trying to agree on something: Contract negotiations are continuing between the union and the management.

debate – a formal discussion of a subject, during which people express different opinions: the debate between the presidential candidates talks – formal discussions between governments, organizations, etc.: the recent talks on global warming conference – a large formal meeting at which members of an organization, profession, etc. discuss things related to their work: an annual conference for software developers dialogue – a formal discussion between countries or groups in order to solve problems: We want to encourage dialogue between the two nations.

2 a piece of writing about a subject that considers different ideas or opinions about it: The report includes a discussion of global warming.

dis-dain /dɪs'deɪn/ n. [U] (formal) a lack of respect for someone or something because you think he, she, or it is not important or not good enough: Mason's disdain for people without education —disdainful adj.

dis-ease /dr'ziz/ n. [C,U] an illness that affects a person, animal, or plant, with specific SYMPTOMS (=things wrong with your body which show that you have a particular illness): My uncle has heart disease. | Tina suffers from a rare brain disease. | infectious diseases such as tuberculosis [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French desaise, from des “not, without” + aise “relaxed feeling, comfort”] —diseased adj.

THESAURUS

People often use disease and illness to mean the same thing, but it is a disease that actually makes you sick: He suffers from heart disease.

Illness is the state of being sick: Janey missed a lot of school because of illness.

Sickness is a particular type of illness: radiation sickness | motion sickness dis-em-bark /dɪsɪm'bɑ:k/ v. [I] to get off a vehicle such as a ship or airplane —disembarkation /dɪsɪmbar'keɪʃən/ n. [U] dis-em-bod-ied /dɪsɪm'bədɪd/ adj. a disembodied sound or voice comes from someone who cannot be seen dis-en-chant-ed /dɪsɪn'tʃæntɪd/ adj. disappointed with someone or something, and no longer liking or believing in the value of that person or thing: She was becoming disenchanted with her marriage. —disenchantment n. [U] dis-en-fran-chised /dɪsɪn'fræntʃaɪzd/ adj. (formal) not having any rights, especially the right to vote, and not feeling part of society —disenfranchise v. [T] dis-en-gage /dɪsɪn'geɪdʒ/ v. 1 [I,T] if you disengage parts of a machine, the machine stops operating because two parts are separated from each other: Disengage the gears when you park the car. 2 [I] to deliberately stop being involved with a group or activity: Some politicians feel that America should disengage from the United Nations. —disengagement n. [U] dis-en-tan-gle /dɪsɪn'tæŋɡəl/ v. [T] 1 disentangle yourself (from sth) to escape from a difficult situation that you are involved in 2 to separate different ideas or pieces of information that have become confused together: It's very difficult to disentangle fact from fiction in what she's saying.

dis-fa-vor /dɪs'feɪvər/ n. [U] (formal) a feeling of dislike or disapproval dis-fig-ure /dɪs'fɪɡjə/ v. [T] to spoil the appearance of someone or something: His face was badly disfigured in the accident. —disfigurement n. [C,U]

dis-grace¹ /dɪs'ɡreɪs/ n. 1 sth is a disgrace used in order to say that someone or something is very bad or unacceptable: The public schools in the area are a disgrace. | He was a disgrace to the legal profession. 2 [U] the loss of other people's respect because you have done something they strongly disapprove of: Harry left the school in disgrace. | There's no disgrace in trying.

disgrace² v. [T] to do something so bad that people lose respect for your family or for the group you belong to: How could you disgrace us like that?

dis-grace-ful /dɪs'ɡreɪsfəl/ adj. very bad, embarrassing, or unacceptable: Their behavior was absolutely disgraceful.

dis-grun-tled /dɪs'ɡrʌntəld/ adj. annoyed, disappointed, and not satisfied: disgruntled employees dis-guise¹ /dɪs'ɡaɪz/ v. [T] 1 to change your appearance or voice so that people cannot recognize you: She disguised herself as a man. 2 to hide a fact or feeling so that people will not notice it: We can't disguise the fact that the business is losing money. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French desguiser, from guise “appearance”]

THESAURUS hide, conceal, cover/cover up, mask → HIDE¹

disguise² n. [C,U] something that you wear to change your appearance and hide who you really are, or the act of wearing this: She went out in disguise to avoid reporters.

dis-gust¹ /dɪs'gʌst/ n. [U] a strong feeling of dislike and disapproval: Everyone was looking at him with disgust. | He walked out of the meeting in disgust.

disgust² v. [T] to make someone feel very annoyed or upset about something that is not acceptable —disgusted adj.: We felt disgusted by the way we'd been treated.

dis-gust-ing /dɪs'gʌstɪŋ/ adj. 1 shocking and unacceptable: The way he treats her is disgusting. 2 extremely unpleasant and making you feel sick: a disgusting smell

D

THESAURUS horrible, awful, revolting, foul, terrible, dreadful, horrendous → HORRIBLE

—disgustingly adv.

THESAURUS hurt, injure, wound, maim, break, bruise, sprain, twist, strain, pull → HURT¹

dish¹ /dɪʃ/ n. [C] 1 a round container with low sides, used for holding food → PLATE, BOWL: a serving dish 2 dishes [plural] all the plates, cups, bowls, etc. that are used during a meal: Who's going to do/wash the dishes? 3 food cooked or prepared in a particular way: a wonderful pasta dish | You can serve this soup as a main dish (=the biggest part of a meal). [ORIGIN: Old English disc, from Latin discus “disk, plate”]

dish² v.

dish sth ↔ out phr. v. (informal) to give something to people: He's always dishing out unwanted advice.

dish sth ↔ up phr. v. (informal) to put food for a meal onto dishes, ready to be eaten dis-heart-ened /dɪs'hɑːtənd/ adj. disappointed because you no longer feel that you are able to do or achieve something —dishearten v. [T] dis-heart-en-ing /dɪs'hɑːtənɪŋ/ adj. making you lose hope and confidence: It was disheartening to see that the changes we made didn't help. —dishearteningly adv.

di-shev-eled /dɪ'shevəld/ adj. very messy: She looked tired and disheveled.

dis-hon-est /dɪs'ɒnɪst/ adj. not honest: a dishonest car salesman —dishonesty n. [U] —dishonestly adv.

dis-hon-or /dɪs'ɒnə/ n. [U] (formal) a state in which people no longer respect you or approve of you because you have done something dishonest or immoral: His behavior brought dishonor on the family. —dishonor v. [T] —dishonorable adj.

'dish rack n. [C] an object that holds dishes while they dry dish-tow-el /'dɪʃ,təʊəl/ n. [C] a cloth used for drying dishes dish-wash-er /'dɪʃ,wɒʃə/ n. [C] 1 a machine that washes dishes 2 someone whose job is to wash dirty dishes in a restaurant

'dishwashing liquid n. [U] liquid soap used to wash dishes dis-il-lu-sion /,dɪsə'luʒən/ v. [T] to make someone realize that something s/he thought was true or good is not —disillusionment n. [U] dis-il-lu-sioned /,dɪsə'luʒənd/ adj. unhappy because you have lost your belief that someone or something is true or good: I have become increasingly disillusioned with politics.

dis-in-cen-tive /,dɪsɪn'sentɪv/ n. [C] something that makes people less willing to do something (ANT) incentive: Higher taxes may act as a disincentive to business.

dis-in-fect /,dɪsɪn'fekt/ v. [T] to clean something with a chemical that destroys BACTERIA dis-in-fect-ant /,dɪsɪn'fektənt/ n. [C,U] a chemical that destroys BACTERIA, used for cleaning something dis-in-gen-u-ous /,dɪsɪn'dʒɛnyuəs/ adj. (formal) not sincere and slightly dishonest: It's disingenuous to talk of federal budget cuts when the level of government spending will actually rise. —disingenuously adv.

dis-in-her-it /,dɪsɪn'hərɪt/ v. [T] to prevent someone from receiving any of your money or property after your death dis-in-te-grate /dɪs'ɪntəgreɪt/ v. [I] 1 to break up into small pieces: They saw the space shuttle disintegrate in the sky. 2 to become weaker and be gradually destroyed: Their marriage was disintegrating. —disintegration /dɪs'ɪntəgreɪʃən/ n. [U] dis-in-ter-est-ed /dɪs'ɪntrɪstɪd, -'ɪntə'restɪd/ adj. able to judge a situation fairly because you will not gain an advantage from it (SYN) objective: a disinterested observer of the voting process

USAGE

In spoken English, many people use disinterested to mean “not interested.” However, many teachers think that this is not correct. If you want to say that someone is “not interested,” use uninterested: She seemed uninterested in politics.

—disinterest n. [U] dis-joint-ed /dɪs'dʒɔɪntɪd/ adj. disjointed words or images are not easy to understand because they are not arranged in a clear order disk /dɪsk/ n. [C] 1 a small flat piece of plastic or metal used for storing information in a computer → COMPACT DISK, FLOPPY DISK, HARD DISK 2 something that is flat and round, or that looks this way 3 a flat piece of CARTILAGE (=a strong substance that stretches) between the bones of your back

'disk drive n. [C] a piece of equipment in a computer, that is used in order to get information from a disk or to store information on a disk disk-ette /dɪ'skɛt/ n. [C] IT a FLOPPY DISK

'disk jockey n. [C] a DJ dis-like¹ /dɪs'laɪk/ v. [T] to not like someone or something: Many men dislike shopping.

dislike² n. [C,U] a feeling of not liking someone or something: She shared her mother's dislike of housework.

dis-lo-cate /dɪs'loukət/ v. [T] to make a bone move out of its normal position in a joint, usually in an accident: I dislocated my shoulder playing football. —dislocation /dɪs'lou'keɪʃən/ n. [C,U] dis-lodge /dɪs'lɒdʒ/ v. [T] to force or knock something out of its position: Lee dislodged a few stones as he climbed over the old wall.

dis-loy-al /dɪs'lɔɪəl/ adj. doing or saying things that do not support your friends, your country, or the group you belong to: He felt he had been disloyal to his friends. —disloyalty /dɪs'lɔɪəlti/ n. [C,U]

dis-mal /'dɪzməl/ adj. making you feel unhappy and without hope: dismal weather | the team's dismal record in the past month [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Anglo-French, Medieval Latin dies mali “evil days”] —dismally adv.

dis-man-tle /dɪs'mæntəl/ v. [I,T] 1 to take something apart so that it is in separate pieces: I'll have to dismantle the engine. 2 to gradually get rid of a system or organization: plans to dismantle the existing tax laws dis-may¹ /dɪs'meɪ/ n. [U] a strong feeling of disappointment and worry: He realized to his dismay that he had left the money behind.

dismay² v. [T] to make someone feel worried, disappointed, or upset: I was dismayed to see how thin she had become.

dis-mem-ber /dɪs'membə/ v. [T] (formal) to cut or tear a body into pieces dis-miss /dɪs'mɪs/ v. [T] 1 to refuse to consider someone's idea or opinion because you think it is not serious, true, or important: He dismissed the idea as impossible. 2 (formal) to make someone leave his/her job (SYN fire): The teacher was dismissed for incompetence. 3 to send someone away, or allow him/her to go: Class is dismissed. 4 LAW if a court CASE is dismissed, a judge decides that it should not continue [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin dimissus, past participle of dimittere “to send away”] —dismissal n. [C,U] dis-mis-sive /dɪs'mɪsɪv/ adj. refusing to consider someone or something seriously: Her doctor was dismissive of her concerns.

dis-mount /dɪs'maʊnt/ v. [I] to get off a horse, bicycle, or MOTORCYCLE dis-o-be-di-ent /,dɪsə'biðiənt/ adj. deliberately not doing what you are told to do by someone in authority such as your parents, teacher, employer, etc.: a disobedient child —disobedience n. [U] dis-o-bey /,dɪsə'beɪ/ v. [I,T] to refuse to do what someone in authority tells you to do, or to refuse to obey a rule or law: She would never disobey her parents.

THESAURUS

break a rule/law – to disobey a rule or law:

What happens if you break the rules?

rebel – to oppose or fight against someone who is in authority: Hannah eventually rebelled against her mother's control.

defy – to refuse to obey someone or something: Several teenagers were caught defying the curfew.

flout (formal) – to deliberately disobey a rule, law, or custom: He seemed determined to flout his father's authority.

violate – to disobey or do something against a law, rule, agreement, etc.: Using the money in this way clearly violates the tax laws.

infringe (formal) – to do something that is against the law or someone's legal rights: A treaty cannot be valid if it infringes on the Constitution.

contravene (formal) – to do something that is not allowed by a law or rule: The building contravened New York's construction codes.

dis-or-der /dɪs'ɔrdə/ n. 1 [U] a situation in which things or people are very messy or not organized 2 [C] a disease or illness that prevents part of your body from working correctly: a mental disorder 3 [U] a situation in which a lot of people behave in an uncontrolled, noisy, or violent way in public: The nation is in a state of civil disorder.

dis-or-der-ly /dɪs'ɔrdəli/ adj. 1 messy: clothes left in a disorderly heap 2 behaving in a noisy or violent way in public: He was arrested for disorderly conduct.

dis-or-ga-nized /dɪs'ɔrgənaɪzd/ adj. not arranged or planned very well: The meeting was completely disorganized. —disorganization /dɪs'ɔrgənə'zeɪʃən/ n. [U] dis-o-ri-ent-ed /dɪs'ɔri,entɪd/ adj. confused and not really able to understand what is happening around you, or where you are —disorienting adj. —disorientation /dɪs'ɔriən'teɪʃən/ n. [U] dis-own /dɪs'oʊn/ v. [T] if your parents disown you, they decide that they no longer want to have any connection with you, usually because you have done something very bad dis-par-age /dɪ'spærɪdʒ/ v. [T] (formal) to criticize someone or something in a way that shows you do not think he, she, or it is very good or important dis-par-a-ging /dɪ'spærədʒɪŋ/ adj. showing that you think someone or something is not very good or important: She made some disparaging comments about his work.

dis-par-ate /'dɪspərt/ adj. (formal) very different from and not related to each other dis-par-i-ty /dɪ'spærəti/ n. (plural disparities) [C,U] a difference between things, especially an unfair difference: the disparities between rich and poor dis-pas-sion-ate /dɪs'pæʃənɪt/ adj. not easily influenced by personal feelings: a dispassionate opinion —dispassionately adv.

dis-patch¹ /dɪ'spætʃ/ v. [T] to send someone or something somewhere dispatch² n. 1 [C] a message sent between government or military officials 2 [C] a report sent to a newspaper from one of its writers who is in another town or country 3 [singular] the act of sending people or things to a particular place: the dispatch of troops to the area

D

dis-pel /dɪ'spel/ v. (dispelled, dispelling) [T] (formal) to stop someone from believing or feeling something, especially because it is harmful or not correct: Mark's calm words dispelled our fears.

dis-pen-sa-ry /dɪ'spensəri/ n. (plural dispensaries) [C] a place where medicines are prepared and given out dis-pen-sa-tion /,dɪspən'seɪʃən, -pən-/ n. [C,U] special permission from someone in authority, especially a religious leader, to do something that is not usually allowed dis-pense /dɪ'spens/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to give or provide something to people, especially as part of an official activity: Volunteers helped dispense food and blankets.

THE SAURUS give out, hand out/pass out, share, distribute → GIVE¹

2 to officially provide medicine to people dispense with sth phr. v. to not use or do something that people usually use or do because it is not necessary dis-pens-er /dɪ'spensə/ n. [C] a machine from which you can get things such as drinks or money when you press a button dis-perse /dɪ'spəz/ v. [I,T] to scatter in different directions, or to make something do this: The police used tear gas to disperse the crowd. —dispersal n. [U] dis-per-sion /dɪs'pɜːʃən/ n. [U] 1 the state of being spread over a wide area or between a wide group of people 2 MATH the way in which the DATA in a set is spread around a number that is usually the middle number in the set or the average of the set 3 PHYSICS the separation of white light into different bands of colored light, that happens when light passes through a PRISM or water dis-pir-it-ed /dɪ'spɪrɪtɪd/ adj. (literary) sad and without hope dis-place /dɪs'pleɪs/ Ac v. [T] 1 to take the place of someone or something by becoming more important or useful SYN replace: Coal has been displaced by natural gas as a major source of energy. 2 to make a group of people leave the place where they normally live: When the river flooded the area, nearly a million people were displaced. 3 to force something out of its usual place or position: When you get into a full bathtub, you displace water, which flows over the side. —displacement n. [U]: the displacement of native peoples from their land —displaced adj.

dis-play¹ /dɪ'spleɪ/ Ac n. (plural displays) 1 [C,U] an arrangement of objects for people to look at: a display of African masks | The pictures are on display in the lobby. 2 [C] a public performance or something that is intended to entertain people: a fireworks display 3 a display of anger/affection etc. an occasion when someone clearly shows a particular attitude, feeling, or quality 4 [C] the part of a piece of equipment that shows information, for example a computer screen: A light flashed on the display. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Anglo-French despleier, from Latin displere “to unfold”]

display² Ac v. [T] 1 to put things in a place where people can see them easily: a row of tables displaying pottery 2 to clearly show a feeling or quality: He displayed no emotion at the funeral. 3 if a computer displays information, it shows it: An error message was displayed.

dis-pleased /dɪs'plɪzd/ adj. (formal) annoyed and not satisfied: Many employees were displeased with the decision. —displease v. [T] —displeasure /dɪs'pleʒə/ n. [U] dis-pos-a-ble /dɪ'spouzəbəl/ Ac adj. intended to be used once or for a short time and then thrown away: disposable razors dis,posable 'income n. [C] the amount of money that you have available to spend each month after you have paid for rent, food, etc.

dis-pos-al /dɪ'spouzəl/ Ac n. 1 [U] the act of getting rid of something: the safe disposal of radioactive waste 2 at sb's disposal available for someone to use: He had a lot of cash at his disposal. 3 [C] a GARBAGE DISPOSAL dis-pose /dɪ'spouz/ Ac v.

dispose of sth phr. v. to get rid of something: a facility that disposes of industrial waste [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French disposer, from Latin disponere “to arrange”] dis-posed /dɪ'spouzɪd/ Ac adj. (formal) 1 be/feel disposed to do sth to be willing to do something or behave in a particular way: I don't feel disposed to interfere. 2 well/favorably disposed to sb/sth liking someone or something dis-po-si-tion /,dɪspə'zɪʃən/ n. [C] (formal) the way someone tends to behave: Jenny has such a sweet disposition.

dis-pos-sess /,dɪspə'zɛs/ v. [T] (formal) to take property or land away from someone —dispossession /,dɪspə'zɛʃən/ n. [U] dis-pro-por-tion-ate /,dɪsprə'pɔːʃənɪt/ Ac adj. too much or too little in relation to something else, used when comparing two things: The project consumed a disproportionate amount of time. —disproportionately adv.

dis·prove /dɪs'pruv/ v. [T] to show that something is definitely wrong or not true dis·pute¹ /dɪ'spyut/ n. [C,U] 1 a serious argument or disagreement: The two men got into a dispute over money. | He was involved in a legal dispute with his neighbor. | The facts of the case are still in dispute (=being argued about). 2 be beyond dispute if something is beyond dispute, everyone agrees that it is true or has really happened: Mitchell's guilt is beyond dispute. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Old French desputer, from Latin disputare “to discuss”] dispute² v. [T] to say that something such as a fact or idea is not correct or true: The facts of the book have never been disputed.

THESAURUS disagree, be divided/split, dissent → DISAGREE dis·qual·i·fy /dɪs'kwələ'faɪ/ v. (disqualified, disqualifies) [T] to stop someone from taking part in an activity or competition, usually because s/he has done something wrong: Dennis was disqualified from the race. —disqualification /dɪs'kwələfə'keɪʃən/ n. [C,U] dis·re·gard¹ /dɪsrɪ'gard/ v. [T] to ignore something, or to not treat something as important or serious: The judge told the jury to disregard that statement.

disregard² n. [U] the act of ignoring something, especially something important or serious: His actions show a total disregard for the law.

dis·re·pair /dɪsrɪ'peɪr/ n. [U] buildings, roads, etc. that are in disrepair are in bad condition because they have not been cared for: The old house had fallen into disrepair.

dis·rep·u·ta·ble /dɪs'repyʊəbəl/ adj. not good or respected, and often thought to be involved in dishonest or illegal activities dis·re·pute /dɪsrɪ'pyut/ n. [U] (formal) a situation in which people no longer trust or respect a person or an idea: His reputation has fallen into disrepute.

dis·re·spect /dɪsrɪ'spekt/ n. [U] lack of respect for someone or something: his disrespect for the law —disrespectful adj.

dis·rupt /dɪs'rʌpt/ v. [T] to prevent something from continuing in its usual way by causing problems: The blizzard disrupted transportation into the city. | We cannot allow terrorists to disrupt our lives. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin disruptus, from rumpere “to break”] —disruption /dɪs'rʌpʃən/ n. [C,U] —disruptive /dɪs'rʌptɪv/ adj.: disruptive students dis·sat·is·fac·tion /dɪ'sætɪs'fækʃən, dɪs,sæ-/ n. [U] a feeling of not being satisfied because something is not as good as you had expected: She expressed her dissatisfaction with the service.

dis·sat·is·fied /dɪ'sætɪs'faɪd/ adj. not satisfied because something is not as good as you had expected: Katie is dissatisfied with her job.

dis·sect /dɪ'sekt, daɪ-/ v. [T] BIOLOGY to cut up the body of a person or animal in order to study it —dissection /dɪ'sekʃən/ n. [C,U] dis·sem·ble /dɪ'sembəl/ v. [I,T] (formal) to hide your true feelings, ideas, desires, etc., especially in order to deceive someone dis·sem·i·nate /dɪ'semə'neɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to spread information, ideas, etc. to as many people as possible: The rumor has been widely disseminated on the Internet. —dissemination /dɪ'semə'neɪʃən/ n. [U] dis·sent /dɪ'sent/ n. [U] refusal to accept an opinion or decision that most people accept: political dissent —dissent v. [I]: Two of the court's nine judges dissented from the majority decision.

THESAURUS disagree, be divided/split, dispute → DISAGREE dis·sent·er /dɪ'sentə-/ n. [C] HISTORY a PROTESTANT in England during the 17th and 18th centuries who disagreed with the religious ideas and practices of the Church of England dis·ser·ta·tion /dɪ'sə'teɪʃən/ n. [C] a long piece of writing about a subject, that you write to get a PH.D.

THESAURUS essay, composition, paper, thesis → ESSAY dis·serv·ice /dɪ'sə'vɪs, dɪs'sə-/ n. do sb/sth a disservice to do something that makes people have a bad opinion of someone or something, especially when this is unfair: The players' actions have done a great disservice to the game.

dis·si·dent /dɪ'sɪdənt/ n. [C] POLITICS someone who publicly criticizes the government in his/her country, when doing this is a crime in that country [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin dissidere “to sit apart, disagree,” from sedere “to sit”] —dissidence n. [U] —dissident adj.

dis·sim·i·lar /dɪ'sɪmələ, dɪs'sɪ-/ (Ac) adj. not the same: These fish are quite dissimilar to those found in the deep ocean. | The system of government here is not too dissimilar from the one in our own country. —dissimilarity /dɪ'sɪmə'lærəti/ n. [C,U]

dis·si·pate /dɪ'sɪpəɪt/ v. [I,T] (formal) to gradually get weaker and then disappear completely, or to make something do this dis·so·ci·ate /dɪ'soʊʃi,ert, -si,ert/ also disassociate v. [T] (formal) to do or say something to show that you do not agree with the views or actions of someone with whom you had a connection: Mr. Garcia tried to disassociate himself from the chairman's remarks. —dissociation /dɪ'soʊsi'eɪʃən, -,soʊʃi-/ n. [U] dis·so·lute /dɪ'sə'lut/ adj. (written) having an immoral way of life: a dissolute life dis·so·lu·tion /dɪ'sə'lʊʃən/ n. [U] (formal) the act of officially ending a marriage, business arrangement, etc.

D

D

dis-solve /dr'zolv/ v. 1 [I,T] if a solid dissolves, or if you dissolve it, it mixes with a liquid and becomes liquid itself: Stir the mixture until the sugar dissolves. | Dissolve the tablets in warm water. 2 [T] to officially end a marriage, business arrangement, etc.

THESAURUS divorce, separate, split up/break up, annul → DIVORCE²

3 dissolve into tears/laughter etc. to start crying or laughing a lot dis-so-nance /'disənəns/ n. 1 [C usually singular, U] (formal) a lack of agreement between ideas, opinions, or facts: There is a dissonance between her school life and her home life. 2 [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the sound made by a group of musical notes that do not go together well (SYN) discord (ANT) harmony: a choral piece full of dissonance and odd rhythms —dissonant adj.

dis-suade /dr'sweɪd/ v. [T] (formal) to persuade someone not to do something: efforts to dissuade teenagers from drinking dis-tance¹ /'dɪstəns/ n. 1 [C,U] the amount of space between two places or things: What's the distance from Louisville to Memphis? | the distance between the moon and the sun | We had gone a long/short distance. | The subway is within walking distance (=near enough to walk to) of my house. 2 [singular] a point or place that is far away, but close enough to be seen or heard: The ruins look very impressive from a distance. | We could see the Sears Tower in the distance. 3 keep your distance a) to stay far away from someone or something: The dogs looked fierce, so I kept my distance. b) also keep sb at a distance to avoid becoming too friendly with someone: He tends to keep his distance from employees.

distance² v. distance yourself (from sb/sth) to say that you are not involved with someone or something: The party is distancing itself from its violent past.

dis-tant /'dɪstənt/ adj. 1 far away in space or time: the sound of distant laughter | The building is a relic of the distant past. 2 not friendly or not interested: She seemed cold and distant. 3 [only before noun] not closely related to you (ANT) close: a distant cousin —distantly adv.

dis-taste /dɪs'teɪst/ n. [singular, U] a feeling of dislike for someone or something that you think is annoying or offensive: her distaste for modern art dis-taste-ful /dɪs'teɪstfəl/ adj. unpleasant or offensive dis-tend-ed /dr'stendɪd/ adj. stretched larger than the normal size because of pressure from inside: the distended bellies of famine victims —distend v. [I,T] —distention, distension /dr'stɛnʃən/ n. [U] dis-till /dr'stɪl/ v. [T] to make a liquid more pure by heating it until it becomes gas and then letting it cool: distilled water —distillation /dɪstə'leɪʃən/ n. [C,U] dis-till-er-y /dr'stɪləri/ n. (plural distilleries) [C] a factory where strong alcoholic drinks are produced by distilling dis-tinct /dr'stɪŋkt/ (AC) adj. 1 clearly different or separate: African and Asian elephants are distinct species. | Many people think that the soul is distinct from the body. 2 as distinct from sth used in order to emphasize that you are talking about one thing and not another: I am talking about childhood as distinct from adolescence. 3 a distinct possibility, feeling, quality, etc. definitely exists and cannot be ignored: There's a distinct possibility that we'll all lose our jobs. | I had the distinct impression that she didn't like me. 4 clearly seen, heard, smelled, etc.: the distinct smell of cigarette smoke —distinctly adv.: I distinctly remember his words.

dis-tinc-tion /dr'stɪŋkʃən/ (AC) n. 1 [C] a clear difference between things: The law makes/draws a distinction between children and adults. 2 [U] the quality of being very good, important, or special: a poet of distinction | Neil Armstrong had the distinction of being the first man on the moon.

dis-tinc-tive /dr'stɪŋktɪv/ (AC) adj. different from other people or things and very easy to recognize: The male birds have distinctive blue and yellow markings. | The flavor is slightly sharp and very distinctive. —distinctively adv. —distinctiveness n. [U]

dis-tin-guish /dr'stɪŋgwɪʃ/ v. 1 [I,T] to recognize or understand the difference between things or people: Young children often can't distinguish between TV programs and commercials. 2 [T] to be the thing that makes someone or something different from other people or things: The bright feathers distinguish the male peacock from the female. 3 [T] to be able to see, hear, smell, etc. something, even if it is difficult: It was too dark for me to distinguish anything clearly. 4 distinguish yourself to do something so well that people notice you, praise you, or remember you: Eastwood distinguished himself as an actor before becoming a director. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French distinguer, from Latin distinguere “to separate using a sharp pointed object”] —distinguishable adj.

dis-tin-guished /drɪˈstɪŋɡwɪʃt/ adj. 1 successful and respected: a distinguished scientist | his distinguished career

THESAURUS famous, well-known, legendary, celebrated, renowned, noted, eminent → FAMOUS

2 looking important and successful dis-tort /drɪˈstɔːrt/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to report something in a way that is not completely correct, so that the true meaning is changed (Syn) twist, misrepresent: a reporter accused of distorting the facts 2 to change the shape or sound of something so that it is strange or difficult to recognize: Tall buildings can distort radio waves. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin distortus, past participle of distorquere “to twist out of shape”] —distorted adj.

dis-tor-tion /drɪˈstɔːʃən/ n. [C,U] 1 a change in the appearance, sound, or shape of something so that it is strange or unclear 2 a report of something that is not completely true or correct 3 a change in a situation from the way it would naturally be 4 PHYSICS an image of something in which the PROPORTIONS are not correct because something is wrong with a LENS or mirror → see picture at REFLECTION

dis-tract /drɪˈstrækt/ v. [T] to do something that takes someone’s attention away from what s/he is doing: Don’t distract me while I’m driving! | The government is trying to distract attention from its failures.

dis-tract-ed /drɪˈstræktɪd/ adj. anxious and not able to think clearly dis-trac-tion /drɪˈstrækʃən/ n. [C,U] something that takes your attention away from what you are doing: I can’t study at home – there are too many distractions.

dis-traught /drɪˈstrɔːt/ adj. extremely anxious or upset: Friends comforted his distraught mother.

THESAURUS upset, unsettled, troubled, disturbed, perturbed, distressed, traumatized → UPSET¹ dis-tress¹ /drɪˈstres/ n. [U] 1 a feeling of extreme worry and sadness: Children suffer emotional distress when their parents divorce. 2 a situation in which someone suffers because s/he does not have any money, food, etc.: charities that help families in distress 3 be in distress if a ship, airplane, etc. is in distress, it is in danger of sinking or crashing —distressed adj.

distress² v. [T] to make someone feel very worried or upset: We were distressed to learn of Thomas’s death.

dis-tress-ing /drɪˈstresɪŋ/ adj. making someone feel very worried or upset dis-trib-ute /drɪˈstrɪbyʊt/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to give something such as food or medicine to each person in a large group: The Red Cross is distributing food and clothing to the refugees.

THESAURUS give out, hand out/pass out, share, dispense → GIVE¹

2 to supply goods to stores and companies in a particular area so that they can be sold: The movie is being distributed by Warner Bros. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin distribuere “to give out,” from tribuere “to give to a particular person”] dis-tri-bu-tion /ˌdɪstrəˈbyuʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] the act of giving something to each person in a large group: the distribution of food to disaster victims 2 [C,U] the way in which people or things are spread over an area: The distribution of wealth has become more unequal. 3 [U] the act of supplying goods to stores, companies, etc. in a particular area so that they can be sold: the production and distribution of goods 4 [C,U] MATH a set of numbers and how often they appear in a set of DATA, especially as shown on a GRAPH or table dis-tri-bu-tor /drɪˈstrɪbyʊtə/ (Ac) n. [C] a company or person that supplies goods to stores or companies: a beer distributor

dis-strict /ˈdɪstrɪkt/ n. [C] a particular area of a city, country, etc., especially an area officially divided from others: Ken works in the financial district. | Many school districts have cut music programs.

THESAURUS area, region, territory, zone, neighborhood, suburb, slum, ghetto → AREA district at-torney n. [C] LAW (abbreviation D.A.) a lawyer who works for the government in a particular district and who makes sure that possible criminals are examined in court district 'court n. [C] LAW a U.S. court of law where people are judged in cases that involve national rather than state law dis-trust /dɪˈstrʌst/ n. [U] a feeling that you cannot trust someone: He has a deep distrust of politicians. —distrust v. [T] —distrustful adj.

dis-turb /drɪˈstɜːb/ v. [T] 1 to annoy someone or interrupt what someone is doing by making a noise, asking a question, etc.: Keep your voices low, so you don’t disturb the others. | Do Not Disturb (=a sign that you put on a door so that people will not interrupt you) 2 to make someone feel worried or upset: Something about the situation disturbed him. 3 (formal) to move something: The detectives were careful not to disturb anything. [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French destourber, from Latin turbare “to put into disorder”] dis-turb-ance /drɪˈstɜːbəns/ n. 1 [C] a situation in which people fight or behave violently in public: The police arrested three men for causing/creating a disturbance at the bar. 2 [C,U] something that interrupts you so that you cannot continue what you are doing dis-turbed /drɪˈstɜːbd/ adj. 1 not behaving in a normal way because of mental or emotional problems: an emotionally disturbed child

D

THESAURUS crazy, mentally ill, insane, nuts, loony, demented, psychotic, unstable → CRAZY

2 very worried or upset

THESAURUS upset, unsettled, troubled, perturbed, distressed, distraught, traumatized → UPSET¹ dis-tur-bing /dɪ'stəbɪŋ/ adj. worrying or upsetting: a disturbing increase in crime

D di-syl-lab-ic /daɪsə'læbɪk/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS a disyllabic word has two SYLLABLES → MONOSYLLABIC, POLYSYLLABIC ditch¹ /dɪtʃ/ n. [C] a long narrow hole in the ground for water to flow through, usually at the side of a field, road, etc.

ditch² v. [T] (informal) to get rid of something or stop using it because it is no longer useful to you: The bank robbers ditched the stolen car as soon as they could.

dith-er /'dɪðə/ v. [I] to be unable to make a decision: He's been dithering about what to do.

dit-to¹ /'dɪtəʊ/ interjection (informal) used in order to say that you have exactly the same opinion as someone else about something, or that something is also true for you: "I hated P.E. when I was in school." "Ditto." [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Italian, past participle of dire "to say"] dit-to² n. (plural dittos) also 'ditto mark [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the mark (") that you write beneath a word in a list so that you do not have to write the same word again dit-ty /'dɪtɪ/ n. (plural ditties) [C] (humorous) a short simple song or poem di-va /'dɪvə/ n. [C] a very successful and famous female singer dive¹ /daɪv/ v. (past tense dived or dove /douv/, past participle dived) [I] 1 to jump into the water with your head and arms going in first: Harry dived into the swimming pool.

THESAURUS plunge – to move, fall, or be thrown or pushed suddenly forward or downward: The car swerved and plunged off the cliff.

submerge – to go or put something completely under the surface of the water: The turtle submerged again.

sink – to go down below the surface of water, mud, etc., or to make something do this: The coin sank to the bottom of the pool. → JUMP¹

2 to swim under the water using special equipment to help you breathe 3 to travel straight down through the air or water: The birds were diving for fish. 4 to move or jump quickly: They dove into the bushes to avoid the enemy.

dive² n. [C] 1 a jump into water with your head and arms going in first 2 a sudden movement in a particular direction: He made a dive for the ball. 3 a sudden drop in the amount or value of something: Share prices took a dive. 4 a movement straight down through air or water: The plane suddenly went into a dive. 5 (informal) a place such as a BAR or a hotel that is cheap and dirty: We ate at a dive out by the airport.

div-er /'daɪvə/ n. [C] 1 someone who swims under the water using special equipment to help him/her breathe: a scuba diver 2 someone who jumps into water with his/her head and arms first di-verge /də'vɜːdʒ, daɪ-/ v. [I] to be different, or to develop in a different way: At this point, his version of events diverges from hers. —divergence n. [C,U] —divergent adj.: divergent views di-verse /də'vɜːs, daɪ-/ (AC) adj. very different from each other: The U.S. is a culturally diverse nation. | diverse political opinions

di-ver-si-fy /də'vɜːsəfaɪ, daɪ-/ (AC) v. (diversified, diversifies) [I,T] ECONOMICS if a company diversifies, it begins to make new types of products or to become involved in new types of business in addition to what it already does: They started as a cosmetics company and then diversified into clothing. | The company needs to diversify its products. —diversification /də'vɜːsəfə'keɪʃən/ n. [U] di-ver-sion /də'vɜːʒən, daɪ-/ n. 1 [C,U] a change in the direction or purpose of something: the illegal diversion of money from the project 2 [C] something that takes your attention away from something else: One man creates a diversion while the other steals your purse. 3 [C] (formal) an activity that you do for pleasure or amusement: Fishing is a pleasant diversion.

THESAURUS game, sport, recreation, hobby → GAME¹

di-ver-si-ty /də'vɜːsəti, daɪ-/ (AC) n. [singular, U] a range of different people or things (SYN) variety: The school prides itself on its ethnic diversity. | Environmentalists claim that the biological diversity of the area is under threat. | a diversity of opinions di-vert /də'vɜːt, daɪ-/ v. [T] 1 to change the direction in which something travels: Traffic is being diverted to avoid the accident. 2 to use something for a different purpose: They plan to divert money from production to design. 3 divert (sb's) attention from sth to stop someone from paying attention to something: The war will divert attention from the country's economic problems. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Old French divertir, from Latin divertere, from vertere “to turn”] di-vest /dɪˈvɛst, daɪ-/ v.

divest sb of sth phr. v. (formal) to take something away from someone di-vide /dɪˈvaɪd/ v. 1 [I,T] to separate something into two or more parts, groups, etc., or to become separated in this way: The teacher divided the class into groups. | Brenda's trying to divide her time between work and school.

THESAURUS separate, split, break up, segregate, partition, apportion → SEPARATE²

2 [T] to keep two areas separate from each other: A river divides the north and south sides of the city. | A curtain divided his sleeping area from ours. 3 [T] also divide up to separate something into two or more parts and share it among two or more people, groups, places, etc.: The money will be divided equally among his children. | She divides her time between Atlanta and Houston. 4 [I,T] MATH to calculate how many times one number is contained in a larger number: 15 divided by 3 is 5. → CALCULATE 5 [T] to make people disagree and form groups with different opinions: Experts are divided over the question. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin dividere, from videre “to separate”] div-i-dend /ˈdɪvəˌdend, -dənd/ n. [C] ECONOMICS a part of a company's profit that is paid to people who have SHARES in the company

di-vid-er /dɪˈvaɪdər/ n. 1 [C] something such as a wall that divides something else into two or more parts: the center divider on a road | You could put a screen over there as a room divider. 2 dividers [plural] MATH an instrument used for measuring or marking lines or angles, that consists of two pointed pieces of metal joined together at the top di-vine /dɪˈvaɪn/ adj. having the qualities of God, or coming from God: a divine plan [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French divin, from Latin divus “god”] div-ing /ˈdaɪvɪŋ/ n. [U] 1 the sport of swimming under the water using breathing equipment 2 the activity of jumping into water with your head and arms first

'diving board n. [C] a board above a SWIMMING POOL, from which you can jump into the water di-vin-i-ty /dɪˈvɪnəti/ n. (plural divinities) 1 [U] the study of God and religious beliefs [SYN] theology 2 [U] the quality of being like God 3 [C] a male or female god

THESAURUS god, deity, idol → GOD di-vis-i-ble /dɪˈvɪzəbəl/ adj. MATH able to be divided by another number: 15 is divisible by 3 and 5.

di-vi-sion /dɪˈvɪʒən/ n. 1 [C,U] the act of separating something into two or more parts or groups, or the way that these parts are separated: the division of words into syllables | the division of the money between the government departments 2 [C,U] a disagreement among members of a group: There are deep divisions within the Republican party. 3 [U] MATH the process of calculating how many times a small number is contained in a larger number → ADDITION, MULTIPLICATION, SUBTRACTION 4 [C] a group within a large company, army, organization, etc.: the finance division of the company 5 [C] a group of teams that a sports LEAGUE is divided into: the NFC central division di-vi-sion-al /dɪˈvɪʒənəl/ adj. [only before noun] relating to a sports division: the divisional playoffs (=games to decide who wins a division) di-vi-sive /dɪˈvaɪsɪv, -ˈvɪs-/ adj. causing a lot of disagreement among people: a divisive issue di-vi-sor /dɪˈvaɪzər/ n. [C] MATH the number by which another number is to be divided. In $9 \div 3$, 3 is the divisor. → DIVIDEND di-vo-ce /dɪˈvɔːs/ n. [C,U] LAW the legal ending of a marriage: She wants to get a divorce. | Their marriage ended in divorce. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 French, Latin divertere “to divert, leave one's husband”]

divorce² v. 1 [I,T] LAW to legally end a marriage: His parents divorced when he was six. | They decided to get divorced. | My father threatened to divorce her.

THESAURUS

separate – to start to live apart from your husband or wife: They separated six months ago.
split up/break up – to end a marriage or a long romantic relationship: When Andy was nine, his parents split up. | What would it do to the kids if he and Judy broke up?
leave sb – to stop living with your husband, wife, or partner: Her husband left her after 27 years of marriage.
annul (Law) – to officially state that a marriage no longer exists: The marriage was annulled after only six days.
dissolve (Law) – to officially end a marriage: She said she wanted a divorce, and the marriage was later dissolved.

2 [T] (formal) to separate two ideas, values, organizations, etc.: It is difficult to divorce religion from politics. —divorced adj.: a divorced woman di-vor-cee /dɪˈvɔːrˈsi, -ˈseɪ/ n. [C] a woman who is divorced di-vulge /dɪˈvʌldʒ, daɪ-/ v. [T] to give someone information, especially about something that was secret: Doctors cannot divulge information about their patients.

Dix-ie /ˈdɪksi/ n. HISTORY an informal name for the southern states of the U.S. that fought against the North in the U.S. Civil War diz·zy /'dɪzi/ adj. 1 having a feeling of not being able to balance yourself, especially after spinning around or because you feel sick: She felt dizzy when she stood up. 2 (informal) someone who is dizzy is silly or stupid [ORIGIN: Old English dysig “stupid”] —dizziness n. [U]

DJ /'di dʒeɪ/ n. [C] disk jockey someone whose job is to play the music on the radio or in a club where you can dance

DNA n. [U] deoxyribonucleic acid BIOLOGY an acid found in the cells of living things, that carries GENETIC information

DNA 'sequence n. [C] BIOLOGY the order of the many pairs of MOLECULES that DNA consists of, represented as a series of letters

do¹ /də; strong du/ auxiliary verb (past tense did /dɪd/, past participle done /dʌn/, third person singular does /dəz; strong dʌz/) 1 used with another verb to form questions or negatives: Do you like pasta? | What time does Linda usually go to bed? | I don't think I'll be able to come. 2 (spoken) used at the end of a sentence to make a question, or to ask someone to agree with it: You know Tom, don't you? | She didn't understand, did she? 3 used in order to emphasize the main verb: He hasn't been here in a while, but he does come to visit us most weekends. 4 used in order to avoid repeating another verb: “Go clean up your room.” “I already did!” | “Craig really likes Thai food.” “So do I.” | “I didn't like the movie.” “Neither did I.” | Emilio speaks much better English than he did a year ago. [ORIGIN: Old English don]

do² /du/ v. (past tense did, past participle done, third person singular does) 1 [T] to perform an action or activity: Have you done your homework yet? | It's Jim's turn to do the dishes/laundry. | “What are you doing?” “Making cookies.” | It's a pleasure doing business with you. 2 [I] used in order to talk about how successful someone is: How is Jayne doing in her new job? | He did well/badly at school. 3 [T] to have a particular effect on something or someone: The new car factory has done a lot for (=had a good effect on) the local economy. | Let's take a break. Come on, it will do you good (=make you feel better). 4 [T] to have a particular job: What do you do for a living? | She doesn't know what she wants to do. 5 what is sb/sth doing? used when you are surprised or annoyed that someone or something is in a particular place or doing a particular thing: What is my jacket doing on the floor? | What are you doing with my purse? 6 do your hair/nails/makeup etc. to spend time making your hair, nails, etc. look good 7 [T] to travel at a particular speed, or to travel a particular distance: He was doing over 90 miles per hour. 8 [I,T] used in order to say that something is acceptable or enough: The recipe calls for butter, but oil will do. | My old black shoes will have to do. 9 [T] to provide a service or sell a product: They do home deliveries. 10 do lunch/a meeting/a movie etc. (informal) to have LUNCH (=meal eaten in the middle of the day), have a meeting, see a movie, etc. with someone else: Let's do lunch next week. → how are you?/how's it going?/how are you doing? at HOW, how do you do? at HOW, make do at MAKE¹ do away with phr. v. (informal) 1 do away with sth to get rid of something: We should do away with those old customs. 2 do away with sb to kill someone do sb in phr. v. (informal) 1 to make someone feel very tired: That long walk did me in. 2 to kill someone do sth over phr. v. to do something again, especially because you did it wrong the first time: If there are mistakes, the teacher makes you do it over.

do with phr. v. 1 have/be to do with sth to be related to or involved with something: The book has to do with new theories in physics. | Jack's job is something to do with marketing (=related to marketing, but you are not sure exactly how).

SPOKEN PHRASES

2 what has sb done with sth? used in order to ask where someone has put something: What have you done with the scissors? 3 I can/could do with sth used in order to say that you need or want something: I could do with some help. 4 what sb does with himself/herself the activities that someone does as a regular part of his/her life: What is your dad doing with himself since he retired?

→ make do at MAKE¹

do without stth phr. v. 1 to manage to continue living or doing something without having a particular thing: It's almost impossible to do without a car in Los Angeles. 2 I can/could do without sth (spoken) used in order to say that something is annoying you or causing problems: I could do without his stupid comments.

do³ n. dos and don'ts things that you should or should not do in a particular situation: I'm still learning all the dos and don'ts of the job.

d.o.b. the written abbreviation of “date of birth” do-ber-man pin-scher /,dɒbəmən 'pɪntʃə/ also doberman n. [C] a large black and brown dog with very short hair, often used in order to guard property doc /dɒk/ n. [C] (spoken) a doctor doc-ile /'dɒsəl/ adj. quiet and easy to control: a docile animal dock¹ /dɒk/ n. [C] a place where goods are put onto or taken off ships [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Middle Dutch docke] dock² v. [I,T] 1 if a ship docks, it sails into a dock 2 dock sb's pay to take money from someone's pay, as a punishment: If you come in late one more time, we'll have to dock your pay.

dock-et /'dɒkɪt/ n. [C] LAW a list of legal cases that will take place in a particular court doc-tor¹ /'dɒktə/ n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to treat people who are sick: You really should see a doctor about that cough. | He very rarely goes to the doctor. | I have a doctor's appointment tomorrow.

THESAURUS

physician (formal) – a doctor: our family physician surgeon – a doctor who does operations in a hospital: a brain surgeon specialist – a doctor who knows a lot about a particular area of medicine: He's one of the world's leading heart specialists.

psychiatrist – a doctor who treats mental illness dentist – someone whose job is to take care of people's teeth pediatrician – a doctor who treats children who are sick

2 someone who has the highest level of degree given by a university: a Doctor of Philosophy [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French doctour, from Latin doctor “teacher”] doctor² v. [T] to change something, especially in a way that is not honest: The police may have doctored the evidence.

doc-tor-ate /'dɒktərɪt/ n. [C] a university degree at the highest level doc-trine /'dɒktrɪn/ n. [C,U] 1 a set of religious or political beliefs: Catholic doctrine 2 POLITICS a formal statement of a government's way of dealing with something, especially the way it deals with other countries [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 French, Latin doctrina, from doctor “teacher”] —doctrinal adj.

doc-u-ment¹ /'dɒkymənt/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 a piece of paper that has official information written on it: a legal document | historical documents 2 IT a piece of work that you write and keep on a computer: Click on the document you want to open. → COMPUTER [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 French, Late Latin documentum, from Latin docere “to teach”] doc-u-ment² /'dɒkymənt/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to record information about something by writing about it, photographing it, etc.: The program documents the daily life of a teenager. 2 to support an opinion, statement, etc. with facts: It is well documented that men die younger than women.

doc-u-men-tary /'dɒkyməntəri, -'mentəri/ n. (plural documentaries) [C] a movie or television program that gives facts and information on something: He made a documentary about a farming community in Iowa. → TELEVISION doc-u-men-ta-tion /'dɒkyməntəʃən/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 official documents that are used in order to prove that something is true or correct 2 the process of recording information in writing, on film, etc.: The accounting records contain careful documentation of all the company's costs.

do-dec-a-gon /dɒu'dɛkə,gən/ n. [C] MATH a flat shape with 12 straight sides

THESAURUS polygon, pentagon, hexagon, heptagon, octagon, decagon → POLYGON

dodge /dɒdʒ/ v. 1 [I,T] to move quickly in order to avoid someone or something: We had to dodge the bullets. 2 [T] to avoid talking about something or doing something that you do not want to do: The senator dodged the reporter's question. —dodge n. [C] doe /dou/ n. [C] a female DEER

does /dəz; strong dʌz/ v. the third person singular of the present tense of DO does-n't /'dʌzənt/ v. the short form of “does not”

dog¹ /dɒg/ n. [C] a very common animal with four legs that is often kept as a pet or used for guarding buildings: I could hear a dog barking. | I'm going out to walk the dog. [ORIGIN: Old English docga]

dog² v. (dogged, dogging) [T] if a problem or bad luck dogs you, it causes trouble for a long time

'dog-eared adj. dog-eared books have been used so much that the corners of their pages are folded or torn dog-ged /'dɒɡɪd/ adj. determined to do something even though it is difficult: a dogged determination to succeed —doggedly adv.

dog-gone /,dɒ'ɡɒn/ / also dog'gone it interjection (old-fashioned) said when you are annoyed: Doggone it, I said leave that alone! —doggone adj.: It's a doggone shame.

dog-gy, doggie /'dɒgi/ n. (plural doggies) [C] a dog – used by or when speaking to young children

'doggy bag n. [C] a small bag for taking home the food you did not eat from a meal at a restaurant dog-house /'dɒghaʊs/ n. 1 be in the dog-house (informal) to be in a situation in which someone is angry or annoyed with you 2 [C] a little building for a dog to sleep in dog-ma /'dɒgmə, 'dɒgmə/ n. [C,U] an important belief or set of beliefs that people are supposed to accept as true without asking for any explanation: church dogma dog-mat-ic /dɒg'mætɪk, dɒg-/ adj. someone who is dogmatic is completely certain about his/her beliefs and expects other people to accept them without arguing —dogmatically adv.

do-good-er /'du ,ɡʊdə/ n. [C] (informal) someone who does things to help other people, but who often gets involved when his/her help is not wanted or needed

'dog ,paddle also 'doggy ,paddle n. [singular] (informal) a simple way of swimming that you do by moving your arms and legs like a swimming dog dog-wood /'dɒgwʊd/ n. [C] an eastern North American tree or bush with flat white or pink flowers do-ing /'duɪŋ/ n. 1 be sb's (own) doing to be someone's fault: His bad luck was all his own doing. 2 take some doing (informal) to be hard work: Getting this old car to run is going to take some doing.

D

dol-drums /'dɒldrəmz, 'dɒl-/ n. [plural] (informal) 1 a state in which something is not improving or developing: The stock market has been in the doldrums for most of this year. 2 a state in which you feel sad (SYN) depression dole /dɒl/ v.

dole sth ↔ out phr. v. to give something such as money, food, advice, etc. in small amounts to a lot of people: Vera was doling out candy to the kids.

dole-ful /'dɒlfəl/ adj. very sad: a doleful song doll /dɒl/ n. [C] a toy that looks like a small person or baby: a small wooden doll [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 The female name Doll, from Dorothy] dol-lar /'dɒlə/ n. [C] 1 the standard of money used in the U.S., Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and other countries. Its sign is $ and it is worth 100 cents: These pants cost $40. | That will be three dollars, please. 2 a piece of paper money or a coin of this value: dollar bills 3 the dollar ECONOMICS the value of U.S. money in relation to the money of other countries: The peso has dropped almost 1% against the dollar. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Dutch daler, from German joachimstaler, from Sankt Joachimsthal, name of a Bavarian town where the coins were first made] dol-lap /'dɒləp/ n. [C] a small amount of soft food, usually dropped from a spoon: a dollop of whipped cream

dol-phin /'dɒlfɪn, 'dɒl-/ n. [C] a very intelligent sea animal with a long gray pointed nose [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French dalfin, from Greek delphis]

do-main /dɒu'meɪn, də-/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 (formal) a particular activity that is controlled by one person, group, organization, etc.: In the past, politics was exclusively a male domain. | This problem is outside the domain of medical science. 2 BIOLOGY one of the groups into which scientists divide animals or plants, in which the animals or plants are closely related but cannot produce babies or more plants together 3 MATH all the possible values that can be used as INDEPENDENT VARIABLES in a mathematical FUNCTION

do'main ,name n. [C] IT a part of an Internet WEBSITE's address that tells you the name of the website dome /dɒm/ n. [C] a round curved roof on a building or room [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French dôme “dome, cathedral,” from Latin domus “house”] —domed adj.

do-mes-tic

/də'mestɪk/ (Ac)

adj. 1 happening within one country and not involving any other countries: U.S. foreign and domestic policy | Domestic flights (=flights that stay inside a particular country) leave from Terminal C. 2 [only before noun] relating to family relationships and life at home: We share the domestic chores. | a victim of domestic violence (=violence between husband and wife) 3 someone who is domestic enjoys spending time at home doing things such as cooking, cleaning, etc. 4 domestic animal an animal that lives in someone's house or on a farm [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French domestique, from Latin domesticus, from domus “house”] do-mes-ti-cat-ed /də'mestɪkeɪtɪd/ (Ac) adj. domesticated animals live with people as pets or on a farm —domesticate v. [T] —domestication /də'mestɪ'keɪʃən/ n. [U]

do-mes-tic-i-ty /,dɒmɛ'stɪsəti/ n. [U] life at home with your family and the activities that relate to this do,mestic 'partner n. [C] someone who you live with and have a sexual relationship with, but who you are not married to dom-i-nance /'dɒmənəns/ (Ac) n. [U] a situation in which someone is more powerful, more important, or more noticeable than other people or things: the dominance of youth culture in the U.S. | A male lion must fight for dominance within the pride (=group of lions).

dom-i-nant /'dɒmənənt/ (Ac) adj. 1 strongest, most important, or most noticeable: America's dominant role in international business | The dominant male gorilla is the largest in the group.

THESAURUS

powerful, influential, strong

→ POWERFUL

2 controlling other people or things, or wanting to do this: her husband's dominant behavior 3 BIOL-OGY a dominant GENE results in a physical feature even if it has been passed on from only one parent → RECESSIVE

dom-i-nate /'dɒməneɪt/ (Ac) v. [I,T] 1 to have power and control over someone or something: Five large companies dominate the auto industry. 2 to be the strongest, most important, or most noticeable feature of something: The murder trial has been dominating the news this week. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin dominatus, past participle of dominari “to rule”] —domination /,dɒmə'neɪʃən/ n. [U] dom-i-neer-ing /ˌdɒməˈniːrɪŋ/ adj. (disapproving) trying to control other people without considering how they feel or what they want: his domineering father do-min-ion /dɒˈmɪniən/ n. 1 [U] (literary) the power or right to rule people 2 [C] also Dominion HISTORY one of the countries that was a member of the British Commonwealth in past times 3 [C] HISTORY a large area of land owned or controlled by one person or a government dom-i-no /ˈdɒməˌnoʊ/ n. (plural dominoes) 1 [C] a small piece of wood, plastic, etc. with a different number of spots on each half of its top side, used in playing a game 2 dominoes [U] the game that you play using dominoes 3 domino effect a situation in which one event or action causes several other things to happen one after the other: The weakness of the dollar had a domino effect, hurting stocks and bonds.

do-nate /ˈdoʊneɪt, ˈdoʊnert/ v. 1 [I,T] to give something, especially money, to a person or organization that needs help: Our school donated $500 to the Red Cross.

THESAURUS give, leave, bequeath, present, grant → GIVE¹

2 donate blood/an organ/a kidney etc. to allow some of your blood or a part of your body to be used to help someone who is sick or injured do-na-tion /ˈdoʊˌneɪʃən/ n. [C,U] something, especially money, that you give to help a person or organization: Please make a donation to UNICEF. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin donare “to give”] done¹ /dʌn/ v. the past participle of DO

done² adj. 1 finished or completed: The job's almost done. | Are you done with this magazine?

THESAURUS

finished – done, and dealt with in the way you wanted: She showed him the finished drawing.

complete – finished, and having all the necessary parts: The project is almost complete.

over – if an event, activity, or period of time is over, it is finished: The game was over by 10 o'clock.

through – if you are through with something, you have finished using it or doing it: Are you through with those scissors?

2 cooked enough to be eaten: I think the hamburgers are done. 3 it's a done deal (spoken) used in order to mean that an agreement has been made and it cannot be changed 4 be done in (spoken) to be extremely tired: I've got to sit down – I'm done in.

done³ interjection used in order to accept a deal that someone offers you: “How about I give you $25 for it?” “Done!”

don-key /ˈdɒŋki, ˈdɒŋ-, ˈdɒŋ-/ n. [C] a gray or brown animal like a horse, but smaller and with longer ears do-nor /ˈdoʊnər/ n. [C] 1 someone who gives something, especially money, to an organization in order to help people: The art museum received $10,000 from an anonymous donor. 2 someone who gives blood or a part of his/her body so that it can be used to help someone who is sick or injured: an organ donor don't /daʊnt/ v. the short form of “do not”: I don't know.

do-nut /ˈdoʊnʌt/ n. [C] another spelling of DOUGHNUT doo-dad /ˈduːdəd/ also doo-hick-ey /ˈduːhɪki/ n. [C] (informal) a small object whose name you have forgotten or do not know: What's this doodad for?

doo-dle /ˈduːdl/ v. [I,T] to draw shapes or patterns without really thinking about what you are doing: Stein was doodling on a napkin. —doodle n. [C]

THESAURUS

draw, sketch, scribble →

DRAW¹

doom¹ /dum/ n. [U] 1 destruction, death, or failure that is certain to happen: a sense of impending doom (=a feeling that something bad will happen soon) 2 doom and gloom a feeling that there is no hope for the future

doom² v. [T] to make someone or something certain to fail, be destroyed, or die: The program was doomed to failure from the start. —doomed adj.

Dooms-day /ˈdumzdeɪ/ n. JUDGMENT DAY

door /dɔːr/ n. [C] 1 a large tall flat piece of wood, glass, etc. that you push or pull in order to go into a building, room, car, etc.: Could someone please open/close/shut the door? | Don't forget to lock the front/back/side door. | She ran into her bedroom and slammed the door (=shut it very hard). | Did you hear someone knock on/at the door? | Marie, can you get/answer the door (=open it after someone has knocked)? 2 the space made by an open door: You just go out/through this door and turn right. 3 next door in the room, house, etc. next to where you are: the people who live next door 4 at the door if someone is at the door, s/he is waiting for you to open it 5 two/three etc. doors down a particular number of rooms, houses, etc. away from where you are: Her office is just two doors down. 6 (from) door to door a) between one place and another: If you drive, it should only take you 20 minutes door to door. b) going to each house on a street to sell something, collect money, etc.: We went door to door asking people to sponsor us in the race. 7 show/see sb to the door to walk with someone to the main door of a building [ORIGIN: Old English duru “door” and dor “gate”] door-bell /ˈdɔːrbel/ n. [C] a button by the door of a house, that you press to make a sound that lets the people inside know you are there door-knob /ˈdɔːrnɒb/ n. [C] a round handle that you turn to open a door door-man /ˈdɔrmən, -mən/ n. (plural doormen /-mən, -mən/) [C] a man who works at the door of a hotel or theater, helping people who are coming in or out door-mat /ˈdɔrmæt/ n. [C] 1 a thick piece of material just outside a door for you to clean your shoes on 2 (informal) someone who lets other people treat him/her badly and never complains door-step /ˈdɔrstɛp/ n. 1 [C] a step just outside a door to a building 2 on your doorstep very near to where you live or are staying: Wow! You have the beach right on your doorstep!

D door-way /ˈdɔrweɪ/ n. [C] the space where a door opens into a room or building: Cindy stood in the doorway.

dope¹ /dɒp/ n. (informal) 1 [U] an illegal drug, especially MARIJUANA 2 [C] a stupid person dope² also dope up v. [T] (informal) 1 to give a drug to a person or animal in order to make him, her, or it unconscious 2 to give a drug to a person or animal in order to make him, her, or it perform better in a race —doping n. [U]

Dop-pler ef-fect /ˈdɒplə ɪˌfɛkt/ n. [singular] PHYSICS a change in how you hear a sound or see a light that is moving toward or away from you, so that a sound seems higher as it is moving closer to you, and a light seems more blue dork /dɔrk/ n. [C] (informal) someone who you think is silly or stupid because s/he behaves strangely or wears strange clothes: I look like such a dork in that picture. —dorky adj.

dorm /dɔrm/ n. [C] (informal) a dormitory dor-mant /ˈdɔrmənt/ adj. not active now, but able to be active at a later time: a dormant volcano —dormancy /ˈdɔrmənsi/ n. [U] dor-mi-to-ry /ˈdɔrməˌtɔri/ n. (plural dormitories) [C] a large building at a college or university, where students live dor-sal /ˈdɔrsəl/ adj. BIOLOGY on or relating to the back of a fish or animal: a whale's dorsal fin → see picture on page A2 dos-age /ˈdɒsɪdʒ/ n. [C] the amount of medicine that you should take at any one time dose /dɒs/ n. [C] 1 a measured amount of medicine: She was injected with a dose of insulin. 2 an amount of something that you experience at one time: I can only handle Jason in small doses (=for short amounts of time).

dos-si-er /ˈdasiˌer, ˈdɔ-/ n. [C] a set of papers that include detailed information about someone or something: The police keep dossiers on all their prisoners.

dot¹ /dɒt/ n. 1 [C] a small round mark or spot: a pattern of dots on the screen 2 on the dot (informal) exactly at a particular time: He arrived at nine o'clock on the dot.

dot² v. (dotted, dotting) [T] 1 to mark something by putting a dot on it or above it: She never dots her “i’s.” 2 to spread things out within an area: We have over 20 stores dotted around the state.

dot-‘com, dot.com, dot com adj. [only before noun] (informal) relating to a person or company that sells a product or service on the Internet: a dot-com company —dot-com n. [C] dote /dout/ v.

dote on sb phr. v. to love someone very much and to show this by your actions: They dote on their grandson. —doting adj.: doting parents dotted ‘line n. [C] 1 a series of printed dots that form a line 2 sign on the dotted line to officially agree to something by signing a contract

dou-ble¹ /ˈdʌbəl/ adj. 1 having two parts that are similar or exactly the same: a double sink | the double doors of the cathedral 2 twice the usual amount, size, or number: a double espresso (=type of coffee) | They have asked me to work double shifts. 3 intended to be used by two people → SINGLE: a double bed → see picture at BED¹ 4 combining or involving two things of the same type: a double major in English and French | Her husband was secretly leading a double life (=had two separate and different lives, each one secret from the other). [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French, Latin duplus, from duo “two” + -plus “multiplied by”]

double² v. [I,T] to become twice as large or twice as much, or to make something do this: Our house has doubled in value since we bought it. | The mayor wants to double the number of police officers on the street.

THESAURUS increase, go up, rise, grow, shoot up, multiply → INCREASE¹ double as sb/sth phr. v. to have a second use, job, or purpose: The sofa doubles as a bed.

double back phr. v. to turn around and go back in the direction you just came from: I doubled back and headed south.

double up, double over phr. v. be doubled up/over with pain/laughter etc. to bend at the waist because you are in pain or laughing a lot: Both the girls were doubled up with laughter.

double³ n. 1 [C,U] something that is twice as big or twice as much as usual: Scotch and water, please – make it a double. 2 sb’s double someone who looks very similar to someone else: She’s her mother’s double. 3 [C] a room or bed for two people → SINGLE 4 on the double (informal) very soon, or immediately: I want that report here on the double! 5 doubles [plural] a tennis game played by two pairs of players double⁴ adv. see double to have a problem with your eyes so that you see two things instead of one double⁵ determiner twice as much or twice as many: The car is worth double the amount we paid for it.

double bass /ˈdʌbəl ˈbeɪs/ n. [C] a very large wooden musical instrument, shaped like a VIOLIN, that you play while standing up double 'boiler n. [C] a pot for cooking food, made of one pot resting on top of another pot that has hot water in it double-'breasted adj. a double-breasted jacket or coat has two rows of buttons on the front double-'check v. [I,T] to check something again to find out if it is safe, ready, correct, etc.: I think I turned off the oven, but let me go double-check.

double 'chin n. [C] an additional fold of skin under someone's chin, that looks like a second chin double-'click v. [I] IT to press a button on a computer MOUSE twice in order to make the computer do something: Double-click on the Printer icon. —double click n. [C] double-'cross v. [T] to cheat someone when you are involved in something dishonest together —double cross n. [C] double 'date n. [C] an occasion when two COUPLES meet to go to a movie, restaurant, etc. together double-'digit adj. [only before noun] relating to the numbers 10 to 99: double-digit unemployment rates double 'digits n. [plural] the numbers from 10 to 99: Three of the team's players scored in double digits.

double 'duty n. do double duty to do more than one job or be used for more than one purpose at the same time: The lids on the pots do double duty as plates when we're camping.

double 'figures n. [plural] DOUBLE DIGITS double-'header n. [C] two baseball games that are played one after the other double 'helix n. [C] BIOLOGY a shape found in the structure of DNA, consisting of two parallel SPIRALS that twist around the same center double-'jointed adj. able to move the joints in your arms, fingers, etc. backward as well as forward double 'negative n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS two negative words used in one sentence when you should use only one in correct English grammar, for example in the sentence "I don't want nobody to help me!"

double-'park v. [I,T] to leave a car on the road beside another car that is already parked there: I got a ticket for double-parking.

double 'play n. [C] in the game of baseball, the action of making two players who are running between the BASES have to leave the field by throwing the ball quickly from one base to the other before each runner gets there double 'standard n. [C] a rule or principle that is unfair because it treats one group or type of people more severely than another in the same situation double 'take n. do a double take to suddenly look at someone or something again because you are surprised by what you originally saw or heard

'double-talk n. [U] (disapproving) speech that is complicated, and is intended to deceive or confuse people

'double 'vision n. [U] a medical condition in which you see two of everything

'double 'whammy n. (plural double whammies) [C] (informal) two bad things that happen at the same time or one after the other dou-bly /'dʌbli/ adv. 1 much more than usual: Be doubly careful when driving in fog. 2 in two ways or for two reasons: You are doubly mistaken.

doubt¹ /daʊt/ n. 1 [C,U] a feeling of not being certain whether something is true or possible: I began to have serious doubts about his ability to do the job. | There is no doubt that one day a cure will be found. | Without a doubt, Kevin is the best player on the team. 2 no doubt used when emphasizing that you think something is probably true: No doubt they'll win. | She was a top student, no doubt about it. 3 be in doubt if something is in doubt, it may not happen, continue, exist, or be true: The future of the peace talks is in doubt. 4 beyond doubt if something is beyond doubt, it is completely certain: The state must prove beyond reasonable doubt that he is guilty.

doubt² v. [T] 1 to think that something may not be true or that it is unlikely: I doubt that we will ever see her again. | He might come, but I doubt it. 2 to not trust or believe in someone or something: Nobody doubts his ability to stay calm in a crisis.

GRAMMAR

doubt that, doubt if, doubt whether

When you use the verb doubt in a simple statement, it can be followed by "that," "if," or "whether": I doubt that the car will be ready yet. | I doubt if/whether she can help. However, if the statement is negative, doubt can only be followed by "that": I don't doubt that he's honest (=I'm sure that he's honest). When you use the noun doubt after "no" or "not," it is always followed by "that": There is no doubt that she's guilty.

doubt-ful /'daʊtˈfʊl/ adj. 1 probably not true or not likely to happen: It's doubtful that voters will approve the bill. 2 not certain about something: I could see that he still looked doubtful.

THESAURUS

dubious — if you are dubious about something, you do not think it is a good idea or that it is true: At first, I was dubious about the idea of taking a vacation in Europe.

unconvinced — not persuaded by someone's arguments: Some people remain unconvinced about the threat of global warming.

skeptical — not willing to believe that something is really true: Scientists are skeptical about the benefits of the treatment.

—doubtfully adv.

doubt-less /ˈdaʊtˌlɪs/ adv. used when saying that something is very likely to happen or be true: Readers will doubtless be disappointed by her new novel.

dough /doʊ/ n. [U] 1 a mixture of flour and water ready to be baked into bread, cookies, etc. 2 (informal) money dough-nut /ˈdoʊnʌt/ n. [C] a small round cake that is usually shaped like a ring dour /ˈdaʊə, dʊə/ adj. very severe and not smiling: a dour expression douse /daʊs/ v. [T] 1 to stop a fire from burning by throwing water on it: Firefighters quickly doused the blaze. 2 to cover something in water or other liquid dove¹ /dʌv/ n. [C] a type of small white bird often used as a sign of peace [ORIGIN: Old English dufe] dove² /doʊv/ v. a past tense of DIVE dow-dy /ˈdaʊdi/ adj. unattractive or unfashionable

down¹ /daʊn/ adv. 1 toward a lower place or position (ANT up): She looked down at the street from her window. | David bent down to tie his shoelace. 2 into a sitting or lying position: Come in and sit down. | trees blown down by the big storm 3 in a lower place or position (ANT up): The cows are down in the valley. | The bathroom is down those stairs. 4 toward or in the south (ANT up): Gail drove down to North Carolina to see her brother. | We moved down south when I was a baby. 5 at or to a place that is further along a path, road, etc.: Could you go down to the store and get some bread? 6 decreasing in loudness, strength, heat, activity, etc. (ANT up): Can you turn the TV down a little? | House prices have come down in recent months. 7 write/note/take etc. sth down to write something on paper: I'll write down the address for you. 8 (informal) paid to someone immediately → DOWN PAYMENT: The landlord wants a lot of money down. 9 from an earlier time to a later time: The story was handed down in the family from father to son. | traditions that have come down to us from Medieval times → COME DOWN WITH down² adj. [not before noun] 1 sad: I've never seen Bret looking so down.

THESAURUS sad, unhappy, miserable, sorrowful, depressed, low, blue, downhearted, melancholy, morose, gloomy, glum → SAD

2 losing to an opponent by a certain number of points (ANT up): We were down by 6 points at half-time. 3 IT a computer system that is down is not working (ANT up) 4 a level, number, or amount that is down is lower than before (ANT up): At lunchtime, the stock market was down 77 points. 5 (spoken) used in order to say that a particular number of things have been finished, when there are more things left to do: That's two down. Only two more to do. 6 be down on sb/sth (spoken) to have a bad opinion of someone or something: Why is Jerome so down on work?

down³ prep. 1 toward the ground or a lower point, or in a lower position: The store is just down the hill. 2 along or toward the far end of something: We walked down the beach as the sun rose. | They live down the road from us. 3 down the road/line (informal) at some time in the future: We'd like to have children sometime down the line.

down⁴ v. [T] (informal) to drink something very quickly: Matt downed his coffee and left for work.

down⁵ n. 1 [U] thin soft feathers or hair: a down pillow 2 [C] one of the four chances that a football team has to move forward ten yards with the ball: first/second etc. down down-and-'out adj. (informal) having no luck or money: a down-and-out actor down-cast /ˈdaʊnkæst/ adj. sad or upset because something bad has happened down-er /ˈdaʊnə/ n. [singular] (spoken) someone or something that makes you feel unhappy: The movie was a real downer.

down-fall /ˈdaʊnfɔːl/ n. [C] a sudden loss of money, power, social position, etc., or something that leads to this: Greed will be his downfall.

down-grade /ˈdaʊngreɪd/ v. [T] to state that something is not as good or as valuable as it was before: Several analysts have downgraded the stock.

down-heart-ed /ˌdaʊnˈhɑːtɪd/ adj. be downhearted to feel sad about something

THESAURUS sad, unhappy, miserable, sorrowful, depressed, down, low, blue, melancholy, morose, gloomy, glum → SAD down-hill¹ /ˌdaʊnˈhɪl/ adv. 1 toward the bottom of a hill or toward lower land (ANT uphill): The truck's brakes failed, and it rolled downhill. 2 go downhill to become worse: After he lost his job, things went downhill.

down-hill² /ˌdaʊnhɪl/ adj. 1 on a slope that goes down to a lower point: downhill skiing 2 be (all) downhill to become worse: We got three runs in the first inning, but it was all downhill from there.

download n. [C] IT something that you download from the Internet, for example software, a computer game, or a song: I've got downloads of all their songs.

down-load /ˈdaʊnləʊd/ v. [T] IT to move information or programs from a computer network to your computer: The software can be downloaded from the Internet.

down 'payment n. [C] the first payment you make on something expensive that you will pay for over a longer period: a down payment on a car down-play /ˈdaʊnpleɪ/ v. [T] to make something seem less important than it really is: Fred downplayed the seriousness of his illness.

down-pour /'daʊnpɔː/ n. [C usually singular] a lot of rain that falls in a short time

THESAURUS rain, drizzle, shower, storm → RAIN¹ down-right /'daʊnraɪt/ adv. (informal) thoroughly and completely: You're just downright lazy.

down-riv-er /,daʊn'rɪvə/ adv. in the direction that the water in a river is flowing (ANT) upriver down-shift /'daʊnʃɪft/ v. [I] 1 to put the engine of a vehicle into a lower GEAR in order to go slower 2 if someone downshifts, s/he chooses to work less so that s/he has more time to enjoy life down-side /'daʊnsaɪd/ n. [singular] a disadvantage to something: The downside of the plan is the cost.

THESAURUS disadvantage, drawback, catch, bad point → DISADVANTAGE down-size /'daʊnsaɪz/ v. [I,T] to reduce the number of people who work for a company in order to cut costs —downsizing n. [U]

'Down's, Syndrome n. [U] BIOLOGY a condition that someone is born with that stops him/her from developing normally both mentally and physically down-stairs /,daʊn'steəz/ adv. 1 on or going toward a lower floor of a building, especially a house (ANT) upstairs: He went downstairs to make coffee. | Run downstairs and answer the door. 2 the downstairs the rooms on the first floor of a house (ANT) upstairs: Let's paint the downstairs blue. —downstairs /'daʊnstəz/ adj.: the downstairs rooms down-state /,daʊn'steɪt/ adj., adv. in or toward the southern part of a state (ANT) upstate: He lives downstate, near the city.

down-stream /,daʊn'strɪm/ adv. in the direction that the water in a river or stream is flowing (ANT) upstream down-time /'daʊntaɪm/ n. [U] 1 IT the time when a computer is not working 2 (informal) time spent relaxing down-to-earth adj. practical and honest: She's a friendly, down-to-earth person.

down-town¹ /'daʊntaʊn/ n. [U] the business center of a city or town: efforts to revitalize the city's downtown down-town² /,daʊn'taʊn/ adv., adj. to or in the business center of a city or town → UPTOWN: Do you work downtown? | downtown Atlanta | I need to go downtown later.

down-trod-den /'daʊn'trɒdn/ adj. (literary) treated badly by people who have power over you down-turn /'daʊntɜːn/ n. [C usually singular] a time during which business activity is reduced and conditions become worse: a downturn in the economy

THESAURUS recession, depression, slump, crash → RECESSION down-ward¹ /'daʊnwəd/ also downwards adv. from a higher place or position to a lower one (ANT) upward: The balloon drifted slowly downward.

downward² adj. going or moving down to a lower level or place (ANT) upward: Stock prices continued their downward trend.

down-wind /daʊn'wɪnd/ adj., adv. in the same direction that the wind is moving down-y /'daʊni/ adj. having thin soft feathers or hair: the baby's downy head dow-ry /'daʊri/ n. (plural dowries) [C] money or property that a woman gives to her husband when they marry in some societies doze /dɒz/ v. [I] to sleep lightly for a short time doze off phr.v. to fall asleep, especially when you did not intend to: He dozed off watching TV. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 From a Scandinavian language; related to Old Norse dúsa “to sleep lightly”] doz-en /'dɒzən/ number 1 a group of 12 things: a dozen eggs 2 (informal) a lot: I've heard this story dozens of times. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French dozeine, from doze “twelve”]

Dr. /'daktə/ the written abbreviation of DOCTOR drab /dræb/ adj. not colorful or interesting: a drab office building [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 drab “(dull-colored) cloth” (16—18 centuries), from Old French drap “cloth”] dra-co-ni-an /dræ'kəʊniən/ adj. (formal) very strict and severe: draconian laws [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Greek Drakon “Draco,” ancient Greek judge who had criminals killed for very small crimes]

THESAURUS strict, tough, firm, rigorous, stern, rigid, stringent → STRICT draft¹ /dræft/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 a piece of writing, a drawing, or a plan that is not yet in its finished form: the rough draft of his essay | I read the first draft and thought it was very good. | She still has to review the final draft (=final form). 2 the draft a system in which people must join the military, especially when there is a war 3 cold air that moves through a room and that you can feel: Is the window closed all the way? I feel a draft in here. 4 on draft beer that is on draft is served from a large container, rather than from a bottle or can draft² v. [T] 1 to write a plan, letter, report, etc. that you will need to change before it is finished: The House plans to draft a bill on education. 2 to order someone to fight for his/her country during a war: Jim was drafted into the army.

'draft ,dodger n. [C] someone who illegally avoids joining the military, even though s/he has been ordered to join drafts-man /'dræftsmən/ n. (plural draftsmen /-mən/) [C] someone whose job is to make detailed drawings of a building, machine, etc. that is being planned draft-y /'dræfti/ adj. a drafty room is uncomfortable because cold air is blowing through it drag¹ /dræg/ v. (dragged, dragging)

D

1 PULL STH [T] to pull something along the ground, often because it is too heavy to carry: Ben dragged his sled through the snow. → see picture on page A9

D

THESAURUS

pull, tug, haul, tow, heave →

PULL¹

2 PULL SB [T] to pull someone in a strong or violent way when s/he does not want to go with you: He grabbed her arm and dragged her into the room.

3 drag yourself up/over/along etc. (informal) to move somewhere when it is difficult: I dragged myself out of bed to call the doctor.

4 GO SOMEWHERE [T] (informal) to make someone go somewhere that s/he does not want to go: Mom dragged us to a concert last night.

5 drag yourself away (from) (informal) to stop doing something, although you do not want to: Can you drag yourself away from the TV for 5 minutes?

6 BORING [I] if time or an event drags, it is boring and seems to go very slowly: The last hour of the play really dragged.

7 COMPUTER [T] to move words, images, etc. on a computer screen by pulling them along with the MOUSE

8 TOUCHING GROUND [I] if something is dragging along the ground, part of it is touching the ground as you move: Your coat is dragging in the mud.

9 drag your feet (informal) to take too much time to do something because you do not want to do it: The police are being accused of dragging their feet on this case. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old Norse draga or Old English dragan] drag sb into sth phr. v.

to make someone get involved in a situation even though s/he does not want to: I'm sorry to drag you into this mess.

drag on phr. v.

to continue for too long: The meeting dragged on all afternoon.

drag sth ↔ out phr. v.

to make a situation or event last longer than necessary: How long are you going to drag this discussion out?

drag sth out of sb phr. v.

to force someone to tell you something when s/he had not intended to or was not supposed to do so drag² n. 1 a drag (informal) something or someone that is boring or annoying: "I have to stay home tonight." "What a drag." 2 the main drag (informal) the biggest or longest street that goes through a town, especially the middle of a town: There are a lot of restaurants along the main drag. 3 [C] the act of breathing in smoke from a cigarette: Al took a drag on his cigarette. 4 in drag (informal) wearing clothes that are intended for people of the opposite sex, especially for fun or entertainment drag-on /'drægən/ n. [C] a large imaginary animal that has wings, a long tail, and can breathe out fire [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French, Greek drakon "large snake"] drag-on-fly /'drægən,flaɪ/ n. (plural dragonflies) [C] a flying insect with a long brightly colored body

'drag race n. [C] a car race over a short distance

drain¹ /dreɪn/ v. 1 a) [T] to make the water or liquid in something flow away: The swimming pool is drained and cleaned every winter. | Brad drained all the oil from the engine. b) [I] if something drains, the liquid in it or on it flows away: Let the pasta drain well. c) [I] if a liquid drains, it flows away: The bath water slowly drained away. 2 [T] to use up all of your energy, making you feel very tired: Working with children all day really drains you. 3 [I] if the color drains from your face, you suddenly become pale 4 [T] to drink all the liquid in a glass, cup, etc.: Lori quickly drained her cup.

drain² n. 1 [C] a pipe or hole that dirty water or other waste liquids flow into: The drain in the sink is blocked. 2 a drain on sth something that uses a lot of something, such as time, money, or strength: Doing a graduate degree has been a drain on Fran's savings. 3 down the drain (informal) wasted or having no result: There's another $50 down the drain.

drain-age /'dreɪnɪdʒ/ n. [U] the system or process by which water or waste liquids can flow away from a place drained /dreɪnd/ adj. very tired: I felt completely drained after they had all gone home.

dra-ma /'dræmə, 'dræmə/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] a play for the theater, television, radio, etc., usually a serious one, or plays in general 2 [U] the study of acting and plays: drama school 3 [C,U] an exciting and unusual situation or event: a life full of drama | The photograph captures the drama of the moment. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Late Latin, Greek, "action, theater plays," from dran "to do"]

dra-mat-ic /drə'mætrɪk/ (Ac) adj. 1 sudden and surprising: His work has shown dramatic improvement. | a dramatic change in temperature | The changes were small, but their effect was dramatic. 2 exciting and impressive: a dramatic speech

THESAURUS

exciting, thrilling, gripping, exhilarating, electric → EXCITING

3 related to the theater or plays: Miller's dramatic works 4 showing your feelings in a way that makes other people notice you: Don't be so dramatic. | Rosa raised her hands in a dramatic gesture of despair. —dramatically adv. Output has increased dramatically.

dra-mat-ics /drə'mætɪks/ n. [plural] behavior that is intended to get attention and is not sincere: I'm really tired of your dramatics.

dram-a-tist /'dræmətɪst, 'dra-/ (Ac) n. [C] someone who writes plays, especially serious ones: plays by contemporary dramatists

dram-a-tize /'dræmətaɪz, 'dra-/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to make a book or event into a play, movie, television program, etc.: a novel dramatized for TV 2 to make an event seem more exciting than it really is: Do you always have to dramatize everything? —dramatization /,dræmətə'zeɪʃən/ n. [C,U] dram-a-turg /'dræmətədʒ, 'dra-/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS someone who works for a theater and helps theater directors and PLAYWRIGHTS, for example by developing new plays, employing actors, and doing RESEARCH drank /dræŋk/ v. the past tense of DRINK

drape /dreɪp/ v. [T] to put cloth, clothing, etc. loosely over or around something: Mina's scarf was draped over her shoulders.

drap-er-y /dreɪpəri/ n. (plural draperies) [C,U] cloth or clothing that is arranged in folds over something drapes /dreɪps/ n. [plural] heavy curtains dras-tic /'dræstɪk/ adj. extreme and sudden: Don't make any drastic changes just yet. —drastically adv.

draw¹ /drɔ/ v. (past tense drew /dru/, past participle drawn /drɒn/)

1 PICTURE [I,T] to make a picture of something with a pencil or a pen: Could you draw me a map? | He drew an elephant on the paper. | She was drawing a picture of a tree.

THE SAURUS

sketch – to draw something quickly and without a lot of detail: He sketched a rough street plan of Moscow.

doodle – to draw shapes or patterns without really thinking about what you are doing: He was doodling on a sheet of paper.

scribble – to draw or write something quickly in a messy way: She scribbled her name and phone number on the back of the card.

trace – to copy a picture by putting a piece of thin paper over it and drawing the lines that you can see through the paper: The kids were tracing designs on the paper.

2 draw (sb's) attention to sth to make someone notice something: I'd like to draw your attention to the six exit doors in the plane.

3 draw a conclusion to decide that something is true based on facts that you have: Other people might easily draw a different conclusion.

4 draw a distinction/comparison etc. to make someone understand that two things are different from or similar to each other: It's important to draw a distinction between business and non-business expenses.

5 PULL SB/STH [T] to move someone or something by pulling him, her, or it gently: Grant drew me aside to tell me the news.

6 MOVE [I] to move in a particular direction: She drew away, but he pulled her close again. | A police car drew up behind me.

7 ATTRACT/INTEREST [T] to attract or interest someone: The movie drew large crowds on the first day. | What first drew you to him?

8 GET A REACTION [T] to get a particular kind of reaction from someone: His remarks drew an angry response from Democrats. | Her idea drew praise/criticism from the others.

9 PLAYING CARD/TICKET [I,T] to choose a card, ticket, etc. by chance: The winning lottery numbers will be drawn on Saturday.

10 draw the line (at sth) to refuse to do something because you do not approve of it, although you are willing to do other things: I don't mind helping you, but I draw the line at telling lies.

11 draw a blank (informal) to be unable to think or remember something: I drew a blank when I tried to remember the number.

12 draw a gun/knife/sword etc. to take a weapon from its container or from your pocket: He had drawn a knife and was pointing it at me.

13 draw the curtains to open or close the curtains

14 draw to a close/an end (formal) to gradually stop or finish: Our vacation in Acapulco was drawing to a close.

15 draw comfort/strength etc. (from sb/sth) to get something such as comfort or strength from someone or something: I drew a lot of comfort from her kind words.

16 draw blood a) to take blood from someone at a hospital b) to make someone bleed: The dog bit her so hard that it drew blood.

17 draw near/close (literary) to move closer in time or space: Summer vacation is drawing near.

18 PULL A VEHICLE [T] to pull a vehicle using an animal: a carriage drawn by six horses [ORIGIN: Old English dragan] draw back phr. v.

to move back from something: The crowd drew back to let the police by.

draw sb into sth phr. v.

to make someone become involved in something when s/he does not want to be: Keith refused to be drawn into our argument.

draw on sth phr. v.

to use your money, experiences, etc. to help you do something: A good writer draws on his or her own experience.

draw out phr. v.

1 draw sb ↔ out to make someone feel less nervous and more willing to talk: She just needed someone to draw her out and take an interest in her.

2 draw sth ↔ out to make an event last longer than usual draw sth ↔ up phr. v.

to prepare a written document: We drew up some guidelines for the new committee.

draw² n. [C] 1 an occasion when someone or something is chosen by chance, especially the winning ticket in a LOTTERY 2 something or someone that a lot of people are willing to pay to see: The Lakers are always a big draw. 3 a game that ends with both teams or players having the same number of points (SYN) tie draw-back /'drɒbæk/ n. [C] something that might be a problem or disadvantage: The main drawback to the job is that the hours wouldn't be regular.

THESAURUS disadvantage, downside, catch, bad point → DISADVANTAGE draw-bridge /'drɒbrɪdʒ/ n. [C] a bridge that can be pulled up to let ships go under it drawer /drɔː/ n. [C] a part of a piece of furniture that slides in and out and is used for keeping things in: The pens are in the bottom/top drawer of my desk. | Put it in the desk drawer.

draw-ing /'drɔːɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] a picture you make with a pen or pencil: She showed us a drawing of the house.

THESAURUS

picture – a drawing, painting, or photograph: On the refrigerator were pictures the kids had drawn.

sketch – a drawing that you do quickly and without a lot of details: Andrew did a quick sketch of the harbor.

doodle – a picture or pattern that you draw without really thinking about what you are doing: The paper was covered in doodles.

comic strip – a series of pictures that are drawn inside boxes and tell a story: The Doonesbury comic strip comments on political and social events.

cartoon – a funny drawing in a newspaper, usually about someone or something that is in the news: An editorial cartoon showed him as a baby throwing a tantrum.

2 [U] the art or skill of making pictures with a pen or pencil: I've never been good at drawing.

THESAURUS art, painting, photography, sculpture, pottery, ceramics → ART

'drawing board n. (go) back to the drawing board to start working on a new plan or idea after an idea you have tried has failed: They rejected our proposal, so it's back to the drawing board.

drawl /drɔːl/ n. [singular] a way of speaking in which vowels are longer than usual: a Southern drawl — drawl v. [I,T] drawn¹ /drɒn/ v. the past participle of DRAW drawn² adj. someone who is drawn has a thin pale face because s/he is sick, tired, or worried

,drawn-'out adj. seeming to continue for a very long time: a long drawn-out process draw-string /'drɒstrɪŋ/ n. [C] a string through the top of a bag, piece of clothing, etc. that you can pull tight or make loose dread¹ /dred/ v. [T] to feel very worried about something that is going to happen or may happen: I've got an interview tomorrow and I'm dreading it.

dread² n. [singular, U] a strong fear of something that is going to happen or may happen: The thought filled me with dread.

dread-ful /'dredfəl/ adj. very bad: a dreadful movie — dreadfully adv.

THESAURUS horrible, disgusting, awful, revolting, foul, terrible, horrendous → HORRIBLE dread-locks /'dredləks/ n. [plural] a way of arranging your hair in which it hangs in lots of thick pieces that look like rope

dream¹ /drim/ n. [C] 1 a series of thoughts, images, and experiences that come into your mind when you are asleep: I had a funny dream last night. | a bad dream (=a frightening or unpleasant dream) 2 something that you hope will happen: Her dream was to become an opera singer. 3 beyond your wildest dreams better than anything you imagined or hoped for 4 a dream come true something that you have wanted to happen for a long time: Owning this boat is a dream come true. [ORIGIN: Old English dream "noise, great happiness"]

dream² v. (past tense and past participle dreamed or dreamt /dremt/) 1 [I,T] to have a dream while you are asleep: I often dream that I'm falling. 2 [I,T] to think about something that you would like to happen: She dreamed of becoming a pilot. | He never dreamed that he would make it to the finals (=never thought that it would happen). | I've been dreaming about this moment all my life. 3 sb wouldn't dream of (doing) sth (spoken) used in order to say that you would never do something: I wouldn't dream of letting you walk home alone. 4 dream on (spoken) said when you think that what someone is hoping for will not happen: You really believe we'll win? Dream on!

dream sth ↔ up phr. v. to think of a plan or idea, especially an unusual one: Who dreams up these TV commercials?

THESAURUS invent, create, think up, come up with sth, conceive, devise, make up → INVENT dream³ adj. dream car/house/team etc. the best car, house, etc. that you can imagine: A Porsche is my dream car.

dream-er /'drimə/ n. [C] someone who has plans that are not practical dream-y /'drimi/ adj. 1 looking like you are thinking about something pleasant rather than what is happening around you: a dreamy smile 2 someone who is dreamy has a good imagination but is not very practical 3 pleasant, peaceful, and relaxing: dreamy music —dreamily adv.

dreary /'drɪəri/ adj. dull and uninteresting: a wet and dreary afternoon —drearily adv. —dreariness n. [U] dredge /dredʒ/ v. [I,T] to remove mud or sand from the bottom of a river, or to search the bottom of a river or lake for something dredge sth ↔ up phr. v. (informal) to start talking about something bad or unpleasant that happened a long time ago: Why do the papers have to dredge up that old story?

dregs /dregz/ n. [plural] small solid pieces in a liquid such as wine or coffee that sink to the bottom of the cup, bottle, etc.

drench /drentʃ/ v. [T] to make something completely wet: I forgot my umbrella and got drenched.

dress¹ /dres/ v. 1 [I,T] to put clothes on someone or yourself: Can you dress the kids while I make breakfast? | Hurry up and get dressed! 2 be dressed to be wearing clothes: Are you dressed yet? | She was dressed in a simple black dress. | a well-dressed gentleman 3 [I] to wear a particular type of clothes: Dress warmly – it's cold out. | You can dress casually at our office. 4 dress a wound/cut etc. to clean and cover a wound in order to protect it dress down phr. v. to wear clothes that are less formal than the ones you usually wear dress up phr. v. 1 to wear clothes that are more formal than the ones you usually wear: It's only a small party. You don't need to dress up. 2 to wear special clothes for fun: She dressed up as a witch for Halloween.

dress² n. 1 [C] a piece of clothing worn by a woman or girl, that covers the top of her body and some or all of her legs: a summer dress | She was wearing a red dress. → see picture at CLOTHES 2 [U] clothes for men or women of a particular type or for a particular occasion: casual dress in the workplace | He was wearing evening dress (=formal clothes worn at important social events). 3 dress shirt/dress shoes a shirt or shoes that you wear with formal clothes such as a suit

'dress code n. [C] a standard of what you should wear for a particular situation drawers-er /'dresə/ n. [C] a piece of furniture with drawers for storing clothes, sometimes with a mirror on top dress-ing /'dresɪŋ/ n. 1 [C,U] a mixture of oil and other things that you pour over SALAD: salad dressing 2 [C,U] STUFFING 3 [C] a special piece of material used for covering and protecting a wound: a clean dressing for the cut

'dressing room n. [C] 1 a room or area in a store, where you can try on clothes 2 a room where an actor, performer, etc. gets ready before going on stage, appearing on television, etc.

'dress re,hearsal n. [C] the last time actors practice a play, using all the clothes, objects, etc. that will be used in the real performance dress-y /'dresi/ adj. dressy clothes are appropriate for formal occasions drew /dru/ v. the past tense of DRAW drib-ble /'dribəl/ v. 1 [I,T] to flow slowly in irregular drops, or to make a liquid flow in this way: Blood was dribbling from his cut lip. 2 [T] to move forward with a ball by BOUNCING or kicking it again and again —dribble n. [C] drips and drabs /,driɪbz ən 'dræbz/ n. in dribs and drabs in small amounts: People arrived in dribs and drabs.

dried¹ /draɪd/ v. the past tense and past participle of DRY dried² adj. dried food or flowers have had all the water removed from them

drift¹ /drɪft/ v. [I] 1 to move very slowly on water or in the air: Gray clouds were drifting over from the north. 2 to move or go somewhere without any plan or purpose: Julie drifted toward the window. | Her thoughts drifted away. 3 to gradually change from being in one condition, situation, etc. into another: During the ambulance ride, he drifted in and out of consciousness. 4 snow or sand that drifts is blown into a large pile by the wind drift apart phr. v. if people drift apart, they gradually stop having a relationship: Over the years, my college friends and I have drifted apart.

drift off phr. v. to gradually fall asleep: After a while, I drifted off to sleep.

drift² n. [C] 1 a large pile of snow, sand, etc. that has been blown by the wind: snow drifts

THESAURUS

PILE¹

pile, heap, mound, stack →

2 catch/get sb's drift to understand the general meaning of what someone says: I don't speak much Spanish, but I got her drift. 3 a gradual change or development in a situation, people's opinion, etc.: a long downward drift in the birthrate 4 a very slow movement: continental drift drift-er /'drɪftə/ n. [C] someone who is always moving to a different place or doing different jobs drift-wood

/'drɪftwud/ n. [U] wood floating in the ocean or left on the shore

drill¹ /drɪl/ n. 1 [C] a tool or machine used for making holes in something hard: an electric drill | a dentist's drill 2 [C,U] a method of teaching something by making people repeat the same lesson, exercise, etc. many times: a spelling drill 3 fire/ emergency etc. drill an occasion when you practice what you should do during a dangerous situation

drill² v. 1 [I,T] to make a hole with a drill: Drill a hole for the screw in each corner. | drilling for oil

THESAURUS pierce, make a hole in sth, prick, punch, puncture, bore → PIERCE

2 [T] to teach people something by making them repeat the same exercise, lesson, etc. many times → PRACTICE² drill sth into sb phr. v. to tell something to someone many times, until s/he knows it very well: Mom drilled it into us that we shouldn't talk to strangers.

D

dry-ly /ˈdraɪli/ adv. another spelling of DRYLY

drink¹ /drɪŋk/ n. 1 [C,U] liquid that you can drink, or an amount of liquid that you drink: Here, have a drink of water. | a drink of coffee | soft drinks | food and drink 2 [C] an alcoholic drink: How about a drink later? [ORIGIN: Old English drincan]

drink² v. (past tense drank /dræŋk/, past participle drunk /drʌŋk/) 1 [I,T] to pour a liquid into your mouth and swallow it: Let me get you something to drink. | Charlie drinks way too much coffee.

THESAURUS

sip/take a sip – to swallow only a small amount of a liquid slurp (informal) – to drink something in a noisy way gulp sth down also down sth (informal) – to drink all of something very quickly: I downed my beer and left.

knock sth back (informal) – to drink all of an alcoholic drink very quickly

swig (informal) also take/have a swig (informal) – to drink something quickly by taking large amounts into your mouth, especially from a bottle: He ate a few peanuts and took a swig of his beer.

guzzle (informal) – to drink a lot of something eagerly and quickly: It was a hot day, and people were sitting on their porches guzzling lemonade.

imbibe (formal, humorous) – to drink something, especially alcohol: Throughout the evening, he had imbibed more and more wine. → EAT

2 [I] to drink alcohol, especially too much or too often: I don't drink. | His father began drinking heavily (=a lot).

drink sth ↔ in phr. v. to listen, look at, feel, or smell something in order to enjoy it: We spent the day drinking in the sights and sounds of Paris.

drink to sth phr. v. to wish someone success, good health, etc. before having an alcoholic drink: Let's all drink to their happiness!

drink (sth ↔) up phr. v. to drink all of something: Drink up your milk. | Come on, drink up!

drink-er /ˈdrɪŋkə/ n. [C] someone who often drinks alcohol: Greg's a heavy drinker (=he drinks a lot).

'drinking fountain n. [C] a piece of equipment in a public place, that produces a stream of water for you to drink from

'drinking problem n. [singular] someone who has a drinking problem drinks too much alcohol

drip¹ /drɪp/ v. (dripped, dripping) 1 [I,T] to produce small drops of liquid: The faucet sounds like it's dripping. | His finger was dripping blood. | They were both dripping with sweat. 2 [I] to fall in drops: Rain dripped off the trees.

THESAURUS pour, flow, leak, ooze, gush, spurt, run, come out → POUR drip² n. 1 [C] one of the small drops of liquid that falls from something 2 [singular, U] the action or sound of a liquid falling in small drops: the drip of rain from the roof 3 [C] (informal) someone who is boring and annoying

drive¹ /draɪv/ v. (past tense drove /droʊv/, past participle driven /ˈdrɪvən/) 1 [I,T] to make a car, bus, etc. move and control where it goes: teenagers learning to drive | He drives a red Porsche.

TOPIC

When you get into a car, you buckle/fasten your seatbelt, then put the key in the ignition and turn it to start the engine.

You release the parking/emergency brake, and put the car in drive. You check your mirrors (=look into them) before driving onto the street. You press the gas pedal with your foot to make the car accelerate (=go faster).

When you turn right or left, you must indicate/put on your turn signals. When you want to slow down, you press the brake (pedal) with your foot. When you park your car, you put the car in park and set/put on the parking brake.

2 [I,T] to travel in a car or take someone somewhere by car: We're driving up/down to Washington this weekend. | Would you mind driving me to the airport? | After the party, he drove her home. 3 [I,T] to make people, animals, or an activity move somewhere: We were driven indoors by the rain. | Large grocery chains drove out the small family-owned stores. 4 [T] to strongly influence someone to do something: What drove him to suicide? 5 drive sb crazy/nuts/insane etc. also drive sb up the wall to make someone feel very annoyed and angry: The kids are driving me crazy! 6 [T] to hit something very hard: Barry drove the ball into left field. 7 [T] to provide the power for a vehicle or machine: the motor that drives the propeller [ORIGIN: Old English drifan] drive sb ↔ away phr. v. to behave in a way that makes someone want to leave you: If you keep on drinking, I guarantee you'll drive her away.

drive sth ↔ down phr. v. to make prices, costs, etc. fall quickly drive off phr. v. 1 if a driver or a car drives off, he, she, or it leaves 2 drive sb/sth ↔ off to force someone or something to go away from you: Police used tear gas to drive off the rioters.

drive sth ↔ up phr. v. to make prices, costs, etc. increase drive² n. 1 [C] a trip in a car: Let's go for a drive. | It's a twenty-minute drive from the city. 2 [C] a strong natural need or desire: As men get older, their sex drive gradually declines. 3 [C] a planned effort by an organization to achieve a particular result: the senator's reelection drive | a drive to raise money for starving children

THESAURUS fight, battle, campaign, struggle, crusade → FIGHT²

4 [C] IT a piece of equipment in a computer that is used to get information from a DISK or to store information on it: the C drive 5 [C] an act of hitting a ball hard: a line drive to right field 6 [U] a determination to succeed: He has considerable drive. 7 [C] the power from an engine that makes the wheels of a car, bus, etc. turn: a four-wheel drive pickup

'drive-by adj. drive-by shooting/killing the act of shooting someone from a moving car

'drive-in¹ n. [C] a place where you can watch movies outdoors while sitting in your car

'drive-in² adj. drive-in restaurant/movie a restaurant, theater, etc. where you stay in your car to eat, watch the movie, etc.

driv-el /'drɪvəl/ n. [U] something written or said that is silly or does not mean anything driv-en /'drɪvən/ v. the past participle of DRIVE

driv-er /'draɪvə/ n. [C] 1 someone who drives: a truck/cab/bus driver | Joyce is a good/bad driver. 2 IT a piece of software that makes a computer work with another piece of equipment such as a PRINTER or a MOUSE

'driver's license n. [C] an official card with your name, picture, etc. on it that says you are legally allowed to drive

'drive-through adj. a drive-through restaurant, bank, etc. can be used without getting out of your car drive-way /'draɪvweɪ/ n. [C] the road or area for cars between a house and the street: Park your car in the driveway.

driz-zle¹ /'drɪzəl/ n. [singular, U] weather that is a combination of mist and light rain

THESAURUS rain, shower, downpour, storm, hail, sleet → RAIN¹

drizzle² v. 1 IT drizzles if it drizzles, mist and light rain come out of the sky: It started to drizzle. 2 [T] to pour a liquid over food in small drops or a thin stream droll /droul/ adj. (old-fashioned) unusual and slightly funny drone¹ /droun/ v. [I] to make a continuous low noise: An airplane droned overhead.

drone² n. 1 [singular] a continuous low noise: the drone of the lawnmower 2 [C] an aircraft that does not have a pilot, but is operated by radio drool /dru:l/ v. [I] 1 to have SALIVA (=the liquid in your mouth) flow from your mouth: The dog began to drool. 2 to show in a silly way that you like or want someone or something a lot: The thought of all that money made us drool. —drool n. [U] droop /drup/ v. [I] to hang or bend down: Her shoulders drooped with tiredness.

drop¹ /drap/ v. (dropped, dropping)

1 LET GO [T] to stop holding or carrying something, so that it falls: One of the waiters tripped and dropped a tray full of food. | With this technology, planes are able to drop bombs accurately. → see picture on page A9

2 FALL [I] to fall: The bottle rolled off the table and dropped onto the floor. | He dropped into his chair with a sigh.

3 TAKE IN A CAR [T] also drop off to take someone or something to a place in a car, when you are going on to somewhere else: I'll drop you at the corner, okay? | She drops the kids off at school on her way to work.

4 DECREASE [I, T] to decrease to a lower level or amount, or to make something decrease: Crime on the buses has dropped 25%. | The store has dropped its prices.

THESAURUS decrease, go down, fall, plummet, diminish, decline, dwindle → DECREASE¹

5 STOP DOING STH [T] to stop doing something or stop planning to do something: The charges against him have been dropped. | He expects me to just drop everything (=stop everything I am doing) and go with him. | I wasn't doing very well, so I dropped French (=stopped studying French). | Drop it (=stop talking about it), Ted, it's just a rumor.

6 STOP INCLUDING [T] to decide not to include someone or something: Morris has been dropped from the team.

7 STOP A RELATIONSHIP [T] to stop having a relationship with someone, especially suddenly: She found out he was seeing someone else, so she dropped him.

8 drop dead a) to die suddenly b) (spoken) used when you are very angry with someone

9 drop the ball to stop doing something, when people expected you to continue doing it

10 work/run etc. until you drop (informal) to do something until you are extremely tired

11 drop sb a line (informal) to write to someone: Drop us a line sometime. [ORIGIN: Old English droppian] drop by also drop in phr. v.

to visit someone when you have not arranged to come at a particular time: Doris and Ed dropped by on Saturday.

drop off phr. v.

1 to begin to sleep: The baby dropped off to sleep in the car.

2 to become less in level or amount: The demand for leaded fuel dropped off in the late 1970s.

drop out phr. v.

to stop going to school or stop an activity before you have finished it: teenagers dropping out of high school | The injury forced him to drop out of the race.

drop² n. 1 [C] a very small amount of liquid that falls in a round shape: big drops of rain | a tear drop 2 [C] a small amount of a liquid: Add a couple of drops of lemon juice. 3 [singular] a distance from something down to the ground: It's a twenty-five foot drop from this cliff. 4 [singular] a decrease in the amount, level, or number of something: a steep/sharp drop from 72% to 34% | a drop in temperature 5 eye/ear/nose drops medicine that you put in your eye, etc. one drop at a time 6 a drop in the bucket an amount of something that is too small to have any effect 7 at the drop of a hat immediately: He could fall asleep at the drop of a hat.

'drop-down menu n. [C] it a list that appears on a computer screen, that shows you what you can choose to do. You press the button on the mouse on one of the choices to send an instruction to the computer.

drop-let /ˈdrɒplɪt/ n. [C] a very small drop of liquid drop-out /ˈdrɒp-aʊt/ n. [C] someone who leaves school or college without finishing it drop-per /ˈdrɒpə/ n. [C] a short glass tube with a hollow rubber part at one end, used for measuring liquid in drops drop-pings /ˈdrɒpɪŋz/ n. [plural] solid waste from animals or birds drought /draʊt/ n. [C] a long period of dry weather when there is not enough water: a severe drought drove¹ /droʊv/ v. the past tense of DRIVE

drove² n. [C] a large group of animals or people that move or are moved together: Tourists come in droves to see the White House.

drown /draʊn/ v. 1 [I,T] to die from being under water too long, or to kill someone in this way: Many people drowned when the boat overturned. | Five people drowned in the flood. | She drowned herself in the river. 2 [T] also drown out if a loud noise drowns out another sound, it prevents it from being heard: The president's words were drowned out by cheers. 3 [T] to completely cover something with liquid: Dad always drowns his pancakes in/with maple syrup. 4 drown your sorrows to drink a lot of alcohol in order to forget your problems drown-ing /ˈdraʊnɪŋ/ n. [C,U] death caused by staying under water for too long drows-y /ˈdraʊzi/ adj. tired and almost asleep [SYN] sleepy: The medicine can make you drowsy. —drowsiness n. [U] drudge /drʌdʒ/ n. [C] someone who does difficult boring work —drudge v. [I] drudg-er-y /ˈdrʌdʒəri/ n. [U] difficult boring work

drug¹ /drʌg/ n. [C] 1 an illegal substance that people smoke, INJECT, etc. for pleasure: Bill was accused of taking/using drugs. | be on drugs (=be using drugs) 2 a medicine or a substance for making medicines: a drug used for depression [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French drogue]

THESAURUS medicine, pill, tablet, capsule, eye/ear drops, medication → MEDICINE

drug² v. (drugged, drugging) [T] to give a person or animal a drug, especially to make him, her, or it feel tired or go to sleep, or to get rid of pain: The kidnappers drugged him and bundled him into the car.

drug-store /ˈdrʌgstɔː/ n. [C] a store where you can buy medicines, beauty products, etc.

[SYN] pharmacy

drum¹ /drʌm/ n. [C] 1 a musical instrument made of skin stretched over a circular frame, which you play by hitting it with your hand or a stick: a bass drum | Johnny plays the drums in a band. 2 something that looks like a drum, especially part of a machine 3 a large round container for storing liquids such as oil, chemicals, etc.

drum² v. (drummed, drumming) 1 [I,T] to hit the surface of something again and again in a way that sounds like drums: He drummed his fingers on the table. | rain drumming on the roof 2 [I] to play a drum drum sth into sb phr. v. to say something to someone so often that s/he cannot forget it: Safety rules are drummed into the workers.

drum sth ↔ up phr. v. to obtain help, money, etc. by asking a lot of people: The group drummed up corporate sponsors for the event.

drum-mer /ˈdrʌmə/ n. [C] someone who plays the drums drum-stick /ˈdrʌmstɪk/ n. [C] 1 the leg of a chicken, TURKEY, etc. cooked as food 2 a stick that you use to hit a drum

drunk¹ /drʌŋk/ adj. unable to control your behavior, speech, etc. because you have drunk too much alcohol: college students getting drunk at parties | He was too drunk to drive.

drunk² the past participle of DRINK

drunk³ also drunk-ard /ˈdrʌŋkəd/ n. [C] (disapproving) someone who is drunk or often gets drunk drunk 'driving n. [U] the illegal act of driving a car after having drunk too much alcohol drunk-en /ˈdrʌŋkən/ adj. 1 drunk: a drunken crowd 2 resulting from or related to drinking too much alcohol: drunken shouting —drunkenness n. [U] —drunkenly adv.

dry¹ /draɪ/ adj. 1 having no water or other liquid inside or on the surface [ANT] wet: I changed into dry clothes. | Store in a cool, dry place. | Is the paint dry yet? 2 dry weather does not have much rain or

MOISTURE ANT wet: *The weather was hot and dry. | the beginning of the dry season 3 if your mouth, throat, or skin is dry, it does not have enough of the natural liquid that is usually in it: My skin has been so dry lately. | Ted's mouth was dry and his heart pounded. 4 dry wine/champagne etc. wine, etc. that is not sweet: a glass of dry white wine 5 someone with a dry WIT or humor, or who says things in a dry voice, says funny things in a serious way 6 boring and very serious: a dry subject [ORIGIN: Old English dryge]

dry² v. (dried, dries) [I,T] to become dry, or to make something dry: It'll only take me a few minutes to dry my hair. | Mae hung the washing out to dry.

dry (sth ↔) off phr. v. to become dry, or to make the surface of something dry: We swam, then dried off in the sun. | She began to dry herself off.

dry (sth ↔) out phr. v. to dry completely, or to dry something completely: Keep the dough covered so that it doesn't dry out.

dry up phr. v. 1 dry (sth ↔) up a river, lake, or area of land that dries up has no more water in it: Water holes and wells have dried up across the state. 2 if a supply of something dries up, there is no more of it: Companies get rid of employees when the work dries up.

'dry clean v. [T] to clean clothes with chemicals instead of water

,dry 'cleaners n. [C] a place where you take clothes to be dry cleaned dry-er /'draɪə/ n. [C] a machine that dries things, especially clothes or hair

,dry 'ice n. [U] CARBON DIOXIDE in a solid state, often used for keeping food and other things cold dry-ly /'draɪli/ adv. speaking in a serious way, although you are actually joking

,dry 'run n. [C] an occasion when you practice for an important event

,dry 'wall n. [U] a type of board made of two large sheets of CARDBOARD with PLASTER between them, used to cover walls and ceilings —'dry-wall v. [I,T] du-al /'duəl/ adj. having two of something, or two parts: My wife has dual nationality/citizenship – American and Brazilian.

dub /dʌb/ v. (dubbed, dubbing) [T] 1 to give someone or something a name that describes him, her, or it in some way: The area was dubbed "Tornado Alley" because of its strong winds. 2 to replace the original spoken language of a film, television show, etc. with a recording of a different language: an Italian movie that's been dubbed into English du-bi-ous /'dubiəs/ adj. 1 not sure whether something is good, true, etc.: Employees are dubious about the proposed changes.

THESAURUS doubtful, unconvinced, skeptical → DOUBTFUL

2 not seeming honest, safe, valuable, etc.: an idea based on dubious research | He had the dubious distinction of coming second in the spelling bee three years in a row.

duch-ess /'dʌtʃɪs/ n. [C] a woman with the highest social rank below a PRINCESS, or the wife of a DUKE

duck¹ /dʌk/ n. 1 [C] a common water bird with short legs and a wide beak, that is used for its meat, eggs, and soft feathers 2 [U] the meat from this bird: roast duck [ORIGIN: Old English duce]

duck² v. 1 [I,T] to lower your body or head very quickly, or move away very quickly, especially to avoid being hit or seen: She ducked her head to get through the doorway. | Tom ducked into an alley. 2 [T] (informal) to avoid something that is difficult or unpleasant: His campaign speech ducked all the major issues.

duck-ling /'dʌklɪŋ/ n. [C] a young duck duct /dʌkt/ n. [C] 1 a pipe or tube in a building, that liquid, air, electric CABLES, etc. go through 2 BIOLOGY a thin narrow tube inside your body, a plant, etc., that liquid, air, etc. goes through: a tear duct dud /dʌd/ n. (informal) 1 [C] something that does not work or is useless: This battery's a dud. 2 duds [plural] (humorous) clothes —dud adj.

dude /dud/ n. [C] (informal) a man: Hey, dudes, how's it going?

'dude ranch n. [C] a vacation place where you can ride horses and live like a COWBOY

due¹ /du/ adj. 1 be due to be expected to happen or arrive at a particular time: The flight from Chicago is due at 7:48 p.m. | Your final research paper is due in March. | What's the baby's due date (=the day it is expected to be born)? | My library books are due back tomorrow. | The book is due out in the spring. | The new museum is due to open next year. | I feel I'm due for a raise. 2 due to because of: The program was canceled, due to lack of funds. | She was absent due to illness. 3 needing to be paid: The first installment of $250 is now due. 4 deserved by someone or owed to someone: He never got the recognition he was due. | Much of the credit is due to our backup team. 5 in due course/time at a more appropriate time in the future: The committee will answer her complaints in due course. 6 with (all) due respect (spoken) used when you disagree with someone or criticize him/her in a polite way

due² adv. due north/south/east/west directly or exactly north, etc.

due³ n. 1 dues [plural] the money that you pay to be a member of an organization: union dues 2 give sb his/her due to admit that someone has good qualities, even though you are criticizing him/her: To give him his due, he tries very hard.

du-el /'duəl/ n. [C] 1 a situation in which two people or groups are involved in a competition or disagreement: The two runners will face a duel for the 100-meter record. 2 a fight in past times between two people with guns or swords —duel v. [I] due 'process also due ,process of 'law n. [U] LAW the correct process that should be followed by law in order to protect someone's legal rights du-et /du'et/ n. [C] a piece of music written for two performers duf-fel bag /'dʌfəl ,bæg/ n. [C] a cloth bag with a round bottom and a string around the top to tie it closed dig /dʌg/ v. the past tense and past participle of DIG dug-out /'dʌgaʊt/ n. [C] a low shelter at the side of a baseball field, where players and team officials sit duh /dʌ/ interjection (spoken) used in order to say that what someone else has just said is stupid duke /duk/ n. [C] a man with the highest social rank below a PRINCE [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French duc, from Latin dux “leader”]

D

dull¹ /dʌl/ adj. 1 not interesting or exciting: a dull book

THESAURUS boring, tedious, not (very/that/all that) interesting, humdrum, monotonous, insipid → BORING

2 a dull sound is not clear or loud: I heard a dull thud from upstairs. 3 a dull pain is not severe but does not stop: a dull ache in my shoulder 4 not bright or shiny: dull brown walls 5 not sharp [SYN] blunt: a dull knife → see picture at SHARP¹ [ORIGIN: Old English doſ] —dully adv. —dullness n. [U] dull² v. [T] to make something become less sharp, less clear, etc.: a drug to dull the pain du-ly /'dʌli/ adv. (formal) at the correct time or in the correct way: Your suggestion has been duly noted.

dumb¹ /dʌm/ adj. 1 (informal) stupid: a dumb movie | How could you be so dumb? 2 (old-fashioned) unable to speak [SYN] mute dumb² v.

dumb sth ↔ down phr. v. (informal) to make something such as news or information less detailed and present it in an attractive way, so that more people can understand it very easily: Local news programs seem to have been dumbed down.

dumb-bell /'dʌmbəl/ n. [C] 1 two weights connected by a short piece of metal, that you lift for exercise 2 (informal) someone who is stupid dumb-found-ed /'dʌm,faʊndɪd/ adj. so surprised that you cannot speak

THESAURUS surprised, amazed, shocked, astonished, astounded, flabbergasted, stunned, nonplussed, taken aback → SURPRISED dum-my¹ /'dʌmi/ n. (plural dummies) [C] 1 (informal) someone who is stupid 2 a figure made to look like a person dummy² adj. a dummy tool, weapon, etc. looks like a real one but does not work: a dummy rifle

dump¹ /dʌmp/ v. [T] 1 to drop or put something somewhere in a careless way, sometimes in order to get rid of it: Illegal chemicals have been dumped in the river. | They dumped their bags on the floor and left.

THESAURUS shove, stick, thrust → SHOVE

2 [informal] to suddenly end a relationship: Tammy dumped her boyfriend.

dump on phr. v. (informal) 1 dump on sb to criticize someone or complain to someone: Reporters have been dumping on the White House because of the war. 2 dump sth on sb to unfairly give someone an unwanted job, duty, or problem to deal with: Don't just dump the extra work on me.

dump² n. [C] 1 a place where unwanted waste is taken and left: the town's garbage dump | a toxic waste dump 2 a place where military supplies are stored, or the supplies themselves: an ammunition dump 3 (informal) a place that is unpleasant because it is dirty, ugly, or boring: This place is such a dump. 4 be down in the dumps (informal) to feel very sad

Dump-ster /'dʌmpstə/ n. [C] (trademark) a large metal container used for holding waste

'dump truck n. [C] a vehicle with a large open container at the back that can pour sand, soil, etc. onto the ground dump-y /'dʌmpi/ adj. (informal) short and fat: a dumpy little man dunce /dʌns/ n. [C] (informal) someone who is slow at learning things dune /dʌn/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a hill made of sand near the ocean or in the desert → see picture on page A11 dung /dʌŋ/ n. [U] solid waste from animals, especially from large animals dun-geon /'dʌndʒən/ n. [C] a prison under the ground, used in past times [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French donjon “central part of a castle,” from Latin dominus “lord”] dunk /dʌŋk/ v. [T] 1 to quickly put something that you are eating into coffee, milk, etc., and take it out again 2 to push someone under water for a short time as a joke 3 to jump up toward the basket in a game of basketball and throw the ball down into it —dunk n. [C] dun-no /də'nou/ I dunno a way of writing “I do not know;” used to show how people sound when they speak du-o /'duoʊ/ n. (plural duos) [C] two people who do something together, especially play music or sing du-o-de-num /,duə'di:nəm, du'adn-əm/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the beginning part of your SMALL INTESTINE

dupe /dup/ v. [T] to trick or deceive someone: People were duped into buying worthless insurance. —dupe n. [C] du-plex /'dupleks/ n. [C] a type of house that is divided so that it has two separate homes in it → HOUSE¹ du-pli-cate¹ /'dupləkɪt/ n. [C] an exact copy of something that you can use in the same way: a duplicate of the front door key [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin duplicatus, past participle of duplicare “to double”] —duplicate adj.: a duplicate key du-pli-cate² /'dupləkeɪt/ v. [T] 1 to copy something exactly: Duplicate the letter; just changing the addresses.

THESAURUS copy, reproduce, replicate, photocopy, Xerox, forge, pirate → COPY²

2 to have a situation in which something is done twice, in a way that is not necessary: To avoid duplicating each other's work, each person should have a specific job to do. —duplication /,duplə'keɪʃən/ n. [U]

du-plic-i-ty /du'plɪsəti/ n. [U] (formal) dishonest behavior that is intended to deceive someone dur-a-ble /'dʊrəbəl/ adj. 1 staying in good condition for a long time: durable materials 2 (formal) continuing for a long time: a durable peace —durability /,dʊrə'bɪləti/ n. [U] du-ra-tion /du'reɪʃən/ [Ac] n. [U] (formal) the length of time that something continues: Food was rationed for the duration of the war.

du-ress /dʊ'res/ n. (formal) under duress as a result of using illegal or unfair threats: Her confession was made under duress.

dur-ing /'dʊrɪŋ/ prep. 1 all through a particular period of time: These animals sleep during the day.

USAGE

During is followed by a particular period of time and is used to say when something happens: During the summer, she worked as a lifeguard. For is followed by words describing a length of time and is used to say how long something continues: I lived in Chicago for two years.

2 at some point in a period of time: Henry died during the night. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 dure “to continue in existence” (13—19 centuries), from Old French durer, from Latin durare] dusk /dʌsk/ n. [U] the time before it gets dark, when the sky is becoming less bright [ORIGIN: Old English dox]

dust¹ /dʌst/ n. [U] dry powder that consists of extremely small pieces of dirt, sand, etc.: The truck drove off in a cloud of dust. | The piano was covered with/in dust. [ORIGIN: Old English]

dust² v. 1 [I,T] to clean the dust from something: I just dusted the living room. | He got to his feet and dusted himself off.

THESAURUS clean, do the housework, polish, vacuum, sweep (up), scrub, mop → CLEAN²

2 [T] to cover something with a fine powder: Lightly dust the cakes with sugar.

dust sth ↔ off phr. v. to remove something such as dust or dirt from a surface, using a dry cloth or your hand

'dust jacket n. [C] a paper cover that fits over the hard cover of a book dust-pan /'dʌstpæn/ n. [C] a flat container with a handle, that you use with a brush to remove dust and waste from the floor dust-y /'dʌsti/ adj. covered or filled with dust: a dusty room

THESAURUS dirty, filthy, muddy, greasy, grimy, soiled, polluted → DIRTY¹

Dutch¹ /dʌtʃ/ adj. 1 relating to or coming from the Netherlands 2 relating to the Dutch language

Dutch² n. 1 [U] the language used in the Netherlands 2 the Dutch [plural] the people of the Netherlands du-ti-ful /'duːtɪfəl/ adj. doing what you are expected to do and behaving in a loyal way: a dutiful son —dutifully adv.

du-ty /'duːti/ n. (plural duties) 1 [C,U] something that you have to do because it is morally or legally right: It is our duty to speak out against injustice. | Parents have a duty to protect their children. | jury duty 2 [C,U] something that you have to do because it is part of your job: Soldiers are expected to do their duty. | Please report for duty tomorrow morning. | his duties at the airport 3 be on/off duty to be working or not working at a particular time: Which nurse was on duty last night? 4 [C] a tax you pay on something, especially on goods you bought in another country duty-free adj. duty-free goods can be brought into a country without paying tax on them —duty-free adv.

D

DVD n. [C] digital versatile disc or digital video disc a type of CD that can store large amounts of sound, VIDEO, and information → see picture on page A6

COLLOCATIONS

get/rent a DVD

watch a DVD

fast forward a DVD – to press a button to go forward to a later part pause a DVD – to stop the DVD for a short time

D

DVD player n. [C] a piece of equipment for playing DVDs → see picture on page A6

dwarf¹ /dwɔːf/ n. [C] 1 an imaginary creature that looks like a small man: Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs 2 a person, animal, or plant that does not grow to the normal height dwarf² v. [T] to be so big that other things seem very small: The church is dwarfed by the surrounding buildings.

dwarf planet n. [C] SCIENCE an object in space like a small PLANET that has a round shape and that goes around the Sun, but whose GRAVITY is not strong enough to attract all the small objects near it, so that the area around it is not clear. Pluto is a dwarf planet.

dweeb /dwɪb/ n. [C] (slang) a weak, slightly strange person who is not popular or fashionable dwelt /dwɛlt/ v. (past tense and past participle dwelled or dwelt /dwɛlt/) [I] (literary) to live in a particular place dwelt on/upon sth phr. v. to think or talk for too long about something, especially something unpleasant: Quit dwelling on the past.

dweller /'dwɛlə/ n. city/town/cave dweller etc. a person or animal that lives in a city, town, etc.

dwelling /'dwɛlɪŋ/ n. [C] (formal) a house, apartment, etc. where people live

THESAURUS home, house, place, residence, abode → HOME¹ dwelt /dwɛlt/ v. a past tense and past participle of DWELL dwindle /'dwɪndl/ v. [I] to gradually become fewer or smaller: Their ten-point lead has dwindled now to only four points. —dwindling adj.

THESAURUS decrease, go down, drop, fall, plummet, diminish, decline → DECREASE¹

dye¹ /daɪ/ n. [C,U] a substance you use to change the color of your hair, clothes, etc.

dye² v. [T] to give something a different color using a dye: Brian dyed his hair green.

dyed-in-the-wool adj. having strong beliefs or opinions that will never change: a dyed-in-the-wool Republican dy-ing /'daɪ-ɪŋ/ v. the present participle of DIE dy-nam-ic /daɪ'næmɪk/ (Ac) adj. 1 interesting, exciting, and full of energy and determination to succeed: She is a dynamic young woman with a lot of ambition.

THESAURUS energetic, vigorous, full of energy, hyperactive, tireless, lively, vital → ENERGETIC

2 continuously moving or changing: a dynamic process 3 PHYSICS relating to a force or power that causes movement: The dynamic pressure of the fluid is caused by its motion. [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 French dynamique, from Greek dynamikos “powerful”] dy-nam-ics /daɪ'næmɪks/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 the way in which systems or people behave, react, and affect each other: family dynamics | the dynamics of power in large businesses 2 PHYSICS the science that studies the movement of objects and the forces related to movement dy-na-mism /'daɪnə,mɪzəm/ n. [U] energy and determination to succeed dy-na-mite¹ /'daɪnə,mart/ n. [U] a powerful explosive dynamite² v. [T] to damage or destroy something with dynamite dy-na-mo /'daɪnə,mou/ n. (plural dynamos) [C] 1 (informal) someone who has a lot of energy and is very excited about what s/he does 2 PHYSICS a machine that changes some other form of power into electricity dy-nas-ty /'daɪnəsti/ n. (plural dynasties) [C] a family of kings or other rulers who have ruled a country for a long time, or the period of time during which this family rules: the Ming dynasty [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Late Latin dynastia, from Greek dynastes “lord”] —dynastic /daɪ'næstɪk/ adj.

dys-en-ter-y /'dɪsən,teri/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a serious disease of the BOWELS that makes someone pass much more waste than usual dys-func-tion-al /dɪs'fʌŋkʃənəl/ adj. not working normally or not showing normal social behavior: a dysfunctional family dys-lex-i-a /dɪs'leksiə/ n. [U] a condition that makes it difficult for someone to learn to read or write because s/he cannot recognize or understand written words —dyslexic /dɪs'leksɪk/ adj.

Ee

E, e /i/ the fifth letter of the English alphabet

E¹ /i/ n. [C,U] 1 ENG. LANG. ARTS the third note in the musical SCALE of C, or the musical KEY based on this note 2 (slang) the illegal drug ECSTASY

E², E. the written abbreviation of EAST or EASTERN

each¹ /itʃ/ determiner, pron. 1 every one of two or more things or people, considered separately: Each student will be given a book. | We watched as each of the children performed a dance.

USAGE

Each, every, and all are all used to talk about every person or thing in a group.

When you are considering them separately, use each or every with a singular noun: Each/Every room has a shower.

When you are considering them together, use all with a plural noun: You answered all the questions correctly.

2 each and every used in order to emphasize that you are talking about every person or thing in a group: This will affect each and every one of us.

each² adv. for or to every one: The tickets are $5 each. | You can have two cookies each.

each other pron. used in order to show that each of two or more people does something to the other or others: Susan and Robert kissed each other. | They played with each other all morning. | It's normal for people to ignore each other in an elevator.

eager /'igə/ adj. 1 having a strong desire to do something or a strong interest in something: I've been eager to meet you. | a young woman eager for success | hundreds of eager fans

THESAURUS enthusiastic, passionate, ardent, zealous, fanatical → ENTHUSIASTIC

2 eager to please willing to do what people want [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French aigre, from Latin acer “sharp”] —eagerly adv. —eagerness n. [U] ea·gle /'iɡəl/ n. [C] a large wild bird, with a beak like a hook, that eats small animals, birds, etc. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French aigle, from Latin aquila] ear /ɪr/ n. 1 [C] one of the two parts of your body that you hear with: She got her ears pierced. | Mark whispered something in her ear. → see picture on page A3 2 [U] the ability to hear, recognize, or copy sounds, especially in music and languages: Joel has a good ear for music. 3 [C] the top part of plants, that produces grain: an ear of corn 4 go in one ear and out the other (informal) to be heard and then forgotten immediately 5 be all ears (informal) to be very interested in listening to someone: Go ahead, I'm all ears. 6 be up to your ears in sth (informal) to be very busy with something: I'm up to my ears in work. 7 smile/grin from ear to ear to smile in a very happy way [ORIGIN: (1) Old English eare] → play it by ear at PLAY¹, play sth by ear at PLAY¹, wet behind the ears at WET¹ ear·drum /'ɪrdrʌm/ n. [C] a tight thin MEMBRANE (=layer like skin) over the inside of your ear that allows you to hear sound ear·lobe /'ɪrləʊb/ n. [C] the soft piece of flesh at the bottom of your ear ear·ly¹ /'ɔːli/ adj. 1 in the first part of a period of time, event, or process (ANT) late: She woke in the early morning. | a man in his early twenties | George Gershwin's early musical compositions 2 before the usual or expected time (ANT) late: The train was ten minutes early. | I was a few minutes early for my appointment. 3 existing before other people, events, machines, etc. of the same kind (ANT) late: early settlers in New England 4 the early days the time when something had just started to be done or to exist: the early days of television | the early days of his presidency 5 at an early age when someone is very young: He was orphaned at an early age. 6 at the earliest used in order to say that a particular time is the soonest that something can happen: He'll arrive on Monday at the earliest. 7 the early hours the time between MIDNIGHT and morning 8 early bird someone who gets up early or arrives early [ORIGIN: Old English ærlīce, from ær “early, soon”]

early² adv. 1 before the usual, arranged, or expected time (ANT) late: Arrive early if you want a good seat. 2 near the beginning of a period of time, an event, a process, etc. (ANT) late: These flowers were planted early in the spring. | I'll have to leave early. 3 early on near the beginning of an event, relationship, process, etc.: I realized early on that it wasn't going to work.

ear·mark /'ɪrmark/ v. [T] to decide that something will be used for a particular purpose: funds that are earmarked for highway repairs ear·muffs /'ɪrmʌfs/ n. [plural] two pieces of material attached to the ends of a band, that you wear to keep your ears warm earn /ɜːn/ v. [T] 1 to get money for the work you do: Alan earns $40,000 a year. | I'd like to earn some extra money. | She earns a living (=gets the money for the things she needs) as a teacher.

THESAURUS

make – to earn or get money: Ashley makes a little money by babysitting.

get – to receive money for doing work or selling something: How much do you get an hour?

be/get paid – to be given money for doing a job: I get paid monthly.

gross – to earn an amount as a total amount, before tax has been taken away: The movie grossed 18 million dollars in its first weekend.

net – to earn a particular amount of money after paying taxes: She netted only $300 for a rug that took her 150 hours to weave.

2 to make a profit from business, or from putting money in a bank, lending it, etc.: The movie earned $7 million during the opening weekend. | I earned $5,000 from my investments last year. 3 to get something that you deserve or have worked for: Amelia Earhart had earned the respect of the male pilots. | He earned a degree in history at Columbia.

ear·nest¹ /'ə·nɪst/ adj. serious and sincere —earnestly adv. —earnestness n. [U] earnest² n. 1 in earnest happening more seriously or with greater effort than before: Training begins in earnest on Monday. 2 be in earnest to be serious about what you are saying: Are you sure he was in earnest?

earn·ings /'ə·nɪŋz/ n. [plural] 1 the money that you earn by working

E

THESAURUS pay, income, salary, wages, bonus, remuneration → PAY²

2 the profit that a company makes ear·phones /'ɪrfoʊnz/ n. [plural] electrical equipment that you put over or into your ears to listen to a radio, CD player, etc.

ear·plug /'ɪrplʌg/ n. [C usually plural] a small piece of rubber that you put into your ear to keep out noise or water ear·ring /'ɪrɪŋ/ n. [C usually plural] a piece of jewelry that you fasten to your ear → see picture at JEWELRY ear·shot /'ɪrʃat/ n. within earshot/out of ear-shot near enough or not near enough to hear what someone is saying

'ear·splitting adj. very loud: an ear-splitting scream

THESAURUS loud, noisy, rowdy, thunderous, deafening, shrill, raucous, resounding, sonorous → LOUD¹

earth /əθ/ n. 1 also (the) Earth EARTH SCIENCES the PLANET that we live on, which is third from the Sun: The Earth moves around the Sun. | the return to Earth after landing on the moon | Oil is found below the Earth's surface. | the most beautiful woman on earth → see picture at SOLAR SYSTEM

THESAURUS

Earth – the planet we live on: the origin of life on Earth.

world – the planet we live on, considered as a place where there are people and countries, mountains and oceans, etc.: It's one of the largest countries in the world.

You can use Earth to mean “the world”: It's the highest mountain on Earth. | It's the highest mountain in the world.

When you compare the Earth's surface to the ocean, use land: After weeks at sea, the sailors saw land.

When you compare the Earth's surface to the sky, use Earth: The space shuttle returned to Earth safely.

2 [U] the substance that plants, trees, etc. grow in [SYN] dirt, soil: footprints in the wet earth

THESAURUS ground, floor, land, soil → GROUND¹

3 what/why/how etc. on earth...? (spoken) said when you are asking a question when you are very surprised or annoyed: What on earth did you do to your hair? [ORIGIN: Old English eorthe] → DOWN-TO-EARTH earth·ly /'əθli/ adj. 1 (literary) relating to life on Earth rather than in heaven: all my earthly possessions 2 no earthly reason/use/chance etc. no reason, use, etc. at all earth·quake /'əθkweɪk/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES a sudden shaking of the Earth's surface that often causes a lot of damage earth 'science n. [C] a science such as GEOLOGY or GEOGRAPHY, that involves studying the physical structure and development of the Earth

'earth-shattering also 'earth-shaking adj. surprising or shocking and very important earth·worm /'əθwɜ:m/ n. [C] a WORM earth·y /'əθi/ adj. 1 talking about life, sex, and the human body in an honest and direct way: an earthy sense of humor 2 tasting, smelling, or looking like earth or soil: mushrooms with an earthy flavor —earthiness n. [U]

ease¹ /'i:z/ n. 1 with ease if you do something with ease, it is very easy for you to do it: They won with ease. 2 at ease a) feeling comfortable and confident: She tried to make the new students feel at ease. | She felt completely at ease with Barry. | You always look ill at ease (=not relaxed) in a suit. | Miguel's smile put her at ease. b) (spoken) used in order to tell soldiers to stand in a relaxed way with their feet apart 3 ease of use/access/repair etc. the quality of being easy to use, etc.: The software's ease of use is an important selling point. 4 [U] the ability to feel or behave in a natural or relaxed way: He had a natural ease, which made him very popular.

ease² v. 1 [I,T] to make something less severe or difficult, or to become less severe or difficult: He was given drugs to ease the pain. | Tensions in the region have eased slightly.

THESAURUS relieve, lessen, soothe, alleviate, palliate → REDUCE

2 [T] to move something or someone slowly and carefully into another place: Ease the patient onto/out of the bed.

ease up phr. v. 1 also ease off if something, especially something that annoys you, eases off or eases up, it becomes less or gets better: The rain is starting to ease up. 2 to work less hard or do something less often than before: In the last quarter of the game, some of the players seemed to be easing up.

ea-sel /'i:zəl/ n. [C] a frame that you put a painting on while you paint it [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Dutch ezel “donkey,” because an easel carries a painting as a donkey carries a person]

easy-i-ly /'i:zəli/ adv. 1 without difficulty: They won easily. | The instructions can be easily understood. 2 without doubt (SYN) definitely: She is easily the most intelligent girl in the class. 3 used in order to say that something is possible or very likely: The first signs of the disease can easily be overlooked.

east¹, East /ist/ n. [singular, U] 1 the direction from which the Sun rises: Which way is east? → see picture at NORTH¹ 2 the east the eastern part of a country, state, etc.: Rain will spread to the east later today. | the east of Texas 3 the East a) the part of the U.S. east of the Mississippi River, especially the states north of Washington, D.C.: He was born in the East but now lives in California. b) the countries in Asia, especially China, Japan, and Korea c) the countries in the eastern part of Europe, especially those that had Communist governments [ORIGIN: Old English]

USAGE

Use north/south/east/west of sth in order to describe where a place is in relation to another place: Chicago is south of Milwaukee.

Use in the north/south/east/west of sth in order to say which part of a place you are talking about: The mountains are in the west of the country.

Use northern, southern, eastern, western with the name of a place: She grew up in northern Ontario.
Don't say “in the north of Ontario.”

east² adj. 1 in, to, or facing east: 12 miles east of Portland | the east coast of the island 2 east wind a wind coming from the east

east³ adv. 1 toward the east: Go east on I-80 to Omaha. | The window faces east. 2 back East in or to the eastern part of the U.S.: He went to college back East.

east-bound /'i:stbaʊnd/ adj. traveling or leading toward the east: eastbound traffic | the eastbound lanes of the freeway

East Coast n. the East Coast the part of the U.S. that is next to the Atlantic Ocean, especially the states north of Washington, D.C.

Eas-ter /'i:stə/ n. 1 a holiday on a Sunday in March or April when Christians celebrate the death of Christ and his return to life: Easter Sunday 2 the period of time just before and after this day: We went skiing in Vermont at Easter. [ORIGIN: from Old English eastre]

Easter Bunny n. the Easter Bunny an imaginary rabbit that children believe brings colored eggs and chocolate at Easter

Easter egg n. [C] an egg that has been colored and decorated east-er-ly /'i:stəli/ adj. 1 in or toward the east: sailing in an easterly direction 2 easterly winds come from the east east-ern /'i:stən/ adj. 1 in or from the east part of an area, country, state, etc.: eastern Oregon 2 Eastern in or from the countries in Asia, especially China, Japan, and Korea: Eastern religions 3 in or from the countries in the eastern part of Europe, especially those that used to have Communist governments → see USAGE box at EAST¹ east-ern-er, Easterner /'i:stənə/ n. [C] someone who comes from the eastern part of a country or the eastern HEMISPHERE

Eastern Europe n. the eastern part of Europe, including places such as Poland and part of Russia —Eastern European adj.

east-ern-most /'i:stən,məʊst/ adj. farthest east: the easternmost part of the island east-ward /'i:stwəd/ adj., adv. toward the east

easy¹ /'i:zi/ adj. 1 not difficult: Making brownies is easy. | I want a book that's easy to read. | There must be an easier way to do this. | The programs are easy for teachers to use in the classroom. | Having some more people to help will definitely make things a lot easier.

THESAURUS simple, straightforward, uncomplicated, facile → SIMPLE

2 comfortable and not feeling worried or anxious: I have a pretty easy life. 3 easy way out a way of doing something that ends a difficult situation, but that is not the best way 4 I'm easy (spoken) used in order to show that you do not mind what choice is made: "Do you want to go to the movies or stay in and watch a DVD?" "Oh, I'm easy." 5 easy money (informal) money that you do not have to work hard to get 6 (informal, disapproving) someone who is easy has a lot of sexual partners 7 eggs over easy eggs cooked on a hot surface and turned over quickly before serving, so that the YOLKS (=yellow part) are not completely cooked [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French aisié, from aise "comfort"]

E easy² adv. 1 take it easy a) to relax and not do very much: The doctor told him to take it easy when he got home. b) (spoken) used in order to tell someone to become less upset or angry 2 go easy on/with sth (informal) to not use too much of something: Go easy on the salt; it's not good for you. 3 go easy on sb (informal) to be more gentle and less strict or angry with someone: Go easy on Peter – he's having a hard time at school. 4 rest/sleep easy to be able to relax because you are not worried or anxious: I won't rest easy until I know she's safe. 5 easier said than done (spoken) used when it would be difficult to actually do what someone has suggested: I should just tell her to go away, but that's easier said than done. 6 easy does it (spoken) used in order to tell someone to be careful, especially when s/he is moving something

'easy chair n. [C] a large comfortable chair eas-y-go-ing /ˌɪziˈɡoʊɪŋ/ adj. not easily worried or annoyed: Phil's pretty easygoing.

THESAURUS calm, relaxed, laid-back, mellow, cool, placid, serene → CALM² easy 'listening n. [U] music that is relaxing to listen to eat /it/ v. (past tense ate /eɪt/, past participle eaten /'iːtən/) 1 [I,T] to put food in your mouth and swallow it: Paula ate a sandwich. | Jimmy chatted happily as he ate. | Do you and Kevin want something to eat? | Tom sat at the table, eating breakfast/lunch/dinner. | You need to exercise, eat right (=eat healthy food), and get plenty of rest. | I haven't had a bite to eat (=some food) all day!

THESAURUS

devour (formal), gobble up (informal), wolf down (informal) – to eat something very quickly: He devoured the rest of the cake. | She wolfed down a hamburger.

nibble (on) – to take small bites of something and eat only a little bit of it: Sarah nibbled on a cookie and sipped her coffee.

pick at – to eat only a little bit of your food because you are not hungry: He only picked at his dinner.

ingest (formal) – to eat or swallow something: The drug produces an unpleasant reaction if the patient then ingests alcohol.

be dieting/be on a diet – to eat less than normal in order to become thinner: No cake for me, thanks – I'm on a diet. → DRINK²

2 [I] to have a meal: What time do we eat? | We can't afford to eat at restaurants very often. 3 eat your words (informal) to admit that what you said was wrong 4 [T] also eat up (spoken) to use all of something until it is gone: That car of mine just eats up money. [ORIGIN: Old English etan]

eat sth ↔ away, eat away at sth phr. v. to gradually remove, reduce, or destroy something: Rust had eaten away at the metal frame.

eat into sth phr. v. 1 to gradually reduce the amount of time, money, etc. that is available: Unexpected car expenses are really eating into our savings. 2 to damage or destroy something: Acid has eaten into the surface of the metal.

eat out phr. v. to eat in a restaurant: Do you eat out a lot?

eat (sth ↔) up phr. v. (spoken) to eat all of something: Come on, Kaylee, eat up! | I told her to eat up her breakfast.

eat-er /'i:tə/ n. big/light/fussy etc. eater someone who eats a lot, not much, only particular things, etc.

eat-er-y /'i:təri/ n. (plural eateries) [C] a restaurant, especially an informal one

'eating dis,order n. [C] a medical condition in which you do not eat normal amounts of food or do not eat regularly → ANOREXIA, BULIMIA eaves /ivz/ n. [plural] the edges of a roof that stick out beyond the walls eaves-drop /'ivzdrɒp/ v. (eavesdropped, eavesdropping) [I] to listen secretly to other people's conversations → OVERHEAR: Her sister had been eavesdropping on our conversations. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 eavesdropper "someone who stands close to a wall, where rainwater drops from the eaves, in order to listen secretly"] —eavesdropper n. [C]

ebb¹ /eb/ n. 1 ebb and flow a situation or state in which something decreases and increases in a type of pattern: the ebb and flow of his popularity 2 be at a low ebb to be in a bad state or condition: By March 1933, the economy was at its lowest ebb. 3 [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES an ebb tide → FLOOD ebb² v. [I] 1 also ebb away (literary) to gradually decrease: His courage slowly ebbed away. 2 EARTH SCIENCES if the TIDE ebbs, it flows away from the shore

'ebb tide n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES the flow of the ocean away from the shore, when the TIDE goes out → FLOOD TIDE eb-o-ny /'ɛbəni/ n. 1 [C,U] a tree with dark hard wood, or the wood itself 2 [U] (literary) a black color —ebony adj.

e-bul·lient /ɪˈbʌlyənt, ɪˈbʊl-/ adj. (formal) very happy and excited: an ebullient live performance —ebullience n. [U]

e-busi·ness /ˈiˌbɪznɪs/ n. [U] IT E-COMMERCE

ec·cen·tric¹ /ɪkˈsentrɪk/ adj. behaving in a way that is unusual and different from most people: an eccentric professor [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Late Latin eccentricus, from Greek ekkentros “out of the center”] —eccentricity /ˌɛksənˈtrɪsəti/ n. [C,U]

THESAURUS strange, funny, peculiar, curious, mysterious, odd, weird, bizarre → STRANGE¹ eccentric² n. [C] someone who behaves in a way that is different from what is usual or socially accepted ec·cle·si·as·ti·cal /ɪˌklɪziˈæstɪkəl/ adj. relating to the Christian church ech·e·lon /ˈɛʃəˌlɒn/ n. [C] a rank or level of authority in an organization, business, etc., or the people at that level

ech·o¹ /ˈɛkoʊ/ v. (past tense and past participle echoed) 1 [I] if a sound echoes, it is heard again because it was made near something such as a wall or a hill: voices echoing around the cave 2 [I] if a place echoes, it is full of a sound: The theater echoed with laughter. 3 [T] to repeat what someone else has said, an idea, or an opinion: This man's words echo the feelings of soldiers throughout history.

ech·o² /ˈɛkoʊ/ n. (plural echoes) [C] 1 a sound that you hear again because it was made near something such as a wall or a hill 2 something that is very similar to something that has happened or been said before: The play has echoes of Chekhov.

ec·clec·tic /ɪˈklektɪk/ adj. including a mixture of many different things or people ec·lipse¹ /ɪˈklɪps/ n. [C] PHYSICS an occasion when you cannot see the Sun because the Moon is between the Sun and the Earth, or when you cannot see the Moon because it is covered by the Earth's shadow: an eclipse of the Moon [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French, Greek ekleipsis, from ekleipein “to leave out, fail”] eclipse² v. [T] 1 to become more powerful, famous, important, etc. than someone or something else, so that he, she, or it is no longer noticed: The state of the economy has eclipsed every other issue in this election year. 2 PHYSICS to make the sun or moon disappear in an eclipse ec·co·log·i·cal /ɪkəˈlɒdʒɪkəl, ɛ-/ adj. 1 EARTH SCIENCES relating to the way that plants, animals, and people are connected to each other and to their environment: The oil spill caused ecological problems. 2 relating to making or keeping the environment healthy: an ecological study —ecologically adv.

ec·col·o·gy /ɪˈkɒlədʒi/ n. [singular, U] EARTH SCIENCES the way in which plants, animals, and people are connected to each other and to their environment, or the study of this [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Greek oikos “house, living place” + -logia “study”] —ecologist n. [C] e·com·merce /ˈiˌkɒməs/ also e-business n. [U] IT the practice of buying and selling things using the Internet

ec·o·nom·ic /ˌɛkəˈnɒmɪk, ɪ-/ (Ac) adj. ECO-NOMICS relating to business, industry, and managing money: Economic growth has been slow. | the country's economic system | Economic conditions have changed.

ec·o·nom·i·cal /ˌɛkəˈnɒmɪkəl, ɪ-/ (Ac) adj. using time, money, products, etc. without wasting any: an economical way to produce energy | Smaller goods are more economical to transport than large, heavy goods.

ec·o·nom·i·cally /ˌɛkəˈnɒmɪkli, ɪ-/ adv. 1 ECONOMICS in a way that is related to systems of money, trade, or business: economically depressed areas of the country | Economically, our city has never been stronger. 2 in a way that uses money, goods, time, etc. without wasting any → EFFICIENTLY: We need to produce food as economically as possible.

ec·o·nom·ics /ˌɛkəˈnɒmɪks, ɪ-/ (Ac) n. [U] ECONOMICS the study of the way in which money, goods, and services are produced and used: One law of economics says that competition drives down prices. | market economics economic 'sanctions n. [plural] ECONOMICS official orders or laws that stop trade, communication, etc. with another country, as a way of forcing its leaders to make political changes

e·conomies of 'scale n. [plural] ECONOMICS the decrease in the cost of each product a company makes, which happens as the total number of products they make increases

e·con·o·mist /ɪˈkɒnəˌmɪst/ (Ac) n. [C] ECONOMICS someone who studies economics

e·con·o·mize /ɪˈkɒnəˌmaɪz/ v. [I] to reduce the amount of money, time, goods, etc. that you use

e·con·o·my¹ /ɪˈkɒnəˌmi/ (Ac) n. (plural economies) 1 [C] ECONOMICS the way that money, businesses, and products are organized in a particular country, area, etc.: the growing economies of south-east Asia | The project will add 600 jobs to the local economy (=in a particular town or city). | the global/world economy 2 [U] the careful use of money, time, products, etc. so that nothing is wasted: For reasons of economy, the oil is cleaned and reused. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French, Greek oikonomia, from oikonomos “manager of a house”] economy² adj. economy size/package etc. the biggest container that a product is sold in e'conomy ,class also economy n. [U] the cheapest way to travel on an airplane

e·co·sys·tem /ɪˈkoʊˌsɪstəm/ n. [C] BIOLOGY all the animals and plants in a particular area, and the way in which they are connected to each other and to their environment

E

e-co-tour-ism /ˌɪkoʊˈtʊrɪzəm/ n. [U] the business of organizing vacations to areas where people can see the beauty of nature in a way that will not hurt the environment ec-sta-sy /ˈɛkstəsi/ n. 1 [C,U] a feeling of extreme happiness: I laughed in pure ecstasy. 2 Ecstasy [U] an illegal drug that gives a feeling of happiness and energy [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Greek ekstasis, from existanai “to make mad”] ec-stat-ic /ɪkˈstætɪk, ɛk-/ adj. feeling extremely happy and excited: Luke is ecstatic about being accepted at Harvard.

E

THESAURUS happy, glad, pleased, content, delighted, thrilled, overjoyed, jubilant, elated → HAPPY

ec-to-therm /ˈɛktou,θəm/ n. [C] BIOLOGY an animal that depends on the Sun or the heat from its environment to raise and control the temperature of its body. All animals except birds and MAMMALS are ectotherms. → ENDOTHERM

ec-u-men-i-cal /ˌɛkyəˈmɛnɪkəl/ adj. bringing together different Christian churches, or supporting this

ec-ze-ma /ˈɛksəmə, ˈɛgzəmə, ɪgˈzɪmə/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a condition in which skin becomes dry and red, and begins to ITCH

ed. the written abbreviation of EDUCATION

ed-dy /ˈɛdi/ n. (plural eddies) [C] a circular movement of water, wind, dust, etc. —eddy v. [I]

edge¹ /ɛdʒ/ n. [C] 1 the part of something that is farthest from the center: the edge of the table | Bill sat on the edge of the bed. | cars parked at the edge of the street

THESAURUS

border – the official line that separates two countries, states, or areas: the border between Mexico and the United States boundary – the line that marks the edge of a surface, space, or area of land inside a country: The Mississippi River forms a natural boundary between Tennessee and Arkansas.

perimeter – the border around an area of land, an area, or a shape: the fence around the perimeter of the school rim – the outside edge of something, especially something circular such as a glass: There was lipstick on the rim of the cup.

margin – the empty space at the side of a printed page: I wrote some notes in the margins.

hem – the edge of a piece of cloth that is turned over and sewed down, especially the lower edge of a skirt, pair of pants, etc.: The hem of her dress was coming down.

curb – the edge of the sidewalk, next to the street: If the curb is painted red, you may not park next to it.

2 the area beside a steep slope: the edge of a cliff 3 the thin sharp part of a tool used for cutting 4 an advantage in a competition, game, or fight: Good service gives our company an edge. | American companies have an edge over/on their competition in this technology. 5 be on edge to feel nervous because you are expecting something bad to happen: Rudy was on edge all night. 6 a quality in someone's voice that makes it sound angry or not sympathetic 7 on the edge of sth close to the point at which something different, especially something bad, will happen: The country's economy is on the edge of collapse. 8 on the edge of your seat excited and interested: a thriller that will keep you on the edge of your seat [ORIGIN: Old English ecg] → CUTTING EDGE

edge² v. 1 [I,T] to move slowly and gradually, or to make something do this: Robert edged toward the door. | We edged closer, trying to see. 2 [I,T] to develop or increase slowly and gradually, or to make something do this: The price of gasoline is edging up. 3 [T] to put something on the edge or border of something else: a tablecloth edged with lace edge sb ↔ out phr. v. to beat someone in an election, competition, etc. by a small amount: He edged out Sorenson by fewer than 200 votes.

edge-wise /ˈɛdʒwaɪz/ adv. 1 not get a word in edgewise to not be able to say something in a conversation because someone else is talking too much 2 with the edge or thinnest part forward: Slide the table in edgewise.

edg-y /ˈɛdʒi/ adj. nervous and easy to upset ed-i-ble /ˈɛdəbəl/ adj. something that is edible is safe or acceptable to eat (ANT) inedible [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Late Latin edibilis, from Latin edere “to eat”]

e-dict /ˈɪdɪkt/ n. [C] (formal) an official public order made by someone in a position of power ed-i-fice /ˈɛdəfɪs/ n. [C] (formal) a large building [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French, Latin aedificium, from aedificare “to build a house”]

ed-it /ˈɛdɪt/ (Ac) v. [T] to prepare a book, movie, article, etc. for printing or broadcasting by removing mistakes, deciding what to include, etc.: The magazine is written, edited, and published by students. | Editing documents is much easier on a computer.

e-di-tion /ɪˈdɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 the form that a book is printed in: the new edition of this dictionary 2 the copies of a book, newspaper, etc. that are produced and printed at the same time: They published a limited edition of 2,000 copies. | The first edition of the book was published in 1836. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin editus, past participle of edere “to give out, produce”]

ed-i-tor /ˈɛdətə/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 the person who decides what should be included in a newspaper, magazine, etc.: the managing editor of the Miami Herald | Mr. Murray is a former newspaper editor. → NEWSPAPER 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS someone who prepares a book, movie, etc. for printing or broadcasting by deciding what to include and checking for any mistakes 3 IT a computer program that allows you to write and make changes to saved information —editorial /ˌɛdɪˈtɔriəl/ adj.

ed-i-to-ri-al /ˌɛdɪˈtɔriəl/ (AC) n. [C] a piece of writing in a newspaper that gives the opinion of the writer rather than reporting facts: The New York Times published an editorial on (=about) gun control laws.

ed-u-cate /ˈɛdʒəˌkeɪt/ v. [T] to teach someone, especially in a school or college: Most Americans are educated in public schools. | He was educated at Harvard. | a program to educate teenagers about contraception [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin, past participle of educare “to bring up, educate”] —educator n. [C]

ed-u-cat-ed /ˈɛdʒəˌkeɪtɪd/ adj. 1 having knowledge as a result of studying or being taught: well-educated women 2 educated guess a guess that is likely to be correct because you know something about the subject ed-u-ca-tion /ˌɛdʒəˌkeɪʃən/ n. 1 [singular, U] the process of learning in a school or other program of study: They wanted their children to get a good education. | parents saving for their kids' college education 2 [U] the institutions and people involved with teaching: careers in education | funding for schools and higher education (=colleges)

ed-u-ca-tion-al /ˌɛdʒəˌkeɪʃənəl/ adj. 1 relating to teaching and learning: educational systems 2 teaching you something that you did not know: educational television | The games are educational. —educationally adv.

ed-u-tain-ment /ˌɛdʒuˈteɪnmənt/ n. [U] movies, television programs, or computer SOFTWARE that both educate and entertain children eel /il/ n. [C] a long thin fish that looks like a snake ee-rie /ˈɪri/ adj. strange and frightening: an eerie light —eerily adv.

ef-face /ɪˈfeɪs/ v. [T] 1 (formal) to destroy or remove something so that it cannot be seen or noticed: textbooks that efface certain incidents in the past

THESAURUS remove, erase, expunge → REMOVE

2 efface yourself (literary) to behave in a way that makes other people not notice you → SELF-EFFACING

ef-fect¹ /ɪˈfekt/ n. 1 [C,U] the way in which an event, action, or person changes someone or something → AFFECT: the effects of a long illness | Her parents' divorce had a big effect on her. | One side effect (=additional effect) of the drug is drowsiness. | What parents do has a profound/lasting/major effect on children's lives.

THESAURUS result, consequences, aftereffects, side effect, outcome, upshot, repercussions → RESULT¹

2 put sth into effect to make a plan or idea happen: The policy was put into effect in 2006. 3 come/go into effect to start officially: The new tax laws come into effect January 1st. 4 be in effect to be being used: The ban is already in effect. 5 take effect to start to have results, or to start being used: The drug should take effect in about ten minutes. 6 in effect used when you are describing what the real situation is, instead of what it seems to be: In effect, I'll be earning less than last year. 7 effects [plural] (formal) the things that someone owns (SYN) belongings → SPECIAL EFFECTS

effect² v. [T] (formal) to make something happen

ef-fec-tive /ɪˈfektɪv/ adj. 1 producing the result that was wanted or intended (ANT) ineffective: an effective medicine for headaches | an effective way to teach reading | Bicycle helmets are effective in preventing some types of injuries. 2 be/become effective to be in use, or to start to be in use officially: These prices are effective from April 1. —effectiveness n. [U]

ef-fec-tive-ly /ɪˈfektɪvli/ adv. 1 in a way that produces the result you wanted: The game helps children practice their times tables effectively. 2 used in order to describe the real facts of a situation (SYN) actually: Many poor people effectively do not have any health care.

ef-fem-i-nate /ɪˈfɛmənɪt/ adj. a man or boy who is effeminate behaves like a woman or girl ef-fer-ves-cent /ɪˈfɛʃəˈvesənt/ adj. 1 a liquid that is effervescent has BUBBLES of gas rising in it 2 someone who is effervescent is very active and happy —effervescence n. [U] ef-fi-ca-cious /ɪˈfɛkəˈʃəs/ adj. (formal) producing the result that was intended (SYN) effective —efficaciously adv. —efficacy /ɪˈfɪkəsi/ n. [U]

ef-fi-cient /ɪˈfɪʃənt/ adj. working well, quickly, and without wasting time, energy, or effort (ANT) inefficient: an efficient use of space | She's very efficient. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin, present participle of efficere “to cause to happen”] —efficiency n. [U]: The company needs to improve the efficiency of its factories. —efficiently adv.

THESAURUS organized, well-run, businesslike → ORGANIZED ef-fi-gy /ɪˈfɛdʒi/ n. (plural effigies) [C] a model of someone, especially one that is burned as a protest ef-flu-ent /ɪˈfluənt/ n. [C,U] (formal) liquid waste

ef-fort /ɪˈfɔt/ n. 1 [U] the physical or mental energy needed to do something: Kenny put a lot of effort into his report. | It takes very little effort to watch TV. | This dish takes time to prepare, but it's worth the effort. 2 [C,U] an attempt to do something, especially something difficult: The area has been restored in an effort to attract tourists. | Ken made a conscious effort (=deliberate effort) to avoid the same mistakes. | a famine relief effort

ef-fort-less /'ɛfətʰlɪs/ adj. done in a skillful way that seems easy: Brad's effortless skiing —effortlessly adv.

ef-front-er-y /'ɪfrʌntəri/ n. [U] (old-fashioned) behavior that you think someone should be ashamed of, although s/he does not seem to be ashamed: He had the effrontery to challenge his teacher!

ef-ful-gent /'ɪfʊldʒənt/ adj. (literary) beautiful and bright ef-fu-sive /'ɪfyusɪv/ adj. showing strong excited feelings: effusive greetings —effusively adv.

EFL n. [U] English as a Foreign Language the methods used for teaching English to people whose first language is not English, and who do not live in an English-speaking country

E.g. /i 'dʒi/ a written abbreviation that means “for example”: the Gulf States, e.g. Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi

e-gal-i-tar-i-an /ɪ,gələ'tɛrɪən/ adj. believing that everyone should have the same rights and opportunities —egalitarianism n. [U]

egg¹ /ɛɡ/ n. [C] 1 a round object with a hard surface, that contains a baby bird, insect, snake, etc.: a turtle laying eggs in the sand | Some of the eggs were hatching (=breaking open to allow the baby out). → see picture on page A2 2 an egg, especially from a chicken, used as food: fried eggs | Joe dipped his toast in his egg yolk (=the yellow part). | Whisk the egg whites (=white part) until stiff. 3 BIOLOGY a cell produced inside a female, that can combine with a SPERM (=male cell) to make a baby animal or person [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old Norse]

egg² v.

egg sb ↔ on phr. v. to encourage someone to do something, especially something s/he does not want to do or should not do egg-plant /'ɛɡplʌnt/ n. [C,U] a large shiny dark purple fruit that is cooked and eaten as a vegetable → see picture at VEGETABLE egg-shell /'ɛɡʃɛl/ n. [C,U] the hard outside part of a bird or REPTILE's egg

e-go /'ɪɡoʊ/ n. (plural egos) [C] 1 the opinion that you have about yourself: a player with a big ego (=he thinks he is very good) 2 ego trip (informal, disapproving) something that someone does for himself/herself because it makes him/her feel good or important e-go-tism /'ɪɡə,tɪzəm/ also e-go-ism /'ɪɡoʊ,ɪzəm/ n. [U] the belief that you are more interesting or important than other people —egotist n. [C] —egotistical /ɪ,gə'tɪstɪkəl/ adj.

e-gre-gious /ɪ'grɪdʒəs/ adj. (formal) an egregious ERROR (=mistake), failure, etc. is extremely bad and noticeable —egregiously adv.

eight /eɪt/ number 1 8 2 eight o'clock: Dinner will be at eight. 3 eight years old: My cousin is eight. [ORIGIN: Old English eahta] eight-teen /,eɪ'tɪn/ number 18 —eighteenth number eighth /eɪtθ/ number 1 8th 2 1/8 eight-y /'eɪtɪ/ number 1 80 2 the eighties a) the years between 1980 and 1989 b) the numbers between 80 and 89, especially when used in measuring temperature 3 be in your eighties to be between 80 and 89 years old: He's in his early/mid/late eighties. —eightieth /'eɪtɪθ/ number ei-ther¹ /'iðə, 'aɪ-/ conjunction used in order to begin a list of possibilities separated by “or”: There's either coffee or tea to drink. | Either she leaves, or I do!

either² determiner, pron. 1 one or the other of two people or things: Do you know either of these two women? | There's chocolate or vanilla – you can have either. 2 used in order to show that a negative statement is true about both of two things or people: I've lived in New York and Chicago, but I don't like either city very much. 3 either side/end/hand etc. both sides, ends, etc.: He was standing there with a policeman on either side of him. 4 either way used to show that both of two things are true, possible, or likely: You can go by train or plane, but either way it's expensive. | The vote could go either way (=both results are possible).

GRAMMAR

either, either of

Either is used with a singular noun form and a singular verb: I can meet you on Wednesday or Thursday – either day is good for me.

Either of is used with a plural noun form or pronoun. In formal speech and writing, use a singular verb: Has either of them called yet? In informal speech and writing, you can use a plural verb: Have either of them called yet?

either ... or, neither ... nor

When you use these phrases in formal speech or writing, use a singular verb if the second noun is singular: If either Doris or Meg calls, please take a message. | Neither she nor her husband want to live there.

If the second noun is plural, use a plural verb: If either my sister or my parents come, please let them in.

either³ adv. 1 used in negative sentences to mean “also”: “I can't swim.” “I can't either.” 2 me either (spoken, nonstandard) used in order to say that a negative statement is also true about you: “I don't like broccoli.” “Me either.”

e-jac-u-late /ɪ'dʒækjə,leɪt/ v. [I,T] when a male ejaculates, SPERM comes out of his PENIS —ejaculation /ɪ,dʒækjə'leɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

e-ject /ɪ'dʒɛkt/ v. 1 [T] to make something come out of a machine by pressing a button: Press the red button to eject the DVD. 2 [T] to push or throw out with force: the lava and ash ejected by the volcano 3 [T] to make someone leave a place: Both players were ejected from the game. 4 [I] to jump out of an airplane that is going to crash [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin ejectus, past participle of eicere “to throw out”] —ejection /i'dʒekʃən/ n. [C,U] eke /ik/ v.

eke sth ↔ out phr. v. 1 to make something such as food or money last a long time by carefully using only small amounts of it 2 eke out a living/an existence to get just enough food or money to live on e-lab-o-rate¹ /ɪ'læbrɪt/ adj. having a lot of small details or parts that are connected together in a complicated way: elaborate plans for the wedding | an elaborate design —elaborately adv.

THESAURUS complicated, complex, convoluted, intricate → COMPLICATED

e-lab-o-rate² /ɪ'læbə'reɪt/ v. [I] to give more details about something you have said or written: The spokesman would not elaborate on the investigation. —elaboration /ɪ,læbə'reɪʃən/ n. [U]

e-lapse /ɪ'læps/ v. [I] (formal) if a period of time elapses, it passes

e-las-tic /ɪ'læstɪk/ adj. 1 made of elastic: an elastic waistband 2 material that is elastic can stretch and then go back to its normal length or size: The ligaments around her joints are more elastic than normal. 3 ECONOMICS if demand for a particular product or service is elastic, any change in the price of the product leads to a greater change in the amount sold (ANT) inelastic —elastic n. [U]

e-las-tic-i-ty /ɪ,læ'stɪsɪti, ɪlæ-/ n. [U] 1 the ability of an object or material to return to its normal shape or size after it has been stretched or pressed 2 elasticity of demand ECONOMICS the degree to which a change in the price of something has an effect on the amount of it that is sold

e-lat-ed /ɪ'leɪtɪd/ adj. [not before noun] extremely happy and excited —elation /ɪ'leɪʃən/ n. [U]

THESAURUS happy, glad, pleased, content, delighted, thrilled, overjoyed, ecstatic, jubilant → HAPPY

el-bow¹ /'elbou/ n. [C] 1 the joint where your arm bends → see picture on page A3 2 elbow room (informal) enough space, so that you can move easily 3 elbow grease (informal) hard physical effort, especially when cleaning something [ORIGIN: Old English elboga] elbow² v. [T] to push someone with your elbows, especially in order to move past him/her: She elbowed her way through the crowd.

THESAURUS push, roll, poke, shove, nudge → PUSH¹ el-der¹ /'eldə/ adj. the elder of two people, especially brothers and sisters, is the one who was born first: My elder sister is a nurse.

USAGE

Use elder to talk about the members of a family: Nick is my elder brother.
Use older to compare the age of people or things: My sister is two years older than I am.

elder² n. 1 [C usually plural] someone who is older than you are: Young people should have respect for their elders. 2 [C] an older person who is important and respected: the town elders el-der-ly /'eldəli/ adj. 1 old, used in order to be polite: an elderly woman with white hair 2 the elderly people who are old el-dest /'eldɪst/ adj. the eldest of a group of people, especially brothers and sisters, is the one who was born first: My eldest daughter is 17.

e-lect¹ /ɪ'lekt/ v. [T] 1 to choose someone for an official position by voting: She was first elected to Congress in 1988. | What are the chances that a Democrat will be elected president/governor/mayor? 2 elect to do sth (formal) to choose to do something: Hanley elected to take early retirement. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin electus, past participle of eligere “to choose”] elect² adj. president-elect/senator-elect etc. the person who has been elected but has not officially started his/her job

e-lec-tion /ɪ'lektʃən/ n. [C] an occasion when you vote in order to choose someone for an official position: The election results are still coming in. | She won the election by a large margin. | the national/local elections on Tuesday | More people voted in this election than in previous years. —electoral /ɪ'lektərəl/ adj. → GENERAL ELECTION

e-lec-tive¹ /ɪ'lektɪv/ n. [C] a subject that a student chooses to study, that is not one of the classes s/he must take elective² adj. 1 an elective office, position, etc. is one for which there is an election 2 elective medical treatment is treatment that you choose to have

E,lector-al 'College n. the Electoral College POLITICS an official group of people who meet to elect the U.S. President and Vice President. Each state sends a particular number of members to the Electoral College, and these members vote for the CANDIDATES who won the most votes in their state.

e-lec-tor-ate /ɪ'lektəreɪt/ n. [singular] all the people who are allowed to vote in an election

e-lec-tric /ɪ'lektɪk/ adj. 1 needing electricity in order to work: an electric oven | an electric guitar

USAGE

Use electric before the names of things that need electricity in order to work: electric lights | an electric toothbrush
Use electrical to talk about things that use or produce electricity, or to refer to someone who works with electricity: electrical goods | an electrical engineer

2 making people feel very excited: The atmosphere at the concert was electric. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Modern Latin electricus, from Latin electrum “amber;” because electricity was first made by rubbing amber]

THESAURUS exciting, thrilling, gripping, dramatic, exhilarating → EXCITING

e·lec·tri·cal /ɪˈlɛktrɪkəl/ adj. relating to or using electricity: Solar panels change sunlight into electrical power. | electrical goods → see USAGE box at ELECTRIC e·lectrical po'tential n. [U] PHYSICS the energy that is likely to be produced by something that produces electricity (SYN) voltage

e·lectric 'chair n. the electric chair a chair in which criminals are killed using electricity

e·lec·tri·cian /ɪˈlɛkˈtrɪʃən, i-/ n. [C] someone whose job is to fit and repair electrical equipment

e·lec·tric-i·ty /ɪˈlɛkˈtrɪsəti, i-/ n. [U] 1 PHYSICS the power that is carried by wires and used in order to provide heat or light, to make machines work, etc.: houses that lack electricity or running water | Wind power is used to generate electricity (=make electricity). 2 a feeling of excitement

e·lec·tri·fy /ɪˈlɛktrəˈfaɪ/ v. (electrified, electrifies) [T] 1 to make people feel very excited or interested: His speech electrified the Democratic Convention. 2 to make electricity available in a particular area —electrified adj. —electrifying adj.

e·lec·tro·chem-i·cal /ɪˈlɛktroʊˈkɛmɪkəl/ adj. CHEMISTRY relating to chemical changes caused by electricity, and the production of electricity as the result of a chemical reaction

e·lec·tro·cute /ɪˈlɛktrəˈkyut/ v. [T] to kill someone by passing electricity through his/her body —electrocution /ɪˈlɛktrəˈkyuʃən/ n. [U]

e·lec·trode /ɪˈlɛktroʊd/ n. [C] PHYSICS the point at which electricity enters or leaves something such as a BATTERY [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 electro- + Greek hodos “way, path”]

e·lec·trol-y-sis /ɪˈlɛkˈtrəlaɪsɪs/ n. [U] the process of using electricity to remove hair from your face, legs, etc.

e·lec·tro·lyte /ɪˈlɛktrəˈlaɪt/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY a liquid or solid substance that allows electricity to pass through it

e·lec·tro·mag·net /ɪˈlɛktroʊˈmæɡnɪt, ɪˈlɛktroʊˈmæɡnɪt/ n. [C] PHYSICS a type of MAGNET that usually consists of a piece of wire wound around some metal. The metal becomes MAGNETIC when an electric current is passed through the wire. —electromagnetic /ɪˈlɛktroʊmæɡˈnetɪk/ adj.

e·lec·tron /ɪˈlɛktrən/ n. [C] PHYSICS a very small piece of matter that moves around the NUCLEUS

(=central part) of an atom → see picture at ATOM

e·lec·tron·ic /ɪˈlɛkˈtrɒnɪk/ adj. 1 electronic equipment, such as computers or televisions, uses electricity that has passed through computer CHIPS, TRANSISTORS, etc. 2 using electronic equipment: electronic banking —electronically adv.

e·lec·tron·ics /ɪˈlɛkˈtrɒnɪks/ n. [U] the study or industry of making electronic equipment, such as computers or televisions

e·lec·tro·va·lent bond /ɪˈlɛktroʊvələnt ˈbɒnd/ n. [C] CHEMISTRY a chemical BOND that is the result of atoms gaining and losing an ELECTRON, so that a negative ION and a positive ion are formed (SYN) ionic bond el·e·gant /ˈɛləɡənt/ adj. very beautiful and graceful: a tall elegant woman [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French, Latin elegans “specially chosen as being of good quality”] —elegance n. [U] —elegantly adv.

el·e·gy /ˈɛlədʒi/ n. (plural elegies) [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a sad poem or song, especially about someone who has died el·e·ment /ˈɛləmənt/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] one part of a plan, system, piece of writing, etc.: the two main elements of the bill | a key/major/basic element of his campaign | The trial is a central element in the novel. 2 an element of danger/truth/risk etc. a small amount of danger, truth, risk, etc.: The movie is a fantasy, but there is still an element of truth in it. 3 [C] CHEMISTRY a simple chemical substance such as oxygen or gold, that is made of only one type of atom → COMPOUND: The periodic table is a list of all the chemical elements. 4 be in your element to be in a situation that you enjoy a lot because you are good at it: Joe's in his element when he steps out onto the football field. 5 be out of your element to be in a situation that makes you uncomfortable or unhappy because you are not good at it: I felt completely out of my element studying French. 6 the elements [plural] the weather, especially bad weather: A tent provided shelter from the elements. 7 [C] MATH a number that is a single part of a mathematical set or MATRIX [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin elementum]

el·e·men·tal /ˈɛləˈmɛntəl/ adj. an elemental feeling is simple, basic, and strong el·e·men·ta·ry /ˈɛləˈmɛntəri, -ˈmɛntəri/ adj. 1 relating to the first and easiest part of a subject: elementary piano exercises 2 simple or basic: the elementary human need for food

THESAURUS basic, fundamental, essential, central, underlying → BASIC

3 relating to an elementary school ele·mentary school n. [C] a school in the U.S. for the first six or eight years of a child's education (SYN) grade school el·e·phant /ˈɛləfənt/ n. [C] a very large gray animal with two TUSKS (=long curved teeth), big ears, and a TRUNK (=a long nose) that it can use to pick things up [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French oliphant, from Greek elephas “elephant, ivory”] el-e-vate /ˈeləˌveɪt/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to make someone more important, or to make something better: Sloane was elevated to captain. 2 to raise someone or something to a higher position or level: This drug tends to elevate body temperature.

el-e-va-tion /ˈeləˌveɪʃən/ n. 1 [C] a height above the level of the ocean: The city of Boulder is at an elevation of 5,400 feet. 2 [U] (formal) the act of moving someone to a more important rank or position: the judge's elevation to the Supreme Court 3 [C,U] (formal) an increase in the quantity or level of something: Elevation of blood pressure can cause headaches.

el-e-va-tor /ˈeləˌveɪtər/ n. [C] a machine in a building, that takes people from one level to another: I decided to take the elevator.

e-lev-en /ˈlevən/ number 1 11 2 11 o'clock: an appointment at eleven 3 11 years old: My son is eleven. [ORIGIN: Old English endleofan]

e-lev-enth /ˈlevənθ/ number 1 11th 2 1/11

elf /elf/ n. (plural elves /elvz/) [C] a small imaginary person with pointed ears —elfin /ˈelfɪn/ adj.

e-lic-it /ˈlɪtsɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to get information, a reaction, etc. from someone when this is difficult: Short questions are more likely to elicit a response.

el-i-g-i-ble /ˈelɪdʒəbəl/ adj. 1 able or allowed to do something: You are eligible to vote at the age of 18. | Are you eligible for a loan? 2 an eligible man or woman would be good to marry because s/he is rich, attractive, etc.: an eligible bachelor —eligibility /ˌelɪdʒəˈbɪləti/ n. [U]

e-lim-i-nate /ˈlɪmɪˌneɪt/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to get rid of something completely: a plan to eliminate all nuclear weapons | The aim is to eliminate the disease from the entire world. 2 be eliminated to be defeated in a sports competition, so that you can no longer take part in it [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin eliminatus, past participle of eliminare “to put out of doors”]

e-lim-i-na-tion /ˈlɪmɪˌneɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 the removal or destruction of something: the elimination of 250 jobs 2 process of elimination a way of finding out the answer to something by getting rid of other answers that are not correct until only one is left: Try to solve the problem by a process of elimination.

e-lite¹ /eɪˈlɪt, ɪ-/ n. [C] a small group of people who are powerful or important because they have money, knowledge, special skills, etc.: the country's ruling elite e-lite² adj. [only before noun] an elite group contains the best, most skilled, or most experienced members of a larger group: The competition is only open to an elite group of athletes.

e-lit-ist /eɪˈlɪtɪst, ɪ-/ adj. (disapproving) an elitist system, government, etc. is one in which a small group of people have much more power than other people —elitism n. [U] elk /ɛlk/ n. (plural elk or elks) [C] a large DEER with a lot of hair around its neck el-lipse /ɪˈlɪps/ n. [C] MATH a curved shape that is similar to a circle, but has two sides that are longer and flatter. It is formed by a PLANE (=flat shape) crossing completely through a CONE at an angle, so that the sum of the distances from any point on the curve to two fixed points inside the ellipse is always the same. → CONIC SECTION el-lip-sis /ɪˈlɪpsɪs/ n. (plural ellipses /-sɪz/) 1 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the sign (...) used in writing, to show that some words have deliberately been left out of a sentence 2 [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS an occasion when words are deliberately left out of a sentence, though the meaning can still be understood el-lip-ti-cal /ɪˈlɪptɪkəl/ also el-lip-tic /ɪˈlɪptɪk/ adj. shaped like a circle but with slightly flat sides (SYN) oval: the elliptical orbit of the planets

elm /ɛlm/ n. [C,U] a large tall tree with broad leaves, or the wood of this tree

El Niño /ɛl ˈnɪnyou/ n. EARTH SCIENCES a process in which the water on the surface of the Pacific Ocean near the western coast of South America becomes warmer than usual. This happens every 4 to 12 years and often results in unusual weather conditions that can cause severe damage to countries that have coasts on the Pacific Ocean.

e-lon-gat-ed /ɪˈlɒŋˌɡeɪtɪd/ adj. long and thin: elongated shadows —elongate v. [I,T] e-lope /ɪˈloʊp/ v. [I] to go away secretly with someone to get married —elopement n. [C,U] el-o-quent /ˈeləkwənt/ adj. able to express ideas, opinions, or feelings clearly, in a way that influences other people: Brennan's eloquent response [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French, Latin, present participle of eloqui “to speak out”] —eloquently adv. —eloquence n. [U]

else /els/ adv. 1 in addition – used after words beginning with “any-,” “no-,” “some-,” and after question words: Clayton needs someone else to help him. | There's nothing else we can do. | What else can I get you? 2 different – used after words beginning with “any-,” “no-,” “some-,” and after question words: Is there anything else to eat? | She was wearing someone else's coat (=not her own coat). | Well, what else can I do? 3 or else used when saying that there will be a bad result if someone does not do something: Hurry up, or else you'll be late for school! 4 if nothing else used in order to say that there is one good quality or feature of something, even if there are no others: If nothing else, the report shows that better facilities are needed.

else-where /ˈelsweər/ adv. in or to another place: Most of the city's residents were born elsewhere.

e-lu-ci-date /ɪˈlusəˌdeɪt/ v. [I,T] (formal) to explain very clearly something that is difficult to understand

THESAURUS explain, tell, go through sth, clarify → EXPLAIN

e-lude /ɪ'lud/ v. [T] 1 to avoid being found or caught by someone, especially by tricking him/her: Jones eluded the police for six weeks. 2 if something that you want eludes you, you do not find it or achieve it: Success has eluded him so far. 3 if a fact, someone's name, etc. eludes you, you cannot remember it

e-lu-sive /ɪ'lusɪv/ adj. 1 difficult to find: an elusive animal 2 difficult to achieve or understand: Success has been elusive. | the poem's elusive meaning

elves /ɛlvz/ n. the plural of ELF

'em /əm/ pron. (spoken, nonstandard) them: Tell the kids I'll pick 'em up after school.

E

e-ma-ci-at-ed /ɪ'meɪʃi,etɪd/ adj. extremely thin because of illness or lack of food

THESAURUS thin, slim, slender, slight, skinny, lean, underweight, gaunt, anorexic, skeletal → THIN¹

email, e-mail /i meɪl/ n. 1 [U] electronic mail a system that allows you to send and receive messages by computer: What's your email address? | A confirmation of your order will be sent by/via email. → INTERNET 2 [C,U] a message that is sent using this system: I got an email from her yesterday. | I haven't checked my email yet.

COLLOCATIONS

You can read, write, send, and receive an email.
If you check your email, you look on your computer to see if you have received any.
If you reply to an email, you write an email to someone who has sent one to you.
If you get a reply, you receive an email from someone you have written an email to.
If you forward an email, you send an email that you have received to another person.
If you send an attachment, you send someone a document which can be opened and read when s/he receives your email message.
If an email bounces back, it is sent back to the person who sent it, usually because the address is wrong. → INTERNET, COMPUTER

—email, e-mail v. [T] em-a-nate /'emə,neɪt/ v.

emanate from sth phr. v. to come from or out of something: Wonderful smells were emanating from the kitchen.

e-man-ci-pate /ɪ'mænsə,peɪt/ v. [T] POLITICS to make someone free from social, political, or legal rules that limit what s/he can do [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin emancipatus, past participle of emancipare, from mancipium “ownership”] —emancipated adj. —emancipation /ɪ,mænsə'peɪʃən/ n. [U] em-balm /ɪm'bʌm/ v. [T] to use chemicals to prevent a dead body from decaying em-bank-ment /ɪm'bæŋkmənt/ n. [C] a wide wall of earth or stones built to stop water from flooding an area, or to support a road or railroad em-bar-go /ɪm'bɑːɡoʊ/ n. (plural embargoes) [C] POLITICS an official order to stop trade with another country: The UN imposed an arms embargo on the country. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Spanish embargar “to stop, prevent, seize”] embargo² v. (past tense and past participle embargoed) [T] POLITICS to officially stop particular goods from being traded with another country em-bark /ɪm'bɑːk/ v. [I] to go onto a ship or airplane (ANT) disembark [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French embarquer, from barque “ship”] embark on/upon sth phr. v. to start something new, difficult, or exciting: Terry then embarked on a new career as a teacher.

em-bar-rass /ɪm'bærəs/ v. [T] to make someone feel embarrassed: I didn't want to embarrass her in front of Paul. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French embarrasser, from Spanish embarazar]

em-bar-rassed /ɪm'bærəst/ adj. ashamed, nervous, or uncomfortable, especially in front of other people: I could see he felt embarrassed, so I changed the subject. | I was embarrassed about how messy my house was. | He was too embarrassed to talk about it. | an embarrassed silence em-bar-ras-sing /ɪm'bærəsɪŋ/ adj. making you feel embarrassed: a lot of embarrassing questions em-bar-rass-ment /ɪm'bærəsmənt/ n. 1 [U] the feeling that you have when you are embarrassed: Jody squirmed with embarrassment. 2 [C] something that causes problems and makes someone look stupid: The matter has been an embarrassment to the White House.

em-bas-sy /'embəsi/ n. (plural embassies) [C] a group of officials who represent their country in a foreign country, or the building they work in: the Peruvian Embassy em-bat-tled /ɪm'bætld/ adj. (formal) 1 surrounded by enemies, especially in a war: the embattled city 2 an embattled person, company, etc. has many problems or difficulties em-bed /ɪm'bɛd/ v. (embedded, embedding) [T] 1 to put something firmly and deeply into something else: a spider embedded in a glass paperweight 2 if your ideas, feelings, or attitudes are embedded, you believe them very strongly: The idea of freedom is deeply embedded in America's values.

em-bel-lish /ɪm'bɛlɪʃ/ v. [T] 1 to make something more beautiful by adding decorations to it: a crown embellished with jewels 2 to make a story or statement more interesting by adding details to it that are not true: Larry couldn't help embellishing his story. —embellishment n. [C,U] em-ber /'embə/ n. [C] a piece of wood or coal that stays red and very hot after a fire has stopped burning em-bez-zle /ɪm'beɪzəl/ v. [I,T] LAW to steal money from the place where you work —embezzlement n. [U] —embezzler n. [C] em-bit-tered /ɪm'bitəd/ adj. angry, sad, or full of hate because of bad or unfair things that have happened to you —embitter v. [T] em-bla-zoned /ɪm'bleɪzənd/ adj. showing a name, design, etc.: a T-shirt emblazoned with the group's name em-blem /'ɛmbləm/ n. [C] a picture, shape, or object that represents a country, company, idea, etc.: The national emblem of Canada is the maple leaf.

em-bod-y /ɪm'bɒdi/ v. (embodied, embodies) [T] to be the best example of an idea or quality: Mrs. Miller embodies everything I admire in a teacher: —embodiment n. [U] em-boss /ɪm'bɒs, ɪm'bas/ v. [T] to decorate the surface of metal, leather, paper, etc. with a raised pattern —embossed adj.: embossed stationery em-brace /ɪm'breɪs/ v. [T] 1 to put your arms around someone and hold him/her in a caring way: Rob reached out to embrace her.

THESAURUS hug, cuddle, hold, wrap your arms around sb → HUG¹

2 (formal) to eagerly accept ideas, opinions, religions, etc.: young men who are embracing Islam —embrace n. [C] em-broi-der /ɪm'brɔɪdər/ v. 1 [I,T] to decorate cloth by sewing a picture or pattern on it with colored threads 2 [T] to add details that are not true to a story to make it more interesting or exciting —embroidery n. [U] em-broil /ɪm'brɔɪl/ v. [T] to involve someone in a difficult situation: Soon, the whole group was embroiled in a fierce argument.

em-bryo /'ɛmbri,ou/ n. (plural embryos) [C] BIOLOGY an animal or human that has not yet been born and has just begun to develop. In humans, an embryo becomes a FETUS after eight weeks of development.

em-bryo-nic /,ɛmbri'ənɪk/ adj. not fully developed: the country's embryonic nuclear weapons program em-cee /,ɛm'si/ n. [C] master of ceremonies someone who introduces the performers on a television program or at a social event —emcee v. [I,T] e-mend /ɪ'mend/ v. [T] (formal) to take the mistakes out of something that has been written → AMEND —emendation /ɪ,mən'deɪʃən, ɪmən-/ n. [C,U] em-er-ald /'ɛmərəld/ n. [C] a valuable bright green jewel

e-merge /ɪ'mɜːdʒ/ (Ac) v. [I] 1 to appear after being hidden: The sun emerged from behind the clouds. 2 if facts emerge, they become known after being hidden or secret: During the court case, it emerged that both men had previous convictions for robbery. 3 to have a particular quality or position after experiencing a difficult situation: She emerged from the divorce a stronger person. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin emergere, from e “out of” + mergere “to dip, sink”] —emergence n. [U]: the emergence of a rare political talent e-mer-gen-cy /ɪ'mɜːdʒənsi/ n. (plural emergencies) [C] an unexpected and dangerous situation that you must deal with immediately: Call an ambulance! This is an emergency! [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 From the idea of something suddenly “emerging” or happening] —emergency adj.: an emergency exit

e-mergency room n. [C] the part of a hospital that immediately treats people who have been hurt in a serious accident

e-mer-gent /ɪ'mɜːdʒənt/ (Ac) adj. beginning to develop and be noticeable: the emergent nations of Eastern Europe and Africa

e-mer-i-tus /ɪ'merɪtəs/ adj. a PROFESSOR emeritus is no longer working but still has an official title em-er-y board /'ɛməri bɔːrd/ n. [C] a NAIL FILE made from thick card covered with a mineral powder em-i-grant /'ɛmɜːgrənt/ n. [C] someone who leaves his/her own country in order to live in another: an emigrant to the United States → IMMIGRANT em-i-grate /'ɛmɜːgreɪt/ v. [I] to leave your own country in order to live in another: Maria emigrated from Guatemala three years ago. —emigration /,ɛmɜːgreɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

THESAURUS immigrate, migrate → IMMIGRATE em-i-nent /'ɛmənənt/ adj. famous and admired by many people: an eminent professor of medicine

THESAURUS famous, well-known, legendary, celebrated, renowned, noted, distinguished → FAMOUS eminent do-main n. [U] LAW the right of the U.S. government to pay for and take someone's private land so it can be used for a public purpose em-i-nent-ly /'ɛmənəntli/ adv. (formal) completely, and without any doubt: He's eminently qualified to do the job.

e-mir /'ɛmɪr, ɪ-/ n. [C] a Muslim ruler, especially in Asia and parts of Africa

e-mir-ate /'ɛmərɪt/ n. [C] the country ruled by an emir em-is-sar-y /'ɛməsəri/ n. (plural emissaries) [C] someone who is sent with an official message, or who must do other official work: an emissary from the Italian government

e-mis-sion /ɪ'mɪʃən/ n. [C,U] the sending out of gas, heat, light, sound, etc., or the gas, etc. that is sent out: an emissions test (=a test to make sure the gases your car sends out are at the right level)

E

e-mit /ɪ'mɪt/ v. (emitted, emitting) [T] (formal) to send out gas, heat, light, sound, etc.: The kettle emitted a shrill whistle. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin emittere, from mittere “to send”]

Em-my /ˈɛmi/ n. (plural Emmies) [C] a prize given every year to the best program, actor, etc. on U.S. television

e-mol-lient /ɪ'mɒljənt/ adj. (formal) 1 making something, especially your skin, softer and smoother 2 making you feel calmer when you have been angry —emollient n. [C] e-mote /ɪ'moʊt/ v. [I] to clearly show emotion, especially when you are acting: Some of the poets just read their work, while others emoted.

e-mo-tion /ɪ'moʊʃən/ n. [C,U] a strong human feeling such as love or hate: David doesn't usually show his true emotions. | Her voice was full of emotion. | She trembled with emotion. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French émouvoir “to cause to have strong feelings,” from Latin move “to move”]

e-mo-tion-al /ɪ'moʊʃənəl/ adj. 1 making people have strong feelings: The end of the movie was really emotional.

THESAURUS

moving – making you feel strong emotions, especially sadness or sympathy: Kelly's book about her illness is deeply moving.

touching – making you feel sympathy or sadness: a touching tribute to the victims of the attack poignant – making you feel sad or full of pity: poignant memories emotive (formal) – making people have strong feelings: In his book, he expresses his ideas in highly emotive language.

sentimental – showing emotions such as love, pity, and sadness too strongly: a sentimental poem schmaltzy (informal) – showing strong emotions such as love and sadness in a way that seems silly: a schmaltzy love song

2 showing your emotions to other people, especially by crying: Please don't get all emotional. 3 relating to your feelings or how they are controlled: the emotional development of children | Ann suffered from a number of emotional problems. 4 influenced by what you feel rather than what you know: an emotional response to the problem —emotionally adv.: Family members reacted emotionally to the verdict.

e-mo-tive /ɪ'moʊtɪv/ adj. making people have strong feelings: an emotive speech about the effects of war

THESAURUS

emotional, moving, touching, poignant, sentimental, schmaltzy → EMOTIONAL em-pa-thy /ˈɛmpəθi/ n. [U] the ability to understand someone else's feelings and problems [ORIGIN: 1900–2000 Greek empathia, from pathos

“suffering, feeling”] —empathize v. [I] → SYMPATHY em-per-or /ˈɛmpərə/ n. [C] the ruler of an EMPIRE [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French empereor, from Latin imperare “to command”]

THESAURUS

king, queen, prince, princess, monarch, ruler, sovereign → KING em-pha-sis /ˈɛmfəsis/ (Ac) n. (plural emphases /-fəsis/) [C,U] special importance: Jamieson's report puts/places an emphasis on the need for better working conditions. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, Greek, from emphainein “to show”] em-pha-size /ˈɛmfəsaɪz/ (Ac) v. [T] to show that an opinion, idea, quality, etc. is important: My teacher emphasized the importance of grammar. | Scientists emphasized that more research needs to be done. ▶ Don't say “emphasize on.” ◀ stress – to emphasize a statement, fact, or idea: Mother always stressed the importance of good manners.

THESAURUS

highlight – to make a problem, subject, etc. easy to notice so that people will pay attention to it: Your résumé should highlight your skills and experience.

underline – to show that something is important: The tragic incident underlines the need for improved safety standards.

accentuate – to make something easier to notice: Let's try to accentuate the positive aspects of the report.

underscore – to emphasize that something is important: The president's speech repeatedly underscored the progress that has been made.

exaggerate – to make something seem more important, better, larger, worse, etc. than it really is: News reports exaggerated the severity of the disaster.

em-phat-ic /ɪmˈfætɪk/ (Ac) adj. done or said in a way that shows something is important or should be believed: Dale's answer was an emphatic “No!” | The alarm bell gives a clear and emphatic warning that there is smoke in the building. —emphatically adv.

em-phy-se-ma /ˈɛmfəˈzɪmə, -ˈsi-/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a serious disease that affects the lungs, making it difficult to breathe [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Modern Latin, Greek, from emphysan “to swell”] em-pire /ˈɛmpaɪə/ n. [C] 1 POLITICS a group of countries that are all controlled by one ruler or government: the Roman Empire 2 a group of organizations that are all controlled by one person or company: a media empire em-pir-i-cal /ɪmˈpɪrɪkəl, ɛm-/ (Ac) adj. based on practical experience or scientific tests rather than on ideas: The theory is based on empirical evidence. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 empiric “person who puts trust only in practical experience” (16–21 centuries), from Latin empiricus] em-pir-i-cism /ɪmˈpɪrəˌsɪzəm, ɛm-/ (Ac) n. [U] the belief that your ideas about the world should be based on experience or scientific tests —empiricist n. [C] em-plot /ɪmˈplɔɪ/ v. [T] 1 to pay someone to work for you: The factory employs over 2,000 people. 2 to use a particular object, method, or skill in order to achieve something: research methods employed by scientists [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French employer “to use,” from Latin implicare] em-plot-ee /ɪmˈplɔɪ-i, ɪmˈplɔɪ-i, ɛm-/ n. [C] someone who is paid to work for a person, organization, or company: a government employee → WORK¹ em-plot-er /ɪmˈplɔɪə/ n. [C] a person, company, or organization that employs people: The shoe factory is the largest employer in this area. → WORK¹ em-plot-ment /ɪmˈplɔɪmənt/ n. [U] 1 work that you do to earn money: Steve’s still looking for employment.

THESAURUS job, work, position, post, occupation, profession, career, vocation → JOB

2 the number of people who have jobs (ANT) unemployment 3 the act of paying someone to work for you: the employment of minorities 4 the use of an object, method, skill, etc. to achieve something: the employment of weapons to gain control of the area

em-po-ri-um /ɪmˈpɔɪəm/ n. [C] a word meaning a large store, used in the names of stores em-pow-er /ɪmˈpaʊə/ v. [T] to give someone the confidence, power, or right to do something: Our aim is to empower women to defend themselves.

em-press /ˈɛmpɪs/ n. [C] the female ruler of an EMPIRE, or the wife of an EMPEROR

emp-ty¹ /ˈɛmpti/ adj. 1 having nothing inside: Your glass is empty – would you like some more lemonade? | an empty box

THESAURUS

bare – used about a room or area that has very little in it: Apart from a bed, the room was bare.
deserted – used about a place or building that is empty and quiet because no people are there: a deserted beach | By now, the streets were deserted.
uninhabited – used about a place that has no people living in it: an uninhabited island free – used about a seat, space, or room that no one is using: Is this seat free?
blank – used about a computer screen, a page, a piece of paper, or a wall that has no writing or pictures on it: He stared at the blank page, not sure what to write.
vacant (formal) – used about rooms, seats, buildings, or areas of land that are empty and available for someone to use: vacant motel rooms

2 not filled with people, or not being used by anyone: Is this seat empty? | an empty restaurant 3 unhappy because nothing seems interesting, important, or worth doing: After the divorce, my life felt empty. 4 empty words/promises/gestures etc. words, etc. that are not sincere and therefore have no meaning 5 on an empty stomach without having eaten anything first: You shouldn’t go to school on an empty stomach. 6 empty nest (syndrome) a situation in which parents become sad because their children have grown up and left home [ORIGIN: Old English æmettig]

empty² v. (emptied, empties) 1 [T] also empty out to remove everything that is inside of something else: I found your umbrella when I was emptying out the closet. | Troy, please empty the dishwasher. 2 [T] to pour the things that are in a container into or onto something else: Empty the contents of one pudding package into a large bowl. 3 [I,T] to leave a place, vehicle, etc., or to make someone do this: Judge Sinclair ordered the courtroom to be emptied. 4 [I] to flow into a large area of water: the place where Waddell Creek empties into the ocean empty-handed adj. without gaining or getting anything: The thieves fled the building empty-handed.

em-u-late /ˈɛmyəˌleɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to try to do something or behave in the same way as someone (SYN) copy: Children emulate their parents’ behavior.

e-mul-sion /ɪˈmʌljən/ n. [U] 1 CHEMISTRY a mixture of liquids, such as oil and water, that contains very small drops of one liquid floating in the other, instead of the liquids combining completely 2 the substance on the surface of photographic film or paper that makes it react to light en-a-ble /ɪˈneɪbəl/ (Ac) v. [T] to make someone or something able to do something: A new type of plastic has enabled us to make our products more cheaply.

en-act /ɪˈnækt/ v. [T] LAW to make something a law: The measure was enacted to prevent tax abuses.

en-am-el /ɪˈnæməl/ n. [U] 1 a substance like glass that is put on metal, clay, etc. for decoration or for protection 2 the hard smooth outer surface of your teeth en-am-ored /ɪˈnæməd/ adj. [not before noun] liking or loving someone or something very much: Since the early 1960s, teenagers around the world have been enamored of American popular culture. —enamor v. [T] en-case /ɪnˈkeɪs/ v. [T] to cover or surround something completely: art objects encased in a glass box en-chant-ed /ɪnˈtʃæntɪd/ adj. something that is enchanted has been changed by magic so that it has special powers: an enchanted forest en-chant-ing /ɪnˈtʃæntɪŋ/ adj. very pleasant in a way that makes you feel very interested, happy, or excited: an enchanting movie about young love en-chi-la-da /ˌɛntʃəˈlɑdə/ n. [C] a Mexican food made from a corn TORTILLA rolled around meat or beans and covered with a hot-tasting liquid [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 American Spanish, past participle of enchilar “to put chili into”] en-clave /ˈɛnkleɪv, ˈɑŋ-/ n. [C] a place or group of people that is surrounded by areas or groups of people that are different from it: the Italian-American enclave in New York en-close /ɪnˈkloʊz/ v. [T] 1 to put something inside an envelope with a letter: A copy of the article is enclosed. 2 to surround an area, especially with a fence or wall: A high wall enclosed the yard. —enclosed adj.

E en-clo-sure /ɪnˈkloʊʒə/ n. [C] 1 an area that is surrounded by something such as a fence or wall: The animals are kept in a large enclosure. 2 things such as documents, photographs, money, etc. that you send with a letter en-com-pass /ɪnˈkɑmpəs/ v. [T] 1 to include a range of ideas, subjects, etc.: Crosby's career encompassed radio, records, TV, and movies. 2 to completely cover or surround an area: a national park encompassing 400 square miles en-core /ˈɑŋkər/ n. [C] an additional piece of music a performer plays because the people listening want to hear more en-coun-ter¹ /ɪnˈkaʊntər/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 an occasion when you meet or experience something: It was my first encounter with blatant racism. 2 an occasion when you meet someone without planning to: an encounter with an old college friend | Her acting career began after a chance encounter (=one that happens by luck) with Orson Welles in Hamburg. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French encontrer, from Late Latin incontra “toward”]

encounter² v. [T] 1 to experience something bad that you have to deal with: She encountered a lot of difficulties trying to get her article published. | The president encountered resistance to his plans. 2 (formal) to see or meet someone or something without planning to en-cour-age /ɪnˈkʌrɪdʒ, -ˈkɑr-/ v. [T] 1 to persuade someone to do something (ANT) discourage: a program to encourage children to wear bicycle helmets 2 to help someone become confident or brave enough to do something (ANT) discourage: Cooder's father encouraged him to play the guitar. 3 to make something more likely to happen (ANT) discourage: a plant food that encourages growth —encouragement n. [U]: words of encouragement en-cour-ag-ing /ɪnˈkʌrɪdʒɪŋ, -ˈkɑr-/ adj. giving you hope and confidence: This is encouraging news. —encouragingly adv.

en-croach /ɪnˈkroʊtʃ/ v. [I] 1 to gradually cover more and more land: Housing developments are encroaching on the habitats of wild animals. 2 to gradually take away more and more of someone's time, rights, etc.: new laws that encroach on civil liberties

en-crust-ed

/ɪnˈkrʌstɪd/ adj. covered with something hard and sharp, such as jewels, ice, or dried mud en-cum-ber

/ɪnˈkʌmbər/ v. [T] (formal) to make it more difficult for someone to do something, or for something to happen

—encumbrance

/ɪnˈkʌmbərəns/ n. [C] en-cy-clo-pe-di-a

/ɪnˈsɑrkləˈpiðiə/ n. [C] a book, set of books, or CD that contains facts about many subjects or about one particular subject [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Medieval Latin encyclopaedia “course of general education,” from Greek enkyklios paideia “general education”] end¹ /ɛnd/ n.

1 LAST PART [singular] the last part of a period of time, activity, book, movie, etc. (ANT) beginning: There are study questions at the end of each chapter. | I'll know by the end of the week.

2 FARTHEST POINT [C] the part of a place or long object that is furthest from its beginning or center: the ends of his fingers | I went to the end of the line. | the far end of the room | The two teams pull at opposite ends of the rope.

THE SAURUS

point – the sharp end of something: the point of a needle tip – the end of something, especially something pointed: the tip of your nose

3 OF A SITUATION [singular] a situation in which something is finished or no longer exists: The conversation seemed to have come to an end. | the UN's latest plan to put an end to (=stop) the war | My month of freedom was at an end.

4 in the end after a lot of thinking or discussion (SYN) finally: In the end, we decided to go to Florida.

5 for days/weeks etc. on end for many days, weeks, etc. without stopping

6 at the end of the day (spoken) used in order to say what the most important point is: At the end of the day, it's up to Jim to make the changes.

7 make ends meet to have just enough money to buy what you need

8 it's not the end of the world (spoken) used in order to say that a problem is not too serious or bad

9 RESULT [C] (formal) the aim or purpose of something, or the result that you hope to achieve: Learning can be both an end in itself (=a good goal), and a means to success. | We need to cut costs, and to that end (=to achieve that result) we have had to cut jobs.

10 no end a lot: He was enjoying himself no end. | The changes caused no end of trouble.

11 PART OF AN ACTIVITY [singular] (informal) the part of a job, activity, or situation that involves a person or group: She works in the sales end of things.

12 SCALE [C usually singular] one of the two points that begin or end a scale or range: a politician at the liberal end of the political spectrum

13 end to end with the end of something next to the end of something else: cars parked end to end

14 IN SPORTS [C] in football, one of two players who play on the outside of the TACKLES and try to catch the ball [ORIGIN: Old English ende] → DEAD END

end² v. [I,T] to stop or finish, or to make something do this (ANT) begin: World War II ended in 1945. | Janet finally ended the relationship. | The concert ended with fireworks.

THESAURUS

stop – to not continue, or to make someone or something not continue: The shooting had stopped.

finish – to stop when everything has been done, or to do the last part of something: What time does your class finish?

come to an end – to finally end, after continuing for a long time: The war finally came to an end.

be over – if something is over, it has ended: The vacation was almost over.

end in sth phr. v. to have a particular result or to finish in a particular way: One in three marriages ends in divorce.

end up phr. v. to be in a place, situation, or condition after a series of events, usually when you did not plan this: I always end up paying the bill.

en-dan-ger /ɪn'deɪndʒə/ v. [T] to put someone or something in a dangerous or harmful situation: Smoking seriously endangers your health. —endangered adj. —endangerment n. [U] en,dangered 'species n. [C] a type of animal or plant that soon might not exist en-dear /ɪn'dɪr/ v.

endear sb to sb phr. v. to make someone be liked by other people: The proposals are meant to endear him to the voters.

en-dear-ing /ɪn'dɪrɪŋ/ adj. making someone like or love you: an endearing smile en-dear-ment /ɪn'dɪrmənt/ n. [C,U] something you say that shows your love for someone en-deav-or¹ /ɪn'deɪvər/ n. [C,U] (formal) an attempt or effort to do something new or difficult: an endeavor to create a lasting peace endeavor² v. [I] (formal) to try very hard to do something: One must always endeavor to do one's best.

THESAURUS

try, attempt, see if you can do sth, do your best, make an effort to do sth → TRY¹

en-dem-ic /ɛn'demɪk, ɪn-/ adj. regularly happening in a particular place or among a particular group of people: Violent crime is now endemic in parts of the city.

end-ing /'endɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] the end of a story, movie, play, etc.: a happy ending 2 [U] the act of finishing or stopping a process: the ending of travel restrictions en-dive /'endaɪv/ n. [C,U] a vegetable with bitter-tasting leaves that are eaten raw in SALADS end-less /'endlɪs/ adj. continuing for a very long time, especially in a way that is annoying: the endless hours of practice | The possibilities are endless.

en-do-crine /'endəkrɪn/ adj. [only before noun] BIOLOGY relating to HORMONES in your blood: an endocrine gland

en-dorse /ɪn'dɔrs/ v. [T] 1 to officially say that you support or approve of someone or something: Several South American countries have endorsed the idea. | The mayor has decided not to endorse a candidate in the presidential election this year. 2 to sign your name on the back of a check —endorsement n. [C,U] en-do-skel-e-ton /'endə,skelətɒn/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the structure made by all the bones inside living creatures that have a BACKBONE → EXOSKELETON en-do-sperm /'endə,spɜ:m/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the part of a seed that contains the supply of food for the growing seed en-do-therm /'endə,θɜ:m/ n. [C] BIOLOGY an animal that produces heat inside its body and is able to control the temperature of its body when the temperature of its environment changes. Birds and MAMMALS are endotherms. → ECTOTHERM en-do-ther-mic /'endə,θɜ:mɪk/ adj. BIOLOGY relating to or describing a chemical reaction in which heat is taken in from the surrounding area → EXOTHERMIC: an endothermic process en-dow /ɪn'daʊ/ v. [T] 1 to give an endowment to a college, hospital, etc. 2 be endowed with talent/resources/rights etc. (formal) to have or be given a good quality, feature, or ability [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Anglo-French endouer, from Latin dotare “to give”] en-dow-ment /ɪn'daʊmənt/ n. [C,U] a large amount of money or property that is given to a college, hospital, etc. so that it has an income en-dur-ance /ɪn'dʊərəns/ n. [U] the ability to continue doing something difficult or painful over a long period of time: Jogging will help increase your endurance.

en-dure /ɪn'dʊr/ v. 1 [T] to suffer pain or deal with a very difficult situation for a long time:

People have endured months of fighting. 2 [I] to continue for a long time: a marriage that has endured for fifty years en-dur-ing /ɪnˈdʊrɪŋ/ adj. continuing to exist in spite of difficulties: an enduring peace end zone n. [C] the end of a football field where players take the ball in order to win points en-e-my /ˈɛnəmi/ n. (plural enemies) [C] 1 someone who hates you and wants to harm you or prevent you from being successful: Judge Lonza has made a lot of enemies during her career. 2 the person or group of people that you are fighting in a war: The enemy had at least 50 large aircraft in good condition. | an attack on an enemy submarine/ship/soldier etc. 3 something that people think is harmful or damaging: This policy was declared an enemy of economic growth. [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French enemi, from Latin inimicus, from amicus “friend”]

en-er-get-ic /ɛnəˈdʒetɪk/ (Ac) adj. very active: a cast of young and energetic actors | The governor fought an energetic campaign. —energetically adv.

THESAURUS

vigorous – using a lot of energy and strength or determination: a vigorous opponent of capital punishment full of energy – having a lot of energy: Katie is fun and full of energy.

dynamic – interesting, exciting, and full of energy and determination to succeed: a dynamic new candidate hyperactive – too active, and not able to keep still or quiet for very long: a hyperactive child tireless – working very hard in a determined way: a tireless defender of human rights lively – very active and cheerful: a lively group of kids vital – full of life and energy: He was still young and vital when cancer struck.

en-er-gize /ɛnəˈdʒaɪz/ v. [T] to make someone feel more determined and full of energy

en-er-gy /ɛnəˈdʒi/ (Ac) n. (plural energies) [C,U] 1 the physical and mental strength that makes you able to do things: Younger people generally have more energy. | She had put a good deal of time and energy into the project. 2 power that is used to produce heat, make machines work, etc.: atomic energy | electrical energy | the world's energy resources 3 PHYSICS the ability of something to do work, move, or produce heat [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Late Latin energia, from Greek energeia “activity”] en-er-vat-ed /ɛnəˈveɪtɪd/ adj. (formal) feeling weak, tired, and without energy: After the long journey, he felt enervated and barely able to speak. —enervate v. [T] —enervating adj.

en-force /ɪnˈfɔrs/ (Ac) v. [T] to make people obey a rule or law: It's our responsibility to enforce the law. | The speed limit is strictly enforced. —enforcement n. [U] —enforceable adj.

en-fran-chise /ɪnˈfræn,tʃaɪz/ v. [T] POLITICS to give a group of people rights, especially the right to vote (ANT) disenfranchise en-gage /ɪnˈgeɪdʒ/ v. [T] (formal) 1 to make someone remain interested in something: a storyteller able to engage the children's imaginations 2 engage sb in (a) conversation to begin talking to someone 3 to employ someone engage in sth phr. v. to be doing or become involved in an activity: Only 10% of Americans engage in regular exercise.

en-gaged /ɪnˈgeɪdʒd/ adj. two people who are engaged have agreed to marry each other: Viv and Tyrell got engaged last month. | Sheri's engaged to a guy in the Army. ▶ Don't say “engaged with someone.” ◀ en-gage-ment /ɪnˈgeɪdʒmənt/ n. 1 [C] an agreement to marry someone: Charlene and I have broken off our engagement (=decided to end it). | an engagement ring (=a ring that a man gives a woman to show that they are engaged) 2 [C] (formal) an arrangement to do something or meet someone: Professor Campbell is in Fort Worth for a speaking engagement. 3 [U] the process of being involved with someone or something: a strategy of engagement and cooperation with China 4 [C,U] fighting between people or armies: military rules of engagement (=rules that say when you should fight)

en-gag-ing /ɪnˈgeɪdʒɪŋ/ adj. attracting people's attention and interest: an engaging personality

en-gen-der /ɪnˈdʒɛndə/ v. [T] (formal) to be the cause of something such as a situation, action, or emotion: the excitement engendered by the Pope's visit

en-gine /ˈɛndʒɪn/ n. [C] 1 the part of a vehicle or machine that produces power to make it move: the engine of a car | I waited with the engine running (=with the engine on). 2 the vehicle at the front of a train, that pulls it along (SYN) locomotive [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French engin “cleverness, machine,” from Latin ingenium “abilities you are born with”] en-gi-neer¹ /ˈɛndʒəˈnɪr/ n. [C] 1 someone whose job is to design, build, and repair roads, bridges, machines, etc. 2 someone who controls the engines on a ship, airplane, or train engineer² v. [T] 1 to arrange something, especially secretly: He engineered a cover-up. 2 to design, plan, and make something new: genetically engineered corn (=in which the GENES have been changed) en-gi-neer-ing /ˈɛndʒəˈnɪrɪŋ/ n. [U] the profession or activity of designing, building, and repairing roads, bridges, machines, etc.

En-glish¹ /ˈɪŋɡlɪʃ/ n. 1 [U] the language used in places such as the U.S., Canada, and Great Britain 2 the English [plural] the people of England

English² adj. 1 relating to the English language 2 relating to or coming from England en-grave /ɪnˈɡreɪv/ v. [T] to cut words or pictures onto the surface of metal, wood, glass, etc.

—engraver n. [C] en-grav-ing /ɪnˈɡreɪvɪŋ/ n. [C] a picture printed from an engraved piece of metal or wood en-grossed /ɪnˈɡroust/ adj. so interested in something that you do not notice anything else: Kit was engrossed in a book.

en-gross-ing /ɪnˈɡrousn̩/ adj. so interesting that you do not notice anything else: an engrossing story

THESAURUS interesting, fascinating, intriguing, absorbing, enthralling, compelling, gripping, riveting → INTERESTING en-gulf /ɪnˈɡʌlf/ v. [T] 1 if a bad feeling engulfs you, you feel it very strongly: Fear suddenly engulfed him. 2 to completely surround or cover something: a home engulfed in flames en-hance /ɪnˈhæns/ [Ac] v. [T] to improve something: Adding lemon juice will enhance the flavor.

—enhancement n. [C,U]

e-nig-ma /ɪˈnɪgmə/ n. [C] a person, thing, or event that is strange, mysterious, and difficult to understand [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin aenigma, from Greek, from ainos “story”] en-ig-mat-ic /ɪˈnɪgmætɪk/ adj. mysterious, and difficult to understand or explain: an enigmatic man —enigmatically /-kli/ adv.

en-joy /ɪnˈdʒɔɪ/ v. [T] 1 if you enjoy something, it gives you pleasure: Did you enjoy the movie? | I really enjoy walking the dog. ▶ Don’t say “I enjoy to walk the dog.” ◀ like – to enjoy something, or think that it is nice or good: Do you like Mexican food?

THESAURUS

love – to like something very much, or enjoy doing something very much: My daughter loves to read.

have a good/great time – to have experiences that you enjoy: Did you have a good time at the party?

have fun – to enjoy doing something: I had a lot of fun in class today.

relish (formal) – to enjoy something and be eager to do it: He’s the kind of guy who relishes a challenge.

2 enjoy yourself to be happy and have fun in a particular situation: I didn’t think I’d like sailing, but I was starting to enjoy myself. 3 to have a particular ability, advantage, or success: The team has enjoyed some success this season. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French enjoir, from Latin gaudere “to show great happiness”] —enjoyment n. [U]

en-joy-a-ble /ɪnˈdʒɔɪəbəl/ adj. giving you pleasure: an enjoyable afternoon

THESAURUS nice, pleasant, great, fantastic, wonderful → NICE en-large /ɪnˈlɑːdʒ/ v. [I,T] to become bigger, or to make something become bigger: I’m going to get some of these pictures enlarged. | Enlarge your vocabulary by reading books.

en-large-ment /ɪnˈlɑːdʒmənt/ n. [C] a photograph that has been printed again in a larger size en-light-en /ɪnˈlaɪt̩n/ v. [T] (formal) to explain something to someone —enlightening adj.: an enlightening experience en-light-ened /ɪnˈlaɪt̩nd/ adj. having sensible modern attitudes and treating people fairly and kindly: an enlightened company that treats its employees well en-light-en-ment /ɪnˈlaɪt̩nmənt/ n. [U] the process of understanding something clearly, or when you help someone do this en-list /ɪnˈlɪst/ v. 1 [T] to persuade someone to help you, support you, etc.: Children who are doing well are enlisted to help children who are struggling. 2 [I] to join the army, navy, etc.: I’ve enlisted in the Marines. —enlistment n. [C,U] en-list-ed /ɪnˈlɪstɪd/ adj. enlisted man/woman/personnel etc. someone in the army, navy, etc. whose rank is below that of an officer en-liv-en /ɪnˈlaɪvən/ v. [T] to make something more interesting or exciting en masse /ən ˈmæs, -ˈmas, ɛn-/ adv. together as one group: City councilors threatened to resign en masse.

en-mi-ty /ˈɛnməti/ n. [U] feelings of hatred and anger en-nui /ənˈwi/ n. [U] (literary) a feeling of being tired and bored, especially as a result of having nothing to do e-nor-mi-ty /ɪˈnɔːməti/ [Ac] n. [singular, U] the fact of being very large or serious: People were shocked by the enormity of the crime.

e-nor-mous /ɪˈnɔːməs/ [Ac] adj. extremely large in size or amount: You should see their house – it’s enormous! | an enormous amount of work [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin enormis “out of the ordinary,” from norma “rule”] —enormously adv.: The brain makes enormously complex decisions very quickly. | House prices have grown enormously.

THESAURUS big, large, substantial, sizable, prodigious, huge, vast, gigantic, massive, immense, colossal → BIG

e-nough /ɪˈnaʃ/ adv., determiner, pron. 1 as big, as many, as far, as much, etc. as necessary: This bag isn’t big enough to hold all my stuff. | He doesn’t even earn enough to pay the rent. | Is he old enough for school? | Do we have enough food for everybody? | The coach thinks she’s not trying hard enough. | Do you have enough money? | I think we've done enough.

E

THESAURUS

plenty – a large amount that is enough or more than enough: Try to eat plenty of fresh fruit and vegetables.

ample – more than enough: There will be ample opportunity to ask questions.

sufficient – as much as you need for a particular purpose: The court has to decide if there is sufficient evidence to prove that he is guilty.

adequate – enough in quantity or good enough in quality for a particular purpose: The workers did not receive adequate training.

2 (spoken) used in order to say that you are tired or angry about a situation and want it to stop: I have had enough of your lies! | That's enough, you two. Stop yelling! | Finally, my mother said enough is enough and kicked him out of the house. 3 (spoken) said when a situation is already bad and you do not want it to get worse: It's bad enough that you lied to me, without lying to Mother too. | I have enough trouble/problems – don't you go making it worse! 4 not very, but in an acceptable way: She's nice enough, but we don't have much in common. 5 strangely/oddly/funnily enough (spoken) used in order to say that a fact or something that happens is strange or surprising: Funnily enough, I met him today after not having seen him for months. → sure enough at SURE²

GRAMMAR

Use enough after adjectives or adverbs, or before nouns: This apartment isn't big enough for three people. | There's enough food for everyone.

en-rage /ɪn'reɪdʒ/ v. [T] to make someone very angry —enraged adj.

en-rich /ɪn'rɪtʃ/ v. [T] to improve the quality of something: vitamin-enriched flour —enrichment n. [U]

en-roll, enrol /ɪn'roul/ v. [I,T] to officially join a school, university, etc., or to arrange for someone else to do this: the students enrolled in honors classes | Nathan enrolled at City College.

en-roll-ment /ɪn'roulmənt/ n. [C,U] the number of students who are enrolled in a school or class, or the process of enrolling them: Enrollment was high this year.

en route /ən 'rut, ɛn-/ adv. on the way: We stopped at my aunt's house en route to Grandma's.

en-sconce /ɪn'skəns/ v. [T] (formal) to put someone in a safe and comfortable place: Martha was ensconced in the biggest chair.

en-sem-ble /ən'sembəl/ n. [C] a small group of musicians who play together regularly en-shrine /ɪn'ʃraɪn/ v. [T] (formal) to put something in a special place so that people can see it and remember it: civil rights enshrined in the Constitution en-sign /'ɛnsən/ n. [C] a low rank in the Navy, or an officer who has this rank en-slave /ɪn'sleɪv/ v. [T] (formal) 1 if something enslaves you, it completely controls your life and your actions 2 to make someone a SLAVE en-sue /ɪn'su/ v. [I] (formal) to happen after something, often as a result of it: A heated discussion ensued. —ensuing adj.

en-sure /ɪn'ʃʊr/ Ac v. [T] to do something to be certain of a particular result: The troops will ensure that food aid goes where it is most needed. | Strict measures were taken to ensure the accuracy of the results.

en-tail /ɪn'teɪl/ v. [T] to make something necessary, or have something as a necessary part: Does your job entail much traveling?

en-tan-gle /ɪn'tæŋɡəl/ v. [T] 1 be/get entangled in/with to be or become involved with someone or something bad: fears that the U.S. will get entangled in another war 2 to make something be twisted or caught in a rope, net, etc.: a fish entangled in the net —entanglement n. [C,U] en-ter¹ /'ɛntə/ v. 1 [I,T] to go or come into a place: A nurse entered. | Army tanks entered the capital.

THESAURUS

go in – to move into a particular place: Frank opened the door, and we went in.

come in – to enter a room or house: Come in and sit down.

barge in – to interrupt someone or go into a place when you were not invited: He just barged in.

sneak in – to go somewhere quietly and secretly: After the movie had already started, we snuck in.

get in – to be allowed or able to enter a place: You can't get in without ID.

trespass – to go onto someone's land without permission: The sign said "No Trespassing."

intrude – to go into a place where you are not wanted: Anyone intruding into the space sets off an alarm.

penetrate (formal) – to enter something or pass through it, especially when this is difficult: The soldiers penetrated deep into enemy territory.

2 [T] to go inside something: The virus enters the body through the lungs. 3 [T] to start working in a particular profession, or studying at a particular university, school, etc.: Both boys entered the Navy. | Many older students are now entering university. 4 [T] to start to take part in an activity: The U.S. entered the war in 1941. | More women began entering the workforce. 5 [I,T] to take part in something such as a competition, or to arrange for someone else to do this: The senator announced that he would not enter the presidential race. | The school entered three candidates in the spelling bee. 6 [T] to put information into a computer by pressing the keys, or to write information on a form, document, etc.: Enter your name in block capitals. 7 [T] to begin a period of time: The economy is entering a period of growth. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French entrer, from Latin intra “inside”] enter into sth phr. v. 1 to start doing something, discussing something, etc.: Both sides must enter into negotiations. 2 to be considered as a reason for something: Money didn't enter into my decision to leave. 3 enter into an agreement/contract etc. (formal) to officially make an agreement enter², Enter n. [singular] IT the key on a computer that you press to put information into a document, give an instruction, etc.: Make a selection from the menu, then press “Enter.”

en-ter-prise /'entəpraɪz/ n. 1 [C] a company, organization, or business: The store is a family enterprise (=owned by one family). 2 [U] ECONOMICS the activity of starting and running businesses: private enterprise 3 [C] a large and complicated plan or process that you work on with other people: The show is a huge enterprise. 4 [U] the ability to work hard and think of new ideas, especially in business: his enterprise and creativity → FREE ENTERPRISE en-ter-pris-ing /'entəpraɪzɪŋ/ adj. able and willing to do things that are new or difficult: an enterprising law student

en-ter-tain /,entə'teɪn/ v. 1 [I,T] to do something that interests and amuses people: She entertained the children with stories and songs. | A museum should aim to entertain as well as educate. 2 [I,T] to treat someone as a guest by providing food and drink for him/her: Mike's entertaining clients tonight. 3 [T] (formal) to consider or think about an idea, doubt, suggestion, etc.

en-ter-tain-er /,entə'teɪnə/ n. [C] someone whose job is to tell jokes, sing, etc.

en-ter-tain-ing /,entə'teɪnɪŋ/ adj. amusing and interesting: an entertaining movie

en-ter-tain-ment /,entə'teɪnmənt/ n. [U] things such as television, movies, etc. that amuse or interest people: the entertainment industry | a bar with live entertainment (=people who perform) en-thrall /ɪn'tʁɔl/ v. [T] to completely hold someone's attention and interest —enthral adj.

en-thuse /ɪn'tʊz/ v. [I] to talk about something with excitement and admiration en-thu-si-asm /ɪn'tʊzi,æzəm/ n. [U] a strong feeling of interest and enjoyment: He sang with enthusiasm. | a teacher who shared my enthusiasm for history | The new students were full of enthusiasm (=very enthusiastic). [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Greek enthousiasmos, from entheos “filled (by a god) with sudden strong abilities”] —enthusiast /ɪn'tʊziəst/ n. [C] en-thu-si-as-tic /ɪn'tʊzi'æstɪk/ adj. showing a lot of interest and excitement about something: a program that makes kids enthusiastic about learning | an enthusiastic crowd

THESAURUS

eager – wanting very much to do, get, or see something soon: They were eager to hear what he had to say.

passionate – having very strong feelings about something: She is passionate about her work.

ardent – very enthusiastic and having very strong feelings of admiration or determination: He became an ardent admirer of Matisse's paintings.

zealous – extremely enthusiastic about something such as a political or religious idea: Only his most zealous supporters would agree with this policy.

fanatical – very enthusiastic, especially in a way that seems too extreme: Her husband was fanatical about keeping the house clean.

—enthusiastically adv.

en-tice /ɪn'taɪs/ v. [T] to persuade someone to do something by offering him/her something nice: The tax break is meant to entice businesses to locate in the city. —enticing adj. —entice n. [C,U] en-tire /ɪn'taɪə/ adj. whole or complete – used in order to emphasize what you are saying: I've spent the entire day cooking.

en-tire-ly /ɪn'taɪəli/ adv. completely: Things are entirely different now.

THESAURUS

completely, absolutely, totally, wholly, utterly → COMPLETELY

en-tire-ty /ɪn'taɪəti/ n. in sth's entirety including all of something: The speech is published in its entirety.

en-ti-tle /ɪn'taɪtl/ v. 1 [T] to give someone the right to have or do something: Full-time employees are entitled to receive health insurance. | Membership entitles you to the full use of our fitness facilities. 2 be entitled sth if a book, play, etc. is entitled something, that is its name: a book entitled “The Stone Diaries” en-ti-tle-ment /ɪn'taɪtlmənt/ n. [C,U] the official right to have or receive something, or the amount you receive: an employee's entitlement to free medical care en'titlement program n. [C] SOCIAL SCIENCE a government program or system that gives money or help to particular groups in society, for example old people or poor people en-ti-ty /'entəti/ (Ac) n. (plural entities) [C] (formal) something that exists as a single and complete unit: After the war, Germany was partitioned (=divided) into two separate entities.

en-to-mol-o-gy /,entə'mələdʒi/ n. [U] BIOLOGY the scientific study of insects —entomologist n. [C] en-tou-rage /,antʊ'reɪʒ/ n. [C] a group of people who travel with an important person: the President's entourage

E

en-trails /'ɛntreɪlz/ n. [plural] the inside parts of a person or animal, especially the BOWELS en-trance¹ /'ɛntrəns/ n. 1 [C] a door, gate, or other opening that you go through to enter a place (ANT) exit: the main entrance to the school | the back/front/side entrance of the hotel 2 [U] the right or opportunity to enter a place: Entrance will be denied to those without tickets. | an entrance fee for the museum | Entrance to the park is free. 3 [U] permission to become a member of or become involved in a profession, a university, etc.: the requirements for college entrance 4 make an entrance to come into a place in a way that makes people notice you en-trance² /'ɛntrəns/ v. [T usually passive] to make someone feel very interested in and pleased with something: We were entranced by the brilliant colors. —entranced adj.: his entranced listeners —entrancing adj.: entrancing stories en-trant /'ɛntrənt/ n. [C] (formal) someone who enters a competition en-trap /ɪn'træp/ v. (entrapped, entrapping) [T] (formal) to trick someone so that s/he is caught doing something illegal —entrapment n. [U] en-treat /ɪn'trit/ v. [T] (formal) to ask someone, with a lot of emotion, to do something —entreaty n. [C,U] en-trée /'ɑntreɪ/ n. [C] the main dish of a meal en-trenched /ɪn'trentʃt/ adj. strongly established and not likely to change: entrenched attitudes en-tre-pre-neur /,ɑntɹəprə'nɜː, -'nɔːr/ n. [C] ECONOMICS someone who starts a company, arranges business deals, and takes risks in order to make a profit —entrepreneurial /,ɑntɹəprə'nɔːriəl/ adj.

en-tro-py /'ɛntɹəpi/ n. [U] 1 PHYSICS a way of measuring or describing the tendency of energy in a MOLECULE to spread out, so that the energy in the molecules around it changes to the same level, if there is nothing to stop them doing so 2 a lack of order in a system, including the idea that the lack of order increases over a period of time en-trust /ɪn'trʌst/ v. [T] to give someone something to be responsible for: Bergen was entrusted with delivering the documents.

en-try /'ɛntri/ n. (plural entries) 1 [C,U] the act of going into a place, or the right or opportunity to enter a place (ANT) exit: The papers granted him entry into the country. | There were no signs of forced entry into the house. | They were refused entry at the border. 2 [U] the right or opportunity to become a member of a group or take part in something, or the fact of doing this: the entry of new firms into the market | America's entry into the war 3 [C] also entryway a door, gate, or passage that you pass through to go into a place 4 [C] something written or printed in a book, list, etc.: a dictionary entry 5 [U] the act of recording information on paper or in a computer: data entry 6 [C] a person or thing that takes part in a competition, race, etc.: the winning entry 7 [U] the act of entering a competition, race, etc.: Entry is open to anyone over 18.

en-twine /ɪn'twaɪn/ v. [T] 1 be entwined if two things or people are entwined, they are closely connected with each other in a complicated way 2 to twist something around something else: flowers entwined in her hair e-nu-mer-ate /ɪ'numə'reɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to name a list of things, one by one

e,nu,merated 'powers n. [plural] POLITICS another name for EXPRESSED POWERS

e-nun-ci-ate /ɪ'nʌnsi,eɪt/ v. (formal) 1 [I,T] to pronounce words or sounds clearly 2 [T] to express ideas or principles clearly and firmly —enunciation /ɪ'nʌnsi'eɪʃən/ n. [C,U] en-vel-op /ɪn'veləp/ v. [T] to cover something completely: The building was enveloped in flames. —enveloping adj.

en-ve-lope /'ɛnvə'ləʊp, 'ɑn-/ n. [C] the paper cover in which you put a letter [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French enveloppe, from Old French vol-oper “to wrap”] en-vi-a-ble /'ɛnviəbəl/ adj. an enviable quality, position, or possession is good and other people would like to have it: an enviable position in the company —enviably adv.

en-vi-ous /'ɛnvɪəs/ adj. wishing that you had someone else's qualities or things (SYN) jealous: Jackie was envious of Sylvia's success. —enviously adv.

en-vi-ron-ment /ɪn'vaɪənmənt/ (Ac) n. 1 the environment EARTH SCIENCES the land, water, and air in which people, animals, and plants live: laws to protect the environment

TOPIC

Things that are harmful to the environment pollution – damage caused to air, water, soil, etc. by harmful chemicals and waste the greenhouse effect – the warming of the air around the Earth as a result of the Sun's heat being trapped by pollution global warming – an increase in world temperatures, caused by pollution in the air acid rain – rain that contains acid chemicals from factory smoke and cars, etc.

deforestation – when all the trees in an area are cut down or destroyed

Describing things that are good for the environment environmentally friendly/eco-friendly – products that are environmentally friendly or eco-friendly are not harmful to the environment recycle – if materials such as glass or paper are recycled, they are put through a special process so that they can be used again biodegradable – a material that is biodegradable can be destroyed by natural processes, in a way that does not harm the environment organic – organic food or organic farming does not use chemicals that are harmful to the environment

2 [C,U] the situations, things, people, etc. that affect the way in which people live and work: a pleasant work environment 3 [C] EARTH SCIENCES the natural features of a place, for example its weather, the types of plants that grow there, etc.: a forest environment | Human activity, such as farming, changes the natural environment. 4 [C] BIOLOGY the physical, chemical, natural, etc. conditions that affect the way a living thing lives or develops: The moths were able to adapt to their new environment. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 environ “to surround” (14–21 centuries), from Old French environer]

en-vi-ron-men-tal /ɪnˌvaɪəˈnˌmɛntl/ (Ac)
adj. 1 relating to or affecting the air, land, or water on Earth: environmental damage caused by oil spills 2 concerning the people and things around you that affect your life, for example the place where you live: Environmental factors, including poor diet and dirty water, were partly responsible for the rapid spread of the disease. —environmentally adv.

en-vi-ron-men-tal-ist /ɪnˌvaɪəˈnˌmɛntl-ɪst/ (Ac)
n. [C] someone who is concerned about protecting the environment en-vi-rons /ɪnˌvaɪəˈnɪz, ɛn-/ n. [plural] (formal) the area surrounding a place en-vi-sion /ɪnˈvɪʒən/ also en-vis-age /ɪnˈvɪzɪdʒ/ v. [T] to imagine something as a future possibility: Eve had envisioned a career as a diplomat.

THESAURUS imagine, visualize, picture, fantasize, daydream → IMAGINE en-voy /ˈɛnvɔɪ, ˈɑn-/ n. [C] someone who is sent to another country as an official representative [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 French envoyé, past participle of envoyer “to send”] en-vy¹ /ˈɛnvi/ n. [U] 1 the feeling of wanting to have the qualities or things that someone else has: She watched the other girls with envy. 2 be the envy of sb to be something that other people admire and want: an education system that is the envy of the world [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French envie, from Latin invidere “to look at with bad feelings”]

envy² v. (envied, envies) [T] to wish you had the qualities or things that someone else has: I really envy you and Meg; you seem so happy together. | I envied John his freedom.

en-zyme /ˈɛnzaim/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a chemical substance that living cells produce in plants and animals, and that causes changes in other chemical substances [ORIGIN: 1800–1900 German enzym, from Greek zyme “substance that makes a flour-and-water mixture swell”]

e-on /ˈiɑn/ n. [C] an extremely long period of time ep-au-let /ˌɛpəˈlɛt, ˈɛpəˌlɛt/ n. [C] a shoulder decoration on a military uniform

e-phem-er-al /ɪˈfɛmərəl/ adj. existing only for a short time [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Greek ephmeros “lasting a day,” from hemera “day”]

THESAURUS short, brief, quick, temporary → SHORT¹

ep-ic¹ /ˈɛpɪk/ adj. 1 full of brave action and excitement: an epic journey 2 very big, long, or impressive: an epic movie epic² n. [C] 1 a book or movie that tells a long story 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS a long poem about what gods or important people did in past times: Hom-er's epic “The Odyssey” ep-i-cen-ter /ˈɛpəˌsɛntə/ n. [C] EARTH SCIENCES the place on the Earth's surface that is above the point where an EARTHQUAKE begins ep-i-dem-ic /ˌɛpəˈdɛmɪk/ n. [C] 1 a large number of cases of a particular infectious disease happening at the same time: a typhoid epidemic 2 something bad that develops and spreads quickly: an epidemic of crime [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 French épidémique, from Greek epidemos “visiting”] —epidemic adj.

ep-i-der-mal cell /ˌɛpədəˈməl ˈsɛl/ n. [C] BIOL-OGY any cell that is part of the epidermis of an animal or plant ep-i-der-mis /ˌɛpəˈdɛrˌmɪs/ n. [C,U] 1 BIOLOGY the outer layer of skin on a person or animal, formed by a layer of cells 2 BIOLOGY the outside surface of a plant, formed by a layer of cells ep-i-glottis /ˌɛpəˈglɒtɪs/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the thin piece of flesh at the back of your throat, that covers part of your throat when you swallow ep-i-gram /ˈɛpəˌgræm/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a short amusing poem or saying that expresses a wise idea ep-i-lep-sy /ˈɛpəˌlɛpsi/ n. [U] a medical condition in the brain that can make someone become unconscious or unable to control his/her movements for a short time ep-i-lep-tic /ˌɛpəˈlɛptɪk/ n. [C] someone who has epilepsy —epileptic adj.

E

ep-i-logue /ˈɛpəlɒg, -lɑg/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a speech or piece of writing added to the end of a book, movie, or play, which usually gives information about what happened after the main action

e-piph-a-ny /ˈɪpɪfəni/ n. 1 (plural epiphanies) [C] a moment of sudden very strong emotions, when someone suddenly understands something important 2 Epiphany a Christian holy day on January 6, that celebrates the visit of the Three Wise Men to the baby Jesus Christ

E-pis-co-pal /ˈɪpɪskəpəl/ adj. relating to the Protestant church in America that developed from the Church of England —Episcopalian /ˈɪpɪskəˈpeliən/ n. [C], adj.

ep-i-sode /ˈɛpəsəʊd/ n. [C] 1 a television or radio program that is one of a series of programs that tell a story: It's my favorite episode of "Lost." 2 an event, or a short time that is different from the time around it: several episodes of depression —episodic /ˌɛpəˈsɒdɪk/ adj.

e-pis-tle /ˈɪpɪsəl/ n. [C] 1 (formal) a long and important letter 2 Epistle one of the letters written by the first Christians, which are in the New Testament of the Bible [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French, Greek epistole “message, letter,” from epistellein “to send to”] e-pis-to-lar-y /ˈɪpɪstəˌləri/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS an epistolary book is written in the form of a series of letters ep-i-taph /ˈɛpəˌtæf/ n. [C] a statement about a dead person, on the stone over his/her grave ep-i-the-li-al tis-sue /ˌɛpəθiliəl ˈtɪʃu/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a material made up of cells that are very close together, which forms a thin protective layer on the inner surfaces of the body and around organs ep-i-thet /ˈɛpəθet/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS an adjective or short phrase used for describing someone

e-pit-o-me /ˈɪpɪtəmi/ n. the epitome of sth the perfect example of something: Hitler is considered the epitome of evil.

e-pit-o-mize /ˈɪpɪtəˌmaɪz/ v. [T] to be the perfect or most typical example of something: Chicago's busy liveliness seemed to epitomize the U.S.

ep-och /ˈɛpək/ n. [C] a period in history during which important events or developments happened

e-equal /ˈɪkwəl/ adj. 1 the same in size, value, amount, etc.: Divide the dough into three equal parts. | Both candidates received an equal number of votes. | Population growth is equal to 2% a year. | two areas of equal size 2 having the same rights, chances, etc. as everyone else: The Constitution says that all people are created equal. | equal partners in the business | equal rights for women | an equal opportunity employer 3 be equal to the task/challenge etc. to have the ability to deal with something successfully 4 on (an) equal footing also on equal terms with neither side having any advantages over the other [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin aequalis, from aequus “level, equal”] equal² v. (equaled or equalled, equaling or equalling) 1 [linking verb] to be the same as something else in size, number, amount, etc.: Four plus four equals eight. 2 [T] to be as good as something or someone else: He has equalled the Olympic record!

equal³ n. [C] someone who is as important, intelligent, etc. as you are, or who has the same rights and opportunities as you do: My boss treats her employees as equals. | Rembrandt was an artist without equal (=no one was as good as he).

e-qual-i-ty /ˈɪkwələti/ n. [U] the state of having the same conditions, opportunities, and rights as everyone else (ANT) inequality: Women haven't achieved equality in the workforce. | equality of opportunity | the struggle for racial equality

e-equal-ize /ˈɪkwəlaɪz/ v. [T] to make two or more things equal in size, value, etc.: The funds given to all schools should be equalized.

e-equal-ly /ˈɪkwəli/ adv. 1 to the same degree or limit: The candidates are equally qualified for the job. 2 in parts that are the same size: We'll divide the work equally.

equal pro-tection n. [U] LAW the principle that the government must treat all people and groups of people in a fair and equal way, as promised in the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution equal sign n. [C] MATH the sign (=), used in mathematics to show that two amounts or numbers are the same

e-qua-nim-i-ty /ˌɪkwəˈnɪməti, ˌɛk-/ n. [U] (formal) calmness in a difficult situation

e-quate /ˈɪkwert/ (Ac) v. [T] (formal) to consider that one thing is the same as something else: Don't equate criticism with blame. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin, from aequare “to make equal”] e-qua-tion /ˈɪkweɪʒən/ (Ac) n. [C] MATH a statement in mathematics showing that two quantities are equal, for example $2 \times 3 + 4 = 10$: Solve the first ten equations for homework. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin, past participle of aequare “to make equal,” from aequus “equal”]

e-qua-tor /ˈɪkweɪtə/ n. the equator an imaginary circle around the Earth, that divides it equally into its northern and southern halves —equatorial /ˌɛkwəˈtɔriəl/ adj. → see picture at GLOBE

e-ques-tri-an /ˈɪkwɛstriən/ adj. relating to horse riding [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin equester “of a horse-rider,” from equus “horse”]

e-qui-an-gu-lar /ˌɪkwɪˈæŋɡyələ, ˌɛk-/ adj. MATH an equiangular TRIANGLE or another shape has angles that are the same size and sides that are the same length: A square is an equiangular polygon.

e-qui-lat-er-al tri-an-gle /'ikwə,lætərəl/ n. [C] MATH a TRIANGLE whose three sides are the same length → see picture at TRIANGLE

e-qui-lib-ri-um /'ikwə'lɪbrɪəm/ n. [U] 1 a balance between opposing forces, influences, etc.: The supply and the demand for money must be kept in equilibrium. 2 a calm emotional state 3 CHEMISTRY a state of balance between the substances in a chemical solution after a chemical reaction

e-qui-nox /'ikwə,nɒks, 'e-/ n. [C] one of the two times each year when day and night are equal in length everywhere

e-quip /'kwi:p/ [Ac] v. (equipped, equipping) [T] 1 to provide a person, group, building, etc. with the things that are needed for a particular purpose: The new school will be equipped with the latest computers. 2 to prepare someone for a particular purpose: The program equips youngsters with technical skills. | a problem we weren't equipped to handle [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 French équiper] —equipped adj.

e-quip-ment /'kwi:pmənt/ [Ac] n. [U] the tools, machines, etc. that you need for a particular activity: camera equipment | new pieces of equipment for the chemistry lab

GRAMMAR

Equipment does not have a plural form. You can say some equipment, any equipment, or pieces of equipment: We need to buy some extra equipment.

eq-ui-ta-ble /'ekwətəbəl/ adj. (formal) fair and equal to everyone involved: an equitable solution

THESAURUS fair, just, reasonable, balanced, even-handed, impartial, unbiased → FAIR¹ eq-ui-ty /'ekwəti/ n. [U] 1 (formal) a situation in which everyone is fairly treated 2 ECONOMICS the value of something you own, such as a house or SHARES, after you have taken away the amount of money you still owe on it

e-quiv-a-lent /'kwɪvələnt/ [Ac] adj. equal in value, purpose, rank, etc. to something or someone else: The atomic bomb has power equivalent to 10,000 tons of dynamite. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French, Late Latin, from aequivalere “to have equal power”] equivalent ² n. [C] something that has the same value, size, etc. as something else: Some French words have no equivalents in English. | He had drunk the equivalent of two bottles of wine.

e,quivalent e,quations n. [plural] MATH two or more EQUATIONS that have the same set of solutions e-quiv-o-cal /'kwɪvəkəl/ adj. 1 deliberately not clear or definite in meaning: an equivocal answer 2 difficult to understand or explain: The results of the test were equivocal.

ER n. [C] an EMERGENCY ROOM

e-ra /'ɪrə, 'erə/ n. [C] 1 a long period of time that begins with a particular date or event: the colonial era 2 EARTH SCIENCES one of the three long periods of time that the history of the Earth is divided into, starting 550 million years ago [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Late Latin aera “number for calculating from,” from Latin, “counters,” plural of aes “copper, money”]

e-rad-i-cate /'rædə,keɪt/ v. [T] to completely destroy something: Smallpox has been eradicated. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin, past participle of eradicare “to pull out by the root,” from radix “root”] —eradication /'rædə'keɪʃən/ n. [U]

e-rase /'reɪs/ v. [T] 1 to completely remove written or recorded information so that it cannot be seen or heard: I erased the answer. | The information had been erased from the hard drive.

THESAURUS remove, rub off, efface, expunge → REMOVE

2 to get rid of something so that it is gone completely: I could not erase the memories from that time. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of eradere, from radere “to rub roughly, scrape”]

e-ras-er /'reɪsə/ n. [C] 1 a piece of rubber used for erasing pencil marks from paper 2 an object used for cleaning marks from a BLACKBOARD

e-rect /'rɛkt/ adj. in a straight upright position: He stood erect.

erect ² v. [T] 1 (formal) to build something: Officials plan to erect a monument in Lindbergh's honor.

THESAURUS build, construct, put up, assemble → BUILD¹

2 to put something in an upright position: The tents for the fair were erected overnight.

e-rec-tion /'rɛkʃən/ n. [C] 1 [C] the swelling of a man's PENIS during sexual excitement 2 [U] the act of building something: the erection of a new church

e-rode /'rəʊd/ [Ac] v. 1 [I,T] to destroy something gradually by the action of wind, rain, or acid, or to be destroyed in this way: The cliffs had been eroded by the ocean. 2 [T] to gradually reduce someone's power, authority, etc.: The government was accused of eroding civil rights.

e-ro-sion /'rəʊʒən/ [Ac] n. [U] 1 EARTH SCIENCES the process by which rock or soil is gradually washed away by wind, rain, or water: soil erosion → see picture on page 340 2 the process of gradually making something weaker: the erosion of society's values

e-rot-ic /'rɒtɪk/ adj. relating to sexual love and desire: erotic pictures —erotically adv. —eroticism /'rɒtəsɪzəm/ n. [U] err /ɛr, ə/ v. [I] 1 err on the side of caution/mercy etc. to be very careful, very kind, etc.

E

rather than risk making mistakes 2 (formal) to make a mistake

er-rand /'erənd/ n. [C] a short trip that you make to take a message or buy something: I have some errands to do downtown. | Could you run an errand for Grandma?

er-rant /'erənt/ adj. (formal) 1 behaving badly: an errant husband 2 going in the wrong direction: A member of the other team caught the errant pass.

er-rat-ic /'rætɪk/ adj. changing often or moving in an irregular way, without any reason: erratic behavior —erratically adv.

er-ro-ne-ous /'rəʊniəs/ (Ac) adj. (formal) not correct: erroneous statements | The information we were given was erroneous. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin erroneus, from errare “to wander”] —erroneously adv.

THESAURUS wrong, incorrect, inaccurate, misleading, false, fallacious → WRONG¹

er-ror /'erə/ (Ac) n. [C,U] a mistake: They had made several errors. | an accident caused by human error (=by a person rather than a machine) | The company admitted it was in error (=had made a mistake). | Kovitz apologized yesterday for his error in/of judgment (=a decision that was a mistake). [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French errour, from Latin error, from errare]

er-u-dite /'eryə,dart, 'erə-/ adj. (formal) showing a lot of knowledge —erudition /'eryə'dɪʃən/ n. [U]

e-rupt /'ɪrʌpt/ v. [I] 1 to happen suddenly: A bloody civil war erupted in Iran. 2 EARTH SCIENCES if a VOLCANO erupts, it sends out smoke, fire, and rock into the sky 3 if a place erupts, the people there suddenly become very angry or excited: The crowd erupted into applause. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin, past participle of erumpere “to burst out”] —eruption /'ɪrʌpʃən/ n. [C,U]: a volcanic eruption es-ca-late /'eskə,leɪt/ v. 1 [I,T] if violence or a war escalates, or if someone escalates it, it becomes much worse: Fighting has escalated in several areas. | a dispute which has escalated into violence 2 [I] to become higher or increase: Housing prices escalated recently. —escalation /'eskə'leɪʃən/ n. [C,U] es-ca-la-tor /'eskə,leɪtə/ n. [C] a set of stairs that move and carry people from one level of a building to another es-ca-pade /'eskə,peɪd/ n. [C] an exciting adventure or series of events that may be dangerous

es-cape¹ /'skeɪp/ v. 1 [I,T] to succeed in going away from a place where you do not want to be, or from a dangerous situation: He escaped from a maximum security prison. | The girl climbed through a window to escape the fire.

THESAURUS

get away – to escape from someone who is chasing you: In the dream, a man with a knife is chasing me, and I can't get away.

flee – to leave somewhere very quickly in order to escape from danger: The refugees were forced to flee their country.

get out – to escape from a place: Is the window locked? Maybe we can get out that way.

break out – to escape from prison: Several inmates have broken out of the state penitentiary.

break free/break away – to escape from someone who is trying to hold you: She broke free and started running.

abscond (formal) – to leave a place without permission or after stealing something: Two employees allegedly absconded with the money.

2 [I,T] to avoid something bad: The two boys managed to escape punishment. | The driver narrowly escaped death. | She escaped with minor injuries (=she avoided being seriously hurt). 3 [I] if gas, liquid, light, etc. escapes from somewhere, it comes out 4 escape sb's notice/attention to not notice something —escaped adj.: escaped prisoners

escape² n. 1 [C,U] the act of escaping: There was no chance of escape. | He crouched down, ready to make his escape. | Passengers talked about their escape from the wreckage. 2 [U] a way to forget about an unpleasant situation: Books are a good form of escape.

es-cap-ism /'ɪskeɪp,ɪzəm/ n. [U] a way of forgetting about an unpleasant situation and thinking of pleasant things: the escapism that the movies provide for us —escapist adj.

es-chew /es'tʃu/ v. [T] (formal) to deliberately avoid doing, using, or having something es-cort¹ /'ɪskɔrt, 'eskɔrt/ v. [T] 1 to go somewhere with someone, especially in order to protect him/her: Armed guards escorted the prisoners. | I escorted her to the door.

THESAURUS lead, guide, show, usher → LEAD¹

2 to go with someone of the opposite sex to a social event: The princess was escorted by her cousin.

es-cort² /'eskɔrt/ n. [C] the person or people who escort someone: The governor arrived at the Convention Center with a police escort. | *The prisoners were transported under escort (=with an escort).

Es-ki-mo /'eskə,mou/ n. (plural Eskimos) [C] an Inuit. Some people now consider this word offensive.

ESL n. [U] English as a Second Language the teaching of English to people whose first language is not English, but who are living in an English-speaking country

e-soph-a-gus /ɪ'sɒfəgəs/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the tube that goes from the mouth to the stomach [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Greek oisophagos, from oisein “to be going to carry” + phagein “to eat”] → see picture at LUNG es-o-ter-ic /,ɛsə'terɪk/ adj. known and understood only by a few people

ESP n. [U] extrasensory perception the ability to know what another person is thinking

es-pe-cial-ly /ɪ'speʃəli/ adv. 1 used in order to emphasize that something is more important than other things, or that it happens more with one thing than with others: Everyone's excited, especially Doug. | There may be feelings of dizziness, especially when walking or turning. 2 to a particularly high degree, or more than usual: The bread tasted especially good. 3 for a particular purpose, reason, etc. → SPECIALLY: Several songs were recorded especially for the new collection.

es-pi-o-nage /'ɛspi,ɒnɜː/ n. [U] the activity of finding out secret information and giving it to a country's enemies or a company's competitors

ESPN n. a CABLE television company that broadcasts sports programs in the U.S.

es-pouse /ɛ'spaʊz, ɪ-/ v. [T] (formal) to believe in and support an idea, especially a political one: The school board has espoused the new anti-drug policies.

es-pres-so /ɛ'spresou/ n. (plural espressos) [C,U] very strong coffee that you drink in small cups [ORIGIN: 1900–2000 Italian caffè espresso “pressed-out coffee”] es-say /'eseɪ/ n. [C] a short piece of writing about a particular subject, especially as part of a course of study: an essay on/about race relations [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Old French essai, from Late Latin exagium “act of weighing”] composition – an essay that you write as part of your school work: We had to write a composition about one of our hobbies.

THESAURUS

paper – a piece of writing that is done as part of a course at school or university: She's writing a paper on the Civil War.

assignment – something that a teacher asks a student to do for homework: For our assignment, we had to interview people about their eating habits.

thesis – a long piece of writing that is part of an advanced university degree, for example an M.A.:

I wrote my thesis on the poems of Sylvia Plath.

dissertation – a long piece of writing that you write for a Ph.D.: He is currently working on his dissertation for his Ph.D. in Social Policy.

es-sence /'ɛsəns/ n. 1 [singular] the most basic and important quality of something: Using scents to create a sense of well-being is the essence of aromatherapy. | In essence (=basically), these novels are all love stories. 2 [U] a liquid that has a strong smell or taste and is obtained from a plant, flower, etc.: vanilla essence [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 French, Latin essentia, from esse “to be”] es-sen-tial /ɪ'sɛnʃəl/ adj. 1 important and necessary: an essential element in the peace process | Good food is essential for/to your health.

THESAURUS

important, of great/considerable importance, crucial, vital, major, key, paramount, significant, salient → IMPORTANT necessary, mandatory, compulsory, requisite, indispensable → NECESSARY

2 the essential parts, qualities, or features of something are the ones that are most important, typical, or easily noticed: the essential difference between Democrats and Republicans

THESAURUS

basic, fundamental, elementary, central, underlying → BASIC

essential² n. [C usually plural] something that is important and necessary: Elections are one of the essentials of democracy. | *I packed only the bare essentials (=the most necessary things).

es-sen-tial-ly /ɪ'sɛnʃəli/ adv. relating to the most important or basic qualities of something: He is paid less for doing essentially the same job.

es-tab-lish /ɪ'stæblɪʃ/ [Ac] v. [T] 1 to start something such as a company, system, situation, etc., especially one that will exist for a long time: The school was established in 1922. 2 to begin a relationship, conversation, etc. with someone: In the 1980s, the two countries began to establish trade relations. 3 to make people accept that you can do something, or that you have a particular quality: He's established himself as the most powerful man in the state. 4 to find out facts that will prove that something is true: Several studies have established that good daycare does children no harm. | The blood test will establish whether the treatment has been successful. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French establi, from Latin stabilire “to make firm”]

THESAURUS

demonstrate, show, indicate, suggest, prove, substantiate → DEMONSTRATE es-tab-lish-ment /ɪ'stæblɪʃmənt/ [Ac] n. 1 [C] (formal) an institution, especially a business, store, hotel, etc.: an educational establishment (=a school or college) 2 the Establishment the organizations and people in a society who have a lot of power and who often are opposed to change or new ideas: the political/medical/military Establishment 3 [U] the act of starting something such as a company, organization, system, etc.: The case resulted in the establishment of new laws to protect children.

E

es-tate /ɪ'steɪt/ (Ac) n. 1 [singular] LAW all of someone's property and money, especially everything that is left after s/he dies: The house is part of his dead father's estate. 2 [C] a large area of land in the country, usually with one large house on it → REAL ESTATE es-teem¹ /ɪ'stim/ n. [U] (formal) a feeling of respect and admiration for someone: She was held in high esteem by everyone on the team. → SELF-ESTEEM esteem² v. [T] (formal) to respect and admire someone: a highly esteemed (=greatly respected) artist es-thet-ic /ɛs'θetɪk/ adj. relating to beauty and the study of beauty —esthetically adv.

es-thet-ics /ɛs'θetɪks/ n. [U] the study of beauty, especially beauty in art

es-ti-mate¹ /'estə,meɪt/ (Ac) v. [T] to judge the value, size, etc. of something: We estimate that 75% of our customers are men. | Organizers estimated the crowd at 50,000 people. | The tree is estimated to be at least 700 years old. —estimated adj.: The bridge was built at an estimated cost of $2 billion.

es-ti-mate² /'estə,meɪt/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 a calculation or judgment of the value, size, etc. of something: a rough estimate (=a calculation that is not very exact) of the distance | The figure is three times higher than previous estimates. 2 a statement of how much it will probably cost to build or repair something: Try to get three estimates.

es-ti-ma-tion /,estə'meɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [U] a judgment or opinion about someone or something: In his estimation, they had greatly improved.

es-tranged /ɪ'streɪndʒd/ adj. 1 no longer living with your husband or wife 2 no longer having any relationship with a relative or friend: Molly is estranged from her son. —estrangement n. [C,U] (formal) es-tro-gen /'estrədʒən/ n. [U] BIOLOGY a HORMONE (=chemical substance) that is produced by a woman's body es-tu-ar-y /'estʃu,eri/ n. (plural estuaries) [C] EARTH SCIENCES the wide part of a river where it goes into the ocean → see picture at DELTA

ETA n. [U] estimated time of arrival the time when an airplane, train, etc. is expected to arrive

e-tail-er /'i,teɪlə/ n. [C] electronic retailer a business that sells products or services on the Internet et al. /,et 'al, -'æl/ adv. (formal) used after a list of names to mean that other people, who are not named, are also involved in something

etc. /et 'setrə, -tərə/ adv. the written abbreviation of ET CETERA — used after a list to show that there are many other similar things or people that could be added et cet-er-a /et 'setrə, -tərə/ adv. (formal) the full form of ETC.

etch /etʃ/ v. [I,T] to cut lines on a metal plate, piece of glass, stone, etc. to form a picture

e-ter-nal /ɪ'tənl/ adj. continuing for ever: eternal life —eternally adv.

e-ter-ni-ty /ɪ'tənəti/ n. 1 an eternity a period of time that seems long because you are annoyed, anxious, etc.: We waited for what seemed like an eternity. 2 [U] time without any end, especially the time after death that some people believe continues for ever

e-ther /'iθə/ n. [U] 1 a clear liquid, used in past times to make people sleep during a medical operation 2 the air, considered as the place where computer information is

e-the-re-al /ɪ'thəriəl/ adj. very delicate and light, in a way that does not seem real eth-ic /'eθɪk/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] an idea or belief that influences people's behavior and attitudes: an ethic of fairness | the Puritan work ethic 2 ethics [plural] moral rules or principles of behavior for deciding what is right and wrong: medical ethics

eth-i-cal /'eθɪkəl/ (Ac) adj. 1 relating to principles of what is right and wrong: The use of animals in scientific tests raises difficult ethical questions. 2 morally good and correct: Is it ethical to use drugs to control behavior? —ethically adv.

eth-nic /'eθnɪk/ (Ac) adj. relating to a particular race, nation, tribe, etc.: Bosnia's three main ethnic groups | The students are from a wide variety of ethnic backgrounds. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Late Latin ethnicus, from Greek ethnos “nation, people”] ethnic cleansing n. [U] the use of violence in order to force people to leave an area because of their ethnic group ethnic 'group n. [C] SOCIAL SCIENCE a group of people who share the same CULTURE, race, NATIONALITY, religion, or language

THESAURUS race, nation, people, tribe → RACE¹ eth-nic-i-ty /eθ'nɪsəti/ (Ac) n. (plural ethnicities) [C,U] the race or national group that someone belongs to ethnic mi'nority n. [C] a group of people from a different ethnic group than the main group in a country

e-thos /'iθəs/ n. [singular] the set of ideas and moral attitudes belonging to a person or group [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 Greek “custom, character”]

e-tick-et /'i,tɪkɪt/ n. [C] electronic ticket a ticket, especially for an airplane, that is stored in a computer and is not given to the customer in paper form et-i-quette /'etɪkɪt/ n. [U] the formal rules for polite behavior in society or in a particular group et-y-mol-o-gy /,etə'mələdʒi/ n. (plural etymologies) [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the study of the origins, history, and meanings of words, or a description of the origins of a particular word [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin etymologia, from Greek, from etymon “original meaning,” from etymos “true” + -logia “study”] —etymological /,etəmə'lɒdʒɪkəl/ adj.

THESAURUS origin, source, root → ORIGIN

EU n. the EU the EUROPEAN UNION

Eu-cha-rist /'yukərɪst/ n. the Eucharist the bread and wine that represent Christ's body and blood, used during a Christian ceremony, or the ceremony itself eu-kar-y-a /yu'kəriə/ n. [plural] BIOLOGY one of the classes into which scientists group animals, plants, and other living creatures whose cells have a NUCLEUS eu-kar-y-ote /yu'kəri,ɒt/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a living creature with a cell or cells that have its GENETIC material in a NUCLEUS —eukaryotic /yu,kəri'atɪk/ adj.

eu-lo-gy /'yulədʒi/ n. (plural eulogies) [C,U] (formal) a speech or piece of writing that praises someone or something very much, especially at a funeral eu-phe-mism /'yufə,mɪzəm/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a polite word or expression that you use instead of a more direct one, in order to avoid shocking or upsetting someone [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Greek euphemismos, from euphemos “sounding good,” from pheme “speech”] —euphemistic /,yufə'mɪstɪk/ adj. —euphemistically adv.

eu-pho-ri-a /yu'fɔəriə/ n. [U] a feeling of extreme happiness and excitement eu-phor-ic /yu'fɔrɪk/ adj. feeling very happy and excited: After the game, the team was euphoric. —euphorically adv.

eu-ro /'yurɒs/ n. (plural euros) [C] a unit of money that is used in most countries belonging to the European Union

Eu-ro-pe /'yurəp/ n. one of the seven CONTINENTS that includes land north of the Mediterranean Sea and west of the Ural mountains

Eu-ro-pe-an /,yurə'piən/ adj. relating to or coming from Europe

European ² n. [C] someone from Europe

European 'Union n. a European political and economic organization eu-tha-na-sia /,yuθə'neiʒə/ n. [U] the act of killing in a painless way someone who is very sick, in order to stop him/her suffering [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Greek “easy death,” from thanatos “death”] —euthanize /'yuθə,naɪz/ v. [T] e-vac-u-ate /'vækju,ert/ v. [I,T] to move people from a dangerous place to a safe place: The police evacuated the building. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin, past participle of evacuare, from vacuus “empty”] —evacuation /'vækju'eɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

e-vac-u-ee /'vækju'i/ n. [C] someone who has been evacuated

e-vade /'væɪd/ v. [T] 1 to avoid doing something you should do, or avoid talking about something → EVASION: Briggs evaded the issue. 2 to avoid being caught by someone who is trying to catch you: So far, he has evaded capture.

e-val-u-ate /'vælyu,ert/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 (formal) to judge how good, useful, or successful someone or something is: a chance for students to evaluate teachers | Scientists are evaluating the results of the drug trials.

THESAURUS judge, assess, appraise, gauge → JUDGE²

2 MATH to calculate the value of a mathematical EXPRESSION

e-val-u-a-tion /'vælyu'eɪʃən/ (Ac) n. [C,U] the act of judging something or someone, or a document in which this is done: an evaluation of new surgical techniques | The child was sent for a psychological evaluation. [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 French évaluation, from évaluer “to evaluate,” from value “value”]

e,valuative 'question n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a question that asks someone to give his/her opinion or make a judgment about something, based on something s/he has read → INFERENTIAL QUESTION, LITERAL QUESTION

ev-a-nes-cent /,ɛvə'nesənt/ adj. (literary) something that is evanescent disappears quickly

e-van-gel-i-cal /,ɪvən'dʒelɪkəl, 'ɛvən-/ adj. SOCIAL SCIENCE evangelical Christians and beliefs emphasize a personal relationship with God, the importance of the Bible, and the importance of telling others about these ideas

e-van-ge-list /'vændʒəlɪst/ n. [C] someone who travels from place to place in order to try to persuade people to become Christians [ORIGIN: 1100—1200 Old French evangeliste, from Greek euangelion “good news, gospel”] —evangelism n. [U] —evangelistic /'vændʒə'lɪstɪk/ adj.

e-vap-o-rate /'væpə,reit/ v. 1 [I,T] CHEMISTRY if a liquid evaporates, or if something evaporates it, it changes into a gas 2 [I] to slowly disappear: Support for the idea has evaporated.

e-vap-o-ra-tion /'væpə'reɪʃən/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY the process by which a liquid changes into a gas, for example into a VAPOR such as steam → CONDENSATION → see picture at WATER CYCLE

E

e·va·sion /ɪ'veɪʒən/ n. [C,U] 1 the act of avoiding doing something you should do: tax evasion 2 the act of deliberately avoiding talking about something or dealing with something: a speech full of lies and evasions

e·va·sive /ɪ'veɪsɪv/ adj. 1 not willing to answer questions directly: an evasive answer 2 evasive action an action someone does to avoid being injured or harmed —evasively adv.

eve /iv/ n. 1 [C usually singular] the night or day before a religious day or a holiday: a party on New Year's Eve 2 the eve of sth the time just before an important event: the eve of the election

e·ven¹ /'ivən/ adv. 1 used in order to emphasize that something is surprising or unexpected: Even with the light on, it was hard to see. | Carrie doesn't even like cookies! 2 used in order to make a comparison stronger: That just made me feel even worse. | an even bigger house 3 even if used in order to show that what you have just said will not change for any reason: If you ask a question, you'll get an answer, even if it's "I don't know." 4 even though used in order to emphasize that although one thing happens or is true, something else also happens or is true: He still remembers it, even though it happened more than 20 years ago. 5 even so used in order to say that something is true, although it is different from something you have just said: I knew he wasn't coming, but even so, I waited a few minutes more.

even² adj. 1 flat, level, or smooth: You need a flat, even surface to work on.

THESAURUS flat, level, smooth, horizontal → FLAT¹

2 an even rate, temperature, etc. does not change much: Store the chemicals at an even temperature. 3 separated or divided by equal amounts, spaces, etc.: his even white teeth | an even distribution of wealth 4 be even (informal) to no longer owe someone money: If you give me $5, we'll be even. 5 an even number can be divided by 2 (ANT) odd 6 get even (with sb) (informal) to do something bad to someone to punish him/her for something s/he did to you → break even at BREAK¹ —evenness n. [U]

even³ v.

even (sth ↔) out phr. v. to become equal or level, or to make something do this: If I give you two, that'll even things out. | Over the year, the rise and fall in share prices has tended to even out.

even (sth ↔) up phr. v. to become equal or the same, or to make something do this: O'Malley hit a home run to even up the score.

even-handed adj. giving fair and equal treatment to everyone

THESAURUS fair, just, reasonable, equitable, balanced, impartial, unbiased → FAIR¹ eve·ning /'ivnɪŋ/ n. 1 [C,U] the end of the day and the early part of the night: Are you doing anything tomorrow evening? | I have a class on Thursday evenings. | She does her homework in the evening. 2 (Good) Evening (spoken) said in order to greet someone when you meet him/her in the evening: Evening, Rick. [ORIGIN: Old English æfnung, from æfen "evening"]

'evening gown also 'evening dress n. [C] a dress worn by women for formal occasions in the evening

e·ven·ly /'ivənli/ adv. 1 covering or affecting all parts of something equally: Spread the paint evenly over the surface. | Make sure the weight is evenly distributed. 2 divided in an equal way: We split the money evenly. 3 in a steady or regular way: She was breathing evenly. | evenly spaced rows of young trees

e·vent /ɪ'vent/ n. [C] 1 something that happens, especially something important, interesting, or unusual: a novel based on a historical event | the sequence of events leading up to the war

THESAURUS

occurrence — something that happens: a common occurrence incident — something unusual, serious, or violent that happens: an upsetting incident affair — an event or set of related events, especially unpleasant ones: the Watergate affair during Nixon's presidency happening — something that happens, especially a strange event: There have been reports of strange happenings in the town.

occasion — an important event or ceremony: We're saving the champagne for a special occasion.

phenomenon — something that happens or exists in society, science, or nature that is unusual or difficult to understand: Homelessness is not a new phenomenon.

2 a performance, sports competition, party, etc. that has been arranged for a particular date and time: It was the social event of the summer. | Security is tight for large sporting events. 3 one of the races or competitions that are part of a large sports competition: "Which event are you entered in?" "The long jump." 4 in any event whatever happens or whatever the situation: I'm planning to retire at the end of the year in any event. 5 in the event of rain/fire/an accident etc. used in order to tell people what they should do or what will happen if something else happens: Britain agreed to support the U.S. in the event of war. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin eventus, from the past participle of evenire "to happen"]

e·vent·ful /ɪ'vent'fʊl/ adj. full of interesting or important events: an eventful meeting

e·ven·tu·al /ɪ'ventʃʊəl/ (Ac) adj. happening at the end of a process: In the quarterfinals, the University of Kansas lost to the eventual winners of the tournament. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French éventuel, from Latin eventus “what happens in the end”]

e-ven-tu-al-i-ty /ɪˈvɛntʃuˈæləti/ (Ac) n. (plural eventualities) [C] (formal) a possible event or result, especially an unpleasant one: Fire crews have to be prepared for all possible eventualities.

e-ven-tual-ly /ɪˈvɛntʃəli, -tʃuəli/ (Ac) adv. after a long time: He eventually became one of the top salesmen. | Eventually, the pressure became too great and the volcano erupted.

ev-er /ˈɛvə/ adv. 1 at any time – used mostly in questions, negatives, comparisons, or sentences with “if”: Nothing ever makes Paula angry. | Have you ever eaten snails? | If you’re ever in Wilmington, give us a call. | That was one of the best meals I’ve ever had. | I hardly ever (=almost never) watch TV. 2 ever since continuously since: He moved to Seattle after college and has lived there ever since. 3 as good/much/long etc. as ever as good, much, etc. as always or as usual: The food was as good as ever. 4 better/higher/more etc. than ever even better, higher, etc. than before: People are having to work harder than ever just to pay the rent. 5 ever-growing/ever-increasing etc. continuously becoming bigger, etc.: the ever-growing population problem

GRAMMAR

You use ever when you ask a question, but not when you answer a question: “Have you ever eaten sushi?” “Yes, I have.”

ev-er-green /ˈɛvəˌɡrɪn/ adj. evergreen trees have leaves that do not fall off in winter → DECIDUOUS —evergreen n. [C] ev-er-last-ing /ˌɛvəˈlæstɪŋ/ adj. continuing for ever: everlasting peace

ev-ery /ˈɛvri/ determiner 1 each one of a group of people or things: Every student will receive a certificate. | He told Jan every single thing (=all the things) I said. | If you play this hard every time (=on each occasion), you’ll win every game. 2 used in order to show how often something happens: We get the newspaper every day. | Change the oil in the car every 5,000 miles. | He came to see us every other day (=every two days). | I still see her every now and then/every so often (=sometimes but not often). 3 one in every 100/3 in every 5 etc. used in order to show how often something affects a particular group of people or things: One in every three couples live together without being married. 4 every which way (informal) in every direction: People were running every which way. [ORIGIN: Old English æfre ælc “ever each”]

GRAMMAR

every, every one, everyone

These are all followed by a singular verb: Almost every house has a computer nowadays. | She checked the weight of each bag, and found that every one was different. | Everyone wants to be famous.

Every one is used to emphasize that you mean each person or thing in a group: I’ve read every one of his books.

Everyone means all the people in a group: I want to thank everyone for their help. → ALL¹ ev-ery-bod-y /ˈɛvriˌbɒdi, -bɑdi/ pron. everyone

ev-ery-day /ˈɛvriˌdeɪ/ adj. ordinary, usual, or happening every day: Stress is just part of everyday life.

ev-ery-one /ˈɛvriˌwʌn/ also everybody pron. 1 every person involved in a particular activity or in a particular place: Is everyone ready to go? | They gave a small prize to everyone who played. | Where is everybody (=where are the people that are usually here)? | I was still awake but everybody else (=all the other people) had gone to bed. | Everyone but (=all the people except) Lisa went home.

USAGE

Use everyone to mean all the people in a group: Everyone has passed the test.

Use every one to mean each single person or thing in a group: Every one of the songs was really good.

2 all people in general: Everyone has a bad day now and then.

ev-ery-place /ˈɛvriˌpleɪs/ adv. (spoken) everywhere

THESAURUS

everywhere, all over sth, throughout sth, worldwide, nationwide → EVERYWHERE

ev-ery-thing /ˈɛvriˌθɪŋ/ pron. 1 each thing or all things → NOTHING: I think everything is ready. | I’ve forgotten everything I learned about math in school. | There’s only bread left. They’ve eaten everything else (=all other things). 2 used when you are talking in general about your life or about a situation → NOTHING: Everything was going wrong. 3 be/mean everything to be the thing that matters most: Money isn’t everything. 4 and everything (spoken) and a lot of similar things: She’s at the hospital having tests and everything.

ev-ery-where /ˈɛvriˌwɛr/ adv. in or to every place → NOWHERE: I’ve looked everywhere for my keys. | People here are the same as people everywhere else.

THESAURUS

all over sth – everywhere on a surface or in a place: Jack’s clothes were all over the floor.

throughout sth – in every part of a place: The incident shocked Americans throughout the country.

worldwide – everywhere in the world: He has fans worldwide.

nationwide – everywhere in a particular nation: The company has over 350 stores nationwide.

everyplace (spoken) – everywhere: There you are. I’ve been looking for you everyplace.

e-vict /ɪˈvɪkt/ v. [T] to legally force someone to leave the house s/he is renting from you: Frank was evicted from his apartment four months ago.
—eviction /ɪˈvɪkʃən/ n. [C,U]

ev-i-dence /ˈevədəns/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] facts, objects, or signs that show that something exists or is true: The police have evidence that the killer was a woman. | scientists looking for evidence of life on other planets | I had to give evidence (=tell the facts) in my brother's trial. | The strongest evidence for the theory comes from ongoing studies of bacteria. | There was very little evidence against him. | medical/scientific evidence → COURT¹ 2 be in evidence (formal) to be easily seen or noticed: The police were very much in evidence at the march.

GRAMMAR

E Evidence does not have a plural form. You can say some evidence, any evidence, or pieces of evidence: There is some evidence that foods rich in vitamin C can give protection against cancer.

ev-i-dent /ˈevədənt/ (Ac) adj. easily noticed or understood: It was clearly evident that she was unhappy. | John's ability is evident in his grades. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 French, Latin evidens, from e- “out” + the present participle of videre “to see”] —evidently adv.

THESAURUS noticeable, clear, obvious, apparent, conspicuous, unmistakable, manifest → NOTICEABLE

e-vil /ˈiːvəl/ adj. 1 deliberately cruel or harmful: an evil dictator 2 morally wrong: Slavery was evil.

THESAURUS bad, wicked, immoral, wrong, depraved, reprehensible → BAD¹

3 relating to the Devil: evil spirits [ORIGIN: Old English yfel] evil² n. 1 [U] actions and behavior that are morally wrong and cruel: the battle between good and evil 2 [C] something that is very bad or harmful: the evils of alcohol

e-vince /ɪˈvɪns/ v. [T] (formal) to show a feeling or quality very clearly in what you do or say: She had evinced her belief in my innocence.

e-voc-a-tive /ɪˈvʌkətɪv/ adj. making people remember something by reminding them of a feeling or memory: the evocative smell of bread baking in the oven

e-voke /ɪˈvʊk/ v. [T] to produce a strong feeling or memory in someone: Hitchcock's movies can evoke a sense of terror. —evocation /ˌevəˈkeɪʃən, ˈɪvʊ-/ n. [C,U]

ev-o-lu-tion /ˌevəˈluʃən/ (Ac) n. [U] 1 BIOLOGY the scientific idea that plants and animals develop gradually from simpler to more complicated forms: the evolution of mammals | The process of biological evolution continues over millions of years. 2 the gradual change and development of an idea, situation, or object: the evolution of the home computer —evolutionary adj.: evolutionary change evolutionary classification n. [U] BIOLOGY a scientific system of putting living things into particular groups or classes, according to the way they evolved

e-volve /ɪˈvʊlv/ (Ac) v. 1 [I] to develop and change gradually over a long period of time: Did man evolve from apes? | Their relationship evolved into a strong friendship. 2 [T] to develop something gradually: In America, we have evolved legal structures to protect people's rights.

ewe /yu/ n. [C] a female sheep ex /ɛks/ n. [C usually singular] (informal) someone's former wife, husband, GIRLFRIEND, or BOYFRIEND ex-ac-er-bate /ɪgˈzæsəˌbeɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to make a bad situation worse: Higher taxes exacerbated the problem. [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin, past participle of exacerbare, from acerbus “bitter”] —exacerbation /ɪgˈzæsəˌbeɪʃən/ n. [U]

ex-act¹ /ɪgˈzækt/ adj. 1 correct and including all the necessary details: The exact time is 2:47. | What were her exact words? | It has been nine months, to be exact. 2 the exact opposite someone or something that is as different as possible from another person or thing: Unfortunately, today the exact opposite is true.

exact² v. [T] (formal) 1 to punish someone or have a bad effect on him/her: What is the penalty exacted for breaking the rules? 2 to demand and get something from someone by using threats, force, etc.

ex-act-ing /ɪgˈzæktɪŋ/ adj. demanding a lot of care, effort, and attention: an exacting piece of work

ex-act-ly /ɪgˈzæktli/ adv. 1 used in order to emphasize that a particular number, amount, or piece of information is completely correct: We got home at exactly six o'clock. | You're exactly right. | I don't know exactly where she lives. | What exactly did she say?

SPOKEN PHRASES

2 said in order to emphasize that something is the same in every way: That's exactly what I've been trying to tell you! | She's exactly like her mother. | The changes have had exactly the opposite effect from what was intended. 3 said when you agree with what someone is saying: “So we should spend more on education?” “Exactly!” 4 not exactly a) used as a reply to show that what someone has said is not completely correct or true: “He told you?” “Not exactly. I heard him talking to Sarah.” b) used in order to show that you mean the opposite: The report isn't exactly beach reading.

ex-ag-ger-ate /ɪgˈzædʒəˌreɪt/ v. [I,T] to make something seem better, larger, worse, etc. than it really is: The danger should not be exaggerated.

[ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of exaggerare “to make into a pile”] —exaggerated adj. —exaggeration
 /ɪg,zædʒə'reɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

THESAURUS emphasize, stress, highlight, underline, accentuate, underscore → EMPHASIZE

ex-alt /ɪg'zɔlt/ v. [T] (formal) to praise someone ex-al-ta-tion /ˌɛgzəl'teɪʃən, ˌɛksəl-/ n. [C,U] (formal) a very strong feeling of happiness ex-alt-ed /ɪg'zɔltɪd/ adj. (formal) 1 having a very high rank, and highly respected 2 filled with a feeling of great happiness

ex-am /ɪg'zæm/ n. [C] 1 an official test of knowledge or ability in a particular subject: a chemistry exam | When do you take your final exams? | How did you do on the exam? 2 a set of medical tests: an eye exam

ex-am-i-na-tion /ɪg,zæmə'neɪʃən/ n. [C] 1 the process of looking at something carefully in order to see what it is like or find out something: a detailed examination of the photographs | On closer examination, the vases were seen to be cracked. 2 (formal) an EXAM

ex-am-ine

/ɪg'zæmɪn/ v. [T] 1 to look at something carefully in order to make a decision, find out something, etc.: The doctor examined me thoroughly. | The study examines how alcohol abuse affects family relationships. | The police examined the room for fingerprints.

THESAURUS

inspect – to examine something to make sure that it is correct, safe, etc., especially when it is your job to do this: The building is regularly inspected by a fire safety officer.

go through/go over – to examine something thoroughly from beginning to end, especially in order to check that it is correct: You should ask your lawyer to go through the contract before you sign it.

analyze – to carefully examine information, reports, the results of tests, etc., in order to understand something better: When they analyzed the data, they found some surprising results.

scrutinize – to examine something very closely and carefully in order to find out whether there is anything wrong: Each part of the piano is carefully scrutinized, adjusted, and then tested again.

2 (formal) to ask someone questions to get information or to test his/her knowledge about something: You will be examined on everything covered this semester. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French examiner, from Latin examinare, from examen “weighing out”] —examiner n. [C] ex-am-ple /ɪg'zæmpəl/ n. [C] 1 someone or something that you mention to show what you mean, show that something is true, or show what something is like: an example of students' writing | These chairs are a good/typical/classic example of Shaker furniture. | Can anyone give me an example of a transitive verb? | Many countries, for example (=as an example) Mexico and Japan, have a lot of earthquakes.

THESAURUS

case – an example of something that happens, especially something bad: There have been a number of cases in which people have lost all their money.

instance – an example of a particular kind of situation or event, especially one that does not happen very often: I can't think of a single instance in which anyone has been hurt.

2 someone whose behavior is very good and should be copied by other people: Parents should set an example for their children (=behave in the way they want their children to behave). | She's an example to us all. 3 make an example of sb to punish someone so that other people are afraid to do the same thing [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin exemplum, from eximere “to take out”] ex-as-per-ate /ɪg'zæspə'reɪt/ v. [T] to make someone feel very annoyed by continuing to do something that upsets him/her: His refusal to agree has exasperated his lawyers. —exasperating adj. —exasperation /ɪg,zæspə'reɪʃən/ n. [U]

ex-as-pe-rat-ed /ɪg'zæspə'reɪtɪd/ adj. feeling annoyed because someone is continuing to do something that upsets you ex-ca-vate /'ɛkskə'veɪt/ v. [I,T] 1 to dig a hole in the ground 2 to dig up the ground in order to find something that was buried there in an earlier time: Archaeologists are excavating an ancient city. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin, past participle of excavare, from cavus “hollow”] —excavation /ˌɛkskə'veɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

ex-ceed /ɪk'siːd/ (Ac) v. [T] (formal) 1 to be more than a particular number or amount: The cost must not exceed $150. | Sales have exceeded our expectations. 2 to go beyond an official or legal limit: She received a fine for exceeding the speed limit.

ex-ceed-ing-ly /ɪk'siːdɪŋli/ adv. (formal) extremely: The show has done exceedingly well.

ex-cel /ɪk'sɛl/ v. (excelled, excelling) [I] (formal) to do something very well, or much better than most people: He had excelled in volleyball and track. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin excellere, from ex “out of” + -cellere “to rise, stick up”] ex-cel-lence /'ɛksələns/ n. [U] the quality of being excellent: an honor given for academic excellence

ex-cel-lent /'ɛksələnt/ adj. 1 extremely good or of very high quality: Jim's in excellent health. | The food was excellent.

THESAURUS good, great, wonderful, fantastic, outstanding, exceptional, superb, first-class, ace → GOOD¹

2 (spoken) said when you approve of something: "There's a party at Becky's house tonight." "Excellent!" —excellently adv.

ex-cept¹ /ɪk'sept/ prep. used in order to show the things or people who are not included in a statement: We're open every day except Monday. | Everyone went to the show, except for Scott and Danny. | I don't know anything about it, except what I've read in the newspaper.

except² conjunction used in order to show that the statement you have just made is not true or not completely true: It is like all the other houses, except that it's painted bright blue. | I have earrings just like those, except they're silver. | I'd go, except it's too far.

except³ v. [T] (formal) to not include something ex-cept-ed /ɪk'septɪd/ adj. not included: The cost is $5 per person, children excepted.

ex-cept-ing /ɪk'septɪŋ/ prep. (formal) not including ex-cep-tion /ɪk'sɛpʃən/ n. [C,U] 1 someone or something that is not included in something: It's been very cold, but today's an exception. | He was asked to make an exception to company policy (=not include something in the policy). | Everyone has improved, with the possible exception of Sam. 2 be no exception used in order to say that something is not different from before or from the other things mentioned: March weather is usually changeable, and this year was no exception. 3 without exception (formal) used in order to say that something is true of all the people or things in a group: Almost without exception, teachers said that students do not work hard enough.

ex-cep-tion-al /ɪk'sɛpʃənəl/ adj. 1 unusually good: an exceptional student

THESAURUS good, great, excellent, wonderful, fantastic, outstanding, superb, first-class, ace → GOOD¹

2 unusual and not likely to happen often: The teachers were doing their best under exceptional circumstances. —exceptionally adv.

ex-cerpt /'ɛksəpt/ n. [C] a short piece of writing or music taken from a longer book, poem, etc.: an excerpt from his poem [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin, past participle of excerpere, from carpere "to gather, pick"] ex-cess¹ /'ɛksɪs, ɪk'sɛs/ n. 1 [singular, U] a larger amount of something than is needed, usual, or allowed: There is an excess of alcohol in his blood. 2 in excess of sth more than a particular amount: Our profits were in excess of $5 million. 3 do sth to excess to do something too much or too often: Is it possible to exercise to excess? 4 excesses [plural] actions that are socially or morally unacceptable: the worst excesses of capitalism ex-cess² adj. additional and more than is needed or allowed: There is a charge of $75 for excess baggage.

ex-ces-sive /ɪk'sɛsɪv/ adj. much more than is reasonable or necessary: excessive fees —excessively adv.

ex-change¹ /ɪks'tʃeɪndʒ/ n. 1 [C,U] the act of giving someone something and receiving something else from him/her: an exchange of political prisoners | The police offered him protection in exchange for information. 2 [C] a short conversation, especially an angry one 3 exchange of ideas/information etc. an action in which people discuss or share ideas, information, etc. 4 [C] an arrangement in which a student, teacher, etc. visits another country to work or study 5 [C] a place where things are bought, sold, or traded → STOCK EXCHANGE: trading on the commodities exchange exchange² v. [T] 1 to give something to someone who gives you something else: We still exchange gifts at Christmas.

THESAURUS

trade – to exchange something that you have for something that someone else has: He had traded milk and eggs from the farm for flour and sugar.
swap – to give something to someone, who gives you something similar: The two schools use the Internet to swap pictures, stories, and jokes.
in exchange/return (for sth) – if you give something in exchange or in return for something else, you give it in order to get something else back: Williams will plead guilty in exchange for a reduced sentence.

2 to replace one thing with another: This shirt is too big. Can I exchange it for a smaller one? 3 if two people exchange words, information, looks, etc., they talk to each other, look at each other, etc. —exchangeable adj.

ex'change ,rate n. [C] the value of the money of one country compared to the money of another country ex-cheq-uer /'ɛks,tʃɛkə, ɪk'stʃɛkə/ n. [C usually singular] ECONOMICS a government department in Great Britain and Northern Ireland that controls the money that the country collects and spends ex-cise¹ /'ɛksaɪz, -saɪs/ n. [C,U] the government tax on particular goods produced and used inside a country ex-cise² /ɪk'saɪz/ v. [T] (formal) to remove something completely by cutting it out —excision /ɪk'sɪʒən/ n. [C,U]

ex-cit-a-ble /ɪk'saɪtəbəl/ adj. easily excited ex-cite /ɪk'saɪt/ v. [T] 1 to make someone feel happy, eager, or nervous: The thought of returning to Montana excited me. 2 to make someone have strong feelings: The murder trial has excited public interest. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French exciter, from Latin excitare, from citare “to set in movement”]

ex-cit-ed /ɪk'saɪtɪd/ adj. 1 happy, interested, or hopeful because something good has happened or will happen: We're really excited about our trip to California. | These teachers want kids to get excited about learning. 2 feeling sexual desire —excitedly adv.

ex-cite-ment /ɪk'saɪtɪmənt/ n. [U] the feeling of being excited: people's excitement about/over the Olympics | Their eyes sparked with excitement.

ex-cit-ing /ɪk'saɪtɪŋ/ adj. making you feel happy or interested: *an exciting story

THESAURUS

thrilling – very exciting: a thrilling 3–2 victory gripping – a gripping movie, story, etc. is very exciting and interesting: The novel is a gripping tale of power and corruption in ancient Rome.

dramatic – used about something that is exciting to watch or hear about as it happens: *the dramatic events of the past week exhilarating – making you feel happy, excited, and full of energy: *an exhilarating ride electric – making you feel very excited: There was an almost electric atmosphere in the stadium.

ex-claim /ɪk'skleɪm/ v. [I,T] (written) to say something suddenly because you are surprised, excited, or angry: “Oh!” exclaimed Stella. “What happened?” —exclamation /ˌɛksklə'meɪʃən/ n. [C] excla'mation point also excla'mation mark n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the mark (!) used in writing after a sentence or word that expresses surprise, excitement, or anger ex-clam-a-to-ry /ɪk'sklæmə'tɔːri/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS an exclamatory sentence expresses a strong opinion or emotion and ends with an EXCLAMATION POINT (=!)

ex-clude /ɪk'sklud/ [Ac] v. [T] 1 to not allow someone to enter a place or to do something: Women are excluded from the priesthood. 2 to deliberately not include something: Some of the data was excluded from the report. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin excludere, from ex “out” + cludere “to close”] ex-clud-ing /ɪk'skludɪŋ/ [Ac] prep. not including: Figure out how much you spend each month, excluding set amounts such as housing or car payments.

ex-clu-sion /ɪk'skluzən/ [Ac] n. 1 [U] a situation in which someone is not allowed to do something or something is not used: At that time, the judges upheld the exclusion of women from juries. 2 [C] something that is deliberately not included in a contract or agreement: *a tax exclusion 3 do sth to the exclusion of sth to do something so much that you do not do, consider, or have time for something else: History books have focused on the achievements of white men, to the exclusion of women and minorities.

ex-clu-sive¹ /ɪk'sklusɪv, -zɪv/ [Ac] adj. 1 exclusive places, organizations, etc. are for people who have a lot of money, or who belong to a high social class: *an exclusive Manhattan hotel 2 used by only one person or group, and not shared: *a car for the exclusive use of the Pope 3 exclusive of sth not including something: The trip cost $450, exclusive of meals.

exclusive² n. [C] an important news story that is in only one newspaper, magazine, television news program, etc.

ex-clu-sive-ly /ɪk'sklusɪvli, -zɪv-/ [Ac] adv. only: Businesses should not focus exclusively on profit.

ex,clu-sive 'powers n. [plural] POLITICS the legal right to do something that only one level of the government has. For example, one of the exclusive powers of the FEDERAL government is the ability to print money, which state governments are not allowed to do.

ex-com-mu-ni-cate /ˌɛkskə'myʊnə'keɪt/ v. [T] if a church excommunicates someone, it punishes him/her by not allowing him/her to continue to be a member —excommunication /ˌɛkskə'myʊnə'keɪʃən/ n. [C,U] ex-cre-ment /ˌɛkskrəmənt/ n. [U] (formal) the solid waste from a person's or animal's body ex-crete /ɪk'skrit/ v. [I,T] BIOLOGY to get rid of waste from the body through the BOWELS, or to get rid of waste liquid through the skin [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin excretus, past participle of excernere “to separate out”] ex-cru-ci-at-ing /ɪk'skrʊʃi,etɪŋ/ adj. 1 extremely painful 2 extremely boring or embarrassing: He told us about his vacation in excruciating detail. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 excruciate “to cause great pain to” (16—21 centuries), from Latin excruciare, from cruciare “to crucify”] —excruciatingly adv.

ex-cul-pate /ˌɛkskəl'peɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to prove or decide that someone is not guilty of something: The jury exculpated the defendant. —exculpatory /ɪk'skʌlpə'tɔːri/ adj.: exculpatory evidence —exculpation /ˌɛkskəl'peɪʃən/ n. [U] ex-cur-sion /ɪk'skʊʒən/ n. [C] a short trip, usually made by a group of people: *an excursion to Sea World

THESAURUS

trip, journey, voyage, tour, expedition, pilgrimage → TRAVEL² ex-cus-a-ble /ɪk'skyuzəbəl/ adj. behavior or words that are excusable are easy to forgive [ANT] inexcusable

ex-cuse¹ /ɪk'skyuz/ v. [T] 1 excuse me (spoken) a) said when you want to politely get someone's attention in order to ask a question: Excuse me, is this the right bus for the airport? b) used in order to say you are sorry when you have done something that is embarrassing or rude: Oh, excuse me, I didn't know anyone was in here. c) used in order to politely tell someone that you are leaving a place: Excuse me, I'll be right back. d) used in order to ask someone to repeat what s/he has just said: "What time is it?" "Excuse me?" "I asked what time it is." e) used in order to ask someone to move so that you can go past him/her: Excuse me, I need to get through. 2 to forgive someone, usually for something not very serious: Please excuse my bad handwriting. | Please excuse me for being so late. 3 to not make someone do something that s/he is supposed to do: She was excused from jury duty. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Old French excuser, from Latin excusare, from causa "cause, explanation"]

E

ex-cuse² /ɪk'skyus/ n. [C] 1 a reason that you give to explain why you did something: What's your excuse for being late? | There's no excuse for laziness. | You need to stop making excuses and take responsibility. | I was glad to have an excuse to put it off another day.

THESAURUS reason, explanation, motive, rationale, grounds → REASON¹

2 a false reason that you give to explain why you are or are not doing something: I'll make an excuse and leave early. | They were looking for any excuse to start a fight.

ex-ec /ɪg'zɛk/ n. [C] (informal) a business EXECUTIVE ex-e-cra-ble /'ɛksɪkrəbəl/ adj. (formal) extremely bad: an execrable movie

ex-e-cute /'ɛksɪkyut/ v. [T] 1 to kill someone, especially as a legal punishment for a crime

THESAURUS kill, murder, assassinate, slay → KILL²

2 (formal) to do something that you have planned: These ideas require money and materials to execute.

ex-e-cu-tion /,ɛksɪ'kyuʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] the act of killing someone, especially as a legal punishment for a crime 2 [U] (formal) a process in which you do something that you have planned to do: We will need help with both the planning and the execution of the changes.

ex-e-cu-tion-er /,ɛksɪ'kyuʃənə/ n. [C] someone whose job is to kill someone else as a legal punishment for a crime ex-ec-u-tive¹ /ɪg'zɛkyʊtɪv/ n. [C] a manager in an organization or company who helps make important decisions executive² adj. relating to making decisions, especially in a company, government, or other organization: an executive committee ex'ecutive branch n. [C] POLITICS the part of a government that approves decisions and laws, and organizes how they will work → JUDICIARY, LEGISLATURE ex-ec-u-tor /ɪg'zɛkyʊtə/ n. [C] LAW someone who deals with the instructions in a WILL ex-em-pla-ry /ɪg'zɛmpləri/ adj. (formal) 1 excellent and providing a good example to follow: the students' exemplary behavior 2 severe and used as a warning: an exemplary punishment

ex-em-pli-fy /ɪg'zɛmpləfaɪ/ v. (exemplified, exemplifies) [T] (formal) 1 to be a very typical example of something: This dish exemplifies her style of cooking. 2 to give an example of something: Exemplify each part of your argument.

ex-empt¹ /ɪg'zɛmpt/ adj. having special permission not to do something or pay for something: The money is exempt from state taxes.

exempt² v. [T] to give someone special permission not to do or pay something: Children are exempted from this rule.

ex-emp-tion /ɪg'zɛmpʃən/ n. 1 [C] an amount of money that you do not have to pay tax on in a particular year: a tax exemption for gifts to charity 2 [C,U] permission not to do or pay something: an exemption from military service

ex-er-cise¹ /'ɛksəsaɪz/ n. 1 [C,U] physical activity that you do in order to stay strong and healthy: stretching exercises | I don't get much exercise. | Have you done your stomach exercises today? 2 [C] a set of written questions that test your skill or knowledge: For homework, do exercises 1 and 2. 3 [C] an activity or process that helps you practice a particular skill: military exercises in the Pacific Ocean | We practiced relaxation exercises. 4 [singular] an activity or situation that has a particular quality or result: Trying to use public transportation to get downtown is an exercise in frustration. 5 the exercise of sth (formal) the use of power or a right: laws that protect the exercise of freedom of speech [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French exercice, from Latin exercere "to drive on, keep busy"]

exercise² v. [I,T] 1 to do physical activities regularly so that you stay strong and healthy: Eat right and exercise regularly. | Swimming exercises all the major muscle groups.

TOPIC

People exercise so they can stay/keep/get in shape (=be healthy and strong). There are many different kinds of exercise, for example jogging, lifting weights, and aerobics. People often go to a gym or a health club to exercise. The series of exercises you do is called a workout. Before exercising, you warm up (=get your body ready) by stretching or jogging slowly.

2 (formal) to use power, a right, etc. to make something happen: More young people need to exercise their right to vote.

'exercise bike n. [C] a bicycle that does not move and is used indoors for exercise

ex-ert /ɪg'zɔ:t/ v. [T] 1 to use your authority, power, influence, etc. to make something happen: Powerful people exerted pressure on the paper not to run the story. 2 exert yourself to work very hard, using a lot of physical or mental energy ex-er-tion /ɪgˈzɜːʃən/ n. [C,U] strong physical or mental effort ex-hale /ɛksˈheɪl, ɛkˈseɪl/ v. [I,T] to breathe air, smoke, etc. out of your mouth (SYN) breathe out: Take a deep breath, then exhale slowly.

THESAURUS breathe, take a breath, inhale, pant, wheeze → BREATHE

ex-haust¹ /ɪgˈzɔːst/ v. [T] 1 to make someone very tired: The effort exhausted her. 2 to use all of something: We are in danger of exhausting the world's oil supply.

exhaust² n. 1 [U] the gas that is produced when a machine is working: exhaust fumes 2 [C] also exhaust pipe a pipe on a car or machine, that exhaust comes out of ex-haust-ed /ɪgˈzɔːstɪd/ adj. extremely tired: He was exhausted by/from the long day.

THESAURUS tired, worn out, weary, run-down, beat, fatigued → TIRED ex-haust-ing /ɪgˈzɔːstɪŋ/ adj. making you feel extremely tired: an exhausting trip ex-haus-tion /ɪgˈzɔːstʃən/ n. [U] the state of being extremely tired ex-haus-tive /ɪgˈzɔːstɪv/ adj. extremely thorough: an exhaustive search —exhaustively adv.

ex-hib-it¹ /ɪgˈzɪbrɪt/ (Ac) v. 1 [I,T] to put something in a public place so that people can see it: The gallery will exhibit some of Dali's paintings. 2 [T] (formal) to show a quality, sign, emotion, etc. in a way that people easily notice: The patient exhibited symptoms of heart disease. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin exhibitus, past participle of exhibere “to hold out, show”]

exhibit² n. 1 [C] something that is put in a public place so that people can see it: the museum's interactive exhibits 2 [C,U] an object or a collection of objects that is put in a public place so that people can see it, learn about it, etc., or the act of doing this: The exhibits date from the 17th century. | The painting is currently on exhibit in the Metropolitan Museum. 3 [C] LAW something that is shown in a court of law to prove that someone is guilty or not guilty

ex-hi-bi-tion /ɛksəˈbɪʃən/ (Ac) n. 1 [C] a public show where you put something so that people can see it: an exhibition of historical photographs 2 [U] the act of showing something such as a painting in a public place: A collection of rare books is on exhibition at the city library.

ex-hi-bi-tion-ism /ɛksəˈbɪʃənɪzəm/ n. [U] 1 behavior that makes people notice you, but that most people think is not acceptable 2 a mental problem that makes someone want to show his/her sexual organs in public places —exhibitionist n. [C] ex-hil-a-rat-ed /ɪgˈzɪləˌreɪtɪd/ adj. feeling extremely happy and excited: Rita felt exhilarated by the crashing of the waves.

ex-hil-a-ra-ting /ɪgˈzɪləˌreɪtɪŋ/ adj. making you feel extremely happy and excited: The balloon ride was exhilarating.

THESAURUS exciting, thrilling, gripping, dramatic, electric → EXCITING

ex-hil-a-ra-tion /ɪgˈzɪləˌreɪʃən/ n. [U] a feeling of being extremely happy and excited —exhilarate /ɪgˈzɪləˌreɪt/ v. [T] ex-hort /ɪgˈzɔːt/ v. [T] (formal) to try to persuade someone to do something —exhortation /ɛksɔːˈteɪʃən, ɛgzɔː-/ n. [C,U]

ex-hume /ɪgˈzum, ɛksˈhyum/ v. [T] (formal) to remove a dead body from the ground after it has been buried —exhumation /ɛksyuˈmeɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

ex-i-gent /ɛksədʒənt/ adj. (formal) an exigent situation is urgent, so that you must deal with it very quickly ex-ile¹ /ɛgzɑɪl, ɛksɑɪl/ v. [T] to force someone to leave his/her country and live in another country, usually for political reasons [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French exil, from Latin exul “person sent away”] —exiled adj.

exile² n. 1 [U] a situation in which someone is exiled: a writer who lives in exile in Canada 2 [C] someone who has been exiled ex-ist /ɪgˈzɪst/ v. [I] 1 to happen or be present in a particular situation or place: the gap that exists between rich and poor 2 to be real or alive: Do ghosts really exist? ▶ Don't say “It is existing/They are existing.” ◀ 3 to stay alive, especially in difficult conditions: Wild birds exist on nuts, berries, and insects. [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin existere “to come into being, exist,” from sistere “to stand”]

ex-ist-ence /ɪgˈzɪstəns/ n. 1 [U] the state of existing: Do you believe in the existence of God? | laws that are already in existence 2 [C] the type of life that someone has, especially when it is difficult: a terrible existence

ex-ist-ing /ɪgˈzɪstɪŋ/ adj. present now and available to be used: Businesses want to hold on to existing customers.

THESAURUS present, current, prevailing → PRESENT¹

ex-it¹ /ɛgzɪt, ɛksɪt/ n. [C] 1 a door through which you can leave a room, building, etc.: There are two exits at the back of the plane. | the theater's emergency exit → see picture at ENTRANCE¹ 2 the act of leaving a room, stage, etc.: The President made a quick exit after his speech. 3 a place where vehicles can leave a large road such as a FREEWAY or HIGHWAY, and join another road: Take the Spring Street exit. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600

Latin exitus, from the past participle of exire “to go out”]

exit² v. [I,T] 1 to leave a place: The band exited through a door behind the stage. 2 IT to stop using a computer or computer program: Press F3 to exit.

ex-o-dus /'eksədəs/ n. [singular] a situation in which a lot of people leave a particular place at the same time: the exodus of Russian scientists to America [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Exodus, the second book in the Bible, which describes how the Israelites left Egypt]

ex-on-er-ate /ɪg'zənəreɪt/ v. [T] (formal) to say officially that someone who has been blamed for something is not guilty: Ross was exonerated from all charges of child abuse. —exoneration /ɪg'zənə'reɪʃən/ n. [U]

E ex-or-bi-tant /ɪg'zɔrbətənt/ adj. an exorbitant price, demand, etc. is much higher or greater than it should be

THESAURUS high, extortionate, astronomical → EXPENSIVE

ex-or-cize /'eksɔr,səɪz, -sə-/ v. [T] 1 to make yourself no longer be affected by a bad memory or experience 2 to force evil spirits to leave a place or someone's body by using special words and ceremonies —exorcism /'eksɔr,sɪzəm/ n. [C,U] —exorcist n. [C] ex-o-skel-e-ton /'eksou,skelətɒn/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a hard structure on the outside of the body of some living creatures such as TURTLES, that protects and supports the creature's body instead of a BACKBONE → ENDOSKELETON

ex-o-sphere /'eksou,sfɪr/ n. the exosphere EARTH SCIENCES the upper part of the THERMOSPHERE, where some of the harmful energy from the Sun is reduced [ORIGIN: 1900–2000 from exo ‘outside’ + -sphere (as in atmosphere)] → compare IONOSPHERE ex-o-ther-mic /'eksouθəmɪk/ adj. CHEMISTRY relating to or describing a chemical reaction that produces or sends out heat → ENDOTHERMIC: an exothermic process

ex-ot-ic /ɪg'zɑtɪk/ adj. unusual and exciting because of a connection with a foreign country: an exotic flower | exotic places [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin exoticus, from Greek exotikos, from exo “outside”] —exotically adv.

ex-pand /ɪk'spænd/ (Ac) v. [I,T] 1 to become larger in size, area, or amount, or to make something become larger (ANT) contract: The population of Texas expanded rapidly in the '60s. 2 to open more shops, factories, etc.: Starbucks coffee shops have expanded into Europe. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Latin expandere, from pandere “to spread”] —expandable adj.

expand on/upon sth phr. v. (formal) to add more details or information to something that you have already said: Could you expand on your last comment, please?

ex-panse /ɪk'spæns/ n. [C] a very large area of water, sky, land, etc.

ex-pan-sion /ɪk'spænfən/ (Ac) n. [U] the process of increasing in size, number, or amount: a period of economic expansion —expansionism n. [U] —expansionist adj.

ex-pan-sive /ɪk'spænsɪv/ (Ac) adj. 1 very friendly and willing to talk a lot: an expansive mood 2 very large and wide in area: expansive beaches 3 including a lot of information: an expansive history book ex-pa-tri-ate /eks'pɛtriət/ n. [C] someone who lives in a foreign country —expatriate adj.

ex-pa-tri-a-tion /eks'pɛtri'eɪʃən/ n. [U] LAW a situation in which someone leaves or is forced to leave his/her country and go to live in another country —expatriate /eks'pɛtri,eɪt/ v. [T] ex-pect /ɪk'spekt/ v. [T] 1 to think that something will happen: The hotel bill came to more than we expected. | I'm expecting her to arrive any day now. | Republicans expect to win a majority in the House. | He had a right to expect (that) his conversation would be private. 2 to demand that someone should do something, because it is his/her duty: Students are expected to return their homework on Friday. | Wanda's parents expect too much of her (=think she can do more than she really can). 3 be expecting if a woman is expecting, she is going to have a baby soon

ex-pect-an-cy /ɪk'spektənsi/ n. [U] the feeling that something exciting or interesting is about to happen: There was a look of expectancy in her eyes. → LIFE EXPECTANCY ex-pect-ant /ɪk'spektənt/ adj. 1 hopeful that something good or exciting will happen: An expectant crowd gathered. 2 expectant mother/father someone whose baby will be born soon —expectantly adv.

ex-pec-ta-tion /'ekspekt'eɪʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] the belief or hope that something will happen: Sales of the car have exceeded expectations (=have been better than expected). | The stock market has fallen because of expectations that the dollar will drop in value. | We have a reasonable expectation of success. 2 [C usually plural] a feeling or belief about the way something should be or how someone should behave: We must meet customers' expectations about the quality of the products. | The movie didn't live up to our expectations (=was not as good as we thought it would be). | Her parents have very high expectations of her (=believe she should succeed).

ex-pe-di-en-cy /ɪk'spɪdiənsi/ also ex-pe-di-ence /ɪk'spɪdiəns/ n. (plural expediences) [C,U] the act of doing what is useful, easy, or necessary in a particular situation, even if it is morally wrong ex-pe-di-ent /ɪk'spɪdiənt/ adj. helpful or useful, sometimes in a way that is morally wrong: It would be expedient to consult a lawyer. —expedient n. [C] ex-pe-dite /'ɛkspə,dart/ v. [T] to make a process, action, etc. happen more quickly ex-pe-di-tion /,ɛkspə'dɪʃən/ n. [C] 1 a long and carefully organized trip, especially to a dangerous place: an expedition to the North Pole

THESAURUS trip, journey, voyage, tour, excursion, pilgrimage → TRAVEL²

2 a short trip, usually made for a particular purpose: a shopping expedition

ex-pel /ɪk'spel/ v. (expelled, expelling) [T] 1 to officially make someone leave a school, organization, or country: Larry was expelled from school for smoking. 2 to force air, water, or gas out of something ex-pend /ɪk'spend/ v. [T] (formal) to use money, time, energy, etc. to do something: the time expended on meetings

ex-pend-a-ble /ɪk'spendəbəl/ adj. not needed enough to be kept or saved: workers who are considered expendable

ex-pend-i-ture /ɪk'spendɪʃər/ n. (formal) 1 [C,U] the total amount of money that a person or organization spends: Expenditure on welfare programs went down by 5%. 2 [U] the action of spending or using money, time, effort, etc.

ex-pense /ɪk'spens/ n. 1 [C,U] the amount of money you spend on something: Sally's parents spared no expense (=spent a lot of money) for her wedding. | $30,000 is needed for medical/legal expenses.

THESAURUS cost, price, charge, fee, fare, rent, rate → COST¹

2 at the expense of sb/sth if something is done at the expense of someone or something else, it is only achieved by doing something that could harm that person or thing: The cars were produced quickly, at the expense of safety. 3 at sb's expense a) if you do something at someone's expense, that person pays for you to do it: Education is provided at the public's expense. b) if you make jokes at someone's expense, you make him/her seem stupid: He kept making jokes at his wife's expense. 4 expenses [plural] money that you spend on travel, hotels, meals, etc. when you are working, and that your employer gives back to you later 5 all expenses paid having all of your costs for hotels, travel, meals, etc. paid for by someone else

ex-pense ac-count n. [C] money that is available to someone who works for a company so that s/he can pay for hotels, meals, etc. when traveling for work

ex-pen-sive /ɪk'spensɪv/ adj. something that is expensive costs a lot of money (ANT) inexpensive, cheap: expensive jewelry | The car is expensive to maintain.

THESAURUS

high – used about prices that are greater than normal or usual: Gas prices are very high right now.

pricey (informal) – expensive: The hotel was a little bit pricey.

costly – costing a lot of money: costly car repairs overpriced – something that is overpriced is more expensive than it should be: overpriced running shoes be a ripoff (informal) – if something is a ripoff, it is more expensive than it should be: The restaurant was such a ripoff.

extortionate/astronomical/exorbitant – used about prices that are much too high: Housing prices in New York are exorbitant.

fancy – used about fashionable restaurants, cars, clothes, etc. that look expensive: a fancy hotel in Manhattan posh (informal) – used about expensive hotels, restaurants, schools, etc. that are used by rich people: a posh five-star hotel → CHEAP¹

ex-pe-ri-ence¹ /ɪk'spɪəriəns/ n. 1 [U] knowledge or skill that you gain from doing a job or activity: Scott has a lot of experience in publishing. | a good way of gaining/getting experience | Do you have any previous experience in sales? 2 [U] knowledge that you gain about life and the world by being in different situations and meeting different people: In my experience, it is hard work, not luck, that brings success. | I know from personal experience that this is not easy. 3 [C] something that happens to you and has an effect on how you feel or what you think: Visiting Paris was a wonderful experience. | Other people have had similar experiences.

experience² v. [T] to be happening to you or affecting you: The plane experienced engine problems. | Patients often experienced extreme pain.

ex-pe-ri-enced /ɪk'spɪəriənst/ adj. having particular skills or knowledge because you have done something often or for a long time (ANT) inexperienced: an experienced pilot

ex-per-i-ment¹ /ɪk'spɛrɪmənt/ n. [C] 1 a scientific test done to show how something will react in a particular situation, or to prove that an idea is true: Experiments were performed/conducted/done on rats to test the drug. | experiments on/with solar-powered vehicles

THESAURUS research, study → RESEARCH¹

2 a process in which you try a new idea, method, etc. in order to find out if it is effective: St. Mary's School is an experiment in bilingual education. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French, Latin experimentum, from experiri “to try out”]

ex-per-i-ment² /ɪk'spɛrɪmənt/ v. [I] 1 to try using various ideas, methods, materials, etc. in order to find out how effective or good they are: We encourage students to experiment with new ways of doing things. 2 to do a scientific test in order to find out if a particular idea is true or to obtain more information: Researchers experimented on animals when testing the treatment. —experimentation /ɪk'spɛrɪməntɪ'eɪʃən/ n. [U]

E

ex-per-i-men-tal /ɪkˌspərəˈmentəl/
adj. 1 used for or related to experiments: experimental research 2 using or testing new ideas: an experimental theater group —experimentally adv.

ex-pert /ˈɛkspɜrt/ [Ac] n. [C] someone with special skills or knowledge of a subject, gained as a result of training or experience: an expert on/in Native American history [ORIGIN: Old French, Latin expertus, past participle of experiri “to try out”] —expert adj.: an expert teacher | very sick patients who need expert care —expertly adv.

THESAURUS

specialist — someone who knows a lot about something because s/he has studied it for a long time: Lowe is a specialist in immigration law.

authority — someone who is very respected because s/he knows more about a subject than other people: She is a leading authority on modern art.

connoisseur — someone who knows a lot about something such as art, food, or music: a connoisseur of fine wines pundit — someone who knows a lot about a particular subject, and is often asked for his/her opinion: Most pundits think the Democrats' hold on Congress is secure.

THESAURUS

skillful, accomplished, talented, gifted, adept, deft → SKILLFUL

ex-per-tise /ˌɛkspəˈtɪz/ [Ac] n. [U] a special skill or knowledge that you learn by experience or training: her technical/medical/legal expertise | his expertise in mathematics | Most people do not have the expertise to make wise investments.

ex-pi-ate /ˈɛkspiːt/ v. [T] (formal) to do something to show that you are sorry and to improve the situation after you have done something wrong: How can I expiate my sin? —expiation /ˌɛkspiːˈeɪʃən/ n. [U]

ex-pi-ra-tion /ˌɛkspəˈreɪʃən/ n. [U] the end of a period of time during which an official document or agreement is allowed to be used: the expiration of the treaty expi'ration ,date n. [C] the date when something stops being safe to eat or to use ex-pire /ɪkˈspaɪə/ v. [I] 1 if a document expires, you cannot legally continue to use it beyond a particular date: My driver's license expires in September. 2 (literary) to die

ex-plain /ɪkˈspleɪn/ v. [I,T] 1 to tell someone about something in a way that is easy to understand: Dr. Brasco carefully explained the procedure. | Don explained the rules to me. ▶ Don't say “explained me the rules.” ◀ | Could you explain how this thing works? ▶ Don't say “explain me how it works.” ◀ tell — to give someone facts or information in speech or writing: Can you tell me how to get to the Empire State Building?

THESAURUS

show — to tell someone how to do something or where something is: Ellen showed me how to work the coffee maker.

demonstrate — to show or describe how to use or do something: Fred will now demonstrate how easy it is to use the drill.

go through sth — to explain something carefully, especially one step at a time: Mrs. Riddell went through the homework assignment.

clarify — to make something easier to understand by explaining it in more detail: He went on to clarify some of his earlier statements.

elucidate (formal) — to explain very clearly something that is difficult to understand: Each chapter elucidates some aspect of American life.

2 to give or be the reason for something: Brad never explained why he was late. | The doctor explained that he had to wait for the test results first. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin explanare “to make level, unfold,” from planus “level, flat”] explain sth ↔ away phr. v. to make something seem to be less important or not your fault by giving reasons for it: Claire tried to explain away the bruises on her arm.

ex-pla-na-tion /ˌɛkspləˈneɪʃən/ n. 1 [C] a statement or piece of writing intended to make something easier to understand or to describe how something works: an explanation of how the disease is passed to other people 2 [C,U] the reasons you give for why something happened or why you did something: an explanation for the changes in weather patterns | Smith refused to give/provide an explanation for his behavior.

THESAURUS

reason, excuse, motive, rationale, grounds → REASON¹

ex-plan-a-to-ry /ɪkˈsplənəˈtɔri/ adj. giving information about something or describing how something works: an explanatory booklet → SELF-EXPLANATORY

ex-ple-tive /ˈɛksplətɪv/ n. [C] (formal) a rude word that you use when you are angry or in pain ex-plic-a-ble /ɪkˈsplɪkəbəl, ˈɛksplɪ-/ adj. able to be easily understood or explained [ANT] inexpl-cable

ex-plic-it /ɪkˈsplɪt/ [Ac] adj. 1 expressed in a way that is very clear: explicit directions | She was explicit about her reasons for changing jobs. 2 language or pictures that are explicit describe or show a lot of sex or violence [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 French explicite, from Latin explicare “to unfold,” from plicare “to fold”] —explicitly adv.

ex-plode /ɪkˈsploud/ v. 1 [I,T] to burst into small pieces, making a loud noise and causing damage, or to make something do this: The car bomb exploded at 6:16. | In 1949, the USSR exploded its first atomic bomb. 2 [I] to suddenly express strong emotions, especially anger: John exploded with/in rage at the news. 3 [I] if a situation explodes, it is suddenly no longer controlled: Troops cannot control the violence that has exploded in the city. 4 [I] to increase a lot in number, amount, or degree: Florida's population exploded after World War II. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin explodere “to drive off the stage by clapping,” from plaudere “to clap”] ex-ploit¹ /ɪk'splɔɪt/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to treat someone unfairly in order to gain what you want: employers who exploit their workers 2 to use a situation to get an advantage for yourself, in a way that people disapprove of: Republicans accused him of exploiting the issue for political purposes. 3 to use something effectively and completely, or to get as much as you can out of a situation: The country must exploit its resources more effectively. —exploitation

/ɪk'splɔɪtɪʃən/ n. [U]: We must protect children from exploitation in the labor market. | the exploitation of natural resources

ex-ploit² /ɪk'splɔɪt/ (Ac) n. [C usually plural] a brave, exciting, and interesting action: the young explorer's exploits

ex-plo-ra-tion /ɪk'splɔːreɪʃən/ n. [C,U] 1 the activity of traveling through a place in order to find out about it or to find something such as oil or gold in it: exploration for oil | space exploration 2 an examination of or discussion about something to find out more about it: an exploration of spiritual issues

ex-plo-ra-to-ry /ɪk'splɔːrə,tɔːri/ adj. done in order to find out more about something: exploratory surgery

ex-plore /ɪk'splɔːr/ v. 1 [I,T] to travel around an area in order to find out what it is like: We spent a week exploring the Oregon coastline. 2 [T] to discuss or think about something carefully: I want to make sure I've explored all my options before I decide. | The company is exploring the possibility of moving.

ex-plor-er /ɪk'splɔːrə/ n. [C] someone who travels to places that people have not visited before ex-plo-sion /ɪk'splɔʊzən/ n. [C] 1 an occasion when something such as a bomb explodes, or the noise it makes: We heard a huge explosion. | a nuclear explosion 2 [usually singular] a sudden large increase: the population explosion | an explosion of interest in organic foods

ex-plo-sive¹ /ɪk'splɔʊsɪv/ adj. 1 able or likely to explode: Dynamite is highly explosive. 2 likely to make people become violent or angry: the explosive issue of abortion | the explosive situation in the Middle East 3 likely to suddenly become violent and angry: a man with an explosive temper 4 increasing suddenly or quickly: the explosive growth of the Internet explosive² n. [C] a substance that can cause an explosion ex-po /'ɛkspou/ n. (plural expos) [C] an EXPOSITION

ex-po-nent /ɪk'spɒnənt, 'ɛkspou-/ n. [C] an exponent of an idea or belief tries to persuade other people that it is good: an exponent of socialism

ex-po-nen-tial /ɪkspə'nɛnʃəl/ adj. 1 exponential growth/increase a rate of growth that becomes faster as the amount of the thing that is growing increases: the exponential growth of the world's population 2 MATH using a sign that shows how many times a number is to be multiplied by itself, such as y^3 , which shows that y should be multiplied by itself three times —exponentially adv.

ex-port¹ /'ɛkspɔːt/ (Ac) n. [C,U] ECONOMICS a product that is sold to another country, or the business of selling goods to another country (ANT) import: Coffee is an important export. | the export of lumber [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin exportare, from portare “to carry”] ex-port² /ɪk'spɔːt/ (Ac) v. [I,T] 1 ECONOMICS to sell goods to another country (ANT) import: The company exports machines to Russia. 2 IT to move information from one computer to another one, using the Internet (ANT) import —exporter n. [C]: The U.S. is the world's largest exporter of wheat. —exportation /ɪkspɔːtɪʃən/ n. [U]

ex-pose /ɪk'spəʊz/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 to show something that is usually covered or hidden: It's best to keep babies' skin from being exposed to the sun. 2 to put someone in a situation or place that could affect him/her in a harmful or dangerous way: The test will tell you if you've been exposed to the virus. 3 to make it possible for someone to experience new ideas, ways of life, etc.: Field trips expose children to real examples of things they are learning about in the classroom. 4 to tell people the truth about an event or situation that is not acceptable because it is dishonest or illegal: We threatened to expose him to the police. 5 to allow light onto a piece of film in a camera in order to produce a photograph [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French exposer, from Latin exponere “to put out, explain”] ex-po-sé /ɛkspəʊ,zeɪ/ n. [C] a story in a newspaper or on television that shows the truth about something, especially something dishonest or shocking ex-posed /ɪk'spəʊzd/ (Ac) adj. 1 not protected from the weather: an exposed coastline 2 not covered: exposed skin

ex-po-si-tion /ɛkspə'zɪʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] (formal) a clear and detailed explanation 2 [C] a large public event at which you show or sell products, art, etc.

ex-pos-i-to-ry /ɪk'spəzə,tɔːri/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS relating to a clear and detailed explanation in writing or speech ex-po-sure /ɪk'spəʊʒə/ (Ac) n. 1 [C,U] the state of being put into a harmful or bad situation without any protection: The disease does not show itself until a week to ten days after exposure to the virus. 2 [singular, U] the chance to experience new ideas, ways of life, etc.: My first exposure to classical music was at college. 3 [U] the attention that someone or something gets from newspapers, television, etc.: The issue has received a lot of exposure in the press. 4 [C,U] the action of telling people the truth about a dishonest person, event, or situation: The school district has made changes since the newspaper's exposure of the scandal. 5 [U] the harmful effects of staying outside for a long time when the weather is extremely cold: Three climbers died of exposure. 6 [C] a length of film, in a camera that is used to take one photograph: This roll has 36 exposures.

ex·press¹ /ɪk'spres/ v. [T] to tell or show what you are feeling or thinking by using words, looks, or actions: A number of people expressed their concern. | It's hard sometimes for children to express themselves (=clearly say what they think or feel). | His eldest son has expressed an interest in running the company. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Early French expresser, from Latin expressus, past participle of exprimere “to press out”]

THESAURUS say, mention, add, state, utter → SAY¹

express² adj. 1 clear and definite: It was her express wish that you inherit her house. 2 express train/bus a train or bus that does not stop at many places and can therefore travel more quickly 3 [only before noun] designed to help you move through a place more quickly: the express lane on the freeway | the express line at the supermarket (=one for people who are buying a limited number of items) 4 [only before noun] delivered more quickly than normal: express mail expressed powers n. [plural] POLITICS powers given to the U.S. government that are clearly stated in the CONSTITUTION

ex·pres·sion /ɪk'spreʃən/ n. 1 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a word or phrase that has a particular meaning: You use the expression “Break a leg” to wish an actor good luck.

THESAURUS phrase, idiom, cliché, saying, proverb, maxim → PHRASE¹

2 [C] a look on someone's face: a cheerful expression | an expression of shock 3 [C,U] something that you say, do, or write that shows what you think or feel: I'm sending these flowers as an expression of my thanks. | Crying is a healthy expression of grief. 4 [C] MATH a sign or group of signs that show a mathematical idea in a particular form: $x^3 + 4$ is an algebraic expression.

ex·pres·sion·less /ɪk'spreʃənli/ adj. an expressionless face or voice does not show what someone is thinking or feeling ex·pres·sive /ɪk'spresɪv/ adj. showing what someone is thinking or feeling: expressive eyes ex·press·ly /ɪk'spresli/ adv. (formal) clearly and firmly: Mr. Samson expressly asked you to leave.

ex·press·way /ɪk'spres,weɪ/ n. [C] a wide road in a city on which cars can travel fast

THESAURUS road, street, main street, avenue, lane, main road, the main drag, highway, freeway, toll road, turnpike → ROAD ex·pro·pri·ate /ɛks'proupri,et/ v. [T] (formal) to take away someone's private property for public use —expropriation /ɛks,proupri'eɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

ex·pul·sion /ɪk'spʌlʃən/ n. [C,U] the official act of making someone leave a place: the expulsion of Communists from the government

ex·punge /ɪk'spʌndʒ/ v. [T] (formal) to remove or deliberately forget something such as a name or piece of information: The arrest was later expunged from his record.

THESAURUS remove, erase, efface → REMOVE ex·pur·gat·ed /'ɛkspə,geɪtɪd/ adj. (formal) an expurgated book, play, etc. has had some parts removed because they are considered harmful or offensive —unexpurgated → ABRIDGED —expurgate v. [T] ex·quis·ite /ɪk'skwɪzɪt, 'ɛkskwɪ-/ adj. beautiful and delicate: an exquisite piece of jewelry —exquisitely adv.

ex·tant /'ɛkstənt, ɛk'stənt/ adj. (formal) still existing in spite of being very old —surviving: The “Book of Changes” is perhaps the oldest extant Chinese work.

ex·tem·po·ra·ne·ous /ɪk,stempə'reɪniəs, ɛk-/ adj. spoken or done without any preparation or practice: an extemporaneous speech

ex·tend /ɪk'stend/ v. 1 [I,T] to continue for a longer period of time, or to make something last longer: The professor agreed to extend the deadline for the papers. | The warm weather extended into November. | The Department of Immigration is extending her visa by another six months. 2 [I] to cover a particular distance or area: The river extends more than 200 miles through the Grand Canyon. 3 [T] to make a room, building, road, etc. bigger: The developer plans to extend Thomas Road to meet Tenth Street. 4 [I,T] to make something include or affect more things or people: My insurance policy can be extended to cover my family too. 5 [T] (formal) to officially offer someone help, thanks, sympathy, etc.: I'd like to extend a warm welcome to our new members. 6 [T] to stretch out your hand, arm, or leg: “Hi, I'm Bill,” he said, extending his hand. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Latin extendere, from tendere “to stretch”]

ex·tended family n. [C] a family group that consists not only of parents and children but also of grandparents, aunts, etc. → NUCLEAR FAMILY

ex·ten·sion /ɪk'stenʃən/ n. 1 [C] a) one of many telephone lines connected to a central system in a large building, which all have different numbers: Hello, I'd like extension 1334, please. | What's your extension number? b) one of the telephones in a house that all have the same number 2 [C usually singular] an extra period of time allowed for something: The professor gave me a two-week extension on my paper. 3 [C,U] the process of making something bigger or longer, or the part that is added in this process: The city is building an extension to the subway line. | an extension of the museum 4 [singular, U] the development of something so that it affects more things or people: an extension of employee health care ex'tension cord n. [C] an additional electric CORD that you attach to another cord in order to make it longer

ex-ten-sive /ɪk'stensɪv/ adj. 1 containing a lot of information and details: Doctors have done extensive research into the effects of stress. | The networks are planning extensive television coverage. 2 large in size, amount, or degree: The flood caused extensive damage to the town. | the extensive use of pesticides

ex-tent /ɪk'stent/ n. 1 [U] how big, important, or serious something is: What's the extent of the damage? | Medical tests were done to determine the extent of his injury. 2 to ... extent used to say how true something is: I do agree with him to some extent/a certain extent (=partly). | Stock prices fell sharply in Asia and Europe and, to a lesser/greater extent, in the United States. 3 to such an extent that/to the extent that used to say how great an effect or change is: The building was damaged to such an extent that it had to be knocked down.

ex-te-ri-or /ɪk'stɪriə/ n. [C] 1 the outside of something (ANT interior): the exterior of the house 2 calm/confident etc. exterior someone's behavior, that often does not show his/her real feelings or nature exterior² adj. on the outside of something (ANT interior): the exterior walls of the church

ex'terior 'angle n. [C] MATH an angle outside a POLYGON (=flat shape with straight sides) that is formed from one of the sides of the polygon and a line continuing out from a side that is next to the first side ex-ter-mi-nate /ɪk'stəməneɪt/ v. [T] to kill all of a particular group of animals or people —exterminator n. [C] —extermination /ɪk'stəməneɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

THESAURUS kill, murder, slaughter, massacre, slay → KILL¹

ex-ter-nal /ɪk'stənl/ (Ac) adj. 1 relating to the outside of something (ANT internal): This medicine is for external use only (=you should put it on your skin and not eat it). | a computer with an external modem 2 from outside your organization, country, university, etc. (ANT internal): external threats to the country's security [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin externus, from exter "on the outside"]

ex-ter-nal-ize /ɪk'stənl,aɪz/ (Ac) v. [T] to express your emotions in words or actions → INTER-NALIZE ex-tinct /ɪk'stɪŋkt/ adj. an extinct plant or animal no longer exists: Activists fear that the tiger may become extinct.

ex-tinc-tion /ɪk'stɪŋkʃən/ n. [U] the state of being extinct: Greenpeace believes that whales are in danger of extinction.

ex-tin-guish /ɪk'stɪŋɡwɪʃ/ v. [T] to make a fire or light stop burning or shining: Please extinguish all cigarettes. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin extinguere, from stinguere "to extinguish"] ex-tin-guish-er /ɪk'stɪŋɡwɪʃə/ n. [C] a FIRE EXTINGUISHER

ex-tol /ɪk'stoʊl/ v. (extolled, extolling) [T] (formal) to praise something very much: Jack was extolling the virtues of being vegetarian.

THESAURUS praise, commend → PRAISE¹

ex-tort /ɪk'stɔrt/ v. [T] to force someone to give you money by threatening him/her: Rebel soldiers have been extorting money from local villages. —extortion /ɪk'stɔrʃən/ n. [U]

ex-tor-tion-ate /ɪk'stɔrʃənɪt/ adj. (disapproving) extortionate prices, demands, etc. are much bigger than they should be

THESAURUS high, astronomical, exorbitant → EXPENSIVE

ex-tra¹ /'ɛkstrə/ adj. 1 [only before noun] more than the usual or standard amount of something: a large mushroom pizza with extra cheese | The company gives employees extra time off to take care of sick family members.

THESAURUS more, another, additional, further, supplemental, supplementary → MORE²

2 [not before noun] if something is extra, it is not included in the price of something and you have to pay more for it: The catalog's prices are good, but shipping is extra.

THESAURUS in addition, on top of sth, as well as sth → ADDITION extra² adv. 1 in addition to the usual things or the usual amount: You have to pay extra if you want to travel first class. 2 used when emphasizing an adjective or adverb: If you're extra good, I'll buy you an ice cream. | Henry's been working extra hard.

extra³ n. [C] 1 something that can be added to a product or service, that makes it cost more: The tour does not include extras, such as meals. 2 an actor who has a small unimportant part in a movie ex-tract¹ /ɪk'strækt/ (Ac) v. [T] 1 (formal) to remove something from a place or thing: I have to have a tooth extracted. | Olive oil is extracted from green olives. 2 to make someone give you information, money, etc. that s/he does not want to give: The police couldn't extract any information from him. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin, past participle of extrahere, from ex “out” + trahere “to pull”] ex-tract² /'ekstrækt/ [Ac] n. 1 [C] a small part taken from a story, poem, etc.: an extract from the article 2 [C,U] a substance that is removed from a plant: vanilla extract

E

ex-trac-tion /'ik'strækʃən/ [Ac] n. 1 [C,U] the process of removing something from something else: the extraction of coal 2 be of French/Irish etc. extraction to be part of a family that came from France, Ireland, etc. in the past, though you were not born in that country

E ex-tra-cur-ric-u-lar /'ekstrəkə'rikyələ/ adj. [only before noun] extracurricular activities are those that you do for fun and are not part of the usual work you do for school ex-tra-dite /'ekstrə'daɪt/ v. [T] LAW to send someone who may be guilty of a crime back to the country where the crime happened —extradition /'ekstrə'dɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

ex-tra-ne-ous /'ik'streɪniəs/ adj. (formal) not directly related to a particular subject: extraneous details

ex-tra-or-di-nar-y /'ik'strɔːdnəri/ adj. very unusual, special, or surprising: an extraordinary talent | an extraordinary event [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin extraordinarius, from extra ordinem “out of the usual course,” from ordo “order”]

THESAURUS surprising, amazing, shocking, astonishing, astounding, staggering, stunning → SURPRISING

ex-trap-o-late /'ik'stræpəleɪt/ v. [I,T] (formal) to use facts about a current situation in order to say what might happen in another ex-tra-ter-res-tri-al /'ekstrətə'restriəl/ adj. in or from a place that is not the Earth: the search for extraterrestrial life —extraterrestrial n. [C] ex-trav-a-gant /'ik'strævəɡənt/ adj. 1 spending or costing too much money: extravagant parties 2 extravagant claims, promises, etc. are not likely to be true [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Medieval Latin, Latin vagans, present participle of vagari “to wander about”] —extravagantly adv. —extravagance n. [C,U]

ex-treme¹ /'ik'strim/ adj. 1 very great in degree: extreme violence | Mountain climbers face extreme danger. 2 very unusual and severe or serious: The soldiers were accused of using extreme methods to question prisoners. | In extreme cases, the spider's bite can kill. 3 extreme opinions are very strong, and most people think they are unreasonable: the party's extreme left wing 4 extreme sport/skiing etc. a sport that is done in a way that is more dangerous than usual extreme² n. 1 [C] something that is much greater, more severe, etc. than usual: the extremes of wealth and poverty | The temperature has gone from one extreme to another (=from hot to cold or cold to hot). | People were willing to go to extremes (=do something to the greatest possible extent) to prevent the prison from being built near their homes. 2 in the extreme extremely: His new movie is violent in the extreme.

ex-treme-ly /'ik'strimli/ adv. to a very great degree: She's extremely pretty. | an extremely difficult job

ex-trem-ist /'ik'strimɪst/ n. [C] (disapproving) someone with very strong political or religious opinions: right-wing extremists —extremist adj. —extremism n. [U]

ex-trem-i-ty /'ik'streməti/ n. (plural extremities) 1 [C] the part that is furthest from the center of something: the city's northern extremity 2 [C, usually plural] one of the parts of your body that is furthest away from the center, for example your fingers or toes ex-tri-cate /'ekstrə'keɪt/ v. [T] to get someone out of a place or a difficult situation: They couldn't extricate themselves from the huge crowd of people.

ex-tro-vert-ed /'ekstrə'vɔːtɪd/ adj. confident and enjoying being with other people [ANT] introverted —extrovert n. [C]

THESAURUS sociable, outgoing, gregarious, affable, genial, convivial → SOCIABLE

ex-u-ber-ant /'ɪɡ'zʊbəɪnt/ adj. very happy, excited, and full of energy: the exuberant bride —exuberance n. [U] ex-ude /'ɪɡ'zʊd, 'ɪksʊd/ v. [T] to show that you have a lot of a particular feeling: On the morning of the big game, the team exuded confidence. [ORIGIN: 1500—1600 Latin exsudare, from sudare “to have liquid coming out through the skin”] ex-ult /'ɪɡ'zʌlt/ v. [I] (formal) to show that you are very happy and proud because you have achieved something: The people exulted over the defeat of their enemy. —exultant adj. —exultation /'ɛgzʌl'teɪʃən, 'eksʌl-/ n. [U]

eye¹ /aɪ/ n. [C]

1 SEE one of the two parts of your face that you see with: Gina has blue/brown etc. eyes. | My eyes are going bad; I think I need glasses. | Close/shut your eyes and go to sleep. | She opened her eyes. | He spoke with tears in his eyes. | Dave is blind in one eye. | blue-eyed/bright-eyed etc.

COLLOCATIONS

If you lower your eyes, you look down.
Your eyes narrow if you are watching something carefully or thinking hard about something.
Your eyes widen if you are surprised, afraid, etc.
Your eyes sparkle if you are excited or very happy.

2 SEE/UNDERSTAND a particular way of seeing, judging, or understanding something: The story is told through the eyes of a young boy. | a good eye for detail

3 keep an eye on sb/sth (informal) to watch someone or something to make sure nothing bad happens: Can you keep an eye on the baby while I go to the store?

4 lay/set eyes on sb/sth (spoken) to see someone or something, especially for the first time: The first time I laid eyes on him, I knew I liked him.

5 cannot take your eyes off sb/sth to be unable to stop looking at someone or something because s/he or it is attractive or interesting: When I watch him play, I just can't take my eyes off him.

6 eye contact a situation in which you look directly at someone while s/he is looking at you: I made a point of making eye contact with Marcus. | Tina avoided eye contact with her mother.

7 keep an eye out for sb/sth to be ready to notice someone or something when he, she, or it appears: Keep an eye out for Rick's car.

8 in the eyes of the law/world/police etc. in the opinion or judgment of the law, world, etc.: Divorce is a sin in the eyes of the Catholic Church.

9 have your eye on sb to notice someone that you think is attractive or interesting: Mark really has his eye on Yvonne.

10 have your eye on sth to want something that you think might become available: Harris has his eye on a two-story house in Woodside.

11 see eye to eye if two people or groups see eye to eye, they have the same opinions about something: Baker and Quinn don't always see eye to eye on every issue.

12 close/open your eyes to sth to ignore something bad that is happening, or to start to realize that something bad is happening: The trip opened his eyes to the poverty in the area.

13 NEEDLE the hole in a needle, that you put thread through

14 the eye of a storm/hurricane/tornado the calm center of a big storm

15 an eye for an eye the idea that if people do something wrong, you should punish them by doing the same thing to them [ORIGIN: Old English eage] → catch sb's eye at CATCH¹, look sb in the eye at LOOK¹ eye² v. (past tense and past participle eyed, present participle eyeing or eying) [T] to look at someone or something with great interest: Sarah kept eyeing my boyfriend all night.

eye-ball /'aɪbɒl/ n. [C] the whole of your eye, including the part inside your head → see picture at EYE¹

eye-brow /'aɪbraʊ/ n. [C] the line of short hairs above your eye → see picture at EYE¹

'eye-catching adj. unusual, attractive, or noticeable: an eye-catching dress

THESAURUS

noticeable, obvious, striking, evident, conspicuous, unmistakable → NOTICEABLE eye-lash /'aɪləʃ/ n. [C] one of the small hairs that grow on the edge of your eyelid → see picture at EYE¹ eye-lid /'aɪ,lɪd/ n. [C] the piece of skin that covers your eye when it is closed → see picture at EYE¹

eye-lin-er /'aɪ,lɪnə/ n. [C,U] a type of MAKEUP that you put in a thin line along the edges of your eyelids

'eye-opener n. [C usually singular] an experience from which you learn something new or surprising: Seeing inside a prison was a real eye-opener for me.

eye-piece /'aɪpɪs/ n. [C] SCIENCE the glass piece that you look through in a MICROSCOPE or TELESCOPE → see picture at MICROSCOPE eye-shad-ow /'aɪ,ʃædɒ/ n. [U] colored MAKEUP that you put on your eyelids to make them look attractive eye-sight /'aɪsart/ n. [U] the ability to see: Grandma is slowly losing her eyesight.

eye-sore /'aɪsɔr/ n. [C] something that is very ugly, especially a building surrounded by other things that are not ugly eye-wit-ness /,aɪ'wɪt'nɪs, 'aɪ,wɪt'nɪs/ n. [C] someone who has seen a crime or accident: an eyewitness account of the incident

Ff

F, f /ɛf/ the sixth letter of the English alphabet

F¹ /ɛf/ n. 1 [C] a GRADE that a teacher gives to a student's work to show that s/he has failed: Jill got an F in Physics. 2 [C,U] ENG. LANG. ARTS the fourth note in the musical SCALE of C, or the musical KEY based on this note

F² 1 PHYSICS the written abbreviation of FAHRENHEIT 2 the written abbreviation of FEMALE fa-ble /'feɪbəl/ n. [C] a traditional story that teaches a moral lesson

THESAURUS

story, tale, myth, legend, yarn, narrative, anecdote → STORY fab-ric /'fæbrɪk/ n. 1 [C,U] cloth 2 [singular] the structure and CUSTOMS of a society: Discrimination is threatening the whole fabric of society. [ORIGIN: 1400–1500 Old French fabrique, from Latin fabrica “thing made, place where things are made”] fab-ri-cate /'fæbrə,keɪt/ v. [T] to make up a story, piece of information, etc. in order to deceive someone: He later admitted that he had fabricated the whole story. —fabrication /,fæbrə'keɪʃən/ n. [C,U] fab-u-lous /'fæbyələs/ adj. 1 very good: You look fabulous! 2 unusually large in amount or size: a fabulous sum of money —fabulously adv.

fa-cade, façade /fə'sɑːd/ n. [C] 1 [usually singular] a way of behaving that hides your real feelings or character: Behind that cheerful facade she's really a lonely person. 2 the front of a building

face¹ /feɪs/ n. [C] 1 the front of your head, where your eyes, nose, and mouth are: Jodi has such a pretty face. | He had a surprised look on his face. | Keith was lying face down (=with his face toward the ground) on the bed. | a round-faced man → see picture on page A3 2 an expression on someone's face: the children's happy faces | Carl was making faces at Lisa (=making expressions with his face to try to annoy her or make her laugh). | I just couldn't keep a straight face (=avoid laughing). | When I told Garry I was quitting, you should have seen his face (=used to say that someone was very angry, surprised, etc.). 3 a person: There are a few new faces in class this year. | It was so nice to see a friendly face. 4 face to face a) while physically close to someone: I've spoken to her on the phone but I've never met her face to face. b) in a situation in which you experience something difficult and have to deal with it: It was the first time he'd ever come face to face with death. 5 in the face of sth in a difficult or dangerous situation: Delmore kept his composure in the face of racial threats. 6 the front or surface of something: a clock face | the north face of Mount Rainier → see picture at WATCH² 7 lose/save face to lose or avoid losing the respect of other people → FACE-SAVING 8 to sb's face if you say something to someone's face, you say it directly to that person when you are with him/her 9 on the face of it when you first consider something, before you know the details: On the face of it, the data is not very helpful. 10 in your face (informal) behavior, remarks, etc. that are in your face are very direct and often shocking or surprising: an “in your face” style of politics

face² v. [T] 1 also face up to sth to accept that a difficult situation or problem exists: Randy refuses to face the fact that he needs help. | Let's face it — nobody wants to hire someone my age. | It's time to face up to the truth and admit there is a problem. 2 also be faced with sth to have to deal with a difficult situation: She's faced with some very tough choices. | Jones is facing up to 20 years in jail. 3 sb can't face (doing) sth used in order to say that someone does not feel able to do something, especially because it upsets him/her: I can't face going back to work again. 4 to be looking at or pointing toward someone or something: Dean turned to face me. | a north-facing window | My apartment faces the ocean. 5 to talk to or deal with someone, when this is difficult: You're going to have to face him sooner or later. 6 to play against an opponent or team in a game or competition: The Jets face the Dolphins in two weeks.

face sb ↔ down phr. v. to deal in a strong and confident way with someone who opposes you: Frost faced down a serious challenge from his opponent.

face off phr. v. to get in a position in which you are ready to fight, argue, or compete with someone: The two candidates will face off in the election in November.

face-less /'feɪslɪs/ adj. (disapproving) a faceless person, organization, etc. is not clearly known and seems unfriendly or not worth caring about face-lift /'feɪslɪft/ n. [C] 1 a medical operation to make your face look younger 2 work or repairs that make something look newer or better: The offices were given a facelift.

'face-saving adj. [only before noun] a face-saving action or arrangement prevents you from losing other people's respect: a face-saving agreement fac-et /'fæsɪt/ n. [C] one of several parts of someone's character, a situation, etc.: You've only seen one facet of his personality.

fa-ce-tious /fə'sɪʃəs/ adj. (disapproving) saying things in order to be funny, in a way that is annoying or not appropriate —facetiously adv.

face-to-'face adj. [only before noun] a face-to-face meeting, conversation, etc. is one where you are with another person and talking to them: a face-to-face interview face 'value n. 1 take sth at face value to accept what you are told without thinking carefully first: Don't take anything Burgess tells you at face value. 2 [singular, U] the value or cost shown on a coin, ticket, etc.

fa-cial¹ /'feɪʃəl/ adj. on or relating to the face: facial hair facial² n. [C] a beauty treatment to clean the skin on your face and make it softer fac-ile /'fæsəl/ adj. (disapproving) too simple and showing a lack of careful thought or understanding: a facile solution fa-cil-i-tate /fə'sɪlə,teɪt/ (Ac) v. [T] (formal) to make it easier for something to happen: The international network facilitates a quick exchange of information.

THESAURUS help, assist, aid, aid and abet → HELP¹

fa-cil-i-ta-tor /fə'sɪlə,teɪtə/ (Ac) n. [C] (formal) someone or something that helps a process to take place, for example a discussion: A facilitator needs to be a skilled listener.

fa-cil-i-ty /fə'sɪləti/ [Ac] n. (plural facilities) 1 facilities [plural] rooms, equipment, or services that are provided for a particular purpose: The new office building has nursery facilities. 2 [C] a place or building used for a particular purpose: the prison's medical facility 3 [C usually singular] a helpful service or feature that a machine or system has: The phone is equipped with a call-back facility.

fac-sim-i-le /fæk'sɪməli/ n. [C] an exact copy of a picture, piece of writing, etc.

fact /fækt/ n. [C] 1 something that is true: I cannot accept the fact that our marriage is over. | The fact remains that people are still starving. | What are the facts of/in this case? | interesting facts about plants | The fact of the matter is, I don't have enough money. | I know for a fact that he was here last night. 2 in (actual) fact a) used in order to add information: I know her really well. In fact, I had dinner with her last week. b) used in order to emphasize that something is true, especially when it is surprising: It's cheaper to fly, in actual fact. 3 a fact of life something bad that people must accept: Violent crime seems to have become a fact of life. 4 the facts of life the details about sex and how babies are born [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 Latin factum “thing done,” from facere “to do, make”] → as a matter of fact at MATTER¹

fac-tion /'fækʃən/ n. [C] POLITICS a small group of people within a larger group, who have ideas that are different from those of the larger group: a dispute between rival factions in the gang —factional adj.

fac-tor¹ /'fæktər/ [Ac] n. [C] 1 one of several things that influence or cause a situation: The weather could be an important/major/key factor in tomorrow's game. | Crime is due to economic/social factors. | We liked both houses, but the location was the deciding factor (=most important factor). 2 a particular level on a scale that measures how strong or effective something is: Strong north winds mean that the windchill factor will make the temperature seem much lower. 3 MATH a number that divides into another number exactly: 3 is a factor of 15. [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French facteur, from Latin factor “doer, maker,” from facere “to do, make”]

factor² [Ac] v. [T] MATH to divide a number into factors factor sth ↔ in phr. v. to include a particular thing when you are deciding how long something will take, how much it will cost, etc.: I made more money than my father had at my age, even factoring in inflation.

factor sth ↔ out phr. v. to not include something when you are deciding how long something will take, how much it will cost, etc.: If China is factored out, the number of children per family in the developing world is 4.4.

fac-to-ri-al /fæk'tɔəriəl/ n. [C] MATH the result when you multiply a whole number by all the numbers below or equal to it: factorial 3 = 3 × 2 × 1 fac-to-ry /'fæktəri/ n. (plural factories) [C] a building where goods are produced in large quantities: a shoe factory fac-tu-al /'fæktʃuəl/ adj. based on or relating to facts: The movie has many factual errors. —factually adv.

fac-ul-ty /'fækəlti/ n. (plural faculties) 1 [C,U] all the teachers in a school or college, or in a particular department of a school or college: a faculty meeting | the history faculty 2 [C usually plural] a natural ability, such as the ability to see or think: He wants to make out a will while he still has all his faculties (=is still able to see, hear, think, etc. in the normal way).

fad /fæd/ n. [C] something that is very popular for a short period of time: the newest fitness fad

THESAURUS bestseller, blockbuster, hit, craze, cult → POPULAR fade /feɪd/ v. 1 [I] also fade away to gradually disappear: Hopes of a peace settlement are beginning to fade. | Their faces have faded from my memory now. 2 [I,T] to lose color or brightness, or to make something do this: faded jeans fade (sth ↔) out phr. v. to disappear slowly or become quieter, or to make a picture or sound do this: The radio signal faded out.

Fahr-en-heit /'færən,haɪt/ n. [U] PHYSICS (written abbreviation F) a temperature scale in which water freezes at 32° and boils at 212° → CELSIUS [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Gabriel Fahrenheit (1686–1736), German scientist]

fail¹ /feɪl/ v. 1 [I] to be unsuccessful in what you are trying to do [ANT] succeed: It looks likely that the peace talks will fail. | Doctors failed to save the girl's life. | President Clinton failed in his efforts to reform the health care system. | He failed in his attempt to regain the world title. 2 [I] to not do what is expected, needed, or wanted: Larry failed to present his proposal on time. | She felt she had failed in her duty as a parent. 3 [I,T] if you fail a test, or if someone fails you, you do not pass it [ANT] pass: I failed my math test. | The teacher had no choice but to fail her. 4 [I] if a machine, a part of your body, etc. fails, it stops working: The engine failed just after the plane took off. | her failing eyesight 5 [I] if a business fails, it has to stop operating because of a lack of money 6 fail sb to not do what someone has trusted you to do: I feel I've failed my children by not spending more time with them. 7 I fail to see/understand (spoken, formal) used in order to show that you are annoyed by something that you do not accept or understand: I fail to see the humor in this situation. 8 sb's courage/nerve fails them if your courage, etc. fails you, you suddenly do not have it when you need it [ORIGIN: 1200–1300 Old French faillir, from Latin fallere “to deceive, disappoint”] —failed adj. [only before noun]: a failed marriage

F

fail² n. without fail if you do something without fail, you always do it: Barry comes over every Friday without fail.

fail-ing¹ /'feɪlɪŋ/ n. [C] a fault or weakness: He loved her in spite of her failings.

failing² prep. used in order to say that if one thing is not possible, there is something else you could try: You could try to fix it yourself, or, failing that, call a plumber.

fail-safe adj. 1 a fail-safe machine, piece of equipment, etc. will stop working if one part of it breaks or stops working correctly 2 a fail-safe plan is certain to succeed fail-ure /'ferljə/ n. 1 [U] a lack of success in achieving or doing something (ANT success): The recession caused the failure of many small businesses. | Poor soil can result in a plant's failure to grow. | The whole project ended in failure. 2 [C] someone or something that is not successful (ANT success): I feel like such a failure. | The plan to expand the company overseas was a complete/total failure. 3 [C,U] an occasion when a machine or part of your body stops working in the correct way: He died of heart failure. | A mechanical failure caused the plane to crash. 4 failure to do sth the fact that someone has not done something that s/he should have done: Failure to show proof of car insurance to an officer will result in a fine.

faint¹ /feɪnt/ adj. 1 difficult to see, hear, or smell: a faint sound 2 a faint possibility/chance etc. a very small possibility, etc.: There's a faint hope that they're still alive. 3 [not before noun] feeling weak and unsteady: He was faint with hunger 4 not have the faintest idea to not know anything at all about something: I don't have the faintest idea what you're talking about. —faintly adv.

faint² v. [I] to become unconscious for a short time —faint n. [C] fair¹ /fɛr/ adj.

1 REASONABLE reasonable, right, and accepted by most people (ANT unfair): What do you think is the fairest solution? | We paid what we think is a fair price. | It's fair to say that both sides were happy with the agreement. | I felt it was fair to let our employees know what was going on.

2 EQUAL treating everyone equally or in the right way (ANT unfair): Why does Eric get to go and I don't? It's not fair! | The law isn't fair to women.

THESAURUS

just – morally right and fair: a just ruler reasonable – fair and sensible: a reasonable request equitable (formal) – fair and equal to everyone involved: an equitable solution balanced – fair and sensible: balanced news coverage

even-handed – giving fair and equal treatment to everyone: He was very even-handed in the way he treated employees.

impartial – not giving special attention or support to any one person or group: A trial must have an impartial judge and jury.

unbiased – fair, and not influenced by your own or other people's opinions: accurate, unbiased information

3 AVERAGE neither very good nor very bad (SYN average): Her written work is excellent but her lab work is only fair.

4 ACCORDING TO RULES played or done according to the rules: free and fair elections

5 have more than your fair share of sth to have more problems than other people, in a way that seems unfair: Tim's had more than his fair share of bad luck this year.

6 HAIR/SKIN someone who is fair, or has fair skin or hair, has skin or hair that is light in color (ANT dark)

7 WEATHER weather that is fair is pleasant and not windy or rainy

8 fair game if someone or something is fair game, it is reasonable and right to criticize him/her or it: If you're in show business, your personal life is considered fair game.

9 give sb/get a fair shake (informal) to treat someone, or to be treated, in a way that gives everyone the same chances as everyone else: Women don't always get a fair shake in business. [ORIGIN: Old English fæger “beautiful”] —fairness n. [U] fair² adv. 1 fair and square in a fair and honest way: They won fair and square. 2 play fair to play or behave in a fair and honest way fair³ n. [C] 1 an outdoor event, at which there are large machines to ride on, games to play, and sometimes farm animals being judged and sold: a state/county fair 2 an event at which people or businesses show and sell their products: a trade/book, etc. fair fair-ground /'fergraʊnd/ n. [C] an open space on which a fair takes place fair-ly /'ferli/ adv. 1 more than a little, but much less than very: She speaks English fairly well. | The recipe is fairly simple.

THESAURUS rather, pretty, quite, kind of → RATHER

2 in a way that is fair and reasonable: I felt that I hadn't been treated fairly.

fair-way /'ferwei/ n. [C] the part of a GOLF COURSE that you hit the ball along toward the hole fair-y /'feri/ n. (plural fairies) [C] an imaginary magical creature like a very small person [ORIGIN:

1300—1400 Old French faerie “fairyland,” from fae “fairy,” from Latin fatum “fate”]

'fairy tale n. [C] a children's story in which magical things happen faith /feɪθ/ n. 1 [U] a strong feeling of trust in someone or something: My faith in his ability was justified. | I have great faith in her ability to succeed. | People seem to have lost faith in the justice system. 2 [U] belief and trust in God: a man of deep religious faith | his faith in God 3 good faith honest and sincere intentions: He claimed he sold me the car in good faith (=without meaning to deceive me). 4 [C] a religion: the Jewish/Muslim/Christian etc. faith

THESAURUS

religion – belief in one or more gods, or a particular system of beliefs in one or more gods: a book about world religions belief – an idea or set of ideas that you think are true: She has strong religious beliefs.
creed – a set of beliefs or principles: The scholarship is available to anyone, regardless of race, creed, or color.

faith-ful /'feɪθfəl/ adj. 1 remaining loyal and continuing to support someone or something: a faithful friend | He remained faithful to his beliefs.

THESAURUS

loyal – always supporting a particular person, set of beliefs, or country: a loyal friend devoted – giving someone or something a lot of love, concern, and attention: a devoted mother staunch – very loyal: staunch supporters of the president steadfast – very loyal and continuing to support someone or something in spite of problems: She had always been a steadfast Republican.
true – faithful and loyal, and doing what you have promised to do: She stayed true to her husband during the trial.

2 loyal to your wife, BOYFRIEND, etc. by not having a sexual relationship with anyone else (ANT) unfaithful: She hasn't always been faithful to me, but I love her anyway. 3 representing an event or image exactly: The movie is faithful to the book. —faithfulness n. [U] faith-ful-ly /'feɪθfəli/ adv. in a faithful way: He visited his aunt faithfully.

fake¹ /feɪk/ n. [C] 1 a copy of a valuable object that is intended to deceive people: We thought it was a Picasso, but it was a fake. 2 someone who does not really have the knowledge, skills, etc. that s/he claims to have: It turned out her doctor was a fake.

fake² adj. made to look or seem like something else in order to deceive people: fake fur | She used a fake name to apply for a credit card.

THESAURUS

counterfeit – counterfeit money or a counterfeit product is made to look real in order to deceive people: counterfeit credit cards | counterfeit lottery tickets | a million dollars in counterfeit bills phony – not real and intended to deceive people: a phony birth certificate forged – used about writing or documents that have been illegally copied in order to deceive people: forged passports

THESAURUS

artificial, synthetic, simulated, man-made, imitation, false, virtual → ARTIFICIAL fake³ v. 1 [T] to make something seem real in order to deceive people: He faked his uncle's signature on the check. 2 [I,T] to pretend to be sick, interested, pleased, etc. when you are not: I thought he was really hurt but he was just faking it.

fal-con /'fælkən, 'fɔl-/ n. [C] a large bird that is often trained to hunt small animals fall¹ /fɔl/ v. (past tense fell /fɛl/, past participle fallen /'fɔlən/)

1 MOVE DOWNWARD [I] to drop down toward the ground → PLUMMET: Snow began to fall. | Apples had fallen from the trees. | A large tree fell down during the storm.

2 STOP STANDING/WALKING, ETC. [I] to accidentally go down onto the ground when you are standing, walking, etc.: Don't worry, I'll catch you if you fall. | She fell down the stairs. | Sam tripped and fell into a ditch. → see picture on page A9

THESAURUS

trip – to hit your foot against something, so that you fall or nearly fall: Be careful not to trip on that step.
slip – to slide on something that is wet or icy, so that you fall or nearly fall: She slipped on the ice and broke her leg.
stumble – to put your foot down in an awkward way, so that you nearly fall: She stumbled backwards and hit her head on the bed.
lose your balance – to fall, for example, when you are climbing a ladder or riding a bicycle: He was walking on the top of the fence when he lost his balance.

3 LOWER LEVEL/AMOUNT [I] to go down to a lower level or amount (ANT rise): Temperatures should fall below zero tonight. | The number of traffic deaths fell by 10% last year. | The unemployment rate fell to 4.8%.

THESAURUS decrease, go down, drop, plummet, diminish, decline, dwindle → DECREASE¹

4 BECOME [I, linking verb] to begin to be in a new or different state: I fell asleep at 8:30. | Your father and I fell in love when we were in college. | Everyone fell silent as Beth walked in. | The house fell into disrepair.

5 GROUP [I] to be part of a particular group: Most of his novels fall into the science fiction category. | The program falls under the authority of the Department of Education.

6 fall into place if things fall into place, they become clear or start to happen as you want

7 HAPPEN [I] to happen on a particular day or date: Christmas falls on a Monday this year.

8 LIGHT/DARKNESS [I] if light or darkness falls, it makes something brighter or darker: Darkness/Night fell on the city. | A shadow fell across his face.

9 HANG DOWN [I] to hang loosely: Maria's hair fell over her shoulders.

10 fall short (of sth) to be less than is needed or less than you want: Her newest book fell short of my expectations.

11 FACE [I] if your face falls, you suddenly look sad or disappointed

12 fall flat to fail to amuse or interest people: His attempt at humor fell flat.

13 DIE [I] (written) to be killed in a war

14 LOSE POWER [I] to lose power: Saddam Hussein fell from power soon after the invasion. [ORIGIN: Old English feallan]

fall apart phr. v.

1 to separate into many pieces: The old book fell apart in my hands.

2 to stop being effective or successful: The economy was falling apart.

3 to be unable to deal with your personal or emotional problems: When Pam left, I thought I was going to fall apart.

fall back on sth phr. v.

to use something or someone after other things or plans have failed: Athletes need an education to fall back on.

fall behind (sb/sth) phr. v.

to make progress more slowly than other people or than you should: The older walkers soon fell behind. | The manufacturers have fallen behind schedule.

fall for sb/sth phr. v.

1 to be tricked into believing something that is not true: He said he was a police officer and I almost fell for it.

2 to start to love someone: Samantha fell for a man half her age.

fall off phr. v.

1 if part of something falls off, it becomes separated from the main part: This button keeps falling off.

2 to decrease: The demand for cassette tapes has fallen off.

fall out phr. v.

1 if a tooth or your hair falls out, it is no longer attached to your body

2 to argue or fight with someone: Walker recently fell out with his publisher.

fall over phr. v.

to fall to the ground or to fall from an upright position: She fell over and cut her knee. | The Christmas tree fell over.

fall through phr. v.

to fail to happen or be completed: The deal fell through at the last minute.

fall² n. 1 [C,U] the season between summer and winter, when the weather becomes cooler (SYN autumn: Brad's going to Georgia Tech in the fall. | Dad's going to retire this fall. | last/next fall (=the fall before or after this one) 2 [C] a decrease in the level, quantity, price, etc. of something (ANT rise: a sudden fall in temperature | a fall of 25% in unemployment) 3 [C] a movement down toward the ground: He had a bad fall from a ladder. | He put his hand down to break his fall (=prevent himself from falling too quickly and hurting himself). 4 [singular] a situation when someone or something is defeated or loses power: the fall of Communism in East Germany | the party's fall from power 5 falls [plural] a WATERFALL fallacious /fəˈleɪʃəs/ adj. (formal) containing or based on false ideas: a fallacious statement —fallaciously adv.

fallacy /ˈfæləsi/ n. (plural fallacies) [C] a false idea or belief: the fallacy that money brings happiness fall-en /ˈfɒlən/ v. the past participle of FALL

'fall guy n. [C] (informal) someone who is punished for someone else's crime or mistake fallible /ˈfæləbəl/ adj. able to make a mistake (ANT infallible: Steyer's murder trial showed that the justice system is fallible. —fallibility /ˈfæləˈbɪləti/ n. [U]) fall-o-pi-an tube /fəˈloʊpiən ˈtub/ n. [C] BIOLOGY one of the two tubes in a female's body through which her eggs move to her UTERUS fall-out /ˈfɒləʊt/ n. [U] 1 the bad results or effects of an event: The fallout from the scandal cost him his job. 2 the dangerous RADIOACTIVE dust that is in the air after a NUCLEAR explosion false /fɔːls/ adj. 1 untrue or wrong: He gave the police false information. | Are these statements true or false? | The article gave a false impression of the company's finances.

THESAURUS wrong, incorrect, erroneous, inaccurate, misleading, fallacious → WRONG¹

2 not real, but intended to seem real: He gave a false name. | false eyelashes

THESAURUS fake, counterfeit, phony, forged → FAKE² artificial, synthetic, fake, man-made, simulated, imitation → ARTIFICIAL

3 not sincere or honest: Her smile and welcome seemed false. 4 false alarm a situation in which people wrongly think that something bad is going to happen 5 false start an unsuccessful attempt to begin a process or event 6 under false pretenses if you get something under false pretenses, you get it by deceiving people [ORIGIN: 900—1000 Latin falsus, from fallere “to deceive”] —falsely adv.: a man falsely accused of murder falsehood /ˈfɒlshʊd/ n. [C] (formal) a statement that is untrue

THESAURUS lie, fib, white lie, story, fabrication, slander, libel → LIE³ false 'teeth n. [plural] DENTURES false-set-to /ˈfɒl'setʊ/ n. (plural falsestos) [C] a very high male voice —falsestto adv.

false-si-fy /ˈfɒlsəˌfaɪ/ v. (falsified, falsifies) [T] to change figures, records, etc. so that they contain false information: He was accused of falsifying the company's records. —falsification /ˌfɒlsəˈkeɪʃən/ n. [C,U]

THESAURUS lie, make sth up, tell (sb) a lie, invent, mislead, deceive, perjure yourself/commit perjury → LIE² false-ter /ˈfɒltə/ v. [I] 1 to become weaker: The economy is faltering. 2 to speak or move in a way that seems weak or uncertain: She faltered for a moment.

fame /feɪm/ n. [U] the state of being known about by a lot of people because of your achievements: Elizabeth Taylor's rise to fame came in the movie “National Velvet.” | Johnny Depp first gained/won/achieved fame on the television program “21 Jump Street.” → claim to fame *at CLAIM*² famed /feɪmd/ adj. (written) well-known: The Rocky Mountains are famed for their beauty.

fa-mil-i-ar /fəˈmɪlɪə/ adj. 1 well-known to you and easy to recognize: Your face looks familiar to me. | a room full of familiar faces (=people you know) | The details are familiar to anyone who has followed the case. | The story covers familiar ground/territory. 2 be familiar with sth to know about something: Are you familiar with his books? 3 (disapproving) too informal and friendly with someone you do not know very well: The waiter was a bit too familiar. —familiarly adv.: Robert is familiarly known as Bob.

fa-mil-i-ar-i-ty /fəˈmɪlɪəˈrɪti, -ˌmɪlɪˈær-/ n. [U] 1 a good knowledge of something: her familiarity with this software 2 a relaxed feeling or way of behaving because you know a person or place well: the familiarity of home fa-mil-i-ar-ize /fəˈmɪlɪəˌraɪz/ v. familiarize yourself with sth to learn about something so that you know it well: I spent the first week familiarizing myself with my new job. —familiarization /fəˈmɪlɪəˌraɪzən/ n. [U]

fam-ily /ˈfæmli, -məli/ n. (plural families) 1 [C,U] a group of people who are related to each other, especially parents and their children: Do you know the family next door? | The car will comfortably seat a family of five. | I know her whole/entire family. | Heart disease runs in our family (=is common in our family).

COLLOCATIONS

Your immediate family includes the people you are very closely related to, such as your parents, brothers, sisters, and children.

A nuclear family is a family that has a father, mother, and children.

Your extended family includes all of your relatives such as aunts, uncles, cousins, and grandparents.

F

THESAURUS

relative — a member of your family: Most of my relatives are in California.

relation — a member of your family: Hugh is a distant relation of mine.

folks — your parents or family: Where do your folks live?

kin (old-fashioned) — your family: We were her only kin.

2 [C] children: Steve and Linda want to start a family (=have children). | a great place to raise a family 3 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a group of languages that share the same origin: Spanish and Italian are part of the Romance language family. 4 [C] BIOL-OGY the groups into which scientists divide animals and plants. A family is larger than a GENUS but smaller than an ORDER: tigers and other members of the cat family [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 familia “people living in a house,” from Latin famulus “servant”]

'family name n. [C] the name someone shares with other members of his/her family (SYN) last name

'family 'planning n. [U] the practice of controlling the number of children you have by using CONTRACEPTION

'family room n. [C] a room in a house where the family can play games, watch television, etc.

'family 'tree n. [C] a drawing that shows the names of the members of a family over a period of time and how they are related to each other fam·ine /'fæmɪn/ n. [C,U] a situation in which a large number of people have little or no food for a long time and many people die [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French, Latin fames “hungry condition”] fam·ished /'fæmɪʃt/ adj. (informal) [not before noun] very hungry: What's for dinner? I'm famished.

fa·mous /'feɪməs/ adj. known about by a lot of people: a famous actor | France is famous for its food and wine. | Lake Winnebago is famous as a fishing destination. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French fameus, from Latin fama “report, fame”]
—famously adv. → see also WORLD FAMOUS

THESAURUS

well-known fairly famous and known about by a lot of people: a well-known actor | He is well-known for his charity work. | It's a well-known fact that smoking causes cancer.

legendary — very famous and admired by many people for a long time: the legendary blues guitarist, B.B. King infamous/notorious — famous for doing something bad: Al Capone, the infamous criminal celebrated famous and often impressive or important: the celebrated South African leader Nelson Mandela renowned/noted famous, especially for a particular quality, skill, etc.: a renowned civil rights leader | The area is noted for its wildlife.

distinguished/eminent well-known, especially for serious work in science, the arts, etc.: a distinguished author | an eminent professor

fan¹ /fæn/ n. [C] 1 someone who likes a particular sport, type of music, etc. very much, or who admires a famous person: a hockey/jazz/Yankee etc. fan | He was a big fan of Elvis Presley. 2 a machine with blades that turn and make the air move in order to make a room feel cooler 3 an object that you wave with your hand in order to make yourself feel cooler

fan² v. (fanned, fanning) [T] to make air move by waving a fan, piece of paper, etc.: She fanned her face with a newspaper.

fan out phr. v. if a group of people fan out, they walk forward while spreading over a wide area: Thousands of soldiers and police fanned out across the state.

fa·nat·ic /fə'nætɪk/ n. [C] 1 someone who has extreme religious or political ideas and may be dangerous: a religious fanatic 2 someone who likes a particular thing or activity very much: a fitness fanatic —fanatical adj. —fanaticism /fə'nætɪsɪzəm/ n. [U] fan·ci·ful /'fænsɪfəl/ adj. imagined rather than based on facts: fanciful ideas

'fan club n. [C] an organization for fans of a particular team, famous person, etc.

fan·cy¹ /'fænsi/ adj. (comparative fancier, superlative fanciest) 1 expensive and fashionable: a fancy hotel

THESAURUS expensive, pricey, costly, overpriced, posh → EXPENSIVE

2 unusual and complicated or having a lot of decorations: I'd just like plain brown shoes, nothing fancy.

fancy² n. [singular] (old-fashioned) a feeling that you like something or someone: Grant's taken a fancy to you.

fancy³ v. (fancied, fancies) fancy yourself sth to believe, usually wrongly, that something is true: Hiram fancied himself a good writer.

fan·fare /'fænfər/ n. [C] a short piece of music played on a TRUMPET to introduce an important person or event fang /fæŋ/ n. [C] a long sharp tooth of an animal such as a snake or dog → see picture on page A2

'fan mail n. [U] letters sent to famous people by their fans fan·ta·size /'fæntə'saɪz/ v. [I,T] to think about something that is pleasant or exciting, but unlikely to happen: I used to fantasize about buying a boat and sailing around the world.

THESAURUS imagine, visualize, picture, daydream → IMAGINE fan·tas·tic /fæn'tæstɪk/ adj. 1 extremely good: You look fantastic! | He's doing a fantastic job. | "I passed my math test!" "Fantastic!"

THESAURUS good, great, excellent, wonderful, outstanding, exceptional, superb, first-class, ace → GOOD¹ nice, enjoyable, pleasant, great, wonderful → NICE

2 very large: She spends fantastic amounts of money on clothes. 3 a fantastic story, creature, or place is so strange that you think you must be imagining it: a fantastic landscape that rivals any in our imaginations —fantastically adv.

fan·ta·sy /'fæntəsi, -zi/ n. (plural fantasies) [C,U] an experience or situation that you imagine but is not real: When I was young, I had fantasies about becoming a race car driver. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French fantasie, from Latin phantasia, from Greek, “appearance, imagination”]

FAQ /fæk, ˌef ɪ 'kjuː/ n. [C usually plural] fre-quently asked question a question that people often ask about something, which is shown together with its answer: There's a section with tax FAQs.

far¹ /fɑː/ adv. (comparative farther or further, superlative farthest or furthest)

1 DISTANCE a) a long distance: I don't want to drive very far. | Let's see who can swim the farthest. | They found the body not too far from here. | His office is a little farther down the hallway. | The boat had moved farther away from the dock. ▶ Don't say “I walked far.” say “I walked a long way.” ◀ b) used when asking the distance between two places, or when talking about the distance between two places: How far is Boston from here?

2 A LOT/VERY MUCH very much, or to a great degree: Our new car is far better than the old one. | Dinner cost far more/less than I expected. | It would take me far too long to explain. | This is by far the best movie she's ever made.

3 PROGRESS used in order to talk about how much progress someone makes: We only got as far as the first ten minutes of the video. | Republicans claimed that the bill did not go far enough (=did not have a big enough effect). | She's a good dancer and should go far (=be very successful).

4 TIME in the past or in the future: The church dates as far back as the 12th century. | They worked far into the night. | Let's not plan too far ahead.

5 so far until now: We haven't had any problems so far.

6 go too far to do something that is too extreme: He's always been a little rude, but this time he went too far.

7 go so far as to do sth to do something that seems surprising or extreme: He even went so far as to call her a liar.

8 far from sth used to say that something is not at all true: The deal is far from certain.

9 not go far if money does not go far, you cannot buy very much with it: A dollar doesn't go far anymore.

SPOKEN PHRASES

10 as far as I know also as far as I can remember/tell used to say that you think something is true, but you may be wrong: Cole wasn't even there, as far as I can remember.

11 so far so good used to say that something has been successful until now: "How's your new job?" "So far so good."

→ as far as sb's concerned at CONCERNED

GRAMMAR

When you are talking about distances, you can use far in questions and negative sentences: "How far is it to your house?" "It's not very far." You can also use far after "too," "as," and "so": It's too far to walk. | She ran as far as she could. | The star is so far away that you can only just see it.

But do not use far in other kinds of sentence. For example, do not say "It's far to my house from here." Say: "It's a long way to the next town from here."

far² adj. (comparative farther or further, superlative farthest or furthest) 1 a long distance away (ANT) near: We can walk if it's not far. → see picture at NEAR² 2 the far side/end etc. the side, etc. most distant from where you are: the far side of the building 3 the far north/south etc. the part of an area that is furthest to the north, the south, etc.: Nguyen was born in the far south of Vietnam. 4 the far left/right people who have extreme political opinions 5 be a far cry from sth to be very different from something: Europe was a far cry from what Tom had expected.

far-a-way /'fɑrə,weɪ/ adj. 1 (literary) distant: faraway lands 2 a faraway look an expression on your face that shows that you are not thinking about what is around you farce /fɑrs/ n. 1 [singular] an event or situation that is badly organized and does not happen in the way that it should: The trial was a total farce. 2 [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a humorous play or movie in which a lot of silly things happen [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 French, Latin farciare "to stuff (= fill with a mixture of cut-up food);" because early religious plays often had humorous parts put into them] —farcical adj.

fare¹ /fɛr/ n. 1 [C] the price you pay to travel by train, airplane, bus, etc.: Air/Bus/Train fares are going up again.

THESAURUS cost, expense, price, charge, fee, rent, rate → COST¹

2 [U] food, especially food served in a restaurant: vegetarian fare

fare² v. fare well/better/badly etc. (formal) to be successful or unsuccessful in a particular situation: Polls suggest Kramer will fare well in the election.

Far 'East n. the Far East the countries in the east of Asia, such as China, Japan, Korea, etc.

fare-well /,fɛr'wel/ n. 1 [C] (old-fashioned) the action of saying goodbye: We bid farewell to our friends. | a farewell speech 2 a farewell party/drink a party or drink that you have with someone who is leaving far-'fetched adj. unlikely to be true, and so difficult to believe: Her story was pretty far-fetched.

far-'flung adj. very far away: a far-flung region of Alaska

farm¹ /fɑrm/ n. [C] an area of land used for raising animals or growing crops: farm animals | I grew up on a farm. | a dairy/hog/cattle etc. farm [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French ferme "rent, lease," from Latin fīrmus "firm, fixed"] farm² v. [I,T] to use land for raising animals or growing crops: Our family has farmed here for years.

farm-er /'fɑrmə/ n. [C] someone who owns or manages a farm farm-hand /'fɑrmhænd/ n. [C] someone who works on a farm farm-ing /'fɑrmɪŋ/ n. [U] the activity of raising animals or growing crops on a farm farm-land /'fɑrmlænd/ n. [U] land used for farming farm-yard /'fɑrmyəd/ n. [C] an area with farm buildings around it far-off adj. (literary) a long distance away or a long time ago: a far-off land

F

far-out adj. (informal) unusual or strange: far-out clothes far-reaching adj. having a big influence or effect: far-reaching tax reforms far-sight-ed /'fɑːsʌɪd/ adj. 1 able to see or read things clearly only when they are far away from you (ANT) nearsighted 2 (approving) considering what will happen in the future: farsighted leaders

fart /fɑːt/ v. [I] (informal) an impolite word meaning to make air come out of your BOWELS —fart n. [C] far-ther /'fɑːðə/ adj., adv. the COMPARATIVE of FAR → FURTHER

USAGE

Use farther to talk about distance: The restaurant's just a little farther down the street.
Use further to talk about a greater amount or degree of something, or about a later time in the future: There is likely to be a further increase in oil prices. | I don't want to discuss this matter any further. | No one knows what will happen further in the future.
Many people use further in spoken English to talk about distance, but many teachers think that this is not correct.

far-thest /'fɑːðɪst/ adj., adv. the SUPERLATIVE of FAR → FURTHEST fas-ci-nate /'fæsə,neɪt/ v. [T] to interest you very much: Mechanical things fascinate me. | We were fascinated to learn she had grown up in Kenya. [ORIGIN: 1500–1600 Latin fascinatus, from fascinum “use of (evil) magic”]

fas-ci-nat-ing /'fæsə,neɪtɪŋ/ adj. extremely interesting: a fascinating movie | I found her fascinating.

THESAURUS interesting, intriguing, absorbing, enthralling, engrossing, compelling, gripping, riveting → INTERESTING fas-ci-na-tion /'fæsə'neɪʃən/ n. [singular, U] the state of being very interested in something: Jan had a fascination with/for movie stars.

fas-cism /'fæʃɪzəm/ n. [U] POLITICS an extreme RIGHT-WING political system in which people's lives are completely controlled by the state fas-cist /'fæʃɪst/ n. [C] 1 POLITICS someone who supports fascism 2 someone who has extreme RIGHT-WING political opinions that you do not approve of, but who does not support fascism 3 someone who is cruel and unfair —fascist adj.

fash-ion¹ /'fæʃən/ n. 1 [C,U] something such as a style of clothes or hair that is popular at a particular time: Hats are in fashion again. | Shoes like that went out of fashion years ago. | Miniskirts come back into fashion every few years. | She always buys the latest fashions. 2 [U] the business or study of making or selling clothes: fashion show/model/magazine etc. 3 in a ... fashion (formal) in a particular way: Please return all phone calls in a timely fashion. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French façon, from Latin factio “act of making”] fashion² v. [T] (formal) to shape or make something with your hands or a few tools: Many fans had fashioned home-made banners.

fash-ion-a-ble /'fæʃənəbəl/ adj. popular, especially for a short time (ANT) unfashionable: Long skirts are fashionable now. | a fashionable restaurant | It's become fashionable to wear fake fur.

THESAURUS

trendy – modern and fashionable: trendy restaurants stylish – attractive in a fashionable way: a stylish blue suit designer – designer clothes, watches, etc. are made by someone who is famous for designing fashionable things: a pair of designer jeans be in style/fashion – to be fashionable during a particular period of time: At that time, plaid skirts were in fashion.

'fashion show n. [C] an event at which new styles of clothes are shown to the public fast¹ /fæst/ adj. 1 moving, happening, or doing something quickly (ANT) slow: a fast runner | a fast car | The subway is the fastest way to get downtown. 2 [not before noun] showing time that is later than the true time (ANT) slow: I think my watch is fast. 3 fast track a way of achieving something more quickly than it is normally done: young professionals on the fast track for promotion 4 the fast lane a) an exciting way of living that involves dangerous or expensive activities: She loves life in the fast lane. b) the part of a big road where people drive fastest [ORIGIN: Old English fæst “firm”]

fast² adv. 1 at a great speed, or in not much time: He likes driving fast. | You're learning fast.

THESAURUS

quickly/swiftly – used especially about movement: I ran quickly down the stairs. | Anna looked swiftly up at him.
rapidly/speedily – used especially about the speed at which something happens: Unemployment rose rapidly. | Police reacted speedily to the calls.
at high speed/at great speed – used about movement: The car went around the corner at high speed.
at a rapid rate – used especially about a change: The world is changing at a rapid rate.

2 fast asleep sleeping very deeply 3 firmly or tightly: Walter held fast to the rope. | The boat's stuck fast in the mud. 4 hold fast to sth to continue to believe in or support an idea, principle, etc.: In spite of everything, her father held fast to his religion.

fast³ v. [I] to eat little or no food for a period of time, especially for religious reasons —fast n. [C] fas·ten /'fæsən/ v. 1 [I,T] to join together the two sides of something so that it is closed, or to become joined (ANT) unfasten, undo: Fasten your seat belts. | The skirt fastens at the back.

THESAURUS

attach – to join something firmly to another object or surface: A long lens was attached to the camera.

secure (formal) – to fasten or tie something tightly in a particular position: 'Please fasten your seatbelt and secure all loose objects,' said the flight attendant.

join – to make things connected glue – to join things together using glue tape – to fasten or attach something using tape staple – to join things or attach something using staples (=small pieces of bent wire that go through paper) clip – to join things together using a clip (=a small object that goes over paper to hold it together) tie – to fasten a tie or shoes, etc. by making a knot: Don't forget to tie your shoelaces.

button (up) – to fasten the buttons on a shirt, coat, etc.

zip (up) – to fasten clothes, bags, etc. with a zipper

2 [T] to attach something firmly to another object or surface: Jill fastened a flower to/onto her dress. 3 [T] to firmly close and lock a window, gate, etc.

fas·ten·er /'fæsənə/ n. [C] something such as a button or pin that you use to join something together

'fast food n. [U] food such as HAMBURGERS, that is prepared and served quickly in a restaurant fast 'forward v. [T] to wind a tape or video forward quickly in a machine without watching it → PLAY —fast-forward n. [U] fas·tid·i·ous /fæ'stɪdiəs, fə-/ adj. very careful about small details: He is fastidious about hygiene. —fastidiously adv.

fat¹ /fæt/ adj. 1 weighing too much because you have too much flesh on your body (ANT) thin: Chris thinks he's getting fat. | a big fat guy

THESAURUS

You can call yourself fat, but it is not polite to directly tell other people that they are fat: I'm getting really fat.

overweight – used as a more polite way of describing someone who is fat: He's a little overweight.

big/heavy/large – used as polite ways of describing someone who is big, strong, or fat: a heavy woman in her fifties | He's a pretty big guy.

obese – used about someone who is extremely fat in a way that is dangerous to their health chubby – used about someone, especially a baby or a child, who is slightly fat plump – used to say that someone, especially a woman or a child, is slightly fat in a pleasant way stout – used to say that an adult is slightly fat corpulent (formal) – very fat rotund (formal) – having a fat round body

2 thick or wide (ANT) thin: a fat cigar 3 [only before noun] (informal) containing or worth a lot of money: I should get a nice fat check at the end of the month. 4 fat chance (spoken) said when something is very unlikely to happen: Sean said he'd be here at 5:00? Fat chance. [ORIGIN: Old English fætt]

fat² n. 1 [U] the substance under the skin of people and animals that helps keep them warm 2 [C,U] an oily substance in some foods: food that is low/high in fat | a low-fat/high-fat diet 3 [C,U] an oily substance taken from animals or plants and used in cooking: Fry the potatoes in oil or melted fat.

fa·tal /'feɪtl/ adj. 1 resulting in someone's death: a fatal crash/accident | a fatal shooting | The disease proved fatal (=killed someone). 2 having a very bad effect: Her fatal mistake was to marry too young. | There's a fatal flaw in his argument. —fatally adv.

fa·tal·ism /'feɪtl,ɪzəm/ n. [U] the belief that there is nothing you can do to prevent events from happening —fatalistic /,feɪtl'ɪstɪk/ adj.

fa·tal·i·ty /fer'tæləti, fə-/ n. (plural fatalities) [C] a death in an accident or violent attack: traffic fatalities fate /feɪt/ n. 1 [C] the things that happen to someone, especially bad events: No one knows what the fate of the refugees will be. | He hopes his new restaurant doesn't suffer the same fate as his last one. 2 [U] a power that is believed to control what happens in people's lives: Fate brought us together. | By a lucky twist of fate (=completely unexpected event), we were on the same plane. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 French, Latin fatum "what has been spoken (by the gods)," from fari "to speak"] fat·ed /'feɪtɪd/ adj. be fated to do sth certain to happen or to do something because a mysterious force is controlling events: We were fated to meet.

fate·ful /'feɪtfəl/ adj. having an important, usually bad, effect on future events: a fateful decision fat·free adj. containing no fat: fat-free yogurt fa·ther¹ /'fɑðə/ n. [C] 1 a male parent: a father of four (=a man with four children) → RELATIVE¹ 2, Father a priest, especially in the Roman Catholic Church: Do you know Father Vernon? 3 the father of sth the man who was responsible for starting something: George Washington is the father of our country. [ORIGIN: Old English fæder] father² v. [T] to become a male parent: Taylor denies fathering her 4-month-old son.

F

'father, figure n. [C] an older man whom you trust and respect fa-ther-hood /'fɑðə,hʊd/ n. [U] the state of being a father

'father-in-law n. (plural fathers-in-law) [C] the father of your husband or wife fa-ther-ly /'fɑðə'li/ adj. typical of a kind or concerned father: fatherly advice

'Father's Day n. a holiday in honor of fathers, celebrated in the U.S. and Canada on the third Sunday of June

F fath-om /'fæðəm/ v. [T] to understand what something means after thinking about it carefully: I cannot fathom why it took them so long to respond.

fathom² n. [C] a unit for measuring how deep water is, equal to 6 feet or 1.83 meters fa-tigue /fə'tɪg/ n. [U] 1 extreme tiredness: They were weak with fatigue after walking so far without food. 2 fatigues [plural] loose-fitting army clothes 3 PHYSICS weakness in a substance such as metal that may cause it to break —fatigue v. [T] fat-ten /'fæt'n/ v. [T] to make an animal become fatter so that it is ready to eat fatten sb/sth ↔ up phr. v. to make a thin person or animal fatter: Grandma's always trying to fatten me up.

fat-ten-ing /'fæt'n-ɪŋ/ adj. likely to make you fat: I try to stay away from fattening foods.

fat-ty /'fæti/ adj. containing a lot of fat: fatty foods fatty 'acid n. [C] BIOLOGY an acid that is obtained from natural substances, such as oil, fat, and plant material, which the cells of your body need to use food effectively fat-u-ous /'fætʃuəs/ adj. very silly or stupid: a fatuous remark fau-cet /'fɔsɪt/ n. [C] the thing that you turn on and off to control the flow of water from a pipe fault¹ /fɔlt/ n. [C]

1 BLAME responsibility for a mistake: It's not my fault (that) we missed the bus. | The car got dented, but it was my own fault. | It's my fault for not bringing enough money.

2 be at fault to be responsible for something bad that has happened: It was the other driver who was at fault.

3 PROBLEM a problem with something that stops it working correctly: a fault in the electrical system

THESAURUS defect, problem, flaw, bug, imperfection → DEFECT¹

4 find fault with sb/sth to criticize someone or something: Why do you always have to find fault with my work?

5 through no fault of my/his etc. own used in order to say that a bad thing that happened to someone was not caused by him/her: Many Americans lost their jobs through no fault of their own.

6 SB'S CHARACTER a bad part of someone's character: For all her faults (=in spite of her faults) I still love her.

7 CRACK EARTH SCIENCES a large crack in the rocks that form the Earth's surface, where EARTHQUAKES may start because the rocks on opposite sides of the crack are moving in different directions: the San Andreas fault in California

8 generous/loyal/honest etc. to a fault very generous, kind, etc. [ORIGIN: 1200—1300 Old French faute, from Latin fallere "to deceive, disappoint"] fault² v. [T] to find a mistake in something: We couldn't fault her singing.

fault-less /'fɔltlɪs/ adj. having no mistakes [SYN] perfect: a faultless performance fault-y /'fɔlti/ adj. 1 not working correctly: faulty wires 2 not correct: faulty reasoning fau-na /'fɔnə/ n. [U] BIOLOGY all the animals living in a particular area → FLORA [ORIGIN: 1700—1800 Late Latin Fauna, wife or sister of Faunus (Roman god of nature and farms)] faux pas /,fou 'pɑ/ n. [C] an embarrassing mistake in a social situation

fa-vor¹ /'feɪvə/ n. 1 [C] something you do for someone to help or be kind to him/her: Could you do me a favor and watch the baby for half an hour? | Can I ask you a favor? | She offered Willis a job as a favor to his mother. 2 abandon/drop etc. sth in favor of sth to decide not to have one thing and have something else instead: Plans for a tunnel were rejected in favor of the bridge. 3 [U] support, approval, or agreement for something: All the board members were in favor of the idea. 4 in sb's favor to someone's advantage, or so that someone wins: The vote was 60–59 in his favor. 5 in favor/out of favor liked and approved of, or no longer liked and approved of: His books have gone out of favor. 6 [C] a small gift that is given to guests at a party: party favors such as balloons

favor² v. [T] 1 to prefer something or someone to other things or people: Blyth favors stricter gun control laws. 2 to treat someone better than someone else, in a way that is not fair: tax cuts that favor the rich | a judicial system that favors men over women 3 to provide the right conditions for something to happen: wind conditions that favor sailing

fa-vor-a-ble /'feɪvərəbəl/ adj. 1 making people like or approve of someone or something: Try to make a favorable impression. 2 showing that you like or approve of something or someone: I've heard favorable reports about your work. 3 appropriate and likely to make something happen or succeed: a favorable economic environment

—favorably adv.

fa·vor·ite¹ /'feɪvɪt, -vərɪt/ adj. your favorite person or thing is the one you like most: Who's your favorite actor? | My favorite sport is baseball.
► Don't say "most favorite." ◀ favorite² n. [C] 1 something that you like more than others of the same kind: I like all her books, but this one is my favorite. 2 someone who is liked and treated better than others by a teacher or parent: Katie was always Mom's favorite. 3 the team, person, etc. that is expected to win a competition: The Yankees are favorites to win the World Series.

fa·vor·it·ism /'feɪvrə,tɪzəm/ n. [U] the act of treating one person or group better than another, in a way that is not fair fawn¹ /fɔn/ v. [I] (disapproving) to praise someone and be friendly to him/her because you want something: I watched her fawning over him.

fawn² n. [C] a young DEER

fax /fæks/ n. 1 [C] a document that is sent in electronic form down a telephone line and then printed using a special machine: Did you get my fax? 2 [C] also fax machine a machine used for sending and receiving faxes: What's your fax number? 3 [U] the system of sending documents using a fax machine: You can send your résumé by fax.
—fax v. [T]: Please fax me the contract.

faze /ferz/ v. [T] (informal) to make someone feel nervous or confused: Nothing ever seemed to faze Rosie. —fazed adj.

FBI n. the FBI the Federal Bureau of Investigation the U.S. police department that is controlled by the government and is concerned with crimes that happen in more than one state

FDA n. the FDA the Food and Drug Administration a U.S. government organization which makes sure that food and drugs are safe enough to be sold

fear¹ /fɪr/ n. 1 [C,U] the feeling you get when you are afraid or worried that something bad will happen: a fear of heights | The refugees live in fear of being sent back to their own country. | There are fears that prices might continue to rise. | The rules help ease parents' fears for their children's safety. | Their worst fears became a reality. 2 for fear of sth/for fear (that) because you are worried that something bad will happen: She kept quiet, for fear of saying the wrong thing. [ORIGIN: Old English fær "sudden danger"]

fear² v. 1 [I,T] to feel afraid or worried that something bad will happen: Fearing a snowstorm, many people stayed home. | When they heard about Heidi's car crash, they feared the worst (=were afraid something very bad had happened). | They left because they feared for their lives. 2 [T] to be afraid of someone: a dictator who was feared by his country fear·ful /'fɪrfəl/ adj. (formal) afraid: Even doctors are fearful of getting the disease. —fearfully adv.

THESAURUS frightened, afraid, scared, terrified, petrified, phobic → FRIGHTENED fear·less /'fɪrlɪs/ adj. not afraid of anything: a fearless soldier —fearlessly adv.

—fearlessness n. [U]

THESAURUS brave, courageous, heroic, valiant, daring, bold, intrepid → BRAVE¹

fear·some /'fɪrsəm/ adj. very frightening: his fearsome reputation | a fearsome weapon fea·si·ble /'fɪzəbəl/ adj. possible, and likely to work: a feasible plan feast¹ /fɪst/ n. [C] a large meal for many people, especially a meal to celebrate a special occasion: a wedding feast [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French feste "occasion of celebration," from Latin festum] feast² v. 1 feast on sth to eat a lot of a particular food with great enjoyment: We feasted on chicken and roast potatoes. 2 feast your eyes on sb/sth to look at someone or something with great pleasure feat /fɪt/ n. [C] an impressive achievement needing a lot of strength or skill: The bridge is an amazing feat of engineering. | Getting your doctorate is no mean feat (=difficult to do).

feath·er /'feðə/ n. [C] one of the light soft things that cover a bird's body [ORIGIN: Old English fether] → see picture on page A2

feath·er·y /'feðəri/ adj. soft and light like feathers: feathery snow

fea·ture¹ /'fɪtʃə/ [Ac] n. [C] 1 an important, interesting, or typical part of something: Anti-virus software is a standard feature in all our computers. | One of the best features of this camera is its size. | An inability to sleep well is a common feature of depression.

THESAURUS characteristic, quality, trait, attribute, property, aspect → CHARACTERISTIC¹

2 a piece of writing about a subject in a newspaper or a magazine, or a special report on television or on the radio: a feature on Johnny Depp 3 a part of someone's face: her delicate facial features 4 a movie: There's a double feature (=two movies the same evening) playing at the mall theater. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French feture "shape, form," from Latin facere "to do, make"]

feature² [Ac] v. 1 [T] to show a particular person or thing in a film, magazine, show, etc.: a new movie featuring Julia Roberts | The bakery was recently featured in the paper as one of the best in the area. 2 [I] to be included in something and be an important part of it: The theme of depression features strongly in the movie. 3 [T] to advertise a particular product: The supermarket's featuring a new ice cream.

Feb·ru·ar·y /'febyu,eri, 'fɛbru,eri/ (written abbreviation Feb.) n. [C,U] the second month of the year, between January and March: Rick and Allison were married on February 14th. | The accident was in February. | She retired last February. | The book won't be finished until next February. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Latin Februarius, from Februa, Roman religious ceremony in February to make things pure] fe-cēs /'fisiz/ n. [plural] (formal) solid waste material from the BOWELS —fecal /'fikəl/ adj.

F

feck-less /'feklɪs/ adj. a feckless person is not determined, effective, or successful fe-cund /'fikənd, 'fekənd/ adj. (formal) able to produce many children, young animals, or crops [SYN] fertile —fecundity /fɪ'kʌndəti/ n. [U]

Fed /fed/ n. the Fed ECONOMICS the FEDERAL RESERVE fed v. the past tense and past participle of FEED fed-er-al /'fedərəl/ (AC) adj. 1 POLITICS relating to the central government of a country which consists of several states, rather than to the government of one of the states: federal income tax | federal law 2 consisting of a group of states that make some of their own decisions but are controlled by a central government: the Federal Republic of Germany [ORIGIN: 1600–1700 Latin foedus “formal agreement or joining together”]

Federal Bureau of Investi'gation n. the FBI

fed-er-al-ism /'fedərəlɪzəm/ n. [U] belief in or support for a federal system of government —federalist n. [C], adj.

Federal Re'serve n. the Federal Reserve ECONOMICS the group of banks in the U.S. that control the way all of the country's banks work fed-er-a-tion /'fedə'reɪʃən/ (AC) n. [C] a group of states, countries, or organizations that have joined together to form a single group: the American Federation of Teachers fed 'up adj. (informal) annoyed or bored, and wanting change: I'm really fed up with all these meetings.

fee /fi/ (AC) n. [C] an amount of money that you pay for professional services or that you pay to do something: medical/legal fees | college fees | The museum charges a small entrance fee. | Some companies charge a small fee for the catalogs. [ORIGIN: 1300–1400 Old French fé, fief, from Medieval Latin feudum “land given in return for service”]

THESAURUS cost, expense, price, charge, fare, rent, rate → COST¹ fee-ble /'fibəl/ adj. 1 extremely weak: His voice sounded feeble. 2 not good or effective: a feeble attempt [ORIGIN: 1100–1200 Old French feble, from Latin febilis “causing tears, weak”] feeble-'minded adj. unable to think clearly and decide what to do, or showing this quality

feed¹ /fid/ v. (past tense and past participle fed /fed/) 1 [T] to give food to a person or animal → WELL-FED: Did you feed the dog? | She was too weak to feed herself. | Jimmy was feeding acorns to the squirrels. 2 [T] to provide enough food for a group of people: How can you feed a family on $80 a week? 3 [I] if animals or babies feed, they eat: Frogs feed at night. | Cows feed on grass. 4 [T] to give a substance to a plant to help it grow: Feed your violets once a month. 5 [T] to put something slowly and continuously into something else: The tube was fed into the patient's stomach. 6 [T] to supply something in a continuous flow: The sound is fed directly to the headphones. [ORIGIN: Old English fedan; related to food]

feed² n. [U] food for animals: cattle feed

feed-back /'fidbæk/ n. [U] advice, criticism, etc. about how successful or useful something is, given so that something can be improved: She's been giving me feedback on my presentation.

feed-ing /'fidɪŋ/ n. [C] one of the times when you give milk to a small baby: It's time for her noon feeding.

feel¹ /fil/ v. (past tense and past participle felt /felt/) 1 EMOTIONS [linking verb, T] to experience a particular physical feeling or emotion: Let me know if you feel any pain. | We felt guilty for not asking her to come with us. | I'm feeling a little better today. | “How do you feel?” “Fine.” | They didn't make us feel very welcome. | I walked through the door, and I felt like/as if/as though I had never been away.

2 FEEL SMOOTH/DRY ETC. [linking verb] to seem to have a particular quality when touched or experienced by someone: The ground still feels damp. | Her hands felt cold. | It felt great to see her after so many years. | How does it feel to be graduating? | It was a year ago, but it still feels like yesterday.

3 OPINION [I, T] to have an opinion based on your feeling rather than on facts: How do you feel about your new stepfather? | I felt (that) I could've helped more. | I feel like I'm being treated unfairly.

4 TOUCH [T] to touch something with your fingers to find out about it: Feel my forehead. Does it seem hot?

THESAURUS touch, handle, stroke, rub, scratch, pat, pet, caress, tickle → TOUCH¹

5 NOTICE STH [T] to notice something that is touching you or happening to you: She felt a bug crawling up her leg. | Just feel that fresh sea air! | I felt her body brush against mine.

6 feel the benefits/effects etc. of sth to experience the good or bad results of something: We've started to feel the effects of the recession.

7 feel your way a) to move carefully with your hands out in front of you because you cannot see well: He felt his way across the room. b) to do things slowly and carefully because you are unsure about a new situation: Businesses are feeling their way toward a new relationship with their employees.

8 feel around/in sth etc. (for sth) to try to find something by using your fingers: She felt around in her bag for a pen.

SPOKEN PHRASES

9 feel like (doing) sth to want to have something or do something: He didn't feel like going to work. | I feel like a Coke (=feel like having a Coke).

10 feel free used in order to tell someone that you do not mind if s/he does something: Feel free to come by my office.

11 I know (just/exactly) how you feel said in order to show your sympathy with someone or with something s/he has just said: "I can't seem to do anything right today." "I know exactly how you feel."

[ORIGIN: Old English felan]

feel for sb phr. v.

to feel sympathy for someone: All I could do was let him know that I felt for him.

feel sb ↔ out phr. v. (informal) to find out what someone's opinions or feelings are without asking him/her directly: I'm not sure if he'll lend us the money. Let me feel him out.

feel up to sth phr. v. (informal)

to have the strength, energy, etc. to do something: I don't really feel up to going out tonight.

feel² n. [singular] 1 the way something feels when you touch it: the feel of the sand under our feet | Wet soap has a greasy feel. 2 the quality something seems to have: The beach has a kind of lonely feel. | The house had a nice feel about it. 3 have/get a feel for sth (informal) to have or develop an understanding of something or ability with something: Pete has a real feel for music.

feel-er ¹/fi:lə/ n. [C] 1 put/send out feelers to start to try to discover what people think about something that you want to do: Possible presidential candidates are already putting out feelers. 2 one of the two long things on an insect's head that it uses to feel or touch things feel-good adj. feel-good movie/comedy/music etc. a movie, etc. whose main purpose is to make you feel happy feel-ing ¹/fi:lɪŋ/ n. 1 a) [C,U] an emotion that you feel, such as anger or happiness: It's always a great feeling to win a game at home. | My mother finds it hard to express her feelings. | a feeling of confidence b) [C] something that you physically feel in your body: He has no feeling in his legs. | feelings of dizziness 2 sb's feelings [plural] someone's feelings are his/her thoughts, emotions, and attitudes: He doesn't care about my feelings. | Tell me the truth. You won't hurt my feelings. 3 [C] a belief or opinion about something: Many people have strong feelings about/on abortion. | I have a feeling (that) she's lying to us. | Mothers sometimes have mixed feelings (=sometimes feel happy and sometimes feel sad) about going to work. 4 [U] a general attitude among a group of people about a subject: a strong anti-war feeling | He had not understood the depth of feeling against/in favor of the changes. 5 I know the feeling (spoken) said when you understand how someone feels because you have had the same experience: "I'm too tired to work today." "I know the feeling." 6 bad/ill feeling anger or lack of trust between people: The divorce caused a lot of bad feeling between them. 7 with feeling in a way that shows you care very much about something: She plays the violin with great feeling.

feet ¹/fi:t/ n. the plural of FOOT feign ¹/feɪn/ v. [T] (formal) to pretend to have a feeling, be sick, be asleep, etc.: We feigned interest in Mr. Dixon's stamp collection.

feint ¹/feɪnt/ n. [C] a movement or an attack that is intended to deceive an opponent feist-y ¹/faɪsti/ adj. (approving) having a strong determined character and a lot of energy: a feisty old man [ORIGIN: 1800—1900 feist "small dog"] fe-lic-i-tous ¹/frɪ'lɪsətəs/ adj. (formal) well-chosen, appropriate, and pleasing: the writer's felicitous phrases —felicitously adv.

fe-line ¹/fi'lɪn/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a cat or a member of the cat family —feline adj.

fell¹ ¹/fɛl/ v. the past tense of FALL

fell² v. [T] (written) 1 to cut down a tree 2 to knock someone down fel-low¹ ¹/feləʊ/ n. [C] 1 (old-fashioned) a man: a nice young fellow from Iowa

THESAURUS man, guy, gentleman, boy, youth, male → MAN¹

2 a GRADUATE student who has a fellowship in a university 3 a member of a society in a school or university fellow² adj. fellow workers/students/citizens etc. people you work with, study with, etc.

fel-low-ship ¹/feləʊ,ʃɪp, -lə-/ n. 1 [C] money given to a student to allow him/her to continue his/her studies at an advanced level: a graduate fellowship 2 [C] a group with similar interests or beliefs, who have meetings together: a Christian youth fellowship 3 [U] a feeling of friendship that people have because they have the same interests or experiences fel-on ¹/felən/ n. [C] LAW someone who is guilty of a serious crime: a convicted felon (=a criminal who is sent to prison)

fel-o-ny ¹/feləni/ n. (plural felonies) [C] LAW a serious crime such as murder felt¹ ¹/felt/ v. the past tense and past participle of FEEL felt² n. [U] a thick soft material made of wool, hair, or fur that has been pressed flat felt tip 'pen n. [C] a pen that has a hard piece of felt at the end that the ink comes through fe-male¹ ¹/fɪmeɪl/ n. [C] a person or animal that belongs to the sex that can have babies or produce eggs (ANT) male [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old

F

French femelle (influenced by male), from Latin femella “girl”]

female² adj. 1 BIOLOGY belonging to the sex that can have babies or produce eggs (ANT) male → FEMININE: a female horse | female athletes 2 BIOLOGY a female plant or flower produces fruit → MALE fem-i-nine /ˈfemənɪn/ adj. 1 having qualities that are considered to be typical of women → MASCULINE: feminine clothes 2 ENG. LANG. ARTS in grammar, a feminine noun or PRONOUN has a special form to show it is used to talk about a female, such as “actress” or “her” fem-i-nin-i-ty /ˌfeməˈnɪnəti/ n. [U] qualities that are thought to be typical of women → MASCULINITY

fem-i-nism /ˈfeməˌnɪzəm/ n. [U] the belief that women should have the same rights and opportunities as men —feminist n. [C], adj.: feminist authors fe-mur /ˈfɪmər/ n. [C] BIOLOGY the bone in the top part of your leg, above the knee fence¹ /fens/ n. [C] 1 a structure made of wood, metal, etc. that surrounds a piece of land 2 a structure that horses jump over in a race or competition 3 sit/be on the fence to avoid saying which side of an argument you support fence² v. 1 [T] to put a fence around something 2 [I] to fight with a sword as a sport fence sth ↔ in phr. v. to surround a place with a fence —fenced-in /ˈfɛnst ˈɪn/ adj.

fence sth ↔ off phr. v. to separate one area from another with a fence: We fenced off part of the backyard.

fenc-ing /ˈfɛnsɪŋ/ n. [U] 1 the sport of fighting with a long thin sword 2 fences, or the material used for making them fend /fend/ v. fend for yourself to take care of yourself without help from other people: You'll have to fend for yourself while I'm gone.

fend sb/sth ↔ off phr. v. to defend yourself when you are being attacked, asked difficult questions, etc.: Mrs. Spector tried to fend off the other mugger.

fend-er /ˈfɛndər/ n. [C] the side part of a car that covers the wheels fender-bender n. [C] (informal) a car accident in which little damage is done fe-ral /ˈfɛrəl, ˈfɪrəl/ adj. feral animals used to live with humans but have become wild fer-ment¹ /fəˈment/ v. [I,T] if fruit, beer, or wine ferments or is fermented, the sugar in it changes to alcohol [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French fermenter, from Latin fermentum “yeast”] fer-ment² /fəˈment/ n. [U] excitement or trouble in a country, caused especially by political change fer-men-ta-tion /fəˈmɛnˈteɪʃən/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY a process in which the sugar contained in fruit, beer, wine, etc. is gradually changed into alcohol by the action of YEAST or BACTERIA fern /fɜːn/ n. [C] a plant with green leaves shaped like large feathers, but no flowers fe-ro-cious /fəˈrouʃəs/ adj. extremely violent or severe: a ferocious dog | a ferocious storm [ORIGIN: 1600—1700 Latin ferox “wild-looking,” from ferus “wild”] —ferociously adv.

fe-ro-ci-ty /fəˈrasəti/ n. [U] extreme violence: Felipe was shocked by the ferocity of her anger.

fer-ret¹ /ˈfɛrɪt/ n. [C] a small animal, used for hunting rats and rabbits ferret² v.

ferret sth ↔ out phr. v. (informal) to succeed in finding something, especially information: Detectives managed to ferret out crucial details about the case.

fer-ris wheel /ˈfɛrɪs ˌwɪl/ n. [C] a very large upright wheel with seats on it for people to ride on in an AMUSEMENT PARK fer-rous /ˈfɛrəs/ adj. CHEMISTRY containing or relating to iron: ferrous metals fer-ry¹ /ˈfɛri/ n. (plural ferries) [C] a boat that carries people, often with their cars, across a stretch of water → see picture at TRANSPORTATION

ferry² v. (ferried, ferries) [T] to carry people or goods a short distance from one place to another: a bus that ferries tourists from the hotel to the beach fer-tile /ˈfɜːtl/ adj. 1 EARTH SCIENCES fertile land, soil, ground, etc. is able to produce good crops (ANT) infertile 2 BIOLOGY able to become PREGNANT or make someone pregnant (ANT) infertile 3 fertile imagination/mind an imagination or mind that is able to produce a lot of unusual ideas [ORIGIN: 1400—1500 French, Latin ferre “to carry, bear”] —fertility /fəˈtɪləti/ n. [U]

fer-til-ize /ˈfɜːtl,aɪz/ v. [T] 1 to put fertilizer on the soil to help plants grow 2 BIOLOGY to make new animal or plant life develop by causing a female cell such as an egg to join with a male cell: a fertilized egg | Fruit will not develop if the ovule is not fertilized by the pollination process. —fertilization /ˌfɜːtləˈzeɪʃən/ n. [U] fer-til-iz-er /ˈfɜːtl,aɪzər/ n. [C,U] a substance that is put on the soil to help plants grow fer-vent /'fəvənt/ adj. believing or feeling something very strongly: Marion's a fervent believer in working hard. —fervently adv.

fer-vor /'fəvə/ n. [U] very strong belief or feeling: religious fervor fess /fes/ v.

fess up phr. v. (informal) to admit that you have done something wrong, although it is not serious: He later fessed up to his mistake.

fest /fest/ n. beer/song/food etc. fest an informal occasion when a lot of people do a fun activity together fes-ter /'festə/ v. [I] 1 if a bad situation or a problem festers, it gets worse because it has not been dealt with: Letting your anger fester will only make things worse. 2 if a wound festers, it becomes infected

fes-ti-val /'festəvəl/ n. [C] 1 an occasion when there are performances of many films, plays, pieces of music, etc.: the Cannes film festival | a festival of Japanese culture 2 a special occasion when people celebrate something such as a religious event: religious festivals [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French, Latin festivus, from festum “ceremony of celebration”]

fes-tive /'festɪv/ adj. happy or cheerful in a way that seems appropriate for celebrating something: Hollie was in a festive mood. | the festive season (=Christmas)

fes-tiv-i-ties /'festɪvətɪz/ n. [plural] things that people do to celebrate, such as dancing, eating, and drinking fes-toon /fe'stʊn/ v. [T] to cover something with cloth, flowers, etc. as a decoration fe-tal /'fi:təl/ adj. BIOLOGY relating to a FETUS: fetal development

'fetal po-sition n. [singular] a body position in which your body is curled up, and your arms and legs are pulled up against your chest fetch /fetʃ/ v. [T] 1 to be sold for a particular amount of money: The tractor should fetch over $10,000. 2 (old-fashioned) to go and get something and bring it back: Rushworth went to fetch the key to the gate.

fetch-ing /'fetʃɪŋ/ adj. (old-fashioned) attractive fete¹ /feti/ v. [T] to honor someone by having a public celebration for him/her: President Mandela was feted at a government banquet.

fete² n. [C] a special occasion to celebrate something fe-tid /'fetɪd/ adj. (formal) having a very bad smell: the black fetid water fe-tish /'fetɪʃ/ n. [C] 1 an object, thing, or activity that gives someone sexual pleasure, when this is not considered to be normal: a foot fetish 2 something that someone does too much or thinks about too much fet-ter /'fetə/ v. [T] (formal) to prevent someone from doing what s/he wants to do: managers fettered by rules and regulations fet-ters /'fetəz/ n. [plural] 1 things that prevent someone from doing what s/he wants to do 2 chains that were put around a prisoner's feet in past times fe-tus /'fi:təs/ n. [C] BIOLOGY a young human or animal before it is born. In humans, an EMBRYO becomes a fetus after eight weeks of development.

feud /fyud/ n. [C] an angry and often violent argument between two people or groups that continues for a long time: a bitter feud between neighbors —feud v. [I] feu-dal-ism /'fyudlɪzəm/ n. [U] HISTORY a social system in the Middle Ages, in which people received land and protection from someone of higher rank whom they worked and fought for —feudal adj.

fe-ver /'fivə/ n. 1 [C,U] an illness in which you have a very high temperature: Andy has a fever and won't be coming into work today. | She's running a fever (=has a fever). 2 [U] a situation in which people feel very excited or anxious: Baseball fans are gripped by World Series fever. | When the TV crews arrived, the demonstration reached fever pitch (=an extreme level of excitement or anxiety). [ORIGIN: 900—1000 Latin febris] —fevered adj. → HAY FEVER, SPRING FEVER fe-ver-ish /'fivərɪʃ/ adj. 1 suffering from a fever 2 done extremely quickly by people who are very excited or worried: working at a feverish pace —feverishly adv.

few /fyu/ quantifier, pron., adj. 1 a few/the few a small number of things or people: Let's wait a few minutes and see if Carrie gets here. | I've seen a few of those new cars around. | Don has seemed really happy these last few weeks. | You'll have to work hard over the next few months. | There are a few more things I'd like to talk about before we go. 2 quite a few a fairly large number of things or people: Quite a few people came to the meeting. | Quite a few of the customers got sick. 3 not many: There are few events that are as exciting as having a baby. | Women are having fewer children. | Grant's one of the few people I know who can tell stories well. | Very few of these players will play professionally. 4 be few and far between to be rare: Good jobs are few and far between these days. [ORIGIN: Old English feawa]

GRAMMAR

few, a few

Use few when you mean “not many” or “not enough”: Very few people had heard of the disease.

Use a few when you mean “some” or “a small number”: There are still a few tickets left.

Few and a few are always used with plural noun forms. → LESS, LITTLE² fi-an-c-é /,fian'seɪ, fi'anseɪ/ n. [C] the man whom a woman is going to marry fi-an-c-ée /fi'an'sei, fi'an'sei/ n. [C] the woman whom a man is going to marry fi-as-co /fi'æskou/ n. (plural fiascoes or fiascos) [C] an event that is completely unsuccessful, in a way that is very embarrassing or disappointing: Their attempt to compete in the software market has been a total fiasco.

fi-at /'fiæt, -at, -ət/ n. [C,U] (formal) an order that is given by someone in authority without considering what other people want: Too often he governed by fiat rather than by the law.

fib /fɪb/ n. [C] a small unimportant lie: You shouldn't tell fibs. —fib v. [I] —fibber n. [C]

THESAURUS lie, white lie, story, falsehood, fabrication, slander, libel → LIE³

fi-ber /'faɪbə/ n. 1 [U] parts of plants that you eat but do not DIGEST, that help food to move through your body: The doctor said I need more fiber in my diet. 2 [C,U] a mass of threads used to make rope, cloth, etc. 3 [C] a thin thread, or one of the thin parts like threads that form natural materials such as wood —fibrous /'faɪbrəs/ adj.

fi-ber-glass /'faɪbə,glæs/ n. [U] a light material made from small glass threads pressed together fiber 'optics n. [U] PHYSICS the use of long thin threads of glass to carry information in the form of light, especially on telephone lines —fiber optic adj.

fib-u-la /'fɪbyələ/ n. (plural fibulas or fibulae /-li/) [C] BIOLOGY the outer bone of the two bones in your leg below your knee → TIBIA fick-le /'fɪkəl/ adj. 1 someone who is fickle is always changing his/her opinion about people or things: Voters are fickle. 2 something that is fickle, such as the weather, often changes suddenly fic-tion /'fɪkʃən/ n. 1 [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS books and stories about imaginary people and things (ANT) nonfiction: a writer of children's fiction | detective fiction | After quitting the newspaper business, she wrote poetry and fiction. 2 [C,U] something that someone wants you to believe is true, but that is not true: The newspaper story turned out to be a complete fiction.

fic-tion-al /'fɪkʃənəl/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS fictional people or events are from a book or story, and are not real fic-tion-al-ize /'fɪkʃənəl,laɪz/ v. [T] ENG. LANG. ARTS to tell the story of a real event, changing some details and adding imaginary characters fic-ti-tious /'fɪk'tɪʃəs/ adj. not true, or not real: a fictitious name

fid-dle¹ /'fɪdl/ n. [C] (informal) a VIOLIN → play second fiddle to sb/sth at PLAY¹ fiddle² v.

fiddle around phr. v. to waste time by doing things that are not important: Stop fiddling around or we'll be late!

fiddle with sth phr. v. to keep moving and touching something, especially because you are bored or nervous: She started fiddling with her hair.

fid-dler /'fɪdlə/ n. [C] someone who plays the VIOLIN fi-del-i-ty /fə'deləti, faɪ-/ n. [U] (formal) 1 loyalty to your wife, husband, or partner by not having sex with other people (ANT) infidelity 2 loyalty to a person, organization, set of beliefs, etc.: his fidelity to the Republican Party

fidg-et /'fɪdʒɪt/ v. [I] to keep moving your hands or feet, especially because you are bored or nervous: children fidgiting in their seats —fidgety adj.

fi-du-ci-a-ry¹ /fɪ'duʃi,əri/ n. [C] LAW someone who has legal control of money or property that belongs to another person, a company, or an organization fiduciary² adj. LAW relating to the legal control of someone else's money or property: The board of directors has a fiduciary duty/responsibility to shareholders.

fief /fi/ n. [C] HISTORY in past times, an area of land that a LORD gave to someone who promised to work and fight for him

field¹ /fild/ n. [C] 1 an area of land in the country where crops are grown or where animals feed on grass: a corn field | fields of sunflowers → see picture on page A11 2 an area of ground where sports are played: a football/baseball/soccer etc. field

THESAURUS stadium, court, diamond, track → SPORT¹

3 a subject that people study or a type of work that they are involved in: Professor Kramer is an expert in the field of ancient history. | Sullivan's an expert in his field. 4 the field all the people, companies, or horses that are competing against each other: They now lead the field (=are the most successful company) in making powerful computer chips. 5 oil/gas/coal field EARTH SCIENCES an area where there is a lot of oil, gas, or coal under the ground 6 magnetic/gravitational/force field PHYSICS an area in which a strong natural force has an effect 7 field of view/vision the whole area that you can see without turning your head [ORIGIN: Old English feld]

field² v. [T] 1 if you field a ball in a game of baseball, you stop it after it has been hit 2 if you field a team, an army, etc., they represent you or fight for you in a competition, election, or war: There may not be enough healthy players to field a team. 3 to answer questions, telephone calls, etc., especially when there are a lot of them or they are difficult: Riordan left without fielding questions from reporters.

'field day n. 1 have a field day (informal) to have the chance to do something you enjoy a lot, especially a chance to criticize someone: Talk radio hosts had a field day with the story. 2 [C] a day when students at a school have sports competitions field·er /'fildə/ n. [C] one of the players who tries to catch the ball in baseball field event n. [C] a sports activity, such as the HIGH JUMP or the JAVELIN, that is part of an outdoor competition → TRACK EVENT field goal n. [C] the action of kicking the ball over the bar of the GOAL for three points in football field hockey n. [U] HOCKEY played on grass field study n. [C] SCIENCE a piece of work to find out more about a particular subject, which takes place not inside a school or college but outside, in real conditions field test n. [C] SCIENCE a test of a new product or system that is done in the place where it will be used rather than in a LABORATORY —field-test v. [T] field trip n. [C] an occasion when students go somewhere to learn about a particular subject: a field trip to the Maryland Science Center field-work /'fildwɜ:k/ n. [U] SCIENCE study which involves going somewhere in order to collect information, rather than working in a class or LABORATORY fiend /find/ n. [C] 1 (informal) someone who likes something much more than other people normally do: Isaac turns into a football fiend during the Super Bowl. 2 dope/drug etc. fiend (informal) someone who takes a lot of drugs 3 (literary) an evil spirit or person fiend-ish /'findɪʃ/ adj. 1 (literary) very bad or cruel: a fiendish temper 2 very difficult or complicated: a fiendish puzzle

fierce /fɪə/ adj. 1 done with a lot of energy and strong feelings: a fierce debate between the political parties | fierce competition between banks | The two teams are in a fierce battle for first place. 2 a fierce person or animal looks very violent or angry and ready to attack: fierce dogs 3 fierce heat, cold, weather, etc. is very extreme or severe —fiercely adv.

fi·er·y /'faɪəri/ adj. 1 full of strong or angry emotion: a fiery speech | her fiery temper 2 (written) involving fire, or on fire: All perished (=died) in the fiery crash. | a fiery sunset fi·es·ta /fi'estə/ n. [C] a religious holiday with dancing, music, etc., especially in Spain or Latin America fif·teen /'fɪf'tɪn/ number 15 —fifteenth number fifth¹ /fɪfθ/ number 1 5th 2 1/5

fifth² n. [C] an amount of alcohol equal to 1/5 of a gallon, sold in bottles: a fifth of bourbon fif·ty¹ /'fɪfti/ number 1 50 2 the fifties a) the years between 1950 and 1959 b) the numbers between 50 and 59, especially when used for measuring temperature 3 be in your fifties to be aged between 50 and 59: She's in her early/mid/late fifties. —fiftieth /'fɪftiəθ/ number fifty² n. (plural fifties) [C] a piece of paper money worth $50 fifty·fifty adj., adv. (spoken) 1 divided equally between two people: We should divide the profits fifty-fifty. 2 a fifty-fifty chance an equal chance that something will happen or not happen: a fifty-fifty chance of winning fig /fɪg/ n. [C] a small soft sweet fruit, often eaten dried, or the tree on which this grows

fig. the written abbreviation of FIGURE

fight¹ /faɪt/ v. (past tense and past participle fought /fɔ:t/) 1 [I,T] to take part in a war or battle: The country fought a three-year civil war. | Did your uncle fight in the war? | rebel forces fighting against the Russians | They fought over/for a small piece of land. 2 [I,T] if people or animals fight, they use violence against each other: Police fought with protesters in the streets. | dogs fighting over a bone 3 [I] to argue: Are the kids fighting again? | He was always fighting with his girlfriend. | They fought over custody of the children.

THESAURUS argue, have an argument, have a fight, quarrel, have a quarrel, squabble, bicker → ARGUE

4 [I] to try hard to do or get something: The union fought for a better health care package. | Parents are fighting to save the school. | Perkins was lying in bed, fighting for his life. 5 [I,T] to try hard to prevent something or to get rid of something: Senator Redkin is fighting the proposal. | She spent her life fighting against poverty and injustice. 6 [I,T] to take part in a BOXING match: The boxers fought each other twice for the heavyweight title. 7 [T] also fight back to try hard not to have or show a feeling: He fought the impulse to yell at her. | Benson bit his lip and fought back tears. 8 fight a fire/blaze etc. to try to stop a fire from burning 9 fight your way to move somewhere with difficulty: We had to fight our way through the crowd. 10 have a fighting chance to have a chance to achieve something if you work very hard: Davis believes he still has a fighting chance of winning the election. 11 fight it out to fight, argue, or compete until one person wins: We left them alone to fight it out. [ORIGIN: Old English feohtan] fight back phr. v. 1 to work hard to achieve or oppose something, especially in a situation where you are losing: Lewis fought back to win the match. 2 to use violence or arguments against someone who has attacked you or criticized you: The rebels are fighting back.

fight sb/sth ↔ off phr. v. 1 to use violence to keep someone or something away, or to stop him/her from doing something to you: They managed to fight off their attackers. 2 to succeed in stopping other people from getting something, and to get it for yourself: The president fought off a challenge from within his own party. 3 to try hard to get rid of a feeling or illness: I've been fighting off a cold for days.

F

fight² n. 1 [C] an act of fighting between two people or groups: He's always getting into fights at school. | A drunk tried to pick/start a fight with him. | a fight between rival gangs | The police were called in to break up (=stop) the fight.

THESAURUS

brawl – a noisy fight among a lot of people free-for-all – a fight or argument involving a lot of people scuffle – a short fight scrap (informal) – a short fight boxing match
wrestling match

2 [C] an argument: He's had a fight with his mother. | fighting over/about money 3 [singular] the process of trying very hard to achieve something or prevent something: the union's fight for better working conditions. | the fight against drugs | the fight to reduce world hunger

THESAURUS

battle – an attempt to stop something happening or to achieve something difficult: the battle for equal rights campaign – a series of actions that are intended to achieve a particular result: She helped lead the campaign against drunk driving.
drive – a planned effort by an organization to achieve a particular result: a drive to raise money for the school struggle – a long, hard fight for freedom, political rights, etc.: the country's struggle for independence crusade – a determined attempt to change something because you think you are morally right: an anti-smoking crusade that is aimed at teenagers

4 [C] a battle between two armies: a fight for control of the islands fight-er 'faɪtə/ n. [C] 1 (approving) someone who continues to try to do something although it is difficult 2 someone who fights, especially as a sport [SYN] boxer 3 also fighter plane a small fast military airplane that can destroy other airplanes fight-ing 'faɪtɪŋ/ n. [U] an occasion when people or groups fight each other in a war, in the street, etc.: seven days of heavy fighting

THESAURUS

war, warfare, conflict, combat, action, hostilities → WAR

fig-ment 'fɪgmənt/ n. a figment of sb's imagination something you imagine to be real, but does not exist fig-u-ra-tive 'fɪgərətɪv/ adj. ENG. LANG. ARTS a figurative word or expression is used in a different way from its usual meaning, to give you a picture or idea in your mind. For example, in “a mountain of debt,” “mountain” is used in a figurative way and means “a large amount” not “a high hill.”

[SYN] metaphorical → LITERAL —figuratively adv.

figurative 'language n. [U] ENG. LANG. ARTS writing or speech that uses figurative words or expressions and gives people a particular picture or idea in their minds

fig-ure¹ 'fɪgɪə/ n. [C] 1 a) [usually plural] a number representing an amount, especially an official number: sales/crime/population etc. figures b) a number from 0 to 9, written as a sign, not as a word: a six-figure income (=between $100,000 and $999,999) | Five players scored in double figures (=numbers between 10 and 99). | single figures (=numbers between 0 and 9) 2 ECO-NOMICS a particular amount of money: The report quoted an estimated figure of $200 million. 3 [usually singular] the shape of a woman's body: She has a great figure. 4 a) someone who is important or famous in some way: an important political figure b) someone with a particular type of appearance or character, especially when s/he is difficult to see: a dark figure in the distance c) a person in a picture 5 (written abbreviation fig.) a numbered drawing in a book 6 MATH a shape in mathematics: a six-sided figure figure² v. 1 [I] (informal) to be included as an important part of something: Real events and real people always figure heavily in her books.

SPOKEN PHRASES

2 [T] to have a particular opinion after thinking about a situation: I figured (that) you'd need help moving.

THESAURUS

think, believe, suspect, consider, guess → THINK

3 that figures/(it) figures said when something happens or someone behaves in a way that you expect, but do not like: "I forgot to bring my checkbook again." "Figures." 4 go figure said to show that you think something is strange or difficult to explain: "He didn't even say goodbye!" "Go figure."

figure on sth phr. v. (spoken) to expect something or include it in your plans: With traffic so heavy, we'd better figure on an extra hour.

figure sb/sth ↔ out phr. v. to understand someone or something after thinking about him, her, or it: Can you figure out how to open this? | I can't figure Betty out.

figure 'eight n. [C] the pattern or shape of a number eight, for example, in a dance

fig-ure-head 'fɪgɪə,hed/ n. [C] a leader who has no real power

figure of 'speech n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS a word or expression that is used in a different way from the usual one, to give you a picture in your mind: "We died laughing" is a figure of speech.

'figure skating n. [U] a sport in which you SKATE in patterns on ice fil-a-ment /'fɪləmənt/ n. [C] a very thin thread or wire filch /fɪltʃ/ v. [T] (informal) to steal something small or not very valuable: teenagers filching cigarettes

file¹ /faɪl/ (Ac) n. [C] 1 a set of papers, records, etc. that contain information about a particular person or subject: The school keeps files on each student. | We'll keep your application on file (=store it for later use). | medical files

THESAURUS record, accounts, books, ledger, roll, log (book) → RECORD¹

2 a box or folded piece of heavy paper in which you keep loose papers: He took a file down from the shelf. 3 it information on a computer that is stored under a particular name: open/close a file | save/delete/copy/create a file → COMPUTER 4 a metal tool with a rough surface that you rub on something to make it smooth → NAIL FILE 5 in single file moving in a line, with one person behind another file² (Ac) v. 1 [T] to store papers or information in a particular order or a particular place: File the contracts alphabetically.

THESAURUS keep, store, save, reserve, collect, hoard → KEEP¹

2 [I,T] LAW to give a document to a court or other organization so that it can be officially recorded and dealt with: Some employees are filing a claim against the department. | The company was forced to file for bankruptcy. | The District Attorney's Office has filed charges against him. 3 [I] to walk somewhere in a line of people, one behind the other: The jury filed into/fled out of the courtroom. 4 [T] to rub something with a metal tool to make it smooth or cut it: I need to file my nails.

'file cabinet n. [C] a piece of office furniture with drawers for storing important papers fil-et /fɪ'leɪ/ n. [C,U] a FILLET¹ fil-i-bus-ter /'fɪlə,bʌstə/ v. [I,T] to try to delay action in Congress by making very long speeches —filibuster n. [C] fil-i-gree /'fɪlə,gri/ n. [U] delicate decoration made of gold or silver wire fil-ing /'faɪlɪŋ/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] the activity of putting papers into the correct FILES 2 filings [plural] very small sharp pieces that come off a piece of metal when it is FILED: iron filings 3 [C] a document, report, etc. that is officially recorded fil-ings /'faɪlɪŋz/ n. [plural] very small pieces that come off a piece of metal when it is cut or FILED

'filing cabinet n. [C] a FILE CABINET

fill¹ /fɪl/ v. 1 also fill up a [I,T] to become full of something, or to make something full: He turned on the faucet and filled the bucket. | She kept filling up our glasses. | The kids filled their bags with candy. b [T] if something fills up a place, it takes up all of the space in that place: The audience soon filled the theater. | The bedroom was filled with smoke. 2 [T] also fill in to put something in a hole or crack in order to make a smooth surface: Fill any cracks in the wall before you paint. 3 [T] if a sound, smell, or light fills a place or space, you notice it because it is loud or strong: The smell of fresh bread filled the kitchen. 4 [T] to provide something that is needed or wanted: Daycare centers fill a need for working parents. | The company is filling a gap in the market. 5 [T] to do a particular job, or to find someone to do a job: Anderson says he hopes to fill the position by spring. | Sorry, but the post has already been filled. 6 [T] if you are filled with an emotion, you feel it strongly: She was filled with excitement. | Her achievements filled him with pride. 7 [T] if you fill a period of time with a particular activity, you spend that time doing it: He filled his days playing golf and tennis. [ORIGIN: Old English fyllan]

fill in phr. v. 1 fill sth ↔ in to write all the necessary information on a document: You'll have to fill in an application form. 2 fill sb ↔ in to tell someone about things that have happened recently: I'll fill you in on all the news later. 3 to do someone's job because s/he is not there: Could you fill in for Bob while he's sick?

fill out phr. v. 1 fill sth ↔ out 2 to write all the necessary information on a document 3 to get fatter or larger in a way that is considered attractive: At puberty, a girl's body begins to fill out.

fill² n. your fill as much of something as you want, or can deal with: I've had my fill of screaming kids today!

fil-let¹ also file /fɪ'leɪ/ n. [C,U] a piece of meat or fish without bones: a fillet of cod fillet² v. [T] to remove the bones from a piece of meat or fish fill-ing¹ /'fɪlɪŋ/ n. 1 [C] a small amount of metal that is put into a hole in your tooth 2 [C,U] the food that is put inside a PIE, SANDWICH, etc.: apple pie filling filling² adj. food that is filling makes your stomach feel full fil-ly /'fɪli/ n. (plural fillies) [C] a young female horse

film¹ /fɪlm/ n. 1 [U] the material used in a camera for taking photographs or recording moving pictures: a roll of film | The coach has the game on film. → CAMERA 2 [C] a movie: the Sundance Film Festival | We like to go see foreign films. → MOVIE 3 [U] the art or business of making movies: the film industry 4 [singular] a very thin layer of liquid, powder, etc. on the surface of something [ORIGIN: Old English filmen "thin skin"]

film² v. [I,T] to use a camera to make a movie or a television program: The movie was filmed in China. —filming n. [U]: The filming was completed in six weeks.

film-mak-er /'fɪlm,meɪkə/ n. [C] someone who makes movies film-strip /'fɪlm,stri:p/ n. [C] a short film that shows photographs, pictures, etc. one at a time, not as moving pictures fil-ter¹ /'fɪltə/ n. [C] a piece of equipment that removes unwanted solid substances as gas or liquid passes through it: a water filter [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 Old French filtre “piece of felt (=thick material) used as a filter,” from Medieval Latin filtrum]

F

filter² v. 1 [T] to clean a liquid or gas using a filter: filtered drinking water 2 [I] if people filter somewhere, they gradually move in that direction: The audience began to filter into the hall. 3 [I] if information filters out to people, people gradually hear about it: The news slowly filtered through to everyone in the office. | Eventually word filtered out to the guests that something was wrong. 4 [I] if light or sound filters into a place, it can be seen or heard only slightly: Hazy sunshine filtered through the curtains.

filth /fɪlθ/ n. [U] 1 an extremely dirty substance: Wash that filth off your shoes. 2 very rude or offensive language, stories, or pictures about sex filthy¹ /'fɪlθi/ adj. (comparative filthier, superlative filthiest) 1 extremely dirty: Doesn't he ever wash that jacket? It's filthy.

THESAURUS dirty, dusty, muddy, greasy, grimy, soiled, polluted → DIRTY¹

2 showing or describing sexual acts in a very rude or offensive way: filthy language filthy² adv. filthy rich (informal) extremely rich fil-tra-tion /fɪl'treɪʃən/ n. [U] CHEMISTRY the process of cleaning a liquid or gas by passing it through a FILTER: a water filtration system

fin /fɪn/ n. [C] one of the thin body parts that a fish uses to swim → see picture on page A2 fi-na-gle /fə'neɪɡəl/ v. [T] (informal) to get something that is difficult to get by using unusual or unfair methods

fi-nal¹ /'faɪnl/ (Ac) adj. 1 [only before noun] last in a series of actions, events, parts of a story, etc.: the final chapter of the book 2 if a decision, offer, or agreement is final, it cannot be changed: I don't think the final decision has been made. | You can't stay up late on a school night, and that's final. 3 [only before noun] being the result at the end of a process: The final score was 86 to 78. [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French, Latin finalis, from finis “end”]

final² (Ac) n. [C] 1 the last and most important game, race, etc. in a competition: She skated very well in the final. | The Suns didn't reach the Western Conference Finals. 2 an important test that students take at the end of each class in HIGH SCHOOL or college: How did your finals go? | my chemistry final fi-nal-e /fɪ'næli, -'nɑ-/ n. [C] ENG. LANG. ARTS the last part of a piece of music or a performance, which is often the most exciting part: the grand finale of a Broadway musical fi-nal-ist /'faɪnl-ɪst/ n. [C] one of the people or teams that reaches the last part of a competition fi-nal-i-ty /faɪ'næləti, fə-/ (Ac) n. [U] the feeling or idea that something is finished and cannot be changed: She closed the door with a finality that said she would not be coming back.

fi-nal-ize /'faɪnl,aɪz/ (Ac) v. [T] to finish the last details or part of a plan, business deal, etc.: Can we finalize the details tomorrow?

fi-nal-ly /'faɪnl-i/ (Ac) adv. 1 after a long time: After several delays, the plane finally took off at 6:00. 2 as the last of a series of things: And finally, I'd like to thank my teachers. 3 in a way that does not allow further change: I don't think anything has been finally decided.

fi-nance¹ /fə'næns, 'faɪnæns/ (Ac) n. 1 [U] ECONOMICS the control of money that is earned and spent, especially for a company or a government: She's an accountant in the Finance Department. 2 finances [plural] ECONOMICS the money that a person, company, organization, etc. has available, or the control of how this money is spent: My finances are a mess. | The school's finances are limited. 3 [U] ECONOMICS money provided by a bank, organization, etc. to help buy or do something: mortgage finance companies [ORIGIN: 1300—1400 French finer “to end, settle (a debt)”] finance² v. [T] ECONOMICS to provide money, especially a large amount of money, to pay for something: The program is financed by the government.

fi-nan-cial /fə'nænfəl, faɪ-/ (Ac) adj. ECONOMICS relating to money or the management of money: a company that provides financial services | He had no financial support from his parents. | the company's financial assets —financially adv.

fi,nancial 'aid n. [U] money that is given or lent to students at college to pay for their education

fi,nancial 'asset n. [C] ECONOMICS something such as STOCKS or BONDS which are owned by a person or a company, which are worth a particular amount of money, and which make a profit: The crisis will affect people's savings and every other financial asset they own | You can compare the yield (=profit received) from stock dividends to other financial assets, like bonds.

fin-an-cier /fə'næn'sɪr, fə'næn-, fɪnæn-/ (Ac) n. [C] ECONOMICS someone who controls or lends large sums of money fi-nanc-ing /'faɪnænsɪŋ/ (Ac) n. [U] ECONOMICS money that you borrow to start a business, buy something, etc., and which you pay back over an agreed period of time finch /fɪntʃ/ n. [C] a small wild bird with a short beak find¹ /faɪnd/ v. (past tense and past participle found /faʊnd/) [T]

1 GET BY SEARCHING to discover and get something that you have been looking for: I can't find my keys. | He's having a hard time finding a job. |

Can you find the kids something clean to wear?

THESAURUS

discover – to find something that was hidden or that people did not know about before: They never discovered the truth about his past.

detect – to notice or discover something, especially something that is not easy to see, hear, etc.: The test can detect cancer at an early stage in the disease.

trace – to find someone or something that has disappeared: She had given up all hope of tracing her missing daughter.

locate – to find the exact position of something: We couldn't locate the source of the radio signal.

track sb/sth down – to find someone or something after searching in different places: Detectives finally tracked her down in California.

turn sth up – to find something by searching for it thoroughly: The investigation hasn't turned up any new evidence.

unearth – to find out information or the truth about something: It was years before the full story was unearthed.

2 SEE BY CHANCE to discover something by chance: She found a purse in the street. | We found a good restaurant near the hotel.

3 LEARN STH to discover or learn new information: Researchers have found that girls tend to speak earlier than boys. | We got there early only to find that the tickets had all been sold. | Scientists are still trying to find a cure for AIDS.

4 OPINION to have an opinion or feeling about someone or something: Do you find him attractive? | I found it difficult/easy to understand her.

5 EXPERIENCE to learn or know something by experience: I tried using oil, but I've found that butter works best.

6 TIME/MONEY/ENERGY to have enough of something to be able to do what you want to do: When do you find the time to read?

7 be found to live or exist somewhere: This type of grass is found only in the swamp.

8 find yourself somewhere to be in a place although you did not plan to be there: Suddenly I found myself back at the hotel.

9 find your way (somewhere) to arrive at a place by discovering the way to get there: Can you find your way, or do you need a map?

10 find sb guilty/not guilty (of sth) to officially decide that someone is guilty or not guilty of a crime: He was found guilty of murder. [ORIGIN: Old English findan] find out phr. v.

1 find (sth) out to learn information after trying to discover it or by chance: If Dad ever finds out about this, he'll be furious. | He hurried off to find out what the problem was. | We need to find out everything we can about the disease.

2 find sb out (informal) to discover that someone has been doing something dishonest or illegal: What happens if we get found out?

find² n. [C] something very good or valuable that you discover by chance: That little Greek restaurant was a real find.

